SEPTEMBER 2022

APPEAL-STANDARDS OF REVIEW: Appellate court reviews the legal correctness of a jury instruction de novo, but defers to the district court on questions of style and phrasing absent an abuse of discretion. USA v. Grushko, No. 20-10438 (11th Cir. 9/23/22)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202010438.pdf>

APPEAL-STANDARDS OF REVIEW: Appellate court reviews a district court's determination whether to strike an entire jury panel for manifest abuse of discretion. USA v. Grushko, No. 20-10438 (11th Cir. 9/23/22)

APPEAL-STANDARDS OF REVIEW: Appellate court reviews sentencing issues de novo, including claims that the district court double counted enhancement levels. However, if a double-counting claim is not raised before the district, review is for plain error. To establish plain error, the defendant must show (1) an error, (2) that is plain, and (3) that affected his substantial rights. If a defendant satisfies these conditions, appellate court may exercise its discretion to recognize the error only if it seriously affects the fairness, integrity, or public reputation of judicial proceedings. USA v. Grushko, No. 20-10438 (11th Cir. 9/23/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Where Defendants are detained on an warrant outside a home, officers may still enter the home when they are not positive that the detainees are the subjects of the arrest warrant. The officers need not be absolutely certain that a suspect is at home before entering to execute an arrest warrant. USA v. Grushko, No. 20-10438 (11th Cir. 9/23/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-IRONY: Officers could enter the home of the people they detained and laid face down outside the house where they were not sure whether the detainees were the subjects of the arrest warrants. Checking their wallets for identification would have been unlawful; entering the home to look for them was not. USA v. Grushko, No. 20-10438 (11th Cir. 9/23/22)

VOIR DIRE: Court’s voir dire questions minimizing the importance of DNA or fingerprint evidence did not impermissibly lower the government’s burden of proof. “As we see it, the court’s discussion about television shows and the nature of forensic evidence presented on them was unnecessary, unwise and should have been avoided. . . [but], we cannot say that the district court. . . impermissibly created a mandatory presumption in favor of the government, nor can we say that its words entitled the jury to discount the defense’s arguments in closing about whether the absence of fingerprint evidence created a reasonable doubt.” USA v. Grushko, No. 20-10438 (11th Cir. 9/23/22)

SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT-DOUBLE COUNTING: Court did not engage in improper double counting for assessing a two level increase for possessing device-making equipment. Impermissible double counting occurs only when one part of the Guidelines is applied to increase a defendant's punishment on account of a kind of harm that has already been fully accounted for by application of another part of the Guidelines. On the other hand, double counting is permissible where: (1) the Sentencing Commission intended the result; and (2) each guideline section in question concerns a conceptually separate consideration related to sentencing. USA v. Grushko, No. 20-10438 (11th Cir. 9/23/22)

VOIR DIRE-JUDGE'S COMMENTS: Judge's comments during voir dire reinforcing a prosecution-friendly view of the case is improper. "I understand that the district court was trying to use images and concepts that would have registered or connected with prospective jurors in the 21st century. But sometimes using the tried and true—even if boring and unimaginative—is a better and safer alternative." USA v. Grushko, No. 20-10438 (11th Cir. 9/23/22)

IMMUNITY-"BUT FOR" CAUSATION: §893.21, providing immunity from prosecution due to evidence obtained as a result of seeking medical assistance, does not apply when an outstanding arrest warrant is discovered, leading to the arrest of the Defendant and the discovery of narcotics in his pocket. The arrest warrant is an intervening cause leading to the discovery of the contraband, sufficient to break the causal chain. Proximate cause, not but for cause, is the appropriate standard. State v. Waiters, 2D21-1477 (9/23/22)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/849844/opinion/211477_DC13_09232022_081840_i.pdf

IMMUNITY-"BUT FOR" CAUSATION: "Were we to accept the trial court's "but for" causation test, an individual would enjoy immunity beyond that intended by the statute. According to Mr. Waiters, an arresting officer must turn a blind eye to any contraband discovered pursuant to a search incident to arrest on an outstanding warrant because the series of events leading to that discovery began with Mr. Waiters' need for medical assistance for a suspected drug overdose. This is, indeed, a strained reading of the statute." State v. Waiters, 2D21-1477 (9/23/22)

DEFINITION-"RESULT": "Result" is defined as a consequence, effect, or conclusion, or that which is achieved, brought about, or obtained, especially by purposeful action." "Result" is also defined as "something that happens or exists because of something else" and "as a result of something." "These definitions are not helpful." State v. Waiters, 2D21-1477 (9/23/22)

COMPETENCY: Court errs in finding Defendant competent on the basis of a report stipulated to by the parties but which the Court never actually read. A trial court abuses its discretion when it does not independently determine that a defendant is competent to stand trial. What cannot be waived is a defendant’s right to have the trial court make an independent, legal determination that he is competent to proceed once his competency has been called into question. The parties cannot stipulate that a defendant is competent. Goonewardena v. State, 5D21-1073 (9/23/22)

GENERAL SENTENCE: A general sentence—one which renders one sentence for the entire case rather than a separate sentence on each count—is illegal. King v. State, 5D21-2006 (9/23/22)

MOTION TO DISMISS-R 3.190(c)(4): Brandishing and waving an airsoft gun while within shooting range of the victim is an overt act within the meaning of the assault statute sufficient to prove a prima facie case of assault, sufficient to withstand a (c)(4) motion to dismiss. State v. Williamson, 5D21-2624 (9/23/22)

COSTS: Trial courts lack the authority to impose costs and fines in criminal cases unless such imposition is specifically authorized by statute and the statutory authority is cited in the written disposition order. State v. Haskins, 5D22-760 (9/23/22)

RULES-AMENDMENT-PROBATION: Criminal rules are amended to authorize the DOC to supervise misdemeanor offenders when the offender is placed on probation by a circuit court and to remove the prohibition on private entities providing supervision for misdemeanor offenders. DEATH PENALTY-SEXUAL BATTERY-J. THOMAS, CONCURRING:
“[I]n my view, respectfully, the United States Supreme Court’s decision barring capital punishment for the rape of an adult was wrongly decided. . .Should a state determine that the death penalty is an appropriate punishment for aggravated armed sexual battery or the sexual battery of a child, the United States Supreme Court, given the opportunity, should. . . hold that such sentences. . . are valid and legitimate.” Bicking v. State, 1D21-2981 (9/22/22)

RETURN OF STOLEN PROPERTY: Suspect who stole numerous government documents, including top secret documents, later recovered by government via a search warrant, is not entitled to their return, nor to an order prohibiting the government from reviewing the documents for criminal investigative purposes, due to a likelihood of irreparable harm from the threat of future prosecution and the associated stigma. “No doubt the threat of prosecution can weigh heavily on the mind of someone under investigation. But. . . ‘if the mere threat of prosecution were allowed to constitute irreparable harm . . . every potential defendant could point to the same harm and invoke the equitable powers of the district court.’” Trump v. USA, No. 22-13005 (11th Cir. 9/21/22)

SUCK IT UP: Bearing the discomfiture and cost of a prosecution for crime is one of the painful obligations of citizenship. Trump v. USA, No. 22-13005 (11th Cir. 9/21/22)

RETURN OF STOLEN PROPERTY: Thief does not have a possessory interest in the the documents he stole, nor does he suffer a cognizable harm if the United States reviews documents he neither owns nor has a personal interest in. Trump v. USA, No. 22-13005 (11th Cir.

RETURN OF STOLEN PROPERTY: Thief is not entitled to return of seized stolen top secret government documents on the grounds that some personal documents may have been taken. “[N]one of those concerns apply to the roughly one-hundred classified documents at issue here. . .For our part, we cannot discern why Plaintiff would have an individual interest in or need for any of the one-hundred documents with classification markings.” Trump v. USA, No. 22-13005 (11th Cir. 9/21/22)

EVIDENCE-DUI MANSLAUGHTER: In DUI manslaughter case, evidence that Victim had active ingredients of marijuana and opioid analgesics in her body at the time of the accident is ordinarily inadmissible. “[T]here, there was an obvious danger in admitting evidence, even relevant evidence, that would allow the jury to improperly consider the deceased’s intoxication, because the statute requires that any fault of the deceased be the sole cause of the fatal collision to absolve Appellant of guilt. Appellant violated the statute, even if he only contributed to the accident, so the proffered evidence had to show that the victim was 100% at fault for the collision.” Mizell v. State, 1D20-3627 (9/21/22)

DUI MANSLAUGHTER: An element of DUI manslaughter is that a defendant “cause or contribute to causing” the death of a victim while operating a vehicle while impaired. For a decedent’s conduct to constitute a defense to DUI manslaughter, the conduct must be viewed as the sole proximate cause of an accident. Any deviation or lack of care on the part of a driver under the influence to which the fatal accident can be attributed will suffice. Mizell v. State, 1D20-3627 (9/21/22)

ATTORNEY-CONFLICT-WITHDRAWAL: Public Defender must be allowed to withdraw on the vague assertion that the interests of the Defendant “are so adverse and hostile to those of another client and/or an attorney within the Office of the Public Defender that a conflict of interest exists.” “Although we recognize and appreciate that trial courts are hamstrung by a statute which allows trial courts to conduct a hearing but precludes trial courts from asking much about the nature of the conflict in cases of alleged conflict like this, it was a departure from the essential requirements of law for the trial court here to deny the public defender's request to withdraw.” Hay v. State, 2D21-2167 (9/21/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to apprise her of a possible defense and that had she been aware of the defense, she would not have entered a plea of guilty. McGregor v. State, 3D22-971 (9/21/22)

COSTS: In DUI case, Court errs in imposing additional costs of $82 under §§938.27 and 318.18(18). The $50 in prosecution costs for a misdemeanor must be requested. §318.18(18)'s $12.50 administrative fee only applies to noncriminal violations and is thus inapposite to Defendant's DUI conviction. Brown v. State, 1D21-2947 (9/21/22)

COMMUNITY SERVICE: Community service in lieu of paying fines is a permissible this alternative only with respect to DUI, and is not an alternative to costs (see §316.193(6)(m)). Brown v. State, 1D21-2947 (9/21/22)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/849723/opinion/212947_NOND_09212022_141645_i.pdf

APPEAL: Appellate court may not grant any relief from a scrivener's error in the judgment—Defendant was convicted after trial, not after a plea--where the issue is raised for the first time on appeal. “And if a defendant is precluded from even raising such an error, it follows that for us to respond even by simply noting the error, let alone remanding to allow the trial court to take any action on it, would improperly reward noncompliance with that dictate.” Carrion v. State, 2D18-4289 (9/16/22)

DEFINITION- “SCRIVENER’S ERROR”: A scrivener's error" is a mistake in the written sentence that is at variance with the oral pronouncement of sentence or the record but not those errors that are the result of a judicial determination or error. Question certified. Carrion v. State, 2D18-4289 (9/16/22)

SENTENCE CORRECTION (CONCURRENCE): Defendant may not raise for first time on direct appeal the scrivener's error. "I do not agree that such preservation must or even can be effectuated by way of a motion to correct sentencing error pursuant to Florida Rule of Criminal Procedure 3.800(b) because an error in a judgment is not a "sentencing error." Carrion v. State, 2D18-4289 (9/16/22)

A FOUL EXPOSITION: "[A]llowing presentation of an unpreserved scrivener's error that is not fundamental and reviewing such error could run afoul of case law expositing the proscriptions of the contemporaneous objection rule." Carrion v. State, 2D18-4289 (9/16/22)

SAY NO MORE: "Until such time as an appellate court's proper course of action regarding a trial court's unpreserved scrivener's error is clarified by statute, rule, or Florida Supreme Court opinion, perhaps nothing more than that need—or should—be said." Carrion v. State, 2D18-4289 (9/16/22)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-ORAL PRONOUNCEMENT: Where court orally awarded credit for time served to which Defendant may not have been entitled, and the written sentence did not award the credit for time served, the oral pronouncement controls. Tillman v. State, 2D21-1269 (9/12/22)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: A sentencing court has discretion to grant jail credit on each individual consecutive sentence. A trial court is without authority to rescind jail credit at any time even if that credit was awarded improperly. I mean, maybe, y’know. “We recognize that this holding is no longer good law to the extent it conflicts with Spear v. State.” Tillman v. State, 2D21-1269 (9/12/22)

GENERAL SENTENCE: A trial court may not impose a single general sentence to cover multiple counts. Forty-year concurrent sentences on 35 separate third degree felonies is illegal. Moore v. State, 2D22-298 (9/16/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-PRO SE DEFENDANT: Court must hold a Faretta hearing upon Defendant’s Motion to represent himself in Spencer hearing Failure to do so is per se reversible error.

EVIDENCE-CROSS-EXAMINATION: Court permissibly limited the scope of cross examination of witness as to whether he hoped for a sentence reduction due to his testimony where Court finds that the witness was jurisdictionally ineligible for a reduction. Mosley v. State, SC20-195 (9/15/22)

DEATH PENALTY-AGGRAVATING FACTORS: Jury need not be instructed that it must find beyond a reasonable doubt that the aggravating factors were sufficient to justify death and that the aggravating factors outweighed the mitigating factors. “[T]hat is not the law. The sufficiency and weight of aggravating factors in a capital case are not elements that must be determined by the jury beyond a reasonable doubt.” Mosley v. State, SC20-195 (9/15/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOCKED REAR WINDOW: Stop of a vehicle based on the rear window of the Defendant’s vehicle being blocked by shoes, pillows, and blankets is lawful. Knapp v. State, 1D21-1539 (9/14/22)

EJUSDEM GENERIS: When a general word or phrase follows a list of specifics, the general word or phrase will be interpreted to include only items of the same class as those listed. Knapp v. State, 1D21-1539 (9/14/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: In the Fourth-Amendment context, the governing law asks only whether a potentially mistaken interpretation of the statute is objectively reasonable. A search resulting from an objectively reasonable mistake of law by law enforcement does not implicate the exclusionary rule). Knapp v. State, 1D21-1539 (9/14/22)

APPEAL-RECORD: “We write to note an issue that has arisen in multiple criminal cases. . .[.] an increase of cases where the counsel for an appellant files multiple motions to supplement the record. In many of these cases, the motions have included requests for records or transcripts that could have been requested in one motion had a thorough review of the record been conducted. . .Counsel’s obligation of timeliness demands an early, careful, and complete assessment of the need to supplement the record on appeal, so as to avoid unnecessary delay in disposition.” Verasso v. State, 1D21-2375 (9/14/22)

HYBRID REPRESENTATION-WRITS OF PROHIBITION: The general rule against hybrid representation does not apply where Defendant seeks a ruling on a pending motion to discharge court-appointed counsel. When a pro se criminal defendant affirmatively seeks to discharge his or her court appointed attorney, the request is not regarded as unauthorized or a nullity. A petition for writ of mandamus to compel a ruling on said motion is similarly not improper hybrid representation. Davis v. State, 1D22-1922 (9/14/22)

LOWEST PERMISSIBLE SENTENCE (LPS): Where the LPS for one count of lewd and lascivious battery and twenty-four counts of possession of child pornography is 339.6 months in prison (28.3 years), Court may not sentence Defendant to 480 months (40 years) only on the possession charges. If the LPS exceeds the statutory maximum penalty in §775.082, the LPS is both the minimum sentence and the maximum penalty for that offense. Court must sentence Defendant to the calculated LPS of 28.3 years on all counts to be served concurrently. Baker v. State, 4D20-2112 (9/14/22)

DWLS-DRIVER'S RECORD: State failed to present a prima facie case that Defendant knew his license had been suspended where the DHSMV driving record did not reflect the address to which the notice of suspension had been sent and there was no testimony regarding Defendant's address. While the driving record reflected a notice of suspension was sent, it did not provide where it was sent and there was no evidence of Defendant's last known address on file with DHSMV. Robinson v. State, 4D22-1064 (9/14/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DUI-PARKED CAR: Officer may conduct welfare check of driver sleeping in a car at the entrance/exit of a parking lot. Once suspicion of a medical emergency is dispelled, ordinarily a sleeping driver in a parked car should not be detained, but the car's location in the entrance/exit to the parking lot, facing outward, suggests that driver was under the influence of something. Detention was lawful. Daniels v. State, 2D21-702 (9/9/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-COLOR OF OFFICE: The color of office doctrine precludes a law enforcement officer who is outside of his territorial jurisdiction from using the power or color of the office to observe unlawful activity or to gain access to evidence that would not be available to a similarly-situated private citizen. An exception to this doctrine allows a municipal officer to continue to act or investigate outside of his or her geographic jurisdiction if the subject matter of the officer's investigation originates inside their city limits. The ongoing investigation exception to the color of office doctrine allows arresting officer to request Defendant to submit to a breath test outside his territorial jurisdiction (Winter Park officer at the Orange County Jail). Question certified. State v. Torres, 5D22-21 (9/9/22)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION-HARMLESS ERROR: When a defendant asserts in an appeal that the trial court erroneously denied a legally sufficient motion to disqualify the trial judge, an appellate court's review should be for harmless error. ” Davis v. State, SC20-1282 (9/8/22)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Re-assignment of a case to a judge who had been a prosecutor in the homicide division while the case was pending, notwithstanding averments that he had not been involved in the case at issue, requires disqualification. Error in denying motion to disqualify is not harmless where the judge made several consequential decisions that could have altered the outcome of the trial.” Davis v. State, SC20-1282 (9/8/22)

STARE DECISIS-JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION (J. POLSTON, CONCURRING/DISSENTING): “I dissent to the majority’s use of the harmless error standard because this cannot be reconciled with our established precedent treating the erroneous denial of a motion to disqualify the trial judge as per se reversible.” Davis v. INDICTMENT: Statutes criminalizing the intended sexual activity are not themselves additional elements but only means of proving the element of intent. An indictment need only provide those facts showing which particular path the defendant took to commit a crime--the elements of the crime itself--not the means. An indictment for a transport-for-sexual-activity offense need not specify the unlawful sexual act intended. It is best practice to include the statutes criminalizing the sexual activity that the defendant planned to inflict on the transported child, but it is not required. USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

INTENT: Defendant may be convicted of transporting a minor to commit a criminal offense notwithstanding that he had other motives, such as opening a new business or visiting family. USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

PRINCIPAL: Spouse of child molester who helped Defendant transport the girls may be convicted as a principal, regardless of whether she did so “with a happy heart” or with “a sense of foreboding.” Helping to keep his abuse a secret and abusing (non-sexually) the victims may be sufficient. “The evidence of her initial resistance is not enough to preclude the jury from finding that she acted with intent.” “Despite knowing that her husband was raping and abusing the girls, Jaycee Doak committed physical and mental abuse of her own rather than helping the girls as she sometimes promised. What she did help with was family travel, which further perpetuated the abuse.” USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

EVIDENCE: Error, if any, in precluding the defense from presenting evidence that another person was the perpetrator, is harmless. USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

EXPERT-FORENSIC INTERVIEW: When a witness relies on experience, she must (1) explain how it leads to and supports the conclusion she has reached and (2) show how it can be reasonably applied to the facts. Expert witness may explain the forensic interview process and describe how children pulled out of suspected sexual-abuse situations disclose that information. USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

EVIDENCE: Video of Defendant slapping victims' brother is properly admitted to show that the children did not report the sexual abuse because they were afraid of physical and verbal abuse if they did so. USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: Government's appeal of the bottom of the guidelines sentence of the aiding-and-abetting spouse of the child molester, on the grounds of substantive unreasonableness fails. Sentencing court has discretion in weighing factors. USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

COSTS/FINE: Evidence that a defendant has failed to disclose assets may support a determination that the defendant is able to pay a fine with those undisclosed assets. USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

RESTITUTION: Court properly assessed $150,000 for restitution for victims' estimated therapy costs. USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

RESTITUTION: Court improperly assessed restitution based on $4,000 per month for estimated living expenses where the amount included expenses for all eight children in the Defendant's care, not only the abused victims. "Even though we do not impose a rigid formula for calculating restitution, the government must provide 'reliable and specific evidence.'" USA v. Doak, No. 19-15106 (11th Cir. 9/7/22)

VOP-JURISDICTION: Court has authority, upon revocation or modification of a defendant's probation, to extend a defendant's probationary period for the period of time her case was tolled, but there is nothing in the statute that automatically extends a defendant's probationary period. Instead, a trial court that wants to extend a defendant's probationary period beyond the original probationary term by adding the tolled period of time may do so only by revoking or modifying the original term. Prior violations may have tolled probation, but did not extend it. Curt lacked jurisdiction to revoke probation. Bailey v. State, 1D21-2023 (9/7/22)

having been sworn by the affiant before an individual authorized to administer oaths because it contained a signed written declaration complying with §92.525(2). A signed written declaration being offered as a legally sufficient verification must show that the affiant has: (1) made the declaration under penalties of perjury; (2) read the foregoing document; and (3) indicated that the facts or matters stated or recited in the document are true, or words of that import or effect. The rule only requires an affidavit; it does not specify how the affidavit is to be sworn. Neeley v. State, 4D21-333 (9/7/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claims that 1) his plea was involuntary because he did not understand the terms of the plea agreement, and 2) the trial court failed to determine that a factual basis for the plea existed where the records attached to the trial court's order do not conclusively refute the claims. 1ST DEGREE MURDER-PREMEDITATION: Premeditation is understood as requiring proof that the defendant was aware of the consequences of the actions that caused death, and that the defendant had the opportunity for reflection prior to committing the fatal act. Premeditation does not require lengthy deliberation on the part of the actor; but may be formed a moment. Gordon v. State, SC20-284 (9/1/22)

JUROR-PEREMPTORY-RACE NEUTRAL REASON: In death penalty case, the issue of whether State impermissibly struck a juror, who had said that “I’m not God,” and clarified that the phrase did not connote a religious belief and that she could vote for either death or life on the merits, is not preserved for appeal. The issue is not preserved unless the party opposing a peremptory strike makes a specific objection to the proponent's proffered race-neutral reason for the strike, articulating why the proffered facially race neutral reasons for the strike are not genuine. “On this record, which contains no reasoned, preserved objection regarding the genuineness of the State’s proffered race neutral reason for a peremptory strike, we have no basis upon which to revisit the trial court’s decision to seat the contested juror.” Gordon v. JUVENILE OFFENDER-LIFE SENTENCE-REVIEW: Juvenile convicted of attempted robbery with a deadly weapon, (1st PBL) and sentenced to 30 years in prison is not entitled to a sentence review. A 30 year sentence is not a de facto life sentence. Taylor v. State, 2D22-1186 (8/31/22)

JUROR MISCONDUCT: Court did not abuse his discretion in investigating an allegation of juror misconduct by excusing the juror and inquiring of the remaining jurors collectively, rather than individually. APPEAL-PRESERVATION-SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: The issue of whether the Court improperly considered Defendant's incidents of misconduct occurring after the charged offense is not fundamental error, and thus cannot be raised on appeal absent a contemporaneous objection. PURCHASE: A completed purchase of illegal drugs necessarily entails the defendant purchaser's possession of those drugs, as federal law defines possession. a purchase is not necessarily complete as soon as the would-be purchaser pays for the drugs. Conage v. USA, SC20-1441 (8/25/22)

DEFINITION-”PURCHASE”: As a matter of ordinary meaning, a purchase entails both giving consideration for and obtaining the good being purchased. It would not be reasonable to apply this definition so literally as to require proof that a defendant personally obtained actual, physical possession of the purchased item. Conage v. <https://www.floridasupremecourt.org/content/download/846188/opinion/sc20-1441.pdf>

PURCHASE: For purposes of § 893.135(1), a completed purchase requires proof that the defendant both (1) gave consideration for and (2) obtained control of a trafficking quantity of illegal drugs. The requisite control consists of the same range of conduct that qualifies as constructive possession under federal law, including control through an agent of the defendant. Conage v. STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: The maxim that “when the language of the statute is clear and unambiguous and conveys a clear and definite meaning, there is no occasion for resorting to the rules of statutory interpretation and construction” is misleading. . . It would be a mistake to think that our law of statutory interpretation requires interpreters to make a threshold determination of whether a term has a “plain” or “clear” meaning in isolation, without considering the statutory context and without the aid of whatever canons might shed light on the interpretive issues in dispute. Court may not include a victim's lost wages unless it the State establishes by a preponderance of the evidence the victim's loss and that it was caused by the child's offense. J.B.E.C. v. SUPERSEDEAS BOND: A defendant who has been sentenced for the commission of any non-capital offense for which bail is not prohibited under §903.133 may be released, pending review of the conviction, at the discretion of either the trial or appellate court, provided that the defendant establishes that the appeal is taken in good faith, on grounds fairly debatable, and not frivolous. A trial court's failure to consider the required factors is a basis for reversal of a denial of supersedeas bond. Court's conclusion that it "does not believe that reversible error was committed at trial or that an appeal is meritorious" is not a basis for denying supersedeas bond. The term "good faith, on grounds fairly debatable, and not frivolous" doesn't require a prognostication of the ultimate outcome of the appeal. But here, although a close call, the denial of supersedeas bond is affirmed. Carnright v. State, 3D22-1244 (8/24/22)

DEFENSE; Defendant asserted the defense that his narcissistic personality disorder diminished his capacity to steal $169,177,338.00 by mail fraud. Conviction and sentence affirmed. USA v. Utsick, No. 16-16505 (11th Cir. 8/22/22)

EXTRADITION-RULE OF SPECIALTY: The “rule of specialty” stands for the proposition that, in extradition cases, the requesting state, which secures the surrender of a person, can prosecute that person only for the offense for which he or she was surrendered or else must allow that person an opportunity to leave the prosecuting state to which he or she had been surrendered. But the rule of specialty does not limit the other country’s ability to consider the facts of a case not prosecuted because of the rule of specialty in determining the sentence. When imposing a sentence for an offense like mail fraud, the proper calculation of the guidelines requires the district court to consider all relevant conduct, not merely charged conduct. While the rule of specialty bars proof of other crimes in order to exact punishment for those other crimes, it does not bar proof of other crimes as a matter germane to the determination of punishment for the extradited crime. USA v. Utsick, No. 16-16505 (11th Cir. 8/22/22)

COSTS-PUBLIC DEFENDER FEE: Court errs in imposing a $100 public defender application fee; the amount should be $50. Hernandez v. State, 21-1992 (8/19/22)

STAND YOUR GROUND: SYG motion need not be sworn to. Court improperly denied the motion because it was unsworn. To raise a claim of immunity under §776.032, an accused must simply allege a facially sufficient prima facie claim of justifiable use of force. The trial court is to assume all facts as true, and if the alleged facts satisfy the requirements of the applicable self-defense statute raised by the accused, the burden shifts to the State to present clear and convincing evidence to overcome the self defense claim. Riggins v. State, 21-3627 (8/19/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to discuss with him potential defenses or strategies for trial. An attorney's unsworn statements do not establish facts in the absence of stipulation. Griffen v. State, 2D22-76 (8/19/22)

MOTION-DEFENDANT'S PRESENCE: Defendant is not entitled to be present at a hearing on a motion for rehearing which does not result in a change of sentence. Sullivan v. State, 2D22-916

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who files an “Affidavit of Truth” containing a “plethora of irrelevant and nonsensical allegations,” and who, at the hearing, demands that the court address him in a particular way and repeatedly asks if the State would be responding to his incomprehensible “Affidavit of Truth” may be removed from the courtroom without warning. “While we agree that an explicit warning would have been preferable and might have remedied Germain’s disruptive conduct, his due process argument nonetheless fails, as it overlooks that his stubborn refusal to proceed and present his case rendered him unable to meet his burden of proof.” Germain v. State, 5D21-2553 (8/19/22)

counsel based on a conflict-of-interest claim, Defendant must establish: (1) a conflict of interest that (2) adversely affected counsel's performance. To establish an adverse effect, Defendant must show some plausible alternative defense strategy or tactic that might have been pursued but for the alleged conflict. The allegation that one attorney failed to negotiate a plea bargain because Defendant failed to pay a bribe or kickback which would have benefitted a different client of that attorney is insufficient since Defendant was also represented by several other attorneys. GRAND JURY-SECRECY: A grand jury secrecy law's prohibition on a witness's disclosure of grand jury information that he learned only by virtue of being made a witness does not violate one's right to Free Speech. But to the extent that it prohibits a grand jury witness from disclosing information he learned outside the grand jury room, it violates one's right to free speech. Henry v. JUVENILE-PROBATION-LENGTH: When a judgment of delinquency is withheld, a court may impose a specific probationary period or an indeterminate period of probation, but a disposition is legally insufficient where a court orders a term of probation but fails to indicate whether the probation is indefinite or for a fixed period. STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: There is no bright-line rule that renders a confession by a juvenile involuntary. In order to determine whether a juvenile defendant's waiver of Miranda rights was voluntary, knowing, and intelligent, the totality of the circumstances is considered. Pertinent factors include: 1) the manner in which the Miranda rights were administered, like cajoling or trickery; 2) the age, experience, background, and intelligence of the defendant; 3) whether the defendant's guardian was contacted, and the juvenile given an opportunity to consult a parent, guardian, or counsel before questioning; 4) whether the interview was conducted in a wepolice station; and 5) whether the interrogators secured a written waiver. Here, the confession was admissible. J.H. v. State, 1D21-1114 (8/17/22)

IMPEACHMENT-SUBSTANTIVE EVIDENCE: Co-Defendant's statements in deposition and at his own earlier sentencing hearing are statements given under oath and are therefore admissible as either substantive evidence or impeachment should he testify differently at trial. Witness should not be excluded on basis that State only called him as a witness in order to impeach, and to use the impeachment as substantive evidence. Mitchum v. State, 1D21-1993 (8/17/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for advising him not to testify. CORPUS DELICTI: Defendant's statement to officer, in response to question, that he did not have a driver's licence, is inadmissible under corpus delicti doctrine where State had no evidence establishing that appellant drove the car without a license. Because driving a motor vehicle is not a crime in and of itself, the State needs to present independent evidence showing Defendant drove without a license.

CORPUS DELICTI: Corpus delicti is Latin for “body of the crime” which reflects the simple principle that a crime must be proved to have occurred before anyone can be convicted for having committed it. In criminal trials, the State must independently present substantial evidence tending to show the commission of the charged crime. Substantial evidence need not be uncontradicted or overwhelming, but it must at least show the existence of each element of the crime. A confession in a criminal case is not sufficient evidence of a criminal act where no independent direct or circumstantial evidence exists to substantiate the occurrence of a crime. S.I. a Child, v. INCOMPETENCE-DISMISSAL: Court is not required to dismiss charges on the grounds of continued incompetence where Defendant's repeated failure to appear at status conferences prevented the trial court from ordering a subsequent evaluation to determine if she remained incompetent to proceed. A defendant cannot wait out the clock while simultaneously evading the trial court's authority to order a reevaluation. State v. Tillman, 4D21-2348 (8/17/22)

CRIME OF VIOLENCE: Murder and Attempted Murder are “crimes of violence” under the “elements clause” of 18 U.S.C § 924(c)(3), , which makes it a crime to use or carry a firearm during and in relation to any crime of violence or drug trafficking, and which defines a crime of violence as one that “has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person or property of another.” Alvarado-Linares v. FILING FALSE LIEN: 18 U.S.C. §1521 makes it illegal to file a false lien against the property of a federal officer or employee because of something he did as part of his official duties, including former federal officers or employees (here, former IRS Commissioner and former Treasury Secretary). §1521's prohibition depends upon what an individual did while acting as a federal officer or employee, and not simply his employment status at the time of the action at issue. SECOND DEGREE MURDER-DEPRAVED MIND: Slashing the Victim's throat in the course of an argument about the Victim's girlfriend's failure to deliver the title to a car to the Defendant is sufficient evidence of ill will, hatred, spite, or an evil intent, without regard to human lead to support a conviction for second-degree murder. VOP (DISSENT-J. TANENBAUM): In VOP hearings, the only process due to the probationer is an opportunity to be heard and to show, if he can, that he did not violate the conditions, or, if he did, that circumstances in mitigation suggest that the violation does not warrant revocation. Woodward v. State, 1D21-1465 ((8/10/22)

VOP-FRUITLESSNESS (DISSENT-J. TANENBAUM): “Oddly enough, . . .the majority . . .instructs the trial court to edit the revocation order by striking a few findings. Mind you, this suggestion for elision does not benefit the defendant at all. This proposed ‘improvement’ upon the original revocation order will have no effect on the defendant’s sentence. He will get a piece of paper in prison titled ‘amended order of revocation’ that will have three fewer enumerated violations, but he will be serving the same amount of time. In addition to this exercise being a waste of judicial resources, it could prove confusing to the defendant, who will be left wondering: ‘My lawyer won, so why didn’t I?’” Woodward v. State, 1D21-1465 ((8/10/22)

APPEAL-(DISSENT-J. TANENBAUM): “There is no source of authority for our remanding a case with an instruction to the trial court to nevertheless correct ‘errors’ that make no difference. I know this court has engaged in this perplexing practice in the past, which presumably is the reason the majority does so here. Still, practice is not ‘precedent.’ There is no utility in the remand and no authority behind it.” Woodward v. State, 1D21-1465 ((8/10/22)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: If a defendant posts bond on one charge and is released, only to be reincarcerated later on other charges, he is then being held only on the charges occasioning the later arrest, until and unless the bond posted on the initial charge is revoked. PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: A jury trial is not necessary to determine the date of the Defendant's release from prison in determining whether he qualifies as a Prison Releasee Reoffender. The date of a defendant's release from prison relates to the fact of a prior conviction. Alleyne does not require a jury to make the PRR factual determination. Rivers v. State, 1D22-1190 (8/10/22)

JURISDICTION-APPEAL-SEXUAL PREDATOR: Trial court has jurisdiction to designate a person as a sexual predator during the pendency of an appeal. The designation of a person as a sexual predator is neither a sentence nor a punishment but simply a status resulting from the conviction of certain crimes. The designation is regulatory and procedural in nature. Alvarez v. State, 3D22-928 (8/10/22)

PROBATION-CONCURRENT SENTENCE: When a criminal defendant is sentenced after being convicted of a crime and serves some portion of that sentence, he or she is entitled to receive credit for the actual service of that sentence, or any portion thereof, in a resentencing for the same crime. Likewise, if multiple convictions result in concurrent sentences, credit must be awarded for time served on each sentence in any resentencing for the multiple convictions. Because Defendant was serving concurrent sentences during the probationary period prior to his resentencing, he was entitled to credit against each count for the probation he served. Walk v. DEPORTATION: The fact that the alien has committed a particularly serious crime makes the alien dangerous within the meaning of the statute. MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: Granting a motion for a new trial occurs—albeit rarely—precisely when the evidence is legally sufficient to convict where the evidence preponderates heavily against the verdict, such that it would be a miscarriage of justice to let the verdict stand. SENTENCE-SUBSTANTIVELY UNREASONABLE: A district court imposes a substantively unreasonable sentence when it (1) fails to afford consideration to relevant factors that were due significant weight, (2) gives significant weight to an improper or irrelevant factor, or (3) commits a clear error of judgment in considering the proper factors.” USA v. NATURALIZATION-CITIZENSHIP: Sale of Cocaine under New York law is an aggravated felony, which conclusively establishes that a

ATTORNEY-DILIGENCE: “Although the district court did not pursue it, we note that Morfa Diaz’s counsel’s inexcusable efforts border on sanctionable conduct. By failing to conduct the proper research—instead offering to ‘provide a further comparison of the schedules’ only ‘if required’—counsel not only consciously and overtly presented a frivolous argument to the district court, but also muddied the record for a spurious challenge on appeal, too.” Morfa Diaz v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-REMEDY: An attorney's failure to inform a defendant of sentencing enhancements such as HVFO when discussing a plea offer constitutes deficient performance. DEPORTATION: Culpably negligent child abuse (Fla Stat. §827.03) is a deportable offense. Bastias v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 21-11416 (8/2/22)

NATURALIZATION-CITIZENSHIP: Sale of Cocaine under New York law is an aggravated felony, which conclusively establishes that a person who commits it is not a person of good moral character, and who therefore cannot become a naturalized US citizen. By failing to conduct the proper research—instead offering to ‘provide a further comparison of the schedules’ only ‘if required’—counsel not only consciously and overtly presented a frivolous argument to the district court, but also muddied the record for a spurious challenge on appeal, too.” Morfa Diaz v. JULY 2022

CREDIT FOR SERVED (LAMBERT-CONCURRENCE): The standard practice when calculating prison credit is for the trial court to defer prison credit calculations to the Department of Corrections. Courts should separately designate jail credit and leave calculation of prison credit to the Department of Correction. “Trial judges have difficult and stressful jobs. To perhaps slightly ameliorate their stress, I suggest that trial judges defer prison credit calculations to the Department of Corrections and that they use sentencing documents that differentiate between awards of jail credit and prison credit. I also recommend that judges consider implementing any additional procedures that may further assist them in confirming the accurate calculation and reporting of jail credit.” Spear v. State, 5D19-1747 (7/29/22)

CONTEMPT-PASSCODE: Defendant may be held in indirect contempt of court for refusing to provide the passcode to access his iPhone in connection with a search warrant. Because the subject has not yet been charged with any crime related to his phone, any arguments challenging the warrant's issuance and the propriety of the traffic stop and seizure of his iPhone are premature. This “should not be understood as ruling on any of the Fourth Amendment arguments Mr. Harris has raised. To the contrary, if the State ultimately pursues charges against him in connection with any evidence found on his iPhone, Mr. Harris will have. . .the full panoply of protections afforded under the state and federal constitutions.” Harris v. APPEAL WAIVER: A criminal defendant who wishes to plead guilty can waive the right to challenge his conviction and sentence in exchange for a better plea deal. A valid waiver of the right to collateral appeal bars habeas claims brought under 28 U.S.C. § 2255, including when a defendant seeks to challenge his sentence based on a new retroactive constitutional rule. A defendant who signs an appeal waiver gives up even the right to appeal blatant error. King v. USA, No. 20-14100 (11th Cir. 7/28/22)

ZOOM: Conducting VOP and sentencing hearings by Zoom is not a fundamental error. Allowing Defendant to consult with his attorney and a breakout room is legally sufficient. A lawyer who is not sitting next to a defendant at counsel table during a hearing is not ineffective as a matter of law. Gonzalez v. State, 3D20-0325 (7/27/22)

SENTENCING-IMPROPER SCORESHEET: Defendant is entitled to resentencing when he was originally sentenced under an improperly calculated scoresheet. The fact that the sentence imposed fell below the statutory maximum does not mean that Defendant is not entitled to resentencing absent a clear intent to impose a sentence harsher sentence regardless of any scoresheet error. Sampson v. State, 3D21-2005 (7/27/22)

COSTS-PUBLIC DEFENDER FEE: Court may not impose a $500 public defender fee. A $400 fee ($150.00 arising at his first probation modification, $100.00 for the second modification, $100.00 for community control revocation and the $50.00 public defender application fee) it is permissible. HEARSAY: Responding deputy's testimony that the victim had identified the defendant as the driver of the vehicle which had caused the crash. The declarant—the victim—had not been subject to cross-examination concerning the statement, as required by §90.801(2)(c) (the identification exception to the hearsay rule) because the state, during the victim's earlier testimony, did not ask her whether she had informed the deputy that the defendant had been the driver. PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Court improperly denied Defendant's motions to withdraw plea and to appoint conflict-free counsel where Defendant, through the public defender, moved to withdraw the plea, but, in the absence of conflict-free counsel, deferred articulating the reasons beyond saying that defense counsel had "misadvised him as to what the best pleading decision was." When a defendant files a facially sufficient motion setting forth an adversarial relationship with counsel, the court is required to appoint conflict-free counsel unless the record conclusively refutes the motion's allegations. Where defense counsel advised the trial court of his inability to properly argue the motion because of the existing conflict, it was clear that an adversarial relationship existed. Baker v. State, 5D21-3041 (7/22/22).

STAND YOUR GROUND: A SYG motion to dismiss requires a pretrial evidentiary hearing on the applicability of the statutory immunity under §776.032, which has almost nothing to do with the so-called “stand your ground” provisions of §§776.012, 776.013, and 776.031.

Swift v. State, 1D21-799 (7/20/22)

STAND YOUR GROUND: “Most of the case law refers to this immunity [under §776.032] as ‘StandYour-Ground immunity,’ but this is a misnomer because the immunity applies to all self-defense cases, not just ones in which standing one’s ground is an element. That is why a better label is ‘self-defense immunity.’. . .[W]e should no longer refer to the provisions of section 776.032 as ‘Stand Your Ground immunity.’” Swift v. State, 1D21-799 (7/20/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where Defendant is charged with four discrete acts of child molestation, three other, separate acts on different occasions were not inextricably intertwined. Counsel

POST-CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that a newly discovered witness saw the fight , and the Defendant was not the aggressor. To prevail on a claim of newly discovered evidence, a defendant must meet the following two requirements: First, the evidence must not have been known by the trial court, the party, or counsel at the time of trial, and it must appear that the defendant or defense counsel could not have known of it by the use of diligence. Second, the newly discovered evidence must be of such nature that it would probably produce an acquittal on retrial. Williams v. State, 2D21-3795 (7/15/22)

JOA-CONSPIRACY TO OBSTRUCT JUSTICE: Request of former mayor, through his successor, to obtain the personnel file of a police officer (an adverse witness in other charges against him) is not conspiracy to obstruct justice. “Mr. Rowe requesting and obtaining these files can hardly be said to be illegal, nor considered ‘acting falsely under color of law.’” Massad v. POST-CONVICTION RELIEF: The Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 (AEDPA) greatly circumscribes a federal court's review of a final state habeas decision; a federal habeas court cannot grant a state petitioner habeas relief on any claim that was adjudicated on the merits in state court unless the state court's adjudication of the claim (1) resulted in a decision that was contrary to, or involved an unreasonable application of, clearly established Federal law, as determined by the Supreme Court of the United States; or (2) resulted in a decision that was based on an unreasonable determination of the facts. POST-CONVICTION RELIEF: Whether defense counsel's performance fell below Strickland's standard is not the question before a federal habeas court reviewing a state court's decision under AEDPA. Federal habeas courts must guard against the danger of equating unreasonableness under Strickland with unreasonableness under AEDPA. Gavin v. Commissioner, Alabama DOC, No. 20-11271 (11th Cir. 7/14/22)

JURY-NO IMPEACHMENT RULE: A juror may not testify in impeachment of the verdict as to any matter or statement occurring during the course of the jury's deliberations or to the effect of anything upon that or any other juror's mind or emotions as influencing the juror's decision, nor may a juror's affidavit or evidence of any statement by the juror concerning a matter about which the juror would be precluded from testifying be received for these purposes. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL: Collateral estoppel/issue preclusion applies only when the same issue has been decided against the same party or a third party who has some kind of privity between the original and current opposing parties. "Privity" is a relationship between two parties who both have a legally recognized, mutual interest in the same subject matter. There it is no privity between the state and federal prosecuting authorities, notwithstanding that the original arrest on state charges occurred when DEA agents had state law enforcement stop the Defendant's car in order to hide their role in investigating the Defendant. While the cooperation between state and federal law enforcement agencies is relevant, is not a sufficient nexus to establish privity. USA v. Lewis, No. 20-12997 (11th Cir/ 7/14/22)

SENTENCE-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: An upward variance of life imprisonment for production of child pornography and sexual abuse of a minor is not substantively unreasonable. JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL-TAX EVASION: Tax evasion requires an affirmative act constituting an evasion or attempted evasion of the tax. Hiding gold in one's house is not tax evasion absent evidence that the gold was subject to a tax levied upon Defendant. "The only way that the action of hiding gold from the IRS would be legally significant to constitute an affirmative act for attempted tax evasion is if the gold had been subject to a tax levied on Hesser. Otherwise, it would not matter how much he wanted to cheat the IRS. He would not be cheating on his taxes because the gold would not be subject to a tax levied on him." Hesser v. ATTEMPT-MISTAKE OF LAW/FACT: "The Government confuses a

One who shoots a tree, thinking that it is a crime to kill a tree, cannot be convicted of arboricide (mistake of law). “All this is to say, someone can be convicted for attempt when they mistake the facts but not when they simply mistake the law.” “Just like shooting at trees on one’s own property isn’t a crime, hiding gold in and of itself is not tax evasion or attempted tax evasion.” Hesser v. JUSTICE: “[W]e note the asymmetry between the plight of Hesser’s wife and his own. It seems unfair that she now has a felony conviction for filing a false tax return on her record and her husband will have a record free of convictions for tax fraud or evasion based on this case. This is especially so since Hesser was clearly the mastermind behind all the tax and mortgage maneuvers that Hesser and his wife made. We do not rejoice in that outcome. But Hesser’s wife chose to plead guilty, and Hesser did not.” Hesser v. USA, No. 19-13297 (11th Cir. 7/13/22)

SPEEDY-TRIAL-DELAY: Defendant's speedy trial rights are not violated where Government waited four years to seek extradition from the Bahams and Jamaica, which have onerous requirements for extradition. Defendant's Sixth Amendment right to a speedy trial is violated is determined by considering four factors: [1] Length of delay, [2] the reason for the delay, [3] the defendant's assertion of his right, and [4] prejudice to the defendant. DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DUPPLICITOUS CHARGES: Indictment for multiple conspiracies to smuggle aliens is not improperly multiplicitous where there are different boats, different captains, and different groups of aliens. A multiplicitous indictment violates double jeopardy principles by giving the jury more than one opportunity to convict the defendant for the same offense. USA v. <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201912708.pdf>

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-CONSPIRACY: Five factors to determine whether a defendant committed two separate conspiracies or only one are: "(1) time, (2) persons acting as co-conspirators, (3) the statutory offenses charged in the indictments, (4) the overt acts charged by the government which indicate the nature and scope of the activity which the government sought to punish in each case, and (5) places where the events alleged as part of the conspiracy took place. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court must attach records conclusively refuting allegation that counsel misadvised him on a legal point before sentencing (as opposed to before entering plea agreement), notwithstanding that the claim was buried in verbiage under a misleading heading and was rebutted by an attachment to the motion. R. 3.850(f)(5) unambiguously and unqualifiedly requires that that portion of the files and records that conclusively shows that the defendant is entitled to no relief shall be attached to the final order. DEPORTATION: The phrase “crime involving moral turpitude” in the INA is not unconstitutionally vague. Participation in illicit drug trafficking is categorically a CIMT. Daye v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 20-14340 (7/6/22)

DEPORTATION-CIMT: Moral turpitude means an act of baseness, vileness, or depravity in the private and social duties which a man owes to his fellow men, or to society in general, contrary to the accepted and customary rule of right and duty between man and man, or conduct that is inherently base, vile, or depraved. A crime involving moral turpitude must involve conduct that not only violates a statute but also independently violates a moral norm. Daye v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 20-14340 (7/6/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-STANDING-RENTAL CAR: An unauthorized driver of a rental car has standing to challenge the search of it. The fact that Defendant was not listed on the rental agreement does not defeat his reasonable expectation of privacy, so long as he was otherwise in lawful possession and control of the vehicle. PROBABLE CAUSE-DEFINITION: Probable cause is a flexible, common-sense standard, turning on the assessment of probabilities not readily, or even usefully, reduced to a neat set of legal rules. Hatcher v. State, 1D20-3628 (7/6/22)

CORPUS DELICTI: The corpus delicti rule requires that the State must independently present substantial evidence tending to show the commission of the charged crime, including at least the existence of each element of the crime. A confession in a criminal case is not sufficient evidence of a criminal act where no independent direct or circumstantial evidence exists to substantiate the occurrence of a crime. S.I., a Child v. State, 4D21-1551 (7/6/22)

CORPUS DELICTI: Defendant’s admission that he had no license after he fled an accident after hitting a motorcyclist is insufficient to establish the charge of DWLS. Because driving a motor vehicle is not a crime in and of itself, the State needed to present independent evidence showing he had no license. S.I., a Child v. State, 4D21-

VEHICULAR HOMICIDE: A conviction for vehicular homicide requires proof that a defendant caused the death of another human being through the operation of a motor vehicle in a reckless manner likely to cause the death of, or great bodily harm to, another. The defendant must have engaged in intentional conduct demonstrating a conscious disregard of a likelihood of death or injury. Neither carelessness nor ordinary negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle are sufficient to sustain a conviction for vehicular homicide. “Nothing in section 782.071. . . supports the proposition that a finding of recklessness can be based solely on the numeric value of a driver’s excessive speed—which would by itself only constitute a non-criminal traffic offense—in the absence of other determinant factors.” Hormaeche v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-VEHICULAR HOMICIDE-ERRONEOUS ADVICE: Defendant is entitled to withdraw his claim entered upon the erroneous advice of counsel that his excessive speed precluded him from mounting a defense to the charge of vehicular homicide. Hormaeche v. State, 4D21-2071 (7/6/22)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Once good cause for the defendant to withdraw his plea is shown prior to sentencing – here, erroneous advice of counsel—the trial court is obligated to allow the defendant as a matter of right to withdraw his plea. Hormaeche v. State, 4D21-2071 (7/6/22)

RECLASSIFICATION: Where Defendant is charged, along with 2 codefendants with aggravated battery with a deadly weapon, and jury finds him guilty of "aggravated battery causing great bodily harm with a weapon, as charged," the second degree felony cannot be reclassified to a first-degree felony based on the use or possession of the weapon where the jury does not find, nor does the information allege, that the Defendant actually possessed the weapon. Williams v. State, 2D21-1619 (7/1/22)

RECLASSIFICATION: For the application of a reclassification or enhancement statute to an offense, a clear jury finding of the facts is necessary, either by (1) a specific question or special verdict form (which is the better practice), or (2) the inclusion of a reference to the fact necessary for reclassification in identifying the specific crime for which the defendant is found guilty. Williams v. State, 2D21-1619 (7/1/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CHILD PORNOGRAPHY: Defendant lacks a reasonable expectation of privacy in the alphanumeric identification codes unique to each file he shared and otherwise made available to the public over a peer-to-peer file sharing network. POST-CONVICTION RELIEF-STRATEGIC DECISIONS: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claimant counsel's ineffective for failing to cross-examine witness based on inconsistencies between her trial testimony and pretrial statements. The fact that Defendant assented to his counsel not cross-examining the witness is not dispositive where counsel incorrectly advised him that nothing could be gained from questioning the victim. INFORMATION-AMENDMENT DURING TRIAL: Mid-trial (i.e., after State rests) amendments to a charging document that alter the elements of a criminal offense are not per se prejudicial. Any such amendments should be assessed on a case-by-case basis to determine, based on the totality of the circumstances, if they prejudice the substantial rights of the defendant. State may amend capital sex battery count to lewd or lascivious molestation upon Defendant's motion for JOA. Thach v. State, SC20-

STARE DECISIS: Stare Decisis loses again. Kind of. “We acknowledge that today is the first time we have used the phrase ‘totality of the circumstances’ in discussing the prejudice analysis. However. . .we break no new ground by saying that the prejudice analysis requires consideration of the totality of the circumstances.” Thach v. State, SC20-1656 (6/30/22)

INFORMATION-AMENDMENT DURING TRIAL (J. LABARGA, DISSENTING): “It is axiomatic that due process of law affords a person charged with having committed a crime with the right to know what the charge is before proceeding to trial. Here, after the defense proceeded throughout the State’s entire case-in-chief in reliance on the original charges, the State was permitted to substantively amend four charges. Thach v. State, SC20-1656 (6/30/22)

INFORMATION-AMENDMENT DURING TRIAL (J. LABARGA, DISSENTING): “For more than two decades, the per se prejudicial rule has guarded the right to due process in cases where the State seeks, during trial, to substantively change a charged offense. This sound rule should have been applied here. It makes absolutely no sense, after not only the conclusion of the State’s case, but what turned out to be the presentation of all the evidence, to allow the State to amend four charges to allege crimes that require proof of different elements. For the majority to permit such a clear violation of due process will, in no small measure, facilitate the very thing that Florida laws. . .are intended to prevent—trials by ambush.” Thach v. State, SC20-1656 (6/30/22)

INFORMATION-AMENDMENT DURING TRIAL (J. LABARGA, DISSENTING): The implications of the majority’s decision to reject the per se prejudicial rule cannot be understated. As a result of the majority’s disapproval of this decades-long safeguard, citizens will be required to proceed to trial without certainty of what the ultimate charges against them will be. Thach v. State, SC20-1656 (6/30/22)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DUI-BODILY INJURY/PROPERTY DAMAGE: Because the criminal offenses of DUI causing damage to property or person and DUI causing serious bodily injury are degree variants of the same offense, dual convictions for both offenses as to the same victim from a single episode violate the prohibition against double jeopardy. Velazco v. State, SC20-506 (6/30/22)

INDIANS-JURISDICTION: The Federal Government and the State have concurrent jurisdiction to prosecute crimes committed by non-Indians against Indians in Indian country. Contrary precedents are “tangential dicta” or “scattered dicta.” Indian country is part of the State, not separate from the State. Oklahoma v. Castro-Huerta, No. 21-429 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/29/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-429_8o6a.pdf

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-429_806a.pdf

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-429_806a.pdf

INDIANS-SOVEREIGNTY (GORSUCH, DISSENTING): “[T]he Court cites no proof for its ipse dixit, nor could it. . . Congress took pains to abide its treaty promises. . . and has never revoked them. Nor may this Court abrogate treaties or statutes by wishing them away in passing remarks. In a Nation governed by the rule of law, not men (or willful judges), only Congress may withdraw this Nation’s treaty promises or revise its written laws.” Oklahoma v. Castro-Huerta, No. 21-429 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/29/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-429_806a.pdf

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-429_806a.pdf

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-429_8o6a.pdf

INDIANS-SOVEREIGNTY (GORSUCH, DISSENTING): “If the Court’s ruling today sounds like a legislative committee report touting the benefits of some newly proposed bill, that’s because it is exactly that. . .The Court’s decision is not a judicial interpretation of the law’s meaning; it is the pastiche of a legislative process.” Oklahoma v. Castro-Huerta, No. 21-429 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/29/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel for Ponzi-scheme Defendant was not ineffective for failing to anticipate two four-point enhancements in the PSR (violation of a commodities law by a commodities trading advisor and jeopardizing the safety and soundness of a financial institution. A miscalculation of sufficient magnitude may constitute deficient performance and cause prejudice under Strickland, but the miscalculation here is not outside the range of effective assistance. Riolo v. USA, No. 20-12206 (11th Cir. (6/29/22)

BOND-MENTAL HEALTH SCREENING: Mental health screening without determining pretrial release conditions at first appearance does not constitute an illegal detention. Rhody v. McNeil, 1D22-551 (6/29/22)

MOOTNESS: The mootness doctrine generally requires dismissal of an appeal when the controversy ceased to exist, but a narrow exception exists for cases that are capable of repetition while evading review. That exception applies when (1) the challenged action was too short-lived to be completely litigated in time, and (2) there is a reasonable chance that the same party will face the same action again. Pre-bond screening is an exception to the muteness doctrine because it happens “fast, much too fast for a case to ever beat it to the finish line.” Rhody v. McNeil, 1D22-551 (6/29/22)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: It is insufficient to merely pose a question with an accompanying assertion that it was improperly answered in the court below and then dump the matter into the lap of the appellate court for decision. Appellant who merely pays lip service to some basic due process rules and gives only a conclusory statement to say that the mental health screening process breaks those rules does not sufficiently preserve the issue. “Because Rhody merely dropped these issues in our lap expecting us to do the rest, we will not address [them].” Rhody v. McNeil, 1D22-551 (6/29/22)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Motion to disqualify judge is facially sufficient when it alleges that the judge had prosecuted him while an Assistant State Attorney years before. Although a direct conflict of interest may not exist, a criminal defendant in Defendant’s position may have a well-founded fear of not receiving fair treatment. Choute v. State, 1D-22-566 (6/29/22)

APPEAL-FINAL JUDGMENT: An order that resolves all of the claims raised in a motion for postconviction relief is a final order because such an order ends judicial labor on that motion, and thus is ripe for appeal. The fact that an order denying postconviction relief also directs a party to show cause why sanctions should not be imposed does not alter the finality or appealability of the order denying relief. Nilio v. State, 1D22-940 (6/29/22)

ZOOM HEARING: Absent a case specific finding of necessity, adjudicatory hearings by Zoom violate the Child's right of confrontation. Virtual confrontations offered by closed-circuit television systems fall short of the face-to-face standard because they do not provide the same truth-inducing effect. J.T.B. v. State, 3D21-537 (6/29/22)

ZOOM HEARING: Court must make case-specific findings before it may conduct an adjudicatory hearing by Zoom. "Because we conclude that at this point in the pandemic, due process requires a case-specific finding of necessity before a trial court may conduct a remote adjudicatory hearing over objection, we reverse and remand for a new adjudicatory hearing." HABITUAL OFFENDER-RELEASE FROM PRISON: Lewars, which provided that

FIRST STEP ACT: The First Step Act, which authorizes district courts to reduce the prison sentences of defendants convicted of certain offenses involving crack cocaine, allows district courts to consider intervening changes of law or fact in exercising their discretion to reduce a sentence. MENS REA-FRAUDULENT PRESCRIPTION: For the crime of unlawfully dispensing controlled substances (prescriptions), the “knowingly or intentionally” mens rea applies. After a defendant produces evidence that he or she is authorized to dispense controlled substances, the Government must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant knew that he or she was acting in an unauthorized manner, or intended to do so. A doctor’s subjective belief that he is meeting a patient’s medical needs by prescribing a controlled substance is a complete defense to a §841 prosecution. Ruan v. United States, No. 20-1410 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/27/22)

MENS REA-FRAUDULENT PRESCRIPTION: The requirement of scienter in §841 (“Except as authorized by this subchapter, it shall be unlawful for any person knowingly or intentionally . . . to manufacture, distribute, or dispense . . . a controlled substance.”) extends to the “except as authorized” clause. Although the “[e]xcept as authorized” clause is not an element of a §841(a)(1) offense, it is sufficiently like an element for the mens rea canon to apply. Ruan v. United States, No. 20-1410 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/27/22)

MENS REA: As a general matter, our criminal law seeks to punish the vicious will. With few exceptions, wrongdoing must be conscious to be criminal. Ruan v. United States, No. 20-1410 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/27/22)

ABORTION: “We . . . hold that the Constitution does not confer a right to abortion. Roe and Casey must be overruled, and the authority to regulate abortion must be returned to the people and their elected representatives.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

STARE DECISIS: “Stare decisis. . . does not compel unending adherence to Roe’s abuse of judicial authority. Roe was egregiously wrong from the start. Its reasoning was exceptionally weak, and the decision has had damaging consequences. . . It is time to heed the Constitution and return the issue of abortion to the people’s elected representatives.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

LIBERTY: “In interpreting what is meant by the Fourteenth Amendment’s reference to ‘liberty,’ we must guard against the natural human tendency to confuse what that Amendment protects with our own ardent views about the liberty that Americans should enjoy.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

DUE PROCESS-RIGHTS: The Due Process Clause protects two categories of substantive rights. The first consists of the great majority of the rights guaranteed by the first eight Amendments. The second category comprises a select list of fundamental rights that are not mentioned anywhere in the Constitution, but which are deeply rooted in our history and tradition are essential to our Nation’s scheme of ordered liberty. Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

STARE DECISIS: Stare decisis is not an inexorable command, and it is at its weakest when we interpret the Constitution. Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

DUE PROCESS-PRIVACY: “[T]he Solicitor General suggests that overruling [Roe and its progeny] would ‘threaten the Court’s precedents holding that the Due Process Clause protects other rights.’ . . . That is not correct. . . . ‘[A]bortion is a unique act’ because it terminates ‘life or potential life.’ . . . And to ensure that our decision is not misunderstood or mischaracterized, we emphasize that our decision concerns the constitutional right to abortion and no other right. Nothing in this opinion should be understood to cast doubt on precedents that do not concern abortion.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

DUE PROCESS (J. THOMAS, CONCURRENCE): “Substantive due process” is an oxymoron that lacks any basis in the Constitution. . . . [T]he Due Process Clause does not secure any substantive rights.”

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

DUE PROCESS (J. THOMAS, CONCURRENCE): “Substantive due process . . . has harmed our country in many ways. Accordingly, we should eliminate it from our jurisprudence at the earliest opportunity.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

DUE PROCESS (J. THOMAS, CONCURRENCE): “[I]n future cases, we should reconsider all of this Court’s substantive due process precedents, including Griswold, Lawrence, and Obergefell. . . . After overruling these demonstrably erroneous decisions, the question

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

STARE DESISIS (J. KAVANAUGH, CONCURRING): “Every current Member of this Court has voted to overrule precedent. And over the last 100 years Beginning with Chief Justice Taft’s appointment in 1921, every one of the 48 Justices appointed to this Court has voted to overrule precedent.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

STARE DESISIS (J. KAVANAUGH, CONCURRING): A constitutional precedent may be overruled only when (i) the prior decision is not just wrong, but is egregiously wrong, (ii) the prior decision has caused significant negative jurisprudential or real-world consequences, and (iii) overruling the prior decision would not unduly upset legitimate reliance interests. Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

JUDICIAL RESTRAINT (C.J. ROBERTS, CONCURRING): Here, there is a clear path to deciding this case correctly without overruling Roe all the way down to the studs: recognize that the viability line must be discarded. . .and leave for another day whether to reject any right to an abortion at all. Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

JUDICIAL RESTRAINT (C.J. ROBERTS, CONCURRING): “Both the Court’s opinion and the dissent display a relentless freedom from doubt on the legal issue that I cannot share.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

ABORTION (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “Whatever the exact scope of the coming laws, one result of today’s decision is certain: the curtailment of women’s rights, and of their status as free and equal citizens.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

ROE V. WADE (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “So one of two things must be true. . . .Either the mass of the majority’s opinion is hypocrisy, or additional constitutional rights are under threat. It is one or the other.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

WOMEN (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): What rights did those “people” have in their heads at the time? But, of course, “people” did not ratify the Fourteenth Amendment. Men did. So it is perhaps not so surprising that the ratifiers were not perfectly attuned to the importance of reproductive rights for women’s liberty, or for their capacity to participate as equal members of our Nation. . . .When the majority says that we must read our foundational charter as viewed at the time of ratification (except that we may also check it against the Dark Ages), it consigns women to second-class citizenship. Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

CONSTITUTION (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “The Framers (both in 1788 and 1868) understood that the world changes. So they did not define rights by reference to the specific practices existing at the time. Instead, the Framers defined rights in general terms, to permit future evolution in their scope and meaning. And over the course of our history, this Court has taken up the Framers’ invitation. It has kept true to the Framers’ principles by applying them in new ways, responsive to new societal understandings and conditions. Nowhere has that approach been more prevalent than in construing the majestic but open-ended words of the Fourteenth Amendment—the guarantees of ‘liberty’ and ‘equality’ for all. And nowhere has that approach produced prouder moments, for this country and the Court.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

CONSTITUTION (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “[T]he constitutional ‘tradition’ of this country is not captured whole at a single moment. . . . Rather, its meaning gains content from the long sweep of our history and from successive judicial precedents—each looking to the last and each seeking to apply the Constitution’s most fundamental commitments to new conditions.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

RIGHTS (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): The majority (or, rather, most of it) tries to assure the public that it has no designs on rights (for example, to contraception) that arose only in the back half of the 20th century—in other words, that it is happy to pick and choose, in accord with individual preferences. Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

ORIGINAL INTENT (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “We are not mindreaders, but here is our best guess as to what the majority means. . . . [A]pparently, the Fourteenth Amendment might provide protection for things wholly unknown in the 19th century; maybe one day there could be constitutional protection for, oh, time travel. But as to anything that was known back then (such as abortion or contraception), no such luck.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

OH MY (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): Justice Kavanaugh’s “idea is that neutrality lies in giving the abortion issue to the States, where some can go one way and some another. But would he say that the Court is being ‘scrupulously neutral’ if it allowed New York and California to ban all the guns they want? . . . If the Court allowed some States to use unanimous juries and others not? If the Court told the States: Decide for yourselves whether to put restrictions on church attendance? We could go on—and in fact we will.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

WOMEN’S RIGHTS (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “When the Court decimates a right women have held for 50 years, the Court is not being ‘scrupulously neutral.’ It is instead taking sides: against women who wish to exercise the right, and for States. . . that want to bar them from doing so. JUSTICE KAVANAUGH cannot obscure that point by appropriating the rhetoric of even-handedness. His position just is what it is: A brook-no-compromise refusal to recognize a woman’s right to choose, from the first day of a pregnancy. And that position, as we will now show, cannot be squared with this Court’s longstanding view that women indeed have rights (whatever the state of the world in 1868) to make the most personal and consequential decisions about their bodies and their lives.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)
https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

CONSTITUTION-SCEPTICISM (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “Faced with all these connections between Roe/Casey and judicial decisions recognizing other constitutional rights, the majority tells everyone not to worry. It can (so it says) neatly extract the right to choose from the constitutional edifice without affecting any associated rights. (Think of someone telling you that the Jenga tower simply will not collapse.)

Today’s decision, the majority first says, ‘does not undermine’ the decisions cited by Roe and Casey—the ones involving ‘marriage, procreation, contraception, [and] family relationships’—‘in any way.’ . . . Should the audience for these too-much-repeated protestations be duly satisfied? We think not.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

DEY LYIN’ (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): Nor does it even help just to take the majority at its word. Assume the majority is sincere in saying, for whatever reason, that it will go so far and no further. Scout’s honor. Still, the future significance of today’s opinion will be decided in the future.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

LAW-EVOLUTION (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “[L]aw often has a way of evolving without regard to original intentions—a way of actually following where logic leads, rather than tolerating hard-to-explain lines. Rights can expand in that way. . . Rights can contract in the same way and for the same reason—because whatever today’s majority might say, one thing really does lead to another. We fervently hope that does not happen because of today’s decision. . . . But we cannot understand how anyone can be confident that today’s opinion will be the last of its kind.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

RIGHTS (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “The point of a right is to shield individual actions and decisions ‘from the vicissitudes of political controversy, to place them beyond the reach of majorities and officials and to establish them as legal principles to be applied by the courts.’. . . However divisive, a right is not at the people’s mercy.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/19-1392_6j37.pdf

STARE DECISIS (J. BREYER, DISSENTING): “The majority has overruled Roe and Casey for one and only one reason: because it has always despised them, and now it has the votes to discard them. The majority thereby substitutes a rule by judges for the rule of law.” Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

STARE DECISIS: “Weakening stare decisis threatens to upend bedrock legal doctrines, far beyond any single decision. Weakening stare decisis creates profound legal instability. And. . .weakening stare decisis. . .calls into question this Court’s commitment to legal principle. It makes the Court appear not restrained but aggressive, not modest but grasping. In all those ways, today’s decision takes aim, we fear, at the rule of law. Dobbs v. Jackson Women’s Health Organization, No. 19–1392. (U.S. S.Ct. 6/24/22)

DEATH PENALTY-EXECUTION: A death row inmate may attempt to show that a State’s planned method of execution violates the Eighth Amendment if he can 1) establish that the State’s method of execution presents a substantial risk of serious harm--severe pain over and above death itself, and 2) identify an alternative method that is feasible, readily implemented, and in fact significantly reduces the risk of harm involved. Nance v. Ward, No. 21-439 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/23/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-439_bp7c.pdf

DEATH PENALTY-EXECUTION: Prisoner under sentence of death may seek the imposition of an alternative method of execution (he wants a firing squad) not authorized by statute in his state pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §1983 rather than exclusively by a petition for habeas corpus. Even if the alternative route necessitates a change in state law, Defendant's requested relief still places his execution in the State's control. "[T]he State can enact legislation approving what a court has found to be a fairly easy-to-employ method of execution. . . . And anyway, Georgia has given us no reason to think that the amendment process would be a substantial impediment. The State has legislated changes to its execution method several times before." STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-MIRANDA: The use of an un-Mirandized statement against a defendant in a criminal proceeding violates the Fifth Amendment but may not support a §1983 claim against the officer who obtained the statement. A Miranda violation is not tantamount to a violation of the Fifth Amendment. Vega v. Tekoh, No. 21-499 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/23/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-499_gfbh.pdf

MIRANDA: "Whether this Court has the authority to create constitutionally based prophylactic rules that bind both federal and state courts has been the subject of debate among jurists and commentators. . .But that is what the Court did in Miranda, and we do not disturb that decision in any way. Rather, we accept it on its own terms, and for the purpose of deciding this case, we follow its rationale.” Vega v. Tekoh, No. 21-499 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/23/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-499_gfbh.pdf

MIRANDA-(J. KAGAN, DISSENT): “Today, the Court strips individuals of the ability to seek a remedy for violations of the right recognized in Miranda. . .[W]hat remedy does he have for all the harm he has suffered? The point of §1983 is to provide such redress. . .The majority here, as elsewhere, injures the right by denying the remedy.” Vega v. Tekoh, No. 21-499 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/23/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-499_gfbh.pdf

SECOND AMENDMENT: The Second and Fourteenth Amendments protect an individual’s right to carry a handgun for self-defense outside the home. Statute requiring a “special need” for a license to carry a firearm in public violates the Second Amendment. New York State Rifle & Pistol Ass’n v. Bruen, No. 20-843 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/23/22)

SECOND AMENDMENT: The Second Amendment guarantees to all Americans the right to bear commonly used arms in public subject to certain reasonable, well-defined restrictions, such as limiting the intent for which one could carry arms, the manner by which one carries arms, or the exceptional circumstances under which one may not carry arms, such as before justices of the peace and other government officials. New York State Rifle & Pistol Ass’n v. Bruen, No. 20-843 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/23/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-843_7j80.pdf

SECOND AMENDMENT: The Second Amendment’s operative clause—“the right of the people to keep and bear Arms shall not be infringed”—guarantee[s the individual right to possess and carry weapons in case of confrontation that does not depend on service in the militia. New York State Rifle & Pistol Ass’n v. Bruen, No. 20-843 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/23/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-843_7j80.pdf

SECOND AMENDMENT: The standard for applying the Second Amendment is as follows: When the Second Amendment’s plain text covers an individual’s conduct, the Constitution presumptively protects that conduct. The government must then justify its regulation by demonstrating that it is consistent with the Nation’s historical tradition of firearm regulation. Only then may a court conclude that the individual’s conduct falls outside the Second Amendment. New York State Rifle & Pistol Ass’n v. Bruen, No. 20-843 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/23/22)

SECOND AMENDMENT: Firearms may be regulated in “sensitive places.” The definition of “sensitive places” does not extend to all places where people typically congregate and where law-enforcement and other public-safety professionals are presumptively available. New York State Rifle & Pistol Ass’n v. Bruen, No. 20-843 (U.S. S.Ct.

RESTITUTION-TIME LIMIT: There is no jurisdictional deadline for courts to set a hearing to determine restitution. Even though the court set a deadline at sentencing of 60 days for finalizing the the restitution amount, a hearing may be requested and held after the deadline. The sixty-day reservation of jurisdiction approved in the plea agreement did not bar the State from seeking, or the trial court from finalizing the restitution amount for the victims' losses. SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court's failure to impose a downward departure sentence is not reversible where there is no argument that the trial court misconstrued its discretion to depart, or had a blanket policy of refusing to exercise its discretion to depart. PRO SE DEFENDANT-CLERK OF COURT-DUTIES: Clerk has no duty to serve pleadings on a pro se defendant's behalf. It is generally not within the duties and responsibilities of any clerk of court to serve pleadings on behalf of a party. Butts v. State, 1D22-494 (6/22/22)

APPEAL-REPRESENTED APPELLANT: Appellant can proceed with counsel; or, he can proceed pro se. What he cannot do is both. Criminal defendants have no right to engage in 'hybrid representation'—that is, to simultaneously represent themselves and be represented by counsel. Butts v. State, 1D22-494 (6/22/22)

CREDIT FOR TIME: Where defendant violated probation after serving a prison sentence, and entered a plea on the VOP to a negotiated agreement was specifically provided that he would be given credit for "all prior prison and again time," and DOC deemed his gain time forfeited, Defendant may seek postconviction relief to get credit for the forfeited gain time. A claim that a forfeiture of gain time by the DOC thwarted the intent of a negotiated plea agreement may be raised in a timely rule 3.850 motion. Curry v. State, 3D-490 (6/22/22)

CHILD NEGLECT-JOA: Defendant who drunkenly walked a four-year-old child under his supervision down the middle of Apopka Avenue in Inverness, Florida cannot be convicted of child neglect. Kelley v. State, 5D21-1569 (6/22/22)

JOA: A motion for Judgment of acquittal admits the facts in evidence and every reasonable inference from the evidence favorable to the State. Trial courts should not grant motions for judgment of acquittal unless, when viewed in the light most favorable to the state, the evidence does not establish a prima facie case of guilt. Kelley v. CULPABLE NEGLIGENCE: “Culpable negligence” means that the defendant acted with a gross and flagrant character, evincing reckless disregard for human life or an entire want of care which would raise the presumption of indifference to consequences; or such wantonness or recklessness or grossly careless disregard of the safety and welfare of the public, or that reckless indifference to the rights of others, which is equivalent to an intentional violation of them. Only the most egregious conduct satisfies the culpable negligence standard. Kelley v. State, 5D21-1569 (6/22/22)

HOBBS ACT-ATTEMPTED ROBBERY-CATEGORICAL APPROACH:

The Hobbs Act makes it a federal crime to commit, attempt to commit, or conspire to commit a robbery with an interstate component, with further punishments for those who use a firearm in connection with a “crime of violence.” Attempted Hobbs Act robbery does not qualify as a “crime of violence” under the 18 U. S. C. §924(c)(3)(A) because it does not satisfy the elements clause. “Yes, to secure a conviction the government must show an intention to take property by force or threat, along with a substantial step toward achieving that object. But an intention is just that, no more.” United States v. Taylor, No. 20-1459 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/21/22)

HOBBS ACT: The Hobbs Act makes it a federal crime to commit, attempt to commit, or conspire to commit a robbery with an interstate component, with further punishments for those who use a firearm in connection with a “crime of violence.” A federal felony qualifies as a “crime of violence” if it meets either of two definitions: 1) The elements clause (offenses that have as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force) or 2) the residual clause (for offenses that by their nature involve a substantial risk that physical force may be used). Except the residual clause is unconstitutionally vague, so only the elements clause matters. United States v. Taylor,

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-1459_n7ip.pdf

CATEGORICAL APPROACH (J. THOMAS, DISSENT): “This holding exemplifies just how this Court’s ‘categorical approach’ has led the Federal Judiciary on a ‘journey Through the Looking Glass,’ during which we have found many ‘strange things.’ . . . Rather than continue this 30-year excursion into the absurd, I would hold Taylor accountable for what he actually did and uphold his conviction.”

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-1459_n7ip.pdf

QUOTATION (J. THOMAS, DISSENT): “[O]ur precedents have led the Federal Judiciary to ‘a pretend place.’ . . .” Like Alice, we have strayed far ‘down the rabbit hole,’ and ‘[c]uriously and curiously it has all become.’ . . . Even Alice, having slaked her curiosity, eventually returned from the land beyond the looking glass. It is high time that this Court do the same.”

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-1459_n7ip.pdf

CATEGORICAL APPROACH (J. ALITO, DISSENT): “The whole point of the categorical approach that the Court dutifully follows is that the real world must be scrupulously disregarded.”

United States v. Taylor, No. 20-1459 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/21/22)

ALL WRITS: The All Writs Act authorizes federal courts to issue all writs necessary or appropriate in aid of their respective jurisdictions and agreeable to the usages and principles of law. Shoop, Warden v. Twyford, No. 21-511 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/21/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-511_o75p.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The All Writs Act does not authorize the issuance of transportation orders for medical testing for the purpose of gathering facts for the preparation of a planned Habeas Corpus Motion for Post Conviction Relief based on purported traumatic brain injury. Shoop, Warden v. Twyford, No. 21-511 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/21/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-511_o75p.pdf

WRIT: A transportation order that allows a prisoner to be sent to a medical facility for an examination hoping for new evidence is not necessary or appropriate in aid of a federal court's adjudication of a habeas corpus action when the prisoner has not shown that the desired evidence would be admissible in connection with a particular claim for relief. Shoop, Warden v. Twyford, No. 21-511 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/21/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-511_o75p.pdf

APPEAL-COLLATERAL ORDER DOCTRINE (J. BREYER, DISSENT): The collateral order doctrine allows interlocutory appeal from a small class of orders that finally determine claims of right separable from, and collateral to, rights asserted in the action, but the class is narrow and selective in its membership. Transportation orders to an outside medical facility for evaluation do not satisfy the requirements for interlocutory appeal under the collateral order doctrine. Shoop, Warden v. Twyford, No. 21-511 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/21/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-511_o75p.pdf

JOA-LEWD AND LASCIVIOUS: JOA: Testimony by a minor of a momentary "glance" at a man sitting in the driver's seat of a parked truck twenty-eight feet or more away, from the passenger side of the vehicle, giving the witness the impression that Defendant was masturbating and the witness believing he could see the tip of Defendant's penis amounted to no more than inferences based on speculation. Judgment of Acquittal is required. Deamelio v. State, 2D20-878 (6/17/22)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/840728/opinion/200878_DC13_06172022_084725_i.pdf

WITNESS PERCEPTION: The fact that a witness "sensed" something is insufficient to establish that he observed something. "[T]he State argued that A.B. 'very clearly said he sensed it.' . . . But this is not true; A.B. did not make such a statement. Even if it were true, it would be meaningless. . . . There are only five senses, and the only one involved in this case is sight. To the extent that the prosecutor meant to imply or insinuate that 'sense' could mean something other than the five physical senses, we reject this out of hand. . . . [The term] 'senses,' [is] meant to limit those . . . to the five found in the natural world." Deamelio v. State, 2D20-878 (6/17/22)

JOA-STANDARD: "The standard to be employed for all criminal cases regarding the sufficiency of the evidence is simply whether the State presented competent, substantial evidence to support the verdict. This standard is met when the evidence relied upon to sustain the ultimate finding is sufficiently relevant and material such that a reasonable mind would accept it as adequate to support the conclusion reached." Where the facts adduced by the State are insufficient to prove the elements of the offense beyond a reasonable doubt, the case should not be submitted to the jury, and a judgment of acquittal should be granted. Deamelio v. State, 2D20-878 (6/17/22)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-CORRECTION: Subject to the procedural constraints of R 3.800(b), a trial court has the inherent authority to sua sponte correct sentencing documents that over-report the amount of jail time served by a defendant prior to sentencing or the amount of jail time and prison time served by a defendant prior to resentencing. CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-CALCULATION: §921.161 requires the trial court to determine and give credit for all time spent in county jail prior to sentencing and for the Department to calculate the time after sentencing, including time in the county jail after sentencing. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: The Double Jeopardy Clause does not prohibit twice placing a person in jeopardy for the same conduct or actions. The Double Jeopardy Clause does not bar successive prosecutions of distinct offenses, even if a single sovereign prosecutes them. Denezpi v. United States, No. 20–7622 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/13/22)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DUAL SOVEREIGNTY DOCTRINE: The Court of Indian Offenses (established by the Bureau of Indian Affairs under the Code of Federal Regulations—hereafter CFR courts) adjudicate Indian tribe rule violations for tribes without their own judicial systems. Defendant may be convicted and sentenced for sex battery related charges in CFR court (140 days incarceration) and later tried and sentenced in federal district court for the same acts (30 years in prison, consecutive). DEFINITION-“OFFENCE”: ‘Offence’ means “transgression, . . .an act committed against law, or omitted where the law requires it.” Denezpi v. United States, No. 20–7622 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/13/22)

COURT OF INDIAN OFFENSES (J. GORSUCH, DISSENT): “By anyone’s account, the Court of Indian Offenses is a curious regime. . . .[No one] pointed to any Act of Congress authorizing the project. On the contrary, from the beginning, federal officials recognized that these ‘so-called courts’ rested on a ‘shaky legal foundation.’ . . .Even more than that, one might wonder how an executive agency can claim the exclusive power to define, prosecute, and judge crimes. . . .[H]owever. . . .those questions—long lingering and incredibly still unanswered—remain for another day.” Denezpi v. United States, No. 20–7622 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/13/22)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DUAL SOVEREIGNTY DOCTRINE (J.

GORSUCH, DISSENT): Under the dual sovereignty doctrine, even successive prosecutions under identical criminal laws may be permissible if they are brought by different sovereigns. “To my mind, that doctrine has no place in our constitutional order.” Denezpi v. United States, No. 20–7622 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/13/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The ordinary meaning of the term “mistake” in Rule 60(b)(1) includes a judge’s legal errors. A party may seek relief from a final judgment in a criminal case under F.R.Civ.P. 60(b)(1) (which authorizes a court to reopen a final judgment under certain circumstances, so long as the motion is filed within a reasonable time) based on a mistake, which includes a judge’s error of law. Defendant who failed to meet deadlines for appeal or criminal post conviction relief may proceed civilly based on legal errors by judge. Kemp v. United States, No. 21–5726 (U.S.S.Ct. 6/13/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF (J. GORSUCH, DISSENTING): “Going forward, every judicial legal error—not just an inadvertent or obvious ‘mistake’—is fodder for collateral attack under Rule 60(b)(1). And what is the basis for all this? A mysterious 1946 amendment deleting the word ‘his.’ Kemp v. United States, No. 21–5726 (U.S.S.Ct. 6/13/22)

ACCA-PREDICATE OFFENSES: Cocaine may not be a predicate offense for the ACCA enhancement, depending on when it occurred. Because the drug ioflupane (which has therapeutic value for treating Parkinson’s Disease) had been removed from the list of serious drug offenses at the time the Defendant possessed a firearm, and because the Defendant’s prior cocaine conviction fell under the same statute which included ioflupane at the time, and because the categorical approach applies to interpreting ACCA, Defendant’s prior cocaine conviction is not a predicate for ACCA enhancement. Sentence vacated. USA v. Jackson, No. 21-13963 (11th Cir. 6/10/22)

ACCA-PREDICATE OFFENSES-COCAINE: “Because we apply the categorical approach. . ., we must presume that Jackson’s cocaine-related convictions ‘rested upon nothing more than the least of the acts criminalized or the least culpable conduct.’ . . .Here, that means we must assume that Jackson sold and possessed with intent to sell ioflupane. But. . .on September 26, 2017—when Jackson possessed the firearm here—the federal Schedule II expressly excluded ioflupane as a cocaine-related controlled substance. . .As a result, Jackson’s cocaine-related prior convictions do not qualify under ACCA as ‘serious drug offenses.’” USA v. Jackson, No. 21-13963 (11th Cir. 6/10/22)

DUE PROCESS: Due-process fair-notice considerations require that the version of the Controlled Substance Act Schedules in place when the defendant committed the federal firearm-possession offense for which he is being sentenced, rather than that in effect when he was convicted of his predicate state crimes, applies. USA v. Jackson, No. 21-13963 (11th Cir. 6/10/22)

CATEGORICAL APPROACH-MODIFIED CATEGORICAL APPROACH: Elements are the constituent parts of a crime’s legal definition—the things the prosecution must prove to sustain a conviction. Alternative means, on the other hand, are different ways to satisfy a single element. When a statute lists alternative “elements,” rather than alternative “means” of satisfying an element, the statute is “divisible.” In that case, the “modified categorical approach” permits a court to consult a limited class of documents for the sole purpose of ascertaining the elements on which the defendant was actually convicted, such as a plea agreement, the transcript of a plea colloquy, the charging document, jury instructions, or a comparable judicial record of this information. But when a statute lists alternative means of satisfying a single element, the standard categorical approach governs. USA v. Jackson, No. 21-13963 (11th Cir. 6/10/22)

PRIOR PANEL PRECEDENT RULE: Other cases in which §893.13(1) convictions have been considered to be serious drug offenses are not binding under the prior-panel-precedent rule. Questions which merely “lurk in the record,” neither brought to the attention of the court nor ruled upon, are not to be considered as having been so decided as to constitute precedents. “The question of which version of the Controlled Substance Act’s drug Schedules governs under §924(e)(2)(A)(ii)’s definition of “serious drug offense” was not even a twinkle in our eyes.” Assumptions are not holdings. Sub silentio holdings, unstated assumptions, and implicit rejections of arguments by prior panel are not binding circuit precedent. USA v. Jackson, No. 21-13963 (11th Cir. 6/10/22)

PRAEMONITUS: “Praemonitus, praemunitus’ is a Latin proverb that translates loosely to ‘forewarned, forearmed.’” Ancient Romans identified the principle that forewarned is forearmed thousands of years ago. USA v. Jackson, No. 21-13963 (11th Cir. 6/10/22)

DUE PROCESS: Due process contemplates criminal laws that give ordinary people fair notice of the conduct they punish. Fair notice allows the ordinary citizen to conform his or her conduct to the law and ensures uniformity of enforcement by police and courts. “And if an individual decides to break the law, anyway, the fair notice that due process requires advises him of the maximum (and depending on the statute, minimum) statutory penalty he can expect, so he knows what he risks before he undertakes his crime. . . After all, forewarned is forearmed.” USA v. Jackson, No. 21-13963 (11th Cir. 6/10/22)

GAIN TIME: Defendant convicted of sexual battery is not entitled to incentive gain time. But Defendant convicted of attempted sexual battery is. Prior case law receded from. Attempts are violations of Chapter 777, not Chapter 794. Florida D.O.C. v. Gould, 1D19-1149 (6/10/22)

ATTEMPT: A criminal attempt is an offense separate from the offense attempted. “No reasonable reading of the text of section 777.04 could give rise to a conclusion that ‘criminal attempt’ is an offense prohibited by some other statute, “as modified” by section 777.04, rather than a separate offense with its own specified punishment.” The criminalization of a general “attempt” is the criminalization of intent rather than any particular action or result. STARE DECISIS: Perpetrating an error in legal thinking under the guise of stare decisis serves no one well and only undermines the integrity and credibility of the court. Florida D.O.C. v. Gould, 1D19-1149 (6/10/22)

MANDAMUS: “Mandamus is an ancient writ rooted in English common law. It was used ‘to prevent disorder from a failure of justice’ where there was no other remedy but ‘where in justice and good government there ought to be one.’” Mandamus is available in Florida to order an officer to exercise his discretion where it is his duty to do so and to control the exercise of discretion that “is abused and illegally violates rights of complaining parties.” Florida D.O.C. v. SIGNIFICANCE: “Judge Bilbrey. . .speculates that our opinion will affect application of section 948.30, regarding conditions of sex-offender probation, and that our holding may apply to current terms of probation. . . [W]e do not address how the former provision, as we now have interpreted it, might affect the application of section 948.30. In turn, whether our analysis might apply to an offender who committed a crime or was put on probation prior to this decision is not before us.” Florida D.O.C. v. Gould, 1D19-1149 (6/10/22)

STARE DECISIS (DISSENT): “Little commends devoting the scarce judicial resources of a fifteen-member appellate court to this run-of-the-mill sexual offender gain-time case, which is unworthy of an en banc hearing after languishing for over three years before an en banc vote was even sought. Upending time-honored precedent with no discernable benefit to society or the legal system is ill-advised as well, particularly when doing so directly thwarts the Legislature’s clear and obvious intent to deny gain-time to convicted felons such as Gould, who—because of today’s jurisprudential flip-flop—is now eligible for potentially earlier release from prison.” Florida D.O.C. v. WORD OF THE DAY-FOOFARAW: “Short of that, the Florida Supreme Court is potentially pulled into the foofaraw unnecessarily because the formerly statewide uniform precedent on the topic has become muddled and conflicting due to this court’s jurisprudential turnabout.” Florida D.O.C. v. STARE DECISIS (DISSENT): “The collateral consequences of the court’s decision will ripple—both retroactively and prospectively—into other areas of the law, spawning uncertainty, quizzical questions, and unforeseen consequences. En banc review is supposed to bring about uniformity; here, the court’s decision—the judicial equivalent of an unprompted cannonball dive into a long-placid wading pool—yields the opposite result.” Florida D.O.C. v. ATTEMPTED SEXUAL BATTERY-DISSENT: “[U]nder the majority’s holding any sex offender who completed the offense and is placed on probation. . .will remain automatically required to undertake the applicable conditions of sex offender probation. . . But anyone who attempts any sex offense, up to attempted capitalsexual battery, will now not be statutorily mandated to complete the sex offender conditions of any probation. . .More troubling, the majority’s holding seems to me to apply to existing sentences of probation.” Florida DOC v. FAILURE TO REGISTER: Defendant who has not paid fines and costs must still register as a sexual offender. His argument that he had not been "released from the sanction imposed," and that he was therefore not subject to registration, is nonavailing. Florida DOC v. Gould, 1D19-1149 (6/10/22)

RECENT-CONTROVERSY RULE: A clarifying amendment to a statute that is enacted soon after controversies as to its interpretation arise may be considered as a legislative interpretation of the original law and not as a substantive change. Because the legislature clarified its intent immediately following James (holding that a sex offender who had not paid fines remains under saction and therefore does not have to register), the statutory amendment applies retroactively and Defendant must register. Florida DOC v. Gould, 1D19-1149 (6/10/22)

RECENT-CONTROVERSY RULE: The recent controversy rule suggests a court should interpret a preamendment statute in light of a subsequent "clarification" rather than the statute's plain meaning in isolation. In other words, the recent controversy rule purports to use the statute's subsequent legislative history as a guide for determining the legislature's intent in the pre-amendment version of the statute. Florida DOC v. Gould, 1D19-1149 (6/10/22)

RECENT-CONTROVERSY RULE: “Our interpretation of Florida Statutes section 943.0435(1)(h)1 in James was correct and felicitous to the operative text of the statute at that time. We also add that we, too, find the recent controversy rule—by which a subsequent legislature's amendment somehow slips free from the bonds of time to recalibrate the meaning of the words that a prior legislature enacted—both puzzling in its application and potentially troubling in its effect. It is, however, a settled facet of the law in our State.”

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-MINIMUM MANDATORY: Where Court orally sentences Defendant to 25 years without characterizing the sentence as a mandatory minimum, the written judgment provides for a mandatory minimum, and the Defendant moves to correct the sentence to conform to the oral pronouncement, The court must impose the minimum mandatory. The trial court was required to impose a ten year mandatory minimum sentence. There was no wiggle room. Jeopardy attaches only to a legal sentence. Because jeopardy has never attached, there can be, as a matter of law, no double jeopardy violation. Whether Defendant’s sentence was amended later that same day following oral pronouncement or more than twelve years later, the passage of time does not alter the calculus. An illegal sentence was, is, and remains illegal until it is corrected. Miles v. State, 2D21-1519 (6/10/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: In DUI case, Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to move to exclude testimony and evidence regarding Defendant's alleged use of K2. Court may not avoid its duty to attach record documents supporting its denial by stating that "because the facts it has relied upon to deny [this ground] are from [Phillips'] own motion. It is a safe assumption [Phillips] would have presented those facts in the light most favorable to himself." "While the court's assumption may be true, it does not relieve the court of its obligation to attach records that conclusively refute Phillips' claim." Phillips v. State, 2D21-1963 (6/10/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object on the basis of the State's argument which allegedly referred to facts not in evidence, in the absence of contrary attached records. SEARCH WARRANT: Search warrant based on allegations by confidential informant and observation of activity at a house are sufficient for warrant, or for application of the good faith exception.

The good faith exception to the exclusionary rule precludes the suppression of evidence secured pursuant to an invalid warrant when the officer who conducts the search does so in an objectively reasonable reliance upon the validity of the warrant. The good faith exception applies, precluding the suppression of evidence obtained by officers, if the officers acted in objectively reasonable reliance on the search warrant issued by a detached and neutral magistrate, regardless of whether the warrant was later found by the trial court to be unsupported by probable cause. APPEAL-PRESERVATION: To be preserved, the issue or legal argument must be raised and ruled on by the trial court. Counsel failed to preserve any issue with respect to closing argument related to improper reference to mercy to the Defendant where he did not contemporaneously object. The failure to raise a contemporaneous objection when improper closing argument comments are made or to secure a ruling on any such objection waives any claim concerning such comments for appellate review. APPEAL-PRESERVATION: An objected-to comment is not adequately preserved where the trial court did not sustain or overrule the objection, but rather agreed with trial counsel that it was improper for the State to argue Defendant deserves no more mercy that he gave the victim and cautioned the prosecutor to limit his argument accordingly is not a definitive ruling. Ritchie v. State, SC20-1422 (6/9/22)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: A general pretrial motion in limine does not constitute a contemporaneous objection to the prosecutor's arguments. §90.104(1), which was amended in 2003 to make a contemporaneous objection to admission or exclusion of evidence unnecessary in order to preserve the issue for appeal where a prior definitive ruling has been obtained does not apply to claims of error in prosecutorial argument. <https://www.floridasupremecourt.org/content/download/839976/opinion/sc20-1422.pdf>

GOLDEN RULE: A golden rule argument is an “argument that invites the jurors to place themselves in the victim’s position. “Can you imagine the dread of knowing that your life is ending and you’re feeling pain all over your body. . .” is an impermissible Golden Rule argument; asking the jury to consider what the evidence showed as to the length of the attack and what the victim experienced while Defendant compressed Victim's neck is not. But error was not objected to and was not fundamental. Ritchie v. State, SC20-1422 (6/9/22)

ARGUMENT-IMAGINARY SCRIPT: Asking jury to imagine what the victim was thinking or what was happening during the silence of the 911 call is improper speculation violating the "imaginary script" variant of the prohibition on golden rule arguments. But error was not objected to and was not fundamental. Ritchie v. State, SC20-1422 (6/9/22)

PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT-ARGUMENT: Prosecutor improperly commented upon the Jamaican legal system (where Defendant came from) or to compare it to the legal system in the United States, or commenting upon Defendant's "comfortable" life while awaiting trial in jail, to what his life would have been like had he been on trial in Jamaica. "To the extent the prosecutor's rhetoric could be taken as anti immigrant, we condemn such rhetoric in the strongest possible terms; it has no place in our courts." PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT-ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's argument comparing his difficult childhood to the difficult childhood of Ronald Reagan, the prosecutor did not improperly attach an aggravating label to a mitigating factor nor and improperly appeal to the jury's emotions. DEATH PENALTY-VICTIM IMPACT: Victim's mother concluded her testimony by reading the following Bible verse: "If anyone causes one of these little ones, those who believe in me, to stumble, it would be better for them to have a large millstone [sic] hung around their neck and to be thrown in the depths of the sea," exceeds the scope of relevant victim impact evidence. But error was not objected to and was not fundamental. Ritchie v. State, SC20-1422 (6/9/22)

PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT-ARGUMENT LABARGA (DISSENT):

“[T]he majority’s position sends a strong message to prosecutors that the stronger their case, the stronger the likelihood their improper statements, regardless of their egregiousness, will pass muster. This Court must come to terms with the fact that our long-established prohibitions against ‘same mercy’ arguments, ‘golden rule’ arguments, and arguments designed to stoke anti immigration sentiment are there to be followed. And, when they are not, there must be consequences. We cannot continue to overstate . . .the requirements of fundamental error, in order to ignore the prosecutorial misconduct that the majority agrees occurred in this case. Lawyers, whether prosecutors or defense attorneys, are officers of the Court and, as such, must follow the law. The prosecutor in this case chose to ignore the law.” Ritchie v. State, SC20-1422 (6/9/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to discovery in order to prepare a motion for post conviction relief. Post conviction discovery is not automatically allowed and instead it is within the trial judge's inherent authority to allow limited prehearing discovery during postconviction proceedings. That authority should be used only upon a showing of good cause. Nothing can be relevant or material when there is no postconviction proceeding. Preston v. State, 1D21-904 (6/8/22)

SENTENCING SCORESHEET: Scoresheet errors at sentencing are subject to harmless error review. A sentence predicated on an inaccurately calculated scoresheet is proper when the record shows the trial judge would have imposed the same sentence in the absence of the scoresheet error, which requires a showing that the final sentence would have been imposed in the absence of error, not merely the sentence could have been imposed. Harmful error occurs when the sentence is close to the bottom of the guidelines and the record does not conclusively show that the trial court would have imposed the same sentence under a corrected scoresheet. Abraham v. State, 4D19-2408 (6/8/22)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL-FRAUDULENT DEEDS: Defendant's signature on fraudulent deeds is insufficient evidence that Defendant had knowledge of any fraudulent scheme because 1) he did not sign as a notary, and thus did not certify that the document was validly signed, and 2) no one testified that the signatures within the five documents were fraudulent. Tinker v. State, 4D19-3232 (6/8/22)

FRAUD-NOTARIZATION: The fact that deed was dated in 2010, but the notary seal showed an expiration in 2017 (notary commissions are valid for only four years) implies fraud, “However, any fraud regarding the date of expiration of the notary’s commission does not support an inference that Defendant had knowledge of any fraud with the notarization. We doubt that the average citizen pays attention to the expiration date on the notary’s stamp when the citizen’s signature as a party is acknowledged by a notary or added as a witness to a party signing, particularly because typically the notary signs last and typically the notary stamp is applied after the notary signs.” Further, the signatures of two subscribing witnesses is not certification that any information contained within the document is correct. Tinker v. State, 4D19-3232 (6/8/22)

FRAUD-NOTARIZATION: Evidence that Defendant (1) was a corporate officer for Global Management during some portion of the years the fraudulent activity occurred, (2) recorded some of the fraudulent documents, (3) lived in one of the homes that was obtained by fraud, and (4) signed an eviction notice for one of the properties, none of such evidence, singularly or in combination, is sufficient to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that Defendant knew of fraudulent activity to effectuate or assist the criminal scheme. Tinker v. State, 4D19-3232 (6/8/22)

FRAUD-JOA: The fact that Defendant was listed as a corporate officer in one of his father's corporations is not sufficient to prove knowledge of criminal activity. When an officer of a corporation makes an affidavit in its behalf, it is not necessary that he should state the sources of his knowledge, or information and belief. A distinct difference exists between the scenario of a corporate officer executing an affidavit (inherently a statement of facts) and a corporate officer signing a document pertaining to a parcel of real property as a party or witness, including an attesting witness. JOA-EVIDENCE: JOA is required when the evidence, viewed in the light most favorable to the State, is such that a rational juror could not have found the existence of the knowledge and intent elements beyond a reasonable doubt. Tinker v. State, 4D19-3232 (6/8/22)

EVIDENCE-HANDWRITING IDENTIFICATION: Non-expert detective may not identify signature on documents as that of the Defendant based on "his training and experience" after reviewing numerous documents. To be sufficiently acquainted with a signature, a lay witness may identify an individual's signature where the lay witness only if he has seen the individual sign his or her name on different occasions. However, a lay witness cannot identify a signature where the familiarity with the handwriting was acquired for the purpose of litigation.” Familiarity acquired for the purposes of a criminal investigation is the same as familiarity acquired for the purposes of litigation. Tinker v. State, 4D19-3233 (6/8/20)

MISTRIAL: Defendant is entitled to a mistrial when an exhibit (a chart) containing prosecutor’s notes on how the State thought the chart proved the counts was mistakenly sent to the jury room. “[T]he main prejudice with Column H is not the extraneous information which the jury could ‘disregard,’ but instead, the juror’s exposure to ‘additional’ argument from the State.” Tinker v. JURY QUESTION: Court may not respond to a jury question without affording Defendants an opportunity to be fully heard. Failure to do so is per se reversible error. Tinker v. State, 4D19-3233 (6/8/20)

PRISON-PROBATION-CONSECUTIVE: Probation and Imprisonment cannot exceed the maximum sentence. Where Defendant is convicted of a life felony (punishable by a term of imprisonment for life or by a term of imprisonment not exceeding forty years), forty years in prison followed by lifetime sex offender probation

BAKER ACT: Conclusory testimony, unsubstantiated by facts in evidence, ... is insufficient to satisfy the statutory criteria by the clear and convincing evidence standard for involuntary commitment. The subjective fear of the subject's mother is insufficient. Kogel v. State, 4D21-2093 (6/8/22)

SENTENCING-DELINQUENCY-VOP: The statutory requirement that the Court discuss with the child his or her feelings about the offense committed, the harm caused to the victim or others, and what penalty he or she should be required to pay for such transgression does not apply to a post-VOP disposition in which no new law violation is alleged. "Because the trial court is required to have the discussion under section 985.433(4)(c) 'when' the child has been found to have committed the delinquent act, the statute's plain language does not require such a discussion at a later disposition hearing at which the child has not been found to have committed a delinquent act." DEPORTATION-CANCELLATION OF REMOVAL: There are four statutory eligibility criteria for cancellation of removal. Under the exceptional and extremely unusual hardship standard, the BIA considers the ages, health, and circumstances of qualifying relatives to determine whether the hardship the qualifying relative(s) would face would be substantially beyond that which ordinarily would be expected to result from the alien's deportation. The possibility that alien's daughter might not be able to accompany him out of the country and might become dependent is not necessarily sufficient. "As sympathetic as we are to his plight, we are precluded from reweighing the hardship factors now since our review of his case is jurisdictionally limited to 'constitutional claims or questions of law.'" EVIDENCE-AUTHENTICATION-AUDIO RECORDING: Recording is sufficiently authenticated when the victim testified that she was a participant in the recorded conversation, that she had listened to the tape before trial, that the voices on the tape were Defendant's and hers and that the tape fairly and accurately memorialized the conversation. Authentication is a relatively low threshold that only requires a prima facie showing that the proffered evidence is authentic; the ultimate determination of the authenticity of the evidence is a question for the fact-finder. There is no definitive list of requirements that must be met to authenticate an audio tape. Jabri v. State, 5D21-2317 (6/3/22)

APPEAL-PRESERVED ISSUE: Where Court violated the plea agreement ("Despite any labels the State or the trial court may attempt to place on the plea, the transcript of the plea hearing reveals that the trial court clearly offered Melendez a specific sentence in exchange for his guilty plea. Such is a negotiated plea.") but the Defendant neither objected nor sought to withdraw his plea, the issue is not preserved for appellate review. Defendant may not argue on direct appeal that trial counsel was ineffective for failing to object to the violation of the plea agreement. An unpreserved error may only be raised and result in reversal on direct appeal where the error is fundamental. Because a showing of fundamental error is not required to prevail on a claim of ineffective assistance of trial counsel . . . such an unpreserved claim may not be raised or result in reversal on direct appeal. VOP-JURISDICTION-TOLLING: Upon the filing of an affidavit alleging a violation of probation and following issuance of a warrant, a warrantless arrest, or a notice to appear, the probationary period is tolled until the court enters a ruling on the violation. Under the law at the time (since superseded by statute) a probationary period is not tolled following issuance of a warrant for a noncriminal violation because the statutory language required that the warrant be issued under §901.02, which in turn required that the warrant be issued for a "crime." Rule did not apply where Defendant absconded, but record here does not show absconsion. VOP dismissed. Bourdeau v. State, 2D21-68 (6/3/22)

DISQUALIFICATION-PROHIBITION: Defendant's motion to disqualify in DUI case based on Judge's statement in a sermon about socialism, no fault divorce, and abortion is improperly denied where Judge, in denying it, makes extraneous comments challenging the allegations in the motion as to his religious beliefs and linking the allegation in the motion by analogy to other cases where facts and their intersection with various religious tenets held by judges resulted in critical examination of that interrelation. The original motion was legally insufficient, but "[b]ecause the trial court went beyond simply finding the motion to be legally insufficient and did so in a manner which addressed the merits of the motion, we grant the relief sought.

DISQUALIFICATION-PROHIBITION-DISSENT: “Wagner's argument that the trial court exceeded the proper scope of inquiry relies on the nonsequitur that the Judge commented on the veracity of the allegations by finding that Wagner's fears are not objectively reasonable. To the contrary, the trial court must determine—based on the allegations in the motion—whether the defendant's fears are objectively reasonable in order to reach a conclusion as to the sufficiency of the motion.”. . . Whether the judge's extrajudicial activities were advisable is not a relevant matter for this court's contemplation. And the prudence of the trial court's decision to elaborate on its rationale for determining that the motion was legally insufficient. . . are not considerations within this court's ambit of review.” Wagner v. SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-LACK OF REMORSE: Judge may evaluate whether a defendant's in-court statements contained falsehoods and, if so, assess that fact along with all of the other sentencing considerations. When a defendant voluntarily chooses to allocute at a sentencing hearing, the sentencing court is permitted to consider the defendant's freely offered statements, including those indicating a failure to accept responsibility. The same rule applies when the statements were made during trial rather than an allocution. State v. Burns, SC18-1208 (6/2/22)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: There are two types of collateral crime evidence: similar fact evidence and dissimilar fact evidence. The former (also known as Williams rule evidence) is governed by §90.404 while the latter is subject to §90.402. Hayes v. State, 1D18-3876 (6/1/22)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: In gang-related drive-by shooting in which a baby was killed, evidence of prior shootings between the 2 gangs, and rap videos describing prior fights and shootings are admissible as inextricably intertwined evidence, to show that the shooting in question was a continuation in consequence of the preceding events, or to show motive, intent, and identity. The evidence is necessary to establish the entire context out of which the charged crimes arose and adequately describe the events leading up to the charged crime. Without the evidence, the State could not have explained why the defendants attacked a woman, her baby, and an elderly grandmother. Hayes v. State, 1D18-3876 (6/1/22)

IDENTIFICATION: Suggestive pretrial identification is admissible if the identification possesses certain features of reliability. An out-of-court identification is admissible if (1) the police did not employ any unnecessarily suggestive procedure in obtaining an out-of-court identification; or, (2) if so, considering all the circumstances, the suggestive procedure does not give rise to a substantial likelihood of irreparable misidentification. Where there was no police involvement in a witness's identification of the Defendant from the photograph, any later in-court identification is admissible. Hayes v. State, 1D18-3876 (6/1/22)

HEARSAY-EXCEPTION-CO-CONSPIRATOR: Videos showing the co-defendant rapping alone in a vehicle, assuming the videos constituted hearsay, are admissible under the co-conspirator exception. The co-conspirator exception to the hearsay rule (§90.803(18)(e)) allows a statement to be admitted if substantial evidence, independent of the statement itself, is presented showing: (1) that a conspiracy existed; (2) that the declarant/coconspirator and the defendant against whom the statements are offered were members of the conspiracy; and (3) that the statements were made during the course and in furtherance of the conspiracy. HEARSAY-VERBAL ACT: A video of Defendant walking down the EVIDENCE-AUTHENTICATION-FACEBOOK PHOTOS: For evidence to be authenticated there must be enough evidence to support a finding that the matter in question is what its proponent claims. EVIDENCE-AUTHENTICATION-FACEBOOK PHOTOS: There are two ways to authenticate photos. The “pictorial testimony” method requires testimony to establish that, based on personal knowledge, the photographs fairly and accurately reflect the events or scene. The “silent witness” method provides that the evidence may be admitted upon proof of the reliability of the process which produced the tape or photograph. As to the “pictorial testimony” method, any witness with knowledge that the photograph is a fair and accurate representation may testify to the foundational facts. There is no requirement that the person testifying about the photograph have been present when the photograph was taken (or even know who took the photograph. Richardson v. State, 1D18-4084 (6/1/22)

EVIDENCE-AUTHENTICATION-FACEBOOK PHOTOS: Facebook photographs are properly authenticated using the “pictorial testimony” theory notwithstanding that the State did not use the standard predicate, “Does the photograph fairly and accurately depict [the subject of the photograph]?” A witness who knows the subjects of the photographs may testify about who is in them and the meaning of the hand gestures used in the Facebook photos. LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-OFFENDER: Graham established a categorical rule prohibiting a life without-parole-eligibility sentence for a juvenile who committed a non-homicide offense. VOP-CHANGING RESIDENCE: Where Probationer was ordered by a court in Delaware to leave his residence where he had resided with his mother following an incident there, his absence from that residence does not constitute a willful violation of probation, even though his own actions resulted in his removal. STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS-RICO: In a RICO prosecution, the limitations period commences upon the date the crime is completed which means the date of the last charged predicate act committed by the individual defendant. Where the predicate charge in a RICO case (which here includes homicides), the time limit for the predicate offense governs. §775.15(1), read in conjunction with §895.05(10) provides no time limitation on the State's ability to bring a substantive RICO charge based on a predicate felonious act that resulted in a death. Five year RICO statute of limitation does not apply. Jean-Marie v. State, 3D18-1870 (6/1/22)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL-COUNSEL: When a represented defendant files a pro se rule 3.170(f) motion to withdraw plea, the trial court is not required to appoint conflict-free counsel unless it determines: (1) that an adversarial relationship exists, and (2) the defendant's allegations are not conclusively refuted by the record. SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-ILLEGAL EXPORTATION OF WEAPONS: “In this sentencing appeal, we interpret U.S.S.G. §2M5.2(a)(2) for the first time in a published decision.” A Defendant who exports enough weapons parts for two operable firearms (AR-15), along with additional parts to service additional firearms, cannot take advantage of the lower base offense level. Defendant who attempted to export 23 weapons parts which were not capable of being converted to more than two firearms, but who had purchased over the years enough parts to make four firearms, is subject to a 12 level enhancement pursuant to §2M5.2(a)(2). SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-ILLEGAL EXPORTATION OF WEAPONS: Weapons parts for guidelines purposes are equal to complete weapons. “In fairness to Stines, we recognize that our interpretation could lead to results that are at least counterintuitive. . . ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL-SERIOUS DRUG OFFENSE: To count as a “serious drug offense” under the ACCA, the drug offenses must have a maximum term of imprisonment of ten years or more. CLEMENCY-ALL WRITS: Governor's blanket policy of denying clemency to all sex offenders and murders does not provide Petitioner an avenue of relief under the court's "all writs" provision. Governor has no duty to consider a clemency application without resort to a policy that denies clemency merely based on the type of crime committed. No specific procedures are mandated in the clemency process. The very nature of clemency is that it is grounded solely in the will of the dispenser of clemency. He need give no reasons for granting it, or for denying it. The governor may agonize over every petition or he may glance at one or all such petitions and toss them away. Bryan v. COMPETENCY HEARING: Where Defendant went to trial, it is fundamental error for the Court to have failed to hold a competency hearing once the issue had been raised. In the case of a voluntary plea, fundamental error is not an exception to the preservation requirement of Fla.R.App.P. 9.140(b)(2)(A)(ii)(c), but in the case of a trial, it is. Walton v. RULES-AMENDMENT-BELATED APPEAL: A new subdivision--(c)(4)(G)--is created requiring a petitioner to show the basis for invoking discretionary review jurisdiction. In Re: Amendments to the Florida Rule of Appellate Procedure 9.141, SC21-673 (5/19/22)

JIMMY RYCE: Court errs in disregarding Defendant's affidavit disputing his future dangerousness and granting summary judgment for involuntary commitment under Jimmy Ryce. Civil commitment is a significant deprivation of liberty that requires due process protections. Court may not cut short Appellant's case by disregarding his affidavit as self-serving. Ridenhour v. State, 1D21-46 (5/18/22)

PAROLE-REVIEW-WRIT OF MANDAMUS: Once the commission establishes the initial presumptive parole release date (PPRD), a prisoner has only sixty days to challenge it. After that, the initial PPRD becomes binding. The PPRD may not be changed except for reasons of institutional conduct or the acquisition of new information not available at the time of the initial interview. After that, Defendant may not challenge by writ of mandamus any initial improper calculation of his PPRD, notwithstanding later modification. Clifford v. Florida Commission on Offender Review, 1D21-3871 (5/18/22)

APPEAL-POST CONVICTION RELIEF-COUNSEL: Defendant has no absolute right to counsel in post-conviction relief proceedings or appeals from them. Public Defender improperly appointed on appeal. Westfall v. State, 1D22-171 (5/18/22)

ALLEN CHARGE: An Allen charge is not required when jury returns a guilty verdict, but during polling, one juror says that she does not agree. Allen charge is only required when there is an impasse, not merely lack of unanimity. Returning the jury for further deliberations is permissible. Blackman v. State, 3D18-1875 (5/18/22)

VIOLATION OF PRETRIAL RELEASE: Defendant who does not post bond may still be found guilty of violating a condition of pretrial release by making phone calls from jail, despite not having been released. The plain language of §§741.29(6) and 903.047(1)(b) support the conclusion that a defendant can violate a condition of pretrial release prohibiting contact with the victim before being released from jail. Caldwell v. State, 4D21-117 (5/18/22)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Court may not impose a condition of probation that Defendant submit to psychological evaluation where the condition has no relationship to the charged crimes, does not prohibit conduct that is itself criminal, and does not appear to have any reasonable relationship to Defendant's future criminality. Criminality alone does not justify the imposition of a mental health evaluation as a special condition of probation. Caldwell v. State, 4D21-117 (5/18/22)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS-ORAL PRONOUNCEMENT: Where Court orally pronounced a special probation condition requiring the defendant to obtain substance abuse mental health evaluations, but did not orally pronounce that the defendant would be responsible to pay for them, then portion of the written order requiring payment must be stricken. Francois v. State 4D21-2112 (5/18/22)

CONDITION OF PROBATION-BIP: Court may not order the Batterer's Intervention Program where the Defendant was convicted of BLEO and Resisting with Violence, not the domestic violence complaint to which the officers had responded. Francois v. State 4D21-2112 (5/18/22)

PROBATION-CONDITION-SEX OFFENSE-INTERNET: Court may impose as condition of supervised release for a defendant convicted of a sex offense that Defendant may not possess any medium of digital storage nor the means to access the Internet. USA v. Coglianese, No. 20-12074 (11th Cir. 5/17/22)

SENTENCE- SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: Reliance on some §3553(a) factors over others does not necessarily render a sentence unreasonable, nor does the failure to discuss every factor. The bottom of the guideline sentence for a Defendant who enticed a minor, had sex with her despite knowing her age, and then traded nude photos of her is not unreasonable. USA v. Coglianese, No. 20-12074 (11th Cir. 5/17/22)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-OBJECTION: An objection to a condition of supervised release is properly preserved for appeal when it articulates the specific nature of the objection so that the district court may reasonably have an opportunity to consider it. Defendant's objection to "the computer term" (prohibiting Internet access and digital storage devices) is not too broad to apprise the district court of his challenge, and thus to preserve the issue for appeal USA v. Coglianese, No. 20-12074 (11th Cir. 5/17/22)

which includes a ban on computer and Internet use and on possessing electronic data storage mediums does not unduly restrict a defendant's liberty so long as the defendant has the ability to seek permission from the probation office to use a computer and/or access the internet for specified purposes. USA v. Coglianese, No. 20-12074 (11th Cir. 5/17/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-979_h3ci.pdf

DEPORTATION (J. GORSUCH, DISSENT): “So under the majority's construction of subparagraph (B)(i), individuals who could once secure judicial review to correct administrative errors at step one in district court are now. . .likely left with no avenue for judicial relief of any kind. An agency may err about the facts, the law, or even the Constitution and nothing can be done about it. . .Until today, courts could correct mistakes like these. But the majority’s construction of subparagraph (B)(i) will almost surely end all that and foreclose judicial review for countless law-abiding individuals whose lives may be upended by bureaucratic misfeasance.” Patel v. Garland, No. 20-979 (U.S. S. Ct. 5/16/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-979_h3ci.pdf

DEPORTATION-REVIEW (J. GORSUCH, DISSENT): “Altogether, the majority’s novel expansion of a narrow statutory exception winds up swallowing the law’s general rule guaranteeing individuals the chance to seek judicial review to correct obvious bureaucratic missteps. It is a conclusion that turns an agency once accountable to the rule of law into an authority unto itself. Perhaps some would welcome a world like that. But it is hardly the world Congress ordained.” Patel v. Garland, No. 20-979 (U.S. S. Ct. 5/16/22)

TEXTUALISM (J. BARRETT): “[W]e. . .swerve out of our lane when we put policy considerations in the driver’s seat. . .[P]olicy concerns cannot trump the best interpretation of the statutory text.” Patel v. Garland, No. 20-979 (U.S. S. Ct. 5/16/22)

TEXTUALISM (J. GORSUCH, DISSENT): “Often this Court rejects as implausible statutory interpretations that seek to squeeze elephants into mouse holes. . . Today’s interpretation seeks to cram a veritable legislative zoo into one clause of one subparagraph of one subsection of our Nation’s vast immigration laws.” Patel v. Garland, No. 20-979 (U.S. S. Ct. 5/16/22)

ANDERS BRIEF: Counsel may not file an Anders brief without supplementing the record with missing transcripts. “[T]he initial absence of transcripts, including the transcript from the hearing at which LoRusso was first permitted to represent himself, causes us to question whether and how counsel could have asserted that the trial record had been conscientiously examined and that no issues of arguable merit had been found. . . We thus remind appellate counsel of the procedural and ethical requirements involved in the filing of a brief pursuant to Anders and admonish against filing a no merits brief when the record on appeal is incomplete.” Lorusso v. State, 2D21-1325 (5/13/22)

the Court applying the incorrect evidentiary burden, rather than substantive, prohibition is not the appropriate remedy. Defendant must request certiorari. If the defendant asserts that on the merits he or she is entitled to immunity, is challenging the legal determinations and factual findings of immunity or lack of immunity, and the relief to be afforded is prohibition against further prosecution, then a petition for writ of prohibition is appropriate to review the claim. However, if the defendant asserts that the trial court applied the wrong procedure, and the relief requested would require remand for further proceedings on the defendant's motion, then certiorari relief is the proper mechanism. Corbett v. State, 5D21-3166 (5/13/22)

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: A sentence may be substantively unreasonable if it is grounded solely on one factor, relies on impermissible factors, ignores relevant factors in the sentencing context, or balances the relevant factors in an unreasonable manner. Procedural unreasonableness may be evident when the district court improperly calculates the guideline range, treats the guidelines as mandatory, fails to consider the appropriate statutory factors, bases the sentence on clearly erroneous facts, or fails to adequately explain its reasoning. Defendant's 135-month sentence was not substantively unreasonable. USA v. Rodriguez, No. 20-14681 (11th Cir. 5/12/22)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-QUANTITY OF NARCOTICS:

Government meets its burden of establishing the relevant drug quantity by a preponderance of the evidence by convincing the trier of fact that the existence of a fact is more probable than its nonexistence. In making this showing, the government must present reliable and specific evidence. A ledger recovered in the search showing that the conspiracy had distributed approximately 190 kilograms of methamphetamine throughout a six- to seven week period during the course of the fifteen-month conspiracy, plus thirteen kilograms of methamphetamine that were seized in the search of the stash house support the finding of 200 kilograms for guideline purposes. USA v. Rodriguez, No. 20-14681 (11th Cir. 5/12/22)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202014681.pdf>

CONSPIRACY-WITHDRAWAL: In order to sustain a legally cognizable withdrawal from a conspiracy, a defendant must take steps inconsistent with the conspiracy and communicate these acts in a manner reasonably calculated to reach the coconspirators, or disclose the illegal activity to law enforcement authorities. USA v. Rodriguez, No. 20-14681 (11th Cir. 5/12/22)

MINOR ROLE-QUANTITY: Court’s determination that Defendant played a minor role in the conspiracy does not imply or compel the conclusion that he could not be held responsible for the full amount of narcotics distributed. Those two determinations are not necessarily mutually exclusive. A participant in a conspiracy may be substantially less culpable than the average participant in the criminal activity while also still being sufficiently involved to be considered a joint participant who may be held culpable for the full quantity of drugs attributed to a conspiracy. USA v. Rodriguez, No. 20-14681 (11th Cir. 5/12/22)

FIREARM-ENHANCEMENT: Defendant's sentence may be enhanced on the grounds that his co-conspirator had stored a firearm at the stash house. A Defendant may receive a sentencing enhancement for possession of a firearm by a co-conspirator if:(1) the possessor of the firearm was a co-conspirator, (2) the possession was in furtherance of the conspiracy, (3) the defendant was a member of the conspiracy at the time of possession, and (4) the co-conspirator's possession was reasonably foreseeable by the defendant. USA v. Rodriguez, No. 20-14681 (11th Cir. 5/12/22)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court's decision to grant or deny a defendant a downward departure based on a claim that the guidelines over-represent his criminal history is committed to the court's discretion. Appellate court lacks jurisdiction to review district courts' discretionary decisions in this area. USA v. Rodriguez, No. 20-14681 (11th Cir. 5/12/22)

JUVENILE OFFENDER-LIFE SENTENCE-RE-SENTENCING: Life sentence with possibility of parole for a juvenile offender upon resentencing is lawful where Court considered relevant factors. Kirk v. State, 1D20-3598 (5/11/22)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/837424/opinion/203598_DC05_05112022_085325_i.pdf

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: When a defendant voluntarily chooses to allocute at a sentencing hearing, the sentencing court is permitted to consider the defendant's freely offered statements, including those indicating a failure to accept responsibility. Life sentence with 25 year review for juvenile offender is lawful where Defendant gave conflicting versions but ultimately blamed the co-defendant, indicating a failure to take responsibility. Kirk v. State, 1D20-3598 (5/11/22)

HABEAS CORPUS: The remedy of habeas corpus is not available in Florida to obtain the kind of collateral postconviction relief available by motion in the sentencing court pursuant to R. 3.850. Sanders v. State, 1D22-747 (5/11/22)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: When the defendant seeks the return of seized property as the true owner, the applicable procedure is similar to the procedure for the consideration of a motion for postconviction relief. The trial court first must determine whether the motion is facially sufficient—that it alleges with specificity the property to be returned and "that the property at issue was his personal property, was not the fruit of criminal activity, and was not being held as evidence. Property does not permanently vest with the Sheriff until 60 days after the appellate decision becomes final. O'Connell v. State, 2D20-142 (5/11/22)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: §§705.101(6) (defining evidence as unclaimed only if no claim of ownership has been made within the sixty days) and 705.105(1) tacitly create a sixty-day deadline before which a defendant must move for a return of her property, notwithstanding that the motion must be filed within 60 days. O'Connell v. State, 2D20-142 (5/11/22)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE OFFENDER: Eventual freedom to a juvenile offender convicted of a nonhomicide is not required, but the offender must be given some meaningful opportunity to obtain release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation. A juvenile offender's sentence does not implicate Graham and Miller [v. Alabama], unless it meets the threshold requirement of being a life sentence or the functional equivalent of a life sentence. 35 years is not the functional equivalent of a life sentence. Nugent v. State, 2D21-2196

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE OFFENDER: Juvenile offender whose crime occurred before July 1, 2014 is not entitled to sentence review under §921.1402. Nugent v. State, 2D21-2196 (5/11/22)

JOA-SALE OF COUNTERFEIT SUBSTANCE: For the State to prove a violation of §831.31(1)(a), the State must present evidence either of some labelling, which contains some identifying mark, number, or likeness of a trademark of a manufacturer other than the person who in fact manufactured the product. Alternatively, the State must prove that the substance is falsely identified as a controlled substance listed in §893.03. Packaging the items to look like crack cocaine does not constitute the necessary false identification of the substance. Graham v. State, 4D21-1763 (5/11/22)

HELPFUL INFORMATION: “At trial, the government asked Agent Green to describe what a VCR was—‘a unit that would play the VHS tapes,’ he responded—and asked him what a VHS tape was. Agent Green explained that ‘VHS tapes preceded DVDs for video recordings’; they ‘utilized magnetic tape to record audio and video onto them; and they were ‘6 or 7 inches wide and a few inches deep.’” USA v. Moon, No. 20-13822 (11th Cir. 5/10/22)

SEARCH WARRANT-SCOPE: Videotapes are not too obsolete a technology for a reasonable agent to believe they might contain evidence of pill mill’s operations, so officer is justified in viewing them when the warrant includes authorization to seize tapes. USA v. Moon, No. 20-13822 (11th Cir. 5/10/22)

PUBLIC TRIAL: A Defendant may waive his right to a public trial Defendant is not deprived of a public trial when court room is cleared when videos depicting nude children are shown, and Defendant fails to object to the exclusion of the public for related testimony. AIDING AND ABETTING: To prove the Defendant guilty of possession of firearms by a felon--the guns were taken by his co-defendant in a car burglary while Defendant drove the getaway car--under an aiding and abetting theory, the Government must prove that the Defendant knew that his co-defendant was a convicted felon. Seabrooks v. USA, No. 20-13459 (1th Cir. 5/6/22)

PROCEDURAL DEFAULT: To overcome a procedural default, a defendant must show either (1) cause and prejudice, or (2) a miscarriage of justice, or actual innocence. Seabrooks v. USA, No. 20-13459 (1th Cir. 5/6/22)

APPEAL: Government may not raise on appeal of Defendant's §2255 motion the the affirmative issue of procedural default where in the lower court the Government included only passing references to procedural default, and the district court did not raise the issue sua sponte. Seabrooks v. USA, No. 20-13459 (1th Cir. 5/6/22)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202013459.pdf>

APPEAL-PROCEDURAL DEFAULT-PROCEDURAL BAR: The terms “procedurally barred” and “procedurally defaulted” have distinct meanings. A procedural bar prevents a defendant from raising arguments in a §2255 proceeding that were raised and rejected direct appeal. A defendant can overcome a procedural bar when there is an intervening change in law. By contrast, a procedural default occurs when a defendant raises a new challenge to his conviction or sentence in a §2255 motion. If a defendant fails to raise an issue on direct appeal, he may not present the issue in a §2255 proceeding unless his procedural default is excused. To overcome a procedural default, a defendant must show either (1) cause and prejudice, or (2) a miscarriage of justice, or actual innocence. Seabrooks v. USA, No. 20-13459 (1st Cir. 5/6/22)

RULES-AMENDMENT-POST-CONDITION RELIEF-DEATH PENALTY:

A capital defendant may waive pending post conviction proceedings but not post conviction counsel, and that a subsequent post conviction motion is allowable to raise certain specified claims after a waiver of pending post conviction proceedings. A capital defendant may not represent him or herself in state post conviction proceedings. The only basis for a capital defendant to seek to discharge post conviction counsel in state court is pursuant to statute due to an actual conflict of interest, which, if granted, will result in the appointment of conflict-free Counsel In Re: Amendments to Florida Rule of Criminal Procedure 3.851 and Florida Rule of Appellate Procedure 9.142, No. SC21-537 (5/6/22)

DRIVER'S LICENSE SUSPENSION: Where DHSMV permanently suspends Driver's on the basis of the disputed out-of-state conviction for DUI, and tells him that his only review is in the Circuit Court, rather than by any further challenge through agency channels, Driver is entitled to first tier certiorari review in which he could present evidence that no Michigan DUI conviction existed. POST-CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel failed to convey a plea offer for 20 years in prison with no probation. PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: Apprendi and Alleyne, which hold that any fact that increases the mandatory minimum sentence must be found by a jury, do not include sentencing enhancements for recidivist offenders. The fact of Defendant's date of release from a prior prison sentence is directly derivative of a prior conviction, and need not be found by a jury beyond a reasonable doubt in order for a defendant to qualify as a PRR. INSANITY-DIMINISHED CAPACITY: Florida is a binary state that does not provide for a defense of diminished capacity in any permutation other than a specifically pled defense of insanity. Evidence of Defendant's sickle cell disease and related neurological impairment it is inadmissible in delinquency trial. T.E.B., A Child v. State, 3D21-2218 (5/4/22)

ALLOCUTION: Defendants may make an unsworn statement to the judge prior to the imposition of sentence, but where the Defendant did not request to make a statement until the Court began pronouncing the sentence, her right to allocution was waived. Wattiez v. State, 4D 21-1146 (5/4/22)

BATTERY BY STRANGULATION: Evidence that the Defendant helped the victim in the air by her neck in the crook of his arm while she was trying to get a breath is sufficient to establish battery by strangulation. Evidence that the Defendant impeded victim's breath, rather than cutting it off entirely is sufficient. Dennis v. State, 4D21-1723 (5/4/22)

FREE SPEECH: City which allows different groups to fly their flags in the City Hall plaza may not prohibit the flying of a religious group's flag. DISSING WARREN COURT: "To be fair, at least some of the blame belongs here and traces back to Lemon v. FREE SPEECH: University violates First Amendment by its "discriminatory harassment" policy which prohibits speech such as "abortion is immoral," that the government "should not be able to force religious organizations to recognize marriages with which they disagree," that "affirmative action is deeply unfair," etc. Viewpoint discrimination is anathematic to the First Amendment. POST-CONVICTION RELIEF: Where no evidentiary hearing is held by the post conviction court, an appellate court must accept a defendant's factual allegations contained in the rule 3.850 motion, to the extent that the allegations are not refuted by the record. SPEEDY TRIAL-HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant is not entitled to federal habeas corpus relief for failure to bring the Defendant to a speedy trial in state court where he had not raised a Sixth Amendment claim in the state court. Defendant must exhaust all state remedies before seeking habeas relief in federal court. Defendant may not complain about the state courts' delay in considering his 6th Amendment claim since he never raised it in the state court. Johnson v. State of Florida, No. 20-13301 (11th Cir. 4/28/22)

ABSTENTION DOCTRINE: Based on principles of comity and

BRADY: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial based on the Government's failure to disclose that the arresting officer had been disciplined for mishandling evidence in an unrelated case. Any possible impeachment of the officer would not have affected the verdict in this case. The officer's misconduct in an unrelated case had nothing to do with the evidence in this case, so his lack of credibility would tell the jury nothing about the credibility of the other officers, who did handle evidence in this case. USA v. Clark, No. 20-13301 (11th Cir. 4/28/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Stop of a vehicle is not unlawful merely because the in car video failed to capture the alleged weaving of Defendant's car. "The problem with Clark's argument is that he seeks to impermissibly heighten the probable cause standard to require officers to have perfect memory as to why they stopped an individual. We decline his implied invitation to raise the standard for probable cause." USA v. Clark, No. 20-13301 (11th Cir. 4/28/22)

JURY INSTRUCTION-REASONABLE DOUBT-INVITED ERROR:

When a party affirmatively accepts a jury instruction, any resulting error is invited. Defendant is not entitled to a new trial based on the Court not having instructed the jury that proof that a reasonable doubt is required as to the question of the weight of the methamphetamine. “By separating weight out from the other two elements of the offense, the District Court distanced weight from the beyond-a-reasonable-doubt language in such a way that the jury may have assumed that weight did not need to be proven beyond a reasonable doubt. But, even if we agree with Clark that there was error in the jury instruction, we are powerless to continue in the plain error analysis because Clark invited the error.” USA v. Clark, No. 20-13301 (11th Cir. 4/28/22)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON-KNOWLEDGE: In possession of a firearm by felon case where Defendant does not stipulate that he is a felon, The court did not abuse its discretion in allowing the admission of 8 certified copies of conviction. “So far as we can tell, no other circuit has addressed how many prior felony convictions are acceptable for the Government to admit after Rehaif. The answer likely depends on the circumstances of each case. As a general matter, though, we think it imprudent to hamstring the Government in the case where a defendant refuses to stipulate to felony status.” USA v. Clark, No. 20-13301 (11th Cir. 4/28/22)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: Hall v. Florida, which altered the rules for asserting intellectual disability to be executed, does not apply retroactively. Defendant’s challenge to his SENTENCE-MISDEMEANOR: Defendant's sentence of life imprisonment in the county jail for a simple battery is erroneous. Defendant's concurrent life sentences to prison for various felonies are not. SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-MAINTAINING RESIDENCE: Defendant need not reside on the premises for the purposes of distributing drugs for the entire conspiracy to be eligible for the sentencing enhancement under §2D1.1(b)(12); he merely needed to do so for a portion of the conspiracy. EQUAL PROTECTION: The equal-protection component of the Fifth Amendment's Due Process Clause does not require that SSI benefits be made available to residents of Puerto Rico to the same extent that they are available to residents of the States. Puerto Rican resident who moved from New York to the island must repay $28,000 in SSI benefits accrued after he moved to the island. USA v. Madero, (4/21/22)

EQUAL PROTECTION (J. THOMAS, CONCURRING): “I write separately to address the premise that the Due Process Clause of the Fifth Amendment contains an equal protection component whose substance is ‘precisely the same’ as the Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment. . . Although I have joined the Court in applying this doctrine, . . I now doubt whether it comports with the original meaning of the Constitution.” “[T]he Fifth Amendment’s text and history provide little support for modern substantive due process doctrine.” USA v. Madero, (4/21/22)

EQUAL PROTECTION-TERRITORIES (J. GORSUCH, CONCURRING): “A century ago in the Insular Cases, this Court held that the federal government could rule Puerto Rico and other Territories largely without regard to the Constitution. It is past time to acknowledge the gravity of this error and admit based what we know to be true: The Insular Cases have no foundation in the Constitution and rest instead on racial stereotypes. They deserve no place in our law.” USA v. Madero, (4/21/22)

EQUAL PROTECTION-TERRITORIES (J. GORSUCH, CONCURRING): “The flaws in the Insular Cases are as fundamental as they are shameful. . .The Insular Cases can claim support in academic work of the period, ugly racial stereotypes, and the theories of social Darwinists. But they have no home in our Constitution or its original understanding.” USA v. Madero, (4/21/22)

INSULAR CASES: I hope the Court will soon recognize that the Constitution’s application should never turn on. . .the misguided framework of the Insular Cases. . .[T]he time has come to recognize that the Insular Cases rest on a rotten foundation. And I hope the day comes soon when the Court squarely overrules them.” USA v. Madero, (4/21/22)

TERRITORIES-CAPITAL “T” (J. GORSUCH, CONCURRING): “When Congress supposedly ‘incorporated’ Hawaii as a Territory, it included Palmyra, then a Hawaiian possession. . . Ultimately, however, the atoll was not folded into Hawaii on statehood, and it remained under federal control. . . So today our bureaucracies endow that Territory alone a capital “T” in their official lists while the others, Puerto Rico included, earn only a lowercase “t.” USA v. Madero, (4/21/22)

HABEAS CORPUS-AEDPA: Where the state court had ruled on the merits (that the Defendant’s shackling during trial did not effect the verdict), Defendant is not entitled to federal habeas corpus relief. Court must look beyond the Brecht rule (that a state prisoner seeking to challenge his conviction in collateral federal proceedings must show that the error had a substantial and injurious effect or influence on the outcome of the trial) and apply the AEDPT rule. Brecht and AEDPA ask analytically distinct questions. Both tests must be satisfied before habeas relief becomes permissible. Brown v. Davenport, No. 20-826 (U.S. S. Ct. 4/21/22)

DICTA: The language of an opinion is not always to be parsed as though we were dealing with the language of a statute. Defendant and the dissent “would have override a lawful congressional command. . .on the basis of a handful of sentences extracted from decisions that had no reason to pass on the argument Mr. Davenport presents today. We neither expect nor hope that our successors will comb these pages for stray comments and stretch them beyond their context. . .Such an exalted view of this Court’s every passing remark would turn stare decisis from a tool of judicial humility into one of judicial hubris.” Brown v. Davenport, No. 20-826 (U.S. S. Ct. 4/21/22)

JUDICIAL SNIPING (J. SOTOMAYOR, DISSENTING): “Because the majority begins with some law-chambers history. . .I do too—though fair warning: My discussion is no more relevant than the majority’s to the issue before us. Not surprisingly, neither of the parties to this small and legally mundane case thought it a suitable occasion for a from-Blackstone-onward theory of habeas practice.” Brown v. Davenport, No. 20-826 (U.S. S. Ct. 4/21/22)

JURISPRUDENCE (J. SOTOMAYOR, DISSENTING): “I hate to assign homework to readers of Supreme Court opinions, but if you don’t know what to make of the majority’s and my contrasting descriptions of Fry and Ayala: well, just go read them.” Brown v. Davenport, No. 20-826 (U.S. S. Ct. 4/21/22)

HABEAS CORPUS (J. SOTOMAYOR, DISSENTING): All today’s holding does going forward is compel habeas courts, and the parties before them, to spin their wheels. . .Of course, it is not the worst thing in the world to have to do unnecessary work of this kind. . . But really, why should they have to?” Brown v. Davenport, No. 20-826 (U.S. S. Ct. 4/21/22)

FREE SPEECH: University policy prohibiting “discriminatory harassment” or “Bias-Related incidents” violate the First Amendment. The discriminatory-harassment policy objectively chills speech because its operation would cause a reasonable student to fear expressing potentially unpopular beliefs. Neither formal punishment nor the formal power to impose it is strictly necessary to exert an impermissible chill on First Amendment rights—indirect pressure may suffice. Speech First, Inc. v. Cartwright, No. 21-12583 (4/21/22)

FREE SPEECH: “Nowhere is free speech more important than in our leading institutions of higher learning. Colleges and universities serve as the founts of—and the testing grounds for—new ideas. Their chief mission is to equip students to examine arguments critically and, perhaps even more importantly, to prepare young citizens to participate in the civic and political life of our democratic republic.”
Speech First, Inc. v. Cartwright, No. 21-12583 (4/21/22)

FREE SPEECH (CONCURRENCE): “History provides us with ample warning of those times and places when colleges and universities have stopped pursuing truth and have instead turned themselves into cathedrals for the worship of certain dogma. By depriving itself of academic institutions that pursue truth over any other concern, a society risks falling into the abyss of ignorance. Humans are not smart enough to have ideas that lie beyond challenge and debate. . . .A university that has placed its highest premium on the protection of feelings or safe intellectual space has abandoned its core mission. The protection of feelings or the creation of safe space rightly might be the foremost goal in some settings, like at a family dinner, but it is not right for a university.” Speech First, Inc. v. SENTENCING-UPWARD VARIANCE: Court erred in failing to state facts on which it based its upward variance and to elicit fully articulated objections to the court’s ultimate findings of fact and conclusions of law. Re-sentencing required where the Court’s written Statement of Reasons included the fact that the weapon used had been stolen from the police department where such fact was neither articulated, included in the PSR, nor discussed during the sentencing hearing. MOTION TO SUPPRESS-STANDARD OF REVIEW: The standard of review of a district court’s finding of satisfactory explanation for officer’s delay in sealing the wiretap recordings is mixed. Recordings held by the clerk in an unopened tamper-proof evidence bag is sufficiently sealed. A separate, written sealing order is not required. USA v. Stowers, No. 18-12569 (11th Cir. 4/20/22)

WIRETAP-SEALING: A delay in sealing should be excused if the government provides a satisfactory explanation for the delay. The government must explain not only why a delay occurred but also why it is excusable. The reasons for the delay here, including that the government thought that it had to finish making transcripts and copies first. USA v. Stowers, No. 18-12569 (11th Cir. 4/20/22)

WIRETAP-JURISDICTION: An interception of phone calls occurs both where the call is heard and at the location of the targeted phone when it makes or receives a call. The safeguard on the scope of state court's wiretap authority is the requirement that law enforcement establish probable cause for the intrusion, not a geographical limit on the phone calls that can be monitored. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Videotaped out-of-court interviews with child victims are not allowed into the jury room during deliberations because of the real danger that the child's statements will be unfairly given more emphasis than other testimony. Where defense counsel failed to object to the video being taken to the jury room for tactical reasons, claim of ineffective assistance fails. State v. Mackendrick, 1D20-3362 (4/20/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-REDACTION: Defendant is not entitled to post conviction relief for failure to redact CPT video to delete references to two other possible victims where victim conceded to the CPT interviewer that she did not really know if Defendant had done

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-EXPERT: Defendant is not entitled to post conviction relief for failure to retain an expert to testify that Victim, if penetrated, would have suffered some injury. Lawyers have limited time and resources, and so must choose from among countless strategic options. Strickland does not enact Newton’s third law for the presentation of evidence, requiring for every prosecution expert an equal and opposite expert from the defense. State v. JURY INSTRUCTION-DEALING IN STOLEN PROPERTY: The inference instruction--sale of goods substantially below fair market value gives rise to an inference of knowledge that the goods were stolen-- should not be given unless there is evidence of the fair market value of the stolen property. An owner's estimate of the value of the property when no other proof is presented is insufficient to prove the fair market value. New trial required. Cintron v. State, 2D21-40 (4/20/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-DEALING IN STOLEN PROPERTY: Instruction that “proof of the purchase or sale of stolen property by a dealer in property, out of the regular course of business. . .unless satisfactorily explained, gives rise to an inference that the person buying or selling the property knew or should have known that it had been stolen” is improper when the Defendant is not a “dealer in property.” An Amazon truck dispatcher is not a “dealer in property.” A person who, on one occasion, buys property from another and then sells the property is not a dealer in the business of buying and selling property. HABITUAL OFFENDER-NVDL WITH DEATH: No valid driver’s license with death or serious bodily injury is a third degree felony which cannot be enhanced as a Habitual Offender. Ten year imprisonment is not lawful. Welch v. State, 2D21-463 (4/20/22)

POST-CONVICTION RELIEF-PLEA OFFER: Failure of counsel to convey a plea offer can constitute ineffective assistance of trial counsel. To establish prejudice, the movant must allege and prove a reasonable probability that (1) he or she would have accepted the offer, (2) the prosecutor would not have withdrawn the offer, (3) the court would have accepted the offer, and (4) the conviction or sentence, or both, under the offer's terms would have been less severe than under the judgment and sentence that in fact were imposed. Court improperly reasoned that the Defendant would not have accepted the 3 year prison offer because he had hired an attorney to get a probationary offer. Kalogianis v. State, 2D21-3770 (4/20/22)

JURY SELECTION-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: When giving the Defendant an 11th peremptory challenge, Court does not abuse its discretion in similarly awarding an 11th peremptory challenge to the State. Montgomery v. State, 4D18-2379 (4/20/22)

MURDER-PREMEDITATION: Premeditation is established by evidence that Defendant told his wife, “I should shoot you,” and told his grandmother, “I know how to get you out of here” before fetching his rifle and shooting his stepdaughter 8 times, then his wife 7 to 8 times. Montgomery v. State, 4D18-2379 (4/20/22)

MICHIGAN: Michigan is part of the United States¹. “Hakim refused to admit that he was a United States citizen and instead affirmed only that he was ‘a citizen of Detroit, Michigan, born and raised, in the Michigan republic. . . But see Definitive Treaty of Peace Between the United States of America and his Britannic Majesty, U.S.-Gr. Brit., arts. I-II, Sept. 3, 1783, 8 Stat. 80; An Act to admit the State of Michigan into the Union, ch. 6, 5 Stat. 144 (1837).” USA v. Hakim, No. 19-11970 (11th Cir. 4/14/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911970.pdf>

WAIVER OF COUNSEL: Defendant’s purported waiver of his right to counsel was not knowing where Court gives materially incorrect or misleading information about his potential maximum sentence, i.e., where the magistrate wrongly informs him that the maximum sentence is 12 months when, if stacked consecutively, 36 months is possible. USA v. Hakim, No. 19-11970 (11th Cir. 4/14/20)

KNOWING WAIVER OF ATTORNEY: A defendant must have an awareness of the penal consequences of conviction before his decision to represent himself can constitute a knowing waiver of his Sixth Amendment right to counsel. Defendant’s unknowing waiver of right to counsel at arraignment is structural error. Court’s acceptance of an invalid waiver of the Sixth Amendment right to counsel is not subject to harmless error analysis. Conviction vacated. USA v. Hakim, No. 19-11970 (11th Cir. 4/14/20)

OBSCURANTISM: Example of obscurantism: “I am Saleem Naazir, family of Hakim, a living male on the land and soil jurisdiction, as one of the people of the several states, having owner’s equity and beneficial interest in the all caps style, Capitis Diminutio Maxima Saleem Naazir Hakim, which is an ens legis aka Saleem N. Hakim, all caps, and aka Saleem Hakim, who is allegedly being charged here as a defendant.” USA v. Hakim, No. 19-11970 (11th Cir. 4/14/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911970.pdf>

CONTEMPORANEOUS OBJECTION RULE: Defendant is not obliged to contemporaneously object to the validity of his own waiver of attorney because he lacked an opportunity to object to that ruling. “It makes no sense to suppose that a defendant must have enough knowledge to object before he is advised of the dangers of proceeding without the assistance of counsel. . .It would be nonsensical to require that a prospective pro se defendant object to the district court’s inquiry into the defendant’s rationale and ability to proceeding pro se.”

USA v. Hakim, No. 19-11970 (11th Cir. 4/14/20)

WAIVER OF ATTORNEY-PLAIN ERROR (DISSENT): Plain error review should apply where a defendant challenges the validity of his right-to-counsel waiver for the first time on appeal where the Defendant was ultimately represented by counsel before trial and still failed to challenge his earlier waiver. USA v. Hakim, No. 19-11970 (11th Cir. 4/14/20)

SEXUAL BATTERY-FAMILIAL OR CUSTODIAL AUTHORITY:

Teacher did not stand in familiar or custodial authority over student with whom he established a sexual relationship where the sexual acts occurred off campus. The fact that the events occurred during the school year is insufficient in and of itself to establish custodial authority these events occurred during the school year. “We note that had Teet been charged with the same conduct today, pursuant to section 800.101, Florida Statutes (2018), custodial authority would not have been an issue.” Teet v. STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-CUSTODY-MIRANDA: Defendant was not in custody when interrogated in a police van after officers raided his home after identifying the IP address (from which adolescent girls had been extorted to make pornographic images and videos). Admissions are not suppressible. Even if a reasonable person would not have felt at liberty to leave, one may still be deemed not in custody if the relevant environment does not present the same inherently coercive pressures as the type of station house questioning at issue in Miranda. Only if the environment presented the same inherently coercive pressures are the warnings required. USA v.

Woodson, No. 20-10443 (11th Cir. 4/13/22)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-CUSTODY-MIRANDA: The actual, subjective beliefs of the defendant and the interviewing officer on whether the defendant was free to leave are irrelevant. USA v. Woodson, No. 20-10443 (11th Cir. 4/13/22)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-CUSTODY-MIRANDA: Neither the brief handcuffing and detention of the Defendant, the large number of officers, the confiscation of his cell phone, nor the hour-long questioning in the police van render the Defendant in custody. “To be sure, the hour-long interview falls along the spectrum between questioning that lasts ‘only a few minutes’ and the prolonged station house interrogations ‘in which the detainee often is aware that questioning will continue until he provides his interrogators the answers they seek. . .But ‘there is no fixed limit to the length of questioning’ after which an interrogation is necessarily custodial.” USA v. Woodson, No. 20-10443 (11th Cir. 4/13/22)

SENTENCE-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: 50 year sentence for Defendant who infiltrated social media accounts of hundreds of adolescent girls one by one, using an account of the victims’ friends to gain access to their accounts, locking them victim out of the accounts, and demanding that they produce pornographic material to get their accounts back, where the recommended guideline range is between or 30 to 117 years, is not substantively unreasonable. USA v. Woodson, No. 20-10443 (11th Cir. 4/13/22)

SENTENCE-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: Court need not explain why it was imposing a sentence at any particular point within the sentencing range. If a sentencing range exceeds 24 months, the district court must state the reason for imposing a sentence at a particular point within the range, but need not state that a particular factor is not applicable in a particular case. The requirement is satisfied where the record reflects that the district court considered many of the §3553(a) factors. USA v. Woodson, No. 20-10443 (11th Cir. 4/13/22)

SENTENCING: Defendant is not entitled to a sentence near the bottom of the guidelines because he did not target prepubescent children. “That argument is shocking. Through technology, Woodson and his team tapped into the vulnerabilities of hundreds of girls, and then degraded, humiliated, and threatened them. We cannot discern how his methods diminish the seriousness—indeed, the depravity—of his offenses.” USA v. Woodson, No. 20-10443 (11th Cir. 4/13/22)

AUTHENTICATION-VOICE MAIL: Testifying about a phone call does

HFO-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Court may not sentence Defendant as a habitual felony offender to two consecutive thirty-year sentences for attempted manslaughter with a firearm. Court may not designate him as an HFO and then further increase the sentence by running the two HFO-enhanced terms consecutively. Upon remand, Court may impose a maximum sentence of thirty years for count one, with a fifteen-year minimum mandatory term, based on the HFO designation, and a consecutive term of fifteen years in state prison for count two as a Prison Releasee Reoffender, for a total sentence of forty-five years in state prison. LESSER INCLUDED: It is not fundamental error to convict a defendant under an erroneous lesser included charge when he had a chance to object and failed to do so when the improperly charged offense is lesser in degree and penalty than the main offense or defense counsel requested the improper charge or relied on it. Robinson v. State, 1D20-2614 (4/13/22)

RETROACTIVITY-ENHANCEMENT-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT WITH

POST-CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel's failure to renew objection to certain testimony is not ineffective where counsel elicited testimony from other witnesses on the point. Knowles v. State, 1D21-3051 (4/13/22)

VETERANS COURT: Where Defendant qualifies for the pretrial veteran's treatment intervention court program (PVTIP), Court may not rely upon the State's rejection of the Defendant's admittance into it, but rather must exercise its discretion to determine whether the Defendant qualifies for admission. §948.16(2)(a), as it previously existed, does not confer authority upon the State to approve or disapprove of the admission of any eligible veteran charged with any misdemeanor, including a DUI, into the misdemeanor PVTIP [NOTE: the statute has since been amended]. Allowing the State to act as gatekeeper and divert veterans charged with misdemeanor DUIs only to the postadjudicatory veterans' intervention program departs from the requirements of law. Maderi v. LIFE FELONY: Kidnapping is a 1st PBL, enhanced to a life felony by the use of a firearm. For a life felony unless sentenced to life, the maximum sentenced the Defendant can receive is 40 years. A 50 year sentence for a life felony is unlawful. Ryan v. State, 2D21-1572 (4/13/20)

BOND-REMISSION: Court shall order remission of the forfeiture if it determines that there was no breach of the bond and when application for remission occurs within two years from the forfeiture. Where bondsman reaches the bond by failing to pay the forfeiture within sixty days of the notice of forfeiture, bondsman is not entitled to remission. Clerk of Court v. SUBPOENA DUCES TECUM-VIDEOS: In DUI case, video camera recordings of the police station at the time of Defendant's arrest may be exempt from disclosure pursuant to a public records request under the "security system plan" exemption, but only following in camera review. When certain statutory exemptions are claimed by the party against whom the public records request has been filed or when doubt exists as to whether a particular document must be disclosed, the proper procedure is to furnish the document to the trial judge for an in camera inspection. MARCY'S LAW: Defendant, sentenced to life upon his conviction for felony murder based on the death of his accomplice during a burglary, is not entitled to a resentencing on the claim that the victim's mother's wish that he be given fifteen years was not adequately considered in violation of Marcy's Law. The State must satisfy the requirements of Marsy's Law, but those requirements do not limit prosecutorial discretion. Defendant's conviction and sentence are affirmed. Dean v. OH, MY: "A trust-based system is only as good as the people who are trusted. Douglas Moss is one of those who was trusted but not trustworthy." USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

OH MY: “He appeals, challenging the convictions, sentence, restitution amount, and forfeiture amount, which is nearly every component of the judgment against him. And he loses on every component of his appeal.” USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

OH MY: “The jury also heard evidence about how the representations Moss made in the billings were impossible: his claiming to have performed more than 24 hours of services a day, his claiming to have seen over 50 patients a day, and his claiming to have seen patients in Georgia when he was actually in Las Vegas.” “The services Moss billed on one stellar day would have required him to put in nearly 100 hours in that one 24-hour period. People sometimes wish there were more hours in a day, but Moss alone miraculously stretched some of his days to far more than 24 hours.” USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

APPEAL-PROCEDURE: When an opinion of the court includes a citation to materials available on a website, the writing judge will send a copy of the cited internet materials to the clerk for placement on the docket. USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

ATTORNEY-SUBPOENA: Court did not err in quashing subpoena on the attorney for the purpose of impeaching on whether the witness had been instructed to hold back evidence in his proffer. The attorney and witness both said that he had so instructed him. “That’s agreement not disagreement, corroboration not contradiction.” USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

ARGUMENT: In Medicare fraud case, Court did not err in cutting off Defense counsel’s argument that Defendant had not profited. “It is one thing to argue that a defendant was not motivated by profit and another to argue that he didn’t commit a crime because there was no proof that he had netted a profit. . . The government does not have to prove a penny of profit to establish the elements of fraud. A paucity of proof of profit is no defense. Defense counsel was not entitled to argue that it was.” USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-LOSS: In calculating loss for the purpose of guidelines calculations in Medicare fraud case, Court may determine the amount paid to the doctor, then deduct by percentage which the Court estimates as being the value of legitimate services performed. A district court need not make a precise determination of loss amount, but only a reasonable estimate of it given the available information. USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

LOSS: “Loss” is the greater of actual loss or intended loss. “Intended loss” is the pecuniary harm that the defendant purposely sought to inflict, including pecuniary harm that would have been impossible or unlikely to occur. When it comes to federal health care offenses involving government health care programs there is a rebuttable presumption that the intended loss equals the amount the defendant billed a government agency. The aggregate dollar amount of fraudulent bills submitted to the Government health care program shall constitute prima facie evidence of the amount of the intended loss. USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

OH MY!-RESTITUTION-MEDICAL FRAUD: “The burden was on Moss to show that the services he provided were medically necessary. . .Because of that, it does not matter how many medically unnecessary visits Moss and his employees may have made to patients, which was the basis of Moss’ estimate. Zero times a thousand is still zero. Because Moss’ estimate failed to embrace, salute, or even nod at medical necessity, the district court did not clearly err in giving it little or no value.” USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

FORFEITURE: Just because the loss and restitution amounts were reduced by 10 percent does not necessarily mean the forfeiture amount must be. Unlike restitution, forfeiture is also a punitive action against the defendant. Forfeiture may encompass the proceeds doctor who committed Medicare fraud received for providing legitimate services. USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

DEFINITION-“BUT FOR”: “But for” means that if one thing hadn’t happened another thing would not have happened. In other words, a but-for test directs us to change one thing at a time and see if the outcome changes. If it does, we have found a but-for cause. “[T]ake away the fraudulent billing and what’s left? The record does not reveal any of Moss’ claims that were both for legitimate services and properly billed. . .Not a single one. As far as the record shows, it’s all fraudulent billing.” USA v. Moss, No. 19-14548 (11th Cir. 4/12/22)

WILLIAMS RULE: Evidence at the same firearm was used in 4 separate murders is not admissible to establish modus operandi, but is admissible to establish identity where the fatal shootings occurred in close temporal and geographic proximity and the victim’s seem to be randomly chosen. The fact that the same gun was used in each of the homicides makes the evidence relevant to establish Defendant’s identity as the perpetrator without any heightened similarity requirement. State v. POST-CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Defendant is not entitled to hearing on claim of newly discovered evidence where the only new information was that the State had provided a witness with a hotel room, meals, and $300 in cash during the first trial. Valentine v. State, SC20-1905 (4/7/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-BRADY: To prevail on a Brady claim, Defendant must show that favorable evidence which is exculpatory or impeaching was suppressed. COSTS-ATTORNEY'S FEE: Court may not order Defendant to pay a $26,000 fee to Justice Administration Commission, which is the amount JAC ultimately paid the Defendant's conflict counsel. "We have found nothing in that statute. . .that would permit imposition of the fee against Appellant personally, and recovery from both the JAC and Appellant would be impermissible. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PROLONGED DETENTION: Canine sniff search did not unlawfully prolong the stop where it takes about 5 minutes to write a citation for cutting through a parking lot. Creller v. State, 2D19-3085 (4/6/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officer unlawfully ordered the Defendant out of his vehicle where he was stopped for cutting through a parking lot. Officer safety does not justify removing the Defendant from his car where it is clear that the safety issue was not related to the issuance of the traffic citation but rather to the vehicle sweep. The government's officer safety interest stems from the mission of the traffic stop itself whereas on-scene investigation into other crimes detours from that mission and a seizure would not be justified for that purpose even if necessitated by officer safety. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT: Consent can be non-verbal; stepping aside and yielding the right-of-way to officers at the front door is valid consent to enter and search, as is silently accepting an officer's expressed intent to enter the house solely for the purpose of retrieving a phone. <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201914002.pdf>

SENTENCING-MILITARY CONVICTION: A previous conviction under Article 120 (pertaining to sundry sex crimes) of the Uniform Code of Military Justice is a qualifying offense under 18 U.S.C. §

SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT: Defendant who had child victim make videos of herself inserting foreign objects into her vagina is subject to the 4-level increase under §2G2.1(b)(4) for production of child pornography that portrays sadistic or masochistic conduct. <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201914002.pdf>

SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT-SEXUAL ACT: Defendant argues that he is not subject to a 2-level increase under §2G2.1(b)(2)(A) because he did not touch, penetrate, or film the two victims and their masturbation, and therefore it would “not amount to a sexual act or sexual contact within the meaning of the guidelines provision. Yes it does.” USA v. Sanchez, No. 19-14002 (11th Cir. 4/5/22)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant argues that he should not be sentenced for violating both 18 U.S.C. §2251 and §2422 based on his criminal conduct of enticing two minors to make lewd videos because the statutes have identical elements. “No, they don’t.” USA v. Sanchez, No. 19-14002 (11th Cir. 4/5/22)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: §2422(b) requires the government to prove that the defendant attempted to persuade a minor to engage in sexual activity for which any person can be charged with a criminal offense. This element is not found in §2251. And §2251 requires the government to prove that the defendant attempted to persuade a minor to engage in sexually explicit conduct for the purpose of producing any visual depiction of such conduct. This element is not contained in §2422(b). Blockburger. Defendant may be convicted of both. USA v. Sanchez, No. 19-14002 (11th Cir. 4/5/22)

SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT-SEXUAL CONTACT: The plain meaning of ‘sexual contact’ under U.S.S.G. §2G2.1(b)(2)(A) and 18 U.S.C. §2246(3) includes the act of masturbating. USA v. Sanchez, No. 19-14002 (11th Cir. 4/5/22)

SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT-PATTERN OF SEXUAL CONDUCT:

Defendant “challenges a 5-level increase under U.S.S.G. § 4B1.5(b)(1) for ‘engag[ing] in a pattern of activity involving prohibited sexual conduct.’ He certainly did that.” Among other things, the fact that Defendant produced child pornography on two separate occasions means that the pattern enhancement applies. USA v. Sanchez, No. 19-14002 (11th Cir. 4/5/22)

SENTENCE-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: Defendant's guidelines-range sentence of imprisonment for life (plus a 10-year consecutive mandatory minimum term) is substantively reasonable. USA v. Sanchez, No. 19-14002 (11th Cir. 4/5/22)

FOURTH AMENDMENT-MALICIOUS PROSECUTION: A Fourth Amendment claim under §1983 for malicious prosecution does not require the plaintiff to show that the criminal prosecution ended with some affirmative indication of innocence. A plaintiff need only show that the criminal prosecution ended without a conviction. Defendant who was charged with resisting without violence (for refusing to allow officers to come into his house to investigate what turned out to be a baby's diaper rash) may sue for malicious prosecution where the underlying case is dismissed without the judge or prosecutor explaining why. HVFO: Improper sentencing as a habitual violent felony offender is cognizable under a rule 3.800(b) motion because the error affects the ultimate sanction imposed. When sentencing a defendant who qualifies as a habitual offender to a more lenient sentence than what the habitual offender statute requires, the judge has necessarily decided that a habitual offender sentence is not necessary. If the trial court does not impose a habitual violent offender sentence at the original sentencing, then a habitual violent offender sentence may not be imposed upon revocation of probation. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for not objecting to a photograph which had already been ruled inadmissible. The fact that the admission of the evidence was challenged on direct appeal does not preclude a 3.850 motion. The appellate opinion did not discuss the issue of the photograph, nor was ineffective assistance raised on appeal. Unless a direct appeal is affirmed with a written opinion that expressly addresses the issue of ineffective assistance of counsel, an affirmance on direct appeal should rarely, if ever, be treated as a procedural bar to a claim for ineffective assistance of counsel on a postconviction motion. APPEAL-PRESERVATION-SELF-REPRESENTATION: Where appellate counsel's brief failed to make any argument about whether the appellate court can review the denial of the right to self-representation following a guilty plea, the issue is waived. USA v. Williams, No. 18-13890 (11th Cir. 3/30/22)

SOVEREIGN CITIZEN: Sovereign citizens believe the United States Government is illegitimate and has drifted away from the true intent of the Constitution. These groups generally do not adhere to federal, state, or local laws and believe federal and state officials have no real authority. USA v. Williams, No. 18-13890 (11th Cir. 3/30/22)

APPEAL-SELF-REPRESENTATION: The improper denial of the right to self-representation under Faretta is structural error, and so requires reversal on direct appeal when the error is both preserved and not waived. A voluntary, subsequent guilty plea represents a break in the chain of events which has preceded it in the criminal process and operates as a waiver of claims of constitutional error that occurred prior to the plea. When a criminal defendant has solemnly admitted in open court that he is in fact guilty of the offense with which he is charged, he may not thereafter raise independent claims relating to the deprivation of constitutional rights that occurred prior to the entry of the guilty plea. A defendant's voluntary guilty plea waives a claim of structural error. USA v. Williams, No. 18-13890 (11th Cir. 3/30/22)

DEATH PENALTY-COMPETENCY: Hall v. Florida, establishing framework for analysis of intellectual competency to be executed, does not apply retroactively. The Florida Supreme Court's reversal of prior case law saying that it does has the effect of preventing the Defendant from having a hearing as to his competency, does not apply here because Defendant's death sentence had not been vacated.

LAW OF THE CASE DOCTRINE: The Law of the Case Doctrine requires that questions of law actually asserted on appeal must govern the case in the same course of the trial court through all subsequent stages of the proceedings. But the doctrine does not apply where there has been an intervening change of controlling law, such as here where the law regarding retroactivity of the standard for competency to be executed was changed. POST-CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly denied motion for postconviction relief upon finding the attorney's testimony that he had explained relevant offenses to the Defendant credible. A claim of ineffective assistance of counsel must establish both deficient performance and prejudice. Where Defendant had entered a plea, the prejudice prong requires showing a reasonable probability that, but for counsel's errors, the defendant would not have pleaded guilty and would have insisted on going to trial. A court should consider the totality of the circumstances surrounding the plea, including such factors as whether a particular defense was likely to succeed at trial, the colloquy between the defendant and the trial court at the time of the plea, and the difference between the sentence imposed under the plea and the maximum possible sentence the defendant faced at trial. Chambers v. State, 1D21-990 (3/30/22)

POST-CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claimant counsel was ineffective for failing to call a tire marks expert to support his claim that his vehicle hit the Victim's vehicle accidentally rather than intentionally. Motion must allege what testimony defense counsel could have elicited from witnesses and how defense counsel's failure to call, interview, or present the witnesses would have prejudiced the case. Identification of the specific expert is not necessary to establish a legally sufficient claim. Cooper v. State, 2D20-3721 (3/30/22)

FAILURE TO REGISTER-SEXUAL PREDATOR: §775.21(10)(a) (Register as a sexual predator) requires registration of one's phone number; §943.0435(4)(b) (Failure to register as a sexual offender) does not. Defendant who had never been designated a sexual predator is improperly convicted of failure to register as a sexual predator.

“Patlan pleaded no contest to an offense he did not commit. He was not required to register as a sexual predator. . .because he is not and never has been designated as a sexual predator.” Patlan v. State, 2D21-326 (3/30/22)

APPEAL-FUNDAMENTAL ERROR-FACTUAL BASIS: Defense counsel’s stipulation to a factual basis without the State having articulated one and where factual basis does not exist, is fundamental error which may be raised on direct appeal. Where the record affirmatively demonstrates that a defendant has pleaded guilty or no contest to a crime he did not commit, fundamental error occurs. Patlan v. State, 2D21-326 (3/30/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing for postconviction relief based on recanted testimony, where a witness claimed that his trial testimony (that the Defendant was present with a "chopper" at the shooting) when in fact he wasn’t there, and that the detectives had coerced him into testifying falsely. CONCESSION OF GUILT: Defendant who stabbed to death his girl friend/victim after she came home with an apparent hickey is not entitled to a new trial based on counsel's concession of guilt to manslaughter. For a structural Sixth Amendment violation to lie, a defendant must make his intention to maintain innocence clear to his counsel, and counsel must override that expressed objective by conceding guilt despite the client's intransigent and unambiguous objection to this strategy. Recalde v. State, 3D108-.1981 (3/30/22)

CONCESSION OF GUILT: In juvenile trial, counsel is ineffective on the face of the record for conceding that the battery counts could be enhanced to felony battery based on prior adjudications of delinquency for battery. For purposes of juvenile delinquency proceedings, an adjudication of delinquency is not deemed a conviction, so a prior adjudication of delinquency for battery cannot be used to enhance a new battery case to felony battery. Counsel was ineffective for stipulating that Child was guilty of felony battery because of his prior adjudication of delinquency for battery. T.E.B., a Child v. State, 4D20- 2699 (3/30/22)

DEPORTATION-MARIJUANA: Defendant convicted of possession of marijuana is eligible for cancellation of removal. A petitioner is eligible for discretionary cancellation of removal if he has resided continuously in the United States for at least seven years after having been admitted for permanent residence for at least five years and has not been convicted of an aggravated felony. Possession of marijuana under Florida law is not an aggravated felony because it is broader than the federal statute; §893.02(3) which includes all parts of the marijuana plant) but the federal definition of marijuana does not include the mature stalks of the marijuana plant or fiber produced from them. This is a significant divergence, and on its own, is sufficient to establish a realistic probability of broader prosecution under Florida law. Said v. ILLEGAL SENTENCE: Defendant may not challenge on a successive motion to correct illegal sentence where there is no manifest injustice. There is no manifest injustice for sentencing Defendant to in excess of one year after he completed Boot Camp (the version of the statute limited incarceration for a violation to one year for one who had completed Boot Camp) where he is sentenced with similar terms in a related case. DOUBLE JEOPARDY; Double jeopardy does not bar prosecution for attempting to induce, entice and coerce a person believed to be a minor to engage in sexually explicit conduct for the purpose of producing visual depictions of such conduct after Defendant's conviction after trial for solicitation and advertisement for child pornography was dismissed. ZOOM-TRIAL-CONFRONTATION: Court violated Child’s right to confront witnesses by holding his adjudicatory hearing by Zoom without allowing the child a hearing on his objection and without making a case-specific finding of necessity to limit confrontation rights. T.H. v. State, 2D20-3217 (3/18/22)

DUE PROCESS (DISSENT): “[J]uveniles' rights can be limited or abrogated categorically as long as the proceeding is fundamentally fair and there is a sufficient necessity to justify the limitation. T.H. v. State, 2D20-3217 (3/18/22)

appointed counsel before she pled at a virtual mass arraignment. A waiver of one's right to counsel must be a knowing, intelligent, and voluntary relinquishment of a known right. Court's admonishment to the group at the mass arraignment that they would have the ability to "speak with an attorney" if they pled not guilty could have incorrectly led Defendant to believe she was only entitled to counsel if she entered a not guilty plea. Robles v. State, 2D21-714 (3/18/22)

MANIFEST INJUSTICE: Requiring Defendant to admit or deny the pending charges without first appointing counsel or securing an informed waiver of her right to counsel it is fundamental error and manifest injustice. If the waiver of counsel is invalid as a matter of law, it follows that the guilty plea entered without advice of counsel should also be deemed involuntary as a matter of law. Robles v. State, 2D21-714 (3/18/22)

CONFLICT OF INTEREST: Court erred in denying public defender's motion to withdraw based on a conflict of interest where Defendant had joined a lawsuit in federal court (later dismissed) against the Public Defender for allowing sensitive personal information and compromised confidential case files to be breached via computer hack. An actual conflict of interest existed between the public defender's office and Defendant because they had become adversaries in the federal lawsuit. "A federal lawsuit pitting the defendant against his attorney certainly suggests divided loyalties." Gordineer v. State, 2D21-2844 (3/18/22)

SENTENCING-SPLIT SENTENCE-VOP: By imposing a true split sentence, the original sentencing judge predetermined the sanction that Defendant would incur upon violation of her community control. Where Defendant is given a true split sentence (5 years in prison suspended upon completion of 2 years of community control), violates, is committed to DOC for 5 years but under the Youthful Offender basic training program then released on probation, which she violates, the Court may not thereupon sentence her to 11 years in prison

POST-CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on a claim that counsel's ineffective for allowing his recorded interview to law enforcement to be played without including the exculpatory portions of it. Howard v. State, 5D21-2118 (3/18/22)

BELATED APPEAL: Trial judge is appointed as commissioner of the Court to conduct an evidentiary hearing as to whether Defendant requested an appeal. Fact-finding is necessary where there is a good faith dispute as to whether Defendant requested her attorney to file an appeal. "This Court has not yet determined whether an assertion that counsel cannot recall a client requesting an appeal, without more, is sufficient to create a disputed issue of fact." Hastings v. BELATED APPEAL (DISSENT): “In my view, counsel’s response that he did not recall Hastings’ request that he file an appeal is insufficient to specifically dispute her sworn affidavit to the contrary and, as such, the State has not met its burden.” Hastings v. State, 5D22-76 (3/18/22)

DEPORTATION: Burglary of an unoccupied dwelling is not a CIMT (Crime involving moral turpitude). In determining whether a conviction is a CIMT, we Court must employ the categorical approach (if the statute of conviction is not divisible and sets out alternative means of committing a single offense) or the modified categorical approach (if the statute of conviction is divisible and creates separate offenses). The facts underlying the conviction are not considered. Florida’s burglary statute is divisible because the different subsections of the statute carry different penalties. In determining whether an actual, historical offense is a CIMT, the BIA and IJ may consider the record of conviction—i.e., the charging document, plea, verdict, and sentence—but nothing more. BOND: Article I, §14 of the Florida Constitution does not prohibit the trial court the discretion at first appearance, upon a finding of probable cause that the defendant committed a crime punishable by capital punishment or life imprisonment, to defer ruling on bail and to detain the defendant for a reasonable time to conduct a full Arthur bond hearing Requiring a proof evident or presumption great finding at first appearance is likely to thwart judicial economy. Any language in Arthur to the contrary is dicta, not a holding. Thourtman v. Junior, SC19-1182 (3/17/22)

BAIL-PRESUMPTION OF INNOCENCE (CONCURRENCE): “The presumption of innocence is a doctrine that allocates the burden of proof in criminal trials. . . . LOSA WITH INJURIES-UNIT OF PROSECUTION: The charge of Leaving Scene of an Accident involving injuries (§316.062(1)) permits multiple counts and convictions where there is a single crash involving multiple victims. STAND YOUR GROUND: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to file a SYG motion where Defendant was found by jury beyond a reasonable doubt to not having acted in self-defense. When a jury rejects a claim of self-defense at trial beyond a reasonable doubt, there is no reasonable probability that a trial judge would have rendered a different judgment at a Stand-Your-Ground hearing with a lower standard of proof. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: An affidavit by the victim naming another person as the perpetrator does not constitute newly discovered evidence entitling Defendant to postconviction relief. JUVENILE OFFENDER: Juvenile offenders convicted of first-degree premeditated murder and attempted murder are subject to an enhanced penalty if they were found to have actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill the victim. Alleyne requires that a defendant is entitled to have a jury determine whether he/she actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill the victim, but a verdict finding that the juvenile offender, charged as a principal, guilty “as charged” is an inherent finding of intent to kill. BATTERY-DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: Where the caption in the information says “domestic violence,” but the jury was charged only on misdemeanor battery and was not asked to make findings regarding bodily harm or injury of the victim or the victim’s status as a “family or household member,” the Defendant is not subject to the domestic violence offender designation nor is he subject to the enhanced penalties. State may request the empaneling of a second jury to determine whether the offense is a crime of domestic violence. Narvaez v. State, 4D20-245 (3/16/22)

contempt based of failure to complete BIP course. For direct contempt, the contemptuous act must occur in the presence of the judge. Indirect civil contempt proceedings have procedural requirements. Perez v State, 5D22-414 (3/14/22)

HABEAS CORPUS: To establish a Brady violation, the defendant has the burden to show (1) that favorable evidence—either exculpatory or impeaching, (2) was willfully or inadvertently suppressed by the State, and (3) because the evidence was material, the defendant was prejudiced. To meet the materiality prong, the defendant must demonstrate a reasonable probability that had the suppressed evidence been disclosed the jury would have reached a different verdict. Green v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FEDERAL HABEAS CORPUS:

Defendant is not entitled to habeas corpus relief on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to excuse, in homicide case, juror whose niece had been murdered three years before. The post conviction trial court's presumption of correctness—that keeping the juror was strategic—precludes relief even where no evidence supports the belief that the retention of the juror was strategic. Implicit factual findings are entitled to deference. Green v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-13524 (11th Cir. 3/14/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-HABEAS CORPUS-EXHAUSTION:

A prisoner has not exhausted claims in state court—a requirement for seeking federal habeas relief—where he only nominally asserted a federal claim to the Florida Supreme Court, and made no argument under any federal constitutional provision, statute, or case for why his conviction should be vacated. The mere mention of a constitutional claim cannot, standing alone, provide a state appellate court with a sufficient opportunity to pass upon and correct a federal constitutional violation. Green v. SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Search of Defendant's home pursuant to a warrant issued after he brought a tracked package of narcotics to his home was unlawful. The warrant failed to specify a particular object of the search precisely because law enforcement lacked probable cause and did not have any particular object in mind. Opening the mailed package of narcotics may have suggested some link between the home and Defendant's alleged trafficking, but that event, standing alone, did not create a probability that further narcotics or similar evidence of trafficking would be present at that location. Smitherman v. State, 2D19-3104 (3/11/22)

ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT: Ten convictions arising from a single criminal episode (burglaring ten storage units in a storage facility, one after the other) constitute a single offense for the purposes of ACCA sentencing enhancement. “Occasion” does not mean a discrete moment in time. Multiple crimes may occur on one occasion even if not at the same moment. Wooden v. United States, No. 20-5279 (U.S. S. Ct, 3/7/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-5279_new_h315.pdf

OCCASION: “Consider first how an ordinary person (a reporter; a police officer; yes, even a lawyer) might describe Wooden’s ten burglaries—and how she would not. The observer might say: ‘On one occasion, Wooden burglarized ten units in a storage facility.’ By contrast, she would never say: ‘On ten occasions, Wooden burglarized a unit in the facility.’ Nor would she say anything like: ‘On one occasion, Wooden burglarized a storage unit; on a second occasion, he burglarized another unit; on a third occasion, he burglarized yet another; and so on.’ She would, using language in its normal way, group his entries into the storage units, even though not simultaneous, all together—as happening on a single occasion.” Wooden v. United States, No. 20–5279 (U.S. S. Ct, 3/7/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-5279_new_h315.pdf

DEFINITION-“OCCASION”: “Occasion” commonly refers to an event, occurrence, happening, or episode. And such an event, occurrence, happening, or episode may itself encompass multiple, temporally distinct activities. “The occasion of a wedding, for example, often includes a ceremony, cocktail hour, dinner, and dancing. Those doings are proximate in time and place, and have a shared theme (celebrating the happy couple). . . But they do not occur at the same moment: The newlyweds would surely take offense if a guest organized a conga line in the middle of their vows. That is because an occasion may. . . encompass a number of non-simultaneous activities; . . The same is true (to shift gears from the felicitous to the felonious) when it comes to crime.” Wooden v. United States, No. 20–5279 (U.S. S. Ct, 3/7/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-5279_new_h315.pdf

RULE OF LENITY (CONCURRING J. KAVANAUGH): If a federal criminal statute is grievously ambiguous, then the statute should be interpreted in the criminal defendant's favor. The rule of lenity does not apply when a law merely contains some ambiguity or is difficult to decipher; it applies only when after seizing everything from which aid can be derived. Wooden v. United States, No. 20–5279 (U.S. S. Ct, 3/7/22)

QUOTE: “Of course, most ordinary people today don't spend their leisure time reading statutes—and they probably didn't in Justice Marshall's and Justice Story's time either.” Wooden v. United States, No. 20–5279 (U.S. S. Ct, 3/7/22)

QUOTE: “Like bears to honey, white collar criminals are drawn to billion-dollar government programs.” USA v. Bramwell, No. 18-12395 (11th Cir. 3/7/22)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811602.pdf>

CONSPIRACY-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Conspiracy convictions require proof that the defendant knew the essential unlawful object of the conspiracy and agreed to it. But that proof may be circumstantial, and we have made clear that, because the crime of conspiracy is predominantly mental in composition, it is frequently

USA v. Bramwell, No. 18-12395 (11th Cir. 3/7/22)

APPEAL: Arguments raised for the first time in a reply brief are not properly before a reviewing court. USA v. Bramwell, No. 18-12395 (11th Cir. 3/7/22)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811602.pdf>

SENTENCING: Although the sentencing guidelines are only advisory, a court must consider the extent of the deviation and ensure that the justification is sufficiently compelling to support the degree of the variance. The Court abused its discretion by sentencing the Defendant (who scored 78 to 97 months) to probation where she engaged in a scheme of issuing improper prescriptions in return for kickbacks. Defendant “did not receive so much as a slap on the wrist — it was more like a soft pat.” USA v. Bramwell, No. 18-12395 (11th Cir. 3/7/22)

SENTENCING-DETERRENCE: In imposing probation for a doctor who received kickbacks for issuing improper prescriptions, the trial court is wrong in reasoning that general deterrence may be disregarded when the criminal is a doctor who will lose her license. “The court’s reasoning would mean that not just doctors, but also pharmacists, and lawyers, and all other professionals who hold licenses, cannot be deterred by the threat of a prison sentence from committing a crime that will result in loss of their license anyway. . . . [I]t would mean . . . that . . . the need for general deterrence can be skipped where the defendant was a professional. . .[I]t would effectively blue pencil out of the United States Code for professionally licensed defendants an imperative that Congress wrote into it. . .That cannot be right, and it isn't right.” USA v. Bramwell, No. 18-12395 (11th Cir. 3/7/22)

TEMPTATION: “Oscar Wilde advised that, ‘The only way to get rid of a temptation is to yield to it.’ [citation omitted]. That witticism may contain enough ironic truth to prompt a smile, but it is not a principle that has a home in the Sentencing Act or in binding precedent.” USA v. Bramwell, No. 18-12395 (11th Cir. 3/7/22)

JURY SELECTION: Court is not required to give jurors a proposed questionnaire asking them to list all their knowledge of a case gained from media coverage (Boston Marathon bombing). USA v. Tsarnaev, No. 20-443 (U.S. S.Ct. 3/4/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-443_new_2d8f.pdf

DEATH PENALTY- MITIGATION-EVIDENCE: Court did not err in excluding hearsay evidence of separate murders committed by deceased co-perpetrator, intended to show that Defendant acted under the domination of the former. USA v. Tsarnaev, No. 20-443 (U.S. S.Ct. 3/4/22)

HMM: “The prosecution similarly told the jury that ‘the bulk of [Dzhokhar’s] mitigation case comes down to a single proposition: ‘His brother made him do it.’. . .The prosecution also told the jury that it should reject this proposition because Dzhokhar’s mitigation evidence merely showed that Tamerlan was ‘loud,’ ‘bossy,’ and ‘sometimes lost his temper.’. . .Would the prosecution have made the same argument had the evidence required it to add, ‘and perhaps slit the throats of three people?’” USA v. Tsarnaev, No. 20-443 (U.S. S.Ct. 3/4/22)

STATE SECRETS PRIVILEGE-FISA: The Government has a privilege against court-ordered disclosure of state and military secrets. FISA does not affect the availability or scope of that long established privilege. When the state secrets privilege is asserted, the central question is not whether the evidence in question was lawfully obtained but whether its disclosure would harm national-security interests. FBI v. Fazaga, No. 20-828 (U.S. S.Ct. 3/4/22)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/20-828_5ie6.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for conceding that a firearm was used based on video when no gun was recovered. Conceding that a defendant is guilty of a charged offense may constitute ineffective assistance of counsel when counsel did not obtain the defendant’s consent to make the concession. Hipley v. State, 5D20-2303 (3/4/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to point out that the flipping co-Defendant had been facing life in prison but for her testimony. Counsel elicited from the witness only that she received a plea deal for probation, without providing the jury with any information with which to evaluate the deal. Hipley v. State, 5D20-2303 (3/4/22)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Defendant who is sentenced as a Youthful Offender, upon violation of supervision, may not be sentenced to a composite sentence of twenty-five years in DOC with a 25 year minimum mandatory while maintaining the youthful offender status.

When a youthful offender commits a substantive violation of probation and the trial court elects to impose a sentence in excess of the six-year cap, the sentence necessarily becomes an adult CPC sentence such that the defendant does not retain his or her youthful offender status. Grillo v. State, 5D21-2145 (3/4/22)

STATE SECRETS PRIVILEGE: State Secret's Privilege prevents disclosure for the use in civil litigation of the location of the site in (probably) Poland where Al Queda detainee was tortured during interrogation. The state secrets privilege permits the Government to prevent disclosure of information when that disclosure would harm national security interests. Sometimes information that has entered the public domain may nonetheless fall within the scope of the state secrets privilege. USA v. Zubaydah, No. 20-827 (3/3/22)

QUOTATION (J. GORSUCH, DISSENTING): “This Court’s duty is to the rule of law and the search for truth. We should not let shame obscure our vision.” USA v. Zubaydah, No. 20-827 (3/3/22)

EXTRAORDINARY WRIT: A decision on an extraordinary writ petition that clearly shows that the issue was considered by the court on the merits is deemed a decision which would later bar the litigant from presenting the issue under the doctrines of res judicata or collateral estoppel. STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant fails to allege a facially sufficient prima facie claim of justifiable self-defense where he has blood on his face and the victim, found shot to death, had a history of boorish and bullying behavior toward the Defendant, but the motion fails to allege that, or how, an altercation had occurred; who initiated it; what threats were actually made; whether and how any conduct by Victim placed Defendant in fear of imminent death or great bodily harm; or what forcible felony or other actions or conduct of Victim led Defendant to reasonably believe he had to shoot him. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: R. 3.800(a) has been amended to permit motions for rehearing. Court erred by relying on pre-amendment precedent. Pace v. State, 3D21-2148 (3/2/22)

SENTENCING-ADULT ON MINOR MULTIPLIER: The adult-on-minor multiplier limits sentences to the statutory maximum. The phrase “the statutory maximum sentence,” as used in the limiting language is literally the maximum sentence which Defendant faced under the Florida Criminal Punishment Code, not the Chapter 775 maximum. If applying the multiplier results in the lowest permissible sentence exceeding the statutory maximum sentence for the primary offense under chapter 775, the court may not apply the multiplier and must sentence the defendant to the LPS. The sentence on Count II also must be for the LPS. Millien v. State, 4D20-1940 (3/2/22)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION (CONCURRENCE): “It seems to me to be a distortion of the common understanding to construe ‘statutory maximum sentence’ as something other than what is set forth in a phrase immediately preceding it in the same sentence.” Millien v. State, 4D20-1940 (3/2/22)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-CORRECTION: Where Court erroneously awarded duplicate credit for time served (an extra 300 days not actually served), Court may correct the error more than 60 days later. Miscalculation of jail credit can be a clerical error. Double jeopardy does not guarantee a defendant the benefit of a judge’s good-faith mathematical or clerical errors. Blair v. State, 4D21-3214 (3/2/22)

FEBRUARY 2022

POST CONVICTION RELIEF - DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Re-sentencing Defendant after he completed his original sentences for four counts of aggravated assault violates the prohibition against double jeopardy.

F.R.Cr.P 3.800(a) does not allow the State to seek correction of an illegal sentence after it has been served in full. Smith v. State, 5D21-993 (2/25/22)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/830327/opinion/210993_DC08_02252022_091454_i.pdf

MOTION TO CORRECT: A Fla.R.Crim.P. 3.800(b) motion to correct may be filed by the State only if the correction of the sentencing error would benefit the defendant or to correct a scrivener's error. Smith v. State, 5D21-993 (2/25/22)

COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL - ISSUE PRECLUSION: A defendant who raises an issue in a post conviction motion and is denied relief but fails to appeal, is collaterally estopped from raising the same issue in another R.3.800 motion, unless the manifest injustice exception applies. The manifest injustice exception applies here because violating a defendant's right against double jeopardy is a manifest injustice. Smith v. State, 5D21-993 (2/25/22)

COSTS-HUH?: Court may not impose a $3.00 cost for a non-driving offense. Footnote 3: "We suspect that the imposition of this cost in non-traffic cases may indicate a processing issue that should be addressed by the Brevard County Clerk of the Court's Office if it has not already been remedied." But see concurring opinion : "I agree

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-MAILBOX RULE: Where the prison date stamp reflects that the motion was placed in the hands of prison officials for mailing within the two-year time limitation of R. 3.850(b), it is timely regardless of when the Clerk of Court received it. Scott v. State, 5D21-2706 (2/25/22)

APPEAL-INMATE FILING RULE: A Notice of Appeal is timely delivered to prison officials within 30 days. The Inmate Filing Rule provides that a document placed in the hands of an official is deemed filed on that date. Prison mail logs are sufficient to establish timeliness. A prison date stamp is not required. Wade v. State, SC21-1094 (2/24/22)

SENTENCING-HABITUAL VIOLENT FELONY: Armed kidnapping is reclassified to a life felony where Defendant used a weapon or firearm.

Defendant is improperly sentenced as a Habitual Violent Felony Period where the amendment to the statute allowing HVFO had been ruled unconstitutional (for being promulgated in violation of the single subject) and Defendant's crime occurred during the window period in which the statute was unconstitutional (October 1, 1995, through May 24, 1997). COST: Defendant convicted of sexual battery may not be assessed the $151 cost for the "CAC/GAL Trust Fund (Crimes Against Minors)" where the the victim was not a minor. Bryant v. State, 2D20-3555 (2/23/22)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER: Defendant is properly convicted as a principal to second degree murder where Defendant abducted the victim, placed him in plastic handcuffs, and put him in the truck which took him to another site where he was beaten, stabbed and set on fire. Where the defendant was a willing participant in the underlying felony and the murder resulted from forces that they set in motion, the defendant is guilty as a principal for the acts physically committed by another. It does not matter if Defendant was the one who slit the victim's throat or whether he knew or intended for it to happen. Isaac v. State, 3D19-2495 (2/23/22)

ARREST OF JUDGMENT: A motion for arrest of judgment is a postverdict motion made to prevent an entry of judgment in a criminal case after a verdict of guilty has been rendered. A motion for arrest of judgment requires that the indictment or information be so defective that it will not support a judgment of conviction. An information is fundamentally defective only where it totally omits an essential element of the crime or is so vague, indistinct or indefinite that the defendant is misled or exposed to double jeopardy. Isaac v.

INFORMATION-ALTERNATIVE ALLEGATIONS: For an offense that may be committed by one or more of several acts, or by one or more of several means, or with one or more of several intents or results, it is permissible to allege in the disjunctive or alternative such acts, means, intents, or results. Isaac v. State, 3D19-2495 (2/23/22)

COMPETENCY: Defendant who had been adjudicated incompetent due to intellectual disability and had been released with conditions may not have his bond revoked upon commission of a new offense unless he qualifies for involuntary commitment. Court can only modify conditions of release. Pagan v. State, 5D22-258 (2/21/22)

DEPORTATION-MORAL TURPITUDE: Under federal law, a conviction for a crime involving moral turpitude renders a person ineligible for the discretionary relief of cancellation of removal.

Fraud is always moral turpitude. But falsely representing a social security number is not a CIMT. Making a false statement or engaging in general deception is not necessarily the same thing as fraud. If the intent to deceive is not for the purpose of obtaining a benefit or causing a detriment, moral turpitude is not automatically involved. Zarate v. US Attorney General, No. 20-11654 (2/18/22)

DEPORTATION-MORAL TURPITUDE: Moral turpitude involves an act of baseness, vileness, or depravity in the private and social duties which a man owes to his fellow men, or to society in general, contrary to the accepted and customary rule of right and duty between man and man. A crime involving moral turpitude must involve conduct that not only violates a statute but also independently violates a moral norm. Fraud may be a sui generis category necessarily involving moral turpitude; non-fraud offenses must also satisfy the inherently base, vile, or depraved requirement to constitute CIMTs. Zarate v. US Attorney General, No. 20-11654 (2/18/22)

DEFINITION-"GENERALLY": "Generally" does not mean "always" but rather "as a rule" or "usually." Zarate v. US Attorney General, No. 20-11654 (2/18/22)

CATEGORICAL APPROACH (CONCURRING, J. TJOFLAT): "The case law in this Circuit and the Supreme Court's jurisprudence on how to analyze statutes under the categorical approach have left me scratching my head at times. To help future litigants avoid that fate, I provide a brief analysis of the categorical approach." Zarate v. US Attorney General, No. 20-11654 (2/18/22)

BOND-NO CONTACT: Court may not enter a sweeping no-contact order prohibiting codefendant spouses from contact with each other. Such a sweeping restriction infringes fundamental marital rights.

Cossio v. Marceno, Sheriff, 2D21-2749 (2/18/22)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/829369/opinion/212749_DC03_02182022_082209_i.pdf

SUBPOENA-MEDICAL RECORDS: A trial court departs from the essential requirements of law when it allows disclosure of medical records absent a showing of the requisite nexus. A general request for the issuance of a subpoena for medical records in a DUI investigation is insufficient. State must present evidence making it reasonable to believe that defendant's toxicology records would turn up evidence that he was under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

McKnight v. State, 21-1280 (2/18/22)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATION-ALLOCUTION: When a defendant voluntarily chooses to allocute at a sentencing hearing, the sentencing court is permitted to consider the defendant's freely offered statements, including those indicating a failure to accept responsibility. State v. Deforest Kelly, 5D21-3019 (2/18/22)

ATTORNEY-DISCIPLINE: Attorney who used altered photo line up exhibits in a deposition. Lawyer's intent to create what were deceptive exhibits in themselves leads to the inescapable conclusion that he violated Bar Rule 4-8.4(c) ("A lawyer shall not . . . engage in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation . . ."). Three year suspension is imposed. The requirement to provide zealous representation does not excuse engaging in misconduct, irrespective of one's intent to benefit the client. "[Schwartz] has been an overzealous advocate incapable of seeing the forest for the trees."

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: A rapidly blinking turn signal creates a reasonable suspicion that a traffic violation has occurred, notwithstanding that the statute does not prescribe the rate of blinkage. USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PROLONGED STOP-PERMISSIBLE QUESTIONS: If an officer unlawfully prolongs a stop, any evidence uncovered as a result may be suppressed. Officer may not prolong traffic stop to pursue unrelated tasks. Officer asking about one's gang affiliation and calling in a dog to search for contraband is not related to the purpose of a traffic stop. Related tasks are the ordinary inquiries incident to a traffic stop, while unrelated tasks are other measures aimed at detecting criminal activity more generally. Unrelated inquiries are permitted only so long as they do not add any time to the stop. USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22) <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201610128.enb.pdf>

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PROLONGED STOP: The appropriate standard to decide prolongation cases is not whether the length of the stop as a whole was reasonable (the overall reasonableness standard); "The proper standard for addressing an unlawfully prolonged stop. . . is this: a stop is unlawfully prolonged when an officer, without reasonable suspicion, diverts from the stop's purpose and adds time to the stop in order to investigate other crimes. A stop is unlawfully prolonged even if done expeditiously, (here, 25 seconds). Any case law to the contrary was improperly decided. USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22) <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201610128.enb.pdf>

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PROLONGED STOP: Examples of permissible/impermissible questions on a traffic stop. The following are impermissible: "Any counterfeit or bootleg CDs or DVDs or anything like that? Any illegal alcohol? Any marijuana? Any cocaine? Methamphetamine? Any heroin? Any ecstasy? Nothing like that? You don't have any dead bodies in your car?" USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22) <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201610128.enb.pdf>

EXCLUSIONARY RULE-GOOD FAITH EXCEPTION: Although "good faith" is most often framed as an exception to the exclusionary rule, it is probably more accurately described as a reason for declining to invoke the exclusionary rule in the first place. USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22)

APPEAL-PARTY PRESENTATION PRINCIPLE: Typically, issues not raised in the initial brief on appeal are deemed abandoned. Under the party presentation principle, appellate courts rely on the parties to frame the issues for decision and assign to courts the role of neutral arbiter of matters the parties present. However, the party presentation principle is supple, not ironclad, and does not necessarily apply when an issue is forfeited, rather than waived. Forfeiture is the failure to make the timely assertion of a right; waiver is the intentional relinquishment or abandonment of a known right. Courts have the ability to resurrect forfeited issues sua sponte in extraordinary circumstances. "The degree to which we adhere to the prudential practice of forfeiture and the conditions under which we will excuse it are up to us as an appellate court." USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22)

APPEAL-EXCLUSIONARY RULE-GOOD FAITH EXCEPTION: The

Government's failure to invoke the good-faith exception in its brief to the appellate court does not preclude the Court from considering the exception on appeal. Appellate Court has discretion to consider the good-faith exception despite the Government's failure to brief it. Appellate Court is not limited to the particular legal theories advanced by the parties, but rather retains the independent power to identify and apply the proper construction of governing law. Here, had the District Court considered the Good Faith exception to the search, it would have denied the Motion to Suppress, so the evidence derived from the unduly prolonged stop is admissible. USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22)

APPEAL-ADVOCACY TACTICS-FORFEITED ISSUE: Although appellate lawyers are advised to focus their briefing on their strongest, most pertinent arguments, even if they have many colorable claims, lawyers cannot always know which issues or arguments an appellate court will find persuasive ahead of time. So an abandoned issue may still be considered by the appellate court in exceptional cases.

EXCLUSIONARY RULE: Because the exclusionary rule is prudential rather than constitutionally mandated, it is applicable only where its deterrence benefits outweigh its substantial social costs. These costs—which include the requirement that courts ignore reliable, trustworthy evidence bearing on guilt or innocence—exact a “heavy toll on both the judicial system and society at large. An officer who relies on binding appellate precedent has no culpability whatsoever.

Excluding evidence in these circumstances would only serve “to discourage the officer from doing his duty. Suppression of evidence is our last resort, not our first impulse.” USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22)

PRINCIPLE OF PRINCIPLES (DISSENT): “We begin, as we feel we must, with first principles—indeed, with the first principle of first principles: In this country, we have an adversarial justice system.”

SCORPIONS IN A BOTTLE: “The dissent’s antics would radically transform the nature of oral arguments in this Court, an ironic position for an opinion ostensibly aimed at limiting judicial Power.”.

.. “Of course, were this Court a trial court, we could choose to credit some portions of the Government’s testimony and discredit others—but we are not a trial court. The dissent seems to have forgotten this simple fact.” USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201610128.enb.pdf>

SCORPIONS IN A BOTTLE (DISSENT): “Tellingly, the majority never really explains why it thinks the government’s non-argument of the good-faith issue resulted from a ‘mere failure.’ It just repeatedly asserts that proposition as fact, as if hoping to speak it into existence.

.. [E]ven if the majority’s premise were correct. . .its conclusion that sua sponte consideration of the good-faith issue is proper would be wrong. . .In fact, though, its premise is wrong—dead wrong." USA v. Campbell, No. 16-1-128 (11th Cir. 2/16/22)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201610128.enb.pdf>

SCORPIONS IN A BOTTLE (DISSENT): "First, aren't we slicing the bologna a little thin? . . .The logic of the majority. . .—which seems to rest on some sort of magic-words formalism—escapes us. . . Second, and to be absolutely clear, it wasn't just 'the dissenting judges' who joined in the so-called 'antics.' The oral-argument questioning was no sinister plot—no cabal-led gotcha game. . . With all its talk of 'antics,' 'inquisitions,' and faux 'evidentiary hearings,' the majority seems to want to complicate—and obscure—a very straightforward event, which surely resembles similar events that occur in courtrooms around this country every day." SCORPIONS IN A BOTTLE: "The majority has offered no persuasive justification for insinuating itself into a criminal prosecution to save the United States—the quintessential sophisticated, repeat-player litigant—from what are, at best, its litigation failures." VOP-NOTICE: Notice that Defendant violated probation by by committing felony obstruction is sufficient to support revocation of probation where evidence showed only misdemeanor obstruction. The specific identification of lesser included offenses in charging

FIRST STEP: Defendant convicted of distribution of crack cocaine within 1,000 of a school is ineligible for a First Step sentence reduction. Although district courts lack the inherent authority to modify a term of imprisonment, the First Step Act expressly permits them to reduce a previously imposed term of imprisonment. §841(b)(1)(C) offenses are not “covered offenses” under the First Step Act. JURY INSTRUCTION-FORCIBLE FELONY: A forcible-felony instruction is erroneous where a defendant is not charged with a forcible felony separate from the felony he committed. Although it is error to give a forcible-felony instruction when a defendant is not charged with a forcible felony separate from actions taken in self-defense, any error here is not fundamental because the primary defense was not self-defense, and the self-defense claim was weak. Here, the self-defense theory is extremely weak and the primary defense was that the shooting was accidental. Berrane v. State, 1D18-4981 (2/16/22)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court errs in imposing a downward departure sentence (ten months in jail and probation), rather than a 55 month sentence for stealing a pair of sunglasses based on COVID-19 and the de minimis nature of the theft. A generalized concern about COVID-19 is not a valid, non-statutory mitigating circumstance for departure. State v. Kahl, 1D21-490 (2/16/22)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Defendant does not obstruct officer for refusing to come out of house for officers investigating him from exposing his sexual organs to a neighbor from his doorway. Physical entry of the home is the chief evil against which the wording of the Fourth Amendment is directed. Defendant's failure to cooperate cannot itself be criminal. Even if officers had probable cause to arrest Defendant prior to removing him from the apartment, that would still not be enough to justify entering his home to conduct a warrantless arrest. EVIDENCE: Defendant, a police officer who shot at a mentally ill man who he wrongfully believed armed with a gun, is entitled to present evidence of his SWAT training to justify the shooting. The training undertaken by the professional is relevant for the jury to consider in determining how and why the professional assessed and responded to the situation, and whether, under the circumstances surrounding the particular case, such assessment and response was objectively reasonable. CULPABLE NEGLIGENCE: The degree of negligence required to sustain a conviction for the crime of culpable negligence is significantly higher than that necessary to sustain a recovery of compensatory damages in a tort case. To sustain a conviction for the crime of culpable negligence, the State must establish that the defendant acted with a gross and flagrant character, evincing reckless disregard for human life or an entire want of care which would raise the presumption of indifference to consequences; or such wantonness or recklessness or grossly careless disregard of the safety and welfare of the public, or that reckless indifference to the rights of others, which is equivalent to an intentional violation of them. BAIL: Court must consider Defendant's financial resources in setting bail. Where Defendant asserts that he can pay no amount of bail, and Court finds that bail is appropriate, it does not matter how

DEATH PENALTY-HAC: The HAC aggravator applies to murders that are both conscienceless or pitiless and unnecessarily torturous. Gunshot murders can qualify as HAC if the events preceding the death cause the victim fear, emotional strain, and terror, even if the victim's perception of imminent death need lasts only seconds. Where victim was heard begging for help, murder can be deemed heinous, atrocious, and cruel. A finding of HAC does not require the victim to undergo physical torture; mental torture is sufficient. DEATH PENALTY: Jury need not specify the facts upon which it finds aggravating factors. The required jury finding for death eligibility is the unanimous finding of the existence of one or more aggravating factors proven beyond a reasonable doubt, not the individual facts on which the jury relied to find each aggravating factor. McKenzie v. State, SC20-243 (2/9/22)

DEATH PENALTY-VICTIM IMPACT: Court is neither required to exclude victim impact evidence nor to receive it outside of the jury's presence. McKenzie v. State, SC20-243 (2/9/22)

DEATH PENALTY: Jury need not find beyond a reasonable doubt that the aggravating factors were sufficient to impose the death penalty and that the aggravating factors outweighed the mitigating circumstances. These jury determinations are not subject to the beyond a reasonable doubt standard of proof. Only the existence of a statutory aggravating factor must be found beyond a reasonable doubt. McKenzie v. State, SC20-243 (2/9/22)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for both grand theft and organized scheme to defraud violate double jeopardy when based on the same conduct. Grand theft is a lesser-included offense of organized scheme to defraud. Double-jeopardy analysis looks solely to the charging document, and cannot be based on evidence adduced at trial. If it is impossible to tell from the charging document whether the jury could have convicted the defendant of two crimes based on the same conduct, the judgments violate double jeopardy. Amison v. State, 1D18-1312 (2/9/22)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Officer charged with battery based on him hitting a prone juvenile's face into the pavement is not entitled to SYG immunity on the basis of another officer having been found to qualify for said immunity. Pushing child to the ground is different from smashing the child's face into the pavement. Krickovich v. State, 4D21-842 (2/9/22)

STAND YOUR GROUND: §870.05 (an anti-rioting statute protecting officer's use of force) is not an immunity statute; rather, the statute creates a defense available at trial. Krickovich v. State, 4D21-842 (2/9/22)

RESTITUTION-FRAUD: The amount of restitution in charitable contribution fraud case should not include money actually received by the intended beneficiaries. "Ideally, the punitive aspect of restitution would also fall fully on the defendant, but the primary goal of restitution is to make the victim whole. . . . Giving back money previously stolen or withheld unlawfully is still giving back." Amison RICO: Two predicate incidents which violate Chapters 812 or 817 are required to establish a pattern of racketeering activity. Failure to apply charitable contributions under §496.415(16) is not a predicate offense. Amison v. State, 1D18-1312 (2/9/22)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NEED FOR

RESTITUTION: The test for a downward departure is the victim's need, not the victim's desire or preference. Where no evidence was presented regarding the victim's need for restitution, a downward departure is unlawful. Kunkemoeller v. State, 1D20-2209 (2/9/22)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-MINOR PARTICIPANT:

Defendant may not be given a downward departure as a relatively minor participant where he in fact was a major, long-term participant without whom the scheme could not have been carried out. Kunkemoeller v. State, 1D20-2209 (2/9/22)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/828203/opinion/202209_DC13_02092022_142725_i.pdf

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NON-STATUTORY

GROUND: Relative culpability is a valid non-statutory basis to impose a downward departure in order to provide parity with the sentence of a co-defendant who was at least, if not more, culpable than the defendant, but only to the extent of departing downward to meet a codefendant's sentence. Kunkemoeller v. State, 1D20-2209 (2/9/22)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-CONTRITION: Where Defendant's criminal activity was a complex financial scheme that took place over the span of nearly five years, he is not eligible for a downward departure under the isolated unsophisticated incident. "The legislature's requirements would be left hollow if a sentencing court could cherry-pick one part of a statutory mitigator and re-define it as non-statutory. A statutory ground's requirements cannot be avoided simply by renaming the basis a non-statutory ground." Kunkemoeller v. State, 1D20-2209 (2/9/22)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: The consideration of past restitution under §921.185 cannot, by itself, serve as a legal basis for a downward departure sentence. Kunkemoeller v. State, 1D20-2209 (2/9/22)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court may not downward depart on the ground that Defendant is an asset to the community based on charitable works, support of needy family members, or his business. The sentencing court "must be blind as to the color of a defendant's collar." Kunkemoeller v. State, 1D20-2209 (2/9/22)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: That the Covid virus is so rampant in the county jail and in the prison cannot serve as a valid basis for departure, at least in the absence of competent substantial evidence that the defendant has an underlying medical or health condition which places him at increased risk of contracting it if incarcerated in a county jail or state prison. State v. Jones, 3D20-1220 (2/9/22)

DEATH PENALTY-MITIGATION: Court does not err in imposing death sentence despite Defendant's mitigating evidence ("I've never been a good person, but I've always been an honest person"). Bell v. State, SC20-472 (2/3/22)

DEATH PENALTY-MITIGATION: Court does not err in imposing the death penalty where Defendant participated in stabbing a fellow inmate in both eyes and drowning him in his own blood, all as part of a practice run to attempt to murder a Correctional Officer. The fact that aside from Officer Newman, he had not assaulted any other officers is insufficient mitigation. Court did not consider in mitigation the fact that Defendant's 12-step murder plan included becoming Vegan (Step 1) and improving his spelling (Step 12). Bell v. State, SC20-472 (2/3/22)

SEX OFFENDER REGISTRATION: Defendant's argument that he would not be required to register as a sex offender until completing probation for the underlying sex crime is wrong. Manetta v. State, 3D21-1769 (2/2/22)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant's motion to dismiss under Florida's Stand Your Ground law can establish a prima facie claim of self-defense immunity from criminal prosecution even though the motion to dismiss is not sworn to by someone with personal knowledge or supported by evidence or testimony establishing the facts in the motion to dismiss. Penalver v. State, 3D21-1879 (2/2/22)

disqualification. Song v. State, 3D22-79 (2/2/22)

RESTITUTION-HEARSAY: Victim is not entitled to restitution for attorney's fees for fraudulent real estate purchase (Defendant grabbed the warranty deed at closing but did not deliver the purchase money, and victim had to hire an attorney to quiet the title) where there was testimony that victim paid the attorney $300.00 per hour, but State failed to introduce any evidence relating to how many hours the attorney expended on matters for which restitution was proper. The owner's testimony, without further documentation or other evidence, was not enough to prove that the requested amount of $7,905.89 for attorney's fees was an accurate figure. Love v. State, 4D20-129 (2/2/22)

SCORESHEET: Where Defendant challenges various prior convictions listed on his scoresheet, State is required to introduce competent evidence in support of its scoring of his prior record. A claim that a defendant's scoresheet erroneously includes as scored prior convictions crimes for which he or she had never been convicted requires an evidentiary hearing. Sanders v. State, 4D20-1913 (2/2/22)

PRINCIPAL-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The getaway driver who has prior knowledge of the criminal plan and is waiting to help the robbers escape is a principal. Where the defendant watched his companion commit a crime, waited for him to return to the vehicle, and then drove the companion and the stolen property away), he may be convicted as principal. Smith v. State, 5D21-988 (2/1/22)

EX POST FACTO: The Ex Post Facto Clause prohibits the use of guidelines issued after the offense that create a higher applicable sentencing range. The two level substantial financial hardship enhancement added in 2015 resulted in a miscalculation of the Guidelines range, requiring resentencing. The application of an incorrect Guidelines range is almost always enough to show a reasonable probability of a different outcome absent the error. USA v. Maurya, No. 19-10746 (11th Cir. 2/1/22)

RESTITUTION: To enable meaningful appellate review, a district court's calculation of restitution must be supported by specific factual findings. Remand required. USA v. Maurya, No. 19-10746 (11th Cir. 2/1/22)
<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201910746.pdf>

BILL OF PARTICULARS: The purpose of a bill of particulars is threefold: to inform the defendant of the charge against him with sufficient precision to allow him to prepare his defense, to minimize surprise at trial, and to enable him to plead double jeopardy in the event of a later prosecution for the same offense. But a bill of particulars cannot be used as a weapon to force the government into divulging its prosecution strategy, i.e., to compel the government to give a detailed exposition of its evidence or to explain the legal theories upon which it intends to rely at trial. USA v. Hardwick, No.

EVIDENCE: The failure of the district court to supply an explanation for an evidentiary exclusion is not grounds for reversal.

EVIDENCE-SUMMARY CHARTS: Summary charts are permitted, but only when any assumptions they make are supported by evidence in the record. USA v. Hardwick, No. 19-12140 (11th Cir. 2/1/22)

JURY INSTRUCTION-DELIBERATE IGNORANCE: Although District courts should not instruct the jury on deliberate ignorance when the relevant evidence points only to actual knowledge, instructing the jury on deliberate ignorance is harmless error where the jury was also instructed and could have convicted on an alternative, sufficiently supported theory of actual knowledge. USA v. Hardwick, No. 19-12140 (11th Cir. 2/1/22)

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: 180-month sentence, 45 months over the recommended range but far below the statutory maximum of 470, is not substantively unreasonable for embezzling lawyer. USA v. Maurya, No. 19-10746 (11th Cir. 2/1/22)

DWLS: By legislative modification of §322.34(2), an individual who

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: The factual finding that Defendant's crimes were committed within three years after release from prison need not be submitted to the jury. The exception under Apprendi that the fact of a prior conviction need not be determined by a jury applies. Establishing the date of release from prison is simply a ministerial act. Simmons v. DEATH PENALTY-METHOD OF EXECUTION: Intellectually impaired inmate who failed to request execution by nitrogen hypoxia because he reads on a 1st grade level and could not comprehend the written request materials (which required an 11th grade reading level to be understood) is entitled to belatedly request nitrogen hypoxia execution. DEPORTATION: Foreign national convicted of an offense relating to a controlled substance is ineligible for cancellation of removal. Florida possession of cocaine renders one ineligible for cancellation of removal. The arguments that Florida's definition of cocaine extends to substances not prohibited under federal law, and that Florida's possession law does not require knowledge that the substance is illegal are nonavailing. Chamu v. US Attorney General, No. 19013908 (11th Cir. 1/26/22)

COCAINE-STATE/FEDERAL DISTINCTION: "Positing the hypothetical existence of a form of cocaine that has slipped through the cracks of federal legislation is no more than 'legal imagination' conjuring up a 'theoretical possibility'—a practice forbidden by the Supreme Court. COCAINE-DEFINITION: Isomers are chemical compounds with the same formula but a different arrangement of atoms in the molecule and different properties. "Stereoisomers, for what it is worth, are usually divided into two categories: optical isomers (also called enantiomers) and diastereomers." Florida's cocaine definition includes any of cocaine's stereoisomers. The federal definition of cocaine describes cocaine's optical and geometric isomers. Chamu v. US Attorney General, No. 19013908 (11th Cir. 1/26/22)

SUBJECT-MATTER JURISDICTION-RELATED OFFENSE: Circuit court lacks jurisdiction over a misdemeanor DUI discovered when the Defendant was arrested for violating a domestic violence injunction where the DUI was not related to the underlying felony domestic battery charge. Defendant's acquiescence to the circuit court's jurisdiction over the misdemeanor DUI charge did not provide the court with subject-matter jurisdiction. Subject matter cannot be created by waiver, acquiescence or agreement of the parties, by error in inadvertence of the parties or their counsel, or by the exercise of the power of the court. This outcome does not change where the misdemeanor charge was used to support Appellant's violation of probation because violations of probation are considered separate and distinct from the conviction of a new charge. LIMITATION OF ACTIONS-DILIGENT SEARCH: Where drug sale offenses occurred in June 2012 and informations were filed one year later, but the capiases were not served until July 2020, the Defendant is entitled to discharge. Where a person has not previously been arrested or served with a summons, prosecution commences when an indictment or information is filed provided that the capias is executed without unreasonable delay. NCIC database notation that Defendant had been arrested out of state during the relevant time period is inadmissible hearsay, and does not establish continuance absence anyways. WILLFULNESS: Willful conduct in the context of the Foreign Bank and Financial Accounts (FBAR) law, which requires reporting to IRS more than $10,000 held in foreign accounts, includes knowing and reckless conduct. BLUNDERING CONSTABLE: "The main question in this criminal appeal is, as it often is, whether a criminal should 'go free because the constable has blundered.' . . . [T]he answer to the question on appeal is that the constable's blunders do not warrant reversing Nicholson's conviction as a matter of law." USA v. Nicholson, No. 19-11669 (11th Cir. 1/24/22)

TRANSPORTING MINOR: Defendant may be convicted of knowing transportation of a minor in interstate commerce with the intent that the minor engage in sexual activity notwithstanding that he did not have sex with the child on that trip. The government need not prove actual sexual activity to convict under Section 2423. Evidence of actual sex acts is not the only way to prove the criminal intent to commit those acts. USA v. Nicholson, No. 19-11669 (11th Cir. 1/24/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-WARRANT: Where search of digital media takes place outside the 60 day limit required by the warrant, the search is not suppressible where, as here, Defendant is neither prejudiced nor was the delay deliberate. "Although the government did not comply with the temporal limitation in the magistrate judge's order, we cannot say that this failure rises to a Fourth Amendment violation." USA v. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-EXCLUSIONARY RULE: Suppression is not a necessary consequence of a Fourth Amendment violation. To trigger the exclusionary rule, police conduct must be sufficiently deliberate that exclusion can meaningfully deter it, and sufficiently culpable that such deterrence is worth the price paid by the justice system. Merely negligent law enforcement conduct does not justify

MISTRIAL: When a defendant's motion arises out of the admission and later exclusion of evidence, an instruction to disregard the evidence is sufficient grounds for an appellate court to uphold a trial court's denial of a motion for mistrial unless the evidence is so highly prejudicial as to be incurable by the trial court's admonition. Evidence of six images discovered in the unallocated space of the camera recovered, showing the relationship of the Defendant with the victim, initially admitted then excluded, do not warrant a mistrial. CONFRONTATION-HEARSAY-OPENING THE DOOR: In murder prosecution where a different suspect was originally charged but during his trial was allowed to plea to illegal possession of a firearm not used in the murder, the Defendant's presentation of evidence that the original suspect had ammunition of the caliber used to kill the victim on his nightstand does not open the door to admission of the original suspect's plea colloquy in which he denied possession of the murder weapon. Such evidence violates the Confrontation Clause. Hemphill v. New York, SC20-637 (1/20/22)

CONFRONTATION CLAUSE: "If Crawford stands for anything, it is that the history, text, and purpose of the Confrontation Clause bar judges from substituting their own determinations of reliability for the method the Constitution guarantees. DISQUALIFICATION-STATE ATTORNEY: Court must conduct a hearing on motion for imputed disqualification of SAO where an Assistant State Attorney had left the Public Defender's Office to work for the State Attorney's Office and had been privy to confidential and privileged information related to the legal representation of Defendant. Where the rule prohibiting the disqualified attorney from personally assisting in any capacity, in the prosecution of the charge is violated, disqualification of the entire state attorney's office is appropriate. APPEAL-CERTIORARI: When an appellate court reviews a lower court order, there is a procedural distinction between review by certiorari and review by appeal. On appeal, an appellate court has authority to reverse an order or judgment and remand with directions or instructions for the trial court to follow. STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to a second, successive SYG hearing based on the statutory change in the burden of proof. CERTIORARI: A departure from the essential requirements of the law that will justify issuance of the extraordinary writ of certiorari requires significantly more than a demonstration of legal error. A district court should exercise its discretion to grant certiorari review only when there has been a violation of a clearly established principle of law resulting in a miscarriage of justice. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on his motion for post-conviction relief where Court applied the wrong standard--whether there was a reasonable probability that, but for counsel's alleged errors, the result of the proceeding would have been different--instead of the correct standard: Whether there was a reasonable probability that, but for his counsel's misadvice and omissions, Defendant would have insisted on going forward with the revocation hearing. VOP: A revocation sentence can be used to extend a prisoner's total imprisonment beyond his combined statutory maximums. Defendant is lawfully sentenced to ten years in prison (the statutory maximum) followed by three years of supervised release, and a further three and a years upon violation of that supervised release. USA v. Moore, No. 20-11215 (11th Cir. 1/13/22)

VOP: Where Defendant had been sentenced to a total of 42 months' imprisonment for his prior revocations, in excess of the statutory maximum for supervised release, Court may not impose any additional supervised release. The maximum allowable supervised release following multiple revocations must be reduced by the aggregate length of any terms of imprisonment that have already been imposed upon revocation. USA v. Moore, No. 20-11215 (11th Cir. 1/13/22)

VOP: When a term of supervised release is revoked and the defendant is required to serve a term of imprisonment, the court may include a requirement that the defendant be placed on a term of supervised release after imprisonment. The length of such a term of supervised release shall not exceed the term of supervised release authorized by statute for the offense that resulted in the original term of supervised release, less any term of imprisonment that was imposed upon revocation of supervised release. USA v. Moore, No. 20-11215 (11th Cir. 1/13/22)

VOP: The court may revoke a term of supervised release, and require the defendant to serve in prison all or part of the term of supervised release authorized by statute for the offense that resulted in such term of supervised release without credit for time previously served on postrelease supervision. §3583(e) permits the total time a defendant serves for his original conviction and revocations of supervised release to exceed the combined statutory maximum terms of imprisonment and supervised release for the original offense of conviction. Apprendi and Alleyne do not deal with revocation proceedings. USA v. Moore, No. 20-11215 (11th Cir. 1/13/22)

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: Court abuses its discretion when it (1) fails to afford consideration to relevant factors that were due significant weight, (2) gives significant weight to an improper or irrelevant factor, or (3) commits a clear error of judgment in considering the proper factors. Four month upward variance is not substantively unreasonable for repeat violations of supervision. USA v. Moore, No. 20-11215 (11th Cir. 1/13/22)

CONTEMPT-ALLOCUTION: A court may hold a defendant in summary contempt without notice or a prior opportunity to be heard. Notice and at least a brief opportunity to be heard should be afforded as a matter of course in criminal contempt proceedings, but case law

DISCOVERY-VIOLATION: Defendant is entitled to a new trial for ax murder where State failed to disclose that the Victim's son had been a confidential informant against another suspect (Both the son and the other suspect were possible perpetrators under the Defendant's theory of the case) Brady requires the State to disclose material information within its possession or control that is favorable to the defense. To establish a Brady violation, a defendant must demonstrate that (1) the evidence was either exculpatory or impeaching; (2) the evidence was willfully or inadvertently suppressed by the State; and (3) because the evidence was material, the defendant was prejudiced. VENUE: Defendant may not be tried in a venue where he did not commit any of the conduct elements of the charged crimes. Defendant who lives in Alabama and illegally accessed the Victim's servers in Orlando (Middle District of Florida), may not be prosecuted in Pensacola (Northern District of Florida) for theft of trade secrets. The essential conduct element of the crime is that the defendant must steal, take without authorization, or obtain by fraud or deception trade-secret information. The effects of a crime are a not permissible basis for venue. USA v. Smith, No. 20-12667 (11th Cir. 1/12/22)

for a separate count of theft of trade secrets is vacated for improper venue. Vacatur of a conviction on one count due to improper venue and affirmance of a conviction on another count is proper. USA v. Smith, No. 20-12667 (11th Cir. 1/12/22)

JURISDICTION: Defendant, who was traveling from Indiana to Florida, is properly convicted of murder in Florida when his emaciated three month old child is found dead of starvation when the family stops at a restaurant in Lakeland. Territorial jurisdiction is a jury question once the State proves that the victim died in Florida. If the body of a homicide victim is found within the state, the death is presumed to have occurred within the state. If Defendant provides an unrefuted explanation that the offense occurred outside Florida, JOA is required; if the explanation is not conclusive it is not. Stephens v. State, 1D19-3429 (1/12/22)

HEARSAY-STATEMENTS AGAINST PENAL INTEREST:

Defendant's Wife's (a co-defendant) jailhouse letter taking blame for the starvation death of her three week old daughter and exonerating Defendant is not admissible as a statements against penal interest nor under Chambers v. DOUBLE JEOPARDY-SINGLE HOMICIDE RULE: Convictions for both first-degree murder and aggravated manslaughter of a child do not violate the state and federal constitutional proscriptions against double jeopardy. The single homicide rule no longer exists. Under Blockburger, dual convictions are permitted. The offenses are not different degrees of the same offense, and thus do not fall under the degree-variant exception. Stephens v. State, 1D19-3429 (1/12/22)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-CONTEMPORANEOUS OBJECTION RULE: Under the contemporaneous objection rule, parties must object when an error occurs during trial to allow appellate review. The party must then make the same specific contention on appeal. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG SNIFF: A well-trained dog's alert establishes a fair probability—all that is required for probable cause—that either drugs or evidence of a drug crime will be found. Regardless of whether the smell of marijuana is indistinguishable from that of hemp, the smell from a vehicle continues to provide probable cause for a warrantless search of the vehicle. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BAKER ACT: Absent a recognized exception, a law enforcement officer must ordinarily obtain a warrant before searching the personal effects of a person. A Baker Act seizure is not a recognized exception. S.P. v. State, 2D21-631 (1/7/22)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BAKER ACT-OFFICER SAFETY: The necessity of ensuring safety when subject is Baker Acted does not create an inchoate warrant to bypass every protection of the Fourth Amendment. Police policy of searching people before transporting them in the cruiser is insufficient justification for the search of one's wallet. "The deputy went a step too far under the Fourth Amendment when he opened the wallet and searched its contents." "[S]earching the wallet of a person who was already handcuffed and in custody for a mental health assessment was unnecessary to ensure anyone's safety." S.P. v. State, 2D21-631 (1/7/22)

AMENDMENT-RULES-VICTIM RIGHTS: The record on appeal includes any filing by a victim or other authorized filer on the victim's behalf made part of the court file. In Re: Amendments to Florida Rule of Appellate Procedure 9.143, No. SC20-1129 (1/6/22)

AMENDMENT-RULES-VICTIM RIGHTS: A victim seeking to invoke a right under article I, section 16, of the Florida Constitution may file a motion in the court in which the matter is pending. In Re: Amendments to Florida Rule of Appellate Procedure 9.143, SC20-1129 (1/6/22)

APPEAL-JURISDICTION: Supreme Court lacks jurisdiction to entertain an appeal based on conflict within the same district on the same legal issue. Discretionary jurisdiction under this clause only exists when a decision from one district court conflicts with a decision of another district court of appeal. The Supreme Court's jurisdiction does not extend to intra-district conflict. Walker v. State, SC21-1327 (1/6/22)

APPEAL: Appeal is premature where there is no written order disposing of the Child's motion for rehearing. An appeal will be held in abeyance until a written order on the motion for rehearing is rendered or the motion is withdrawn. J.R.P.W. v. State, 1D21-1834 (1/5/22)

COMPETENCY-VOP: Court is not required to sua sponte order a new competency evaluation upon a violation of probation for a Defendant who had previously been diagnosed as having been restored to competency. Allen v. State, 3D19-2369 (1/5/22)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A 15 year sentence imposed nunc pro tunc after probation was revoked is not illegal because it is within the statutory maximum. To be illegal within the meaning of rule 3.800(a) the sentence must impose a kind of punishment that no judge under the entire body of sentencing statutes could possibly inflict under any set of factual circumstances. If it is possible under all the sentencing statutes-given a specific set of facts-to impose a particular sentence, then the sentence will not be illegal within rule 3.800(a) even though the judge erred in imposing it. Copeland v. State, 3D21-1913 (1/5/22)

DEFINITION-NUNC PRO TUNC: Nunc pro tunc means 'now for then' and when applied to the entry of a legal order or judgment it normally does not refer to a new or fresh (de novo) decision, as when a decision is made after the death of a party, but relates to a ruling or action actually previously made or done but concerning which for some reason the record thereof is defective or omitted. The later record making does not itself have a retroactive effect but it constitutes the later evidence of a prior effectual act. Copeland v. State, 3D21-1913 (1/5/22)

APPEAL-RECONSTRUCTED RECORD: Where it was discovered that a portion of Defendant's direct testimony was not transcribed due to the notes having been stolen from the court reporter's car, the State may prepare a partial reconstruction of the record which may be deemed sufficient for appellate review for the Defendant provided no independent recollection in his objections were heard considered and rejected by the trial court. SENTENCING-ORAL PRONOUNCEMENT: Where the Court orally sentences the Defendant to 10 years, but the written judgment reflected a sentence of 15 years, the orally pronounced sentence stands. A court's oral pronouncement of sentence controls over the written document. Carey v. State, 4D19-3753 (1/5/22)

domestic violence statute, it must result in the physical injury or death of one family or household member by another family or household member. Where the jury instruction failed to mention domestic violence in any way, Defendant may not be sentenced using that designation. Under Alleyne, the judge is precluded from making the domestic violence finding on her own, regardless whether the despite domestic battery the charge was submitted to the jury.

RESTITUTION: An award of restitution may not be based on speculation, but documentary evidence is not always a prerequisite to establishing an amount for an award of restitution. Victim's testimony about out-of-pocket losses actually paid, as opposed to estimates of loss, is sufficient to establish proof of the amount for restitution purposes. State v. P.C.L., 4D20-2002 (1/5/22)

RESTITUTION-ABILITY TO PAY: While a court may order a delinquent child pay restitution without a showing of present ability to pay, it nevertheless must determine what that child might reasonably be expected to earn upon finding suitable employment and base the amount of restitution on those anticipated earnings. SCORESHEET: Out of state prior convictions for a sex offense are improperly scored as a second degree felony where the elements are different than Florida's L & L statute. Any uncertainty in the scoring of the offender's prior record must be resolved in favor of the offender and disagreement as to the propriety of scoring specific entries in the prior record must be resolved by the sentencing judge. Perdue v State, 4D21-1055 (1/5/22)

UNANIMOUS VERDICT: Defendant convicted of violating injunction after jury was instructed that Defendant could be found guilty if he violated the injunction in any of the five alternate ways, including by "telephoning, contacting, or otherwise communicating with [the Petitioner], the family of [the Petitioner], or household guests of [the Petitioner] was deprived of his right to a unanimous jury. Court did not clarify that the jury was required to unanimously agree on at least one of the five specific acts. Where a single count embraces two or more separate offenses, albeit in violation of the same statute, the jury cannot convict unless its verdict is unanimous as to at least one specific act. By allowing the State to tell the jury it could convict Defendant based on any of the five distinct acts without clarifying that the jury was required to unanimously agree on at least one specific act, the trial court compromised the unanimity of the jury's verdict.

BAKER ACT: Subject who was bipolar and experiencing a manic episode is improperly committed under the Baker Act absent any recent incidents of violence. Conclusory testimony, unsubstantiated by facts in evidence, is insufficient to satisfy the statutory criteria by the clear and convincing evidence standard. The need for treatment and medication and the refusal to take psychotropic medication despite a deteriorating mental condition, standing alone, do not justify involuntary commitment. Bess v. APPEAL-POST CONVICTION RELIEF-COUNSEL-FEDERAL APPOINTMENT: State lacks jurisdiction to appeal appointment of federal counsel (Capital Habeas Unit) for death row inmate in state postconviction proceedings. The State cannot establish standing based on a hypothetical conflict of interest that is not actual or imminent. Booker v. Secretary, DOC, No. 20-14539 (11th Cir. 1/3/22)

STANDING: There are three elements of Article III standing, each of which the State bears the burden of establishing. First, the State must show that it has suffered an injury in fact. Second, there must be a causal connection between the injury and the conduct complained of. Third, it must be likely, as opposed to merely speculative, that the injury will be redressed by a favorable decision. Booker v. Secretary, DOC, No. 20-14539 (11th Cir. 1/3/22)

APPEAL-POST CONVICTION RELIEF-COUNSEL-FEDERAL

APPOINTMENT: [T]he State's asserted basis for standing is not the appointment of counsel nor the provision of federal funds to counsel. Indeed, the State concedes that it has no interest in how federal funds are spent. Rather, the alleged injury, as the State explains in its brief, is the appearance of CHU counsel in state court. What we have, then, is a mismatch between the effect of the order the State is challenging and the injury it claims to be asserting. The district court's order simply does not control which lawyers appear in state proceedings; such determinations remain the prerogative of state courts. And because state courts are empowered to reject appearances by CHU counsel, the district court's order appointing federal counsel cannot have inflicted an injury on Florida's sovereignty. Booker v. Secretary, DOC, No. 20-14539 (11th Cir. 1/3/22)

DEFINITION-ADEQUATE: "Adequate" means "sufficient for a specific need or requirement;" "fully satisfying what is required; quite sufficient, suitable, or acceptable in quality or quantity"; "satisfactory", or "just good enough." Booker v. Secretary, DOC, No. 20-14539 (11th Cir. 1/3/22)

SENTENCING-DANGEROUSNESS-UPWARD DEPARTURE: Court improperly instructed the jury to determine whether Defendant himself could present a danger to the public, as opposed whether a nonstate prison sentence could present a danger to the public. Pine v. State, 5D20-2460 (12/30/21)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/817850/opinion/202460_DC08_12302021_082507_i.pdf

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: Florida courts follow the supremacy-of-text principle—namely, the principle that the words of a governing text are of paramount concern, and what they convey, in their context, is what the text means. While the difference between the dangerousness of the Defendant and the dangerousness of a non-state prison sentence may seem negligible at first glance, there exist sentencing options other than state prison which could limit the danger a defendant might pose to the public. Pine v. State, 5D20-2460 (13/30/21)

PRR: The Prison Release Reoffender Act is not unconstitutional for allowing the judge, rather than the jury, to determine whether a defendant qualifies as a prison releasee reoffender for sentencing purposes. Williams v. State, 5D21-736 (12/30/21)

COSTS: Court may not impose a $50 investigative cost that was not requested by the State or agency and was not orally pronounced. Figueroa v. State, 5D21-1989 (12/30/21)

10/20/LIFE-CONSECUTIVE PROBATION: Florida's 10-20-Life statute does not separately create a new statutory maximum penalty of life imprisonment for crimes in which 10-20-Life sentencing applies. Defendant convicted of a second degree felony of aggravated battery with a firearm may be sentenced to years under the 10-20-life enhancement, but may not be given consecutive probation. Any portion of the defendant's sentence for the second-degree felony that exceeds the mandatory minimum sentence and the statutory maximum is illegal. Ray v. State, 5D21-2235 (12/30/21)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Where the presiding judge commented that he believed the Defendant had traveled to Volusia County to "molest that little girl" before the State had offered evidence in the case, disqualification is appropriate. While a judge may form mental impressions and opinions during the course of hearing evidence, he or she may not prejudge the case. Dumas v. State, 5D21-2748 (12/30/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-WRIT OF CERTIORARI: A decision on an extraordinary writ petition that clearly shows that the issue was considered by the court on the merits is deemed a decision which would later bar the litigant from presenting the issue under the doctrines of res judicata or collateral estoppel. LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-RESENTENCING: Court order for a status conference on minor's motion for re-sentencing is not a dispositive order on the motion. Defendant is not entitled to resentencing based on Michel, which receded from Atwell. Jackson v. State, 1D20-2528 (12/29/21)

APPELLATE REMAND: When a mandate or holding from an appellate court has been later overruled, before a trial court's judicial labor is complete, the trial court has the authority to disregard that order and change its ruling to comply with the new legal standards. A trial court can disregard a mandate from an appellate court when it is undoubtedly certain that the basis for that mandate has been subsequently overruled before the trial court can comply with the mandate. Jackson v. State, 1D20-2528 (12/29/21)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL: Defendant is not entitled to JOA for homicide where he shot unarmed man for parking in a disabled parking space, and where motion was "purely boilerplate." In moving for a judgment of acquittal, a defendant must identify the element, or elements, of a crime for which he or she contends the evidence is lacking. Drejka v. State, 2D19-4385 (12/29/21)

EVIDENCE-WILLIAMS RULE: In case of homicide provoked by Victim parking in a disabled parking space, Court does not err in allowing evidence of another incident where Defendant confronted and threatened someone for parking in a disabled parking space.

Collateral crime evidence need not be absolutely identical to the crime charged. Similar fact evidence used to prove facts other than identity need not meet the rigid similarity requirement. Drejka v. State, 2D19-4385 (12/29/21)

JUROR-REMOVAL: Court did not err in failing to remove a juror who had hugged a spectator, an acquaintance, who was related to the NAACP where the juror did not know that the individual that approached him was observing the trial in an overflow courtroom and the two did not discuss the case at all. Drejka v. State, 2D19-4385 (12/29/21)

JUVENILE OFFENDER-RESENTENCING-ESTOPPEL: Once State admitted that Juvenile Offender is entitled to resentencing, it is estopped from arguing to the contrary. A party may not ordinarily take one position in proceedings at the trial level and then take an inconsistent position on appeal. Scott v. State, 20-998 (12/29/21)

PLEA OFFER: State may revoke a plea offer between the time it is extended and the Court decides whether the proposed sentence is lawful. State has wide discretion in extending and withdrawing plea offers; no plea offer or negotiation is binding until it is accepted by the trial judge formally after making all the inquiries, advisements, and determinations required. Scott v. State, 20-998 (12/29/21)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Where a resentencing hearing is ordered, the Defendant may withdraw his plea. Rule 3.170 allows a plea to be withdrawn in two circumstances: 1) Court may allow it, and must allow it for good cause, at any time before a sentence is imposed, and 2) within thirty days after rendition of the sentence on certain enumerated grounds. A resentencing hearing is by definition before sentencing, so Defendant may move to withdraw his plea. If the imposition of a new sentence following resentencing affords a defendant the same plea-withdrawal rights that he possessed following the rendition of his original sentence, the revocation of a defendant's original sentence should likewise grant the defendant the same presentencing plea-withdrawal rights he enjoyed before. CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Where Defendant spent different amounts of time on three different cases and the Court awarded the highest number of days on each case to run concurrently, and if fewer days had been awarded on some of the cases on those counts the sentence would have been below the Lowest Permissible Sentence, the sentences are not a downward departure.

Court may not rescind credit for time served inappropriately awarded, even if clearly erroneous. "[H]owever, we caution the trial court that the imposition of jail credit should be limited to that due based on time spent in jail for each offense." A defendant who is arrested for different offenses on different dates is not entitled to have jail credit applied equally to all prison sentences even though the sentences are run concurrently. SENTENCING-HABITUAL VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER:

Defendant does not qualify as a HVFO notwithstanding that thirty days had not passed since his predicate robbery conviction, which accordingly was not yet final. Defendant is entitled to a de novo sentencing hearing. Harris v. State, 2D20-3545 (12/29/2021)

ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT-SENTENCING: Georgia's terroristic threats statute is divisible, and a threat to commit any crime of violence qualifies as a predicate offense under the ACCA. Under the ACCA, a "violent felony" is defined as any crime punishable by a term of imprisonment exceeding one year that has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person of another. A threat to commit any crime of violence qualifies as a violent felony under the ACCA's elements clause. USA v. Sharp, No. 20-12574 (11th Cir. 12/28/21)

SENTENCING-ACCA-CATEGORICAL APPROACH: To determine whether a prior conviction qualifies as a violent felony under the elements clause, when the statute in question is "indivisible," the "categorical approach," is applied, by which only the elements of the statute of conviction, not the specific conduct of a particular offender, are examined. When the statute is “divisible,” i.e., it lists multiple, alternative elements which effectively creates several different crimes, the modified categorical approach is applied. Under the modified categorical approach, a limited class of documents, including the indictment, jury instructions, or plea agreements and colloquy are considered to determine which of the multiple crimes listed in the alternatively phrased statute the defendant was convicted of committing. Because the modified categorical approach plays no role when a statute of conviction is indivisible, a court must first determine whether a statute is divisible before proceeding with an analysis under either approach. USA v. Sharp, No. 20-12574 (11th Cir. 12/28/21)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-CHANGE OF LAW: Where an intervening change in the law occurs within the period of time allotted for filing a notice of appeal, issue need not be preserve by objection at the time of sentencing. The government need not anticipate all potential changes in the law, or argue before the district court that it does not agree with binding precedent. USA v. Sharp, No. 20-12574 (11th Cir. 12/28/21)

JUDGES-DCAs: A sixth appellate jurisdiction with redrawn lines and seven additional appellate judges (three in the Second District and four in the Fifth District) are recommended. JUDGES-DCAs (J. Polston, dissenting): "[N]o additional district court of appeal judges are needed. None. Not six. Not seven. This revised certification. . . is based on where current judges live, not any objective basis of a need for more judges to do the work." APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Defendant's hearsay claim is not preserved for appeal because Castro-Mendez failed to make a contemporaneous objection to the lack of notice or factual findings on the reliability of the child hearsay statement. An objection to the legal sufficiency of the trial court's findings on the reliability of a child hearsay statement is necessary to preserve the issue for review. A general hearsay objection is not sufficient to preserve the issue for appellate review. Castro-Mendez v. State, 1D19-3854 (12/22/21)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED; DOC is responsible for granting jail time credit when there is a delay between sentencing and transport from jail to prison. The trial court is not required to grant him forty additional days of credit in addition to the time he spent in jail awaiting resentencing on the theory that because the original forty days he spent in jail awaiting transport are now, in effect, presentence jail time as a result of his de novo resentencing. The nature of the credit for time spent in jail awaiting transport to the DOC after initial sentencing does not change its character upon subsequent resentencing. Rogers v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SCORESHEET-VICTIM INJURY: Victim injury points are only proper when the underlying offense caused the victim injury; Scoresheet improperly includes 120 victim injury points when there was no evidence that the victim died because Defendant fled the scene of the accident. JOA: The fact that the evidence is contradictory does not warrant a judgment of acquittal because the weight of the evidence and the witnesses' credibility are questions solely for the jury. In moving for a judgment of acquittal, a defendant admits not only the facts stated in the evidence adduced, but also admits every conclusion favorable to the adverse party that a jury might fairly and reasonably infer from the evidence. EVIDENCE-VIDEO SURVEILLANCE-AUTHENTICATION: There are two methods to authenticate evidence such as an apartment building's surveillance video: the pictorial method and the silent witness method. The pictorial method depends upon testimony of a witness, based on personal knowledge, that the video or photo is a fair and accurate portrayal. The silent witness method depends upon proof that the process that produced the video or photo was reliable.

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-MIRANDA: Defendant's statements must be suppressed where he requested an attorney, then (four weeks later) initiated a conversation with a deputy (asking why he was at the hospital), and deputy asked questions which were reasonably likely to elicit, and did elicit, incriminating responses. HARMLESS ERROR: Overwhelming evidence of guilt does not negate the fact that an error that constituted a substantial part of the prosecution's case may have played a substantial part in the jury's deliberation and thus contributed to the actual verdict reached. The test is not a sufficiency-of-the-evidence, a correct result, a not clearly wrong, a substantial evidence, a more probable than not, a clear and convincing, or even an overwhelming evidence test...The question is whether there is a reasonable possibility that the error affected the verdict. The burden to show the error was harmless must remain on the state. If the appellate court cannot say beyond a reasonable doubt that the error did not affect the verdict, then the error is by definition harmful. Penna v. State, 4D20-345 (12/22/21)

CYBERSTALKING: Defendant who sent taunting, threatening messages to families of Marjorie Stoneman Douglas massacre victims is properly convicted of cyberstalking. True threats are entitled to no First Amendment protection. True threats encompass those statements where the speaker means to communicate a serious expression of an intent to commit an act of unlawful violence to a particular individual or group of individuals. The speaker does not have to actually intend to carry out the threat for the statement to constitute a true threat. USA v. Fleury, No. 20[11307 (11th Cir. 12/16/21)

OVERBREADTH: Cyberstalking requires proof that (1) the defendant had the requisite intent; (2) the defendant engaged in a course of conduct; (3) the defendant used a facility of interstate commerce; and (4) the defendant's course of conduct caused, attempted to cause, or would be reasonably expected to cause substantial emotional distress.

OVERBREADTH: A statute is impermissibly overbroad under the First Amendment—and facially unconstitutional—if it prohibits a substantial amount of protected speech. The mere fact that one can conceive of some impermissible applications of a statute is not sufficient to render it susceptible to an overbreadth challenge. USA v. Fleury, No. 20[11307 (11th Cir. 12/16/21)

CYBERSTALKING: The scienter that required for cyberstalking is intent to harass and intent to intimidate. The government need not prove Defendant's subjective intent to communicate a true threat to convict him of cyberstalking. Because the plain language of §2261A(2) establishes a mens rea requirement sufficient to separate wrongful conduct from otherwise innocent conduct, Court need not impose an additional, subjective-intent requirement. When a statute contains an express mental state requirement, the district court should not read an additional mens rea requirement into the text; such a position make sense. USA v. JUDICIAL REVIEW (J. Gorsuch): The chilling effect associated with a potentially unconstitutional law being on the books is insufficient to justify federal intervention in a pre-enforcement suit. ABORTION (C.J. ROBERTS, concurring/dissenting): Texas las banning abortion after six weeks of pregnancy is contrary to this Court's decisions in Roe v. Wade and Casey and "has had the effect of denying the exercise of what we have held is a right protected under the Federal Constitution.' Indeed, '[i]f the legislatures of the several states may, at will, annul the judgments of the courts of the United States, and destroy the rights acquired under those judgments, the constitution itself becomes a solemn mockery.'. . .The nature of the federal right infringed does not matter; it is the role of the Supreme Court in our constitutional system that is at stake." CONSTITUTION (J. SOTOMAYOR, dissenting): By foreclosing suit against state-court officials and the state attorney general, the Court effectively invites other States to refine S. B. 8's model for nullifying federal rights. The Court thus betrays not only the citizens of Texas, but also our constitutional system of government. Whole Woman's Health v. Jackson, No. 21-463 (U.S. S. Ct. 2/10/2021)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/21pdf/21-463_new_8o6b.pdf

CONSTITUTION (J. SOTOMAYOR, DISSENTING): "My disagreement with the Court runs far deeper than a quibble over how many defendants these petitioners may sue. The dispute is over whether States may nullify federal constitutional rights by employing schemes like the one at hand. The Court indicates that they can, so long as they write their laws to more thoroughly disclaim all enforcement by state officials, including licensing officials. This choice to shrink from Texas' challenge to federal supremacy will have far-reaching repercussions. I doubt the Court, let alone the country, is prepared for them. . . [T]he Court clears the way for States to reprise and perfect Texas' scheme in the future to target the exercise of any right recognized by this Court with which they disagree." CONSTITUTION (J. SOTOMAYOR, DISSENTING): "[T]he point of a constitutional right is that its protection does not turn on the whims of a political majority or supermajority. . . . [T]he Court leaves all manner of constitutional rights more vulnerable than ever before, to the great detriment of our Constitution and our Republic." Whole Woman's Health v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A sentence reduction under section 404(b) of the First Step Act of 2018 does not qualify as a “new judgment” for purposes of the bar on second or successive §2255 motions under the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 (“AEDPA”), so that any subsequent habeas petition will be deemed “second or successive,” and the defendant must first obtain authorization from the Court of Appeals before filing a second §2255 habeas petition. Without such authorization, a district court lacks jurisdiction and must dismiss the motion. Telcy v. USA, No. 19-13029 (11th Cir. 12/10/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where Defendant files a timely motion for voluntary dismissal of a rule 3.850 motion, and the state suffers no prejudice, such a motion should be granted without prejudice to the appellant's right to file a subsequent motion, notwithstanding that the court put forth a substantial amount of work clarifying the procedural history of the cases for Defendant and the potential consequences of withdrawing his negotiated pleas. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Deadline for filing a R. 3.850 motion is tolled where Defendant was in federal custody and did not have access to Florida legal materials similar to the access in a state correctional facility. An uncounseled prisoner held in an out-of-state jurisdiction who is not represented by counsel and who does not have access to Florida statutes, rules, and forms has been deprived of meaningful access to the Florida courts. COSTS OF INCARCERATION: If a defendant is convicted of a capital or life felony, a liquidated cost of incarceration of $250,000 applies. If the defendant is convicted of any other degree of crime, the applicable amount is $50 per day for each day of his incarcerative sentence. It is improper to impose costs of incarceration in both amounts. Slanker v. State, 5D20-2373 (12/3/21)

Recantation of a co-defendant's trial testimony does not warrant a new trial where, according to the codefendant's sworn affidavit, he only testified against Defendant because law enforcement coerced him to do so, but the trial court disbelieves him. The standard for reviewing recantation of testimony as grounds for a new trial is to deny relief unless the trial court is satisfied the recantation testimony is true. Borders v. State, 5D21-921 (12/3/21)

RESTITUTION: Court erred in ordering Defendant to pay $68,043.38, representing the $41,043.38 for a new GPS and an additional $25,000, for the unpaid portion of the missing GPS. While intended to make the victim whole, restitution is not intended to provide a victim with a windfall. While it may seem unfair that Victim owes money on a GPS unit that he no longer possesses, the balance is a product of his financial decision. Prior to his truck being stolen, Victim owed $25,000 and had a used GPS unit. As it stands, he now has his $25,000 loan paid off and a new GPS unit, thus resulting in an improper windfall. The proper restitution amount is reflected by the GPS unit's fair market value. Haynes v. State, 5D21-1010 (12/3/21)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-REMORSE: A trial court, when imposing a sentence on a defendant who has voluntarily chosen to allocute and maintain his innocence at the sentencing hearing, does not violate the defendant's due process rights by considering the defendant's failure to take responsibility for his actions. Lack of remorse and refusal to accept responsibility can be valid sentencing considerations when sentencing within the statutory range. Davis v. State, SC19-716 (12/2/21)

STARE DECISIS: Precedent that Court may not use Defendant's claim of innocence against a defendant at sentencing is a violation of due process "constitutes dicta that we expressly disapprove." Davis v. State, SC19-716 (12/2/21)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: "The trial judge had numerous valid reasons for imposing the maximum sentence here, but. . .he did not need to articulate any reason. The judge was statutorily authorized to impose a sentence up to fifteen years based solely on the fact of the conviction, regardless of any sentencing considerations and whether or not Davis took responsibility for his actions. . .Whether a defendant says nothing at sentencing or takes full responsibility and is able to show that he is a pillar of the community, a judge retains the discretion to impose the maximum sentence." Davis v. State, SC19-716 (12/2/21)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS (J. POLSTON, DISSENTING): "I dissent from the majority's decision holding that a trial court can punish a defendant for his lack of remorse during a sentencing proceeding. This result is inconsistent with our precedent interpreting article I, section 9 of the Florida Constitution, the consensus among the district courts of appeal, and has no basis in our statutory sentencing scheme. Showing remorse is admitting you did something wrong—an admission of guilt. And increasing a defendant's sentence based on the failure to show remorse is punishing a defendant for failing to admit guilt. Punishing someone unless they confess guilt of a crime is a violation of due process and the right against self-incrimination." Davis v. State, SC19-716 (12/2/21)

FIREARM PURCHASE: FDLE has an affirmative obligation to identify and get copies of the underlying records supporting the disqualification when a potential firearm buyer appeals a nonapproval based on those records. NICS results alone cannot take away a person's constitutional right to possess or purchase a firearm. FDLE cannot make the determination that a person's constitutional right to purchase a firearm has been stripped away based solely on a hearsay document such as an NICS printout. Lynch v. FDLE, 1D19-4217 (12/1/21)

TOO MANY ACRONYMS: When some guy attempts to purchase a firearm from an FFL, which under federal law is required to contact NICS unless the FFL is located in a state that has a POC, which in Florida is FDLE, whereupon the POC takes care of contacting the NICS and conducting a check of the information contained in the FCIC and NCIC, and then informing the FFL whether the records indicate the person is prohibited from receiving a firearm, and if so, providing the FFL with a nonapproval number, or, if the person is not prohibited, then the POC/FDLE is required to give the FFL a unique approval number. If the records in question are held by the NYDCJS, the POC, not the guy, must obtain the potentially disqualifying document. Lynch v. FDLE, 1D19-4217 (12/1/21)

COSTS-VOP: The assessment of the minimum amounts for prosecution costs and legal assistance fees in each violation proceeding resulting in a determination of violation of probation or community control is required notwithstanding that they were previously imposed when Defendant was first adjudicated guilty and placed on probation. WRIT OF CERTIORARI: A decision on an extraordinary writ petition that clearly shows that the issue was considered by the court on the merits is deemed a decision which would later bar the litigant from presenting the issue under the doctrines of res judicata or collateral estoppel. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-JURY: A defendant who personally affirms his acceptance of the jury panel will not be heard to complain in a postconviction motion that his counsel was ineffective for allowing a biased juror to serve on his jury. Kitt v. State, 1D21-868 (12/1/21)

GOLDEN RULE: While golden rule arguments are prohibited, a prosecutor may argue a common-sense inference as to the victim's mental state so long as he or she does not cross the line into asking the jury to imagine the victim's final pain, terror and defenselessness. "You can imagine how the children were reacting" during home invasion robbery and "as you can imagine [the victim's fiancée] and the children are terrified" do not invite the jurors to place themselves in the position of the victim, the victim's fiancée, or the children and thus are not improper. Kitt v. State, 1D21-868 (12/1/21)

INDEPENDENT ACT: Defendant is not entitled to an independent act instruction where the Victim's death was a foreseeable consequence when codefendant shot him after all codefendants participated in abducting him after a home invasion robbery. It is unquestionably foreseeable that someone could be shot or killed during the events set in motion by Defendant. Kitt v. State, 1D21-868 (12/1/21)

WRIT OF PROHIBITION: A decision on an extraordinary writ petition that clearly shows that the issue was considered by the court on the merits is deemed a decision which would later bar the litigant from presenting the issue under the doctrines of res judicata or collateral estoppel. INDEPENDENT ACT: An independent act of a codefendant occurs when a person other than the defendant commits a crime (1) which the defendant did not intend to occur, (2) in which the defendant did not participate, and (3) which was outside of, and not a reasonably foreseeable consequence of, the common design or unlawful act contemplated by the defendant. Homicide is a foreseeable outcome of an armed robbery. Counsel was not ineffective for advising Defendant against this defense. Bullard v. State, 1D21 2769 (12/1/21)

PRINCIPAL: Whether a defendant knows of a criminal act ahead of time or physically participates in the crime, participation with another in a common criminal scheme renders the defendant guilty of all crimes committed in furtherance of that scheme. Bullard v. State, 1D21 2769 (12/1/21)

JUROR-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Juror who said that a completely innocent person cannot be wrongfully accused of a crime should be excused for cause. "We clarify today that courts and counsel are correct to engage prospective jurors in a dialogue addressing their partialities, biases, prejudices, and misconceptions when they are rooted in a lack of familiarity with the judicial system as part of an effort to rehabilitate in contrast to those immutable opinions and attitudes that arise from personal life experiences and firmly held beliefs. Florida law allows the rehabilitation of jurors whose responses in voir dire raise concerns about their impartiality." But where a juror's response is not clarified or changed the juror must be stricken for cause. Wright v. State, 3D18-2430 (12/1/21)

JUROR-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE-PRESERVATION: To preserve challenges for cause to prospective jurors, the defendant must object to the jurors, show that he or she has exhausted all peremptory challenges and requested more that were denied, and identify a specific juror that he or she would have excused if possible. PRETRIAL RELEASE: Court may not deny both bond on a human trafficking charge where there are no conditions that would assuage the court's concerns regarding protecting the community, and particularly the victim, from possible communication or contact with Defendant. Various concerns that may be difficult to prevent contact between Defendant and the victim are legally insufficient to deny bond. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: When a defendant's initial rule 3.850 motion for post conviction relief is determined to be legally insufficient for failure to meet either the rule's or other pleading requirements, the trial court abuses its discretion when it fails to allow the defendant at least one opportunity to amend the motion. Gonzalez v. State, 3D21-753 (12/1/21)

SCORESHEET: Where the Defendant contest the priors on his sentencing scoresheet, the State is required to provide competent evidence that the defendant had committed those crimes. EVIDENCE-SIMILAR BAD ACTS: Obscene videos and images provided to the Child by Defendant are admissible in case of providing obscene material to Child as relevant evidence to corroborate the child's testimony. Such evidence need not be admitted as similar fact evidence under §90.404(2). "While the introduction of the child pornography evidence was certainly harmful to Henson's case, little is more probative to the charge of providing obscene material to a

which must run consecutively to any other term of imprisonment imposed for any other felony offense for a non-qualifying felony, but not to another qualifying felony sentence. In other words, the statute only mandates consecutive sentences if one of the offenses is a qualifying offense and the other offense is not. This is the only scenario under which consecutive sentences are required. If both offenses are qualifying offenses the statute does not require consecutive sentences. Pinkston v. State, 2D20-611 (11/24/21)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-FIREARM-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES:

Consecutive sentences for use of a firearm is not required where the offenses occurred during separate criminal episodes. Generally, consecutive sentencing of mandatory minimum imprisonment and migration terms for multiple firearm offenses is impermissible if the offenses arose from the same criminal episode and a firearm was merely possessed but not discharged. It follows, therefore, that a trial court must impose the mandatory minimum sentences concurrently under such circumstances. Pinkston v. State, 2D20-611 (11/24/21)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-FIREARM-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES:

If multiple firearm offenses are committed contemporaneously, during which time multiple victims are shot at, then consecutive sentencing is permissible but not mandatory. In other words, a trial judge has discretion to order the mandatory minimum sentences to run consecutively, but may impose the sentences concurrently. Pinkston v. State, 2D20-611 (11/24/21)

DUI MANSLAUGHTER-MAXIMUM SENTENCE: Defendant may not be sentenced to 15 years in prison for DUI manslaughter because a term of probation sufficiently long to allow the Defendant to complete a substance abuse course is required, and the total period of probation and incarceration cannot exceed 15 years. JUDGMENT: Snap out form for misdemeanor convictions is legally insufficient. Rule 3.986(a) requires a trial court to use a judgment and sentence form which should include an indication of whether the defendant was tried and found guilty by a jury or court, entered a plea of guilty, or entered a plea of no contest; and which should include details regarding the counts, crimes, statute numbers, and degree of the crimes, whether the defendant is adjudicated guilty or whether adjudication of guilt is being; and should be signed by the judge. The form for sentencing should include, at a minimum, the term of the sentence, whether the defendant is to be committed to the custody of the Department of Corrections or the sheriff of the appropriate county, whether the defendant is to complete probation or community control, and whether a sentence is to run consecutively to or concurrently with other counts or convictions. JUDICIAL RANT-SNAP OUT FORMS: "This court has consistently expressed concern over the Tenth Circuit's use of these forms since as far back as 1999. . . Still, despite more than two decades of opinions from this court decrying the practice and pointing out specific problems with the use of the snapouts, the Tenth Circuit has inexplicably continued to use these forms that do not comply with rule 3.986. If this court had the power to do so, it would order the Tenth Judicial Circuit to cease and desist in the use of this type of form final order." Barnett v. State, 2D20-1226 (11/24/21)

LEAVING SCENE OF ACCIDENT: Defendant is entitled to a judgment of acquittal on charge of leaving the scene of an accident with property damage where he never left the scene, but rather was standing in front of a parked vehicle when the officers arrived. COMPETENCY: Court errs in finding Defendant competent to proceed notwithstanding the uncontested expert testimony to the contrary. We agree and reverse. EVIDENCE: Pyschologist's testimony that Defendant is mildly intellectually deficient and had suffered a traumatic childhood is properly excluded in child pornography where she had lewdly posed and photographed her naked children "to please her pedophilic paramour" because the psychiatric evidence does not negate intent and merely presents a dangerously confusing theory of defense more akin to justification and excuse than a legally acceptable theory of lack of mens rea. Presentation of evidence of mental disease or defect, short of insanity, is inadmissible to excuse conduct. USA v. Litzky, No. 20-10709 (11/23/21)

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: A 30-year sentence, 600 months below the Guidelines' recommendation, for lewdly posing and photographing her naked children "to please her pedophilic paramour ("Ordinarily, we would spare you the graphic details, but, as it turns out, they're relevant to the sentencing issue we have to decide"), is not substantively unreasonable." USA v. Litzky, No. 20-10709 (11/23/21)

MENS REA-EXPERT-CONCURRENCE: The Insanity Defense Reform Act (IDRA), which prohibits the presentation of evidence of mental disease or defect, short of insanity, to excuse conduct, is in tension with precedents holding that psychiatric evidence is still admissible where it negates the mens rea of a specific intent crime and Rule 704(b) which provides that in a criminal case, an expert witness must not state an opinion about whether the defendant did or did not have a mental state or condition that constitutes an element of the crime charged or of a defense. "So, what seems like a prohibition on certain psychiatric evidence (the IDRA) has an exception of sorts (evidence that negates the mens rea of a specific intent crime), but that exception faces an evidentiary rule of exclusion (Rule 704(b)). I'm not sure we've ever really reconciled our rulings on the IDRA, on psychiatric evidence to negate specific intent, and on Rule 704(b). . . [T]he way in which we have applied these legal principles has resulted in a nearly unworkable standard." USA v. Litzky, No. 20-10709 (11/23/21)

RELIGIOUS BELIEF DEFENSE: Anti-nuclear weapon vandals and trespassers at a nuclear naval facility are not entitled to a religious belief defense. To establish a prima facie RFRA claim, a defendant must first show (1) that he or she was exercising (or was seeking to exercise) his or her sincerely held religious belief, and (2) that the government substantially burdened the defendant's religious exercise.

"Simply put, RFRA is not a 'get out of jail free card,' shielding from criminal liability individuals who break into secure naval installations and destroy government property, regardless of the sincerity of their religious beliefs. . . [N]othing in RFRA supports destructive, national-security-compromising conduct as a means of religious exercise." USA v. Grady, No. 20-14341 (11th Cir. 11/22/21)

RESTITUTION: In assessing restitution, court need not make findings as to the damage caused by the Defendant's respective individual actions. If the court finds that more than one defendant has contributed to the loss of a victim, the court may make each defendant liable for payment of the full amount of restitution or may apportion liability among the defendants to reflect the level of contribution to the victim's loss and economic circumstances of each defendant. A district court does not exceed its authority by ordering a defendant to pay restitution for losses which result from acts done in furtherance of the conspiracy of which the defendant is convicted.

SENTENCING-ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITY: Defendant who went to trial while not denying the acts alleged but asserted an RFRA (religious) defense is not entitled to a reduction for acceptance of responsibility. and continues to deny the illegality of his actions. "Faced with the stark reality of injustice, men of sensitive conscience and great intellect have sometimes found only one morally justified path, and that path led them inevitably into conflict with established authority and its laws. . . However, . . . while in restricted circumstances a morally motivated act contrary to law may be ethically justified, the action must be non-violent and the actor must accept the penalty for his action." STAND YOUR GROUND: Once a defendant raises a prima facie claim of self-defense immunity under section 776.032(4), the State bears the burden at the pretrial immunity or Stand Your Ground hearing of proving, by clear and convincing evidence, why the defendant is not entitled to immunity from further prosecution. JUDGE-BIAS: "We have previously recognized the distinction between personal bias and judicial bias when evaluating motions for disqualification that stem from a trial judge's in-court comments. . . Personal bias must come from an extrajudicial source, such as a bias directed at a defendant simply because of the category of their case. . .On the other hand, judicial bias is bias that is based upon the judge's feelings regarding a certain legal principle or a court opinion. . .Unlike personal bias, judicial bias is almost never legally sufficient for disqualification. Judge's criticism of a court opinion is judicial bias and legally insufficient to disqualify him. Judges have a duty to follow the law and must conform their court rulings—and any comments expressed in the discharge of their official duty—to the opinions of higher courts, whose decisions they are bound to follow." CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Following denial of Defendant's motion for post conviction relief, which the Court deemed “completely unsupported” and “ridiculous,” Court erred in directing that Defendant “not. . .receive credit for time out of facility awaiting this hearing.” Only DOC is responsible for calculating and awarding credit for time served after imposition of a sentence, not a trial court. The post-conviction court lacked authority to direct DOC to discipline Defendant by forfeiting his gain time or denying him credit for time served in jail awaiting the hearing; this violated the doctrine of separation of powers. Dickerson v. State, 5D21-2062 (11/12/21)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Based on the plain text of section 924.051(3), absent a showing of fundamental error, an unpreserved claim of ineffective assistance of trial counsel may not be raised on direct appeal. Considering a claim of ineffective assistance of trial counsel on direct appeal—where trial counsel’s deficient performance is obvious on its face, lacks a strategic explanation, and resulted in prejudice to the defendant—may be a more efficient and judicious use of the limited resources in Florida’s state courts, but "Section 924.051(3) does not contain a waste of-judicial-resources exception, and we cannot rewrite the statute." Steiger v. State, No. SC20-1404 (11/10/21)

SELF REPRESENTATION: Defendant with a mental health history may nonetheless represent himself in a murder case after an appropriate Faretta inquiry. Noetzel v. State, No. SC20-466 (11/10/21)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Absent a substantial change in circumstances that would cause the trial court to question its original ruling on the defendant’s request for self-representation, there is no concomitant requirement to revisit Faretta every time the offer of counsel is subsequently renewed and rejected. Case law suggesting that failure to renew the offer of counsel at a critical stage and conduct a Faretta inquiry if the defendant rejects the renewed offer constitutes per se reversible error is disapproved. GUILTY PLEA: A criminal defendant waives three constitutional rights when he pleads guilty: the privilege against self-incrimination, the right to a jury trial, and the right to confront one's accusers. Noetzel v. State, No. SC20-466 (11/10/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-MISTRIAL: Where, for reasons deemed compelling by the trial judge, the ends of substantial justice cannot be attained without discontinuing the trial, a mistrial may be declared without the defendant's consent and even over his objection, and he may be retried consistently with the Fifth Amendment. Where a discovery violation by the State (late disclosure of a compelling rebuttal witness who would force a conflict) is found to be inadvertent, and excluding a witness or evidence is too severe, Court may order a mistrial over defense objection. CONCEALED FIREARM: In determining whether a weapon is concealed as a matter of law, courts may consider: (1) the location of the weapon within the vehicle; (2) whether, and to what extent, the weapon was covered by another object; and (3) testimony that the defendant utilized his body in such a way as to conceal a weapon that would have otherwise been detectable by ordinary observation. Whether a firearm wedged between the seat and the console and obscured from the officer's view by Defendant's right thigh is concealed is a jury issue, notwithstanding that the Defendant immediately informed the officer about the presence of the weapon. DUI-PROBATION: Defendant convicted of DUI Manslaughter (a second degree felony) must be sentenced to a period of probation of sufficient length to enable him to complete a substance abuse course, and may not be sentenced to in excess of fifteen years of combined prison and probation, so the prison sentence of fifteen years must be reduced. Question certified: Does §316.193(5)'s requirements of monthly reporting probation and completion of a substance abuse course vitiate a trial court's discretion to impose the maximum prison sentence provided in §775.082? JUVENILE DISPOSITION: Court may not place a juvenile in a high-risk secure residential program when his underlying crimes were misdemeanors and his probation violations were technical in nature.

HEARSAY: Non-testifying victim's statement "I think that I was . . . raped last night" is inadmissible as an excited utterance. Schluck v. State, No. 1D19-3724 (11/3/21)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Defendant's hearsay objection sufficiently preserved for appeal the issue of the Victim's statement to police that she thinks she was raped, notwithstanding that Defendant never argued that the statement did not constitute an excited utterance until replying to the State's claim that it was. A 'hearsay' objection need not specify the hearsay exception the objecting party will address on appeal. A general hearsay objection preserves the issue of whether a statement qualifies as a hearsay exception because when a party makes a hearsay objection, a trial court must consider all possible hearsay violations, exceptions, and exclusions." Schluck v. State, No. 1D19-3724 (11/3/21)

HEARSAY-PUBLIC-RECORD EXCEPTION: The public-record exception to the hearsay rule plainly does not apply where the records rely on information supplied by an outside source. Rather than offering this type of record, a witness must be called who has personal knowledge of the facts. "We are unaware of any case where a recording of a call to police was admitted under the public-record exception to the hearsay rule." Schluck v. State, No. 1D19-3724 (11/3/21)

HEARSAY-EXCITED UTTERANCE: An excited utterance for hearsay-exception purposes is not merely an utterance made while excited. If a statement is made well after the startling event, the proponent must offer some proof that the declarant did not engage in a reflective thought process. Victim's statement in the morning that she had been raped last night is not an excited utterance; the intervening time was clearly enough to distinguish between night and morning. Schluck v. State, No. 1D19-3724 (11/3/21)

As such, the victim's break-of-dawn statement can easily be understood to mean she had been raped during the darkness of the wee hours." Schluck v. State, No. 1D19-3724 (11/3/21)

APPEAL: Appellate court may not engage in a weight-of-the-evidence review in the interest of justice. The interest of justice, standing alone, is not a viable and independent ground for appellate reversal in the absence of an initial legal entitlement to relief. "[Defendant's] real request is for us, as appellate judges, to substitute our verdict for the jury's. We cannot. Opposing theories must be weighed by the jury. We do not try the case again on appeal." Segura v. State, 1D19-4266 (11/3/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SCORESHEET: When a movant raises a claim of scoresheet error within two years of the judgment and sentence, a trial court is required to determine whether or not the same sentence would have been imposed with a corrected scoresheet. Moore v. State, 1D20-1414 (11/3/21)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: The two-part test for evaluating motions for a downward departure is whether a trial court can impose a downward departure sentence based on a valid legal ground proven by a preponderance of the evidence and whether it should impose a downward departure sentence based on the totality of the circumstances. State v. Koenkemoeller, 1D20-2209 (11/3/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/801254/opinion/202209_DC13_11032021_141945_i.pdf

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NON-STATUTORY REASONS: "The legislature's requirements would be left hollow if a sentencing court could cherry-pick one part of a statutory mitigator and re-define it as non-statutory. A statutory ground's requirements cannot be avoided simply by renaming the basis a non-statutory ground." State v. Koenkemoeller, 1D20-2209 (11/3/21)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: When weighing the need for restitution against the need for incarceration, the trial court must consider the nature of the victim's loss and the efficacy of restitution, and the consequences of imprisonment. The test is the victim's need, not the victim's desire or preference. Court erred in imposing a downward departure where no evidence was presented regarding the victim's need for restitution. State v. Koenkemoeller, 1D20-2209 (11/3/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/801254/opinion/202209_DC13_11032021_141945_i.pdf

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NON-STATUTORY GROUNDS: Relative culpability is a valid non-statutory basis to impose a downward departure in order to provide parity with the sentence of a co-defendant who was at least, if not more, culpable than the defendant, but using relative culpability to achieve sentence parity is only an appropriate mitigating factor in departing downward to meet a codefendant's sentence. Downward departure creating an even greater disparity than the fifteen-year difference between codefendant's sentence (20 years and Defendant's (55.5 months) is not warranted. A trial court's perception of justice leading it to conclude that leniency is appropriate, and grounds do not exist for a departure sentence, the leniency must come from the exercise of the court's discretion to impose the minimum guidelines sentence. State v. Koenkemoeller, 1D20-2209 (11/3/21)

making him unlikely to commit another crime is legally insufficient to impose a downward departure sentence. State v. Koenkemoeller, 1D20-2209 (11/3/21)

DOWNWARD-DEPARTURE-NON-STATUTORY FACTOR:

Defendant's status as an asset to his community based on employment of numerous people, distribution of COVID-19 PPE supplies, support for his elderly mother, medically challenged wife and brain-damaged daughter is legally insufficient for a downward departure. State v. Koenkemoeller, 1D20-2209 (11/3/21)

DISPOSITION-JUVENILE: Court’s rejection of DJJ’s probation recommendation is not a determination of restrictiveness level and requires no special reasoning pursuant to E.A.R., but Court may not order commit without first requesting a multidisciplinary assessment and follow-up predisposition report. A.B., a Child v. State, 1D21-136 (11/3/21)

EVIDENCE-IMPEACHMENT: A party may attack the credibility of any witness by evidence of prior conviction, and this inquiry is generally restricted to the existence of prior convictions and the number of convictions. However, when a defendant attempts to mislead or delude the jury about his prior convictions, the State is entitled to further question the defendant concerning the convictions in order to negate any false impression. SENTENCING-TERRORISM ENHANCEMENT: The terrorism enhancement applies if the defendant's offense is a felony that involved, or was intended to promote, a federal crime of terrorism. Sentencing court may not assume an offense listed in §2332b(g)(5)(B) is per se a "federal crime of terrorism" without a separate finding as to whether the Defendant's act was calculated to promote terrorism. Whether a defendant's offense is calculated (i.e., intended) to influence, affect, or retaliate against government conduct is a highly fact specific inquiry that requires examining the record as a whole. Given the terrorism enhancement's large impact on both the offense level and criminal history category, the district court should make an express fact finding as to the "calculated" requirement. EXPERT: A qualified biomechanical expert may offer an opinion about injury causation if the mechanism of injury falls within the field of biomechanics. Lepara v. State, 5D19-1965 (10/29/21)

EVIDENCE-CUMULATIVE: There is a difference between cumulative testimony, which courts have discretion to exclude, and relevant confirmatory testimony, which they do not. Court erred in excluding an expert biomechanics expert as cumulative in BUI manslaughter case. Testimony that relies in part on different facts and evidence is not cumulative as a matter of law, even if the same conclusion is reached by both witnesses. Court improperly excluded Defendant's two experts who offered complementary conclusions but based their conclusions on different scientific methods recognized within their separate fields of expertise. Lepara v. State, 5D19-1965 (10/29/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Repressed and newly recovered memories of childhood sexual abuse are not newly discovered evidence warranting an evidentiary hearing on the claim. Rogers v. State, SC20-1863 (10/28/21)

JUROR-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Juror with serious self-disclosed memory problems may be challenged for cause. When a juror has a bodily defect that renders him or her incapable of performing the duties of a juror he or she may be removed for cause. Craven v. State, 1D 20-1184 (10/27/21)

MANDAMUS: Mandamus relief is inappropriate where Court struck Defendant's motion for postconviction relief as facially insufficient. Because the circuit court complied with its ministerial duty to take action on the motion for postconviction relief, the circuit court's order is not a final, appealable order. Shakespeare v. State, 1D21-2682 (10/27/21)

RE-SENTENCING: On appellate remand, once Court orders resentencing, the Court cannot rescind its order, notwithstanding intervening case law. Once a mandate ordering resentencing issues, the original sentence is now a nullity and cannot be recalled after 120 days have lapsed. But Defendant's victory may be pyrrhic because the decisional law effective at the time of the resentencing applies. Morris v. State, 2D20-2796 (10/27/21)

APPEAL-TIMELINESS: An amendment or modification of an order or judgment in an immaterial, insubstantial way does not restart the clock to file an appeal. Jacobs v. State, 2D20-3619 (10/27/21)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/798037/opinion/203619_DC13_10272021_083214_i.pdf

APPEAL: Any order entered after trial court lost jurisdiction is a nullity. Once a notice of appeal is filed, the trial court is divested of jurisdiction to amend the sentence. Appellate Court's order holding the appeal in abeyance does not to re-vest the postconviction court with jurisdiction that it no longer had, nor could court recapture jurisdiction simply by sua sponte rescinding an order. Jacobs v. State, 2D20-3619 (10/27/21)

STAND YOUR GROUND-CERTIORARI: Where the Court erred in its construction of the Stand Your Ground statute review is by certiorari rather than by prohibition. Casanova v. State, 3D21-2019 (10/27/21)

STAND YOUR GROUND: A defendant's motion to dismiss under Florida's Stand Your Ground law can establish a prima facie claim of self-defense immunity from criminal prosecution even though the motion to dismiss is not sworn to by someone with personal knowledge or supported by evidence or testimony establishing the facts in the motion to dismiss. Casanova v. State, 3D21-2019 (10/27/21)

COSTS-TRANSCRIPTS: Defendant who wants the transcripts of his closed criminal case must file a civil mandamus proceeding against the court reporter rather than a Petition of Mandamus naming the Office of the State Attorney has respondent in the criminal case. Da Silva v. State, 4D20-927 (10/27/21)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-REMORSE: Defendant who said at sentencing "I'm not willing to sacrifice my freedom of a great mind that will never get put to use," "For someone just to say and run to the police station and say that I hit her and pulled my firearm and risked my freedom, that's incredible," and "The most thing I regret is wasting our time," is not entitled to a downward departure based on remorse. State v. Guerra, 4D20-1932 (10/27/21)

DEFINITION-"REMORSE": Remorse is defined as a strong feeling of sincere regret and sadness over one's having behaved badly or done harm; intense, anguished self reproach and compunction of conscience. State v. Guerra, 4D20-1932 (10/27/21)

WITHHOLD OF ADJUDICATION: "A little bit of statutory construction and the rule of lenity are at issue." Section 948.20(1), which allows the court to withhold adjudication and place a defendant on drug offender probation if "the defendant is a chronic substance abuser whose criminal conduct is a violation of certain drug laws or another nonviolent felony trumps section 775.08435, which prohibits of withhold adjudication is the Defendant has two or more prior withholds not arising from the same transaction. Allowing a court to withhold and impose drug offender probation is consistent with strong policy considerations that treatment is the most effective way to rehabilitate a chronic substance abuser. State v. Dhaiti, 4D21-1538 (10/27/21)

RULE OF LENITY: The rules of statutory construction require courts to strictly construe criminal statutes, and when the language is susceptible to differing constructions, the statute shall be construed most favorably to the accused. State v. Dhaiti, 4D21-1538 (10/27/21)

RESENTENCING-JUDGE: Upon re-sentencing, Defendant is entitled to have the case heard by a judge other than the original one who previously had commented on Defendant's decision not to enter a plea in imposing the original life sentence. Washington v. State, 2D19-1671 (10/22/21)

RE-SENTENCING: Upon re-sentencing, Court must conduct a de novo sentencing hearing rather than merely amending the sentence to reflect that the Defendant may seek a review of sentence after 15 years. A ministerial correction of the sentence fall short of the remedy of resentencing required. Washington v. State, 2D19-1671 (10/22/21)

COSTS: Reversal of a cost of prosecution above the statutory minimum ($100) is warranted where the State never provided notice of intent to seek a higher amount, and no separate hearing was convened to provide the State with an opportunity to submit sufficient proof of higher costs. State is entitled to a “second bite at the apple,” and to me present evidence of higher costs. Washington v. State, 2D19-1671 (10/22/21)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/797379/opinion/191671_DC13_10222021_083700_i.pdf

DISCRETIONARY COSTS: Court must make an oral pronouncement of discretionary costs under statutory basis. If this does not occur, they are to be stricken, and cannot be re-imposed. Washington v. State, 2D19-1671 (10/22/21)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/797379/opinion/191671_DC13_10222021_083700_i.pdf

INCOMPETENCE-DISMISSAL: Defendant is entitled to dismissal after two years where a 2017 order failed to incompetent due to intellectual disability in the later 2019 order found him incompetent due to mental illness. The 2019 order does not supersede 2017 order. Anthony v. State, 5D21-1536 (10/22/21)

FRAUD: Deceiving does not always involve harming another person; defrauding does. Mere “puffing” or “seller’s talk” is insufficient to establish fraud. USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201715003.pdf>

FRAUD: To prove that a defendant had the intent to defraud, the Government has to prove not only that the defendant had the intent to deceive, but also that he intended to harm the victim, meaning that he intended to deceive the victim about something that affected the value of the bargain. Misleading investors to believe that he had made millions of dollars in profit and was closely associated with high profile companies and is sufficient evidence of intent to defraud to

CONSPIRACY: To prove that a defendant was part of a conspiracy, there must be some evidence that the defendant knew the objective of the conspiracy charged in the indictment and decided to join it. USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

AIDING AND ABETTING: Discouraging a victim from going to the authorities amounts to aiding and abetting the crime. USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT: Prosecutorial misconduct by improper argument occurs where (1) the remarks are improper and (2) prejudicially affect the substantial rights of the defendant. The prosecutor did not make improper remarks by disparaging that portion of the jury instructions about the Defendant's theory of defense (a false statement is not fraud, per se) as not the law ("It's a theory of defense. Okay?. . . But ladies and gentlemen, this is not the law."). USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

its discretion in admitting extrinsic evidence that witness had engaged in a drug deal with Defendant. The Government cannot begin a line of questioning that is irrelevant, only to impeach the witness with a prior inconsistent statement, but here the district court, in its discretion, found that the prosecution's inquiry was relevant to illustrate the witness's bias, rather than simply to portray Defendant as a drug dealer. USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

SENTENCING-SOPHISTICATED MEANS: An offense is sophisticated if it involves especially complex or especially intricate offense conduct pertaining to the execution or concealment of an offense. A sophisticated means enhancement can be applied when some—but not all—aspects of a scheme are sophisticated. Where Defendant in a fraud case paid her salespeople through a second business, the scheme may be considered to be sophisticated. USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

SENTENCING-MANAGERIAL-ROLE: Even if a defendant could not force others to engage in criminal conduct, he can still be sentenced as a manager or supervisor if he hires and trains others to participate in the criminal operation. Defendant who led sales meetings and trained new salespeople in fraudulent investment scheme may be subject to a managerial role sentencing enhancement. USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

LOSS: A defendant is liable for the total loss amount of the conspiracy when she is actively involved in furthering the conspiracy's overall objective. USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT (CONCURRING): The prosecutor should have known better than to argue that an instruction from the court was "not the law." More broadly, the prosecution's conduct and the tactics it employed throughout the fell short of the high level of professionalism that we expect prosecutors to embody, even if their actions did not rise to the level of misconduct. "I expect far better from prosecutors in future cases." USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

LOSS: A defendant is liable for the total loss amount of the conspiracy when she is actively involved in furthering the conspiracy's overall objective. USA v. Wheeler, No. 17-15003 (10/21/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The introduction of those portions of the Defendant's videotaped statement in which the detectives' talk about the Defendant's lack of remorse is not prejudicial where his defense was that he did not commit the murder and was not present when it occurred. Smith v. State, SC19-680 (10/21/21)

HEARSAY-PRIOR CONSISTENT STATEMENT: Prior consistent statements, or bolstering testimony, is generally inadmissible absent impeachment based on an attempt to show a recent fabrication or other reason for the witness's lack of credibility. But counsel was not ineffective impeaching witness's credibility for bias based on the witness's plea agreement knowing the prior implication of the Defendant would be admitted. Strategic decisions are not ineffectiveness. Smith v. State, SC19-680 (10/21/21)

HEARSAY-PRIOR CONSISTENT STATEMENT: A statement is not hearsay if the declarant testifies at the trial or hearing and is subject to cross-examination concerning the statement and the statement is consistent with the declarant's testimony and is offered to rebut an express or implied charge against the declarant of improper influence, motive, or recent fabrication. Smith v. State, SC19-680 (10/21/21)

EXPERT: Counsel was not ineffective for not retaining firearms expert where Defendant confessed to shooting all three victims with a ten-millimeter handgun. Counsel cannot be faulted for failing to investigate a theory that he had no reason to suspect would be valid and supported by the evidence. The duty to investigate does not force defense lawyers to scour the globe on the off chance something will turn up; reasonably diligent counsel may draw a line when they have good reason to think further investigation would be a waste. Smith v. State, SC19-680 (10/21/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: There is no merit to a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel if the defendant consents to counsel's strategy. Smith v. State, SC19-680 (10/21/21)

HEARSAY: A testifying medical expert may offer an opinion based on an autopsy performed by a non testifying expert without violating the Confrontation Clause. Smith v. State, SC19-680 (10/21/21)

EVIDENCE: Witness may testify that he had seen the Defendant with a 10 m.m. pistol on earlier occasions before the murders at issue. The prerequisite to the admissibility of evidence is relevancy. The concept of 'relevancy' has historically referred to whether the evidence has any logical tendency to prove or disprove a fact. If the evidence is logically probative, it is relevant and admissible unless there is a reason for not allowing the jury to consider it. All evidence tending to prove or disprove a material fact is admissible, unless precluded by law. Smith v. State, SC19-680 (10/21/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: A habeas petition shall be dismissed if it raises claims that could have been raised at trial or, if properly preserved, on direct appeal of the judgment and sentence Kirksey v. State, 1D21-1193 (10/20/21)

APPEAL-PRO SE: A criminal defendant has no right to simultaneously represent himself in the appellate court and be represented by counsel in the pending trial case. Morgan v. State, 1D21-2539 (10/20/21)

PROHIBITION ON FILING: Court may not enter an order imposing sanctions and prohibiting Defendant from filing any further pro se motions without affording Defendant an opportunity to file a response. Procedural due process requires that litigants be given proper notice and a full and fair opportunity to be heard. Walker v. State, 3D21-1592 (10/20/21)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL-CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Where contraband is discovered in jointly occupied premises, the State cannot infer such knowledge and control through the defendant's control over the premises, but it must introduce independent proof that the defendant had knowledge of and ability to control the contraband to support the inference of a conscious and substantial possession by the accused, as distinguished from a mere involuntary or superficial possession. Defendant's fingerprints on various items throughout the house (including a box of paraphernalia, a grinder used to grind cannabis into smaller pieces, five separate THC vape cartridges, and a trash bag containing vacuum sealed baggies of cannabis residue) and his possession of the key to the residence is sufficient to establish Defendant's constructive possession of narcotics in the house. COSTS: A claim that the trial court improperly assessed costs in a sentencing order is an error that may be preserved in a R. 3.800(b) motion. A contemporaneous objection is not required. Bartolone v. State, 4D19-3920 (10/20/21)

COSTS-QUESTION CERTIFIED: Question certified whether the State entitled to a second opportunity to establish discretionary prosecution and public defender fees and costs that were imposed by the trial court upon a defendant without having been requested or properly supported at sentencing, and whether the State is entitled to a second opportunity to establish discretionary Drug Trust Fund fees and costs that were imposed by the trial court without having been requested or properly supported at sentencing. Bartolone v. State, 4D19-3920 (10/20/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to convey a plea offer of 20 years in prison where he alleged that he would have accepted the plea offer but for the inadequate communication and the acceptance of the plea offer would have resulted in a lesser sentence. Robinson v. State, 4D21-838 (10/20/21)

VOTING-EQUAL PROTECTION: Plaintiff's cannot challenge under the Equal Protection clause or the 19th Amendment Florida's "pay to vote" restriction on felons' right to vote absent proof of racially discriminatory intent. Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12304 (10/18/21)

COSTS: Court may not impose a $400 public defender fee without giving Defendant notice and an opportunity to challenge it. If the court exercises its discretion under the statute to impose a fee amount higher than the $100 statutory minimum for felonies, there must be sufficient proof of higher fees or costs incurred and it must notify the defendant of the fee as well as the right to contest it. Denman v. State, 2D19-1687 (10/15/21)

RACKETEERING-PREDICATE-THEFT-ALIGATOR EGGS: "Pickle argued that the illegal taking of alligator eggs could not constitute theft as a predicate act for racketeering, because 'the only entity that owns wildlife is a higher power . . . not the State of Florida.' While remaining duly agnostic on counsel's theological premise, this court finds the gist of the argument persuasive and dispositive". Pickle v. State, 2D19-4237 (10/15/21)

because they are not the property another. With respect to wild game, a landowner only owns the right to pursue the game on his or her own lands, but he does not own the game. The State's authority to regulate something does not necessarily confer ownership of that thing on the State. Pickle v. State, 2D19-4237 (10/15/21)

LESSER INCLUDED: A crime is a necessarily lesser included offense if, based on the statutes themselves, a defendant cannot possibly avoid committing the offense when the other crime in question is perpetrated. Pickle v. State, 2D19-4237 (10/15/21)

UNANIMOUS VERDICT: Standard Jury instruction 3.12 does not invite a non-unanimous verdict by allowing the Defendant to be convicted of first-degree murder without unanimous agreement as to whether he committed premeditated or felony first degree murder. A jury need not come to a unanimous decision on the theory of first-degree murder and separate verdict forms for felony and premeditated murder are not required. Ramos clarified or distinguished. There is no general requirement that the jury reach agreement on the preliminary factual issues which underlie the verdict. Dillard v. State, 20-2274 (10/15/21)

FOOTNOTES: "Edwards' only reference to Schad comes by way of footnote 4, which, in a string citation, mentions a parenthetical reference of footnote 5 in Schad, which was part of Schad's plurality opinion. We have no cause to question that the gist of the Schad plurality's footnote 5 (concerning the Sixth Amendment and the right to a unanimous jury verdict) is now no longer the law. But that does not mean Schad's holding was abrogated--unless a footnote in one opinion somehow 'recognizes' an implicit abrogation of a parenthetical in a footnote of a prior plurality opinion." POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for advising him not to testify at his trial in which he presented a self-defense case. The impact of a defendant's own testimony is qualitatively different from the testimony of any other witness. The fact that Defendant's claim of self-defense was introduced to the jury through his statement to police does not conclusively refute his claim that he was prejudiced by counsel's advice not to testify. Defuria v. State, 2D21-492 (10/15/21) prisoner's motion for compassionate release after determining that (1) extraordinary and compelling reasons warrant such a reduction, (2) such a reduction is consistent with applicable policy statements issued by the Sentencing Commission, and (3) §3553(a) sentencing factors weigh in favor of a reduction. Court must also determine that the defendant is not a danger to the safety of any other person or to the community before granting compassionate release. USA v. Mondrago Giron, No. 20-14018 (11th Cir. 10/13/21)

COMPASSIONATE RELEASE: The only circumstances that can rise to the level of extraordinary and compelling reasons for compassionate release are limited to those named in §1B1.13 (terminal illness or substantial diminution of the ability to provide self-care within prison). The confluence of prisoner's medical conditions (high cholesterol, high blood pressure, and coronary artery disease) and COVID-19 does not create an extraordinary and compelling reason warranting compassionate release. Court does not err by relying upon U.S.S.G. §1B1.13, the Sentencing Commission's policy statement, in denying Prisoner's request for compassionate release. USA v. Mondrago Giron, No. 20-14018 (11th Cir. 10/13/21)

UNAUTHORIZED PRACTICE OF LAW: A service which solicits clients for traffic ticket defenses, screens the cases, and contracts with private attorneys to represent the clients unlawfully practices law. An inherent conflict and corresponding risk to the public arises whenever a nonlawyer controls and derives its income from the provision of legal services. The inherent conflict that arises when a nonlawyer either derives income from or exercises a degree of control over the provision of legal services presents a substantial risk that the public will be exposed to and harmed by incompetent, unethical, or irresponsible representation. UNDER THE INFLUENCE: Evidence that Defendant had slurred speech, reeked of alcohol, was unable to walk or stand in a normal manner, and was found in a home strewn with empty and open liquor bottles—strongly suggests that he was under the influence just a few hours earlier when he shot at his neighbor across the open field. "[T]he shooting spree was not [that] of a clear-minded and sober 66-year-old, but of a violent and aggressive drunkard on a bender." Conviction for use of firearm while under the influence upheld. INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: In child molestation case, Counsel was ineffective for failing to move for a mistrial or a curative

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: In child molestation case, Counsel was ineffective for failing to move for a mistrial or a curative instruction upon officer alluding to Defendant's invocation of right to counsel/exercise of silence ("I attempted to interview the suspect in the case, but he had already obtained an attorney who did not want him to give a statement."). PRIVILEGE AGAINST SELF-INCRIMINATION: The privilege against self-incrimination guaranteed by article I, section 9 of the Florida Constitution offers more protection than the right provided in the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Evidence of a defendant's prearrest, pre-Miranda silence is inadmissible as substantive evidence of guilt or when the Defendant fails to testify. Anything that is fairly susceptible of being interpreted by the jury as a comment on Defendant's failure to testify constitutes a serious error. Rodriguez-Olivera v. State, 2D18-706 (10/13/21)

CROSS-EXAMINATION: Where Child, in her CPT interview said that no one else had molested her, the door is open to cross-examine her about other statements that on a different occasion someone else had molested her. Defendant was entitled to use those statements to test the Child's credibility. It is axiomatic and fundamental to our system of justice that a party may impeach a witness by introducing statements of the witness which are inconsistent with the witness's present testimony. MINOR-JUDICIAL REVIEW: Defendant, who was a minor at the time of his burglary with an assault, is entitled to a judicial review of his sentences under sections 775.082 and 921.1402. DRUG COURT: Court errs in denying Defendant's participation in Drug Court base on Victim's objection. A defendant is eligible for voluntary admission if he or she is identified as having a substance abuse problem and is amenable to treatment, is charged with a nonviolent felony, has never been charged with a crime involving violence. If Defendant meets the eligibility requirements of section 948.08(6)(b), the trial court must admit him into the program,

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to advise him that the State had extracted information from his cell phone that would severely contradict his alibi defense, and that had counsel provided this information, he would have accepted the State's pretrial plea offer. Trial counsel is responsible for reviewing all discovery provided, including the extraction report of Defendant's cell phone. Sullins v. State, 5D20-2112 (10/8/21)

STAND YOUR GROUND: A defendant convicted by jury verdict after raising a self-defense claim is not entitled to a new immunity hearing if the trial court applied the incorrect burden of proof standard at the immunity hearing under the Stand Your Ground law. When a jury determines that the defendant is guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, notwithstanding a claim of self-defense, that determination cures the trial court's erroneous failure to hold a pretrial immunity hearing. Defendant who voluntarily chooses to have his motion to dismiss her during the trial itself waive his right to a pretrial immunity hearing. Boston v. State, No. SC20-1164 (10/7/21)

10-20-LIFE-ATTEMPTED ARMED ROBBERY: Court may not impose a life sentence with a 25-year minimum mandatory sentence for attempted armed robbery. Once a trial court orders a minimum mandatory sentence under the 10-20-life statute, it exhausts its discretion and must have additional authority to impose any additional sentence. The life sentence was not minimum mandatory and no additional statutory authority existed to go beyond the 25-year minimum mandatory, so the sentence is unlawful. Harris v. RESTITUTION: The victim's civil settlement should have been set off against the amount of restitution. Restitution does not prevent any later civil recovery, but the amount of such restitution shall be set off against any subsequent or prior independent civil recovery. APPEAL-COMPETENCY-PRESERVATION: Defendant appealing a conviction based on his alleged incompetency at the time of his guilty plea must first move to withdraw his plea in the trial court. APPEAL-COMPETENCY-PRESERVATION (CONCURRENCE):

"Dortch reflects the type of judicial policy choice that our supreme court makes whenever it adopts, revises, or (as here) interprets its own rules. . . As a judicial policy matter, by close vote, the majority placed primacy in [the rule governing appellate procedure over]. . .the due process and fair trial rights of a defendant to not be subject to criminal sanction while legally incompetent." Potentially valid but unpreserved claims of incompetency that previously were resolved in direct appeals will not be considered on appeal and, instead, are shifted to post-conviction/collateral proceedings, if they are considered at all. Time will tell whether Florida's judicial procedures are adequate to protect these constitutional rights. Bowie v. State, 1D19-2562 (10/6/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to file a Motion to Suppress Defendant's statement based on the allegedly coercive nature of the discussion that her son (codefendant in a convenience store murder) was subject to the death penalty. The possible death penalty was simply part of the conversation and a real possibility. penalty. Further, the possibility of the death penalty for her son did not lead to the Defendant's confession that she had planned the crime. "Instead, the record shows that, when faced with the DNA evidence tying herself to the crime. . . instead of being overwhelmed by motherly love, Thornton [initially] blamed her son, admitted only to helping cover up his crime, and asked for the State Attorney to work out an immunity deal for her. IMPEACHMENT: A party may attack the credibility of any witness by evidence of prior conviction, generally restricted to the existence of prior convictions and the number of convictions, but when a defendant attempts to mislead the jury about his prior convictions, the State is entitled to further question the defendant concerning the convictions in order to negate any false impression. EVIDENCE-OPINION: A lay witness may testify about what he or she perceived in the form of inference and opinion when: (1) The witness cannot readily, and with equal accuracy and adequacy, communicate what he or she has perceived to the trier of fact without testifying in terms of inferences or opinions and the witness's use of inferences or opinions will not mislead the trier of fact to the prejudice of the objecting party; and (2) The opinions and inferences do not require a special knowledge, skill, experience, or training. [C]ourts must. . .bear in mind that embarking upon a critical stage at such a late hour imposes a hardship not only upon those actively participating in the sentencing proceeding (the judge, defendant, defense counsel and prosecutor) but upon many others who must be present or who are otherwise involved in the process (the victim and next of kin, family members of the defendant, court reporter, bailiff, courtroom deputy, courtroom clerk, corrections officer (for an in-custody defendant), courthouse security and other personnel)." BEST EVIDENCE RULE-SNAPPERS: The best evidence rule, which requires that when the contents of a writing, recording or photograph are being proved, the original must be offered unless a statutory excuse for the lack of an original exists, does not require the introduction of written or physical evidence whenever it is available in preference to oral testimony. The Best Evidence Rule only applies to writings, recordings and photographs. Although the spirit of the Best Evidence Rule requires that when a defendant is charged with possession of a controlled substance that substance, if available, must be introduced in evidence, the rule has not been extended beyond controlled substances and does not apply to fish him (snappers).

JURY INSTRUCTION-SELF-DEFENSE: The Forcible Felony jury instruction precludes an assertion of self-defense where defendant is attempting to commit, committing, or escaping after the commission of a forcible felony. Court should only give the instruction when the State charges an independent forcible felony other than the one which the defendant claims to have committed in self-defense. SEPTEMBER 2021

EVIDENCE-CODE WORDS: Expert testimony by law enforcement officers interpreting drug codes and jargon is admissible, even if most of the code words were learned from the current investigation. Deciphering of coded language is helpful to the jury and therefore permissible. The government and the court must take some special precautions to make clear for the jury when the witness is relying on his expertise and when he is relying only on his personal knowledge of the case. Although the witness crossed the line at times, the error was harmless. USA v. Perry, No. 16-11358 (11th Cir. 9/29/21)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-HARMLESS ERROR: “Perry easily could have avoided his current predicament by making specific objections to put the trial court on notice of any problematic testimony. . .and thereby afford the court an opportunity to correct any error in a timely fashion. Instead, we find ourselves in a situation where there was more than enough evidence to convict the defendant. . .yet the defendant asks us now -- at the tail end of a long day -- to overturn his verdict by challenging some of the very evidence that he passively listened to. . .We underscore. . .that it remains the duty of litigators to object contemporaneously when offending testimony is offered so that the trial court will have the opportunity to exercise its critical gatekeeping function when it matters most.” USA v. Perry, No. 16-11358 (11th Cir. 9/29/21)

EXPERT: Foundation for expert testimony is whether (1) the expert is qualified to testify competently regarding the matters he intends to address; (2) the methodology by which the expert reaches his conclusions is sufficiently reliable as determined by the sort of inquiry mandated in Daubert; and (3) the testimony assists the trier of fact, through the application of scientific, technical, or specialized expertise, to understand the evidence or to determine a fact in issue. USA v. Perry, No. 16-11358 (11th Cir. 9/29/21)

HEARSAY: The hearsay rule does not operate to exclude, wholesale, remarks made by another participant to the conversation, merely because those remarks occurred outside the courtroom. If it did, it would mean that the voice of any other participant to the taped conversation would have to be removed and the jury would hear only a soliloquy by the defendant, with no context. Without both sides of the conversation, Defendant's statements would have been rendered meaningless. USA v. Perry, No. 16-11358 (11th Cir. 9/29/21)

EVIDENCE-OTHER BAD ACTS: A not guilty plea in a drug conspiracy case makes intent a material issue and opens the door to admission of prior drug related offenses as highly probative, and not overly prejudicial, evidence of a defendant's intent. USA v. Perry, No. 16-11358 (11th Cir. 9/29/21)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-MINOR PARTICIPANT: Where Court determines the sentence by zeroing in on the Defendant's actual conduct alone, the fact that there is a broader criminal scheme does not justify a downward adjustment as a minor role participant. Being at courier of drugs and money does not necessarily qualify one as a minor participant. USA v. Perry, No. 16-11358 (11th Cir. 9/29/21)

A defendant has no constitutional due process right to the correction. EVIDENCE-OTHER BAD ACTS: Where State never filed a Williams Rule Notice, Defendant is entitled to a new trial for sex acts on his daughter when a different daughter testified that she had walked in on the the Defendant engaged in a sex act on an occasion outside the time window alleged in the information. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF COUNSEL: A defendant has no constitutional right to effective collateral counsel, but the general prohibition on claims of ineffective assistance of postconviction counsel is not applicable to resentencing following a successful postconviction motion. Court erred in dismissing claim that counsel at resentencing hearing was ineffective without a hearing. Hanna v. State, 2D20-2945 (9/29/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-TIMELINESS: Defendant has two years from the date of resentencing to raise the issue of ineffectiveness of counsel at that hearing, not two years from to date of the original sentence. The calculation of time for the 3.850 motion should begin with the resentencing hearing—the source of the allegedly ineffective assistance. Hanna v. State, 2D20-2945 (9/29/21)

CONTEMPT: Court erred in holding in contempt Defendant who called him an array of colorful names amid a series of threats ("I hope you die b*tch," "you're a f*cking dead man," and "I hope you break hell wide open mother f*cker.") without issuing a judgment and without providing the Defendant with a meaningful opportunity to present mitigating evidence. Court asking if Defendant had anything he wished to say in mitigation is insufficient, mere "lip service to rule 3.830." Hall v. State, 2D21-262 (9/29/21)

PRETRIAL DETENTION-BAIL: When the State files a motion for pretrial detention after the trial court has set bond, the motion must present evidence of a change in circumstances or information not made known to the first appearance judge. Evidence that was available to the state at the time of the first appearance hearing does not qualify as new information and therefore does not justify a subsequent denial of bail or increase in the amount of bail. Transfer of other juvenile charges to adult court does constitute a change in circumstances that would provide good cause to revoke bond and warrant a pretrial detention order. Question Certified: When the state direct files charges against a juvenile under §985.557(1), and bond is set on the charges, does the state's Subsequent transfer under §985.557(2) of additional allegations against the juvenile filed in a separate juvenile case, potentially exposing the juvenile to adult sanctions in that case constitute a change in circumstances sufficient to establish good cause for modification of bond or the conditions of release? ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT-ELEMENTS CLAUSE-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: The ACCA’s elements clause applies only to specific-intent crimes. The elements clause requires both the general intent to volitionally take the action of using, attempting to use, or threatening to use force and something more: that the defendant direct the action at a target, namely another person. Specific intent to direct action at another satisfies this latter requirement, as does knowing conduct. It is unclear whether Florida's aggravated assault is a specific-intent crime. COMPASSIONATE RELEASE: Court need not rule on whether medical conditions which may increase Defendant's risk of developing severe illness from Covid-19, are extraordinary circumstances rendering one eligible for compassionate relief. A district court doesn't procedurally err when it denies a request for compassionate release based on the §3553(a) sentencing factors without first explicitly determining whether the defendant could present "extraordinary and compelling reasons. Skipping over a necessary condition isn't per se reversible. USA v. Tinker, No. 20-14474 (11th Cir. 9/28/21)

SEXUAL PREDATOR: Court has jurisdiction to impose a sexual predator designation on an offender who qualifies under the Florida Sexual Predators Act when the sentencing court did not impose the designation at sentencing and the offender's sentence has been completed. STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: In interpreting statutes, the Court applies the supremacy-of-text principle, that —the words of a governing text are of paramount concern, and what they convey, in their context, is what the text means. State v. McKenzie, SC19-912 (9/23/21)

FALSE TESTIMONY-GIGLIO: A Giglio violation is demonstrated when (1) the prosecutor presented or failed to correct false testimony; (2) the prosecutor knew the testimony was false; and (3) the false evidence was material. Witness's testimony that the charges against him were "not murder, not rape, no physical violence in my life," omitting his arrest on charge (later dropped) for L & L is not material under Giglio because there is no reasonable possibility that information regarding the witness's L & L case would have affected

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Joint occupancy, with or without ownership of the premises, where contraband is discovered in plain view in the presence of the owner or occupant is sufficient to support a conviction for constructive possession. A mere temporary visitor to a space occupied by others cannot be deemed in constructive possession of firearms or contraband in such a space, but where the contraband items were in plain view within the bedroom that Defendant and his friend exclusively occupied for the night is sufficient for conviction. The possibility that others occupied the room on other nights is irrelevant. Robinson v. State, 1D20-17 (9/22/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Rule 3.800(a) motion to correct illegal sentence. QUALIFIED IMMUNITY-FALSE ARREST: Officers have qualified immunity for repeatedly arresting the Defendant on a warrant for a different person with the same name. The fact that Defendant weighed differently, had a different date of birth, and was tattoo-less are immaterial. Qualified immunity shields from liability all but the plainly incompetent or one who is knowingly violating the federal law.

QUALIFIED IMMUNITY-OVER DETENTION: Officers do not have qualified immunity for repeatedly arresting the Defendant on a warrant for a different person with the same name. Overdetention means continued detention after entitlement to release, even though probable cause supported the charge underlying the original detention. Proving a violation requires a plaintiff to establish that the defendant was deliberately indifferent to his due-process rights, that is (1) the defendant had subjective knowledge of a risk of serious harm in the form of continued detention even after the plaintiff had a right to be released; (2) disregarded that risk; and (3) disregarded by conduct that is more than mere negligence.ave compiled lists of such technology. Sosa v. Martin County, No. 20-12781 (11th Cir 9/20/21)

SEARCH WARRANT-PROBABLE CAUSE: The fact that the informant stated that she had bought narcotics from Defendant does not establish that she had personal knowledge that there were narcotics in the Defendant's residence. Search warrant was not supported by probable cause. Corroboration is required. Chery v. State, 2D 19-2444 (9/17/21)

SEARCH WARRANT-GOOD FAITH RELIANCE: A search pursuant to a search warrant not supported by probable cause is unlawful. Where the affidavit in support of the search warrant failed to establish that the affiant had personal knowledge of the informant's reliability and veracity and because the affidavit lacked any corroboration of the informant's claims, the search warrant was issued in error. Good faith reliance is not objectionable he reasonable, so the good faith exception does not apply. The good faith exception is inapplicable where an objectively reasonable officer would have known that the affidavit was insufficient to establish probable cause for the search. Chery v. State, 2D 19-2444 (9/17/21) the court has reasonable grounds to question the defendant's competency, the court has no choice but to conduct a hearing to resolve the question. Nelson v. State, 2D19-3593 (9/17/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on his claim that counsel was ineffective for erroneously advising him to reject a plea offer based on the erroneous representation that the laptop containing the Defendant's child pornography had been lost in the evidence that had been on it would be inadmissible. MAGISTRATE JUDGE: A district judge abuses its discretion when it squarely rejects the magistrate judge's findings of fact and credibility determinations and substitutes its own. A district court may not reject a magistrate judge's factual and credibility findings that were based on testimony the magistrate judge heard. USA v. Watkins, No. 18-14336 (11th Cir. 9/16/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-EXCLUSIONARY RULE-INEVITABLE DISCOVERY: The standard of predictive proof the government must satisfy in order to establish the proper application of the inevitable discovery exception to the exclusionary rule is preponderance of the evidence. Illegally obtained evidence is admissible under the ultimate discovery exception if the government can make two showings: 1) a showing by a preponderance of the evidence that if there had been no constitutional violation, the evidence in question would have been discovered by lawful means and 2) that the lawful means which made discovery inevitable were being actively pursued prior to the occurrence of the illegal conduct. SEARCH AND SEIZURE: LEOs may go to home of residence of Post Office supervisor where the tracking device on a package of mailed drugs was disabled and the supervisor was the only suspect. STAND YOUR GROUND: Standard-of-proof defects in a Stand-Your-Ground immunity hearing are cured when the defendant goes to trial, raises a self-defense claim, and is convicted under the heavier proof beyond all reasonable doubt standard. Whitfield v. State, 1D20-3736 (9/15/21)

CERTIORARI: Defendant may not challenge a trial court's order compelling him to provide the passcode to his cell phone by Petition of Writ of Certiorari. Compelling petitioner to provide a passcode is not a final order nor a non-final order subject to interlaboratory review. Certiorari jurisdiction thus requires a petitioner to demonstrate(1) a departure from the essential requirements of the law, (2) resulting in material injury for the remainder of the case, (3) that cannot be corrected on post judgment appeal. BOND: Defendant is entitled to a bond for the charge of human trafficking. State must present evidence of dangerousness in order to preclude pretrial release. State's argument that Defendant had a prior friendship with the victim, thus presenting a special risk of contacting her is conclusory. "While human trafficking is a serious charge, the statute covers a wide range of activities, such that an understanding of the specific facts of the case is necessary to appreciate the dangerousness to the community and the reasonableness of any findings pertaining thereto." DWLS: By statute, Defendant must be sentenced to at least 10 days in jail for third or subsequent conviction for DWLS. S. 322.34(2)(b)2.

EX POST FACTO-DWLS: Amendment to the DWLS statute requiring a minimum of 10 days in jail for recidivist drivers with a suspended license is not an improper ex post facto law. Enhanced sentencing for recidivism does not violate ex post facto principles despite the fact that the prior offenses forming a basis for enhancement occurred prior to enactment of the enhancement provision. Moss v. State, 4D21-347 (9/15/21)

INFORMATION-DWLS: A listing of the prior convictions necessary to enhance a charge of DWLS is not necessary. Priors are not an essential element of the crime because they affect only the penalty and not the degree or level of the crime. The prior conviction(s) relate only to sentencing, not to the crime itself. Moss v. State, 4D21-347 (9/15/21)

COSTS: Imposition of $20,000 in costs for FDLE investigative costs in child pornography case, based on State's assertion alone, is improper, but a contemporaneous objection is required. Imposition of such a cost is not a “sentencing error” pursuant to rule 3.800(b). Simpson v. State, 5D20-119 (9/10/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The appellate court shall reverse summary denial of relief on a postconviction motion, including those filed pursuant to Rule 3.802, unless the record shows conclusively that the appellant is entitled to no relief and the cause will be “remanded for an evidentiary hearing or other appropriate relief. Court must attach records conclusively showing proof that Defendant is not entitled to relief or hold a judicial review hearing. Katwaroo v. State, 5D21-1034 (9/10/21)

DEPORTATION: Any alien who is convicted of an aggravated felony at any time after admission can be removed and any alien who has been convicted of an aggravated felony is ineligible for cancellation of removal. Georgia misdemeanor battery convictions are aggravated felonies under INA, rendering alien ineligible for cancellation of removal because each was a crime of violence. Georgia's battery is an aggravated felony because it involves “physical force,” which means “violent force — that is, force capable of causing physical pain or injury to another person.” Talamantes-Enriquez v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 19-15080 (11th Cir. 9/9/21)

CATEGORICAL APPROACH: Under the categorical approach, Court does not consider the underlying facts of the particular crime, but only considers whether the state statute defining the crime of conviction categorically fits within the generic federal definition of a corresponding aggravated felony. The required approach is an elements-to-elements comparison, not a facts-to-elements comparison. Talamantes-Enriquez v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 19-15080 (11th Cir. 9/9/21)

DEPORTATION: A sentence of one year incarceration, even if not served pending completion of probation, is a term of imprisonment even if the court itself follows state-law usage and describes the excuse with a word other than "suspend." Defendant was sentenced to a term of imprisonment for at least one year for purposes of INA, even if he was permitted to serve part or all of that sentence on probation. Alien is ineligible for cancellation of removal. "No escape. . .is possible." Talamantes-Enriquez v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 19-15080 (11th Cir. 9/9/21)

METAPHOR OF THE DAY: "There is no reason we should follow an agency decision that says it is interpreting and applying our precedent, instead of just interpreting and applying our own precedent our own selves. That is, after all, what we do day in and day out. And even if we were inclined to have the BIA pinch hit for us, invoking its decision in Estrada is a swing and a miss for Talamantes." ARGUMENT-FACTS NOT IN EVIDENCE: Characterization of what was said in a conversation, even though there was no testimony about the exact words exchanged, is a fair comment on the evidence. Alcegaire v. State, SC19-428 (9/9/21)

ARGUMENT-BOLSTERING: Prosecutor did not improperly bolster witness by saying the witness feared for his life, nor that the witness “worked hard not to pick the wrong people” and “does not want the wrong people convicted.” Alcegaire v. State, SC19-428 (9/9/21)

ARGUMENT: When the State instead uses closing argument to appeal to the jury’s sense of outrage at what happened to the victim and asks the jurors to return a verdict that brings “justice” to the victim, the State perverts the purpose of closing argument. Prosecutor's argument that "These victims deserve justice. That’s why you’re here," is improper but not reversible because the comments did not become the theme of, nor pervade the closing argument. ENTRAPMENT: The defense of subjective entrapment requires a defendant prove by a preponderance of the evidence that his or her criminal conduct occurred as a result of an entrapment. Unlike objective entrapment and its focus on law enforcement’s conduct, subjective entrapment focuses on inducement of the accused based on an apparent lack of predisposition to commit the offense. Objective entrapment requires, first, that an agent of the government induced the defendant to commit the offense charged; second, that the defendant was not predisposed to commit the offense; and third, that the prosecution rebut this evidence beyond a reasonable doubt. Hall v. State, 1D19-1920 (9/9/21)

DEPORTATION: An “aggravated felony,” which includes a crime of violence for which the term of imprisonment is at least one year, is a deportable offense. A “crime of violence” is any offense that has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person or property of another. Assault is a crime of violence. HABEAS CORPUS: Petitioner cannot seek relief on an issue previously adjudicated on appeal by recasting what would be a successive (or otherwise improper) postconviction collateral appeal as a habeas corpus petition. Mitchell v. State, 3D21-1722 (9/8/21)

KIDNAPPING: The confinement necessary to support a kidnapping alleged to have facilitated the commission of another felony (a) Must not be slight, inconsequential and merely incidental to the other crime [prong 1]; (b) must not be of the kind inherent in the nature of the other crime [prong 2]; and (c) must have some significance independent of the other crime in that it makes the other crime substantially easier of commission or substantially lessens the risk of detection [prong 3]. Forcing the victim into the backroom, and then into the bathroom, was not inherent in the nature of the completed robbery. Barricading the victim in the room, even for a brief time, was intended to, and did, facilitate the defendant's escape and lessen the risk of his detection. LESSER INCLUDED-SEXUAL BATTERY: A lesser included offense is one whose elements are entirely contained within the elements of another, greater, offense. CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The special standard for circumstantial evidence in reviewing motions for judgment of acquittal has been abandoned. The standard is whether there is competent, substantial evidence to support the verdict. Defendant having rented the vehicle and being seen in it shortly before the fatal accident supports the convictions for vehicular homicide and LOSA. Wallace v. State, 1D19-4655 (9/2/21)

PLEA-DEPORTATION: An equivocal warning about deportation consequences is not on its own sufficient to refute a claim that counsel was ineffective in failing to advise a defendant about truly clear deportation consequences. The warning in R. 3.172(c)(8)(A) is equivocal. Defendant is entitled to relief when he can establish (1) that the movant was present in the country lawfully at the time of the plea; (2) that the plea at issue is the sole basis for the movant's deportation; (3) that the law, as it existed at the time of the plea, subjected the movant to virtually automatic deportation; (4) that the presumptively mandatory consequence of deportation is clear from the face of the immigration statute; (5) that counsel failed to accurately advise the movant about the deportation consequences of the plea; and (6) that, if the movant had been accurately advised, he or she would not have entered the plea. IDENTIFICATION-SHOW UP: An out-of-court identification may be admitted if, first, police used an unnecessarily suggestive procedure to obtain an out-of-court identification, and, second, if so, considering all the circumstances, if the suggestive procedure gave rise to a substantial likelihood of irreparable misidentification. Show-ups are not unnecessarily suggestive unless the police aggravate the suggestiveness of the confrontation. Alahad v. State, 4D19-3438 (9/1/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-OBSCURED TAG: Bicycles on back of vehicle partially obscuring the view of the numbers on the license plate justifies the traffic stop. Even if the officer's interpretation of the law is incorrect, his erroneous but objectively reasonable interpretation of it justifies the stop. USA v. Braddy, No. 19-12823 (11th Cir. 8/31/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-AUTOMOBILE-PROLONGED STOP:

Extreme nervousness is reasonable suspicion to prolong stop. Officer's probative questioning about Defendant's travel plans and itinerary, his residency, and the ownership of his vehicle were related to the purpose of the traffic stop and did not unlawfully prolong it.

USA v. Braddy, No. 19-12823 (11th Cir. 8/31/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG SNIFF: A drug detection dog's alert can provide probable cause to conduct a search even where, as here, the dog only gives a partial alert. (the dog changed its breathing, changed its body posture, closed its mouth, and stiffened its tail).

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG ALERT-DISSENT: "The government urges us to accept the officers' observations since they are trained to spot these subtle and imperceptible changes in behavior. But an officer's subjective interpretations about the evidence have no place in our analysis. . . And placing our blind faith in the officers' subjective interpretations of common dog behavior—especially when the same behavior occurs routinely in dogs who are not drug-sniffing canines—would effectively insulate law enforcement from judicial scrutiny." CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: §775.087(2)(d) permits consecutive sentences at judicial discretion for specified crimes committed in a single criminal episode with either multiple victims or injuries. Levine v. State, 1D19-3157 (8/31/21)

SENTENCING-(CONCURRING): No federal constitutional requirement exists for trial judges (or appellate judges) to explain the manner in which they exercised their sentencing discretion (or applied the abuse of discretion standard on appeal). Judges need not make a factual finding or an on the record explanation that a murderer under the age of 18 is permanently incorrigible before a sentencing of life without parole may be imposed. SENTENCING-HOMICIDE-MINOR (CONCURRING): States may categorically prohibit life without parole for all offenders under 18, require sentencers to make extra factual findings before sentencing an offender under 18 to life without parole, or may direct sentencers to SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officers may pursue and tase passenger who flees (and when tased falls off wall, breaks neck, and dies), notwithstanding that he had been non-threatening and had not engaged in evident criminal conduct before fleeing. Headlong flight—wherever it occurs—is the consummate act of evasion and though it is not necessarily indicative of wrongdoing, it is certainly suggestive of such. Bradley v. Benton, No. 20-11509 (11th Cir. 8/26/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DEADLY FORCE: Officer tasing an unarmed suspect atop an eight foot high wall, causing him to fall and break his neck, is unlawful deadly force. Bradley v. Benton, No. 20-11509 (11th Cir. 8/26/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-HABEAS CORPUS: Trial counsel was ineffective for abandoning the Defendant's only viable defense (insanity) on the eve of trial, particularly where he had neglected to obtain any mental health evaluation. Nonetheless, Defendant is not entitled to relief because he could not show prejudice. The test for prejudice is whether there was a reasonable probability of success on the insanity defense. Evidence that Defendant engaged in disturbed behavior such as putting holes in walls, speaking with himself, using a baseball bat to destroy a TV, hearing voices so much that he had to cover his ears to refrain from hearing them, wearing headphones while sleeping to drown out those voices, digging holes in the ground for no reason, cutting holes in a wire fence, wanting to see a dead person, sitting in the dark and isolating himself, and crying spontaneously is insufficient. CLEAR AND CONVINCING EVIDENCE: Clear and Convincing evidence is evidence that is precise, explicit, lacking in confusion, and of such weight that it produces a firm belief, without hesitation, about the matter in issue. Hayes v. Secretary, Florida DOC, No. 19-10856 (11th Cir. 8/25/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: In death penalty case, Defendant is not entitled to relief on claim of ineffective assistance of counsel where the evidence of aggravation is overwhelming and there is not a reasonable probability that on presented additional evidence of mitigation would have resulted in a life sentence recommendation. JUROR-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE-PRESERVATION: The preservation of the challenge to a potential juror requires two objections: (1) a contemporaneous objection that puts the trial court on notice; and (2) a second objection before the jury is sworn. EXPERT: Court properly excluded Defendant's accounting expert because his testimony failed to satisfy Daubert because it may not have rested on sufficient facts, the expert did not use a reliable method, and the expert did not apply the method reliably to the facts. Expert testimony is allowed if it will help the factfinder understand evidence or determine a fact in issue, but only if (1) The testimony is based upon sufficient facts or data; (2) the testimony is the product of reliable principles and methods; and (3) the witness has applied the principles and methods reliably to the facts of the case. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may not deny a motion for post-conviction relief as legally insufficient without permitting amendment. EXCLUSIONARY RULE-INEVITABLE DISCOVERY: The standard of proof for the inevitable discovery exception to the exclusionary rule is preponderance of evidence, not a reasonable probability, of ultimate discovery. "[W]e hold that the standard of predictive proof the government must satisfy in order to establish the proper application of the ultimate discovery exception is preponderance of the evidence, not reasonable probability. All of our decisions holding to the contrary are overruled." USA v. Watkins, No. 18-14336 (11th Cir. 8/20/21)

REASONABLE PROBABILITY: "The primary problem. . . is that no one knows exactly what reasonable probability means. . . The words are plain enough separately, but their combined meaning is anything but plain. The term 'reasonable probability' implies there must be an unreasonable probability, just as darkness must exist for light to have meaning. Otherwise, why put the limiting adjective 'reasonable' in front of the noun 'probability' — what work does 'reasonable' do? But how can a probability be unreasonable? How does a reasonable probability differ from an unreasonable one?" USA v. Watkins, No. 18-14336 (11th Cir. 8/20/21)

EXCLUSIONARY RULE: The purpose of the Fourth Amendment and the exclusionary rule is not to increase the reliability of criminal proceedings or bolster our confidence in their outcome. Nor is that their effect. Just the opposite. The primary effect of using the exclusionary rule to enforce the Fourth Amendment is to exclude from the trier of fact some relevant and probative evidence, which could decrease the reliability of the outcome of a criminal proceeding. USA v. Watkins, No. 18-14336 (11th Cir. 8/20/21)

DEFINITION-"MUST": "Must" is a term of requirement. "Must," like "shall," is a mandatory term that connotes a requirement. USA v. Watkins, No. 18-14336 (11th Cir. 8/20/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-RETROACTIVITY: The holding in Lee (that to determine whether multiple convictions of solicitation of a minor, unlawful use of a two-way communications device, and traveling after solicitation of a minor are based upon the same conduct for purposes of double jeopardy, the reviewing court may consider only the charging document) does not apply retroactively to cases which were already final when Lee v. VOP-CURFEW: Probation properly revoked where Defendant is found with friends on the beach after curfew. "[Defendant]'s lack of effort to ever discern the time suggests willful ignorance rather than negligent forgetfulness. While [he] had every right to be away from his residence until 10PM, his actions before and during his violation of curfew do not portray some inept attempt to comply." Williams v. DISCOVERY-CONFIDENTIAL INFORMANT: The disclosure of a CI's identity when he will not be called as a witness is required only if the failure to do so infringes on Defendant's constitutional rights. A defendant's knowledge of an informant's name does not necessarily extinguish the need for maintaining an informant's confidentiality. An in camera hearing is required to determine whether, among other factors, the CI would be relevant and helpful to show entrapment. State v. Sullivan, 5D20-1482 (8/20/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-WIRETAP: Acting, as opposed to the Elected, State Attorney has authority to apply for a wiretap. The actions of an acting state attorney shall be in all respects as valid as a regularly appointed state attorney. State v. Wright, 5D20-1807 (8/20/21)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Defendant may not seek to have Circuit Court order DOC to calculate his gain time before exhausting his administrative remedies. Webb v. State, 5D21-686 (8/20/21)

FIRST STEP: Because a period of supervised release is simply a part of the sentence for the underlying conviction, a sentence imposed upon the revocation of supervised release qualifies for a reduction under §404(b) of the First Step Act when the underlying crime is a covered offense under the Act. Post-revocation penalties relate to the original offense. Court does not abuse its discretion in denying sentence reduction. USA v. Gonzalez, No. 19-14381 (8/19/21)

ABUSE OF DISCRETION: A district court abuses its discretion when it applies an incorrect legal standard or makes a clear error of judgment. USA v. Gonzalez, No. 19-14381 (8/19/21)

DEPORTATION-AGGRAVATED FELONY: Any alien who is convicted of an aggravated felony at any time after admission is deportable. Further, that alien is ineligible for cancellation of removal. An “aggravated felony” includes an offense (i) which either is falsely making, forging, counterfeiting, mutilating, or altering a passport or instrument (relating to document fraud) and (ii) for which the term of imprisonment is at least 12 months. The parenthetical “(relating to document fraud)” in 8 U.S.C. § 1101(a)(43)(P) is descriptive, not limiting. Germaine v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 20-11419 (8/18/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for both grand theft and organized scheme to defraud based on the same conduct violate double jeopardy. Grand theft is a lesser-included offense of organized scheme to defraud. Where there are two separate thefts charged, both of which could be subsumed in the fraud count, Double Jeopardy disallows dual convictions. Amison v. State, 1D18-1312 (8/18/21)

RESTITUTION: Where some of the money raised in a charity scam was ultimately distributed to the intended recipient, that amount should not be assessed in restitution. "Giving back money previously stolen or withheld unlawfully is still giving back." Amison v. State, 1D18-1312 (8/18/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-VOIR DIRE: A claim of ineffective assistance of counsel based upon counsel's failure to object to the State's use of peremptory challenges is not cognizable in a postconviction motion. Reed v. State, 1D21-335 (8/18/21)

INFORMATION: Where a defendant waits until after the State rests its case to challenge the propriety of an indictment or information, the defendant is required to show not only that the indictment is technically defective but that it is so fundamentally defective that it cannot support a judgment of conviction. Reed v. State, 1D21-335 (8/18/21)

WRIT: A decision on an extraordinary writ petition that clearly shows that the issue was considered by the court on the merits is deemed a decision which would later bar the litigant from presenting the issue under the doctrines of res judicata or collateral estoppel. Holland v. State, 1D21-11563 (8/18.21)

RE-SENTENCING-LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Once a trial court has rendered an order granting relief under rule 3.850, it may not revisit its ruling absent a motion for rehearing or appeal, but an order appointing counsel is not an order requiring a resentencing order. Court properly denies a hearing for resentencing based where Defendant's two consecutive life sentences allowed for parole review. Malone v. State, 1D20-2482 (8/17/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-TWO YEAR TIME LIMIT: The two year time limit for filing a motion for post-conviction relief under R. 3.850 is really two years and thirty days from the entry of the Final Judgment because the judgment and sentence do not become final until the expiration of the thirty days allowed for filing a notice of appeal therefrom. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-TWO YEAR TIME LIMIT: Defendant has two years and thirty days from last amendment to the Final Judgment to file a motion for post-conviction relief under Fla. R. 3.850. Barco v. State, 2D20-2289 (8/18/21)

claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to move to disqualify judge. Court departed from its role of impartiality by excusing the jury and asking the State whether it intended to present evidence of other sexual molestations after Defendant testified that he was "not that type of person." Disqualification is required where judge suggests to counsel alternatives on how to proceed strategically. Capriano v. State, 4D19-3608 (8/18/21)

HEARSAY-AUTHENTICATION-FACEBOOK SCREENSHOTS:

Communications generally can be authenticated by appearance,

HEARSAY-DIARY: Victim's journal is improperly admitted over hearsay objection. It does not qualify as a a prior consistent statement because it did not predate victim's motive to fabricate. But error here is harmless. Gilbert v. State, 2D19-1622 (8/13/21)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/777579/opinion/191622_DC05_08132021_081410_i.pdf

ARGUMENT: State's argument regarding the Victim's troubled past was not improper where Defendant argued that she had a pattern of breaking the rules, lying, and acting out. State's argument, turning an allegedly vindictive past into a vulnerable childhood, is well within bounds. Gilbert v. State, 2D19-1622 (8/13/21)

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS: Defendant's prosecution for a second degree felony (attempted robbery with a firearm, with a 10-20-life enhancement, is time barred. The three-year statute of limitations, tolled for an additional three years during the Defendant's absence from the state, renders untimely an amended information filed ten years after the crime. Counsel was ineffective for not raising the issue. The State may only amend a charging document outside of the limitations period when necessary to correct a clerical error. The filing of an amended information purporting to be a complete restatement of the charges supersedes and vitiates an earlier information. Marcario v. State, 2D19-4743 (8/13/21)

REMOTE HEARING-NOTICE-RISK PROTECTION: Risk protection order is vacated where Respondent was not given proper notice that the hearing would be conducted virtually, and he showed up in person but was denied entrance. Procedural due process requires both fair notice and a real opportunity to be heard at a meaningful time and in a meaningful manner. E.P. v. Lakeland Police, 2D20-2121 (8/13/21)

COMPETENCY: Even if the evaluations unanimously agree that the defendant is competent, the court still must conduct a hearing. Knight v. State, 5D20-2435 (8/13/21)

CHILD HEARSAY: Although Court should generally exclude multiple child hearsay witnesses as unduly prejudicial and/or needlessly cumulative (“[W]e can envision the prosecution parading an endless stream of hearsay witnesses before the jury, smothering the defendant in an avalanche of consistent statements.”), but Defendant here failed to preserve his cumulative evidence argument for appellate review, as he did not raise it at the child hearsay hearing nor object on that basis at trial. Knight v. State, 5D20-2435 (8/13/21)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON-KNOWLEDGE: When a defendant is charged with being a felon in possession of a firearm under §922(g)(1), the knowledge-of-status element requires proof that at the time he possessed the firearm he was aware he had a prior conviction for a crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year. Defendant’s plea was involuntary because Defendant was not advised of knowledge element (Rehaif had not yet been decided). A Rehaif error affecting the knowing and voluntary nature of a guilty plea is not structural, so that plea need only be vacated if Defendant showed prejudice, i.e., that he would not have pled or did not know his status. USA v. Coats, No. 18-13113 (8/12/21)

ACCA-BURGLARY: Georgia’s burglary statute is a valid predicate offense for the Armed Career Criminal Act, and encompasses Defendant’s conviction as an aider and abettor. An ostensible predicate crime is not deprived of that status merely because the conviction may have been based on conduct that aided and abetted the crime. USA v. Coats, No. 18-13113 (8/12/21)

SENTENCING-ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITY: Defendant can be denied an adjustment for acceptance of responsibility where he punched out the CI in jail prior to his indictment. Obstruction of justice precludes a reduction for acceptance of responsibility absent extraordinary circumstances. USA v. Coats, No. 18-13113 (8/12/21)

PRINCIPAL: Mother is properly convicted as a principal to attempted murder for inducing her daughter, by threatening to ground her, to attack the mother's ex-boy friend's girl friend with a machete. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-TIME LIMIT: Two-year time limit for filing R.3.850 motion may be not tolled while he is incarcerated out of state, if he lacked access to Florida legal materials. Court must make a factual determination whether he could have accessed the necessary materials, in light of improved internet access to those materials. Hightower v. State, 1D20-1569 (8/12/21)

DUI REVIEW: Defendant is not entitled to invalidation of her DL suspension based on breath technicians failure to appear at administrative hearing where Defendant had refused the breath test. “Muchhala makes several reasonable arguments [why]. . .the department is required to invalidate the license suspension if a subpoenaed breath technician fails to appear, even if the driver had refused the test. But our task is not to determine de novo what the statute requires; it is to determine whether the circuit court afforded procedural due process, whether it applied the correct law, and whether there has been a violation of a clearly established principle of law resulting in a miscarriage of justice. Muchhala has failed to demonstrate that his interpretation of the statute was “clearly established,’ or that the circuit court violated any other ‘clearly established’ principle of law. Muchhala v. UNLAWFUL PRESCRIPTION: Government need not prove by expert testimony that the patients did not need the pills unlawfully prescribed in pill mill prosecution. USA v. Akwuba, No. 19-12230 (11th Cir. 8/11/21)

CONSPIRACY-PILL MILL: Testimony that Defendant (Nurse Practitioner and Doctor worked together to distribute controlled substances and that they directed patients to return monthly to keep up billing is sufficient to establish conspiracy. A defendant can be convicted of conspiracy even if his or her participation in the scheme is slight by comparison to the actions of other co-conspirators. USA v. Akwuba, No. 19-12230 (11th Cir. 8/11/21)

HEALTH CARE FRAUD: A person is guilty of committing health care fraud if, in connection with the delivery of or payment for health care benefits, items, or services, she knowingly and willfully executes a scheme (1) to defraud any health care benefit program; or (2) to obtain, by means of false or fraudulent pretenses, representations, or promises, any of the money or property owned by, or under the custody or control of, any health care benefit program. Billing a health care benefit program for office visits where controlled substances were illegally prescribed is health care fraud. USA v. Akwuba, No. 19-12230 (11th Cir. 8/11/21)

JURY INSTRUCTION: Court errs in instructing the jury that the parties stipulated to something that they did not stipulate to but the error is not reversible where Defendant was able to present her defense. There was no substantial and ineradicable doubt as to whether the jury was properly guided in its deliberation. USA v. Akwuba, No. 19-12230 (11th Cir. 8/11/21)

EVIDENCE: Court properly exercised its discretion in excluding a line of questioning where counsel's only proffered showing of relevance was "I have to be perfectly frank with the Court. I do not know. [Ms. Akwuba] asked me to ask these questions. She gave me a list of questions she wanted me to ask her this morning, and this is one of these questions. I don't know where it's going." TRESPASSING-JOA: Defendant is entitled to a Judgment of Acquittal for trespass on legally posted horticultural property where State failed to present sufficient evidence that the horticultural property was “legally posted. A picture of a "No Trespassing" sign, in absence of evidence of where signs were posted, their spacing, and their size, is insufficient. Couch v. State, 3D20-732 (8/11/21)

MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: Jury must find that the Defendant actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill the victims. JOA-SALE WITH 1000 FEET: Defendant cannot be convicted of sale of narcotics within 1,000 feet of a child care facility which did not have a statutorily-required sign identifying it as a “licensed” child care facility, or words to that effect. Signs saying “PRESCHOOL” are legally insufficient. Brevil v. State, 4D19-3010 (8/11/21)

STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION: An elementary principle of statutory construction is that significance and effect must be given to every word, phrase, sentence, and part of the statute if possible, and words in a statute should not be construed as mere surplusage. Brevil v. State, 4D19-3010 (8/11/21)

VOP: Defendant is not entitled to reinstatement pursuant §948.06(2)(f)1 for a low-risk violation, where he had two violations, i.e. that he possessed and he smoked methamphetamine. (In 2021, the legislature corrected this anomaly in the wording of the statute). Five years of prison are lawful. Kaiser v. State, 4D20-2265 (8/11/21)

VOP (DISSENT): "To reach its conclusion, the majority has ignored the plain language of a statute and violated basic rules of statutory construction. As a result, the legislative intent—to conserve tax dollars by requiring non-incarcerative sentencing options—has been frustrated." Under the harmonious-reading canon, there can be no justification for needlessly rendering provisions in conflict if they can be interpreted harmoniously. Kaiser v. State, 4D20-2265 (8/11/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for advising him that his DNA was found on several items of evidence when no written report supported that advice, notwithstanding that there were such reports but they were furnished after Defendant filed his motion. Cabrera v. State, 4D21-81 (8/11/21)

DISTRIBUTION OF CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE: Corrupt cops who provided protection to purported drug dealers in a sting operation are properly convicted of possession with intent to distribute a controlled substance and conspiracy. USA v. Harris, No. 19-13692 (11th Cir. 8/9/21)

ENTRAPMENT: There is no entrapment when a defendant is willing to break the law and Government merely provides what appears to be a favorable opportunity for the defendant to commit a crime. Predisposition focuses upon whether the defendant was an unwary innocent or, instead, an unwary criminal who readily availed himself of the opportunity to perpetrate the crime. Predisposition may be demonstrated simply by a defendant's ready commission of the charged crime. USA v. Harris, No. 19-13692 (8/9/21)

DURESS: A general concern that a coconspirator might retaliate does not establish the duress defense, particularly where the Defendant had opportunities to withdraw. USA v. Harris, No. 19-13692 (8/9/21)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-RACE: To determine whether a prosecutor has discriminated on the basis of race in exercising a peremptory challenge, first, the district court must determine whether the party challenging the strike has established a prima facie case by showing facts sufficient to support an inference of discriminatory motive. If a prima facie showing is made, the burden of production shifts to the proponent of the strike to come forward with a race-neutral explanation (step two). The reason given for the peremptory strike need not be a good reason. In the third and final stage, the district court must evaluate the persuasiveness of the proffered reason and determine whether, considering all relevant circumstances, the objector has carried the burden of proving discrimination. A "gut feeling" about the juror and avoidance of eye contact during voir dire may be sufficient. USA v. Harris, No. 19-13692 (8/9/21)

KIDNAPPING: Defendant is properly convicted of kidnapping for picking up a child in a van then taking her to a house to sexually molest her. Kidnapping occurs when the movement or confinement employed by the defendant is 1) not slight, inconsequential, or merely incidental to the other crime; 2) not inherent in the nature of the other crime; and 3) has some significance independent of the other crime charged so as to lessen the risk of detection or make the other crime easier to commit. Richardson v. State, 1D19-4526 (8/9/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred by summarily denying motion for post conviction relief without attaching records on the grounds that claim of ineffective assistance should have been raised on direct appeal. DEPORTATION: Possession of a firearm by a felon does not constitute a "firearm offense" within the meaning of the INA, which would render him removable. Simpson v. U.S. Attorney General, No.19-11156 (11th Cir. 8/4/21)

CARRYING CONCEALED FIREARM BY FELON: §790.23(1)(a) is categorically overbroad because the statute prohibits a felon's possession of ammunition, and ammunition does not constitute a firearm under §921(a)(3) because ammunition is not a weapon which can expel a projectile. Nor does ammunition fit within the other definitions of a firearm in §921(a)(3). Stated differently, the least culpable conduct for the possession offense is the possession by a felon of ammunition, and the least culpable conduct for the concealed carrying offense is the concealed carrying of a dirk or billie, and both of these scenarios are broader than the firearm offense described by §1227(a)(2)(C) of the INA through its cross-reference to the definition of a firearm in § 921(a)(3). "So both of the Florida offenses in §790.23(1)(a) are broader than what the applicable federal law provides. And that, for purposes of the categorical approach, is the end of the matter." Simpson v. U.S. Attorney General, No.19-11156 (11th Cir. 8/4/21)

HUH?: If the two offenses prescribed by §790.23(1)(a) are themselves divisible, then the statute sets out seven or more separate possession crimes (one crime for possession of each of the five definitions of a firearm, plus one crime for possession of ammunition, plus one crime for possession of an electric weapon or device). And if the offenses are divisible, §790.23(1)(a) would also set out six or more separate concealed carrying crimes (one crime for carrying in a concealed manner each of the four definitions of a concealed weapon, plus one crime for carrying in a concealed manner a tear gas gun, plus one crime for carrying in a concealed manner a chemical weapon or device). Simpson v. U.S. Attorney General, No.19-11156 (11th Cir. 8/4/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant cannot be convicted of multiple counts of possession of firearm/ammunition by a felon where he possessed multiple firearms and ammo. Simpson v. U.S. Attorney General, No.19-11156 (11th Cir. 8/4/21)

SEX OFFENDER-INTERNET ACCESS: Packingham, recognizing a First Amendment right to internet access, does not apply to sex offenders on probation. ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL: Georgia’s version of aggravated assault, which may include a recklessness component, is not a predicate offense for the ACCA. ACCA’s elements clause does not include offenses that criminalize reckless conduct; it covers only

VOP-JURISDICTION: Court lacks jurisdiction to revoke probation on third degree felonies where jail, prison, and probation had exceeded five years. When a trial court imposes a sentence of incarceration followed by probation, the combined term cannot exceed the statutory

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-COUNSEL: Court erred in denying appointment of counsel before post conviction motion hearing where Defendant reads at a fourth grade level. Counsel must be appointed where Defendant is unable to go forward because of his lack of sophistication or education, even where the issues are not complex, novel or meritorious. Although there is no absolute right to counsel in post-conviction relief proceedings, the court must determine the need for counsel and resolve any doubts in favor of the appointment of counsel for the defendant. The question is whether the assistance of counsel is essential to accomplish a fair and thorough presentation of the petitioner’s claims, considering the adversary nature of the proceeding, its complexity, the need for an evidentiary hearing, or the need for substantial legal research. HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant is entitled to federal habeas relief from a state court denial of post-conviction relief only where the state court's ruling resulted in a decision that was contrary to, or involved an unreasonable application of, clearly established Federal law, as determined by the Supreme Court of the United States. "As difficult as it is to prevail on an ineffective assistance prejudice issue in the first court to decide it, the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 makes it even harder to succeed on that issue in a federal habeas proceeding after a state court has ruled that the petitioner failed to show prejudice. RESTITUTION: Amount of restitution assessed (multiplying each victim's estimated average daily earnings by the number of days she prostituted) is proper when the government estimated the restitution award, rather than producing precise records to establish the exact amount. APPEAL-PERMISSIBLE RECORD: Court may not deny without a hearing a motion to correct credit for time served on the ground that the motion was successive without attaching the earlier motion and denial of it. "[T]hat's what's required. . . ; a remand is not wholly wasteful if it serves as a reminder to trial judges to include attachments in the record on appeal in the first instance. Harley v. STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: Defendant's recorded exit interview from his job as a prison correctional officer is admissible, notwithstanding that he was unaware that it was being recorded. Defendant had no expectation of privacy the parties did not demonstrate externally any sort of expectation that the meeting was private or confidential, and all attendees at the exit interview were MCI employees, on MCI property, acting in furtherance of their public duties. INCOMPETENCE-DISCHARGE: Defendant is not entitled to discharge based on his remaining incompetent for one year (a misdemeanor) where he never submitted to the psychological re-evaluation after the initial finding on incompetency. Nerette v. State, 4D21-630 (7/21/21)

SENTENCING-LOWEST PERMISSIBLE SENTENCE: Where Defendant's LPS is 19.8 years, he may not be sentenced to ten and eleven years consecutively on 2nd degree felonies. The lowest permissible sentence applies to each count under when the lowest permissible sentence exceeds the statutory maximum for each individual count. The lowest permissible sentence is an individual minimum sentence which applies to each felony at sentencing for which the LPS exceeds that felony's statutory maximum sentence, regardless of whether the felony is the primary or an additional offense. Court must impose 19.8 years for both counts of vehicular homicide where the scoresheet prescribed a lowest permissible sentence of 19.8 years. Pierce v. State, 1D19-2829 (7/20/21)

FINE: No fine may be imposed for a conviction of a capital felony, including capital sexual battery. Hicks v. State, 1D18-5325 (7/19/21)

for Lewd and Lascivious Molestation of a ten year old. In a criminal case in which the defendant is charged with a sexual offense, collateral-crime evidence may be introduced to corroborate the victim's testimony by showing that the defendant has a propensity for committing sexual offenses. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy affords three basic protections: against a second prosecution for the same offense following an acquittal, against a second prosecution for the same offense after a conviction, and against multiple punishments for the same offense. Rodriguez v. State, 2D19-1106 (7/16/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for second-degree murder and third-degree murder violate double jeopardy because they are degree variants of each other as they are in the same statute and are degree variants of the same offense, murder. Rodriguez v. State, 2D19-1106 (7/16/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy protections do not extend to the information or jury selection phase. Despite the clear rule saying that a defendant cannot be convicted of both, there is no such rule saying that he cannot be charged with both crimes. Double jeopardy concerns arise once the jury returned guilty verdicts on the dual murder offenses. To cure the double jeopardy violation, the trial court must vacate the conviction that placed Defendant in double jeopardy, not to enter an adjudication of not guilty. Rodriguez v. State, 2D19-1106 (7/16/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-WELFARE CHECK: Officer exceeded permissible scope of a welfare check by hauling sleeping man with a knife on his lap from a parked car. A warrantless intrusion into Defendant's vehicle as he was sleeping is unreasonable under the Fourth Amendment as part of a permissible welfare check. Searches and seizures conducted in connection with welfare checks are solely for safety reasons, and is limited to prevent the exception from becoming an investigative tool that circumvents the Fourth Amendment. Even if Defendant's wellbeing were objectively in doubt, the officer never sought to inquire into his wellbeing before pulling him out of his vehicle. Taylor v. State, 1D19-3522 (7/15/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG ALERT: Where Defendant is initially illegally detained before the canine alert, the alert does not render the search lawful. Taylor v. State, 1D19-3522 (7/15/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-STANDING: As a basic principle of Fourth Amendment law, an unconstitutional seizure or arrest which prompts a disclaimer of property vitiates the disclaimer. Where Defendant disclaims the illegal items as a result of the unconstitutional search and seizure, he retains standing to challenge the search and seizure. Taylor v. State, 1D19-3522 (7/15/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-IAC-ALIBI: Counsel was ineffective for failing to investigate alibi defense (that Defendant had been working and was dropped off in the area after the robbery). Duty v. State, 1D20-1353 (7/15/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-IAC-FAILURE TO IMPEACH: Counsel was ineffective for failing to impeach detective who testified at trial that Defendant never provided any specific witnesses by name, address, or phone number, when in fact during the videotaped interrogation, Defendant repeatedly asked him to contact his employer and gave him the employer's business card. Counsel's explanation that he did not impeach the Detective because of Defendant's repeated use of profanity was not reasonable under the norms of professional conduct. Duty v. State, 1D20-1353 (7/15/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-IAC-IDENTIFICATION: Counsel was ineffective for failing to move to suppress the show-up identification where officers had Defendant change his clothes to match the initial description, surrounded him with officers, and then brought the Victim to see him (she said he was "pretty close" to the person who robbed her, but that she couldn't be sure until after the officer instructed her that she needed to be sure). INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF COUNSEL: "At the evidentiary hearing, the victim testified that at her deposition before trial, trial counsel stated, 'let's go ahead and have a seat and get this over with. We all know this is open and shut . . .'" Duty v. State, 1D20-1353 (7/15/21)

COSTS: Court erred in imposing a $700 fine and a $35 surcharge on that fine pursuant to sections 775.083(1) and 938.04 when neither the fine nor the surcharge was specifically pronounced during Appellant's sentencing hearing. SENTENCING GUIDELINES-WEAPON ENHANCEMENT: §2D1.1(b)(1) enhancement for a firearm applies if the weapon was present, unless it is clearly improbable that it was connected with the offense. The government benefits from a rebuttable presumption that a firearm, if present—just present, not present in proximity to drugs—is connected with the offense. USA v. Sanchez Carasquillo, No. 19-14143 (11th Cir. 7/14/21)

SAFETY VALVE-FIREARM: Although the §2D1.1(b)(1) firearm enhancement does not preclude satisfaction of §5C1.2(a)(2) safety valve in rare cases, a factual finding that there is a connection between the firearm and the offense means that the defendant cannot satisfy the safety valve requirements. USA v. Sanchez Carasquillo, No. 19-14143 (11th Cir. 7/14/21)

SENTENCING: A court must give the parties an opportunity to object to the court's ultimate findings of fact, conclusions of law, and the manner in which the sentence is pronounced. Court must elicit objections following its imposition of sentence. USA v. Sanchez Carasquillo, No. 19-14143 (11th Cir. 7/14/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED:

Defendant's motion for credit for time served for time spent in another state awaiting extradition is subject to the two-year time limit of R. 3.850, not the one year time limit of R. 3.801, which governs motions for jail credit but only applies to in-state jail credit. HABITUAL OFFENDER: Where State failed to file its notice of intent to seek enhanced penalties within a sufficient time before sentencing, Defendant is entitled to resentencing on the felon-in-possession count. Thomas v. State, 4D19-2547 (7/14/21)

DRIVER'S LICENSE SUSPENSION: The erroneous imposition of a drivers license revocation is not a "sentence" subject to correction through a R. 3.800 motion. Rodriguez v. State, 4D21-133 (see 7/14/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Possession of child pornography is a lesser-included offense of receiving child pornography; Defendant cannot be convicted of both. USA v. Phillips, No. 18-11737 (11th Cir. 7/13/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811737.pdf>

INDICTMENT: Where the indictment charges the Defendant with “knowingly and intentionally” causing a minor to engage in sexually explicit conduct for the purpose of producing a video, , but the statute does not require that the Defendant know the victim's age, Court need not instruct the jury that the Defendant's knowledge of the age of the victim is required. Language in an indictment that goes beyond what the statute requires ordinarily does not become part of the charged crime. An extra mens rea term in an indictment ordinarily does not become part of the charged crime, and can be ignored without error. USA v. Phillips, No. 18-11737 (11th Cir. 7/13/21)

ACCA: Possession of cocaine with intent to distribute and manufacture, sale, distribution, or possession with intent to distribute cocaine and heroin qualify as serious drug offenses under the Armed Career Criminal Act, even if the distribution was merely giving away the drugs rather than selling them. Defendant is subject to a minimum sentence of 15 years. A conviction for narcotics for other than personal use qualifies as a serious drug offense under ACCA. Possession for “social sharing” is possession “for other than personal use.” USA v. Stancil, No. 19-12001 (11th Cir. 7/13/21)

POSSESSION-KNOWLEDGE: Knowledge of the specific substance in a package is not required in order for one to be convicted of possession of cocaine. When the government charges violations of §841(a)(1) and §846, and mentions the specific drug involved to seek enhanced penalties under §841(b)(1), it needs to prove the defendant's mens rea only for the substantive violation, not for the specific drug charged. USA v. Colston, No. 19-13518 (11th Cir 7/13/21)

METAPHOR: In Narog, we reasoned that [when] the government . . . included the identity of the controlled substance in the indictment [it] . . . needed to prove that the defendants knew the specific drug involved. . . Defendants have since relied on it to argue that if an indictment is worded just so, we must read it to charge a mens rea for the specific type of drug. Though Narog rarely got defendants where they wanted to go. . . the twists and turns it required were a detour in the analysis, and misled defendants about what might be required. That road has come to a dead end." USA v. Colston, No. 19-13518 (11th Cir 7/13/21)

EVIDENCE: Court acted within its discretion when it admitted evidence of Defendant's prior drug deals to show that her involvement in a different drug-related crime was not a mistake. Evidence of prior drug dealings is highly probative of intent to distribute a controlled substance, as well as involvement in a conspiracy. Any prior drug offense as probative of the intent to engage in a drug conspiracy—even if the prior crime involves a different type and amount of drug. USA v. Colston, No. 19-13518 (11th Cir 7/13/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Evidence that a jailhouse snitch who testified against the defendant had gone through Defendant's legal papers in their shared jail cell is newly discovered evidence, but is not sufficiently probative to raise reasonable doubt of his guilt. POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Indictment is not fatally defective for failure to allege that Defendant must know that he is a felon in order to be convicted as a felon in possession of a firearm. Indictment omissions do not deprive a court of jurisdiction. USA v. Leonard, No. 19-14142 (11th Cir. 7/8/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: A defendant is only entitled to challenge the veracity of a search warrant affidavit at a hearing if he makes a substantial preliminary showing that (1) the author of the affidavit made false statements or omissions either intentionally or with reckless disregard for the truth, and (2) the allegedly false statement or omission was necessary to the finding of probable cause. ACCA: Under the Armed Career Criminal Act, a felon in possession of a firearm is subject to a mandatory minimum sentence of 15 years' imprisonment if he has three prior convictions for serious drug offenses committed on occasions different from one another, regardless of him being sentenced for all three on the same day. It is the crimes that must be temporally distinct, not the convictions for those crimes. Even small distinctions in time and place are usually enough. USA v. Leonard, No. 19-14142 (11th Cir. 7/8/21)

DEATH PENALTY: Findings of aggravating circumstances for imposition of the death penalty need not be found beyond a reasonable doubt. SENTENCING-GUIDELINES: A firearm capable of accepting a large capacity magazine because, even if not loaded with a magazine, qualifies for a guidelines sentencing enhancement under U.S.S.G. §2K2.1(a)(3). GRAND JURY TESTIMONY: There is no pretrial right to inspect grand jury testimony as an aid in preparing one's defense. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for second-degree murder with a firearm and use of a firearm during the course of that offense violates double jeopardy. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-EXPERT : Strategic decisions—including whether to hire an expert—are entitled to a strong presumption of reasonableness. Defendant's failure to call his attorneys to testify is not fatal to his ineffective assistance of counsel claim (but here, trial court did not apply such a rule). Dunn v. DEATH PENALTY-DISSENT (J. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who had filed various postconviction motions over the years, should not be barred from filing further motions on the basis of his good faith motion that the victim injury and death points were improperly scored. Actual successiveness within the confines of rule 3.800(a) motions requires not just the filing of a successive number of rule 3.800(a) motions but also that the issues raised within them be the same as well. Ward v. State, 2D20-2127 (7/2/21)

VOP-HABITUAL OFFENDER: On revocation of probation after the Defendant had originally been sentenced as a Habitual Felony Offender, court does not have to follow all the procedural requirements for HFO resentencing. There is no requirement for a de novo HFO analysis to be conducted at each revocation, only that the court clearly communicate an intent to reimpose that HFO status. Vaughn v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on his claim that the State used, and the trial court relied upon, an out-of-state, nonqualifying predicate offense to designate him as a PRR (a nonqualifying Kansas conviction for attempted tampering with an electronic monitoring device, a first-degree misdemeanor in Florida). SEARCH AND SEIZURE-REASONABLE SUSPICION: Defendant spying around the corner and acting nervous when approached, the high crime area at night, the smell of cannabis, and running from the officers after another person with Defendant is searched is reasonable suspicion. Unprovoked flight upon and nervous, evasive behavior are pertinent factors in determining reasonable suspicion. Cruz v. State, S20-60 (7/1/21)

EVIDENCE: Defendant's statements “why don’t you just kill me now,” and “I’m as good as dead” when he is arrested in an unrelated incident may be admissible to show consciousness of guilt for murder.

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor’s use of the phrase “particularly upsetting” when characterizing the murder, calling the Defendant's actions “unspeakable acts” and “violent and senseless,” calling the Defendant "brutal" were fairly connected to the evidence. Error, if any, was not fundamental. Cruz v. State, S20-60 (7/1/21)

FIRST DEGREE MURDER: First degree murder conviction is ARGUMENT-PENALTY PHASE: State's penalty phase arguments that "this is not something that we take lightly" and "This. . [is] the kind of crime that frightens you to your core. It's the reason that children fear the darkness" do not amount to fundamental error.

DEATH PENALTY-JURY INSTRUCTION: Failure to instruct jury that the death penalty may be proportional punishment if the evidence shows both that the defendant was a major participant in the crime, and that the defendant's state of mind amounted to reckless indifference to human life is not fundamental error. Cruz v. State, S20-60 (7/1/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant cannot be convicted of two counts of robbery for one taking (a single wad of money from a desk in the back of the office) from two people. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-HOME: The pursuit of a fleeing misdemeanor suspect does not categorically qualify as an exigent circumstance authorizing a warrantless home entry. An officer may make a warrantless entry into a home when pursuing a fleeing misdemeanant only if an exigent circumstance is also present—for example, when there is a risk of escape, destruction of evidence, or harm to others. DRIVER'S LICENSE SUSPENSION: Defendant is not entitled to keep his driver's license where breath technician failed to appear for the drivers license review, but the suspension was based on his refusal, not the results of the breath test. Because Defendant refused to take the breath test there was no one who administered or analyzed a breath or blood test.” Therefore, section 322.2615(11) does not apply to the subpoena of the operator. Muchhala v. DHSMV, 1D20-2365 (6/16/21)

VOP-HEARSAY: Child's probation may not be revoked based on PO's testimony that computer-generated GPS records maintained by an outside company showed the defendant left his home. State's argument that the records are not hearsay because of the statement was made by a machine and was automatically generated without manual input from any person is not availing because the argument is essentially a raw guess as to what extent the information was automatically generated. Consideration of whether and when out-of-court “statements by machines” are not hearsay must await a case with a record supporting that argument. R.L.G. v. State, 3D21-675 (6/16/21)

EVIDENCE-STANDARD OF REVIEW: "While it is often said that a trial court's decision whetherto admit evidence is reviewed for an abuse of discretion, this is true only when the decision actually

FIREARM-MENS REA: In felon-in possession cases, the Government must prove not only that the defendant knew he possessed a firearm, but also that he knew he was a felon when he possessed it. Defendants who pled or were convicted pre-Rehaif are not entitled to plain-error relief for their unpreserved Rehaif claims that they/jury were not told that the Government must prove that the defendant(s) knew they were felons. If a person is a felon, he ordinarily knows he is a felon. Felony status is simply not the kind of thing that one forgets. Greer v. United States, No. 19-8709 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/14/20)

APPEAL-PLAIN ERROR RELIEF: To establish eligibility for plain-error relief, a defendant must satisfy three threshold requirements. First, there must be an error. Second, the error must be plain. Third, the error must affect substantial rights" which generally means that there must be a reasonable probability that, but for the error, the outcome of the proceeding would have been different. Greer v. United States, No. 19-8709 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/14/20)

FIRST STEP ACT: §2(a) of the Fair Sentencing Act modified the statutory penalties only for §841(b)(1)(A) and (B) crack offenses—that is, the offenses that triggered mandatory-minimum penalties. An offender is eligible for a sentence reduction under the First Step Act only if he previously received a sentence for a covered offense. §841(b)(1)(C), possession with intent to distribute an unspecified amount of a schedule I or II drug (which does not treat crack and powder offenses differently) is not a covered offense. Terry v. United States, No. 20-5904 (U.S. S.Ct 6/14/20)

FIRST STEP ACT (SOTOMAYOR, CONCURRING): Defendant, who possessed just 3.9 grams of crack (the equivalent weight of four paper clips), and who had two prior drug convictions committed when he was a teenager for which he spent a total of only 120 days in jail, suffered a guidelines enhancement as a career criminal that caused the range (three to four years) to "skyrocket to about 15 to 20 years." "[B]ecause Terry was both convicted under subparagraph (C) and sentenced as a career offender, he has never had a chance to ask for a sentence that reflects today's understanding of the lesser severity of his crime." FIREARMS ENHANCEMENT: 2 level firearm enhancement is appropriate where a rifle was in the trailer from which Defendant sold narcotics, notwithstanding that Government argued against the enhancement. Firearm enhancement should be applied if the weapon was present, unless it is clearly improbable that the weapon was connected with the offense. USA v. Montenegro, No. 19-13542 (11th Cir. 6/11/21)

SAFETY VALVE: Firearms enhancement does not necessarily mean that safety-valve relief is unavailable. To justify a firearms enhancement, the government must establish by a preponderance of the evidence either (1) that a firearm was present at the site of the charged conduct, or (2) that the defendant possessed a firearm during conduct associated with the offense of conviction. The government is not required to prove that the firearm was used to facilitate the distribution of drugs for the firearms enhancement to apply. USA v. Montenegro, No. 19-13542 (11th Cir. 6/11/21)

APPEAL: Appellant who simply states that an issue exists, without further argument or discussion, abandons that issue and precludes the appellate court from considering the issue on appeal. Appellant waives any argument where he fails to plainly and prominently raise an issue by “devoting a discrete section of his argument to the claim.

PRIVACY-MASK MANDATE: COVID Mask mandate (“the yoke of a mask mandate” imposed by “fiats” and “diktats,” enforced by “whispering informants”) may violate Florida’s right to privacy. Green v. Alachua County, 1D20-1661 (6/11/21)

MASK MANDATE (DISSENT): “The majority’s conclusion that ‘a person reasonably can expect not to be forced by the government to put something on his own face against his will’ completely fails to consider the circumstances in which the right is asserted, i.e., that the mask mandate was Alachua County’s response to ‘a clear and present threat to the lives, health, welfare, and safety’ of its people posed by a contagious, airborne virus during a global pandemic. The majority’s decision to ignore the circumstances in which Appellant asserts the right of privacy renders its analysis fatally flawed.” Green v. Alachua County, 1D20-1661 (6/11/21)

EVIDENCE-AUTHENTICATION: Screenshots of Facebook messages are admissible. Authentication for the purpose of admission is a relatively low threshold that only requires a prima facie showing that the proffered evidence is authentic. HEARSAY: Journal in which victim writes about abuse, composed after her motivation to fabricate first existed (she wanted to move out of the Defendant's home), is not admissible as a prior consistent statement to rebut an inference of recent fabrication. ARGUMENT: State's argument emphasizing victim's vulnerability to exploitation, supported by the evidence, is proper. Because an attorney is allowed to assist the jury in analyzing, evaluating, and

TRESPASS-LESSER INCLUDED-JOA: Where juvenile was charged with burglary after being found inside a fenced area and having admitted that he intended to steal a beach cruiser, the Court improperly finds him guilty of the lesser trespass in absence of any evidence that the fence was at least three feet tall. a permissive lesser included offense is only appropriate where the elements are included in the accusatory pleading and sustained by the evidence. S.S. v. State, 2D19-2464 (6/11/21)

Borden v. United State, No. 19–5410 (US S.Ct. 6/10/21)

ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT: Offenses with a mens rea of recklessness do not qualify as violent felonies under the ACCA violent felony enhancement. An offense qualifies as a violent felony under the elements clause only if it has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person of another. If any—even the least culpable—of the acts criminalized do not entail that kind of force, the statute of conviction does not categorically match the federal standard, and so cannot serve as an ACCA predicate. Tennessee’s reckless aggravated assault is not a predicate offense. Borden v. United State, No. 19–5410 (US S.Ct. 6/10/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-5410_8nj9.pdf

MENS REA: The four mens rea states of mind under criminal law, in descending order of culpability, are: purpose, knowledge, recklessness, and negligence. A person acts purpose fully when he consciously desires a particular result. He acts knowingly when he is aware that a result is practically certain to follow from his conduct, whatever his affirmative desire. A person acts recklessly, in the most common formulation, when he consciously disregards a substantial and unjustifiable risk attached to his conduct, in gross deviation from accepted standards. A person acts negligently if he is not but should be aware of such a substantial and unjustifiable risk, again in gross deviation from the norm. Borden v. APPELLATE COUNSEL-INEFFECTIVENESS: Appellate counsel is not ineffective for failing to add federal citations to his sufficiency of his arguments. INEFFECTIVE APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel was not ineffective for failing to argue fundamental error related to how the aggravated assault jury instruction, which included an objective standard instruction, addressed the victim's fear. Although the appropriateness of instructing the jury on an objective standard in circumstances where the victim of aggravated assault testifies of having not been afraid doesn't appear to have been directly litigated before in Florida, failing to raise a novel fundamental error argument on appeal is not ineffectiveness. Earven v. State, 1D19-3927 (6/4/21)

ASSAULT-FEAR-OBJECTIVE STANDARD (CONCURRENCE):

Allowing proof of only objective fear appears to be contrary to the statutory definition of assault which requires both that the fear be objectively reasonable and the act of the defendant creates a well-founded fear in such other person. If the victim does not testify, circumstantial evidence can prove the subjective fear. But if the victim testifies that he or she was not afraid, and there is no evidence to the contrary, there is a good argument that the assault charge should not go to the jury. Earven v. State, 1D19-3927 (6/4/21)

VOP-JURISDICTION-TOLLING: When a term of supervision expires before an affidavit of violation is filed, the trial court lacks jurisdiction to revoke supervision. The tolling periods that occur between the filing of earlier affidavits and the court's rulings on them do not automatically operate to extend probation term past the original term. Where Court did not extend the end date of supervision when reinstating probation, tolling does not come into play. Vop dismissed.

ANDERS BRIEF: The standard for a no-merits Anders brief is not the inability to find a meritorious argument that the trial court committed significant reversible error. Appellate counsel must master the trial record, thoroughly research the law, and exercise judgment in identifying the arguments that may be advanced on appeal, and then may file an Anders Brief only after such an evaluation has led counsel to the conclusion that the appeal is wholly frivolous. “This is not the first time I have seen this misstatement of the Anders standard. . . . Hopefully, it will be the last. If it isn't, perhaps the next time a lawyer repeats this erroneous notion in a representation to our court, our court should request that lawyer's appearance—in court—to explain why that misapprehension persists.” Earven v. FIREARMS-TEMPORARY INJUNCTION FOR STALKING: A court has no authority to prohibit a person from possessing firearms or ammunition upon the issuance of a temporary injunction for protection against stalking. VOP: Due process is violated in VOP hearing where Defendant is not put on notice that he should prepare for both sentencing and to contest the alleged violations of probation on their merits at the COMPUTER FRAUD: Former police sergeant who ran a license-plate search in a law enforcement computer database in exchange for money did not violate the Computer Fraud and Abuse Act of 1986 (CFAA). Statute only criminalizes accessing particular areas in the computer—such as files, folders, or databases—to which the users’ access does not extend, not to users who have improper motives for obtaining information that is otherwise available to them. DOUBLE JEOPARDY-MISTRIAL: Where Defendant asks for a continuance after the jury is thrown based on a discovery violation (newly disclosed 911 calls) and court dismisses the jury, a new trial violates double jeopardy. Absent the defendant's motion for a mistrial or express consent, the court may only declare a mistrial on its own or a prosecution motion if, after an assiduous inquiry, there is a manifest necessity to do so. Defendant's failure to object to the mistrial is not an implicit waiver of the defendant's constitutional rights. "Defense counsel's duty. . .is to represent the interests of his client within the bounds of the law—not to safeguard the State's right of prosecution." State v. Jones, 3D19-1939 (6/2/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: The policy importance of double jeopardy protection includes considerations that "[e]ven if the first trial is not completed, a second prosecution may be grossly unfair. It increases the financial and emotional burden on the accused, prolongs the period in which he is stigmatized by an unresolved accusation of wrongdoing, and may even enhance the risk that an innocent defendant may be convicted. . .Consequently, as a general rule, the prosecutor is entitled to one, and only one, opportunity to require an accused to stand trial." POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to convey a plea offer. Defendant's expressions of his desire to proceed to trial do not render his claims inherently incredible. Lewis v. State, 4D20-2093 (6/2/21)

INVESTIGATIVE SUBPOENA-MEDICAL RECORDS: State is entitled to an investigative subpoena for medical records of (1) any toxicology reports; (2) any records containing Defendant's admissions to consumption; and (3) any records containing descriptions of his physical appearance and/or impaired physical and mental state in DUI accident case where legal blood draw showed indications of unlawful substances. DOMESTIC BATTERY: Defendant's conviction on charge of battery (domestic) must not be converted from simple battery where the jury instruction did not include an instruction regarding whether the victim was a "family or household member" of Appellant. IMMIGRATION-HEARING-CREDIBILITY: A reviewing court need not treat a petitioning alien's testimony as credible and true in the absence of an explicit adverse credibility determination by an immigration judge or the Board of Immigration Appeals. It does not matter whether the agency accepts all, none, or some of the alien's testimony, its reasonable findings may not be disturbed. The statutory rebuttable presumption of credibility on appeal does not apply to appeals to Article III courts, only to appeals from the Immigration Judge to the Bureau of Immigration Appeals. A presumption of credibility may arise in some appeals before the BIA, but no such presumption applies in antecedent proceedings. Garland v. Ming Dai, No. 19–1155 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/1/21)

APPEAL: A certificate of appealability is required when a federal prisoner obtains relief through a postconviction motion and appeals the decision to correct only the illegal sentence instead of performing a full resentencing. The sentencing-package doctrine does not require resentencing on all counts when only the Armed Career criminal enhancement is vacated. Unless a circuit justice or judge issues a certificate of appealability, an appeal may not be taken to the court of appeals from the final order in a proceeding under 28 U.S.C. §2253.

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court must allow a defendant one opportunity to amend a facially insufficient motion or claim within sixty days. By ordering the State to respond at the same time as it granted Defendant an opportunity to amend, and not advising him of the insufficiencies of the original motion, the Court failed to give Defendant the required opportunity to amend. BRIBERY: Bribery under 18 U.S.C. §666 does not have an “official act” element, unlike bribery under 18 U.S.C. §201. Lobbyists who hire a state congressman to use his position to influence other lawmakers to thwart an EPA clean up project commit the crime of bribery. The nature and timing of the payments, the secret recording of meetings, the routing of these payments through a charitable foundation, the nondisclosure of the payments, and the failure of the parties to inform the EPA or other agencies of their financial relationship support the inference that the payments were made with a corrupt state of mind. COMPASSIONATE RELEASE: Court abused its discretion in denying Defendant’s motion for compassionate release based on this prisoners’ high risk for COVID-19; his obesity, high blood pressure, and latent tuberculosis which put him at a high risk of death from COVID; and intervening court decisions which would have exempted him from career offender enhancement. Court abuses its discretion if it fails to consider §3553(a) factors on a motion for compassionate release. “If we cannot tell whether a district court weighed the relevant factors, then we cannot tell whether it abused its discretion.” USA v. UNLAWFUL REENTRY: Defendant is properly convicted of unlawful reentry notwithstanding that he had been deported based on a felony DUI conviction which was erroneously considered to be an aggravated felony. An alien may not challenge the validity of the deportation order unless the alien demonstrates that (1) he exhausted any administrative remedies, (2) the deportation proceedings has improperly deprived the alien of the opportunity for judicial review; and (3) the entry of the order was fundamentally unfair. to Mexico the next day. Defendants charged with unlawful reentry may not challenge their underlying removal orders unless they demonstrate that all three conditions are met. United States v. Palomar-Santiago, No. 20-437 (U.S. S.Ct. 4/24/21)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: A defendant may not appeal from an order denying a downward departure motion unless the defendant alleges that the trial court misunderstood its discretion or that the court had a blanket policy to refuse to exercise that discretion. Holton v. State, 1D19-2809 (5/24/21)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Defendant may not appeal a sentencing error (here, failure to make written finding to explain why he posed a danger to the community under the violent felony offender of special concern statute) absent a contemporary objection or motion to correct. Holton v. State, 1D19-2809 (5/24/21)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Electronic search conditions may be imposed on those non-sex offenders, such as those who frequently recidivate, or habitually violate their conditions of supervised release, in a manner that poses a danger to others, regardless whether it relates directly to the offense of conviction (here, possession of firearm by a felon). USA v. Taylor, No. 20-10742 (11th Cir. 5/21/21)

APPEAL-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Appellate court may not review Court's denial of a request for downward departure where the Court engaged in an appropriate analysis of the factors involved in exercising its discretion. Conflict Certified. Forsythe v. State, 1D20-781 (5/21/21)

PRETRIAL RELEASE-GPS MONITOR: Court properly exercised its discretion in denying Defendant's Motion to delete the GPS condition of pretrial release based on its excessive costs. Frederick v. State, 2D20-2768 (5/21/21)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES: The lowest-permissible sentence is an individual minimum sentence where there are multiple convictions subject to sentencing on a single scoresheet. Gabriel v. State, 5D18-

PLEA-DEPORTATION CONSEQUENCES: The equivocal immigration warning given to Defendant by the trial court at the change of plea hearing that Defendant (a DACA resident) “could” be deported or denied citizenship if he was not a United States citizen, when coupled with Defendant’s acknowledgement of the potential adverse immigration consequences from his plea, was sufficient, under the circumstances of the case, to refute his claim of prejudice because any adverse immigration or deportation consequences to Defendant resulting from his plea were not truly clear at the time of the plea. It is unclear that tampering with a witness is a crime of moral turpitude requiring mandatory deportation. Ramirez v. State, 5D20-1824 (5/21/21)

PLEA-DEPORTATION CONSEQUENCES-COUNSEL: Defense counsel has a duty to inquire of Defendant’s immigration or citizenship status prior to tendering a plea. Counsel who testified that, as a common practice, he no longer asks his clients about their citizenship because of a ‘bad experience’ he had years earlier provides ineffective assistance of counsel. A criminal defense attorney representing a client charged with a felony should make a reasonable inquiry as to the immigration or citizenship status of his or her client. Otherwise, counsel will not be in an adequate position to provide effective guidance or advice to the client regarding the potential immigration consequences of his or her guilty or no contest plea. But, on the facts, no prejudice shown here. Ramirez v. State, 5D20-1824 (5/21/21)

PLEA-DEPORTATION CONSEQUENCES: When the law is not succinct and straightforward, a criminal defense attorney need do no more than advise a noncitizen client that pending criminal charges may carry adverse immigration consequences. But when the deportation consequence is truly clear, the duty to give correct advice is equally clear. Ramirez v. State, 5D20-1824 (5/21/21)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: There exists no fundamental error exception to the requirement that Defendant to file a motion to withdraw the plea in the trial court before appealing an involuntary plea. Defendant cannot appeal the voluntariness of his plea based on the Court having failed to hold competency hearing without first moving to withdraw the plea. State v. Dortch, SC18-681 (5/20/21)

COMPETENCY: While defense counsel's views about a defendant's competence are important, courts need not accept without question a lawyer's representation concerning the competence of his client. Mere assertions of defense counsel, without more, do not trigger a defendant's constitutional right to competency proceedings. Counsel's unelaborated representation that Defendant may be incompetent, undercut by other facts, A trial court's decision to order a psychological evaluation may not create a constitutional entitlement to a competency hearing. State v. Dortch, SC18-681 (5/20/21)

FIRST STEP ACT: A motion for sentence reduction brought under the First Step Act need not be paired with a request for relief under §3582(c)(1)(B) because the First Step Act is self-contained and self-executing. A district court may, but is not required to, consider the §3553(a) factors in deciding whether to exercise its discretion and reduce a sentence under the First Step Act. Court is not required to reduce probationary term provided it gives some basis, even if cursory for its decision. USA v. Potts, No. 19-12061 (5/19/21)

FIRST STEP-SENTENCE REDUCTION: The First Step Act does not require that the district court consider the §3553(a) sentencing factors when exercising its discretion to reduce a sentence under section 404(b) of the First Step Act, but the district court's decision, however must allow for meaningful by providing a sufficient explanation for its ruling denying a reduction. A bare bones order that solely denies or grants a sentence reduction without more is insufficient to allow for meaningful appellate review. Here, explanation was inadequate. Remanded.

FIRST STEP ACT: Eligibility for a sentence reduction under the First Step Act is based on the statute of conviction, not on the defendant's actual conduct. The district court should consider only whether the quantity of crack cocaine satisfied the specific drug quantity elements in §841. Any actual amount of drugs involved in the defendant's offense beyond the amount related to his statutory penalty is not relevant to his eligibility. USA v. Stevens, No. 19-12858 (11th Cir. 5/19/21)

SASQUATCH DEFENSE: The theory behind the outrageous government conduct defense is that if a defendant can show that the law enforcement techniques used violate fundamental fairness shocking to the universal sense of justice, prosecution should be barred. Outrageous conduct is only a potential defense because neither the Supreme Court nor this Court has ever found it to actually apply. "Like the fabled creature Sasquatch, this defense has entered the common consciousness and is mentioned from time to time. Some claim to have caught fleeting glimpses of it in the remote backwoods of the law, but its actual existence has never been confirmed." USA v. Castaneda, No. 19-12623 (11th Cir. 5/19/21)

of the fictional child, undercover cop's referral to an email account which he hacked to find child porn is not the sort of outrageous government conduct warranting dismissal. Law enforcement's generic sting operation of posting a Craigslist ad and communicating with Defendant about his desire to abuse a child are commonplace, common sense tactics. "The hunt for Sasquatch will have to continue in another case." USA v. Castaneda, No. 19-12623 (11th Cir. 5/19/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Evidence of child pornography on Defendant's computer, found by third parties who turned computers over to the FBI, is not suppressible. The Fourth Amendment is wholly inapplicable to a search or seizure, even an unreasonable one, effected by a private individual not acting as an agent of the Government or with the participation or knowledge of any governmental official. Law enforcement agents may use in an application for a search warrant information that is given to them by a private party even if that private party unlawfully obtained the information. USA v. Castaneda, No. 19-12623 (11th Cir. 5/19/21)

EVIDENCE: Defendant charged with attempted enticement of a minor to engage in unlawful sexual activity who testified at trial that he just role playing an online fantasy and that, once he came to believe that there was a real child in danger, his intent in traveling cross country was to rescue the child, may not invoke the Fifth Amendment when asked about the child porn on his computer. A defendant who takes the stand in his own behalf cannot then claim the privilege against cross-examination on matters reasonably related to the subject matter of his direct examination. USA v. Castaneda, No. 19-12623 (11th Cir. 5/19/21)

EVIDENCE-EXPERT: Court properly excluded as irrelevant a defense expert prepared to testify that statements made over the internet cannot be reliably taken at face value. USA v. Castaneda, No. 19-12623 (11th Cir. 5/19/21)

SENTENCE-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: 35 year sentence is not substantively unreasonable for Defendant who had claimed experience in incest, pedophilia and grooming, starting with a four year old child, “[A]lthough we do not automatically presume that a sentence within the guidelines range is reasonable, we ordinarily expect it to be.” The fact that the average person would likely say a reasonable sentence for Defendant would be torture, disembowelment, then hanging and that life behind bars would be a living hell does not render the sentence substantively unreasonable.

“The low esteem in which pedophiles are held inside and outside prison walls results from their having sexually abused children. There is no requirement that a sex predator be given dispensation in sentencing because of what he brings on himself by choosing to prey on children.” USA v. Castaneda, No. 19-12623 (11th Cir. 5/19/21)

FIREARM ENHANCEMENT: Defendant is subject to the four-level enhancement for using or possessing a firearm or ammunition in connection with another felony for agreeing to sell heroin and a firearm to a CI, but not actually delivering the firearm until a later date. USA v. Jackson, No. 19-14883 (11th Cir. 5/18/21)

SENTENCING-PROCEDURAL UNREASONABLENESS: Miscalculating the guidelines range is procedural unreasonableness. USA v. Jackson, No. 19-14883 (11th Cir. 5/18/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201914883.pdf>

USA v. Garcon, No. 19-14650 (11th Cir. 5/18/21)

SAFETY VALVE: The “and” in the Safety Valve provision is disjunctive, not conjunctive. A Defendant is disqualified from safety valve relief if he meets any one of the three subsections of §3553(f)(1) or, in other words, if he had any of (1) more than four criminal history points, excluding any points resulting from one-point offenses; (2) a prior three-point offense; and (3) a prior two-point violent offense. Defendant is disqualified from safety valve relief because he had a prior three-point offense. USA v. Garcon, No. 19-14650 (11th Cir. 5/18/21)

APPELLATE COUNSEL-CRITICISM: Appellate counsel criticized. “Importantly, however, Garcon does not address the canon against surplusage, which carries the day in our analysis.” USA v. Garcon, No. 19-14650 (11th Cir. 5/18/21)

CONJUNCTIVE NEGATIVE PROOF CANON: With the conjunctive negative proof, you must prove that you did not do all of the listed things. “The fact that the conjunctive negative proof canon has only been considered by courts twice does not invalidate it, but it does mean that we must ensure that our application of the canon is consistent with common English usage.” USA v. Garcon, No. 19-14650 (11th Cir. 5/18/21)

RETROACTIVITY: The Ramos jury-unanimity rule does not apply retroactively on federal collateral review. A decision announcing a new rule of criminal procedure does not apply retroactively on federal collateral review. The exception to this non-retroactive principle--that the new rule be a watershed change of law--no longer exists. “In practice, the exception has been theoretical, not real.” “[H]ow can any additional new rules of criminal procedure apply retroactively on federal collateral review? At this point. . .we think the only candid answer is that none can—that is, no new rules of criminal procedure can satisfy the watershed exception. . .Continuing to articulate a theoretical exception that never actually applies in practice offers false hope to defendants, distorts the law, misleads judges, and wastes the resources of defense counsel, prosecutors, and courts. . .The watershed exception is moribund.” Edwards v. Vannoy, No. 19-5807 (US S.Ct. 5/17/21)

QUOTATION (J. Gorsuch): “Sometimes this Court leaves a door ajar and holds out the possibility that someone, someday might walk through it—though no one ever has or, in truth, ever will. . .Today, the Court candidly admits what has been long apparent: Teague held out a ‘false hope’ and the time has come to close its door.” Edwards v. Vannoy, No. 19-5807 (US S.Ct. 5/17/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-5807_new2_jhek.pdf

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-5807_new2_jhek.pdf

STARE DECISIS-WATERSHED (J. KAGAN, DISSENTING): “Now that Ramos is the law, stare decisis is on its side. I take the decision on its own terms, and give it all the consequence it deserves. Put all that together, and it is easy to see why the opinions in Ramos read as historic. Rarely does this Court make such a fundamental change in the rules thought necessary to ensure fair criminal process. If you were scanning a thesaurus for a single word to describe the decision, you would stop when you came to ‘watershed.’” Edwards v. Vannoy, No. 19-5807 (US S.Ct. 5/17/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-5807_new2_jhek.pdf

STARE DECISIS-(J. KAGAN, DISSENTING): “[T]he majority breaks a core judicial rule: respect for precedent. Stare decisis is a foundation stone of the rule of law. . . .To reverse course, we insist on compelling reasons, thorough explanation, and careful attention to competing interests. But not here. The majority crawls under, rather than leaps over, the stare decisis bar. . . . Seldom has this Court so casually, so off-handedly, tossed aside precedent. Edwards v. Vannoy, No. 19-5807 (US S.Ct. 5/17/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-5807_new2_jhek.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officer’s “caretaking” duties do not create a standalone doctrine that justifies warrantless searches and seizures of a home. Officers unlawfully entered the home of the subject who had been taken from his porch to go to the hospital for a psychiatric evaluation after threatening suicide and violence. Caniglia v. Strom, No. 20-157 (U.S. S.Ct, 5/17/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/20-157_8mjp.pdf

CHILD HEARSAY: Child hearsay, where the Child did not testify at trial nor recant her statement, is sufficient to sustain the Defendant’s conviction for child molestation. Godbold v. State, 1D20-1127 (5/18/21)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Defendant may not be held without bond for making a written threat to kill or cause bodily harm on the ground that law enforcement officers (against whom the threat was made) can qualify as a “judicial officer” for the purpose of the pretrial detention statute (§907.041(4)(c)2). “Judicial officer” does not include a law enforcement officers acting outside of the confines of a courthouse and direction of a judge. Daniel v. State, 5D21-237 (5/19/21)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: A pillowcase filled with synthetic marijuana on the passenger seat is not within Defendant’s ready reach where Defendant is outside the car leaning in under the hood with the car radio playing and thus was not in actual or constructive possession of it. Defendant did not have exclusive possession of the car. “Someone who owned the car may have given Melton the key so he could open the car and work on it. Even if Melton had been in possession of the key, with the key in the ignition and the door open, anyone on the premises could have had access to the car.” Melton v.

SENTENCING-CLARIFICATION: Where County has program allowing jail to place inmates on electronic monitoring in lieu of keeping them in jail, provided court does not prohibit it, and the jail so places the Defendant, Court may not clarify the earlier sentence by remanding the Defendant to the jail. Operation of the county jail is within the province of the executive and legislative branches of government, not the judicial branch. Sentencing courts wholly lack authority to direct the treatment and placement of prisoners serving sentences. The trial court. . . simply was not empowered to interfere with or countermand [Defendant]’s assignment to the electronic monitoring program.” Alqawasmeh v. State, 2D20-1979 (5/14/21)
https://www.2dca.org/content/download/741977/opinion/201979_DC13_05142021_083534_i.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: Blood draw in DUI manslaughter case is illegally obtained where Defendant refused voluntary blood draw and Officers did not try to obtain a warrant. Drunk driving investigations are not per se exigencies excusing the warrant requirement because the body’s natural metabolization of alcohol results in the loss of critical evidence simply with the passage of time. No good faith exception to the warrant requirement exists. Dusan v. State, 5D19-2987 (5/14/21)

GUIDELINES-“SEXUAL ACTIVITY”: Sexual activity for the purposes of guideline enhancement does not require actual or attempted physical contact between two persons. Neither does “sexual abuse or exploitation” under §2G2.2(b)(5) of the Sentencing Guidelines. Five-level enhancement under U.S.S.G. §§2252(a)(2) & 2252(a)(4)(B) for distribution and possession of child pornography is lawful if the activity would support a criminal charge. USA v. Dominguez, No. 19-11378 (5/13/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911378.pdf>

GUIDELINES-“SEXUAL ACTIVITY”-ENHANCEMENT: Sending a nine-year-old girl a photo of one’s penis and asking her for naked pictures subject one to the §2422(b) five-level enhancement only if the acts constitute “sexual activity for which any person can be charged with a criminal offense.” Because Court did not make a finding that the act of asking a minor to send him naked pictures would subject him to criminal prosecution, the case is remanded for the Court to make the required finding. USA v. Dominguez, No. 19-11378 (5/13/21)

DEFINITION-“SEXUAL ACTIVITY”: Thorough discussion on the meaning of “sexual activity,” including citations to Black’s Law Dictionary, Webster’s Third New International Dictionary, Shorter Oxford English Dictionary, The American Heritage Steadman’s Medical Dictionary, The New Encyclopedia Britannica, II Bouvier Law Dictionary, The American Heritage Dictionary of the English Language, Garner’s Modern American Usage, and Webster’s New World College Dictionary. Includes a suggestion that the term implies brisk or vigorous action. Concern that a broad definition would criminalize pole dancing is discounted. USA v. Dominguez, No. 19-11378 (5/13/21)

FIRST STEP ACT: The First Step Act is self-contained and self-executing, such that a defendant can proceed under it directly rather than pursuant to §3582(c)(1)(B). USA v. Edwards, No. 19-13366 (11th Cir. 5/13/21)

FIRST STEP ACT: A district court has the authority under the First Step Act to impose a new term of supervised release on a First Step Act movant, provided that it reduces the movant’s overall sentence. Defendant whose life sentence is reduced under the First Step Act to 262 months may have imposed upon him eight years of supervised release not previously ordered. USA v. Edwards, No. 19-13366 (11th Cir. 5/13/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel presented testimony from forty four witnesses at the penalty phase hearing, leading to a finding of nearly two dozen mitigating circumstances was not unprepared for sentencing. Sanchez-Torres v. State, SC19-211 (5/13/21)

that render eligibility for death. Sanchez-Torres v. State, SC19-211 (5/13/21)

JUROR NONDISCLOSURE: To prevail on a standalone postconviction claim of juror misconduct for failing to provide information during voir dire, the defendant must establish two prongs: first, that the juror failed “to answer honestly a material question on voir dire, and second, that the juror was actually biased against the defendant. A mistaken but honest answer to a question—either because the juror mistakenly believed his answer was correct or because the question was unclear—will not warrant postconviction relief. Juror’s familial connection to Defendant—brought to her attention by family members during break in voir dire—do not show dishonesty. Boyd v. State, SC20-108 (5/13/21)

JUROR-BIAS: A preconceived notion does not necessarily remove a juror’s ability to be impartial, particularly where the juror declares that she can lay aside her impression or opinion and render a verdict based on the evidence. Boyd v. State, SC20-108 (5/13/21)

WRIT OF PROHIBITION: Only actions which are judicial or quasi-judicial in nature, not legislative, executive or administrative actions, may be restrained by writ of prohibition. Burns v. State, 1D20-3531 (5/13/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for capital sexual battery by a person in familial or custodial authority and lewd or lascivious molestation, based on a single act, do not violate double jeopardy. Warren v. State, 1D19-2706 (5/12/21)

PRIOR CONSISTENT STATEMENT: Witness's earlier statement to a friend that Defendant admitted having just killed someone in a robbery is admissible where the defense's questions suggested that law enforcement improperly influenced the witness's testimony through implied threats and improper coaching. Prior consistent statements are admissible as non-hearsay when the person who made the statement testifies at trial, is subject to cross-examination, and the statement is offered to rebut an express or implied charge of improper influence, motive, or recent fabrication, and was made before the existence of a fact said to indicate bias, interest, corruption, or other motive to falsify. Bagley v. State, 1D19-2706 (5/12/21)

EVIDENCE: Evidence that a law enforcement officer had contact with Defendant during a traffic stop before the burglary is admissible where the video of the burglary showed a red Dodge Charger and an officer had stopped Defendant driving that red Dodge Charger a few weeks earlier. Relevant evidence will not be excluded merely because it relates to similar facts which point to the commission of a separate crime. The balancing of probative value and prejudice is generally struck in favor of admissibility. Pendergrass v. State, 1D20-645 (5/12/21)

PRETRIAL RELEASE-FILED CHARGE: If between the filing of the motion for release and the hearing the state files an information or an indictment, the Defendant is not entitled to release on recognizance.

RECKLESS DRIVING: Driving 94 MPH on a 40 MPH road (four lanes, divided median) is not reckless driving. Reckless driving occurs when a person drives any vehicle in willful or wanton disregard for the safety of persons or property. When the State proves only that a defendant drove carelessly, it is insufficient to prove reckless driving under the statute. To be considered reckless driving, the defendant must have engaged in intentional conduct demonstrating a conscious disregard of a likelihood of death or injury. Speeding by itself is insufficient to prove recklessness. Harris v. State, 2D19-4266 (5/12/21)

JUROR-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Court improperly disallowed Defendant's peremptory strike on the basis of the explanation that the juror's payment of a traffic ticket suggested that he wanted to curry favor with the police. While the stated rationale may have been feeble, it was facially race-neutral. The court must focus not on the reasonableness of the explanation but rather its genuineness. New trial required where the record does not support the trial court's determination that the proffered reason for exercising its peremptory strike was not genuine. Steps for asserting and justifying a potentially race-based peremptory challenge laid out. Brannon v. State, 3D20-175 (5/12/21)

SPEEDY TRIAL: COVID suspension of speedy trial rights extends to the filing of formal charges. Suspending all speedy trial procedures, including investigatory time periods, advances the specified goal of ensuring compliance with mitigation measures.

JUVENILE-DISPOSITION ORDER: Disposition orders must note the time Child spent in secure detention before disposition and list the statutory maximum for each offense. Disposition Order saying that Child would be committed for an indeterminate period no longer than his twenty-first birthday or the maximum term of imprisonment is legally insufficient. N.J.P. v. State, 4D20-1645 (5/12/21)

COSTS: Court may not impose heightened prosecution costs and public defender fees without making factual findings to justify those costs. Juveniles are assessed prosecution costs under the same statute as adult defendants. N.J.P. v. State, 4D20-1645 (5/12/21) https://www.4dca.org/content/download/741509/opinion/201645_DC08_05122021_095621_i.pdf

PUBLIC DEFENDER-WITHDRAWAL: Court departed from the essential requirements of law in denying the Public Defender's motion to withdraw. Defendant's potential incompetency to proceed in this criminal case does not equate to a lack of capacity to consent to the substitution of counsel. "[W]e are not aware of any authority holding that private counsel may not be substituted for the Public Defender on behalf of a potentially incompetent, yet not indigent, defendant. Thus, the only issue for the circuit court to decide is whether the defendant is competent to proceed with counsel, whomever that counsel may be." Law Office of the Public Defender v. DISCOVERY: State commits a discovery violation by announcing mid-trial that it was redesignating the defendant's wife from a Category "C" witness to a Category "A" witness, but any error in failing to conduct a Richardson hearing is harmless where the witness was not called. State claimed that the re-designation was not a ploy to force her removal from the courtroom. Moon v. State, 4D19-3002 (5/12/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-HEARSAY: Defendant is not deprived of Due Process by application of state hearsay rules in post-conviction hearings where he could have called the witnesses to testify directly. Broadnax v. Commissioner, Alabama DOC, No. 20-12600 (11th Cir. 5/7/21)

SENTENCE REDUCTION: Defendant may request a sentence reduction only for “extraordinary and compelling reasons,” as defined by the Sentencing Guideline policies of 1B1.13. The Sentencing Commission’s definition of “extraordinary and compelling reasons” binds district courts. To apply 1B1.13, a court simply considers a defendant’s specific circumstances, decides if he is dangerous, and determines if his circumstances meet any of the four reasons that could make him eligible for a reduction. USA v. Bryant, No. 19-14267 (11th Cir. 5/7/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201914267.pdf>

SENTENCE REDUCTION: “In other words, determining whether something is an ‘applicable guideline’ under the Sentencing Guidelines is resolved based on the statutory provision at issue and nothing else.” The phrase “[u]pon motion of the Director of the Bureau of Prisons” is prefatory, not operative. Defendant may apply for a sentence reduction himself, but only for reasons listed in 1B1.13. USA v. Bryant, No. 19-14267 (11th Cir. 5/7/21)

SENTENCE REDUCTION: The unfairness of one’s sentence is not an extraordinary and compelling reason warranting a reduction. USA v. Bryant, No. 19-14267 (11th Cir. 5/7/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201914267.pdf>

CRIMINAL MISCHIEF: Child's fingerprints on a damaged door is insufficient evidence of criminal mischief to survive a motion for judgment of dismissal. Where fingerprints are found on an item or property that is available to the public and the defendant presents a reasonable hypothesis of innocence, fingerprint evidence alone is insufficient to sustain a conviction. A fingerprint left in a location accessible by the public, without more, is insufficient to establish the identity of the culprit. S.S. v. State, 219-2572 (5/7/21)

JURY INSTRUCTION-JUSTIFIABLE USE OF DEADLY FORCE:

Court committed fundamental error by instructing jury that Defendant is not entitled to use deadly force after attempting to purchase cocaine, or unlawfully carrying a concealed weapon. Only forcible felonies—which these are not—precludes Defendant from asserting justifiable use of deadly force. Peruchi v. State, 2D19-3535 (5/7/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: A police officer may arrest and then search a person violating a criminal municipal ordinance in front of him, but not for a non-criminal violation of ordinance. The offense is criminal if jail is a possible sentence. State v. Coleman, 2D19-4481 (5/7/21)

APPELLATE COUNSEL-INEFFECTIVENESS: Appellate counsel was ineffective for not preserving the issue that Defendant (with 18 points on his scoresheet) was illegally sentenced to prison because Court made no dangerousness findings. Appellate counsel should have filed a R.3.800(b)(2) motion to correct sentence that under R.9.141(d). Lamberson v. State, 2D20-2085 (5/7/21)

BOND: Where Defendant violated conditions of pretrial release (leaving home twice while on electronically monitored house arrest), defendant forfeits his right to continued release under the original bond, but does not forfeit altogether his constitutional right to pretrial release. A trial court's authority to hold the defendant without any bond is circumscribed by the provisions of section §907.041, which includes the right to a written motion for detention, a hearing and findings of fact and conclusions of law. Orfelia v. Junior, 3D21-1052 (5/7/21)

HABITUAL OFFENDER: To qualify as a habitual offender, one must have two sequential convictions. Defendant has three, one of which Defendant was sentenced on earlier and separately and two others for which he was sentenced simultaneously. Defendant's belief that neither of the two simultaneous convictions can serve as predicates for his habitualization is wrong. Of the two simultaneous convictions, one of them counts and the other does not. Jerry v. State, 5D20-1447 (5/7/21)

JUROR-REMOVAL: Judge abused discretion by removing a juror who expressed, after the start of deliberations, that the Holy Spirit told him that Defendant was not guilty but who repeatedly assured the judge that he was following the jury instructions and basing his decision on the evidence admitted at trial. Juror's statements about receiving divine guidance are not categorically disqualifying. A juror may be excused only when the Court determines to the utmost certainty that a juror has refused to base his verdict on the law as instructed and the evidence admitted at trial. USA v. JUROR-CHALLENGE-CAUSE: Juror who initially expressed a CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Trotter should be receded from and the harmless error standard used henceforth when considering an erroneously denied cause challenge. It should not be presumed that the error injuriously affected the substantial rights of the Defendant. The loss of a peremptory challenge because of an erroneously denied cause challenge to a prospective juror is not per se reversible error. Deviney v. State, SC17-2231 (5/6/21)

JUROR-MISCONDUCT-NON-DISCLOSURE: The fact that Juror failed to disclose in voir dire that the he had a juvenile delinquency adjudication for sexual battery and that his grandmother and uncle had murdered his grandfather does not entitle Defendant to a new trial. To establish the requisite prejudice in the postconviction context for juror's non-disclosure, the challenger must establish that the juror's misconduct resulted in the defendant being denied his constitutional right to an impartial jury by proving actual juror bias against the defendant. JUROR-MISCONDUCT-NON-DISCLOSURE: In postconviction cases raising stand alone juror misconduct claims, an evidentiary hearing will sometimes be needed to determine whether a juror was intentionally dishonest and, if so, whether the defendant can prove actual bias. CONFRONTATION: Defendant is not deprived of his right to confront the victim by exclusion of evidence of an earlier purportedly false report of sexual assault by the victim, allegedly invented to deflect from the crime at issue, where it is not clear that the earlier false report was indeed false and there were marked dissimilarities and lack of logical connection Evidence properly excluded when the only value in admitting the proffered evidence would have been to establish that because the victim lied previously, she was more likely to have lied in the instant case. COMPETENCY: Court's order finding the Defendant competent to proceed, entered before the expert's evaluation was filed, is improper because the Order could not have been based on the report itself but rather must have been based on counsel's representation about it. A requirement of a proper competency hearing is that the trial court actually review the expert's report. McNeill v. State, 5D19-1528 (5/6/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-REASONABLE SUSPICION: Officers had reasonable suspicion to stop Defendant's car and conduct an investigatory Terry stop where they knew that a social security number associated with a different fugitive had been used to connect a utility service at the house Defendant had just left. Given that the stop was in the pre-dawn hours, the officers possessed an objective, reasonable suspicion that any man leaving the house was either the fugitive, or as a resident of the house, may have known the fugitive and his whereabouts. An investigatory stop of a vehicle does not require a traffic violation. USA v. Gonzalez-Zea, No. 19-11131 (11th Cir. 4/30/21) that he saw his father hurt or harm his mother (who disappeared and whose body was found by the now-grown child buried in the back yard two decades later) is not hearsay if the declarant testifies at trial and is subject to cross-examination and is admissible as an identification of person made after perceiving the person. Argument that the statement was not admissible as a statement of identification because it was an accusatory narrative was not challenged on this ground in the trial court and therefore was not preserved. Haim v. State, 1D19-2094 (4/30/21)

LESSER INCLUDED-FIREARM: The use of a firearm is an element of burglary of a dwelling armed with a dangerous weapon, and is not simply added to enhance the available sentence. An offense without an element of a greater offense, but containing elements that are all subsumed by the greater offense, is a necessarily lesser included offense. Under this definition, "armed with a dangerous weapon" is an element of burglary of a dwelling armed with a dangerous weapon, and burglary of a dwelling is a lesser included offense. Louis v. State, 1D19-3958 (4/30/21)

RECLASSIFICATION: It is not clear that reclassification under §775.087(1) is permitted for burglary of a dwelling armed with a dangerous weapon/armed robbery because the reclassification statute may not be applied to an offense in which the use of a weapon or firearm is an essential element. As such, use of firearm does not enhance the offense. Louis v. State, 1D19-3958 (4/30/21)

KIDNAPPING: Unlike burglary of a dwelling armed with a dangerous weapon, kidnapping to facilitate commission of a felony does not contain an element regarding the use of a firearm or other weapon. Accordingly, the only reason the jury may be instructed to find whether Defendant “actually possessed” a firearm during the kidnapping, or whether he “carried, displayed, used, threatened to use, or attempted to use” a firearm during the kidnapping, was to permit enhanced sentencing under sections §§775.087(1) and (2)(a)1. Louis v. State, 1D19-3958 (4/30/21)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: Defendant must request return of property within 60 days of the “conclusion of the proceeding,” defined as the date the judgment and sentence became final without regard to subsequent postconviction proceedings. Bracht v. State, 1D20-147 (4/30/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/735167/opinion/200147_DC05_04302021_142729_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel’s decision not to seek a mistrial after jury saw Defendant’s shackles was a strategic decision. Simply because Defendant’s appearance before the jury in shackles was inherently prejudicial does not mean that his counsel’s decision not to seek a mistrial was deficient performance per se. Ferguson v. State, 1D20-1726 (4/30/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/735168/opinion/201726_DC05_04302021_142943_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Even if a witness was available to testify and counsel was deficient in not presenting his or her testimony during trial, counsel is not ineffective if that testimony would have been cumulative to other evidence presented, because such cumulative evidence removes a defendant’s ability to establish prejudice. Abney v. State, 1D20-2837 (4/30/21)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court erred in sentencing the Defendant to a below guidelines sentence for failure to register on the ground that "essentially, I'm saying this case isn't worth eight years." The trial court may consider nonstatutory mitigating factors only when the reason for such departure is consistent with the legislative sentencing policy. Carnes v. State, 2D20-201 (4/30/21)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Claims for out-of-state jail credit are not cognizable under rule 3.801; rather, they must be raised in a timely motion for postconviction relief under rule 3.850. Terrell v. State, 2D20-1407 (4/30/21)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: The term "county jail" applies only to Florida jails, not to various places of incarceration in other jurisdictions. When a prisoner is incarcerated in another state on charges unrelated to a Florida charge, that prisoner is not entitled to credit for time served in the other state. While R. 3.801 can be used only to seek jail credit for time spent in Florida jails before sentencing, a claim of entitlement to jail credit for time spent incarcerated in another state is cognizable in a rule 3.850 motion. IMMIGRATION-STOP-TIME RULE: The notice to appear under the immigration stop-time rule—any period of continuous presence in the United States shall be deemed to end when the alien is served a notice to appear—refers to a single document containing all the required information, not a mishmash of pieces with some assembly required. The government must issue a single statutorily compliant document to trigger the stop-time rule. Niz-Chavez v. Garland, Attorney General, No. 19–863 (U.S. S. Ct, 4/29/21)

DEFINITION- “A”: Normally, indefinite articles (like “a” or “an”) precede countable nouns. By contrast, noncountable nouns—including abstractions like “cowardice” or “fun”—almost never take indefinite articles. “After all, few would speak of ‘a cowardice’ or ‘three funs.’” Niz-Chavez v. QUOTE (J. GORSUCH): “At one level, today’s dispute may seem semantic, focused on a single word, a small one at that. But words are how the law constrains power. . .If men must turn square corners when they deal with the government, it cannot be too much to expect the government to turn square corners when it deals with them.” Niz-Chavez v. Garland, Attorney General, No. 19–863 (U.S. S. Ct, 4/29/21)

definitions. But until and unless someone points to evidence suggesting otherwise, affected individuals and courts alike are entitled to assume statutory terms bear their ordinary meaning.” Niz-Chavez v. Garland, Attorney General, No. 19–863 (U.S. S. Ct, 4/29/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-863_6jgm.pdf

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION (DISSENT): “Ordinary meaning and literal meaning are two different things. And judges interpreting statutes should follow ordinary meaning, not literal meaning. . . As a matter of ordinary parlance. . ., the word ‘a’ is not a one-size-fits-all word.” Niz-Chavez v. Garland, Attorney General, No. 19–863 (U.S. S. Ct, 4/29/21)

PRR-L&L: §800.04(5)(b) (Lewd or Lascivious Molestation) no longer permits sentencing under any of the provisions in §775.082, except under subparagraph (3)(a)4., including the PRR subsection. Davenport v. State, 1D19-3100 (4/29/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-ANIMAL CRUELTY: Dual convictions for animal cruelty and aggravated animal cruelty are barred by Double Jeopardy because they are degree variants of the same crime. The offenses are not based on entirely different conduct, both subsections criminalize the same underlying conduct of animal cruelty, and subsection (2) increases the sanction as the harm to the animal intensifies. Houk v. State, 1D20-1816 (4/29/21)

CONFLICT-ATTORNEY'S FEES: Where six co-defendants retain one law firm, but Court disqualified the law firm from representing any of them because of conflicts, the Court may require the law firm to deposit the unearned fees into the CJA repository pursuant to the CJA. USA v. Pacheco-Romero, No. 19-14446 (11th Cir. 4/28/21)

SENTENCING-UPWARD VARIANCE-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: 70 month sentence for Defendant with who scores 12-18 months is not substantively unreasonable. That an upward variance sentence is well below the statutory maximum indicates that it is reasonable. How bad a repeat offender a defendant is matters greatly for purposes of sentencing. “Violent crime may not be his vocation, but it is at least his avocation.” USA v. Riley, No. 19-14013 (11th Cir. 4/28/21)

JOA: Renewing a motion for judgment of acquittal at the close of all the evidence is no longer necessary to preserve a sufficiency of the evidence claim for appellate review. Once the JOA motion has been made at the close of the State's case and brought to the trial court's attention, the trial court has been given an opportunity to rule on the precise issue. The issue should then be considered preserved for appellate review." A perfunctory objection-for-objection's sake does not serve the purposes underlying the contemporaneous objection rule. Fountain v. State, 2D20-289 (4/28/21)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Appellate court lacks the authority to consider the trial court's failure to downward depart. Supreme Court has recently accepted conflict jurisdiction to resolve a dispute between the district courts on this point. Rubio v. State, 3D20-534 (4/28/21)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Motions to withdraw appeal should be liberally construed in favor of a defendant. Failure to advise Defendant regarding the collateral consequences of a plea (designation as a sex offender) to a sex offense entitles Defendant to withdraw his plea prior to sentencing. Failure to inform a defendant of collateral consequences meets the "good cause" test for pre-sentence withdrawal. Stewart v. State, 4D18-3526 (4/28/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for manslaughter and attempted 1st degree murder of the same victim, “[p]ut simply, . . . [does] not violate the double jeopardy clause. Raja v. State, 4D19-1210 (4/28/21)

MERGER DOCTRINE: The merger doctrine is a principle of statutory construction designed to generally prevent the government from charging felony murder when the underlying felony was assault. SENTENCING-SCORESHEET ERROR: Defendant is entitled to be resentencing where the scoresheet was inaccurately calculated and Defendant was sentenced to the minimum under the wrong scoresheet. MoncadaGonzalez v. State, 4D19-2031 (4/28/21)

RESTITUTION: Court may order restitution in excess of the maximum dollar value defining Appellant's third-degree grand theft conviction. Restitution may be ordered in an amount greater than the maximum dollar value defining the offense for which a defendant is adjudicated guilty. Martinez v. State, 4D19-2538 (4/28/21)

ADVERSARY PRELIMINARY HEARING: If the State fails to file charges within 21 days from an arrest, a defendant is entitled to an adversary preliminary hearing even after being released on a charge.

Right to an adversary preliminary hearing applies to any charges arising from the episode, including later added charges (here, a previously undisclosed Lewd and Lascivious count), not merely those included in the original arrest affidavit. Coffield v. State, 20-2250 (4/28/21)

JOA-RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Defendant cannot be convicted of resisting without violence by obstructing her detention for trespassing at Mar-A-Lago when the alleged trespass was reported to, but not observed by, law enforcement officer. Misdemeanor offenses, with exceptions, must be observed by officers to justify an arrest. A person retains a right at common law to resist an unlawful arrest without force. After-the-fact observations of video are not sufficient to satisfy the statute's requirement that an arresting officer be present to observe the commission of a misdemeanor as it happens. Jing v. State, 4D21-147 (4/28/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: A federal court may entertain an application for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of a person in custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court, but a habeas petitioner does not remain “in custody” under a conviction after the sentence imposed for it has fully expired, merely because of the possibility that the prior conviction will be used to enhance the sentences imposed for any subsequent crimes of which he is convicted. Defendant’s state court conviction for a sex offense does not mean he is in custody for it when that offense is the predicate for a subsequent federal failure to register case. Alaska v. Wright, No. 20–940 (US S.Ct. 4/26/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Under AEDPA, appellate court must extend deference both to the trial counsel’s choices and to the state court’s assessment of their reasonableness. The pivotal question is whether the state court’s application of the Strickland standard was unreasonable, which is different from asking whether defense counsel’s performance fell below Strickland’s standard. Defendant is not entitled to relief from death penalty where counsel investigated Defendant’s past and mental health. Raheem v. GDCP Warden, No. 16-12866 (11th Cir 4/26/21)

STUN BELT: Requiring a particularly violent Defendant to wear an invisible stun belt at trial is lawful; Defendant is not entitled to relief if it becomes perceptible because of Defendant's action. Raheem v. GDCP Warden, No. 16-12866 (11th Cir. 4/26/21)

ARGUMENT: State's argument, "This man is just mean, ladies and gentlemen, in just plain, old country English, he's mean. He's cold-hearted. He's cold-blooded. And let me tell you something, he'll kill you. And I'm not having to guess," applying the double deference mandated by AEDPA, , although clearly improper, is not prejudicial given the overwhelming evidence of guilt. Raheem v. GDCP Warden, No. 16-12866 (11th Cir. 4/26/21)

MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: 40 years' incarceration for a 16-year old Defendant is not the functional equivalent of a life sentence. Defendant is not entitled to be resentenced. Brown v. State, 1D18-4888 (4/5/21)

CONFRONTATION: Admission of Child Protection Interview where the Defendant was never given the opportunity to confront the Declarant/Child violates the confrontation clause. Not all hearsay implicates the concerns of the Confrontation Clause, but where a piece of hearsay evidence bears a testimonial character, it is covered by the Confrontation Clause. Statements are testimonial when the circumstances objectively indicate that there is no ongoing emergency, and that the primary purpose of the interrogation is to establish or prove past events potentially relevant to later criminal prosecution. Child Protection Interview is testimonial. New trial required. Phillips v. State, 1D19-470 (4/23/21)

12 PERSON JURY: Even though sexual battery of a child under twelve is labelled a “capital felony,” it is not a “capital case” under §913.10 because it cannot result in the death penalty, so a six-person jury is required. Phillips v. State, 1D19-470 (4/23/21)

FIREARMS: Because §790.33 preempts the field of firearm regulation and authorizes individuals adversely affected by a local policy to bring a civil action, a high school teacher may sue to be allowed to bring his gun to school as far as the parking lot. DEGREE OF OFFENSE: Where at the time Defendant was originally sentenced for trafficking, the amount of oxycodone made the crime a first-degree felony. Later amendment of the statute, which would have made the crime a 3rd degree felony, does not reduce the offense, so that a sentence in excess of five years upon violating probation is lawful. Robinson v. State, 5D20-2337 (4/23/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The determination of whether Defendant's prior out-of-state convictions of taking indecent liberties with a child were improperly scored as analogous to Florida's lewd or lascivious battery requires an evidentiary hearing, and thus cannot be raised under R. 3.800(a) at any time, but only under R. 3.850, within two years. LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Court may sentence a person who committed murder as a minor to life without parole, provided that the sentence is not mandatory and the sentencer has discretion to impose a lesser punishment. A separate factual finding of permanent incorrigibility is not required before a sentencer imposes a life-without-parole sentence on a murderer under 18. Jones v. HEARSAY: Statements by outof-court witnesses to law enforcement may be admitted as non-hearsay if they help explain the course of a complex investigation, and the danger of unfair prejudice caused by the use of the statements does not substantially outweigh the probative value of the evidence. APPEAL-PRESERVATION-CHANGE OF VENUE: Issue of whether venue should be changed is not preserved where the trial court never ruled upon Defendant's motion for change of venue and Defendant did not renew his objection. Smith v. State, No. SC18-822 (FLA 4/22/21)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor’s description of Defendant as “every mother’s darkest nightmare” and claim that juvenile victim was crying out to the jury from the grave that the Defendant had raped her is not error in the first case (“dramatic, but not untrue”) and in the latter “did more purposefully to elicit an emotional reaction than is advisable, but they were moving in substantial measure because of how they characterized the disturbing facts in evidence.” No fundamental error. HABEAS CORPUS: Habeas corpus may not be used as a substitute for an appropriate motion seeking postconviction relief, nor can habeas corpus be used as a means to seek a second appeal or to litigate issues that could have been or were raised in a motion under rule 3.850. The mere incantation of the words “manifest injustice” does not make it so. Roberts v. Inch, 3D21-867 (4/20/21)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES: Where certain offenses on scoresheet are erroneously listed as “additional offenses” instead of prior record, Defendant is entitled to resentencing unless the record conclusively shows that the trial court would have imposed the same sentence. EVIDENCE-MOTIVE TO FABRICATE: Court erred in disallowing testimony about the Victim’s divorce being related to her drug use, which was behind her purported false testimony, i.e. that the Victim claimed to be a victim of unauthorized credit card charges when in fact she authorized them to cover up drug purchases. “[T]he State first argued to the trial court that Appellant’s testimony that drug use caused the divorce should be excluded because it was not relevant, and then during closing it argued to the jury that this defense theory was not relevant because it was excluded.” Allen v. COSTS: Court improperly imposed a $200 fee for the cost of prosecution when the evidence only supported a $100 fee. By law, costs for the state attorney must be set in all cases at . . . no less than $100 per case when a felony offense is charged. To set a higher amount, the state attorney must demonstrate the amount spent on prosecuting the defendant and the trial court must consider the defendant's financial resources. Scotfield v. QUALIFIED IMMUNITY: Plaintiff witnessed a fatal car accident and stood in the median of I-95 photographing the scene. Officer approached him, seized his phone, arrested him, and locked him in the back of a hot patrol car without AC for almost a half hour. Officer is entitled to qualified immunity from suit for 1st, 4th and 14th Amendment violations. An officer is entitled to qualified immunity unless he violates a clearly established constitutional rights, defined as a right which exists only if a decision of the United States Supreme Court, the 11th Circuit Court, or the highest court in a state has said it exists. The First Amendment right to record a crime scene from a distance is not clearly established. The Fourth Amendment claim fails because Plaintiff broke the law by stopping his car (and the Good Samaritan exception to the no-stopping statute doesn't apply to people who step back when police arrive). Plaintiff's 14th Amendment claim about being locked in a hot car with no A/C fails because "exposure to uncomfortable heat is part and parcel of life in the South." There is no generic right to be free from excessive force. Crocker v. Beatty, No. 18-14682 (11th Cir. 4/20/21)

IRONY-GEORGE FLOYD VERDICT DAY: "In Garrett v. Athens-Clarke County, we analyzed a Fourth Amendment excessive-force claim and explained Cottrell as having 'conclude[d] officers did not use excessive force, although [the] arrestee died of positional asphyxia, where officers placed [the] arrestee in handcuffs and leg restraints after a 20-minute struggle and put him in a prone position in the back of a police car.'" Crocker v. Beatty, No. 18-14682 (11th Cir. 4/20/21)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-ILLEGAL REENTRY: The Sentencing Guidelines’ enhancements under subsections 2L1.2(b)(2) and (3), for criminal convictions received before and after the defendant’s previous deportation or removal, do not violate the Constitution’s guarantee of equal protection. Nor do they cause unlawful double-counting in violation of due process or otherwise. USA v. Osorio, No. 19-11408 (11th Cir. 4/20/21)

CONSTITUTION: “Unlike the Fourteenth Amendment, the Fifth Amendment contains no express equal protection clause. But the Fifth Amendment’s guarantee of due process embodies within it the concept of equal justice under the law.” USA v. Osorio, No. 19-11408 (11th Cir. 4/20/21)

SENTENCING-DOUBLE COUNTING: Impermissible double counting occurs only when one part of the Guidelines is applied to increase a defendant’s punishment on account of a kind of harm that has already been fully accounted for by application of another part of the Guidelines. Double counting is allowable if the Sentencing Commission intended the result, and each section applied concerns conceptually separate notions relating to sentencing., i.e., deterrence and recidivism. A harsher sentence for an alien who reenters with after earlier convictions for serious crimes is appropriately enhanced both in his offense conduct and in his criminal history. USA v. Osorio, No. 19-11408 (11th Cir. 4/20/21)

FIRST-DEGREE MURDER-PREMEDITATION: A snap decision may still constitute premeditation, which may be inferred based on the nature of the weapon used, the presence or absence of adequate provocation, previous difficulties between the parties, the manner in which the homicide was committed and the nature and manner of the wounds inflicted. Where Defendant shot victim one, she said, “just kill me,” and he shot her several more times, premeditation is shown. Taylor v. State, 1D18-5294 (4/20/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/732998/opinion/185294_DC05_04202021_135600_i.pdf

JURY INSTRUCTION-HEAT OF PASSION: The “heat of passion” defense is (1) a complete defense if the killing occurs by accident and misfortune in the heat of passion, upon any sudden sufficient provocation; or (2) a partial defense, to negate the element of premeditation in first-degree murder or the element of depravity in second-degree murder. For that passion to constitute mitigation of the crime, it must arise from legal provocation. Defendant is not entitled to a heat of passion instruction when he testified that the shooting was accidental and done in self-defense. Taylor v. State, 1D18-5294 (4/20/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/732998/opinion/185294_DC05_04202021_135600_i.pdf

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Defendant is not entitled to suppression of statement. Generally, intoxicants such as narcotics and alcohol affect the credibility of the confession, not the voluntariness. Intoxication at the time of confessing will not bar admitting a confession into evidence unless the defendant is intoxicated to the degree that he is unaware or unable to comprehend what he is doing and to communicate with coherence and rationality. Taylor v. State, 1D18-5294 (4/20/21)

MINOR-SENTENCE REVIEW: Defendant, a minor at the time who was sentenced to life (murder) and 30 years (kidnapping), to be served consecutively, who at resentencing on Count I was given the right to a sentence review pursuant to §921.1401 is also entitled to a sentence review for the same count pursuant to §921.1402 sentence review at a later date. Court improperly conflated the §921.1401 and §921.1402 reviews because the Defendant had not initiated the review via an application to the court of original jurisdiction. Defendant has a right to an independent sentence review under §921.1402; Court deprived her of such by deeming the section §921.1401 resentencing hearing sufficient. Maestas v. State, 1D19-1767 (4/20/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: Generally, a defendant has no right to represent himself in an extraordinary writ petition in the appellate court while he is represented by counsel in the criminal case pending in the lower tribunal. McCray v. State, 1D19-4679 (2/20/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/733000/opinion/194679_DA08_04202021_140038_i.pdf

EVIDENCE-LIMITED ADMISSIBILITY: When evidence that is admissible for one purpose, but inadmissible as for another purpose, is admitted, the court, upon request, shall restrict such evidence to its proper scope. Medical/disability records admitted as impeachment may not be used as substantive evidence of party's mental health. Brooks v. Brooks, 1D20-2346 (4/20/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/733004/opinion/202346_DC08_04202021_140755_i.pdf

MISTRIAL: Defendant, charged with murder, is not entitled to a mistrial because a photo of her crouching in hunting gear and pointing a shotgun (not the murder weapon) accidentally flashed on the screen during trial and was before the jury for a second or two. McArthur v. State, 1D19-3491 (4/16/21)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: A conversation between Defendant and two investigators which progressed from casual talk into an interrogation need not be suppressed where she was read her Miranda rights and waived them in writing before the conversation shifted to potentially incriminating questions. McArthur v. State, 1D19-3491 (4/16/21)

CELL PHONE RECORDS: An application and affidavit for an order for disclosure of cell phone records under §934.23 which listed only a cell phone number without detailing that the number was Defendant's number, but which when read as whole clearly refers to Defendant is legally sufficient. McArthur v. State, 1D19-3491 (4/16/21)

VOP: §948.06(2)(f)1.c applies only to a probationer with a single technical probation. Fowler v. State, 1D19-4239 (4/16/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/732296/opinion/194239_DC05_04162021_132659_i.pdf

HEARSAY: PRIOR CONSISTENT STATEMENT: A prior consistent statement offered to rebut a charge of recent fabrication, where the declarant is subject to cross-examination regarding the statement at trial, is not hearsay. Victim's statement accusing Defendant is admissible where Defendant claimed the Victim fabricated the allegation for revenge from another incident, but that incident happened after the alleged accusatory hearsay statement. A prior consistent statement offered to rebut a charge of recent fabrication is admissible if it was made prior to the existence of the improper motive. “This was a classic prior consistent statement. It was not hearsay. And the trial court did not err in admitting it.” Gibson v. State, 1D19-4294 (4/16/21)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-PAROLE: Minor sentenced to life with the possibility of parole is not entitled to a sentence review. State v. Michaud, 2D20-1287 (4/16/21)

VICTIM’S RIGHTS: Crime Victims’ Rights Act does not authorize a victim to seek judicial enforcement of her CVRA rights in a freestanding civil action. Absent a clear expression of congressional intent to authorize a would-be plaintiff to sue, a cause of action does not exist and courts may not create one, no matter how desirable that might be as a policy matter, or how compatible with the statute. In Re: Courtney Wild, No. 19-13843 (11th Cir. 4/15/21)

FIRST STEP ACT: Where the District Court has authority to reduce Defendant's sentence under the First Step Act, declines to do so, and it is unclear that the court recognized that it had the authority to reduce the sentence, the order denying motion to reduce must be vacated and the case remanded for further proceedings. USA v. Russell, No. 19-12717 (11th Cir. 4/15/21)

COMPETENCY: A competency hearing is not necessarily required where Defendant is admittedly bipolar but nothing about his behavior in court indicated a present inability to understand the proceedings or an inability to consult with counsel. Woodbury v. State, SC19-3 (4/15/21)

SELF REPRESENTATION: Side effects of psychotropic medication (sleepiness, nervousness, blurry vision, and trouble urinating) do not render one incapable of self-representation. "Given that certain people with bipolar disorder function well and act rationally, we see no logic in creating a per se rule or presumption that all individuals with bipolar disorder suffer so severely from mental illness that they are unable to carry out basic trial tasks without assistance." STAND YOUR GROUND: After losing a self-defense immunity hearing, a defendant may vindicate his right to self-defense in two ways, i.e., by filing a petition for writ of prohibition or present his self-defense immunity claim to the jury. Because at trial, the state is required to overcome the defendant’s claim of self-defense by meeting the burden of proof beyond a reasonable doubt, which is a higher burden than the clear and convincing evidence standard the state was required to satisfy at the pretrial hearing, the trial court’s error with regard to the burden of proof at the SYG hearing is cured by a subsequent guilty verdict. APPEAL-PRESERVED ISSUE-EXPERT-SEXUAL HOMICIDE: Where Defendant filed a pretrial motion to exclude State’s sexual homicide expert as not being based on recognized literature, never obtained a ruling, and at trial objected on different grounds (speculation and hearsay), the issue is not preserved for appeal. JURY INSTRUCTION-BURGLARY WITH BATTERY: In jury instruction for Burglary with Battery, Court must define “battery.” Error is fundamental. Fundamental error is waived where defense counsel affirmatively agrees to an improper instruction, but a difference exists between affirmatively agreeing to an improper instruction and unknowingly acquiescing to an improper instruction. COMMENT ON SILENCE: Defendant waived any violation of motion in limine about silence of Defendant by failing to object to testimony about Defendant leaving hospital to avoid interview. HEARSAY: Responding officer's testimony about the BOLO which he received from dispatch and the defendant's driving record which he obtained through the NCIC is inadmissible hearsay, but harmless error. STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: Where Defendant is improperly interrogated, but initiates a second interrogation two months later, the second statement is admissible. Earlier failure to honor Defendant's invocation of his right to silence does not carry over to a later interrogation initiated by Defendant following a significant passage of time and a break in custody between the two statements. Where the suspect reinitiated the dialogue, the Court must consider whether the suspect's decision to change his or her mind and to waive his or her rights by speaking with the authorities was voluntary, knowing, and intelligent. Two months is enough time to shake off any residual coercive effects of the prior interrogation. Sinclair v. State, 4D19-2815 (4/14/21)

SENTENCING-DUI MANSLAUGHTER: The total for DUI Manslaughter may not exceed fifteen years, and shall include a probationary period that, at a minimum, is of sufficient length to permit Appellant to complete a substance abuse course. Defense’s assertion that the statement was not offered for its truth, “[p]ut gently, . . . this is a disingenuous post hoc explanation. Even the most charitable read of the trial transcript makes abundantly clear that defense counsel sought to use Deen’s confession to show that Deen was guilty, and Elysee was innocent.” The proffered justification—that it was offered to suggest that the officer’s conduct in responding to the confession fell below the reasonable officer standard of performance—was not relevant.” USA v. Elysee, Case No. 18-14214 (11th Cir. 4/8/2021)

DEFENSE: “Because nothing in our caselaw indicates the existence of an affirmative defense based on the failure of police to conduct an investigation as reasonably diligent officers, we conclude that no such defense exists.” Defendant’s “distinct and novel principle of law that the defendant in a criminal case may use out-of-court statements to mount an attack on the quality of the investigation that led to his indictment” fails. USA v. Elysee, Case No. 18-14214 (11th Cir. 4/8/2021) defendant must have known of his prohibited status—such as being a felon—at the time he possessed the firearm or ammunition at issue.

Failure of indictment to plead knowledge is harmless absent a showing of a reasonable probability of a different outcome at trial but for the error in the indictment. USA v. Elysee, Case No. 18-14214 (11th Cir. 4/8/2021)

EVIDENCE-PRIOR CONVICTION: Unredacted copy of conviction (armed robbery) is admissible to show Defendant’s familiarity with firearms and how to acquire them. USA v. Elysee, Case No. 18-14214 (11th Cir. 4/8/2021)

ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT: Robbery convictions are “violent felonies” for the purposes of the Armed Career Criminal Act (“ACCA”). USA v. Elysee, Case No. 18-14214 (11th Cir. 4/8/2021)

ILLEGAL SENTENCE: Defendant may not challenge the failure of the Court to include the ten-year minimum mandatory portion of his life sentence. Although the plain language of R. 3.800(a) does not expressly prohibit defendants from seeking to correct unlawfully lenient sentences, defendants are not entitled to such relief absent a showing of prejudice. Earl v. State, SC19-1506 (4/8/21)

LOWEST PERMISSIBLE SENTENCE: Where there are multiple convictions subject to sentencing on a single scoresheet, the lowest permissible sentence under §921.0024(2) is an individual minimum sentence and not a collective minimum sentence. Where Defendant's lowest permissible sentence (here, 107.25 months) exceeds the statutory maximum for some of the counts, Court must impose the LPS on each count. Court may impose sentences consecutively, even where the result (as here) is a sentence in excess of the statutory maximums. A total sentence of approximately 33 years where the statutory maximum is 25 years is lawful. State v. Gabriel, SC19-2155 (FLA 4/8/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to object to the presentation of two minutes of dashcam footage showing other officers attempting to revive the victims nor the Defendant's use of the term "cracker" to describe the men he shot. Morris v. State, SC20-155 (FLA 4/8/21)

PREMEDITATION: The time between Defendant realizing the victim was home and deciding to strangle her to death was sufficient time for him to form an intent to kill her. Sanders v. State, 1D19-4461 (4/8/21)

SENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Court did not err in sentencing juvenile convicted of rape/murder to life in prison where his family could not point to any positive accomplishments the Defendant achieved in the last several years, and instead they focused on hobbies that the Defendant gave up years before the murder. Defendant's argument that Court must explicitly make a finding of incorrigibility before imposing a sentence of life without parole was not preserved.

SENTENCING: Court did not err in allowing the victim’s daughters to recommend an appropriate sentence. There is no prohibition on the trial court’s receiving sentencing recommendations from the victim’s family in the context of sentencing a juvenile. Sanders v. State, 1D19-4461 (4/8/21)

COSTS: A defendant’s waiver of a reading of the statutory authority for discretionary fines does not absolve a trial court of its responsibility to individually pronounce the fines. Johnson v. State, 1D20-361 (4/8/21)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-LESSER INCLUDED: Defendant convicted of Lewd and Lascivious Molestation as a lesser included of Capital Sexual Battery is not preserved where there was discussion of the issue (“I don’t think that the lewd and lascivious molestation, victim under twelve, is a lesser included offense.”) defense counsel agreed that the facts would constitute a Lewd and Lascivious Molestation, and no objection was made to the jury being instructed that it was a lesser. Counsel’s general thoughts failed to clearly convey an objection to the inclusion of the Lewd and Lascivious Molestation charge in place of the Sexual Battery charge, and counsel’s musings were immediately followed by his agreeing with the court that the evidence supported the charge. APPEAL-PRESERVATION-RULE OF COMPLETENESS: No error in Court not requiring the State to present the full video of the car chase pursuant to the rule of completeness, where Court made a tentative ruling on the admissibility of the omitted portion of the video but invited Defendant to proffer it to establish admissibility, and Defendant did not do so. Where a judge has tentatively granted a motion in limine concerning an area of evidence, but has indicated a willingness to reconsider the ruling after hearing a proffer of the actual testimony, it is necessary to proffer the testimony sought to be introduced in order to preserve the issue for appeal. Mims v. State, 1D20-1673 (4/8/21)

VOP: Probation cannot be revoked absent a specific finding of willfulness. An automatic revocation of probation without such a finding would be unconstitutional. The requirement that a willful and substantial violation of probation be found before probation can be revoked is rooted in the fundamental fairness notion required by due process. Rogers v. State, 3D20-1083 (4/7/21)

EVIDENCE: Testimony from the driver of the other car in a collision that he was impaired by alcohol, notwithstanding his lack of memory of the crash itself, is admissible. A criminal defendant has a constitutional right to present a defense. Exclusion of relevant evidence that another's negligence might have caused or contributed to an accident violates the defendant's Sixth Amendment right to present a defense. Because it is possible the jury could reasonably have concluded that the van driver's intoxicated driving was the sole proximate cause of the accident, the evidence should not have been excluded. CERTIORARI: A rule 3.800(a) order finding that a movant is entitled to be resentenced, without imposing a new sentence, is a nonfinal nonappealable order. State v. Crecy, 2D20-2580 (4/7/21)

SPOLIATION: Where lost or unpreserved evidence is material exculpatory evidence, the loss of such evidence is a violation of the defendant’s due process rights and the good or bad faith of the State is irrelevant. But claim that police mishandled the gun is unsupported by the evidence and irrelevant even if true in case where wife died after Husband used the gun (missed), a knife (several stabs), and a hammer (several blows), and where Defendant admitted he had handled the gun. IMMIGRATION: A Florida conviction for being a felon in possession of a firearm is categorically an aggravated felony under the INA. Any alien who is convicted of an aggravated felony at any time after admission is deportable. Aspilaire v. US Attorney General, No. 19-12605 (11th Cir. 4/6/21)

APPEAL-PROCEDURAL DEFAULT: Defendant may not raise by collateral review an issue (here, an improper predicate for use of firearm conviction) which were not raised during his original appeal absent a showing of 1) cause to excuse the default and actual prejudice from the claimed error, or (2) actual innocence. DUI MANSLAUGHTER: DUI manslaughter requires proof that the appellant was operating a vehicle while legally impaired and that his operation of the vehicle caused or contributed to Victim's death. Defendant properly convicted of DUI manslaughter of his son when he had flipped onto the road the ATV he was driving and on which his son was riding, and a truck shortly thereafter hit it, killing the son.

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: When textualism is properly understood, it calls for an examination of the social context in which a statute was enacted. Williams v. State, 1D19-0498 (4/1/21)

PRINCIPAL: A principal in the first degree historically was the absolute perpetrator of the crime, the one we typically would consider as having committed the crime. A principal in the second degree historically was at a remove from the absolute perpetrator, actually or constructively at the scene of the crime and aided or abetted in its commission. At common law, if a person was not at the scene, or at least nearby, then she could not be punished as a principal. Accessory before the fact was at yet another remove from the absolute perpetrator, i.e., someone who was absent at the time of the commission of a felony, but beforehand counseled, hired, or otherwise procured the perpetrator to commit it. Williams v. State, 1D19-0498 (4/1/21)

PRINCIPAL: A defendant may be found guilty as a principal based solely on communications, but considering 17 ways to kill one's husband, developing an alibi, and agreeing to encourage him to go hunting with one's boyfriend so that the latter could drown him does not constitute commanding or impelling the boyfriend to commit the murder or the assisting or encouraging of it. Proof of the conspiracy alone is not enough to make one a principal. Williams v. State, 1D19-0498 (4/1/21)

ELECTION OF CHARGES: The rule that the State may be compelled to elect between charges repugnant or inconsistent with each other, applicable in cases involving theft-related crimes, does not exist in cases involving murder and accessory after the fact or, for that matter, to any non-theft-related crimes. The failure to make the State pick a theory is not a structural defect that will always be presumed to be harmful. Williams v. State, 1D19-0498 (4/1/21)

DEPORTATION: Subject who had robbed a bank six days before his naturalization ceremony, but who was not arrested or convicted until later, is not removable. A denaturalized alien is not removable as an aggravated felon based on convictions entered while he was an American citizen. Immigration statute providing that “[a]ny alien who is convicted of an aggravated felony at any time after admission is deportable” does not apply to aliens who were citizens at the time of their predicate convictions. “[W]e are concerned with the alien’s citizenship status at the time of conviction, not the time of the crime.”

Denaturalization is not treated as retroactive for removal purposes. “We may not pretend that Hylton was an alien all along.” Hylton v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 19-14825 (11th Cir. 3/31/21)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: “It would be odd if, in two consecutive subsections of the Code, which use materially identical language, the same words were read to mean one thing in the first subsection but another in the second. All else being equal, we prefer a reading of the second that coheres with binding precedent as to the first.” Hylton v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 19-14825 (11th Cir. 3/31/21)

HABEAS CORPUS-EQUITABLE TOLLING: AEDPA’s statutory limitations period may be tolled for equitable reasons in rare and exceptional circumstances, i.e., only if he shows (1) that he has been pursuing his rights diligently, and (2) that some extraordinary circumstance stood in his way and prevented timely filing. Defendant is entitled to equitable tolling of the deadline for filing a petition for habeas corpus where his counsel deliberately missed the deadline in order to create a test case to challenge the constitutionality of AEDPA's one year statute of limitations. Counsel abdicated her duty of loyalty to her client to promote her own interests, effectively abandoning him. Thomas v. Attorney General, State of Florida, No. 13-14635 (11th Cir. 3/31/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Neither recantation by the Defendant's mother claiming that it was actually her other (now deceased) son who committed the crimes nor the Defendant's claim that he committed only some of them, but he could not remember which, entitle Defendant to vacate his plea and convictions years later. Lowery v. State, 1D19-174 (3/31/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/727892/opinion/194174_DC05_03312021_134632_i.pdf

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The reasonable hypothesis of innocence standard for a judgment of acquittal has been discontinued. The reviewing standard in all cases, whether they are based on circumstantial evidence or not, is now whether a rational trier of fact could have found the existence of the elements of the crime beyond a reasonable doubt. Dorsey v. State, 1D20-378 (3/31/21)

IMPEACHMENT: Court properly excluded Defendant's mother from testifying that the victim had told her that the state attorney's office threatened to have the victim's children taken away if the victim did not testify against Appellant, which was inconsistent with the victim's cross-examination testimony that she had not been threatened and never had any conversation with Defendant's mother. To be inconsistent, a prior statement must either directly contradict or be materially different from the expected testimony at trial. Garmon v. State, 1D20-1048 (3/31/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: Dismissal of habeas corpus petitions, rather than transfer, is appropriate where the petitioner is seeking relief that (1) would be untimely if considered as a motion for postconviction relief under rule 3.850, (2) raise claims that could have been raised at trial or, if properly preserved, on direct appeal of the judgment and sentence, or (3) would be considered a second or successive motion under rule 3.850 that either fails to allege new or different grounds for relief that were known or should have been known at the time the first motion was filed. Smith v. Fla. DOC, 1D20-1290 (3/31/21)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE-APPELLATE COUNSEL: The standard of review applicable to claims of ineffective assistance of appellate counsel mirrors the Strickland standard. Appellate counsel was not ineffective for failing to argue that the issues raised in his direct appeal under state law also violated federal law (which would have preserved the possibility for federal habeas corpus review). Anderson v. State, 1D20-2055 (3/31/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-MARIJUANA: An officer smelling the odor of marijuana has probable cause to believe that the odor indicates the illegal use of marijuana. Even if marijuana was legalized for recreational use, such use while driving would still support the offense of driving while intoxicated; thus, regardless of whether marijuana becomes decriminalized for recreational use, the smell of the burning substance will continue to provide probable cause for a search of a vehicle. "[W]e can think of no circumstance where an affirmative defense might lie where the impetus for the search arose from the smell of burnt marijuana in a vehicle." Owens v. State, 2D20-537 (3/31/21)

PROBABLE CAUSE: The probable cause standard is a practical and common sensical standard. It is enough if there is the the kind of fair probability on which reasonable and prudent people, not legal technicians, act. Owens v. State, 2D20-537 (3/31/21)

MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: Minimum mandatory term of forty years reviewable after twenty-five years for juveniles convicted of murder is constitutional under Miller and Graham. Minor's fifty year sentence with review for murder is lawful. Thorough discussion. Hall v. State, 3D17-2058 (3/31/21)

CONSTITUTIONALITY: An as-applied challenge is an argument that a law which is constitutional on its face is nonetheless unconstitutional as applied to a particular case or party, because of its discriminatory effects; a facial challenge asserts that a statute always operates unconstitutionally. The forty-year term mandatory minimum term for murder by a juvenile is constitutional as is and facially. Hall v. State, 3D17-2058 (3/31/21)

FARETTA: Defendant (college graduate who completed a year and a half of law school) and in the end represented himself at trial is not entitled to a new trial when Court failed to re-advise him on the dangers of self-representation when he had earlier been so advised in the same case and counsel had been appointed then discharged. HABEAS CORPUS: Habeas corpus may not be used as a substitute for an appropriate motion seeking postconviction relief, nor can habeas corpus be used as a means to seek a second appeal or to litigate issues that could have been or were raised in a motion under rule 3.850. EVIDENCE-VIDEO-AUTHENTICATION: Authentication for the purpose of admission is a relatively low threshold that only requires a prima facie showing that the proffered evidence is authentic. Evidence may be authenticated based on circumstantial evidence, extrinsic evidence, or by showing that it meets the requirements for self-authentication. Testimony of store manager that the surveillance video was a fair and accurate representation of what happened that day is sufficient. Willingham v. State, 4D19-1883 (3/31/21)

PRR-PREDICATE OFFENSE: Mandatory life sentence for armed robbery under the Prison Releasee Reoffender statute is constitutional, including where the predicate offense was committed when the Defendant was a minor. "[P]erhaps the Florida Legislature will in the future consider exclusion of sentences served for underage crimes from qualifying under recidivist statutes, or at least grant sentencing judges the discretion to decline to apply such statutes where a predicate offense was committed by a juvenile. . .Until then, there is no judicial discretion to impose a different sentence." MARSY'S LAW-NEXT OF KIN'S PRESENCE: Court did not err in barring the Defendant's father (who was a witness for the Defendant and also the victim's uncle) from sitting in the courtroom at the Defendant's request. Defendant suffered no prejudice. Butler v. State, 4D19-3394 (3/31/21)

INFORMATION-DEFECT: A fundamental defect in an information must be timely raised. A challenge to an information on the ground that it was not supported by probable cause or sworn testimony from a material witness does not raise a fundamental defect. The prosecutor who signs a charging document need not personally take an oath or take testimony from a material witness before filing the charging document. Johnson v. State, 1D19-4535 (3/30/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: Dismissal of a habeas petition is proper when the POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for acquiescing to exclusion of evidence under the rape shield law that Victim/girlfriend was pregnant by a different man and had an STD at the time of the crimes. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FEDERAL REVIEW: Federal court may not grant a writ of habeas corpus unless the earlier decision upholding the murder conviction took an unreasonable view of the facts or law. “Unreasonable” refers only to extreme malfunctions in the state criminal justice system. A federal court may not overturn a state court finding that Defendant is not entitled to a new trial where trial counsel did not try to implicate the person who discovered the body at the hotel, where that person's squirrely-ness was due to his covering up of his ongoing illicit liaisons at the hotel, not covering up the murder of the hotel maid whose body he found, particularly where there is strong evidence of the Defendant's guilt. JOA: The standard for a JOA—that there be proof of each and every necessary element of the offense charged beyond a reasonable doubt before an offense can be submitted to a jury--is not the current standard. Perry v. State, 1D20-891 (3/26/21)

PRR: A 30 year sentence as a PRR is mandatory for an Aggravated Battery of a deadly weapon with a deadly weapon. The jury's finding that Perry used a deadly weapon was in addition to, not an essential element of, the aggravated battery. Reclassification to a first-degree felony is required. Perry v. INCARCERATION-PROBATION: A court cannot sentence a defendant to serve probation while that defendant would still be serving a separate sentence in prison. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: An evidentiary hearing is typically warranted when a defendant brings an ineffective assistance claim arguing that trial counsel should have called a witness or alibi witness for trial. Washington v. State, 5D20-725 (3/26/21)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Significant injuries to the frontal and temporal lobes of his brain adversely affecting Defendant’s language skills and his ability to plan, reason, inhibit impulses, and make rational decisions do not require the Court to impose a downward departure. APPEAL-ANDERS BRIEF: “An Anders brief is unnecessary in postconviction appeals, and neither we nor appellate counsel need to follow Anders’ procedures or requirements. . . Indeed, there is no right to counsel in postconviction proceedings. . . We will. . . strike postconviction Anders briefs going forward.” Hunter v. State, 5D20-1609 (3/26/21)

ARREST: The application of physical force to the body of a person with intent to restrain is a seizure, even if the force does not succeed in subduing the person. A seizure occurs when an officer shoots someone who temporarily eludes capture after the shooting. A suspect’s continued flight after being shot by police does not negate a Fourth Amendment excessive-force claim. Torres v. Madrid, No. 19–292 (US S.Ct. 3/25/21)

MERE TOUCH RULE: “[T]he court explained that the bailiff would have made an arrest if he ‘had but touched the defendant even with the end of his finger.’ . . . The touching of the person—frequently called

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-292_21p3.pdf

COUNTESS OF RUTLAND: “[In the] Countess of Rutland’s Case, . . . serjeants-at-mace tracked down Isabel Holcroft, Countess of Rutland, to execute a writ for a judgment of debt. They ‘shewed her their mace, and touching her body with it, said to her, we arrest you, madam.’” Torres v. Madrid, No. 19–292 (US S.Ct. 3/25/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-292_21p3.pdf

19-292 (US S.Ct. 3/25/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-292_21p3.pdf

ARREST-FUGITIVITY: “The rule we announce today is narrow. In addition to the requirement of intent to restrain, a seizure by force—absent submission—lasts only as long as the application of force. That is to say that the Fourth Amendment does not recognize any ‘continuing arrest during the period of fugitivity.’” Torres v. Madrid, No. 19-292 (US S.Ct. 3/25/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-292_21p3.pdf

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-292_21p3.pdf

SEIZURE OF PERSON (GORSUCH, DISSENT): “The majority holds that a criminal suspect can be simultaneously seized and roaming at large. . . It’s a seizure even if the suspect refuses to stop, evades capture, and rides off into the sunset never to be seen again. That view is as mistaken as it is novel.” Torres v. Madrid, No. 19-292 (US S.Ct. 3/25/21)

DICTA (GORSUCH, DISSENT): [W]hatever utility it may have, dicta cannot bind future courts. . . If the respect we afford past holdings under the doctrine of stare decisis may be justified in part as an act of judicial humility, respecting that doctrine’s limits must be too. Fewer things could be less humble than insisting our every passing surmise constitutes a rule forever binding a Nation of over 300 million people.” Torres v. Madrid, No. 19–292 (US S.Ct. 3/25/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-292_21p3.pdf

QUOTATION (GORSUCH, DISSENT): “The common law offers a vast legal library. Like any other, it must be used thoughtfully. We have no business wandering about and randomly grabbing volumes off the shelf, plucking out passages we like, scratching out bits we don’t, all before pasting our own new pastiche into the U. S. Reports. That does not respect legal history; it rewrites it.” Torres v. Madrid, No. 19–292 (US S.Ct. 3/25/21)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-292_21p3.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FEDERAL REVIEW: Under the AEDPA, even a summary opinion by the state appellate court overturning Defendant’s granted motion for post relief must be sustained as not unreasonable. McKiver v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-14857 (11th Cir. 3/25/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DISSENT: “This appeal arises from [Defendant]’s attempt to get a new trial on the ground that [his attorney] gave ineffective assistance of counsel to him on this important issue of the weight of the drugs he consumed. The state postconviction court that heard [Defendant]’s claims in this regard agreed with him. Nevertheless, and in a one sentence order, containing no analysis or any reference to the facts, the Florida appellate court vacated the state postconviction court’s decision. Upon review here, the majority opinion says this one sentence order from the Florida appellate court is a reasonable application of Strickland v. Washington, [cite omitted]. I say it is not.” McKiver v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-14857 (11th Cir. 3/25/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to impeach Victim by 26 year old convictions which, under Florida law, would have been inadmissible because of remoteness. McKiver v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-14857 (11th Cir. 3/25/21)

TRAFFICKING: In Florida, a person does not actually have to traffic drugs in order to be guilty of trafficking. A person’s guilt or innocence of Florida’s drug trafficking crime is determined strictly by the weight of the drug attributed to them. McKiver v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-14857 (11th Cir. 3/25/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-AEDPA-TIME LIMIT: The federal habeas statute establishes a 1-year period of limitation for an application for a writ of habeas corpus by a person in custody pursuant to the judgment of a State court. The time during which a properly filed application for State post-conviction review shall not be counted toward any period of limitation. Defendant's amended R. 3.850 motion relates back to his initial motion, tolling the AEDPA limitations period for the time in between. The current 60 day default deadline for amending a motion for post conviction relief did not exist at the time in this case. Morris v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-14802 (11th Cir. 3/25/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-AEDPA-TIME LIMIT: Federal habeas petition for post conviction relief filed 13 years after case became final in state court is beyond the one year time limitation. Defendant "does not contest the correctness of the dates that he provided or the dates that the court relied on. What he does contest is the district court's authority to corroborate the dates he provided by reviewing online state court dockets. . .We decline to find error because the district court double-checked the dates that Turner had already offered. Turner v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-12891 (11th Cir. 3/25/21)

CONTINUANCE: Defendant is not entitled to continuance on ground that he personally was not able to review all his discovery, so he did not fully realize the evidence against him where he had roughly two years to prepare for his trial and did not point to any evidence that would have been presented if the continuance had been granted. USA v. Pendergrass, No. 19-13681 (3/24/21)

JURORS: By statute, members of the fire or police departments are barred from jury service on the ground that they are exempt. To be excluded from jury service under §1863, a person must in function be a police officer, not a member of any organization that could fall under the broad umbrella of law enforcement, i.e., a probation officer. USA v. Pendergrass, No. 19-13681 (3/24/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201913681.pdf>

EVIDENCE-MODUS OPERANDI: When modus operandi evidence supports an inference that the same person committed multiple crimes, a jury can consider identity evidence from other robberies. USA v. Pendergrass, No. 19-13681 (3/24/21)

HEARSAY: Statements by out-of-court witnesses to law enforcement may be admitted as non-hearsay if they help explain the later investigative actions, and the danger of unfair prejudice caused by the impermissible hearsay use of the statement does not substantially outweigh the probative value of the evidence. USA v. Pendergrass, No. 19-13681 (3/24/21)

CONFRONTATION CLAUSE: Confrontation Clause prohibits only statements that constitute impermissible hearsay. The Clause does not bar the use of testimonial statements for purposes other than establishing the truth of the matter asserted. USA v. Pendergrass, No. 19-13681 (3/24/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201913681.pdf>

EVIDENCE: Testimony which “involves the synthesis of a large volume of already-admitted evidence” is not improper interpretation of evidence that impeded or invaded the function of the jury.” USA v. Pendergrass, No. 19-13681 (3/24/21)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-CONCURRENT SENTENCES: The lowest permissible sentence is an individual minimum sentence that applies to each felony at sentencing for which the lowest permissible sentence exceeds that felony’s statutory maximum sentence, regardless of whether the felony is the primary or an additional offense. Where the minimum guidelines is 19.8 years and the statutory maximum is 15 years, the trial court should have imposed concurrent sentences of 19.8 years for both counts. Conflict Certified. Pierce v. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PROLONGED STOP: Stop is not unlawfully prolonged where officers had reasonable suspicion of criminal activity. Lack of luggage, lack of car rental papers, and waffling on who Defendant was going to see adds up to reasonable suspicion of drug trafficking. Carter v. State, 1D20-74 (3/24/21)

DRUG OFFENDER PROBATION: Defendant convicted of felony battery is eligible for drug offender probation. Battery is not a forcible PYRRHIC VICTORY: “Christopher Ray Queen appeals his convictions and sentences for three hundred counts of possession of child pornography. Queen argues the trial court erred by overruling his hearsay objection to a digital forensic technician's testimony regarding the hash values associated with the images found on his devices. It is that statement, the initial determination that the original image depicted a child, that was made out of court and was admitted for the truth of the matter asserted. . .Contrary to the State's assertions, a hearsay statement is not admissible simply VINDICTIVE SENTENCE: Where judge extended an in a neutral, non-advocating manner, merely advising the defendant this would be the last plea offer extended to him and that if he rejected it, the case would proceed to trial, and the ultimate sentence is much harsher, sentence is not necessarily vindictive. “[W]e are concerned by the in-chambers, off-the record plea discussions engaged in by the predecessor judge, and take this opportunity to caution trial judges. . .a ‘record must be made of all plea discussions involving the court.’” Alvarez-Hernandez v. JURY INSTRUCTION-STANDARD OF REVIEW: The proper standard of review for failure to give an entrapment instruction is de novo. USA v. Mayweather, No 17-13547 (11th Cir. 3/17/21)

ENTRAPMENT: Entrapment is an affirmative defense that consists of two related elements: government inducement of the crime, and a lack of predisposition on the part of the defendant to engage in the criminal conduct. If the defendant meets his initial burden (to come forward with some evidence, more than a scintilla, that government agents induced him to commit the offense), he is entitled to have his defensive theory of the case put before the jury, with the burden of proof shifting to the government to prove the defendant's predisposition to commit the crime beyond a reasonable doubt. If there is any evidence in the record that, if believed by the jury, would show that the government's conduct created a substantial risk that the offense would be committed by a person other than one ready to commit it, the jury must be permitted to resolve the matter. USA v. Mayweather, No 17-13547 (11th Cir. 3/17/21)

ENTRAPMENT: CI'S relentless pursuit of Defendant (a Correctional Officer) to smuggle contraband into prison Fluellen's participation and manipulation of his hesitation are sufficient to raise the question of whether he pressured Defendant to participate, which is sufficient to meet his light burden of production as to government inducement. USA v. Mayweather, No 17-13547 (11th Cir. 3/17/21)

ENTRAPMENT: Sales pitch ("no gun play... no meeting in dark alleys," just "picking up, drive it, drop it off. That's it.") to convince Correctional Officers to join prison smuggling conspiracy is sufficient evidence of inducement to warrant an entrapment jury instruction. Offering a job, explaining how easy the job is, and attempting to persuade the listeners that a federal crime is the same as simply riding along in a car goes beyond not merely providing an opportunity. USA v. Mayweather, No 17-13547 (11th Cir. 3/17/21)

ENTRAPMENT: Defendant who is afforded that opportunity to join smuggling conspiracy but who was not pressured or manipulated ([i]n other words, [where] there was simply no 'plus' that the government presented to [Defendant] beyond the 'opportunity' to commit a crime") is not entitled to an entrapment instruction. USA v. Mayweather, No 17-13547 (11th Cir. 3/17/21)
<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201713547.pdf>

ENTRAPMENT-DERIVATIVE ENTRAPMENT: Derivative entrapment, which is where the the initiator of his criminal activity is not acting as an agent of the Government, is not a recognized defense, but it is not derivative entrapment where co-defendants brought defendants into the government agent's scheme, and the government agent was aware of the participation of each defendant, had direct contact and communication with all of the defendants, presented the criminal opportunity to them directly, and was directly involved with each defendants' fake drug transports. USA v. Mayweather, No 17-13547 (11th Cir. 3/17/21)

JURY INSTRUCTION-OFFICIAL ACT: In entrapment case, Court must define “official act,” although the pattern jury instruction of official act (designed with government policy makers in mind) is misleading on the facts of this case. Simply wearing a Department of Corrections uniform is not an official act per se. USA v. Mayweather, No 17-13547 (11th Cir. 3/17/21)

MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: A juvenile offender’s sentence does not implicate Graham or Miller unless it meets the threshold requirement of being a life sentence or its functional equivalent of a life sentence. SPEEDY TRIAL: Formal arrest and booking is not required for Speedy Trial rights to vest. Where Defendant is placed in custody on an out-of-county warrant (although never booked on the warrant) but arrested for drugs found in his car, and an information is not filed within 175 days, he is entitled to discharge without the recapture. A formal arrest, complete with fingerprinting and formal charges, is not always necessary to start the running of the speedy trial time. In fact, only four elements are necessary for a custodial detention to constitute an arrest and trigger the speedy trial rule: (1) A purpose or intention to effect an arrest under a real or pretended authority; (2) An actual or constructive seizure or detention of the person to be arrested by a person having present power to control the person arrested; (3) A communication by the arresting officer to the person whose arrest is sought, of an intention or purpose then and there to effect an arrest; and (4) An understanding by the person whose arrest is sought that it is the intention of the arresting officer then and there to arrest and detain him. SPEEDY TRIAL-RECAPTURE: Defendant is not required to file notice of expiration of speedy trial (triggering the recapture window) when an information is not filed within 175 days. Gilliam v. State, 1D20-926 (3/17/21)

EVIDENCE-OTHER BAD ACTS-LOGICAL SEQUENCE OF EVENTS:

If the purpose of admitting testimony regarding uncharged collateral crimes is to show a logical sequence of events leading up to an arrest, the need for the evidence is slight, and the likelihood of misuse is great. The reason the police stopped Defendant (firing shots from his car) is irrelevant to the charge of fleeing or attempting to elude. "[T]he context and sequence of events were not material issues at trial because [Defendant] was not being tried for the shooting or any firearm offense. . . a limited statement that the officers were investigating a recent incident and [Defendant] was a person of interest would have provided sufficient context for the charged crimes." New trial required. Edwards v. State, 2D18-4590 (3/17/21)

RESISTING WITH VIOLENCE-BATTERY ON LEO: Officers were not in lawful performance of a legal duty, and thus convictions on plea were invalid for lack of a legally sufficient factual basis, where the proffered basis for the Defendant's detention was evaluation for a Baker Act, but the Probable Cause affidavit did not lay out a sufficient basis for such an involuntary evaluation. Effectuating a Baker Act hold cannot serve as the officer's legal duty if the concern for J.W.'s well-being did not arise until after J.W. resisted the officer's attempts to physically restrain him. Error is fundamental. J.W. v. State, 2D19-262 (3/17/21)

FACTUAL BASIS: Defense counsel's stipulation to the PC Affidavit as a sufficient factual basis does not make it so. A stipulation with no factual basis in the record is insufficient. "[W]e would caution that stipulating to and relying solely on a police report affidavit to provide a factual basis for a plea may not be the best practice for either the trial court, the State, or the defendant." HABEAS CORPUS: While a defendant is required to file a petition for writ of habeas corpus in the circuit where the defendant is

INVOLUNTARY INTOXICATION: Evidence of a defendant's involuntary intoxication is admissible to show that he could not form the specific intent to commit a crime. The defendant must show that he unexpectedly became intoxicated by prescribed medication that was taken in a lawful manner. Evidence of involuntary intoxication is admissible only to negate the intent required for specific intent crimes. Attempted second-degree murder and attempted manslaughter by act are not specific intent crimes. Daniels v. State, 1D20-715 (3/16/21)

APPEAL: A pro se motion for a new trial that is stricken because the movant is represented by counsel tolls the time for filing a notice of appeal of the judgment under F.A.P. 4(a)(4)(A). Ruiz v. Wing, No. 18-10912 (11th Cir. 3/12/21)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: The ordinary-meaning rule is the most fundamental semantic rule of interpretation. EVIDENCE: A party introducing evidence generally cannot complain on appeal that the evidence was erroneously admitted, even when a party preemptively introduces evidence that the party sought to exclude in a motion in limine. It would be unfair to allow a party to preemptively introduce evidence to remove the sting while preserving an objection to its admissibility for appellate review. Ruiz v. SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Reasons for downward departure must be articulated either orally or in writing, and they must be supported by competent, substantial evidence. While a trial court may depart for a reason other than those set forth in §921.0026(2), it may do so only if the articulated reason for departure is consistent with legislative sentencing policies and is not otherwise prohibited. GUIDELINES-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-WILLING PARTICIPANT:

Trial judges are not prohibited as a matter of law from imposing a downward departure based on a finding that the victim was a willing participant in sex offense on minor. In determining the appropriateness of a downward departure, the trial court must determine whether there is a valid legal and factual basis for a downward departure, and second, whether the case is appropriate for a departure sentence. “For purposes of appellate review, it is helpful if trial courts make findings as to each of the two prongs. Reversal not required when the Court finds that Defendant’s taking advantage of the victim’s consent was not appropriate. “[E]ven if the court did not recognize its authority to depart, the court’s remarks make it clear that it would have not exercised its discretion to depart under the facts of this case.” Watson v. State, 5D20-1928 (3/12/21)

APPEAL-JURISDICTION; State may not appeal order of the postconviction court vacating Defendant’s second judgment and the resultant shortened prison sentence. The State’s right to appeal in a criminal case must be expressly conferred by statute. State v. Kemp, 5D20-2017 (3/12/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-CONSPIRACY: Although conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act robbery is not a valid potential predicate for a conviction for conspiracy to commit a firearm in furtherance of a crime of violence or a federal drug trafficking crime, conviction is sustained where other predicates applied. It is not enough for Defendant to show that the jury may have relied on the Hobbs Act conspiracy conviction as the predicate for his conviction; he must show at least a substantial likelihood that they relied on that rather than on any of the other available predicates. Granda v. USA, No. 17-15194 (11th Cir. 3/11/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Procedural default precludes a §2255 petitioner's claim that the jury relied upon a prior conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act robbery as a predicate offense where the tools for a legal argument were available, even if case law was not yet established, and where Defendant cannot show actual innocence. Granda v. USA, No. 17-15194 (11th Cir. 3/11/21)

DEFINITION-"GRAVE DOUBT": "By 'grave doubt' we mean that, in the judge's mind, the matter is so evenly balanced that he feels himself in virtual equipoise." Granda v. USA, No. 17-15194 (11th Cir. 3/11/21)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Defendant is not entitled to a JOA for murder based on circumstantial evidence where his phone was in the same area as victim's phone on the last day she was seen alive, jail witnesses said he confessed to stabbing her, putting her in the trunk, burning her body in his back yard and dumping the remains in the swamp, and another witness testified that he contacted him to help dispose of her car. The circumstantial evidence standard of review is dead, and there is direct evidence, anyway. Armas v. State, 1D19-3265 (3/11/21)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Court did not err in denying the Defendant's request to represent himself two-thirds through the trial. Court has discretion to determine whether to allow a defendant to proceed pro se mid-trial. Armas v. State, 1D19-3265 (3/11/21)

DWLS-FARM TRACTOR: Farm tractors may temporarily enter highways without the driver being licensed, but may not be driven from driver's home to headquarters for refueling. "We note how easy it might be to read the exemption statute in isolation and believe that temporarily driving a farm tractor on a Florida roadway is lawful. . . [but [t]he statutory definition of 'farm tractor' is narrow and makes no accommodation for trips to refuel a farm owner's fleet, perhaps because gas stations or fuel oil facilities are generally few and far between in rural Florida." RETURN OF PROPERTY: The Sheriff obtains title to seized property 60 days after conclusion of a legal proceeding, but only if the property was lawfully seized pursuant to a lawful investigation. YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Sentence of 200 months in prison, rather than a Youthful Offender sentence, is lawful for 15 year old girl who disguised herself and attacked her mother's ex-husband's girl friend with a machete, at her mother's request. Appellate Court may not review the trial court's discretionary decision not to downwardly depart or impose a Youthful Offender sentence. Fine v. State, 1D20-695 (3/11/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATORY STOP-RACE: It is a consensual encounter, not an investigatory stop, when police pull up on you and tap on your window with a flashlight after you close the door, all because they thought you might be stealing the car or something in it since you had opened the car door, sat inside, and tried to start it (it's your wife's car). Defendant could have either driven away "with skilled driving" or walked away. Court may not take into account that black suspects might feel less free to ignore the officer. "[W]e may not consider race in deciding whether a seizure has occurred," "[E]ven if empirical research can provide evidence of how individuals of different demographics have interacted with or perceive the police, this research also reinforces that perceptions vary within groups. . . CONSENSUAL ENCOUNTER (CONCURRING): "Perhaps the most troubling aspect of this hybrid "free-to-leave"/affirmative acts-of-coercion standard is the Russian Roulette nature of it. The hybrid test foists on the citizen the complete responsibility for ascertaining whether the officer is detaining him. And the citizen must draw his conclusion based on only his best guess—a conjecture that can carry with it great risk to both the citizen and the officer.” . . . A citizen should not have to bet his and the officer’s well-being on guessing correctly that he is free to leave.” USA v. Knights, No. 19-10083 (11th Cir 3/10/21)

QUOTATION-CONCURRING: “The outcome in Knights’s case and others like it can be unsatisfying: when we hold that a defendant was not ‘seized’ for Fourth Amendment purposes, even though—if we are being realistic—we know that a reasonable person in his place likely would not have felt free to leave, the Fourth Amendment’s protections do not feel entirely real.” USA v. QUOTATION-CONCURRING: “But as a matter of the commonsense reality of police-citizen interactions, Black individuals from every background have long expressed that race can and does affect whether a citizen feels “free to leave” a police encounter. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: For a motion filed under R. 3.800(a) more than two years after the conviction became final, any scoresheet error is harmless if the trial court could have imposed the same sentence using a corrected scoresheet, even if an upward departure would have been necessary. POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Defendant may not be sentenced to a ten year minimum mandatory for a second possession of firearm by a felon where his prior (also possession of firearm by felon) is not a statutorily enumerated offense triggering the enhancement, but the issue was unpreserved. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: An evidentiary hearing is generally required to evaluate the veracity of the recanting witness. Newly discovered impeachment evidence is sufficient to grant a new trial in certain limited circumstances. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Claim that the testifying serologist exaggerated her educational qualifications, if true, could have been discovered long ago through a diligent request for available records from the relevant educational institution, and therefore must have been raised within two years. Even so, the discrepancies between the level of education, training, and experience Bunker she testified to and the asserted level of education, training, and experience she actually had were not so great as to make any difference in the outcome of the case. SUPERSEDEAS BOND: Post-trial release is a discretionary matter. Court may deny post conviction bail provided it considers the factors (that the appeal was taken in good faith, on grounds fairly debatable, and not frivolous) in non-boilerplate fashion. Mays v. State, 3D20-1527 (3/10/21)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Mere filing of a SYG motion to dismiss makes a prima facie claim of self-defense immunity from criminal prosecution. There is no evidentiary burden upon the person seeking Stand Your Ground immunity. Instead, a defendant must simply allege a facially sufficient prima facie claim of justifiable use of force under chapter 776 in a motion to dismiss filed under rule 3.190(b) and present argument in support of that motion at a pretrial immunity hearing. Cassaday v. State, 4D20-816 (3/10/21)

SENTENCING-SADO-MASOCHISM ENHANCEMENT: Because only one image that meets the requirements of sado-masochism enhancement is necessary to support the enhancement, the photograph showing Defendant's hand around the minor's throat is sufficient. USA v. Rogers, No. 18-13532 (3/9/21)

SENTENCING HEARING: The Federal Rules of Evidence do not apply in sentencing proceedings. USA v. Rogers, No. 18-13532 (3/9/21)

SENTENCING: The language of the Sentencing Guidelines must be given its plain and ordinary meaning, because we presume that the Sentencing Commission said what it meant and meant what it said.

SENTENCING-DOUBLE COUNTING: Application of §2G2.2(b)(5) (five-level increase for pattern of sexual abuse of minor) and §4B1.5 (pattern of activity involving prohibited sexual conduct) do not constitute impermissible double counting. The Sentencing Commission intended for the enhancements provided for in Chapter 4 to apply cumulatively to any other enhancements from Chapters 2 and 3. USA v. Rogers, No. 18-13532 (3/9/21)

SENTENCING-DOUBLE COUNTING: The application of §2G2.2(b)(6) for use of a computer is proper and is not double counting because the use of a computer is not required for the transmission or distribution of child pornography. USA v. Rogers, No. 18-13532 (3/9/21)

SENTENCING HEARING: Court did not err in prohibiting the Defendant from cross-examining the officer on other pending cases of the minor engaging in sex with older males to rebut the implication that she was an innocent child. Even though some testimony may be received, the sentencing process is not a trial. Its purpose is to ensure that the district court is sufficiently informed to enable it to exercise its sentencing discretion in an enlightened manner. Having been presented with some contradictory facts, the district court may within its discretion, determine that it has adequate undisputed information to properly sentence the defendant. USA v. Rogers, No. 18-13532 (3/9/21)

HEARSAY-CHILD HEARSAY: The standard of review applied to a trial court's finding that the hearsay statements of a child victim are reliable and come from a trustworthy source, making them admissible is abuse of discretion. Evidence that deals only with similar sex acts against the minor victim in the case being tried is far less subject to objection than evidence of similar acts against other victims. Saladeen v. EXPERT: Expert may not testify as to his interpretation of the events in a surveillance video where the video did not really show much of anything, was just "blobs, basically," and the expert's experience and knowledge is simply not helpful. A blurry video that does not depict much of anything cannot give rise to issues of fact about what did or did not happen on a particular occasion. Prosper v. IMMIGRATION-MORAL TURPITUDE: Alien cannot carry his burden to show that he is eligible for cancellation of removal on the ground that he has not been convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude where the record does not clearly show whether he was convicted of the subsection of the state statute which involved fraud or that subsection which did not. Fraud is moral turpitude. “[Defendant] bore the burden of proving his eligibility for relief, so it was up to him to show that his crime of conviction did not involve moral turpitude.”

HABEAS CORPUS: The remedy of habeas corpus is not available in Florida to obtain the kind of collateral postconviction relief available by motion in the sentencing court pursuant to rule 3.850. Habeas corpus is not to be used for obtaining additional appeals of issues which were raised, or should have been raised, on direct appeal or which were waived at trial or which could have, should have, or have been, raised in prior postconviction filings. Williams v. State, 1D20-1984 (3/4/21)

JIMMY RYCE: Regardless of whether he continues to be a sexual sadist, Prisoner detained under Jimmy Ryce who is now physically unable to commit acts of sexual violence and thus cannot be deemed likely to engage in acts of sexual violence is entitled to a trial. Drake v. State, 2D19-2285 (3/3/21)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: Evidence of other crimes where the same weapon was used according to ballistics tests is admissible in robbery case. When the same firearm is used in multiple robberies, the only inquiry for the trial court to make is whether such evidence of collateral crimes was relevant to the issue of the perpetrator's identity—not whether the evidence revealed uniquely similar factual situations. COSTS: Defendant convicted of resisting a police officer without violence and petit theft may not be assessed costs of $10 under §318.18(19), $30 under §318.13(13)(a), or $65 under §318.18(2) as the offenses of conviction are not traffic offenses. Roebuck v. State, 4D19-3628 (3/3/21)

PUBLIC DEFENDER'S FEE: Court may not assess a public defender's fee in excess of $100 for a felony offense without receiving evidence supporting the increased fee or nor having advised Defendant of his right to challenge the higher fee. Roebuck v. State, 4D19-3628 (3/3/21)

COSTS: Defendant may not challenge the legality of the $200 costs of prosecution by 3.800(b)(2) where he did not object at the imposition of the cost at the sentencing hearing. An objection to the sufficiency of the proof of costs must be made contemporaneously with the assessment of costs. Because the proper documentation of the costs of prosecution is an evidentiary error in the sentencing process, it cannot be preserved through a rule 3.800(b)(2) motion. State v. EXHAUSTION OF REMEDIES-COMPASSIONATE RELEASE: The exhaustion requirement (that Defendant exhaust all administrative remedies before filing in District Court for compassionate relief) is not jurisdictional. It is a claim processing rule. [Revised Opinion] USA v. Harris, No 20-12023 (11th Cir. 3/2/21)

FEBRUARY 2021

SOVEREIGN IMMUNITY: Federal Tort Claims Act does not authorize inmate of federal prison to sue corrections officers for restraining him, removing his clothes, and fondling his genitals; the acts do not constitute a “physical injury.” Sexual assault and battery do not ipso facto qualify as “physical injury.” Johnson v. White, No. 19-14436 (11th Cir. 2/26/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201914436.pdf>

COMPASSIONATE RELEASE-EXHAUSTION OF ADMINISTRATIVE REMEDIES: The requirement of exhaustion of administrative remedies before seeking judicial relief is not jurisdictional. The exhaustion requirement for compassionate relief is a claim processing rule. USA v. Harris, No. 20-12024 (11th Cir. 2/26/21)

WIRETAP-STALENESS: The Government can establish probable cause for a wiretap with facts showing that (1) a crime is being, has been, or is about to be committed and (2) communications about the crime will be intercepted by the requested wiretap. Defendant's implicit agreement as late as one month before the wiretap affidavit application that he was responsible for the illicit activity is fresh probable cause to believe that evidence of the earlier market manipulations would be obtained by wiretapping Defendant's phone despite the remoteness in time from the stock manipulations themselves. USA v. Goldstein, No. 18-13321 (11th Cir. 2/26/21)

WIRETAP-NECESSITY: Necessity for a wiretap can be shown notwithstanding that other techniques had uncovered useful historical information, where a wiretap was needed to identify all the co-conspirators and reveal the full scope of the conspiracy. Government's showing of necessity was not defeated based on the mere possibility that the Government might have otherwise had enough evidence to sustain a conviction against Defendants. Argument that "the wiretap was unnecessary because the Government had already obtained enough information. . . is a somewhat odd position for Defendants to take, given that they aggressively challenged the sufficiency of the Government's evidence at trial." USA v. Goldstein, No. 18-13321 (11th Cir. 2/26/21)

WIRETAP-FRANKS HEARING: An evidentiary hearing is required when a defendant makes a substantial preliminary showing that statements or omissions made in an affidavit supporting a wiretap are deliberately false or made with reckless disregard for the truth. Neither negligent mistakes nor immaterial omissions implicate Franks. Defendants' decision to divest interest in the company's stocks six months does not negate the possibility that they were conspiring to manipulate the stock later, given that their modus operandi was to manipulate stocks held in others' names. USA v. Goldstein, No. 18-13321 (11th Cir. 2/26/21)

INDICTMENT-MATERIAL VARIANCE: A fatal variance exists only where the evidence at trial proves facts different from those alleged in the indictment, as opposed to facts which, although not specifically mentioned in the indictment, are entirely consistent with its allegations. That the evidence at trial proves additional misrepresentations consistent with the categories of misrepresentations charged in the indictment does not cause a material variance. USA v. Goldstein, No. 18-13321 (11th Cir. 2/26/21)

FORFEITURE: Forfeiture is limited to property the defendant himself actually acquired as a result of the crime. Defendant may not be jointly and severally liable for property that his co-conspirator derived from the crime but that the defendant himself did not acquire, but may be for the total amount of the fraud proceeds deposited into co-defendants' jointly controlled accounts. USA v. Goldstein, No. 18-13321 (11th Cir. 2/26/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-PROCEDURAL DEFAULT: When a state prisoner fails to present a claim to the state court in a timely and proper manner, and the state court refuses to address the merits of that claim based on state law, that claim is procedurally defaulted. The claim that trial counsel was ineffective for not moving for a mistrial after jurors saw him shackled and that claim was abandoned at the evidentiary hearing is procedurally defaulted and did not otherwise present a substantial claim that counsel was ineffective. Clark v. Commissioner, Alabama DOC, No. 19-11443 (11th Cir. 2/25/21)

RAPE SHIELD STATUTE: Court must weigh and balance the protection of the Rape Shield Statute with the defendant's constitutional right to be afforded with an adequate and fair opportunity to show bias and motive of the victim without delving into the sexual nature of her relationship with another. Where defendant was able to present other evidence suggesting that the Victim fabricated the allegations to cover up her relationship with another Court did not err in otherwise excluding evidence of Victim's sexual relationship with another. COLLATERAL BAD ACTS: Under the relaxed standard of admissibility in sex cases, relevance of Williams rule evidence will not primarily turn on an analysis of the similarity of the offenses, but may assist in deciding the relevancy of the evidence and any analysis under section 90.403. Other sexual molestations by different children of the Defendant are admissible notwithstanding that those did not involve penile penetration. Moore v. State, 1D19-2209 (2/26/21)

INVESTIGATORY STOP: Passenger is seized when detective blocks the SUV from leaving. A significant identifying characteristic of a consensual encounter is that the officer cannot hinder or restrict the person's freedom to leave. Any statements that Defendant made during the course of that unlawful stop and ensuing unlawful arrest should have been suppressed, and his convictions for giving a false name and for resisting an officer must be reversed. CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: In a constructive possession case, the State must establish that the defendant knew of the presence of the contraband and had the ability to maintain dominion and control over it. If the place where contraband is located is jointly occupied, the State must establish the control element of possession through independent proof, such as fingerprints, an admission, or evidence of other incriminating statements or circumstances; a defendant's mere proximity to the contraband is not sufficient. Defendant's flight and suspicious jail call may show knowledge, but not dominion and control of the cocaine. Roberts v. State, 1D194137 (2/25/21)

"However, the authority of this court to read a statute that way (interpreting a statutory term to have an opposite meaning) is very narrow indeed. . . KIDNAPPING: The confinement necessary to support a kidnapping to have facilitate the commission of another felony (a) must not be slight, inconsequential and merely incidental to the other crime, (b) must not be of the kind inherent in the nature of the other crime; and (c) must have some significance independent of the other crime in that it makes the other crime substantially easier of commission or substantially lessens the risk of detection. The duration of the confinement is not an integral part of the test even though it may bear on whether the confinement was slight or inconsequential. Compelling the victims to crawl at gunpoint and under threat of being violently dragged to their captivity in the back room for the entirety of the ordeal is kidnapping. Confining and moving the manager to the back of the store to open the safe is not. Parrish v. State, 4D19-1991 (2/24/21)

VOP: Probation is improperly revoked and Defendant sentenced to prison where Court improperly considers her failure to pay costs and restitution where the order of probation did not specify that either of these amounts were to be paid by a date certain, notwithstanding that the Order of Revocation did not find that she violated for those reasons. "Because the court considered impermissible factors in sentencing, which is a violation of due process, we reverse and remand for resentencing before a different judge." Lacey v. CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Doctor properly convicted of healthcare fraud conspiracy where he agreed to submit false claims to an insurance plan. The government need not present direct evidence that doctor agreed to join the conspiracy; circumstantial evidence and inferences from the defendant's conduct is sufficient. USA v. Abovyan, No. 19-10676 (11th Cir. 2/22/21)

as to the elements of a healthcare fraud offense does not bar Defendant's conviction for conspiracy where the jury had a redacted copy of the superseding indictment, which incorporated the statutory elements of healthcare fraud into the conspiracy charge. LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-HOMICIDE: Reimposition of life sentences is within the Court's discretion where the minor Defendant attacked the victim in his apartment, choked him to unconsciousness, bound him with rope, took him in the trunk of a car to a wooded area, joked that he was Babe Ruth as he struck the victim's head with a bat, chained him to a tree, doused him in lighter fluid, and set him on fire, and, the following morning, returned to the woods and, finding the victim still alive, tried to break his neck then drove to Target to buy a meat cleaver, which he used to cut the victim's throat twice before going back to Target to get a refund on the meat cleaver. SENTENCE REVIEW: The only method contemplated for a juvenile sentence review under section 921.1402 is by application from a defendant to the court of original jurisdiction, which did not occur here. Because the plain language of section 1402 requires a defendant-initiated proceeding, the sua sponte nature of the action here requires reversal. Bell v. State, 1D19-1542 (2/22/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: A petition for a writ of habeas corpus should normally be filed in the county of the petitioner's detention, but if the petition attacks the validity of a judgment or sentence, the court that entered the judgment and imposed the sentence has jurisdiction. Dismissal, rather than transfer, of petitions is proper if they seek the kind of collateral postconviction relief available through a motion filed in the sentencing court. D'Amico v. Warden, 1D20-1253 (2/22/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-MISADVICE; Misadvice by counsel (that he was ineligible for Youthful Offender sentencing for a 1st PBL) can be corrected by the trial court giving the defendant correct advice. Because the trial court explained that Defendant had the possibility of youthful offender sentencing, he should have spoken up to seek clarification regarding any confusion he may have had. Malone v. State, 1D20-3064 (2/22/21)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Court's decision to include the Administrative Code provisions about harvesting alligators in the jury instructions but also to deny Defendant's request to include the "unless authorized" language from the Code resulted in the court providing an incomplete, misleading, and manifestly confusing explanation of the law to the jurors, making it appear that any killing, injuring, possessing, or capturing of an alligator was illegal regardless of a license holder's compliance with the Administrative Code provisions. JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Allowing defense counsel to argue a theory of defense to the jury while also refusing to instruct the jury on that defense does not solve the problem of improper instructions. The burden is on the trial court—not defense counsel—to provide clear, correct, and complete instructions to the jury on what the law is and how it is to be applied. Nichols v. State, 2D19-1721 (2/19/21)

PHONE PASSCODE (CONCURRING): Compelled oral disclosure from a defendant of his or her cellphone's passcode is a testimonial communication protected by the Fifth Amendment and the "foregone conclusion" exception to the Fifth Amendment does not apply to compelled oral testimony, but conviction affirmed where no significant evidence was derived from the search of the phone. Jackson v. State, 5D19-3411 (2/19/21)

COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL: A defendant is barred by collateral estoppel from raising a claim in a subsequent 3.800 motion that has already been raised and decided on the merits, here, that Defendant does not qualify for drug offender probation (Defendant had agreed to probation to get a downward departure). It is not illegal to allow a defendant to agree to serve a special type of probation, even though the trial court could not have imposed such a condition on an unwilling defendant convicted at trial. Seale v. State, 1D20-1622 (2/18/21)

COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL: While R.3.800(a) does not prohibit successive motions, a defendant is not entitled to successive review of a specific issue that has already been decided on the merits. Mims v. State, 1D20-2514 (2/18/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: When a criminal defendant seeks to withdraw a negotiated plea, or to attack it collaterally, if he is successful he loses the benefit of the bargain he has elected to attack. Lofton v. State, 1D20-1760 (2/17/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Habeas corpus is not a vehicle for obtaining additional appeals of issues which were raised, or should have been raised, on direct appeal or which were waived at trial or which could have, should have, or have been, raised in rule 3.850 proceedings. Flagg v. State, 1D20-3506 (2/17/21)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL: Generally, a conviction that is supported by competent, substantial evidence will be affirmed. Where a rational trier of fact could lawfully find that the evidence proved the existence of all the elements of the crime of second-degree murder beyond a reasonable doubt, the appellate court should defer to the trial court's denial of a motion for judgment of acquittal. Baxter v. State, 3D18-1246 (2/17/21)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER: Where Defendant initially confronted and cornered Victim (who then picked something off the ground and stabbed Defendant) and then ran to his truck to retrieve a gun, loaded it with ammunition, chased Victim down and shot him multiple times in the back, evidence is sufficient for second degree murder. Baxter v. State, 3D18-1246 (2/17/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: The circuit court of the county in which a defendant is incarcerated has jurisdiction to consider a petition for writ of habeas corpus when the claims raised in the petition concern issues regarding incarceration, but not when the claims attack the validity of the judgment or sentence. Only the court in which the defendant was convicted and sentenced has jurisdiction to consider collateral attacks on a judgment or sentence, and such an attack must be brought pursuant to Rule 3.800 or 3.850, not by petition for writ of habeas corpus. JUVENILE-COMMITMENT: Upon a violation of probation, Court may not order commitment on the basis of a prior predisposition report when that report recommended probation and did not identify an alternative recommendation as to the restrictiveness level if the trial court should decide to commit the Child in the future. A new PDR is required. If commitment is anticipated or recommended, a PDR is not optional. V.L.H. v. State, 3D20-1858 (2/17/21)

SYNTHETIC MARIJUANA: Defendant is improperly charged with felony possession of a synthetic cannabinoid but cannot determine whether the liquid (under 20 grams) in a vaping cartridge came from a plant or was created in a lab. State v. Ruiz, 4D19-3354 (2/17/21)

SENTENCE-LEWD AND LASCIVIOUS: For a life felony of L & L, Defendant may be sentenced to (1) life in prison or (2) a 25 year mandatory minimum and probation for life, but may not be given a combination of both (life imprisonment with a 25 year mandatory minimum. The statute does not authorize both a life sentence and a twenty-five year mandatory minimum. Mandatory minimum stricken. Prentice v. State, 4D19-3498 (2/17/21)

NECESSITY: Court correctly denied Defendant's request for a jury instruction on the defense of necessity as it related to the charge of possession of a firearm by a felon where he failed to present evidence that he did not have any reasonable, legal alternative to possessing the firearm or that the firearm was made available to him without a preconceived design. Watson v. State,

FRAUDULENT IMMIGRATION DOCUMENT: Defendant properly convicted of obtaining a fraudulent immigration document in order to get a driver's license. One of the documents Florida accepts as proof of lawful presence is an order of supervision from DHS and ICE. An order of supervision is a document prescribed by statute or regulation as evidence of authorized stay in the United States. USA v. Contreras v. Maradiaga, No. 19-11889 (11th Cir. 2/12/21)

INDICTMENT-CONSTRUCTIVE AMENDMENT-INVITED ERROR:

Defendant invites error, and thus is not entitled to a new trial, where indictment charged possessing a fraudulent immigration document to stay in the US, and jury instruction added "or employment," where Defendant proposed the "very instruction that he now challenges on appeal. This is a textbook case of invited error." When a party agrees with a court's proposed instructions, the doctrine of invited error applies” and review is waived even if plain error would result. USA v. Contreras v. Maradiaga, No. 19-11889 (11th Cir. 2/12/21)

ARGUMENT: Government’s argument suggesting that Defendant fabricated the existence of a lawyer who helped generate the fraudulent document (“That is a story that was made up. . . . Do we have anything from the mystery lawyer Val with no last name?. . . This is not a real lawyer. . . No evidence that that person even exists in this case.”) was improper but not preserved nor prejudicial. “[W]e agree with the district court that the government’s statements, while some may be characterized as misleading, as a whole did not rise to the level of prosecutorial misconduct.” USA v. Contreras v. Maradiaga, No. 19-11889 (11th Cir. 2/12/21)

CHILD PORN-TRANSMITTAL: Defendant is not entitled to JOA where evidence showed that he had a peer-to-peer file sharing program on his computer which could move any files moved to the videos location on his computer, without the Defendant actively transmitting the files. The use of a file-sharing program, where the originator affirmatively grants the receiver access to the originator's child pornography files, constitutes the transmission of child pornography. Defendant should have known that this child porn files would be shared. Jeror v. State, 2D19-3308 (2/12/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-(CONCURRING): Defendant’s five year sentence where he only had eighteen scoresheet points (precluding prison absent a jury finding of dangerousness) upheld because the case law requiring a jury finding was made after the sentence became final. “[M]y review of our limited record leaves me unsettled. Mr. Lamberson may, indeed, be serving an illegal sentence, despite his unsuccessful attempt to convince the postconviction court or this court otherwise.” Lamberson v. State, 2D20-293 (2/12/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRETEXT: The constitutional reasonableness of a traffic stop is not dependent on the subjective motivations of the individual officers involved. A traffic stop is considered reasonable under the Fourth Amendment where the police have probable cause to believe that a traffic violation has occurred. When addressing the constitutional validity of a traffic stop, a trial court is tasked with applying a strict objective test which asks only whether any probable cause for the traffic stop existed. Parker v. State, 5D20-673 (2/12/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-WINDOW TINT: A traffic stop based on an officer’s incorrect but reasonable assessment of the facts, i.e., that the window tint was illegal, does not violate the Fourth Amendment. Parker v. State, 5D20-673 (2/12/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-HABEAS CORPUS-DEATH PENALTY:

Defendant is not entitled to federal habeas corpus relief from death penalty where State Court found that the failure to fully develop substantial mitigation did not establish prejudice. Federal courts may grant habeas corpus relief on a claim that was denied on the merits by a state court only where the state court's decision was contrary to, or involved an unreasonable application of, clearly established Federal law or was based on an unreasonable determination of the facts. State court's decision must be objectively unreasonable, not merely wrong. "Even a strong case for relief does not mean the state court's contrary conclusion was unreasonable." Lee v. GDCP Warden, No. 19-11466 (11th Cir. 2/11/21)

IMMIGRATION: Court erred in dismissing charge of possession of forged document as evidence of authorized stay or employment in US. An order of supervision issued by ICE, authorizing an unlawful alien to be released from custody into the community and to remain living in the United States for an indefinite period of time (often many years) pending removal, constitutes a document showing authorized stay in the United States. USA v. Chinchilla, No. 19-10987 (11th Cir 2/11/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201910987.pdf>

IMMIGRATION-DRIVER'S LICENSE: An order of supervision issued by ICE enables applicants to show proof of legal presence in the United States to obtain a Florida driver's license. To obtain a Florida driver's license, an applicant must provide the Florida DHSMV documents meeting certain federally-mandated minimum issuance standards that verify his identity and legal presence in the United States, including an order of supervision. USA v. Chinchilla, No. 19-10987 (11th Cir 2/11/21)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: "[T]he use of similar—or even identical—phrases in different statutes does not mean that the phrases are synonymous.” USA v. Chinchilla, No. 19-10987 (11th Cir 2/11/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201910987.pdf>

HEARSAY-PAST RECOLLECTION RECORDED: Nurse with no memory of her examination of a child victim of sexual abuse may testify from her report as a recorded recollection, if the report concerns a matter about which a witness once had knowledge, but now has insufficient recollection to enable the witness to testify fully and accurately, and if the witness made the report when the matter was fresh in the witness’s memory. Whether the nurse read her report into evidence in narrative form, or instead testified from it in response to questions designed to extract the information contained in the report, the result would be the same: the evidence presented through the nurse’s testimony is the admissible content of the report.

McClusky v. State, 1D19-2263 (2/11/21)

EXPERT OPINION: The question “So does the fact there’s no vaginal injury mean a sexual assault did not occur?” does not elicit expert opinion testimony. “At best, the question seems to have elicited testimony from the nurse about a fact that she may or may not have had personal knowledge of based on her extensive experience conducting sexual assault examinations. That would be a different objection, though: one going to foundation.” McClusky v. State, 1D19-2263 (2/11/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/718325/opinion/191768_DC05_02112021_132515_i.pdf

SEARCH WARRANT-GOOD FAITH: Court errs in suppressing evidence seized pursuant to a warrant which the judge later finds was improvidently issued, based on the fact that it was based on the statements of a scorned ex-girlfriend charged with battering the Defendant. Search was lawful under the good-faith exception to the exclusionary rule because the search warrant affidavit was not so deficient that it does not support even a colorable argument that probable cause exists. State v. Smith, 1D19-2263 (2/11/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: The remedy of habeas corpus is not available in Florida to obtain the kind of collateral postconviction relief available by motion in the sentencing court pursuant to rule 3.850. Thomas v. State, 1D20-2799 (2/11/21)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy does not bar two convictions for Battery on LEO for the separate acts of shoving an officer and then “sicking” his pit bull on the same officer. Trappman v. State, 1D19-1883 (2/10/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/718168/opinion/191883_DC05_02102021_141848_i.pdf

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Court may not impose special conditions that Defendant convicted of sexual battery not reside within 1,000 feet of any school, daycare center, park, playground, or other places where children regularly congregate where the crime did not involve a minor child as the special condition was not reasonably related to rehabilitation. Rodriguez-Carmona v. State, 1D19-3670 (2/10/21)

RECORDS-EXECUTIVE CLEMENCY: Where Applicant attests that he is applying for executive clemency, the Clerk has a duty to provide the requested records free of charge and without delay. Applicant does not have to furnish the Clerk with a completed, signed copy of the clemency form provided to him by the Office of Executive Clemency before that duty is triggered. Conflict certified. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATORY STOP: Officers may not handcuff nervous driver after a traffic stop where he had photos of methamphetamine visible on his cell phone where there is no indication that the officers feared for their safety under the circumstances and the Defendant obeyed the officers' commands and did not indicate an intent to flee and had no weapons. But narcotics found after a canine alert would have been inevitably discovered, so the search is lawful. Key v. State, 1D20-152 (2/10/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: Because Appellant would not be immediately released, he is not entitled to habeas corpus relief where his five-year sentence was meant to run concurrently with his hundred-year sentence, and the composite term of both these sentences were to run concurrently with his ninety-nine-year sentence previously. Appellant's only remedy at this time is to seek administrative relief from DOC. Canty v. State, 1D20-380 (2/10/21)

VOP: Regardless of whether §948.06(2) applies to a defendant who committed an offense before the statute was amended, Court is limited under the statute to imposing a sentence of up to 90 days in county jail only when a defendant complies with all four conditions of the statute. Howard v. State, 1D20-992 (2/10/21)

APPEAL-STAND YOUR GROUND-STANDARD OF REVIEW:

STAND YOUR GROUND-BURDEN OF PROOF: Defendant bears no burden of proof in SYG hearing. Once the defendant raises a prima facie claim of immunity, the defendant has no further evidentiary burden. Huckelby v. State, 2D20-766 (2/10/21)

STAND YOUR GROUND-WEAPON: Court erred in finding that Defendant's use of nondeadly force was not justified because he did not see the victim with a weapon or anything that looked like a weapon.

Defendant's right of non-deadly self-defense did not depend upon whether the victim was armed. Huckelby v. State, 2D20-766 (2/10/21)

SINGLE HOMICIDE RULE: Defendant may be convicted of both vehicular homicide and fleeing or attempting to elude an officer causing serious bodily injury or death. Single homicide rule no longer exists. Lugard v. State, 4D19-992 (2/10/21)

SENTENCING-UPWARD DEPARTURE-DANGEROUSNESS: Fifteen year sentence for defrauding home buyers is unlawful absent a jury finding of dangerousness for Defendant with 14.5 points on his scoresheet. SENTENCING-JUVENILE: Court may not commit a juvenile to a non-secure residential program without making written findings. Oral pronouncement is legally insufficient. A.B. v. State, 4D19-3873 (2/10/10)

RESENTENCING: Where Defendant's case is remanded for resentencing due to improper imposition of a Violent Career designation, Court errs by reimposing a PRR sentence without requiring the State to present evidence proving Defendant was PRR, or entertaining arguments against his PRR status. Where a sentence has been reversed or vacated, the resentencings in all criminal proceedings are de novo in nature, i.e. must proceed as an entirely new proceeding and Defendant is entitled to the full array of due process rights. Defense counsel's stipulation that Defendant qualified as PRR did not alleviate the trial court of its obligation to conduct a de novo resentencing hearing. Bruce v. State, 4D19-3877 (2/10/21)

INJUNCTION: Court may not grant an injunction for protection based on incidents that occurred before separation. Petitioner's testimony about an isolated incident from before the parties separated, absent additional evidence, is insufficient to warrant a permanent domestic violence injunction. Chiscul v. STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-CUSTODIAL INTERROGATION: In determining whether a person is in custody, the Court must determine whether a reasonable person would have felt he was not at liberty to end the interrogation and leave. Relevant factors include the location of the questioning, statements made during the interview, the presence or absence of physical restraints during the questioning, and the release of the interviewee at the end of the questioning. Interrogation was not custodial where the detective told Defendant, “you understand you are not under arrest, you can come and go as you want,” and asked, “you’re here under your own free will?” Thomas v. State, 1D20-87 (2/9/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: “As we have stated numerous times, habeas corpus is not to be used for obtaining additional appeals of issues which were raised, or should have been raised, on direct appeal or which were waived at trial or which could have, should have, or have been, raised in prior postconviction filings.” Merritt v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A sentence reduction under 18 U.S.C. §3582(c) does not constitute a new, intervening judgment for purposes of the bar on second or successive § 2255 motions under the Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act (AEDPA). A resentencing and a §3582(c)(2) sentence modification are different. Armstrong v. USA, No. 18-13041 (11th Cir. 2/5/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-GOOD FAITH EXCEPTION: Searching officers relied in good faith on the search warrant notwithstanding that a trash-pull yielding small amounts of narcotics and no corroborating illegal activity may or may not constitute probable cause. The exclusionary rule is not a personal right but rather a prudential doctrine whose sole purpose is to deter future Fourth Amendment violations. Even if magistrate erred in finding probable cause, suppressing the evidence found during the search would do nothing to deter future police misconduct. USA v. Morales, No. 19-11934 (11th Cir. 2/5/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911934.pdf>

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON-KNOWLEDGE: The omission of the knowledge-of-status element in the indictment for Possession of Firearm by a Felon does not invalidate the indictment. The omission of an element in an indictment does not deprive the district court of subject matter jurisdiction. A defective indictment only affects jurisdiction when it fails to allege an offense against the United States. USA v. Morales, No. 19-11934 (11th Cir. 2/5/21)

ALLEGED: "Isaac's brief to this Court refers to D.J. as his 'alleged victim.' It is not merely an allegation. . . His sexual abuse of D.J. is not an allegation. It is a fact." Isaac v. State, No. 19-11239 (11th Cir. 2/5/21)

INVENTORY SEARCH: Police do not need a warrant to search an impounded car if they (1) had the authority to impound the car, and (2) followed department procedures governing inventory searches. Officer may impound a car if all reasonable efforts to provide the vehicle driver with alternatives to impoundment have been unsuccessful or impractical due to time or staffing constraint. Failure to advise the owner that he could have the vehicle towed does not invalidate the impound where it was blocking another vehicle and owner never asked about getting a tow truck. Isaac v. State, No. 19-11239 (11th Cir. 2/5/21)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-ENHANCEMENT: Two separate occasions may constitute a pattern under the sentencing guidelines. Isaac v. State, No. 19-11239 (11th Cir. 2/5/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911239.pdf>

SENTENCE-SUBSTANTIVE REASONABLENESS: 80-year sentence was substantively reasonable where Court rejected Defendant's characterization of his sex offenses on a minor as “just a bad judgment.” "Given the calculated way in which Isaac gave a hope of security to a homeless family only to rip that hope away by sexually abusing a 13-year-old girl, we can't say the district court clearly erred in finding that it does not 'get[] much worse than this.'" Isaac v. State, No. 19-11239 (11th Cir. 2/5/21)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: The likelihood that a defendant would inadequately represent himself is not a valid reason to deny an unequivocal request for self-representation. The test for permitting a defendant to represent himself is not whether the defendant is competent to represent himself effectively but whether he is competent to make a knowing and intelligent waiver. New trial is required where Court's Faretta inquiry focused on the merit of Appellant's proposed trial strategy, rather than his competence to make a knowing and intelligent waiver of his right to counsel, and where Court explicitly stated that the reason for denying Appellant's request was its perception that Defendant's trial strategy would be fatal to his case. Bova v. State, 5D19-3199 (2/5/21)

MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE-RESENTENCING: Minor convicted of murder, where verdict does not show whether he was the actual shooter, is entitled to resentencing under §775.082(1)(b)2 (review after 15 years) rather than §775.082(1)(b)1 (review after 25 years). The resentencing court violates Alleyne by conducting its own analysis to determine if it could make the requisite finding of fact (intent to kill or actually killed) required under (b)1. Resentencing pursuant to §775.082(1)(b)2 is the sole remedy on remand. Question certified as to remedy. Manago v. State, 5D632 (2/5/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEATH PENALTY: Jury sentencing determinations are not elements of a new offense of capital first-degree murder, and therefore the Defendant is not entitled to a new sentencing hearing because the jury never made findings on aggravating factors. Randolph v. State, No. 20-287 (2/5/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to postconviction relief on grounds that trial counsel conceded guilt to a lesser offense only if Defendant expressly objected. An allegation that trial counsel failed to consult with him in advance is insufficient to warrant relief. Harvey v. State, SC19-1275 (2/4/21)

CONFRONTATION CLAUSE-HEARSAY: Wounded victim's statement "The guy said I told another lady that he was screwing a girl, her daughter. I didn't," and his description of the perpetrator, made to first responders, is inadmissible under the Confrontation Clause (Crawford) Evidence that constitutes a hearsay exception is still inadmissible (here, excited utterance) if it violates the Confrontation Clause. But error is harmless. Boldridge v. State, 1D19-3153 (2/4/21)

SELECTIVE PROSECUTION: Defendant is not entitled to records related to racial breakdown of stash house robbery stings in order to try to establish a claim of racially motivated selective prosecution. USA v. Cannon, No. 16-16194 (11th Cir. 2/3/21)

MULTIPLICITOUS INDICTMENT: A multiplicitous indictment, which charges a single offense in more than one count, violates double jeopardy principles because it gives the jury numerous opportunities to convict the defendant for the same offense. Separate counts of conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act robbery and conspiracy to possess with intent to distribute cocaine is not an multiplicitous indictment under Blockberger. USA v. Cannon, No. 16-16194 (11th Cir. 2/3/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201616194.pdf>

ENTRAPMENT INSTRUCTION: Entrapment has two elements: (1) government inducement of the crime and (2) the defendant's lack of predisposition to commit the crime before the inducement. Defendant must show an element of persuasion or mild coercion, i.e. in other words, opportunity plus something like excessive pressure or manipulation. Court did not err in denying Defendant's request for an entrapment instruction where he agreed without hesitation to rob the stash house and declined multiple opportunities to withdraw. USA v. Cannon, No. 16-16194 (11th Cir. 2/3/21)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201616194.pdf>

SENTENCING ENTRAPMENT: Sentencing entrapment is the claim that a defendant, although predisposed to commit a minor or lesser offense, is entrapped into committing a greater offense subject to greater punishment. Sentencing entrapment is not a valid defense. USA v. Cannon, No. 16-16194 (11th Cir. 2/3/21)

JUROR: Court did not err in dismissing a juror who was the hairdresser of a Defendant's wife due to their business relationship. Juror saying that the relationship would not impact her ability to perform her duties does not compel a different conclusion. Despite her statement of no actual bias, the court was still required to determine if there would be implied bias due to the relationship. USA v. Cannon, No. 16-16194 (11th Cir. 2/3/21)

COURT REPORTER ACT: Nothing in the Court Reporter Act requires that the audio or video recordings, which are not testimony but are themselves admitted into evidence as exhibits, be transcribed by the court reporter. USA v. Cannon, No. 16-16194 (11th Cir.

FIREARM DURING FELONY: Court erred by submitting to the jury the charge of use of a firearm during commission of a crime of violence where the predicate offense--conspiracy to commit robbery--is not a crime of violence, and further erred by not instructing the jury that it could convict on alternative predicates (the cocaine conspiracy predicate was valid). But error is harmless because the two conspiracies were intertwined and coextensive. USA v. Cannon, No. 16-16194 (11th Cir. 2/3/21)

HEARSAY: Witness's statement that drug dealer told Witness to stay away from Defendant because Defendant had stolen $40,000 from the drug dealer, admitted over objection as a statement in furtherance of a conspiracy, was not hearsay because not offered to prove the truth of the matter asserted but, rather, was offered to explain why witness never dealt with Defendant directly. Even if error, any error was harmless given the weight of the evidence (eight testifying co-defendants/coconspirators, abundant physical evidence, etc.). USA v. Hart, No. 20-11096 (11th Cir. 2/3/21)

RESTITUTION-ATTORNEY'S FEES: Defendant, who at the closing on a house, as the notary's back was turned, abruptly grabbed the original deed and promissory note, sprinted out the front door, drove away, and later recorded the stolen deed is liable for restitution of $18,666.50 in restitution, representing the attorney's fees actually expended in clearing the title on the real property. Rowe, adopting the federal lodestar approach for computing reasonable attorney fees does not apply to a criminal restitution award. Livingston v. State, 2D20-65 (2/3/21)

COERCION-DEFINITION: Florida case law reveals no definition for coercion. "While similar, the terms 'duress' and 'coercion' are certainly not synonymous in all respects. Otherwise, the use of both words by the Florida Supreme Court and the Florida Legislature would be redundant. While "duress" generally occurs by means of actual physical force or threatened physical force to one's person or by threats to one's property or reputation, "coercion" is "generally defined more broadly to include undue influence and other lesser forms of compulsion." Bates v. Bates, 3D19-1884 (2/3/21)

conviction for possession of an anti-shoplifting device. Martinez-Rivero v. State, 3D20-149 (2/3/21)

CONTEMPT: Court errs in finding in indirect criminal contempt attorney who ignored trial court orders, failed to attend a case management conference, conducted no discovery, and failed to comply with two mediation orders where order to show cause recited the titles of four violated court orders without setting forth any essential facts constituting the contempt. Levine v. State, 4D20-118 (2/3/21)

JANUARY 2021

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Appellate court's finding that the Defendant's Motion for Post Conviction Relief appeared to be facially valid does not preclude the trial court, upon remand, from finding that it wasn't. Himes v. State, 1D19-2432 (1/29/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED RELIEF: A newly discovered evidence claim must be supported by a properly sworn affidavit from the witness whose testimony provides the basis for the claim. Written statement by an original suspect that he, not the Defendant, was the getaway driver and the Defendant was not involved, is not admissible to support newly discovered evidence claim where the statement was notarized but not sworn, and the notary did not establish how she identified that declarant. Himes v. State, 1D19-2432 (1/29/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: R. 3.850(f)(2) allows a defendant a single chance to amend a facially insufficient motion, including an insufficient affidavit, if he or she can do so in good faith. Himes v. State, 1D19-2432 (1/29/21)

CONSECUTIVE SENTENCE-VIOLATION: Where Defendant was sentenced to 30 years imprisonment with ten years suspended upon completion of ten years' probation (true split sentence), the probation ran concurrently with conditional release, and where Defendant violated the probation and was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment, the sentence was not unlawful on the ground that the trial court did not designate whether those sentences would be served concurrently with or consecutively to any incarceration that would result if the DOC chose to forfeit the previously earned gain time. DOC lawfully determined that the forfeited gain time should be served consecutively. Peters v. State, 2D19-3550 (1/29/21)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Reasonable suspicion for the stop alone does not justify an arrest or search. Where the State did not present any evidence regarding what happened during the stop, did not argue that there was probable cause to arrest and search, and did not otherwise address the search that resulted in the discovery of the drugs, it failed to demonstrate that the police had probable cause to arrest Defendant or any other basis to justify a search of Brown or his personal belongings. APPEAL-MOOTNESS-PRR: A defendant's potential designation as a prison releasee reoffender is not a sufficient collateral legal consequence to preclude dismissal of the appeal as moot. Casiano v. State, No. SC19-1622 (1/28/21)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: "Appellant improperly analyzes the State's evidence in the light most favorable to himself and asks that we do the same. However, analyzing the evidence in the light most favorable to the State, as we must, leads us to conclude that the trial court was correct in denying Appellant's motion for judgment of acquittal." JOA-INTENT: Direct evidence of intent is rare, and intent is usually proven through inference. A trial court should rarely, if ever, grant a motion for judgment of acquittal on the issue of intent. Powell v. State, 1D20-820 (1/27/21)

APPEAL: Where the postconviction court's factual findings and credibility determinations are supported by competent, substantial evidence, appellate court will defer to its findings because the postconviction court has a superior vantage point in assessing the credibility of witnesses and in making findings of fact. Johnson v.

HEARSAY-EXPERT: While an expert may undoubtedly rely on hearsay in rendering opinions, an expert's testimony may not merely be used as a conduit for the introduction of the otherwise inadmissible evidence. Dayes v. Werner Enterprise, 3D19-920 (1/27/20)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/715721/opinion/191920_DC13_01272021_103307_i.pdf

SENTENCING: Court may not rely upon its own opinion of Defendant's mental state and the likelihood of recidivism (that Defendant has an ingrained, immutable propensity to commit pedophilic crimes) in the face of contradictory expert opinion evidence. Court can only reject undisputed testimony from an expert when it either concerns technical evidence and is so palpably incredible, illogical, and unreasonable as to be unworthy of belief or otherwise open to doubt or when it concerns non-expert matters and is disputed by lay testimony. Court's opinion that Defendant had an "immutable" sexual disorder, absent a diagnosis by any testifying expert, cannot stand. Tindall v. State, 19-2215 (1/27/21)

APPEAL-JURISDICTION: Trial court lacks jurisdiction to enter a written order revoking probation, consistent with the oral pronouncement, after the record on appeal was transferred to the appellate court. Witham v. State, 4D20-765 (1/27/21)

COVID-MASKS: Ordinance requiring Covid masks is lawful. Requiring the general population to use face coverings does not abridge the constitutional right to refuse medical treatment. “Plaintiffs’ minimal inconvenience caused by the Mask Ordinance must be balanced against the general public’s right to not be further infected with a deadly virus. It is beyond dispute that the potential injury to the public that would result from enjoining the government’s ability to prevent the spread of a presently incurable, deadly, and highly communicable virus far outweighs any individual’s right to simply do as they please.” Machovec v. Palm Beach County, 4D20-1765 (1/27/21)

CERTIFICATE OF APPEALABILITY: Garcia v. United States, holding that Defendant may not obtain a COA where a constitutional challenge is not fairly debatable (i.e., is foreclosed by binding circuit precedent), is vacated pending a decision in two cases before the Supreme Court. BAIL: Defendant may not be held without bond on a new offense committed while out on bond for an earlier offense. “We are confident that if the State, on remand, asks the trial court to consider Petitioner’s prior criminal record or his track record for attending court in setting reasonable conditions for pretrial release, it will offer admissible evidence regarding same.” Barton v. State, 5D21-168 (1/26/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Case remanded for hearing where Court failed to rule on whether counsel was ineffective for failing to object to testimony about general criminal behavior testimony based upon a law enforcement officer's observations and experience in the investigation of other cases. COSTS: Before the statutory minimum public defender fee of $100 for felony cases can be imposed, the defendant must be notified of his or her right to a hearing to contest the fee. Conflict certified. Wilson v. State, 2D19-4461 (1/22/21)

STAND YOUR GROUND-FORCIBLE FELONY: Because burglary of a residence is a forcible felony, Defendant is immune from prosecution for shooting the guest who refused to leave and physically fought with the Defendant’s boy friend, notwithstanding that no one was threatened with imminent death or great bodily injury. Burglary includes remaining in. Victim who batters and continues to batter

Defendant's boyfriend for some appreciable length of time after the invitation into the home was withdrawn was thus commits forcible felony for purposes of SYG immunity. "We would caution trial courts. . . to remain mindful that the legislature has placed a heightened burden of proof on the State, not the defendant, for Stand Your Ground proceedings." Cummings v. JOA: To preserve an argument of the insufficiency of the evidence at trial the precise legal argument as to why the evidence is insufficient to sustain a conviction must be presented to the trial court. Harvey v. State, 5D20-166 (2/22/21)

CONTINUANCE: Court need not grant motion for continuance requested during trial because defense counsel had not met with a person whose identity had just been disclosed to counsel by a member of Appellant's family as a possible witness. To prevail on a motion for continuance to permit presentation of an additional witness, a party is required to show 1) prior due diligence in securing the witness's presence, 2) substantially favorable testimony would have been forthcoming, 3) the witness is available and willing to testify, and 4) the denial of the continuance caused material prejudice. HABEAS CORPUS: The remedy of habeas corpus is not available in Florida to obtain the kind of collateral postconviction relief available by motion in the sentencing court pursuant to rule 3.850. Habeas corpus is not to be used for obtaining additional appeals of issues which were raised, or should have been raised, on direct appeal or which were waived at trial or which could have, should have, or have been, raised in prior postconviction filings. Warren v. State, 1D20-3243 (1/21/20)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER: Defendant who had beaten up victim before and who, on the day of the homicide had acted threateningly toward the victim (who, cornered, stabbed Defendant with something) and then retrieved a gun and shot the victim ten times in the back, is properly convicted of second degree murder. THREATENING LEO: Symbolic gestures mimicking violence and suggestions of future violence toward officers supports conviction for threatening a law enforcement officer. Statute is not overbroad. Romero v. State, 3D20-32 (1/20/21)

OVERBREADTH-FIRST AMENDMENT: In order to succeed in an overbreadth challenge, the litigant must demonstrate from the text of the statute and from actual fact that a substantial number of instances exist in which the statute cannot be applied constitutionally. Romero v. State, 3D20-32 (1/20/21)

TRUE THREATS DOCTRINE: States are free to ban speech amounting to a true threat without running afoul of the First Amendment. A statement is a true threat when a defendant intentionally makes a statement in a context or under such circumstances wherein a reasonable person would foresee that the statement would be interpreted by those to whom the maker communicates the statement as a serious expression of an intention to inflict bodily injury or take the life of an individual. Romero v. State, 3D20-32 (1/20/21)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/714429/opinion/200032_DC02_01202021_104806_i.pdf

SCIENTER: In the context of a statute proscribing threats, proof of scienter is necessary to guard against the impermissible regulation of the lawful exercise of constitutionally protected speech. Without such proof, remarks made in jest or mere puffery, political hyperbole, or involuntary communications could conceivably subject an accused to prosecution. Romero v. State, 3D20-32 (1/20/21)

SCIENTER: It is presumed that the legislature also intends to include a guilty knowledge element in its criminal statutes, absent an express statement to the contrary. Criminal statutes are construed to include broadly applicable scienter requirements, even where the statute does not contain them. Romero v. State, 3D20-32 (1/20/21)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/714429/opinion/200032_DC02_01202021_104806_i.pdf

DEFINITION-“THREATEN”: “Although ‘threaten’ is arguably subject to a myriad of varied and nuanced definitions. . . woven through the fabric of all. . . definitions is a common thread of some element of volition, namely a communicated intent to ‘inflict harm,’ consistent with the body of law governing true threats. Romero v. State, 3D20-32 (1/20/21)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/714429/opinion/200032_DC02_01202021_104806_i.pdf

felony under 10-20-life statute if Defendant uses a firearm. The statute permits but does not mandate a life sentence. Sols v. State, 19-763 (1/20/21)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/714414/opinion/190763_DC08_01202021_095530_i.pdf

NAME CHANGE: Court may not deny name change (to “Raoul Medina Sir Bey” on ground that he had multiple convictions for 1st degree felonies and it would be against public policy to permit the name change. Merely indicating that Applicant had a criminal history is not a proper basis for denying the petition. Medina v. State, 4D19-3891 (1/20/21)

SCORESHEET ERROR: Defendant is entitled to a new sentencing hearing where scoresheet showed that he was charged with aggravated white-collar crime, an offense separate and distinct from that to which he pled, resulting in his primary offense at sentencing being scored incorrectly where the record does not conclusively show that the same sentence would have been imposed using a correctly computed scoresheet. Burkeen v. State, 4D20-1646 (1/20/21)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/714421/opinion/201646_DC13_01202021_100858_i.pdf

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-COMPETENCY: Where Court made oral finding of competency based on two year old reports but entered no written order, and Defendant made no objection, any error is not preserved nor fundamental. Arguments challenging a trial court's failure to enter a written order of competency must be preserved or constitute fundamental error. Parker v. State, 1D19-4028 (1/15/21)

JUVENILE SANCTION: Where the record is insufficient to support a finding that Defendant had a previous adjudication or withhold of adjudication of a forcible felony or offense involving a firearm, or had been previously placed in a residential program, Court does not violate §985.557(2) in imposing a juvenile sentence of Defendant charged as an adult. The burden is on the State as appellant to produce a sufficient record to demonstrate reversible error. State v. B.T.G., 1D20-330 (1/15/21)

CONTINUANCE: Defendant is entitled to a continuance when State amends the information to add a new charge (delivery of marijuana to a minor) which Defense was unprepared for on the day of jury selection, notwithstanding that the facts were known before. Defense counsel must be afforded an adequate opportunity to investigate and prepare any applicable defense. Davis v. State, 2D18-2613 (1/15/21)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/713766/opinion/182613_DC13_01152021_093038_i.pdf

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's closing argument alluding to gestures Defendant made at witness during her testimony and Defendant snoozing during the trial was improper but harmless given that the Defendant had been admonished, and the juror was well aware of his behavior. Davis v. State, 2D18-2613 91/15/21)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/713766/opinion/182613_DC13_01152021_093038_i.pdf

VOP-WILLFULNESS: Defendant did not willfully violate probation where he missed re-scheduled anger management class because he had no time to arrange child care, and where that attendance at that particular session was not required. Bell v. State, 2D19-1591 (1/15/21)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/713767/opinion/191591_DC13_01152021_093250_i.pdf

PROBATION-MODIFICATION: Court's power to modify probation does not extend to enhancing punishment by adding more community service hours. Bell v. State, 2D19-1591 (1/15/21)

JURY INSTRUCTION-KILLING ALLIGATORS: Jury instruction on killing alligators which failed to include the language "unless authorized by rules of the Fish and Wildlife Conservation" were incomplete, misleading, and confusing. Jury instructions which omit statutory phrase that was critical to the jury's understanding of the law applicable to the charges before it are improper. Allowing defense counsel to argue a theory of defense to the jury while also refusing to instruct the jury on that defense does not solve the problem of improper instructions. Court's decision to include the Administrative Code provisions in the jury instructions but also to deny Defendant's request to include the "unless authorized" language resulted in the court providing an incomplete, misleading, and manifestly confusing explanation of the law to the jurors. Nichols v. State, 2D19-1721 (1/15/20)

COSTS: Court may not assess $3 cost pursuant to §318.18 where Defendant was not convicted of a traffic offense. Rouse-Ruzzo v. State, 5D19-3061 (1/15/21)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/713744/opinion/193061_DC05_01152021_081755_i.pdf

APPEAL-COMPETENCY: Defendant must move to withdraw plea before appealing the Court's acceptance of counsel's stipulation of competency after an evaluation had been conducted without having made an independent determination that the Defendant was competent. Ball v. State, 5D19-3536 (1/15/21)

VOP: Regardless of whether §948.06(2) applies to a defendant who committed an offense before the statute was amended, when imposing sentence for a violation of probation, a trial court is limited to modifying or continuing probation or imposing a sentence of up to ninety days in county jail only when a defendant complies with all four conditions. Massey v. State, 1D19-4281 (1/14/21)

TEXTUALISM: “[T]here can be no doubt that ‘any’ was a scrivener’s error and should have been ‘all,’ so we as a court have the very narrow authority to apply the statute with this correction in order to fully effectuate all of its terms.” Massey v. State, 1D19-4281 (1/14/21)

ACCA-RESIDUAL CLAUSE: Defendant bears the burden that sentencing court relied on the residual clause in interpreting his kidnapping conviction as a violent felony and thus the basis for ACCA enhancement. The fact that kidnapping by inveiglement may not be violent does not remove it from the elements clause of the ACCA. Even if the residual clause were the most obvious clause under which the convictions qualified, it does not necessarily mean even by implication that the elements clause could not also have been relied on. Williams v. USA, No. 19-10308 (11th Cir. 1/13/21)

APPEAL-STANDARD OF REVIEW: Mixed questions of law and fact are questions in which the historical facts are admitted or established, the rule of law is undisputed, and the issue is whether the facts satisfy the statutory standard, or to put it another way, whether the rule of law as applied to the established facts is or is not violated. Review of a mixed question of law and fact depends on whether answering it entails primarily legal or factual work. Review is de novo. Williams v. USA, No. 19-10308 (11th Cir. 1/13/21)

ACCA: ACCA defines the kind of crimes that count as a “violent felony” in three ways. First, a felony may qualify as violent under the elements clause of the ACCA because it has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person of another. Second, a felony may qualify as violent under the enumerated-offenses clause of the ACCA because it is for burglary, arson, or extortion, or involves use of explosives. Third, a felony may qualify as violent under the residual clause of the ACCA because it otherwise involves conduct that presents a serious potential risk of physical injury to another, but the residual clause is unconstitutionally vague. Williams v. USA, No. 19-10308 (11th Cir. 1/13/21)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/700608/opinion/200798_DC08_01132021_125304_i.pdf

JUROR-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-DISCRIMINATION: Jurors statement that she could understand why a defendant might not want to testify is not a race neutral reason to strike her. Alleged disinterest in voir dire, based on nonverbal conduct cannot justify a strike when it is disputed and the Court did not observe the behavior. A strike founded on nonverbal behavior cannot rest solely on a party's assertion of a good-faith basis. Rather, it must be supported by the record in a manner that allows for meaningful appellate review. Gibson v. State, 2D18-4349 (1/13/20)

COSTS: Court may not impose $50 fee for the Legal Assistance Lien for payment of attorney's fees or costs without giving notice of Defendant's right to contest the fee. Conflict certified. D.S. v. State, 2D19-800 (1/13/20)

of probation when PO testified that Defendant failed to answer door or phone at his townhouse around 5:30 a.m. in violation of probation, but Defendant's wife testified that he was walking her to the car so that she could go to work, which he always does because of snakes. Evidence that gives rise to multiple reasonable inferences, only one of which establishes a violation, does not support a violation. Kegler v. State, 2D19-3479 (1/13/21)

APPEAL-JURISDICTION: State may not appeal Court's decision to vacate a sentence and order a new sentencing hearing based on a prior mandate, which has since been clearly overruled by intervening authority. "We decline the State's invitation to assert our appellate jurisdiction when none exists. The Florida Legislature has expressly and clearly delineated the parameters of this Court's jurisdiction to hear appeals brought by the State; we have jurisdiction to review only those orders enumerated in section 924.07(1) and rule 9.140(c)(1)." REVERSE WILLIAMS RULE: Defendant as the right to offer similar-crime evidence to show his innocence by proof of the guilt of another ("reverse Williams rule"). POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to call DNA expert who would have confirmed that the DNA was the Defendant's. McFarlane v. State, 3D19-1855 (1/13/21)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failure to procure a jury of Defendant's "contemporaries," i.e. "an eclectic group of males ages 40 to 65 years old and democrats (liberals)." Defendants are not entitled to a particular jury composition. McFarlane v. State, 3D19-1855 (1/13/21)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Defendant may not raise on appeal claim that prosecutor's mischaracterization of DNA evidence as "ten plus non-motile sperm cells" constituted a "misguided, Machiavellian attempt [of] misdirection" where the alleged misconduct was not raised in the 3.850 motion. McFarlane v. State, 3D19-1855 (1/13/21)

EXPERT: Defendant was not entitled to receive funds from the Justice Administrative Commission to retain an expert to testify regarding the DNA evidence where Defendant asserted that the denial “was predicated on prosecutor’s disingenuous allegation of 10 plus fabrication sperm cells” but Court found that the defendant’s position would not be supported by any expert anywhere. VOP-VIDEO HEARINGS: Motion to certify the question whether the United States and Florida constitutions permit trial courts to conduct probation violation hearings over Zoom where Defendant and his attorney are separated, all because of COVID, is denied. Clarington v. State, 3D20-1461 (1/13/21)

DRUG TESTING-PAYMENT: Requirement that Defendant pay for drug testing is not a general condition of probation. If imposed it must be orally pronounced and if not, may not be included in the written order of probation. Metellus v. State, 4D19-1107 (1/13/21)

JUVENILE-SENTENCING: If DJJ recommends probation with an alternative recommendation for commitment to a non-secure residential program, Court is not required to make E.A.R. findings. O.L. v. State, 4D19-3411 (1/13/21)

MANDAMUS-GAIN TIME: A mandamus petition filed more than 30 days after the final disposition of a disciplinary proceeding must be dismissed. Milne v. Inch, 1D20-1201 (1/12/21)

APPEAL-FALSE REPRESENTATIONS: Sanctions may be imposed when Defendant files a petition for belated appeal including falsehoods to avoid procedural bar. That a jailhouse lawyer prepared the pleadings is an unacceptable excuse. “Petitioners should not be allowed to cavalierly lie to this court.” Baca v. State, 1D19-3429 (1/11/21)

JURY INSTRUCTION-FORCIBLE FELONY: Counsel was not ineffective for failing request a jury instruction that if the jury acquits on the underlying forcible felonies, the forcible felony exception to self-defense law does not apply. Because there is no authority requiring the giving of the proposed special instruction and no evidence that the jury was confused by the standard instruction, counse;s performance was neither deficient performance or was the Defendant prejudiced. Akel v. State, 1D20-647 (1/11/21)

HABEAS CORPUS: Before a petition for writ of habeas corpus may be granted, the petitioner must show by affidavit or evidence probable cause to believe that he or she is detained without lawful authority. When the petitioner provides no record or affidavits to support his allegations, he fails to set out a prima facie basis for relief. Morales v. Inch, 1D20-760 (1/11/21)

CERTIFICATE OF APPEALABILITY: To obtain a COA, Defendant must make a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right. Where a district court has rejected the constitutional claims on the merits, the petitioner must demonstrate that reasonable jurists would find the district court's assessment of the constitutional claims debatable or wrong. A claim that is foreclosed by binding circuit precedent is not debatable. Garcia v. USA, No. 19-14374 (11th Cir. 1/8/21)

ACCA: Conspiring to possess with intent to distribute five kilograms or more of cocaine and attempting to possess with intent to distribute that amount of cocaine are unquestionably drug trafficking crimes because they are felonies punishable under the Controlled Substances Act. Garcia v. USA, No. 19-14374 (11th Cir. 1/8/21)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Defendant's statement during post-Miranda interrogation, "I don't got nothing to say to y'all. I don't-- I don't know what's going on. I'm fucking freezing," requires interrogation to end. Defendant articulated his desire to terminate the questioning with sufficient clarity that a reasonable police officer would understand his statements to be an assertion of the right to remain silent. The fact that Tanner indicated six times that he did not want to talk is sufficient to end interrogation. Tanner v. State, 2D18-3053 (1/8/21)

EVIDENCE: Court erred in allowing the State to call Detective for the sole purpose of creating an inference that Defendant had hidden incriminating evidence from law enforcement by failing to give them the correct code to unlock his phone where State failed to show it was the Defendant's phone. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for use of a computer to seduce/solicit/entice a child to commit a sex act and unlawful use of a two-way communications device violate double jeopardy where it is not clear from the information that different conduct underlay each charge. LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Resentencing court properly imposed a life sentence with review after 25 years for minor convicted in murder/robbery case. SENTENCING-CHILD PORN-ENHANCEMENT: Florida’s child porn statute is a predicate offense for enhancement of federal child porn. To determine whether a defendant’s prior conviction qualifies as a predicate offense for a sentencing enhancement, federal courts generally apply the “categorical approach,” meaning it looks only to the elements of the statute under which the defendant was convicted and not at the facts. Court presumes that the prior conviction rested upon nothing more than the least of the acts criminalized under Florida law. USA v. Kushmaul, No. 20-10924 (11th Cir. 1/6/21)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Defendant abandoned his request to represent himself when he expressly agreed to allow his court appointed counsel to continue to represent him,”even after he made unequivocal request to represent himself, or if his subsequent conduct indicated he vacillated on the issue or had abandoned his request altogether. COMPETENCY: Court errs in allowing case to proceed to trial after Defendant's return from Florida State Hospital for treatment after he had been found incompetent, without conducting a competency hearing but rather relying on stipulation of the parties. Maxwell v. State, 1D19-3314 (1/6/21)

HABITUAL OFFENDER-PRR: A trial court may impose a single sentence pursuant to both the PRR and habitual felony offender (HFO) statutes but the HFO portion of the sentence must be longer than the PRR portion of the sentence. Court may not impose a five-year PRR sentence consecutive to a seven year HFO sentence for a third degree felony, resulting in a term of twelve years for one count. The cumulative total may not exceed ten years. Flint v. State, 2D18-2742 (1/6/21)

RESENTENCING-MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: Because there was no ruling or written order on Defendant's motion to correct illegal sentence prior to the Florida Supreme Court's decisions holding that a juvenile' life sentence with the possibility of parole sentence is not illegal, Defendant is not entitled to a hearing. VOP: When a defendant's probation is revoked based on an affidavit which alleges a violation with less-than-exacting precision but which nonetheless puts the defendant on notice of the misconduct of which he is accused, the deficiency is considered harmless so long as the State offers sufficient evidence that the defendant is guilty of the conduct (although not necessarily the condition) actually alleged in the affidavit. INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE-OPENING THE DOOR: By introducing the 911 call in which Defendant claimed that the homicide victim had stabbed her, counsel opened the door to Defendant’s otherwise suppressed admission that she had self-inflicted the knife wounds to claim self-defense. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-RECANTED TESTIMONY: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that co-defendant who testified against him had recanted and claimed that his earlier testimony was coerced. ACCA-COLLATERAL CLAIM DOCTRINE: Defendant’s argument, that because attempted robbery is not a crime under Alabama law and thus has no elements, and that, without any elements, his attempted robbery conviction did not meet either of the definitions of a violent felony (which requires the element of the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against a person), is nonavailing because Defendant may not collaterally attack a state conviction in federal court. SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Stop was justified where multiple seemingly innocent factors provided the deputies with reasonable suspicion, i.e. a convenience store clerk called 911 to report what he believed was a drug deal taking place behind his building at 5:30 in the morning, it was an area known for criminal activity, an SUV was parked by the car wash but no one was washing it and the ground was dry, and the Defendant, with a bulge in his pocket, appeared nervous and seemed to be looking for a way out. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATIVE STOP: For reasonable suspicion, the relevant inquiry is not whether particular conduct is innocent or guilty, but the degree of suspicion that attaches to particular types of noncriminal acts. The whole is often greater than the sum of its parts—especially when the parts are viewed in isolation and the totality-of-the-circumstances test precludes this sort of divide-and-conquer analysis. CONSENSUAL ENCOUNTER: Defendant was seized, and the events were not a consensual encounter as a matter of Fourth Amendment law at the moment the uniformed deputies confronted him in the car wash stall, with one deputy to Defendant's right, one deputy walking around behind him then standing to his left, a wall behind him, an SUV in front of him, and the deputies immediately asking what was going on and if he had any weapons. No reasonable person would feel free to ignore the deputies' questions or leave. Calhoun v. State, 1D19-524 (12/30/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DISSENT: No generalized "bulge" exception exists in Fourth Amendment jurisprudence. "As one court has noted, 'most men do not carry purses, they, of necessity, carry innocent personal objects in their pants pockets—wallets, money clips, keys, change, credit cards, cell phones, cigarettes, and the like—objects that, given the immutable law of physics that matter occupies space, will create some sort of bulge.'" VOP: §948.06(2)(f), limiting punishment for violation of probation, excludes from its applications probationers who have more than one low-risk technical violation (here, failing to report, changing his residence without consent, and failing to successfully complete a rehabilitation program). §948.06(2)(f)1.c. applies only to probationers with a single violation of probation. “The use of the noun ‘violation’ along with the indefinite article ‘a’ before the second mention of the word ‘violation’ requires a reading of ‘violation’ as a singular noun.” Schmidt v. APPEAL-CERTIORARI-LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR: State may not Court's erroneous granting of sentence review for a minor sentenced to life for murder who is eligible for parole, but may seek review by certiorari. LIFE SENTENCE-HOMICIDE-MINOR-JURY FINDINGS: A jury must make the factual finding that he actually killed or intended to kill the victim. ACCA-QUALIFYING OFFENSES-SALE OF COCAINE: Pursuant to the ACCA, a defendant convicted under 18 U.S.C. § 922(g) is subject to a mandatory minimum 15-year prison term if he has three prior convictions for a “violent felony” or a “serious drug offense.” Three sale of cocaine convictions qualify as “controlled substance offense[s]” under U.S.S.G. § 4B1.2(b) A prior conviction for sale of cocaine under Fla. Stat. § 893.13 qualifies as a serious drug offense under § 924(e)(2)(A)(ii) of the ACCA. USA v. Smith, No. 19-12686 (11th Cir. 12/21/21)

DEPORTATION-VEHICULAR HOMICIDE: Vehicular homicide in Florida is a crime of moral turpitude, requiring removal for lawful permanent resident alien (Jamaican) who had had another crime of moral turpitude before. Moral turpitude may inhere in criminally reckless conduct which includes when a defendant consciously disregards a substantial risk of serious harm or death to another. The mens rea required to sustain a conviction for vehicular homicide--recklessness--amounts to more than simple negligence, but less than culpable negligence, which is required to sustain a conviction for manslaughter. Smith v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 19-12622 (11th Cir. 12/18/20)

MORAL TURPITUDE: “Moral turpitude” involves an act of baseness, vileness, or depravity in the private and social duties which a man owes to his fellow men, or to society in general, contrary to the accepted and customary rule of right and duty between man and man. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for not calling an alibi witness. Defendant’s response during trial to Judge’s question that he agreed with his attorney that he would call no witness does not defeat the claim. Even if his claim of failure to call the alibi witness at trial was refuted by the colloquy on the record, his claim of failure to investigate is not. Morales v. State, 1D19-4016 (12/18/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A court hearing a post conviction motion is not required to accept a movant’s self-serving testimony about a matter simply because trial counsel cannot specifically recall the transaction and testifies about a standard practice. SCORESHEET-COULD HAVE/WOULD HAVE BEEN TEST: Where Defendant's case was remanded for resentencing based on the vacation of the convictions in one of the Defendant's cases, with a resulting lower scoresheet, the Defendant is not entitled to resentencing based on scoresheet error. In general, when the vacation of a conviction would result in changes to the defendant's scoresheet, the defendant is entitled to be resentenced using a corrected scoresheet and applied the would-have-been-imposed standard, but the could-have-been imposed standard applies when vacated convictions were in a separate case. "The critical distinction in this case. . . is that [Defendant's] vacated convictions occurred in a separate case and did not become part of the same postconviction record. Thus, there is no error on the face of the record demonstrating an entitlement to resentencing. See Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.800(a)(1)." Joseph v. State, 5D20-1627 (12/18/20)

MANSLAUGHTER BY CULPABLE NEGLIGENCE-EVIDENCE:

Medical expert may testify that "blows" caused the death of a 19-month old child who suffered blunt head trauma during a 40 minute ride in a car driven by the Defendant, notwithstanding that Defendant was not charged with murder. The standard to be used in all cases where the sufficiency of the evidence is analyzed is whether, after all conflicts in the evidence and all reasonable inferences therefrom have been resolved in favor of the verdict on appeal, there is substantial, competent evidence to support the verdict and the judgment. WITHHOLD OF ADJUDICATION: Court may not withhold adjudication where Defendant had a prior withholding of adjudication for a felony offense, but not where the Defendant had prior convictions. HABEAS CORPUS-AEDPA: The Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act (AEDPA) restricts the power of federal courts to grant writs of habeas corpus based on claims that were adjudicated on the merits by a state court. A prisoner must show far more than that the state court's decision was merely wrong or even clear error. The prisoner must show that the state court's decision is so obviously wrong that its error lies beyond any possibility for fairminded disagreement. Where Defendant claimed that trial counsel was ineffective for failing to investigate mitigating circumstances for death penalty phase (Defendant had been highly uncooperative) and trial counsel after a post-conviction hearing found that counsel was neither ineffective nor would additional mitigating evidence have influenced the sentencing decision, the Court's decision was not contrary to, nor involved an unreasonable application of, clearly established Federal law. RETURN OF PROPERTY-JURISDICTION: Once petition for injunction has been dismissed, Court has no lawful authority to decide any further substantive matters. Court had no authority to order person who sought return of guns seized ex parte pursuant to a petition for protection against stalking, later dismissed, to appear for a hearing on his motion. “All of which leads us to the inescapable deduction that the court was ordering this evidentiary hearing not to facilitate the return of Mr. Wolfe's seized firearms, but to decide whether there was some independent reason Mr. Wolfe's firearms ought not to be returned to him. JURY INSTRUCTION-EXCUSABLE/JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE:

Excusable/justifiable homicide instruction does not describe and element of the offense, but is instead in the nature of a defense for purposes of an attempted second degree murder charge. LIFE FELONY: Fifty-year prison sentence for attempted first-degree murder with a firearm is illegal, even if Defendant agreed to it as part of her plea because it exceeds the statutory maximum for a life felony. Due to a statutory anomaly, a person convicted of a life felony on or

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS: A prosecution for a rape (US Code of Military Justice), as a crime punishable by death, may be commenced at any time, notwithstanding that the death penalty for rape is unconstitutional. “Punishable by death” is a term of art. USA v. Briggs, No. 19–108 (11th Cir. 12/10/20)

ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT: In order to mount a successful collateral attack on his sentence, Defendant must prove (1) that the sentencing court relied solely on the ACCA’s residual clause to apply the ACCA enhancement to his sentence, and (2) that absent the residual clause, his sentence cannot stand. It is not enough to establish that the district court could have relied on either the residual clause or another clause; rather, the movant must show that the district court relied only on the residual clause. SOVEREIGN CITIZEN: Defendant’s sovereign citizen argument, that he had trademarked and incorporated his name, thereby separating himself from the “the living breathing human being” being prosecuted and thus depriving the court of personal jurisdiction over him, has no basis in the law, and parties that make it are in danger of court sanctions. Barber v. Bay County Sheriff, 1D19-3952 (12/10/20)

FIRST STEP ACT: A federal drug crime involving both crack cocaine and another controlled substance (here, powder cocaine) can be a “covered offense” as that term is defined in the First Step Act, authorizing a sentence reduction. Where Defendant, convicted of offenses involving more than 1.5 kilograms of crack cocaine or 150 kilograms of powder cocaine, is properly sentenced to 30 years imprisonment. Trafficking in crack is a covered offense and trafficking in powder cocaine is not, but the First Step Act’s definition of a “covered offense covers a multidrug conspiracy offense that includes both a crack-cocaine element and another drug-quantity element. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Question Certified: Given the requirements of §316.062(1), Florida Statutes, does conviction on multiple counts under §316.027(2) stemming from a single crash involving multiple victims, expose a defendant to multiple punishments for one offense in violation of the Double-Jeopardy protections of the U.S. Constitution? CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-VOP: A defendant who, pursuant to a probationary split sentence, serves time in state prison, is released on probation, violates that probation, and is thereafter resentenced to prison, is entitled to credit for the time he previously served in state prison. Court must determine 1) whether defendant is entitled to credit for time previously served in State prison; 2) if so, the number of days defendant served in State prison as part of the incarcerative portion of his probationary split sentence prior to being placed on probation; 3) whether the trial court, at the time of his sentencing following his probation violation hearing, properly directed the Department of Corrections to calculate and credit defendant for time previously served in State prison; and 4) whether defendant waived his right to any or all of the credit for time previously served in State prison. MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE-RESENTENCING: Court may resentence minor to life in prison with review under §921.1401 for a crime committed in 1977 because Defendant affirmatively requested sentencing under the new review statute. Morgan v. State, 4D18-1866 (12/9/20)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor’s immoderate criticism of various appellate rulings is improper but not reversible. Judges are well able to disregard such remarks and adhere to the requirements of law.

JURY-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-PRESERVATION: Conviction affirmed where record leaves the reviewing court unable to conclusively identify the racial make-up of the venire, prior strikes exercised against the racial group of the challenged juror, or whether the reason proffered for the strike—the juror’s purported belief that marijuana should be legalized—was equally applicable to unchallenged jurors. The record is inscrutable in part because the two-member defense team talked over one another and the failed to identify how many and which venirepersons shared or opposed the challenged juror’s belief in legalization. “In the end, this case serves as a good reminder that the. . .attorneys must always keep a keen eye on and an appreciation for the record that is being made in real time. . .[T]he preparation of a ‘clean’ and understandable record is essential as it is the backbone of the appellate process.” El v State, 4D19-938 (12/9/20)

SCORESHEET-PRIOR RECORD: Where Defendant is sentenced under the the habitual felony offender statute, and not the Criminal Punishment Code, any errors in the prior record section of the scoresheet are legally irrelevant and harmless as a matter of law.

Garcia v. State, 4D19-2208 (12/9/20)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-HOMICIDE: In Graham/Miller resentencing, Court must consider scoresheet in deciding sentence. Regardless of whether the sentence is being imposed following a trial, entry of a plea, or pursuant to a resentencing proceeding, an accurate scoresheet must be prepared to inform and guide the court in making its sentencing decision. Sentencing a defendant without the consideration of a scoresheet is fundamental error.

SENTENCE REVIEW-MINOR: A juvenile who commits a nonhomicide offense that is a life felony or is punishable by a term of imprisonment for life or by a term of years not exceeding life imprisonment (here, masked armed robbery with a firearm) is entitled to review after 20 years, not after 25 years. INJUNCTION-DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: Incident of domestic violence over one year ago and ongoing paternity litigation do not warrant an injunction for protection. Merely being involved in court proceedings, even if contentious, is not sufficient to establish a reasonable fear of imminent harm. TIMESHARING: Court may not give the mother 60% of timesharing, to automatically change to 50/50 when the child enters kindergarten two years later. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Question Certified: Given the requirements of §316.062(1), florida statutes, does conviction on multiple counts under §316.027(2) stemming from a single crash involving multiple victims, expose a defendant to multiple punishments for one offense in violation of the Double-Jeopardy protections of the U.S. constitution? JURY INSTRUCTION-POSSESSION-FIREARM: Defendant is entitled to a special jury instruction defining the terms actual and constructive possession where the jury was required to find that actual possession of the firearm in order for the mandatory minimum to apply. EVIDENCE-INAUDIBLE RECORDING: Court may not exclude entire controlled call with the victim on the ground that parts of it are inaudible. Partial inaudibility or unintelligibility is not a ground for excluding a recording if the audible parts are relevant, authenticated, and otherwise properly admissible. State v. CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-VOP: A defendant who, pursuant to a probationary split sentence, serves time in state prison, is released on probation, violates that probation, and is thereafter resentenced to prison, is entitled to credit for the time he previously served in state prison. Court must determine 1) whether defendant is entitled to credit for time previously served in State prison; 2) if so, the number of days defendant served in State prison as part of the incarcerative portion of his probationary split sentence prior to being placed on probation; 3) whether the trial court, at the time of his sentencing following his probation violation hearing, properly directed the Department of Corrections to calculate and credit defendant for time previously served in State prison; and 4) whether defendant waived his right to any or all of the credit for time previously served in State prison. Brady v. State, 3D20-1431 (12/9/20)

MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE-RESENTENCING: Court may resentence minor to life in prison with review under §921.1401 for a crime committed in 1977 because Defendant affirmatively requested sentencing under the new review statute. Morgan v. State, 4D18-1866 (12/9/20)

JURY-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-PRESERVATION: Conviction affirmed where record leaves the reviewing court unable to conclusively identify the racial make-up of the venire, prior strikes exercised against the racial group of the challenged juror, or whether the reason proffered for the strike—the juror’s purported belief that marijuana should be legalized—was equally applicable to unchallenged jurors. The record is inscrutable in part because the two-member defense team talked over one another and the failed to identify how many and which venirepersons shared or opposed the challenged juror’s belief in legalization. “In the end, this case serves as a good reminder that the . . . attorneys must always keep a keen eye on and an appreciation for the record that is being made in real time. . . . [T]he preparation of a ‘clean’ and understandable record is essential as it is the backbone of the appellate process.” El v State, 4D19-938 (12/9/20)

MINOR-HOMICIDE-RESENTENCING: Minor sentenced to three consecutive sentences for murder (Wendy’s restaurant robbery and murders) is entitled to a judicial review after 25 years not after 75 years. Hegwood v. State, 4D19-2182 (12/9/20)

SCORESHEET-PRIOR RECORD: Where Defendant is sentenced under the the habitual felony offender statute, and not the Criminal Punishment Code, any errors in the prior record section of the scoresheet are legally irrelevant and harmless as a matter of law. Garcia v. State, 4D19-2208 (12/9/20)

EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION-RE-FINANCING: Court has the authority to order a party to refinance a home and remove the other party from the mortgage, but the final judgment must direct a result if that party is unable, or simply fails, to refinance the home. Failure to include such a directive is reversible error.

PARENTING COORDINATOR: Court may not refer the parties to a parenting coordinator, without the consent of both parties, if there has been a history of domestic violence. Former Husband had history of domestic violence. Court was required to obtain the Former Wife's consent before granting Former Husband's request for a parenting coordinator. Karkhoff v. LIFE INSURANCE: Court may order life insurance to protect an award of alimony, but must make specific evidentiary findings regarding the availability and cost of insurance, the obligor's ability to pay, and the special circumstances that so warrant. Karkhoff v. Robilotta, 4D19-2947 (12/9/20)

activity qualifies as a “particular administrative proceeding” such that Defendant is properly convicted of corruptly endeavoring to obstruct the administration of the internal revenue laws upon using a fraudulent international bill of exchange to pay off his back taxes. USA v. Graham, 18-15299 (11th Cir. 12/4/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201815299.pdf>

HEARSAY-PRESERVATION: Any objection to Court’s ruling that a witness who had helped Defendant obtain fake international bills of exchange believed that the international bills of exchange were valid forms of payment is inadmissible is not properly preserved. What witness knew and thought had no bearing on Defendant’s own intent, particularly given that no evidence was ever offered to show that the witness expressed these thoughts to Defendant. “Had Graham drawn any connection between how Walker’s subjective belief impacted him, the result may have been different. But absent that, we cannot say that the district court erred here.” USA v. Graham, 18-15299 (11th Cir. 12/4/20)

two other counts being vacated, based on the combined application of the doctrines of law of the case, res judicata, and collateral estoppel bar, Defendant may not re-appeal the underlying conviction, only sentencing errors, if any. Howitt v. State, 5D19-2604 (12/4/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-OTHER BAD ACTS: Defendant is entitled to a new trial based on ineffective assistance of counsel for Lewd and Lascivious molestation where the information charged fondling and the State, without objection, admitted a video-recording of the Victim talking about an act of oral sex as well. Botto v. State, 5D19-2790 (12/4/20)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL-APPEAL: In order to be preserved for further review by a higher court, the grounds for JOA must be presented to the lower court and the specific legal argument or ground to be argued on appeal must be part of that presentation if it is to be considered preserved. Hughley v. State, 5D19-3330 (12/4/20)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant properly found to be in constructive possession of methamphetamine found directly beneath his wallet in a dresser drawer at his girl friend's home where he had been staying, when in a jail call he said he he had thrown out or buried some of her meth in the backyard. An inference of knowledge and dominion and control may arise where the contraband located in jointly occupied premises is found in or about other personal property which is shown to be owned or controlled by the defendant. Shawl v. State, 5D20-619 (12/4/20)

SPEEDY TRIAL: The issue of whether the Court may require Defendant to withdraw his Speedy Trial Demand or having a late-disclosed witness excluded is not preserved without appropriate objection or proffered testimony of the witness. Shaw v. State, 5D20-619 (12/4/20)

PLEA AGREEMENT: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that his plea agreement was violated where Defendant admitted violating his probation in exchange for a ten-year prison sentence with any prior credit accrued, and DOC later forfeited his accrued gain time. Kemp v. State, 5D20-930 (12/4/20)

SCORPIONS IN A BOTTLE: While the dissental’s spicy rhetoric doesn’t enhance its argument—but rather pretty severely diminishes it, to my mind—it does, I fear, corrode the collegiality that has historically characterized this great Court. SCORPIONS IN A BOTTLE: “I am truly sorry that Chief Judge Pryor and Judge Newsom seem to have taken my concerns personally. I do not believe this dissent to be personal. I have great respect for all my GREAT INTRO: “The Postal Service is as old as the United States, and during the past two and-a-half centuries more than a million Americans have honorably served this country through it. Among the more notable ones are Benjamin Franklin who was the first Postmaster General, and Abraham Lincoln who as a young man was postmaster in the village of New Salem, Illinois. Franklin and Lincoln did not betray the trust placed in them. The same cannot be said of Latecia Watkins.” USA v. Watkins, No. 18-14336 (11th Cir. 12/3/20) would have conducted a knock and talk ending in consent, regardless of whether tracking package in the Defendant's home was lawful, entry into the home was lawful. When there is a reasonable probability that the evidence discovered by a violation of the Fourth Amendment would have turned up anyway, the violation is harmless and in that circumstance the public interest in having juries receive all probative evidence of a crime outweighs the need to discourage police misconduct. VOIR DIRE-HYPOTHETICAL QUESTION: Trial court did not err in barring defense counsel from posing hypothetical question whether the death penalty is always appropriate for premeditated murder abuse of discretion where counsel was afforded other ways to get to the point. DEATH PENALTY-EXECUTION: Challenge to the mode of imposition of the death penalty (Petitioner wants a firing squad) may not be raised under 42 U.S.C. §1983. Because Defendant's requested relief would prevent the State from executing him, implying the invalidity of his death sentence, it is not cognizable under §1983 and must be brought in a habeas petition. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PROLONGED STOP: Campbell, holding that officer may not prolong traffic stop by asking if Defendant has anything illegal in the car, vacated pending en banc review. USA v. Campbell, No. 16-10128 (11th Cir. 12/2/20)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM-DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: A Defendant who does not know he is a domestic-violence misdemeanor cannot be guilty of unlawful possession of a firearm for that cause. A person knows he is a domestic-violence misdemeanor, for Rehaif purposes, if he knows: (1) that he was convicted of a misdemeanor crime, (2) that to be convicted of that crime, he must have engaged in at least the slightest offensive touching, and (3) that the victim was a former spouse, parent, or guardian of the victim. USA v. Johnson, No. 19-10915 (11th Cir. 12/2/20)

INDICTMENT: Indictments must contain all the elements of the offense charged. Indictment which failed to allege that he knew he was a domestic-violence misdemeanor when he possessed the firearm is fatally defective and plain error, notwithstanding that it tracked the statutory language and did include an allegation that he had been convicted of domestic violence. But no plain error, so conviction

MISDEMEANANT: Commerce Clause allows Congress to criminalize the intrastate possession of a firearm because it once traveled in interstate commerce. USA v. Johnson, No. 19-10915 (11th Cir. 12/2/20)

EVIDENCE-BIAS: In sexual battery case, Court improperly excluded the testimony of the Victim's sister/Defendant's girl friend that the victim's false accusation against the Defendant was revenge for the witness having caused the victim's former husband to be deported. Defendant is entitled to introduce evidence intended to prove the victim had a reason to be biased against her sister and, by proxy, against him—in other words, the admission of otherwise extraneous facts suggesting a motive to testify falsely as opposed to the admission of specific acts committed by the witness suggesting that she lacks credibility. “The State's contention that the testimony of the victim's sister would have been too speculative to be admissible is not persuasive. Objective certitude cannot logically be required for a jury to perceive an accuser's potential bias as cause for reasonable doubt.” Alvarado v. Contreras, 2D18-2283 (12/2/20)

RE-SENTENCING: On appellate remand, the resentencing court may not relying on evidence admitted at the original sentencing hearing to support its finding that Defendant qualifies as an HFO. Once a defendant successfully challenges his sentence on appeal and the cause is remanded for resentencing, the resentencing is a de novo proceeding, at which either side may present evidence anew. VOP-REMOTE HEARING: In light of the COVID-19 pandemic, the remote conduct of a probation violation hearing by use of audio-video technology does not violate the defendant's rights under the Florida and United States Constitutions. HABEAS CORPUS: The circuit court of the county in which a defendant is incarcerated has jurisdiction to consider a petition for writ of habeas corpus when the claims raised in the petition concern issues regarding incarceration, but not when the claims attack the validity of the judgment or sentence. Only the court in which the defendant was convicted and sentenced has jurisdiction to consider collateral attacks on a judgment or sentence, and such an attack must be brought pursuant to Rule 3.800 or 3.850, not by petition for writ of habeas corpus. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FAILURE TO SEVER: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to sever multiple counts of selling narcotics on several consecutive days.
Williams v. State, 4D20-578 (12/2/20)

DNA: Combined Probability of Inclusion (CPI) to calculate statistical probabilities in complex mixture DNA cases is improper. Where CPI was not used in Defendant's case (DNA paternity test showed he was the father of a child born to an underage mother), he is not entitled to relief from the judgment. Cabellero v. State, 4D20-1954 (12/2/20)

MEDICAL RECORDS-SUBPOENA: State may not subpoena medical records after a high speed fatal crash where police reports show no alcohol or drug impairment. Not every reckless driving incident creates a compelling state interest to obtain toxicology records. There must be some reasonable founded suspicion that alcohol or drugs were involved, such as someone smelling alcohol, drug or alcohol containers in the vehicle, or statements or evidence which might suggest drug use or alcohol intoxication. Rodriguez v. State, 4D20-2010 (12/2/20)

COMPUTER ACCESS-CONDITION OF SUPERVISION: Defendant convicted of attempting to persuade a minor to engage in sexual activity may be prohibited from using a computer except for work and with the permission of the district court. Court may impose a computer restriction as a special condition of supervised release, even if the term of supervised release is life. Packingham is distinguishable because it restricted sex offenders even after they had completed their sentences; applied to all registered sex offenders, not only those who had used a computer or some other means of electronic communication to commit their offenses; and is not a complete bar to the exercise of his First Amendment rights because it allows Defendant to obtain court permission to use a computer in connection with employment. USA v. Bobal, No. 19-10678 (11th Cir. 11/30/20) <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201910678.pdf>

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL: Defendant may not argue circumstantial evidence/reasonable hypothesis of innocence argument for JOA on appeal where his argument below was that evidence did not show his active participation in drive by shooting.

Also, circumstantial evidence/reasonable hypothesis of innocence line of cases is dead. Ford v. State, 1D18-4628 (11/30/20)

FACTUALLY INCONSISTENT VERDICT: Two Defendants can be convicted for the same murder in a drive-by shooting. Factually inconsistent are permitted in Florida. Also, Defendant can be convicted as principal, even though not so charged in the information. A defendant need not be charged as a principal to support a conviction as a principal. Ford v. State, 1D18-4628 (11/30/20)

AND/OR: Although the use of “and/or” between codefendants’ names in jury instructions is error, error is not fundamental and thus not reversible absent objection. Ford v. State, 1D18-4628 (11/30/20)

USE IMMUNITY: Defendant’s compelled (subpoenaed) testimony entitled him only to use and derivative use immunity, not absolute or equitable immunity from prosecution. State’s promise that he would not get in trouble as long as he told the truth did not confer equitable, absolute, or transactional immunity from prosecution. State may proceed with murder prosecution because it showed that it had evidence independently procured implicating Defendant. Palazzi v. State, 1D20-1164 (11/30/20)

IMMUNITY: A witness granted transactional immunity may have absolute immunity from prosecution for the matter about which the testimony was elicited, but use immunity is more limited and prevents only the compelled testimony from the witness from being used against the witness in a criminal prosecution. Palazzi v. State, 1D20-1164 (11/30/20)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: The 10-20-Life statute permits consecutive sentences at judicial discretion for specified crimes committed in a single criminal episode with either multiple victims or injuries. Defendant may be sentenced consecutively for shooting the victim twice, once in the head and once in the spine. Jordan v. State, 1D20-1895 (11/30/20)

ELECTION: "Free, fair elections are the lifeblood of our democracy. Charges of unfairness are serious. But calling an election unfair does not make it so. COVID-RELIGION: State executive order which limits church services to 10/25 people in COVID red zones is enjoined pending full appellate review, as it infringes on the free exercise of religion and arbitrarily distinguishes between religious organizations and certain businesses considered essential, such as acupuncturists, liquor stores, bicycle repair shops, and lawyers. Roman Catholic Diocese v. Cuomo, No. 20A87 (U.S. S.Ct. 11/25/20)

RICO CONSPIRACY: RICO conspiracy does not qualify as a crime of violence under §924(c) (enhancement for use of firearm during a crime of violence). “So as with a conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act robbery, the elements of a RICO conspiracy focus on the agreement to commit a crime, which does not ‘necessitate[] the existence of a threat or attempt to use force.’” USA v. Green, No. 17-10346 (11th Cir. 11/25/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201710346.op2.pdf>

guidelines range was 262 months and was based on the Court's erroneous inference, contradicted by cell phone pinging evidence, that the Defendant had participated in a homicide in the course of his RICO crime. USA v. Green, No. 17-10346 (11th Cir. 11/25/20)
<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201710346.op2.pdf>

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201710346.op2.pdf>

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-WARRANT-BUSINESS RECORDS: A person lacks a reasonable expectation of privacy in information he has voluntarily disclosed to a third party (the third party doctrine). The third-party doctrine applies, so the government does not need a warrant to obtain a third party's business records (identity, internet protocol address, and E-mail address of child porn distributor who used Kik and Comcast). USA v. Trader, No. 17-15611 (11th Cir. 11/25/20)

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE REASONABLENESS: Life sentence for enticing a minor to engage in sexual activity, along with concurrent sentences of 240 and 360 months producing and distributing child porn (numerous images of Defendant sexually abusing his preteen/toddler daughters and over 100 other victims), where recommended guidelines sentence is life imprisonment, is substantively reasonable. Defendant's family ties and unspecified contributions to the community do not render the sentence unreasonable. Defendant's argument that the child pornography guidelines are excessive compared to those for first-degree murder is an "apples-to-oranges comparison [that] makes no sense." USA v. Trader, No. 17-15611 (11th Cir. 11/25/20)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant who murdered his wife and her friend two hours after his violation of a domestic violence injunction hearing is subject to the death penalty. Colley v. State, SC18-2014 (11/25/20)

DEATH PENALTY-CCP: Murders of estranged wife and her friend was cold, calculated, and premeditated without any pretense of moral or legal justification applies even if committed under mental and emotional distress arising from a domestic relationship. Colley v. State, SC18-2014 (11/25/20)

DEATH PENALTY-HAC: Gunshot murders can qualify as heinous, atrocious and cruel where the victim was conscious and aware of impending death. Colley v. State, SC18-2014 (11/25/20)

DEATH PENALTY: Legislative expansion of grounds for imposition of the death penalty does not render it unconstitutional. Florida's capital felony sentencing statute is not unconstitutional merely because every person who is convicted of first-degree felony murder automatically qualifies for the aggravating circumstance of commission during the course of an enumerated felony. Colley v. State, SC18-2014 (11/25/20)

APPEAL-ALL WRITS: A death sentence that was vacated by the postconviction court cannot be retroactively reinstated if the State never appealed the final order granting relief, the resentencing has not yet taken place, and this Court has since receded from the decisional law on which the sentence was vacated (Hurst). State may not prevail on an “all writs” petition when an appeal was not filed. “[T]he State erroneously assumes that a postconviction proceeding is a step in the criminal prosecution and that a resentencing proceeding is a continuation of a postconviction proceeding. Our caselaw says otherwise.” Jackson v. State, SC20-257 (11/25/20)

ALL WRITS: Art. V, § 3(b)(7) of the Florida Constitution, providing that the Supreme Court may issue all writs necessary to the complete exercise of its jurisdiction, is not a separate source of original or appellate jurisdiction. Jackson v. State, SC20-257 (11/25/20)

CHANGE IN LAW: Intervening decisional law cannot be used to reinstate a vacated sentence, even when the change in decisional law invalidates the very ground on which the sentence was vacated. Jackson v. State, SC20-257 (11/25/20)

DEATH PENALTY-CHANGE IN LAW: Vacated death sentence may not be reinstated on ground that subsequent case law (Poole) took away the legal basis for the vacatur of that sentence and because the sentence would have been constitutional under the correct rule later announced. “What matters is the finality of our judgment vacating Okafor’s death sentence. . .[T]hat judgment became final when our mandate issued, and we have no authority to revisit that judgment now.” State v. Okafor, SC20-323 (11/25/20)

PRINCIPAL: Defendant cannot be found guilty as a principal to the murder of her husband when she conspired with her boyfriend to drown him in a lake while fishing but was not present when the botched drowning that turned into a shooting took place. Conspiracy conviction, unlike her husband, survived. The key components of a second-degree principal are presence and contemporaneity. Accessory and principal distinguished. Consideration of ways to kill Victim, development of an alibi, and agreeing to encourage Victim to go hunting with the killer do not constitute commanding or impelling the killer to commit the murder or assisting at the time the killing happened. Williams v. State, 1D19-498 (11/25/20)

ELECTION BETWEEN CHARGES: State is not required to choose between mutually exclusive counts of the indictment (principal to first-degree murder or accessory after the fact to first-degree murder) It is error to deny a timely motion to require the State to elect between two counts generally, but “we have found no cases applying this rule to cases involving murder and accessory after the fact or, for that matter, to any non-theft-related crimes.” Error, if any, would be harmless where Defendant was only convicted of the former. Williams v. State, 1D19-498 (11/25/20)

HABEAS PETITION-REPRESENTED APPELLANT: A habeas petition will be dismissed as unauthorized when it is clear that the petitioner is represented by counsel in the proceeding below and is not seeking to discharge counsel in that proceeding. Wainwright v. State, 1D20-1119 (11/25/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/691241/opinion/201119_DA08_11252020_133922_i.pdf

JUROR: Court erred in failing to remove a juror during the trial, after that juror belatedly disclosed his relationship with one of the victims (a "good friend," "[w]e talk, like when I see him we talk a lot. We joke around. We're more than just a little bit of friends but we're not like real close friends." New trial required. "Defendant's failure to move for a mistrial does not preclude him from seeking review of the trial court's refusal to remove the alternate juror. Feagin v. State, 2D18-3002 (11/25/20)

WITNESS-INVOKING FIFTH AMENDMENT: It is improper for the State to call a witness who is closely identified with the defendant (here, his mother), to testify before the jury when the State knows that the witness will invoke her Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination and refuse to testify. State's argument that witness had no legitimate right to invoke the Fifth Amendment because she had no reasonable apprehension that she would incriminate herself misses the mark. Whether or not the witness properly invoked her Fifth Amendment right does not control whether the trial court errs in requiring the witness to invoke that right in front of the jury. "State had to know that forcing the mother to invoke her Fifth Amendment right in front of the jury would lead the jury to the inescapable conclusion that she had evidence that incriminated her son. . . Thus, the State was able to 'incriminate' the defendant. . . not with evidence, but with inferences drawn from a refusal to provide evidence."

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Judge's questioning of mental health experts during competency hearing does not constitute a departure from its neutral position. Trial judges are permitted to question expert witnesses in competency proceedings. Bodden v. State, 3D20-1139 (11/25/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION: Failure to give a heat of passion jury instruction in attempted second degree murder case is not fundamental error. Jackson v. State, 4D19-3241 (11/25/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-HEALTH CARE FRAUD: Statute prohibiting kickbacks for pushing prescriptions does not require proof of the defendant's motivation for accepting the payment. Neither the instruction given (that Defendant/Doctor violated the statute prohibiting kickbacks for pushing expensive and unnecessary compound prescriptions if one reason he accepted the kickbacks was in return for writing the prescriptions, nor Defendant's proposed instruction (the government was required to prove that his main or only reason for accepting the payment was in return for writing prescriptions) is correct. Error is harmless. USA v. Shah, No. 19-12319 (11th Cir. 11/24/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Intercepted drug shipments mailed to Defendant's home establish probable cause for warrant to look for records of drug dealing. USA v. Delgado, No. 19-11997 (11th Cir. 11/23/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911997.pdf>

SENTENCING-RELEVANT CONDUCT: Defendant who received two drug packages, one of which was charged in the indictment, is responsible for the combined weight in both packages as relevant conduct in calculating the guidelines. Since the district court did not convict Defendant of importing the analogue substance in the first package but only considered the package's contents during sentencing, the Government need not prove that Defendant knew that the substance was illegal. USA v. Delgado, No. 19-11997 (11th Cir. 11/23/20)

FIREARM ENHANCEMENT: Where Defendant imported narcotics, and firearms and silencers are recovered from his home, the §2D1.1(b)(1) enhancement applies, notwithstanding Defendant's argument that he is a gun collector. Defendant is subject to enhancement and ineligible for safety valve. USA v. Delgado, No. 19-11997 (11th Cir. 11/23/20)

REMOVAL: Defendant convicted of attempted alien smuggling (a misdemeanor) is subject to removal because the offense is an aggravated felony, notwithstanding that it is a misdemeanor. As of January 12, 2017, Cuban nationals are subject to removal. Gonzalez v. USA, No. 19-11182 (11th Cir. 11/20/20)

REMOVAL: Defendant who claims that counsel was ineffective for misadvising him that he was not subject to deportation must raise the claim promptly after the possibility of immigration consequences became imminent, or at least when he learns he had been misadvised, not when removal proceedings begin. A defendant seeking to avoid the collateral consequences of a conviction cannot postpone seeking relief until it appears that a collateral consequence is imminent. The fact that the policy change to remove Cubans did not take place until January 2017 does not justify the delay. Gonzalez v. USA, No. 19-11182 (11th Cir. 11/20/20)

WRIT OF ERROR CORAM NOBIS: The writ of error coram nobis is an extraordinary remedy of last resort available only in compelling circumstances where necessary to achieve justice. The writ makes relief available to a petitioner who has served his sentence and is no longer in custody. To obtain coram nobis relief, a petitioner must present sound reasons for failing to seek relief earlier. A coram nobis petitioner need not challenge his conviction at the earliest opportunity, but he must have sound reasons for not doing so.

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/690275/opinion/192363_DA08_11202020_142958_i.pdf

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: First, the trial court must determine whether there is a valid, statutory, legal ground to depart, and whether the defendant has proven that ground by a preponderance of the evidence. If so, the court must then make a discretionary decision under the totality of circumstances on whether it should depart. Wilson v. State, 1D19-2363 (11/20/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/690275/opinion/192363_DA08_11202020_142958_i.pdf

APPEAL: Appellate review for orders denying downward departure sentences is not available where Court understood it had discretion.

SENTENCE REDUCTION: Court erred reducing the sentence imposed on Defendant after viciously attacking the victim in his home after the victim had misled the Defendant on Tinder that he was a woman and the Court concluded that the Victim thereby provoked the attack. The grounds were neither legally valid nor supported by competent substantial evidence. The victim was entirely peaceful and engaged in no aggressive or willful acts whatsoever. Rush v. State, 1D19-3577 (11/20/20)

SEARCH WARRANT: Where it is a magistrate who is first presented with an affidavit requesting the issuance of a search warrant, the magistrate's duty is to examine solely the "four corners" of the affidavit—and, from there, simply to make a practical, common sense decision whether, given all the circumstances before him, there is a fair probability that contraband or evidence of a crime will be found in a particular place. Affidavits for search warrants are not to be scrutinized for technical niceties. Once a magistrate specifically finds probable cause and thereafter issues a search warrant, that finding is accorded a presumption of correctness and is not to be disturbed by the later-reviewing trial court absent a clear determination that the issuing magistrate abused his or her discretion. The trial court does not conduct a de novo review. Court misapplied the law by not giving the requisite great deference to each magistrate's original finding of probable cause. State v. Hart, 5D19-3390 (11/20/20)

APPEAL-HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant is not entitled to appeal by habeas corpus where he was convicted by a plea to sexual battery involving a defendant over the age of eighteen, although he was clearly under the age of eighteen at the time of the offense. PSR-DRUG QUANTITY: Defendant may be held responsibility for quantities of drugs based on hearsay by a co-defendant which the court deems reliable. Hearsay evidence can support a sentencing decision provided that the information has sufficient indicia of reliability to support its probable accuracy. USA v. Johnson, No. 17-15259 (11th Cir. 11/19/20)

OBSTRUCTION: Defendant who said, “When I get discovery and find out who snitched on me, I’m going to bash their heads in,” transmitted discovery in violation of the court’s order and threatened a co-defendant supports a finding of obstruction. The fact that his threat was not communicated directly to its target is not dispositive. USA v. Johnson, No. 17-15259 (11th Cir. 11/19/20)

ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITY: Defendant who gets a two-level enhancement for obstruction of justice may be denied a third level reduction for acceptance of responsibility despite having pled guilty, or at least failure to award it is not plain error. History of acceptance of responsibility sentence reduction discussed. The Government may decline to make a §3E1.1(b) motion based on any interest identified in §3E1.1, regardless of whether that interest is

DEATH PENALTY-MITIGATION: The fact that the Court failed to consider in mitigation that the Defendant had saved a fellow inmate's life does not create a reasonable possibility that sentence would not still be imposed. Craft v. State, No. SC19-953 (FLA 11/19/20)

HEARSAY: Court properly excluded the third-party confession to the murder by a now deceased suspect under the statement against penal interest exception to the hearsay rule because there was no evidence to corroborated it nor its trustworthiness. BAIL: Court properly denied bail to a Defendant charged with second-degree murder with a weapon upon finding that the proof of guilt is evident or the presumption is great, i.e. the evidence is manifest, plain, clear, obvious, and conclusive, based on the arrest report affidavit in the recording of the killing. SPEEDY TRIAL: Where Defendant is arrested on an out of county warrant, held there until his local VOP was resolved, then brought to the county of the substantive offence, all without an information having been filed, Defendant is entitled to discharge without the necessity of filing a Notice of Expiration. State is not entitled to recapture period. The speedy trial time begins to run when an accused is taken into custody and continues to run even if the State does not act until after the expiration of that speedy trial period. SPECIAL CONDITION OF PROBATION-ORAL PRONOUNCEMENT:

ARGUMENT: "[Defense counsel] told [you] that the State had to prove that the defendant intentionally committed this act. I would say to you that that is a deliberate misstatement of the law. . . Intent is not an element of this crime." Although sexual battery is not a specific intent crime, it is a general intent crime. Thus, the state's rebuttal argument that "[i]ntent is not an element of this crime" was a misstatement of the law. Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that defense counsel was ineffective for failing to object. Olenchak v. State, 4D19-3007 (11/18/20)

SEARCH WARRANT-GPS DATA: Individuals lack a reasonable expectation of privacy in the records of their movements recorded by their vehicle's GPS system. Defendant has no expectation of privacy on a GPS device that on a car which was owned by a finance company, and therefore law enforcement was not required to obtain a search warrant or subpoena for the GPS/tracking tower information. EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: When a child victim cannot specify the dates on which the abuse occurred, it is permissible for the State to charge in a single count that a specific type of sexual abuse occurred on multiple occasions during a range of dates. State did not violate order in limine excluding uncharged crimes against the victim where the sexual abuse of the child occurred over a specified period of time, was committed in different ways and when the victim was of different ages particularly where the Defendant did not challenge the information via a proper motion, as contemplated by Dell'Orfano. Evidence was inextricably intertwined with the crime charged, so it was not Williams rule evidence. McMillian v. State, 1D 19-291 (11/16/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to resentencing after it is discovered that an inaccurate scoresheet (stale convictions included his prior offenses from more than 10 years before) was used initially. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FARETTA: While a pretrial hearing is preferred, it is merely a means to the end, and the failure to hold a Faretta hearing is not error as a matter of law. HABEAS CORPUS-ACCA: Court erred in failing to address Defendant's argument that his attempted robbery conviction does not count as a violent felony for Armed Career Criminal Act enhancement because attempted robbery is not a crime under Alabama law and thus has no elements, and misconstruing his argument as an attack on the underlying conviction. When a habeas petitioner presents a claim in clear and simple language such that the district court may not misunderstand it, it must address and resolve the claim. Remanded for reconsideration.

JOA-VENUE-TWO WAY COMMUNICATIONS DEVICE: Venue is improper for use of a two-way communications device where Defendant made a call from parts unknown to an insurance company claiming injuries from an accident in DeSoto County. Venue need not be raised pretrial. The fact that the car accident occurred in DeSoto County and that he sought medical care at a hospital in DeSoto County in no way proves by a preponderance of the evidence that he used a cell phone while in DeSoto County to facilitate insurance fraud. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in entering an order denying the Defendant's motion for post conviction relief attaching various records, but none which refute the Defendant's allegations, i.e., the transcript of Defendant's plea hearing.

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: In order to allege a facially sufficient claim of ineffective assistance of counsel for failing to depose witnesses, a defendant must state with particularity the identity of the witnesses, the substance of the expected testimony, and explain how the omission of this evidence prejudiced the outcome of the case.

PHOTO LINE UP: An out-of-court identification violates due process if the police employed an unnecessarily suggestive procedure in obtaining an out-of-court identification and if the totality of the circumstances show that the suggestive procedure gives rise to a substantial likelihood of irreparable misidentification. Defendant's suggestion that the test should be modified to account for the array of factors outside the criminal justice system's control that studies have shown contribute to misidentifications. The photo line up was not unduly suggestive because of the solid black bar over his and one other photo. A lineup of clones is not required. Valentine v. State, 4D19-1448 (11/12/20)

PHOTO LINE UP: Florida law does not require double-blind administration of lineups, but only that there be an independent administrator, i.e. a person who is not participating in the investigation of a criminal offense and is unaware of which person in the lineup is the suspect. ESCAPE: A juvenile, who after being ordered into secure detention during a court hearing, and while waiting to be removed from the courtroom while other cases proceed, says “F this s” and absconds from the courtroom, can be found guilty of escape from a juvenile facility. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG SNIFF: Using a drug dog to sniff the passenger of a vehicle during a traffic stop based on a reasonable and articulable suspicion the passenger possesses drugs, where the sniff itself is not based on a warrant or probable cause is lawful. Defendant’s argument fails that after the search of the car revealed no contraband, probable cause to search further was dispelled. “The mere chance that the substance might no longer be at the location does not matter; a well-trained dog’s alert establishes a fair probability—all that is required for probable cause—that either drugs or evidence of a drug crime. . .will be found.” Tedford v. JUROR: Court properly dismissed juror who adamantly and repeatedly insisted that the entire system was flawed and prejudiced against all people of any color ("But for the last three years, I feel that this country discriminate [sic] a lot against Hispanics, Blacks, anybody who's brown. I don't feel good about the law in this country, not right now. . . That with the American in the White House, we feel very -. . .I used to be very proud to be here, but not anymore."), notwithstanding that she never directly said she could not be fair and impartial, and without permitting counsel to inquire. COMMENT ON SILENCE: State did not improperly comment on the Defendant's right to remain silent where upon arrest he said he had been home all day and at trial, testified that the sexual battery was consensual, because he gave a statement after his arrest. "While the State cannot use a defendant's post-arrest silence, the defendant did not exercise that right." Walding v. State, 4D19-1900 (11/12/20)

EVIDENCE: Evidence that the Defendant had a gun and suicide note at his home is admissible as conscientiousness of guilt, notwithstanding that questioning about firearms during voir dire was omitted based on the assumption and discussion that guns were irrelevant. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Where Minor/Defendant is re-sentenced on multiple counts pursuant to Graham, Court violates Double Jeopardy by re-sentencing him on those counts for which he had already fully served the sentences originally imposed. Where a sentence has already been served, even if it is an illegal sentence, the court lacks jurisdiction violates the Double Jeopardy Clause by resentencing the defendant to an increased sentence. Taylor v. State, 4D19-950 (11/12/20)

COMPETENCY: Upon a violation of probation, Defendant cannot assert that the original sentence was improper because Defendant said that he had a history of mental illness but said that, and the Court found, he was competent as the time of the plea. Bailey v. State, 4D18-1668 (11/12/20)

RESTITUTION: Court may not order restitution in an amount that exceeds what the child and the parent or guardian can reasonably be expected to pay. Although a child need not have a present ability to pay restitution, the court must make a finding as to the juvenile's expected earning capacity prior to setting an amount for restitution.

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE-INVITED ERROR: Flight is not a crime, so a defendant's flight in itself is insufficient to support a charge of resisting without violence. Because counsel for Defendant conceded Defendant's guilt as to the resisting charge in closing argument and did not move for a JOA, he invited error and is not entitled to vacate the resisting charge on appeal. MANIFEST INJUSTICE: Where Defendant was sentenced as a PRR without ever having been physically sent to prison, and whose request for conflict with Lewars was denied, it is a manifest injustice for PRR sentence to be imposed once Supreme Court ruled that such a sentence was unlawful. “Because Petitioner asked for certification of conflict with Lewars, it would be manifestly unjust under the circumstances to deny Petitioner the same relief as was afforded the defendant in Lewars.” Williams v. INCONSISTENT VERDICT: True inconsistent verdicts are those in which an acquittal on one count negates a necessary element for conviction on another count. Where jury found the Defendant guilty of aggravated battery and made the factual finding that appellant did not have possession of a firearm or discharge a firearm, and the State’s case, the charging document, the trial testimony, and the jury instructions proceeded only on the theory that appellant injured the victim using a firearm, verdict is truly inconsistent. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to new trial on basis of juror who raised hand when asked if he might not be fair, with no follow up questioning. Teasley v. Warden, Macon State Prison, No. 19-12224 (11th Cir. 11/3/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/20pdf/19-1261_bq7c.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-COMMON LAW DEFENSE: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to request a common law defense instruction (that a defendant who admits being engaged in unlawful activity may nonetheless act in self-defense without retreating) because the facts do not establish self-defense during the living room drug deal shooting. Woods v. State, 1D19-3787 (10/30/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/685425/opinion/193787_DC05_10302020_133416_i.pdf

SENTENCING-VINDICTIVENESS: Where there is a reasonable likelihood that the harsher sentence resulted from the sentencing judge's actual vindictiveness, a presumption that the sentence is vindictive arises. The trial court must not initiate a plea dialogue. Court's comments that if Defendant "play[ed] with" him, he would get a harsher sentence establishes vindictiveness. Ryan v. State, 2D18-

PRESCRIPTION DEFENSE: Counsel was ineffective for failing to request a jury instruction on the prescription defense where Defendant told the officer that the pills belonged to her grandmother. Holding a controlled substance as an agent for a person who had a prescription is an affirmative defense to the possession charges. A prescription defense instruction is necessary where there is evidence that the defendant was holding a controlled substance as the agent of another individual to whom it was prescribed. Maksymowska v. State, 2D18-4697 (10/30/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Search warrant including "[y]our Affiant viewed the photo and it was determined that it did in fact depict child pornography" failed to establish probable cause. First, it contained nothing to support the detective's conclusory assertion that the photo at issue qualified as child pornography. Second, it did not establish that the Detective had any training or expertise in identifying child pornography. Goesel v. State, 2D19-2730 (10/23/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Failure to attach a copy of the transcript from the plea colloquy is insufficient to establish voluntariness of plea. Henry v. State, 5D20-794 (10/30/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to object to court instructing the jury on attempted felony murder and not attempted first-degree murder, notwithstanding that he the State proceeded to trial on the latter theory of attempted felony murder. Because Counsel did not object to the State's change in theory or the jury instructions, appellate counsel could be deemed ineffective for failing to challenge these issues in the direct appeal only if they constituted fundamental error. When the jury is instructed on an alternate theory of the charged crime, but that alternate theory was not charged in the information, it is fundamental error if it is clear that the jury returned a verdict on that uncharged theory. Davis v. State, 5D20-810 (10/30/20)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: While a motion to disqualify is pending, the trial court is not authorized to rule on other pending motions; all such motions upon which the trial court rules must be vacated. Wilson v. State, 5D20-1343 (10/30/20)

DEATH PENALTY-PROPORTIONALITY REVIEW: The conformity clause of article I, section 17 of the Florida Constitution forbids analyzing death sentences for comparative proportionality in the absence of a statute establishing that review. Florida's Due Process Clause does not require comparative proportionality review. The conformity clause expressly limits the authority of the Florida Supreme Court to apply principles of due process. Lawrence v. State, No. SC18-2061 (10/29/20)

STARE DECISIS-CROCODILE TEARS: “When we are convinced that a precedent clearly conflicts with the law we are sworn to uphold, the precedent normally must yield. . . [O]nce we have chosen to reassess a precedent and have come to the conclusion that it is clearly erroneous, the proper question becomes whether there is a valid reason why not to recede from that precedent.” Lawrence v. DEATH PENALTY-DISSENT: “Today, the majority takes the most consequential step yet in dismantling the reasonable safeguards contained within Florida's death penalty jurisprudence.” Lawrence v. State, No. SC18-2061 (10/29/20)

DEATH PENALTY-DISSENT: “I cannot overstate how quickly and consequentially the majority's decisions have impacted death penalty law in Florida. . . In each of these cases, I dissented, and I lamented the erosion of our death penalty jurisprudence. Now today, the majority jettisons a nearly fifty-year-old pillar of our mandatory review in direct appeal cases. . . I could not dissent more strongly to this decision, one that severely undermines the reliability of this Court's decisions on direct appeal, and more broadly, Florida's death penalty jurisprudence." Lawrence v. State, No. SC18-2061 (10/29/20)

COSTS: $100 public defender fee is improperly imposed when the Court did not give Defendant notice of his right to a hearing to contest this fee. Conflict certified. Aponte-Velez v. State, 2D18-4499 (10/28/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/684804/opinion/193022_DC05_10282020_100437_i.pdf

HEARSAY: Out of Court statement by a non-witness who did not testify named Muff giving the Defendant's name based on knowing him is not hearsay because it was not offered to prove that Muff identified appellant by name, but rather was offered to show how the victim learned the name of the person he had seen with Muff the previous day at the market and how the police came to learn Defendant's name. Thurston v. State, 4D19-1191 (10/28/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/684799/opinion/191191_DC05_10282020_095714_i.pdf

ARGUMENT: Out of court comment by prosecutor that "the defense needs to go back to law school" is unprofessional but not cause for a mistrial because not made in front of the jury. "[C]omments that disparage the integrity of counsel are improper and highly inappropriate. We remind and caution all attorneys that they are held to a standard of conduct and have an obligation to uphold the integrity of the justice system.” Thurston v. State, 4D19-1191 (10/28/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENSUAL ENCOUNTER: Defendant is not seized when officer shines flashlight in his lawfully parked car and then smelled marijuana when window was rolled down. Approach of the parked vehicle does not amount to an investigatory stop. R.F. v. State, 4D20-390 (10/28/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712379.pdf>

SECOND AMENDMENT: The National Firearms Act does not violate the Tenth and Second Amendments’ protection of citizens’ and states’ rights and Florida’s privilege to control its citizens’ possession of weapons. The Tenth Amendment objection that the National Firearms Act usurps police power reserved to the States is plainly untenable. The Second Amendment does not guarantee the right to keep and bear an unregistered sawed-off shotgun having a barrel of less than eighteen inches in length. USA v. Wilson, No. 17-12379 (11th Cir. 10/27/20)

FIREARM-KNOWLEDGE: Although the requisite mens rea to prove a violation of §5861(d) is “knowledge,” that mens rea does not attach to each element of that offense. The government need not prove that the defendant knew the weapon was unregistered. The government also need not prove that the defendant knew his possession of the weapon was unlawful or that he knew what features define a firearm. Rather, the knowledge requirement for a §5861(d) offense comes into play only as to the second element—the government must prove that the defendant was aware that his weapon possessed any of the features detailed in §5845(a), i.e. that the shotgun was less than 26 inches in overall length or had a barrel of less than 18 inches in length. USA v. Wilson, No. 17-12379 (11th Cir. 10/27/20)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Defendant’s argument that self-representation was effectively involuntary because the Criminal Justice Act Plan’s attorneys are so under-resourced that the Plan inherently violates the Sixth Amendment’s right to effective counsel lacks merit. The “advocate witness” rule—Defendant may not be forced to appear as both an advocate and a witness—is inapplicable to him as a non-lawyer criminal defendant who decided to represent himself. The “advocate-witness” rule is an ethical prohibition against lawyers acting as both advocate and witness. USA v. Wilson, No.

JAIL CLOTHES-SHACKLES: A defendant may not create his own problem by wearing jail clothes for strategic advantage and then seek reversal because he chose to wear those clothes. USA v. Wilson, No. 17-12379 (11th Cir. 10/27/20)

SENTENCING-PROHIBITED PERSON: A “prohibited person” includes any person who is an unlawful user of or addicted to any controlled substance, like marijuana. A defendant is an “unlawful user” of a controlled substance so long as his use is ongoing and need not show that Defendant was under the influence of an illegal drug at the exact same time he possessed the firearm or at the time of his arrest. USA v. Wilson, No. 17-12379 (11th Cir. 10/27/20)

MISTRIAL: Defendant is not entitled to mistrial based on evidence that Defendant used a false name in renting the apartment in which drugs were found. Evidence was inextricably intertwined with the narcotics offenses and was not inadmissible under Rule 404(b). The use of a false identity was also (1) relevant as a step Defendant took to conceal the criminal activity, and (2) necessary to complete the story of how officers discovered Joseph was renting the apartment and garage. USA v. Joseph, No. 19-11198 (11th Cir. 10/27/20)

MISTRIAL-EFFECT OF DRUGS: Defendant is not entitled to a mistrial based on Detective's testimony about the high mortality rate for fentanyl. USA v. Joseph, No. 19-11198 (11th Cir. 10/27/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911198.pdf>

MISTRIAL-BROTHER'S OUTBURST: Defendant is not entitled to a mistrial based on Defendant's brother's outburst which made five jurors "nervous" or "a little shook up." USA v. Joseph, No. 19-11198 (11th Cir. 10/27/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911198.pdf>

FALSE STATEMENTS ACT: Motive is not an element of a False Statements Act crime. Defendants are guilty of violating the False Statements Act act by disguising that they were improperly treating workers as independent contractors by designating worker as “W2.REAL” for each real employee or a “W2.F” for each fake employee. “Telling the IRS one thing and the CDC another is asking for trouble, and trouble is what they got.” USA v. Bazantes, No. 17-15721 (11th Cir. 10/26/20)

MATERIALITY: Indictment which alleged that Defendants willfully and knowingly make and use false writings and documents (certified payroll forms) to the CDC, that is, knowing the same to contain materially false, fictitious, and fraudulent statements and entries is legally sufficient. “That is enough.” Argument that because the indictment does not allege that the forms containing the false payroll statements or records were directly addressed to the CDC, the false statements were, as a matter of law, not material is rejected. A false statement can be material regardless whether the defendant submits it directly to a federal agency. A statement can be material even if it is ignored or never read by the agency receiving the misstatement. USA v. Bazantes, No. 17-15721 (11th Cir. 10/26/20)

SENTENCING-LOSS ENHANCEMENT: The amount of loss enhancement should not include the $550,000 in profits in government contracts in which Arbelaez and Bazantes had submitted falsified payroll records in all of the federal projects. “At sentencing and in its brief to this Court, the government focused on the loss to the CDC. Which is fine, except there is not a speck of evidence that the CDC suffered any ‘pecuniary harm.’ . . . Every serious crime compromises the integrity of something or someone, but not every crime causes pecuniary loss.” USA v. Bazantes, No. 17-15721 (11th Cir. 10/26/20)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor’s comments—that it was difficult for a twelve-year-old girl to keep this dark secret, that the victim remembered Appellant as the first person who kissed and touched her, and that Appellant was an authority figure who broke the victim and the victim’s trust—evoked sympathy for the victim and encouraged hostile emotions toward Defendant were not improper appeals to the prejudice and passions of the jury. Lynch v. State, 1D18-5064 (10/23/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-STATEMENT OF PARTICULARS:

Counsel was not ineffective for getting a ruling on motion for statement of particulars in sex case where neither party could specify the exact date on which the crimes occurred. Sutherland v. State, 1D19-3263 (10/23/20)

POSTCONVICTION RELIEF-ALIBI: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to present an alibi defense when he resided in the home for four of the 12 months alleged in the information and where he could not have accounted for his whereabouts at all times during those four months. Sutherland v. State, 1D19-3263 (10/23/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-ARGUMENT-BOLSTERING:

Prosecutor's argument that victim told the truth is not improper bolstering where statements were based on the testimony of the victim. Sutherland v. State, 1D19-3263 (10/23/20)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Defendant charged with burglary enhanced to a life felony based on use of firearm to shoot victim in the face is ineligible for Youthful Offender. State v. Watlington, 2D19-3366 (10/23/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL-POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON:

Defendant's consent to separate trials on possession of firearm by felon and a substantive offense obviated any double jeopardy or collateral estoppel concerns. State v. Brown, 5D19-792 (10/23/20)

COSTS: Court may not impose a $100 investigative cost absent a request by the State or the agency. Turner v. State, 5D20-357 (10/23/20)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/682823/opinion/200357_DC05_10232020_085127_i.pdf

RESENTENCING: When the vacation of a conviction would result in changes to the defendant's scoresheet, the defendant is entitled to be resentenced using a corrected scoresheet. Court's argument that resentencing is not required because of the mandatory minimum sentence was imposed fails because the Defendant is entitled to Youthful Offender consideration. Burton v. State, 5D20-1500 (10/23/20)

COUNSEL: Defendant is not deprived of his right to a fair trial when he was allowed to continue to represent himself, even after he vacillated about self representation. While a court may terminate a defendant's self-representation, that action is discretionary. "Put simply, the trial court's failure to override sua sponte the defendant's waiver of his right to counsel—where, as here, the waiver's validity was clear, uncontested on appeal, and repeatedly reaffirmed after signs of uncertainty—is due to be affirmed." USA v. Muho, No. 18-11248 (10/22/20)

MIXED METAPHOR: “Muho used fraudulent documents to convince the bank that he had control over the account of another, thereby inducing the bank to wire the funds of another to Muho’s account without even looking at the third base coach to see if it should swing or not. The bank swung away and made contact. Muho caught the funds and made out of the stadium gates like a bat out of Boston.” (“7. We do not intend to implicate the Red Sox in this fraud.”) USA v. Muho, No. 18-11248 (10/22/20)

DEATH PENALTY: White supremacist serving a life sentence for murder is properly sentenced to death after stabbing his black cellmate thirty times to death after watching the movie “Selma” and moving his cards as not to get blood on them. Craven v. State, SC18-1643 (10/22/20)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: The following three-step test applies in determining whether a proposed peremptory challenge is race-neutral: A party objecting to the other side’s use of a peremptory challenge on racial grounds must: a) make a timely objection on that basis, b) show that the venireperson is a member of a distinct racial group, and c) request that the court ask the striking party its reason for the strike. If these initial requirements are met (step 1), the court must ask the proponent of the strike to explain the reason for the strike. At this point, the burden of production shifts to the proponent of the strike to come forward with a race-neutral explanation (step 2). If the explanation is facially race-neutral and the court believes that, given all the circumstances surrounding the strike, the explanation is not a pretext, the strike will be sustained (step 3). The court’s focus in step 3 is not on the reasonableness of the explanation but rather its genuineness. Throughout this process, the burden of persuasion never leaves the opponent of the strike to prove purposeful racial discrimination. Here, the Court properly found that the Defendant’s proffered reason (the juror was predisposed to the death penalty) was not genuine. Juror’s belief that the death penalty is an appropriate punishment for first-degree premeditated murder is not tantamount to being predisposed to the death penalty. Craven v. State, SC18-1643 (10/22/20)

DEATH PENALTY: In a capital sentencing proceeding, a jury (as opposed to a judge) is not constitutionally required to weigh the aggravating and mitigating circumstances or to make the ultimate decision within the relevant sentencing range. Craven v. State, SC18-1643 (10/22/20)

DEATH PENALTY: During penalty, prosecutor properly testified that, during Defendant's murder of his prior victim, the prior victim begged Craven to let him go, told Craven that he would leave, and asked Craven to remember that the victim had two children. It is appropriate in the penalty phase of a capital trial to introduce testimony concerning the details of any prior felony conviction involving the use or threat of violence to the person rather than the bare admission of the conviction. Craven v. State, SC18-1643 (10/22/20)

HEALTHCARE FRAUD: Defendant properly convicted of healthcare fraud for kickbacks on sales of unneeded medical creams and vitamins regardless whether the claims about the products were true or false. "It is no answer to say. . .that the creams and vitamins were 'provided pursuant to valid prescriptions issued by doctors who lawfully consulted with the patients telephonically.' A doctor's prescription is not a get-out-of-jail-free card." USA v. Grow, No. 18-11809 (11th Cir. 10/21/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811809.pdf>

JURY INSTRUCTION-CONSPIRACY-WIRE FRAUD: Court's failure to instruct on wire fraud, one of the dual objects of a conspiracy count, is not cognizable on appeal because the error was invited. When a party agrees with a court's proposed instructions, review is waived even if plain error would result. USA v. Grow, No. 18-11809 (11th Cir. 10/21/20)

SENTENCING: Where Defendant is convicted of the dual-object conspiracy to commit healthcare fraud and wire fraud, and the jury returned only a general verdict, and the statutory maximum for the latter was ten years, Court erred in imposing a twenty years sentence. In the absence of a special verdict, a district court may not sentence a defendant beyond the maximum sentence for the least serious offense in a multi-object conspiracy. USA v. Grow, No. 18-11809 (11th Cir. 10/21/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811809.pdf>

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where a challenged jury instruction involved an affirmative defense, fundamental error only occurs if the instruction is so flawed as to deprive the defendant of a fair trial.

RESENTENCING: Where case is remanded for resentencing upon vacation of some convictions requiring a new scoresheet, Court errs in re-imposing the same aggregate sentence without affording the defendant an opportunity to present evidence in mitigation, instead only allowing him to offer legal argument concerning mitigating factors. Gomez v. State, 3D18-1193 (10/21/20)

CORRECTED SENTENCE: Court is not required to impose a harsher mandatory minimum sentence upon Defendant's motion where he had already served more time than the mandatory minimum. Although a sentence is technically illegal when a court fails to impose the applicable mandatory minimum, the illegality is in the defendant's favor and may not be challenged on appeal because not adverse to the Defendant. MINOR-DE FACTO LIFE SENTENCE: A 30 year sentence is not the functional equivalent of a life sentence. The Eighth Amendment is implicated only when a juvenile nonhomicide offender's sentence approaches or envelops the entirety of a defendant's 'natural life and does not afford any meaningful opportunity to obtain release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation. BRIEFS: To enhance the clarity of the brief, the court strongly urges parties to limit the use of acronyms. While acronyms may be used for entities and statutes with widely recognized initials, such as FERC and FOIA, parties should avoid using acronyms that are not widely known. USA v. NEWFANGLED ACRONYMS: Legal writers should shun “newfangled acronyms.” but [w]e use AMARC and MCP in this opinion because doing so nets out on the side of clarity and helps keep the opinion flowing. Besides, the acronym AMARC ‘does have a nice ring to it.’” USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

EVIDENCE-HANDWRITING-OPINION: Under F.R.E. 901(b)(2), a nonexpert can testify that handwriting is genuine, based on a familiarity with it that was not acquired for the current litigation.” An investigator who becomes familiar with a defendant’s handwriting in the course of investigating a crime may testify that at document is in the Defendant’s handwriting. An investigator who becomes familiar with the defendant’s handwriting for the purpose of solving a crime is different from a lay witness who makes a handwriting comparison so he can testify about it at trial. USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

JOA-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: A guilty verdict cannot be overturned if any reasonable construction of the evidence would have allowed the jury to find the defendant guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. Because a jury is free to choose among the reasonable constructions of the evidence, it is not necessary that the evidence exclude every reasonable hypothesis of innocence or be wholly inconsistent with every conclusion except that of guilt. USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201713455.pdf>

USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

CONSPIRACY-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The government can prove a §846 conspiracy with circumstantial evidence, and when it comes to knowledge of a conspiracy the government does enough when it shows that the circumstances surrounding a person's presence at the scene of conspiratorial activity are so obvious that knowledge of its character can fairly be attributed to him. USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

MONEY LAUNDERING: Promotional money laundering is the use of illegally-obtained money to fund more illegal activity. Financial transaction money laundering is the use of a financial institution to conduct a monetary transaction involving more than $10,000 of illegally obtained funds. Concealment money laundering is any transaction designed to conceal or disguise the true nature or location of illegally obtained funds. Structuring money laundering is the use of illegally obtained funds to carry out a financial transaction that is designed to avoid a state or federal reporting requirement. USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

MONEY LAUNDERING-CONSPIRACY: To convict for conspiracy to commit money laundering, the government must prove (1) an agreement between two or more persons to commit a money-laundering offense; and (2) knowing and voluntary participation in that agreement by the defendant. The government can do that by using circumstantial evidence, including inferences from the conduct of the alleged participants or from circumstantial evidence of a scheme. When the indictment lists more than one object of the conspiracy, the evidence need only be sufficient for any one of the charged objects. So long as the jury could reasonably have concluded that participants made an agreement to commit promotional money laundering, concealment money laundering, financial transaction money laundering, or structuring money laundering, the evidence was sufficient to convict. USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-PRESERVATION: In order to preserve an issue of the Court's failure to give a proposed jury instruction, the request is not enough; Defendant must object to its exclusion, unless it is plain error. Defendant is not entitled to a new trial considering the totality of the jury instructions. USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

PLAIN ERROR REVIEW: To prevail under plain error review, Defendant must show that the district court made an error, that the error was plain, and that it affected his substantial rights. If he carries that burden, appellate court has discretion to reverse only if the error seriously affects the fairness, integrity, or public reputation of judicial proceedings. The substantial rights analysis is like harmless error review but with a twist: the defendant, not the government, bears the burden of persuasion with respect to prejudice. USA v. Iriele, No. 17-13455 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

DISMISSAL-PRE-INDICTMENT DELAY: Pill mill Doctor is not entitled to dismissal for pre-indictment delay based on deaths of potential witnesses where he fails to show a deliberate intent by the government to obtain an advantage by the delay. To establish a violation of a defendant's Fifth Amendment rights by pre-indictment delay, the defendant must show that pre-indictment delay caused him actual substantial prejudice and that the delay was the product of a deliberate act by the government designed to gain a tactical advantage. USA v. Gayden, No. 18-14182 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

DAUBERT-EXPERT: Denial of a Daubert motion is reviewed for an abuse of discretion, which places a thumb and a finger or two on the district court's side of the scale. The potential for confirmation bias does not establish that the district court abused its discretion in allowing government witness to testify. USA v. Gayden, No. 18-

SENTENCING ENTRAPMENT: Sentencing entrapment—claim that Defendant was predisposed to commit a lesser offense (1 kilo), but the government entrapped him into committing a greater offense (5 kilos) subject to greater punishment—is not recognized as a viable defense. Relief is warranted only when the defendant proves that the government engaged in extraordinary misconduct that was sufficiently reprehensible. USA v. Gallardo, No. 18-11812 (11th Cir. 10/9/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant establishes prima facie case of SYG immunity where witnesses testify that the victim was the aggressor, grabbed Defendant's girl friend by the arm from behind as she walked with him, then punched him two or three times before Defendant hit victim in the eye. A defendant's sole burden at the pretrial immunity hearing is simply to raise a prima facie claim of self-defense immunity and that he is not required to prove his immunity claim at the Stand Your Ground hearing. CONDITION OF PROBATION-NO CONTACT WITH CHILDREN:

Probation conditions forbidding any contact with minors are overly broad because they subject offenders to possible punishment for innocent or inadvertent conduct. INDICTMENT-POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Although indictment is defective where it does not allege that Defendant knew he was a felon when he possessed the firearm or cite the statute for that element, Defendant is not entitled to relief under the plain-error test because the error did not affect his substantial rights; there is no reasonable probability that he would have obtained a different result but for the error because circumstantial evidence establishes that he knew of his felon status. Someone who has been convicted of felonies repeatedly is especially likely to know he is a felon. USA v. Innocent, No. 19-10112 (11th Cir. 10/8/20)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT:

Florida aggravated assault is a crime of violence under ACCA. Even if it weren't, Defendant waived that argument by not raising it before the trial court. USA v. Innocent, No. 19-10112 (11th Cir. 10/8/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201815210.pdf>

ACCA: A "violent felony" for the purpose of the Armed Career Criminal Act is "any crime punishable by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year . . . that[] has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person of another." Whether a defendant's crime is a violent felony is determined by the categorical approach, which asks whether the least culpable conduct encompassed by a criminal statute necessarily involves the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against a person. USA v. Innocent, No. 19-10112 (11th Cir. 10/8/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/2>

DURESS: Defendant is not entitled to a duress defense where he presented no evidence that he had no reasonable opportunity to inform the police that drug dealers were threatening him and his family and coercing him to consummate the drug deal. USA v. Amede, No. 18-11172 (10/8/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/2>

COUNSEL: When the district court has appointed counsel for an indigent criminal defendant, the defendant does not have the right to demand different appointed counsel unless he can show good cause, such as a conflict of interest, a complete breakdown in communication or an irreconcilable conflict which leads to an apparently unjust verdict. Neither the Defendant's refusal to consult with counsel nor counsel's failure to advance Defendant's frivolous or harmful arguments constitutes good cause. USA v. Amede, No. 18-11172 (10/8/20)

COUNSEL-DISCHARGE: Court did not err in allowing Defendant to discharge retained counsel at the sentencing hearing without appointing a new attorney. “[Defendant’s] uncooperative conduct throughout the case and especially at sentencing evinced a knowing and voluntary waiver.” USA v. <https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811172.pdf>

INVESTIGATORY STOP-REASONABLE SUSPICION: Police may stop Defendant on the basis of a 911 call after 3:00 a.m. that someone saw a disturbance in the front yard of a drug house, that one of the men involved had a gun, and that the police should use caution because there might be shooting any minute. An anonymous tip can demonstrate sufficient indicia of reliability to provide reasonable suspicion to make an investigatory stop, notwithstanding that the officers did not see the Defendant acting unlawfully. “Officers need not—and should not—turn a blind eye to commonsense concerns of danger when responding to an emergency 911 call.” USA v. Bruce, No. 18-10969 (11th Cir. 10/8/20)

COSTS: Court may not impose a $50.00 cost for “Investigative Fees-County” under §938.27(8) without a request from the investigating agency. Even if this fee had been requested by the investigating agency, the authority for such fee is §938.27(1), not (8). Warren v. State, 1D19-2694 (10/7/20)

MAILBOX RULE: The important date for purposes of the mailbox rule is the date when the inmate hands over his or her documents to prison officials for mailing. This time limit is jurisdictional, and the inmate filed too late. Jackson v. DOC, 1D19-4342 (10/7/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective in failing to introduce evidence of the victim's reputation for violence and specific prior acts of violence other than domestic violence. DUE PROCESS: Juvenile was improperly convicted of making a false report concerning the use of firearms in a violent manner based on him saying "F--- you. . . I'll shoot you and shoot up your house." (Juvenile later apologized and did not shoot him or his house). Saying "I'll shoot you and shoot up your house," and not doing so, is not a "false report." "In our constitutional system, it is difficult to conceive of a more egregious violation of due process than convicting a defendant for conduct that does not constitute the charged crime.” J.B. v. State, 4D19-2634 (10/7/20)

DICTIONARY-GRAMMAR-”REPORT”: “Although section 790.163(1) uses the word “report” as a noun within its internal phrase ‘make a false report,’ that phrase can be understood as meaning ‘falsely report,’ in other words, using ‘report” as a transitive verb. J.B. v. State, 4D19-2634 (10/7/20)

APPEAL-FUNDAMENTAL ERROR: An appellate court may address a fundamental error, even though the issue is not raised in the initial brief. Florida’s appellate courts have long recognized judicial authority—and a “unrenunciabile” duty—to correct fundamental errors, meaning those of such gravity that ignoring and not correcting them would diminish public respect for the judicial process, even if those errors were not preserved at trial, not raised on appeal in the briefing process, or raised by the appellate court on its own. “Where fundamental error is at issue, it defies all notion of fairness to elevate procedure over justice and send this juvenile, without an attorney, to pursue the remedy of ineffective assistance of appellate counsel. . . Turning a blind eye to this fundamental error would undermine the public’s confidence in our system of justice.” J.B. v. State, 4D19-2634 (10/7/20)

EVIDENCE-TEXT MESSAGES-AUTHENTICATION: Screenshots of text messages received by a sexual assault victim based on are sufficiently authenticated where the sender's profile picture did not show the Defendant, but the witness testified she could tell that the Defendant was the sender because of the messages' content (screen name, allusions to information known only to the victim and the Defendant, etc.). An e-mail or text may be circumstantially authenticated by its contents. The requirements of authentication are satisfied by evidence sufficient to support a finding that the matter in question is what its proponent claims. Authentication for the purpose of admission is a relatively low threshold that only requires a prima facie showing that the proffered evidence is authentic. State v. Torres, 4D20-225 (10/7/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy bars a retrial on the attempted first-degree murder charge where the jury convicted Defendant of the lesser-included offense of attempted second-degree murder, which was later, on appeal, remanded for a new trial on the lesser offense. RESTITUTION: Defendant may be required to pay restitution for an item alleged to have been stolen and alluded to in the police report (here, a tennis bracelet) notwithstanding that they are not mentioned in the information. “[W]e are unconvinced that the State's decision not to charge Ferri with the theft of the tennis bracelet precludes restitution for that item when the arrest affidavit clearly noted Ferri's admission to stealing and then selling that item.” Ferri v. CERTIFICATE OF INNOCENCE: A person who obtains a certificate of innocence can seek damages up to $50,000 for every 12 months of incarceration. A JOA (ordered on appeal) does not by itself establish innocence under §2315. A reversal of a conviction due to insufficient evidence does not automatically entitle a petitioner to a certificate of innocence. “The absence of evidence of a criminal defendant’s guilt does not equate to the presence of evidence of that same defendant’s innocence. The latter simply doesn’t follow from the former—it just doesn’t.” USA v. Abreu, No. 18-13965 (11th Cir. 10/1/20)

ACCA-TRAFFICKING-PURCHASE: A §893.135(1) conviction can qualify as a serious drug offense under the ACCA only if each one of the six alternatives for trafficking (selling, purchasing, manufacturing, delivering, bringing into the state, or knowingly possessing cocaine in an amount of 28 grams or more of cocaine. If “purchasing” of a trafficking quantity of a controlled substance does not involve possession with intent to distribute that substance, then no Florida drug trafficking conviction under § 893.135(1) can ever qualify as an ACCA predicate offense. Certified Question to Florida Supreme Court: How does Florida law define the term “purchase” for purposes of Florida Statutes §893.135(1)? More specifically, does a completed purchase for purposes of conviction under § 893.135(1) require some form of possession—either actual or constructive—of the drug being purchased? USA v. Conage, No. 17-13975 (11th Cir. 9/30/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201713975.cert.pdf>

DEFINITION-PURCHASE: The dictionary definition of “purchase” means “to obtain by paying money or its equivalent,” but the dictionary definition of “purchase” is not necessarily synonymous with the meaning that Florida law ascribes to the term. All of which means that, absent some definitive guidance from Florida case law, the meaning of the term “purchase” in the Florida trafficking statute remains unclear. USA v. Conage, No. 17-13975 (11th Cir. 9/30/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: General allegations or mere conclusions are insufficient to demonstrate entitlement to relief. Where Defendant's Motion for Post Conviction Relief alleges that his attorney did not use witnesses who could have provided an alibi, was totally unprepared, was disloyal, had a total lack of communication, and that he was tried in a kangaroo court, it is legally insufficient. EYE WITNESS IDENTIFICATION: An out-of-court identification violates due process if the police employ an unnecessarily suggestive procedure in obtaining an out-of-court identification and under the totality of the circumstances, the suggestive procedure gives rise to a substantial likelihood of irreparable misidentification. PRETRIAL RELEASE-INCOMPETENT DEFENDANT: Where a defendant has been found incompetent to proceed and is then released upon conditions and commits a new offense, Court has only two options: modify the conditions of release or involuntarily commit the defendant to DCFS for treatment. DUE PROCESS-PRIVATE PROBATION OFFICE: Due Process is violated when a private probation office has authority to increase fines or extend the period of probation. The Due Process Clause prohibits a financial interest in the outcome of any decisions—personal or otherwise—by a private probation company, regardless whether it had judicial pre-authorization. “Taken to its logical conclusion, PPS’s theory implies that when a court delegates (abdicates?) its judicial function to an entity with a personal financial stake in how that function is performed, neither actor violates the Due Process Clause—the court skates because it’s not partial, and the delegate gets off because it’s not judicial. UNSEALING SEARCH WARRANT AFFIDAVIT: State need not disclose the affidavit for the search warrant when it could reveal the identity of the confidential informant where Defendant's proffered reason for disclosure was to show that the warrant was stale, when that reason was not articulated in the motion to compel disclosure, and where Defendant never asked the trial court to review the sealed affidavit in camera nor did he take any steps to make a record. FINE-COST: Court may not impose a discretionary fine under §775.083 and surcharge under §938.04 without giving him adequate notice and an opportunity to be heard. Dooly v. State, 1D19-0263 (9/23/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective to failing to investigate the hours of operation of a liquor store to challenge the time line. “Whether the victim was robbed at the Travel Inn or after he left a liquor store near the Travel Inn does not have anything to do with whether he was robbed by Appellant.” The benchmark for judging an ineffective assistance of counsel claim is whether counsel’s conduct so undermined the proper functioning of the adversarial process that the trial cannot be relied on as producing a just result. Black v. State, 1D19-590 (9/24/20)

DEADLY WEAPON: A BB gun is considered an “other deadly weapon” when it is used in such a manner that it could have caused great bodily harm or death, such as holding it to the victim’s head. Black v. State, 1D19-590 (9/24/20) which the Court held to be untrue (based on the witness's testimony that he was threatened), does not entitle Defendant to a new trial. Recanted testimony is exceedingly unreliable. Black v. State, 1D19-590 (9/24/20)

COMPETENCY: Once the court has reasonable grounds to question the defendant's competency, the court has no choice but to conduct a hearing to resolve the question. Failure to hold a competency hearing and enter a written order is fundamental error and requires reversal. Anderson v. State, 1D19-677 (9/24/20)

INFORMATION-AMENDMENT DURING TRIAL: Amendment during trial of four counts from sexual battery to lewd or lascivious molestation did not prejudice Appellant's substantial rights where the manner of the acts were such that the amended lewd or lascivious molestation charges could not help but have been proven if the greater offense allegations were proven. State may substantively amend an information during trial, even over the objection of the defendant, unless there is a showing of prejudice to the substantial rights of the defendant. Thach v. State, 19-3660 (9/24/20)

RECLASSIFICATION: Second-degree murder with a weapon is reclassified as a first-degree felony punishable by life imprisonment, not a life felony. Williams v. State, 2D20-95 (9/23/20)

EVIDENCE-MOTION IN LIMINE: Evidence of uncharged crimes is inadmissible to prove an accused's bad character or criminal propensity. Defendant is entitled to a new trial where, in violation of motion in limine, State elicited from victim that someone matching the Defendant's description had committed previous burglaries of his car, and implied on closing that Defendant had been the burglar from earlier incidents. "[T]he State's argument conflates two very distinct propositions: that there had been prior burglaries to Garcia's car; and that Hudson was the person who committed those prior burglaries to Garcia's car. The first proposition was not disputed. . .[but] any evidence or argument that Hudson was the person who committed the prior burglaries of Garcia's car was not an issue raised or invited by the defense, was not material, and was not inextricably intertwined." CONTEMPT: Court properly held Defendant in contempt for saying “So fuck me basically,” then attempted to leave the courtroom without permission. A defendant’s use of profanity in open court may constitute a valid ground for direct criminal contempt when the profanity is uttered in the presence of the trial judge and the utterance disrupts the trial court’s business. Jones v. State, 3D20-287 (9/23/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-REASONABLE SUSPICION: Officers had reasonable suspicion to stop bicyclist who they believed matched the BOLO for a burglary suspect (he wore a sweatshirt) and who had no headlight on his bike. State v. Daley, 4D19-3590 (9/23/20)

law that an appellate court is required to accept the trial court's determination of historical facts and the inferences drawn therefrom, but it reviews de novo the application of the law to those facts. MOTION TO WITHDRAW PLEA: Where Defendant moved to withdraw his plea, then moved to withdraw his motion to withdraw his plea, Defendant is not entitled to withdraw his plea more than 30 days later on the basis that the Court had never entered any written orders. There is no requirement that the court enter a written order on the motion to withdraw the motion to withdraw plea. Johnson v. State, 1D18-4640 (9/21/20)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel is not ineffective for failing to argue that Court improperly considered his lack of remorse and protestation of innocence where Defendant's claim is refuted by the record. Wright v. State, 1D19-304 (9/21/20)

COUNSEL/PRO SE DEFENDANT: Defendant may not file a pro se Petition for Writ of Prohibition under SYG when his counsel already had done so. CERTIORARI: District courts must exercise caution not to expand certiorari jurisdiction to review the correctness of the circuit court's decision; second-tier certiorari should not be used simply to grant a second appeal and should be reserved for those situations when there has been a violation of a clearly established principle of law resulting in a miscarriage of justice.

VOP-SENTENCING: All the conditions of §948.06(2)(f) must be met for the Court to be limited to 90 days in jail for a violation of probation. The doctrines of in pari materia and the absurdity doctrine trump the plain language of the statute. Lawson v. State, 5D19-3386 (9/18/20)

STATUTORY CONSTRUCTION-ABSURDITY DOCTRINE: The absurdity doctrine provides that a literal interpretation of the language of a statute need not be given when to do so would lead to an unreasonable or ridiculous conclusion. Lawson v. State, 5D19-3386 (9/18/20)

"ANY": "Any" is not ambiguous, but it is absurd. "Where we diverge from the court in Owens is in its finding that 'the use of 'any' rather than 'all'. . . creates an ambiguity . . . It appears that finding is used to justify the application of the absurdity doctrine. While in complete agreement with Owens that the use of any" creates an absurd result, there is nothing ambiguous about it." Lawson v. State, 5D19-3386 (9/18/20)

QUARTERMAN RELEASE: Defendant who fails to appear for sentencing after agreeing that FTA would void limits on possible length of sentence, and thereafter fails to challenge the trial court's failure to make a willfulness finding, cannot appeal the sentence imposed. JURY SIZE: Defendant may not have a 12-person jury for capital sex battery, For purposes of determining jury size, a "capital case" specifically and only means that the defendant possibly faces capital punishment, i.e., the death penalty. Where Defendant cannot be sentenced to death for any of the crimes for which he is being tried, a six-person jury is mandatory. State v. Dagostino, 5D20-658 (9/18/20)

COVID-19-DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is not entitled to postponement of execution because his attorneys cannot meet with him due to Covid-19. Courts do not have a "free-floating, standardless reservoir of authority to postpone an already-scheduled execution, free and clear of the traditional stay standard. If they did, no death-sentenced inmate would ever again go to the trouble of trying to satisfy the stay factors. That cannot be the law." Lecroy v. USA, No. 20-13353 (11th Cir. 9/16/20)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE-APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel is not ineffective for failing to raise on appeal trial counsel's death penalty mitigation strategy when trial counsel was not ineffective. It is not constitutionally deficient for counsel to rely on residual doubt at sentencing, despite the overwhelming evidence of guilt. Franks v. GDCP Warden, No. 16-17478 (11th Cir. 9/16/2020)

APPEAL WAIVER: Where Defendant's plea agreement waives the right to appeal unless the Court imposes a sentence that exceeds the advisory guideline range. Only the district court determines the guideline range. The guideline range does not exist until it is calculated by the district court during the sentencing proceedings. The phrase "the advisory guideline range" unambiguously refers to the guideline range as determined by the district court. USA v. Boyd, No. 18-11063 (11th Cir. 9/16/2020)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A federal court may not grant a habeas corpus application with respect to any claim that was adjudicated on the merits in state court proceedings unless the state court's decision was contrary to, or involved an unreasonable application of, clearly established Federal law, as determined by the Supreme Court. Defendant is not entitled to a new penalty phase where evidence does not support conclusion that Defendant suffered from Fetal Alcohol Syndrome Disorder, and even if it had, no prejudice is shown. Presnell v. Warden, No. 17-14322 (11th Cir. 9/16/20)

SELF-DEFENSE-JURY INSTRUCTION: Defendant is entitled to the nondeadly force instruction where he testified that he retrieved a gun from the back of his truck because he thought the victim was armed, but did not threaten the victim with it. Lopez v. State, 3D18-2217 (9/16/20)

VOIR DIRE-REASONABLE DOUBT: No fundamental error in Court giving “prosecution-friendly” hypotheticals about reasonable doubt during voir dire (involving a cat eating a mouse in a box, a Star Trek transporter, and a Harry Potter spell). "We hasten to add, however, that. . .the trial judge should rely upon, and seldom stray from, Florida’s Standard Jury Instructions." Warren v. State, 3D19-2075 (9/16/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel misadvised him that the State could not convict him on all five counts of attempted murder, thereby precipitating his rejection of a favorable plea offer; and informing him that, in the event he testified, the State would be entitled to explore the nature and circumstances of his prior convictions. STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: Without a custodial interrogation, Defendant is not entitled to Miranda warnings or an attorney. Interrogation of suspect about her boy friend's murder was non-custodial; officer's statements about a lawyer ("why would you need an attorney? Don't you need to explain what happened?. . This is your opportunity cause you're not gonna get another opportunity most likely . . . you know what an attorney would tell you to do.") do not warrant suppression. During a non-custodial interrogation, the officer is not required to provide a lawyer on the individual's request nor to stop questioning. Eam v. State, 4D19-1035 (9/16/20)

MALICIOUS PROSECUTION: The standard for malicious prosecution has two elements: the plaintiff must prove (1) that the defendant violated his Fourth Amendment right to be free from seizures pursuant to legal process and (2) that the criminal proceedings against him terminated in his favor. Dismissal of a charge of murder against the Plaintiff after he provides testimony against co-defendants constitutes the termination of criminal proceedings in his favor. Suit for malicious prosecution may proceed. Luke v. Gulley, No. 20-11076 (11th Cir. 9/15/20).

JUROR MISCONDUCT: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial where juror's online postings showed he would only consider recommending the death penalty, notwithstanding his statements during voir dire. "The posts clearly showed that Ridarick had expressed the belief that only the death penalty was appropriate for Ledford, but they did not make clear when he came to that conclusion." Ledford v. Warden, No. 19-11090 (9/15/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201911090.pdf>

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Lawyer's presentation of evidence of Defendant's antisocial personality disorder for purposes of mitigation is not per se ineffective assistance. Ledford v. Warden, No. 19-11090 (9/15/20)

SENTENCING-SUCCESSOR JUDGE: The rule that a judge other than the original presiding trial judge should not pronounce a sentence absent necessity applies only in the context of a trial judge exercising discretion to determine and impose an appropriate sentence. Where there is no discretionary resentencing, the rule does not impact a trial court's resolution of post-conviction matters just because they address or relate to underlying sentencing issues. Kartsonis v. State, 1D19-1172 (9/14/20)

COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL: Collateral estoppel prevents identical parties from relitigating the same issues that have already been decided. Collateral estoppel applies in postconviction proceedings and precludes a party from rearguing the same issue argued in a prior motion unless a manifest injustice would occur. Johnson v. State, 1D19-1973 (9/14/20)

VOP-SENTENCING: When imposing sentence for a violation of probation, a trial court is limited under subsection 948.06(2)(f)1 to modifying or continuing probation or imposing a sentence of up to 90 days in county jail only when a defendant meets all four conditions of subsection 948.06(2)(f)1. CONFLICT OF INTEREST-JOINT REPRESENTATION: Where co-defendants are jointly represented by the same attorney, for a new trial, Defendant must show not only that a conflict existed, but that the conflict adversely affected his counsel's performance. Holcombe v. State, 5D18-3338 (9/14/20)

CONSPIRACY: Agreement with an unknown caller and the Defendant to buy MDMA along with other drugs is not sufficient to prove a conspiracy. There was no evidence in the record of the two parties agreeing to perform the same crime, i.e., either the purchase or the sale of MDMA; and thus, no conspiracy was proven. Hall v. VOTING RIGHTS: Amendment 4, re-enfranchising felons who have completed their sentences, does not extend to felons who cannot prove they have no unpaid fines, fees, costs, or restitution. Neither Equal Protection nor Due Process protect felon's voting rights under Amendment 4. Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12003 (11th Cir. 9/11/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202012003.enb.pdf>

RIGHT TO VOTE-EQUAL PROTECTION: “Florida withholds the franchise from any felon, regardless of wealth, who has failed to complete any term of his criminal sentence—financial or otherwise. It does not single out the failure to complete financial terms for special treatment. And in any event, wealth is not a suspect classification.” Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12003 (11th Cir. 9/11/20)

QUOTATION: “The law, in its majestic equality, forbids the rich as well as the poor to sleep under bridges.” Anatole France

QUOTATION-DISSENT (J. JORDAN): “Incredibly, and sadly, the majority says that Florida has complied with the Constitution. So much is profoundly wrong with the majority opinion that it is difficult to know where to begin. But one must start somewhere, so I will first turn to the facts, those ‘stubborn things,’ . . . which though proven at trial and unchallenged on appeal, are generally relegated to the dustbin in the majority opinion.” Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12003 (11th Cir. 9/11/20)

VOTING RIGHTS-DISSENT (J. JORDAN): “[S]ince the passage of Amendment 4 Florida has demonstrated a ‘staggering inability to administer’ its LFO [Legal Financial Obligation] requirement. . . Florida cannot tell felons—the great majority of whom are indigent—how much they owe, has not completed screening a single felon registrant for unpaid LFOs, has processed 0 out of 85,000 pending registrations of felons (that’s not a misprint—it really is 0), and has come up with conflicting (and uncodified) methods for determining how LFO payments by felons should be credited. . . So felons who want to satisfy the LFO requirement are unable to do so, and will be prevented from voting in the 2020 elections and far beyond. Had Florida wanted to create a system to obstruct, impede, and impair the ability of felons to vote under Amendment 4, it could not have come up with a better one.” Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12003 (11th Cir. 9/11/20)

VOTING RIGHTS-DISSENT (J. MARTIN): “I cannot. . . condone a system that is projected to take upwards of six years simply to tell citizens whether they are eligible to vote; that demands of those citizens information based on a legal fiction (of its own making) known as the “every-dollar” method; and which ultimately throws up its hands and denies citizens their ability to vote because the State can’t figure out the outstanding balances it is requiring those citizens to pay. This system does not comport with due process of law.” Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12003 (11th Cir. 9/11/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202012003.enb.pdf>

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202012003.enb.pdf>

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202012003.enb.pdf>

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202012003.enb.pdf>

VOTING RIGHTS-DISSENT (J. JORDAN): “Critically, the fact that Florida had restored voting rights to 0 felons as of the time of trial indicates that this scheme does not ‘rationally’ further the goal of reenfranchising felons. Instead, it shows that Florida’s organs of government are doing their best to slowly but surely suffocate Amendment 4.” Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12003 (11th Cir. 9/11/20)

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202012003.enb.pdf>

<https://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202012003.enb.pdf>

VOTING RIGHTS-DISSENT (J. PRYOR): “Nearly a century has passed since Langston Hughes pined for an America where ‘opportunity is real’ and ‘[e]quality is in the air we breathe.’ In Florida, people convicted of felonies who have paid all the societal debts they can possibly pay were on the threshold of that America, welcomed home by Florida’s electorate. Florida’s voters had decided on their own initiative that the franchise should be restored to their fellow citizens. But Florida’s legislature slammed the door shut, barring perhaps a million would-be voters from any real and equal opportunity to rejoin their fellow Floridians and denying the electorate their choice to grant that opportunity. . . I write separately only to add context and echo the outrage of my fellow dissenting colleagues.” Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12003 (11th Cir. 9/11/20)

reason of’ has the same meaning as ‘on account of.’ . . .But rather than confront the inevitable conclusion—that the two phrases are synonymous—our colleagues instead say that this means the dictionary definitions ‘are of limited value.’ . . .What they are saying, I think, is that they do not like the result of a simple textual analysis, and therefore feel free to go beyond the text’s common understanding because that understanding is not helpful to their position. If that is textualism, textualism is a mirage.” Jones v. Governor of Florida, No. 20-12003 (11th Cir. 9/11/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SUCCESSIVE: Defendant’s motion for post conviction relief, based on allegation that counsel was ineffective for not investigating whether Defendant was incompetent based on amnesia caused by a jailhouse beating is dismissed as successive. Defendant’s claim that his amnesia made him forget his earlier motion for post conviction relief is rejected. Further, the trial record, including the Defendant’s thorough and highly detailed testimony, showed that the Defendant was not amnesiac. Roberts v. State, 1D19-4086 (9/11/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: In death penalty case, Court may not consider a motion for new trial prior to sentencing Defendant. EXPERT: “The State asserted that it was not offering Detective Hurst as any kind of expert, yet the State asked him to offer his opinion of which of the test-fired bullet holes in the test t-shirt most closely resembled the hole in Rhem’s t-shirt. This was an end-run at offering the detective’s opinion of the distance from which Rhem was shot.” Witnesses may testify to their own observations of an event or an experiment, but they usually may not make comparisons between demonstrative aids and actual evidence. MEDICAL TREATMENT: The Eighth Amendment does not requires Florida prison officials to treat all inmates with chronic Hepatitis C—including those who have only mild (or no) liver fibrosis—with expensive, state-of-the-art direct acting antiviral (DAA) drugs. Medical treatment violates the Eighth Amendment only when it is so grossly incompetent, inadequate, or excessive as to shock the conscience or to be intolerable to fundamental fairness. Hoffer v. PRR-VOP: When the State seeks to impose the PRR sentence and proves the PRR designation by a preponderance of the evidence before resentencing an offender that was originally facing a PRR sentence, the Court is required to impose the minimum mandatory sentence. State's initial waiver of the PRR sentence, pursuant to a negotiated plea, does not statutorily preclude the imposition of the PRR sentence upon violation of probation. There is no basis in Florida law for a permanent PRR waiver, and Defendant's violation of probation would have nullified the State's waiver under traditional contract principles. Foulks v. DEFINITION-"MIGHT": "Might" is the past tense of "may," and is used to express permission, liberty, probability, or possibility in the past; say that something is possible; or express a present condition contrary to fact. Foulks v. State, 3D18-2529 8/31/20)

PROSECUTORIAL IMMUNITY: Prosecutor is immune from suit for malicious prosecution and false arrest based on prosecutor's application for a material witness warrant. Absolute prosecutorial immunity extends to both individual prosecutors assigned to the State Attorney's Office, as well as the State Attorney's Office itself. As quasi-judicial officers, prosecutors enjoy absolute immunity from lawsuits for damages resulting from the performance of their quasi-judicial functions of initiating or maintaining a prosecution. This is true regardless of whether the prosecutor acted maliciously or corruptly. Qadri v. Rivera-Mercado, 5D20-427 (8/31/20)

VOP-COLLUQUY: Rule 3.172 does not apply in probation revocation proceedings, but the minimum colloquy in VOP proceedings must inform the defendant of the allegations against him, his right to counsel, and the consequences of an admission or the right to a hearing and it shall afford him an opportunity to be heard. Colley v. State, 1D19-2831 (8/28/20)

HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant may not use the Petition for Habeas Corpus to seek postconviction relief based on a claim that could have been or was raised at trial or on direct appeal or that would be untimely or successive asserted under Rule 3.850. Bland v. State, 1D19-3459 (8/28/20)

INVERSE FALLACY: "In logic, the mere negation of an antecedent, by itself, is not a valid form of proof, because while the inverse of a true proposition might also be true, it does not have to be, and so it proves nothing on its own. . .[I]t is a well known principle of logic that a statement need not be true merely because its inverse is true." RESENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Resentencing is not required for juvenile offenders unless they are serving a life sentence or its functional equivalent. A 35-year sentence is not the functional equivalent of a life sentence. Santiago v. State, 5D17-3394 (8/28/20)

CELL PHONE-PASSCODE-FIFTH AMENDMENT: The Fifth Amendment protects a person from the compelled disclosure of a passcode to a passcode-protected smartphone. Compelling a defendant to provide orally the passcode to his smartphone is a testimonial communication protected under the Fifth Amendment and the foregone conclusion exception or doctrine does not apply to compelled oral testimony. The Fifth Amendment's protection also encompasses compelled statements that lead to the discovery of incriminating evidence. "Distilled to its essence, the revealing of the pass code is a verbal communication of the contents of one's mind."

Conflict and question of great public importance certified. Garcia v. State, 5D19-590 (8/28/20)

FOREGONE CONCLUSION DOCTRINE: The "foregone conclusion" exception to the Fifth Amendment provides that an act of production does not violate the Fifth Amendment—even if it conveys a fact—if the State can demonstrate with reasonable particularity that, at the time it sought to compel the act of production, it already knew of the material sought, thereby making any testimonial aspect of the production a foregone conclusion. The foregone conclusion exception to the Fifth Amendment does not apply to compelled revelation of one's cell phone passcode. To apply the foregone conclusion rationale in these circumstances would allow the exception to swallow the constitutional privilege. Garcia v. State, 5D19-590 (8/28/20)

CELL PHONE-PASSCODE-FIFTH AMENDMENT: Defendant may not be compelled to disclose the orally memorized passcode to this or her smart phone over the invocation of privilege under the Fifth Amendment. Question certified. Hager v. State, 5D20-1426 (8/28/20)

COSTS: Court errs in imposing $200 for the cost of prosecution and a separate $200 charge for “Indigency Defense Cost,” rather than the statutory $100 assessment. Court must give notice of its intent to impose more than the statutory minimum amounts. Dennis v. State, 5D19-3499 (8/28/20)

VOP: 15 year sentence for VOP based on allegations that the Defendant failed to complete sex offender treatment and pay court costs is vacated. Findings in VOP hearing cannot be based solely on hearsay (including the amounts of unpaid court costs) that could not be admitted as substantive evidence in other proceedings. Defendant restored to probation. Mangini v. State, 5D19-3643 (8/28/20)

EXPUNCTION-JUVENILE: Discretion to deny expunction is not unfettered. Expunction may not be arbitrarily denied. Remanded for reconsideration of Denial of Expunction in juvenile case. J.F.T. v. State, 5D20-907 (8/28/20)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: In second-degree murder prosecution, where either the Defendant or his twin brother shot the victim, appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that the Defendant's crime was improperly elevated from a first-degree to a life felony based on the Defendant's possession of a gun where the Jury made no finding that he had personal possession of the gun. When a defendant is charged with a felony involving the use of a weapon, his or her sentence cannot be enhanced under section 775.087(1) without evidence establishing that the defendant had personal possession of the weapon during the commission of the felony. The reclassification provision cannot be applied using the principal theory. Julian v. State, 5D20-1022 (8/28/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where evidence that Defendant had raped and killed two year old victim is strong, any Giglio or Brady claim regarding whether neighbor had heard sounds consistent with the crime, if valid, is harmless. Davis v. State, SC19-1207 (8/27/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was deficient in not calling witnesses who would have shifted primary blame for a gruesome murder to a co-defendant, but there was no prejudice given the overwhelming evidence. Brown v. State, SC19-704 (8/27/20)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Inconsistent statements discovered after the trial showing a witness's relationship with the victim and her role in the events is material, but given that the victim was dragged her out of the house, repeatedly tased, beaten in the head with a crowbar, and then set her on fire but are not of such a nature that they would probably produce an acquittal on retrial. "[W]e believe the additional impeachment of Lee might result in a lesser sentence at a retrial. However, it cannot be said that it would probably result in a lesser sentence. . .The subjective assessment of the jurors, and perhaps the trial court, as to whether Brown should receive a death sentence might change, but the possibility that it would change does not meet the standard required for a new trial, which is a showing that it would probably change." Brown v. State, SC19-704 (8/27/20)

QUO WARRANTO-SUPREME COURT: Governor exceeded his authority in appointing Renatha Francis as Supreme Court Justice because she was constitutionally ineligible since she had not been a member of the Bar for ten years at the time of the appointment, but because the proposed remedy--that the nominating commission submit to the Governor a new list--is not a permissible remedy, and because the Court will not require a remedy not requested, there is no remedy. "We cannot make this case into something it is not by providing a remedy not requested." Thompson v. Desantis, SC20-985 (8/27/20)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: The canon of construction which holds that a material variation in terms suggests a variation in meaning is so often disregarded that it is particularly defeasible by context. Thompson v. Desantis, SC20-985 (8/27/20)

DEPORTATION-STOP-TIME RULE: Applying the stop-time rule to a conviction from before the rule was enacted is impermissibly retroactive. Defendant is not subject to removal based on a crime (Resisting LEO with Violence) which occurred before Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act ("IIRIRA") took effect (April 1, 1997). Under the "stop-time rule," people convicted of certain crimes are no longer eligible for a discretionary cancellation of removal. Resisting a police officer with violence is a crime involving moral turpitude ("CIMT"). Rendon v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 19-10197 (11th Cir. 8/26/20)

JURISDICTION-MARITIME DRUG LAW ENFORCEMENT ACT:

Congress lacks the authority constitutional authority under the Define and Punish Clause of the Constitution to criminalize acts committed in the territorial waters of foreign nations. Defendants cannot be prosecuted for marijuana seized from a boat in Jamaica's territorial waters, notwithstanding Jamaica's consent. A drug boat in Jamaican waters does not affect interstate commerce. "Congress's power to regulate commerce 'among the states,' . . . undoubtedly presents a different question than Congress's power to regulate commerce 'with foreign nations.' . . . [T]he question in this case. . . is whether there is a rational basis for concluding that the drug-trafficking conduct here in the territorial waters of a foreign nation, by foreign nationals using a foreign-registered vessel, of drugs not bound for the United States, substantially affects United States commerce with foreign nations. The record contains no evidence to support this conclusion." The MDLEA is unconstitutional and exceeded Congress's authority under the Foreign Commerce Clause. USA v. Davila-Mendoza, No. 17-12038 (11th Cir. 8/26/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: An arrest warrant founded on probable cause implicitly carries with it the limited authority to enter a dwelling in which the suspect lives when there is reason to believe the suspect is within. An officer's mistaken belief that a suspect was there at a particular time does not necessarily render a search unreasonable or prevent the admission of evidence obtained while attempting to arrest the suspect at that location so long as the officer's belief was reasonable in the first place. USA v. Mastin, No. 18-14241 (11th Cir. 8/26/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Police can detain the occupants of a dwelling, including bystanders, while they execute a search or arrest warrant. The permissible detention includes ordering occupants to crawl out of a hotel room. USA v. Mastin, No. 18-14241 (11th Cir. 8/26/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201814241.pdf>

CROSS-EXAMINATION-SCOPE: Defendant was not deprived of his 6th Amendment Right of Confrontation by Order in Limine limiting questions about how the arrest warrants were obtained and served.

Questions such as whether the officers had a search warrant would have had little bearing on the main testifying officer's credibility or supposed biases, prejudices or ulterior motives. USA v. Mastin, No. 18-14241 (11th Cir. 8/26/20)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Defendant is not entitled to a downward departure absent evidence that he is amenable to treatment and that there exists an acceptable treatment program to which he is accepted. Warianek v. State, 2D19-539 (8/26/20)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Court may not enter a judgment of conviction on the bifurcated count of possession of a firearm by a felon without a separate jury trial and verdict where Defendant had stipulated that he was a felon and he had been found guilty of armed kidnapping on the bifurcated count. The jury must reconvene for the second phase of the trial on the charge of possession of a firearm by a felon. Error is fundamental (State objected; Defense did not). Gonzalez v. State, 3D18-980 (8/26/20)

SENTENCING-REMORSE: At sentencing hearing, State may not argue Defendant's lack of remorse except in response to defense arguments based on remorse. Lack of remorse, the failure to accept responsibility, or the exercise of one's right to remain silent at sentencing may not be considered by the trial court in fashioning the appropriate sentence. New trial is required with a different judge. Gonzalez v. State, 3D18-980 (8/26/20)

EVIDENCE: Gloves found in a van are inadmissible absent a showing that they were used in the crime (State: "This glove just makes it more likely that these people were up to no good."). Evidence requiring an extended chain of inferences to be relevant or that suggests an improper basis for the jury's verdict should be excluded. The probative value, if any, of such evidence was far outweighed by its prejudicial effect. Gonzalez v. State, 3D18-980 (8/26/20)

BAIL: In setting bond, Court must take evidence and make findings on the statutory factors. A non-evidentiary hearing is insufficient. Remanded for hearing. Whether bond of $1,010,000 for racketeering/RICO, conspiracy to traffic in Oxycodone and conspiracy to traffic illegal drugs, where Defendant has approximately forty-six prior criminal and two of the underlying charges occurred while Defendant was on probation, depends on facts adduced at an evidentiary hearing. VOP-VFOC: Court must make written findings that Defendant poses a danger to the community. The written findings requirement of section 948.06(8)(e) is mandatory, not discretionary. Smith v. State, 3D19-1029 (8/26/20)

VOP-APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Courts failure to make written findings as to which conditions of probation have been violated is not cognizable on appeal unless Defendant objected or moved to correct. Smith v. State, 3D19-1029 (8/26/20)

SENTENCING-SCORESHEET: Federal offense of distribution of a kilogram of cocaine (21 U.S.C. 841(a)(1) and 841(b)(1)(B)(ii)) is analogous or parallel to Fla.Stat. 893.135(1)(b)1.c. and are properly scored as priors. Smith v. State, 3D19-1004 (8/26/20)

MISTRIAL: The victim's singular comment describing Defendant's co-defendant as “the one in jail” was unsolicited; brief, isolated and inadvertent; not referenced during the remainder of the trial; and followed by the trial court’s curative instruction does not warrant a mistrial. Cherisme v. State, 3D19-1551 (8/26/20)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIME: In sexual assault case (unwanted fondling and penetration of a house guest) Court erred in admitting evidence of a separate incident of unwanted fondling of and sexual assertiveness on a different woman. For collateral sex crimes not involving minors to be admissible, significant similarity between the collateral evidence and the charged crime, evidence so similar and specific that it resembles a clear pattern of conduct, is required. The attack on the Williams rule witness on a bench in a public place is only minimally probative of the charged crime—repeated sexual batteries against a passed-out woman on a couch in a residential living room. Reyna v. State, 4D19-2306 (8/26/20)

VOP-PRISON SENTENCE: For Defendant to benefit from Section 948.06(2)(f)1. (limiting the sentence for VOP), he must meet all four conditions in the subsection (that the term of supervision is probation, the probationer does not qualify as a violent felony offender of special concern, the violation is a low-risk technical violation, and the Defendant has not previously been found in violation during the current term of supervision), notwithstanding the use of “any” rather than “all” before the list of the four conditions. Owens v. State, 1D20-540 (8/25/20)

ABSURDITY DOCTRINE: A literal interpretation of the language of a statute need not be given when to do so would lead to an unreasonable or ridiculous conclusion. The absurdity doctrine, in context, precludes interpreting the term “any” as anything other than “all” as used in s. 948.06(2)(f)1.a. Owens v. State, 1D20-540 (8/25/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: An evidentiary hearing is required for the trial court to properly determine whether newly discovered evidence (a confession by a third party) is of such nature that it would probably produce an acquittal on retrial. CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Defendant is entitled to credit for the time he spent in prison from the date of the original sentencing to the date of resentencing. Chipman v. State, 2D18-1067 (8/21/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-JURISDICTION: Court lacks jurisdiction to rescind its order granting resentencing for minor who had been sentenced to life in prison for murder with the possibility of parole after 25 years because the motion for resentencing had been filed under R. 3.850 rather than 3.800. Resentencing hearing required but the same sentence may be imposed. Witteman v. State, 2D19-292 (8/21/20)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court errs in imposing a downward departure on ground that Defendant was too young to appreciate the consequences of the offense where the Defendant was 22 years old. Court's reliance on its familiarity "with all of the scientific research that says that males, in particular, don't have their brains fully developed until they're aged 25," does not constitute competent, substantial evidence where there was no actual evidence presented by either party as to this "scientific research." Hunt v. State, 2D19-1583 (8/21/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-INEFFECTIVENESS-REMEDY: Where Defendant is entitled to relief where Defendant lost at trial after counsel failed to advise him of maximum sentence and mandatory minimum, the remedy is to order the State to reoffer the previously rejected offer. The remedy of only allowing a new trial would not only needlessly squander resources, but would also place Defendant in a worse position without neutralizing the taint of the constitutional violation. Elma v. State, 5D19-2409 (8/21/20)

COMPETENCY: Once Defendant's competence is raised, Court may not resolve the case without making a competency determination. Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to raise the issue. Schultz v. State, 5D20-1052 (8/21/20)

BAIL: Court may not give bond to a registered sexual offender arrested for violation of probation without first holding a hearing and determining that the Defendant would not pose a danger to the community. Certiorari relief is appropriate when a trial court grants a defendant post-arrest release from custody in violation of the plain language contained in a statute. State v. Patterson, 5D20-1082 (8/21/20)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: Where Defendant was lured to a meeting under false pretenses with three three law enforcement officers in a small room, questioned aggressively, and required to remove his shirt, he reasonably believed he was in custody and was thus entitled to Miranda warnings. Defendant was entitled to a hearing on whether Counsel was ineffective for failing to file a motion to suppress. Maristee v. State, 1D19-1769 (8/17/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Where Court applied the wrong BOP at SYG hearing, at trial State overcame Defendant's self-defense claim by meeting the heavier trial burden of proof beyond a reasonable doubt, the Court's failure to require the State to overcome Defendant's immunity claim with clear and convincing evidence was cured. Little v. State, 4D18-3128 (8/19/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Attempted car burglary (jiggling a car door handle) is not a forcible felony justifying SYG immunity for Defendant who detained suspect at gunpoint. Display of a deadly weapon, without more, is not deadly force. Little v. State, 4D18-3128 (8/19/20)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: The “Presumption of Consistent Usage” holds that a word or phrase is presumed to bear the same meaning throughout a text. Little v. State, 4D18-3128 (8/19/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Where the defendant did not discharge his loaded firearm but pointed it at another individual while vocally ordering that person to do something (get down on the ground), he threatened to use force, and ordinarily would not be entitled to SYG immunity. When a person points a loaded firearm at another person and issues a command to do something, this is generally an implied declaration that the failure to abide by the command will result in the discharge of the firearm, i.e., deadly force. Little v. State, 4D18-3128 (8/19/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-NON-DEADLY FORCE: Failure to give a non-deadly force instruction where Defendant pulled a gun on person jiggling the door handle of a parked car is not fundamental error. Little v. State, 4D18-3128 (8/19/20)

DEADLY FORCE: Pointing a firearm at another individual without discharging it is not use of deadly force, but is “threatened use of” deadly force, not permitted under SYG law. Little v. State, 4D18-3128 (8/19/20)

SENTENCING: Where a trial court’s written sentencing order conflicts with the oral pronouncement, the oral pronouncement controls.” Defendant's designation as a violent career criminal, because not orally pronounced, is vacated. Smith v. State, 4D19-1036 (8/19/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRIVACY-MASSAGE PARLOR-STANDING:

Defendant has a legitimate expectation of privacy in massage rooms where female employees offer a sexual act involving manual manipulation of the male genitals for money, and thus has standing to challenge the surveillance warrant. The spa-client defendants in all of these cases had a subjective and objectively reasonable expectation of privacy in the massage parlor rooms where clients are expected to partially or fully disrobe. "As soon as the door to the massage room was closed, they had a reasonable expectation of privacy." "[T]he state’s circular argument that the defendants lacked a privacy interest because they were engaging in criminal behavior is unconvincing." State v. Kraft, 4D19-1499 (8/19/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRIVACY-MASSAGE PARLOR-MINIMIZATION: Video surveillance requires minimization. The warrants, which did not set forth any specific written parameters to minimize the recording of innocent massage seekers, failed to contain sufficient minimization guidelines and the police did not sufficiently minimize the video recording of innocent spa goers receiving lawful massages. State v. Kraft, 4D19-1499 (8/19/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRIVACY-MASSAGE PARLOR-MINIMIZATION: An order permitting video surveillance shall not be issued unless: (1) there has been a showing that probable cause exists that a particular person is committing, has committed, or is about to commit a crime; (2) the order particularly describes the place to be searched and the things to be seized; (3) the order is sufficiently precise so as to minimize the recording of activities not related to the crimes under investigation; (4) the judge issuing the order finds that normal investigative procedures have been tried and have failed or reasonably appear to be unlikely to succeed if tried or appear to be too dangerous; and (5) the order does not allow the period of interception to be longer than necessary to achieve the objective of the authorization, or in any event no longer than thirty days. State v. Kraft, 4D19-1499 (8/19/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-MINIMIZATION: "Should there be any doubt, as the state respectfully urges, that minimization procedures 'are not constitutionally required by the Fourth Amendment' . . . , we hereby find they are and caution that to hold otherwise would be directly counter to the Constitution, civil liberties, and the rule of law."
State v. Kraft, 4D19-1499 (8/19/20)

EXCLUSIONARY RULE: Exclusionary rule applies to improperly minimized massage room surveillance. "We cannot conclude here that the law enforcement agencies acted in good faith with respect to minimization due to the lack of Florida law on point." State v. Kraft, 4D19-1499 (8/19/20)

EXCLUSIONARY RULE: Argument that exclusionary rule should not apply because the the victims could civilly sue is non-availing. "A costly, time-consuming civil remedy by unlawfully recorded persons is impractical and would not serve to meaningfully deter future violations. Were we to accept this argument, police in future cases could blatantly violate the privacy rights and Fourth Amendment protections of citizens and the only consequence would be the risk of future civil lawsuits that most citizens would not have the wherewithal to pursue." State v. Kraft, 4D19-1499 (8/19/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: "[T]he strict Fourth Amendment safeguards developed over the past few decades must be observed. . . .To permit otherwise would yield unbridled discretion to agents of law enforcement and the government, the antithesis of the constitutional liberty of people to be secure against unreasonable searches and seizures." State v. Kraft, 4D19-1499 (8/19/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-TRAFFIC STOP: Search is unlawful where officer unlawfully prolonged car stop by asking Defendant questions unrelated to the purpose of the stop (when his last traffic ticket was, if he had ever been arrested, how old his car was, whether he had drugs or a dead body in the car). An officer may conduct certain unrelated checks during an otherwise lawful traffic stop, but he may not do so in a way that prolongs the stop. A stop is unlawfully prolonged when an officer, without reasonable suspicion, diverts from the stop's purpose and adds time to the stop in order to investigate other crimes. But here the Good Faith exception applies because the officer relied on then binding but now overturned case law. USA v. Campbell, No. 16-10128 (8/14/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201610128.op2.pdf>

APPEALS: Government is not authorized to raise the Good Faith exception to an appeal of a search if not raised below, but appellate court may do so sua sponte. "Without announcing a bright-line rule, we hold that we can review the applicability of the waived good-faith issue here because of the narrow posture of this case and because the waived issue is resolved, as a matter of law, by our analysis of the constitutionality of [officer]'s search in this case. . .[W]e remain passive and neutral, without becoming a self-directed board of legal inquiry, even though we dispose of the case on an issue that was technically waived on appeal."

JIMMY RYCE: The report of Doctor who had evaluated the Detainee nine times which said that he was not a danger establishes probable cause that Detainee will not reoffend entitling him to a review trial. Higdon v. Secretary, DCF, 2D18-2620 (8/14/20)

of a dwelling with an assault with a weapon (1st PBL). The lesser crime should be (that which is the offense that has elements wholly subsumed by the other) should be vacated, even though, as here, the lesser offence (armed burglary) carries a more severe sanction. *Rodriguez v. BASEBALL PLAYER SMUGGLING: CUBAN ADJUSTMENT ACT (CAA) and the Wet-Foot/Dry-Foor policy does not constitute “prior official authorization” to enter the United States, such that Defendants could not be convicted of smuggling baseball players from Cuba into the United Sttes to play baseball. USA v. Estrada, No. 17-15405 (11th Cir. 8/13/20)

EVIDENCE-LAY OPINION: Office of Foreign Assets Control (OFAC) employee may testify about policy on unlocking immigration visa applications. A lay witness may base his opinion testimony on his examination of documents even when the witness was not involved in the activity because of the particularized knowledge that the witness has by virtue of his or her position in the business. *USA v. EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: Evidence of violence and extortion third parties committed toward non-players or their families is admissible in case of smuggling baseball players from Cuba to USA as intrinsic evidence necessary to complete the story of the crimes and integral to the charged conspiracy. USA v. Estrada, No. 17-15405 (11th Cir. 8/13/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-CONCEDING GUILT: There is no blanket rule demanding the Defendant's explicit consent to a trial strategy of conceding guilt to a lesser offense. Only if the Defendant expressed to counsel that his objective was to maintain his innocence or that he expressly objected to any admission of guilt is his attorney necessarily ineffective in conceding guilt. Atwater v. State, SC19-1709 (8/13/20)

SCYLLA AND CHARYBDIS: "Darned if you do and darned if you don't. That dilemma is nothing new. Indeed, around 800 B.C.E., Homer wrote of the problem in his epic poem The Odyssey. There, the conundrum appeared when Odysseus found himself 'caught between the Scylla and Charybdis,' a phrase we continue to use today to refer to the darned-if-you-and-darned-if-you-don't scenario." <http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201713358.pdf>

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-PROBATION: Statements made by Defendant (yes, I looked at child porn), because of condition of probation that Defendant must answer truthfully all inquiries by the probation officer, is compelled under the Fifth Amendment and neither the statement nor evidence derived from it may be used in a subsequent criminal prosecution "What is not permissible is giving a probationer a reasonable belief that if he refuses to answer his probation officer's incriminating questions, his probation will be revoked and then using statements derived as a result of that 'classic penalty situation' in a criminal prosecution." SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT FOR PRIORS: Court may consider the "factual basis for the plea" to a prior offense only when it was confirmed by the Defendant, but inferences from the records support the conclusion that the Defendant had pled to two separate offenses, subjecting him to the ACCA enhancement. USA v. Carter, No. 18-148806 (11th Cir. 8/12/20)

the document with a seal, are admissible as a self-authenticating document under §90.902, but the custodian's business record certification nonetheless makes the letter admissible. PRR sentence is upheld. Locklear v. State, 1D19-1236 (8/12/20)

EXCESSIVE FORCE-QUALIFIED IMMUNITY: Leaving a detainee in a hot, unventilated, un-air-conditioned van for transport between jails can be understood as excessive force. "[T]he need for detention in relatively harsh conditions depends both on the threat that the Detainee poses and on the feasibility of alternative means of holding him. Again, a sliding scale: Detention in harsher conditions may be justified where alternative modes of detention are not readily available, especially if the detainee poses a heightened risk of danger to police or the public; by contrast, where the detainee poses no particular risk or where an alternative is at hand, the "need" for harsher modes of detention dissipates." Officer is entitled to qualified immunity on excessive-force claim, but not on the deliberate-indifference claim. Patel v. Smith, No. 19-11253 (11th Cir. 8/11/20)

CRIME OF VIOLENCE-RICO CONSPIRACY: RICO conspiracy does not qualify as a crime of violence under §924(c). USA v. Green, No. 17-10346 (8/11/20)

EXCESSIVE SENTENCE: 120-year sentence (five-fold upward variance) is procedurally unreasonable in RICO drug conspiracy involving murder (for which the Defendant was acquitted) where the Court failed to adequately explain Defendant's sentence and relied on a clearly erroneous fact. USA v. Green, No. 17-10346 (8/11/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201710346.pdf>

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201710346.pdf>

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Court did not abuse its discretion in denying Defendant's requested strike made in contravention to the agreed voir dire procedure and after his counsel had accepted the panel on the defendants' behalf. USA v. Green, No. 17-10346 (8/11/20)

HEARSAY-CO-CONSPIRATOR STATEMENT: Testimony concerning street rumors that witness had heard that Defendant's murdered a named person is not admissible under co-conspirator exception to the hearsay rule where witness repeatedly clarified that she never overheard any of the co-conspirators say so. Error is harmless. USA v. Green, No. 17-10346 (8/11/20)

FORFEITURE: Forfeiture is mandatory even where Defendant is convicted of a money laundering scheme that caused no financial harm to an innocently involved bank. Laundered money that winds up back with a victim of the scheme is still property “involved in” the offense for forfeiture purposes. USA v. Hatum, No. 18-11951 (8/11/20)

EIGHTH AMENDMENT-EXCESSIVE FINE: Forfeiture order of $20,852,0006 is not excessively punitive, notwithstanding that money had already been returned to the bank with interest. Any forfeiture amount below the maximum fine will be presumptively constitutional. USA v. Hatum, No. 18-11951 (8/11/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PARKED CAR: Defendant who parked his car with its driver's-side tires resting along the fog line at the edge of a two-lane road was unlawfully stopped. "[N]o one in this case—not the deputy, the prosecutor, the circuit court, or the State in this appeal—has ever identified a provision of law that forbids parking a vehicle in the manner that the deputy found objectionable." EVIDENCE-RELEVANCE-PREJUDICE: “The Punisher” logo on the grip of Defender's gun is admissible to show the distinctiveness of the firearm. Even if it should have been excluded, any error is harmless where Defendant killed two people (one run over, one run over and shot) and hit, shot or crashed his car into three more. Wong v. State, 3D19-1291 (8/12/20)

ATTEMPTED SECOND DEGREE MURDER: Attempted Second Degree Murder with a Firearm is a first degree felony, not a life felony. Lagandeur v. State, 3D19-1157 (8/12/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: In order to obtain a new trial based on newly discovered evidence, a defendant must show that the evidence must not have been known by the trial court, the party, or counsel at unknown and unknowable with due diligence and must be of such nature that it would probably produce an acquittal on retrial. A recantation will not be considered newly discovered evidence where the recantation offers nothing new or where the recantation is offered by an untrustworthy individual who gave inconsistent statements all along. Lightner v. State, 3D19-1681 (8/12/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW-SEARCH WARRANT: Search is lawful where the search warrant specified that two samples must be seized but only one was. While an officer does not have the power to seize anything not specified in the warrant, he can exercise discretion to leave items that may arguably come within the literal terms of the search warrant. State v. Aaron, 3D19-8 (8/12/20)

JUVENILE-JURISDICTION: Court lacks jurisdiction beyond the age of 19 over a Child in cases for which he is not a sex offender, notwithstanding that in a different case he is on supervision as a juvenile sex offender. K.D. v. State, 4D19-2196 (8/12/20)

SENTENCING-CTS-STATE CHARGE: Where Defendant is sentenced to twenty years on a state charge of burglary and is later prosecuted on a federal charge of possession of firearm by a felon based on the same acts, the Court must adjust its guideline sentence to account for the time already served on the state case. 5G1.3(b)(1) of the Sentencing Guidelines requires that a district court shall adjust a defendant's sentence for time served on a related sentence if the court determines that such period of imprisonment will not be credited to the federal sentence by the Bureau of Prisons. Adjustment is mandatory. USA v. Henry, No. 18-15251 (11th Cir. 8/7/20)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION-GUIDELINES: Absent a conflict with a higher source of federal law, sentencing courts must follow mandatory instructions in the Guidelines. USA v. Henry, No. 18-15251 (11th Cir. 8/7/20)

EVIDENCE-INTERROGATION-REDACTION: Court did not err in allowing various statements by officers during the interrogation where Defendant's story evolved from complete denial to consensual intercourse and striking the homicide victim in the head. A jury may hear an interrogating detective's statements about a crime when the statements provoke a relevant response from the defendant being questioned. Whitfield v. State, 1D18-4280 (8/7/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-HABEAS CORPUS: Habeas corpus is not available to obtain the kind of collateral postconviction relief available by motion in the sentencing court pursuant to rule 3.850. Habeas corpus may not be used for obtaining additional appeals of issues which were or should have been raised, on direct appeal or prior postconviction filings. Ferguson v. Inch, 1D20-1642 (8/7/20)

CONTINUANCE: Court abused its discretion in denying continuance when State materially amended its information and added, on the eve of trial, three additional law enforcement witnesses. Turner v. State, 2D18-4281 (8/7/20)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/642261/7295031/file/184281_DC13_08072020_083635_i.pdf

HABEAS CORPUS-SUCCESSIVE PETITION: Where Court amended its original judgment nunc pro tunc, the amended sentence is not a new judgment, so a §2244(b) habeas corpus action would be an unauthorized second or successive petition, beyond the Court's jurisdiction. Osborne v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-11004 (11th Cir. 8/6/20)

HABEAS CORPUS: Before a petitioner may file a second or successive §2254 habeas petition, the petitioner first must obtain an order from this Court authorizing the district court to consider the petition. Without it, the district court lacks jurisdiction to consider a second or successive habeas petition. Osborne v. Secretary, DOC, No. 18-11004 (11th Cir. 8/6/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEFECTIVE INFORMATION: Counsel is not ineffective for failing to dismiss an information which does not cite an applicable subsection of the armed robbery statute. An information is fundamentally defective only where it totally omits an essential element of the crime or is so vague, indistinct or indefinite that the defendant is misled or exposed to double jeopardy. Boone v. State, 1D19-3282 (8/6/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/642221/7294564/file/193282_DC05_08062020_141900_i.pdf

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant can be found guilty of both Aggravated Battery with a Firearm and Robbery with a firearm. Each requires proof of a fact that the other does not. Robbery requires proof of a taking or depriving of property, an element that battery does not require. Battery requires an actual and intentional touching of the victim, which is not necessarily an element of robbery. Boone v. State, 1D19-3282 (8/6/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/642221/7294564/file/193282_DC05_08062020_141900_i.pdf

INCONSISTENT VERDICTS: Factually inconsistent verdicts that do not negate a necessary element for another count are lawful. Defendant may be found guilty of armed robbery with a firearm and aggravated battery despite the jury finding that he did not actually possess the firearm. Boone v. State, 1D19-3282 (8/6/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/642221/7294564/file/193282_DC05_08062020_141900_i.pdf

JURY INSTRUCTION-INDEPENDENT ACT: Defendant was not entitled to an independent act instruction in robbery case where evidence showed that the Defendant actively participated in the robbery (hitting victim in the head and either struggling with or shooting the victim). Boone v. State, 1D19-3282 (8/6/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/642221/7294564/file/193282_DC05_08062020_141900_i.pdf

HEARSAY: Rebuttal witness is allowed to testify that an officer told him that Defendant's clothes were not found at the burglarized home (contradicting Defendant's defense that he went in the home by invitation to retrieve his clothes). The statement of the non-testifying witness was not used in the State's case-in-chief to establish Defendant's guilt; rather, it was introduced in rebuttal solely to impeach his testimony that he had been invited to Victim's home to retrieve clothing. The testimony was hearsay, but was nevertheless admissible to impeach Defendant's narrative. Butler v. State, 3D19-1172 (8/5/20)

NON-UNANIMOUS VERDICT: Multiple acts of penetration involving the same victim occurring over the course of a few hours as part of an ongoing criminal episode can support one conviction without violating the rule prohibiting the possibility of a non-unanimous verdict. Pestano v. State, 3D19-180 (8/5/20)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/642147/7293681/file/200880_DA08_08052020_105432_i.pdf

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/642147/7293681/file/200880_DA08_08052020_105432_i.pdf

COLLATERAL CRIME EVIDENCE-SEX CASES: Collateral crime evidence of Defendant fondling a previous girl friend's prepubescent daughter is admissible in lewd and lascivious molestation of a new girl friend's daughter. Collateral crime evidence in sex case is admissible to corroborate a victim's testimony regardless of whether the charged and collateral offenses occurred in the familial context or whether they share any similarity, but the probative value of relevant evidence be weighed against its potential for unfair prejudice. The similarity of the collateral act and charged offense is a critical consideration. Good discussion. Pridemore v. State, 4D19-1555 (8/5/20)

HEARSAY-SUICIDE NOTE: Child victim's suicide note, in which she wrote about being molested, is admissible. Pridemore v. State, 4D19-1555 (8/5/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court must address only those claims of ineffective assistance of counsel which are clearly articulated in a motion for post conviction relief. A vague coercion claim need not be specifically addressed by the Court when it was subsumed in other claims. Barritt v. Secretary, DOC, No. 16-17789 (11th Cir. 8/4/20)

VINDICTIVENESS: Filing of additional charges in the context of plea negotiations is not necessarily retaliatory. Barritt v. Secretary, DOC, No. 16-17789 (11th Cir. 8/4/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201617789.pdf>

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-CHILD PORN: One videotape containing four separate incidents of Defendant molesting his stepdaughter can constitute four separate offenses of possession of child pornography. "[Defendant's] argument would effectively mean that the defendant's chosen manner of storage dictates how many offenses he has committed—rather than the number of offending representations he actually created or possessed. His argument is especially unpersuasive considering that, for example, both the films Casablanca and Godzilla could be stored on the same videotape yet obviously would not constitute a single 'motion picture.'" Barritt v. Secretary, DOC, No. 16-17789 (11th Cir. 8/4/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201617789.pdf>

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201910083.pdf>

COMPETENCY: Court is not required to conduct a competency hearing where Defendant demonstrated a continued understanding of the proceedings, ability to consult with his counsel, and ability to assist with his defense, notwithstanding Defendant's description of himself as "discombobulated." USA v. Cometa, No. 19-11282 (11th Cir. 8/3/20)

JULY 2020

EVIDENCE-SUMMARY CHARTS: Where the underlying evidence is made up of voluminous Medicare claims, summary charts are permitted under F.E.R. 1006. The essential requirement is not that the charts be free from reliance on any assumptions, but rather that these assumptions be supported by evidence in the record. A sufficiently qualified expert is not required as a basis for entering the comparison charts. USA v. Melgen, No. 18-10991 (11th Cir. 7/31/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201810991.pdf>

NEW EVIDENCE: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial under R. 33 for evidence which is merely impeaching. USA v. Melgen, No. 18-10991 (11th Cir. 7/31/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201810991.pdf>

SENTENCING-REASONABLENESS: In reviewing a sentence for reasonableness, the appellate court must first consider whether the district court committed any significant procedural error, and next whether the sentence was substantively reasonable. 204 months for extensive Medicare fraud by ophthalmologist is not unreasonable. USA v. Melgen, No. 18-10991 (11th Cir. 7/31/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201810991.pdf>

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to a new SYG hearing where the immunity hearing was held before the effective date of the 2017 amendment, which shifted the burden of proof to the State. Whitham v. State, 2D16-3388 (7/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE-EVIL TWIN DEFENSE:

Defendant who was convicted at trial after a failed identity defense is entitled to a hearing on claim that his brother was the real perpetrator who confessed after the trial. Evidence can be treated as newly discovered where it is based on newly available testimony of defendants who were previously unwilling to testify. Baker v. State, 2D19-2944 (7/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Case remanded a second time for Court to determine whether counsel was ineffective for failing to object to trial court's comments at sentencing. Court may not base its ruling on trial counsel's subjective perception that the court's comments were not a basis for Johns's sentence. Trial counsel's performance is measured by an objective standard. New judge required. Johns v. State, 5D19-2883 (7/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant's claim that he was overdosed on psychotropic medication the extent that he was hallucinating at the time of his plea, rendering it involuntary, is refuted by the record. Being prescribed psychotropic medications while incarcerated does not equate to involuntary intoxication. Annicchiarico v. State, 5D19-3033 (7/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant's assertion that he was not afforded the benefit of the negotiated range of sentences for leading the police to the location of the victim's body, which he did, although they did not find it until years later exactly where he had indicated, while concerning, does not warrant relief on appeal because it was not raised at the evidentiary hearing. Annicchiarico v. State, 5D19-3033 (7/31/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201813969.pdf>

EVIDENCE: In armed robbery case, music video which shows the Defendant acting out a robbery, comparing himself to El Chapo, and promoting himself as a gangster ("If I pull up on you, you'll get buried") is admissible to show identity and to corroborate victim's testimony that the Defendant was a rapper and videographer who had shown her that video. The video's potential for unfair prejudice did not substantially outweigh its probative value. USA v. Smith, No. 18-13969 (11th Cir. 7/30/20)

HOBBS ACT-INTERSTATE COMMERCE: Robbery of victim by taking video editing software (Pro Tools software) used by the victim's business satisfies the affecting-interstate-commerce element. The effect on interstate commerce may be minimal. There is no requirement that the criminal and victim have a commercial relationship. The element of effect on interstate commerce can apply to the robbery of an individual when (1) the crime depletes the assets of an individual who is directly engaged in interstate commerce; (2) the crime causes the individual to deplete the assets of an entity engaged in interstate commerce; or (3) the number of individuals victimized or the sums involved are so large that there will be a cumulative impact on interstate commerce. USA v. Smith, No. 18-13969 (11th Cir. 7/30/20)

FIRST STEP ACT: Under the First Step Act, the 25-year mandatory minimum consecutive sentence required by that statute does not apply to multiple §924(c) convictions resulting from a single prosecution. Instead, the mandatory minimum consecutive sentences for second or subsequent §924(c) convictions apply only where the later conviction is for a §924(c) violation that occurs after a previous one has become final. USA v. Smith, No. 18-13969 (11th Cir. 7/30/20)

RETROACTIVITY-FIRST STEP ACT: First Step amendment to §924(c) limiting its consecutive application does not apply retroactively to before the sentences are imposed. USA v. Smith, No. 18-13969 (11th Cir. 7/30/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201813969.pdf>

RETROACTIVITY: The general rule is that when an amendment clarifies prior law rather than changing it, no concerns about retroactive application arise and the amendment is applied to the present proceeding as an accurate restatement of prior law. USA v. Smith, No. 18-13969 (11th Cir. 7/30/20)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: The title of a statute and the heading of a section cannot limit the plain meaning of the text. The heading or title of a statute cannot trump the plain meaning of the text. USA v. Smith, No. 18-13969 (11th Cir. 7/30/20)

EQUITABLE TOLLING: Attorney negligence (failure to pay filing fee or apply for indigency waiver), even gross or egregious negligence, does not qualify as an extraordinary circumstance for purposes of equitable tolling. Clemons v. Commissioner, No. 16-13020 (11th Cir. 7/30/20)

MISTRIAL: Defendant is not entitled to a mistrial when witness referred to the gun used in the shooting as an AK-47 ("KKK47") in violation of the Order in Limine. An isolated inadvertent remark which does not become the focus of the trial does not warrant a mistrial. Ward v. State, 3D18-2534 (7/29/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Defendant is not entitled to a new probation hearing based on recanted testimony (child of victim later said victim shot herself in the leg) where Court is not satisfied that the recantation is true and the witness' testimony will not change to such an extent as to render probable a different verdict. Recanting testimony is exceedingly unreliable. Ferguson v. State, 3D19-2286 (7/29/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Where Child is found seated with two others next to a stove being used to cook crack cocaine in the small kitchen of a private house, officers have probable cause of joint, constructive possession, justifying the arrest and search of the Child.

A suspect's location in a private residence with others where drugs are openly being processed establishes joint constructive possession sufficient to search. J.J. v. State, 3D18-398 (7/29/20)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/641733/7289145/file/180398_NOND_07292020_111744_i.pdf

PROBABLE CAUSE: Probable cause requires only a probability or substantial chance of criminal activity, not an actual showing of such activity. It is not a high bar. The probable cause standard merely requires that the facts available to the officer would warrant a man of reasonable caution in the belief that evidence of a crime may be found. It does not demand any showing that such a belief be correct or more likely true than false. Probable cause is more than bare suspicion but is less than beyond a reasonable doubt and, indeed, is less than a preponderance of the evidence. Probable cause doesn't require proof that something is more likely true than false. J.J. v. State, 3D18-398 (7/29/20)

VOP: Arrest report and Defendant's testimony that she was arrested is insufficient to establish a violation of probation. Brown v. State, 3D19-542 (7/29/20)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: VFOSC applies only to individuals who were on adult felony probation or community control before a violation of supervision occurred, and it does not apply to juveniles sentenced in adult court to juvenile sanctions. Evans v. State, 4D18-3111 (7/29/20)

JUVENILE SANCTION REVOCATION: Revoking Defendant's juvenile sanctions on the basis of prior adjudications and supervision history violates Due Process. Court violates Due Process when it was equally, if not more, concerned about Appellant's escalating criminal record and use of weapons during the prior offenses rather than the new offense. Evans v. State, 4D18-3111 (7/29/20)

JUVENILE SANCTION REVOCATION: Defendant charged as an adult but sentenced to juvenile sanctions who violated conditional relief with a new crime. Court may not revoke juvenile sanctions for reasons not listed in the DJJ's affidavit of unsuitability, i.e. prior supervision hearing. Evans v. State, 4D18-3111 (7/29/20)

JUVENILE SANCTION REVOCATION: Revocation of juvenile sanctions is a sequential three step process, where the trial court has to decide: (1) did Appellant willfully commit a substantive violation of supervision conditions; (2) if so, should probation supervision be revoked; and (3) if probation supervision is revoked, what is the appropriate sentence. Where Court blurs the process by mixing evidence for the different determinations, the trial court's analysis becomes flawed. Evans v. State, 4D18-3111 (7/29/20)

APPEAL-COMPETENCY: An order determining competency is not independently reviewable. Defendant may not appeal nunc pro tunc determination of competency until final judgment is entered. Pittman v. State, 4D19-995 (7/29/20)

JUVENILE-SECURE DETENTION-FTA: A juvenile who FTA's and has previously willfully FTA'ed may not be placed in detention for

SENTENCING-MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: Minor who receives a lengthy sentence short of life is not entitled to a resentencing hearing. Gilchrist v. State, 5D18-3545 (7/24/20)

SENTENCING: In sentencing Defendant for his role in selling marijuana, Court did not err in considering that Defendant had shot (in self defense) the buyer, who tried to violently rob his group. (“I cannot. . . lose sight of the fact that somebody’s dead. . . as a result of a drug deal that you participated in. Wasn’t your weed, you weren’t going to get the money, but you knew a drug deal was going to happen. . . you took a gun there. . . there’s somebody dead.”) In sentencing, Court may consider conduct that was uncharged but substantiated. Constantin v. State, 5D19-328 (7/24/20)

VOP: Homeless Defendant is properly convicted on violation of probation for trespassing notwithstanding that evidence was unclear as to whether he knew where the property lines were. Romero v. State, 5D19-2570 (7/24/20)

TOO MANY COOKS: Defendant's 12 attorneys' performances were deficient due to their failure to communicate to Defendant his potential total sentence and the application of the sentencing guidelines; to seek a negotiated plea and to relay to him the plea offers, but Defendant (sentenced to forty years after trial) suffered no prejudice because it is not clear that he would have provided substantial assistance. Carmichael v. USA, No. 17-13822 (11th Cir. (7/22/20)

PLEA BARGAINING: "Carmichael's position that he would not proffer unless and until he was promised a guaranteed sentence simply ignores the realisms of how pleas and cooperation work in the real world. . .[A] defendant cannot just volunteer to cooperate. . .He must first (among other things) disclose to the prosecution what information he actually has. That disclosure is typically done in a proffer session. . .The point is as tautological as it is true: before a defendant proffers, the government cannot possibly determine whether it will offer a plea deal, much less what sentence it will recommend to the sentencing court based upon his cooperation. . .To be clear, the proffer session is a gateway into (not the capstone of) the parties' cooperation discussions." Carmichael v. USA, No. 17-13822 (11th Cir. (7/22/20)

SAD LOVE STORY: "The defendant bought a one-way airline ticket to Miami from Oklahoma to 'surprise' her, originally with the intent to win back her affection. But, when the defendant went to a Miami-area Walmart to buy her flowers, the defendant ended up buying a set of knives. . .When he arrived at the wife's apartment, the defendant told his wife that they 'needed some time apart' and then 'he stabbed her.'" Sosataquechel v. State, 3D19-1095 (7/22/20)

INTERPRETER: A non-English speaking defendant has the right to an interpreter, a right grounded on due process and confrontation considerations of the Constitution. But court does not err in not requiring an interpreter when Defendant had appeared before this same trial court judge on many prior occasions, and had engaged the court in English without any difficulty and without asking for an interpreter. Calana-Reinoso v. State, 3D18-2114 (7/22/20)

HFO-PRR: An Indiana DUI conviction (a felony because a second offense) is not a similar offense to a Florida felony DUI (a felony because a third offense). The statutes must be substantially similar, and the out-of-state statute cannot be broader than Florida's statute. The non-similar out-of-state conviction cannot support an HFO or PRR enhancement. Long v. State, 4D17-3261 (7/22/20)

IMPEACHMENT-NEGATIVE IMPEACHMENT: Omission of significant facts by child to the first person to whom she reported molestation is admissible as negative impeachment. The theory of admissibility is not that the prior statement is true and the in-court testimony is false, but that because the witness has not told the truth in one of the statements, the jury should disbelieve both statements. Hawn v. State, 4D19-647 (7/22/20)

IMPEACHMENT-PRIOR INCONSISTENT STATEMENT: A foundation must be laid before impeaching with an inconsistent statement by calling to the witness's attention the time, place, and person to whom the statement was allegedly made. If the witness denies making or does not distinctly admit making the prior inconsistent statement, extrinsic evidence of such statement is admissible. If the witness cannot recall making the prior inconsistent statement, the fact that the statement was made may be proved by another witness. Hawn v. State, 4D19-647 (7/22/20)

IMPEACHMENT-NEGATIVE IMPEACHMENT: An omission in a previous out-of-court statement about which the witness testifies at trial can be considered an inconsistent statement for impeachment purposes, if the omission is a material, significant fact rather than mere details and would naturally have been mentioned. Such an omission is referred to as “negative impeachment.” Hawn v. State, 4D19-647 (7/22/20)

HEARSAY-STATEMENT AGAINST INTEREST: Defendant’s testimony that his brother had confessed to the murder to him is hearsay, not admissible as a statement against interest because the brother was not unavailable as a witness. Chambers v. Mississippi argument is not preserved because not raised at trial. Gentry v. State, 4D19-787 (7/22/20)

WAIVER OF APPEARANCE: Court must accept Defendant’s written waiver of appearance at a sounding scheduled by the court, absent good cause. Scott v. State, 3D20-417 (7/22/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SELF-DEFENSE: Counsel is not ineffective for failing to discuss a self-defense claim before entering a plea of guilty where the facts, according to the Defendant's version, do not support self-defense. Sosataquechel v. State, 3D19-1095 (7/22/20)

SENTENCING-DEPARTURE-VARIANCE: 480-month sentence where guidelines recommend 18 months is a valid variance for possession of child pornography committed by a serial child molester. USA v. Hall, No. 18-14145 (7/21/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201814145.pdf>

SENTENCING-DEPARTURE-VARIANCE: “Departures don’t have dibs over variances.” USA v. Hall, No. 18-14145 (7/21/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201814145.pdf>

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201814145.pdf>

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201814145.pdf>

SENTENCING-HEARSAY: Court may rely on hearsay in PSR in imposing a significant upward variance where Defendant has an opportunity to refute it and it bears a minimal indicia of reliability. USA v. Hall, No. 18-14145 (7/21/20)

APPEAL-JURISDICTION: A trial court is without jurisdiction to consider the merits of a successive motion while a related appeal is pending but may determine that the motion is procedurally barred and may dismiss the motion as successive or untimely. Sapeg v. State, 20-1104 (7/21/20)

SENTENCING-MANDATORY MINIMUM: Consecutive mandatory minimum imprisonment terms for multiple firearm offenses is impermissible if the offenses arose from the same criminal episode and a firearm was merely possessed but not discharged. Powell v. State, 1D19-1819 (7/20/20)

OLD BALD MAN: "On February 1, he sent her three links to sexually explicit videos. The first video depicted 'an older bald gentleman' and a female engaging in various sexual acts including sexual intercourse. The second video depicted a female engaging in various sex acts with 'an older, bald, white male.' While it is debatable that Deason's 39 years made him 'old' or 'older, there is no debate that he was a 'bald white male.' The third video Deason sent a link to was an instructional video about masturbation for women. It, at least, did not feature an old bald man." USA v. Deason, No. 17-12218 (11th Cir. 7/17/20)

SEX CASE-PLEASE RESTATE THAT: ". . .they flesh out an issue in a way the parties' briefs may not." USA v. Deason, No. 17-12218 (11th Cir. 7/17/20)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-MIRANDA-CUSTODIAL INTERROGATION: Defendant's confession to soliciting a minor on his front porch is not a custodial interrogation and thus does not require Miranda warnings. "The only question is whether he was 'in custody' at some point during the interview, which would have required a Miranda warning. [citation omitted] The only correct answer is 'no.'" A defendant is in custody for the purposes of Miranda when there has been a formal arrest or restraint on freedom of movement of the degree associated with a formal arrest. The test is objective: the actual, subjective beliefs of the defendant and the interviewing officer on whether the defendant was free to leave are irrelevant. USA v. Deason, No. 17-12218 (11th Cir. 7/17/20)

CHILD PORN-SUFFICIENCY: Government need not submit the entire child porn videos. Parts of the videos, screenshots and testimony about the contents of the video are sufficient to prove that the videos were obscene. USA v. Deason, No. 17-12218 (11th Cir. 7/17/20)

EVIDENCE-SPECIFICITY: Defendant is properly convicted of attempting to transfer obscene matter to a minor notwithstanding that indictment and verdict did not specify which of the 67 images and which of the three videos that he sent were alleged to be obscene where issue was not preserved and at least two videos are clearly pornographic. "[I]f there were any problems with the specificity of the superseding indictment, Deason waived or invited the error, or he at least consented to it." USA v. Deason, No. 17-12218 (11th Cir. 7/17/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712218.pdf>

EVIDENCE-SCREENSHOTS: Screenshots and testimony about child porn videos is admissible and sufficient. "Even if [Defendant] is correct that admitting the screenshots and allowing [Detective] to testify about the content of the videos was error under the best evidence rule, or was error under Rule 1006, or was improper lay opinion testimony, he still cannot establish the third element of plain error review: that the error affected his substantial rights." USA v. Deason, No. 17-12218 (11th Cir. 7/17/20)

BURGLARY: An indictment or information charging burglary is not required to specify the offense which the accused is alleged to have intended to commit. Grant v. State, 2D18-2874 (7/17/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-BURGLARY: In burglary case, where crime to be committed is not specified, jury instruction must explain that at the time of entering the structure, Defendant had the intent to commit an offense other than burglary or trespass in that structure. Court "specifically refused to instruct the jury using the standard instruction because the court did not understand the instruction and was not interested in giving it 'just for grins.' This was error." Grant v. State, 2D18-2874 (7/17/20)

MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE-8TH AMENDMENT: Consecutive life sentences with possibility of release after 25 and 20 years respectively (45 years) for a minor is cruel and unusual punishment. The mandated opportunity for release would be wholly illusory. When continued incarceration advances no penological purpose, the punishment runs afoul of the Eighth Amendment's prohibition of cruel and unusual punishment. Sentences must be concurrent. Mack v. State, 2D18-3113 (7/17/20)

SENTENCING-CHILD PORNOGRAPHY: 636.45 months in prison on each count (bottom to the guidelines for multiple counts of possession of pornography) is lawful, notwithstanding that the term exceeds the statutory maximum. Emke v. State, 2D18-3943 (7/17/20)

JOA-ROBBERY BY SUDDEN SNATCHING: Defendant who attacked Victim in her apartment, beat her up, threatened to kill her, and stole approximately $800 from her cannot be found guilty of robbery by sudden snatching where victim testified that he took her money but never clarified where the money was located when he stole it. For the crime of robbery by sudden snatching the property must be on the person of the victim. Rettley v. State, 5D18-4002 (7/17/20)

VOP: Defendant cannot be found to have violated probation when affidavit only charged Condition 30 (that she return for her next appearance in drug court) but the evidence related to Condition 29 (that she successfully complete drug court). Defendant admitted to testing positive, but not to being discharged from drug court, nor did she admit to failing to appear at drug court. Brockhaus v. State, 5D19-2918 (7/17/20)

JIMMY RYCE: Court must release Defendant when the only witness at the Jimmy Ryce review hearing testified that his mental condition had so changed that it was safe to release him and that he was not likely to engage in acts of sexual violence. A trial court cannot arbitrarily reject unrebutted expert testimony. Court can only reject undisputed testimony from an expert when it either concerns technical evidence and is so palpably incredible, illogical, and unreasonable as to be unworthy of belief or otherwise open to doubt or when it concerns non-expert matters and is disputed by lay testimony. JUROR-CHALLENGE-PEREMPTORY-RACE NEUTRAL REASON:

The party opposing a peremptory strike must make a specific objection to the proponent's proffered race-neutral reason for the strike, if contested, to preserve the claim that the trial court erred in concluding that the proffered reason was genuine. Johnson v. State, 4D15-4452 (7/16/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-"FORCIBLY": In case where Defendant's vehicle hit officers while he was driving away from an attempt to arrest him, Court did not err in declining to give Defendant's proposed definition of "forcibly" because its subject matter was substantially covered by other instructions and the language has a generally understood meaning. USA v. Gumbs, No. 18-13182 (11th Cir. 7/15/20)

GRAMMAR: "The district court did not need to tell the jury that 'forcibly' modified 'assaulted, resisted, opposed, impeded or interfered.' As a matter of grade-school grammar, the adverb 'forcibly' necessarily modifies each of the listed verbs that follows it. . .Assuming that jurors understand the rules of grammar is not an abuse of discretion." USA v. Gumbs, No. 18-13182 (11th Cir. 7/15/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-USE OF A DEADLY WEAPON: In case where Defendant's vehicle hit officers while he was driving away from an attempt to arrest him, Court did not err in declining to give Defendant's proposed definition of "use of a deadly weapon" ("[f]or a car to qualify as a deadly or dangerous weapon, the defendant must use it as a deadly or dangerous weapon and not simply as a mode of transportation.”) because its subject matter was substantially covered by other instructions and the language has a generally understood meaning. USA v. Gumbs, No. 18-13182 (11th Cir. 7/15/20)

LESSER INCLUDED: Where Defendant strikes officers with a car, need not give a lesser included instruction of simple assault. "[I]f the jury were to find the elements of simple assault, then it would also have to find the elements of forcible assault with a deadly weapon. There is no way a rational jury could find [Defendant] guilty of simple assault but not forcible assault with a deadly weapon, because the only action that could form the basis of an assault was [Defendant]’s gunning his car. The jury could not give [Defendant] half a loaf under these facts; either he was guilty of the charged offense or not guilty at all." USA v. Gumbs, No. 18-13182 (11th Cir. 7/15/20)

MINOR-RESENTENCING: Where Court enters an oral, but not a written, order requiring a resentencing hearing for a minor sentenced to life with possibility of parole after 25 years, but fails to set resentencing hearing, and law pertaining to life sentences for juveniles had been changed, Court may rescind the order. A trial court's verbal grant of a motion for resentencing, if not reduced to writing, is not the functional equivalent of a final order. An order is rendered when a signed, written order is filed with the clerk of the lower tribunal. Cotton v. State, 1D19-153 (7/15/20)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Child/passenger is properly adjudicated delinquent of resisting without violence when he bailed out of and ran from a stolen vehicle after a car chase. Officer was engaged in the lawful execution of a legal duty when he commanded Child to stop. B.B. v. State, 3D20-93 (7/15/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Section 776.032(4) applies to hearings on a defendant's motion for stand your ground immunity, which are held subsequent to the effective date of the statute, notwithstanding the date of the alleged crime. Lopez v. State, 3D17-2362 (7/15/20)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/640307/7276162/file/172362_NOND_07152020_103741_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to resentencing for a thirty-five year sentence for second-degree murder, even if not a de facto life sentence, which was imposed without consideration of his diminished culpability as a juvenile (17 yoa). 35 year sentence is not a de facto life sentence. Ferguson v. State, 3D18-758 (7/15/20)

DEMONSTRATIVE AID: During closing argument, prosecutor may not put on sunglasses and a sweatshirt which are dissimilar from those of the convenience store shooter to bolster the reliability of the victim's identification. It is essential, in every case where demonstrative evidence is offered, that the object or thing offered for the jury to see be first shown to be the object in issue and that it is in substantially the same condition as at the pertinent time, or that it is such a reasonably exact reproduction or replica of the object involved that when viewed by the jury it causes them to see substantially the same object as the original. Williams v. State, 4D19-1504 (7/15/20)

OPINION-EXPERT-PHOTOGRAMMETRY: Detective may not testify to his estimate of the Defendant's height based on photo of Defendant leaving the convenience store after shooting the clerk. The process of discerning the size of the objects in the photograph and/or surveillance video is a science called "photogrammetry," which requires expertise and precise methodology to be reliable. (See "Fear Itself," Buffy the Vampire Slayer, Season 4, Episode 4 or--spoiler alert--see link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Gtl1X-CDBzI>). Williams v. State, 4D19-1504 (7/15/20)

were not based on being an eyewitness, having prior knowledge of the defendant, or using some knowledge or skill developed from on the job training. Without being an eyewitness, having prior knowledge of the defendant, or having some practical on the job experience that a juror may not be familiar with, the detective was in no better position to estimate or compare heights from the photographs than the jury. Putting the arrows on the still photos did not cloak the opinions with admissibility." Williams v. State, 4D19-1504 (7/15/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Although trial counsel's performance, by allowing evidence of Defendant's request for counsel to be admitted at trial, may have been unreasonable there was no prejudice where evidence was strong (Defendant had purchased a sledgehammer in advance, had attempted to attack the victim a week before, and sent texts explaining why he had hit his girlfriend over the head repeatedly). State v. Bishop, 4D19-4443 (7/15/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Motion to correct an illegal sentence which has been served is moot. Mitchell v. State, 4D20-860 (7/15/20)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant subject to federal death penalty is not entitled to a stay of execution on claim that pentobarbital causes prisoners to experience "flash pulmonary edema," a form of respiratory distress that temporarily produces the sensation of drowning or asphyxiation. Barr v. Lee, No. 20A8 (US S.Ct. 7/14/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/20a8_970e.pdf

DEPORTATION-STOP-TIME RULE-RETROACTIVITY: Resisting an officer with violence qualifies as a crime involving moral turpitude (“CIMT”), rendering him deportable under the Illegal Immigration Reform and Immigrant Responsibility Act (“IIRIRA”), which created the “stop-time rule,” which rendered him ineligible for discretionary cancellation of removal. The stop-time rule enacted after the Defendant's conviction does not apply retroactively to crimes committed before April 1, 1997. Rendon v. United States Attorney General, 19-10197 (11th Cir. 7/14/20)

HABEAS CORPUS-TIME LIMIT: Antiterrorism and Effective Death Penalty Act of 1996 permits a state prisoner to petition for a writ of habeas corpus once he exhausts all state court remedies. One-year limitations period which begins to run from the date on which the judgment became final by the conclusion of direct review, not including the time during which a properly filed application for State post-conviction or other collateral review with respect to the pertinent judgment or claim is pending. The one-year limitations period tolled the day a petitioner filed a procedurally noncompliant Rule 3.850 motion if he was permitted to and did later file a compliant motion. A compliant Rule 3.850 motion relates back to the date of filing of a noncompliant motion. Dismissal of petition reversed. Bates v. Secretary, Department of Corrections, No. 8:17-cv-01695-VMC-AEP (11th Cir. 7/14/20)

FIREARM-GUIDELINES-ENHANCEMENT: Guidelines enhancement for a firearm applies if the government proves by a preponderance of the evidence that the defendant knew, intended, or had reason to believe (rather than hoped, wished, or dreamed) the gun was going to be used to buy drugs, and the sale would have (rather than may or might have) happened but for the defendant's arrest or something else getting in the way. Enhancement applies to Defendant who admitted to officer that he was going to sell the gun for drugs and thereafter sell the drugs. USA v. Martinez, 18-12950 (7/14/20)

FIREARM-GUIDELINES-ENHANCEMENT: Sale of a firearm in exchange for drugs facilitates a drug offense. USA v. Martinez, 18-12950 (7/14/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201812950.pdf>

FIREARM-GUIDELINES-ENHANCEMENT: A disassembled shotgun is just as much of a firearm as an assembled one under the sentencing guidelines. USA v. Martinez, 18-12950 (7/14/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201812950.pdf>

QUALIFIED IMMUNITY: Officer who shot Petitioner and falsely claimed he had pointed a a gun at is not entitled to qualified immunity. Officers that act within their discretionary authority are entitled to qualified immunity under § 1983 unless (1) they violated a federal statutory or constitutional right, and (2) the unlawfulness of their conduct was clearly established at the time. Williams v. Aguirre, 19-11941 (7/13/20)

QUALIFIED IMMUNITY-ANY-CRIME RULE: "The "any-crime rule" insulates officers from false arrest claims so long as probable cause existed to arrest the suspect for some crime, even if it was not the crime the officer thought or said had occurred. The Any-Crime Rule does not apply to malicious prosecution. Williams v. Aguirre, 19-11941 (7/13/20)

PRECEDENTS-CONFLICT: "This Circuit has a well-established approach to resolving conflicts in our precedent." Appellate court is obligated, if at all possible, to distill from apparently conflicting prior panel decisions a basis of reconciliation and to apply that reconciled rule. Only the holdings of prior decisions are binding. If Court cannot reconcile caselaw, it must follow the earliest precedent that reached a binding decision on the issue, and not later decisions that conflict with them. Williams v. Aguirre, 19-11941 (7/13/20)

STATE AGENT IMMUNITY: State-agent immunity shields government officials acting within their discretionary authority from liability unless federal or state laws enacted or promulgated for the purpose of regulating the activities of a governmental agency require otherwise or the officer acted willfully, maliciously, fraudulently, in bad faith, beyond his or her authority, or under a mistaken interpretation of the law. Officers are not entitled to summary judgment based on state-agent immunity where a genuine dispute of fact exists about whether the officers acted maliciously. Williams v. Aguirre, 19-11941 (7/13/20)

ATTORNEY-CONFLICT: Counsel for Defendant did not have a disqualifying conflict of interest in representing murder Defendant while serving as deputy attorney general representing the Alabama Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation in an unrelated civil case. In the absence of the joint representation of co-defendants, counsel is disqualified only where an actual conflict of interest adversely affected defense counsel's performance. Dallas v. Warden, No. 17-14570 (11th Cir. 7/13/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201714570.pdf>

RESTITUTION: Restitution in stock manipulation fraud may be based on specific circumstantial evidence from which the district court may reasonably conclude that all of the investors relied on the defendant's fraudulent information. USA v. Stein, No. 18-13762 (11th Cir. 7/13/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201813762.pdf>

CONSPIRACY: Once the government establishes that the defendant is a knowing member of a conspiracy, Defendant may be liable for substantive offenses committed by fellow conspirators even if he lacked knowledge thereof. USA v. Chalker, No. 18-15102 (11th Cir. 7/3/20)

INDICTMENT: Indictment which tracks the language of the statute is legally sufficient. It is generally sufficient that an indictment set forth the offense in the words of the statute itself, as long as those words of themselves fully, directly, and expressly, without any uncertainty or ambiguity, set forth all the elements necessary to constitute the offense intended to be punished. USA v. Chalker, No. 18-15102 (11th Cir. 7/3/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201815102.pdf>

EVIDENCE-EXPERT: Government witness/forensic accountant who testified to a summary of the Defendant's bank and wage records never opined as an expert, and was therefore allowed to testify as a lay witness. USA v. Chalker, No. 18-15102 (11th Cir. 7/3/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201815102.pdf>

SENTENCING: General sentence (20 years as habitual felony for a second-degree felony and a third-degree felony is unlawful. Bradford v. State, 1D19-230 (7/13/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/640173/7274607/file/190230_DC03_07132020_140444_i.pdf

SEVERANCE-CONFRONTATION: Defendant is not entitled to severance based on co-Defendant's statement during the rape of one of the victims ("No, man, don't do it to her, man, don't do it to her.").
Confrontation Clause only applies to testimonial statements

(statements made with the expectation of being used in an investigation or prosecution), which this is not. Goss v. State, 1D19-2210 (7/13/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/640176/7274643/file/192210_DC05_07132020_142342_i.pdf

REMAND-MANDATE-MINOR-RESENTENCING: Court is not required to obey mandate to resentence minor who was sentenced to life with the possibility of parole after 25 years, without being afforded an individualized sentencing hearing where the mandate was superseded by an intervening decision by a higher court contrary to the decision reached on the former appeal. Rembert v. State, 1D19-2499 (7/13/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/640177/7274655/file/192499_DC05_07132020_142534_i.pdf

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: Evidence that Defendant had crawled into bed and molested one daughter is admissible in a similar molestation of her younger sister where he was the adoptive father of both girls and they considered him their dad; he molested both girls at night, while other family members were sleeping in close proximity; he touched the girls' vaginas with his fingers; and the molestation of each girl was repeated over the course of a few days and then never again. In child molestation case, a relaxed standard of admissibility applies when the charged and collateral offenses occurred in a familial context, but there must be some similarity other than the fact that both offenses occurred in the family. Newman v. State, 1D19-2855 (7/13/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/640180/7274691/file/193237_DC05_07132020_143138_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where Defendant was resentenced a decade after his motion to correct illegal sentence under R.3.800 is granted, Defendant may not thereafter file a R.3.850 motion. That he was resentenced after obtaining collateral relief did not restart the clock for him to raise a postconviction challenge to his underlying convictions. Hampton v. State, 1D19-4022 (7/13/20)

NELSON HEARING: Strategic decisions do not constitute ineffective assistance of counsel if alternative courses have been considered and rejected and counsel's decision was reasonable under the norms of professional conduct. Johnson v. State, 1D18-4914 (7/13/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/640172/7274595/file/184914_DC05_07132020_140201_i.pdf

SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: The simple fact that a sentencing court is presented with impermissible information is alone insufficient to merit reversal of a sentence. The convergence of improper arguments during sentencing and imposition of the maximum possible sentence does not establish that the Court considered improper factors in imposing sentence. Johnson v. State, 1D18-4914 (7/13/20)

MONEY LAUNDERING: Buying a Lamborghini with profits from a pill mill can be money laundering, notwithstanding that there was no intent to conceal the money. Money laundering statute prohibits a wider range of activity than is traditionally understood. All that is required is to prove two elements: (1) Defendant knowingly engaged in a financial transaction greater than $10,000 and (2) at least $10,000 of that money came from a specified unlawful activity. USA v. Ruan, No. 17-12653 (11th Cir. 7/10/20)

HEARSAY: State run database of prescriptions is admissible as a business record of the reporting pharmacies. Business record includes a "data compilation," even though the term "data compilation" was removed during a recent stylistic update to the Rules of Evidence. Compilation is not testimonial, and therefore does not violate the Confrontation Clause (Crawford). USA v. Ruan, No. 17-12653 (11th Cir. 7/10/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712653.pdf>

ARGUMENT: Government improperly argued that they called 14 patients and the defense only a few, when it knew that the defense had been prohibited from calling more, but error is harmless. USA v. Ruan, No. 17-12653 (11th Cir. 7/10/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712653.pdf>

JURY INSTRUCTION: Good Faith instruction for improper medical prescription is improper where it fails to include the objective standard by which to judge the physician's conduct, but rather says that the doctor's subjective belief that the treatment was appropriate is sufficient. USA v. Ruan, No. 17-12653 (11th Cir. 7/10/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712653.pdf>

GUIDELINES CALCULATIONS-DRUG QUANTITY: When the drug amount that is seized does not reflect the scale of the offense, the district court must approximate the drug quantity. In estimating the drug quantity attributable to the defendant, the court may rely on evidence demonstrating the average frequency and amount of a defendant's drug sales over a given period. Court did not clearly err in concluding that at least 10.6% of the prescriptions were illegal. USA v. Ruan, No. 17-12653 (11th Cir. 7/10/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712653.pdf>

RESTITUTION: As the determination of the restitution amount is an inexact science, the government need not calculate the victim's actual loss with laser-like precision, but may instead provide a reasonable estimate of that amount. USA v. Ruan, No. 17-12653 (11th Cir. 7/10/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712653.pdf>

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for eliciting the specific nature of Defendant's prior felony and for misadvising him that the State would not be able to impeach him with his prior conviction for armed sexual battery of the State's witness because the conviction was the subject of a pending appeal. Floyd v. State, 2D19-1234 (7/10/20)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/639548/7270167/file/191234_DC13_07102020_085241_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failure to call available experts to rebut State's argument that the child victim's fatal cerebral edema was not caused by soft impact trauma, particularly since there were no external signs of trauma or injuries to victim's neck, spine, or ribs. Counsel performed deficiently in failing to present potentially exculpatory testimony at trial. Spurgeon v. State, 2D19-1278 (7/10/20)

COMPETENCY: Court must hold a competency hearing and make an independent determination of the defendant's competency after appointing an expert to determine a defendant's competency to proceed. Court may not proceed on stipulation of competency by counsel. Cookston v. State, 5D19-2523 (7/10/20)

INDIANS-STATE JURISDICTION: "On the far end of the Trail of Tears was a promise." State courts generally have no jurisdiction to try Indians for crimes committed in Indian Country. The reservation system in Oklahoma has not been disestablished by occupation by non-Indians or the establishment of the city of Tulsa on the land. McGirt v. Oklahoma, No. 18-9526 (US S.Ct. 7/9/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-9526_9okb.pdf

INDIANS-RESERVATION: "Congress sometimes might wish an inconvenient reservation would simply disappear. . . But wishes don't make for laws, and saving the political branches the embarrassment of disestablishing a reservation is not one of our constitutionally assigned prerogatives. . . So it's no matter how many other promises to a tribe the federal government has already broken. If Congress wishes to break the promise of a reservation, it must say so." McGirt v. Oklahoma, No. 18-9526 (US S.Ct. 7/9/20)

TEXTUALISM: "There is no need to consult extratextual sources when the meaning of a statute's terms is clear. Nor may extratextual sources overcome those terms. The only role such materials can properly play is to help 'clear up . . . not create' ambiguity about a statute's original meaning. . . And, as we have said time and again, once a reservation is established, it retains that status 'until Congress explicitly indicates otherwise.'" McGirt v. Oklahoma, No. 18–9526 (US S.Ct. 7/9/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-9526_9okb.pdf

QUOTATION: "[T]he persistent if unspoken message here seems to be that we should be taken by the 'practical advantages' of ignoring the written law. . . .A State exercises jurisdiction over Native Americans with such persistence that the practice seems normal. . . All this continues for long enough that a reservation that was once beyond doubt becomes questionable, and then even farfetched. Sprinkle in a few predictions here, some contestable commentary there, and the job is done, a reservation is disestablished. None of these moves would be permitted in any other area of statutory interpretation, and there is no reason why they should be permitted here. That would be the rule of the strong, not the rule of law." McGirt v. Oklahoma, No. 18–9526 (US S.Ct. 7/9/20)

YIKES!: "Oklahoma replies that . . the affected population here is large and many of its residents will be surprised to find out they have been living in Indian country this whole time. But we imagine some members of the 1832 Creek Tribe would be just as surprised to find them there." McGirt v. Oklahoma, No. 18–9526 (US S.Ct. 7/9/20)

QUOTATION: "[M]any of the arguments before us today follow a sadly familiar pattern. Yes, promises were made, but the price of keeping them has become too great, so now we should just cast a blind eye. We reject that thinking. . .Unlawful acts, performed long enough and with sufficient vigor, are never enough to amend the law. To hold otherwise would be to elevate the most brazen and longstanding injustices over the law, both rewarding wrong and failing those in the right." McGirt v. Oklahoma, No. 18–9526 (US S.Ct. 7/9/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-9526_9okb.pdf

SUBPOENA-PRESIDENT: The Supremacy Clause does not give a sitting President absolute immunity from state criminal subpoenas. "Two hundred years ago, a great jurist of our Court established that no citizen, not even the President, is categorically above the common duty to produce evidence when called upon in a criminal proceeding. We reaffirm that principle today and hold that the President is neither absolutely immune from state criminal subpoenas seeking his private papers nor entitled to a heightened standard of need. Neither concerns about distraction, stigmatization, nor harassment justify ignoring state prosecutorial subpoenas." Trump v. Vance, No. 19–635 (US S. Ct. 7/9/20)

HUH?-POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to relief on grounds that counsel's assertion of voluntary intoxication abandoned his claim of actual innocence where trial counsel "never admitted Merck's guilt in advancing the intoxication theory." Merck v. State, SC19-1864 (7/9/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to a new immunity hearing because his immunity hearing occurred before the amended statute's effective date. Horton v. State, 2D17-2852 (7/8/20)

EVIDENCE-OTHER BAD ACTS: In lewd and lascivious case involving a school janitor, evidence that the Defendant had been warned about not touching children is inadmissible. Evidence is not relevant and material to Defendant's intent, state of mind, nor to rebut his theory of defense that the touching of the victim was innocent or accidental. The State's sole purpose was to improperly influence the jury by painting Defendant as a repeat offender. Baez v. State, 2D19-379 (7/8/20)

LOWEST PERMISSIBLE SENTENCE: Question certified whether the Lowest Permissible Sentence (LPS) is an individual minimum sentence, required to be imposed on each offense at sentencing for which it exceeds that offense's statutory maximum, or a collective minimum sentence. STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is entitled to a new SYG hearing where the original hearing was held after the change in the burden of proof but applied the old standard. Sexton v. State, 3D18-1500 (7/8/20)

INTERPRETER: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial because he did not have an interpreter, where he indicated throughout that he did not need one. Court is not required to inquire of every defendant whether they need an interpreter. Santisteban v. State, 3D19-845 (7/8/20)

EVIDENCE: Letters Defendant wrote to judge asking for mercy are inadmissible under §90.420, but error is not fundamental. Ryerson v. State, 3D19-1673 (7/8/20)

RESENTENCING-SCORESHEET: Where a defendant was originally sentenced for multiple crimes, a de novo resentencing on one of the crimes necessarily involves sentencing under the same conditions that existed at the original sentencing. Thus, for a de novo resentencing, the offenses that were pending before the court at the original sentencing proceeding. Reaves v. State, 4D19-1796 (7/8/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-STANDING--ABANDONMENT: Government may not argue for the first time in appeal that Defendant abandoned his hotel room and any privacy therein when he fled on foot. The government waived its abandonment argument by failing to raise it before the district court. A suspect's alleged abandonment of his privacy or possessory interest in the object of a search or seizure implicates only the merits of his Fourth Amendment challenge—not his Article III standing—and, accordingly, if the government fails to argue abandonment, it waives the issue. USA v. Ross, No. 18-11679 (11th Cir. 7/7/9)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-HOTEL ROOM: Defendant who flees from a hotel room loses any reasonable expectation of privacy in the room at checkout time (11:00 AM). A short-term hotel guest has no reasonable expectation of privacy in his room after checkout time.

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SUCCESSIVE: Where Defendant is convicted of possession of the firearm in furtherance of a crime of violence, bank robbery and conspiracy to commit bank robbery, and conspiracy was subsequently found not to be a crime of violence, Defendant is not entitled to relief because the Court specifically told the jury he could not be found guilty of the possession firearm in furtherance of the crime of violence only if it found him guilty of the corresponding bank robbery charge. POSSESSION OF A FIREARM-REHAIF: Rehaif did not announce a new rule of constitutional law and, even if it did, it has not been made retroactive to cases on collateral review. In Re: Michael Price, No. 20-12133-C (11th Cir 7/7/20)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER: Becoming angry and shooting the victim in the back after losing money and a gun to him during a dice game establishes ill will, hatred, spite or an evil intent, and it is of such nature that it indicates an indifference to human life, warranting a conviction for second degree murder. Finch v. State, 1D18-3993 (7/6/20)

EVIDENCE: Court did not err in excluding Victim's certified judgment for murder to support Defendant's claim of self-defense to corroborate his fear of victim. Defendant was permitted to testify about his knowledge that the Victim had been convicted of murder. Brown v. State, 1D18-5205 (7/6/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-DEADLY WEAPON: A flare gun is not a deadly weapon per se because it is designed as an instrument of safety. Court erred by substituting "firearm" for "deadly weapon" and omitting the definition of "deadly weapon" altogether. Error is fundamental. Humphreys v. State, 5D18-2523 (7/2/20)

APPEAL-TRANSCRIPT: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial based on two missing transcripts of bench conferences where he can point to no specific error related to either ruling after the bench conferences or otherwise demonstrate prejudice. Walker v. State, 5D19-1732 (7/2/20)

SEVERANCE: Criminal defendant who chooses severance of charges cannot successfully argue that prosecution on second charge offends Double Jeopardy. Burnette v. State, 5D19-1874 (7/2/20)

PLEA AGREEMENT-SPECIFIC ENFORCEMENT: The co-Defendant's plea agreement and re-sentencing is not newly discovered evidence warranting a reduction in Defendant's sentence for murder. The fact that co-Defendant's agreement made him the designated loser (his sentence would exceed that of Defendant) did not entitle Defendant to relief when Co-Defendant's sentence was later reduced pursuant to Graham. "There was no contract that provided for Midkiff to serve less time than Swett. Swett's designated loser status did not alter Midkiff's sentence. Thus, the postconviction court specifically enforced a non-existent contract when it granted Midkiff's motion. . . [C]learly, the court had no authority to do that. State v. Midkiff, 5D19-2135 (7/2/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A defendant who has not yet filed a §2255 motion to vacate a conviction or sentence is not entitled to discovery. Filing of a motion pursuant to §2255 is akin to initiating an independent civil suit. USA v. Rodriguez Cuya, No. 18-14380 (11th Cir. 7/1/20)

JOA-BATTERY ON LEO/RESISTING WITH VIOLENCE: Officers were not acting in the lawful execution of their legal duty when they attempted to handcuff an aggravated Defendant who was pointed out as having caused a disturbance. JOA or lesser of simple battery required. Brown v. State, 2D18-2743 (7/1/20)

PRESERVATION-RECROSS: Issue of whether court improperly denied re-cross of witness is not preserved unless a proffer is made at the time of denial of re-cross. The failure to proffer the proposed question or testimony to be elicited at the time of the trial court's denial means that the defense failed to properly preserve the issue for this Court's review. Palos v. State, 3D19-1150 (7/1/20)

AMENDED INFORMATION: State may substantively amend an information during trial, even over the objection of the defendant, unless there is a showing of prejudice to the substantial rights of the defendant. State was permitted to amend the information on the day of trial to add an alternative means by which the victim was violated. Gerome v. State, 3D20-770 (7/1/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The State's court's application of clearly established federal law must be objectively unreasonable, not merely wrong. Jenkins v. Commissioner, Alabama DOC, No. 17-12524 (11th Cir. 6/29/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712524.opn2.pdf>

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE-DEATH PENALTY: Defendant failed to establish that the penalty phase counsel who failed to investigate mentally challenged defendant's abused childhood was ineffective because he did not present the testimony or affidavit of the attorney. "Because we simply do not know why Downey chose not to investigate Jenkins's childhood more thoroughly, Downey is entitled to the presumption that this strategic decision was reasonable." Jenkins v. Commissioner, Alabama DOC, No. 17-12524 (11th Cir. 6/29/20) <http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712524.opn2.pdf>

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE-DEATH PENALTY (DISSENT): "The majority suggests (if not holds) that the absence of testimony from an allegedly deficient attorney per se means that the attorney's actions were reasonable." Jenkins v. Commissioner, Alabama DOC, No. 17-12524 (11th Cir. 6/29/20) <http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712524.opn2.pdf>

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE-DEATH PENALTY (DISSENT): "In short, Jenkins presented an abundance of compelling mitigating evidence. But the jury never heard any of that evidence. Downey failed to introduce it at the penalty phase. In fact, Downey failed to investigate any mitigating evidence whatsoever. Downey's failures cannot be attributed to strategic decisions. Nor can they be called reasonable. His performance can only be described as deficient. And that deficient performance was surely prejudicial—there is more than a reasonable probability that the horrifying and detailed Rule 32 testimony would have persuaded one juror to vote against sentencing Jenkins to death." Jenkins v. Commissioner, Alabama DOC, No. 17-12524 (11th Cir. 6/29/20) <http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712524.opn2.pdf>

DAUBERT: Court did not abuse its discretion in excluding Defendant/Ophthalmologist's expert testimony about "subthreshold micropulse laser photostimulation" in trial where Defendant was charged with administering low dose laser surgery which would have been ineffectual if his patients needed it, which they did not, all to bill Medicare. USA v. Pon, 17-11455 (6/29/20)

DAUBERT: A reliability determination involves four main inquiries about the expert's theory or technique: "(1) whether it can be (and has been) tested; (2) whether it has been subjected to peer review and publication; (3) what its known or potential rate of error is, and whether standards controlling its operation exist; and (4) whether it is generally accepted in the field." Also, Court must consider whether there is an analytical gap between the data and the opinion proffered. If the analytical distance between the data and the opinion proffered is simply too great, a court may conclude that the opinion is unreliable. USA v. Pon, 17-11455 (6/29/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201711455.pdf>

GRAMMAR: "Ipse dixit" used as a verb. "Instead of properly bridging that gap, Dorin tried to ipse dixit over it; but a bald assertion cannot carry the Daubert burden." USA v. Pon, 17-11455 (6/29/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201711455.pdf>

EVIDENCE-REBUTTAL: Government may present, in rebuttal of patient who testified that Defendant/Ophthalmologist was a good guy and a good doctor, evidence that Defendant had submitted fraudulent

Medicare claims on this patient, too. “Pon presented J.L.’s testimony as an example of how he had treated a patient out of the goodness of his heart and not for a profit motive. In light of that, the district court did not abuse its discretion in admitting billings Pon had generated for services he [falsely] claimed to have rendered on that patient’s blind eye.” USA v. Pon, 17-11455 (6/29/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201711455.pdf>

APPEAL-EVIDENCE-SURREBUTTAL: Defendant may not raise on appeal that Court violated the Sixth Amendment for failing to allow him surrebuttal of testimony that he had fraudulently billed for his patient/character witness when he argued for surrebuttal without mentioning the Sixth Amendment. Error, if any, was harmless. “[W]e have no doubt, much less a reasonable doubt, that if the district court had not partially limited Pon’s surrebuttal evidence about J.L., the jury would still have found Pon guilty as charged.” USA v. Pon, 17-11455 (6/29/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201711455.pdf>

HARMLESS ERROR: “We are not saying, of course, that courts shouldn’t be careful with the harmless error rule. Courts should be careful in the application of all rules. Carelessness is not desirable in any field. But it is not careless to rely on overwhelming evidence of guilt to find an error harmless.” USA v. Pon, 17-11455 (6/29/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201711455.pdf>

SENTENCING: Court erred in imposing concurrent 121-month terms of imprisonment on twenty counts when the statutory maximum penalty for each count is only 120 months. On remand, court may either reduce sentences to 120 months or impose one or more counts consecutively without exceeding 121 months total. USA v. Pon, 17-11455 (6/29/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201711455.pdf>

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES-LOSS: The determination of loss for guidelines calculation is based on the preponderance of the evidence standard, not on the beyond a reasonable doubt standard. USA v. Pon, 17-11455 (6/29/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201711455.pdf>

DNA-DATABASE: DNA obtained and entered into FDLE database pursuant to the Defendant's conviction for a crime, later vacated and expunged, can be used to match DNA found at a new crime scene (rape and murder) with Defendant. "Regardless of whether FDLE was obliged to remove his DNA record upon receipt of the . . . order to expunge, . . . any error by FDLE's CODIS unit did not result in a search or seizure violative of the Fourth Amendment. . . Indeed, neither the procurement of the DNA sample from the crime scene nor the collection of Porter's DNA during his prior incarceration was a search or seizure at all." Porter v. State, 1D18-5024 (6/29/20)

EXCLUSIONARY RULE: "The exclusionary rule is intended to deter police misconduct, not to remedy prior wrongs." Porter v. State, 1D18-5024 (6/29/20)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: A sentencing judge may not consider or rely on acquitted conduct when imposing a sentence. State has the burden to demonstrate that those considerations played no part in the sentence imposed. Davis v. State, 1D18-5253 (6/29/20)

SUCCESSOR JUDGE: Prior factual or legal rulings by a disqualified judge may be reconsidered and vacated or amended by a successor judge based upon a motion for reconsideration, which must be filed within 20 days of the order of disqualification. Davis v. State, 1D18-5253 (6/29/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/638728/7260901/file/185253_DC05_06292020_140050_i.pdf

DEADLY WEAPON-RECLASSIFICATION: Court erred in reclassifying aggravated battery conviction (pistol-whipping the victim) to a first-degree felony. Where the use of a weapon or firearm is an essential element of the offense, it is improper for the trial court to reclassify the second degree felony to a first-degree felony. When a defendant is convicted of aggravated battery based on the use of a deadly weapon, this crime cannot be enhanced based on this same use of a weapon. Dyett v. State, 1D19-256 (6/29/20)

ALLEN CHARGE: Where one juror, during deliberations, sent a note asking to be replaced by the alternate because she could not decide,

Court did not err in giving Allen charge instead. Blanding v. State, 1D19-665 (6/29/20)

LESSER INCLUDED-JURY INSTRUCTION: Defendant is not entitled to an instruction of sexual battery as a lesser of capital sexual battery where it is undisputed that the victim was under 12 yoa. Sexual battery cannot constitute a necessarily lesser included offense of capital sexual battery. Sexual battery requires the victim be between twelve and eighteen years of age whereas capital sexual battery requires the victim be less than twelve years of age. Question certified. Allen v. State, 1D19-1315 (6/29/20)

ATTEMPTED SMUGGLING-SCIENTER: When it comes to statutes that criminalize violations that regulate what can otherwise be innocent conduct, it is not enough that the defendant engaged in actions that the law prohibits. Rather, a defendant must possess a culpable mental state regarding each of the statutory elements that criminalize otherwise innocent conduct. Government may prove knowledge of illegality by circumstantial evidence. Defendant properly convicted of attempted smuggling of devices used for computer encryption on the basis of hidden NanoStations in a hidden compartment under the bed on his boat. USA v. Singer, No. 18-14294 (11th Cir. 6/26/20)

ATTEMPTED SMUGGLING: For a criminal attempt, Defendant must take a substantial step, i.e. engage in objectively culpable and unequivocal acts toward accomplishing the crime beyond simply preparing. Hiding items to be smuggled to Cuba is a substantial step, notwithstanding that Defendant never left the dock until after the contraband NanoStations were seized. USA v. Singer, No. 18-14294 (6/26/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-IGNORANCE OF LAW: Court did not err in declining to give an ignorance-of-law instruction when it instructed jury that Defendant to be proven to know that his actions violated federal law or regulations. USA v. Singer, No. 18-14294 (6/26/20)

SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT-OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE: Court may apply the two-level obstruction enhancement applied based on it finding that Defendant committed perjury during trial. USA v. Singer, No. 18-14294 (6/26/20)

FIRST STEP-SAFETY VALVE: Section 402(b) of the First Step Act, which made maritime drug traffickers eligible for safety valve, does not apply to Defendant whose pleas were accepted before the effective date of the Act (December 21, 2018). The date “conviction entered” is the date the plea is entered, not the date the date the judgment is entered. "Conviction" is not "Judgment of Conviction." USA v. Yoza Tigua, No. 19-10177 (6/26/20)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant properly convicted of possession of narcotics found in a locked safe in the back seat of a jointly occupied car, owned and driven by Defendant, where some of Defendant's papers were found inside. An inference of knowledge and control may arise where the contraband in a jointly occupied area is found in or about other personal property that is shown to be owned or controlled by the defendant. Bradwell v. State, 1D18-5083 (6/26/20)

JOA-ROBBERY BY SUDDEN SNATCHING: Defendant who grabs cell phones off the dashboard in the presence of the victim is not guilty of robbery by sudden snatching. Robbery by sudden snatching statute does not apply to property taken from a victim's person, but not when taken from the victim's reach, proximity, or control. Making physical contact with the victim while lunging for the phones does not convert the act into robbery by sudden snatching. Brown v. State, 1D19-2602 (6/26/20)

THEFT-VALUE: Defendant cannot be found guilty of grand theft for stealing two cell phones which Victim had offered to sell to Defendant for $1600 (before backing out because he thought the money counterfeit) where made no specific finding as to the value of the two phones. Conviction reduced to petit theft. Brown v. State, 1D19-2602 (6/26/20)

INCOMPETENT DEFENDANT-INVOLUNTARY MEDICATION: Court may order involuntary medication of incompetent Defendant where refusal to take medication put his own health gravely at risk. Burke v. State, 1D19-3322 (6/26/20)

WITHDRAWAL OF PLEA-COUNSEL: Court must appoint conflict-free counsel on motion to withdraw plea when Defendant alleges erroneous advice or misconduct on the part of his current lawyer. Thelus v. State, 2D18-4357 (6/26/20)

VOP-CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Court errs in finding Defendant in constructive possession of firearms carried by other men in the vehicle he was driving. Proximity alone does not establish the control element of constructive possession. Cusamano v. State, 2D18-5113 (6/26/20)

HABEAS CORPUS-IMMIGRATION-ASYLUM: Undocumented alien facing expedited removal may not seek habeas corpus relief from adverse ruling on asylum claim. Neither the Suspension Clause ("the Writ of Habeas Corpus shall not be suspended, unless when in Cases of Rebellion or Invasion") nor Due Process Clause protect the alien.

Petitioner has not "shown that the writ of habeas corpus was understood at the time of the adoption of the Constitution to permit a petitioner to claim the right to enter or remain in a country or to obtain administrative review potentially leading to that result."

DEATH PENALTY: Death penalty upheld for Defendant with an IQ of 74 who had been repeatedly abused as a child, including sexual abuse, and who murdered his pedophile cellmate. Court's finding as a mitigating circumstance (given little weight) that Defendant was sexually abused as a child does not render his death sentence disproportionate. Santiago-Gonzalez v. State, No. SC18-806 (6/25/20)

COMPETENCY: Failure to enter a written order finding the Defendant competent is remediable on appeal only if the failure constitutes fundamental error. No fundamental error when court made an oral competency finding. Santiago-Gonzalez v. State, No. SC18-806 (6/25/20)

DEATH PENALTY: Aggravating circumstances are not elements which must be proven beyond a reasonable doubt. Santiago-Gonzalez v. State, No. SC18-806 (6/25/20)

DEATH PENALTY: To impose the death penalty, the jury need not unanimously find that all the aggravating factors that were proven beyond a reasonable doubt, that the aggravating factors are sufficient to impose death, that the aggravating factors outweigh the mitigating factors, nor unanimously recommend a sentence of death. Rather, the jury need only unannimously find the existence of a some statutory aggravating circumstance beyond a reasonable doubt. Death sentence of rapist/murderer of babysitter upheld. Owen v. State, SC18-810 (6/25/20)

DEPORTATION: Possession with Intent to Distribute Ecstasy is an aggravated felony requiring removal, not eligible for cancellation of removal. Gordon v. United States Attorney General, No. 18-14513 (11th Cir. 6/24/20)

MODIFIED CATEGORICAL APPROACH: If the state statute does not fit entirely within the generic federal definition of a corresponding aggravated felony, a court may look to whether the state statute is “divisible.” A statute is divisible if it lists a number of alternative elements that effectively create several different crimes. A divisible statute permits the use of the modified categorical approach to uncover whether a person’s convictions relate to a federally controlled substance. Under the modified categorical approach, a court may look to the charging document, jury instructions, or a comparable judicial record to determine the elements of the defendant’s offense of conviction. Gordon v. United States Attorney General, No. 18-14513 (11th Cir. 6/24/20)

SHOW UP IDENTIFICATION: Show up identification 30 minutes after the robbery was not unduly suggestive where bank teller had close visual contact with the robber, who was only two feet away and separated by only the counter. USA v. Caldwell, No. 18-13426 (11th Cir. 6/24/20)

JOA-BANK ROBBERY: Federal jurisdiction in bank robbery case is established by evidence that the bank was insured by the FDIC at the time of the robbery. Sparse evidence can be enough. FDIC certificate issued 17 years before is sufficient. USA v. Caldwell, No. 18-13426 (11th Cir. 6/24/20)

HUH?: "In any event, applying different standing rules depending on how and when a suspect lost his reasonable expectation of privacy—Fourth Amendment 'standing' if he never had it, Article III standing if he had but then lost it—makes little sense. . . JURY DEADLOCK: After an earlier Allen charge, Court erred by instructing the jury that “If you have a unanimous verdict, please fill out the verdict accordingly. If you do not have a unanimous verdict, please knock on the door . . . and we’ll bring you back out here.” But, because Defendant failed to move for mistrial or object to the subsequent, modified Allen charge, he waived the error in the court’s instruction. DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: 52 year old uncle's long term seduction of his 17 year old niece, evolving into progressively more aggressive and violent acts and sexual abuse does not warrant a downward departure on ground that the victim was a willing participant. DACA: DHS violated the Administrative Procedure Act by ending the DACA program for aliens brought to the USA as minors failing to engage in reasoned decisionmaking. "The agency failed to consider the conspicuous issues of whether to retain forbearance and what if anything to do about the hardship to DACA recipients. DEATH PENALTY-POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Trial counsel's minimal presentation of mitigating evidence in penalty phase, although abundant evidence of Defendant's traumatic upbringing existed, is ineffective assistance of counsel. Defendant's counsel performed almost no mitigation investigation, overlooked vast tranches of mitigating evidence, failed to adequately investigate the State's aggravating evidence, effecting an unconstitutional abnegation of prevailing professional norms. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A claim that habitual offender sentences were improperly imposed consecutively may be raised under R. r3.800 at any time. A claim that a trial court imposed consecutive habitual offender sentences in violation of Hale is a cognizable Rule 3.800(a) claim if the determination of whether the offenses were part of the same criminal episode can be made without resorting to extra-record facts, but the Defendant must allege that the claim may be determined from the face of the record and must identify with particularity the record documents upon which he relies in seeking a determination of the claim. A postconviction court may not rely upon hearsay, such as a police report contained within the court file or the recitation of the factual basis at the time of the plea, to evaluate a rule 3.800(a) Hale claim. JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: The fact that the judge, during a competency hearing, asked whether a waiting witness would be second chair for the upcoming trial, is not evidence that Judge had prejudged the question of Defendant's competency. VOP-STALKING: "Determining whether an individual's behavior is merely boorish or juvenile as opposed to illegal stalking. . .require the drawing of fine lines." Defendant violates probation by removing tree limbs, which gave him a direct view of his neighbors' backyard; placing weeds, rocks, chunks of concrete and tree limbs onto the neighbors' driveway; placing empty paper bags on the fence posts, some of which would blow onto the neighbors' property; painting the fence that faced the neighbors' property with obscenities and a picture of a clown and signs saying "stupid people beyond this point"; bathing himself outside wearing "whitey tighties" whenever the neighbors grade school daughter was around; and similar behavior is stalking justifying revocation of probation. MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE-JURY FINDING: Court errs in resentencing juvenile convicted of first degree murder for the robbery/shooting committed by two people, one of whom shot the victim, to 40 years in prison as a mandatory minimum absent a jury finding that he killed, attempted to kill, or intended to kill the victim. Alleyne requires a jury to make the factual finding that a defendant "actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill the victim" under section 775.082(1). O'Neal v. STATUTORY INTERPRETATION-RULE OF THE LAST

ANTECEDENT: The rule of the last antecedent does not apply when the modifier directly follows a concise and integrated clause. USA v. Allen, No. 19-11505 (11th Cir. 6/16/20)

GAY RIGHTS: An employer cannot fire someone simply for being homosexual or transgender. An employer who intentionally penalizes an employee for being homosexual or transgender violates Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964." Bostick v. Clayton County, No. 17-1618 (US S.Ct. 6/15/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1618_hfci.pdf

QUOTATION: "Sometimes small gestures can have unexpected consequences." "Those who adopted the Civil Rights Act might not have anticipated their work would lead to this particular result. . .But the limits of the drafters' imagination supply no reason to ignore the law's demands." Bostick v. Clayton County, No. 17-1618 (US S.Ct. 6/15/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1618_hfci.pdf

QUOTATION: "When the express terms of a statute give us one answer and extratextual considerations suggest another, it's no contest. Only the written word is the law, and all persons are entitled to its benefit." Bostick v. Clayton County, No. 17–1618 (US S.Ct. 6/15/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1618_hfci.pdf

QUOTATION: "The statute's message for our cases is equally simple and momentous: An individual's homosexuality or transgender status is not relevant to employment decisions." Bostick v. Clayton County, No. 17–1618 (US S.Ct. 6/15/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1618_hfci.pdf

QUOTATION (J. Alito, dissenting): "Nor is there any such thing as a 'canon of donut holes.'" Bostick v. Clayton County, No. 17–1618 (US S.Ct. 6/15/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1618_hfci.pdf

QUOTATION (J. Alito, dissenting): "We can't deny that today's holding—that employers are prohibited from firing employees on the basis of homosexuality or transgender status—is an elephant. But where's the mousehole? . . . This elephant has never hidden in a mousehole; it has been standing before us all along." Bostick v. Clayton County, No. 17–1618 (US S.Ct. 6/15/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1618_hfci.pdf

QUOTATION (J. Alito, dissenting): "With that, the employers are left to abandon their concern for expected applications and fall back to the last line of defense for all failing statutory Interpretation arguments: naked policy appeals. . .Gone here is any pretense of statutory interpretation; all that's left is a suggestion we should proceed without the law's guidance to do as we think best. But that's an invitation no court should ever take up." Bostick v. Clayton County, No. 17-1618 (US S.Ct. 6/15/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1618_hfci.pdf

QUOTATION (J. Alito, dissenting): "[N]o one should be fooled. The Court's opinion is like a pirate ship. It sails under a textualist flag, but what it actually represents is a theory of statutory interpretation that Justice Scalia excoriated—the theory that courts should 'update' old statutes so that they better reflect the current values of society." Bostick v. Clayton County, No. 17-1618 (US S.Ct. 6/15/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/17-1618_hfci.pdf

SEX (Alito, dissenting): "Sex is manifested in the conjugating cells by the larger size, abundant food material, and immobility of the female gamete (egg, egg cell, or ovum), and the small size and the locomotive power of the male gamete (spermatozoon or spermatozoid), and in the adult organisms often by many structural, physiological, and (in higher forms) psychological characters, aside from the necessary modification of the reproductive apparatus." COVID-19-PRISONERS: Court may not enter a Temporary Restraining Order (TRO) requiring certain measures to deal with the COVID-19 epidemic in the jail because it erred in finding that the Sheriff was deliberately indifferent. The increase in the rate of infections and the inability to impose social distancing at Metro West does not support a finding of deliberate indifference. "[D]eliberate indifference is not a constitutionalized version of common-law negligence." Swain v. Junior, (11th Cir. 6/15/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/202011622.op.pdf>

QUOTATION (MARTIN, DISSENT): "I do not understand the Fourteenth Amendment to permit the knowing and willful detention of human beings in circumstances that place them at great risk of death or grave illness." Swain v. Junior, (11th Cir. 6/15/20)

COSTS: Court may not impose a $250 Public Defender fee absent evidence to support the cost. Bielec v. State, 1D18-2763 (6/12/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy precludes the Defendant from being convicted of both traveling to meet a minor and unlawfully using a two ways communication device. The reviewing court must consider only the charging document, and not the entire evidentiary record, in determining whether multiple convictions are based on the same conduct for purposes of double jeopardy. Where the information does not make clear that the state relied on separate conduct, double jeopardy applies. Hooks v. State, 1D19-1338 (6/12/20)

COMPETENCY: Defendant may not raise on appeal the issue of the Court failing to hold a competency hearing after he entered a plea of guilty unless he first files a motion to withdraw his plea. Isom v. State, 5D19-1465 (6/12/20)

CHILD CUSTODY: Children born before the same sex marriage and never adopted are the children of both and subject to the jurisdiction of the divorce court pursuant to §742.091 (providing that if “mother of any child born out of wedlock and the reputed father shall at any time after its birth intermarry, the child shall in all respects be deemed and held to be the child of the husband and wife, as though born within wedlock”).

§742.091 does not require that the individual be the biological father, only that the person held out as the reputed father willingly assumed the responsibilities of parenthood McGovern v. Clark, 5D19-1525 (6/12/20)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON-MANDATORY MINIMUM:

Court must impose the three year minimum mandatory for possession of a firearm by a felon notwithstanding the Drug Offender Probation statute which would otherwise allow probation. State v. Ingram, 5D19-1804 (6/12/20)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/637550/7248669/file/191804_DC13_06122020_085039_i.pdf

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Court may not grant a (c)(4) motion to dismiss in a constructive possession case (drugs found in the backpack in a jointly occupied car). Because knowledge in a possession case is a question of fact, that element is generally not a proper consideration on a motion to dismiss. State v. Paul, 5D19-2382 (6/12/20)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Any error in ruling that the Defendant's homicide was not an isolated incident for which the Defendant showed remorse is harmless where the Court found that a different basis for a downward departure existed (victim aggressor) but declined to depart from the guidelines. DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: Hall v. Florida, 572 U.S. 701 (2014) does not apply retroactively. Cave v. State, SC18-1750 (6/11/20)

APPEAL: Supreme Court lacks jurisdiction to hear an appeal where the DCA enters an unelaborated order or opinion which does not expressly address a question of law. The Supreme Court lacks jurisdiction where the decision of a district court does not expressly address a question of law within the four corners of the opinion itself.

The Office of the Clerk is authorized to administratively dismiss petitions such cases. Wheeler v. State, SC19-1916 (6/11/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PROTECTIVE SWEEP: Officers who had executed valid arrest warrants on Defendant in his yard and his girlfriend in his house may re-enter the house for a protective sweep where the house was was a source of possible drug activity, there were other people around, and the girlfriend had tried to hide in a bathroom, all giving rise to a belief that there might be armed individuals inside. USA v. Yarbrough (11th Cir 6/11/20)

LEAVING SCENE OF ACCIDENT: Defendant who continued to drive into a condominium carport, hit the carport several times, backed up, drove back into the road, crossed the median of a four-lane highway, and did not stop until the car was stuck in a ditch after hitting a motorcyclist is guilty of LOSA. "[T]he statutory offense is not based on a driver's leaving the scene. Rather, the offense is based on a driver's willful failure to immediately stop." Butler v. State, 1D18-2848 (6/11/20)

SCORESHEET-INJURY: Court declines to rule on whether assessing injury as "severe" on scoresheet without a jury finding (Alleyne) because error, if any, is harmless. A rational jury would have found that the serious bodily injury suffered by the victim in this case (a broken neck) was "severe." Butler v. State, 1D18-2848 (6/11/20)

INCONSISTENT VERDICTS: Inconsistent verdicts (Not Guilty by Reason of Insanity on one count, guilty on the other counts, all based on one unprovoked attack on a lady walking her dog) are legally permissible. Jury pardon includes the ability to dispense partial mercy or lenity. Qosaj v. State, 18-4109 (6/11/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATORY STOP: An investigatory stop may be conducted at gunpoint, particularly where citizen informant said Defendant was selling guns and the car matched that which was linked to the recent theft of guns from a gun store. Knox v. State, 1D19-499 (6/10/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CITIZEN INFORMANT: Anonymous tip by a citizen informant that a suspect is selling guns, and officer sees suspicious activity and a vehicle linked to theft of guns from a gun store justifies an investigatory stop. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Appellate counsel was not ineffective for failing to argue that conviction of simple robbery as a lesser of home invasion robbery was improper. Robbery is a necessarily lesser included offense of home invasion robbery. The elements of simple robbery are always subsumed within the offense of home invasion robbery. State v. Sampaio, 1D19-1508 (6/10/20)

WRIT OF PROHIBITION-STAND YOUR GROUND: Appellate court may not entertain grant a petition for writ of prohibition on SYG immunity where the hearing was limited to the question of whether the Defendant was engaged in a criminal act (selling drugs) at the time of the alleged shooting and did not go into the question of whether the shooting itself was lawful self-defense. Parties may not use a Petition for Writ of Prohibition to request an advisory opinion on a preliminary (but certainly important) legal question about the interpretation of the SYG law. Rich v. State, 2D19-4196 (6/10/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-SELF DEFENSE-TRANSFERRED INTENT: If the killing of the party intended to be killed would, under all the circumstances, have been excusable or justifiable homicide upon the theory of self-defense, then the unintended killing of a bystander, by a random shot fired in the proper and prudent exercise of such self-defense, is also excusable or justifiable. The inadvertent failure to so instruct the jury is fundamental error. "As the effect of the erroneous instruction was to inform the jury that transferred justification only applied to self-defense, not defense of others, it divested the jury of the ability to find that, if [Defendant] was lawfully protecting his wife, the shooting of any unintended victims was insulated. David v. State, 3D18-1143 (6/10/20)

ARGUMENT: State improperly highlighted the enduring psychological impact of the crimes on the unintended victims (tourists caught in the crossfire), equating their bullet wounds as souvenirs given by the Defendant, and improperly made repeated calls for justice for the victims. David v. State, 3D18-1143 (6/10/20)

APPEAL-TOO COMPLICATED: "These five consolidated cases. . . present intricate procedural and jurisdictional questions that will interest a narrow group of practitioners. . . Readers unfamiliar with, or uninterested in, the interrelationships among the Florida Rules of Civil Procedure, Judicial Administration, Criminal Procedure, and Appellate Procedure may read on at their peril." Garcia v. State, 3D19-1510 (6/10/20)

APPEAL-TOO COMPLICATED: What happens when Defendant filed a writ of prohibition for failure to grant a speedy trial discharge in misdemeanor cases, which was denied, and where Defendant, alleging he did not receive the denial of the writ, filed a motion to vacate the denial more than 60 days later, which was also denied? "[C]onfronted with a record which demonstrates that the wrong remedy was pursued in the wrong court by the appellants, what is the proper course for disposition of the five cases ultimately filed as appeals here?" The Circuit Court appellate division should have transferred the case to the DCA for treatment as a petition for belated (further, second-tier) discretionary review. Garcia v. State, 3D19-1510 (6/10/20)

COMPETENCY: Defendant, sentenced to prison upon his third violation of probation, waived any failure of the Court to conduct a competency evaluation before his first plea of guilty for the underlying offense. "Appellant accepted the benefits of the plea bargain and had his probation reinstated twice after he admitted to probation violations. It was not until he violated probation a third time, and the trial court revoked his probation and sentenced him to prison, that appellant first sought to raise a Dortch issue, approximately three and a-half years after originally entering the plea. Bain v. State, 4D19-1247 (6/10/20)

IN FORMA PAUPERIS: Prisoner may not bring a civil action in forma pauperis if he is had three or more prior actions (three strikes) dismissed as non-meritorious. A suit dismissed for failure to state a claim counts as a strike when the dismissal was with or without prejudice. Lomax v. Ortiz-Marquez, No. 18-8369 (US S.Ct. 6/8/20)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE-DUI MANSLAUGHTER-JOA:

Defendant is not entitled to Judgment of Acquittal in DUI manslaughter based on his assertion that the intoxicated passenger grabbed the steering wheel because the circumstantial evidence/reasonable hypothesis of innocence standard of review no longer exists, and because the driver's conduct need not be the sole cause of the victim's death. The State need only present evidence to show that the driver was legally impaired, the driver was operating the vehicle, and that the conduct of the driver contributed to the victim's death. Jones v. State, 1D18-4885 (6/8/29)

CHILD ABUSE-JOA: Teacher who on three separate occasions kneed a three-year-old autistic child in the torso, intentionally tripped the child, and pushed the child to the ground is properly convicted of child abuse, notwithstanding that the child suffered no significant injury. Actual injury is not required. Stillions v. State, 1D18-5308 (6/8/20)

IMPEACHMENT-CONVICTIONS: Defendant may not impeach the non-testifying (and deceased) CI by prior convictions when the only statements by the CI were those made during the wired-up successful attempt to elicit a confession to the homicide. The recorded statements of the CI were not hearsay because the State did not offer them for their veracity or truth, but only to provide context for Defendant's responses. Because there were no hearsay statements that would allow an attack on CI's credibility, the Court did not err in prohibiting evidence of his prior convictions. Woods v. State, 1D18-5319 (6/8/20)

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT-FEAR: Defendant may be found guilty of aggravated assault notwithstanding that the Victim (girlfriend) denied remembering seeing the gun and testified that she was never in fear. Whether the victim actually testifies that she was in fear is not conclusive of the fear element, as long as a reasonable person would experience a well-founded fear of imminent harm. Daniels v. State, 1D17-3675 (6/8/20)

JIMMY RYCE: A committed sixty-seven-year-old with COPD who asserts that he will be physically incapable of committing improper sexual acts, regardless whether he remains a sexual sadist, has shown probable cause that he will not reoffend, entitling him to a Jimmy Ryce trial. In order to continue to detain patient, the State must demonstrate not only that his mental condition remains unchanged, but also that if released he is likely to engage in acts of sexual violence. RISK PROTECTION ORDER: Risk Protection Order statute (§790.401), which authorizes seizure of firearms from dangerous individuals, is not void for vagueness nor does it unlawfully designate POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Due process does not require the postconviction court to give Defendant notice of its intention to treat his habeas petition (filed as a civil case) as a motion for postconviction relief and to afford him an opportunity to amend or withdraw his petition. VOP: Defendant's failure to come to the open door at 5:30 a.m. does not establish that he was away from the house at that time. Failure to answer the door at a time when the average person is typically sleeping does not establish the person's absence. "[T]he approach of simply knocking on the door and then declaring a violation when no one answers provides strong potential defenses to the person being supervised. If the supervising officer truly believes that a person under supervision is not home, it would behoove that officer to acquire evidence that corroborates the alleged absence from the residence." Edwards v. State, 2D19-2734 (6/5/20)

JUDGMENT-CORRECTION: Where the judgment incorrectly recited that the Defendant was convicted of “1st Degree Premeditated Murder” but the jury had been instructed that the State could prove first-degree murder by either a theory of premeditated murder or a theory of felony murder and returned a general verdict of “murder in the 1st degree,” the Court must correct the judgment. A judgment should conform to the verdict of the jury. Court may, even after expiration of term, correct clerical errors in its judgments. Palmer v. State, 5D19-3030 (6/5/20)

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT-ASSAULT WEAPONS: Proposed initiative, entitled “Prohibits possession of defined assault weapons” should not be placed on the ballot. The ballot summary misleads voters by providing that the Initiative exempts and requires registration of assault weapons lawfully possessed prior to this provision’s effective date, when in fact the text exempts only current owner’s possession of that assault weapon. The Initiative does not categorically exempt the assault weapon, only the current owner’s possession of that assault weapon. Advisory Opinion to the Attorney General re: Prohibits Possession of Defined Assault Weapons, SC19-1266 (6/4/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel is not ineffective for failing to strike a juror who believed that a homosexual "is morally depraved enough that he might lie, might steal, might kill" and he would have a bias that might affect his deliberations if he knew the perpetrator was homosexual where counsel believed the juror would be favorable during the penalty phase. Trial counsel's testimony that he did not have a specific recollection of the juror or his own thought process does not preclude a finding that the decision to keep the juror was strategic. Counsel's testimony that he did not remember is competent, substantial evidence to support a finding that his choices were strategic. Patrick v. State, SC19-140 (6/4/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: 2014 letter issued by the United States Department of Justice that criticized portions of the testimony provided by a FBI forensic hair analyst during Defendant's is not newly discovered evidence warranting a new trial where other evidence supports the conviction. EVIDENCE-FIREARM: Evidence about a firearm is admissible where Defendant is charged with fraud based in part on PII (Personal Identification Information) documents, because the firearm was found in a small closet with a sheet of paper containing PII, and because the firearm belonged to Defendant, as shown through the Snapchat photographs, it was far more likely that the PII too belonged to Defendant. Prejudice does not outweigh probative value. The possession of a firearm today is not so inherently prejudicial as to necessarily outweigh its probative value. USA v. McGregor, No. 19-10163 (11th Cir. 6/3/20)

MOTION TO SUPPRESS-TIMELINESS: A tactical decision is not good cause for knowingly defying a scheduling order requiring the filing of any Motion to Suppress by a certain date. No good cause exists if ‘the defendant had all the information necessary to bring a Rule 12(b) motion before the date set for pretrial motions, but failed to file it by that date. Neither a strategic decision nor inadvertence constitutes good cause. USA v. Andres, No. 19-10163 (11th Cir. 6/3/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRETEXT STOP: A law enforcement officer’s subjective motive in making a stop does not invalidate objectively justifiable grounds for making the stop. Officer was justified in stopping the Defendant's Cadillac for an alleged traffic violation (following too closely) and based on law enforcement officials' collective knowledge that the Defendant was going to a drug deal. USA v. Andres, No. 19-10163 (11th Cir. 6/3/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201910823.pdf>

SENTENCING-ACCEPTANCE OF RESPONSIBILITY: Defendant who went to trial because he faced a mandatory life sentence under the law and wanted to preserve a constitutional challenge to such a sentence is not entitled to an acceptance of responsibility adjustment with the record does not reflect Defendant's asserted motive. A defendant's decision to stand trial does not automatically preclude a defendant from consideration for such a reduction. USA v. Andres, No. 19-10163 (11th Cir. 6/3/20)

RESENTENCING-MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: Order appointing counsel on Defendant's motion for resentencing is not an order allowing resentencing for minor sentenced to life with a twenty-five year minimum mandatory. Smith v. State, 1D19-1908 (6/3/20)

RESENTENCING-MINOR-LENGTHY TERM OF YEARS: Consecutive 25 and 40 year sentences for a minor is not a de facto life sentence. Court may rescind resentencing order. Conflict certified. Baldwin v. State, 1D19-1953 (6/3/20)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Where Defendant raises on direct appeal the erroneous denial of a legally sufficient motion to disqualify a trial judge when he did not file a petition for a writ of prohibition, review is for harmless error, with the question being whether there is a reasonable possibility that the error denied the defendant a fair trial before a neutral judge. Error here was harmless. Question certified as a matter of great public importance. Davis v. State, 2D17-517 (6/3/20)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant cannot be found to be in constructive possession of drugs found in the safe in a jointly possessed home. Where possession is constructive, State must prove that Defendant (1) had knowledge that the contraband was within his presence and (2) had the ability to exercise dominion and control over the contraband. If the premises where the officers found the contraband were in joint, rather than exclusive, possession, one cannot infer either the knowledge or ability to maintain dominion and control element from mere ownership of the residence or proximity to the contraband. Wiley v. State, 2D18-878 (6/3/20)

POSSESSION: A fingerprint on an item containing contraband does not in itself prove the defendant's knowledge of the container's contents, because the fingerprint just as likely could have predated the introduction of the contraband into the container. Wiley v. State, 2D18-878 (6/3/20)

POSSESSION OF RECENTLY STOLEN PROPERTY: Instruction that possession of recently stolen property gives rise to an inference that the Defendant knew was stolen applies only when the property is undisputedly stolen and the question is who stole it. The Court erred by giving the instruction where it was disputed whether the car was stolen or given to the Defendant because it allowed the jury to presume Defendant was guilty because he was in possession of it. Moore v. State, 2D18-1842 (6/3/20)

PARAPHERNALIA: Evidence is sufficient to convict for possession of a crack pipe (glass pipe) notwithstanding that there was no residue on it nor drugs at the scene. State does not need to prove that the Defendant had an intent to use the item to ingest drugs at the time of possession. When an object is shown to have an exclusive or predominant use, that purpose is highly probative evidence that the item is intended to be used for that purpose. Moore v. State, 2D18-1842 (6/3/20)

EVIDENCE-EXCULPATORY EVIDENCE-THIRD PARTY CONFESSION: Court erred by excluding the previously sworn testimony of a witness who refused to appear at the trial that the twin brother of the Defendant's alleged accomplice (who testified against him at trial) confessed to being the actual murderer. If a confession by a third party is critical evidence that should have been admitted in evidence to protect the constitutional rights of the accused, the particular reason for excluding it under state law will make little difference. Deendant's right to present proof of third party guilt to the trier of fact implicates federal constitutional rights to a fair trial, which may require admissibility, though contrary to a state procedural predicate. "We are constrained, under Chambers, the due process clause, and Macauley's right to a fair trial, to reverse his convictions and vacate his sentences, and to remand the case for a new trial." Macauley v. State, 3D18-13 (6/3/20)

PROFFER: Defendant's failure to make a proffer of the precise testimony excluded as hearsay evidence did not preclude appellate review, where the substance of the excluded evidence was made known. Macauley v. State, 3D18-13 (6/3/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SPOUSAL PRIVILEGE: Spousal privilege can be invoked to prevent the testimony of a spouse during a motion for postconviction relief. Gonzalez v. State, 3D18-1067 (6/3/20)

VOP-SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: The Court improperly reviewed Defendant's prior probation record and significantly relied on what the court apparently believed were prior violations of curfew offenses to determine that the present violation of curfew was willful and substantial. "The defense had no opportunity to defend against these charges. In fact, the trial court's factual recitations appear to be completely unsubstantiated or wrong." Whether to revoke probation involves a two-step process. First, the trial court must find by a preponderance of the evidence that the probationer willfully and substantially violated probation. Second, the court must then determine whether to revoke probation. Milanes v. State, 4D19-2435 (6/3/20)

COMPETENCY: Incompetence is presumed to continue until the court adjudicates Defendant competent. Information properly dismissed where Defendant remained incompetent for five continuous years. Time was not tolled during Defendant's unapproved and unsupervised absence from the state for over two years. "We cannot overlook the rulings of the supreme court and are required by the rule of law to abide by its holdings. SCORESHEET-LEVEL: Possession of heroin is a level 3 offense rather than a level 1 offense, notwithstanding that possession of a controlled substance is listed under both level 1 and 3 in the Criminal Punishment Code offense severity ranking chart. ranking is intended for all other possession offenses, including possession of heroin. Morgan v. State, 4D20-720 (6/3/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: A defendant convicted at trial by proof beyond a reasonable doubt is not entitled to a new immunity hearing if the trial court applied the wrong standard at a SYG hearing. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-FIREARM: Defendant cannot be stopped and searched based on the officer's observation of the concealed weapon absent evidence apparent at the moment that the Defendant did not have the concealed weapons permit. "Bearing arms is not only legal; it also is a specifically enumerated right in both the federal and Florida constitutions." legally carrying a weapon is not justification for a Terry stop. A law enforcement officer may not use the presence of a concealed weapon as the sole basis for seizing an individual. Kilburn v. State, 1D18-4899 (5/29/20)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR: An order granting a rule 3.800(a) motion for resentencing is not final or appealable, and thus a postconviction court has inherent authority to reconsider its ruling before

ENHANCEMENT-FORCIBLE ASSAULT: Assaulting a federal officer with a dangerous weapon qualifies as a crime of violence for purposes of § 924(c) under the elements clause. The threat of force in “forcible assault” is sufficient violence to trigger the enhancement statute. The use of a deadly weapon under § 111(b) transforms a § 111(a) act into a crime of violence. USA v. Bates, No. 18-12533 (11th Cir. 5/28/20)

PSYCHIATRIC EVIDENCE: In rare circumstances, where the government will be required to prove a heightened mens rea element to secure a conviction, the mens rea element of a general-intent crime may be negated by psychiatric evidence. Psychiatric evidence to excuse or otherwise justify conduct is admissible where it negates the mens rea of a specific intent crime. USA v. Bates, No. 18-12533 (11th Cir. 5/28/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-SEALED RECORD-DNA: Neither the procurement of the DNA sample from the crime scene nor the collection of Porter's DNA during his prior incarceration was a search or seizure. Whether the DNA sample from an arrest and conviction, later vacated and sealed, should have been sealed does not matter. Absent evidence of an illegal search or seizure, the exclusionary rule does not apply. The retention of a lawfully obtained DNA record on CODIS for future use does not constitute a separate search or implicate the Fourth Amendment. Porter v. State, 1D18-5024 (5/26/20)

RECENTLY POSSESSED STOLEN PROPERTY: Court erred in giving the standard instruction that proof of the unexplained possession of recently stolen property gives rise to an inference that the person in possession knew or should have known that the property had been stolen where the issue was whether the car was stolen or left with the Defendant designated driver Defendant by the victim. The standard instruction of presumption applies only where the property is undisputedly stolen and the question is who stole it. "The only possible effect of the instruction here was to allow the jury to presume Jones was guilty because he was in possession of the car." Error is fundamental. Moore v. State, 2D18-1842 (5/27/20)

PARAPHERNALIA: Where there is no indication that the glass pipe had any use other than smoking crack cocaine, Defendant is properly convicted of possession of paraphernalia. Other common items require residue or proximity to drugs to support an inference that they are paraphernalia, but not glass pipes. Moore v. State, 2D18-1842 (5/27/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Evidence that another person's fingerprints were found in the murder victim's abandoned car, where the judge believed the person's testimony that he often entered abandoned cars to steal stereos, and disbelieved his admission that he committed the murder, is sufficient to deny the Defendant's motion to vacate his conviction for murdering his wife, notwithstanding that the thief's testimony "was, to put it mildly, bizarre." "Mr. Scott did ultimately confess to the murder of Ms. Schofield. But then he also confessed to murdering every other person who was murdered in Polk County between 1987 and 1988."

UPWARD DEPARTURE-VOP: Upon violation of probation, where Defendant scores under 22 points, Court may not sentence the Defendant to prison absent a jury finding of dangerousness. Shields v. State, 2D19-493 (5/27/20)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Court erred by denying Defendant's request for the standard jury instruction on the presumption of reasonable fear. A trial court's failure to give a requested instruction constitutes reversible error if: (1) the requested instruction accurately states the law; (2) the facts of the case support the instruction; and (3) the instruction is necessary to allow the jury to properly resolve all issues in the case. STAND YOUR GROUND-RETROACTIVITY: Change in burden of proof in SYG hearing applies retroactively to all SYG immunity hearings conducted on or after the statute's effective date, but not before. Sullivan v. State, 5D16-5065 (5/22/20)

COSTS: $12 assessment under s. 318.18 is improperly assessed when Defendant is not convicted of a traffic offense. Turpenning v. State, 5D19-2094 (5/22/20)

HEARSAY: Text message that Defendant killed the victim is inadmissible hearsay, and not relevant to prove the recipients' of the message later actions. "There is a plethora of case law discouraging such 'set the scene' testimony." Error is harmless given the overwhelming evidence. Willoughby v. State, 5D19-2152 (5/22/20)

PRINCIPAL: Court erred on giving a principal instruction at State's request based on speculation that if the Defendant did not commit the murder, an associate did. Error here is harmless. Willoughby v. State, 5D19-2152 (5/22/20)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: To establish intellectual disability as a bar to execution, a defendant must demonstrate (1) significantly subaverage general intellectual functioning (an IQ under 70); (2) concurrent deficits in adaptive behavior; and (3) manifestation of the condition before age eighteen. Hall, requiring courts to consider the standard error of measurement of IQ tests (five points) in deciding whether Defendant may present additional evidence of intellectual disability, does not apply retroactively. Previous case law receded from. "Upon further consideration, we have determined that this Court clearly erred. . .and we now recede from our decision in Walls." Phillips v. State, SC18-1149 (5/21/20)

RETROACTIVITY: Evolutionary refinements to law do not apply retroactively. Changing the standard for executing intellectually disabled is not of sufficient magnitude to warrant retroactive application to cases on collateral review. "Although the federal standard for determining retroactivity [requires] that courts must give retroactive effect to (1) new substantive rules of federal constitutional law and (2) new watershed rules of criminal procedure implicating the fundamental fairness and accuracy of the criminal proceeding, . . .only . . .substantive rules of federal constitutional law must be applied retroactively by state courts." Phillips v. State, SC18-1149 (5/21/20)

STARE DECISIS (LABARGA, DISSENT): "Yet again, this Court has removed an important safeguard in maintaining the integrity of Florida's death penalty jurisprudence. . .I write to underscore the unraveling of sound legal holdings in this most consequential area of the law. . .I reject the majority's conclusion that Hall was a mere procedural evolution in the law. When the law develops in such a manner as to clarify the criteria for intellectual disability—a status which poses an absolute bar to execution—this cannot simply be deemed 'an evolutionary refinement.'" Phillips v. State, SC18-1149 (5/21/20)

LAWYERS-MILITARY SPOUSE: Under new subdivision, the spouse of a service member who has applied for certification to engage in the practice of law in Florida may be certified by the Court to act as a certified legal intern while his or her application is pending. In Re: Amendments to Rule Regulating the Florida Bar, SC19-1861 (5/21/20)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-RACIAL DISCRIMINATION-PRESERVED ISSUE: The party opposing a peremptory strike must make a specific objection to the proponent's proffered race-neutral reason for the strike, if contested, to preserve the claim that the trial court erred in concluding that the proffered reason was genuine. Where Defendant's counsel renewed his objection to the State's peremptory strike but never argued that the State's proffered explanation lacked record support nor advanced any argument as to why that explanation was not genuine failed to preserve the issue.

State v. Johnson, SC19-96 (5/21/20)

STARE DECISIS-DICTA: Supreme Court says it does not violate principles of stare decisis here: “[L]anguage in this Court’s decision in Hayes. . .which a plurality of this Court relied upon in its nonprecedential opinion. . .wrongly suggests that the trial court is required to create a record for appellate review of otherwise unpreserved error by ‘undertak[ing] an on-the-record genuineness inquiry’ every time a party opposes a peremptory strike. . .This language is dicta, however, because Hayes was not a preservation case.” State v. Johnson, SC19-96 (5/21/20)

VOIR DIRE: Juror's comment during voir dire that the Defendant looked familiar and she may have seen him during her work in jails and prisons does not warrant the entire jury panel being stricken. Prospective juror never definitively said that she knew Defendant.
Joseph v. State, 1D19-1705 (5/20/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Once a defendant makes a prima facie claim of immunity, the State must prove by clear and convincing evidence that the defendant is not entitled to immunity, but this change in law only applies retroactively to immunity hearings conducted on or after the statute's effective date. Washington v. State, 1D17-1978 (5/20/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant cannot be convicted of both traveling after solicitation for sex with a minor and unlawful use of a two-way communications device. Court reviews only the charging document.

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Testing for Sexually Transmitted diseases cannot be ordered as a special condition of probation for drug offenses or DWLS. To be valid, a condition must be reasonably related to the crime of which the offender was convicted. Gokay v. State, 2D18-4530 (5/20/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-SELF-DEFENSE: Defendant is not entitled to a special jury instruction that she may use deadly force where resisting a felony in her conveyance; The standard jury instruction adequately covers the defense that the Defendant was defending herself from the victim who jumped halfway in the car to avoid being run over. Mordica v. State, 3D19-51 (5/20/20)

SELF DEFENSE: Court did not err in not instructed jury that victim, who had been tussling with the Defendant and tried to jump in the car to avoid being run over, was committing a felony. There was no testimony to support a finding that victim committed the specific felony of burglary of an occupied conveyance. Mordica v. State, 3D19-51 (5/20/20)

OPENING THE DOOR-CROSS EXAMINATION: When Defendant is allowed to present evidence about a specific text threat made by the Victim, the State is allowed to present evidence about a specific text threat made by the Defendant. The concept of opening the door applies when one party's evidence presents an incomplete picture and fairness demands the opposing party be allowed to complete it. Mordica v. State, 3D19-51 (5/20/20)

SHOW UP: Florida courts apply a two-step test to determine the admissibility of an out-of-court identification: (1) did the police employ any unnecessarily suggestive procedure and (2) if so, did the suggestive procedure give rise to a substantial likelihood of irreparable misidentification. Showing the victim a single suspect matching the physical description of the perpetrator three days after the attack was inherently suggestive, but did not violate due process because use of the procedure was imperative and did not create a substantial likelihood of misidentification. McWilliams v. State, 3D19-293 (5/20/20)

MITIGATION: Court has no authority to grant the motion to mitigate filed more than 60 days after imposition. The failure of the State apprise the court of the untimeliness of the mitigation motion does not confer jurisdiction on the trial court by waiver, acquiescence, estoppel, or consent. State v. Garcia, 3D18-1984 (5/20/20)

HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant is not entitled to a Writ of Habeas Corpus where he claims that eight years previously he was deceived into waiving his appeal because of ongoing plea negotiations. Hechevarria-Figuero v. State, DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Conviction on multiple counts of driving with a suspended license causing death or serious injuries violates the Double Jeopardy. There can only be one penalty for driving with a suspended license regardless of the number of injuries or death.

Coto v. State, 4D18-2602 (5/20/20)

GUIDELINES-VICTIM INJURY: Where Defendant is convicted of the single count of driving while license suspended with injury, multiple victim injury points are assessed for each person hurt. Coto v. State, 4D18-2602 (5/20/20)

ASSAULT: Intent to do violence to the victim is not an element of assault. Burglar who throws a bottle at an 80-year-old woman which shatters against the wall behind her is guilty of burglary with an assault. Whether he threw the bottle with the intent to distract her is irrelevant. Thomas v. State, 4D19-935 (5/20/20)

JURY VIEW: Court may not grant jury's request to look at the Defendant's half-covered face (right profile) during deliberations. To do so constitutes presenting new evidence, which is prohibited during deliberations. Lockett v. State, 4D19-1908 (5/20/20)

DRUG COURT-VIOLATION: Defendant in drug court is entitled to the same due process requirements afforded defendants in probation revocation proceedings before being terminated from the program and sentenced to prison. The drug court coordinator's letter and its attachments, considered without establishing foundation or reliability and containing statements made without personal knowledge, are insufficient to sustain the State's burden of proof. Gaither v. State, 5D19-534 (5/15/20)

CERTIORARI: State is not entitled to Writ of Certiorari to quash a non-final order compelling it to produce certain limited discovery prior to an evidentiary hearing on Defendant 's motion for postconviction relief where it would not suffer irreparable harm in complying with the court order. Remedy is dismissal, not denial, of a petition for writ of certiorari when there has been an insufficient showing of irreparable harm. State v. Glenn, 5D19-1774 (5/15/20)

RESENTENCING-ACCA: Upon resentencing, because one of the predicate offenses for the Defendant's ACCA sentence was invalid because it fell under the invalid residual clause, Court may again impose the ACCA mandatory minimum on the basis of another qualifying offense not previously relied upon. Tribue v. USA, No. 18-10579 (11th Cir. 5/14/20)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Special standard for evaluating circumstantial evidence abandoned. "Because this special standard [previously applied to wholly circumstantial cases] is unwarranted, confusing, and out of sync with both the jury instructions currently used in this state and the approach to appellate review used by the vast majority of the courts in this country, we discontinue its use." The standard of review applied to a determination of the legal sufficiency of evidence to support a criminal conviction is simply whether the State presented competent, substantial evidence to support the verdict. To apply this standard to a criminal case, an appellate court must view the evidence in the light most favorable to the State and ask whether a rational trier of fact could have found the existence of the elements of the crime beyond a reasonable doubt. Bush v. State, SC18-227 (S. Ct. 6/14/20)

HEARSAY-DYING DECLARATION: Dying declarations not relating to the cause of death are not admissible under the dying declaration exception to the hearsay rule. Victim's declaration the the children were with their father (the Defendant), implying he was not the killer, is not admissible. Bush v. State, SC18-227 (6/14/20)

INTERROGATION: False statements by officer to Defendant, referencing non-existent evidence, during interrogation to prompt a response need not be excluded. Bush v. State, SC18-227 (S. Ct. 6/14/20)

DEATH PENALTY-JURY INSTRUCTION: Jury instructions given in capital cases that refer to the jury's advisory role and to their sentencing verdict as a recommendation are lawful. Bush v. State, SC18-227 (S. Ct. 6/14/20)

AUTHENTICATION-FACEBOOK PHOTO: Any witness with knowledge that it is a fair and accurate representation may testify to the foundational facts; the photographer need not testify. Authentication for the purpose of admission is a relatively low threshold that requires evidence sufficient to support a finding that the photograph in question is what the proponent claims. Officer may authenticate a Facebook photo without testifying about the date of the photograph, the identity of the photographer, or the circumstances under which the photo was taken. Smiley v. State, SC18-385 (5/14/20)

MISTRIAL: Accomplice's testimony that the wear gloves "when we normally operate like that" lacked any detail about other crimes and does not come close to meeting the high standard that justifies a mistrial. Smiley v. State, SC18-385 (5/14/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/635416/7219697/file/175087_DC05_05132020_131649_i.pdf

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE-PRESERVATION OF ISSUE:

Counsel's failure to argue for a Judgment of Acquittal based on the special standard for circumstantial applied fails to preserve the issue.

In moving for a judgment of acquittal, defendant must argue that it was a wholly, outline a theory of defense, and explain why it was not inconsistent with the circumstantial evidence. Jackson v. State, 1D17-5087 (5/13/20)

COSTS-PRESENCE OF DEFENDANT: Any error related to the acceptance of counsel's waiver of Appellant's presence at the hearing for correction of sentence where the court orally pronounced the discretionary fine is harmless. Jackson v. State, 1D17-5087 (5/13/20)

SENTENCE-MINOR: Lengthy sentence for a minor (50 years) does not violate Graham because it affords him a meaningful opportunity for release during his natural life. Foster v. State, 1D19-2453 (5/13/20)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-CUSTODY: Under facts, Defendant was not unlawfully interrogated in his home about sex crimes. The Ramirez factors to determine whether an interrogation is custodial do not allow for consideration of the particularities of the individual defendant, but rather use "an objective, reasonable person" standard. Defendant's limitations and mental health issues are immaterial. Vazquez v. State, 2D18-5028 (5/13/20)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION-POST CONVICTION RELIEF:

Defendant is not entitled to a hearing on his motion for postconviction relief claiming ineffective assistance of counsel where counsel did not move to disqualify the judge who asked "Do you want a denial now?" before the suppression hearing began in the Defendant arrived because the motion did not explain why the motion to suppress should have been granted and where a different judge presided over the trial. JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial when the definition of "weapon" was omitted from the written jury instructions but was orally given to the jury. A defective instruction in a criminal case can only constitute fundamental error if the error pertains to a material element that is disputed at trial. Duckworth v. State, 3D20-272 (5/13/20)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Defendant is not entitled to Speedy Trial discharge where he is arrested, State files a No Info, then refiles the case and sends notice to Defendant and counsel, the case is set for trial outside the 175 day Speedy Trial time period and the Defendant failed to file a Notice of Expiration. When the State terminates a prosecution during the speedy trial period, the State may re-file the same charge prior to the expiration of the speedy trial period and proceed to trial on the reinstated charge, so long as the defendant has notice of the reinstated charge within the speedy trial period. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-OBSCURED TAG: The county name on a license tag need not be plainly visible because it is not an essential identification mark "We question whether. . .the county name [on any] tags. . .is visible and legible to a person with normal vision at 100 feet. . .By suggesting that common words that everyone knows exist on the top and bottom of a license provide a basis for a traffic stop when the frame covers part of their lettering leads to an absurd result." CONTROLLED SUBSTANCE ANALOGUE: Defendant/doctor is properly convicted of distribution of furanyl fentanyl causing death where furanyl fentanyl was a controlled substance analogue, not a controlled substance per se, at the time of the offense. By statute, controlled substance analogues are treated as Schedule I controlled substances. The death enhancement is but-for causation. USA v. Benjamin, No. 18-13091 (11th Cir. 5/8/20)

SCIENTER: Jury need not be instructed that Defendant knew furanyl fentanyl was a controlled substance analogue. The government can prove scienter with evidence that the defendant knew the specific controlled substance analogue he was dealing with, even if he did not know its legal status as an analogue. USA v. Benjamin, No. 18-13091 (11th Cir. 5/8/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT: Consensual search of Defendant's bag after landing at airport is not rendered unlawful by the misrepresentation of law enforcement (that TSA may have found ammunition in the luggage) as to why they wanted to conduct the search. The Fourth Amendment allows some police deception so long as the suspect's will is not overborne. USA v. Benjamin, No. 18-13091 (11th Cir. 5/8/20)

POSSESSION WITH INTENT TO SELL-JOA: Defendant may not be convicted of possession with intent to sell based on him being in the rear of the vehicle in close proximity to, or an actual possession of, 3.8 grams of cannabis, 2.7 grams of powder cocaine in a plastic baggie, crack cocaine in several different pieces in a small plastic container, a cigarillo and a razor blade, notwithstanding officer's testimony that someone having multiple drugs is generally indicative of sale and is not typically seen on the user. ARGUMENT: "Talking about illusions, smoke screens, distractions, things that aren't relevant, because throughout opening statement and the questions of witnesses there were a number of illusions made by the defense," is improper argument. Comments suggesting that opposing counsel is blowing smoke or using smoke and mirrors in an effort to distract improperly denigrate counsel and the theory of defense. Here, error is harmless. Bugg v. State, 5D19-2108 (5/8/20)

HEARSAY: Officer's testimony relating description of the suspect by a witness is hearsay and not subject to the witness identification exception to the hearsay rule (90.801(2)(c)). A description is not an identification. Here, error is harmless. Bugg v. State, 5D19-2108 (5/8/20)

IMPEACHMENT-INCONSISTENT STATEMENT: Court erred in prohibiting defense counsel from confronting witness with his written prior inconsistent statement. In order for one to impeach a witness with a prior inconsistent statement, a predicate must first be established by calling the attention of the witness to be impeached to the allegedly contradictory statements and to the occasion when it is alleged said statements were made. "Improper impeachment" objection improperly sustained. Bugg v. State, 5D19-2108 (5/8/20)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Where court improperly sustains State's "improper impeachment" objection, Defense must proffer the testimony which he sought to elicit in order to adequately preserve this issue for appellate review. Bugg v. State, 5D19-2108 (5/8/20)

ILLEGAL SENTENCE-ATTEMPTED SEXUAL BATTERY ON MINOR: Attempted Sexual Battery on a Person Less than Twelve is neither a life felony, as judge believed, nor a second degree felony, as Defendant believed. It is a first-degree felony with a 30 year maximum, unless the sexual organs of the victim are injured. Twenty years' imprisonment followed by life probation exceeds the thirty-year statutory maximum. Echevarria v. State, 5D19-3074 (5/8/20)

FRAUD: Government Officials who close lanes to George Washington Bridge as political retribution against a mayor cannot be convicted of property fraud because the actions were a corrupt abuse of power, but not taken for financial gain. Officials violate federal fraud laws only if an object of their dishonesty is to obtain money or property. Federal fraud laws do not proscribe schemes to defraud citizens of their intangible rights to honest and impartial government. "Save for bribes or kickbacks. . . , a state or local official's fraudulent schemes violate that law only when. . .they are 'for obtaining money or property.'" Kelly v. USA, No. 18-1059 (US S. Ct. 5/7/20)

ACCA: Florida robbery convictions are “violent felonies,” subjecting Defendant to ACCA mandatory minimum under both the elements and residual clauses. The degree of force required to commit robbery is not too slight to constitute a violent felony under the ACCA. Sudden snatching robbery is a crime of violence. Welch v. USA, No. 14-15733 (11th Cir. 5/6/20)

ACCA: “Serious drug offense” includes an offense involving distribution, which need not involve an exchange for value. For a state drug offense to qualify as a predicate offense under the career-offender guideline, the language of the statute need not match the Guidelines definition exactly. Serious drug offenses include state offenses that use possession of a specified amount of a drug to infer intent. Hollis v. USA, No. 19-11323 (11th Cir. 5/6/20)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: The connection between drug-dealing and firearm possession is an appropriate one to be drawn during a felon-in-possession case. USA v. McLellan, No. 18-13289 (11th Cir. 5/6/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201813289.pdf>

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Failure of the jury instructions to include the knowledge-of-status element did not affect Defendant's substantial rights or the fairness of the judicial proceedings where it is inconceivable that he did not know that he was a felon, having served approximately ten years in prison, on and off. USA v. McLellan, No. 18-13289 (11th Cir. 5/6/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201813289.pdf>

EXPERT: Officers testimony that it is “very common” for individuals involved in narcotic activity “to possess handguns, a lot of times for protection” because of the threat of “robbery of their narcotics” is not improper expert opinion. Such testimony does not require any scientific, technical, or specialized knowledge, but rather is rationally based on witness's perception of the relationship between guns and drug activity that he acquired during his time as a police officer in the narcotics division. A witness is permitted to deliver a lay opinion testimony based on his professional experiences. USA v. McLellan, No. 18-13289 (5/6/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-EMERGENCY AID EXCEPTION: Police may enter a home under the Emergency Aid Exception where they hear a dog whimpering and mistaken for a person in distress. USA v. Evans, No. 17-15323 (11th Cir. 5/6/20)

SPECIOUS ARGUMENT: Defendant fails in his argument that because the magazine found near his gun was unloaded, the gun itself was not—at that time—capable of accepting a large magazine. "We reject his invitation to grammatical innovation." USA v. Evans, No. 17-15323 (11th Cir. 5/6/20)

COVID-19: Inmates who seek protection from Covid-19 are not entitled to a Temporary Restraining Order putting in place safeguards. Increase in COVID-19 infections is not proof that Sheriff deliberately disregarded an intolerable risk. Swain v. Junior, No. 20-11622-C (11th Cir. 5/5/20)

SENTENCING-UPWARD DEPARTURE: The remedy when court, not the jury, found dangerousness under section 775.082(10) is to remand for resentencing with instructions to either impose a nonstate sanction of up to one year in county jail or empanel a jury to make the determination of dangerousness, if requested by the State. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-HEARING: Postconviction court's termination of counsel's examination of defense counsel after repeated instructions to inquire only on relevant matters, and exclusion of the mother's testimony as irrelevant, were within the court's sound discretion. APPEAL-PRESERVATION-KIDNAPPING: Defendant/Exploitative Caretaker for elderly victim cannot be found guilty of kidnapping based on his sending an email which led to the Victim's improper Baker Act confinement. JOA: Counsel was ineffective for making no more than a boilerplate motion for judgment of acquittal (defense counsel said he was not going to "insult anybody" or "waste any time" by making it anything more than pro forma). Counsel's ineffectiveness may be resolved on direct appeal without wasting judicial resources by requiring a motion for postconviction relief. Bybee v. State, 2D17-4515 (5/6/20)

EVIDENCE-ALCOHOL: Evidence that victim of homicide had been drinking (.07 BAC) is relevant to show self-defense. Swilley, III v. State, 2D19-65 (5/6/20)

EVIDENCE-SELF-DEFENCE: Evidence that Defendant knew that Victim carried a knife is admissible to show reasonable fear in homicide case; the fact that a knife was found in the Victim's pocket is admissible as corroboration. Evidence was improperly excluded. New trial required. Swilley, III v. State, 2D19-65 (5/6/20)

CRUEL OR UNUSUAL PUNISHMENT: Cumulative 150 year sentence (after Defendant declined probation) for possession of child porn is not cruel or unusual. "Although defendant and his attorneys may find the sentencing range to be overly broad, it is completely within the discretion of the trial court and 100 percent legal." For a prison sentence to constitute cruel and unusual punishment solely because of its length, at a minimum the sentence be must be grossly disproportionate to the crime. Stephens v. State, 3D18-247 (5/6/20)

RECALLING WITNESS: Court did not err in not permitting Defense to recall a State expert witness because he "forgot to cover something," particularly where the testimony was not proffered. Stephens v. State, 3D18-247 (5/6/20)

COMPETENCY: Defense counsel's post-trial characterization Defendant's "bizarre" behavior exhibiting a "lack of emotional maturity and lack of ordinary intelligence" did not put Defendant's competency in question. Neither low intelligence, mental deficiency, nor bizarre, volatile, and irrational behavior can be equated with mental incompetence to stand trial. Stephens v. State, 3D18-247 (5/6/20)

BURGLARY: Intent to steal can be inferred from Defendant's presence in a looted store during a hurricane emergency. Williams v. State, 3D19-793 (5/6/20)

STEALTHY ENTRY: "Stealth" normally implies activity that is surreptitious, furtive, or sly, but can include entering a closed and shuttered store in the early evening, during a county-wide emergency brought on by a Category 4 hurricane, when few people were out on the street, curfew orders had been issued, and electrical power was out. Williams v. State, 3D19-793 (5/6/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim counsel was ineffective for not interviewing or calling cellmates of the sole witness against him who had admitted to them that he had told that that Defendant was innocent and he did not know about the planned robbery beforehand. Casanas v. State, 4D19-1895 (5/6/20)

APPEAL-PRINCIPLE OF PARTY PRESENTATION: Defendant may not argue on appeal that the statute under which she was convicted for collected more than $3.3 million from Phillipine clients to process immigration applications for which she knew they were ineligible was overbroad when she raised different factual and First Amendment issues below. The Principle of Party Presentation prohibits an appellate court from pursuing a legal theory not presented below. "Understandably, she rode with an argument suggested by the panel. In the panel's adjudication, her own arguments, differently directed, fell by the wayside, for they did not mesh with the panel's overbreadth theory of the case." USA v. OVERBREADTH (J. Thomas, concurring): "It appears that the overbreadth doctrine lacks any basis in the Constitution's text, violates the usual standard for facial challenges, and contravenes traditional standing principles. I would therefore consider revisiting this doctrine in an appropriate case." USA v. Sineneng-Smith, No. 19-67 (US S.Ct. 5/6/20)

POSSESSING FIREARM AS ILLEGAL ALIEN: The crime of possessing a firearm as an illegal alien includes the elements that the Defendant knew that his status as an illegal alien barred him from possessing a firearm and that he knew he was an illegal alien. USA v. Russell, No. 18-11202 (11th Cir. 5/5/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant fails to show prejudice in the sentencing phase of Defendant's death penalty case where the new evidence presented in the post conviction hearing merely strengthens, corroborates, and confirms the mitigating circumstances presented at sentencing and establishes no new mitigating factors. Knight v. Florida Dept of Corrections, No.18-12488 (11th Cir. 5/1/20)

MINOR-DE FACTO LIFE SENTENCE: Orders granting new sentencing hearings for lengthy sentences imposed on juveniles under rule 3.800(a) are not final or appealable, and so the trial court retains its inherent authority to reconsider such orders in light of Poole. Prior to final judgment, the trial court can and should correct its own previous incorrect appealable rulings which a party has not appealed. Simmons and progeny receded from. Conflict certified. STAND YOUR GROUND-HEARING: Defendant is not entitled to a new SYG hearing because his immunity hearing occurred before the amended statute's effective date and thus it was not error to have conducted it under the earlier standard. Rivera v. State, 2D17-496 (5/1/20)

HEARSAY: Court improperly admitted child sex abuse victim's prior consistent statements to nurse practitioner to corroborate her in-court testimony. Prior consistent statements are usually inadmissible hearsay and cannot be used for this purpose unless offered to rebut an express or implied charge against the declarant of improper influence, motive, or recent fabrication, then only when the prior consistent statement is made after the existence of a reason to falsify arises. But here error is harmless. Bullington v. State, 2D18-2197 (5/1/20)

EVIDENCE-CROSS-EXAMINATION: A defendant should be afforded wide latitude in demonstrating bias. It was improper for the trial court to exclude evidence that Victim continued to live with Defendant for months after he broke her arm by running over it with car, only cooperating with prosecutors after he evicted her. Peret v. State, 2D19-215 (5/1/20)

VOP-ABSENCE FROM RESIDENCE: PO's testimony that all the lights were off and the blinds were drawn at the residence and that Gorman did not appear to be home is insufficient to establish violation. The fact that the lights were off and the blinds drawn does not negate the possibility that he was asleep. Gorman v. State, 2D19-1076 (5/1/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on Defendant's claim of ineffective assistance of counsel for failing to file a motion to suppress. To prevail, Defendant must prove that Fourth Amendment claim was meritorious. Schwebel v. State, 2D19-1092 (5/1/20)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL: "[I]t is impossible to conjure up what more counsel could have legitimately argued to the trial court in support of a motion for judgment of acquittal. However, Appellant's counsel for this appeal. . .has chosen to ignore the legal standard which governs whether or not a judgment of acquittal should be granted, and instead has treated the Court to what amounts to a jury trial closing argument." POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on his claim that counsel was ineffective for misadvising him that he would likely receive a withhold the adjudication, which was important to him, when he was prohibited from a withhold based on having had a prior withhold of adjudication. APPEAL: Defendant may raise on direct appeal trial counsel's ineffectiveness in failing to file motion to suppress where the ineffectiveness is obvious on the face of the appellate record, the prejudice caused by the conduct is indisputable, and a tactical explanation for the conduct is inconceivable. An attorney's ignorance of a point of law that is fundamental to his case combined with his failure to perform basic research on that point is a quintessential example of unreasonable performance under Strickland. ATTEMPTED MURDER OF LEO-JURY INSTRUCTION: Court erred by not reading jury instruction that the Defendant knew the victims were law enforcement officers. State is required to prove, and the jury must find, beyond a reasonable doubt, that the defendant knew that the victim was a law enforcement officer. Schminky v. State, 3D18-959 (4/29/20)

APPEAL: Ineffective assistance of counsel cannot be raised on direct appeal without being first raised in the trial court. Jackson v. State, 3D19-1000 (4/29/20)

STATE ATTORNEY-DISQUALIFICATION: Office of the State Attorney is not disqualified where the elected State Attorney had consulted with the Defendant about his case while in private practice before taking office and observed the trial after taking office. Imputed disqualification of the entire state attorney's office is unnecessary when the record establishes that the disqualified attorney has neither (1) the business insider six years and years later confirmed by the story from a neighbor provided prejudicial information relating to the pending criminal charge nor (2) has personally assisted, in any capacity, in the prosecution of the charge." There is no per se rule requiring the disqualification of the entire State Attorney's Office based solely on the fact that the attorney later became the elected State Attorney. Knespler v. State, 3D18-1592 (4/29/20)

VALUE: Value of the stolen property is the market value of the property at the time and place of the offense or, if such cannot be satisfactorily ascertained, the cost of replacement of the property within a reasonable time after the offense. Court erred in allowing an expert to testify as to the insurance replacement cost values. Knespler v. State, 3D18-1592 (4/29/20)

SENTENCING: 30 year prison sentence for sale of heroin as a habitual offender is neither a cruel and unusual punishment nor violation of principles of ex post facto. Only in rare circumstances does the length of a criminal sentence constitute a cruel and unusual punishment. Small v. State, 3D19-1667 (4/29/20)

RISK PROTECTION ORDER: The RPO statute allows law enforcement to petition for an RPO to temporarily remove firearms from a person who poses a significant danger to themselves or others. Entry of an RPO does not require a showing of imminent fear or immediate and present danger. The RPO statute does not limit the evidence to events that occurred within the past 12 months of the filing of the RPO petition. Blinston v. Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, 4D 19-768 (4/29/20)

JUVENILE-COMMITMENT: Court may not commit a child to a restrictiveness level different from that recommended by DJJ unless it states for the record the reasons that establish by a preponderance of the evidence why the court is disregarding the recommendation. Simply listing reasons that are totally unconnected to this analysis does not explain why one restrictiveness level is better suited for providing the juvenile offender with the most appropriate dispositional services in the least restrictive available setting. "We remind delinquency court judges that deviating from a DJJ's recommendation is a difficult matter. . .In order to deviate lawfully, a trial court must do more than place generalized reasons on the record; it must engage in a well-reasoned and complete analysis of the PDR and the type of facility to which the trial court intends to send the child. This is no easy task and will take time and consideration." R.B. v. State, 4D19-817 (4/29/20)

UPWARD DEPARTURE-STATUTORY REVIVAL: Defendant who scores under 22 points may not be sentenced to prison unless the jury makes findings of danger to the public. Court may not use the principle of statutory revival to avoid the requirement of the jury finding. Buchman v. State, 4D19-2904 (4/29/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Federal habeas corpus relief for ineffective assistance of counsel in state court is only cognizable when the relevant state court decision was contrary to, or involved an unreasonable application of, clearly established federal law or was based on an unreasonable determination of the facts in light of the evidence presented in the state court proceeding. James v. Warden, Holman Correctional, No. 17-11855 (11th Cir. 4/28/90)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201711855.pdf>

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to habeas corpus relief based on counsel's failure to investigate and present mitigating evidence in the penalty phase of capital murder where prejudice cannot be shown, particularly where the Defendant did not cooperate in developing mitigation evidence and preferred being on death row-where he has his own television-than being in general population. Proof of prejudice requires some evidence that if counsel had discovered the evidence Defendant would have permitted them to present it during the penalty phase proceedings. James v. Warden, Holman Correctional, No. 17-11855 (11th Cir. 4/28/90)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Failure to give standard jury instruction on reasonable doubt is fundamental error. Williams v. State, 1D19-2099 (4/27/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-AUTOMOBILE-TAIL LIGHT: One broken tail light does not justify a stop where there are two other fully operational tail lights. Green v. State, 2D18-3587 (4/24/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-AUTOMOBILE: Driving an unregistered vehicle is a criminal offense justifying the stop of Defendant's car. The existence of a tag on a vehicle may indicate that the vehicle was registered at some point, but it is not, in and of itself, proof that the vehicle has been registered. The expired temporary tag did not constitute proof that the car was actually registered since there was no evidence to show that the expired temporary tag actually belonged to that car. Brooks v. State, 2D18-4300 (4/24/20)

READ-BACK: Court erred by responding to jury's request for transcript by not informing it that a read-back is possible, but error is not fundamental. Tate v. State, 2D19-2248 (4/24/20)
https://www.2dca.org/content/download/634292/7207050/file/192248_DC08_04242020_081348_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel's failure to object to Court's failure to offer jury a read-back of testimony when it requested a transcript fails because prejudice is not shown. Argument that the prejudice was the failure to preserve the issue for appeal fails because "the question of prejudice in the postconviction setting turns on whether the defendant was prejudiced at trial—not on appeal." Tate v. State, 2D19-2248 (4/24/20)

PLEA NEGOTIATIONS: In a pretrial setting, Due Process does not prohibit a prosecutor from carrying out a threat, made during plea negotiations, to bring additional, more serious charges against an accused who refused to plead guilty to the originally-charged offense when it is undisputed that the additional charge is justified by the evidence, the prosecutor was in possession of this evidence when the original charge was filed, and the additional charge was filed solely because of the accused's failure to plead to the original charge. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Claim of Double Jeopardy violation cannot be raised under R.3.800(a). State, 5D20-185 (4/24/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to SYG immunity for fatally punching the Victim where the Court appropriately ruled that clear and convincing evidence supported the legal conclusion that pre-trial immunity was inapplicable to the facts. Lyle v. State, 3D19-2010 (4/22/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for both assault and attempted robbery violate the double jeopardy clauses of the United States and Florida Constitutions. To determine whether two crimes are based upon the same conduct for purposes of double jeopardy, the reviewing court may consider only the charging document. Williams v. State, 4D18-1129 (4/22/20)

EVIDENCE-CADAVER DOG: Cadaver dog evidence is admissible if (1) the handler was qualified to use the dog; (2) the dog was trained and accurate in identifying human remains; (3) circumstantial evidence corroborates the dog's identification; and (4) the evidence was not so stale or contaminated as to make it beyond the dog's competency to identify it. Evidence that dog alerted to the scent of human remains in a car trunk (notwithstanding that a body was not found) is admissible. Torrez v. State, 4D18-1277 (4/22/20)

CADAVER DOG EVIDENCE: To be admissible, the scientific basis for dog scent evidence need not be explained before it can be admitted;

rather, it must be shown to be reliable from experience. Torrez v. State, 4D18-1277 (4/22/20)

CADAVER DOG EVIDENCE: For cadaver dog evidence to be admissible, each dog's ability and reliability should be shown on a case-by-case basis. Courts should not merely assume that any well-trained dog can detect specific odors, but instead should understand that a dog's abilities, whether innate or acquired, is a fact which may be proven by evidence like any other fact. Torrez v. State, 4D18-1277 (4/22/20)

QUOTATION: "The evidence of the reliability of a dog's alert is 'readily understood by a jury.' Or as Bob Dylan once said, 'you don't need a weatherman to know which way the wind blows.'" Torrez v. State, 4D18-1277 (4/22/20)

COMPETENCY: Defendant who, at sentencing, requested to speak to President Trump and stated: "Commander-in-chief, the witch hunt ends here, " and also wanted to speak to "the First Lady," and "a monster" called "the Madi Arella," is competent. Torrez v. State, 4D18-1277 (4/22/20)

EVIDENCE-RELEVANCE: Photographs of Defendant in Honduras months before the murder are properly excluded as not being corroborative of this alibi. At best, the photographs' limited probative value was to corroborate minor, tangential details of the alibi witnesses' testimony. Dubon v. State, 4D18-1867 (4/22/20)

ARGUMENT-CREDIBILITY OF ALIBI WITNESSES: Prosecutor's argument that Defendant's cousin had an interest in how the case was decided because he was family is proper where he did not state that the story was concocted or suborned. Dubon v. State, 4D18-1867 (4/22/20)

OPINION: Officer's testimony that Defendant can "still be a principal to murder by what he did," is improper but not fundamental error. Officer may not opine that Defendant is guilty under the principal theory. Dubon v. State, 4D18-1867 (4/22/20)

OPINION-PLANTED PREMISE: "Because the prosecutor's question presupposed that appellant actually committed the acts he confessed to, the officer's affirmative answer essentially told the jury that he believed appellant's actions made him a principal to murder." Dubon v. State, 4D18-1867 (4/22/20)

FUNDAMENTAL ERROR: The doctrine of fundamental error should be applied only in rare cases. To constitute fundamental error, the error must reach down into the validity of the trial itself to the extent that a verdict of guilty could not have been obtained without the assistance of the alleged error. Dubon v. State, 4D18-1867 (4/22/20)

COMPETENCY: Court may not find Defendant competent upon stipulation (“All right. Based upon the stipulation to the evaluation I do find the defendant to be competent at this time.”) A defendant cannot stipulate to the ultimate issue of competency. Remanded for a nunc pro tunc evaluation of competency if possible. Dubon v. State, 4D18-1867 (4/22/20)

ARMED KIDNAPPING-WEAPON: A defendant may properly be convicted as a principal to the crime of armed kidnapping, even if he did not personally possess a weapon during the commission of the crime, but the charge is not reclassified to a life felony absent a jury finding that he personally carried a weapon. Dubon v. State, 4D18-1867 (4/22/20)

LIFE SENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Life sentence minor convicted of homicide is lawful where Court made specific findings as to most, but not all, of section 921.1401(2)'s statutory factors where it is reasonably inferred that the Court made the appropriate analysis. Dubon v. State, 4D18-1867 (4/22/20)

VOP: Defendant may not be found in violation of probation on the basis of grounds not alleged. Court improperly found Defendant guilty of possessing a home used for trafficking or sale of controlled substances where affidavit charged him with "owning, leasing, or renting" the home, which is a different criminal offense. PUBLIC ASSISTANCE FRAUD: Public Assistance Fraud only requires the state to prove that the public assistance wrongfully received be of an aggregate value of $200 or more during a twelve consecutive month period, but not necessarily committed in each of twelve consecutive months. State v. Lauriston, 4D19-1573 (4/22/20)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: Under the nearest-reasonable-referent doctrine, whether coming before or after what is modified, modifiers (adjectives, adverbs, prepositional phrases, restrictive clauses) should be read as modifying the nearest noun, verb, or other sentence element to which they can reasonably be said to pertain. State v. Lauriston, 4D19-1573 (4/22/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A court need not determine whether counsel's performance was deficient before examining the prejudice suffered by the defendant as a result of the alleged deficiencies. The object of an ineffectiveness claim is not to grade counsel's performance. If it is easier to dispose of an ineffectiveness claim on the ground of lack of sufficient prejudice, that course should be followed. Giniebra v. State, 4D19-3501 (4/22/20)

HEARSAY: In a homicide case alleging the Victim's overdose death was caused by heroin sold by Defendant, text message saying: "Damn, my boy got some fire, boy," which the Defendant tried to admit to show that Victim had used heroin earlier, is inadmissible hearsay. Jackson v. State, 1D18-1603 (4/21/20)

EVIDENCE: Officer's testimony about his work apprehending violent offenders ("Most of them are - - if not all them are violent felons") is not impermissible evidence of Defendant's bad character. Cruz-Cedeno v. State, 1D19-2170 (4/21/20)

SENTENCE-ORAL PRONOUNCEMENT: Defendant's claim that he is not subject to fifteen year mandatory minimum because it was not pronounced fails. Where the oral pronouncement is ambiguous but the record clearly shows the trial court's intent, the proper sentence is what the judge intended it to be. Johnson v. State, 1D19-2792 (4/21/20)

UNANIMOUS VERDICT: Sixth Amendment's right to a jury trial requires a unanimous verdict. The Sixth Amendment's unanimity requirement applies to state and federal criminal trials equally. "Wherever we might look to determine what the term 'trial by an impartial jury trial' meant at the time of the Sixth Amendment's adoption—whether it's the common law, state practices in the founding era, or opinions and treatises written soon afterward—the answer is unmistakable. A jury must reach a unanimous verdict in order to convict." Ramos v. Louisiana, No. 18-5924 (4/20/20)

QUOTATION: "[I]t's notable that neither Louisiana nor Oregon claims anything like the prospective economic, regulatory, or social disruption litigants seeking to preserve precedent usually invoke. No one, it seems, has signed a contract, entered a marriage, purchased a home, or opened a business based on the expectation that, should a crime occur, at least the accused may be sent away by a 10-to-2 verdict."

QUOTATION: "[T]he dissent would have us discard a Sixth Amendment right in perpetuity rather than ask two States to retry a slice of their prior criminal cases. Whether that slice turns out to be large or small, it cannot outweigh the interest we all share in the preservation of our constitutionally promised liberties. Indeed, the dissent can cite no case in which the one-time need to retry defendants has ever been sufficient to inter a constitutional right forever." Ramos v. Louisiana, No. 18-5924 (4/20/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-5924_n6io.pdf

QUOTATION: "In the final accounting, the dissent's stare decisis arguments round to zero. We have an admittedly mistaken decision, on a constitutional issue, an outlier on the day it was decided, one that's become lonelier with time. In arguing otherwise, the dissent must elide the reliance the American people place in their constitutionally protected liberties, overplay the competing interests of two States, count some of those interests twice, and make no small amount of new precedent all its own." Ramos v. Louisiana, No. 18-5924 (4/20/20)

QUOTATION: "On what ground would anyone have us leave Mr. Ramos in prison for the rest of his life? Not a single Member of this Court is prepared to say Louisiana secured his conviction constitutionally under the Sixth Amendment. No one before us suggests that the error was harmless. . . In the end, the best anyone can seem to muster against Mr. Ramos is that, if we dared to admit in his case what we all know to be true about the Sixth Amendment, we might have to say the same in some others. But where is the justice in that? Every judge must learn to live with the fact he or she will make some mistakes; it comes with the territory. But it is something else entirely to perpetuate something we all know to be wrong only because we fear the consequences of being right." Ramos v. Louisiana, No. 18–5924 (4/20/20)

QUOTATION (SOTOMAYOR, CONCURRING): "The Constitution demands more than the continued use of flawed criminal procedures—all because the Court fears the consequences of changing course." Ramos v. Louisiana, No. 18–5924 (4/20/20)

STARE DECISIS-(SOTOMAYOR, CONCURRING): "While overruling precedent must be rare, this Court should not shy away from correcting its errors where the right to avoid imprisonment pursuant to unconstitutional procedures hangs in the balance." Ramos v. Louisiana, No. 18–5924 (4/20/20)

STARE DECISIS: "The legal doctrine of stare decisis derives from the Latin maxim 'stare decisis et non quieta movere,' which means to stand by the thing decided and not disturb the calm. Ramos v. Louisiana, No. 18-5924 (4/20/20)

MARSY'S LAW: Establishing a victim's legally cognizable interest in a criminal proceeding does not entitle a victim to party of record status. Court properly struck the Victim's counsel's Notice of Appearance, by which she sought full access to the Child's juvenile court file, in contravention of statute. "This opinion should not be misconstrued as declaring that Marsy's Law does not support a victim's filing of some form of notice of election to exercise rights or of legal representation in a criminal proceeding. . ." L. T. v. State, 1D19-3032 (4/17/20)

MARSY'S LAW: "To accept L.T.'s arguments requires this Court to interpret Marsy's Law as fundamentally altering the criminal proceedings by implication. Such an application is a vast departure from the traditional common law approach to criminal justice and without explicit text directing such a departure, we decline to do so."
L. T. v. State, 1D19-3032 (4/17/20)

WRIT OF PROHIBITION: Prohibition is not a corrective writ and cannot be used to reverse an order already entered. Prohibition may be invoked only in emergency cases to forestall an impending present injury where person seeking writ has no other appropriate and adequate legal remedy. L. T. v. State, 1D19-3032 (4/17/20)

CERTIORARI: For a petition for writ of certiorari to be granted, Petitioner must show: 1) the trial court departed from the essential requirements of law; 2) resulting in a material injury that will affect the remainder of the proceeding; 3) which cannot be corrected by any other means. L. T. v. State, 1D19-3032 (4/17/20)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-TRAFFICKING: Defendant is subject to fifteen year mandatory minimum for trafficking in cocaine even though the information does not allege any amount of cocaine qualifying him for a mandatory minimum sentence. The amount of trafficked cocaine is an element. The omission of the amount of drugs from an information charging an offense under section 893.135(1)(b)(1), (5) still leaves a defendant on notice that he faces some mandatory minimum penalty, so Defendant suffers no prejudice. Valera-Rodriguez v. State, 2D18-1794 (4/17/20)

VEHICULAR HOMICIDE-RECKLESS DRIVING: Testimony that Defendant's red mustang was “flying,” “zooming,” driving “like the Indiana Speedway,” “driving in and out of traffic,” and driving “too recklessly” while using turn lanes and bicycle lanes to pass traffic and side swiping a car before contributing to a fatal crash is reckless driving supporting a vehicular homicide conviction. CREDIT TIME SERVED-DOUBLE JEOPARDY: A trial court, on its own motion, may, at any time after a judgment and sentence becomes final, correct a ministerial error in sentencing documents that overreport the amount of jail credit and prison credit awarded to a defendant. Double Jeopardy principles do not bar a trial court from sua sponte correcting a defendant's jail credit to accurately reflect the amount of time previously served on a charge. Conflict Certified. Question Certified. Spear v. State, 5D19-1747 (4/17/20)

STARE DECISIS: "We believe that the proper approach to stare decisis is. . .straightforward. In a case where we are bound by a higher legal authority -- whether it be a constitutional provision, a statute, or a decision of the Supreme Court -- our job is to apply that law correctly to the case before us. When we are convinced that a precedent clearly conflicts with the law we are sworn to uphold, precedent normally must yield." Spear v. State, 5D19-1747 (4/17/20)

VOP-RESIDENCE: Defendant's father's statement to PO that the Defendant did not live in the house and that he had not seen him for 3 weeks does not establish that the Defendant had moved without permission (in fact, Defendant lived in a trailer on the property). POST CONVICTION RELIEF-JURISDICTION: There is no concurrent jurisdiction for the lower court to rule on a motion for post conviction relief if the claims in a pending appeal and in a motion before the postconviction court are clearly related, such as here, where both motions allege that the victim of the crimes had either recanted or expressed serious misgivings about identifying Defendant as the perpetrator. DUI-UNLAWFUL DETENTION: Plaintiff who blew a .000 with no indication of being impaired by drugs but who is not released from jail because of the Sheriff's eight hour hold policy has a §1983 civil rights claim for unlawful imprisonment and violation of Fourth Amendment. The continuation of even a lawful arrest violates the Fourth Amendment when the police discover additional facts dissipating their earlier probable cause. The fact that §316.193 permits holding a DUI arrestee for up to eight hours does not immunize the Sheriff's hold policy from constitutional scrutiny. Barnett v. MacArthur, No. 18-12238 (11th Cir. 4/15/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-PLEA AGREEMENT: Double Jeopardy does not preclude dual convictions for solicitation and traveling after solicitation not based on separate and distinct counts of solicitation when Defendant had entered a plea agreement when the charging document could have been drafted more broadly to include two or more solicitation counts. Newcombe v. State, 1D16-4769 (4/15/20)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIME: Evidence is admissible that a few months before the murder the Defendant had put a gun to the Victim's head. Hetherington v. State, 1D18-3747 (4/15/20)

ATTORNEY-WITHDRAWAL: Defense counsel is not inevitably ineffective when a rift forms in the attorney-client relationship, particularly when the rift is caused by the defendant's own behavior. Court acted within its broad discretion in denying counsel's motion to withdraw after Defendant grieved and threatened him. A finding that a defendant's behavior was knowingly obstructive should weigh heavily against any claim that the attorney-client relationship has diminished to such an extent that counsel is no longer effective. Beall v. State, 1D19-57 (4/15/20)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-FOREIGN JAIL: The trial court has discretion to award, and should consider awarding credit to defendants for time served in foreign jails while awaiting transfer to Florida, including foreign countries (here, Argentina). Chimale v. State, 1D19-1205 (4/15/20)

NECESSITY DEFENSE-POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Defendant is not entitled to JOA for Possession of Firearm by Felon where evidence is disputed as to whether the person upon whom the Defendant pulled a gun was coming toward him or walking away. An affirmative defense should not be resolved by a judgment of acquittal where the facts are disputed. Oliver v. State, 1D19-1206 (4/15/20)

SEXUAL OFFENDERS-FAILURE TO REGISTER: Defendant does not qualify as a “sexual offender” under section 943.0435 where he has not yet been released from the sanction imposed in his underlying case, and therefore is not required to report and register. Defendant was not been released from the sanction because he had not yet paid the fine. Absurdity Doctrine does not apply. "We are mindful of the State's legislative complaint, arguing a defendant could take advantage of this provision by simply failing to ever pay a fine in order to delay having to comply with the reporting requirements, but this is an issue for the legislature to address, and not the courts." State v. James, 2D18-2552 (4/15/20)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE-NELSON HEARING: Defendant is entitled to a Nelson hearing on claim that attorney for Defendant who had been committed under Jimmy Ryce Act had not contacted him for two years nor done anything on his case. Yzaquirre v. State, 2D19-1180 (4/15/20)

MAILBOX RULE: Under the Mailbox Rule, a document filed by a pro se inmate is deemed filed at the moment in time when the inmate loses control over the document by entrusting its further delivery or processing to agents of the state. Court improperly dismissed Defendant's Motion for Post-Conviction relief as untimely where time stamp showed that Defendant's additional grounds for relief were mailed before the Court ruled on his original motion. Jefferson v. State, 2D19-3012 (4/15/20)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: Five day continuance of VOP hearing due to State's late disclosure of a witness cures any discovery violation, particularly when counsel for Defendant failed to object and had an opportunity to interview the witness. D.G. v. State, 3D19-441 (4/15/20)

HEARSAY: Detective's testimony reciting non-testifying physical description of the person whom she saw running from the alley and whom she believed to be the shooter was hearsay. Brown v. State, 4D18-3031 (4/15/20)

OPENING THE DOOR: Defendant's cross-examination of witness as to whether he knew he had been identified as running from the crime scene does not open the door to hearsay that a different witness had identified the Defendant. The mere fact that testimony may be characterized as incomplete or misleading does not automatically trigger the admission of otherwise inadmissible evidence under the opening the door principle. Rather, the State must show a legitimate need to correct a false impression before resorting to inadmissible evidence, otherwise the principle becomes a mere pretext for the illegitimate use of inadmissible evidence. Brown v. State, 4D18-3031 (4/15/20)

CHILD HEARSAY: Child touching himself while watching television is not corroborating evidence of sexual abuse. Child's pantomime of the alleged abuse in response to the mother's direction to show her what happened is hearsay and not corroboration. The interviewer's testimony that she found the child reliable and trustworthy is not corroborating evidence. Perrault v. Engle, 4D18-3458 (4/15/20)

VOIR DIRE-COURT'S COMMENT: During voir dire, Judge may not comment that the rules "will only allow the most reliable type of evidence to be considered by jurors." "[A]lthough this trial court remarked that it has made the objected-to statement within this introductory explanation for many years, that does not necessarily mean the statement was proper. Once a good faith objection has been

SPEEDY TRIAL: When a defendant files a motion for discharge, the Rule requires a court to conduct an inquiry under subsection 3.191(j), even if the 15-day recapture period has expired. Defendant is not entitled to discharge if he was unavailable for trial. "This interpretation of the rule prevents a defendant from having the benefit of a non-merits termination of the case where the defendant is a significant part of the reason that a case has not advanced to trial." No presumption of nonavailability attaches, but if the state objects to discharge and presents any evidence tending to show nonavailability, the accused must establish, by competent proof, availability during the term. Rivera Almodavar v. State, 4D19-620 (4/15/20)

THREAT COMMUNICATION: Social media post of Defendant's picture with the caption "On my way! School shooter." is sufficient evidence of electronic threat to survive motion to dismiss. Threat need not be aimed at any particular person. Whether a written communication constitutes a threat depends on whether the message was sufficient to cause alarm in reasonable persons. Puy v. SPEEDY TRIAL: Defendant detained and taken to police department for interrogation for sexual battery was not arrested for speedy trial purposes, and thus was not entitled to speedy trial discharge six months later. The four factors for an arrest for speedy trial purposes are 1) whether the purpose or intent of the authority is to effect an arrest; 2) seizure of the person; 3) a communication by the arresting officer of an intention to effect an arrest; and 4) whether the person believes the arresting officer is there to arrest and detain him. The subjective intent of the officers, not the perception of the detainee controls. Actual communication of the intent to arrest is necessary.

VICTIM'S RIGHTS: Victim has no rights under the CVRA (Crime Victim's Rights Act) where charges are not filed against suspect under a non-prosecution agreement (here, Jeffrey Epstein). Rights under the Act do not attach until criminal proceedings have been initiated against a defendant, either by complaint, information, or indictment. APPEAL-SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: The standard of review for determining the substantive reasonableness of a sentence is abuse of discretion. NOTICE TO RECEIVE CHILD PORNOGRAPHY: Defendant's private, person-to-person text messages asking an individual he thought was a minor to send him sexually explicit pictures of herself cannot support a conviction for "mak[ing]" a "notice" to receive child pornography in violation of 18 U.S.C. § 2251(d)(1). CATCHY METAPHORS: "As our back-and-forth, tennis-match-ish analysis indicates, neither dictionary definitions nor the traditional canons of statutory interpretation neatly resolve the question we face here. . . .To resolve this seemingly intractable ambiguity, therefore, we turn to a traditional interpretive tiebreaker: the rule of lenity." USA v. Caniff, No. 17-12410 (11th Cir. (4/9/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712410.op2.pdf>

RULE OF LENITY: "The rule of lenity holds that if at the end of the interpretive road—having exhausted the applicable semantic and contextual canons of interpretation, and thus 'seiz[ed] everything from which aid can be derived,' [citation omitted] meaningful doubt remains about the application of a criminal statute to a defendant's conduct, then the doubt should be resolved in the defendant's favor. USA v. Caniff, No. 17-12410 (11th Cir. 4/9/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712410.op2.pdf>

RULE OF LENITY: The rule of lenity is born of the principle that the law "must speak in language that is clear and definite if it is to render something a crime." USA v. Caniff, No. 17-12410 (11th Cir. 4/9/20)

HARASSING A VICTIM: The crime of harassing a victim does not require a finding of substantial emotional distress. The definition of "harass" in the crime of harassing a victim of a crime is different from the definition of "harass" in the stalking statute. Numerous calls to the victim to get her to change her story and to have the charges dropped is harassment. Risech v. State, 1D18-2415 (4/9/20)

HARASS-DEFINITION: In the absence of an internal definition in a statute, a court may consider the dictionary definition of a word to ascertain its meaning in everyday usage. The dictionary meaning of the term “harass” is to “exhaust, fatigue,” “to annoy persistently,” or “to create an unpleasant or hostile situation by uninvited and unwelcome verbal or physical conduct.” Risech v. State, 1D18-2415 (4/9/20)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-JUROR: Where counsel announces that “this is an acceptable jury to the defense,” he waives any objection to the seating of the juror he had unsuccessfully sought to strike. Risech v. State, 1D18-2415 (4/9/20)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-JUROR-RACE: A white male is a member of the distinct racial group for purposes of a Melbourne inquiry. Defense counsel's explanation for striking a juror that he “simply did not like him from the responses that he provided” is not a race-neutral reason for a peremptory strike. Risech v. State, 1D18-2415 (4/9/20)

FIRST DEGREE MURDER: Premeditation is a fully formed conscious purpose to kill that may be formed in a moment and need only exist for such time as will allow the accused to be conscious of the nature of the act he is about to commit and the probable result of that act. Hudson v. State, 1D18-2604 (4/9/20)

VEHICULAR HOMICIDE: Vehicular homicide requires a willful and wanton disregard for the safety of persons or property. The repeated instances of illegal as well as reckless driving maneuvers within a short distance from and short time before the crash is sufficient evidence to sustain the conviction for vehicular homicide. Thrift v. State, 1D19-998 (4/9/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: A habitual felony offender sentence is not a new substantive offense, and therefore does not violate double jeopardy and does not require a jury determination. Lyons v. State, 1D19-2136 (4/9/20)

on each count only if it exceeds collective statutory maximum, not each individual statutory maximum. Question Certified; Is the lowest permissible sentence an individual minimum sentence and not a collective minimum sentence when there are multiple convictions of sentencing on a single scoresheet. Fruehwirth v. State, 5D19-297 (4/9/20)

COSTS: Court lacks the authority to impose costs and fines in criminal cases unless such imposition is specifically authorized by statute and the statutory authority is cited in the defendant's written disposition order. Costs may be imposed on remand. Charles v. State, 5D19-530 (4/9/20)

COSTS: Court may not impose investigative costs in the absence of request from the State. Conley v. State, 5D19-1794 (4/9/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Absent attachment of records showing the Defendant is not entitled to relief, he is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claimant counsel was ineffective for failing to investigate an entrapment defense. Prosecutor's summary of the controlled buys on recordings is not record evidence. Comments made by attorneys are not evidence. Dunnell v. State, 5D19-2195 (4/9/20)

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS-CONSPIRACY: Where there is a conviction for a multi-object conspiracy, the evidence needs only to be sufficient to sustain a conviction for any one of the charged objectives. USA v. Maher, No. 19-10074 (4/8/20)

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS-CONTINUING OFFENSE: The five year statute of limitations does not bar prosecution for unlawfully receiving and retaining government property because the offence--retaining--is continuing. The date of receipt of the fraudulently TARP grant money more than five years before prosecution does not bar prosecution for the continuing offense. The statute of limitations commenced running on the date that the Defendant last retained the grant money. USA v. Maher, No. 19-10074 (11th Cir. 4/8/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201910074.pdf>

ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT: Under the elements clause of the ACCA a “violent felony” has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person of another. “Use” requires active employment of violent physical force. Making terroristic threats is not a violent felony for purposes of the ACCA enhancement because not all acts constituting the crime involve use of physical force against another. USA v. Oliver, No. 17-15565 (11th Cir. 4/8/20)

http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201715565.reh.pdf

CATEGORICAL APPROACH: "Categorical approach" and "Modified categorical approach" explained. "Means" and "alternative elements" distinguished. USA v. Oliver, No. 17-15565 (11th Cir. 4/8/20)

VOP-POSSESSION OF PORNOGRAPHY: Probation may not be revoked for the underlying offense of possession of child pornography based on the Defendant's possession of a Penthouse magazine, absent evidence that Penthouse is relevant to the defendant's deviant behavior pattern, and the affidavit only charged a violation of Condition 21, rather than a violation of Condition 33 (which prohibits possession of any pornography regardless of whether it is relevant to the Defendant's deviant behavior). Bryan v. State, 2D19-2331 (4/8/20)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: After Miranda warnings, when Defendant, asked if she wished to make a statement says "No," "No," and "Definitely not," and investigator persisted in asking "clarifying questions" until Defendant gave in, the resulting statements should have been suppressed. Court's conclusion that the investigator was "understandably confused" was erroneous. Kramer v. State, 4D18-88 (4/8/20)

DOCTOR-PATIENT PRIVILEGE: Defendant did not waive her doctor-patient privilege by saying that her doctor had upped her prescription level. Doctor-Patient privilege applies to prescriptions, regardless whether the Defendant's blood sample contained the prescribed medications and that the privileged evidence was admitted in rebuttal. There is no rebuttal/impeachment exception to the Doctor-Patient privilege. Kramer v. State, 4D18-88 (4/8/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: One cannot be found guilty of both DUI manslaughter and vehicular homicide for a single death. Kramer v. State, 4D18-88 (4/8/20)

SENTENCING-DUI- DEFERRED SENTENCE: Unclear whether Court is required to immediately sentence the Defendant upon a conviction for DUI manslaughter/vehicular homicide based on s. 948.01, which prohibits deferring sentence. "It appears that the trial court believed that 'defer' equated to the grant of a continuance for sentencing. . .We are aware that the trial court's interpretation is widespread in the county and circuit courts. . .But courts and practitioners have expressed frustration with the application of that interpretation. . .The issue is an interesting one [which might need to be certified] to the Florida Supreme Court under different circumstances." Kramer v. State, 4D18-88 (4/8/20)

RESENTENCING: Resentencing entitles the defendant to a de novo sentencing hearing with the full array of due process rights. Resentencing proceedings must be a clean slate. Defendant is entitled to another resentencing hearing where statements made by the trial court and the prosecutor at the hearing patently evidence their belief that the only purpose of remand was to introduce evidence that Dean qualified as a Prison Releasee Reoffender. Dean v. State, 4D18-2406 (4/8/20)

COMPETENCY: Court must make a written order finding the Defendant competent; clerk's notes are not sufficient. Drennan v. State, 4D19-857 (4/8/20)

COMPETENCY: Court must make an independent determination of competency before the trial court could proceed to a violation of probation hearing. Court may not rely upon the stipulation of the parties. Bruni v. State, 4D19-885 (4/8/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG SNIFF: Officers may conduct a dog sniff of a stopped car after the Defendant is removed and arrested for driving with a suspended license, and if the dog alerts, may search the car. Gant does not preclude the search because the dog sniff was not a search. State v. Fredericks, 4D19-2407 (4/8/20)

JURISDICTION-RESENTENCING ORDER-MINOR: Court lacks jurisdiction to rescind its order granting Defendant a resentencing hearing based on the Supreme Court's change in the law. Washington v. State, 4D19-2537 (4/8/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-MAILBOX RULE: Where Defendant provided un rebutted proof that his motion for postconviction relief was timely filed, we find that the postconviction court erred. A pro se inmate's filing is presumed to be filed on the date the inmate lost control over the document by entrusting it to prison officials. Simmons v. State, 1D18-4441 (4/7/20)

ATTEMPTED SEXUAL BATTERY: Defendant properly convicted of attempted sexual battery where he put the victim in a tight bear hug while grabbing her breasts and buttocks while trying to throw her on the bed after she had unambiguously refused his sexual advances by slapping his hand away and telling him no. JUVENILE-COMMITMENT: Court erred in committing the Child to a non-secure residential program without first requesting a commitment level recommendation from DJJ. O.G. v. State, 1D19-2683 (4/7/20)

INEFFECTIVE APPELLATE COUNSEL-PIPELINE: Appellate counsel was not ineffective for failing to raise an issue which had not yet been decided and which would not apply retroactively. Even if the case on which Defendant relied (Montgomery) had applied retroactively, error, if any, would have been harmless since Supreme Court receded from Montgomery. Toliver v. State, 1D19-3842 (4/7/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-AUTOMOBILE STOP: When an officer lacks information negating an inference that the owner is the driver of the vehicle, and the registered owner has a suspended licence, the stop is reasonable. The fact that the registered owner of a vehicle is not always the driver of the vehicle does not negate the reasonableness of the officer's inference that the owner is the driver. Kansas v. REASONABLE SUSPICION: "[R]easonable suspicion is an 'abstract' concept that cannot be reduced to 'a neat set of legal rules,'". . . and we have repeatedly rejected courts' efforts to impose a rigid structure on the concept of reasonableness." Kansas v. Glover, No. 18–556 (4/6/20)

DWLS (J. Kagan, concurring): "Several studies have found that most license suspensions do not relate to driving at all; what they most relate to is being poor." Kansas v. Glover, No. 18–556 (4/6/20)

QUOTATION (J. Sotomayor, dissenting): "For starters, the majority flips the burden of proof. It permits Kansas police officers to effectuate roadside stops whenever they lack 'information negating an inference' that a vehicle's unlicensed owner is its driver. . . This has it backwards: The State shoulders the burden to supply the key inference that tethers observation to suspicion." Kansas v. Glover, No. 18–556 (4/6/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-556_e1pf.pdf

QUOTATION (J. Sotomayor, dissenting): "The majority today has paved the road to finding reasonable suspicion based on nothing more than a demographic profile. . . That has never been the law, and it never should be. The majority's justifications for this new approach have no foundation in fact or logic." Kansas v. Glover, No. 18-556 (4/6/20)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: The proper remedy for a prisoner to pursue in challenging a sentence-reducing credit determination by the Department, where the prisoner has exhausted administrative remedies and is not alleging entitlement to immediate release, is a mandamus petition filed in circuit court. COMPETENCY: Where, upon remand, the trial court cannot determine whether Mr. Sutton was competent at the time he entered his plea, Defendant must be allowed to withdraw his plea, if he is competent and so chooses. RESENTENCING-MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: Court may rescind its order for resentencing of a minor sentenced to life with possibility of parole, who was granted an order for resentencing under R.3.800, but for whom the hearing never occurred. Because R. 3.800 was a nonfinal order, court retains inherent authority to reconsider and rescind it. Because minors sentenced to life with possibility of parole are no longer subject to Graham, Court may deny the Defendant a resentencing hearing. Rules 3.800 and 3.850 distinguished. Conflict certified. Morgan v. State, 2D18-4940 (4/3/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy precludes multiple convictions for Resisting several officers without violence where the efforts to resist her arrest were part of a continuous episode. Struggling from the hotel to the patrol car is a single episode. Bruzzese v. State, 5D18-3945 (4/3/20)

DEATH PENALTY: Whether the sufficiency and weight of the aggravating factors outweigh the mitigating circumstances are not determinations subject to the beyond a reasonable doubt standard of proof. Bright v. State, SC17-2244 (4/2/20)

ARGUMENT-DEATH PENALTY: "Your decision should not be influenced by feelings of prejudice or by racial or ethnic bias or sympathy. That's not a basis for your decision, that he was abused, et cetera. No. You cannot have sympathy for that," is not an invitation to ignore mitigation but rather an explanation "that the evidence of abuse is properly considered as mitigation, and that their decisions may not be based upon sympathy." Bright v. State, SC17-2244 (4/2/20)

ARGUMENT-DEATH PENALTY: "And by the way,. . ., you're never compelled to actually vote for death. But. . .this is the case that you should in terms of following the law," is not an assertion that it is a juror's duty under the law to vote for a sentence of death. . .because the prosecutor "did not not imply that they were required by law to do so." Bright v. State, SC17-2244 (4/2/20)

ARGUMENT-DEATH PENALTY: Prosecutor's comment that the mitigation must be proven to a reasonable certainty was a misstatement of law but not fundamental error. Absent a contemporaneous objection, the error cannot result in a new sentencing hearing. Bright v. State, SC17-2244 (4/2/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to SYG immunity where trial court's finding that clear and convincing evidence overcame the Defendant's self-defense claim is supported by competent substantial evidence. JURY INSTRUCTION-LESSER INCLUDED: Court did not err in not instructing the jury on battery as a permissive lesser included offense of false imprisonment where the information did not allege all the statutory elements of the permissive lesser included offense (battery) nor was there evidence adduced at trial to establish all of the elements. Earnest v. State, 1D18-5244 (4/1/20)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL-PRESERVATION: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial on claim that Court applied the wrong standard in denying his Motion for New Trial where he argued that the Court erred in sustaining the State's objection to Asked and Answered and erred in not granting Defendant's Motion for Judgment of Acquittal. Defendant did not preserve the issue of whether the Court failed to apply the correct standard of whether the verdict is contrary to the weight of the evidence when Defendant neither objected nor sought clarification. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRETEXT: Court may not suppress evidence based on its conclusion that the stop was pretextual. State v. D.M.M., 1D19-2293 (4/1/20)

APPEAL-JURISDICTION-VENUE: Where case is transferred to a different venue in a different district(here, from Polk County, Second District to Alachau County, First District), any appeal mst be filed in the venue to which venue had been transferred. Stephens v. State, 2D18-810 (4/1/20)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Once it becomes clear that a defendant and his counsel are in an adversarial relationship with respect to the defendant's entry of his plea, the defendant is entitled to the appointment of conflict-free counsel to represent him and to assist him on the motion to withdraw plea. Defendant's counsel's assertion that he could not present any legal argument in support of the motion to withdraw plea, left Defendant "in the untenable position of having to orally try and articulate a facially sufficient motion to withdraw his plea at his sentencing hearing without the assistance of counsel . . . [and] evinced a sufficiently adversarial relationship such that the trial court should have appointed. . . conflict-free counsel." Franks v. State, 2D19-811 (4/1/20)

JURY DELIBERATIONS: During deliberations, jury may view videos admitted into evidence outside the presence of the the judge and attorneys. No error in allowing jury to view in private the video which was admitted with muted sound (because of inadmissible comments by the officer) where there is no showing that the juror(s) unmuted the sound. Wright v. State, 3D18-1633 (4/1/20)

CARRYING CONCEALED FIREARM: State must present evidence of Defendant's licensure or lack of a license to carry a concealed firearm. Harmon v. State, 3D18-2410 (4/1/20)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Judge who is caught watching videos on website of Defendant's expert witness immediately before a sentencing hearins and allowed Defendant only one day to file a motion to disqualify is disqualified. "Here, in addition to the extra-record research conducted by the trial court, the unexplained and contradictory imposition of a same-day, less than twelve-hour deadline for filing a written motion to disqualify would cause any reasonably prudent person to fear that he would not receive a fair and impartial resentencing." Sawyer v. State, 3D20-356 (4/1/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: A warrantless blood draw of an unconscious person, incapable of giving actual consent, is lawful based on the presumption that an unconscious defendant has consented, but Defendant must be given an opportunity to demonstrate that his blood would not have been drawn if police had not been seeking BAC information and that police could not have reasonably judged that a warrant application would interfere with other pressing needs or duties. Good summary of contradictory holdings and analyses. McGraw v. State, 4D17-232 (4/1/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-LESSER INCLUDED: Failure to give an instruction on a lesser included offense is not fundamental error. Where Defendant, charged with Attempted First Degree Murder, was convicted of the lesser included offence of Attempted Second Degree Murder, and where the Court erroneously failed to instruct on Attempted Manslaughter by Act, error is not fundamental, so Defendant (who had not objected) is not entitled to relief. The fundamental error test for jury instructions cannot be met where there was no error in the jury instruction for the offense of conviction and there is no claim that the evidence at trial was insufficient to support that conviction. Roberts v. State, 4D17-3877 (4/1/20)

EVIDENCE-RELEVANCE-GUN: Where the evidence at trial does not link a seized gun to the crime charged, the gun is inadmissible in evidence. Where Co-Defendant shot Victim and the Defendant was charged as an accessory, evidence that the Defendant later had a gun in his possession which was not used in the shooting. Jeanbart v. State, 4D18-2726 (4/1/20)

PRO SE ARGUMENT: Court improperly sustained State's "facts not in evidence" objections to Defendant's pro se arguments that he lacked knowledge that co-Defendant would shoot victim where the matters were either in evidence or supported by reasonable inferences from the record. Jeanbart v. State, 4D18-2726 (4/1/20)

VOP-DANGEROUSNESS-JURY FINDING: In VOP, the Sixth Amendment does not require a jury to make a finding of dangerousness when that finding does not change the range of punishment authorized by the original jury verdict or plea of guilty. Section 948.06(8)(e) does not change the range of punishments but merely prevents the judge from deviating from again imposing probation. Hollingsworth v. State, 4D18-3705 (4/1/20)

ATTORNEY: "[T]he trial court was highly critical of appellant's attorney for filing the motion [arguing Apprendi/Alleyne in a VOP sentencing case]. . . [A]ppellant's attorney acknowledged that he was arguing a position contrary to Souza. . . but was advocating in good faith a change in the law. The attorney was acting in full compliance with his professional responsibility. . . Appellate counsel acted in good faith and did not deserve the court's criticism. Hollingsworth v. CONDITIONAL RELEASE: Conditional release statute does not violate the double jeopardy, due process, or ex post facto clauses. There is no entitlement to credit for time spent on conditional release. Napier v. Florida Parole Commission, 4/1/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEATH PENALTY-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Defendant suffered no prejudice from counsel's failure to present penalty phase mitigation beyond showing a photograph of a baseball field and arguing that Jesus, Socrates, Alfred Dreyfus, Jeffrey Dahmer, the Scottsboro Boys, and Charles Manson were victims of arbitrarily imposed death penalties. Sealey v. Warden, Georgia Diagnostic Prison, No. 18-10565 (11th Cir. 3/31/20)

http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201810565 .pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEATH PENALTY-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Defendant suffered no prejudice from counsel's failure to present mitigating evidence from Defender's childhood-- the only evidence presented was a picture of a baseball field-- where the evidence which could have been presented was contradictory and, if presented would not have raised a reasonable probability sufficient to undermine confidence in the outcome. Sealey v. Warden, Georgia Diagnostic Prison, No. 18-10565 (11th Cir. 3/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEATH PENALTY-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE:

Defendant suffered no prejudice justifying a new sentencing hearing where Court denied a motion to continue for one day in order to present a mitigation witness when the evidence is insufficient to show that the witness's testimony would have changed the result. Sealey v. Warden, Georgia Diagnostic Prison, No. 18-10565 (11th Cir. 3/31/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201810565.pdf>

SHACKLES: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial where he was shackled, but no objection is lodged nor is there a showing of prejudice. "We admonish district courts, though, that in the typical case, the record should reflect why restraints are necessary. These security measures should not be the norm, and it is not overly burdensome to articulate why they are needed." USA v. Moore, No. 17-14370 (11th Cir. 3/31/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201714370.pdf>

JURORS: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial where two jurors during deliberations asked to speak to Judge and expressed concern for their personal safety in the event of acquittal where no evidence showed that the jurors' personal safety concerns affected their impartiality and the jury ultimately reached a split verdict. Proper procedure prescribed for similar situations. USA v. Moore, No. 17-14370 (11th Cir. 3/31/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201714370.pdf>

INDICTMENT-POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Indictment does not have to allege that the Defendant know he was a felon. "Reading this knowledge requirement into the statute while also holding that indictments tracking the statute's text are insufficient would be incongruous. Although the government may be well advised to include such mens rea allegations in future indictments, that language is not required to establish jurisdiction. . . "The absence of an element of an offense in an indictment is not tantamount to failing to charge a criminal offense against the United States." USA v. Moore, No. 17-14370 (11th Cir. 3/31/20)

DEPORTATION: Defendant's conviction for aggravated battery constitutes an aggravated felony that made him ineligible for asylum, cancellation of removal, and withholding of removal. Aggravated battery involves physical force under the elements clause definition of an aggravated felony. Lukaj v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 19-13073 (11th Cir. 3/30/20)

CORPUS DELICTI: Corpus delicti prohibits the use of Child's confession that he had possessed the firearm and ammunition found in the bushes in which he had hidden himself. A person's confession to a crime is not sufficient evidence of a criminal act where no independent direct or circumstantial evidence exists to substantiate the occurrence of a crime. The corpus delicti of possession of a firearm by a minor requires evidence that a minor had possessed the firearm. T.C.C. v. State, 2D18-4664 (3/27/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-UNIT OF PROSECUTION: Defendant can be convicted of only one count of unlawfully intercepting a wire communication regardless of the number of individuals in the illegally recorded phone conversation. The allowable unit of prosecution is not determined by the number of individuals whose voices were unlawfully recorded on a single telephone call. Weeks v. State, 5D18-3612 (3/27/20)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/632689/7189199/file/183612_DC08_03272020_081843_i.pdf

SELF-INCRIMINATION-PASSWORD: Error, if any in requiring the Defendant to disclose the password to his cell phone, is not reversible error when no evidence from the search of the phone was used at trial or in the investigation leading to trial. Love v. State, 5D19-413 (3/27/20)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/632691/7189223/file/190413_DC05_03272020_082251_i.pdf

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-LACK OF REMORSE: Court erred in considering Defendant's actions in preparing a defense, such as filing a motion to suppress, as evidence of lack of remorse in imposing sentence. Defendant is entitled to a new sentencing hearing with a different judge. Court impermissibly equated her exercise of her constitutional rights as a lack of remorse. A trial court may not base sentencing decisions on the fact that a defendant exercised his or her right to plead not guilty and proceed to trial. Bici v. State, 5D19-798 (3/27/20)

COSTS: Court may not impose $100 cost for the FDLE Operating Trust Fund without orally pronouncing it, but may reimpose it on remand. Rolfe v. State, 5D19-1151 (3/27/220)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/632695/7189271/file/191151_DC08_03272020_083028_i.pdf

SELF DEFENSE-NON-DEADLY FORCE: Court erred by refusing to give a jury instruction on use of nondeadly force in a case of aggravated battery from a knife wound during an argument about how to disassemble a bedframe. Use of a knife does not summarily equate to the use of deadly force as a matter of law. Croft v. State, 5D19-2266 (3/27/20)

SELF DEFENSE-UNINTENDED VICTIM: Where self-defense is a viable defense to the charge of battery on an intended victim, the defense also operates to excuse the battery on the unintended victim. Croft v. State, 5D19-2266 (3/27/20)

COSTS: Court may not impose investigatory costs unless requested by the State or agency involved. O'Neal v. State, 5D19-3048 (3/27/29)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-WRONG CASE NUMBER: Where defendant twice erroneously filed a motion for postconviction relief under the wrong case number (the case had been Nolle processed and filed under a co-defendant's case number), Court must give the Defendant another opportunity to amend. Woods v. State, 5D19-3216 (3/27/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may not dismiss Motion for Post Conviction Relief as successive without attaching portions of the court record supporting its ruling. Bradley v. State, 5D20-391 (3/27/20)

DEPORTATION-MODIFIED CATEGORICAL APPROACH: Conviction for sexual intercourse with a female without her consent does not qualify as an aggravated felony when the record does not clearly establish whether the offense was forcible rape or statutory rape. The Court may not rely on a criminal complaint that contained a sworn statement from the accuser to conclude that Defendant pleaded guilty to forcible rape. George v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 18-14000 (11th Cir 3/26/20)

MODIFIED CATEGORIGORICAL APPROACH: The modified categorical approach is only a tool that helps implement the categorical approach when a defendant was convicted of violating a divisible statute. It retains the categorical approach's central feature: a focus on the elements, rather than the facts, of a crime. George v. U.S. Attorney General, No. 18-14000 (11th Cir 3/26/20)

DISORDERLY CONDUCT: Words alone--including profanity regarding police officers--cannot support probable cause for disorderly conduct. Alston v. Swarbrick, No. 18-10791 (11th Cir. 3/26/20)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Declining to cooperate or provide useful information in the investigation of another, is not probable cause for obstruction. “His failure to answer Officer Swarbrick’s questions—and even his profanity-laced response—were not even arguably sufficient to support probable cause under § 843.02. . . See id. Because Officer Swarbrick lacked arguable probable cause to arrest Alston under this (or any other) statute, Alston’s false arrest claim must proceed.” Alston v. Swarbrick, No. 18-10791 (11th Cir. 3/26/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201810791.pdf>

EXCESSIVE FORCE: A three-to-five minute period during which officer continuously used pepper spray on Plaintiff's face while he lay on the ground helplessly is a cognizable claim of excessive force. Alston v. Swarbrick, No. 18-10791 (11th Cir. 3/26/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201810791.pdf>

APPEALS-VOP: Revocation of probation reversed where the affidavit of violation of probation is not included in the record on appeal, unless upon remand the Court finds the missing affidavit. Jones v. State, 1D18-4362 (3/26/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-LESSER INCLUDED: Defendant who was charged with aggravated animal cruelty for stomping on puppies is not entitled to an instruction on the permissive lesser-included offense of simple animal cruelty where the information did not allege all the elements of the lesser offense. Johnson v. State, 1D18-4528 (3/26/20)

DNA TESTING: Defendant is not entitled to postconviction DNA testing after he was convicted on the basis of DNA removed from the victim's teeth when she bit his hand during his sexual assault of her. Holmes v. State, 1D19-969 (3/26/20)

COMPETENCY: Case remanded for a retroactive determination of competency where Court had ordered counsel to schedule a competency hearing based on conflict and competency reports but no hearing was ever held. Kellond v. State, 1D19-1288 (3/26/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officer may not detain a suspect who was identified by a citizen informant as the person who tried to turn the knob of the home known not to be his and who declined to talk to the officer. Racial incongruity or a person being allegedly out of place in a particular area, cannot constitute a finding of reasonable suspicion of criminal behavior. Fields v. State, 2D18-5067 (3/25/20)

LOITERING AND PROWLING: Trying to turn a door handle of a house is not loitering and prowling. A vaguely suspicious presence is insufficient to establish the first element of the crime. Fields v. State, 2D18-5067 (3/25/20)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/632479/7186750/file/185067_DC13_03252020_082540_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court lacks jurisdiction to rescind its order for a postconviction Graham resentencing based on Michel because the Defendant's motion had been filed under R 3.850 and the State had not appealed, rather than under R 3.800, which would've been a nonfinal nonappealable order. Croft v. State, 2D18-5109 (3/25/20)

PLEA AGREEMENT-ENFORCEMENT: Because there is no procedure for a motion to enforce a plea agreement, such a claim must be filed pursuant to rule 3.850. Bennett v. State, 2D19-79 (3/25/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PAT DOWN: Officer may not pat down Defendant who was in the house of a robbery suspect absent any evidence that the Defendant have been involved in the robbery or any other criminal activity. General concerns of officer safety do not justify a pat-down. Pat-down searches performed routinely or for safety purposes only are constitutionally impermissible. Townsend v. State, 2D19-2235 (3/25/20)

DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE-JURISDICTION: Court properly dismissed petition for dissolution of marriage where both parties primarily resided in Denmark. Robinson v. Christiansen, 3D19-1709 (3/25/20)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court improperly considered charges for which the Defendant had been acquitted in imposing sentence ("You were charged and went to trial, although you were acquitted at trial of another incident with two counts of resisting an officer. . .and you knew that. I didn't know that until today." Kimbrough v. State, 3D19-1173 (3/25/20)

PLEA-SENTENCING: "[Defendant] argues that the trial court erred in entering a conviction and sentence on count 43, as her plea did not encompass that count." Because the count was included on the scoresheet, resentencing is required. Green v. State, 4D18-2853 (3/25/20)

GUIDELINES-SCORESHEET-DISPUTE: Merely objecting to the sufficiency of proof of a prior offense on a scoresheet, rather than disputing its accuracy or truth, does not obligate the State to introduce corroborating evidence of the conviction. Woods v. State, 4D18-3778 (3/25/20)

COMMITMENT-JUVENILE: Court may only depart from the DJJ's recommendation if it (1) articulates an understanding of the respective characteristics of the opposing restrictiveness levels, and (2) explains why one level is better suited. Where PDR did not provide an alternate commitment recommendation, a second PDR would have been required to determine the appropriate level of commitment. F.L.P. v. State, 4D19-362 (3/25/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for misadvising him to reject plea offer in attempted murder case because he could only be convicted of battery for trying to drown his girlfriend. Mook v. State, 4D19-1422 (3/25/20)

RESTITUTION: Where the loss is of a unique artifact for which market value cannot fully compensate, courts must use replacement cost in determining restitution. “[E]vidence must show that the restitution will make the victim whole—nothing more and nothing less.” Where a precise valuation of a stolen item might not be possible, a court does not abuse its discretion in making a reasonable estimate of the loss, but the Court may not accept the victim’s valuation without adequate support for its assessment. Case remanded for a new restitution hearing. USA v. Goldman, No. 18-13282 (11th Cir. 3/25/20)

SENTENCE-SUBSTANTIVE REASONABLENESS: Although the district court must take into account each of the § 3553(a) factors, it need not discuss them specifically; rather, the court’s acknowledgement that it has considered the §3553(a) factors will suffice. USA v. Goldman, No. 18-13282 (11th Cir. 3/25/20)

PUN-ISHMENT: “Enter Defendant-Appellant Jarred Alexander Goldman (sometimes truth can be stranger than fiction). . .[who] stole Gold Bar 27 from the Museum. This appeal requires us to consider the proper standard—we might call it the gold standard—for determining, for purposes of ordering restitution. . .” “Today we take this golden opportunity to reaffirm that. . .” “Silence in this situation is not golden.” USA v. Goldman, No. 18-13282 (11th Cir. 3/25/20)

HOBBS ACT ROBBERY-CRIME OF VIOLENCE: Hobbs Act robbery does not qualify as a “crime of violence” under the Sentencing Guidelines, but a Florida robbery conviction does. Hobbs Act robbery does not satisfy §4B1.2(a)’s elements clause. Under the categorical approach, the Hobbs Act robbery statute—which can be violated with threats of force to person or property—is broader than the Guidelines’ elements clause definition. USA v. Eason, No. 16-17796 (11th Cir. 3/24/20)

DANGEROUS SEXUAL FELONY OFFENDER-NOTICE: Information does not need to allege that the Defendant qualifies as a Dangerous Sexual Felony Offender (50 year mandatory minimum) where he had been advised before trial that he so qualified and the jury made the factual finding which met the statutory requirements. MEDICAID FRAUD: Court erred in finding Fla. Stat. 409.920(2)(a)2., which criminalizes knowingly making unauthorized Medicaid claims unconstitutional as an invalid delegation of legislative authority and a violation of due process for vagueness. State v. Scharlepp, 1D18-4833 (3/24/20)

APPEAL-PLAIN ERROR: Appellate Court erred by refusing to review the Defendant’s unpreserved argument that Federal Court improperly imposed a consecutive sentence to a pending state court case on the ground that unpreserved factual errors by the District Court are not subject to review. A plain error that affects substantial rights may be considered even though it was not brought to the court’s attention. ”Put simply, there is no legal basis for the Fifth Circuit’s practice of declining to review certain unpreserved factual arguments for plain error.” Davis v. United States, No. 19–5421 (US S. Ct., 3/23/20)

INSANITY DEFENSE: Process Clause does not require States to provide an insanity defense that acquits a defendant who could not “distinguish right from wrong” when committing his crime—or, otherwise put, does not requires States to adopt the moral-incapacity test from M’Naghten. Thorough history of theories of insanity defense. Kahler v. Kansas, No. 18–6135 (US Sct. 3/23/20).

INSANITY DEFENSE: “Defining the precise relationship between criminal culpability and mental illness involves examining the workings of the brain, the purposes of the criminal law, the ideas of free will and responsibility. It is a project demanding hard choices among values, in a context replete with uncertainty, even at a single moment in time. And it is a project, if any is, that should be open to revision over time, as new medical knowledge emerges and as legal and moral norms evolve. Which is all to say that it is a project for state governance, not constitutional law.” Kahler v. Kansas, No. 18–6135 (US Sct. 3/23/20).

QUOTATION: “No insanity rule in this country’s heritage or history was ever so settled as to tie a State’s hands centuries later.” Kahler v. Kansas, No. 18–6135 (US Sct. 3/23/20).

QUOTATION (BREYER, DISSENTING): “The criminal law does not adopt, nor does it perfectly track, moral law. . . But the criminal law nonetheless tries in various ways to prevent the distance between criminal law and morality from becoming too great.” Kahler v. Kansas, No. 18–6135 (US Sct. 3/23/20).

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Search is lawful where officer unlawfully entered the curtilage of a home, then, to find a convenient place to urinate, wandered into the open field by an abandoned hog barn (outside the curtilage) and saw inside the murdered victim’s purse. Because officer entered area by the hog pen to pee rather than to investigate, search is legal. State v. Ware, 1D18-1443 (3/20/20)

RESENTENCING-PRESENCE OF DEFENDANT: Defendant's presence is not required for the Court to strike conviction which had previously been vacated, and a handwritten correction is a purely ministerial act for which the Defendant's presence is not required. Copeland v. State, 1D19-645 (3/20/20)

LIFE SENTENCE-HOMICIDE-MINOR: Court abused its discretion in sentencing to life in prison, with review after 25 years, a 17 year old girl who shot and killed a 77 year old man who had sexually abused her for five years. Court failed to meaningfully assess Defendant's background and remarkable rehabilitation. Court improperly considered Defendant's years of sexual molestation as evidence of "a loving family, with open physical affection, walks, and trips to the park." J.M.H. v. State, 2D17-3721 (3/20/20)

TIMELINESS-MAILED SERVICE: Defendant's Motion for rehearing is timely when filed seventeen days after the date of service of the order denying his 3.850 motion. Time limit for a motion for rehearing is 15 days, but by rule Defendant is allowed an additional three days if the order is served by mail or e-mail (this rule has since been rescinded). Cox v. State, 2D17-3822 (3/20/20)

SENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Forty-year mandatory minimum sentence with review after twenty-five years for a minor convicted of murder is not unconstitutional under the Eighth Amendment. Court improperly sentenced Defendant to a sentence lower than forty year mandatory minimum. State v. Moran, 2D18-942 (3/20/20)

SNAP OUT MEMORANDUM: A "snap out" memorandum of sentence form does not qualify as a rendered sentence that can be attached to a commitment. "Simply put, the Department of Corrections has no obligation to regard a local snap-out form as a proper sentencing document in lieu of the standard, statewide judgment and sentence form." Pittman v. State, 2D18-4199 (3/20/20)

CONTEMPT-DIRECT: Defendant cannot be found in direct criminal contempt when he refuses in court to enter passcode to his phone, claiming he forgot it, and Court heard testimony from officer that he had previously refused to enter the code without claiming forgetfulness. Whenever a judge must rely on additional evidence not directly observed by the trial judge, the proceeding is no longer direct criminal contempt but becomes indirect criminal contempt. State v. Ware, 2D18-4318 (3/20/20)

VOP-SEX OFFENDER: Defendant cannot be found to have violated sex offender probation where the porn on his found was not related to the deviant behavior of his conviction. The statutory definition of lewd and lascivious molestation is insufficient to establish the Defendant's deviant behavior. Alvarez v. State, 2D19-565 (3/20/20)

WILLIAMS RULE: In case of sexual molestation by fondling the Child under her underwear, the State is entitled to present Williams Rule evidence of Defendant fondling a child under her bathing suit three years before. The similarity test has been abrogated in child molestation cases, and there is no heightened similarity requirement where the molestations occur outside of the familial context. State v. Hall, 2D19-2092 (3/20/20)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court may not enter a downward departure sentence based on his conclusion that the Victim and her family law attorney were using the criminal proceeding to gain leverage in Family Court. State v. Griffith, 5D19-1405 (3/20/20)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: State's failure to disclose four witnesses' statements, a statement from the victim, the identities of four Marion Youth Academy staff members who are present immediately after the battery and six eyewitnesses constituted a discovery violation. Court's failed to determine whether the violation was (1) inadvertent or willful, (2) trivial or substantial, and (3) whether it procedurally prejudiced the opposing party's ability to prepare for trial. Defense counsel's inability to depose or interview all witnesses is cognizable prejudice. Frazier v. State, 5D19-1671 (3/20/20)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Because State's discovery violation prevented the Defendant from being adequately prepared for trial before expiration of the speedy trial., The Defendant must be discharged. Discharge is required when State's discovery violations prejudiced defendant and are uncorrectable within speedy trial period. Frazier v. State, 5D19-1671 (3/20/20)

DEATH PENALTY: Death penalty is lawful where jury unanimously found the existence of at least one statutory aggravating circumstance beyond a reasonable doubt. Hurst has been receded from (Poole). Jury's verdict that the Defendant was guilty of armed kidnapping and sexual battery is sufficient legal basis for the trial court to find that the Defendant murdered the victim while committing or attempting to commit kidnapping and sexual battery. Boyd v. State, SC18-1589 (3/19/20)

DEATH PENALTY: Pursuant to Poole, there is no Hurst v. Florida or Hurst v. State error when a unanimous jury finding establishes the existence of at least one statutory aggravating circumstance beyond a reasonable doubt. A jury must find the aggravating circumstance that makes the defendant death eligible, but the jury is not constitutionally required to weigh the aggravating and mitigating circumstances or to make the ultimate sentencing decision. Defendant's contemporaneous convictions for sexual battery and robbery establish the aggravators of sexual battery and that the killing was for pecuniary gain. Reed v. State, SC19-714 (3/19/20)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: Controlled phone call between the Defendant in the victim alluding to sexual acts occurring after the victim had turned 16 (not acts charged in the information) is unduly prejudicial and not inextricably intertwined. "Not only do we conclude that the discussion of sex after the victim had turned sixteen was unfairly prejudicial, but we also conclude that the discussion was not inextricably intertwined with the charged crimes." An erroneous admission of irrelevant collateral crime evidence is presumed harmful. New trial required. Woolman v. State, 2D17-4459 (3/18/20)

SEX OFFENSE-FAMILIAL OR CUSTODIAL AUTHORITY-JURY INSTRUCTION: Teachers are not, by reason of their chosen profession, custodians of their students at all times, particularly when school is recessed for the summer. "Custodial authority" requires both custody and control, and it does not allow for an alternative of a duty or obligation to care for another. Jury instruction that the defendant could be found guilty if he had "custody or control" is a fundamentally erroneous misstatement of law. Woolman v. State, 2D17-4459 (3/18/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment to SYG changing the burden of proof is a procedural change in the law and applies to all Stand Your Ground immunity hearings conducted on or after the statute's effective date (June 9, 2017). "Because Nelson's immunity hearing was held on June 9, 2017, the same day the amendment became effective, he is entitled to a new immunity hearing conducted under the amended statute." Nelson v. State, 2D18-39 (3/18/20)

VOP: In revoking probation, Court must enter a written order listing the specific conditions the defendant violated. Ford v. State, 2D18-4106 (3/18/20)

VOP-HEARSAY: Probation may not be revoked based on allegation that the Defendant moved without permission based on the hearsay statements of the Defendant's neighbor and girlfriend that he had moved. The fact that the probation officer was unable to make contact with Defendant at his home does not prove that he had moved. Bailey v. State, 2D19-1395 (3/18/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Child is not in constructive possession of narcotics in the kitchen just because he is closest to it. Mere proximity to contraband does not provide probable cause to arrest the person closest to that contraband. Because the Defendant was unlawfully arrested for possessing the cocaine on the stove, the marijuana found in his pocket incident to the unlawful arrest must be suppressed. J.J. v. State, 3D18-398 (3/18/20)

FACTUAL FINDINGS-DEFERENCE: Appellate court need not defer to the trial court's factual findings when it has the benefit of seeing the video recording itself. "Our deference to the trial court's superior vantage point regarding credibility findings and the live testimony of witnesses is not fully applicable to our consideration of the video." J.J. v. State, 3D18-398 (3/18/20)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/632006/7181545/file/180398_DC13_03182020_100329_i.pdf

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Cocaine in open view on the kitchen stove is not in the constructive possession of the closest person to it. Mere proximity to a substance does not establish that the person intentionally exercised control over the substance in the absence of additional evidence. J.J. v. State, 3D18-398 (3/18/20)

VALID PRESCRIPTION DEFENSE-JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Any error in failing to give the valid prescription jury instruction is harmless where the Defendant is convicted of the lesser included offense of purchasing oxycodone for which the defense is not available. Further, any failure to give the valid prescription defense is harmless error where the evidence supporting the defense "was not merely weak but flimsy." Potter v. State, 3D18-324 (3/18/20)

WITHHOLD OF ADJUDICATION-APPEAL: Although the Court may not withhold adjudication on a first-degree felony, the error in withholding adjudication is not fundamental, and so the State may not appeal unless it had made a contemporaneous objection. "The State's failure to contemporaneously object at sentencing, and its near acquiescence to [Defendant's request that the judge withhold adjudication, require us to affirm the court's ruling." State v. Ervin, 4D19-626 (3/18/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for leading him to believe that hearsay was inadmissible in VOP hearings. Mathieu v. State, 4D19-1029 (3/18/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/632021/7181732/file/191029_DC08_03182020_093416_i.pdf

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: When a defendant files a pro se motion to withdraw plea alleging that his attorney misadvised him, misrepresented the terms of the plea, or coerced him into entering a plea, an adversarial relationship exists and the trial court should not strike the pleading as a nullity. Court should either permit counsel to withdraw or discharge counsel and appoint conflict-free counsel to represent the defendant. Graves v. State, 4D19-1040 (3/18/20)

RESTITUTION: Defendants' (husband and wife) argument that they should be assessed restitution in some “minimal amount,” rather than $740,000, and then be allowed to “live their lives” as “a happily married couple” is rejected. USA v. Pazos Cingari, No. 17-12262 (11th Cir 3/17/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712262.pdf>

RESTITUTION-JOINT AND SEVERAL LIABILITY: Principles of joint and several liability may not apply where only one partner profited from the scheme, but here, where the husband and wife team were both actively involved in the scheme, joint and several liability applies. USA v. Pazos Cingari, No. 17-12262 (11th Cir 3/17/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712262.pdf>

FRAUD-IMMIGRATION APPLICATIONS: Where Defendants operated a scheme of preparing fraudulent immigration applications without their clients' knowledge of the false statements therein, to the detriment of their clients, the sentencing guideline for fraud (§2B1.1) should be applied, not the guideline for falsifying immigration forms (§2L2.1). USA v. Pazos Cingari, No. 17-12262 (11th Cir 3/17/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712262.pdf>

SPLITTING HAIRS: "Although the Cingaris zoom in on the phrase 'specifically covered' and contrast it with the commentary's use of 'more aptly covered,' these phrases are connected to distinct nouns: another offense established must be 'specifically covered' elsewhere, and the conduct 'involv[ed]' with that offense must be 'more aptly covered.'" USA v. Pazos Cingari, No. 17-12262 (11th Cir 3/17/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712262.pdf>

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION-RULE OF LENITY: Whether the rule of lenity can be applied to the non-statutory advisory Sentencing Guidelines is an open question. "The rule of lenity applies only if, after seizing everything from which aid can be derived, we can make no more than a guess as to what Congress intended." USA v. Pazos Cingari, No. 17-12262 (11th Cir 3/17/20)

CONSPIRACY TO COMMIT HOBBS ACT ROBBERY: Conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act Robbery is not a crime of violence. Conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act Robbery cannot serve as the sole predicate offense for a conviction for using a firearm during a crime of violence under 18 USC § 924(c). Hossain v. USA, No. 17-13135 (11th Cir. 3/13/20)

EIGHT AMENDMENT-MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: A juvenile offender's sentence does not implicate Graham, and therefore Miller, unless it meets the threshold requirement of being a life sentence or the functional equivalent of a life sentence. Forty year sentence committed by a minor is not a de facto life sentence. Prior precedent receded from or distinguished as dicta. Previous holdings that resentencing is required for all juvenile offenders serving a sentence longer than twenty years without the opportunity for early release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation are receded from. ARGUMENT-LACK OF KNOWLEDGE: New trial is required where prosecutor misstated the law by saying that "Nowhere does it say that there is a fourth element in there that. . . says that [Defendant] knowingly possessed hydromorphone." Knowledge of the illicit nature of the controlled substance requires knowledge of the specific substance that was charged. Lack of knowledge of the illicit nature may be asserted as an affirmative defense. If the defendant asserts this defense then the defendant does not have to prove a lack of knowledge of the illicit nature of the controlled substance. Instead, the State has the burden to prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the defendant knew the illicit nature of the substance. Acevedo v. State, 2D18-844 (3/13/20)

CHILD NEGLECT: Defendant does not commit second-degree child neglect by hesitating to call an ambulance to see if the child gets better when child is found unresponsive. There was no evidence that Defendant's conduct after the incident caused great bodily harm, permanent disability, or permanent disfigurement. Jones v. State, 2D18-2306 (3/13/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEATH PENALTY: On facts, counsel was not ineffective for advising the Defendant to plead guilty and waive a penalty phase jury. Sanchez-Torres v. State, SC19-211 (3/12/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to file a motion to suppress confession based on detectives' implied threat to arrest the Defendant's mother for tampering with evidence. MANDATORY MINIMUM-SECOND DEGREE MURDER-FIREARM-SAY WHAT ?!!: A mandatory minimum life sentence for attempted second degree murder with a firearm is lawful, but a sentence of life imprisonment with a mandatory minimum of twenty-five years is not, at least when the trial court chooses to impose a sentence beyond the selected mandatory minimum sentence pursuant to the 10-20-Life statute. BAIL-EXCESSIVE: Aggregate Bond of $360,000 ($1000 or $500 per count) for multiple counts of child pornography is excessive. In setting bond, the court must impose the first, least restrictive, listed condition that would reasonably protect the community from risk of physical harm to persons, assure the presence of the accused at trial, and assure the integrity of the judicial process. STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment to SYG law changing burden of proof is procedural, rather than substantive, and thus applies to all Stand Your Ground hearings conducted on or after its effective date.

EVIDENCE-REDACTION-INVESTIGATIVE TECHNIQUE: "We begin our analysis by observing a basic principle: it is error to permit a witness to comment on the credibility of another witness because the jury alone determines the credibility of witnesses." The State's argument that the detectives were simply engaging in appropriate investigative technique, while true, does not mean that the jury is permitted to hear the detectives' statements in order to provide context. JURY INSTRUCTIONS-PROMULGATION: New Rule of Judicial Administration 2.270 changes procedure for creating or modifying standard jury instructions. "This Court has determined that the current process for developing and authorizing standard jury instructions is more cumbersome than necessary, and that. . . some wrongly believe that by authorizing for publication and use standard instructions prepared by the committees, the Court has ruled on the legal correctness of those instructions. . . Therefore, . . . the Court has determined that it should no longer be involved in the development and authorization for use of Florida's standard jury instructions. Rather, the three committees the Court has created to prepare standard jury instructions should be authorized to develop and approve, by two-thirds vote, new and amended standard jury instructions." Procedure established for trial court to modify standard instructions. LESSER INCLUDED-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT-RECKLESS DRIVING:

Reckless driving is not a permissive lesser included offense for aggravated assaults when the weapon is an automobile. An instruction on a permissive lesser included offense may be given only when both the accusatory pleading and the evidence supports the commission of the lesser. The elements of the offense cannot be established by mere inference. "[T]he notion that the charging information should be viewed in light of the evidence presented at trial inappropriately conflates the two independent considerations set forth by this Court for decades as the test for determining what constitutes a permissive lesser-included offense. . . , essentially eliminating the first requirement that all elements of a lesser offense 'must' be factually alleged in the charging document in order for the offense to qualify as a permissive lesser-included offense." Anderson v. State, SC18-1059 (3/5/20)

HUH?: "As a factual matter, alleging use of an automobile [to commit aggravated assault] is not the same as alleging driving because an automobile could be used to commit the greater offense without driving," such as by . . POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Failure of counsel to move to suppress a stolen medical encyclopedia, even if meritorious, is not prejudicial when other evidence, including unique items lawfully seized (a Minnie Mouse keychain, and other things) establish that the Defendant was the robber and murderer. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is procedurally barred from arguing a motion for post conviction relief that law enforcement unlawfully serves to self and without a warrant where he did not raise the issue on direct appeal. PREEMPTION: Identity theft/false employment documents used by undocumented aliens are not preempted federal immigration law, and thus are subject to state prosecution. Provision of INA that information in I-9 can only be used for limited purposes does not preclude state prosecution for use of fraudulent employment documents by undocumented aliens. Kansas v. PREEMPTION: “From the beginning of our country, criminal law enforcement has been primarily a responsibility of the States, and that remains true today. . . Our federal system would be turned upside down if we were to hold that federal criminal law preempts state law whenever they overlap, and there is no basis for inferring that federal criminal statutes preempt state laws whenever they overlap.” Kansas v. CONTAINER FOR THE THING CONTAINED: “A tangible object can be ‘contained in’ only one place at any point in time, but an item of information is different. It may be ‘contained in’ many different places, and it is not customary to say that a person uses information that is contained in a particular source unless the person makes use of that source.” Kansas v. THING CONTAINED FOR THE CONTAINER: “I would find myself lying awake at night saying over and over, ‘The thinger for the thing contained.’ . . .I would stare at the ceiling and try to think of an example of the Thing Contained for the Container. . .I finally hit on one. . .If a woman were to grab up a bottle of Grade A and say to her husband, ‘Get away from me or I’ll hit you with the milk,’ that would be a Thing Contained for the Container. The next day in class I raised my hand and brought my curious discovery straight out. . . [I]t never occurred to me that the other children would laugh. They laughed loudly and long. When Miss Groby had quieted them she said to me rather coldly, ‘That was not really amusing, James.’” Thurber, James. “Here lies Miss Groby,” The Thurber Carnival.

SENTENCE REDUCTION-YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Court may not retroactively reclassify a Defendant as a youthful offender after already imposing a mandatory minimum prison sentence without the youthful offender designation after the Defendant had turned 21. State v. Johns, 2D18-1844 (3/4/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Directing a juvenile probationer to "stand up" during a curfew check is "a minor inconvenience," not an unlawful detention. Where marijuana was near the Child, the encounter was a legitimate investigatory stop. Child's mother's claim that the contraband belonged to an unseen cousin fell short of dispelling suspicion. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant may not pursue by writ of habeas corpus relief from his conviction from several years earlier based on a dubious and possibly fraudulent claim of juror tampering which had been the subject of a previously withdrawn 3.850 motion. APPEAL-CERTIORARI: Certiorari may not be used to redress mere legal error, and may only be used to repair a material injury that cannot be corrected on appeal. Temporary placement of child in foster care cannot be challenged by petition for writ of certiorari. J.G. v. DCF, 319-2206 (3/4/20)

COMPETENCY-RETROACTIVE DETERMINATION: Court errors in making a nunc pro tunc competency determination as of the time of trial based on an expert's report completed two years before the trial. A new competency evaluation is required. Ramsay v. State, 4D19-951 (3/4/20)

SENTENCING-SCORESHEET: Offenses for which the Defendant had completed his probation before violating should not be included on scoresheet as additional offenses because they were not before the court for sentencing. An offense should not be scored as an additional offense following the revocation of a defendant's probation if the defendant completed his sentence as to that offense before the VOP occurred. DOUBLE JEOPARDY-INCREASE OF SENTENCE: Court violated double jeopardy by increasing, six days later, the Defendant's initial

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-COMPETENCY: When a postconviction claim for ineffective assistance of counsel is based on counsel's alleged failure to properly challenge the defendant's competency, Defendant must set forth clear and convincing circumstances that create a real, substantial and legitimate doubt as to the movant's competency. STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: "I don't know what all these legal questions mean, so I want to, like have somebody with me," is invoking right to an attorney. "I'm not trying to be difficult or anything. STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: The heavy burden to show voluntary waiver of Miranda rights is even more onerous when the suspect is a juvenile. In the case of a juvenile, the issue of voluntariness requires consideration of (1) the manner in which the Miranda rights were administered, including any cajoling or trickery; (2) the suspect's age, experience, background and intelligence; (3) the fact that the suspect's parents were not contacted and the juvenile was not given an opportunity to consult with his parents before questioning; (4) the fact that the questioning took place in the station house; and (5) the fact that the interrogators did not secure a written waiver of the Miranda rights at the outset. APPEAL-REVIEW-DEFERENCE: When a trial court's ruling on a Miranda issue is based on an audio or videotape, the trial court is in no better position to evaluate the evidence than the appellate court, which need not defer to the trial court's conclusions concerning whether N.J.O. invoked his rights and whether the subsequent waiver was knowing and voluntary. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-RESIDENCE-WARRANT: The affidavit in the warrant application must satisfy two elements: first, that a particular person has committed a crime -- the commission element, and, second, that evidence relevant to the probable criminality is likely located at the place to be searched -- the nexus element. Conclusory affidavit about a single drug transaction with few details is legally insufficient. Case remanded to determine whether the search is valid under the Leon good faith exception. Hicks v. LIFE SENTENCE-HOMICIDE-MINOR-JURY FINDING: Alleyne requires that a jury must make the factual finding under the statute as to whether a juvenile offender actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill the victim. An Alleyne violation can be considered harmless if a rational jury would have found beyond a reasonable doubt that the juvenile offender actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill the victim. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on his claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that his 90 minute late arrival for sentencing (which allowed the Court to exceed the otherwise agreed sentence) was not willful. Court's dismissal of motion for post-conviction relief based on its statement that it had found the late arrival willful is not supported by attached records. Ingram v. State, 5D20-102 (2/28/20)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-SENTENCING: Defendant who argued that a prison sentence was not warranted under the statutory sentencing considerations properly preserved for appeal the issue of whether the sentence was unreasonably long. Defendant advocating for a shorter sentence is ordinarily understood to be making an argument that the sentence is longer than greater than necessary to achieve the purposes of sentencing . Nothing more is needed to preserve the claim that a longer sentence is unreasonable. Holguin-Hernandez v. USA, No. 18-7739 (U.S. S.Ct. 2/26/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-7739_9q7h.pdf

SENTENCING-ACCA: A “serious drug offense” under the Armed Career Criminal Act (ACCA) requires only that the state offense involve the conduct specified in the federal statute; it does not require that the state offense match certain generic offenses. To determine whether an offender’s prior convictions qualify for ACCA enhancement, Court must use the “categorical approach,” not the label the State assigns to the crimes. Shular v. USA, No. 18-6662 (U.S. S.Ct. 2/26/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-6662_c0ne.pdf

DEFINITIONS-"INVOLVE": "Involve" means "necessarily require."
"Involve" distinguished from "is." Shular v. USA, No. 18–6662 (U.S. S.Ct. 2/26/20) Shular v. USA, No. 18–6662 (U.S. S.Ct. 2/26/20)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/19pdf/18-6662_c0ne.pdf

DEATH PENALTY-AGGRAVATORS-JURY FINDING: Where the imposition of the death penalty is vacated because the Court failed to properly consider the Defendant's PTSD, the state Supreme Court may reweigh the aggravating and mitigating circumstances, rather than re-submitting the case to a jury. "Ring and Hurst did not require jury weighing of aggravating and mitigating circumstances, and Ring and Hurst did not . . . prohibit appellate reweighing of aggravating and mitigating circumstances." Ring and Hurst would not apply here because this case preceded Ring and came before the appellate court on collateral review rather than on a direct appeal. McKinney v. Arizona, No. 18–1109 (U.S. S.Ct 2/25/20)

JURY INSTRUCTION-AMENDMENT: Instruction 3.12 is amended to remove the reference to “information” and “indictment” while retaining language that the jury may find the defendant guilty as charged or of a lesser-included crime. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where Defendant's motion for post conviction relief, based on later discovered eye witness testimony that the Defendant did not commit the murder, was denied after State presented evidence that the eye witness was not present at the time of the crime because he was in jail, Defendant is not permitted to present evidence found even later that the witness was not in custody where the trial court found the witness not credible regardless whether he was there. "[A]ny discrepancy in Wilridge's jail records is simply too little and too weak to be material under Brady standards."

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-RECORDS: Defendant is not entitled to office files kept in the garage of a prosecutor who was not involved in the prosecution of the Defendant). "A request for a garage full of notes in hopes of finding any mention of a witness fabricating testimony is a textbook example of a fishing expedition. Sweet v. State, SC19-1856 (2/27/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: A person does not get to claim that he was acting in self-defense if he is defending himself from violence that he provoked in the first instance, but he may claim SYG immunity for use of deadly force when he had provoked a threat to a third-person (here, his brother). "[I]f the legislature had thought it desirable to have the initial-provocation exception apply when a defendant provokes the use of force against a third person, it would not have required editorial heavy lifting to make that happen. . .If the legislature really wanted [that result]. . ., all it needed to do was copy the words 'or another' from section 776.012(2) and paste them in the parallel location in section 776.041(2). "It is one thing to say a defendant cannot claim justification when he provokes violence against himself. It is quite another to say the defendant cannot claim justification when he provokes an altercation that risks violence against a third person." Bouie v. State, 2D18-2705 (2/26/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND-STANDARD OF REVIEW: Application of the law to the facts in SYG cases is de novo. Defendant is immune from prosecution when he repeatedly shot a person who engaged in a fight with the Defendant's brother after following in a car and approaching him with something in a hand with something reasonably believed to be a weapon, notwithstanding that the Defendant continuing firing shots while the victim was retreating. EQUAL PROTECTION-FELONS-VOTING RIGHT: Felons right to vote under Florida's Constitutional Amendment 4 cannot be limited by legislation requiring payment of all LFO's ("legal financial obligations"). Because the LFO requirement punishes those who cannot pay more harshly than those who can, it violates the Equal Protection clause. Jones v. Governor, No. 19-14551 (11th Cir. 2/19/20)

VOTING RIGHT: "The continued disenfranchisement of felons who are genuinely unable to pay LFOs and who have made a good faith effort to do so, does not further any legitimate state interest that we can discern." Jones v. Governor, No. 19-14551 (11th Cir. 2/19/20)

VOTING RIGHT: "The long and short of it is that once a state provides an avenue to ending the punishment of disenfranchisement. . .it must do so consonant with the principles of equal protection and it may not erect a wealth barrier." Jones v. Governor, No. 19-14551 (11th Cir. 2/19/20)

SEXUAL OFFENDER DESIGNATION: Defendant may be designated a sexual offender for the offense of false imprisonment if the crime contained a sexual component. The probable cause affidavit may establish the sexual component, notwithstanding that the only factual basis articulated at the sentencing hearing related to a sexual component was that the Defendant withheld the Victim's clothing to prevent her from fleeing the house. SEXUAL OFFENDER DESIGNATION: Court need not designate the Defendant a Sexual Offender on the record. Qualification as a Sexual Offender is automatic. COUNTER-POINT: "I am skeptical of the majority's assertion that blue surgical gloves 'are indeed a household item.' . . .I am certain. . .that this teenager, who was found standing by a recently reported stolen car in a neighborhood known for drug activity, with the key to the car inexplicably available to him. . ., and with blue surgical gloves stuffed in his jeans pockets, was not carrying those gloves as a 'household item.'" DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy does not bar dual convictions/sentences for DUI serious bodily injury and DUI property damage. "The mere happenstance that property ownership was vested in the same critically wounded individual cannot be logically construed to insulate the accused from the prosecution of a separate, legislatively-proscribed crime." Thorough discussion. Velazco v. State, 3D18-165 (2/19/20)

ADVERSARY PRELIMINARY HEARING-HEARSAY: Hearsay is inadmissible in an adversary preliminary hearing under Fla. R. Crim. P. 3.133(b)(1). Court erred in finding probable cause with no evidence, other than hearsay from the arresting cause, that the Defendant's license was suspended as a habitual traffic offender. Rule 3.133(b) does not permit the state to rely wholly on a complaint (even if sworn), on another affidavit or on any other evidence inadmissible at trial. Davis v. Junior, 3D19-613 (2/19/20)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: After an accused has invoked the right to silence or right to counsel but later initiates further conversation, police must again re-read the Miranda rights before commencing further conversation. LIMITATION OF ACTION: Where the defendant unsuccessfully asserted the statute of limitations to present prosecution on some charged crimes, he may nonetheless then waive the statute of limitations in order to secure the possibility of a conviction on a lesser included offense. FAILURE TO REDELIVER VEHICLE: Court errors by conflating §817.52(3) (failure to redeliver vehicle) with §812.155(3), (fail to return leased personal property or equipment); the former does not require a notice warning of the possibility of criminal prosecution. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel's failure to object to prejudicial evidence regarding Defendant's prior career as a pharmaceutical salesman was not prejudicial where the jury verdict implicitly rejected the State's contention that the Defendant had drugged and sexually abused the victim. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to cross-examine the minor victims in a sex abuse case on their failure to remember some matters where counsel made the tactical decision that asking about this would establish that the children did not want to remember the events. PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: When a plea agreement calls for a specified sentence and the trial court determines to impose a greater sentence, the defendant has the right to withdraw the plea. Hodges v. State, 5D 19-2089 (2/14/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to request a limiting instruction upon the admission of the Victim/girlfriend's written statement which contradicted her trial testimony. The consequence of counsel's failure to request a limiting instruction as to the use of the girlfriend's prior inconsistent statement was that this statement was placed before the jury by the State as substantive evidence. ARGUMENT-BURDEN SHIFTING: Testimony that officers observed no deer corn on property and argument that Defendant's father never testified that he stored deer corn there (Defendant had lured his murder victim to a field on the pretense of selling him deer corn) does not improperly shift burden of proof. Cannon v. State, SC19-84 (2/13/20)

ARGUMENT-RELIGIOUS THEMES: Discussion during voir dire of the concept of "an eye for an eye" and State's brief religious reference during closing ("he reaps what he sowed.") are not improper injections of religion into the trial. Not every statement referencing God or the Bible is prejudicial. Cannon v. State, SC19-84 (2/13/20)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-PRESERVATION: More than one objection is required to preserve a claim that a peremptory challenge is racially motivated. After the initial objection, the issue is not preserved for appellate review if the party objecting to the challenge fails to renew the objection before the jury is sworn. Cannon v. State, SC19-84 (2/13/20)

RESENTENCING: Court lacks authority to rescind an order granting resentencing once the order became final when neither party moved for rehearing or appealed. Rogers v. State, 1D19-878 (2/13/20)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL-ROBBERY: Defendant who, when confronted for leaving the store without paying, looks down at his hip and says either “all right, young man, don't get shot,” or “don't walk up on me,” is properly convicted of robbery, notwithstanding that victim saw no gun. Defendant's statement to the victim along with his gesture to his hip, are circumstances that would induce fear in the mind of a reasonable person. Cameron v. State, 1D18-1368 (2/12/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-EXPERT: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to call a firearm expert to challenge theory of the location of the shooter, which would tend to show that the Defendant was not the shooter, since he was charged as a principal. Williams v. State, 1D19-1334 (2/12/20)

GIGLIO: Differences in the testimony a witness gave at the Defendant's trial and that of his co-defendant is a Giglio violation where nothing in the record suggests that the testimony given was false nor that the prosecutor was aware of any false testimony by the witness. Williams v. State, 1D19-1334 (2/12/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant may not use R.3.800 to contest imposition of a three year mandatory minimum for possession of a firearm by a felon on the ground that his possession was constructive rather than actual. Bracht v. State, 1D19-2464 (2/12/20)

CERTIORARI-DISCOVERY: Court properly denied State's motion to compel the Defendant's counsel to disclose the identity of his DNA expert and the DNA swabs he took from the presumed weapon (a fire extinguisher). State v. Jackson, 1D19-2570 (2/12/20)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is entitled to a new SYG hearing where Court failed to apply the 2017 amendment to the statute which shifted the burden of proof from the defendant to the State. Way v. State, 2D17-34369 (2/12/20)

SELF-DEFENSE-PRINCIPAL INSTRUCTION: Court improperly gives a principal instruction for the stabbing of the victim in the back by a third party who intervened to stop the victim from continuing to beat the Defendant on the ground (Victim had angrily charged and attacked the Defendant after realizing that the Defendant had cut him during their first fight moments before). "[T]here is no evidence indicating that Montgomery's actions while the victim was on top of him, beating him about the face and upper body, were intended to reduce the victim's ability to defend himself from the stabbing." Montgomery v. State, 2D18-1119 (2/12/20)

SELF DEFENSE-FORCIBLE FELONY INSTRUCTION: Instruction on the Forcible Felony Exception to the Defendant's entitlement to self defense should not be given in the absence of a forcible felony. Armed Trespass is not a forcible felony. "[T]he statute requires more than just a felony -- it requires an independent forcible felony. Trespass is not a felony; and armed trespass is not a forcible felony." Montgomery v. State, 2D18-1119 (2/12/20)

FLIGHT-CONSCIOUSNESS OF GUILT: The fact that the Defendant moved to Pennsylvania at some time within two months of the crime is inadmissible as consciousness of guilt. New trial required. Alford v. State, 2D18-1324 (2/12/20)

PUBLIC TRIAL-EXCLUDED CO-DEFENDANT: Court lawfully excluded Defendant's husband from her trial when she testified where the Husband was scheduled to go on trial separately for the same incident (a fight at a school). Moore v. State, 3D19-1466 (2/12/20)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/585417/6625109/file/191466_DC02_02122020_102122_i.pdf

VOP-POSSESSION: Defendant can be found in violation of probation when cannabis and weapons are found in a room for which he wore the key around his neck and in which his shirt and wallet were found. Testimony that the room was jointly occupied was not credible. Martin v. State, 3D18-2282 (2/12/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Clarification of clerical errors is the the imposition of a harsher sentence violating double jeopardy preferences. Martin v. State, 3D18-2282 (2/12/20)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Evidence that Defendant set up the drug deal and entered the home with a co-defendant where the victim was beaten, stabbed and robbed is sufficient evidence of complicity in the murder to sustain the murder conviction. Evidence is more than circumstantial. Pena v. State, 3D18-1504 (2/12/20)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: In case of Resisting Without Violence, failure of counsel to contest the legality of the arrest for a misdemeanor (activating a fire alarm) not committed in the presence of the officer is not properly preserved and cannot be rescued by the fundamental error exception to the rule of preservation. Issue may be raised by motion for post conviction relief. H.R. v. State, 3D18-2248 (2/12/20)

JOA: Boilerplate motion for Judgment of Acquittal in Resisting Without Violence case does not adequately articulate and preserve the issue that the officer was not acting in performance of legal duty when he arrested the child for a misdemeanor not committed in his presence. In order to be preserved for further review by a higher court, an issue must be presented to the lower court and the specific legal argument or ground to be argued on appeal or review must be part of that presentation. H.R. v. State, 3D18-2248 (2/12/20)

FUNDAMENTAL ERROR-JOA: The fundamental error exception does not permit appellate review of unpreserved error in the State's evidentiary failure to prove the crime unless the evidence failed to establish the commission of any crime whatsoever. H.R. v. State, 3D18-2248 (2/12/20)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/585400/662490/5/file/182248_DC05_02122020_101321_i.pdf

HEARSAY-PRIOR CONSISTENT STATEMENT: Where State implied in cross-examination that Defendant had recently fabricated his testimony ("You've had the opportunity to sit in the courtroom the whole time. . .[and] [l]isten to. . .[e]very single witness?"), Defendant may enter into evidence his entire recorded interrogation as a prior consistent statement offered to rebut an express or implied charge of recent fabrication. "Once the State implied that Kitchings' trial testimony was fabricated, the defense should have been permitted to show that Kitchings had provided an earlier, consistent statement to the police. Given the prosecutor's often misleading cross-examination about inconsistencies and omissions, introduction of the entire statement would have placed these matters in a broader context so the jury could have fully evaluated the veracity of the trial testimony." Kitchings v. State, 4D18-1929 (2/12/20)

RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Rule of completeness does not allow the entire recorded statement the Defendant made to police denying the offense, notwithstanding that the State used misleading techniques to mislead the jury, where the statement was not actually admitted into evidence by the State. Statement admitted on other grounds. Kitchings v. State, 4D18-1929 (2/12/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/585723/6628781/file/181929_DC13_02122020_104621_i.pdf

REVERSE WILLIAMS RULE: Dubious prior claim of sexual battery by a different perpetrator in New York is properly excluded where the New York defendant was not available to testify and there are significant factual differences. Kitchings v. State, 4D18-1929 (2/12/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/585723/6628781/file/181929_DC13_02122020_104621_i.pdf

EVIDENCE-VICTIM'S RECORDED STATEMENT: In sexual battery case, Court improperly allows the Victim's entire recorded statement into evidence to rehabilitate her trial testimony. Kitchings v. State, 4D18-1929 (2/12/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/585723/6628781/file/181929_DC13_02122020_104621_i.pdf

ARGUMENT-PRESERVATION: "Kitchings also complains about certain misrepresentations made by the prosecutor in closing argument. . .The most egregious argument was that Kitchings was taking Cialis-type medication to address an erection problem, for which there was no support in the record. A conviction should be based on the evidence, not on innuendo. . . However, there was no objection, so there was no preservation." Kitchings v. State, 4D18-1929 (2/12/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/585723/6628781/file/181929_DC13_02122020_104621_i.pdf

SELF-DEFENSE-INSTRUCTION: Defendant is entitled to a self defense instruction where he testified that he punched the Victim when he (the Defendant) was cornered and Victim had an aggressive demeanor and stance. Court's conclusion that the Defendant's evidence merely supported his subjective state of mind and did not support a conclusion that a reasonably, cautious, and prudent person would feel threatened is inappropriate. The trial court should not weigh the evidence for the purpose of determining whether the instruction is appropriate. Radler v. State, 4D18-1737 (2/12/20)

SELF-DEFENSE: Silent aggressive behavior can be threatening. Radler v. State, 4D18-1737 (2/12/20)

PROFFER: Court improperly denied the Defendant the right to proffer evidence of the events leading up to the fight which is the gravamen of the offense. Court improperly assumed evidence of what Defendant saw and heard as he was leaving his girlfriend's room was irrelevant. Radler v. State, 4D18-1737 (2/12/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/585722/6628769/file/181737_DC13_02122020_104806_i.pdf

RELEVANCE: Observation includes what Defendant hears as well as what he sees. "We disagree with the State's argument that the question of what Defendant 'observed' as he was leaving the room was limited to visual, as opposed to auditory, observation." Radler v. State, 4D18-1737 (2/12/20)

SENTENCING-UPWARD DEPARTURE-RULE OF LENITY: Provision of pre-Punishment Code guidelines s. 921.0016(3)(r,) which permits an upward departure from the sentencing guidelines when the primary offense is scored at offense level 7 or higher and the defendant has been convicted of one more offense that scored, or would have scored, at an offense level 8 or higher, applies only to the case where a prior offense was a level 8 or higher. The rule of lenity is not unlike the old baseball axiom that "the tie goes to the runner." Court erred in imposing an upward departure. Key v. State, 4D19-1233 (2/12/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-PERFORMANCE OF PLEA AGREEMENT: Where a condition of a guilty plea is that the defendant will serve the agreed-upon state sentence in federal prison concurrently with a longer federal sentence, and the Defendant is not sent to federal prison, Defendant is entitled to suspension of the sentence, or being resentenced to credit for time served or being allowed to withdraw his plea. Saye v. State, 4D19-2932 (2/12/20)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/585804/6629753/file/192932_DC13_02122020_102015_i.pdf

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-IMPROPER ARGUMENT: Defendant does not preserve for appellate review unobjected to, improper comments that were made during closing statements when he fails to make a contemporaneous objection but raised the issue in a motion for new trial. Berouty v. State, 2D18-2251 (2/7/20)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/576259/6515901/file/182251_DC05_02072020_085555_i.pdf

APPELLATE COUNSEL-INEFFECTIVENESS: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue Faretta where Defendant had asked for re-appointment of counsel on his motion to withdraw plea but court did not inquire about him proceeding pro se nor did it conduct a Faretta inquiry. A motion to withdraw plea is a critical stage of the proceedings at which a defendant is entitled to be present and to have counsel represent him. Larocca v. State, 2D19-3028 (2/7/20)

COSTS: Court may not impose $100 investigative cost for the Sheriff's Office when the cost is not requested nor mentioned at the change of plea hearing. Costs may not be imposed on remand. An apparent agreement between the State Attorney and the Public Defender for imposition of investigative costs in all cases in order to avoid cluttering the docket is unlawful. "If the Legislature desires to amend the statute to provide that a minimum $100 cost of investigation must be summarily assessed against a defendant in each case, it is certainly capable of doing so. . . Unless and until it does, trial judges are not authorized to summarily impose a blanket $100 investigative costs assessment per case." Delafield v. State, 5D18-3140 (2/7/20)

RESTITUTION: Court erred in requiring Defendant to pay restitution for the victim's nearly twenty-year-old cargo trailer, which was used as a tool shed and which he was not charged with having stolen and which was not mentioned in discovery. Young v. State, 5D19-1879 (2/7/20)

HOBBS ACT: Conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act robbery does not qualify as a crime of violence under § 924(c)(3)'s elements clause because conspiracy does not require an overt act toward the commission of substantive Hobbs Act robbery. USA v. Duhart, No. 17-11476 (11th Cir. 2/7/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/unpub/files/201711476.rem.pdf>

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: In reviewing the reasonableness of a sentence, the appellate court conducts a two-step inquiry, first reviewing for significant procedural error and second evaluating the substantive reasonableness under the totality of the circumstances, considering whether the sentence is sufficient, but not greater than necessary, to comply with the purposes listed in § 3553. A 168-month total sentence for carjacking is not substantively unreasonable. USA v. King, No. 19-10251 (2/7/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Passenger in a borrowed car has no standing to contest the search of it. USA v. Black, No. 19-10793 (11th Cir. 2/7/20)

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE UNREASONABLENESS: Sentencing the Defendant to 24 months imprisonment (statutory maximum), above the six months guidelines recommended sentence, is not substantively unreasonable. USA v. Hernandez-Urieta, No. 19-12541 (11th Cir. 2/6/20)

AMENDMENT-JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Standard jury instructions for owning or leasing a place for sale of controlled substance is amended. CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES-BOMB: It is improper to impose consecutive mandatory minimum sentences arising from the single criminal act of placing a bomb which killed or injured three people. Jarvis v. State, 1D17-4186 (2/6/20)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Defendant may not argue on direct appeal that trial counsel was ineffective for failing to raise or preserve issues. Marshall v. State, 1D18-1276 (2/6/20)

SEARCH WARRANT-GOOD FAITH EXCEPTION: Officers may search home in good faith reliance on a search warrant issued without probable cause. The exclusionary rule only applies when there is 1) misconduct by police or their adjuncts; 2) a conclusion that applying the exclusionary rule will appreciably deter the misconduct; and 3) a conclusion that the benefit of applying the rule does not outweigh its costs. The mere lack of probable cause supporting a warrant is not a reason to suppress evidence. Wingate v. State, 1D18-4157 (2/6/20)

FIRST STEP-SENTENCE REDUCTION: Court must consider whether to reduce Defendant's life sentence. Under First Step Act, a district court may reduce a defendant's term of imprisonment if the defendant's sentence was based upon a guidelines range that was later lowered by the Sentencing Commission. Court must engage in a two-part analysis. First, the district court determines the sentence the court would have imposed had the amended guidelines been in effect when the defendant was sentenced. Second, the Court must then decide whether it will exercise its discretion to impose the newly calculated sentence or if it will retain the original sentence. USA v. Valme, No. 19-12025 (11th Cir. 2/5/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy violations are fundamental error which may be raised for the first time on appeal. In determining whether multiple convictions based on the same conduct constitute a violation of double jeopardy, an appellate court may consider only the charging document, not the entire record. Double Jeopardy prohibits multiple punishments for exploitation of the elderly (obtaining property) and exploitation of the elderly under section (breaching a fiduciary duty) for counts involving the same time period and concern the same bank accounts. Powers v. State, 2D17-4237 (2/5/20)

VOP: Defendant cannot be found to have violated probation by committing the new law offense of assault where the affidavit of probation did not so allege. A trial court is not permitted to revoke probation on conduct not charged in the affidavit of revocation. Jackson v. State, 2D17-4283 (2/5/20)

VOP: Probation cannot be revoked for failure of follow PO's instruction that he not have contact with two specific people. While a probation officer may give a probationer routine supervisory directions that are necessary to carry out the conditions imposed by the trial court, he may not essentially impose a new condition of probation. Jackson v. State, 2D17-4283 (2/5/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-ANONYMOUS TIP: An anonymous tip that a woman in a dark SUV in a McDonald's parking lot had yelled for someone to call the police is insufficient to justify the stop of a blue PT Cruiser leaving the McDonald's three minutes later. For an anonymous tip to provide a reasonable basis for a Terry stop, the tip must contain specific details which are then corroborated by independent police investigation. Bauman v. State, 2D18-1594 (2/5/20)

RESTITUTION: Court erred in ordering zero restitution when jury found the Defendant guilty of embezzling more than $20,000, but did not make a factual finding as to the exact amount taken. Court can order restitution greater than a maximum dollar value defining an offense for which a defendant is adjudicated guilty. Eylward v. State, 2D18-2169 (2/5/20)

JOA-INTENT: Defendant is entitled to Judgment of Acquittal in theft case where State did not prove intent to steal. Williams v. State, 18-2813 (2/5/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on his claim that counsel was ineffective for misinforming him that the 40 year plea offer was a mandatory minimum when in fact only the first 15 years was the mandatory minimum. The fact that the State later said that it would have withdrawn the plea right before trial does not render irrelevant the fact that Defendant rejected the offer at pretrial based on the misadvice. DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-COOPERATION: Defendant's prompt acknowledgment of guilt does not constitute cooperation justifying a downward departure. A downward departure is not justified merely because the defendant cooperated after his offense was discovered. State v. Diaz, 2D19-359 (2/5/20)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy prohibits an increase in Defendant's sentence from 364 days in jail (with county boot camp program) three years in prison after Defendant failed to complete the boot camp program due to an injury. Once a sentence has been imposed and the person begins to serve the sentence, the later imposition of more onerous terms violates the double jeopardy clause. . . . when it disrupts the defendant's legitimate expectations of finality. Good discussion. Martinez v. State, 3D18-1863 (2/5/20)

CONFESSION-VOLUNTARINESS: Multiple vague offers to help appellant ("Help me help you, dude"), implications that it would benefit him to "come clean" or that it would be worse for him if he denied culpability. Confession was involuntary and must be suppressed. Moore v. State, 4D18-1083 (2/5/20)

SPEEDY TRIAL-RECAPTURE: Where Defendant filed a notice of expiration of speedy one year after his arrest, court failed to set a hearing on the motion, and one month later the Defendant filed a notice of expiration, the Defendant is entitled to discharge. After the 10/5 day recapture window expires, court may not make a finding that the Defendant was unavailable for trial. Defendant is not required to serve a copy of the notice of expiration upon the court. Rivera Almodovar v. State, 4D19-620 (2/5/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claimant counsel was ineffective for misadvising him that hearsay was not admissible, that the victim would not show up at the hearing, and that he could not get consecutive sentences on the counts for which he was on probation because they were originally imposed concurrently. Mathieu v. State, 4D19-1029 (2/5/20)

IMMIGRATION: Access device fraud and aggravated identity theft are not conclusively aggravated felonies, so that deportation is not presumptively mandatory. When the law is not succinct and straightforward, a criminal defense attorney need do no more than advise a noncitizen that pending criminal charges may carry a risk of adverse immigration consequences. Defendant cannot withdraw plea on basis of claim that counsel should have told him he would be deported. Martin v. USA, No. 18-12643 (11th Cir. 2/4/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel is not ineffective for failing to call Defendant's girl friend as a character witness in the penalty phase of a murder trial where she was highly impeachable and door would be opened to evidence of Defendant's very bad character. "[P]utting [the witness] on the stand at the sentence stage would have . . . opened more doors leading to a death sentence. Johnston v. SENTENCING HEARING: Under Rule 32(i)(3)(B), at the sentencing hearing the Court must rule on disputed statements in the PSI or determine that they would not change the analysis. Defendant must assert challenges to factual statements from the PSI with specificity and clarity to trigger this provision. USA v. Dobbs, No. 19-11796 (2/3/20)

JURY-12 PERSON: Defendant is entitled to a 12 person jury for a capital offense, notwithstanding that the death penalty is not an option Neither the prosecutor nor the court, by electing not to seek the death penalty, could change the classification of an offense from capital to noncapital and unilaterally determine whether a defendant is entitled to trial by a twelve-person jury. EVIDENCE-OPINION: DEA agent may give expert opinion that unwitting drug smugglers who do not know they are transporting drugs are extremely rare. An expert witness may not state an opinion about whether the defendant had a particular intent, but this rule does not require the exclusion of expert testimony that supports an obvious inference with respect to the defendant's state of mind so long as the witness does not expressly state this inference. USA v. Russell, No. 19-10560 (11th Cir. 1/31/20).

SENTENCE REDUCTION-RULE 35: Jailhouse snitch/Defendant may not compel the US Attorney's office to file a Rule 35 motion for reduction of sentence based on his testimony in the three murder cases of two fellow prisoners. The decision whether to file a substantial-assistance motion is a matter of prosecutorial discretion, and the mere fact that a defendant has provided substantial assistance does not mean that the government is obligated to seek a sentence reduction. USA v. Tokars, No. 19-11155 (1/31/20)

NEW TRIAL: Judge's statement that just t "I think there was sufficient evidence on all three counts to support the verdict of guilty and actual possession," does not establish that the Court applied the wrong standard in denying Defendant's Motion for New Trial. If it is unclear whether the trial court used the wrong standard, the potential that the trial court may have erred does not constitute fundamental error. Because Defendant did not object or seek clarification on whether the trial court applied the correct standard, he did not preserve the issue for appeal. Knighton v. State, 1D 18-2133 (1/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for allowing videotaped interview, which had been admitted in evidence, back into the jury room. but that Defendant suffered no prejudice. Martin-Godinez v. State, 1D 18-4531 (1/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant, who suffers from PTSD from his service in the Marines, is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to advise him that insanity was a defense. King v. State, 1D 19-130 (1/31/20)

CONTEMPT: Court may not hold the Defendant in contempt for calling a potential juror racist during jury selection when the Judge did not fully hear what the Defendant said but rather relied on what a bailiff told him. But under the Topsy Coachman doctrine, the finding of contempt stands because the Judge heard the Defendant say something, and he had previously been admonished to keep silent. Riley v. State, 2D 17-2534 (1/31/20)

JOA-RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Defendant who apparently was impaired by drugs but had not lost the power of self-control when she was found sleeping in the grass was not eligible for Marchman Act detention. Officer who detained her was not in the lawful execution of a legal duty. Defendant is entitled to Judgment of Acquittal. Lobb v. State, 2D 18-4137 (1/31/20)

INEFFECTIVE APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to raise the issue of the improper jury instruction which wrongly allocated the burden of proof in a self defense case. "By instructing the jury that [Defendant's] actions were not justified unless the State proved the very facts it disputed, the instruction prevented the jury from finding that [Defendant's] use of deadly force was justified. This instruction amounted to a directed verdict on [Defendant's] sole defense and thereby deprived him of a fair trial." Routenberg v. State, 2D19-1632 (1/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF (CONCURRING OPINION): Counsel was ineffective for inattentively allowing jurors who had not been stricken two nonetheless be excused and for otherwise acting unprofessionally (wearing bedroom slippers, eating cookies or crackers during the trial, describing her client is a jerk and threatening to leave in the middle of the trial). "Rude behavior and unprofessional conduct have no place in a court of law." But no prejudice because the evidence was overwhelming. Willis v. State, 5D18-3081 (1/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in granting Defendant's motion for a new trial based on the conclusion that counsel was ineffective for failing to conduct independent DNA testing, hire a DNA expert or understand aspects of the DNA evidence where the record as a whole showed that counsel did not entirely failed to function as an advocate or completely fail to subject the prosecution to meaningful adversarial testing, and where there is no showing of prejudice. State v. Miller, 5D19-433 (1/31/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel is ineffective for failing to call witnesses because he had a blanket strategy of refusing to present witnesses in order to retain the first and last closing argument, but Defendant failed to show prejudice when the witnesses at the time of the hearing on the motion for postconviction relief several years later had no meaningful memory of the events. JURISDICTION-HIGH SEAS: MDLEA allows United States to exercise jurisdiction over vessels without nationality from possessing narcotics with intent to distribute on the high seas in international waters, regardless of any nexus to USA. A vessel is without nationality when no one onboard claims nationality nor produces any nationality documents. CONCURRENCE: "I am deeply troubled that the government took seven weeks between arresting the defendants and bringing them before a magistrate judge for a probable-cause determination. . .The government is fortunate that the defendants did not raise the Coast Guard’s apparent seven-week odyssey in the district court. . .[S]Even weeks! That's a long time. Christopher Columbus's first voyage across the entire Atlantic Ocean, from the Canary Islands to the Bahamas, took only roughly five weeks. . .In the absence of a very good reason, detaining a person on the high seas for seven weeks before formally charging him with a crime is just wrong." POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Failure of the indictment to allege Defendant had knowledge of his status as a felon is plain error, but not reversible where there is no showing of a reasonable probability that the outcome of the trial or guilty plea would have been different had the knowledge requirement been included. SENTENCING: 105-month upward variance from the applicable guideline range is not procedurally unreasonable. TRANSMISSION OF HARMFUL MATERIAL: Jury instruction is not deficient for failing to define the “prurient interest” prong of the definition of “harmful to minors” in a way related to community standards. The standards for obscenity can be different for minors, as compared to adults. “[U]ntil a majority of the United States Supreme Court or the Florida Supreme Court holds otherwise, the jury does not need to be specifically instructed that it is to use a community standard, statewide or countywide in determining if material or conduct is prurient.” Alexander v. STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to certiorari relief for being required to present prima facie evidence on self-defense

SENTENCING-SUBSTANTIVE REASONABLENESS REVIEW: Substantive reasonableness review broadly looks to whether the

CROCODILE TEARS: “It is no small matter for one Court to conclude that a predecessor Court has clearly erred. The later Court must approach precedent presuming that the earlier Court faithfully and competently carried out its duty. . .In this case we cannot escape the conclusion that, to the extent it went beyond what a correct interpretation of Hurst v. Florida required, our Court in Hurst v. State got it wrong.” Pooler v. State, SC18-245 (1/23/20)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): “Florida holds the shameful national title as the state with the most death row exonerations.” Pooler v. State, SC18-245 (1/23/20)

UPWARD DEPARTURE-JURY FINDING-DANGEROUSNESS: Upon remand from the improper imposition of an upward departure without a jury finding of dangerousness, the proper remedy is a new sentencing hearing with a newly empaneled jury. Gaymon v. State, SC19-712 (1/23/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Failure to impeach on inconsistent statements related to minor points and subject to easy explanation is not ineffective assistance warranting a new trial. Kocaker v. State, SC17-1975 (1/23/20)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where Defendant did not raise the issue of whether counsel had conceded guilt on some counts until the written closing argument on his motion for postconviction relief, and had not raise the issue in the motion itself, the issue is not preserved for appeal. Kocaker v. State, SC17-1975 (1/23/20)

VOP-HEARSAY: In VOP hearing, Defendant is entitled to certain minimal due process requirements, including the right to confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses, unless the court determines that the interest of justice does not require the witness to appear. Hearsay may be admissible if trustworthy and reliable. Hearsay evidence (PO talking to trooper in Orlando to establish that Defendant had left the Northern District and video clip of Defendant's daughter telling LEO that Defendant had hit her) is admissible in VOP hearing. USA v. Williams, (11th Cir. 1/23/20)

HABEAS CORPUS-CUSTODY-JURISDICTION: Defendant cannot seek habeas corpus relief unless in custody. Where Defendant is serving life imprisonment on one count (murder) and a consecutive term on other counts (the subject of the habeas corpus action), he is not in custody because relief will not shorten his overall term of incarceration. Boone v. Warden, (11th Cir. 1/23/20)

CRIME OF VIOLENCE: Attempted bank robbery is a crime of violence under the elements clause of §924(c). USA v. Harvey, No. 18-13108 (11th Cir 1/23/20)

FIRST STEP: The First Step Act authorizes, but does not require, a district court to impose a reduced sentence. Court did not err in denying, as a matter of discretion, the Defendant's sentence when his offense level (L. 37) is unaffected the First Step Act because of the Defendant's Career Offender status. USA v. Rivas, No. 19-11691 (11th Cir. 1/23/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A Rule 60(b) motion (Motion for Relief from a Judgment or Order) will be treated as a successive §2255 motion if it attacks the federal court's previous resolution of a claim on the merits. Attacking a district court's application of a statute of limitations is a challenge on the merits. St. Preux v. USA, No. 17-14091 (11th Cir. 1/23/20)

LESSER INCLUDED: Where there is no error in the jury instruction on the offense of conviction, and the evidence supports that conviction, the defendant's judgment must be affirmed. Weaver v. State, 1D18-2199 (1/23/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/569101/6430562/file/182199_DC05_01232020_143026_i.pdf

COSTS: Court may not impose $250 public defender fee, instead of $100, without making findings to support the higher-than-minimum amount permitted by the statute. Rohn v. State, 1D18-4368 (1/23/20)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/569104/6430598/file/184368_DC08_01232020_144000_i.pdf

RETURN OF PROPERTY: A motion to return property must allege that the property is exclusively his own, that it was not the fruit of illegal activity, and that it is not being held for evidentiary purposes. The fact that property was previously entered into evidence at the trial level is insufficient to deny the motion without a hearing, and the assertion that there may be postconviction proceedings beyond the direct appeal does not establish the State's continued need to retain the property. Horn v. State, 1D18-4858 (1/23/20)

FORFEITURE: When the government filed a motion for forfeiture before sentencing but the court was unable to calculate the amount of the forfeiture money judgment before sentencing, it was reasonable and entirely permissible under Rule 32.2 for it to enter a written judgment to generally order forfeiture, with the specific amount and subject substitute assets to be determined later. Establishing the amount of forfeiture as part of sentencing may occur in a post-sentencing hearing when Defendant affirmatively agrees to the issue being deferred. USA v. Mincey, No. 16-11049 (11th Cir. 1/22/20)

HOBBS ACT: Conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act robbery does not serve as a predicate crime of violence because conspiracy is not a crime of violence. The residual clause is unconstitutionally vague. Conviction vacated. Chance v. State, No. 17-15192 (11th Cir 1/22/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: 28 U.S.C. § 2255 is the exclusive mechanism for a federal prisoner to seek collateral relief unless he can satisfy the “saving clause,” which permits a prisoner to seek collateral review by filing a §2241 petition only if the remedy available through § 2255 is inadequate or ineffective to test the legality of his detention. §2255 remedy is adequate even if the claims brought in that motion would have been dismissed due to a procedural bar, time limit, or circuit precedent. Defendant may not raise a habeas corpus (§2241) challenge to the inapplicability of First Step to his previously imposed sentence. Orr v. USA, No. 19-11881 (11th Cir. 1/22/20)

COMPETENCY: Court commits fundamental error by not holding a hearing and adjudicating Defendant's competency after finding reasonable grounds to believe that Defendant was incompetent and ordering a competency evaluation. The failure to hold a competency hearing prior to accepting a plea constitutes fundamental error that can be raised on direct appeal without the filing of a motion to withdraw plea. Hicks v. State, 1D 18-4130 (12/22/20)

JOA-CAPITAL SEXUAL BATTERY: Court erred in denying Motion for Judgment of Acquittal for capital sexual battery where the State failed to present evidence establishing union between the Defendant's penis and the Victim's anus. Dozier v. State, 1D 18-597 (1/22/20)

AGGRAVATED CHILD ABUSE-WILLFUL INTENT: There is sufficient evidence of willful intent to commit aggravated child abuse when a 320 pound woman sat on 109 pound girl in order to restrain her, causing compression of the chest and asphyxiation. Striking the child and sitting on her is not legally permissible corporal punishment. Posey v. State, 1D 19-1283 (1/22/20)

DWLS: Notice is not an element of DWLS as a Habitual Traffic Offender. Previous precedents receded from. “The Rodgers court simply identified one part of one subsection of section 322.251 and, for whatever reason, declared that it was an element of section 322.34(5). . .This seemingly innocuous insertion, once planted in Florida’s jurisprudence without the pruning influence of a ratio decidendi, soon began to spread.” Robinson v. State, 2D17-3087 (1/22/20)

APPEALS-JURISDICTION: Appellate court does not have jurisdiction to consider the denial of a motion to correct sentence under R. 3.800(b) outside of a direct appeal. Lesende v. State, 2D18-2252 (1/22/20)

SEVERANCE: Court properly denied severance of one of four drug sales occurring within 10 days of each other where one led to the other, the same defense applied to all, and the Defendant only sought the sever the count with the recording. “In the instant case, the recorded transaction that was the basis of count two was intertwined with or connected in an episodic sense to that in count four, when Det. Love completed the purchase of the bundle of heroin that he had ordered during the prior, recorded transaction.” Vinas v. State, 3D18-1433 (1/22/20)

MURDER-PREMEDITATION: Premeditation is sufficiently established by evidence that the Defendant chased down the victim and killed him with the blow of an axe to the head while he was on the ground. Harris v. State, 4D18-1735 (1/22/20)

EVIDENCE-RELEVANCE: Defendant’s statement that he and his friends were “Guat hunting” (looking for Mexicans or Guatemalans to rob) and that they had earlier in the evening assaulted a Hispanic on a bike were relevant to motive in the racially motivated killing. Harris v. State, 4D18-1735 (1/22/20)

CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPON: An element of the crime of carrying a concealed weapon is that the defendant was not licensed to carry a concealed weapon. Burden of proof on this element is on the State, rather than on the Defendant to assert as an affirmative defense. Fundamental error occurs when information fails to allege that the Defendant was not licenced and unobjected to jury instructions do not mention the element. Jackson v. State, 4D18-3021 (1/22/20)

PRISION RELEASEE REOFFENDER-INJUSTICE: Defendant is lawfully sentenced to life in prison as a Prison Releasee Offender based on his prior conviction for carrying a concealed firearm and possessing a firearm as a delinquent at the age of sixteen and the new offense of stealing the Rolex of someone who was trying to sell it in a high crime neighborhood, perhaps for drugs. “Morris’s case is demonstrative of the effect of undiscerning inclusion of youthful crimes in mandatory statutory sentencing schemes. . . .[C]rimes committed while an offender is underage should not be permitted to establish predicate offenses for sentencing under recidivism statutes.” Morris v. State, 4D18-3035 (1/22/20)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The circumstantial evidence standard of review applies only where all of the evidence of a defendant’s guilt is circumstantial, not where any particular element of a crime is demonstrated exclusively by circumstantial evidence. Evidence that the Defendant attempted to use a bogus receipt to take merchandise without paying is not circumstantial evidence. Court erred in entering JOA. State v. Timianski, 4D18-3409 (1/22/20)

INFORMATION-SCORESHEET-CALCULATION: Where the body of the information alluded to burglary of a conveyance (a Level 4 on scoresheet) but the heading of the information, supported by the probable cause affidavit alluded to damage in excess of $1,000 (Level 8), Defendant is properly scored at Level 8. Funderburk distinguished. Brown v. State, 4D18-3592 (1/22/20)

INFORMATION-SCORESHEET-CALCULATION: Absent an allegation in the information that the stolen property's value was $10,000 or more, the charge must be categorized as a Level 2 offense. Brown v. State, 4D18-3592 (1/22/20)

SENTENCING: At the time of sentencing, the district court must state its reasons for imposing a particular sentence. Upon imposing a reduced sentence pursuant to the First Step Act, the Court's statement that the sentence imposed would be sufficient but not greater than necessary to comply with § 3553(a). USA v. Burgest, No. 19-11743 (11th Cir. 1/21/20)

SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT-FIREARM TRAFFICKING:

2K2.1(b)(5) enhancement for trafficking in firearms applies when Defendant transferred two or more firearms having reason to know that the recipient could not legally possess them or would use or dispose of them unlawfully. The fact that the recipient of the firearms was also buying meth does not mean that the guns were to possessed or used unlawfully. USA v. Criscoe, (11th Cir. 1/21/20)

EVIDENCE: In a prosecution of sexual battery of a child, evidence of physical abuse against the child's mother is admissible to explain why the victim had not earlier reported the crime for fear of the defendant's retribution. Wendell v. State, 1D 18-4156 (1/21/20)

RE-SENTENCING-FIRST STEP ACT: Where Court had originally varied downward by 27% from the recommended guideline range, it is not required to apply a proportional reduction upon First Step resentencing. USA v. Baronville, No. 19-12107 (11th Cir. 1/20/20)

JOA-BURGLARY-MERE PRESENCE: Child walking down the street with two others, one on whom was straddling a bicycle just stolen from a carport, cannot be convicted of burglary or theft. There was evidence that Child's companion committed a burglary, but not that Child did anything to encourage or aid in the commission of the burglary or the theft of the bike. Mere presence is insufficient to establish guilt. S.L.W. v. State, 2D18-3546 (1/17/20)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE-MANIFEST INJUSTICE:

Advances in forensic medicine changing the consensus within the medical community from believing that "short distance" falls cannot cause death to believing that they can is newly discovered evidence which warrants a new trial where the State's expert had testified at trial that a fall down the stairs could not have caused the fatal injury in a child abuse case. Manifest injustice excuses the two year time limitation for relief. "Nothing could be more manifestly unjust than having a murder conviction rest largely on the testimony of. . . a medical examiner whose work has been called into doubt. . and when apparent advances in forensic science appear to substantially weaken the opinions reached.” Vega v. State, 5D19-729 (1/17/20)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: If a legal issue would in all probability have been found to be without merit had counsel raised the issue on direct appeal (here, a suppression of confession issue),, the failure of appellate counsel to raise the meritless issue will not render appellate counsel’s performance ineffective. Moran v. State, 5D19-1833 (1/17/20)

FRAGMENTED SENTENCES: Defendant who is sentenced to serve concurrent sentences in prison in separate cases, each of which carry a mandatory minimum, and for whom the mandatory minimums portions of each sentence are to be served consecutively, does not receive an improperly fragmented sentence. Consecutive minimum mandatory sentences within otherwise concurrent sentences is lawful, so long as the offenses arose from separate and distinct criminal episodes. Thomas v. State, 5D19-2637 (1/17/20)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Defendant's van is properly searched when Defendant attempts to deliver narcotics to a dealer who had been arrested earlier in the day and who negotiated a drug deal with the Defendant immediately after the dealer's arrest. United States v. Mancilla-Ibarra, (11th Cir. 1/15/20)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201713663.pdf>

SAFETY VALVE: Defendant does not qualify for the two level safety valve reduction when he gives some information but holds back on other information, thus not satisfying the "tell-all" provision. The Defendant carries the burden of proving he qualifies for safety valve.

"And it is blackletter law that where the trier of fact remains uncertain, the party with the burden of proof loses." United States v. Mancilla-Ibarra, (11th Cir. 1/15/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Brevity of consultation with client alone is not grounds for postconviction relief. Martin v. State, SC18-214 (1/16/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to try to implicate a 6'3" tall individual with an alibi in South Florida at the time of the murder in Jacksonville where the shooter is described as a "short fat dude" and the Defendant, whose nickname was "Shorty Fat", is 5'3" with a waist circumference of 48 inches. ARGUMENT-VISUAL AID: “The prosecutor’s use of a visual aid which allegedly depicted a cartoon of a man with his head in the sand is clearly a questionable choice in the context of a capital murder trial. . .The State used the visual aid to argue the evidence. . [that] the jury should not ‘bury their heads in the sand.’” But no fundamental error.

VOTING RIGHTS: Article VI, section 4 of the Florida Constitution restores voting rights to certain felons only upon completion of all terms of sentence, including payment in full of all fines, costs, and restitution. Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment, SC19-1341 (1/16/20)

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION: “[T]his Court has sometimes suggested that the first step in construing a constitutional provision may involve something other than determining the objective meaning of the text. . .(‘In construing the Constitution, we first seek to ascertain the intent of the framers and voters’. . .) We believe that such statements can be misleading because they may be understood to shift the focus of interpretation from the text and its context to extraneous considerations. And such extraneous considerations can result in the judicial imposition of meaning that the text cannot bear. . . We therefore adhere to the ‘supremacy-of-text principle.’” Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment, SC19-1341 (1/16/20)

DEFINITION-“TERM”: “But the fact that the word ‘terms’ itself can carry different meanings does not render the phrase ‘all terms of sentence,’ as used in Amendment 4, susceptible to more than one natural reading. . . We conclude that ‘all terms of sentence’ plainly encompasses not only durational terms but also obligations and therefore includes all LFOs imposed in conjunction with an adjudication of guilt. Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment, SC19-1341 (1/16/20)

DEFINITION-“SENTENCE”: “The word ‘sentence’ is not defined in the Florida Constitution or seemingly anywhere in the Florida Statutes. . . [T]he word “sentence” cannot be construed in an overly technical fashion here. . . Amendment 4. . . uses the word ‘sentence’ in its plain, common sense. . . [T]here is no basis to conclude that ‘all terms of sentence’ excludes any LFOs ordered by the sentencing judge. STATUTORY INTERPRETATION-(concurring, J. Labarga):

Textualism “is a sound theory of interpretation which, in most instances, proves to be determinative. My concern is with its strict disapproval of consideration of extrinsic sources which, in some instances, such as in this case, prove to be not only helpful, but dispositive.” Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment, SC19-1341 (1/16/20)

“Textualist abhorrence of consideration of the intent of the framers of a constitutional or statutory provision has been persistently and stubbornly present throughout the theory’s history. . .I agree with the majority that the lodestar of constitutional and statutory interpretation should be, in the first instance, the application of the words of the governing text read in context. However, the analysis should provide some allowance for consideration of the intent of the framers and voters in instances where it will assist in elucidating the meaning of the text in question.” Re: Implementation of Amendment 4, the Voting Restoration Amendment, SC19-1341 (1/16/20)

APPEAL-COSTS: Where Court imposed investigative costs without them having been requested, and Defendant successfully appeals their imposition, Court may not impose the investigative costs upon remand. “A party does not get the proverbial ‘second bite at the apple’ when it fails to satisfy a legal obligation the first time around. Richards v. State, SC19-24 (1/16/20)

SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: Testimony that Defendant, who when approached on his porch about the two people killed in front of his house, initially remained silent, detached, and emotionless, and that he did not claim self-defense, is an impermissible comment on his right to remain silent under Article 1, section 9’s privilege against self-incrimination. Prearrest, pre-Miranda silence does not prove a consciousness of guilt and is therefore not relevant as substantive evidence. A defendant’s postarrest, pre-Miranda silence may not be used either as substantive evidence or for impeachment purposes and that (2) a defendant’s prearrest, pre-Miranda silence may not be used as substantive evidence but may be used for impeachment if the silence is inconsistent with the defendant’s testimony at trial. Howard v. State, 2D17-4947 (1/15/20)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Counsel’s failure to provide the court with the authorities on the use of Defendant’s pre-arrest silence and to object to the State’s introduction of evidence and comment upon his silence was ineffective assistance of counsel. Because there could have been no tactical explanation for counsel’s failure, issue can be raised on direct appeal. Conviction vacated and remanded. “[I]n view of the extent of the State’s evidence and argument on Mr. Howard’s prearrest, pre-Miranda silence and counsel’s multiple missed opportunities to object, this is one of those rare cases where the deficiency is apparent on the face of the record.” Howard v. State, 2D17-4947 (1/15/20)

TOO WEIRD-MOTION-TIMELINESS: Where Court improperly imposed a $50,000 fine and Defendant moved to correct the order imposing it, which the Court granted but only on the 61st day, the order was untimely, a nullity and the motion deemed denied. Notwithstanding, the deemed denial of the motion is vacated and the case remanded for the proper granting of the motion. Hamiter v. State, 2D18-2104 (1/15/20)

APPEAL-ANDERS BRIEF: Appointed counsel may challenge a trial court’s denial of a rule 3.800(b) motion to correct a minor sentencing error in an Anders “no merit” brief. “[W]e question whether it is generally appropriate to correct a ‘minor sentencing error’ without subjecting the asserted error to adversarial testing. But our question here concerns the point at which a ‘minor sentencing error’ becomes a ‘major sentencing error,’ which can be a slippery inquiry. . . . Although the error before us involves costs. . . and errors concerning costs may pale in significance to errors concerning, for example, length of incarceration, we are not so cavalier . . . as to lightly dismiss a $50,000-plus mistake as ‘minor.’” Question certified. VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Court must make written findings articulating whether or not a VFOSC poses a danger to the community. The transcript of the oral pronouncement is insufficient. Saladriga v. State, 3D19-473 (1/15/20)

PRESENCE OF CHILD-DISPOSITION: A juvenile defendant has a constitutional right to be present at his or her disposition hearing, notwithstanding the practical considerations of the Child having been

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Defendant, the subject of a “need to identify” flier based on his suspected involvement in robbery, is properly stopped after he failed to stop at a stop sign and properly searched after officer’s smell marijuana and arrested after police confirm he had no license. COMMENT ON SILENCE-VOIR DIRE: During voir dire, State’s comment, “. . . if the defendant were to testify — and if he does not, . . .,” to which the Defense objected and which the State did not pursue, is an isolated comment which did not vitiate the fairness of the trial. Wright v. State, 3D17-941 (1/15/20)

EXPERT TESTIMONY-DAUBERT: Toxicologist’s testimony that he could not determine what percentage of the alcohol in the victim’s body was from body decomposition and what was from consumption by the victim was admissible under Daubert. Larocca v. State, 18-1824 (1/15/20)

VOIR DIRE-TIME LIMITS: 75 minute time limit for voir dire was not an abuse of discretion in sex abuse of a helpless person case. “[T]here is no mathematical formula that determines how much time the trial court should allocate for voir dire and [we] reiterate that this determination is made on a case-by-case basis.” Efforts to “pre-try” the case militates against allowing further time for voir dire. ATTORNEY-WITHDRAWAL: Court acted within its discretion in denying attorney’s motion to withdraw based on irreconcilable difference on the eve of sentencing. Permitting withdrawal at such a late juncture would have hindered the functioning of the court as there would not have been time for appellant to procure new counsel. Schultz v. State, 4D18-3413 (1/15/20)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Upon remand, Court may consider a downward departure, but Court did not err in failing to consider a downward departure here because counsel did not file a motion so requesting, and court stated it would not have downwardly departed anyway. 157.5 year sentence stands. Schultz v. State, 4D18-3413 (1/15/20)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM DURING OFFENSE: Firearms found with the drugs in appellant's bedroom were in his constructive possession supports his enhancement for possession a firearm during commission of a drug offense. JURORS-PEREMPTORYCHALLENGE-PRESERVATION-DISSENT:

“This case presents an important issue in Florida law as to whether religion can be considered as a basis for a peremptory strike. The majority wrongfully insulates it from review by using an overly formalistic interpretation of preservation. I dissent.” State v. Pacchiani, SC18-655 (1/9/20)

DEATH PENALTY: Death Row inmates are not entitled to the identities of the manufacturers of the three drugs used to administer lethal injection as part of challenge as to whether the three drug procedure for administering death penalty provides sufficient anesthetization. Georgia's Lethal Injection Secrecy Act, which protects death penalty drug providers from disclosure of their identities, is lawful. Jordan v. SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Because Defendant has one minor criminal offense (DWLS) within ten years of the instant offense, all priors must be scored and Court may not impose a downward departure sentence. A trial court's opinions that the lowest permissible sentence is too harsh, or that the severity of the sentence is not commensurate with the seriousness of the crime, are prohibited grounds upon which to depart. QUOTATION: “If the right to a jury trial means anything, it means a right to a verdict based on the evidence.” United States v. Brown, No. 17-15470 (11th Cir. 01/09/20)

JURORS-DIVINE REVELATION: Court properly dismissed juror during deliberations who told other jurors that “A Higher Being told me Corrine Brown was Not Guilty on all charges” and that he “trusted the Holy Ghost.” “[R]egardless of whether it works in favor of or against the defendant, a rule that would allow a juror to base his verdict on something other than the evidence would be antithetical to the rule of law.” United States v. HEARSAY-ADOPTIVE ADMISSION: Annotations made by examiner to application form for Naturalization during interview on a form signed by the Defendant are adopted statements, nonhearsay under R. 801(d)(2)(b). United States v. Santos, No. 18-14529 (11th Cir. 01/09/20)

HEARSAY: An annotated Form N-400 naturalization application falls within the public records exception to the hearsay rule, as does an alien's A-file. United States v. Santos, No. 18-14529 (11th Cir. 01/09/20)

CONFRONTATION CLAUSE: Immigration Form N-400 Application, created during an interview, is a nontestimonial public record produced as a matter of administrative routine and for the primary purpose of determining eligibility for naturalization, and thus are not testimonial, not governed by Crawford, and its admission cannot violate the Confrontation Clause. United States v. Santos, No. 18-14529 (11th Cir. 01/09/20)

RULE OF COMPLETENESS: The Rule 106 Rule of Completeness-if a party introduces all or part of a writing or recorded statement, an adverse party may require the introduction, at that time, of any other part that in fairness ought to be considered—applies to oral as well as written or recorded statements. But Defendant’s statement as to why he had failed to mention his criminal history does not explain or modify his inculpatory statement that he had a criminal history, and thus is not admissible under the Rule of Completeness. United States v. Santos, No. 18-14529 (11th Cir. 01/09/20)

EVIDENCE: In possession of firearm by felon case, Court properly admitted photograph of firearm on the car seat when it had actually been underneath the seat when found, where testimony clearly acknowledged that the firearms had been moved before being photographed. Photograph was not misleading nor confusing. Franklin v. State, 1D18-4276 (1/8/20)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: When a trial court evaluates a motion for new trial, it must consider the weight of the evidence rather than the sufficiency of the evidence. Judge’s statement that “The Court will rely on the rulings previously made in this case, and I will deny the motion for new trial at this time,” does not show that the judge applied the wrong legal standard. Franklin v. State, 1D18-4276 (1/8/20)

RESTITUTION: Defendant who engaged in a fraudulent scheme to pay off Victim’s mortgage before foreclosure, and who instead diverted the funds, is not liable for restitution to the mortgage company for the full value of the home after it foreclosed on it. “[T]he State relies on various citations to the record in support of its assertion that the restitution imposed was supported by the evidence presented at trial. But not one of those citations demonstrates that Chicago Title paid a claim in the amount of $240,938. . . The prosecutor’s assertions regarding the amount of restitution were not competent substantial evidence.” Lewis v. State, 2D15-4203 (1/8/20)

VOP-HEARSAY: Court may not revoke probation for changing residence without permission solely on the testimony of the probation officer that the Defendant failed to report for several months and his father said “he was not there and had not been there in a while.” Failing to report does not corroborate hearsay that the Defendant had moved. Vann v. State, 2D18-4704 (1/8/20)

VOP: Only allegations made in the Affidavit can support a violation. Defendant’s probation cannot be revoked on the basis that he had failed to report for several months when the only allegation in the Affidavit of Violation of Probation was that he had moved without permission. Vann v. State, 2D18-4704 (1/8/20)

MISTRIAL: A mistrial should be granted only when an error is so prejudicial as to vitiate the entire trial, such that a mistrial is necessary to ensure that the defendant receives a fair trial, and only in cases of absolute necessity. In case of Deputy charged with sexually assaulting a citizen, Court erred by denying Motion for Mistrial following the alleged victim violating the Order in Limine excluding evidence about inconclusive DNA evidence by saying, “You see the DNA results on me. And now you guys say the DNA’s not on my butt, but it was on my butt.” Nebergall v. State, 4D18-2327 (1/8/20)

THEFT-VALUE-JOA: JOA for Grand Theft is required for theft of two iPads, an iPhone, an Alexa speaker, knick-knacks, a signed baseball, a camera, and jewelry (including an engagement ring which the wife estimated as being worth $3000). To prove value, the court must ascertain whether the person testifying is competent to testify to the value of property and if so, whether the evidence adduced at trial is sufficient to prove its fair market value beyond a reasonable doubt. Where the value of the property is estimated and no other proof is presented, the owner’s evidence is insufficient to prove fair market value. Good discussion. Harris v. State, 4D19-913 (1/8/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel misadvised him that he could have his record expunged. Affirmative misadvice regarding a collateral consequence may render a plea involuntary. Jackson v. State, D19-2804 (1/8/20)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant's is not entitled to an evidentiary hearing on a bare and conclusory allegation of newly discovered evidence. State, 4D19-3013 (1/8/20)

EIGHTH AMENDMENT-EXCESSIVE FORCE: To establish an Eighth Amendment excessive force/sexual assault claim, the Plaintiff must establish 1) that the official acted with a sufficiently culpable state of mind i.e., sadistically and maliciously applied for the very purpose of causing harm, and 2) the conduct must have been objectively harmful enough to establish a constitutional violation. A guard who sadistically and maliciously forces his finger into an inmate's anus violates the Eighth Amendment. Courts cannot find excessive force claims not actionable because the prisoner did not suffer more than de minimis injury. "The lack of serious physical injury, considered in a vacuum, cannot snuff out Eighth Amendment sexual-assault claims." Prior precedent receded from. Sconiers v. ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL ACT: Prior conviction for making terroristic threats is not a predicate violent felony under the elements clause of the Armed Career Criminal Act. Georgia's terroristic-threats statute can be violated without the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person of another. “Use” under the ACCA requires active employment of physical force. “Physical force” means violent force—that is, force capable of causing physical pain or injury to another person.” United States v. RETROACTIVITY-UPWARD DEPARTURE: Brown v. State, holding that the jury, and not the court, must make the factual determination of dangerousness to the public as the predicate for the imposition of a state prison sentence, does not apply retroactively. A change in the law is not deemed retroactive unless the change (a) emanates from the Florida or United States Supreme Court, (b) is constitutional in nature, and (c) constitutes a development of fundamental significance. Brown does not constitute a development of fundamental significance. Adams v. State, 5D 19-2540 (1/3/20)

MOTION TO DISMISS: “A motion to dismiss an information pursuant to Florida Rule of Criminal Procedure 3.190(c)(4) is analogous to a motion for summary judgment in a civil case. . . Both should be granted sparingly.” If the state’s evidence is all circumstantial, whether it excludes all reasonable hypotheses of innocence may only be decided at trial. State v. Petagine, 1D18-2086 (1/2/20)

HAZING: Information charging felony hazing based on a claim that a fraternity encouraged, and the (absent) fraternity president allowed, excessive drinking resulting in death is sufficient to withstand a motion to dismiss. State v. Petagine, 1D18-2086 (1/2/20)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Speedy Trial rule does not preclude the State from adding a misdemeanor count to a felony information more than 90 days after arrest. State v. Petagine, 1D18-2086 (1/2/20)

DISSENT (J. BILBREY): “The question has been asked since primeval times, ‘Am I my brother’s keeper?’ Andrew Coffey wanted to be a brother of the Pi Kappa Phi fraternity at Florida State University. He went to a party with brothers of the fraternity and fellow pledges, drank to excess, and tragically died. . . . But the limited question we are presented with here is not whether any moral, civil, or societal obligation toward Mr. Coffey was violated by the fraternity brothers, but whether . . . the fraternity president. . . committed the crime of hazing.” State v. Petagine, 1D18-2086 (1/2/20)

JOA-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: A defendant moving for a judgment of acquittal in a circumstantial evidence case must identify the element or elements of the crime for which he contends evidence is lacking and, if the evidence is purely circumstantial, must outline his theory of the case and explain why it is not inconsistent with the circumstantial evidence. Allen v. State, 1D18-3073 (1/2/20)

VIDEO VOYEURISM: Defendant is properly convicted of video voyeurism for sliding his video camera into a dressing room where a girl was changing clothes, notwithstanding that the actual video was never recovered. Allen v. State, 1D18-3073 (1/2/20)

CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPON-KNIFE: A knife with a 4 and a half inch blade, allegedly used for fishing and found in student's backpack, is not a weapon absent evidence that the Child used or threatened to use the knife to inflict harm. K.R. v. State, 3D18-2566 (1/2/20)

DECEMBER 2019

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIME: Evidence the Defendant had sexually assaulted another woman in a similar manner – knocking on the door then assaulting the woman inside — is admissible and relevant to show that Defendant had a common scheme or plan. Jakubowski v. State, 1D18-1074 (12/31/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/546063/6153170/file/181074_DC05_12312019_110857_i.pdf

HEARSAY: Victim’s statements to a nurse describing the sexual assault were not admissible under the exception for medical diagnosis or treatment, but their admission is harmless where, as here, the victim testifies to the same information in the evidence is merely cumulative. Jakubowski v. State, 1D18-1074 (12/31/19)

EVIDENCE-CONSCIOUSNESS OF GUILT: Evidence that Defendant attempted suicide shortly after being confronted by the victim about his sexual abuse of her as a child is admissible to show consciousness of guilt. Mathis v. State, 1D18-2183 (12/31/19)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: On a Motion for New Trial, the Court must consider (1) a sufficiency of the evidence standard (i.e., was the jury's verdict supported by sufficient evidence) and (2) a weight of the evidence standard by which the trial judge acts as a seventh juror to independently assess whether the jury verdict was contrary to the weight of the evidence. A new hearing is required where the Court only considered the former (stating only that the evidence was "sufficient") but not whether the verdict is against the weight of the evidence. Smith v. State, 1D18-3208 (12/31/19)

EVIDENCE-PSYCHOTHERAPIST-PATIENT PRIVILEGE: Defendant is entitled to use Victim's psychological assessment records (lawfully obtained when the Defendant was the Victim's guardian) establishing that the Victim suffered from Reactive Attachment Disorder (RAD).

Although the assessments were covered by the psychotherapist-patient privilege, “strict adherence to procedural rules may give way to a defendant’s right to present relevant evidence in his defense.”

Traffanstead v. State, 1D18-874 (12/31/19)

APPEALS: Appellate court must summarily affirm, rather than dismiss, frivolous appeals taken after entry of plea. Frias v. State, 1D19-1753 (12/31/19)

CERTIORARI: Where the threshold requirement of irreparable harm is not established, the petition for writ of certiorari must be dismissed.

Before conducting certiorari review of a non-final order, the appellate court must focus on the jurisdictional question of whether there is irreparable harm. Ford v. State, 1D19-4365 (12/31/19)

JUVENILE-SECURE DETENTION: Juvenile who does not score secure detention may not be remanded to secure detention based on an allegation that he had cut off his ankle monitor, absent a hearing to determine whether he was in contempt of court. S.B. v. El Fance, 3D 19-2508 (12/31/19)

HOBBS ACT: To sustain a conviction for Hobbs Act robbery, the government need only show that the offense had at least a minimal effect on interstate commerce. Examples of a minimal effect sufficient to meet the jurisdictional requirement include that a robbery deprived a business of cash or a depletion of assets. United States v. Herrera, No. 17-13440 (11th Cir. 12/31/19)

CONSPIRACY: Where a single conspiracy is charged in the indictment while multiple conspiracies may have been revealed at trial, the conviction stands unless the variance is (1) material and (2) substantially prejudiced the defendant. The existence of different sub-groups does not undermine the jury's finding of a single conspiracy so long as each group acted in furtherance of one overarching plan. United States v. Browdy, No. 17-15664 (12/30/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/unpub/files/201715664.pdf>

HEARSAY-STATEMENTS AGAINST PENAL INTEREST: Testimony regarding an out-of-court statement by a cooperating witness's wife that her husband wanted to frame the Defendant is properly excluded. The statement was not against the Wife's penal interest. United States v. Browdy, No. 17-15664 (12/30/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/unpub/files/201715664.pdf>

MISTRIAL: A brief, unelicited, and unresponsive mention that the Defendant had previously been incarcerated does not warrant a mistrial. United States v. Browdy, No. 17-15664 (12/30/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/unpub/files/201715664.pdf>

SCORESHEET-FIREARM ENHANCEMENT: Defendant is subject to a two level firearm enhancement based on a co-conspirator's act of threatening another by putting a gun in his mouth where the use of the firearm was reasonably foreseeable, occurred while the Defendant was apart of the conspiracy, and was in furtherance of it. United States v. Browdy, No. 17-15664 (12/30/19)

COMPETENCY: Court must delineate its findings regarding the competency of the defendant in a written order. White v. State, No. 1D18-3868 (12/27/19)

notwithstanding that the statute criminalizes carrying, not possessing, a firearm. Defendant properly convicted of carrying a firearm found under the seat he was driving. “Appellant’s argument is semantic only, and he has failed to demonstrate fundamental error.” Ruffins v. State, No. 1D18-706 (12/27/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT: The act of Defendant pointing to the car thief sought by the police and sitting on the motel bed is nonverbal consent for police to enter the hotel room. Defendant can be detained and questioned about the narcotics seen in plain view in the room. Smith v. State, 2D18-2493 (12/27/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: In DUI manslaughter case, blood draw procured in violation of the implied consent statute is nevertheless admissible based on inevitable discovery, notwithstanding that the process for obtaining a search warrant had not been initiated. “[W]e conclude that the inevitable discovery exception to the exclusionary rule applies in the instant case. Campbell's blood sample would have been obtained because there was probable cause for a blood draw, and a warrant would have been issued." Campbell v. State, 5D18-2091 (12/27/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-GOOD FAITH: The good faith exception cannot be applied where the police officer's acts occur subsequent to a binding appellate court decision (Birchfield) which determines that such acts are violative of the Fourth Amendment, even if the decision was released only the day before. Campbell v. State, 5D18-2091 (12/27/19)

BINDING PRECEDENT: The effective date of an appellate decision is the date appearing on the face of the decision even though it may not become final until after the time has expired for filing a motion for rehearing. Campbell v. State, 5D18-2091 (12/27/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy prohibits dual convictions and sentences for Aggravated Battery and Battery committed against one victim within the same criminal transaction or episode (here, stock car racers on the track). Rivera v. State, 5D18-3385 (12/27/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CURTILAGE-AUTOMOBILE: Unpaved parking area shared by several dwellings is not within the curtilage of the Defendant's home. State v. Thornton, 5D18-3726 (12/27/19)

STAND YOUR GROUND-RETROACTIVITY: Change in SYG statute applies retroactively, but given the Court's finding that under either standard SYG would not apply, conviction stands. Maddox v. State, 5D19-352 (12/27/19)

RESENTENCING: Court may not rescind order granting resentencing when neither party moved for rehearing or appealed the order. Price v. State, 5D19-993 (12/27/19)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Judge's comments that indicated that he had predetermined that Defendant would receive lengthy prison sentences provides Defendant with a well-grounded fear that he would not receive a fair sentencing hearing before the judge. Judge's subsequent denial of motion to mitigate is vacated. Hauter v. State, 5D19-2921 (12/27/19)

COMPETENCY: Once a trial court appoints doctors to undertake competency evaluations of a defendant, the trial court is obligated to make its own independent competency determination. Judge's statement that a defendant presents as "very lucid in court" is not a finding of competency. Where reports, prepared well before the inadequate hearing, indicate that the Defendant is bipolar with a likelihood of decomposition, the Court may not make a retroactive finding of competency. New trial required. Alexander v. State, 3D18-1747 (12/26/19)

EVIDENCE-VOIR DIRE: Where Defendant successfully moved to exclude evidence of prior thefts known to have been committed by Defendant, he may not present evidence, nor discuss during voir dire, his homelessness in support of defense that he was seeking shelter in the car, not that he intended to steal from it. An order in limine should only be used as a shield and never to gag the truth or mislead the jury. “[I]n order for homelessness to be relevant, jurors would be forced to embrace the assumption that members of the homeless population are more likely to enter a vehicle in search of refuge than for the purpose of committing a crime.” Sims v. State, 3D18-1431 (12/26/19)

ENHANCEMENT-BODY ARMOR: Selling body armor does not subject one to the two level enhancement for use of body armor during the offense. “[T]here are only two ways to “use” body armor under the guideline, and neither of them involves selling it.” United States v. Bankston, No. 18-14812 (11th Cir. 12/23/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201814812.pdf>

STATUTORY INTERPRETATION-PLAIN MEANING-LEGISLATIVE HISTORY: “[T]he government offers legislative history. That legislative history, we are told. . ., reveals the guideline’s true purpose: ‘to take body armor out of the hands of violent criminals. . .’ No matter. . .’ When the import of the words Congress has used is clear. . ., we need not resort to legislative history, and we certainly should not do so to undermine the plain meaning of the statutory language.” United States v. Bankston, No. 18-14812 (11th Cir. 12/23/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201814812.pdf>

HEARSAY: Error, if any, in admitting statements, “Do it, Josh” (Defendant’s girlfriend telling him to shoot at victim) and “I can’t believe he done that.” (Victim’s boyfriend alluding to Defendant having shot her) is harmless. Wright v. State, 1D18-1609 (12/23/19)

CELL PHONE PASS CODE: QUESTION CERTIFIED: What is the proper legal inquiry when the state seeks to compel a suspect to provide a password to the suspect’s cell phone if the suspect has not previously given up his Fifth Amendment privilege in the password? What legal standard applies in determining whether the foregone conclusion applies to compelled production of passwords in these situations? Pollard v. State, 1D18-4572 (12/23/19)

QUOTATION: “The expansion of governmental powers to compel disclosures of personally-held information to search person’s homes and personal effects. . . , is the antipode of the original understanding of the Fifth Amendment, which protected individual freedom by prohibiting compelled disclosures used to incriminate an accused. . . . At its core, the debate . . . is about which vision of the right against compelled testimony prevails: those of the Founders who erred on the side of personal liberty or those who defend state powers to extract testimony and see no problem in ‘merely compel[ling a defendant] to unlock [a] phone by entering the passcode himself.’” Pollard v. State, 1D18-4572 (12/23/19)

SENTENCE-MINOR: Resentencing is not required where a minor homicide defendant's sentence (30 years) is not a life sentence, a mandatory life sentence or a de facto life sentence. Wagner v. State, 1D18-4783 (12/23/19)

MOTION FOR POST CONVICTION RELIEF-BURGLARY: Defendant is not entitled to relief on claim that he could not be found guilty for remaining in a structure open to the public (a public parking garage) with the intent to commit a crime. A person who remains in premises with the intent to commit a forcible felony commits burglary. "It is true that this formulation is not always consistent with the historical understanding of the crime of burglary." Wilson v. State, 1D18-535 (12/23/19)

COMPETENCY: Court may order involuntary treatment of a forensic client committed to a state facility if necessary for his own or other's safety, regardless of Due Process analysis, which limits forced medication to restore competency. Hicks v. North Florida Evaluation and Treatment Center, 1D19-896 (12/23/19)

FAILURE TO REGISTER: Sexual Offender Registration and Notification Act (SORNA) defines a “sex offense” to include a criminal offense with an element of sexual contact. The categorical approach applies to determine whether a state conviction qualifies under SORNA. The sentencing court must look only to the fact that the defendant has been convicted of crimes falling within certain categories, and not to the facts underlying the prior convictions. Defendant who was convicted of violating a Tennessee law prohibiting sexual contact to one of five body areas (the primary genital area, groin, inner thigh, buttock, or breast) is subject to SORNA. United States v. Vineyard, No. 18-11690 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

DEFINITION-CONTACT: “Contact” is the “union or junction of body surfaces: a touching or meeting.” United States v. Vineyard, No. 18-11690 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811690.pdf>

DEFINITION-SEXUAL: “Sexual” means “of or relating to the sphere of behavior associated with libidinal gratification.” United States v. Vineyard, No. 18-11690 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811690.pdf>

DEFINITION-PRIMARY GENITAL AREA: “The plain meaning of the term ‘primary’ suggests that the ‘primary genital area’ covers essentially the same area of the body as the genitals. United States v. Vineyard, No. 18-11690 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811690.pdf>

FIREARM IN FURTHERANCE: Hobbs Act robbery is a crime of violence under the elements clause of §924(c), which requires a mandatory consecutive sentence for any defendant who uses or carries a firearm during a crime of violence or a drug-trafficking crime. Rodriguez v. United States, No. 18-11438 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

SENTENCING-DRUG QUANTITY: Sentencing courts are permitted to make factual findings, including drug quantities, based on undisputed statements in the PSI. United States v. Thomas, No. 19-11388 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

SENTENCING-ENHANCEMENT-RISK OF DEATH/SERIOUS BODILY INJURY: Flight alone is insufficient to warrant an enhancement under for creating a serious risk of death or serious bodily injury, but high-speed flight in a residential area may warrant the enhancement, particularly where no objection is made to the PSR. United States v. Thomas, No. 19-11388 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

JUROR: A Court may replace a seated juror, prior to deliberations, when facts arise that cast doubt on the juror's ability to perform his duties. Court did not abuse its discretion in declining to remove the juror who expressed concerns for his safety because he worked at a jail but whose concerns were assuaged when he learned the Defendant would not go to his jail if convicted. United States v. Rothwell, No. 18-13284 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

CAREER OFFENDER-RELEVANT CONDUCT: A defendant is a career offender under the Sentencing Guidelines if he has at least two prior felony convictions for either a crime of violence or a controlled substance offense within ten years of the commencement of the instant offense, including any relevant conduct. Defendant who is convicted of a crime committed in 2017 but who has relevant conduct (drug dealing) beginning in 2014, is subject to Career Offender sentencing because on priors extending back to 2004 (ten years from the earliest relevant conduct). Defendant qualifies for Career Offender status. In evaluating relevant conduct, the Court considers the similarity, regularity, and temporal proximity between the instant offense and the uncharged conduct. United States v. Rothwell, No. 18-13284 (11th Cir. 12/20/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-WELFARE CHECK: Officers acted lawfully under the community caretaker exception to the Fourth Amendment by rousing the Defendant and his unconscious passenger from the running car. The community caretaker exception to the warrant requirement focuses on concern for the safety of the general public. Searches and seizures conducted under the community caretaker doctrine are solely for safety reasons and must be totally divorced from the detection, investigation, or acquisition of evidence relating to the violation of a criminal statute. State v. Brumelow, 1D18-3631 (12/20/19)

HEARSAY: Statements by a non-testifying 911 caller repeated by the officer and inculcating the Defendant in the shooting are inadmissible hearsay. Officer's testimony, purporting to explain the police investigation but containing prejudicial third party statements of non-testifying witnesses, is improper hearsay even though the proponent of such evidence seeks to clothe such hearsay under a nonhearsay label. Error here is harmless. Knots v. State, 1D18-476 (12/20/19)

APPEAL-POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SUPPLEMENTAL RECORDS: Appellant may not supplement the record on appeal with documents which were not provided to the trial court in his hearing on his Motion for Post Conviction Relief. Partlow v. State, 1D19-1272 (12/20/19)

COMPETENCY: Court may require incompetent Defendant committed to a state facility to receive involuntary treatment, including forced psychotropic medication. When the State seeks to involuntarily medicate a forensic client solely for restoration of competency to stand trial, forced administration of psychotropic medication is permissible only when (1) an important governmental interest is at stake, (2) the administration of antipsychotic medication is substantially likely to render the defendant competent to stand trial without causing side effects that would significantly interfere with the defendant's ability to help counsel prepare a defense, (3) less intrusive treatments are unlikely to achieve the same results, and (4) the administration of the medication is in the forensic client's best medical interest. However, Courts may order involuntary treatment when a defendant is dangerous to himself or others or to protect the defendant's own interests where the refusal to take medication puts the defendant's own health at risk. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-GOOD FAITH EXCEPTION-COMPUTER ERROR: Officers mistakenly thought the Child (who had an identical twin brother with a similar name) had an arrest warrant. Where computer and/or human error lead an officer to erroneously believe that a warrant for the Defendant's arrest existed, any evidence found in the course of the arrest must be suppressed. The good faith exception does not apply to mistakes or errors caused by law enforcement personnel. If the error is attributable to law enforcement personnel, the seized evidence must be suppressed under the exclusionary rule. "No exceptions to that rule apply." State v. J.R.D., 2D18-2034 (12/20/19)

MOTION TO DISMISS: Court may deny State's ore tenus motion for leave to file a traverse after it had filed a motion to strike but not a traverse before the hearing. Nonetheless, the Motion should have been denied for being self contradictory on the issue of whether the Defendant ever had a driver's license in the first place. State v. Randolph, 5D18-2979 (12/20/19)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-HABITUAL OFFENDER-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCE: Sentences for attempted murder and burglary must be imposed concurrently. Once a defendant's sentences for multiple crimes committed during a single criminal episode are enhanced through habitual felony offender statutes, the total penalty cannot be further increased by ordering that the sentences run consecutively. Shooting one victim both in the house and several blocks away after the victim fled is one criminal episode where the State did not charge separate attempted murders. Mason v. State, 5D18-3691 (12/20/19)

RESENTENCING: Defendant cannot be resentenced on offenses for which the defendant's prison term has expired. Andrews v. State, 5D19-1344 (12/29/19)

RESENTENCING: Court cannot rescind its prior order for resentencing and must proceed with a resentencing hearing when neither party moved to vacate the order in question. The fact that the rescission of the order for resentencing was due to a change in the law does not matter. Magill v. State, 5D19-1478 (12/20/19)

COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL: Defendant's argument that statute allowing sentence reviews for juveniles convicted of crimes punishable by up to life in prison but not for lower-level offenses violates Equal Protection is not barred by collateral estoppel when she had raised different arguments before. The doctrine of collateral estoppel only precludes a defendant from relitigating the same issues between the same parties in connection with a different cause of action. Ortiz v. State, 5D19-1923 (12/20/19)

COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL: For the doctrine of collateral estoppel to apply to bar relitigation of an issue, five elements must be present: (1) an identical issue must have been presented in the prior proceedings; (2) the issue must have been a critical and necessary part of the prior determination; (3) there must have been a full and fair opportunity to litigate that issue; (4) the parties in the two proceedings must be identical; and (5) the issues must have been actually litigated. Ortiz v. State, 5D19-1923 (12/20/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant may not raise a claim of entitlement to postconviction relief based on newly discovered evidence – FBI report on unreliability of hair analysis – which could have been raised in an earlier motion for postconviction relief. Bogle v. State, SC17-2151 (12/19/19)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: A Faretta colloquy is not rendered inadequate by the trial court's failure to inquire as to the defendant's age, experience, and understanding of the rules of criminal procedure. Thorough discussion of right of self-representation. Hooks v. State, SC18-1106 (12/19/19)

COMPETENCY: The fact that the Defendant had stopped taking his psychotropic medication does not establish that the Defendant was incompetent at the time of his trial. Sparre v. State, SC18-1192 (12/19/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-APPEAL: Where Defendant's motion for postconviction relief made a general claim that trial counsel was ineffective for failing to impeach a witness, but in the hearing he failed to specifically show what he was referring to, on appeal he may not point to specific areas of the deposition testimony which he claims should have been used to impeach at trial. Sparre v. State, SC18-1192 (12/19/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEFENSE ARGUMENT: Counsel delivered a deficient closing argument by attacking the character of the victim of the homicide without tying any of his statements into a defense theory, but there was no prejudice given the overwhelming evidence of guilt. Sparre v. State, SC18-1192 (12/19/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-ARGUMENT: Counsel was ineffective for failing to object to State’s penalty phase arguments mocking his defense that the killing was frenzied rather than premeditated (i.e, a “thrill kill and then he just kind of got a little carried away” and “the knife just kept slipping.”), but there is no reasonable probability that the first-degree murder verdict or the sentence of death were affected. Sparre v. State, SC18-1192 (12/19/19)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel was deficient for failing to supplement the record on appeal with the defense sentencing memorandum, which trial counsel filed with the trial court but which (apparently) was not filed with the clerk of court and therefore not included in the record on appeal. This deficiency does not warrant relief because appellate court had the substance of what was missing. Sparre v. State, SC18-1192 (12/19/19)

RULES-PARENTAL LEAVE: New rule 2.570 requires, with exceptions, a court must grant a timely motion for continuance based on the parental leave of the movant’s lead attorney, due to the birth or adoption of a child for a presumptive three-month maximum length.

SPEEDY TRIAL-ARREST: “Arrest” in the speedy trial context should mean formal arrest, which is the only type of detention by law enforcement that implicates the Sixth Amendment speedy trial right. Rules of Criminal Procedure should be amended consistently with this ruling. Investigative detention including handcuffing, transportation, and interrogation at the Sheriff’s Department is not a formal arrest triggering speedy trial. Davis v. State, SC18-1627 (12/19/19)

JURY PARDON: There is no fundamental right to instructions that facilitate partial jury nullification. “We hereby recede from this Court’s precedent where a finding of fundamental error was predicated on Florida’s jury pardon doctrine.” “[W]e erred by transforming the unreviewable pardon power of the jury into a fundamental right of the defendant. And we further erred by treating the deprivation of the defendant’s nonexistent right to the availability of a jury pardon as a structural defect that vitiates the fairness of the trial.” Knight v. State, SC-309 (12/19/19)

JURY PARDON: “Contrary to the logic of the jury pardon doctrine, interference with an opportunity for the jury to carry out a partial jury nullification does not undermine the validity of the trial. No defendant has the right to a trial in which the judge facilitates the jury’s acting in disregard of the law.” Knight v. State, SC-309 (12/19/19)

JURY PARDON-STARE DECISIS: “[W]e recede from this Court’s precedents relying on a right of access to a partial jury nullification as a basis for finding fundamental error in jury instructions. . . .We make this decision mindful of the importance of stare decisis in most cases. While the doctrine of stare decisis is ‘strong,’ it is ‘not unwavering.’” Knight v. State, SC-309 (12/19/19)

STAND YOUR GROUND-RETROACTIVITY: Amendment to the SYG law (Fla.Stat. 776.032(4)) altering the burden of proof at pretrial immunity hearings applies to pending cases involving criminal conduct alleged to have been committed prior to the effective date of the statute. The change in law is procedural and applies retroactively. The date of effectiveness of the shift in the Burden of Proof is the date of the SYG hearing. Pre-effective-date immunity hearings are not undone. Love v. State, SC18-747 (12/19/19)

AMENDMENT-JURY INSTRUCTIONS-SELF-DEFENSE: Whether Castle Doctrine applies to a place of business is an issue which needs to be resolved through case law, not through proposed amendments to the jury instructions. “[A] standard jury instruction case is not the proper means in which to resolve a substantive issue of law. Rather, absent clarification by the legislature, that matter must await this Court’s resolution in an actual case and controversy.” In re: Standard Jury Instructions, SC19-419 (12/19/19)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: There are two legally distinct issues that can be raised by a defendant in a motion for judgment of acquittal: (1) whether the State presented legally sufficient evidence to establish each element of the charged offense; and (2) whether in a case where the only proof of guilt is circumstantial, the State's evidence is inconsistent with any reasonable hypothesis of innocence, including the defendant's own version of the evidence. Because Defendant did not raise a circumstantial evidence/reasonable hypothesis argument in his motion for judgment of acquittal, issue is not preserved for appeal. Johnson v. CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Cathinones found in a bedroom and a photograph on the Defendant's phone showing cathinones is insufficient circumstantial evidence to establish that the Defendant had constructive possession of the narcotics. Johnson v. State, 1D18-4554 (12/19/19)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: When a trial court has awarded a defendant jail credit, the Department of Corrections has primary responsibility for calculating the credit. If the Department of Corrections fails in its responsibility, the prisoner must first seek relief from the Department. Baxter v. State, 1D18-4870 (12/19/19)

EVIDENCE-IDENTIFICATION: When the evidence is such that the witness is in no better position than the jurors to make an identification, officer's opinion that the person in the video is the defendant is inadmissible because it invades the province of the jury. The fact that the officer had known the Defendant and had a special familiarity with him does not justify the officer giving his opinion as to identity. Bentley v. State, 2D18-2256 (12/18/19)

COMPETENCY: Where a court grants a defendant's motion for appointment of an expert for a competency examination, but fails to hold a hearing or enter a written finding on the movant's competency to proceed, the case must be temporarily remanded to the circuit court with specific instructions to vacate the conviction or make a nunc pro tunc determination of competency, if possible. VOIR DIRE-TIME LIMIT: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial when Court limited voir dire to 90 minutes, with a 10 minute extension, and counsel for the the Defendant exhausted his time inefficiently. "Although the trial court's limiting the defense's questioning of prospective jurors during voir dire is cause for concern, we conclude that. . . there was no abuse of discretion." Guy v. DISCOVERY VIOLATION: Last-minute disclosure of the jail call procured the night before in which the Defendant said fishy things

SENTENCING-HEARSAY: Court may consider hearsay during a sentencing hearing so long as the evidence has sufficient indicia of reliability and the defendant is given the opportunity to rebut the evidence. Where PSR includes disputed allegations from the police report about the Defendant's previous sex offense but the record does not show that the Court relied on those disputed facts, the sentence stands. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Eye witness's fingerprints on the murder victim's wallet is newly discovered evidence but would not likely result in acquittal on retrial where there is a plausible, innocent explanation for the fingerprints, so conviction stands. Matthews v. State, SC18-9 (12/12/19)

SEX TRAFFICKING-MENS REA: In sex trafficking of a minor case, the Government need only prove that the defendant had a reasonable opportunity to observe the victim, not that he either knew or recklessly disregarded the victim’s age. United States v. Pemberton, No. 17-14466 (11th Cir. 12/11/2019)

PLEA-VOLUNTARINESS: In case where plea before magistrate was aborted then renewed before the district judge the next day, the district judge’s failing to repeat the previously given Rule 11 advice to Defendant about his right to counsel, after Defendant agreed to skip the repeat admonitions, if error, is invited. United States v. Pemberton, No. 17-14466 (11th Cir. 12/11/2019)

FIREARM-MANDATORY MINIMUM: Hobbs Act robbery qualifies as a crime of violence under the elements clause of § 924(c)(3)(A) because it requires the use, attempted use, or threatened use of force against the person or property of another and is therefore a predicate offense for the 10-Year Mandatory Minimum. APPEAL WAIVER: When a defendant challenges his sentence on appeal by raising claims that the government argues are barred by an appeal waiver, the government may file a motion to dismiss those claims. United States v. Moore, No. 18-13057 (11th Cir. 12/11/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-MISADVICE: Where counsel misadvised Defendant that he qualified as a Career Criminal and would therefore be sentenced to over twenty years on a plea, and so the Defendant went to trial and lost, in order to vacate the conviction he must establish a reasonable probability that he would have pled guilty, the district court would have accepted his guilty plea, and, in turn, that his sentence would have been less severe had he pled guilty than the sentence he actually received. United States v. Medina, No. 18-12270 (11th Cir. 12/11/19)

SENTENCING-MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: Where Defendant convicted of felony murder as an accomplice is remanded for resentencing and verdict does not clearly establish that she had the intent to kill, she is entitled to a full de novo sentencing hearing under § 921.1401. SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: When the comments of a sentencing court may reasonably be viewed as suggesting that the sentence was, at least in part, based on the defendant's decision to go to trial, resentencing before a different judge is appropriate. Toye v. State, 2D16-5423 (12/11/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court's comment ("Those bottom of the guidelines are pretty much reserved for people who accept responsibility. This is a matter where the jury went forward and convicted your client.") establishes that the Court improperly punished the Defendant for going to trial. Defendant is entitled to resentencing before a different judge. Moore v. State, 2D18-1488 (12/11/19)

LESSER INCLUDED: Lewd or lascivious conduct is not a lesser included offense of Attempted Sexual Battery on a Child less than T where the allegations in the charging document fail to include elements of lewd or lascivious conduct. Lewd or lascivious conduct contains an element not included in the offense of sexual battery on a child, namely, touching in a lewd or lascivious conduct. Remedy for Court in bench trial having found an impermissible lesser included is remand for consideration on the lesser offense of battery, not discharge. J.F. v. State, 2D18-1619 (12/11/19)

SENTENCING-MANDATORY MINIMUM-ORAL PRONOUNCEMENT:

Where judgment reflects a three year minimum mandatory which the Court failed to orally pronounce, the Court must re-sentence the Defendant with the minimum mandatory after ensuring that the Defendant is present at the new hearing. Although the Defendant's presence might be "useless, or the benefit but a shadow. . .we are bound by the rule that a defendant's due process rights are violated when a minimum term of imprisonment is added to a sentence without the defendant's presence." Thomas v. State, 2D18-3420 (12/11/19)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER-VOLUNTARY INTOXICATION:

Voluntary intoxication is only available for crimes of specific intent, not second-degree murder, a general intent crime. Mentally ill Defendant who brutally beat the victim to death after becoming voluntarily intoxicated by flakka and sweet liquor is guilty of second degree murder. "No evidence in this case suggests that Morrison had a specific intent to fatally attack the elderly victim. However, the evidence does indicate that he 'voluntarily intoxicated' himself with a combination of illegal and dangerous drugs. . .The end result was the same as . . .if [he] had set out to deliberately murder a person." Morrison v. State, 4D17-2635 (12/11/19)

ARGUMENT: “We're asking you to find him guilty of first-degree murder because it's premeditated murder, because that is what he did. Had that not been what he did, we wouldn't have charged him that way,” is improper argument but not fundamental error. Prosecutor may not imply that it would not have brought charges if the defendant were innocent. Morrison v. State, 4D17-2635 (12/11/19)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-JURY INSTRUCTION: Defense counsel who makes a general request for a specific jury instruction but fails to raise any objection to the instructions subsequent to the denial of the request thereby fails to preserve the issue for appeal. For an issue to be preserved for appeal it must be presented to the lower court and the specific legal argument or ground to be argued on appeal must be part of that presentation. Reed v. State, 4D18-1533 (12/11/19)

HEAT OF PASSION: Argument with a girl friend who is dumping one is insufficient provocation to warrant a heat of passion instruction in a homicide of one's girl friend and her sister. Reed v. State, 4D18-1533 (12/11/19)

COSTS: Court may not impose a public defender fee of $300 without providing notice of the amount and of the right to contest the fee. Defendant may agree to a higher public defender fee as part of a plea agreement. Mack v. State, 4D18-2034 (12/11/19)

SCORESHEET ERROR: Where error on the sentencing scoresheet erroneously increased the lowest permissible sentence from 20.315 months to 20.175 months and the sentence imposed was 72 months, the error is harmless. Desrosiers v. State, 4D18-2547 (12/11/19)

COSTS: In a criminal case, a trial courts may not assess costs in excess of a $100.00 fee in prosecution costs and a $225.00 fee a where the defendant is convicted of a felony without making appropriate factual findings. Desrosiers v. State, 4D18-2547 (12/11/19)

COSTS: In drug cases, the trial court may assess fees for the county drug abuse trust fund, but must consider the defendant's ability to pay. Desrosiers v. State, 4D18-2547 (12/11/19)

COSTS: Court may impose investigatory costs, but only when requested by the State or agency involved. Desrosiers v. State, 4D18-2547 (12/11/19)

COMPETENCY-HEARING: Court is not required to hold a competency hearing absent any evidence of Appellant's incompetency at the time of trial. Assertion and evaluations for psychological evaluations for insanity at the time of the offense do not trigger the need for competency evaluations. The fact that a defendant intends to rely on the insanity defense, standing alone, does not raise a presumption that the defendant is incompetent to stand trial. Gordon v. State, 4D18-2653 (12/11/19)

PREMEDITATION: Premeditation can be shown by circumstantial evidence. The fact that the Defendant walked over to the victim, pulled a knife from his pocket, shouted an expletive at him, and then stabbed him more than eighteen times at close range, then turned to a second person and said "I'll do it to you, too. I'll kill you," is sufficient evidence of premeditation. The deliberate use of a knife to stab a victim multiple times is evidence that can support a finding of premeditation. Gordon v. State, 4D18-2653 (12/11/19)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant is not in constructive possession of illegal substances on top of a dresser in a home with multiple occupants, notwithstanding his acknowledgment that he is a drug user. For a conviction under a theory of constructive possession, the State is required to prove that the defendant knew of the presence of the contraband and had the ability to maintain dominion and control over it. When the premises where the contraband is found are in joint possession, the elements of constructive possession may not be inferred and must be established by independent proof. While knowledge can be established by proof that the contraband was in plain view in the common areas, dominion and control must be established by independent proof beyond mere proximity where the premises were in joint possession or the defendant was a mere visitor. Sims v. State, 1D18-4916 (12/10/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PATDOWN: During traffic stop, where Officer smells marijuana but can't find any on Defendant after shaking his underwear, officer acted reasonably in using a pocket knife to cut a hole in his underwear. “[G]iven that the officer could have. . .reached into Appellant's underwear and presumably touched Appellant's genitals, I cannot say under the totality of the circumstances here that the search was unreasonable.” Hilliard v. State, 1D118-4998 (12/10/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: District court may not reject magistrate judge's credibility determinations without holding its own evidentiary hearing. United States v. Medina, No. 18-12270 (11th Cir. 12/9/19)

PLEA WAIVER: Waiver of the right to appeal includes waiver of the right to appeal difficult or debatable legal issues or even blatant error. United States v. Patel, No. 19-11407 (11th Cir. 12/9/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for solicitation and traveling after solicitation do not violate double jeopardy where the Defendant entered into a plea agreement. Unlike where there is a trial in which only charged conduct is allowable, plea negotiations are not so limited and can be based on relevant but uncharged information. In the context of plea negotiations, the charging document need not be as strictly constructed as to those counts that might form the basis for a double jeopardy violation. Newcombe v. State, 1D16-4769 (12/6/19)

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: The use of juvenile offenses as qualifying priors under the PRR statute does not violate Graham or Miller. "McDuffey's criminal history demonstrates persistent criminality rather than the incorrigibility inherent in youth." McDuffey v. State, 1D17-3250 (12/6/19)

INJUSTICE: "McDuffey's criminal history is short-lived, consisting of the one-day theft spree as a sixteen-year-old and the joint kidnapping/robbery of a drug dealer at age twenty-one. His offenses require punishment and appropriate incarceration, but a mandatory sentence of life without parole. . .raises more than one judicial eyebrow." McDuffey v. State, 1D17-3250 (12/6/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DNA TESTING: Defendant convicted of rape is not entitled to post-conviction testing of foreign DNA samples under the victim's fingernails on the theory that the sex had been consensual (Defendant's DNA was in her vagina) but the fight had been with someone else. "Appellant's assertions are unsupported by any facts, any evidence, common sense, or the law. And, because Appellant's assertions are 'patently unbelievable,' the courts are not required to order further investigation, designed only to humiliate and further traumatize a 14-year-old victim of a brutal rape." Mosley v. State, 1D-19-466 (12/6/19)

SENTENCING-LOWEST PERMISSIBLE SENTENCE: Court errs in sentencing the Defendant to 107.25 months (LPS) on each count (one 2nd degree felony and two third degree felonies) consecutively (about 33 years total) where the LPS was 107.25 months and the cumulative statutory maximum would have been 25 years. "Because the LPS does not exceed twenty-five years, the trial court was not required to impose the LPS, and the sentences should have been capped by their individual statutory maximum sentences." Conflict certified. Gabriel v. State, 5D18-3264 (12/6/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: When a defendant's initial rule 3.850 motion for postconviction relief is determined to be legally insufficient for failure to meet pleading requirements, the trial court must allow the defendant at least one opportunity to amend the motion. Austin v. State, 5D19-670 (12/6/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-PRESERVATION: A request for a standing objection to nonspecific things previously objected to in preliminary proceedings does not renew a specific objection to a peremptory challenge when the Defense has, prior to that request, accepted the jury without reservation. Where defense had objected to the State's challenge to the jury's sole black juror and opposed the State's proffered race neutral explanation but later announced that he agreed to the jury as constituted, then the following day requested a continuing objection to "a few objection [sic] in preliminary proceedings," the issue of improper use of a peremptory challenge is not properly renewed and preserved. Ivey v. State, SC18-372 (12/5/19)

STANDING OBJECTION: A standing objection must clearly and specifically articulate the issue being objected to. Ivey v. State, SC18-372 (12/5/19)

ARGUMENT-GOLDEN RULE: Asking jurors to imagine the victim's loss of hope as he slowly died while hung and tied to the bed did not expressly ask the jurors to put themselves in the victim's position but "came close to crossing the line." "If you could do that in America, then we'd all be in trouble because the mortgage companies would have us tied to the bed," constituted an improper golden rule argument. Jordan v. State, SC18-899 (12/5/19)

ARGUMENT: "Don't let him get away with this" is improper argument but not fundamental error. An objection is required for preservation of the issue, and counsel's strategic decision to limit objections so as not to antagonize the jury is rational. Jordan v. State, SC18-899 (12/5/19)

ARGUMENT-LACK OF REMORSE: Although State generally may not argue lack of remorse, the door is opened to this type of argument when defense counsel's opening statement included condolences for the victim and his family. "By injecting remorse into his opening statement in a case where part of the defense was that Jordan did not know the victim was in danger and had not meant to kill the victim when he left him tied up, we find that trial counsel opened the door for the State to address the lack of any evidence of remorse in this case." Jordan v. State, SC18-899 (12/5/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Before a prisoner in custody pursuant to a state court judgment can file a second federal habeas petition under § 2254, he must move in the appropriate court of appeals for an order authorizing the district court to consider the application. Defendant may not file a successive habeas corpus petition for post conviction relief without prior authorization notwithstanding that his petition presents a claim that relies on a new rule of constitutional law that the Supreme Court has made retroactive. Banks v. United States, No. 19-11010 (11th Cir. 12/5/19)

SENTENCING-ACCA-PRIORS: Where one of the predicates for ACCA sentencing was not legally sufficient because it fell under the residual clause (which was later determined to be unconstitutionally vague) but where another count (a drug offense), was originally mislabeled as a nonqualifying predicate offense in the PSI, the Defendant remained subject to ACCA sentencing, and is not entitled to a new sentencing hearing. Court is not required to articulate which priors it relied on in imposing an ACCA sentence. Gray v. United State, No. 18-12770 (11th Cir. 12/5/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/unpub/files/201812770.pdf>

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Defendant who did not object within 14 days to magistrate's recommendation that his plea be accepted cannot successfully move to withdraw the plea later. A district court may permit a defendant to withdraw his guilty plea. Defendant's failure to submit written objections to the magistrate's recommendation that the plea be accepted within 14 days waives his right to review, absent plain error. United States v. Cabeza, No. 18-10258 (11th Cir. 12/5/19)

SENTENCING-FIREARM ENHANCEMENT: Defendant who is sentenced for possession of a firearm by a felon is subject to a four level enhancement for use of the firearm in connection with another offense based on evidence that he had recently sold marijuana from the room where the gun was found, so that the gun had the potential to facilitate the offense of drug trafficking. A firearm found in close proximity to drug-related items has the potential to facilitate the drug offense, and is therefore possessed in connection with that offense. United States v. Saez, No. 19-11364 (11th Cir. 12/5/19)

JOA: Child is entitled to Judgment of Dismissal on charge of grand theft of the vehicle in which he was a passenger and of the burglaries/thefts related to the stolen property in the stolen car. PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Court retains jurisdiction to rule on Defendant's Motion to withdraw plea filed before Notice of Appeal is found. The motion tolled rendition of his sentence and placed his appeal in abeyance until the court disposed of the motion. Court has jurisdiction to rule on the defendant's motion to withdraw plea even though the defendant's appeal was pending because the motion to withdraw plea was filed before the notice of appeal. VOP: Court may not revoke probation solely on proof that the probationer has been arrested. His No Contest plea and resulting conviction establishes the violation for one case but not for the other Condition 5 violations which did not result in a conviction. Herrera v. State, 2D18-3709 (12/4/19)

VOP: Defendant may not be violated for failure to pay drug testing costs when that special condition was not imposed. VOP-FAILURE TO PAY: Court may not revoke probation based on failure to pay fines and costs where time remained on the probation to make such payments, and the court made no inquiry as to whether the Defendant had the ability to pay any of his monetary obligations. Court must make an inquiry and make explicit findings of willfulness before revoking probation for failing to pay costs. Error is fundamental. Herrera v. State, 2D18-3709 (12/4/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that trial counsel was ineffective by affirmatively misadvising him that if he were to testify, the State would be allowed to cross-examine him regarding the nature and details of his prior felony conviction. PSI: The omission of the DJJ recommendation in a PSI is an error in the sentencing process, not an error in the order imposing the sentence. Defendant, who was a minor at the time of the commission of the offense, is not entitled to a resentencing where he failed to object to the omission at sentencing. Error is not correctable by motion. Jones v. State, 4D18-1945 (12/4/19)

MINOR-RESENTENCING: Court lacks jurisdiction to rescind an order granting resentencing once it became a final, appealable order, and neither party timely moved for rehearing of the order. White v. State, 4D18-3560 (12/4/19)

APPEAL-MOTION FOR EARLY TERMINATION OF PROBATION: An order denying early termination of probation is not an appealable order. Velazquez v. State, 4D19-245 (12/4/19)

INJUSTICE: "I concur that an order denying an early termination of probation is not an appealable order. That is unfortunate. Were this case reviewable on appeal, appellant would be entitled to a reversal because the court abused its discretion by denying appellant's motion for termination without explanation." Velazquez v. State, 4D19-245 (12/4/19)

QUOTATION: "Judicial discretion is a discretion guarded by the legal and moral conventions that mold the acceptable concept of right and justice. If this is not true, then judicial discretion, like equity, will depend on the length of the judge's foot, the state of his temper, the intensity of his prejudice, or perhaps his zeal to reward or punish." MOTION TO MITIGATE-JURISDICTION: Court lacks jurisdiction to rule on (deny) a motion to mitigate filed after a notice of appeal was filed. Court should have dismissed the motion without prejudice. Barberian v. State, 4D19-1471 (12/4/19)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Court correctly gave the jury instruction related to eyewitness identification which was consistent with the law at the time of the offense, rather than the jury instruction applicable after the laws on eyewitness identification were changed. Williams v. State, 1D18-3426 (12/4/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly denied Defendant's claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call an expert witness to testify about how crack cocaine may affect a user's perceptions. Where there is no testimony that the witness consumed crack, defendant never requested such an expert, and defendant had stated that his counsel had called all witnesses requested. Lynn v. State, 1D18-3816 (12/4/19)

POSSESSION OF a FIREARM BY FELON: Guns found throughout the Defendant's home from which he trafficked in narcotics is sufficient circumstantial evidence to sustain a conviction for possession of a firearm by a felon. To support a conviction for possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, the government must prove that (1) the defendant “was a convicted felon, (2) he knowingly possessed a firearm, and (3) the firearm was in or affected interstate commerce. United States v. Hill, No. 19-10387 (11th Cir. 12/4/19)

ACCA: Where Defendant challenges his ACCA enhancement alleging improper reliance on a residual clause predicate offense, he must show that—more likely than not—it was use of the residual clause that led to the sentencing court’s enhancement of his sentence. If it is just as likely that the sentencing court relied on the elements or enumerated offenses clauses, solely or as an alternative basis for the enhancement, then the movant has failed to show that his enhancement was due to use of the residual clause. Robinson v. State, No. 17-13929 (11th Cir. 12/3/19)

FALSE STATEMENT: Notary who knowingly notarized fake passport applications is properly convicted of making false statements in a passport application. United States v. Ershova, No. 18-12338 (11th Cir. 12/3/19)

MOTION TO DISMISS: Defendant may not move to dismiss an indictment on the ground that the undisputed facts would not establish the crime. The sufficiency of a criminal indictment is determined from its face, and an indictment is sufficient if it follows the language of the statute and sets forth the essential elements of the crime. United States v. Ershova, No. 18-12338 (11th Cir. 12/3/19)

FALSE STATEMENT IN PASSPORT APPLICATION: A notary who makes false notarizations is guilty of making a false statement in a passport application (i.e., that she actually witnessed the signing of the application). A notarization is a statement. "[A]lthough notaries have not previously been prosecuted under § 1542, the statute, standing alone, was sufficiently clear to give Ershova fair warning that falsely certifying she had witnessed the fathers sign the forms was criminal." United States v. Ershova, No. 18-12338 (11th Cir. 12/3/19)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY A FELON: Prohibiting a felon from possessing a firearm is within the federal government's power under the Commerce Clause. United States v. Porter, No. 18-14551 (11th Cir. 12/3/19)

VOP: Affidavit of Violation should not be dismissed because probation officer initially alleged that the Defendant possessed heroin when the white powder turned out to be N-Ethylpentylone and the petition was accordingly amended. "The probation officer's mistake, or at worst, his negligence, in alleging that Coleman possessed heroin was insufficient to warrant an evidentiary hearing on the veracity of his arrest warrant." United States v. Coleman, No. 19-10410 (11th Cir. 12/3/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/unpub/files/201910410.pdf>

VOP: Defendant is properly found to be in violation of controlled release where video recording and testimony from two transportation security officers established that Defendant accompanied Chung through an airport in Detroit while they were carrying about $79,000 and that after officers discovered Chung in possession of heroin and Defendant's pants held a plastic bag of N-Ethylpentylone. (Defendant was also recorded on a cell phone snorting cocaine.) United States v. Coleman, No. 19-10410 (11th Cir. 12/3/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/unpub/files/201910410.pdf>

SENTENCING: Defendant's argument that prison is “wholly unacceptable” fails. United States v. Coleman, No. 19-10410 (11th Cir. 12/3/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/unpub/files/201910410.pdf>

PLEA WITHDRAWAL-COMPETENCY: Defendant's statement at his change-of-plea hearing that he had seen a psychologist in jail who had told him to get evaluated, and later information in the PSR showing that the Defendant had been diagnosed with schizoaffective disorder-bipolar is insufficient evidence of incompetency to require the Court to order a competency evaluation sua sponte. "True, the record shows that Ward had a history of mental illness, that he suffered auditory hallucinations and may have tried to commit suicide after pleading guilty, and that he was then diagnosed with schizoaffective disorder-bipolar type. But there are no prior medical opinions regarding Ward's competence, and his demeanor at the change-of-plea hearing and sentencing indicates that he had a rational and factual understanding of the proceedings against him and was able to assist counsel." United States v. Ward, No. 19-10479 (11th Cir. 12/2/19)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Government must prove that the Defendant knew his status as a convicted felon. United States v. Ward, No. 19-10479 (11th Cir. 12/2/19)

GUIDELINES-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCE: When being sentenced for possession of a firearm by a felon while there is a related state court charge of attempted murder for using that firearm, and where the acts underlying the attempted murder were calculated as relevant conduct, the Court errs by not considering a concurrent sentence under Section 5G1.3(c) of the Sentencing Guidelines, which advises courts that a federal sentence shall be imposed to run concurrently with an anticipated, but not yet imposed, state sentence resulting from an offense that is relevant conduct to the instant federal offense. There is no requirement that the anticipated state court sentence must be imminent. Resentencing required. United States v. Ward, No. 19-10479 (11th Cir. 12/2/19)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON-KNOWLEDGE OF STATUS: By pleading guilty, Defendant waives any objection to the indictment for failing to allege that he knew he was a prohibited person. The fact that Defendant had received multiple sentences of more than one year of imprisonment for serious felonies—and in fact served nearly eight years in prison—indicates that he knew that his prior offenses were punishable by more than one year of imprisonment. United States v. Ward, No. 19-10479 (11th Cir. 12/2/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-FOREIGN SEARCH: Evidence obtained from searches carried out by foreign officials in their own countries is admissible in United States courts, even if the search would not otherwise comply with United States law or the law of the foreign country, unless the conduct of the foreign officials during the search shocks the judicial conscience or if American law enforcement officials substantially participated in the search or if the foreign officials conducting the search were actually acting as agents for their American counterparts. The search of the Defendant's property in Malaysia does not shock the judicial conscience. "[W]hile the alleged beating may violate American norms of decency, Olaniyi did not show it violates international norms of decency." United States v. Olaniya, No. 18-14622 (12/2/19)

IDENTITY THEFT: Defendant's argument that he did not know that the person whose bank account he tapped into was a real person is nonavailing. United States v. Olaniya, No. 18-14622 (12/2/19)

OTHER CRIMES: Evidence of thefts from other people's bank accounts is inextricably intertwined with the charged offense and is thus admissible. Evidence, not part of the crime charged but pertaining to the chain of events explaining the context, motive, and set-up of the crime, is properly admitted if linked in time and circumstances with the charged crime, or forms an integral and natural part of an account of the crime, or is necessary to complete the story of the crime for the jury. As the evidence was not extrinsic under Rule 404(b), the Government was not required to give pretrial notice of its intent to use the evidence at trial. United States v. Olaniya, No. 18-14622 (12/2/19)

NOVEMBER 2019

EVIDENCE-SENTENCING HEARING: The standard for admissibility of evidence in a sentencing hearing is not the evidence code, but rather whether the evidence has sufficient indicia of reliability. United States v. Pitts, No. 18-14873 (11th Cir. 11/27/19)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: A defendant who seeks to withdraw a guilty plea after the court has accepted the plea but before sentencing must demonstrate a fair and just reason for doing so, considering the totality of the circumstances surrounding the plea. Trial court acted within its discretion in denying motion to withdraw plea by Defendant, an attorney who had pled guilty to mishandling escrow accounts, on the ground that new evidence (a poorly qualified expert hired to contest the amount of restitution) would establish lack of criminal intent. United States v. Pitts, No. 18-14873 (11th Cir. 11/27/19)

APPEAL: Defendant's pleading entitled "Objections to Government's Response to Defendant's Motion for Relief from Judgment. . .and/or Notice of Appeal" is not a legally sufficient notice of appeal because it does not designate the court to which the appeal is being taken, nor does it evince a clear intent to appeal, nor does it identify the order being appealed. United States v. Baxter, No. 19-10327 (11th Cir. 11/27/19)

STAND YOUR GROUND-APPEAL: Prohibition is the appropriate remedy when the Court errs in denying SYG immunity on the merits. Certiorari is the appropriate remedy when the Stand Your Ground proceeding or the trial court's ruling is flawed by legal error. Garcia v. State, 2D18-4541 (11/27/19)

STAND YOUR GROUND-SELF-DEFENSE-TRESPASS: One is entitled to defend oneself and is protected by SYG when attacked for dithering about leaving the house party. A defendant is not foreclosed from defending himself simply because he is in a place where he does not have the right to be, but he must first attempt to retreat from the situation if he can do so safely. Court errs by ruling that as a matter of law any use of force by the party host is lawful. Garcia v. State, 2D18-4541 (11/27/19)

evidence in which “low count number” testing had been utilized, that possible contamination of the DNA samples had occurred, and that the population frequency statistics were unreliable. Miller v. State, 2D19-17 (11/27/19)

INFORMATION: Defendant is estopped from vacating conviction where State filed an amended information as part of a reduced charge plea negotiation, in which it wrote “possession with intent to sell cannabis” on the face of the information but neglected to state all the elements of the offense in the body. Even where the body of a charging instrument omits an essential element, such an error is a waivable technical defect, if the charging instrument references the correct statute, and the statute sets forth the required elements. de Quesada v. State, 3D19-2018 (11/27/19)

IMMIGRATION CONSEQUENCES: Defendant cannot raise claim that his plea was involuntary for failure to warn of likely immigration consequences more than two years after the plea, absent allegation that . As he filed his motion well beyond the two-year limitation, entirely failed to articulate any prejudice, and did not allege that he could not have ascertained the immigration consequences of his plea during two-year period after his judgment became final with the exercise of due diligence. de Quesada v. State, 3D19-2018 (11/27/19)

EVIDENCE-OPINION ON CREDIBILITY: State may not ask whether Defendant believes police offer lied (“Therefore, you are saying that what the officer said on the stand is not the truth, is that correct?”). EVIDENCE-BENCH TRIAL: When improper evidence is admitted over objection in a bench trial, the court must make an express statement on the record that the erroneously admitted evidence did not contribute to the final determination or it will be regarded as having been considered. New trial required. Y.N. v. State, 3D18-45 (11/27/19)

COMPETENCY: Upon remand, successor judge who acquainted himself with the record may make a nunc pro tunc finding of competency after hearing. Little v. State, 4D17-2611 (11/27/19)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court may not sentence Defendant who has under 22 points on his scoresheet to prison for VOP. Upon remand, if it seeks an enhanced penalty, the State must convene a jury to consider danger to the public. Issue of whether chronic thievery constitutes “danger to the public” is not addressed. Lewis v. State, 4D18-2548 (11/27/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-STANDING: A defendant who is tracked using Cell-Site Location Information (CSLI) data has standing to challenge the search of his or her physical location, notwithstanding that the location in which he is found is in his murdered mother’s car. State v. Martin, 4D18-3417 (11/27/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-GOOD FAITH: The good faith exception to the exclusionary rule for unlawful searches does not apply to areas of law that are undecided or unsettled. Officers acted in good faith reliance on then-existing practices and orders authorizing Cell-Site Location Information (CSLI) data, but not in using Cell-Site Simulator data to pinpoint the Defendant’s location in his murdered mother’s car. State v. Martin, 4D18-3417 (11/27/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CELL PHONE-SITE LOCATION: A cell-site simulator is a device that transforms a cell phone into a real-time tracking device, tricking nearby cell phones into thinking the device is a cell tower. Police may not track Defendant's location with a cell-site without obtaining a warrant. Officers did not act in good faith reliance based on their claimed belief that a the court order authorizing the disclosure of "real-time/live cell site locations" and a "mobile tracking device" extends to a cell site simulator. "The Fourth Amendment violation here is precisely the kind of violation the exclusionary rule seeks to deter." Evidence properly suppressed. State v. Martin, 4D18-3417 (11/27/19)

RETROACTIVITY-PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: Lewars (Defendant who was committed to prison but released from jail with credit time served before getting there is not subject to PRR) does not apply retroactively. Life sentence as PRR affirmed. A change of law will not be applied retroactively unless the change: (a) emanates from the Supreme Court of Florida or the United States, (b) is constitutional in nature, and (c) constitutes a development of fundamental significance. Lewars is an evolutionary refinement and not a development of fundamental significance, a major constitutional change, or jurisprudential upheaval that requires retroactive application. Sims v. State, 4D19-1506 (11/27/19)

QUOTATION 1: "Of course, there's no such thing as a good bank robbery. But. . .there are certainly less bad ones." United States v. Perez, No. 17-14136 (11th Cir. 11/26/19)

QUOTATION 2: “If this were an Encyclopedia Brown mystery, it might be called The Case of the Polite Bank Robber.” United States v. Perez, No. 17-14136 (11th Cir. 11/26/19)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES: Unarmed bank robber who said “please” and “thank you,” bargained pleasantly with one teller (“Perez asked. . . if [$1000.00] was the most cash the teller could dispense.”), and allowed another to report the robbery while it was ongoing is not subject to the Guidelines’ threat-of-death offense level enhancement. “Put $5[,]000 in an envelope . . . and no one will get hurt.” is a threat of harm, but not in itself enough to justify the enhancement. United States v. Perez, No. 17-14136 (11th Cir. 11/26/19)

EVIDENCE-OTHER CRIMES, WRONGS OR MISDEEDS: In theft and burglary case, evidence of a stolen checkbook, unrelated to the case at issue, found in the stolen backpack is inadmissible. “Although. . . the prosecutor and State witness carefully avoided making the overt assertion that Appellant had stolen the checkbook, they might just as well have. . . When the jury was told that. . .the Appellant. . .was found to be in possession of a checkbook belonging to somebody else, the inescapable implication was that he stole it, and was a person prone to theft.” Trahan v. STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to SYG immunity when he came up behind the victim, grabbed her, threw her to the ground, laid on top of her, hit her repeatedly in the face and said, “You f—ing b—, you’ll never hit my wife again,” after his wife had started the fight by repeatedly stabbing the victim with a broken bottle. OPENING THE DOOR: Defendant charged with a violent crime with a firearm opens the door to evidence that he had been previously convicted of possession of a firearm by a felon when he said that he did not have a gun during the crime charged because he could not legally possess one. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SEVERANCE: Counsel is not ineffective for failing to sever Defendant's case from that of his co-Defendant where each testified only to their own innocence and neither of them attempted to implicate the other with their testimony. Dickerson v. State, 1D19-1320 (11/22/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-EXCUSABLE HOMICIDE: In case of Defendant shooting his wife through a door in what he claims was a botched suicide attempt, failure to give an excusable homicide instruction is reversible error. But where the trial court specifically directed the parties to the missing definitions of justifiable and excusable homicide and defense counsel acknowledged the omission, the Defendant affirmatively waived any claim to assert fundamental error. Question certified whether waiver further requires the record to reflect that counsel knew the omission itself was erroneous. Brady v. State, 2D18-117 (11/22/19)

RESENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Defendant is entitled to a 3rd sentencing hearing before a 3rd judge when the first two judges, before and after the first appeal, considered the Defendant's use of a firearm during the robbery when the jury had found him guilty of the lesser included of robbery without a firearm. APPEAL-CERTIORARI-MODIFICATION OF PROBATION: Defendant may move to modify the conditions of probation at any time, including before it begins. CORPUS DELICTI: Cocaine found on the ground where the Defendant had run is sufficient evidence that someone had committed the crime of possession of cocaine, so that Defendant's admission that he had discarded the cocaine is admissible. "Whether a corpus delicti has been established is a different inquiry from whether the evidence adduced would legally withstand a motion for judgment of acquittal. The former is a rule of evidentiary admission; the latter is one of evidentiary consideration." With limited exceptions, to establish a corpus delicti the State need only show that a crime has been committed, not that the defendant committed that particular crime. K.T.B. v. State, 2D19-59 (11/22/19)

CONTINUANCE: Defendant is entitled to a continuance in murder case when, 12 days before trial, State discloses an FDLE report showing the victim's blood on Defendant's headboard, undermining the Defendant's defense that the blood came from murdered kittens. Defense counsel must be afforded a reasonable opportunity to investigate and prepare any applicable defenses. Court must consider (1) the time actually available for preparation; (2) the likelihood of prejudice from the denial; (3) the defendant's role in shortening preparation time; (4) the complexity of the case; (5) the availability of discovery; (6) the adequacy of counsel actually provided; and (7) the skill and experience of chosen counsel. Singer v. State, 5D18-1783 (11/22/19)

VEHICULAR HOMICIDE-JOA: Drag race ending in a fatal crash at 99 m.p.h. is sufficient to establish vehicular homicide. Ruiz v. State, 5D18-3402 (11/22/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SCORESHEET ERROR: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that there was an apparent scoresheet error, unless the Court attaches records showing that the same sentence would have been imposed regardless. The fact that the trial court did not impose the lowest permissible sentence does not compel the conclusion that the court would have imposed the same sentence even if the extra points had not been listed on the scoresheet. Sanders v. State, 5D19-1194 (11/22/19)

PROBATION-TERM: For life felony, Defendant cannot be sentenced to 40 years in prison followed by 15 years of probation. The maximum sentence for a life felony is 40 years or life. Because the Defendant was sentenced to 40 years imprisonment, no probation could follow. VOP dismissed. Owens v. Flowers, 5D19-3366 (11/22/19)

CONSPIRACY: Government is not required to prove that the Defendant conspired to distribute a specific controlled substance. Government is only required to prove that the Defendant conspired to distribute a generic controlled substance. Proof of the type of drug involved in the conspiracy is separate and distinct from proof of mens rea as to the type of drug. Because the type of drug is not an element of the statutory offense, a finding of mens rea with respect to the specific type of drug is ordinarily not required. But where the indictment charged a specific substance instead of the generic substance as an element, the government is required to prove mens rea as to the specific substance. United States v. Achey, (11th Cir 11/22/19)

DEFINITION-“A”: When used as an indefinite article, “a” means some undetermined or unspecified particular. United States v. Achey, (11th Cir 11/22/19)

CONSPIRACY: A simple buyer-seller controlled substance transaction does not, by itself, form a conspiracy, but if the evidence allows an inference that the buyer and seller knew the drugs were for distribution rather than to support the buyer’s personal drug habit, the transaction may amount to a conspiracy. United States v. Achey, (11th Cir 11/22/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Newly discovered evidence of dubious admissibility and credibility, including that a third party had implied that he might be the killer and that that person had been seen running with a gas can and blood on his shirt, is not sufficient to warrant post conviction relief in an otherwise strong case of guilt. Calhoun v. State, SC18-340 (11/21/19)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE-GENDER DYSPHORIA:

Defendant's symptoms of severe depression, self-mutilation, and suicidality, now attributed to gender dysphoria are not newly discovered evidence warranting the vacation of his guilty plea and previous waivers of post conviction relief. Rodgers v. State, SC19-241 (11/21/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to call to alibi witnesses where their testimony would have been cumulative and their credibility suspect. Thomas v. State, 1D18-2024 (11/20/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-RULE OF SEQUESTRATION: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to invoke rule of sequestration where the active two witnesses talking to each other is not shown to be prejudicial. Faulk v. State, 1D18-2173 (11/20/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/543471/6123909/file/182173_DC05_11202019_094024_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-PHOTO LINEUP: Defendant's speculation that the victims may have chosen him out of the lineup because they believe that all people of color look alike is not a basis for postconviction relief. Faulk v. State, 1D18-2173 (11/20/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/543471/6123909/file/182173_DC05_11202019_094024_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-MENTAL HEALTH EVALUATION: Counsel was not ineffective for not seeking a mental health evaluation where the record reflects that the Defendant participated meaningfully throughout the trial in his claims of mental illness are otherwise undermined by the facts. Any mental health mitigation would have been meaningless because the Defendant was a Prison Releasee Re-offender who was required by law to serve the statutory maximum sentence. Faulk v. State, 1D18-2173 (11/20/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/543471/6123909/file/182173_DC05_11202019_094024_i.pdf

JURY INSTRUCTION-SEXUAL BATTERY-PENETRATION: It is fundamental error in a sexual battery case for the state to argue, and for the court to instruct the jury on, union with the vagina when the information only alleges actual penetration. Goodman v. State, 1D18-2264 (11/20/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/543472/6123921/file/182264_DC08_11202019_095259_i.pdf

EVIDENCE-VOUCHING: CPT officer's testimony that in her medical opinion there was sexual assault or abuse according to patient history and physical findings that were consistent with the history is improper vouching. Counsel provided deficient performance in failing to object to the CPT officer's testimony, but no prejudice was shown given the overwhelming evidence of guilt. ("Appellant could not recall if he had raped his daughter as he had seven drinks that night and did not know how much alcohol the victim drank."). Roderick v. State, 1D18-4020 (11/20/19)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor did not improperly evoke religion when telling the story about King Solomon's maternity case and suggesting that jurors should use their God-given common sense. Roderick v. State, 1D18-4020 (11/20/19)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Motion to withdraw plea filed by the Defendant who is represented by counsel is a nullity absent a claim in the motion that an adversarial relationship with his counsel existed. Trial counsel's obligation of representation to his or her client does not end upon the rendition of a judgment of conviction and sentence, but continues thereafter until either a notice of appeal is filed and related tasks completed, the time for filing the notice has passed, or good cause is shown upon written motion. Rodriguez v. State, 3D19-1006 (11/20/19)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-SPLIT SENTENCE: A defendant who is sentenced to incarceration because he violated the probationary portion of a split sentence is entitled to receive credit for time served in prison before being placed on probation. The trial court shall direct the Department of Corrections to compute and apply credit for all other time served previously on the prior sentence for the offense for which the offender is being recommitted. The failure to award a defendant proper credit for prior prison time served is cognizable on a motion to correct illegal sentence under Rule 3.800(a). Villalona v. State, 3D19-1080 (11/20/19)

EVIDENCE-OPINION: Detective may not testify that, based on his training and experience, there was no self defense legitimately available for Defendant. Such an opinion improperly invades the exclusive province of the jury. Hunt v. State, 4D18-1577 (11/20/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-FACTUAL FINDINGS: “While not an independent ground for reversal, unexplained rulings are generally anathema to a sound appellate opinion. While we decline to enunciate a ruling that would require factual findings following hearings on motions to suppress, we implore trial judges to consider such a routine procedure, whether they be written or orally pronounced.” Case remanded for the court to make factual findings. Searcy v. State, 4D18-2201 (11/20/19)

COMMENT ON SILENCE: State's question of Defendant during cross-examination "And today in 2018 is the first time we're hearing about this guy name[d] Rico?" is an improper comment on Defendant's right to remain silent. The State is not permitted to comment on a defendant's postarrest silence. This prohibition applies to all evidence and argument, including impeachment evidence and argument, that is fairly susceptible of being interpreted by the jury as a comment on silence. A defendant does not waive this prohibition by electing to take the stand and testify at trial. Hopkins v. State, 4D18-2204 (11/20/19)

SHIFTING BURDEN OF PROOF: State may not imply that Defendant has the burden of offering an exculpatory statement prior to trial. Asking the Defendant "And today in 2018 is the first time we're hearing about this guy name[d] Rico?" improperly shifts the burden of proof. Hopkins v. State, 4D18-2204 (11/20/19)

RESTITUTION: Court may not summarily order the defendant to pay $57,148.25 in restitution without first providing the defendant with notice and an opportunity to be heard at a restitution hearing. Whittaker v. State, 4D18-2336 (11/20/19)

RESENTENCING-MINOR: After Court grants motion for resentencing under Graham and State does not seek rehearing or appeal of the order, and where the law is changed before resentencing occurred, the circuit court lacked jurisdiction to reconsider the earlier order granting resentencing. Scott v. State, 4D18-3682 (11/20/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Acquitted co-Defendant who submits an affidavit that he, without the Defendant's participation, committed the crime is newly discovered evidence. Post-trial confessions from codefendants can amount to newly discovered evidence that provides an exception to the two-year time limitation of Rule 3.850(b). Franklin v. State, 4D19-390 (11/20/19)

COMPETENCY: Court may order video-recording of competency evaluation. Video-recording the evaluation ensures a complete and accurate record of the evaluation is available. Sylvestre v. State, 4D19-2753 (11/20/19)

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMANT-DISCLOSURE: In attempted murder case, the State may withhold the identities of confidential informants who it does not intend to call when Defendant fails to raise a legally cognizable defense or otherwise show that disclosure of the witnesses' identities is relevant or helpful to his defense or essential to a fair determination of the cause. State v. Henry, 5D19-2288 (11/18/19)

APPEAL-SEARCH AND SEIZURE: As part of its discovery obligation, the State must disclose the application for the search warrant, but the Court's failure to order the disclosure of the underlying affidavit is not a dispositive issue, and thus not appealable after a plea. YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Court may decline to impose a Youthful Offender where it is clear that he understood that he had the option to do so if he so chose. Reynosopena v. State, 5D18-3856 (11/15/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-JUROR MISCONDUCT: Defendant is entitled to a hearing 15 years after his conviction on claim that juror concealed the fact that she had been the victim of sexual crimes as a child. Smith v. State, 5D19-101 (11/15/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Arguing self-defense at trial but not requesting a self-defense instruction on the theory that self-defense was weak and a diminished capacity defense was preferable is not a reasonable defense strategy. ” We can fathom no sensible, strategic reason for counsel to argue self-defense during Washer’s closing argument but opt not to request a self-defense jury instruction. . JOA-MANSLAUGHTER: Defendant properly convicted of manslaughter based on marooning drunk victim in the swamp after their boat sank and she punched him in the nose and stabbed him in the forearm with a flounder gig (her co-defendant stabbed him, too) notwithstanding that the stabbings did not cause the death. MANSLAUGHTER-JURY INSTRUCTION: Where Defendant is a principal to manslaughter, she is not entitled to an instruction that she was the cause in fact of the death or the proximate cause. Such an instruction is confusing or misleading. King v. State, 1D18-1278 (11/13/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATORY STOP: Officer may not stop vehicle for driving around at night for a long time in a neighborhood after receiving complaints about a loud muffler where State did not argue that the muffler violated the anti-loud muffler statute. COMPETENCY: Court may not merely accept counsel's stipulation as to the admissibility of the doctors' reports and the competency conclusions contained therein and proceed to VOP hearing without making an independent finding of competency. A trial court must make its own determination as to competency; the doctor evaluations are advisory only. Aquino v. State, 3D18-751 (11/13/19)

COMPETENCY-REMAND-REMEDY: “Depending on the circumstances of the case, a trial court may make a retroactive competency determination so long as the defendant is assured due process. . . POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call witnesses who could have been identified and located. “While it is generally true that the defendant must provide the names of uncalled fact witness, . . .

where. . . the fact witnesses' names are not known . . .[but] defendant has provided sufficient information from which both the witnesses' names can be learned and the individuals located, the defendant has satisfied his burden.” Ruiz v. State, 3D18-1627 (11/13/19)

HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant may not raise an untimely and successive habeas corpus claim for relief for ineffective assistance of counsel under the “Manifest injustice” doctrine except in the “rarest and most exceptional of situations.” “The mere incantation of the words ‘manifest injustice.’ does not make it so.” Beiro v. State, 3D18-2479 (11/13/19)

SENTENCING-SCORESHEET: Where sentencing scoresheet improperly lists three prior misdemeanor convictions when he really had two, the Defendant is not entitled to a new sentencing hearing where the trial court sentenced Defendant to almost two years more than the minimum sentence, and it is therefore obvious that the .2 error did not affect the sentence. Harmon v. State, 4D18-1295 (11/13/19)

RESENTENCING: Resentencing is de novo. Upon resentencing, the Court must consider events occurring after the original sentence such as, as here, a psychosexual evaluation that found Defendant's risk of sexual recidivism to be low. Spires v. State, 4D18-2210 (11/13/19)

RESENTENCING: Court lacks jurisdiction to vacate an order granting resentencing on the basis of subsequent case law holding that 30-year sentence for a juvenile does not violate Graham. German v. State, 4D18-3635 (11/13/19)

CONSPIRACY-ELEMENTS CLAUSE: Conspiracy to commit Hobbs Act robbery does not qualify as a "crime of violence," as defined by § 924(c)(3)(A) (the elements clause). Conspiracy is not violent. Brown v. United States, No. 17-13993 (11/12/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201713993.pdf>

ELEMENTS CLAUSE DEFINED: The elements clause (18 U.S.C. § 924(c)(3)) defines a "crime of violence" as an offense that is a felony and (A) has as an element the use, attempted use, or threatened use of physical force against the person or property of another, or (B) that by its nature, involves a substantial risk that physical force against the person or property of another may be used in the course of committing the offense. Brown v. United States, No. 17-13993 (11th Cir. 11/12/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201713993.pdf>

RESIDUAL CLAUSE DEFINED: The residual clause is § 924(c)(3)(B), and is unconstitutional. Brown v. United States, No. 17-13993 (11/12/19)

DEATH PENALTY: Freestanding actual innocence claims are not cognizable under Florida law. Dailey v. State, SC19-1780 (11/12/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: New sentencing hearing is required when Court, in imposing sentence, considers factors laid out in the probable cause affidavit which were not proven at trial and which were more egregious than what was shown at trial. Where the record reflects that the trial judge may have relied upon impermissible considerations in imposing sentence, the State bears the burden to show that the judge did not rely on such considerations. Petit-Homme v. State, 5D19-108 (11/8/19)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER-VOP: When a youthful offender commits a substantive violation of probation and the trial court imposes a sentence in excess of the six year cap, the Defendant cannot maintain his youthful offender status. Alexis v. State, 5D19-1032 (11/8/19)

APPEAL-PRESERVED ISSUE: Defendant may not argue on appeal that his forty-year minimum mandatory sentence for armed robbery while possessing and discharging a firearm is unlawful where he did not raise the issue in the lower court at sentencing or in a motion to correct. A sentencing error may not be raised on appeal unless the alleged error has first been brought to the attention of the lower tribunal. Reager v. State, 1D18-1316 (11/8/19)

PRINCIPAL-ACCESSORY AFTER THE FACT: A person convicted as a principal to a crime cannot also be convicted as an accessory after the fact to the same crime, since these two offenses are mutually exclusive. Vowell v. State, 1D18-2018 (11/8/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/541958/6111836/file/182018_DC08_11082019_132947_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: When elderly Defendant rejected plea offer, counsel's representation was deficient when he failed to tell Defendant he faced a mandatory minimum life sentence if convicted of the armed burglary, but no prejudice is shown where Defendant rejected the fifteen year offer because he considered it a de facto life sentence. Mongo v. State, 1D18-2208 (11/8/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-HARMLESS ERROR: Harmless error applies to a claim that the trial court failed to instruct on attempted voluntary manslaughter as a necessary lesser included offense of attempted second degree murder. Smart v. State, 1D18-4119 (11/8/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/541961/6111872/file/184119_DA08_11082019_134854_i.pdf

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: In sentencing Defendant for unlawful sexual activity with a minor and delivery of a controlled substance to a minor, based on him picking up and having sex with a drug addicted minor to whom he gave Dilaudid, who later overdosed that night, Court erred by considering that the Defendant blamed the victim for her own death and the possibility that the Defendant caused the death. (“[W]e’ll never know really what caused her death other than it was tragic. And you are the primary cause of her death, period.”). Consideration of subsequent misconduct or pending or dismissed charges is constitutionally impermissible and violates a defendant’s due process rights. Nichols v. State, 2D18-1487 (11/8/19)

ATTORNEY DISCIPLINE: Attorney who altered a photo lineup by replacing his client's image in one exhibit with the image of an alternate suspect and using it in a deposition in a criminal case is subject to discipline for conduct involving dishonesty. The element of intent can be satisfied, merely by showing that the conduct was deliberate or knowing, regardless of the lawyer's motive. The Florida Bar v. Schwartz, SC17-1391 (11/7/19)

DEATH PENALTY-WAIVER OF JURY: Defendant who waived jury for penalty phase is not entitled to new sentencing hearing based on change of law requiring a unanimous jury. Brant v. State, SC17-1391 (11/7/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEATH-CHANGE OF LAW: Opinion in Buck v. Davis that injection of racial bias into a criminal trial violates Due Process is not a new fundamental constitutional right. Defendant may not seek post conviction relief 20 years after his conviction became final. Bell v. State, SC18-1713 (11/7/19)

STAND YOUR GROUND: From his porch, Defendant was entitled to fire a warning shot and, in response to return fire, then actually fire upon three people who had dragged his niece from his home against her will, notwithstanding that the three people turned out to be undercover cops. APRIL FOOLS: Court erred by adjudicating delinquent a 12 year old student on April 1st who said “I’m going to shoot up the classroom, April Fools.” Threats of future action are not bomb threats. “[Child] does not argue, nor do we reach, the issue of under what circumstances a joke or other statement that is explicitly not intended to be taken seriously can violate § 790.163(1).” J.A.W. v. State, 1D19-1974 (11/6/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-MERGER DOCTRINE: Convictions for first-degree felony murder and aggravated battery on a law enforcement officer violate double jeopardy under the merger doctrine. The principle of merger, prohibiting multiple punishments for a single killing, is an exception to the standard Blockburger double jeopardy analysis.” [W]e have not found a single Florida case upholding a defendant’s conviction for aggravated battery where the defendant was also convicted for a homicide offense resulting from the same criminal conduct.” Barnett v. State, 2D17-379 (11/6/19)

RECLASSIFICATION: Second-degree murder is a 1st PBL. Court improperly treated the offense as a life felony based on State's erroneous representation that it was a life felony. Error is fundamental. Williams v. State, 17-3959 (11/6/19)

ELEMENT-PRIOR CONVICTION: A certified copy of a judgment does not need further authentication to be admitted into evidence, but merely introducing a judgment, which shows identity between the name on the prior judgment and the name of the defendant, is insufficient. Defense counsel's stipulation to admission of the records does not waive the requirement of linking the judgment to the Defendant. B.M. v. State, 2D17-4306 (11/6/19)

EVIDENCE-AGE: Arresting officer's testimony merely that juvenile "was seventeen, I believe." is insufficient to establish that the juvenile was a juvenile. B.M. v. State, 2D17-4306 (11/6/19)

FALSE REPORT OF USE OF FIREARM: Middle school conversation in which Child says that he hates school and wanted to kill other students and "shoot the school, " and that he "was going to kill somebody" but did not say "he was going to kill somebody right at that moment,” cannot be found delinquent for making a false report concerning the use of firearms in a violent manner. “A reasonable reader would understand making a report to mean providing information about something that is occurring or has already occurred, not expressing a desire or an intention to do something in the future. DISCOVERY VIOLATION: Court properly exercised discretion in allowing fingerprint expert, whose report had not been disclosed, to testify about fingerprints on a car (not the crime scene). Curry v. State, 3D18-141 (11/6/19)

ARGUMENT-PRESERVATION: State’s argument that jury should think of itself as baseball players and to keep their eyes on the ball and not be swayed by “sliders” or “outside fast balls” is proper. Woodard v. State, 3D18-141 (11/6/19)

APPEAL-PRESERVED ISSUE: If a party makes a contemporaneous objection to an improper comment which is sustained by the trial judge, the party must move for mistrial if he or she wishes to preserve the issue for appellate review. Woodard v. State, 3D18-141 (11/6/19)

APPEALS: Unless a notice of appeal is filed within thirty days of the judgment's rendition, appellate court has no jurisdiction. A petition for writ of habeas corpus may not be employed as a substitute for an appeal. Darkins v. State, 3D19-1324 (11/6/19)

DISCOVERY-EXPERT: Error, if any, in not designating a witness as an expert is harmless where Defendant had an opportunity to depose the witness and the witness testified to the uncontested cause of death, not the identity of the killer, where the defense was that Some Other Dude Did It (SODDI). Hedvall v. State, 3D15-2368 (11/6/19)

EXPERT: Detective who had taken a crime scene reconstruction course with 20 or more hours devoted to blood pattern analysis, had training at the medical examiner's office with 12 hours devoted to blood pattern analysis, and had taken a DNA course with 20 hours of blood pattern analysis may give expert testimony as to blood splatter. JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court properly denied challenge for cause to juror who said that trained police officers may observe some things that others would not, but that police officers do not always tell the truth and absent special training, their testimony is entitled to no greater weight than another witness. Hedvall v. State, 3D15-2368 (11/6/19)

JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE-PRESERVATION OF ISSUE: In order to preserve appeal of Court's denial of Defendant's challenge for cause, Defendant must exhaust all challenges and identify who he would have stricken had he had more challenges. Where Defendant unsuccessfully challenged three jurors for cause and exercised his peremptory challenges on them, but only identified two additional jurors he would have excused if he could, the issue is not preserved. Hedvall v. State, 3D15-2368 (11/6/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SPEEDY TRIAL: The State is not entitled to the recapture period when it leads a defendant to believe that no charges are pending against him/her, even though the State has pursued new charges based on the same conduct, whether or not the pending charge is suspended, continued, or is the subject of entry of a nolle prosequi. Counsel is not ineffective for filing a notice of expiration of speedy trial instead of moving for a discharge because at the time the prevailing law in the state of Florida entitled the State to the recapture period. There can be no deficient performance if defense counsel follows then prevailing law. Arslam v. State, 4D16-4339 (11/6/19)

DISCOVERY: Failure to disclose maps used as a demonstrative aid, if a discovery violation, is harmless error. Smith v. State, 4D18-3076 (11/6/19)

KIDNAPPING-JURY INSTRUCTION: A jury instruction that erroneously includes an element that the State neither argued nor presented evidence to support is not fundamental error because it is not in dispute. No reversible error for defining “restraint” in a kidnapping case where restraint is not pled in the information.

Improperly including an additional element not initially charged is not fundamental error if the element of the offense is not in dispute at trial or material to the jury's consideration. Smith v. State, 4D18-3076 (11/6/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective in failing to object to the alleged error and that, but for the error, the State may have made a more favorable plea offer is speculative and states no basis for postconviction relief. Passino v. State, 4D19-2117 (11/6/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A scoresheet error raised under rule 3.800(a) is harmless if the court could have imposed the same sentence using a corrected scoresheet. Fausten v. State, 4D19-2185 (11/6/19)

BATTERED SPOUSE SYNDROME: Battered Spouse Syndrome is not available in the absence of a claim of self-defense. BSS cannot be asserted to support a disallowed diminished capacity defense. Morris v. State, 1D18-1638 (11/5/19)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Defendant is not entitled to judgment of acquittal when proof of premeditation is circumstantial but other elements are supported by direct evidence. The circumstantial evidence standard applies only when all evidence of the defendant's guilt is circumstantial, not when an element of the crime is shown entirely by circumstantial evidence. Morris v. State, 1D18-1638 (11/5/19)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Court is not required to appoint counsel on Defendant's motion for rehearing of order denying motion to withdraw plea where plea, tendered during trial, was thoroughly qualified and at the hearing jail calls were admitted in which Defendant said his motion was an effort to game the system. Hamilton v. State, 1D18-1287 (11/1/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly dismissed without hearing Defendant's successive motions for post conviction relief which persistently violated length and format requirements. Ziegler v. State, 1D18-2314 (11/1/19)

ACCIDENT REPORT PRIVILEGE: The compelled disclosure of a driver's identity at an accident scene does not violate the privilege against self-incrimination. Because the accident-report privilege only applies to self-incriminatory statements, the officer may compel the Defendant to give his identity. The accident-report privilege is not a true privilege but rather a limitation on the admissibility of evidence. Jones v. State, 1D18-3535 (11/1/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call private investigator who would have testified that the officer's testimony that he saw the Defendant driving was false and for failing to depose officer who claimed the Defendant had confessed. Osborn v. State, 5D18-3039 (11/1/19)

OCTOBER 2019

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-RICO: Defendant is properly convicted of two RICO counts where there was a seduced widow (principal victim) whose money was used to swindle others because the charges alleged different time-periods, different enterprise membership, different victims, and different unlawful conduct. Overlapping enterprises pursuing different patterns of racketeering can be prosecuted separately without violating double jeopardy protections. Ball v. State, 1D18-330 (10/30/19)

VOP: Defendant may be found guilty of violating probation by committing a battery on his daughter where officers observed old injuries on her, she said that Defendant had hit her a week before, and she waffled as to whether he had hit her that day. Reynolds v. State, 17-3820 (10/30/19)

VOP-HEARSAY (DISSENT): “The photograph of Jessica’s injured mouth was no more proof that Appellant hit her than the photo of a dinner plate was proof that ‘a ghost had been seen in the story of the man who said, ‘My friend saw a ghost eating off a plate at his house last night, and if you don’t believe it, here is the plate he says he saw the ghost eating from.’” Reynolds v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to vacation of conviction where Court finds that Defendant's claim, denied by trial counsel, that trial counsel advised him to reject plea offer based on erroneous evaluation of merits of the case. Jones v. State, 1D17-3833 (10/30/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court lacks jurisdiction to rescind an order granting resentencing once it became a final, appealable order, and neither party timely moved for rehearing. Henderson v. State, 1D18-3098 (10/30/19)

VINDICTIVE SENTENCE: Defendant is not vindictively sentenced when his and the codefendant's sentences are disparate but when the two are not similarly situated, such as where, as here, the Defendant had a gun and was older than the seventeen year old co-defendant. Love v. State, 1D19-368 (10/30/19)

RECLASSIFICATION-AGGRAVATED BATTERY: Aggravated battery is properly reclassified to a first-degree felony where it is clear that the aggravated battery was based on great bodily harm and that therefore the use of a deadly weapon was not an essential element of the offense. Evans v. State, D19-1341 (10/30/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to retain a video enhancement expert to improve the clarity of the perpetrator's face in the surveillance video. Romaine v. State, 2D17-4605 (10/30/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-DELIVERY OF NARCOTIC-FUNDAMENTAL ERROR: Where defendant is charged with delivery of cannabis, but the jury was instructed that the Defendant could be found guilty if he "sold, delivered, or possessed with intent to sell or deliver" cannabis, the Defendant is entitled to a new trial. When the jury instruction erroneously includes an element of the offense, it will be held to be fundamental error if there is a dispute concerning that specific element at trial. Where an offense may be committed in various ways, the evidence must establish it to have been committed in the manner charged in the indictment. Reese v. State, 2D18-916 (10/30/19)

COMPETENCY: Court may not enter an order finding the Defendant incompetent based on the written reports of two experts “and others,” without actually holding a competency hearing. Rogers v. State, 2D19-2193 (10/30/19)

UNSEALING RECORD: Defendants in a defamation lawsuit, based on the claim that they had disparaged the Plaintiff as a drug dealer, may not have the Plaintiff’s sealed record unsealed to support their defense that their claim was true. Farach v. Rivero, 3D19-866 (10/30/19)

EXPUNCTION: “[T]he expungement statute does not transmute a once-true fact into a falsehood. It does not require the excision of records from the historical archives of newspapers or bound volumes of reported decisions or a personal diary. It cannot banish memories. . .[I]t does not alter the metaphysical truth of his past, nor does it impose a regime of silence on those who know the truth.” Farach v. Rivero, 3D19-866 (10/30/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SEXUAL OFFENDER REGISTRATION:

Defendant’s asserted ignorance of sexual offender requirements is not newly discovered evidence allowing the Defendant to raise a motion for postconviction relief beyond the two-year limitation period. Tisdale v. State, 3D18-1717 (10/30/19)

SCORESHEET ERROR: Upon resentencing on the remaining counts after the Defendant’s vehicular homicide count was vacated, the Defendant is not entitled to another resentencing based on the use of an improper scoresheet where the Court sentenced the Defendant and statutory maximum without regard to the scoresheet. The scoresheet is to be corrected, but the sentences stand. Oakley v. State, 4D18-1800 (10/30/19)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL: State may appeal the erroneous entry of a Judgment of Acquittal after a jury verdict, regardless of whether the verdict is recorded. State may not appeal a Judgment of Acquittal entered before a jury verdict. State v. Pickersgill, 4D18/3115 (10/30/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Defendant's claim that newly discovered evidence bearing on the motivation of the confidential informant who told police that the Defendant would receive a package of narcotics is properly denied without a hearing. Regardless of informant's motive, police had sufficient evidence for an anticipatory warrant. Joshua v. State, 4D18-3724 (10/30/19)

ARMED CAREER CRIMINAL-VIOLENT FELONY: Attempted first-degree assault (Alabama offense) is a violent felony under the Armed Career Criminal Act. In deciding whether a defendant's prior state offense contains a use-of-force element, the Court employs a categorical approach, looking to the elements. But if the prior conviction was for violating a divisible statute (one that sets out one or more elements of the offense in the alternative) the Court applies a modified categorical approach, whereby if some forms of the offense require the use of violent force but others do not, a sentencing court may refer to a case documents to determine whether the defendant's prior conviction had, as an element, the use of violent force or not. United States v. Hunt, No. 17-12365 (11th Cir. 10/30/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712365.op2.pdf>

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Defendant has standing to contest search of motel room from which he fled, but officers, who had an arrest warrant for Defendant, were justified in entering the room to see if he had returned. United States v. Ross, No. 18-11679 (11th Cir. 10/30/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811679.pdf>

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Defendant's right to privacy in a motel room ends at check out time at 11:00 a.m. United States v. Ross, No. 18-11679 (11th Cir. 10/30/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201811679.pdf>

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON-KNOWLEDGE: An element of Possession of a Firearm by a Felon is that the Defendant knew he was a felon. Failure of indictment to so allege and for jury instructions to so instruct is harmless error. "Because the record establishes that Reed knew he was a felon, he cannot prove that the errors affected his substantial rights or the fairness, integrity, or public reputation of his trial.” United States v. Reed, No. 17-12699 (11th Cir. 10/30/19)

EVIDENCE: Court acted within its discretion in excluding cross-examination that the investigating officer had been disciplined years before for misuse of police computer in a political campaign. United States v. Ochoa, No. 16017609 (11th Cir. 10/25/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201617609.pdf>

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Public Safety exception to Miranda Rule renders admissible Defendant’s statement about where a gun was in his house before it was searched. United States v. Ochoa, No. 16017609 (11th Cir. 10/25/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201617609.pdf>

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Defendant did not successfully invoke his right to counsel or his right to remain silent when he said that he did not agree with the statement that he was willing to answer questions without a lawyer present. United States v. Ochoa, No. 16017609 (11th Cir. 10/25/19)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Defendant who did not object to Speedy Trial violation on severed Possession of Firearm count set for trial outside the time for speedy trial is not entitled to discharge. United States v. Ochoa, No. 16017609 (11th Cir. 10/25/19)

CRIME OF VIOLENCE: Florida robbery is a crime of violence. United States v. Ochoa, No. 16017609 (11th Cir. 10/25/19)

FIREARM-CLOSE PROXIMITY: Where firearm and magazine were discovered outside and inside the house, respectively, but testimony established that they had been in the same room earlier, they may be considered in close proximity for purposes of sentencing guidelines consideration. United States v. Ochoa, No. 16017609 (11th Cir. 10/25/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201617609.pdf>

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NEED FOR RESTITUTION: Court may not enter a downward departure based on CFE Federal Credit Union's alleged need for restitution outweighing the need for incarceration where the only factual basis for the finding is defense counsel's unsworn assertion. State v. Melendez, 5D18-1420 (10/25/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/539892/6093871/file/181420_1260_10252019_08064668_i.pdf

EXPERT: Expert opinion on human trafficking and the sex worker subculture is admissible to assist the trier of fact on subjects not within an ordinary juror's understanding or experience. While law enforcement officers cannot testify as to general criminal behavior as substantive proof of guilt, experts have traditionally been permitted to consider such behavior when rendering their opinions. Poole v. State, 5D18-1681 (10/25/19)

MARITIME JURISDICTION: Information does not have to state the basis of a county's jurisdiction when the county in fact has jurisdiction under Fla. Stat. §910.006 (maritime jurisdiction). "The State is required to allege the essential elements of the crime charged, not the essential elements of jurisdiction." The fact that the information falsely alleged that the events occurred in Brevard County, rather than at sea, does not change the result. Although not required, a better practice when filing charges based on events occurring at sea during cruise ship voyages would be to allege the statutory basis for jurisdiction in the charging document. Batiz v. State, 5D18-1831 (10/25/19)

JURISDICTION: Jurisdiction must be proven beyond all reasonable doubt. Here, the court had jurisdiction because the crime was one of violence. Batiz v. State, 5D18-1831 (10/25/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/539894/6093895/file/181831_1257_10252019_08184832_i.pdf

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: When the trial court retains an offender's youthful offender status following a violation of probation, the maximum permissible sentence is six years. Defendant can be sentenced to 9 years in prison while being stripped of his Youthful Offender status, or sentenced to no more than six years in prison as a Youthful Offender. Beiber v. State, 5D18-2833 (10/25/19)

COSTS: Court may not impose a state attorney fee or public defender fee in excess of $100 without a request. Cottier v. State, 5D18-3213 (10/25/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/539901/6093954/file/183213_1259_10252019_08250584_i.pdf

EXCESSIVE PUNISHMENT (CONCURRENCE): “[A] 45-year sentence for a non-violent monetary crime is extraordinarily harsh. . . . To sentence him to what is essentially a life sentence is a manifest injustice. I would hope that if the defendant files a . . . motion for mitigation of his sentence, the trial judge would give it great consideration.” Cottier v. State, 5D18-3213 (10/25/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/539901/6093954/file/183213_1259_10252019_08250584_i.pdf

SAVINGS CLAUSE-RETROACTIVE: The Savings Clause amendment to the Florida Constitution (“[R]epeal of a criminal statute shall not affect prosecution for any crime committed before such repeal.”), which became effective on Jan. 8, 2019 does not require trial courts to apply an amended criminal statute retroactively to cases on appeal. There is no longer any provision in the Florida Constitution that would prohibit the Legislature from applying an amended criminal statute retroactively to pending prosecutions or sentences, but nothing in the Florida Constitution requires the Legislature to do so. Changes to §775.087 (firearm mandatory minimums) are not retroactive. Stapleton v. State, 5D18-3291 (10/25/19)

JUVENILES-FIREARM-MAND MIN: Juvenile cannot get credit for pretrial detention served against his 15 day mandatory minimum for possession of a firearm. State v. S.A., 5D19-735 (10/25/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/539903/6093978/file/190735_1260_10252019_08295660_i.pdf

BINDING PRECEDENT: Court may not disregard binding precedent from other jurisdictions. “After being reminded that his decision was contrary to J.Z. and the plain language of the statute, the judge stated, ‘let’s see what the Fifth [District] says about this.’ . . . This was improper.” In the absence of interdistrict conflict, district court decisions bind all Florida trial courts. State v. S.A., 5D19-735 (10/25/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRETEXT: Court may not invalidate stop based on its belief that the stop was pretextual, and even if it could, the evidence does not support such a finding. State v. Mellaci, 5D19-835 (10/25/19)

CONCURRENT SENTENCE DOCTRINE: The concurrent sentences doctrine provides that, where a defendant is given concurrent sentences on several counts and the conviction on one count is found to be valid, an appellate court need not consider the validity of the convictions on the other counts. The concurrent sentences doctrine applies to both convictions and sentencing errors. Defendant cannot raise in motion for post conviction relief the issue that the sentence on one count exceeded the statutory maximum where the Government had not filed a sentencing enhancement and where the sentence was concurrent with other counts for which the maximum was not exceeded. Padgett v. United State, No. 17-12645 (11th Cir. 10/24/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly denies Certificate of Appealability (COA) where Defendant failed to allege specific facts showing he was entitled to relief. Claims that counsel had misled Defendant are refuted by plea colloquy. Reed v. United States, No. 19-10521 (11th Cir. 10/24/19)

INVITED ERROR: The invited error doctrine stems from the common sense view that where a party invites the trial court to commit error, he cannot later cry foul on appeal.” Defendant who requested through counsel a 70 month sentence for illegal reentry (“I would just respectfully ask the Court to impose a sentence of 70 months, at the low end of the Guidelines range.”) may not later contest on appeal the legality of the sentence as unduly harsh. United States v. Noriega-Perez, No. 19-10232 (11th Cir. 10/24/19)

SENTENCING-UPWARD VARIANCE: The Sentencing Reform Act precludes sentencing courts from imposing or lengthening a prison term to promote an offender’s rehabilitation. Court illegally imposed a sentence longer than necessary so that he would qualify for and complete the Bureau of Prison’s Residential Drug Abuse Program. United States v. Jeczalik, No. 19-10995 (11th Cir. 10/23/9)

SENTENCING-COLLOQUY: Plea to VOP vacated where Court merely accepted defense counsel's representations that Appellant was admitting the violations and never asked the Defendant anything. Koon v. State, 1D18-2306 (10/23/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/539666/6091333/file/182306_1287_10232019_10174376_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to review his scoresheet with him, and had he known his lowest permissible sentence, he would not have entered an open plea. Wilson v. State, 1D18-4414 (10/23/19)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Court errs by failing to conduct a Faretta hearing upon Defendant's request to represent himself. The fact that the Defendant does not simultaneously request the discharge of counsel does not take away from the Defendant's request for self-representation. Spera v. State, 2D18-1702 (10/23/19)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/539715/6091936/file/181702_39_10232019_08053728_i.pdf

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: In order to sentence Defendant as a VFOSC, Court must make written findings as to whether the VFOSC poses a danger to the community. McCray v. State, 3D17-1300 (10/23/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/539677/6091472/file/171300_812_10232019_09540121_i.pdf

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-JUDGE-NEUTRALITY: Defendant may not raise on appeal the question of whether, during vop hearing, the Court's questioning of probation officer to establish willfulness of violation was an unlawful departure from neutrality in the absence of a contemporaneous objection. Edwards v. State, 3D18-992 (10/23/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/539683/6091544/file/180992_809_10232019_10021982_i.pdf

SELF-DEFENSE-FORCIBLE FELONY EXCEPTION: Court errs by giving forcible felony exception jury instruction in a self defense case (the use and/or threatened use of deadly force is not justified when Defendant was attempting to commit, committing, or escaping after the commission of a forcible felony) unless a separate charge of a forcible felony is actually filed. Error is fundamental. Lindo v. State, 3D18-1959 (10/23/19)

PRETRIAL RELEASE-30 DAY RULE: Defendant is not entitled to lifting of condition of home confinement while on pretrial release where State does not file charges within 30 days. Pretrial release conditions do not constitute being "in custody" under R. 3.134. "The plain language of the statute controls, limiting ROR to defendants in actual physical custody.” Branch v. Junior, 3D18-2552 (10/23/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/539686/6091580/file/182552_806_10232019_10065414_i.pdf

FLEEING AND ELUDING: Police car with stripes, visible police light bar, and a push bar fits the statute prohibiting fleeing and eluding an officer in a patrol vehicle with agency insignia and other jurisdictional markings prominently displayed on the vehicle. Although Black’s Law Dictionary does not define “prominent,” Merriam-Webster Dictionary does, and these markings were prominent. G.C. v. State, 3D18-2563 (10/23/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/539687/6091592/file/182563_809_10232019_10082907_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to post conviction relief beyond the two year limitation upon his claim that he recently learned of a plea offer never conveyed to him where the record shows he had been advised of the offer. “[C]onsiderably more disconcerting, is what appears to be the demonstrably false and fraudulent nature of Delgado’s allegations. . . [I]t certainly appears that Delgado has knowingly asserted a false claim of newly-discovered evidence. If true, such a brazen attempt to avoid a procedural bar by crafting false allegations can only be viewed as a contemptuous obstruction of the proper administration of justice and must be addressed as such.” Delgado v. State, 3D19-1557 (10/23/9)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Upon remand, imposition of a previously omitted minimum mandatory sentence does not violate double jeopardy. It does not offend double jeopardy principles to resentence a defendant to harsher terms when the original sentence was invalid, particularly when it is the defendant who brings his sentence into question.” Burks v. State, 3D19-1618 (10/23/19)

WHAT? HUH? WHAT?: Defendant who is serving two life sentences and who successfully appeals the Court’s failure to impose the mandatory minimum on one of the life sentences may not thereafter claim a double jeopardy violation when the mandatory minimum is imposed on remand. Burks v. State, 3D19-1618 (10/23/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-MANDAMUS: Defendant is not entitled to a writ of mandamus to compel Court to accept a motion for post conviction relief when he has been barred from filing any more such motions. Stallworth v. State, 3D19-1834 (10/23/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that the DNA evidence admitted at trial was based on the inappropriate use of the combined probability of inclusion (CPI) method in making a match. Alisme v. State, 4D19-429 (10/23/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to a hearing on motion for post conviction relief on grounds that his conviction for failing to register as a sex offender was invalid where the issue had been fully litigated and decided adversely. Kelly v. State, 1D18-1438 (10/21/19)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: A claim for jail credit beyond the amount agreed to in a plea bargain is not cognizable in a rule 3.801 proceeding. Ancrum v. State, 1D18-1639 (10/21/19)

EVIDENCE-VICTIM'S KNOWLEDGE OF SEX: Court properly exercised discretion in excluding evidence that juvenile victim of sex abuse was familiar with sex acts years earlier on ground that the evidence was remote and not related to the criminal charge, and error, if any, was harmless. Washington v. State, 1D18-2216 (10/21/19)

MANDATE-ENFORCEMENT: Trial Court need not enforce the appellate court's mandate to resentence Defendant who received a life sentence with the possibility of parole when the law changed (by Supreme Court's overruling of Atwill) between the mandate and resentencing. A trial court's role in carrying out an appellate court mandate is normally purely ministerial, but an exception to the general rule occurs when an intervening decision is issued by a higher court contrary to the decision reached on the former appeal. Marshall v. State, 2D16-1095 (10/18/19)

SINGLE HOMICIDE RULE: Single homicide rule prohibits dual convictions and sentences for vehicular homicide and fleeing and eluding causing serious injury or death that involve the same victim. Question certified. Maisonet-Maldonado v. State, 5D18-942 (10/18/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-GIGLIO: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that State committed a Giglio violation by failing to disclose favorable promises made to a witness in exchange for her testimony. Ortiz v. State, 5D (10/18/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel must accurately advise Defendant as to amount of credit for time served on different counts and cases. Everett v. State, 5D19-1082 (10/18/19)

JUDGES-DISQUALIFICATION: Judge should be disqualified for making comments indicating that he had prejudged the petitioner's guilt and doubted both his sincerity and truthfulness regarding a medical episode experienced during trial proceedings. Quick v. State, 5D19-2518 (10/18/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/539375/6087887/file/192518_1255_10182019_09480654_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEATH PENALTY: Counsel was ineffective for failure to conduct a neuropsychological evaluation of the Defendant to determine whether he suffered an organic brain damage caused by a childhood car accident and affecting his behavior. [A] jury should have had an opportunity to hear and consider [this].” “The long and short of it is that there is a reasonable probability that, had Jefferson’s counsel conducted a proper investigation and presented to the jury the extensive evidence of organic brain damage that such an investigation would have uncovered, at least one juror who would have reached a different judgment.” Defendant is entitled to a new death penalty sentencing hearing. Jefferson v. GCDP Warden, No. 17-12160, 11th Cir. (10/17/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712160.pdf>

HALF-HEARTED MITIGATION: In death penalty phase, trial counsel argued that “because of his difficult upbringing in a poor black family, Jefferson was not as responsible for his actions as most individuals.” ... “We could go down into Atlanta and pick out at random any black 17-year old we wanted to, and we’d get an arrest record very similar to Lawrence Jefferson’s.” New sentencing hearing required. Jefferson v. GCDP Warden, No. 17-12160, 11th Cir. (10/17/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712160.pdf>

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: “Where a petitioner has established that his lawyer’s actions fell below an objectively reasonable standard of performance and that such ineffectiveness rendered his trial fundamentally unfair, he is entitled to relief even in spite of the substantial deference that we show to the decisions of trial counsel.” If the failure to engage in further investigation was the result of neglect or oversight, no presumption of reasonableness attaches. “[T]he sentencing profile actually presented at Jefferson’s trial compared with what would have been presented if Jefferson’s trial counsel had performed a proper investigation is striking.” Jefferson v. GCDP Warden, No. 17-12160, 11th Cir. (10/17/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201712160.pdf>

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy does not preclude an enhanced sentence of life imprisonment on the ground that the Defendant cannot be convicted of both burglary with a battery and sexual battery because the sexual battery was the same conduct used to enhance the burglary charge. Simmons v. State, 1D18-1657 (10/17/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/539300/6087032/file/181657_1284_10172019_12420689_i.pdf

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant can be convicted of two counts of sexual battery based on the separate acts of touching the victim's vagina with his sexual organ and penetrating the victim's vagina with his finger. Simmons v. State, 1D18-1657 (10/17/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for sexual battery and unlawful sexual activity with a minor violates double jeopardy because the latter count is subsumed in the former. Smith v. State, 1D18-2218 (10/17/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is bound by his answers in plea colloquy when making a claim of ineffective assistance. "As defendants cannot go behind their colloquy statements, we cannot permit them to do so by asserting that they simply forgot about potential witnesses during trial and now, in post-conviction proceedings, remember them.” Worrell v. State, 1D18-3531 (10/17/19)

EXPERT: Expert cannot opine that the defendant does not fit the profile of a pedophile. Character evidence is inadmissible. Worrell v. State, 1D18-3531 (10/17/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to relief on claim that counsel failed to convey a plea offer where there was no offer because the Defendant said he would not accept one. Gordon v. State, 1D18-4102 (10/17/19)

USE OF FIREARM BY FELON: Rosemond Rule (that Defendant, to be convicted of aiding and abetting with use of firearm during a crime of violence, must have advance knowledge that his co-conspirators would use or carry a firearm during the underlying crime of violence) applies retroactively. Advance knowledge is not present when a defendant only learns of a gun’s presence when he no longer has a realistic opportunity to quit the crime. Steiner v. United States, No. 17-15555 (11th Cir. 10/16/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201715555.pdf>

CRIME OF VIOLENCE: Aiding and abetting a carjacking qualifies as a crime of violence under the elements clause of § 924(c)(3)(A). Steiner v. United States, No. 17-155555 (11th Cir. 10/16/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201715555.pdf>

HABEAS CORPUS-STANDARD OF REVIEW: The relevant question when a state prisoner seeks federal habeas relief based on insufficient evidence is whether any rational trier of fact could have found the essential elements of the crime beyond a reasonable doubt. Steiner v. United States, No. 17-155555 (11th Cir. 10/16/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201715555.pdf>

ARREST: Officer crosses a firm and bright constitutional line by crossing the threshold of Defendant's home to make a warrantless arrest. The Fourth Amendment prohibits the police from making a warrantless and nonconsensual entry into a suspect's home in order to arrest him. Officers do not have a right to enter and arrest anyone standing in an open doorway without a warrant. A warrant (or exception) is always required for a home arrest even if the arrestee is standing in the doorway of his home when the officers conduct the arrest. Bailey v. Swindell, No. 18-13572 (11th Cir. 10/16/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201813572.pdf>

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PLAIN VIEW-MOTEL ROOM: Officers may seize and open an unopened briefcase when the Defendant was lawfully arrested on a warrant and disclaims ownership of it. State v. Miller, 2D17-4922 (10/16/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-APPLICABLE LAW: “The question of which state’s law to choose when evidence is obtained in a state other than the prosecuting forum is one that has generated a great deal of debate, with compelling arguments on both sides. . . We have found no hard-and-fast rule under Florida law. . . Regardless, we need not weigh in on that debate now because even under the Florida law that Miller advocated and the trial court applied, suppression was unwarranted.”
State v. Miller, 2D17-4922 (10/16/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that restitution order was unlawfully entered because the Defendant was neither present nor noticed cannot be raised under R.3.800, only under R.3.850. Under R.3.850, where the facts on which the claim is predicated were unknown to the movant or the movant’s attorney and could not have been ascertained by the exercise of due diligence the motion can be asserted after the two year limit. Heare v. State, 2D18-2630 (10/16/19)

GRAND THEFT-VALUATION: Court may not reduce the verdict from first degree grand theft to third degree grand theft based on valuation where the Defendant waived consideration of lesser included and invited error. Banks v. State, 2D17-3206 (10/16/19)

THREATS TO SCHOOL: Cyber-threat to shoot up a school is not 1st Amendment or Article 1, §4 protected speech. O.P.-G. v. State, 3D18-1304 (10/16/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/539150/6085353/file/181304_809_10162019_10064835_i.pdf

DISRUPTION OF SCHOOL: Off-campus conduct (cyber threats) falls within purview of statute punishing school disruption. Section 877.13(1) penalizes behavior, regardless of where initiated, that creates a foreseeable risk of substantial disruption within a school. O.P.-G. v. State, 3D18-1304 (10/16/19)

DISCOVERY: An incomplete police report which omits additional inculpatory information does not warrant a new trial where the defense did not request a continuance or other relief, and the witness with the additional information did not testify. O.P.-G. v. State, 3D18-1304 (10/16/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/539150/6085353/file/181304_809_10162019_10064835_i.pdf

ARGUMENT-BOLSTERING: Argument that the phone record evidence would corroborate the victim's testimony is not bolstering. Improper bolstering is when the government vouches for the credibility of the witness. Molina v. State, 3D18-2502 (10/16/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/539155/6085413/file/182502_809_10162019_10140221_i.pdf

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-MENTAL DISORDER: Mental health condition for which defendant requires treatment does not have to be connected to the criminal conduct to justify a downward departure. Geliga v. State, 4D18-1984 (10/16/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/539138/6085202/file/181984_1709_10162019_09220965_i.pdf

BENCH CONFERENCE: Failure to allow the Defendant to be present at a bench conference is not fundamental error, and thus will not be entertained on appeal when no contemporaneous objection was lodged. Further, no adverse ruling resulted from the bench conference. Rodriguez v. State, 4D18-2988 (10/16/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/539141/6085238/file/182988_1257_10162019_09293111_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-EXTENSION: Defendant is entitled to an extension of time to file his first 3.850 motion when a hurricane caused flood destroyed his legal documents. “Like other biblical calamities, hurricanes and floods that impact a person’s ability to timely file a post-conviction motion constitute good cause for an extension to file.” Kovacs v. State, 4D19-1150 (10/16/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-EXPERT TESTIMONY-STANDARD OF REVIEW: When an indigent defendant demonstrates to the trial judge that his sanity at the time of the offense is to be a significant factor at trial, and he is not given sufficient time for a psychiatrist to help the defense evaluate, prepare, and help present a defense, the Defendant is entitled to a new sentencing hearing. Structural errors in a trial, such as denial of the right to counsel or a mental health expert, are not subject to harmless error analysis, but rather are presumptively harmful. McWilliams v. Commissioner, No. 13013906 (11th Cir. 10/15/19)

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201313906.re.m.pdf>

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FEDERAL-JURISDICTION: Defendant needs appellate court approval to file a successive motion for post-conviction relief in the District Court. District Court lacks jurisdiction to entertain an issue beyond that for which the Court of Appeal allowed a successive motion for post-conviction relief. United States v. Pearson, No. 2017-14619 (11th Cir. 10/15/19).

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201714619.pdf>

SENTENCING PACKAGE DOCTRINE: The “sentencing package doctrine” “is not so much a doctrine as it is a common judicial practice grounded in a basic notion of how sentencing decisions are made in cases involving multiple counts of conviction. . . which requires a court to craft an overall sentence-the ‘sentence package’- that reflects the guidelines and the relevant [18 U.S.C.] § 3553(a) factors.” If a sentence is vacated on one of the component counts, the district court should be free to reconstruct the sentencing package to ensure that the overall sentence remains consistent with the guidelines, the § 3553(a) factors, and the court’s view concerning the proper sentence in light of all the circumstances. United States v. Pearson, No. 2017-14619 (11th Cir. 10/15/19).

<http://media.ca11.uscourts.gov/opinions/pub/files/201714619.pdf>

COMPETENCY: Once a court has reasonable grounds to question a defendant’s competency, it must hold a competency hearing and make an independent determination on whether the defendant is competent to proceed. Defense counsel’s representation that the Defendant had been found competent based on an expert’s evaluation is insufficient. Williams v. State, 1D17-5399 (10/11/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/538864/6080464/file/175399_1287_10112019_12352535_i.pdf

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Defendant is entitled to credit for time served in a mental institution while incompetent to stand trial. Cuffy v. State, 1D18-1715 (10/11/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/538868/6080512/file/181715_1286_10112019_12423666_i.pdf

LESSER INCLUDED-VALUATION: Court may not reduce the offense of conviction from first-degree grand theft to third-degree grand theft where the Defendant affirmatively waived consideration of any lesser included and the evidence supported a finding that the property stolen exceeded hundred thousand dollars in value. Banks v. State, 2D17-3206 (10/11/19)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/538762/6079392/file/173206_114_10112019_08262842_i.pdf

SENTENCE-CONSECUTIVE: Court may not order that sentence for contempt of court be served consecutively to an anticipated sentence in the pending case. Hernandez v. State, 2D18-4310 (10/11/19)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/538812/6079992/file/184310_114_10112019_08512750_i.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-RENTAL CAR: Defendant who is not on the rental car agreement nevertheless has a right of privacy in it. Defendant did not have standing to contest the placement of the GPS (which had been authorized by the confidential informant who rented the car), but he did have standing to challenge the tracking of his movements. An individual who borrows a vehicle with the owner's consent has a legitimate expectation of privacy in the vehicle and standing to challenge its search while it is in his possession. Nonetheless, the search is lawful based on a reliable tip that the Defendant was going to rob the McDonald's which was in fact robbed. Strong v. State, 5D18-1638 (10/11/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SELF-DEFENSE: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to argue that Defendant had no duty to retreat where some evidence supported the jury's finding that the Defendant was the initial aggressor. Counsel was not ineffective for failing to file a Stand Your Ground motion or the trial court would have denied it, anyway. Fields v. State, 5D18-2786 (10/11/19)

RESENTENCING-SCORESHEET ERROR: When one count is vacated on the Defendant's motion for post-conviction relief, Defendant must be resentenced under the new sentencing scoresheet, regardless whether the Court could have impose the same sentence. Pierce v. State, 5D19-1123 (10/11/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/538736/6079097/file/191123_1260_10112019_08291520_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that trial counsel incorrectly told him that he would receive a sentence concurrent with a sentence imposed in another county. Rouse v. State, 5D19-2119 (10/11/19)

JOA-FAILURE TO REGISTER: Defendant cannot be convicted of failure to register in absence of proof that he had ever established his residence in the county of the prosecution. The general rule is where an offense may be committed in various ways, the evidence must establish it to have been committed in the manner charged in the indictment. Demus v. State, 4D17-3497 (10/10/19)

APPEALS-JURISDICTION: Jurisdictional allegation that the case “may present federal issues,” is legally insufficient to establish supreme court jurisdiction of discretionary review based on conflicts between circuits. Mallet v. State, SC19-1038 (10/10/19)

EXPERT-RETROGRADE EXTRAPOLATION: State properly used retrograde extrapolation to deduce that the Defendant’s .027 BAL was above .08 at the time of her boating accident. The lack of complete information upon which the retrograde extrapolation was made goes to the weight, not to the admissibility, of the opinion evidence. Vitiello v. State, 5D17-3834 (10/4/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Appellate counsel for the Defendant was not ineffective for failing to argue that the amendment to the Stand Your Ground law applied retroactively. Appellate counsel is not required to anticipate changes in the law.” The ineffectiveness of appellate counsel cannot be based upon the failure of counsel to assert a theory of law which was not at the time of the appeal fully articulated or established in the law.” Moradi v. State, 5D18-3723 (10/4/19)

VOP: Evidence that PO knocked on the Defendant’s door and called his phone is insufficient to sustain a finding that Defendant violated probation by being away from his home. “[T]he approach of simply knocking on the door and then declaring a violation when no one answers provides strong potential defenses to the person being supervised. If the supervising officer truly believes that a person under supervision is not home, it would behoove that officer to acquire evidence that corroborates the alleged absence from the residence.” Brown v. State, 2D18-1892 (10/4/19)

REMAND: Erroneous jury instruction on lesser included instruction for second degree murder did not warrant a new trial for the second count of attempted second degree murder. “We sympathize with the post conviction court’s effort to interpret our admittedly ambiguous opinion in the prior appeal, but we agree with the State that we did not authorize a new trial on the attempt charge.” State v. Pharisien, 2D18-4254 (10/4/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: In hearing on motion for post conviction relief, affidavit by co-defendant who had already been convicted of the murder, for which he took sole responsibility, but who refused to confirm the truthfulness of the affidavit at the hearing, is properly excluded. COMPETENCY: Court commits fundamental error by failing to conduct a competency hearing after his attorney requested a competency evaluation and the trial court appointed an expert, as well as failing to make an individualized finding as to his competency, before the trial court accepted Walker’s plea. Walker v. State, 1D18-372 (10/3/19)

COMPETENCY: Court commits fundamental error in finding that Appellant was competent to proceed based on defense counsel's stipulation where there is no indication that the trial court reviewed the expert's report, made an independent determination that Appellant's competency had been restored, or entered a written order to that effect. Peterson v. State, 1D18-1416 (10/3/19)

CERTIFIED LEGAL INTERN: Finding that Child violated conditions of PTI is vacated where the Child was represented by a certified legal intern, but no executed written consent form accepting representation by a non-lawyer exists. C.C.J. v. State, 2D17-113 (10/2/19)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: The VFOSC statute requires that the Court must make written findings as to whether the individual is a danger to the community, but because a defendant's designation as a VFOSC does not depend on a finding that the defendant poses a danger to the community, a trial court's failure to make written findings does not entitle the defendant to have the VFOSC designation stricken. Rather, the court's conclusion that a VFOSC poses a danger to the community is what compels revocation. McCray v. State, 2D18-1541 (10/2/19)

ILLEGAL SENTENCE: Upon motion to correct illegal sentence, Defendant's negotiated twenty-year sentence for robbery as a Prison Releasee Offender must be vacated because the maximum for that offense is 15 years. Morell v. State, 2D18-3683 (10/2/19)

MEDICAL RECORDS-INVESTIGATIVE SUBPOENAS: State is not entitled to the medical records of a highly intoxicated suspect at the hospital following a car crash who chanted "No blood for police, no blood for police." In order to procure an investigative subpoena for medical records in a potential DUI case, the State must show a nexus between the medical records the State seeks and some material issue in the case by (1) identifying some theory that reasonably makes the records relevant and (2) producing some evidence that makes it reasonable to expect that the records will produce evidence that supports the theory. Leka v. State, 2D18-5095 (10/2/19)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Speedy trial period is lawfully extended based on the unavailability of a critical witness due to an unexpected and serious medical condition. Robinson v. State, 3D18-0916 (10/2/19)

WILLIAMS RULE: Unless the Court has made a definitive ruling on the admissibility of Williams Rule evidence, a contemporaneous objection to the evidence must be made. Court's failure to give a limiting instruction upon admission of Williams Rule evidence is not reversible error where the Defendant did not request the limiting instruction. Lubin v. State, 3D18-1461 (10/2/19)

APPEALS: Defendant may not appeal a nonfinal order granting leave to amend a facially insufficient post-conviction motion. However, the trial court should include in its order a statement that "the defendant has no right to appeal the order until entry of the final order" in order to avoid needless unwarranted appeals. Moore v. State, 3D19-1610 (10/2/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/537970/6071435/file/191610_804_10022019_10370720_i.pdf

TESTIMONY PLAY BACK: All testimony read or played back during deliberations must be done in open court in the presence of all parties. Court may not remove the attorneys and defendant from the courtroom during the playback. Strachan v. State, 4D18-868 (10/2/19)

VOIR DIRE LIMITATION: Court erred in limiting Defendant’s voir dire to 55 minutes, when there remained other issues for the Defendant to cover, particularly where, as here, defense counsel used his time “very wisely,” articulated the grounds he still wanted to cover, and based the amount of time for the defendant solely on the amount of time used by the state. “[I]nflexibility in the amount of time provided for voir dire is not a wise path upon which to continue to travel. . .Any extension of time would have been far less than the many hours which both sides’ appellate counsel spent on this appeal, and many days less than the amount of time which will be necessary to try this case again.” Strachan v. State, 4D18-868 (10/2/19)

VOIR DIRE: “A trial judge cannot question prospective jurors on such crucial areas as the presumption of innocence, the State’s burden of proof, and the defendant’s right not to testify, and then prevent counsel from further examination under the guise that it would be repetitive.” Strachan v. State, 4D18-868 (10/2/19)

HEARSAY-TEXT MESSAGE: Text message saying “b usually gut n with the deepest pockets, my stupid (unintelligible) tried to fall in love” is not hearsay because it is not offered for the truth of the matter asserted, but rather to show the effect on the Defendant, who felt threatened and thus justified in defending himself later. “Even if the trial court did not understand the third text to be a threat, that was a question for the jury, not the trial court, in determining the credibility of the defendant's self-defense claim." Strachan v. State, 4D18-868 (10/2/19)

SELF DEFENSE-LESSER INCLUDED OFFENSES: Where applicable, Court's instructions to the jury should make clear that the self-defense instructions apply to lesser included offenses as well as the main offense. Strachan v. State, 4D18-868 (10/2/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/537947/6071145/file/180868_1709_10022019_10282054_i.pdf

SENTENCING-SCORESHEET: If a defendant commits, but is not convicted of, a collateral crime before committing the instant crimes, the sentencing court still may consider the collateral crime in rendering sentence for the instant crimes, if the defendant has been convicted of the collateral crime before sentencing for the instant crimes. The earlier offense should be scored as a prior record. Fox v. State, 4D18-1374 (10/2/19)

GRAMMAR-LAST ANTECEDENT DOCTRINE: Relative and qualifying words, phrases and clauses are to be applied to the words or phrase immediately preceding, and are not to be construed as extending to,

JOA-LEAVING SCENE OF ACCIDENT INVOLVING DEATH: State need only show that Defendant knew or should have known that an a person was injured, not that he had died. Manhard v. State, 1D17-5010 (10/1/19)

EVIDENCE-SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: No error in admitting video of Defendant which included an allusion to the Defendant's right to remain silent. "[T]he comment regarding Appellant's invocation of his right to remain silent was to inform the second officer that he could not ask Appellant any questions" and "did not create any error to the extent that a guilty verdict could not have been obtained without the assistance of the alleged error." Manhard v. State, 1D17-5010 (10/1/19)

EVIDENCE-PHOTO IDENTIFICATION: Use of a single photograph for identification is not unduly suggestive where the witness had an independent familiarity with the defendant such as here where the witness had bought drugs from the Defendant before. Lynn v. State, 1D18-3816 (10/1/19)

SEPTEMBER 2019

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Flight, standing alone, is insufficient to form the basis of a resisting without violence charge. Where there is a command to stop, there must be evidence that the individual actually heard it (or perceived it, if it was nonverbal) and that the individual understood that the command was directed at him. Officers activation of lights and the yelp of a siren is insufficient to infer that a bicyclist knew he was being ordered to stop. Goodman v. State, 2D181632 (9/27/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PAT DOWN: Pat down based on attempting to avoid the initial stop, appearing nervous, placing his bicycle between himself and the officer, sitting down on the curb and hunching over as if to conceal something is unlawful. Goodman v. State, 2D18-1632 (9/27/19)

POSSESSION OF CONVEYANCE FOR TRAFFICKING: Defendant is properly convicted of possession of a conveyance for trafficking in narcotics where he transported the drugs in his van, actually sold the drugs while in his vehicle, and delivered the drugs from within his vehicle to the C.I. Vehicle does not have to be modified like Walter White's meth lab RV in Breaking Bad. Norwood v. State, 5D18-3077 (9/27/19)

COMPETENCY: “It is unclear how a trial court should make an independent determination of competency. Certainly, the first step should be reviewing the expert’s report. However, the record often does not provide a clear picture of whether the trial court has done so. Such is our predicament in this case.” Remanded for a nunc pro tunc determination of competency. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Defendant is entitled to a hearing beyond the two year limit based on newly discovered evidence that there existed a plea offer which was never communicated to him. Taylor v. State, 5D19-766 (9/27/19)

COMPETENCY-INVOLUNTARY COMMITMENT: Court may not involuntarily commit Defendant when experts noted that Defendant suffered from an intellectual disability and had a history of ADHD and bipolar disorder, but neither expert opined that he was incompetent due to mental illness nor met the criteria for competency restoration. DCF v. Rodriguez Virella, 5D19-1026 (9/27/19)

BRADY: Unsigned rambling letter read at Defendant's sentencing hearing blaming hm for the victim's death is not Brady evidence. Frasch v. State, 1D17-754 (9/25/19)

HEARSAY: Heated conversation in which the victim is heard on speakerphone saying that "You are my husband" and another is heard saying "I will kill you," is admissible because the second speaker did not deny being the husband and thus is an adoptive admission of identity. Error, if any, is harmless. Frasch v. State, 1D17-754 (9/25/19)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Court did not abuse discretion in denying the Defendant's request to withdraw a previous peremptory challenge. Frasch v. State, 1D17-754 (9/25/19)

TAMPERING WITH A WITNESS IN A FIRST-DEGREE FELONY INVESTIGATION: Defendant is properly convicted of Tampering with a Witness as a First-Degree Felony where the (burglary with a battery) is a First-Degree Felony, notwithstanding that he is acquitted of the underlying charge. The Level of offense for Tampering with a Witness equates with the charge investigated, not with the charge of conviction. "The Legislature did not provide for any such adjustment to the offense level of witness tampering in light of the ultimate verdict." Williams v. State, 1D18-661 (9/25/19)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court cannot downward depart based on conflicts in the evidence and that the facts of this case do not support the ultimate sentence. "A trial court's personal view of the evidence and a defendant's guilt are not legally valid reasons for a downward departure." Williams v. State, 1D18-661 (9/25/19)

CONTEMPT-DIRECT: Court improperly found Defendant in contempt of court for filing fraudulent liens on the property that was the subject of Appellant's claim and on the property named in the liens the court had found through its own research. Court may not find Defendant in direct criminal contempt based on filings that were not before the court and on conduct not committed in the Court's presence. Plummer v. State, 1D18-1309 (9/25/19)

APPEAL-BELATED: It is generally insufficient for a special master to recommend a belated appeal based simply on its finding the State does not object to the petition, but State's lack of objection may be viewed as an admission of the allegations in the petition. Belated appeal granted. Pelham v. State, 1D19-1010 (9/25/19)

RESENTENCING-PSI: Upon resentencing, the Court must conduct a full resentencing hearing, including considering the PSI, rather than merely relying on evidence from the earlier sentencing hearing. Heatley v. State, 2D-16-4562 (9/25/19)

APPEAL- CERTIORARI-OTHER CRIMES, WRONGS, OR ACTS:

State is entitled to certiorari review of trial court's exclusion of collateral crime evidence insects case. Evidence of a collateral act of child molestation is relevant under the Williams rule to corroborate the victim's testimony in both familial and nonfamilial child molestation cases. State v. CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Defendant who specifically waived all credit for time served during the plea colloquy cannot thereafter make a claim for 1825 days of credit. Harlib v. State, 3D19-1543 (9/25/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Stop of person apparently sleeping in a running car at the key code security gate of a complex who is disoriented when encountered is lawful. An investigatory stop must be based upon all the circumstances, including the officer's objective observations, information from police reports, if such are available, and consideration of the modes or patterns of operation of certain kinds of lawbreakers, and must raise a suspicion that the particular individual being stopped is engaged in wrongdoing. “The process does not deal with hard certainties, but with probabilities.” State v. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-FRESH PURSUIT-STOP BAR: Because stop bar was in city limits (though the intersection was not), Defendant’s crossing over the stop bar to see if it was safe to make a right turn on red was in city limits, justifying Orlando Police officer in pursuing the Defendant into unincorporated county. Jones v. State, 5D18-3375 (9/20/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-AUTOMOBILE: Officers may not search Defendant's car incident to arrest for fleeing and eluding when he is apprehended outside his parked car. Nonetheless, conviction for possession or drugs found in the car is affirmed when appellate counsel failed to argue that the automobile exception did not apply. Defendant may re-raise the issue by motion for post-conviction relief. Jones v. State, 5D18-3375 (9/20/19)

ARGUMENT: Court erred in prohibiting counsel for the Defendant from arguing that, had it been tested, the Defendant's fingerprints would not have been found on the baggie of meth. Turner v. State, 5D18-3772 (9/20/19)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Upon resentencing, Court must give the same credit for time served as was previously awarded. Court may not sua sponte rescind jail credit previously awarded at any time even if the initial award was improper. Cummings v. State, 1D17-5191 (9/18/19)

QUOTATION: “It cannot be ignored that Cummings is serving a mandatory life sentence plus thirty years imprisonment. It is, at best, unclear whether Cummings will see any benefit from an additional thirty-four days of jail credit on this life-plus-thirty sentence. . . Courts and litigants seeking real relief may be better off if these claims were limited to ones where the defendant could actually receive a real benefit.” Cummings v. State, 1D17-5191 (9/18/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-FELONY MURDER: In homicide case where mother left her discarded newborn baby in a trash bag outside in cold weather and was convicted of first-degree murder under a general verdict, either premeditated murder or murder by child abuse, jury instruction which included instructing the jury on torture and caging the child as part of aggravated child abuse, is proper. An infant in a trash bag can be caging. Being left in the cold can be torture. Crowell v. State, 1D18-2039 (9/18/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Plea colloquy in which the Defendant said that counsel had reviewed all possible defenses with his attorney is insufficient, standing alone, to refute his claim that counsel failed to advise him of the insanity defense. Bartletto v. State, 1D18-3306 (9/18/19)

COMPETENCY: Once a court has reasonable grounds to question a defendant's competency, it must hold a competency hearing and make an independent determination on whether the defendant is competent to proceed. A.D.H., v.State, 18-4953 (9/18/19)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Child's prior announcement of an intent to enter a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is a valid basis for the denial of his motion for discharge for speedy trial violation when he backed out of pleading at the last minute. Continuance is properly charged to the Child. A.L. v. State, 3D18-1848 (9/18/19)

EVIDENCE: Photos of the Defendant holding a similar gun on another occasion is inadmissible in armed robbery case absent evidence that the gun is the same one used in the robbery, or has any distinct features or meaningful details linking it to the crime. Beard v. State, 4D18-159 (9/18/19)

APPEAL-MOOTNESS: Argument that Court improperly sentenced him to prison where he has fewer than 22 points on scoresheet and there is no jury finding of dangerousness is meritorious by moot when Defendant has already completed his sentence. Casiano v. State, 4D18-3255 (9/18/19)

RESENTENCING: Court may not vacate its previous resentencing order which allowed judicial review, in accord with Atwell, based on Atwell being later receded from. The earlier order granting resentencing became final when neither party moved for rehearing or appealed that order. The decisional law effective at the time of the resentencing applies. Jones v. State, 4D18-3589 (9/18/19)

RESENTENCING: Court is not required to resentence Defendant where Atwell, on which the Defendant relied in seeking resentencing, had been receded from. This case is distinguished from Jones v. State, decided the same day. Davis v. State, 4D19-618 (9/18/19)

EVIDENCE-EXPERT: State is entitled to present a doctor to testify as an expert that Defendant's actions in prescribing oxycontin was not in good faith in accord with proper professional practices. "The right to call witnesses is one of the most important due process rights of a party and accordingly, the exclusion of the testimony of expert witnesses must be carefully considered and sparingly done." SENTENCE-VINDICTIVENESS: 20 year sentence after trial, and after Court had proposed a cap of eight years for a plea before trial, is not vindictive. There is no presumption of vindictiveness in all cases in which a judge participates in failed plea negotiations, and then sentences the defendant more severely than the sentence contemplated. Court's efforts to facilitate plea negotiations do not compel a conclusion of vindictive sentencing. Discussion of when a sentence is vindictive. Evans v. State, 2D18-515 (9/13/19)

THEFT-VALUE: State fails to establish that the value of the stolen cell phone is in excess of $100 where it did not present direct testimony of value or, alternatively, evidence of: (1) original market cost; (2) manner in which property was used; (3) condition of property; and (4) percentage of depreciation of property since purchase). JOA: Where there is contradictory and conflicting testimony, weight of evidence and witness's credibility are questions solely for jury. Conflicting testimony should not be determined on motion for judgment of acquittal. Anglero v. State, 5D18-1289 (9/13/19)

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: A certified document that demonstrates Appellant was released from a Connecticut correctional institution within three years of the instant offense does not establish that Defendant was released from a prison sentence instead of from temporary detention. PRR sentence remanded for resentencing without prejudice. Alterisio v. State, 5D18-1821 (9/13/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: An attorney's failure to move to suppress damaging evidence due to a lack of factual investigation or legal research can constitute deficient performance. Defendant is entitled to having his plea vacated where counsel failed to advise him that he had a valid motion to suppress, and the evidence indicated that he would have prevailed on a motion to suppress based on improper Terry stop. Madison v. Florida, 5D18-3663 (9/13/19)

EVIDENCE-CREDIBILITY: The finder of fact is not required to believe the testimony of any witness, even if unrebutted. Hernandez v. Cardenas, 5D19418 (9/13/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where Defendant filed an unsworn motion for post-conviction relief, Court must give him an opportunity to correct the deficiency. Acevedo-Soto v. State, 5D19-555 (9/13/19)

SCORESHEET: Where a conviction is vacated due to a double jeopardy violation, the Defendant should be properly sentenced under a scoresheet that does not include points for that vacated conviction. Termitus v. State, 19-583 (9/13/19)

SENTENCING-PLEA AGREEMENT: Court may sentence Defendant to consecutive probation where plea agreement is for a recommendation not to impose probation. The Court is not bound by the recommendation. Jennings v. State, 1D17-4006 (9/12/19)

SENTENCE-CONCURRENT-FEDERAL AND STATE: Defendant may not withdraw his plea where his agreement was for him to serve twenty years in state custody concurrent with the ten years he was already serving in federal prison, but he was later transferred to state custody so that his total incarceration would be 30 years. An order providing that a state sentence is to be served concurrently with a federal sentence is really only a recommendation and the discretion to determine how and where the sentence would be served belonged to the Department of Corrections. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Where verdict form and charging document alleged only that the acts of solicitation of a minor via computer and traveling to meet a minor occurred only within a single broad time frame, leaving open the possibility that they only occurred once, double jeopardy precludes being convicted of both, notwithstanding that the evidence supported separate acts. Howard v. State, 1D17-1520 (9/9/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled to post conviction relief for failure of counsel to call three witnesses who were not clearly exculpatory but would have undermined the State's witnesses where the Defendant agreed at trial to the witnesses not being called. Burkhalter v. State, 1D17-2193 (9/9/19)

CONSPIRACY: Defendant properly convicted of conspiracy to commit murder where he planned the murder of former prisoner who had bit a correctional officer and fellow Klansman by having a CI working undercover for the FBI inject the victim with a fatal dose of insulin, feign a fishing accident, chop up the body, and or/shoot him, and where the Defendant gloated over the fake picture of the dead body ("Ha-ha, oh, shit. Defendant's participation is sufficient to establish the he participated in the crime with the CI. Newcomb v. State, 1D17-4440 (9/9/19)

RESENTENCING: Court may re-sentence the Defendant to the same sentence as before on remand from appeal where, as here, the defendant was afforded due process. Salowitz v. State, 1D17-4858 (9/9/19)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Defendant's objection to photo lineup as unduly suggestive is not preserved for appeal when the issue is not clearly raised before the trial court. Jones v. State, 1D18-1425 (9/9/19)

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: Life sentence as PRR is not unconstitutional as cruel or unusual merely because the predicate offense was committed when the Defendant was fifteen years old. Singleton v. State, 1D18-2227 (9/9/19)

COMPETENCY: Court may not merely rely on expert evaluations that the Defendant is competent before sentencing the Defendant. The Court must make an independent determination of competency. Bowden v. State, 1D18-2676 (9/9/19)

MOTION TO DISMISS: Court cannot grant a 3.190(c)(4) motion to dismiss where the only evidence is Defendant's DNA from blood found on a shirt weeks after the burglary. A trial court cannot dismiss criminal charges because it concludes that the case will not survive a motion for judgment of acquittal. Even if the state's evidence is all circumstantial, whether it excludes all reasonable hypotheses of innocence may only be decided at trial; the issue cannot be resolved by a rule 3.190(c)(4) motion to dismiss. State v. Fay, 2D18-933 (9/6/19)

DEATH PENALTY-INSTRUCTIONS: Jury must be instructed that the aggravating factors for the death penalty must be found beyond a reasonable doubt, but not that those factors outweigh the mitigating circumstances beyond a reasonable doubt. Rogers v. State, SC18-150 (9/5/19)

EVIDENCE: Letters which the Defendant wrote characterizing himself as a ruthless, cold-blooded, cutthroat gangster are admissible in guilt and penalty phases of death case. Rogers v. State, SC18-150 (9/5/19)

MITIGATING CIRCUMSTANCES: In imposing death penalty, Court need not expressly articulate why the evidence presented warranted the allocation of a certain weight to a mitigating circumstance. Rogers v. State, SC18-150 (9/5/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to a jury instruction that the Defendant was not entitled to use deadly force in self-defense if he was engaged in unlawful activity (a misstatement of law at the time). Counsel's ignorance of the law is per se ineffective. However, "to the extent that Mr. Bolduc's claim is based solely on counsel's failure to object to the reading of a standard jury instruction, the claim may be dead on arrival under existing law concerning whether such a failure could ever constitute deficient performance." Bolduc v. State, 2D18-2734 (9/4/19)

EVIDENCE-WILLIAMS RULE: In robbery/murder case, evidence of a separate robbery in close temporal proximity and at the same restaurant chain, conducted with a similar modus operandi is admissible. Silver v. State, 3D172320 (9/4/19)

HEARSAY-INESCAPABLE INFERENCE: The rule of exclusion of evidence which gives rise to an inescapable inference that a non-testifying witness implicated the Defendant does not apply when the witness testifies. Silver v. State, 3D17-2320 (9/4/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/536239/5955184/file/172320_809_09042019_03061012_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The defendant must show that there is a reasonable probability that, but for counsel's unprofessional errors, the result of the proceeding would have been different. When a defendant fails to make a showing as to one prong, it is not necessary to delve into whether he has made a showing as to the other prong. Williams v. State, 3D18-1547 (9/4/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/536209/5954776/file/181547_809_09042019_10425433_i.pdf

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Three year mandatory minimum for possession of a firearm does not apply absent a jury finding that the Defendant personally possessed the firearm. Allen v. State, 3D-18-2375 (9/4/19)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-FIREARM-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES:

Consecutive sentencing of mandatory minimum imprisonment terms for multiple firearm offenses is impermissible if the offenses arose from the same criminal episode and a firearm was merely possessed but not discharged. If, however, multiple firearm offenses are committed contemporaneously, during which time multiple victims are shot at, then consecutive sentencing is permissible but not mandatory. Hernandez v. State, 3D19-0091 (9/4/19)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: Because appellate counsel was ineffective for failure to argue improper imposition of consecutive mandatory minimum sentences, which would have placed the case in the pipeline for reversal, Defendant is entitled to resentencing. Hernandez v. State, 3D19-0091 (9/4/19)

COMPETENCY: Court must hold competency hearing once counsel has raised the issue of the Defendant's mental competency. Court may make a retrospective determination. Gresham v. State, 5D18-124 (8/30/19)

VOP-HEARSAY: Defendant cannot be found to have violated probation based on his probation officer's testimony that the Defendant had been discharged from the treatment program for fighting, when the probation officer did not witness the fight. Evidence is hearsay. Cote v. State, 5D18-1562 (8/30/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-KIDNAPPING-MULTIPLE COUNTIES: Double jeopardy precludes multiple convictions for kidnapping when the victim is transported over county lines. When there is no temporal break in the victim's confinement, there is only one single criminal episode of kidnapping. Pursuant to the distinct acts test, a single criminal impulse may be punished only once no matter how long the action may continue. Watkins v. State, 5D18-3302 (8/30/19)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Regardless of whether judge ruled correctly in denying as legally deficient the motion for disqualification, disqualification is required whenever the judge rules on the truth of the facts alleged. When a judge looks beyond the mere legal sufficiency of the motion and attempts to refute the charges of partiality, he has exceeded the proper scope of his inquiry and that basis alone establishes grounds for his disqualification. MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE-FINDING BY JURY: Judge, not jury, may determine whether a life sentence is appropriate under the statutory factors in §921.1401. Serrano v. State, 1D17-3669 (8/30/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Eighth Amendment does not prohibit courts from considering victim-impact evidence in sentencing proceeding for minor facing life imprisonment for homicide. A Miller-type juvenile sentencing hearing is not the functional equivalent of a capital sentencing proceeding so that the categorical exclusion of victim-impact evidence is not required. Serrano v. State, 1D17-3669 (8/30/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-TIMELINESS-MAILBOX RULE: Court may not rely upon the case docket in denying 3.850 motion as untimely. Under the mailbox rule, a petition by a pro se inmate is deemed filed at the moment in time when the inmate loses control over the document by entrusting its further delivery or processing to agents of the state. Court's suspicion of altered dates does not defeat consideration of the motion. Snodgrass III v. State, 1D184581 (8/30/19)

PROBATION-JURISDICTION: Defendant who was lawfully sentenced on various counts stacked counts to three years of prison followed by twelve years of probation (originally ending in 2022), after various violations, cannot be sentenced to five years in prison and two years of probation concurrently on the remaining third degree felonies. Absent imposition of consecutive sentences, jurisdiction cannot extend beyond five years combined. McLendon v. State, 1D19-3017 (8/30/19)

EVIDENCE-VIDEO: Detective may identify Defendant from a Walmart video when he spent time with the Defendant after the arrest and the Defendant's appearance had changed between arrest and trial. Even non-eyewitnesses may testify as to the identification of persons depicted or heard on a recording so long as it is clear the witness is in a better position than the jurors to make those determinations. Nolan v. State, 1D18-3026 (8/23/19)

SEXUAL BATTERY-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The circumstantial evidence that the Defendant left the Victim's mostly nude dead body in the freezing cold with 36 stab wounds, along with his DNA (semen and blood) on and in her body, and had cut his hand on the day in question is sufficient to establish that the sex was not consensual. The general judgment of acquittal standard, not the special circumstantial evidence standard, applies where there is evidence tending to show that the defendant committed or participated in the crime. Reversed en banc. Shrader v. State, 2D13-2712 (8/23/19)

EN BANC REVIEW: Misapplication of circumstantial evidence standard in sexual battery case with a murdered victim warrants en banc review. Conflict between concepts of circumstantial evidence standard and deferring to the jury. Shrader v. State, 2D13-2712 (8/23/19)

ENTRAPMENT: For subjective entrapment, the defendant has the burden of showing that a government agent induced him to commit the charged offense and that he was not predisposed to commit it. State may use evidence of incidents which had been nolle prossed to show predisposition. Harris v. State, 5D18-1242 (8/23/19)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court may not impose a downward departure based of sentence manipulation absent evidence that State intentionally delayed arrest until Defendant's continuing drug sales scored him mandatory prison. The mere presence of continued transactions cannot serve as competent, substantial evidence to support a finding of sentence manipulation. Washington v. State, 5D18-1698 (8/23/19)

FORFEITURE OF BOND-REMISSION: Bondsman is entitled to remission of forfeiture of bond if the Defendant is timely apprehended or bondsman cooperates in finding the Defendant. #1 Anytime Bail 24/7 Inc. v. State of Florida and Clerk of Court, 5D18-2677 (8/23/19)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: On the face of the record, trial counsel was ineffective for not procuring a non-deadly force self-defense instruction when he displayed but did not fire a firearm during a road rage incident. Copeland v. State, 5D18-2869 (8/23/19)

SENTENCE REVIEW-MINOR: Upon remand from the Supreme Court, no relief is warranted for the discrepancy of a minor who was prosecuted as an adult having a judicial review after 15 years for his first-degree murder conviction where there was no jury finding that he intended to kill the victim, and after 20 years for his kidnapping conviction. “[I]t is hardly this court’s or the trial court’s place to depart from the sentencing framework. . . explicitly ordered by the Florida Supreme Court, or to declare its remand order unconstitutional. . . Accordingly, because we conclude that Williams is essentially requesting that our court determine the Florida Supreme Court’s earlier remand order to be unconstitutional, which we have no authority to do, we affirm his present sentences.” Williams v. State, 5D18-3984 (8/23/19)

PLEA-VOLUNTARINESS: A plea is not rendered involuntary nor is ineffective assistance of counsel established when the defendant is not informed of every possible ramification or limitation concerning gain time or every possible reduction in time to be served. Sharma v. State, 5D19-146 (8/23/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Trial court must vacate the Defendant's R.3.800(a) asserting that she does not qualify as a habitual violent felony offender or attached records establishing that the sentence is legal on the face of the record. Ford v. State, 5D19-990 (8/23/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/535523/5947510/file/190990_1260_0_8232019_09035621_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may not deny as successive a motion for post conviction relief based on newly discovered evidence where the mother and brother of the victim claimed that someone else had confessed to and bragged about the murder. For determining post-conviction claims for newly discovered evidence relating to guilty pleas, the evidence must not have been known at the time of the plea, and it must appear that the defendant or defense counsel could not have known of it by the use of diligence, and the defendant must demonstrate a reasonable probability that, but for the newly discovered evidence, he would not have pled guilty and would have insisted on going to trial. George v. State, 5D19-1047 (8/23/19)

EXCLUSIONARY RULE-MEDICAL RECORDS: The exclusionary rule does not require that the Defendant's medical records acquired by a lawful search warrant must be suppressed if the police previously violated his constitutional right of privacy by subpoenaing the same records without notice. Dinkins v. State, 5D17-1567 (8/23/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/535491/5947135/file/171567_1257_0_8222019_01255599_i.pdf

COLLATERAL CRIMES: In a murder prosecution, evidence of a separate shooting one month before to which the Defendant had pled guilty is admissible when the gun in both instances is shown to be the same. The fact that the Defendant had moved to withdraw his plea in the earlier shooting, specifically to thwart the Williams Rule evidence, does not bar the evidence from being used. Brown v. State, 1D17-3453 (8/22/19)

SCORESHEET-OUT OF STATE CONVICTIONS: For scoresheet purposes, Court cannot base its conclusion that the Defendant's out of state conviction was for Accessory after the Fact to Murder based on printouts from South Carolina Clerk showing that the original charge was for murder, corroborated by an article, where the Judgment itself said "Accessory After the Fact to Felony A, B." When the degree of felony or severity level is ambiguous, as here, the prior conviction must be scored at level one. Taulbee v. State, 1D18-2569 (8/21/19)

APPEALS: In the absence of a transcript of proceedings, the Court's final judgment will be affirmed. The appellant has the burden of providing the record in dispute. Diogo v. Diogo, 3D18-1274 (8/21/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: When a defendant fails to make a showing that any ineffectiveness of counsel would have changed the result, the Court need not determine whether counsel was ineffective. McGee v. State, 3D18-1921 (8/21/19)

FIREARM-MANDATORY MINIMUM: Defendant is subject to mandatory minimum for possession of a firearm during burglary, regardless of its operability. Brown v. State, 4D17-3492 (8/21/19)

COLLATERAL CRIMES: Court improperly admitted evidence that the Defendant punched the victim's wife sometime later (an unredacted photo lineup in which the wife in writing identified the Defendant as the one who hit her). Hudson v. State, 4D18-1715 (8/21/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-SELF-DEFENSE-FORCIBLE FELONY

EXCEPTION: Court should not give the forcible felony exception jury instruction where there is no evidence of an underlying felony. Where the Defendant is not committing a separate felony, the instruction invites confusing circular logic. Hudson v. State, 4D18-1715 (8/21/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/535398/5945999/file/181715_1709_0_8212019_09000909_i.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-GOOD FAITH EXCEPTION-GPS MONITOR:

Evidence found because of the GPS Monitor which was illegally placed upon the Defendant (a clerical error by a DOC employee) upon his release from prison is not suppressible. Good Faith Exception. Maldonado v. State, 4D181909 (8/21/19)

RECORDING-PRIVACY: Victim's cell phone recording of argument in her house is admissible where Defendant knew he was being recorded. Defendant did not have a subjective expectation of privacy in his statements when he saw the cell phone in the victim's hand and knew that he was being recorded. Smiley v. State, 1D18-1792 (8/16/19)

RECORDING-PRIVACY: Defendant has no reasonable expectation of privacy in house where he frequently stayed when he had been told to leave. Accordingly, the Victim’s cell phone recording of the events in the house is admissible. Defendant’s statements during argument after he had been asked to leave do not qualify as “oral communications” protected under the wiretap law because any expectation of privacy under the circumstances is not one society recognizes as reasonable. “Although society generally recognizes as reasonable an expectation of privacy in conversations conducted in a private home. . . , the reasonableness of that expectation presupposes that the speaker has permission to be there in the first place.” Smiley v. State, 1D18-1792 (8/16/19)

EVIDENCE-STRIKING TESTIMONY: Court may order the Defendant’s entire testimony stricken when he becomes argumentative, interrupting, and nonresponsive during cross-examination (“y’all are playing with my life. My life is no joke,” “[t]hat’s not burglary,” etc.)” “Appellant effectively refused to answer the State’s questions because his behavior precluded the State from proceeding with its cross-examination and posing further questions.” Wright v. State, 1D18-1956 (8/16/19)

COLLATERAL CRIMES: Victim’s testimony about additional sexual battery and multiple uncharged batteries and aggravated assaults upon her were interwoven with the charged crimes and painted an accurate account of all events, and thus were inextricably intertwined and admissible. Ansley v. State, 1D18-2091 (8/16/19)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-CUSTODY: Defendant was not in custody when he went to the police station and confessed to a murder of which the police were unaware. Barrientos v. State, 2D14-5870 (8/16/19)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-REQUEST FOR COUNSEL: “Um, when you’re . . . appointed, uh, an attorney, like, isn’t that when you be — being charged? When you appointed attorney?” is not a clear request for counsel in Detective’s response did not constitute steamrolling. Confession is admissible. State v. Monroe, 2D18-1060 (8/16/19)

JOA-TAMPERING-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Evidence that the Defendant in jailhouse calls asked gang members to handle a witness against him in a separate case, and the witness is later killed, is sufficient circumstantial evidence to justify the Defendant's conviction for tampering, at least if motion for judgment of acquittal is not fully articulated. Motion for Judgment of Acquittal must specifically argue that the circumstantial evidence was insufficient.

Hudson v. State, 1D17-3593 (8/14/19)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER: Evidence that the Defendant shot his girlfriend with his gun against her head, then drove around with her body in the trunk for days is sufficient evidence to establish second degree murder. Mackey v. State, 1D17-4086 (8/14/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/534991/5941375/file/174086_1284_0_8142019_09572911_i.pdf

EVIDENCE: Evidence of the exhumation of the body of the victim who had been buried in a sleeping bag under a pile of decorative rocks is admissible to show the Defendant's state of mind, specifically, that his actions were not due to early-onset Alzheimer's. Mackey v. State, 1D17-4086 (8/14/19)

MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE-NONHOMICIDE: The fact that a minor who does not commit a homicide can be sentenced to a life sentence with a sentence review after twenty years but a minor who commits a homicide can be sentenced to a life sentence with a review after only fifteen years does not render the review statuteS arbitrary or a violation of Equal Protection. Graham v. State, 1D182664 (8/14/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for first-degree felony murder and aggravated battery on a law enforcement officer violate double jeopardy under the merger doctrine. The legislature did not intend dual convictions for the same lethal act. It is error to instruct the jury on a nonhomicide offense as a lesser offense to a homicide offense. Barnett v. State, 2D17-379 (8/14/19)

APPEALS-INEFFECTIVE APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel was not ineffective for failing to argue on appeal that dual convictions for solicitation and traveling after solicitation violate double jeopardy where the case so holding (Shelley) was not decided until four months after counsel filed his initial brief. Morejon-Medina v. State, 2D18-3539 (8/14/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for solicitation and traveling after solicitation violate double jeopardy. In order to sustain dual convictions, the charging document itself must foreclose any possibility that the solicitation underlying the traveling charge was the same as that underlying the solicitation charge. Because double jeopardy is fundamental, one of the convictions must be vacated. Morejon-Medina v. State, 2D18-3539 (8/14/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court must give Defendant an evidentiary hearing, or attach portions of the record supporting denial, on claim that State improperly commented on his right to remain silent by arguing that the Defendant “doesn’t give you a reason not to believe [the State’s main witness;] he gives you a reason to believe everything [the State’s main witness] says.” Perez Perez v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in dismissing Defendant's motion for post conviction relief on grounds that Defendant did not pay a "preparation fee" totaling $925.30 where the Defendant claims he never got the order in the record reflects that if he got it, he did not get it in a timely manner. Rogers v. State, 2D18-3799 (8/14/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-SELF-DEFENSE: Court does not err in failing to instruct on self-defense where there was no evidence that the defendant was protecting himself, or the only error suggesting self-defense was presented for impeachment purposes only. Hudson v. State, 3D18-500 (8/14/19)

BATTERY BY STRANGULATION: The State need not prove great bodily harm to establish the crime of domestic battery by strangulation; instead, the State can prove this crime by establishing defendant's actions created a risk of great bodily harm. Lopez-Macaya v. State, 3D18545 (8/14/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: In order to establish grounds for relief based on ineffective assistance of counsel, the Defendant must show that there is a reasonable probability that, but for counsel's unprofessional errors, the result of the proceeding would have been different. When a defendant fails to make a showing as to one prong of Strickland, it is not necessary to delve into whether he has made a showing as to the other prong. Ryland v. State, 3D18-1222 (8/14/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where the trial court denies a timely rule 3.850 motion as insufficient on its face, the court shall enter a nonfinal, nonappealable order allowing the defendant 60 days to amend the motion. Smith v. State, 3D18-2319 (8/14/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: While the Florida Supreme Court's decision to accept or deny a petition for discretionary review is pending, the two-year period for filing a post-conviction relief motion pursuant to Rule 3.850(b) is tolled. Court erred by dismissing the Defendant's motion for post conviction relief as untimely. Hanna v. State, 3D19-1239 (8/14/19)

RECLASSIFICATION-FIREARM: Third-degree murder conviction cannot be reclassified from a second-degree felony to a first-degree felony where the conviction was predicated on the underlying felonies of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon and aggravated battery with a deadly weapon, for which the use of a weapon was an essential element of the offenses. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call the codefendant as a witness. Question certified: Does a defendant have to allege a basis for knowing that an uncalled witness would testify favorably in order to present a legally sufficient claim in a Rule 3.850 motion. “It is simply too easy for a convicted defendant to make vague and very possibly speculative allegations concerning how a codefendant would testify. Requiring a defendant to . . .specify how he knows the codefendant would have testified in a certain manner places very little additional burden on the defendant.” Livingston v. CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-APPEAL-JURISDICTION: Court may rule on motion to correct credit for time served during the pendency of an appeal on an unrelated issue. An appeal of a post-conviction relief matter will not deprive trial courts of jurisdiction so long as the issues raised in the two cases are unrelated. Cannie v. State, 1D18-4239 (8/9/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-EXPERT: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to "engage in a highly scientific, medico-legal, battle of the experts" unit child homicide case. STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-MIRANDA-CUSTODY: Defendant was in custody at the police station when she knew she was a runaway, that her house which was being searched contained evidence of crime, and her codefendants were being questioned about their role in the homicide, and when she was under video surveillance, required an escort, and officers responded without urgency to her requests to leave the room. STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-MIRANDA-INTERROGATION: “[B]y the time Detective McElroy, for whatever purpose, asked Appellant, ‘Okay did you fire the trigger? Or pull the trigger?’ the encounter became a custodial interrogation requiring Miranda warnings. A reasonable person would conclude that Detective McElroy’s yes or no question was intended to lead to an incriminating response about the specific crime.” Rios v. State, 5D18-1817 (8/9/19)

CROSS-EXAMINATION: Defendant is entitled to bring information about the deferred prosecution agreement between the State and the Victim before the jury to attack the victim’s credibility by showing her potential bias in favor of the State. “Defendants may cross-examine a witness about the conditions of a plea bargain entered into between the state and the witness . . . [including] inquiry into the specific nature of the pending charges against a cooperating state witness, and how the pending criminal charges may have influenced the witness’s cooperation with the state and the content of incourt statements. MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE-HOMICIDE: Defendant who was a minor at the time of the homicide, convicted for his role in a carjacking homicide in which it is not clear that he was the one who pulled the trigger and in which the verdict did not specify that the first-degree murder verdict was based on the theory of felony murder or premeditation, the Court may not find that the Defendant actually intended to kill. Defendant is entitled to a sentence review after 15 years, and is not subject to the 40 year minimum mandatory. Puzio v. State, 4D17-3034 (8/7/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-UNCHARGED CRIMES: A trial court may not consider subsequent, uncharged misconduct (here, that he “wished to harm” a witness) when sentencing a defendant for the primary offense. “While the trial court made no comment indicating that it had considered appellant’s subsequent misconduct in imposing sentence, the prosecutor’s recommendation at the sentencing hearing relied heavily upon the evidence of appellant’s post-arrest misconduct.” Garcia v. DOUBLE JEOPARDY-UNIT OF PROSECUTION: Under the Grappin “a/any” test, only one conviction is possible for having one’s girlfriend hand out flyers to three potential jurors intended to influence them on the day of jury selection. “When the article ‘a’ is used. . .in the text of the statute,. . .each discrete act constitutes an allowable unit of prosecution. . .On the other hand,. . .the adjective ‘any’ indicates an ambiguity that may require application of the rule of lenity.” Gammage v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that a second eye witness did not see the gun or hear the Defendant demand the Victim’s jewelry. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Rule 3.800(a) does not prohibit a defendant from filing successive motions, but the doctrine of collateral estoppel precludes a defendant from raising in a successive rule 3.800(a) motion an issue argued and determined in a prior motion. Topsy Coachman doctrine applies to a Rule 3.800(a) motion that had been incorrectly denied as successive. White v. State, 19-1637 (8/2/19)

10-20-LIFE-STATUTORY MAXIMUM: Although aggravated battery with a firearm is a second-degree felony, punishable by up to fifteen years in prison, when the jury makes a specific factual finding that the Defendant discharged a firearm resulting in great bodily harm, the Defendant must be sentenced to a 25 year minimum mandatory, but cannot be sentenced to 30 years in prison by reclassification of the felony. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-STANDING-HOTEL ROOM: Occupant of a hotel room has standing to contest search regardless whether he himself paid for the room. “The State offers no case demonstrating that standing hinges on who paid for the room.” State v. M.B.W., 2D17-4149 (7/31/19)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: State commits discovery violation when it discloses a witness but fails to disclose that the witness's testimony has changed or is substantially different than what the police report indicates. The State's discovery violation is not cured by the Defendant's failure to depose the witness. State commits a discovery violation when it provides the defendant with a witness's "statement" and thereafter fails to disclose that the witness intends to change that statement to such an extent that the witness is transformed from a witness who "didn't see anything" into an eyewitness who observed the material aspects of the crime charged. J.S. v. State, 2D18-1221 (7/31/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: An information is not fundamentally defective where it alleged two counts of violating the same statute, using identical language and relying upon the same two-year range of dates for the commission of both offenses. "Had [Defendant] believed that the time frames (or other allegations). . .were so vague and indefinite as to mislead or hamper him. . . or expose him to the possibility of multiple convictions and punishments for violating the same statute by a single act, he should have filed a motion to dismiss or for a statement of particulars." EVIDENCE-REDACTION OF INTERROGATION: False exculpatory statements of Defendant (I never knew the victim) are admissible to show consciousness of guilt. Redaction of video to delete references to other victims does not unfairly prejudice to Defendant who wishes to assert that he was mistaken as to which victim when making inculpatory statements. State v. Martin, 3D18-945 (7/31/19)

EXPERT-DAUBERT: Under Daubert, judge must determine whether purported expert testimony is scientifically valid and properly applied. Court must consider (1) whether the theory can be or has been tested; (2) whether the theory or technique has been subjected to peer review and publication; (3) the known or potential rate of error of a particular scientific technique, as well as the existence of standards controlling the technique's operation; and (4) general acceptance in the scientific community. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENSUAL ENCOUNTER: Detention is illegal when officer orders group of youths to stop based on a (correct) hunch that they had violated court-imposed curfew. CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Victim's car is broken in to while next to the Defendant's car when the victim dropped her dogs off at the kennel. The stolen property is found in the Defendant's room and the Victim's credit card in his car. JOA required. "Although the State's evidence was sufficient to establish that a vehicle rented to Joseph was involved in the burglary, and that his fingerprints were found on papers located in the vehicle and in Wilkerson's spare bedroom, the uncontroverted evidence was that Joseph was not the only individual who used the car during the rental term or used the spare bedroom.” Joseph v. State, 5D17-3907 (7/25/19)

POSSESSION OF RECENTLY STOLEN PROPERTY: State is not entitled to the inference of guilt arising from the Defendant’s possession of recently stolen property where the possession is not exclusive. Joseph v. State, 5D17-3907 (7/25/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/533925/5930352/file/173907_1260_07252019_03565766_i.pdf

COSTS: Court erred in imposing FDLE Operating Trust Fund cost without orally pronouncing it. Montanez v. State, 5D18-193 (7/25/19)

MINOR-SENTENCE REVIEW: Juvenile Defendant who was originally sentenced in 1988 was entitled to a sentence review in 2019 notwithstanding that he had been resentenced in 2017, where it is not clear that in 2017 the Court actually conducted a proper sentence review. Weiland v. State, 5D19500 (7/25/19)

SEX OFFENDERS-PROBATION CONDITIONS: Condition of probation or supervised release barring Defendant from accessing the internet is lawful. Packingham, recognizing a constitutional right to internet access for sex offenders, only applies to sex offenders not on probation. Alford v. State, 2D174982 (7/24/19)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Evidence is insufficient to establish that the Defendant burglarized and stole property from a school where a cigarette butt with the Defendant's DNA was left at the scene and the Defendant and associate were found a few weeks later in a pickup truck owned by the Defendant with some of the stolen property. An accused's mere presence at the scene does not eliminate a reasonable hypothesis that someone other than the accused committed the crime. Joint possession of the stolen property is also legally insufficient to establish guilt. "Direct evidence is evidence which requires only the inference that what the witness said is true to prove a material fact. . . Circumstantial evidence is evidence which involves an additional inference to prove the material fact." Dobbins v. State, 2D18-401 (7/24/19)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE DEFINED: "Direct evidence is evidence which requires only the inference that what the witness said is true to prove a material fact; e.g., 'I saw A shoot B' is direct evidence that A shot B. Circumstantial evidence is evidence which involves an additional inference to prove the material fact; e.g., ‘I saw A flee the scene’, is circumstantial evidence of A’s guilt and direct evidence of flight.” Dobbins v. State, 2D18-401 (7/24/19)

LIFE FELONY: Ninety-years concurrent sentences for three life sentences is unlawful. Unless sentenced to life, the maximum for a life felony is forty years. Upon re-sentencing, Defendant may be sentenced to consecutive sentences up to ninety years. Thornton v. State, 2D18-1524 (7/24/19)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: White men fall under the protected class of gender. Court erred by not entertaining Defendant’s objection to the State’s peremptory challenge of a white man. Beal v. State, 3D17-1469 (7/24/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may not summarily deny motion for post conviction relief on the basis of attached portions of the record without actually attaching the portions of the record. Bradshaw v. State, 3D18-1204 (7/24/19)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: The pressure of having to choose between entering a plea or going to trial does not render a plea involuntary. Withdrawal of the plea of nolo contendere is not warranted. Milton v. State, 3D19-370 (7/24/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant cannot seek post conviction relief by petition for habeas corpus in appellate court, particularly, where as here, the Defendant seeks to evade the trial court's prohibition on Defendant's frivolous filings. Owens v. State, 3D19-1298 (7/24/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/533823/5929151/file/191298_804_07242019_10202708_i.pdf

HEARSAY-STATEMENT AGAINST PENAL INTEREST: Co-Defendant's recorded statement to an informant, later recanted, detailing how he murdered the Defendant's girlfriend at the Defendant's request is admissible under the Statement Against Penal Interest exception to the hearsay rule, but only to the extent the statement is self-inculcating. That part of the statement that inculcates the defendant is inadmissible unless the statements are inextricably intertwined. “That part of a statement that inculcates another must be redacted. The reasons are simple: inculcating another is not a statement against the declarant’s penal interest, and . . . such statements rarely have ‘particularized guarantees of trustworthiness.’” Adams v. State, 4D17-966 (7/24/19)

CONFRONTATION CLAUSE: Co-Defendant’s recorded statement to an informant, later recanted, detailing how he murdered the Defendant’s girlfriend at the Defendant’s request at the Defendant’s request is not barred by the Confrontation Clause because not testimonial. Adams v. State, 4D17-966 (7/24/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/533802/5928893/file/170966_1709_07242019_09025518_i.pdf

EVIDENCE: Threatening to commit a sexual act on the co-defendant’s girlfriend is not, as asserted by Defendant, “evidence only of an innocent person trying to take reasonable steps to correct an injustice.” Such evidence, along with the Defendant asking co-defendant to write a letter to the defendant’s attorney admitting that neither of them were involved in the crime, to say that he was just trying to impress the informant, and was trying to be a character in the defendant’s book, and further telling the co-defendant that his mother did not raise him to be a rat, is evidence of consciousness of guilt. Adams v. State, 4D17-966 (7/24/19)

EVIDENCE: Recorded phone conversation between the Defendant and the Victim's Father, in which the Defendant denies being involved in the murder, and in which the Father calls the Defendant a liar five times, a punk twice, and a junkie once, and opines that the Defendant had shot his daughter, is inadmissible and warrants a new trial. Adams v. State, 4D17-966 (7/24/19)

CONFRONTATION CLAUSE/HEARSAY (CONCURRING OPINION): "To decide admissibility under a hearsay exception, reference should be made to the language of the statutory exception and not to the more general, case-by-case approach that would admit testimony based upon 'particularized guarantees of trustworthiness.' Such an approach would allow hearsay exceptions to swallow the rule against hearsay." Adams v. State, 4D17-966 (7/24/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/533802/5928893/file/170966_1709_0_7242019_09025518_i.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-ODOR OF MARIJUANA: Officer who conducts a canine search based on smell of marijuana may require passenger to leave in the vehicle a pouch he is wearing which turns out to contain narcotics. State v. Tigner, 4D18-3106 (7/24/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/533804/5928917/file/183106_1709_0_7242019_09120066_i.pdf

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant who was waving a gun around committed the offenses of opening carrying a firearm and improper display of a firearm, and therefore was not immune from prosecution under the Stand Your Ground law when he shot the gun. The fact that the Defendant was not charged with the above offenses is irrelevant. State v. Kirkland, 5D18-3795 (7/24/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/533876/5929824/file/183795_1260_0_7242019_04153988_i.pdf

APPEALS-DISPOSITIVE ISSUE: When State refuses to stipulate, the Court must rule on whether an issue is dispositive. Cien Fuegos v. State, 5D18-3637 (7/23/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant can be prosecuted in state court for lewd and lascivious molestation despite having been convicted for the same acts in federal court. Under the “dual-sovereignty” doctrine, an act that constitutes a crime under both federal and state law can be separately prosecuted by both sovereigns without violating the prohibition against double jeopardy because the offenses are separate. Kasper v. State, 5D19-179 (7/23/19)

SENTENCING: Defendant cannot be sentenced on four second degree felonies to concurrent sentences of twelve years in prison followed by ten years of probation (22 years of combined prison and probation). None of the counts can exceed a combined prison/probation maximum of 15 years. Jackson v. State, 5D19-305 (7/23/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-SELF-DEFENSE: Jury instruction providing that the defendant had no duty to retreat if he was not otherwise engaged in criminal activity—the standard instruction at the time—is not fundamental error. Absent objection, error, if any, is not preserved. Moorer v. State, 1D-1224 (7/23/19)

PRO SE MOTION: Defendant's pro se motion to withdraw plea while represented by counsel, alleging that he did not qualify as a Habitual Violent Felony Offender, is a nullity in the absence of an adversarial relationship with counsel. Howard v. State, 1D 18-3824 (7/23/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant's motion for post conviction relief is properly denied when everything he says is refuted by the record. Austin v. State, 1D18-3961 (7/23/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/533785/5928671/file/183961_1284_07232019_02305154_i.pdf

VOP-HEARSAY: Where the state seeks to revoke probation based on the commission of a new offense, it is required to present direct, non-hearsay evidence linking the defendant to the commission of the offense. Hallman v. State, 1D18-4070 (7/23/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/533725/5927945/file/184070_1287_07232019_08515402_i.pdf

LESSER INCLUDED: Juvenile charged with aggravated battery cannot be convicted of the lesser included offense of category two lesser-included offense of improper exhibition of a dangerous weapon because the petition did not include the element of exhibiting the weapon in a “rude, careless, angry, or threatening manner.” R.C.O. v. State, 1D18-4515 (7/23/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/533729/5927993/file/184515_1287_0_7232019_08565481_i.pdf

DISCLOSURE-THERAPIST NOTES: Defendant charged sex offense against his daughter and stepdaughter is not entitled to the children’s psychotherapist’s notes. Absent a clear and unequivocal waiver of the psychotherapist-patient privilege, the compelled disclosure of the confidential therapy notes for the children is an unlawful fishing expedition. Hicks, LCSW v. State, 1D18-4527 (7/23/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/533734/5928053/file/190507_1286_0_7232019_09013082_i.pdf

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Where police reports showed there was a recording of a jailhouse informant’s interaction with the defendant, that recording is not newly discovered evidence. Defendant is time barred from seeking post-conviction relief more than two years after his conviction became final on the basis of that recording. Rupp v. State, 1D19-0574 (7/23/19)

CORPUS DELICTI: Testimony that the Defendant was a hunter, a good shooter, coupled with the fact that he had recently killed dead squirrels in his refrigerator, is sufficient circumstantial evidence that he possessed a gun warranting admission of his confession of ownership of the gun over his corpus delicti objection. Porter v. State, 1D17-3577 (7/22/19)

COMPETENCY: Court ordered to hold competency hearing after ignoring previous order from the appellate court to hold the hearing. “When this Court issues a mandate with specific instructions, the lower tribunal must follow those instructions, and has no discretion or authority to do otherwise.” Alcazar v. State, 1D17-4462 (7/22/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: At sentencing, Court did not err in considering jail calls which the State used to suggest that the Defendant had gotten other charges dropped by discouraging witnesses from testifying. Paul v. State, 1D17-5162 (7/22/19)

CRUEL OR UNUSUAL PUNISHMENT: Court is not required to consider the Defendant's mental age, rather than his chronological age. Paul v. State, 1D17-5162 (7/22/19)

CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES-MANDATORY MINIMUM: For a Defendant who is sentenced to 25 years with a 10 year minimum mandatory for a qualifying firearm offense (which by statute must be run consecutively to any nonqualifying offense) and to 15 years for a violation of probation, only the 10 year minimum mandatory must be imposed consecutively; the rest of the sentences may be imposed concurrently. “[T]he plain language of subsection (2)(d) speaks to ‘any term of imprisonment provided for in this subsection.’ The only terms of imprisonment provided for in subsection (2) are minimum mandatory terms.” “[N]othing in section 775.087(2)(d) expressly prohibits the non-minimum mandatory component of a sentence to run concurrently to a non-qualifying sentence.” Mattox v. State, 1D18-663 (7/22/19)

FLEEING AND ELUDING (DISSENT): For conviction for fleeing and eluding, what constitutes a marked patrol vehicle needs to be precisely explained and established. “No evidence establishes what the ‘police logo’ looked like, what it said, its size, where it was placed on the vehicle, whether it was prominently displayed, and whether it was a ‘jurisdictional marking’ or an ‘agency insignia. Officer’s testimony that the police vehicle had ‘all the decals, lights and everything,’ it is not enough. “And to say ‘everything’ is to say nothing. . . .[G]eneralized statement without details is ‘like the proverbial Old Mother Hubbard’ because it ‘covers everything but touches nothing.’” Dupree v. State, 1D18-1084 (7/22/19)

FACTUAL BASIS: The fact that the Defendant drowned a mother and her toddler in a community swimming pool is a factual basis for second degree murder. The main purpose in ascertaining a factual basis for a plea is to prevent a defendant from mistakenly pleading to the wrong offense. Gomez v. State, 1D18-1853 (7/22/19)

VOP: A general conclusion that the defendant was “non-compliant” is insufficient to support a finding of violation of probation. Davis v. State, 1D184786 (7/22/19)

VOP: Defendant did not willfully violate probation by failing to update his address at the DHSMV where his failure to do so was because he did not have the required $31. Davis v. State, 1D18-4786 (7/22/19)

MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE-POSSIBILITY OF PAROLE: A juvenile offender’s life sentence with the possibility of parole after 25 years does not violate the Eighth Amendment because the juvenile has a meaningful opportunity to receive parole. Defendant is not entitled to resentencing. Florida v. Jackson, 1D18-5224 (7/22/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-MANDAMUS: To support claim of newly discovered evidence, Defendant may use petition for writ of mandamus to compel the Public Defender's Office to provide him with a copy of report questioning the validity of tests on his hair. A defendant, when represented by a public defender, is entitled to free copies of his or her own records, including copies of all trial and hearing transcripts, motions, State discovery presented to defense counsel, and any other documents that were otherwise prepared at public expense, but not free copies of documents in the possession of the public defender if the documents were not obtained at public expense. JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL: Defendant played with the hem of an underage girl's skirt, tried to kiss her, and otherwise acted creepily. Counsel's failure to move for judgment of acquittal on the charge of lewd and lascivious conduct is not fundamental error, and thus cannot be raised on direct appeal. JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: The fact that a judge has ruled adversely to the party in the past does not constitute a legally sufficient ground for a motion to disqualify. Pounds v. State, 3D19-1165 (7/17/19)

UNANIMOUS VERDICT: Information which alleges attempted murder by the alternative means of ramming his truck into the wife's SUV and thereafter stabbing her with a knife does not unlawfully invite a nonunanimous verdict based on 2 separate theories where they were both part of the same criminal episode. Cherfrere v. State, 4D13-4071 (7/17/19)

HEARSAY: Officer's testimony that a confidential informant told him that a sixfoot-tall, heavy-set black male known as Angel, who drove a two-door red Ford F-150 pickup truck, was interested in purchasing large quantities of prescription pills is inadmissible hearsay. "The State's contention that this testimony was not hearsay is simply wrong. Even if the informant's statements were not offered for their truth, they were irrelevant, because the police officer's reason for investigating appellant was immaterial." Conyers v. State, 4D17-3790 (7/17/19)

10/20/LIFE: Defendant is not subject to 10-20-Life based on causing serious bodily injury where both he and his brother fired multiple shots at the Victim with only 1 of the bullets striking him. Counsel for the Defendant was ineffective on the face of the record for failing to move for a Judgment of Acquittal. Squire v. State, 4D18-290 (7/17/19)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Written order of probation requiring that Defendant pay costs in equal monthly payments is unlawful when not orally pronounced nor found in any applicable statute or rule. Cordero-Callahan v. State, 4D18-2285 (7/17/19)

PROHIBITION ON PRO SE FILINGS: Court improperly barred the Defendant from making any further pro se motions while denying his Rule 3.800 motion to correct an illegal sentence without giving him an opportunity to respond. Court may not impose the sanction of barring pro se filings without allowing the defendant to respond before considering sanctions. Carrasco v. State, 4D191025 (7/17/19)

INCOMPETENT DEFENDANT-PRETRIAL DETENTION: Mentally incompetent homeless defendant who failed to comply with conditions of release cannot be held in the county jail unless the criteria for pretrial detention is met and appropriate treatment for mental illness is available. “Every effort should be made to avoid an incompetent defendant languishing in jail without adequate treatment.” “[T]reatment in a custodial facility should only be ordered as a last resort.” Marino v. State, 4D19-1283 (7/17/19)

SENTENCING-PREDETERMINATION: Defendant is entitled to a resentencing before a different judge or the original sentencing judge had stated before trial that he intended to sentence the defendant consecutively to his VOP case. Gunn v. State, 1D17-5062 (7/16/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant may not seek post-conviction relief by a habeas corpus petition where the claim would be otherwise time-barred by Rule 3.850. Green v. State, 1D18-1281 (7/16/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/532151/5908356/file/181281_1284_0_7162019_09563878_i.pdf

DISQUALIFICATION-JURISDICTION: Judge who had previously disqualified himself may not deny a motion for DNA testing. Ratley v. State, 1D18-4184 (7/16/19)

STAND YOUR GROUND-RETROACTIVITY: Defendant is entitled to a new Stand Your Ground hearing when the burden of proof was altered while his appeal was pending. Stand Your Ground amendment applies retroactively to Defendant's whose convictions had not been made final. Conflict certified. Washington v. State, 17-1978 (7/15/19)

TRESPASSING-POSTING-JOA: A photograph of a “no trespassing” sign on the ground next to the portable restroom is insufficient to show adequate posting to sustain trespass by Defendant who bogarted the construction site port-a-potty. JOA required. Borrigo v. State, 5D17-4114 (7/12/19)

RESENTENCING-ABSENCE OF DEFENDANT: Upon resentencing after appeal, Defendant has the right to present testimony and evidence. Court erred in refusing to allow the Defendant to present evidence because it had already conducted “an extensive sentencing hearing where evidence was presented.” Wilson v. State, 5D18-26 (7/12/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/531691/5900987/file/180026_1260_0_7122019_08264460_i.pdf

RECKLESS DRIVING: Grossly excessive speed (accelerating to 85 mph at time of collision) in a residential neighborhood is sufficient to justify a conviction for reckless driving. Grossly excessive speed alone can constitute reckless conduct. Natal v. State, 4D17-1271 (7/10/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/531540/5899328/file/171271_1257_0_7102019_08153198_i.pdf

SCORESHEET-LEGAL STATUS: Legal status point should not be assessed unless the probationer is on probation when he commits an offense which is before the court for sentencing. Scoresheet which assesses points for a community sanction violation and 12 points as a VFOSC constitutes improper double counting. Reed v. State, 4D17-3778 (7/10/19)

MINOR-LIFE IMPRISONMENT-HOMICIDE-JUDICIAL REVIEW: Life imprisonment with a sentence review after 25 years for a 14-year-old who beat a younger child to death is lawful. “Although the sentence review will involve consideration of different factors, given that the judge who handled the resentencing has already taken a position as to whether Appellant is ‘fit to reenter society,’ it would be appropriate that the sentence review be assigned to a different judge.” Bellay v. State, 4D17-3866 (7/10/19)

MINOR-LIFE IMPRISONMENT-HOMICIDE-JUDICIAL REVIEW:

Defendant who committed his offense as a minor before 1983 is not entitled to resentencing under the 1983 guidelines. Bellay v. State, 4D17-3866 (7/10/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/531543/5899364/file/173866_1257_0_7102019_08291912_i.pdf

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: In trafficking in oxycodone case, the prosecutor and three of the State's witnesses improperly referred to the fact that Defendant's house was under surveillance, that a search warrant related to narcotics had been issued, and that Defendant was the target. Evidence was not inextricably intertwined. New trial is required. Dawson v. State, 4D18-1586 (7/10/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-APPEAL PENDING: If the trial court does not rule on a motion to correct a sentencing error while an appeal is pending within 60 days the motion shall be deemed denied. Once the sixty days has passed, an order purporting to resentence a defendant is entered without jurisdiction and is a nullity. Staples v. State, 3D17-133 (7/10/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/531506/5898902/file/170133_809_07102019_09524287_i.pdf

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: When a youthful offender commits a substantive violation of probation and the trial court elects to impose a sentence in excess of the six-year cap, the sentence necessarily loses his youthful offender status. Staples v. State, 3D17-133 (7/10/19)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: Victim's statement that the Defendant, who was charged with severely beating and raping her, said that he had done this to 6 other women is relevant to show how the Defendant had coerced her. The statement was unobjected to and error, if any, was not fundamental. Hayes v. State, 3D18-409 (7/10/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/531512/5898980/file/180409_809_07102019_09584043_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-SENTENCE CORRECTION: Defendant's claim that he could not be found guilty of possessing a firearm because the weapon was a pellet gun cannot be raised after his sentence has been served and after 2 years have elapsed. The sentence is not illegal. Lopez v. State, 3D18-464 (7/10/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/531513/5898992/file/180464_809_07102019_09592133_i.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: There is no requirement that the Defendant be at fault to justify a blood draw in a DUI manslaughter case. The blood draw statute does not require probable cause of driver fault. “By the plain statutory language, the motor vehicle, rather than ‘the person driving or in actual physical control of the motor vehicle,’ must have caused the death or serious bodily injury.” State v. Quintanilla, 3D18-1483 (7/10/19)

INFORMATION: A charging document that substantially but imperfectly charges a crime is not fundamentally deficient, and any objections must be made before or when he pleads at arraignment. Information which charges the Defendant with taking property when he in fact took money is not fatally defective. Wilson v. State, 3D19-456 (7/10/19)

HABEAS CORPUS: Habeas Corpus action based on failure to properly calculate gain time must be filed where the Defendant is incarcerated, not the county of conviction. Guerra v. State, 3D19-760 (7/10/19)

https://www.3dca.flcourts.org/content/download/531526/5899148/file/190760_812_07102019_10073880_i.pdf

SENTENCING-MINOR-50-YEAR SENTENCE-REVIEW: Minor/Defendant convicted of murder is lawfully sentenced to serve 50 years in prison without review based on his prior felony record. Baker v. State, 2D17-2160 (7/10/19)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/531557/5899526/file/172160_65_071_02019_08314133_i.pdf

RECENTLY STOLEN PROPERTY-JOA: When the State's case is based entirely upon the statutory inference, the trial court must direct a judgment of dismissal for the defendant where a reasonable explanation for possession of recently stolen property is totally unrefuted and there is no other evidence of guilt. Stolen property found in the Child's jointly occupied bedroom does not compel the conclusion that he was the thief. A.L. v. State, 2D17-4572 (7/10/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DWLS: Police may stop Defendant on suspicion that he was DWLS based to on two previous DWLS arrests of the Defendant in the last year. Information is not stale. Valero v. State, 2D18-914 (7/10/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant can raise on 3.850 motion claim that counsel was ineffective. Hartley v. State, 1D17-5073 (7/10/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Offhand comment making fun of counsel was in jest and not basis for disqualification. Discussion on why “judges should avoid attempts at humor while on the bench. . .[J]udicial humor is rarely as funny as the judge thinks it is, and judicial humor is never funny when it is at the expense of an attorney or a party.” Cannon v. CHILD HEARSAY: Court erred in excluding recanted child hearsay that nine year old’s father had sexually abused her where DNA confirmed the original statement. Court’s theories discounting the DNA evidence and that the child suffered from an Electra complex were speculative and unsupported by evidence. DNA evidence cannot be considered in determining the reliability of the statement. State v. Boatman, 1D18-2808 (7/9/19)

ARGUMENT-OPINION AS TO GUILT: Argument that jury should “return a verdict that truth dictates and justice demands” is not an improper expression of the prosecutor’s opinion. Fountain v. State, 1D18-2883 (7/9/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: After appeal, Double Jeopardy does not bar Defendant's sentences for armed robbery and attempted murder from 30 and 35 years consecutively to 65 years concurrently. The change did not modify the Court's original sentencing goal. Whitfield v. State, 1D18-3025 (7/9/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant cannot challenge conviction based on erroneous instruction on the possible lesser included offense of manslaughter (which included an intent to kill provision) because his conviction became final before the instruction was determined to be a misstatement of law. McCrae v. State, 1D18-4115 (7/9/19)

HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant may file habeas corpus petition raising different issues than those which were raised in a previous motion to correct illegal sentence. Court erred in ruling that the issues were the same. Barreiros v. State, 3D18-2584 (7/3/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant may use R. 3.800 to raise argument that he was improperly sentenced to stacked mandatory minimums. Depositions are not court records which can be considered to determine whether a sentence is illegal. Defendant's remedy lies with R. 3.850, requiring an evidentiary hearing and subject to a two-year time limit. Morgan v. State, 3D19-37 (7/3/19)

COUNSEL-WITHDRAWAL: Defendant's attorney, who believed that he had been paid with stolen money and who was under threat of suit by his client's former employer, the victim of the embezzlement at issue, must be allowed to withdraw mid-trial. Delacruz v. State, 4D17-2103 (7/3/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Based on Weatherspoon, State must charge attempted felony murder in order to be entitled to a jury instruction on that crime as an alternative theory to simple attempted murder, but this change in the law does not apply retroactively. Issue certified. Johnson v. State, 4D18-3528 (7/3/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-JUSTIFIABLE/EXCUSABLE HOMICIDE:

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly denied Defendant's motion to withdraw plea based on counsel's alleged misadvice that he would receive a downward departure and his attorney's "bare-bones" argument for a downward departure. "Given that the brief filed on behalf of Santos cites only two cases and is six pages in total length, the irony of Attorney James W. CONTEMPT: “We do not doubt for an instant that the trial judge heard what he maintains he heard. INCONSISTENT VERDICTS: “Although logically under the facts presented to the jury there was no way Appellant could have committed the murder and attempted murder without possessing and discharging a firearm that does not make the verdict truly inconsistent.” Inconsistent jury verdicts are permitted in Florida because “jury verdicts can be the result of lenity and therefore did not always speak to the guilt or innocence of the defendant.” Conviction upheld. Only true inconsistent verdicts are disallowed. True inconsistent verdicts are those in which an acquittal on one count negates a necessary element for conviction on another count. Turner v. DURESS-JURY INSTRUCTION: Although it is unclear whether the “choice of evils” concept (the harm that the defendant avoided must outweigh the harm caused by crime charged) that is now element 6 of

VIOLATION OF INJUNCTION: Defendant is properly convicted of violating an injunction when he is served with the temporary injunction which was extended and converted to a permanent injunction at the hearing at which she had not appeared. Garcia v. State, 3D18-14732 (6/26/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The law of the case doctrine does not bar litigation on the admission of hearsay which was not sufficiently reviewed based on the sufficiency of the evidence in earlier proceedings. PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-DISCRIMINATION: Defendant is entitled to a seventh trial after prosecutors struck 41 of the 42 black prospective jurors in the previous six trials. “The jury in Flowers’ third trial consisted of 11 white jurors and 1 black juror. The lone black juror who served on the jury was seated after the State ran out of peremptory strikes.” Batson affirmed. Flowers v. Mississippi, No. 17-9572 (US S.Ct. 6/21/19)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/18pdf/17-9572_k536.pdf

QUOTATION: (J. Kavanaugh): “The State appeared to proceed as if Batson had never been decided. The State’s relentless, determined effort to rid the jury of black individuals strongly suggests that the State wanted to try Flowers before a jury with as few black jurors as possible, and ideally before an all-white jury. . .The State’s actions in the first four trials necessarily inform our assessment of the State’s intent going into Flowers’ sixth trial. We cannot ignore that history. We cannot take that history out of the case.” Flowers v. Mississippi, No. 17-9572 (US S.Ct. 6/21/19)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/18pdf/17-9572_k536.pdf

QUOTATION (J. Kavanaugh): “One can slice and dice the statistics and come up with all sorts of ways to compare the State’s questioning of excluded black jurors with the State’s questioning of the accepted white jurors. But any meaningful comparison yields the same basic assessment: The State spent far more time questioning the black prospective jurors than the accepted white jurors. . .[D]isparate questioning can be probative of discriminatory intent.” Flowers v. Mississippi, No. 17-9572 (US S.Ct. 6/21/19)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/18pdf/17-9572_k536.pdf

QUOTATION (J. Thomas, Dissent): “Much of the Court’s opinion is a paean to Batson v. Kentucky, which requires that a duly convicted criminal go free.” Flowers v. Mississippi, No. 17-9572 (US S.Ct. 6/21/19)

BUT DIDN’T YOU JUST SAY. . .? (J. Thomas, Dissent): “If the Court’s opinion today has a redeeming quality, it is this: The State is

PRACTICING VETERINARY MEDICINE: Court properly dismissed the charge of practicing veterinary medicine without a license where Defendant home-treated his injured dog by trying to remove bone fragments from its rectum. Avella v. State, 5D18-1407 (6/21/19)

CRUELTY TO ANIMAL: Whether the act of trying to remove bone fragments from his dog’s rectum constitutes cruelty to animals is a jury question and cannot be resolved by a motion to dismiss. Avella v. State, 5D18-1407 (6/21/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant should be allowed to amend his claims for post-conviction relief where his attorney failed to file an amended motion nor informed Defendant of the need to do so. Babic v. State, 2D181681 (6/21/19)

APPEALS: A criminal defendant's right to self-representation does not extend to appellate proceedings. In its discretion, appellate court may deny Appellant's request to represent himself. Garcia v. Schneider, 3D18-2484 (6/21/19)

THEFT-VALUE-HEARSAY: Defendant cannot be found guilty of grand theft based upon the theft of less-than-a-year-old Louis Vuitton Neverfull purse and wallet, which the victim had bought for $1500 and $700 respectively. The victim's testimony, over objection, that the replacement value for the items on eBay were about $1000 and $400 is insufficient to establish the value. Hearsay evidence from websites as to value is inadmissible hearsay. Gonzalez v. State, 3D19-479 (6/21/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Consideration of a lack of remorse or failure to take responsibility is fundamental error. In animal abuse case, Court's consideration of the Defendant's failure to take responsibility for the injuries to his dog requires resentencing before a different judge. Piccinini v. State, 5D172919 (6/21/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: To determine whether multiple convictions of solicitation of a minor . . . and traveling after solicitation of a minor are based upon the same conduct for purposes of double jeopardy, the reviewing court should consider only the charging document-not the entire evidentiary record. Richardson v. State, 2D17-3814 (6/21/19)

CROSS-EXAMINATION: Court erred in limiting cross-examination of a flipping codefendant into the fact that the witness had been facing up to life in prison. Defendant's Sixth Amendment right to confront witnesses outweighs the policy of shielding the jury from learning the maximum penalty the Defendant faced (which was the same as that of the witness). Rivera v. State, 5D17-1397 (6/21/19)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-FIFTH AMENDMENT: “Don’t know what to tell you. I need a lawyer, man,” and statement that he could not tell detectives much because he had to speak to his lawyer first are unambiguous requests for counsel. Statements should have been suppressed. However, error is harmless here. Wilson v. State, 5D17-3568 (6/21/19)

SELF-INCRIMINATION-PASSWORD: In determining whether the Fifth Amendment protects compelled disclosure of a password to a phone in the state's possession, the proper legal inquiry is whether the state is seeking to compel a suspect to provide a password that would allow access to information the state knows is on the suspect's cellphone and has described with reasonable particularity. Defendant cannot be compelled to disclose password to cell phone on the assumption that co-defendant had communicated with him before the crime. Where the state establishes factually that it knows that a password existed, that the suspect possesses or controls the password, and that the suspect's actions disclosed or authenticated the password sought it is a foregone conclusion to force its disclosure. Unless the state can describe with reasonable particularity the information it seeks to access on a specific cellphone, an attempt to seek all communications, data and images is an unlawful fishing expedition. Pollard v. State, 1D18-4572 (6/20/19)

SIMILAR FACT EVIDENCE: In Shaken Baby case, prior instances of abuse committed by the Defendant against a particular child are admissible where the defendant is charged with abusing that child, especially where the Defendant suggested that the child's injuries may have been the result of an accident. There is no need for factual similarity. Lowery v. State, 1D17-3716 (6/20/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-UNCHARGED LESSER: Where an offense may be committed in various ways, the evidence must establish it to have been committed in the manner charged in the indictment. In child homicide, Court erred in instructing on malicious punishment as a mens of committing aggravated child abuse although not specifically alleged in the information, but error is harmless. Lowery v. State, 1D17-3716 (6/20/19)

LESSER INCLUDED: Court did not err in instructing on the lesser of manslaughter by culpable negligence in the absence of evidence of negligence. Manslaughter by culpable negligence is a category 1, necessarily lesser included offense and must be given. Lowery v. State, 1D17-3716 (6/20/19)

JUVENILE-COMMITMENT-DEVIATION: To justify a commitment disposition that departs from the DJJ’s recommendation, Court must articulate an understanding of the different restrictiveness levels and explain why one is better than the other, and point out considerations that DJJ overlooked. VOP: A plea of no contest does not constitute competent substantial evidence that the Defendant committed a new law violation. “[E]vidence that a probationer entered a no contest plea to a new charge, without more, is. . . insufficient to sustain a revocation of probation.” Contreras v. HEARSAY: Out of court statement by cellmate that Defendant had confessed, later disclaimed, is inadmissible and not within the identification exception to the hearsay rule, nor is it admissible for impeachment of the cellmate where the purpose is to establish the truth of the statement. “It is. . .obvious that the State’s true aim was to circumvent the hearsay rules.” Lawrence v. RESENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: A defendant is entitled to a de novo sentencing proceeding after an appellate court determines that the trial court’s reason for downward departure are invalid. On remand for resentencing due to the substantive invalidity of a downward departure, the trial court is permitted to impose a downward departure as long as the departure comports with the principles and criteria of the Criminal Punishment Code. APPEAL-DISPOSITIVE ISSUE-STAND YOUR GROUND RETROACTIVITY: An issue is dispositive only when it is clear that there will be no trial, regardless of the appeal. Issue of whether the retroactive application of the statutory change to the burden of proof in stand your ground hearings in case in which the Defendant entered a negotiated plea after the hearing is not an appealable because it is not dispositive. Where, as here, the remedy on appeal is a new SYG hearing, the possibility of the trial remains, and so the issue is not dispositive. Discussion of the Gorilla Rule and precognition. Hicks v. STAND YOUR GROUND: Court erred in finding that the Defendant was trespassing, and therefore was not entitled to shoot his sister's boyfriend, who was fighting with the Defendant's brother who had come to his sister's defense. PRETRIAL DETENTION: Court may order a defendant detained without bond beyond first appearance for a reasonable time pending an Arthur bond hearing without making a preliminary finding of proof evident, presumption great. Thourtman v. Junior, No. 3D18-2433 (6/12/19)

WHAT THEY TEACH AT JUDGE SCHOOL: “In doing so, the trial court followed the standard practice taught to trial judges in Florida. See, e.g., Fla. Court Educ.5 at 7 (2016) (‘In cases in which death or life imprisonment is a possible penalty, the first appearance judge, upon finding of probable cause, will typically order that the defendant be held with no bond.’ . . .)”. QUOTATION (DISSENT): “[W]e are duty-bound to follow the Florida Supreme Court’s decision in State v. Arthur. . . , which unambiguously held that ‘before release on bail pending trial can ever be denied, the state must come forward with a showing that the proof of guilt is evident or the presumption is great.’ . . .The majority opinion embraces a contrary view, creating a procedural mechanism possessed of both logic and practicality. And it may well be that my position possesses neither logic nor practicality, constrained as it is by a faithful adherence to Florida Supreme Court precedent. . . . Because the majority opinion is not similarly constrained, I must respectfully dissent.” Thourtman v. Junior, No. 3D18-2433 (6/12/19)

ADMINISTRATIVE PROBATION: Administrative probation is non-reporting probation which can only be imposed by the Department of Corrections, but Defendant who is sentenced by court to administrative probation is estopped from challenging its legality when he violates it because he reaped its benefit. VETERAN’S COURT: Court may exercise its discretion to deny a qualifying Defendant from entry into Veteran’s Court. A judge’s decision on whether to admit an eligible and willing defendant into veterans’ court is a discretionary act. Simeone v. State, No. 4D18-3470 (6/12/19)

APPEALS-PRESERVATION-DISPOSITIVE ISSUE: Defendant may not appeal denial of motion to suppress narcotics where Defendant pled as well to BLEO and Resisting with Violence. To plead and appeal, the issue might be dispositive of the entire case, not only some counts. An issue is dispositive only if, regardless of whether the appellate court affirms or reverses the lower court's decision, there will be no trial of the case. Milliron v. State, No. 1D16-3889 (1st DCA 6/7/19)

PTI: Under Fla.Stat. §397.334(2) a court may order an individual charged with a nonviolent felony to enter a pretrial treatment-based drug court program upon motion of a party or the court. The Court's power to order drug court treatment is discretionary, and a late application is sufficient basis for denial. Byrd v. State, No. 1D17-1529 (1st DCA 6/7/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: One cannot be sentenced to consecutive sentences for multiple homicides resulting from placing one bomb, but where the record is not clear that a single bomb was placed, the consecutive sentences cannot be challenged under Rule 3.800. Jarvis v. State, No. 1D17-4186 (1st DCA 6/7/19)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: In ruling on a motion for new trial the correct standard is weight of the evidence, not sufficiency of the evidence. However, error here, if any, was not preserved by an articulated objection. Kline v. State, No. 1D18-1706 (1st DCA 6/7/19)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-ILLEGAL SENTENCE: Defendant may not move to correct an illegal sentence which failed to impose a ten-year mandatory minimum for possession of a firearm because Rule 3.800 only authorizes the defendant to move to correct an adverse ruling. Conflict certified. Earl v. State, No. 1D18-3828 (1st DCA 6/7/19)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant cannot be found guilty of possession of pills found in the center console under paperwork belonging to the defendant where the vehicle is jointly occupied. “[T]he presence of some of a defendant’s personal items in the same area as contraband merely supports an inference that the defendant had knowledge of and dominion and control over the substance” but does not disprove the reasonable hypothesis of innocence that someone else placed the contraband in the glove compartment. Nugent v. State, No. 2D17-3169 (2nd DCA 6/7/19)

CONVICTION RELIEF: A claim that a sentence was illegally imposed because the information did not charge the defendant with an element required for his [or her] sentence is cognizable in a rule 3.800(a) motion. Reed v. State, No. 2D18-2005 (2nd DCA 6/7/19)

WITHDRAWAL OF PLEA: Counsel's failure to advise Defendant that entry of a plea would likely result in termination of parental rights is adequate grounds to withdraw the plea. "Failure to inform [a defendant] of [a] collateral consequence may not have rendered the plea involuntary, but . . . ignorance of it does meet the 'good cause' test for a pre-sentence plea withdrawal." Purcell v. State, 5D17-2901 (5th DCA 6/7/19)

OPENING THE DOOR: Defendant opened the door to statement by witness that she (the Defendant) had told the witness that she had previously tried to poison her husband by antifreeze when and direct the witness said that he did not believe that she had tried to kill her husband. Dippolito v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1429a (4th DCA 6/5/19)

ENTRAPMENT: Law enforcement's invited participation of the "Cops" TV program in the investigation of her solicitation to murder her husband is not objective entrapment. Objective entrapment is a question of law for the court and thus there is no right to a jury determination of the issue. Dippolito v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1429a (4th DCA 6/5/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant's motion for post-conviction relief is deficient where it alleges that counsel did not advise him that he was facing a mandatory life sentence as a PRR if he turned down the plea offer, but failed to allege that the State would not have withdrawn the plea offer and the court would have accepted it. SEXUAL BATTERY-JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Court erred in instructing jury on the elements of sexual battery by using the word “butt” rather than “anus,” where the instructions include no definition for “butt.” Error is fundamental. Ramirez Ramos v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1424b (4th DCA 6/5/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATORY STOP: Police had reasonable suspicion to stop the defendant who matched the description of one of the people by a citizen informant who said that three men entered a house, a gunshot was heard, and 2 men came out. DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-ISOLATED INCIDENT: Multiple bank robberies over a six-month period were not isolated incidents, and thus did not merit a downward departure sentence. State v. Crossley-Robinson, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1421a (4th DCA 6/5/19)

DEPOSITION-FIFTH AMENDMENT-CERTIORARI: Defendant may not challenge pretrial by petition for writ of certiorari the Court's ruling that the Defendant may not take the deposition of a key witness who intends to make a blanket 5th amendment refusal to testify. "Although Magbanua persuasively argues that the protective order preventing any pretrial questioning of Adelson significantly impairs her ability to prepare a defense, any material injury to Magbanua may be corrected on direct appeal." DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for unlawfully using a two-way communications device and transmitting material harmful to minors via electronic mail violates double jeopardy because the elements of the former are subsumed in the elements of the latter. Transmitting an image, information, or data via electronic mail necessarily involves the use of a “two-way communications device.” Weitz v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1413a (2nd DCA 5/31/19)

CONTINUANCE: Court abused discretion in denying motion to continue VOP hearing when the original public defender became unavailable due to being called up for military service a week before the hearing and the substitute public defender announced herself unprepared to proceed. Criminal defendants are entitled to preparation sufficient to assure at least minimal quality of counsel. Boffo v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1399c (5th DCA 5/31/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who had pled guilty to manslaughter is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to tell him that the pathologist report said that the Defendant's battery of the victim was not the cause of death. A generalized plea colloquy confirming satisfaction with counsel was insufficient to refute a claim based on counsel's failure to advise of a specific defense or facts supporting it. McBee v. LESSER INCLUDED-JURY INSTRUCTION-JURY PARDON: Failure to give a requested jury instruction on a necessarily lesser included offense one step removed from the charged offense is subject to a harmless error analysis and is no longer per se reversible error. SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: In sentencing Defendant for L & L, Court improperly considered a videotape the Defendant roaming through the children section of a library on a separate date . Defendant must be re-sentenced by a different judge. Court may not consider uncharged conduct nor rely on speculation that the defendant has committed or may commit other crimes based on its view of the uncharged conduct. Tharp v. State, 44 Fla. L. REVERSE WILLIAMS RULE: Defendant is entitled to present evidence that another person had committed a burglary in the same area in a strikingly similar manner. The reverse Williams rule is simply the application of Williams rule principles to the circumstance in which a defendant (rather than the State) seeks to introduce evidence of similar crimes committed by another person (rather than the defendant) to show that the defendant did not commit the offense for which he or she is being tried. Newby v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1377a (2nd DCA 5/29/19)

KINDA WEIRD: “Lieutenant William Byrd drove by Mr. Newby, who was jogging across one such road. He was wearing boxer shorts, a T-shirt, and dress socks with no shoes. The temperature was in the forties — cold by Florida standards. That got the lieutenant’s Spidey senses tingling. . . Mr. Newby said that he started to undress outside, but that he then saw a car drive past that belonged to people he knew lived nearby, and that he jogged over to meet them. When he got to the house where they lived, he decided to keep jogging.” Newby v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1377a (2nd DCA 5/29/19)

COUNSEL: Court must allow substitution of counsel on the eve of the trial and grant a two or three day continuance for the new attorney to prepare where, as here the request for substitution of counsel was not made in bad faith and Defendant and only very recently been made aware of the trial date. HEARSAY-OUT-OF-COURT IDENTIFICATION: Recorded statements of identification by eyewitnesses are admissible because such statements are not hearsay by statutory definition, but a description of the person so identified is inadmissible hearsay. Ellison v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1362a (4th DCA 5/29/19)

EVIDENCE-SILENCE: The fact that the Defendant hung up phone when officer told him he was investigating an armed robbery is not admissible. “Under federal law, a defendant’s pre-arrest, pre-Miranda silence may be used as substantive evidence of a defendant’s guilt where a defendant has not expressly invoked the privilege against self-incrimination. . . . The Florida Supreme Court, in contrast, has concluded that ‘a defendant’s privilege against self-incrimination guaranteed under article I, section 9 of the Florida Constitution is violated when his or her pre-arrest, pre-Miranda silence is used against the defendant at trial as substantive evidence of the defendant’s consciousness of guilt.’” Ellison v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1362a (4th DCA 5/29/19)

SELF-DEFENSE-VICTIM’S PRIOR ACT OF VIOLENCE: Evidence of the Victim’s prior violent act of meeting of the woman a few days before the alleged murder, known to the Defendant at the time, is admissible to show the Defendant’s reasonable apprehension of violence by the Victim. All doubts as to the admission of self-defense evidence must be resolved in favor of the accused. Farrell v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1361a (4th DCA 5/29/19)

APPEAL-TIMELINESS: When Order Denying a Motion to Correct Illegal sentence is rendered on March 5th and the appeal is not filed until April 5th, the appeal is untimely. April 5th would have been the 31st day. (Maxwell Smart: “Missed by that much!.) Wallace v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1359b (1st DCA 5/28/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/525956/5843605/file/191359_1279_0_5282019_10391938_i.pdf

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: Appellate court need not decide whether in custody interview of the defendant by a Child Protective Investigator requires Miranda because error here, if any, is harmless. Cooley v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1357a (1st DCA 5/28/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/525950/5843535/file/174001_1284_0_5282019_10240357_i.pdf

MITIGATION-JURISDICTION: Court may not deny motion to mitigate while the appeal is pending. Court should have denied the motion for lack of jurisdiction because of the pending appeal. Underwood v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1351c (2nd DCA 5/24/19)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/525590/5839023/file/17452_5_65_05242019_08385728_i.pdf

INEFFECTIVENESS-APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that the court impermissibly considered lack of remorse and truthfulness and sentencing. “And continuing to lie is not going to help. . . Your insistence on trying to diminish your culpability is not helping your situation. You would be much better off in my eyes and certainly everyone else's if you would just tell the truth." Error is fundamental. Beauchamp v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1351a (5th DCA 5/24/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court is not bound by State's concession that a hearing is required on claim made a motion for post-conviction relief, and may properly deny the motion without hearing. Amaro v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1349a (5th DCA 5/24/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled relief on claim that counsel was ineffective for not requesting a Daubert hearing on expert testimony on tool marks, where his evidence that such testimony is scientifically unreliable was limited to articles found in a Google search without the underlying articles being admitted in evidence. Amaro v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1349a (5th DCA 5/24/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/525571/5838813/file/172744_1257_0_5242019_08063766_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant failed to show prejudice in the Court's failure to give the jury the required cautionary instruction that if a question submitted by a juror is not allowed for any reason, the juror must not discuss it with the other jurors and must not hold it against either party. Prejudice is not presumed. Amaro v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1349a (5th DCA 5/24/19)

EXPERT OPINION-EVIDENCE CODE: Frye is dead, Daubert is resurrected. Delisle receded from. In re: Amendments to the Florida Evidence Code, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S170a (FLA May 23, 2019)

QUOTATION: “Like the little-known codicil in the Faber College constitution, the concurring opinion cites section II.G.1. of our internal operating procedures. . .[N]o court, including ours, has ever cited this language or any part of section II. Ever.” In re: Amendments to the Florida Evidence Code, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S170a (FLA May 23, 2019)

SENTENCING-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Upon violation of probation, Court may impose sentences consecutively notwithstanding that the original sentences had been concurrent with each other. Forte v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1348a (3rd DCA 5/22/19)

<http://www.3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D19-0368.pdf>

RECLASSIFICATION: A first-degree felony shall be reclassified to a life felony if a weapon or firearm is used. Second degree murder is a felony of the first degree, and when committed with a firearm, is reclassified as a life felony. Sheppard v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1344b (3rd DCA 5/22/19)

<http://www.3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D19-0638.pdf>

WITHHOLD OF ADJUDICATION: Court may not withhold adjudication on the charge of False Report of Bomb Threat. The statutory authority to suspend a sentence for the crime does not include the authority to withhold adjudication of guilt. State v. Hansen, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1335a (4th DCA 5/22/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/525423/5837115/file/180261_1709_0_5222019_09202950_i.pdf

JURY INSTRUCTION-LESSER INCLUDED-LEWD AND LASCIVIOUS: Court is not required to give a permissive lesser included simple battery instruction on the charges lewd or lascivious molestation. The lesser crime of battery includes the elements of lack of consent. Statute on lewd and lascivious battery eliminates the defense of consent, but the act can nevertheless be consensual. De Aragon v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1330b (4th DCA 5/22/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/525422/5837103/file/172010_1257_0_5222019_09185183_i.pdf

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-VOLUNTARINESS: Once a suspect has waived Miranda rights, police are not required to end an interrogation if the defendant makes an equivocal or ambiguous request for counsel. Only an unambiguous and unequivocal request for counsel requires that police terminate an interrogation. A “Go ahead and fg sign off that I need a lawyer or whatever if I’m being arrested. If I’m not being arrested, then take me to a cell for my other warrants, so I can go ahead and get this st over with” is not an unequivocal and unambiguous invocation of his right to counsel. Gaskey v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1322a (1st DCA 5/21/19, corrected 5/24/19)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: In order to show cause why the plea should be withdrawn, mere allegations are not enough; the defense must offer proof that the plea was not voluntarily and intelligently entered. Vito v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1326a (1st DCA 5/21/19)

https://edca.1dca.org/DCADocs/2017/3076/173076_1284_05212019_102838_83_i.pdf

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Defendant cannot withdraw a plea to 117 counts of possession of child porn and 2 counts of possession with intent to promote child porn based on the allegation that he would not have entered the plea if he had known that his counsel failed to reserve the right to appeal an order denying his motion to dismiss the last 2 counts where, as here, there was no prejudice since it is unlikely the Defendant would have proceeded to trial anyways, and the Motion to dismiss was meritless. Mallet v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1325a (1st DCA 5/21/19)

https://edca.1dca.org/DCADocs/2017/4627/174627_1284_05212019_102915_78_i.pdf

CORPUS DELICTI: Child cannot be convicted of possession of firearm by a delinquent or a minor after confessing to owning a gun found in a car occupied by the Child and 2 other people not all of whom were delinquents. “If all of the occupants of the car in which the gun was found had previously been found to have committed delinquent acts. . .this would be a no-brainer affirmance. . .[H]owever, . . .this is one of those uncommon cases where. . .proof of the identity of the person who committed the offense was necessary to prove that a crime was committed at all.” N.G.S. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1316a (2nd DCA 5/17/19)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/525186/5834425/file/174650_39_051_72019_08343721_i.pdf

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-STALKING: Dual convictions for violation of injunction for stalking are not barred by double jeopardy where there are two distinct acts, here, first yelling at the Victim from across the street and then, after police arrived yelling “Bitch, I’m coming to get you” while pounding on his chest with both fists. Good discussion. Jacobs v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1313a (2nd DCA 5/17/19)

SWELLING A STREAM: Sixth case in Florida, and the second one this spring, in which the phrase “swelling a common stream of action” was used. Jacobs v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1313a (2nd DCA 5/17/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: To determine whether multiple convictions of solicitation of a minor, unlawful use of a two-way communications device, and traveling after solicitation of a minor are based upon the same conduct for purposes of double jeopardy, the reviewing court should consider only the charging document. Sherman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1309a (1st DCA 5/16/19)

APPEALS-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF COUNSEL: Defendant cannot raise on direct appeal claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to move for a judgment of acquittal or failure to contest the value of the stolen property. If counsel had done so, the State could have reopened the case. Any relief must be sought under R 3.850. Stephens v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1308a (1st DCA 5/16/19)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Theory that evidence of the burglary is too circumstantial to sustain a conviction because someone else might have committed the burglary and put the stolen items in the car occupied by the defendant is too far-fetched to compel the court to grant a motion for judgment of acquittal. Stephens v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1308a (1st DCA 5/16/19)

REVOCAATION OF PROBATION-HEARSAY: Hearsay evidence is admissible in violation of probation hearings, but hearsay evidence that is not corroborated by non-hearsay evidence is insufficient to establish a violation of probation. Baldwin v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1306b (1st DCA 5/16/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/525083/5833355/file/180465_1286_0_5162019_10215222_i.pdf

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request the jury instruction on reckless driving as a lesser included offense cannot be raised on direct appeal. It is not inconceivable that there was a tactical explanation for counsel's decision not to request the lesser included instruction. Lee v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1304a (1st DCA 5/16/19)

FINALITY OF ORDER: Where Defendant was initially sentenced to life in prison and later violated parole and was recommitted to serve a life sentence in thereafter was erroneously resentenced to life imprisonment with the possibility of review after 25 years, and neither party appeal that ruling, the trial court lacks jurisdiction to rescind the order and delete provision about sentence review. Because the order granting resentencing became final when neither party moved for rehearing or appealed the order, the trial court had no authority to enter a second order rescinding the original order. Simmons v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1301b (1st DCA 5/16/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-PROBATION: Where Court modified probation to require drug treatment upon the Defendant's testing positive for marijuana, the defendant cannot be later accused of violating probation on the basis of that positive test. Since Defendant's probationary sentence had already been enhanced for the same violation of this condition, a second enhancement or punishment based upon the same violation would impose multiple punishments for the same offense. Mitchell v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1294a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-LEAVING SCENE OF ACCIDENT: Multiple convictions for leaving the scene of an accident in which 3 cars were hit does not violate double jeopardy since the crashes happen seconds apart and at different locations in the parking lot. Breland v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1291a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/525015/5832539/file/180537_1257_0_5152019_08432363_i.pdf

HEARSAY-PRIOR INCONSISTENT STATEMENT: Officer's testimony that the phone number was the Defendant's, based on the Defendant's girlfriend's alleged statement (denied by the girlfriend) to the officer that it was, leading to the procurement of phone records was inadmissible hearsay. The records thereby linked to the defendant were consequently inadmissible. Helms v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1288a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/525011/5832491/file/173811_1708_0_5152019_08392728_i.pdf

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: To qualify as a prison releasee reoffender the Defendant must have been incarcerated in and physically released from a prison, not a county jail. Helms v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1288a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/525011/5832491/file/173811_1708_0_5152019_08392728_i.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-ANONYMOUS TIP: Officers lacked reasonable suspicion to detain the Defendant based on an anonymous call that a black male with dreads, wearing designer pants with glitter on the back side of the pants, standing by a convertible black Camaro parked in front of a liquor store was dealing drugs out of the vehicle. The anonymous tip's assertion of illegal conduct must be corroborated in some way to establish its reliability. The Defendant's quick return to the vehicle, bending down, and placing something inside the vehicle is insufficient corroboration of illegal activity to justify the stop. "Appellant's retreat to the vehicle did not evidence criminal activity. Indeed, if appellant could not retreat, then he was not free to leave, which circumstance constitutes a seizure for Fourth Amendment purposes." Dieujuste v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1285a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

GRAND THEFT-VALUE: Victim’s testimony that her daughter told her that the stolen bracelet was worth close to $300 is insufficient to establish the felony value. The sheer volume of the items stolen cannot sustain an inference that the cumulative value is above $100. “[E]ven where stolen items would appear to have a minimum value based on the nature of the item, a lack of evidence as to that value is typically fatal.” Bruce v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1284a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/525010/5832479/file/173740_1708_0_5152019_08363606_i.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: School resource officer may not search a juvenile based solely on a hunch that he might have a weapon. T.L.B. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1283d (4th DCA 5/15/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/525018/5832575/file/181907_1709_0_5152019_08475737_i.pdf

MANDAMUS: Defendant who had been barred by the trial court from filing further frivolous motions attacking his conviction may not apply for a writ of mandamus to require the trial court to rule on further motions. Byrd v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1281b (3rd DCA 5/15/19)

<http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D19-0672.pdf>

8TH AMENDMENT: Sentence of life imprisonment with possibility of parole after 25 years for first-degree murder committed by a minor does not violate the 8th Amendment. State v. Calix, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1281a (3rd DCA 5/15/19)

<http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D16-2784.pdf>

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FAILURE TO FILE PRETRIAL MOTION: Counsel for the defendant was ineffective for failing to file a pretrial motion to dismiss based on pre-arrest delay resulting in destruction of potentially exculpatory surveillance video recordings. State v. Ellis, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1280a (3rd DCA 5/15/19)

<http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D17-2478.pdf>

CONTINUANCE: Court did not abuse discretion in denying motion to continue to allow fingerprint testing of a watch found on the victim's body where counsel could have arranged for the testing earlier. Lindsay v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1276c (1st DCA 5/13/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/524941/5831765/file/180122_1284_0_5132019_08590694_i.pdf

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: To determine whether multiple convictions of solicitation of a minor, unlawful use of a two-way communications device, and traveling after solicitation of a minor are based upon the same conduct for purposes of double jeopardy, the reviewing court may consider only the charging document. Dygart v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1276a (1st DCA 5/13/19)

HABEAS CORPUS-INEFFECTIVENESS: Defendant may not use habeas corpus, asserting manifest injustice, to claim that Counsel was ineffective for failing to advise him of an entrapment defense more than 2 years after the conviction is final. Watkins v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1275a (1st DCA 5/13/19)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-CONSENT: Court did not abuse discretion in finding that the sex abuse of the minor was not consensual where the 15-year old victim admitted to a generally consensual relationship but testified that she felt uncomfortable with the sexual activity and “wanted out.” Hayes v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1274b (1st DCA 5/13/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/524939/5831741/file/173466_1286_0_5132019_08574033_i.pdf

SENTENCING MULTIPLIER: If the total resulting sentence with the multiplier applied exceeded the statutory maximum sentence for Appellant’s primary offense, the multiplier could not be applied, and the statutory maximum had to be imposed on the primary offense. 90.59-year sentence is vacated for the Defendant to be sentenced to no more than 15 years for the primary offense but no less than bottom of the guidelines (44.45 years) as an aggregate sentence. Hayes v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1274b (1st DCA 5/13/19)

ENHANCEMENT-FIREARM: Attempted first-degree murder offense is reclassified to a life felony where the Defendant fired a gun. The use of a firearm is not an essential element of attempted murder. Alleyne does not apply because the enhancement is not an element of the charged offense. Moss v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1271a (1st DCA 5/13/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/524938/5831729/file/173328_1284_0_5132019_08564356_i.pdf

RAPE SHIELD STATUTE: The rape shield statute only bars evidence of actual sex acts by the Victim, not nonconsensual molestation of the juvenile victim by other men. The juvenile victim's statement that other men had molested her should have been admitted because it tended to prove that she had a motivation to fabricate her allegations.

But here error is harmless based on the overwhelming evidence.
Thorne v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1266a (1st DCA 5/13/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/524940/5831753/file/174242_1284_05132019_08582326_i.pdf

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant is entitled to Judgment of Acquittal for possession of drugs found in a bedroom which was accessible by many people who lived there. The fact that some items in the room belong to someone other than the Defendant (women's shoes) along with items clearly owned by the Defendant overcomes any implication that the Defendant had exclusive use of the room and the narcotics in it. Thomas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1263a (2nd DCA 5/10/19)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/524869/5830955/file/170417_39_05102019_08410979_i.pdf

PAROLE REVOCATION: Defendant is improperly found to have violated parole where commission does not make a finding that the Defendant's use of cocaine was a willful and substantial violation.
Lancaster v. Florida Commission on Offender Review, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1259a (5th DCA 5/10/19)

https://www.5dca.org/content/download/524853/5830769/file/182871_1255_0_5102019_08392118_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Rule 3.800(a) is available to correct scoresheet errors apparent from the face of the record, and therefore may be filed after the two-year limit of Rule 3.850, but only allows resentencing if the sentence could not have been imposed under a correct scoresheet. Gil de Rubio v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1265a (2nd DCA 5/10/19)

https://www.2dca.org/content/download/524881/5831099/file/182253_114_05_102019_08452572_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A motion for post-conviction relief under Rule 3.850 must be filed within 2 years of the judgment becoming final. In the case of a scoresheet error, resentencing is required unless the record conclusively shows the same sentence would have been imposed with a correct scoresheet. Where the scoresheet error was due to the scoring of the charge that was reversed and remanded on appeal and ultimately Nolle Prossed, and where a written amended judgment was never entered on the remaining counts, the conviction never became final and the Defendant may seek relief under Rule 3.850. Gil de Rubio v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1265a (2nd DCA 5/10/19)

DEFINITION-WHEN SOMETHING OCCURS: “In common parlance, predicating a condition on ‘when something occurs’ or ‘at the time something occurs,' is normally understood to mean the first time that the something occurs. This is so because conditional statements such as these are made with a view towards the future, as a way of indicating that a consequent condition will arise from a future condition's occurrence. And since the future cannot be known (except in hindsight), we would ordinarily read a provision. . .to align with the way we experience the passing of temporal events; that is, we would consider the future condition's first occurrence to be the operative one, even if it is a condition that might be capable of repetition." Court must first determine whether the expert's method for determining braking is new or novel. If so, Court must determine admissibility of the expert opinion based on the general acceptance within the relevant scientific community. If method is not new or novel, the witness may offer pure opinion evidence based on his training and experience. "[A] trial court must have some role in ensuring the reliability of expert testimony, even if the testimony is not based on new or novel scientific methods." Kemp v. State, 44 Fla. L. MANDATORY MINIMUM-10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCE: Consecutive sentences for one gunshot with the multiple assault victims and no physical injuries is not permitted. “As the Florida Supreme Court continues to develop rules in this area, it may well conclude that any gunshot is enough. Or it may decide that a single act can be ‘bifurcated’ if it simultaneously harms multiple people. Or it may abandon its current rules altogether and decide to untether the legality of consecutive mandatory-minimum sentences from the number of victims or gunshots. But based on the Florida Supreme Court precedent as we now understand it, Wanless’s consecutive mandatory minimum sentences cannot stand.” Wanless v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1197b (1st DCA 5/6/19)

TOO WEIRD: “The fact that the victim had her hand in the defendant’s pants is merely incidental to what is proscribed by the statute, which criminalizes actions taken by the defendant, not the inducement of an action taken by the victim. The evidence supports only one action alleged to have been taken by the defendant: unzipping his fly within reach of a victim who is disabled or elderly, so as to place his genitals within reach of her touch without making them visible.” Mesen v. SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court improperly infers, unsubstantiated by evidence, that the defendant was a drug dealer based on the quality of the meth. A trial judge violates a defendant's due process rights by basing his or her sentence, at least in part, on uncharged offenses. Defendant is entitled to resentencing with a different judge. Shelko v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel did not tell him that he had a right to testify, but rather only advised him that it was in his best interest not to testify, where if he had testified he would have made a claim supporting an independent act defense. Williams v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1096b (5th DCA 4/26/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court may consider lack of remorse or refusal to accept responsibility when sentencing Defendant within the statutory range. “We can no longer embrace the blanket, judge-made rule that when it comes to sentencing.” Prior case law to the contrary is receded from. Question certified. Davis v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1079c (1st DCA 4/25/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-DISSENT: “Overturning thirty years of precedent and creating conflict with all other Florida appellate courts, a bare majority of this Court enfeebles what for decades has been an easily administered bright-line sentencing rule for Florida judges: do not punish — or appear to punish — a defendant who maintains his innocence for a perceived lack of remorse or the failure to take responsibility or accept guilt for the crime proven.” Davis v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1079c (1st DCA 4/25/19)

QUOTATION: “Paradoxically, the majority embraces a patchwork of primarily federal cases with a hodgepodge of state cases supporting its view as if Florida courts should reflexively deem them as superior in kind to what our legislature and state judiciary have thoughtfully developed and implemented over the past decades. But, what principle of state judicial power says, “Fed is Best — Chuck State Law,” where the Supremacy Clause is not in play?” Davis v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1079c (1st DCA 4/25/19)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Although it was within trial court’s discretion to revoke bond in earlier offense at defendant’s initial appearance on new charges, where state did not seek pretrial detention and the new charges did not allege a capital or life felony, it was error to order petitioner to be held without bond on new charges without determining issue of pretrial release or detention in accordance with procedural rules. Rodriguez v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1099a (5th DCA 4/24/19)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment to Stand Your Ground law applies retroactively. The fact that the Defendant was convicted at trial should have no bearing on the Court's determination on the immunity issue. Horton v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1078b (2nd DCA 4/24/19)

SENTENCING-EXCESS OF STATUTORY MAXIMUM: Under the Criminal Punishment Code, the Court may/must impose the lowest permissible sentence on additional offenses even if that exceeds the statutory maximum for that count, notwithstanding that the Defendant is sentenced to more than that lowest permissible sentence on a separate count. Here, the defendant was lawfully sentenced to life in prison for the primary offense (armed robbery with a firearm) and twenty years for the additional offense which was a third-degree felony. "We conclude that the LPS [Lowest Permissible Sentence] is an individual minimum sentence which applies to each felony at sentencing for which the LPS exceeds that felony's statutory maximum sentence, regardless of whether the felony is the primary or an additional offense." Champagne v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1074a (2nd DCA 4/24/19)

VOP-CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Court must delineate the jail credit to which the Defendant is entitled distinguishing it from the prison credit which is to be calculated by the Department of Corrections. The trial court need not calculate prison credit so long as the trial court checks the standard box allowing all appropriate prior prison credit. Crandall v. State, 44 Fla. L. SEVERANCE: Defendant is not entitled to a severance based on the possibility that the defendant could, if tried separately, call the codefendant to testify that he had coerced the Defendant into committing the crime. JURY INSTRUCTIONS-QUOTATION: “Pinning the precise degree of assumed correctness to approved standard jury instructions seems to be an exercise of elusive measurement. On the one hand, the Florida Supreme Court has held that standard jury instructions ‘are published under this Court’s authority and are presumed to be correct.’ . . . On the other hand, that pronouncement has come to be tethered to so many qualifications it leaves one to wonder whether what remains could truly be said to be a presumption.” Dooley v. State, 44 Fla. If an incompetent defendant cannot be restored to competency in the reasonably foreseeable future, the State can either institute a civil commitment proceeding or it can release the defendant. It is an either-or proposition. There is no third alternative. . . QUOTATION-ABRAHAM LINCOLN: “How many legs does a dog have if you call his tail a leg? Four. Saying that a tail is a leg doesn’t make it a leg.” State v. Herrera-Fernandez, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D749a (3rd DCA 3/20/19)

PLEA OFFER: State’s invitation for defense counteroffer including specific terms and waiving the minimum mandatory is an “offer” and empowers the Court to make its own proposal waiving the minimum mandatory.” [T]he prosecutor ‘invited’ the defense to make a ‘counteroffer’ of 75 months. . .and agreed that the State would ‘accept’ such a ‘counteroffer’ if made by the defendant. This was, plainly and simply, a State offer, regardless of the prosecutor’s characterization of it as an ‘invited counteroffer.’ It was no more a counteroffer than a dog’s tail is a fifth leg. Because the trial court properly determined that the “invited counteroffer” was really a below-guidelines plea offer that also waived the mandatory minimum sentence, and because that plea offer was not withdrawn by the State, the trial court was within its authority to extend its own plea offer to the defendant.” State v. Herrera-Fernandez, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D749a (3rd DCA 3/20/19)

<http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D17-1481.pdf>

JUROR-CHALLENGE PEREMPTORY: Defendant’s challenge to State’s use of a peremptory challenge fails where defendant never specified juror’s race; defense never contended that state’s proffered reasons were pretextual; and there was no basis offered to suggest disparate or “non-race neutral” treatment of juror in context of other voir dire questioning. Helfrich v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D748a (3rd DCA 3/20/19)

<http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D16-1941.pdf>

VOIR DIRE-LIMITATIONS: Court’s order directing defense counsel not to discuss excessive force through voir dire deprives Defendant of a fair trial. Where a juror’s attitude about a particular legal doctrine is essential to a determination of whether challenges for cause or peremptory challenges are to be made, it is well settled that the scope of the voir dire properly includes questions about and references to that legal doctrine. It is improper to curtail questioning on the theory of defense, even where counsel is permitted to inquire generally. Ruiz v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D743d (3rd DCA 3/20/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: “Waddell claimed that the trial court informed him. . .that if he proceeded to trial and lost, he would receive the maximum sentence. . . .[T]hose words proved prophetic. In denying the Motion, the trial court stated, ‘[a] review of the records shows no such statements made by the Court.’ The trial court, however, declined to share those records with us. Accordingly. . .we reverse the summary denial.” Waddell v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D721c (5th DCA 3/15/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to the Court’s ruling that he had to choose between the defense of entrapment or that he lacked the intent to commit the crime. Asserting the entrapment defense is not necessarily inconsistent with denial of the crime even when it is admitted that the requisite acts occurred, for the defendant might nonetheless claim that he lacked the requisite bad state of mind. CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to advise defendant that rejected plea offer represented the minimum sentence defendant could receive. RESENTENCING: Defendant is entitled to resentencing where calculations of the total points on his scoresheet was incorrect and it cannot be said the same sentence would have been imposed regardless. Upon resentencing, the defendant may be sentenced as a Violent Felony Offender of Special Concern even though the Court had not previously considered whether the Defendant was a danger to the community. A defendant's designation as a VFOSC does not depend on a finding that the defendant poses a danger to the community. Moore v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D701e (4th DCA 3/13/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for use of computer service to solicit the parent of the child and traveling to meet the child violate double jeopardy where is not clear that the solicitation forming the basis of each charge was a separate and distinct act of solicitation. Baker v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D697a (3rd DCA 3/13/19)

APPEALS-JURISDICTION-MISTRIAL: Before granting mistrial based on a hung jury, at Court' request the jury indicated by a poll that they were unanimous to acquit on murder but were hung on the lesser charge of attempted manslaughter by act. Defendant's motion to dismiss the greater charges based on the jury being the equivalent of an acquittal was granted. ARGUMENT-SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: State's argument that the Defendant was presenting his story for the 1st time at trial is not an improper comment on silence because the Defense had elicited from the detectives that the defendant had been interviewed after his arrest. There is no improper comment on silence when the Defendant had not been silent. Gooden v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D680a (4th DCA 3/13/19)

MARCHMAN ACT: “A written accusation by an itinerant houseguest friend followed by a judge’s review of that piece of paper is all it would have taken under the Marchman Act to deprive a young woman of five or more days of her liberty. It is difficult for me to reconcile the constitutionality of such a drastic deprivation of freedom with the patina of procedure that precedes it. . . .According to the State, the Marchman Act did not violate T.L.’s due process rights as it ‘is not a state law which seeks to unfairly imprison individuals, rather, it authorizes the courts to provide medical treatment to individuals in need of substance abuse treatment.’ In other words, so long as her confinement would have been for her own good, we ought not to worry too much about due process for those in T.L.’s circumstances.” T.L. v. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A claim that misinformation supplied by counsel induced a defendant to reject a favorable plea offer can constitute an actionable ineffective assistance of counsel claim, but the movant must allege some specific deficiency on the part of counsel that demonstrates that his counsel's advice or assessment was unreasonable. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who declined offer of one year in jail, pled open, and was sentenced to 6 years in prison is not entitled to postconviction relief on claim that counsel told her that she would not get jail if she pled open, where Court found based on the evidence that her claim is false. “The record paints a picture of the defendant who rolled the dice and lost.” McCray v. SENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Thirty-year sentence for a homicide committed by juvenile is not inconsistent with Graham or Miller. The Defendant is not entitled to resentencing under the new juvenile sentencing scheme. “Unless and until the Florida Supreme Court announces that every juvenile defendant is entitled to a sentence under the new laws — regardless of when the defendant was sentenced or whether the original sentence violated Graham or Miller — we will follow the rule that resentencing only applies when there was a Graham or Miller violation.” McRae v. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT: Defendant validly consented to the search of his shed notwithstanding the illegal entry of the police into his backyard. Where there is illegal conduct on the part of the police, such as here, a consent to search can be found voluntary and valid if there is clear and convincing evidence the consent was not a product of the illegal police action. AGGRAVATED BATTERY-RECLASSIFICATION: When the State charges a defendant with aggravated battery causing great bodily harm based on section 784.045(1)(a)1., Florida Statutes (2017), and not section 784.045(1)(a)2., a deadly weapon is not an essential element of the crime, and the crime can be reclassified upward to first degree felony based on the use of a firearm. Jackson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D625b (4th DCA 3/6/19)

SENTENCING-GUIDELINES SCORESHEET: On violation, the misdemeanor for which the Defendant had already completed his sentence should not of been scored as an additional offense. Moreno v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D624a (4th DCA 3/6/19)

SELF-DEFENSE-JURY INSTRUCTION-FORCIBLE FELONY INSTRUCTION: It is fundamental error to give the forcible felony exception instruction when the Defendant’s son, not the Defendant, who arguably committed a forcible felony when the Defendant intervene in the fight. The forcible felony instruction does not apply in a case of defense of others. Although there are no Florida cases analyzing the forcible-felony exception in the context of defense of another, cases analyzing the exception in the context of self-defense make clear that “the plain language of section 776.041 indicates that it is applicable only under circumstances where the person claiming selfdefense is engaged in another, independent ‘forcible felony’ at the time.” Grant v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D623a (4th DCA 3/6/19)

ALTER EGO RULE: “The only way in which the instruction as given in this case could have been correct is if the common law alter ego rule applied. This is because under the alter ego rule, ‘a defendant using deadly force to defend a person who was not entitled to use deadly force would be held criminally liable.’ . . . Florida, however, like nearly all American jurisdictions, abandoned the common law alter ego rule long ago.” Grant v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D623a (4th DCA 3/6/19)

CONTEMPT: Indirect contempt conviction is improper where the Court failed to inquire as to whether the defendant had any cause to show why he should not be held in contempt nor to allow him to present mitigation or an explanation. Petty v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D621a (1st DCA 3/4/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INCIDENT TO ARREST: Search incident to arrest is unlawful where the arrest was for the violation of a noncriminal municipal ordinance which did not authorize arrests. “[T]his court has previously admonished law enforcement officers for continuing to conduct full custodial arrests for bicycle infractions after such action was found unlawful. . .sixteen years prior.” Nelson v. SENTENCING-MINOR: Court error by failing to modify juvenile defendant's ascends to allow for review hearing without also holding a resentencing hearing. DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court may not enter a downward departure sentence without providing written reason supported by the evidence. Upon agreement, court may impose a downward departure if evidence so supports. State v. Dougherty, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D607a (1st DCA 2/28/19)

CHILD NEGLECT-CULPABLE NEGLIGENCE: Defendant is properly convicted of child neglect for failing to seek medical treatment for child with bruising, skull fractures, and brain bleeding. EVIDENCE-DUI: Defendant’s Trump rant (“Thank you, Trump, thank you, Trump”; “Hey, I love you, Trump”; . . . “F you, man, you is a b*, dog. You all are some b, dog. You all (indiscernible) — hey,

I love you Trump. Hey I love you, Trump. Yeah, . . .”Hey, you know how much of my Mexican people are making money because of this s right here?”) is relevant in DUI case to show impairment. Martinez v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D574a (4th DCA 2/27/19)

SENTENCING-MINOR-NON-HOMICIDE-CONSECUTIVE: Defendant is not entitled to resentencing on 2 consecutive sentences with a combined term of 65 years for unrelated homicide and nonhomicide offenses. Consecutive prison terms for unrelated homicide and non-homicide offenses are not an “aggregate” sentence implicating the Eighth Amendment. Conflict certified. Warthen v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly (4th DCA 2/27/19)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Defendant who was on probation for child abuse is a habitual felony offender a special concern if he possesses child porn. However, Court is required to make written findings as to whether the defendant was a danger to the community. VOP: Affidavit of Violation of Probation is thus fundamentally flawed by alleging that the defendant committed the offense of sexual assault, or sexual assault is not a crime by the specific terms, but the Defendant was on notice of the criminal acts in question notwithstanding the nomenclature. Smith v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D559a (1st DCA 2/27/19)

ATTEMPTED SEXUAL BATTERY: Numerous abrasions on the body of the victim of a homicide is sufficient circumstantial evidence to uphold a conviction for attempted sexual battery. Duxbury v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D555a (5th DCA 2/22/19)

DEPORTATION: A post-conviction claim based upon attorney's misadvice of deportation consequences must be brought within two years of conviction becoming final. Defendant needs to allege and prove that he could not have ascertained the immigration consequences of his plea during the two-year period after his judgment became final with the exercise of due diligence. SELF-DEFENSE-JURY INSTRUCTION: Instruction that “the use or threatened use of deadly force is not justified if you find that Defendant was attempting to commit, committing, or escaping after the commission of an aggravated battery or an aggravated assault” may only be given when a forcible felony independent of the one for which the Defendant claims self-defense is committed. However, when the Defendant’s counsel drafted the instruction and did not object to it any error is invited. Phillips v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D547a (2nd DCA 2/22/19)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE-LEGAL DUTY: Officer who responded to a complaint about panhandling in trespass did not have a lawful basis for stopping juvenile who first walked and then ran away. QUOTATION: “Confusion and conflict. . .[A] person’s failure to give a correct name to a law enforcement officer constitutes the crime of obstruction. . . whether the person was lawfully detained or not. . . .Bass could have been a suspect in lawful custody, a potential witness, or a mere passerby or onlooker at the time of his fib. Doesn’t matter: he gave an incorrect name. . .But wait. M.M. says that. . . ‘failing to give one’s correct identity is not a crime unless the person is legally detained.’ . . It’s a head scratcher. . .Our supreme court ought to clear up this newly-created muddle.” Bass v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D546a (1st DCA 2/22/19)

DWLS: There is no fundamental error in finding the defendant guilty of driving with a suspended license when in fact his license was revoked. "Appellant cannot rely on verbal legerdemain to set aside his plea. The sloppy use of the term 'suspended' instead of 'revoked' at the plea conference does not rise to the level of fundamental error. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A sudden event that would have suspended the exercise of judgment in an ordinary reasonable person, who would have lost normal self-control and would have been driven by a blind and unreasoning fury without a reasonable amount of time for a reasonable person to cool off may provide a basis for a heat-of-passion defense, but counsel here was not ineffective for not advising the Defendant of this defense because the facts did not support it. SEXUAL PREDATOR-PROBATION: Plea agreement for incarceration followed by probation is not violated when the Defendant is involuntarily released after the prison sentence since the involuntary commitment is a civil commitment not a punishment. Brown v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D486b (1st DCA 2/15/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/429300/4660848/file/180518_1284_02152019_10353667_i.pdf

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-RESISTING ARREST: Convictions for resisting arrest with violence and resisting arrest without violence violate double jeopardy where there was continuing resistance to an ongoing attempt to effect defendant's arrest. Byram v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D486a (1st DCA 2/15/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that councils in effect for failing to object to the addition of probation to the term of incarceration which was specified in the plea agreement. When a plea agreement places a cap on the term of incarceration, the Court must apprise the defendant that the period of incarceration specified in the plea agreement will be followed by a period of probation, if such is the court's intent. Mickles v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D485a (1st DCA 2/15/19)

<http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D18-0911.pdf>

SENTENCING-DEPARTURE-UPWARD: Jury, not court, must make the factual finding that the Defendant engaged an escalating course of criminal conduct in order to justify an upward departure from the sentencing guidelines. The statutory maximum for Apprendi purposes is the maximum sentence the judge may impose solely on the basis of the facts reflected in the jury verdict or admitted by the Defendant. However, here the error is harmless because the jury would have found that he engaged in an escalating course of criminal conduct had it had an opportunity to do so. Simmons v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D459a (3rd DCA 2/13/19)

LEWD OR LASCIVIOUS MOLESTATION-JOA: Child victim's uncorroborated out-of-court-statements, inconsistent with her trial testimony, is insufficient to sustain a conviction for lewd or lascivious molestation; Defendant's statement that he accidentally touched Victim while picking her up his insufficient corroboration of Victim's out-of-court statements. Weekly D442b (4th DCA 2/13/19)

COSTS: Court may not impose attorney's fees and costs in excess of statutory minimum without considering evidence establishing a reasonable hour late for the amount of time spent by the public defender and without informing Defendant of his right to contest the amount of the lien. Pierre v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D442a (4th DCA 2/13/19)

DUI-BREATH TEST: Evidence of refusal to submit to a drug test is inadmissible if the Defendant is not informed about the Implied Consent law. The same principle applies to refusal to perform Field Sobriety exercises. “The unfairness, of course, is that a defendant who is told he may refuse and is told of no consequences which would attach to his refusal may quite plausibly refuse so as to disengage himself from further interaction with the police or simply decide not to volunteer to do anything he is not compelled to do.” Howitt v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D406b (5th DCA 2/8/19)

State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D406a (5th DCA 2/8/19)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: State’s notice of its intent to introduce collateral crime evidence was not deficient for failing to list propensity as a basis for admitting the evidence where plain language of statute does not require the notice to list the specific purpose for which the evidence is to be admitted. Pitts v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D369b (1st DCA 2/5/19)

PROBATION-REVOCAATION: Court may not revoke Defendant's probation failing to pay court costs without making a determination of ability to pay. Banks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D357a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

QUOTATION: “The dissent agrees that “it is true that ‘will’ or ‘shall’ is generally mandatory and ‘may’ is generally permissive,” but believes that we should look to the context and interpret “may” as “shall” with regard to the community service option. We agree that context matters, but the dissent makes too large a leap — interpreting a word that is “generally permissive” to mean the opposite.” Banks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D357a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

QUOTATION II: “But there is no logical difference between saying on one hand, that someone “shall” do A but nonetheless “may” do B instead of A — and on the other hand saying someone “shall” do either A or B. Either way, the person does not have to do A; he may do B instead. It is not that A is mandatory and B is optional.” Banks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D357a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/428746/4654732/file/174687_1287_0_2042019_03173837_i.pdf

THINGS NOT TO SAY TO JUDGE: “Banks testified that she worked forty hours a week at a sandwich shop and was too tired to do community service on top of that. She admitted she had done zero hours but insisted she just couldn’t.” Banks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D357a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

ROBBERY/BURGLARY: Defendant who gets into an unoccupied stranger’s car, refuses to leave, orders Victim to drive to different places, and demands money commits robbery. “The element of a threat was supplied not only by Appellant’s mere uninvited physical presence in the victim’s car, but also by his physical characteristics making it likely that he could overpower the victim, by his sternly-worded demands, and by his prominent display of a backpack that could hold a weapon.” Young v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D355a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to file a motion to suppress the search. The search of a probationer’s person or residence by a probation supervisor without a warrant is reasonable, but granting such general authority to law enforcement officials is not permissible. Hanna v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D347b (2nd DCA 2/1/19)

CORPUS DELICTI-VOP: A probationer’s admissions against interest may be sufficient to revoke his probation even where there is no independent evidence of the corpus delicti of the crime. Hanna v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D347b (2nd DCA 2/1/19)

RE-SENTENCING: Court must conduct a resentencing hearing after vacating Defendant’s designation as a habitual felony offender upon the Defendant’s motion for post-conviction relief. Resentencing is not a purely ministerial act when the total points on the scoresheet are changed and the court has discretion as to the term of years and the new sentence. Andrews v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D342a (5th DCA 2/1/19)

BELATED APPEAL: Defendant is entitled to a belated appeal where appellate counsel failed to follow through by having the record on appeal filed after having filed the initial notice of appeal, resulting in the appeal being dismissed. Mann v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D341b (5th DCA 2/1/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INEVITABLE DISCOVERY: “Permitting warrantless searches without the prosecution demonstrating that the police were in pursuit of a warrant is not a proper application of the inevitable discovery rule. The rule cannot function to apply simply when police could have obtained a search warrant if they had taken the opportunity to pursue one, but can only apply if they actually were in pursuit of one.” O’Hare v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D335d (5th DCA 2/1/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INDEPENDENT SOURCE DOCTRINE: The independent source doctrine means that the exclusionary does not apply when the government can show it has learned of the challenged evidence from an independent source and the illegal search or seizure was not an actual cause of the discovery of the subject evidence. The independent source rule applies when evidence is discovered as a result of unlawful police activity but is also discovered independently through a lawful investigation that occurs either before or after the illegal activity, so long as the independent investigation itself is untainted by the initial activity. O'Hare v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D335d (5th DCA 2/1/19)

JANUARY 2019

CITIZEN ARREST: Court did not err in finding that Defendant committed aggravated assault with a firearm after lawfully detaining two people whom he believed had committed a crime. “While we agree with Roberts that he initially had probable cause to effect a citizen’s arrest, the State presented evidence at trial contradicting Roberts’s affirmative defense by showing that he did not act in a reasonable manner when he attempted to detain the two individuals.” Roberts v. AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE: “[A]n affirmative defense does not concern itself with the elements of the offense at all; it concedes them. In effect, an affirmative defense says, ‘Yes, I did it, but I had a good

Although a body was never found, and Perry’s mother and brother denied all wrongdoing, all three suspects were convicted and executed on the strength of Perry’s confession. Several years later, however, Harrison returned home, claiming to have been kidnapped and sold into slavery in Turkey. In short, Perry had admitted to a falsehood resulting in the execution of himself, his mother, and his brother.” S.H. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D315a (3rd DCA 1/30/19)

HEARSAY-BENCH TRIAL: Anonymous tip is inadmissible hearsay, but when an appellate court is reviewing a bench trial, it should presume that the trial court judge rested its judgment on admissible evidence and disregarded inadmissible evidence, unless the record demonstrates that the presumption is rebutted through a specific finding of admissibility or another statement that demonstrates the trial court relied on the inadmissible evidence. When improper evidence is admitted over objection in this context, the trial court must make an express statement on the record that the erroneously admitted evidence did not contribute to the final determination. Here, error is harmless. S.H. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D315a (3rd DCA 1/30/19)

CONDITIONAL RELEASE: Because conditional release does not impose an enhanced penalty, no actual notice of an offender's eligibility for conditional release is required. Jenkins v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D224b (4th DCA 1/9/19)

VOP-VFOSC: Court must file written findings in order to designate an offender as a danger to the community and sentencing him as a violent offender of special concern court. A new sentencing hearing is not required. Stickney v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D223b (4th DCA 1/9/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/425857/4590140/file/180460_1709_0_1092019_09272157_i.pdf

SELF-REPRESENTATION: “Judge, I want to represent myself,” is an unequivocal request for self representation, State’s argument to the contrary notwithstanding. A Faretta hearing was required. McKinley v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D221b (4th DCA 1/9/19)

SCORESHEET-VICTIM INJURY: A jury determination is not necessary for determination of whether, and extent of, victim injury. Alleyne does not apply because there is no mandatory minimum. Bean v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D219a (4th DCA 1/9/19)

https://www.4dca.org/content/download/425847/4590020/file/172419_1708_0_1092019_09050456_i.pdf

ARGUMENTS DOOMED TO FAIL: “Appellant forced six bank tellers into the bank’s vault room at gunpoint, hit each of the tellers over the head with a gun, made them strip their clothes, and sexually assaulted one of the tellers. When appellant attempted to flee the scene, he shot at a law enforcement officer. . . Appellant moved for a downward departure sentence, arguing that his offense was committed in an unsophisticated manner and was an isolated incident for which he had shown remorse.” Sixty-nine year sentence upheld. Bean v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D219a (4th DCA 1/9/19)

SCORESHEET-LEVEL OF OFFENSE: Armed kidnapping is improperly scored as a level X offense where there was no evidence that the Defendant had personal possession of the weapon. Johnson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D218a (4th DCA 1/9/19)

SCORESHEET-VICTIM INJURY: Court properly scored slight victim injury points when Victim testified that her hands were bound by a zip tie and she was pepper sprayed, even though she did not describe any physical injuries. Johnson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D218a (4th DCA 1/9/19)

DISCOVERY-NEW TRIAL: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial based on the State’s failure to disclose that investigating officer was under investigation when that evidence was neither material nor was the officer called as a witness in the trial. State v. Serfrere, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D217a (4th DCA 1/9/19)

ALLOCATION: Defendant cannot appeal any error in the State cross-examining the defendant during his allocution when no contemporaneous objection was made. Compere v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D215b (4th DCA 1/9/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court improperly considered Defendant's reflection in committing the murder when the jury had acquitted the Defendant of premeditated conduct by convicting him of second-degree murder rather than first-degree murder. Ortiz v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D215a (4th DCA 1/9/19)

EVIDENCE-DEAD WITNESS: Court properly allowed into evidence a latent fingerprint card prepared decades earlier by an officer who had since died. Clark v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D208a (4th DCA 1/9/19)

PREDISPOSITION REPORT: Court must consider the predisposition report prior to issuing a residential commitment order on a juvenile. Juvenile's acquiescence to placement is not a valid waiver of the PDR. E.G. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D206b (4th DCA 1/9/19)

WITHDRAWAL OF PLEA: Defendant who stated during his plea colloquy that he was not under the influence of medication to the extent that it affected his ability to understand the proceedings cannot go beyond those assertions to challenge the voluntariness of his plea. Thomas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D205c (3rd DCA 1/9/19)

SENTENCING-MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: Juvenile who has a lengthy sentence with possibility of parole is not entitled to relief under Graham and Miller. Atwell is dead. Zamot v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D205b (3rd DCA 1/9/19)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Court did not abuse discretion in denying motion for credit for time served in a jail in Argentina awaiting extradition to Florida. Calafell v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D203b (3rd DCA 1/9/19)

MISTRIAL: Court did not abuse discretion by denying a motion for mistrial after members of the victim's family became emotional during the opening statement. Talley v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D198a (3rd DCA 1/9/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION: Court did not abuse discretion by denying request for special jury instruction regarding the effect of drugs and alcohol on witnesses' ability to perceive and recall. Talley v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D198a (3rd DCA 1/9/19)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's improper comment during closing argument stating that state witnesses come from a neighborhood where you don't snitch did not warrant reversal. Other improper comments were not preserved by contemporaneous objection. Talley v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D198a (3rd DCA 1/9/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for scheme to defraud and grand theft based on the same conduct violates double jeopardy. Freeman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D197a (2nd DCA 1/9/19)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-HOMICIDE: A minor who was sentenced to discretionary life in prison for homicide is entitled to a resentencing hearing in which the Court must consider the offender's youth and attendant characteristics. Foster v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D228b (1st DCA 1/8/19)

HEARSAY: Officer's testimony recounting witness's statement at the scene of a car accident was unobjected hearsay, and is therefore on appealable, and in any event would have been admitted as an excited utterance. Wall v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D228a (1st DCA 1/8/19)

DEATH PENALTY: The fact that pre-Hurst jury is advised that it's recommendation is advisory does not alone entitle the defendant from relief from the death penalty. Allen v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S112a (FLA 1/7/19)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply retroactively to death sentence that became final in 1993. Thompson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S111c (FLA 1/7/19)

SELF-DEFENSE-STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment to statute which shifted burden of proof in pretrial immunity hearing from defendant to prosecution applies retroactively. Conflict certified. Aviles-Manfredy v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D187a (1st DCA 1/7/19)

SELF DEFENSE-JOA: Defendant, who disarmed one assailant and shot the one he disarmed and another is entitled to a JOA for the murder of the first, but not for the attempted murder of the second. The fact that the jury found that Defendant guilty of theft, rather than robbery, means that the State's theory that Defendant committed a robbery and therefore was not entitled to self-defense, fails. Williams v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S98a (FLA 1/4/19)

DISCOVERY: Failure to disclose police and victim's family's payments to nontestifying witness is a discovery violation, but the Defendant is not entitled to a new trial when, as here, the Witness's credibility was adequately challenged and the witness's contribution to the case did not rest on his credibility. State v. Butler, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D186a (5th DCA 1/4/19)

https://edca.5dca.org/DCADocs/2017/1823/171823_1260_01042019_081839_06_i.pdf

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-REMORSE: Defendant denied guilt and blamed his conviction on "corrupt judges, attorneys and policemen." Court may not consider Defendant's failure to show remorse in denying a downward departure from the sentencing guidelines where Defendant never argued his remorse as a basis for mitigating the sentence. Defendant is entitled to resentencing with a different judge. Strong v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D184b (5th DCA 1/4/19)

https://edca.5dca.org/DCADocs/2017/1509/171509_1257_01042019_080608_24_i.pdf

MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: Defendant was sentenced to life in prison with a mandatory minimum first-degree murder committed while a juvenile is not entitled to resentencing where he is eligible for parole after 25 years. Honor v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D184a (5th DCA 1/4/19)

https://edca.5dca.org/DCADocs/2018/3304/183304_1257_01042019_083340_87_i.pdf

APPEAL-MOOT: Appeal from revocation of probation is moot for the sentences which were complete before the appeal is finished. “Wilson also argues that if he is convicted of another offense in the future. . .this revocation of probation may expose him to a harsher penalty. . .We hope that Wilson’s pessimistic speculation remains just that. But even if it is instead prescient, we are hardpressed to conclude that this revocation. . .over his approximately thirty-year criminal history. . .will be the straw that breaks the camel’s back.” Wilson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D177b (2nd DCA 1/4/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who filed falsified judgments as part of his appeal is referred for discipline by the Department of Corrections. Crum v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D175a (2nd DCA 1/4/19)

https://edca.2dca.org/DCADocs/2017/1272/171272_65_01042019_08152905_i.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEPORTATION: The two-year limitations period for filing a motion to withdraw plea for failure of the trial court to advise a defendant that the plea could result in deportation commences when the judgment and sentence become final unless the defendant could not, with the exercise of due diligence, have ascertained within the two-year period that he or she was subject to deportation. Rodnez v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D173i (3rd DCA 1/2/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF COUNSEL: Defendant is entitled to hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call a witness who fought with Defendant to explain why his blood was on the scene, and for failing to call Defendant's mother is an alibi witness. Kennon v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D182a (2nd DCA 1/4/19)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-VOLUNTARINESS: Investigator's offers to inform prosecutor that defendant cooperated and that things would go easier for defendant if he told the truth did not render confession involuntary. Good discussion. Teachman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D159b (1st DCA 1/2/19)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-VOLUNTARINESS: Investigator's implication that he would not charge the Defendant's wife if he confessed is insufficient to render his confession involuntary under the circumstances. Teachman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D159b (1st DCA 1/2/19)

DECEMBER 2018

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Upon resentencing, the court improperly considered a subsequent charge for which the defendant had been acquitted. Defendant is entitled to a new sentencing hearing before a different judge. Mullaly v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D151a (1st DCA 12/31/18)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/425515/4586091/file/174815_1287_1_2312018_09461972_i.pdf

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRESERVATION OF ISSUE: The appellate court lacks jurisdiction to review a dispositive motion to suppress when the Defendant failed to preserve the right to appeal. Lewis v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D150b (1st DCA 12/31/18)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/425516/4586103/file/174965_1279_1_2312018_09471276_i.pdf

LIFE SENTENCE: Graham does not extend to adult offenders. The argument that sentencing courts should focus on the offender's mental age on a case-by-case basis is rejected. Lockhart v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D150a (1st DCA 12/31/18)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Court properly denied Defendant's request to represent himself when he was uncooperative, refused to acknowledge that he even had a lawyer, interrupted and argued with the court, and otherwise thwarted the Court's efforts to conduct the Faretta inquiry. Damas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S70a (FLA 12/28/18)

DEATH PENALTY: “[T]he moral consensus concerning the death penalty and its social utility as a sanction, require us to conclude . . . that the infliction of death as a punishment for murder is not without justification and thus is not unconstitutionally severe.” Damas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S70a (FLA 12/28/18)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: Defendant with an IQ score of 75 is entitled to a hearing to determine whether he is ineligible for the death penalty based on intellectual disability. Foster v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S67a (FLA 12/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Witness's statement that he may have minimized the extent of the Defendant's intoxication in trial testimony is not newly discovered Brady evidence sufficient to warrant a new trial. Merck v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S61a (FLA 12/28/18)

DEATH PENALTY-HURST: Defendant is not entitled to relief based on Hurst when the death penalty became final in 1990. Duckett v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S56a (FLA 12/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claims that State committed a Brady violation by not disclosing that it had dropped charges against testifying witness are procedurally barred and without merit. Thomas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S54a (FLA 12/28/18)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: A literate 51-year-old with a GED is entitled to represent himself if he is dissatisfied with counsel. Clark v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D146a (5th DCA 12/28/18)

JURORS-POST-VERDICT INTERVIEW: Court did not abuse discretion in denying motion to interview the jury foreperson based on her alleged failure to disclose her own personal experience with sexual assault where she was not asked about it during voir dire. Sonneman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D145a (5th DCA 12/28/18)

JURORS-POST-VERDICT INTERVIEW: Juror may not be interviewed after the verdict based on the inference that she considered the Defendant's failure to testify; any such considerations inhere in the verdict. Sonneman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D145a (5th DCA 12/28/18)

10-20-LIFE: Life sentence for aggravated battery with a firearm is illegal because it exceeds the statutory maximum for that offense. Reclassification is improper where state charges aggravated battery in such a way that use of firearm is essential element.

Smith v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D118a (5th DCA 12/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for advising him not to testify, and have counsel told him the state would be able to impeach and by every detail his prior convictions, counsel's performance was deficient. Penton v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D143a (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

EXPERT-DNA: DNA expert who identifies a DNA may not testify about the frequency of the DNA among the population database without demonstrating a sufficient knowledge of the population database ground in this day of authoritative sources although he or she need not be a statistician or mathematician. The witness must identify the method used to calculate the frequency statistics so that the judge may determine whether the method used is generally accepted in the scientific community in accordance with Frye. Testimony that she is "familiar with the type of statistical analysis," that it was "something that is commonly done" in her profession, that she had been “performing statistical analysis . . . since 1996,” is insufficient. Counsel was ineffective for failing to object. Cruz v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D139a (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

SELF-DEFENSE-STAND YOUR GROUND: Burden of proof is upon the State. Defendant must only allege a facially sufficient prima facie case of justifiable use of force in his motion. The Defendant is not required to testify or present evidence. Jefferson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D135a (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

DICTIONARY WARS: “[T]o ‘raise’ something is ‘[t]o bring up for discussion or consideration; to introduce or put forward.’ . . . That is, in ordinary conversation, it is not sensible to conclude that to ‘raise” a prima facie claim, which is deemed true until it is disproved, means that the person raising the claim must also affirmatively prove the claim. The legislature did not say ‘prove.’ Utilization of ‘raised,’ coupled with the aforementioned ordinary meaning of ‘prima facie claim,’ yields clear textual support that the legislature did not intend the person asserting Stand Your Ground immunity to first prove that prima facie claim of self-defense.” Jefferson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D135a (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

COSTS: Court may not impose a $100 fee for court-appointed conflict counsel without giving Defendant notice of his right to a hearing to contest the fees. Conflict certified. Newton v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D126c (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: On VOP, Defendant must be given credit from the date of the arrest on the new violation which was the basis for the revocation of probation. Colton v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D113b (1st DCA 12/27/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy does not bar separate convictions for child neglect causing great bodily harm and leaving child unattended in motor vehicle. Hicks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D113a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

JOA-CHILD ENDANGERMENT: Defendant cannot be convicted of child endangerment based solely on the fact that the child's mother testified that the child was not injured when he left for the defendant, but there was no testimony as to what happened during the hours in question. Hicks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D113a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to hire an expert in pharmacology to explain how his prescription medicine interacted with his medical conditions in abuse of drugs. Dupriest v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D108b (1st DCA 12/27/18)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/425434/4585155/file/165702_1287_1_2272018_12105684_i.pdf

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: Court erred by assessing the Defendant's motion for new trial on the same basis as the motion for Judgment of Acquittal. "Unlike a motion for judgment of acquittal, which tests the sufficiency of the evidence, a motion for new trial 'requires the trial court to weigh the evidence and determine credibility just as a juror would.' . . . In the latter role, the trial court acts as a 'safety valve' where the evidence of guilt is tenuous but technically sufficient to go to the jury. Baker v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D108a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by failing to hold competency hearing despite having reasonable grounds to believe the defendant was incompetent. Boren v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D107a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/425441/4585239/file/173361_1287_1_2272018_12190176_i.pdf

VOP-JURISDICTION: Probation is tolled when the defendant absconded. “Absconsion” used again. Hodges v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D106a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

VOP: Evidence that Defendant’s mother told the probation officer that the Appellant had moved is hearsay evidence insufficient to support a violation of probation. A probationer’s absence from an approved residence for a brief time during which the probationer’s location was unknown would not support a finding that the probationer violated a condition of probation by changing his residence without permission. Hodges v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D106a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

SPEEDY TRIAL: The rule requiring a trial within 90 days of an appeal granting a new trial does not apply where the Defendant had previously waived speedy trial before his 1st trial. Noack v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D101a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/425431/4585119/file/155620_1286_1_2272018_11594519_i.pdf

HEARSAY: Officer's testimony that a third-party had told him that the Defendant had confessed is inadmissible hearsay within hearsay. Noack v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D101a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

https://www.1dca.org/content/download/425431/4585119/file/155620_1286_1_2272018_11594519_i.pdf

JUDGE-IMPARTIALITY: Judge did not depart from its role of impartiality by preventing defense counsel from questioning witnesses about inadmissible evidence when state failed to object, nor by questioning state's witness who seemed confused by defense counsel's questions. "[A] trial judge need not be 'an iceberg only to be heard at calving.'" Lee v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D98a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

JUDGE-IMPARTIALITY-QUOTATION (DISSENT): "During a timeout in the Big Game, a player coming off the field was berated for performing poorly, scolded for being 'a bump on a log.' Another timeout was called and the player was rebuked for 'sitting on your ass yet again.' The rant continued: 'I don't know what you guys are doing over there. I'm not sure you need to be here, just let [the other team] do whatever [it] wants.' A harangue like this from an irate coach is unremarkable; after all, his job is to win the game. What would be startling is if the haranguer was the game's referee, the person on the field whose job is to ensure a fair and impartial contest for the players and onlookers alike. Yet that is what happened in the trial of William Lee. . . [T]he trial judge unilaterally initiated a series of increasingly antagonistic sidebars, punctuated by the quotes above. . . In effect, the judge performed real-time CLE timeouts for the prosecution's benefit during a live criminal trial.” Lee v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D98a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

APPEAL-STATE: Order granting motion to vacate plea is not appealable by the state. State v. Barnes, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D48a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS-SEXUAL BATTERY: The affidavit of the mentally retarded victim identifying the Defendant as the perpetrator of sexual battery upon her does not establish his identity for the purpose of beginning the fouryear statute of limitations; only the DNA evidence tested a decade later establishes his identity. The legislature can extend the limitations period without violating the constitutional prohibition against ex post facto laws if it (a) does so before prosecution is barred by the old statute, and (b) clearly indicates that the new statute is to apply to cases pending when it becomes effective. State v. Esteime, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D46a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

DEFINITION-“ESTABLISH”: “‘Establish’ means to ‘to make firm or stable’ and ‘to put beyond doubt,’ i.e. (from Black’s Law Dictionary) ‘to establish the president’s guilt.’” State v. Esteime, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D46a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

HEARSAY: Because records crafted by a separate business lack the hallmarks of reliability inherent in a business’s self-generated records, proponents must demonstrate not only that “the other requirements of the business records exception rule are met but also that the successor business relies upon those records and the circumstances indicate the records are trustworthy. Mere recitation of the four elements of the business records exception does not establish reliability. Sacks v. The Bank of New York Mellon, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D44a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-RACIAL DISCRIMINATION: Court must always consider the genuineness of the reason given for a peremptory challenge which is objected to as being discriminatory. Johnson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D34a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

CORPUS DELICTI: The corpus delicti cannot rest upon the confession or admission alone. Therefore, the state must introduce substantial independent evidence of corpus delicti that tends to show that the charged crimes were committed. J.J. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D25a (3rd DCA 12/19/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Defendant may be sentenced to 30 years in prison with a 25 year minimum mandatory despite the fact that his second degree felony was not reclassified as a first-degree felony. Sentences in excess of the mandatory minimums under the 10-20-Life statute require any additional statutory authority, but the Supreme Court opinion which said this had not been decided at the time the Defendant here was sentenced, and he failed to raise the issue on appeal. A defendant whose sentence is final before an opinion interpreting a relevant sentencing statute is issued may not receive the benefit of that opinion unless it is proved that the opinion requires retroactive application. King v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D9a (1st DCA 12/18/18)

COLLATERAL CRIMES-SEXUAL BATTERY: Evidence of a separate sexual battery committed 24 hours earlier is admissible to show propensity. Although collateral-crime evidence of a sexual offense is admissible even if offered to show propensity, the State must still demonstrate that the probative value of the evidence is not substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice. Here, evidence was admissible. Whisby v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D7a (1st DCA 12/18/18)

CHILD ABUSE-PARENTAL DISCIPLINE: Court did not commit fundamental error by failing to instruct the jury on the affirmative defense of parental discipline where there is no evidence that the child committed any misbehavior justifying discipline. Any statement taken after the person invokes his privilege cannot be other than the product of compulsion, subtle or otherwise. MINORS-LIFE SENTENCE: A sentence with a non-life minimum mandatory imposed against a juvenile offender facing a potential life sentence does not violate Graham or Miller so long as the juvenile is afforded an individualized sentencing hearing pursuant to §921.1401 and §921.1402. Martinez v. State, 4D17-2321 (4th DCA 10/10/18)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: First Appearance judge may not set no bond without making a finding that proof of guilt is evident or the presumption great. Gray v. State, 4D18-2374 (4th DCA 10/10/18)

POSSESSION OF CONVEYANCE-TRAFFICKING: Defendant placing the backpack containing a trafficking quantity of methamphetamine on the passenger seat in the car is not sufficient evidence to establish that he intended to use the car for trafficking the drugs. Focus must be on whether the car is used to facility the sale. Hunt v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2271a (2nd DCA 10/5/18)

ARGUMENT-BOLSTERING: State may not suggest victim's lack of a criminal record made the victim more credible than defendant. Lazzaro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2265h (5th DCA 10/5/18) court has previously addressed and rejected each of claims presented. Zack v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S429a (FLA 10/4/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Any claim of error under Hurst is harmless where the jury unanimously recommended death. The fact that the jury is advised that its unanimous recommendation was advisory does not entitle the defendant to relief under Hurst. Anderson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S428b (FLA 10/4/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Reassignment of the case between the denial of the Defendant's motion for post-conviction relief in his motion for rehearing does not deprive the Defendant of due process. Jennings v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S427a (FLA 10/4/18)

CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Crimes stemming from a single criminal episode involving a single victim or a single injury may not be sentenced consecutively. Consecutive sentencing of mandatory minimum imprisonment terms for multiple firearm offenses is impermissible if the offenses arose from the same criminal episode. Consecutive sentences are permissible when a single criminal episode involves either multiple victims or multiple injuries to one victim. Firearm statute neither mandates nor permits consecutive sentences for crimes committed in a single criminal episode with a single victim or injury in which a firearm is not discharged. Miller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S426a (FLA 10/4/18)

SPEEDY TRIAL: The period for speedy trial without demand runs from the date of arrest, and the period for speedy trial upon demand runs from the date of the indictment or information. Christy v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2265c (1st DCA 10/3/18) approached. W.T. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2260c (3rd DCA 10/3/18)

COMPETENCY-JUVENILE JURISDICTION: Court lost jurisdiction over juvenile when two years had passed since you was found incompetent and there was no evidence that he would and 18 competency within the next year. K.N. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2259b (3rd DCA 10/3/18)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Upon revocation of a youthful offender's probation for a substantive violation, the trial court is authorized to either impose another youthful offender sentence, with no minimum mandatory, or to impose an adult Criminal Punishment Code sentence, which would require imposition of any minimum mandatory term of incarceration associated with the offense of conviction. Parks v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2257a (3rd DCA 10/3/18)

JUVENILE-CONTEMPT: Court may order juvenile in indirect contempt of court for repeated violations of home detention orders. U.T. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2255a (3rd DCA 10/3/18)

Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2247a (1st DCA 10/2/18)

ABATEMENT: Where defendant died prior to conviction, case was abated and trial court's jurisdiction was terminated, but Court may considering a petition filed by state attorney under section 914.24 to enter order protecting crime victim from harassment by the Defendant's mother. State v. Green, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2246a (1st DCA 10/2/18)

SEPTEMBER 2018

STAND YOUR GROUND: Revision to Stand Your Ground law shifting burden of proof from defendant to state and increasing quantum or standard of proof from preponderance of evidence to proof by clear and convincing evidence was procedural in nature and applies retroactively to pending cases. Conflict certified. Fuller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2237a (5th DCA 9/28/18)

EVIDENCE-UNDULY PREJUDICIAL: Evidence of the Defendant's digital penetration of the victim is admissible at a homicide case to explain why the Victim's DNA was found on the gun, but evidence that the sexual penetration was nonconsensual is unduly prejudicial. Fuller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2237a (5th DCA 9/28/18)

EVIDENCE: Testimony about the Defendant's refusal to submit to a blood draw in a homicide case is not relevant and admissible to show consciousness of guilt where the Defendant is not advised of any possible adverse consequences flowing from the refusal and is given the impression that the test is optional. A defendant's behavior is circumstantial evidence probative of his consciousness of his guilt only when it can be said that the behavior is susceptible of no prima facie explanation except consciousness of guilt. Fuller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2237a (5th DCA 9/28/18)

EVIDENCE: Evidence of the Defendant's jail calls criticizing the prosecutor and characterizing his arguments as "a bunch of bullshit" is inadmissible. Fuller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2235g (5th DCA 9/28/18)

COLLATERAL CRIMES-LEWD OR LASCIVIOUS MOLESTATION: Evidence that Defendant had previously committed sexual battery upon the Victim's 12-year-old sister is inadmissible, as such evidence was more severe than a charged offense and was not sufficiently similar and was therefore unduly prejudicial. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2231c (5th DCA 9/28/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Defendant who is arrested for different offenses on different dates is not entitled to have jail credit applied equally to all prison sentences even though the sentences are run concurrently. Del La Cruz v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2235a (5th DCA 9/28/18)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Court errs in determining that affidavit from victim recanting his trial testimony was not credible or material without conducting evidentiary hearing where the affidavit was not inherently incredible or obviously immaterial. Barros v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2233a (5th DCA 9/28/18)

COLLATERAL CRIMES-LEWD OR LASCIVIOUS MOLESTATION:

Court erred by admitting evidence that defendant had previously committed sexual battery upon victim's twelve year old sister, as such evidence of an offense more severe than the charged offense was not sufficiently similar to the charged offense and was unduly prejudicial. The less similar the prior acts, the more likely that the probative value of this evidence will be "substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice. The similarity of the collateral act of molestation and charged offense is a critical consideration for the trial court in conducting an appropriate weighing under section 90.403. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2231c (5th DCA 9/28/18)

ATTORNEYS-DISCIPLINE: Attorney disbarred for continuing to practice law during suspension. The Florida Bar v. Bosecker, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S410a (FLA 9/27/18)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: Standard of review of trial court's determination that the Defendant is not intellectually disable is whether the record contains competent, substantial evidence that supports the determination of the trial court. Wright v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S404a (FLA 9/27/18)

APPEALS: A "GVR" (granted, vacated, and remanded) from the US Supreme Court is neither a merits determination nor precedential case law. It is neither an outright reversal nor an invitation to reverse; it is merely a device that allows a lower court that had rendered its decision without the benefit of an intervening clarification to have an opportunity to reconsider that decision and, if warranted, to revise or correct it. Wright v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S404a (FLA 9/27/18)

AMENDMENT-JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Amendments to standard instructions on various fraud offenses. In Re : Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S401b (FLA 9/27/18)

AMENDMENT-JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Carrying a Concealed Weapon instruction is amended to include a third element that requires the State to prove that the defendant did not have a license to carry. In re-Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S400a (FLA 9/27/18)

R.I.P.-SLUNGSHOT: The term “slungshot” is deleted from the definition of “concealed weapon.” In re : Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S400a (FLA 9/27/18)

AMENDMENT-JURY INSTRUCTIONS: For improper exhibition of a weapon, “closed” is added to instruction on a pocketknife. In Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S400a (FLA 9/27/18)

ATTORNEYS-CONTEMPT: Attorney Bruce Jacobs is subject to contempt for failing to address binding precedent in his appellate brief, and for his “desultory diatribe” against the appellate court, i.e. “Any court that protects the monopoly over the rule of law is a traitor to the constitution and should be tried for treason.” Aquasol v. HSBC Bank USC, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2226a (3rd DCA 9/26/18)

SHIFTING BOP: State improperly shifted burden of proof by asking Defendant if he had other witnesses to corroborate his alibi. Error reversible notwithstanding that trial was without a jury. S.B. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2224a (3rd DCA 9/26/18)

FINGERPRINT: When fingerprint evidence is the sole evidence relied upon to establish that the defendant was the perpetrator of the crime the circumstances must be such that the print could have been made only at the time the crime was committed. D.O. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2214c (3rd DCA 9/26/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PASSENGER: A traffic stop of a car communicates to a reasonable passenger that he or she is not free to terminate the encounter with the police and move about at will. M.P. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2214b (3rd DCA 9/26/18)J

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Allegation of ex parte communication forms a prima facie basis for disqualification. Haas v. Yousef, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2214a (3rd DCA 9/26/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR: Alleyne requires that jury, rather than judge, must make factual findings as to whether juvenile actually killed, intended to kill attempted to kill the victim. Washington v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2213a (2nd DCA 9/26/18)

CONFESSION: Court erred in denying defendant's motion to suppress confession where defendant was not competent to knowingly and intelligently waive Miranda rights at the time, considering that he was 18 years old at time of interrogation, had no prior criminal experience, was crying and asking for his "mommy," was a special education student with low IQ that placed him in the "mild mental retardation" range, and read at a third or fourth-grade level at the time Miranda warnings were administered at a 7th-grade reading level in the police station. Waterman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2211b (2nd DCA 9/26/18)

EVIDENCE: Court erred in giving standard instruction on abnormal mental condition where instruction was unsupported by evidence. Perry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2203a (4th DCA 9/26/18)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Defendant not entitled to speedy trial discharge where he was unavailable for trial on the scheduled trial date because he did not obtain properly fitting civilian clothes. Once the defendant has requested to appear in court in other than prison clothes, the state must make appropriate provisions to this end. Rodriguez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2201d (4th DCA 9/26/18)

COMPETENCY: Court must conduct a competency hearing after appointing expert to evaluate for competency. B.E. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2200a (1st DCA 9/25/18)

ARGUMENT: Court abused its discretion by allowing the prosecutor to repeatedly and improperly suggest to the jury that defense counsel had influenced the victim to change his story between the robbery and trial. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2195a (2nd DCA 2018)

BUFFY: “At trial, Bader [the clerk] testified on direct examination that Taylor had pulled ‘a — I don’t want to say [a] knife, I would say it’s a long spatula, as far as I know.’” See Buffy, the Vampire Slayer, “Homecoming,” Season 3, Episode 5 (“Cordy, the gun!” Cordelia, the spatula!” Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2195a (2nd DCA 2018)

ARGUMENT: Argument is improper when the obvious implication of the State’s argument was that witness’s prior inconsistent statements were the truth. Impeachment is not substantive evidence. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2195a (2nd DCA 2018)

RESTITUTION: Court may not order restitution for items missing stolen car where evidence was insufficient to establish the fair market value of the items. M.P. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2193a (2nd DCA 9/21/18)

RESTITUTION: Court may not order juvenile pay restitution without findings regarding how much the juvenile or his parents could reasonably be expected. M.P. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2193a (2nd DCA 9/21/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Failing to raise a defendant's competency is cognizable in a rule 3.850 motion. Allegations that Defendant has a history of mental illness, that the jail prescribed medicine to treat his mental illness, and that the combination of the mental illness and medication affected his ability to assist in his defense and rendered him incompetent when he entered his pleas are sufficient to state a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel. "Yes" and "no" answers during a plea colloquy are insufficient to conclusively refute an appellant's claim that he did not understand the nature and consequences of a plea due to medication and mental illness. Perez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2192a (2nd DCA 9/21/18)

DEATH PENALTY: When a defendant knowingly and voluntarily waives the right to a penalty phase jury, he is not later entitled to relief under Hurst. Lynch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S384a (FLA 9/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Hurst does not apply retroactively before Ring to preclude override of jury recommendation of life. Zakrewski, II v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S374a (FLA 9/20/18)

TRESPASS ON SCHOOL GROUNDS: Juvenile is not entitled to a judgment of dismissal where he had been suspended and his administrative appeal on the suspension had not yet been resolved.

L. M., v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2177a (3rd DCA 9/20/18)

SELF-DEFENSE-JURY INSTRUCTION: Final responsibility for correctly instructing the jury remains with the trial court. Giving of erroneous self-defense instruction is reversible fundamental error. Conflict certified. Silva v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2173a (3rd DCA 9/20/18)

SELF-DEFENSE: Defendant is not entitled to self-defense for shooting someone who threw a microwave at him. Silva v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2173a (3rd DCA 9/20/18)

BRINGING A MICROWAVE TO A GUNFIGHT: “Silva claimed Daoud attempted to lunge and throw a microwave at him. Silva reacted to these actions by shooting Daoud.” Silva v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2173a (3rd DCA 9/20/18) See also Grosse Pointe Blank (Ackroyd and Cusack final scene) .

SATELLITE TESTIMONY: Live streaming testimony from Australia does not deprive Defendant of right of confrontation. Factors support use of satellite livestreaming video testimony where witness lives beyond subpoena power of court and is unwilling to travel to testify, there is a state interest in prosecuting child sex offenders, and victim is essential to case. Remote testimony is permitted only when the following assurances of reliability exist : (1) that the witness will give the testimony under oath, impressing upon the witness the seriousness of the matter and protecting against a lie by the possibility of penalty of perjury, (2) that the witness will be subject to cross-examination, and (3) that the jury will have the chance to observe the demeanor of the witness. To ensure that the possibility of perjury is not an empty threat for those witnesses that testify via satellite from outside the United States, it must be established that there exists an extradition treaty between the witness's country and the United States, and that such a treaty permits extradition for the crime of perjury. Butler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2169a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: Statistical evidence showing a disparity between average sentences for white defendants and minority defendants with similar CPC scores does not show that racial bias motivated sentencing decision. A defendant cannot challenge his sentence based on statistical evidence of racial disparity in sentencing. Delancey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2166a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

COLLATERAL CRIMES: No error in allowing jury to hear evidence that, within two hours after shooting death at grocery store, a shooting occurred at defendant's home because details of what happened at home were relevant to provide a logical sequence of events that led police to identify defendant as suspect in grocery store shooting, particularly where defense counsel opened the door for testimony by presenting a misleading and incomplete picture that portrayed police as not having conducted a thorough investigation and implying that police just showed up at defendant's home to disrupt a sleeping family. Sanders v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2165a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

COMPETENCY: Court may not make a finding that the defendant is competent based on Defendant's stipulation and the Court's review of expert's court where the parties did not agree to allow the judge to decide each of competency on that basis. Pittman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2164a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

COMPETENCY: Court must hold a competency hearing after ordering a competency evaluation and must make an independent determination of competency prior to trial. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2162a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

PRETRIAL RELEASE: Court may properly deny motion to set bond when Defendant was charged with capital offense and offenses punishable by life imprisonment and state met its burden of showing that proof was evident or presumption great that defendant was guilty of charged offenses. Coconspirator's statement, which was internally consistent and uncontradicted, met required evidentiary standard of the proof of guilt is evident or the presumption is great. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2154a (1st DCA 9/20/18)

PLEA-SENTENCING: Court erred by adjudicating defendant guilty when defendant had not entered plea and without first conducting a full plea colloquy. Boyd v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2153c (1st DCA 9/20/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: When defendant seeks credit for prison time he must proceed under 3.800, not 3.801. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2153b (1st DCA 9/20/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: There is no illegality where officer looked at the contents of a USB which was given to them by a man they were arresting and who claimed that he got it in exchange for drugs, and that it contained “some sick shit.” The Fourth Amendment does not apply to a search or seizure, even an unreasonable one, effected by a private individual not acting as an agent of the Government. Where a warrantless search by law enforcement is prompted by a prior search by a private party, the warrantless search does not violate the Fourth Amendment so long as it does not exceed the scope of the private party’s search. Even if the officers’ initial viewing of the video was a Fourth Amendment search of the USB drive, it was lawful because the possessor had apparent authority to consent to the search. Duke v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2148d (1st DCA 2/14/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant must raise issue of the defective information (unsigned information) before trial and cannot raise the issue post trial as ineffective assistance of counsel. Bessellieu v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2146b (1st DCA 9/14/18)

WITHHOLD OF ADJUDICATION: Court may not withhold adjudication on a felony offense where defendant had 2 previous withholds on 2 prior felonies, even though the priors arose from the same case. Braine v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2143a (2nd DCA 9/14/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Defendant's motion for credit for time served under Rule 3.801 is premature while a direct appeal is pending. Fernandez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2138a (2nd DCA 9/14/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to object to State's paraphrase of Defendant's statement as he shot his victim at Wendy's. State paraphrased Defendant saying "I told you I'd kill you, I had it in my mind to kill you, I've wanted to kill you for several days. I wanted to kill someone to take out my frustration." In fact, Defendant said, "I told you I would kill you, you f*cking b*tch." Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S365a (FLA 9/13/18)

ARGUMENT: Improper comments/questions by the State—"Members of the jury, as Cesar [sic] laid dying, killed by people that he trusted, people that he thought were his friends, [he] cried out Et tu, Brute? Betrayal and greed, that's what killed Cesar [sic]. And it's the same betrayal and greed that you, Donovan Henry. . .had" and "Do you just have a complete indifference to human life?-are not fundamental error and must be objected to for the issue to be preserved. Henry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2132a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

QUOTATION: "This is not necessarily a Shakespearian tragedy, as the State suggested in closing, but it certainly can be characterized as An American Tragedy.” Henry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2132a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

ADULT SANCTIONS-JUVENILE: Where a child has been charged as an adult and court imposed juvenile sanctions upon a violation of juvenile supervision the child may be then sentenced as an adult. Dorcely v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2131a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: State committed a discovery violation by failing to reveal fingerprint testing before trial and by doing further DNA testing during the trial, but the error was harmless where the Defendant was not prejudiced. Chamberlain v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2128a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

AMNESIA: “When confronted by his fiancée as to his involvement in the murder, he told her he did not remember whether he had killed someone.” Chamberlain v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2128a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

FLEEING AND ELUDING-FINE: $1,000 fine is vacated where Court was under the false impression that the fine was mandatory rather than discretionary. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2127a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue limitations on Defendant’ his closing argument and admission of DNA evidence on a gun which was not used in the charged crime. Jeanbart v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2120b (4th DCA9/12/18)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: State's summary argument that the affidavit constituting newly discovered evidence was inherently incredible is not supported by any evidence nor asserted at the trial level. A hearing is required. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2110a (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

APPEALS-INEFFECTIVENESS OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to raise the issue of trial court's imposition of mandatory consecutive sentences after Florida Supreme Court had held the 10-20-Life statute does not require consecutive sentences for multiple firearm offenses arising from the same criminal episode. Rua-Torbizco v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2109d (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

APPEALS-JURISDICTION: Appellate court lacks jurisdiction to review portion of supplemental final judgment in which trial court reserves jurisdiction to determine the amount, retroactive period, and life insurance to secure support. Vartumyan v. Bean, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2109b (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIME: Evidence of armed robbery of victim five hours prior to shooting which gave rise to charge of attempted second degree murder was properly admitted, as the evidence was relevant and necessary because it helped explain the entire context out of which the charged offenses occurred. Pickett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2105a (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

FALSE EVIDENCE: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial based on false testimony presented that a cell phone found in the scene and dropped by the Defendant belonged to the victim where there was no showing that the false testimony was knowingly presented, and the testimony was minimally relevant. Pickett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2105a (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

WITNESS TAMPERING: Evidence that defendant made numerous phone calls to victim in attempt to convince her to drop charges and that the calls caused victim to feel intimidated and scared was sufficient to support conviction for witness tampering. Pickett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2105a (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Re-sentencing is required where the State argued that the Defendant had “a predisposition for dealing drugs multiple times to multiple people, not just this one drug sale,” and the Court may have considered the State’s argument (Judge : “taking into account everything, including the evidence here, both aggravating and mitigating”) in imposing sentence, re-sentencing is required. State’s argument that it is “absolutely allowed to comment on uncharged criminal acts and the case law is clear on that.” is absolutely wrong. Lundquist v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2096a (2nd DCA 9/7/18)

PROBATION-EXPIRATION OF TERM: Defendant's probationary sentence was tolled once Canchola absconded prior to the expiration of the probationary term, notwithstanding that the amended affidavit of violation of probation was filed after probation would have expired. A probationary term is automatically tolled when a probationer absconds from his supervision. Canchola v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2092b (2nd DCA 9/7/18)

NEOLOGISM-ABSCONSION: "But the absconsion tolling doesn't ride under section 948.06." Canchola v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2092b (2nd DCA 9/7/18)

COMPETENCY: After committing motion for competency evaluation in appointing expert to examine Defendant, Court may not proceed without holding a competency hearing and making a competency determination. If the court can make a nunc pro tunc finding as to appellant's competency based upon the existence of evaluations performed contemporaneous with trial and without relying solely on a cold record, and can do so in a manner which abides by due process guarantees, then it should do so. Alexander v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2091a (5th DCA 9/7/18)

DUE PROCESS: Court's error in reading the severed count of possession of firearm by a felon is harmless where the Defendant testified at trial, thus revealing that he was a felon. Watson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2090b (5th DCA 9/7/18)

CONFRONTATION: Court's error in failing to make case specific findings for allowing child victim to testify through closed-circuit TV, nor in providing a means for the Defendant to communicate with his attorney during the child's testimony, is not fundamental error and was not preserved for appeal. Knight v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2086a (1st DCA 9/7/18)

JUDGE-DISCIPLINE: Judge is removed from office for false claims during campaign, searching a party during a hearing, stating that he will never hold a statute unconstitutional, and moving hearings to early times without SAO or PD present. "[W]e will not allow judges who have committed egregious misconduct during a judicial campaign in order to attain office to serve the term of their judgeship." In Re : Inquiry Concerning a Judge (Scott Dupont), 43 Fla. L. Weekly S337a (FLA 9/6/18)

EVIDENCE-LAY OPINION-VOICE IDENTIFICATION: Officer who acquires a special familiarity with the defendant's voice during the course the investigation may render his opinion as to whether a voice in a recording is that of the defendant. "Manifest injustice" defined and discussed. McMillan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2084a (4th DCA 9/5/18) POST

CONVICTION RELIEF: A defendant is entitled to have the trial court instruct the jury that it could convict him of both petit theft and resisting a merchant, as lesser offenses of robbery. Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request a jury instruction and verdict form that permitted the jury to render a dual verdict theft and resisting a merchant as lesser included for the underlying crime of robbery. The issue is not jury part, but rather the right to have lesser included considered. Conflict certified. Hargrett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2083a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant cannot be found guilty of possession of heroin found in a public area through which the Defendant fled. McCray v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2082a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND-SELF-DEFENSE: Defendant who tried to run down the victim with his car, then got out of the car and shot the victim who had thrown a metal bar at the Defendant's windshield, is properly convicted of murder. Selfdefense is properly rejected. Medina v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2080a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Defendant's different and inconsistent statements about events are properly admitted to show consciousness of guilt. Evidence of a defendant's acts or statements calculated to defeat or avoid his prosecution is admissible against him as showing consciousness of guilt. Medina v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2080a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

RACKETEERING: Two predicate acts committed on same day are not two separate incidents of racketeering conduct within a five-year period for purposes of sustaining a conviction of racketeering. JOA required. Castillo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2079a (4th DCA 9/4/18)

COMPETENCY: A new trial is not necessarily required after the Court failed to conduct a competency hearing and enter an order before trial, where there is are some indications that a competency evaluation was performed and the Defendant was deemed competent to succeed, and when the court can enter a nunc pro tunc finding of competency. Pollard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2074a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

APPEALS-INEFFECTIVENESS OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: Where life felonies were not subject to enhanced punishment as a habitual offender at the time of Defendant's offenses, appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to challenge habitual offender designation. Key v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2073a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

RETROACTIVITY: When the Defendant committed aggravated assault with a firearm when the offense carries a mandatory minimum, but was convicted after the statute was amended to eliminate the mandatory minimum, the defendant is subject to the mandatory minimum. The change in the statute does not apply retroactively. Retroactive application of the statute violates the "Savings Clause" of the Florida Constitution. State v. Reininger, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2072a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CELL PHONE-LOCATION INFORMATION:

Accessing historical cell phone location information constitutes a search under the Fourth Amendment requiring a warrant and probable cause. The “good faith” exception does not apply where no case law existed saying that cell phone location information from towers was not protected by the Fourth Amendment. Ferrari v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2066a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

DISCOVERY-RICHARDSON: A new trial is required where there is a discovery violation when State disclosed only in the middle of the trial the existence of several tapes (75-80) by testifying witnesses which constituted a “bombshell” and which could have resulted in a change of trial strategy if disclosed before trial. seventy-five to eighty tapes to court. “[I]t was not the defendant’s obligation to depose Torrens to discover Fiorillo’s confession to the murder. It is the State’s affirmative obligation to inform the defense of the substance of those statements.” Ferrari v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2066a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: It is not an impermissible comment on the Defendant’s right to remain silent to question him about his failure to report prearrest, pre-Miranda failure to report that other people whom he blamed for the murder confessed to him. RETROACTIVITY-STAND YOUR GROUND: Because the 2017 amendment to the “Stand Your Ground” self-defense law is at least partially substantive, it cannot be applied retroactively. “[W]e are aware of no Florida Supreme Court case holding that a change to the legal standard applicable to an affirmative defense in a criminal matter. . . is purely procedural.” The Defendant whose offense occurred before either version of the Stand Your Ground Law is not entitled to its benefit. Langel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2058a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND-BURDEN OF PROOF: To raise a “prima facie claim of self-defense immunity from criminal prosecution” under §776.032(4), a defendant must show that the elements for the justifiable use of force are met. Ordinarily, this will require the defendant to testify or to otherwise present or point to evidence from which the elements for justifiable use of force can be inferred. Only then would the burden shift to the state to “overcome the immunity” by clear and convincing evidence. Langel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2058a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to SYG immunity when he shot the Victim who left a closed pocketknife with a six inch

DEFINITION-PRIMA FACIE: “The term ‘prima facie’ is a Latin expression meaning ‘at first face’ or ‘at first appearance.’ The term ‘prima facie case’ has two distinct meanings in law : (1) ‘The establishment of a legally required rebuttable presumption’; and (2) ‘A party’s production of enough evidence to allow the fact-trier to infer the fact at issue and rule in the party’s favor.’” Langel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2058a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CELL PHONE LOCATION: Absent a valid exception to the warrant requirement, the government must establish probable cause and receive court authorization before using a cell-site simulator. With a cell-site simulator, the government surreptitiously intercepts a signal that the user intended to send to a carrier’s cell-site tower or independently pings a cell phone to determine its location. State can not use a cell-site simulator (Stingray) absent a warrant specifically so providing. State v. Sylvestre, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2054b (4th DCA 9/5/18) another person by allowing her boyfriend to burglarize the home which she had been hired to take care of. State v. Sisco, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2047b (3rd DCA 9/5/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for attempted felony murder and armed robbery do not violate double jeopardy. Blockburger. No merit to argument that double jeopardy bars dual convictions because shooting the victim is the same intentional act where, as here, the State also relied on other acts to support the armed robbery count. Sullivan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2045a (3rd DCA 9/5/18)

COMPETENCY: Hearing to determine restoration of competency is inadequate when it consists only of asking Defendant whether he felt well and whether he was taking psychotropic drugs. “The public defender. . . said the hearing would take only ‘thirty seconds’ and the trial judge thought even less (‘How long is it going to take, two seconds?’). Parties cannot stipulate to competency. Rosier v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2042b (1st DCA 9/5/18)

UPWARD DEPARTURE: Statute permitting increase in punishment beyond statutory maximum of nonstate prison sanction based on findings by trial court, rather than by jury, that defendant could present danger to public is unconstitutional. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2039a (1st DCA 9/5/18)

NEW TRIAL: Summary denial of motion for new trial (“The Court will rely on the rulings previously made in this case, and I will deny the motion for new trial”) does not mean that the court applied the wrong legal standard. Moreland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2037b (1st DCA 9/5/18)

APPEAL-JURISDICTION: Where court fails to rule on all claims in a motion for post conviction relief, the appellate court has no jurisdiction. The lack of a ruling on a claim deprives the appellate court of jurisdiction. Bachman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2037a (1st DCA 9/5/18)

VOP-HEARSAY: Witness who testified that Defendant did not always stay at his approved residence is sufficient to show absconding. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2036a (1st DCA 9/5/18)

AUGUST 2018

SPEEDY TRIAL: Following a robbery, the Defendant’s 6 hour detention and questioning is not an arrest for the purpose of beginning the speedy trial period. For the purposes speedy trial, an arrest involves the following elements : (1) A purpose or intention to effect an arrest under a real or pretended authority; (2) An actual or constructive seizure or detention of the person to be arrested by a person having present power to control the person arrested; (3) A communication by the arresting officer to the person whose arrest is sought, of an intention or purpose then and there to effect an arrest; and (4) An understanding by the person whose arrest is sought that it is the intention of the arresting officer then and there to arrest and detain him. Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2029b (5th DCA 8/31/18)

ARREST (Concurring Opinion): “The majority holds the Appellant was not under arrest. But if not under arrest, what was his status? Is there something between a Terry stop and an arrest? I think not. To effectuate a Terry stop, the detention must be temporary, based on reasonable suspicion, and at the location of the stop. . .To view the detention here as authorized creates a new level of citizen encounter not countenanced by Terry.” Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D 2 0 2 9 b (5 t h D C A 8 / 3 1 / 1 8)

DUE PROCESS: It is “troubling” but not reversible that Court denied continuance to enable Defendant to get transcripts of depositions taken two days before and then disallowed impeachment because Defendant had no transcripts. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2028a (5th DCA 8/31/18)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: “The State’s refusal to concede the obvious [that motion to suppress was dispositive] was disingenuous at best,” but when Defendant pled nolo contendere to the new charges without reserving his right to appeal the denied motion to suppress, the appellate court does not have jurisdiction to review the issue. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2028a (5th DCA 8/31/18)

10-20-LIFE: 25-year mandatory minimum provision in life sentence for robbery with firearm was illegal where indictment did not allege, and jury did not find, that defendant discharged a firearm. INSANITY: Court erred when it denied Defendant's pro se motion to appoint an expert to evaluate insanity defense after he was prescribed medications at the hospital the night of the offense [Tony Tatti]. Beshears v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2019c (5th DCA 8/31/18)

MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: Where court amends the sentencing documents to provide for judicial review hearing of a lengthy (35 year) sentence, it also must conduct a full resentencing hearing. Conflict certified. Santiago v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2019a (5th DCA 8/31/18)

VOP: Court failed to prove a willful violation of probation by driving with a suspended license where it failed to present evidence that the Defendant had knowledge that his license had been suspended. Stringfield v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2018c (5th DCA 8/31/18)

Snead v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2017a (5th DCA 8/31/18)

MINOR-LIFE IMPRISONMENT: Where defendant establishes rehabilitation at sentence review hearing, trial court is not required to review aggregate sentence defendant is serving. “The new juvenile sentencing provisions seem complex because the sentencing rules for life felonies and F1-PBLs are complex.” State v. Purdy, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S321b (FLA 8/30/18)

EVIDENCE: Court abused its discretion by redacting child's statement that defendant also sexually abused his own daughter and by excluding daughter's denial that such abuse occurred. Macomber v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2004b (1st DCA 8/30/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: The plain touch exception to the Fourth Amendment does not permit an officer to seize objects felt during a weapons search, when the objects are not weapons and there is insufficient evidence of contraband. Defendant fiddling with his waist band does not justify officer patting down his scrotal area. T.T. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2002a (4th DCA 8/29/18)

QUOTATION: "In making probable cause determinations, courts must conscientiously evaluate the sufficiency of evidence and decline to ratify naked conclusions or the use of 'buzz words' that imply certainty." T.T. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2002a (4th DCA 8/29/18)

NEW EVIDENCE: To obtain a new trial based on newly discovered evidence, a defendant must meet two requirements. First, the evidence must not have been known by the trial court, the party, or counsel at the time of trial, and it must appear that the defendant or defense counsel could not have known of it by the use of diligence. Second, the newly discovered evidence must be of such nature that it would probably produce an acquittal on retrial. Harvey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2000b (3rd DCA 8/29/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may rely on the sworn testimony in the plea colloquy to conclusively refute an allegation made in a motion for post conviction relief. DeJesus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2000a (3rd DCA 8/29/18)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Video showing that the Defendant ran and drop something near the gas station pumps during a shootout is insufficient to establish possession of marijuana found in the area. When the contraband is found in a public place, more than mere proximity to the defendant must be shown to sustain a conviction. McKire v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1984a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

FALSELY ACTING AS PUBLIC OFFICER: Grand jury foreman who created his own “People’s Grand Jury Under Common Law in Dixie County, Florida” and approved to “True Bills” to arrest public officials is properly convicted of falsely acting as a public officer. Trussell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1978a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

EXPERT: Police officer does not need to qualify as an expert to testify that dog can detect odors from someone in an anxious mental or physical state. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1976a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Claim that evidence was wholly circumstantial is waived if not preserved at trial. Regardless, evidence that Defendant was 1 of 2 people who broke into her apartment and he was shot in the shoulder while fleeing is sufficient circumstantial evidence to sustain conviction. Charles v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1972a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: Apprendi does not require that jury rather than the judge must pass on the factors set forth in Fla.Stat. § 921.1401(2). Gonzalez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1971a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

MODIFICATION-SENTENCE-JURISDICTION: Court lacks jurisdiction to rule on State's motion to clarify Defendant's sex offender probation 3 years after the original sentencing. Martinez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1967b (2nd DCA 8/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to proffer the testimony of his probation officer that she received a call from the maternal grandmother days before the allegations of sexual abuse emerged wherein the maternal grandmother reported that Appellant had physically abused the victim's brother, to support claim that the victim's mother and grandmother tried to frame the Defendant. Roe v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1959a (5th DCA 8/24/18)

VOP: Finding that Defendant violated probation by failing to pay restitution and court costs stricken where record does not demonstrate that he had the ability to pay. Coleman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1955b (4th DCA 8/22/18)

Based on recent Florida Supreme Court Court opinion changing the law. Granger v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1954a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

MURDER-CAUSATION-INTERVENING CAUSE: Where elderly victim was beaten and later died at home after hospital mistakenly determined that brain hemorrhage had been resolved, Defendant is still properly convicted of murder. To constitute an intervening cause, the hospital process negligence must be the sole cause of death. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1950a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-RACIAL DISCRIMINATION: Court is always required to follow three-step procedure set out in Melbourne when party objects to exercise of a peremptory challenge on the ground that it was made on a discriminatory basis. Melbourne imposes duty on trial courts at “genuineness” step to request a response to proffered explanation from the opponent of the peremptory challenge, regardless whether counsel so requests. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1942a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

EYE ROLLING MOMENT: State justified striking black jurors because “[T]he Defense has stricken two black females in their first round of strikes. They’ve also stricken black individuals for cause.” Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1942a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): “[T]he goal has become the process; the sideshow becoming part of the main event.” Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1942a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

Stoddard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1938d (2nd DCA 8/22/18)

HEARSAY-PRICE TAG: Price tag is not hearsay. A business records foundation need not be laid before a witness is permitted to testify to what the price tag said. L.A. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1938b (3rd DCA 8/22/18)

VOP-JURISDICTION: Affidavit alleging only technical violations does not toll the probationary period. Bethel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1918e (4th DCA 8/17/18)

MANDAMUS: Record documents that were prepared at public expense on behalf of an indigent defendant must be provided to him or her without charge for copying. Kimbrough v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1915a (5th DCA 8/17/18)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Downward departure based on the incident being isolated in the unsophisticated is not warranted in which Defendant used her position as office manager to write checks to herself from her boss's business. A crime cannot be considered isolated where there were multiple incidents over several months. State v. Hollinger, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1913c (5th DCA 8/17/18)

FTA: Court was not justified in issuing a capias for failing to appear at a rescheduled disposition hearing where defendant was not given adequate notice that he had to appear despite his waiver appearance. Cannon v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1912b (2nd DCA 8/17/18)

SENTENCING: Court erred in failing to impose a sentence on all counts. State v. Rogers, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1912a (2nd DCA 8/17/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to hire an accident reconstruction expert to show that road conditions contributed to the crash where evidence of Defendant's intoxication was overwhelming and threshold for causation is low. Where a defendant's decision about going to trial turns on his prospects of success, and the attorney's alleged error affected those prospects of success, the defendant must also show that he would have been better off going to trial. "Even if inadequate signage and poor road conditions led Koroly the wrong way, had Koroly not been intoxicated he likely would have noticed the interstate median on his right and the headlights of any oncoming vehicles and corrected his actions before traveling the length of over five football fields and colliding head-on with Johnny Robinson.” Koroly v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1908a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

ROBBERY WITH A FIREARM: Court did not fundamentally err by not instructing the jury that a BB gun is not a firearm, but rather referring the jury to the jury instructions, particularly whether there was some dispute as to whether the weapon which had not been recovered was a BB gun or a firearm. Miller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1906a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court did not abuse its discretion by refusing to excuse for cause a juror who worked as a prosecutor for state attorney’s office 27 years earlier and whose husband was an investigator for that office where juror stated unequivocally that nothing about her experience as prosecutor or her husband’s employment would affect her ability to be fair and impartial. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1904a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

FIREARM-POSSESSION: The crime of “possessing a concealed weapon by a felon” is a nonexistent offense. “Carrying a concealed weapon by a felon” is a crime. Mislabeling of the offense as “possession of a concealed weapon by a convicted felon” is confusing and requires a new trial. Wiggins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1903a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

JOA-PRINCIPAL: Defendant's post-arrest admission that he and others should not completed the drug transaction is insufficient to show that he actually did something to help commit the offense; JOA is required. Ammons v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1902a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

COMMENT ON SILENCE: Court's admonition on right to remain silent from standard jury instruction during voir dire and State's comment that the pro se Defendant would be held to the standards of a represented defendant is not an improper comment on the right to remain silent rising to the level of fundamental error. Kendle v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1885a (3rd DCA8/15/18)

SEALING CRIMINAL RECORD: Order compelling FDLE to issue a certificate of eligibility for sealing is a departure from the essential requirements of law because Defendant had previously secured expunction in a previous case in a different county. The fact that the previous sealing had been unsealed does not change the prohibition on a second sealing. FDLE v. Elmufdi, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1876a (3rd DA 8/15/18)

CONTEMPT-INDIRECT: Attorneys cannot be held in indirect criminal contempt for violation of discovery order directed to their client where there was no evidence that attorneys advised client to violate discovery order. Hudson v. Marin, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1870c (3rd DCA 8/15/18)

VOP: Where the record does not contain the affidavit upon which the revocation was based, but the possibility exists that an affidavit of violation of community control, charging defendant with substantive violations of the conditions of supervision, was in fact filed, the case is remanded to the trial court for location and consideration of the relevant affidavit. Raimondi v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1868b (3rd DCA 8/15/18)

SENTENCING: Court is not required to articulate reasons for sentencing defendant to a specific sentence within legislative limits. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1863a (4th DCA 8/15/18)

SEXUAL BATTERY-VICTIM'S MENTAL CAPACITY: State is not entitled to mental incapacity of victim instruction ("Evidence of (victim's) mental incapacity or defect, if any, may be considered in determining whether there was an intelligent, knowing, and voluntary consent.") when there is no evidence of involuntary intoxication. Here, the victim's intoxication was voluntary. Amelio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1855a (4th DCA 8/15/18)

JURY INSTRUCTION-MANSLAUGHTER: It is manifestly unjust to deny relief on claim that trial court committed fundamental error in giving erroneous instruction on manslaughter when defendant was convicted of second-degree murder, a crime one step removed from manslaughter. Crenshaw v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1854b (2nd DCA 8/15/18)

MINOR-RESENTENCING: Manifest injustice warrants reconsideration of prior decision in which appellate court erroneously rejected defendant's claims that sentence (45 years) was illegal under Graham. Gorman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1854a (2nd DCA 8/15/18)

State v. Zachery, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1666a (2nd DCA 7/25/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT-VOLUNTARINESS: Stop made on the basis of anonymous tip that a black male and a red, yellow and black jacket was carrying a gun and standing outside a convenience store was unlawful. EVIDENCE: Court properly excluded evidence of mother's prior acts of abuse toward the victim and others (violent spanking) where the abuse was not similar to the acts the cause the victim's death (violent blows to the head). When a defendant seeks to introduce another person's prior bad acts to shift suspicion from himself to another person, evidence of past criminal conduct of that other person should be of such nature that it would be admissible if that person were on trial for the present offense. Rivet v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1651c (1st DCA 7/25/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PAT DOWN-INEVITABLE DISCOVERY:

Where police see drugs on the car seat in a jointly occupied vehicle, they have probable cause to arrest the defendant for constructive possession; the evidence would have been inevitably discovered, so that reaching into the Defendant's pocket and finding more drugs is not an unlawful search. State v. Upshaw, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1633a (5th DCA 7/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to depose the victim and other witnesses. Alvarez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1632c (5th DCA 7/20/18)

VOIR DIRE-LIMITATION: Time limits in jury selection were not unreasonable here, particularly where counsel spent much of his time trying to pre-try the case. “[N]o mathematical formula exists, nor should a mathematical formula exist, for the amount of time provided for voir dire.” Flexibility is encouraged. “A brief extension of time would have been far less than the many hours which both sides’ appellate counsel spent on this appeal, and many days less than the amount of time which would have been necessary to try this case again if we decided to reverse.” Thomany v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1619a (4th DCA 7/18/18)

VOIR DIRE-PURPOSE: Appellate court disagrees with trial court’s conclusion that Defendant’s attorney conducted his voir dire in a manner to attempt to preserve the issue of insufficient time for voir dire, but criticized counsel’s attempt to “pre-try” the case. “Pre-trying” of the case is not a proper purpose of voir dire. Thomany v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1619a (4th DCA 7/18/18)

NEW EVIDENCE: Court properly summarily denied Defendant’s motion to withdraw his plea based on alleged new evidence that cast doubt on the validity that pubic hair found on the scene was his. Tibbetts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1617b (4th DCA 7/18/18)

EN BANC REVIEW: “Due to a large caseload, our fifteen-member appellate court. . . assigns each case randomly to a three-judge panel for disposition, raising the trivia question : How many different three-judge panels are possible? If you said 455, you’re correct. Most people guess a far smaller number. What isn’t trivial is the jurisprudential impact that so many different panels have on similar or related cases, making the need for intra-court decisional uniformity important. Without en banc review for uniformity, we'd not be one court attempting to dispense uniform justice, but an assemblage of 455 randomly assigned and autonomous three-judge panels each doing as it sees fit." Mitchell v. Brogdon, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1613a (1st DCA 7/16/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Special conditions of sex offender probation imposed for an offense which does not require sex offender probation need not be orally pronounced, but where the plea agreement provided that sex offender probation did not apply, the later addition of sex offender conditions violates double jeopardy. SENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Jury, not the trial court, must make factual finding as to whether juvenile offender actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill victim. Where jury was instructed on both premeditated and felony murder, it was error to fail to require jury to specify under which theory it found defendant guilty. Leppert v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1589b (5th DCA 7/13/18)

SENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Sentence of life imprisonment with possibility of parole after 25 years for offense committed by juvenile does not violate Eighth Amendment. Atwell receded from. State v. Michel, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S298a (FLA 7/12/18)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-FAILURE TO REGISTER: Jury instructions modified. In Re : Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. Weekly S290a (FLA 7/12/18)

HARMLESS ERROR-TEST: The test for harmless error “is not a sufficiency-of-the-evidence, a correct result, a not clearly wrong, a substantial evidence, a more probable than not, a clear and convincing, or even an overwhelming evidence test. . .The question is whether there is a reasonable possibility that the error affected the verdict. The burden to show the error was harmless must remain on the state. If the appellate court cannot say beyond a reasonable doubt that the error did not affect the verdict, then the error is by definition harmful.” Rodriguez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S289b (FLA 7/12/18)

ARGUMENT-GOLDEN RULE: “Think about the state of mind she’s in at that point in time that all these questions were asked to her. What happened? What happened?” Is not an improper Golden rule argument. The mere fact that the State asked the jury to consider the victim’s mental and physical condition shortly after the crime was committed did not transform this argument into a golden rule violation. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1584a (3rd DCA 7/11/18)

ARGUMENT: The prosecutor’s comparison of Defendant’s conduct to lions’ predatory attack on its prey at night is not fundamental error. Slaughter v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1581a (4th DCA 7/11/18)

Weekly S289a (FLA 7/6/18)

MINOR-SENTENCE REVIEW: Court erred in ruling that Minor-Defendant who had served 15 years of a 25-year-sentence was not entitled to a sentence review on the ground that his crime had taken place before the statute providing for such review had been promulgated. Elkin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1545a (2nd DCA 7/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred by summarily denying the claim that counsel was ineffective in advising Defendant to withdraw motion to sever murder from possession of firearm charges on the grounds that this was obvious trial strategy. A hearing is required. Thomas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1538a (5th DCA 7/6/18)

PRETRIAL DETENTION-NEBBIA HOLD: Florida courts lack authority to detain accused for the purpose of inquiring into the source of funds used to post bail, but they may set a bond conditioned upon an inquiry into the source of the funds to be used to post bond. JUNE 2018

CORPUS DELICTI: Firearm on the floorboard of passenger side of vehicle which juvenile was driving with 2 passengers was insufficient to prove that the juvenile was in constructive possession of the firearm. To prove corpus delicti, the state must prove that the Defendant committed the crime charged, not that some person in the car committed the crime. Because corpus delicti was not proven, the Juvenile's confession was inadmissible. A.P. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1508a (2nd DCA 6/29/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-CORRECTION: Defendant is not required to wait until his sentence becomes final to move for correction of credit for time served under Rule 3.801. Brady v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1507a (2nd DCA 6/29/18)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NEED FOR RESTITUTION:

Court may not impose a downward departure from the basis that the need for restitution outweighed for a prison sentence where the defendant presented no evidence of the victim's need. State v. Rogers, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1502a (5th DCA 6/29/18)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NON-STATUTORY

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-LACK OF REMORSE: Court did not impermissibly base Defendant's sentence on lack of remorse where Defendant injected the issue of remorse into the proceedings by seeking to mitigate his sentence. Court may not rely on Defendant process lack of remorse in fashioning a sentence but may rely on it in the context of mitigation of the sentence. Catledge v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1490a (1st DCA 6/28/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by failing to hold competency hearing or entering a written order of competency wants and had reasonable grounds to believe the defendant was incompetent. Pearce v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1489a (1st DCA 6/28/18)

ARGUMENT: Court erred in denying defense counsel's request for special instruction on "mere presence" after prosecutor, who argued that the legal principle (that mere presence at the crime scene is not enough) was not included in the jury instructions, but that a principal could be convicted even if he was not present, thus improperly maligning defense counsel's argument and misleading the jury on the law. Gabriel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1477a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor must confine his closing argument to record evidence and must not make comments which could not be reasonably inferred from the evidence. Prosecutor improperly argued that the co-defendant's testimony was consistent with earlier statements to police where no such evidence was adduced. Gabriel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1477a (4th DCA 6/27/18)012)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor commits improper argument where he suggests that Defendant refused to take responsibility for his actions. “Such comments denigrate the fundamental principles of the right to jury trial and presumption of innocence.” Gabriel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1477a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Stand Your Ground immunity from prosecution is properly denied for Defendant who shot the victim in the back of the head, put the body in a rental car, drove it to a rural area, and set the car on fire. Morales v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1474a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Where police conducted three interviews with defendant, only the last of which was a custodial interrogation, trial court’s failure to suppress third interview, during which police were informed that attorney was attempting to invoke defendant’s right to remain silent, was harmless beyond reasonable doubt, in light of second confession. Santos v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1472a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

SENTENCING-10/20/LIFE-CONSECUTIVE: Where appellate court reversed consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10/20/Life and remanded for imposition of concurrent mandatory minimum sentences, Court properly resentenced defendant to concurrent mandatory minimum terms, but was not required to run non-mandatory minimum portions of the sentences concurrently as well. Billups v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1467a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

QUOTATION: “This case is the story of what can happen when words in a case become detached from a legal principle, to float freely in the ether of Westlaw or Lexis like free radicals ready to trigger mutations in the law.” Billups v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1467a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): “[T]he majority is solving an alleged impropriety (detaching words from the moorings of a legal principle) with another impropriety (stretching words beyond their meaning to embrace a new legal rule).” Billups v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1467a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

PUBLIC DEFENDER FEE: Court erred in imposing Public Defender’s fees amount greater than statutory minimum without evidence of higher fees and without notifying Defendant of right to contest the fees. Baker v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1464a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

HEARSAY-FORFEITURE BY WRONGDOING: Court erred by allowing recorded statement of victim on ground that the victim’s unavailability was a result of wrongdoing by the Defendant. For the forfeiture by wrongdoing exception to the hearsay rule to apply, the Defendant must have engaged in conduct designed to prevent the witness from testifying. Joseph v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1457a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: A Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the voluntariness of the confession outside the presence of the jury even if he failed to raise the issue of pretrial, but any error in refusing to allow such a hearing is not reversible where the evidence is duplicative of the evidence already presented without objection. Abel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1455d (4th DCA 6/27/18)

COUNSEL-WAIVER : Court erred by failing to offer counsel to Defendant in failing to conduct a Faretta inquiry before permitting Defendant to represent himself during plea negotiations. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1446a (2nd DCA 6/27/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly found that counsel was not ineffective for failing to move to suppress evidence of search warrant, failing to have DNA evidence retested, and failing to show that Defendant's girlfriend could have been the source of the DNA on his underwear. Where evidence of guilt is overwhelming and where there is no reasonable probability that absent any deficient performance by defense counsel a defendant would have been acquitted, a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel must be denied. Gonzalez v. State, 43 L. Weekly D1432a (1st DCA 6/22/18)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: Motion identifying cash, wallet and driver's license as his property and alleging they were not the product of criminal activity is legally sufficient to compel the property returned to the Claimant. Peterson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1420c (5th DCA 6/22/18)

COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL: Defendant is not entitled to a rehearing on question of whether his designation as a habitual offender is illegal. The mere existence of an illegal sentence is not equivalent to a manifest injustice. Whether his HVFO sentence does or does not include a ten-year minimum mandatory provision has no effect on Defendant's longer PRR sentence or the amount of time Defendant will serve in prison. Turner v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1419a (5th DCA 6/22/18)

SENTENCING-MINOR-JUDICIAL REVIEW: Where Defendant who committed this offense was a minor, Court is required to conduct a resentencing hearing. Court cannot modify the sentence without holding a resentencing hearing. Ostane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1418a (5th DCA 6/22/18)

Weekly D1391c (2nd DCA 6/20/18)

PROBATION REVOCATION-JUDGMENT: Court may not enter a 2nd written judgment adjudicating Defendant guilty upon the defendant's probation being revoked. Duplicative adjudications of guilt after revocation of probation or community control are superfluous, are unauthorized, and can cause undue confusion in future proceedings. Schaulfler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1391a (2nd DCA 6/20/18)

CERTIORARI: Office of the Public Defender cannot be removed as penalty phase counsel where defendant is represented by a private attorney in the guilt phase by petition for writ of certiorari without making a sufficient finding of entitlement to relief. “Having determined what order is properly before us, we must next determine what arguments are properly before us. DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-UNSOPHISTICATED: Defendant who had her boss sign several checks to petty cash, and then deposited the money into her own account does not commit the crime in an unsophisticated manner justifying a downward departure from the sentencing guidelines. The crime is not "unsophisticated" where it requires several distinctive and deliberate steps to accomplish. Hollinger v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1367a (5th DCA 6/15/18)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-ISOLATED INCIDENT-UNSOPHISTICATED: The Defendant's crime is not an isolated incident where she had her boss sign several checks to petty cash, and then deposited the money into her own account. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1364d (5th DCA 6/15/18)

https://edca.1dca.org/DCADocs/2017/0938/170938_1287_06132_018_101757_11_i.pdf GOLDEN RULE: "Think about the state of mind she's in at that point in time that all these questions were asked to her. What happened? What happened?" is not an improper Golden Rule argument. The State did not ask or invite the jurors to place themselves in the shoes of the victim to imagine her pain and suffering. "The mere fact that a prosecutor in closing argument addresses a victim's mental state, physical state, or injuries suffered does not, standing alone, render the argument a golden rule violation. Such an ipso facto analysis ignores the need to consider the surrounding circumstances of the comment.” Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1349a (3rd DCA 6/13/18)

Weekly D1327a (1st DCA 6/8/18)

POSSESSION OF DRUGS-IMMUNITY-GOOD SAMARITAN: Defendant who called 911 to obtain medical assistance for person who was experiencing drug overdose in defendant's home was entitled to immunity from prosecution for drugs found in his home. The fact that the Defendant tried to hide the evidence and could have done more to help the person who had overdosed does not remove Defendant from the protection of the Good Samaritan law. "Regardless of whether Pope should have behaved better, his purpose in contacting 911 was to save his friend. That was a good-faith purpose." Pope v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1326a (1st DCA 6/8/18)

VOP: Court may find the defendant violated probation where the affidavit charged him with violating by committing attempted murder and facts only supported attempted manslaughter; attempted

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy prevents the court from increasing sentences from 10 years to 15 years where the plea agreement called for the sentences to be run concurrently with each other after Defendant moved to withdraw his plea on the ground that one of the counts was for 5 years consecutive to the 10 years. Rollins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1318a (2nd DCA 6/8/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to call witnesses that other people had been in the vehicle on the day of his arrest where he had been convicted of possession of drugs found in the vehicle. Campbell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1315b (2nd DCA 6/8/18)

CREDIBILITY OF DEFENDANT: In post-conviction relief hearing, if a defendant's testimony is unrefuted and the post-conviction court has not articulated a reason to disbelieve the defendant, the court cannot choose to disregard the defendant's testimony. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1273a (3rd DCA 6/6/18)

HEARSAY: It is improper to admit statement of witness, now deceased, from a bond hearing that someone had confessed to being the shooter in the murder and that he “got the work from [the Defendant].” Where the State is seeking to admit the out of court statements of will co-defendants or accomplices under 90.804(2)(c), and some of the statements also implicate the defendant, they should not be admitted where they sensibly and fairly can be redacted to include only those statements which are solely self-inculpatory. Moscatiello v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1257a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

SCORESHEET-ERROR: Addition error on scoresheet was not harmless because record does not conclusively show that judge would have imposed same sentence, having said that he was not inclined to “go against” scoresheet. Ward v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1256b (4th DCA 6/6/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions of both organized scheme to defraud and grand theft based on same conduct violates double jeopardy. Santeramo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1256a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-PLEA-VOLUNTARINESS: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for affirmatively misadvised him that he would not be deported for pleading no contest to the offense of trafficking in hydrocodone. Equivocal warnings (his plea “could” result in deportation) is insufficient in cases like this where deportation is mandatory. Saavedra v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1254a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

HEARSAY-EXCITED UTTERANCE-911 CALL: Under the facts of this case, the victim’s statement in her 911 call made 20 minutes after the rape are admissible as an excited utterance. Evans v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1252a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

MISTRIAL: The 77 year old rape victim’s emotional expression of indignation at being accused of lying (“Oh no. I swear on my son’s soul that everything you are saying is a lie. . . . Unbelievable. Oh, my God,” does not warrant a mistrial. “While the defense should be entitled to question the victim’s credibility, it is not surprising that she reacted with an emotional outburst.” Evans v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1252a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for wrongly advising defendant that the only lesser included charges carjacking is grand theft; robbery is also a lesser included for carjacking. Louima v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1247a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Court did not abuse discretion allowing state introduced multiple certified judgments of prior felony convictions where defendant did not stipulate that he was a felon. Grimes v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1246a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR: Court may not impose a sentence of life in prison with 25 years as a minimum mandatory for a defendant who was 17 years old at the time of the offense without providing for sentence review after 25 years. White v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1245a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

SENTENCING-MINOR: Criminal Punishment Code is not unconstitutional as it relates to juveniles who commit felonies and are sentenced as adults. Hall v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1239a (1st DCA 6/4/18)

APPEALS-TIMELINESS: 30 day time to file appeal is not extended by Defendant's motion for reduction of sentence. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1238a (1st DCA 4/4/18)

LIFE SENTENCES-MINOR: 50 year sentence with judicial review for nonhomicide committed by a juvenile is lawful. Only those juveniles who were sentenced to life and then had the sentence vacated under Graham are entitled to judicial review, not juveniles like that Defendant here who were originally sentenced to a lengthy term of imprisonment. Hart v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1232a (1st DCA 6/4/18)

JIMMY RYCE: State is not required to prove the value of mental health treatment in the recidivism equation. Campbell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1228a (1st DCA 6/6/18)

REVOCATION-CONDITION RELEASE: There is no requirement that failure to contact revocation hearing within 45 days must result in defendant being released from prison. In granting writs of certiorari, the DCAs should not be as concerned with the existence of legal error as with the seriousness of the error. Smith v. DOC, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1225a (2nd DCA 6/1/18)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court may not impose a downward departure sentence on the ground the need for payment of restitution outweighs the need for a prison sentence where there is no evidence of any pressing need for restitution. A downward departure is only justified if the harm suffered by the victim as a result of the theft was greater than normally expected, and restitution could mitigate that increased harm. State v. Lackey, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1224f (2nd DCA 6/1/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who is been found not guilty was insanity has no claim for relief under Rule 3.850. Dorton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1223c (5th DCA 6/1/18)

FTA-WILLFULNESS: Defendant who was given a prison sentence for failing to comply with agreement to appear (Quarterman agreement) is entitled to an evidentiary hearing as to his willfulness in failing to appear. Spear v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1223b (5th DCA 6/1/18)

MINOR-RESENTENCING: It is error to modify a minor's sentence to allow for a review hearing that also holding a resentencing hearing. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1222a (5th DCA 6/1/18)

ATTEMPTED MURDER LEO-JURY INSTRUCTION: The court must instruct on the essential element that the Defendant knew that the victim was a law enforcement officer. Error is fundamental where there was a dispute at trial as to whether Defendant knew the victim was a law enforcement officer. By asserting the mistaken identity defense and denying any knowledge about the shooting, Defendant did not waive the defense that he did not know that the victim was a law enforcement officer. Gabriel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1219a (5th DCA 6/1/18)

MAY 2018

AMENDMENTS-INTERPRETERS: Rules for interpreters extended to victims and parents of juveniles. When an attorney or self-represented litigant retains an interpreter, whenever possible, the attorney or litigant must retain a certified, language skilled, or provisionally approved interpreter. In re-Amendments to Rules of Judicial Administration, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S253b (FLA 5/31/18)

COMPETENCY: Defendant who may be incompetent cannot waive the right to a competency hearing. “The nature of competency goes to the heart of whether a defendant has the capacity to make a cogent, legally binding decision. To find, as the trial court did here, there were reasonable grounds to believe Appellant may be incompetent, and then allow that same potentially incompetent individual to waive his right to determine competency, does not comport with due process.” Francis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1217a (1st DCA 5/31/18)

BLOOD TEST: Blood test is admissible where police substantially complied with administrative regulations. Strict compliance with rules is not required. Failure to invert blood sample to ensure mixing of blood with preservatives and anti-coagulents is still substantial compliance. Bedell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1216a (1st DCA 5/31/18)

CRIMINAL MISCHIEF: Victim’s testimony as to the cost of repair is competent evidence of the value. FMV of the windshield or truck is inapplicable. The rule in theft cases that the damages cannot exceed the value of the property does not apply to the crime of criminal mischief. J.A. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1210b (3rd DCA 5/30/18)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court may enter a downward departure sentence based on the fact that the Defendant acted under the domination of another person when she helped commit the burglary. State v. Sisco, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1208a (3rd DCA 5/30/18)

HEARSAY-911 CALL: 911 call was admissible as spontaneous statement where call was placed immediately after robbery and describes or explains the event and circumstances do not indicate a lack of trustworthiness. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1206a (3rd DCA 5/30/18)

RESTITUTION: Court may not order restitution without holding a hearing. Sainvil v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1203a (4th DCA 5/30/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: On the face of the record, counsel was not ineffective for not filing a motion to vacate plea where the plea agreement called for a 4 years and the ultimate sentence was 3 years plus probation. Quinlin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1202b (4th DCA 5/30/18)

MINOR-SENTENCE: 31-year sentence for offense committed by a juvenile is not unconstitutional. Conflict certified. Tillman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1201c (4th DCA 5/30/18)

MINOR-SENTENCE: 40-year sentence for second-degree murder committed by a juvenile does not violate the 8th amendment. Conflict certified. Pedroza v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1201b (4th DCA 5/30/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly denied claims that were untimely, that remained facially insufficient after opportunity to amend, or that were not raised in amended motion within prescribed time period. Watson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1199b (1st DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing call expert to testify that defendant did not write incriminating notes to lewd and lascivious battery victim. Privett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1199a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly denied claim that counsel was ineffective for failure depose state's witnesses to prepare for cross-examination where there was no demonstration of prejudice. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1196a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: Defendant's consent to blood draw after officer had explained that his refusal to consent would require them to drive to a judge during the night to get a warrant signed was voluntary. Miller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1195a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

EVIDENCE: Court properly precluded defendant from presenting evidence that victim was driving a motorcycle without an endorsement when he was hit from behind by defendant where there was no reasonable basis to conclude that victim's conduct was sole proximate cause of accident. Miller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1195a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

10-20-LIFE: To invoke 10-20-Life, information must say that the Defendant “actually possessed a ‘firearm’ or ‘destructive device.’” Birch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1191a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

INFORMATION-DEFECT: Information is not fatally defective for failing to use the term “constructive possession.” It is advisable to present special interrogatories separately from verdicts for underlying crimes. Birch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1191a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

LESSER INCLUDED: Court is not required to give a lesser included instruction on Reckless Driving for the underlying offense of Aggravated Assault with a Deadly Weapon. Requirement that elements of lesser offense be “specifically alleged in the information” means it is not enough that element of driving could be inferred from charging document because driving might be the most common manner in which an assault with a motor vehicle occurs. Conflict certified. Anderson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1188c (1st DCA 5/15/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to investigate sanity and competency where his attorney had serious concerns yet failed to follow through with mental health evaluation authorized by court. Akins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1187b (1st DCA 5/25/18)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The special standard of review for circumstantial evidence continues to apply, notwithstanding that Florida is only one of three states to take the “somewhat discordant” view that a special appellate standard of review applies to circumstantial criminal convictions, but a jury cannot be instructed to apply a different evaluation of circumstantial evidence. Meeks v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1185a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

FIREARMS: FSU may prohibit firearms on campus. Florida Carry, Inc. v. Thrasher, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1180b (1st DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court acted within his discretion by denying motion to amend motion for post conviction relief (Defendant did not understand Miranda because he was intoxicated), which would be otherwise time barred, where the amended motion raises new claims that do not relate back to the original timely filed motion (Defendant was never read Miranda) and are otherwise time-barred. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1180a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to investigate and call exculpatory witnesses at trial, and failing to advise defendant that court could run his sentences in one case consecutively to sentences in another. Leclaire v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1175d (2nd DCA 5/25/18)

COUNSEL: Fact that Defendant's attorney was suspended from practice at time of trial for failure to comply with CLE requirements where counsel had no knowledge of licensing deficiencies at time of trial does not deprive Defendant of effective assistance of counsel. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1172b (5th DCA 5/25/18)

IMPEACHMENT-PRIORS: It is improper to ask Defendant if he had been convicted of felonies (two) and separately if he had been convicted of crimes of dishonesty (the same two offenses) because it gives the false impression of four, rather than two, convictions. Error is not fundamental. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1172b (5th DCA 5/25/18)

DISMISSAL: Court may not dismiss information charging defendant with DWLS on basis that defendant had his license back and no longer deserved to be prosecuted. State v. Snook, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1170b (5th DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that that counsel was ineffective for failure to investigate and call exculpatory witnesses at trial. Tolliver v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1170a (5th DCA 5/25/18)

ATTORNEY-DISCIPLINE: Attorney disbarred for having sex with two inmates, one for money and the other for a reduced legal fee. The Florida Bar v. Blackburn, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S248a (FLA 5/24/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Recantation of testimony is insufficient to warrant a new trial where the witness is deemed incredible. Sweet v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S243a (FLA 5/24/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: To obtain a new trial based on newly discovered evidence, a defendant must meet two requirements : First, the evidence must not have been known by the trial court, the party, or counsel at the time of trial, and it must appear that the defendant or defense counsel could not have known of it by the use of diligence. Second, the newly discovered evidence must be of such nature that it would probably produce an acquittal on retrial. Sweet v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S243a (FLA 5/24/18)

AMENDMENT-JURY INSTRUCTIONS-PREMEDITATED AND FELONY MURDER: “If you return a verdict of guilty to the charge of First Degree Murder, it is not necessary that all of you agree the State proved First Degree Premeditated Murder and it is not necessary that all of you agree the State proved First Degree Felony Murder. Instead, what is required is that all of you agree the State proved either First Degree Premeditated Murder or First Degree Felony Murder.” In re-Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S242a (FLA 5/24/18)

PRO SE FILINGS-PROHIBITION: Court may not prohibit pro se filings without notice and opportunity to respond. Massaro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1169a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

VIOLENT OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Upon revocation of probation, there is no requirement that court hold separate evidentiary hearing before finding that defendant posed a danger to community and was a VFOSC. Smith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1168a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

RECONSIDERATION OF MOTION TO SUPPRESS: The standard for reconsidering a motion to suppress based on new evidence is a balancing test, not the standard for newly discovered evidence for post conviction relief (whether evidence was ascertainable before). The rights of a defendant to due process and effective assistance of counsel should outweigh any need for finality with respect to an interlocutory suppression ruling. Cledenord v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1163a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

JUDGE-NEUTRALITY: A court commits fundamental error by abandoning its neutral role and assuming the role of the prosecutor in a VOP hearing. A judge may ask questions designed to make previously received ambiguous testimony clear, but the capacity to clear up ambiguous or confusing testimony is not an invitation to trial judges to supply essential elements in the state's case. Parr v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1161a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

QUOTATION: “This Court is committed to the doctrine that every litigant is entitled to nothing less than the cold neutrality of an impartial judge. It is the duty of Courts to scrupulously guard this right and to refrain from attempting to exercise jurisdiction in any matter where his qualification to do so is seriously brought in question. The exercise of any other policy tends to discredit the judiciary and shadow the administration of justice.” Parr v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1161a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

SEARCH WARRANT: Detective has authority to be affiant on search warrants and their accompanying affidavits in counties outside his jurisdiction where detective was investigating a case that originated in his own jurisdiction. State v. Stouffer, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1157b (4th DCA 5/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying claim that counsel was ineffective for failure to raise double jeopardy claims upon determining that such claim failed as matter of law because defendant entered into negotiated plea. Graham v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1157a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

VAGUENESS: Court erred in dismissing charge of operating an unlicensed pain management clinic on grounds of vagueness because the terms “primarily” and “pain” are undefined. The Court improperly conflated the as-applied and facial vagueness challenges, addressing them as one and the same. An “as applied” challenge requires an evidentiary hearing and findings of fact. State v. Crumbley, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1155c (2nd DCA 5/23/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment of SYG statute which shifted burden of proof from defendant to state does not apply retroactively. Bailey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1153b (3rd DCA 5/23/18)

DRIVER'S LICENSE REVOCATION: Where licensee was arrested on two separate occasions within a short period of time for driving under the influence, and was later convicted of both offenses on the same day, his license was properly revoked for a period of 5 years pursuant to statute providing for 5-year suspension upon a second conviction for an offense that occurs within a period of 5 years after the date of a prior conviction. Section 322.28(2)(e) creates the legal fiction that the earlier offense is a “prior conviction.” Boulineau v. DHSMV, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1141a (1st DCA 5/18/18)

DICTIONARY WARS: To “deem” is “to treat (something) as if it were really something else.” Boulineau v. DHSMV, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1141a (1st DCA 5/18/18)

COMPETENCY: Conviction reversed where defendant was found incompetent a year and a half before trial, and record does not contain a subsequent order finding him competent. Jones v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1140e (1st DCA 5/18/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by finding defendant competent to proceed based upon parties’ stipulation rather than making independent determination. Burney v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D 1 1 3 9 b (5 t h D C A 5 / 1 8 / 1 8)

DEATH PENALTY-DISPROPORTIONATE: Death penalty is not disproportionate where the co-defendant's life sentence was the result of a plea agreement or for purely legal reasons. Walton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S237a (FLA 5/17/18)

COSTS-INDIGENT DEFENDANT: Indigent defendants represented by private counsel pro bono are entitled to file motions pertaining to appointment and costs of experts, mitigation specialists, and investigators ex parte and under seal, with service to Justice Administrative Commission and notice to State Attorney's Office, and to have any hearing on such motion ex parte, with only the defendant and the Commission present. Andrews v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S228b (FLA 5/17/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-APPEAL: Court has no jurisdiction to rule on motion for post conviction relief where an appeal of an earlier motion raising substantially similar claims is pending. Hill v. Jones, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1136b (1st DCA 5/17/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions on two counts of resisting office without violence violate double jeopardy where there is a single criminal episode and a single criminal act, here, running away and struggling on the ground when caught. A continuous resistance to an ongoing attempt to effectuate a person's arrest or detainment constitutes only one single instance of resisting an officer. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1136a (1st DCA 5/17/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions on counts of sale of meth and count of meth do not violate double jeopardy where offenses are

JOA-GRAND THEFT: Defendant who never deposited restaurant money she was to take to the bank may be convicted of grand theft. Crenshaw v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1135a (1st DCA 5/17/18)

VOP-(DISSENT): “Simple economic realities suggest that a household overseen by an impoverished twenty-something single mom with three young children subsisting on government programs in a challenging job market is not a great candidate for significant discretionary cash flow. . .Simply because a financially indigent mom receives a smidgen of cash from a part-time seasonal janitorial job doesn’t mean she can spare a dime in the face of pressing family financial duties or debts.” Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1130a (1st DCA 5/17/18)

GRAND THEFT-VALUE: Evidence was insufficient to establish that the value of a stolen used I-phone 6 was in excess of $300 based on unobjected testimony that the Victim and his mother “checked online how much a used phone with . .

. no damage . . . would be worth” and said $340.00. D.D. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1126c (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to move to dismiss information charging defendant with DWLS when he never possessed a Florida driver's license, notwithstanding that he pled to the charge. Myers v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1126b (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

JOA-PARAPHERNALIA: Juvenile entitled to judgment of dismissal on two counts of possession of drug paraphernalia where evidence failed to establish that residue on alleged paraphernalia was a controlled substance. R.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1126a (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences are unlawful when weapon was not discharged. Jennings v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1125a (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

IMPEACHMENT-HOSTILE WITNESS: Court erred by not allowing Defendant to call two witnesses-one of whom denied being offered money by the victim's family to implicate the Defendant, and the second that the first excluded witness had told him he had been offered money. Due process allows calling a hostile witness in order to impeach him by prior inconsistent statements. Brooks v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1123e (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: Fourth Amendment does not prohibit a warrantless blood draw of an unconscious person, incapable of giving actual consent, be pursuant to §316.1932(1)(c). Question certified. McGraw v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1122b (4th DCA 5/16/18) Speedy Trial: Provision of speedy trial rule providing for 90-day speedy trial extension in cases where a trial has been delayed by an “appeal” by the state applies whenever a trial has been delayed by an appeal, including petitions for extraordinary writs. DISCOVERY-MEDICAL EXAM OF VICTIM: Court cannot compel victim to submit to a neurological examination to determine whether he can be present at the trial. The exam infringes upon the victim's right to remain inviolate from an invasive examination not authorized or required by law. State v. Kersting, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1112a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-TIMELINESS: Supplemental motion was both authorized and timely where motion was considered filed on date of stamp from the prison mail system and defendant submitted his supplemental motion days before court ordered state to respond to his original post conviction motion. Haspel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1111a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Any error in admitting a multi-colored ski mask that was not used in the crime and by permitting an expert witness to testify to an area outside of his expertise is waived. "Because most of the issues were not properly preserved for review, we affirm and we write to once more impress upon counsel the duty to be mindful of preserving the right to appeal, particularly within the rigors of an ongoing jury trial." Pierre v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1110b (4th DCA 5/16/18)

SCORESHEET: Any error in scoresheet is irrelevant because record shows that trial judge would have imposed same sentence regardless. Henion v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1110a (4th DCA 5/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call alibi witness was facially sufficient where defendant identified witness, specified content of witness's testimony, alleged that witness was available to testify at trial, and sufficiently alleged that failure to call witness resulted in prejudice. McCullough v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1109a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

JURY INSTRUCTION-ALTERNATE THEORY: Court did not err in giving instruction on the dual theories of premeditation and felony murder where state presented two legally adequate grounds for first-degree murder, premeditation and felony murder. Vassor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1107a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

LESSER INCLUDED: Court did not err by denying request for instruction on permissive lesser-included offense of battery where charging document did not allege that defendant's touching of stepdaughter's breasts was against stepdaughter's will. Stoffel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1099f (1st DCA 5/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FINGERPRINTS: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on his claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to properly challenge sufficiency of fingerprint evidence. Where fingerprint evidence is relied upon to establish that the defendant committed the crime, the circumstances must be such that the print could have been made only at the time the crime was committed. O'Steen v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1099e (1st DCA 5/16/18)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE: Where jury found defendant possessed firearm but did not find he discharged it, it was error to sentence defendant to consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for multiple offenses committed during the same criminal episode. Durant v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1098a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

CHILD HEARSAY: Court's conclusory ruling that child hearsay is admissible is inartful but adequate. Roberts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1094a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

COURT RECORDS-CONFIDENTIALITY: Online blog post, including mug shot from a prior criminal proceeding, since sealed, was not a court record connected with the official business of a judicial branch entity. Rivero v. Farach, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1091a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

INTERFERING WITH CUSTODY: Defendant who attempted to get minor into his car by offering him money was properly convicted of interfering with custody of a minor . It is not required that minor be physically taken from his parents' custody. Lindemuth v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1081a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR: The finding of facts on aggravating circumstances and mitigating factors was for purposes of determining whether to impose a life sentence for a minor does not need to be found by a jury. Apprendi inapplicable. Hernandez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1079a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

EVIDENCE: First Amendment does not prohibit admission of Defendant's preference for "death/metal music," including songs with lyrics detailing slashing of victims' throats where his continued interest in violent music and lyrics replicating the horrific murder and attempted murder he committed were directly relevant to his lack of remorse, his indifference to the suffering of the victims and their families, and Hernandez's prospects for rehabilitation. Hernandez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1079a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

WITNESS TAMPERING: State is not required to prove that victim was attempting to contact law enforcement at the time defendant attempted to intimidate, use physical force, or threaten the victim. Conflict certified. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1073a (2nd DCA 5/11/18)

QUOTATION: "I . . .note that as a visiting judge, I necessarily wear the home team's jersey and thereby agree with my Second District colleagues to certify conflict in this case with McCray v. State,. . . , a decision of my native court. . .In short, . . . a . . .reasonable person. . .must follow the maxim, ‘When in Rome, do as the Romans do,’ which is “classically stated, ‘Si fueris Romae, Romano vivito more; si fueras alibi, vivito sicut ibi.’ St. Ambrose (c. 340-397). . .Stated differently, “should you be in the Second District, live in the Second District’s manner; should you be elsewhere, live as they do there.” Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1073a (2nd DCA 5/11/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Failure to object to omission of justifiable and excusable homicide instructions in a manslaughter case is remediable under rule 3.850 based on ineffective assistance of counsel where evidence at trial could have supported defense of justifiable or excusable homicide and defendant was actually convicted of manslaughter. Arteaga v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1066a (2nd DCA 5/11/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Statutory amendment which changes burden of proof from defendant to state at Stand Your Ground immunity hearing is not unconstitutional as a violation of separation of powers, but the amendment does not apply retroactively to a crime committed prior to the enactment of the amendment. Conflict certified. Love v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1065b (3rd DCA 5/11/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request an independent act instruction. Maxwell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1064d (5th DCA 5/11/18)

COMPETENCY: Where trial court had previously found defendant incompetent to proceed and committed defendant to DCF, and mental health professionals filed report representing that defendant's competency had been restored, trial court committed fundamental error when it found defendant competent to proceed based upon stipulation of parties and expert's report which court had not reviewed, rather than making its own independent determination regarding defendant's competency. The court must always make an independent determination as to a defendant's competency to proceed. Accepting a stipulation of the parties as to competency is not permitted. Bynum v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1063a (5th DCA 5/11/18)

NELSON HEARING: Court erred by failing to conduct adequate Nelson inquiry before discharging defendant's fourth court-appointed counsel and instead proceeding directly to Faretta hearing. Webb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1062a (5th DCA 5/11/18)

SENTENCE REVIEW-MINOR: Defendant who was sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment for attempted felony murder and a concurrent fifteen-year sentence for attempted armed robbery committed when he was a juvenile is entitled to resentencing where he was sentenced after the sentence review stature for crimes committed before and the sentences provided for no judicial review to allow early release. Morris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S223a (FLA 5/10/18)

RULES-AMENDMENT-RECIPROCAL DISCOVERY: Only reports or statements of experts that the defendant intends to use at a hearing or at trial must be disclosed to the prosecutor. In Re : Amendments to R. 3.220, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S222b (FLA 5/10/18)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Human Trafficking instruction amended. 43 Fla. L. Weekly S222a (FLA 5/10/18)

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: Burglary with Assault of Battery is not a qualifying offense for PRR. The use or threat of physical force or violence must be a necessary element of the crime, and if the crime may be committed without the “use or threat of physical force or violence,” then that crime does not qualify. Crosley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1055a (1st DCA 5/10/18)

COMPETENCY: A defendant’s placement in a secure facility may not exceed the maximum sentence for the crime for which the defendant was charged. Court is not required to terminate jurisdiction for involuntarily committed incompetent defendant where counts, if structured consecutively, would not exceed the statutory maximum. Rule of lenity does not apply to commitments under section 916.303, since statute does not reflect intent to punish. Vansmith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1053a (1st DCA 5/10/18)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: JOA is required when the court is of the opinion that the evidence is insufficient to warrant a conviction; a motion for new trial should be granted when the verdict is contrary to law or the weight of the evidence. Bell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1052c (1st DCA 5/10/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-RESIDENCE-CONSENT: Previous encounters between narcotics agents and former owner of property in which former owner gave agents authority to enter property and proceed to side door of main house and then to barn if no one responded to knock on side door not basis for denying motion to suppress where consent was given approximately 3 years prior to date of search. Osorio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1043a (4th DCA 5/9/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-RESIDENCE-REASONABLE EXPECTATION OF PRIVACY: Defendant has a reasonable expectation of privacy as to side door of main house or barn where property was posted with “No Trespassing” signs and there was an aggressive pitbull roaming the property. Officers are not permitted to exit the front door area and physically enter or look into other portions of the home or its curtilage pursuant to a “knock and talk.” Osorio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1043a (4th DCA 5/9/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-PRE-MIRANDA STATEMENTS: Court erred in permitting officer to relate that defendant responded to question as to why he was running by stating, “I was shot at by a black male and am scared for my life.” When an officer’s questions or actions extend beyond requests for basic biographical information and could reasonably be viewed as designed to secure potential incriminating evidence, the questions or actions constitute an interrogation. Good discussion. Senser v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1040a (4th DCA 5/4/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Prosecutor's argument at sentencing that Defendant "has been afforded and given every valuable opportunity in this world. He comes from a very nice family, a very hardworking family, we're venturing to say a wealthy family, a very good-looking family, a white family, an affluent family, a wealthy family, a loving family most importantly," is improper but not reversible absent evidence that the Court was influenced thereby. Senser v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1040a (4th DCA 5/4/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE-CAUSE-FIREARM BY FELON: Court erred in denying defendant's motion to strike prospective jurors whose responses indicated that defendant's prior felony conviction would influence their ability to render fair and impartial verdict. Burgess v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1039a (4th DCA 5/9/18)

PROVIDING FALSE INFORMATION: No nexus is required between giving false information and any harm (in this case, the death of a missing child earlier). Melvin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1037c (4th DCA 5/9/18)

UPWARD DEPARTURE: Defendant was convicted of lying about the whereabouts of his missing stepdaughter, whose skeleton was found the next day buried in his back yard. Court erred in finding the Defendant a danger to the community and sentencing the Defendant to an upward departure sentence in prison. Melvin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1037c (4th DCA 5/9/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by failing to conduct competency hearing before accepting nolo contendere plea of Defendant for whom he had previously ordered a psychological evaluation of competency. Pollock v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1037a (4th DCA 5/9/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's argument that defense counsel's attack on the voluntariness of defendant's confession was a lawyering tactic was improper but harmless. Lammons v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1032a (3rd DCA 5/9/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-OBSCURED TAG: Vehicle was lawfully stopped where the word "Florida" is partially obscured (statute has since been changed effective Jan. 1, 2016). State v. Pena, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1030a (3rd DCA 5/9/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PAT DOWN: Officers who arrived at the restaurant where a large fight had been reported, and were told by a waiter that a group of people, including defendant, had been involved in the fight, had probable cause to pat down defendant based on the continued movements of his hands to the outside of the pocket of his heavy jacket. State v. Maxwell, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1028a (3rd DCA 5/9/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment to Stand Your Ground law is procedural and applies retroactively. Statutory changes to the burden of proof are invariably deemed procedural in nature for purposes of retroactive application. Question Certified. Because change in law occurred while his appeal was under appeal and was therefore pending, the change applies to Defendant. Defendant is entitled to a new SYG hearing. Martin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1016c (2nd DCA 5/4/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE:

Court erred in finding that newly discovered evidence in form of the sworn statement confessing to having committed the crimes himself was not credible without leaving an evidentiary hearing. Grays v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1015b (5th DCA 5/4/18)

MINOR-REVIEW HEARING: Where minor had originally been sentenced to a 40-year sentence followed by lifetime sex offender probation, court erred in modifying the sentence to allow for review hearing without also holding a resentencing hearing. Ruiz v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1015a (5th DCA 5/4/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-STOP AND FRISK: Possession of a concealed firearm, without more does not justify a Terry stop. Neither a tip from a restaurant employee that customer appeared to have a gun nor officer's observation of a bulge in his clothing is reasonable suspicion of criminal activity. Burnett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1014a (5th DCA 5/4/18)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Affidavit of associate medical examiner relating to the slim possibility that victim's internal genital injuries could have been caused by a kick was not newly discovered evidence that would support theory that defendant was innocent of sexual battery. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S212a (FLA 5/3/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply to defendants whose convictions became final before Ring v. Arizona. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S212a (FLA 5/3/18)

BAD DATE: “Taylor testified that when he and Birch reached the dugout they attempted to have vaginal intercourse for less than a minute. She ended the attempt at intercourse and began performing oral sex on him. According to Taylor, he complained that her teeth were irritating him and attempted to pull away. She bit down on his penis. He choked her in an attempt to get her to release him. After he succeeded in getting her to release her bite, he struck and kicked her several times in anger.” She died. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S212a (FLA 5/3/18)

RETROACTIVITY (DISSENT): Hurst should apply retroactively. Good discussion of retroactivity. “[T]hat is how the majority of this Court draws its determinative, albeit arbitrary, line. As a result, Florida will treat similarly situated defendants differently — here, the difference between life and death — for potentially the simple reason of one defendant’s docket delay. Vindication of these constitutional rights cannot be reduced to either fatal or fortuitous accidents of timing.” Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S212a (FLA 5/3/18)

RED LIGHT CAMERAS: Local government has authority under section 316.0083(1)(a), Florida Statutes (2014), to contract with a private third-party vendor to review and sort information from red light cameras. Jimenez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S199c (FLA 5/3/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply retroactively to death penalty which became final after Ring. Jones v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S199b (FLA 5/2/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply retroactively to death penalty which became final after Ring. Reaves v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S199a (FLA 5/2/18)

CTS-DETAINER: Absent the execution of an arrest warrant, a defendant who is in jail in a specific county pursuant to an arrest on one or more charges need not be given credit for time served in that county on charges in another county when the second county has only lodged a detainer against the defendant. Wood v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D996a (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel failed to advise him that self-defense was available in murder case when victim/wife stabbed him three times, injured his chin, and broke his tooth. Sosataquechel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D992c (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

RE-SENTENCING: Court erred in failing to have defendant present for resentencing after court had vacated two of five counts upon which defendant had previously been sentenced. Poma v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D992b (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-ERROR CORAM NOBIS: Court properly treated defendant's petition for writ of error coram nobis as a motion for post conviction relief and denied it as untimely. A petition for writ of error coram nobis must satisfy the two-year limitation of rule 3.850. Kemp v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D992a (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION-FIREARM: Evidence that juvenile was sole occupant of the back seat of a vehicle occupied by two other persons and that a firearm was on the back seat in the vicinity of juvenile was insufficient to prove that juvenile was in actual or constructive possession of firearm where there was no evidence that juvenile had dominion and control over firearm. Conflict certified. D.V. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D988a (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

MINOR SENTENCED AS ADULT: Where defendant was sentenced under statute which required sentencing court to make "suitability determination" regarding imposition of adult sanctions, but did not require consideration of individualized factors required by Miller v. Alabama, defendant entitled to new sentencing hearing on remand. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D985b (2nd DCA 5/2/18)

COSTS: Costs stricken for failure to cite statutory authority in written cost order. Greene v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D985a (2nd DCA 5/2/18)

DISCOVERY: Burglary conviction reversed where State falsely and repeatedly told defense counsel that it had no DNA report and that no DNA testing had occurred. DNA report showed another person's DNA was found at the crime scene. Denton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D983a (4th DCA 5/4/18)

DISORDERLY CONDUCT-JOA: JOA for disorderly conduct is required where Defendant became loud and boisterous and cussed out cops when store refused to sell him a lizard. Mere boisterous behavior, even if it disrupts the operations of a business and draws onlookers' attention, is not by itself enough to sustain a disorderly conduct conviction. Defendant's act of punching cop upon arrest cannot be considered in determining whether his previous behavior amounted to disorderly conduct. St. Fleury v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D979a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

JIMMY RYCE: 19-month-old evaluation is not too stale to preclude the defendant being involuntarily committed as a sexually violent predator. Stengel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D978a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

EVIDENCE-FACEBOOK: Facebook video showing the Defendant sitting in the stolen car and wearing the victim's stolen watch is admissible in carjacking case. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

EVIDENCE-AUTHENTICATION-FACEBOOK: Social media videos are admissible in criminal cases based on sufficient evidence that the video depicts what the government claims, even though government did not call creator of videos, search the device which was used to create the videos, or obtain information directly from social media website. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

BEST EVIDENCE RULE: Best Evidence Rule does not preclude witness from identifying Defendant from a Facebook video where the original evidence was available and presented. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

EXPERT: The fact that the digital forensic examiner, while describing his actions, also explained for the jury how Facebook videos are broadcast and then saved to a Facebook profile timeline, did not convert his factual testimony into expert testimony. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18) FACEBOOK

VIDEO-AUTHENTICATION: Authentication of a video is satisfied by evidence sufficient to support a finding that the matter in question is what its proponent claims. The mere fact that an item appears online does not make it self-authenticating, but authentication is a low threshold and can be satisfied by testimony that a witness downloaded a Facebook video. Proponent of Facebook video does not require testimony from someone who recorded the video or who appeared in the video. If the video's distinctive characteristics and content, in conjunction with circumstantial evidence, are sufficient to authenticate the video, then the government has met its authentication burden.

Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

IDENTIFICATION: Non-eyewitnesses may testify as to the identification of persons depicted or heard on a recording so long as it is clear the witness is in a better position than the jurors to make those determinations. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

DARWIN AWARD WINNER: The defendant appeared in the Facebook video just a few hours after the first carjacking, and less than an hour after the second carjacking, driving the first victim's car, wearing the first victim's watch, and stating "we live" when the video was recording, while a codefendant counted the first victim's money. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: 30-year prison sentence for nonhomicide if committed by a minor does not violate the 8th amendment or Graham. Defendant is not entitled to sentence review. Florida Supreme Court has not plainly required that all term-of-years-juvenile offender sentences provide an mechanism for early release. "While the Court does not believe that the Supreme Court has yet to mandate resentencing of all juveniles sentenced to a term of years without a review mechanism, this issue is ripe for appellate guidance. Certainly there is considerable confusion surrounding the status of juvenile offenders whose original sentences did not violate Graham."

Conflict certified. Hart v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D970a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

PROBATION-REVOCATION-JURISDICTION: Court lacks jurisdiction to revoke probation where time spent on probation and time of incarceration exceeded the statutory maximum for the offense. Credit must be given for time previously served on probation. Coppinger v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D969b (4th DCA 5/2/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective for advising defendant to reject plea offer because he was confident he would win at trial is legally insufficient where Defendant failed to allege that State would not have withdrawn the offer and that Court would have accepted it. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D969a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-RULE 3.800(a): Rule 3.800(a) motion is not correct vehicle for challenging underlying escape conviction. De Juan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D955a (1st DCA 4/30/18)

HABITUAL VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER-PREDICATE CONVICTIONS: South Carolina crime of aggravated assault with intent to kill does not require a deadly weapon, is therefore broader than Florida's crime of aggravated assault, and accordingly cannot be used as a predicate conviction for purpose of the Habitual Violent Felony Offender designation. Underlying factor not determinative of whether it qualifies as a predicate offense. Crimes are not substantially similar. Howard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D954a (1st DCA 4/30/18)

APRIL 2018

TRANSFERRED INTENT-BATTERY SCHOOL EMPLOYEE: Evidence was sufficient that the juvenile intended the teacher, not just the other student with whom he was fighting, so that transferred intent does not apply, and the Child is appropriately convicted of the felony offense. If the doctrine of transferred intent applied, the child could only be convicted of a misdemeanor battery. T.K. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D951b (1st DCA 4/30/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to verdict form. Thomas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D948a (5th DCA 4/27/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call witness to testify that Defendant did not possess firearm, notwithstanding that the witness had made an inconsistent but explainable prior inconsistent statement. McIntosh v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D947c (5th DCA 4/27/18)

MINOR-JUDICIAL REVIEW: Defendant receives a lengthy sentence for the offense committed by juveniles entitled to a full sentencing review hearing. Maxwell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D947b (5th DCA 4/27/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant's waiver of post-conviction proceedings precludes him from claiming relief under Hurst. Trease v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S192a (FLA 4/26/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply retroactively to a sentence final prior to Ring v. Arizona. Evans v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S186b (FLA 4/26/18)

APPEALS: Court lacks jurisdiction to review order deciding that defendant was not entitled to post conviction discovery. Robinson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D944c (1st DCA 4/25/18)

APPEALS: Appellate Court lacks jurisdiction to consider defendant's argument that trial court erred by imposing restitution after he had filed notice of appeal of convictions and sentences where order in question was filed after the Defendant filed his notice of appeal and the Defendant failed to file a separate notice of appeal of the challenging the restitution order. Okashah v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D944a (1st DCA 4/25/18)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL-BURGLARY: Evidence was sufficient to disprove affirmative defense that defendant had consent to enter unoccupied home because he knew homeowner and had dated homeowner's sister. Dubois v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D943b (1st DCA 4/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-RULE 3.800: Defendant cannot challenge habitual offender sentence under 3.800 by attacking the conviction used to habitualizing him. Smith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D939a (1st DCA 4/25/18)

ALLOCUTION: Court erred in failing to provide defendant opportunity to make an allocution following violation of probation hearing and prior to sentencing. A criminal defendant prior to sentencing has the opportunity to make an unsworn statement to the sentencing judge in allocution. Hill v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D925a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

COMPETENCY: Court did not err by relying on police reports where Defendant did not object, and in fact offered his own stale reports in evidence. Bittle v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D924a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

HEARSAY-FORFEITURE BY WRONGDOING: Suspicious jail phone calls is insufficient to establish that Defendant calls the witness to be absent for the trial; Court's ruling that Victim's sworn statements were admissible on that basis was erroneous. Joseph v. State, (4th DCA 4/25/18)

EVIDENCE-RAPE SHIELD LAW: Court did not abuse discretion in refusing to allow defendant to cross-exam victim on her prior allegations of rape against Defendant and her employer, even though rape shield law was inapplicable; allegations were irrelevant. Rape Shield Law only applies to consensual sexual activity with someone other than the Defendant. Gomez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D919a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

HEARSAY-SEXUALLY VIOLENT PREDATORS: Jimmy Ryce commitment reversed where court allowed hearsay testimony on the alleged facts underlying three prior arrests for sex offenses, two of which were No Info'ed and one which resulted in a conviction for simple battery. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D918a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's comments on the Defendant's failure to respond to accusations in a phone call with his wife was an improper comment on silence and an improper shifting of the burden of proof. An argument emphasizing a defendant's failure to proclaim his innocence is the equivalent of a burdenshifting argument. Good discussion. Lenz v. State, Fla. L. Weekly D915b (4th DCA 4/25/18)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Defense counsel's strike of a female flag football coach was not pretextual. Court's failure to engage in a meaningful genuineness analysis is reversible error. Lenz v. State, Fla. L. Weekly D915b (4th DCA 4/25/18)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: Court's failure to articulate the standard applied ruling on motion for new trial is not preserved for review by objection nor did it rise to fundamental error. "Here, the trial court did not make any eyebrow-raising comment." Court's failure to articulate the standard it applied when ruling on motion was not preserved for review by objection and did not rise to level of fundamental error. Mitchell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D914a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The claim that Defendant would not have pled guilty and wouldn't have proceeded to trial if he knew that DNA evidence was inaccurate sufficient to warrant an evidentiary hearing. Theodore v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D912a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

HARMLESS ERROR: Failure to suppress the Defendant's 3rd interview with police, conducted after an attorney was trying to invoke his right to remain silent, was harmless since it already confessed in the 2nd interview. Santos v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D910b (4th DCA 4/25/18)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: Court exceeded its jurisdiction by requiring DCF to involuntarily commit Defendant, an octogenarian with dementia and eight undersized lobsters, to a mental hospital, where there is no evidence as to potential probability that he would regain competency in the reasonably foreseeable future. DCF v. Garcia, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D882a (3rd DCA 4/24/18)

ILLEGAL SENTENCE: Alleged defect in information which did not give notice of potential enhanced sentence does not make sentence illegal. Cannot be corrected under 3.800. Sharpe v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D880d (1st DCA 4/20/18)

SENTENCING: Oral pronouncement of credit time served controls over written order. Carter v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D880a (1st DCA 4/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: HVFO must be orally pronounced. Motion to correct based on alleged failure to orally pronounce HFVO designation cannot be denied without attachment of transcript refuting claim. Jones v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D878b (1st DCA 4/20/18)

JUDGMENT NON OBSTANTE VEREDICTO: Court erred by deferring to jury verdict (“the jury did not agree. . . , so I will deny the motion” in considering whether the verdict is contrary to the manifest weight of the evidence. Jordan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D877b (1st DCA 4/20/18)

SEXUAL PREDATOR: An adjudication of delinquency counts as a prior (though not a substantive offense) for purposes of sexual predator designation. Frandi v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D876a (1st DCA 4/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may not deny 3.800 as successive where specific issue had not been raised previously. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D872a (2nd DCA 4/20/18)

PLEA-VOLUNTARINESS: Court erred in denying claim that plea was involuntary because defendant was not advised that unless sentences were ordered to be served concurrently with sentences in prior cases which defendant was serving on conditional release, the sentences would be served consecutively to the prior sentences. The imposition of consecutive sentences for offenses not charged in the same information is a direct consequence of the plea. Larson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D865f (2nd DCA 4/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failure to investigate and call material witness was sufficient to require attachment of portions of record. Anderson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D864b (5th DCA 4/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing or attachment of records on allegation that counsel misadvised that Defendant would not be sentenced to more than his codefendants. Byron v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D864a (5th DCA 4/20/18)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER: Aggravated assault with a deadly weapon is a qualifying offense for Violent Felony Offender; Aggravated assault with the intent to commit a felony is not. McNair v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D863a (5th DCA 4/20/18)

SELF-DEFENSE: JOA is properly denied where evidence of self-defense is equivocal. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S183a (FLA 4/19/18)

SENTENCING-MINOR: Defendant who was sentenced to thirty-five years' imprisonment for murder committed when defendant was a

COMPETENCY: Court may not sentence Defendant without holding a competency hearing after appointing expert for that purpose. Saunders v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D848a (4th DCA 4/18/18)

COMPETENCY: Competency evaluation is not required on the sole basis that the Defendant takes psychotropic medication. Castillo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D845b (4th DCA 1/18/18)

SENTENCING: Where information charged defendant with simple third-degree felony sale or delivery of MDMA in one count, but designation "(F2)" was added at end of count, leading to a plea of no contest to that incorrectly classified charge, proper remedy is to reverse sentence on that count. Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D842a (4th DCA 4/18/18)

RESTITUTION: Court abused its discretion by requiring defendant to pay restitution in amount of estimated cost to repair damage to vehicle rather than on fair market value at time of loss where no repairs were made or intended to be made. Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D841a (4th DCA 4/18/18)

BURGLARY IN EXCESS OF $1000: Defendant cannot be sentenced to the enhancement of burglary for damage of more than $1000 defendant was convicted one burglary, the repairs exceeded $2000, but was not apportioned between the burglary he was convicted for and that for which he was noticed. Elliot v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D839a (4th DCA 4/18/18)

COSTS: Court erred in imposing Public defender fees above the statutory minimum without notice and an opportunity to be heard. Fournier v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D836a (4th DCA 4/18/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Handcuffing juvenile during the stop did not impermissibly convert the stop into an arrest. Juvenile defendant properly detained and handcuffed for walking in parking lot pulling on car door handles. I.G. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D832a (3rd DCA 4/18/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Heggs error must be raised within two years. Distinguishes between a “could-have-been-imposed” standard and a “would have-been-imposed” standard. Masis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D830a (3rd DCA 4/18/18)

WITHDRAW PLEA: Where defendant pled to one count in return for the state’s nolle pross of another count and later withdrew her plea, the State may proceed on the original information without having to file a new information. When a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is withdrawn and accepted by the court, it is as if the plea had never been entered ab initio. Small v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D819a (2nd DCA 4/18/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for not objecting to State’s missed representations of evidence. Weitz v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D818a (2nd DCA 4/18/18)

COMPETENCY: Court must enter written, not just in oral, determination of competency. Sallee v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D817a (2nd DCA 4/18/18)

DWLS: Defendant cannot be convicted of DWLS as a habitual traffic offender when he had never had a Florida driver's license. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D802a (1st DCA 4/18/18)

UPWARD DEPARTURE: §775.082, which authorizes trial judge rather than jury to make finding that defendant poses a danger to public and to impose a state prison where scoresheet points are 22 or fewer, is unconstitutional under Sixth Amendment. What's relevant for Sixth Amendment purposes is not the maximum sentence a statute may authorize with additional fact-finding; it is what may be imposed without the judge making her own findings. "The central point of Apprendi and Blakely is that any fact in a judicial proceeding — excepting the fact of a prior conviction — that is used to increase a penalty for a crime beyond the relevant statutory maximum is unconstitutional because a jury, and not a judge, is entrusted with that responsibility under the Sixth Amendment." Conflict certified. Booker v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D795a (1st DCA 4/18/18)

APPEAL-MOOTNESS: Appeal of sentence is moot where defendant has already served the sentence. Jones v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D794b (1st DCA 4/17/18)

10-20-LIFE-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: Under statute in effect at time defendant committed offenses, aggravated assault was included in list of enumerated felonies for which mandatory minimum sentences were required, and subsequent amendment of statute removing aggravated assault from that list did not apply to resentencing. Sheaffers v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D794a (1st DCA 4/17/18)

RESISTING WITH VIOLENCE: Officers were in the lawful performance of legal duty when they accompanied DCF on a welfare check and entered the backyard after the Defendant had previously threatened to “dismember DCF employees and to throw their body parts into a neighbor’s yard if DCF entered his home.” Exigent circumstances existed. Sosnowski v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D789a (1st DCA 4/17/18)

JOA: JOA is properly denied where witnesses saw Defendant firing gun and throwing bricks thru the window the trailer; conflicting testimony is not the basis for judgment of acquittal. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D788e (1st DCA 4/17/18)

LEAVING SCENE OF CRASH: Defendant cannot be convicted of leaving the scene of a crash causing damage where there is no damage to the building with which the defendant of his vehicle collided. Dortch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D786a (2nd DCA 4/13/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATORY STOP: One may not be detained on the basis of reasonable suspicion of one’s companion, who wore a “potsmoking sailor hair design,” whatever that is. Johns v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D784a (2nd DCA 4/13/18)

CHILD PORN: State is not required to use an expert to establish the age of the actors in alleged child porn; jury may make that determination. Krise v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D782e (5th DCA 4/13/18)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: Court must enter a written order reflecting finding of competency. Pavilus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D782b (5th DCA 4/13/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call witness to establish that he did not shoot the victim. Harris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D781d (5th DCA 4/13/18)

VOP-HEARSAY: Victim's testimony that she was in an altercation with the Defendant is insufficient to establish the commission of a battery, the basis for the VOP. Crawford v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D780a (5th DCA 4/13/18)\

DEFINITIONS: "Altercation" is a "vehement dispute; a noisy argument." An altercation does not equate to the commission of the battery. Crawford v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D780a (5th DCA 4/13/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Death penalty is affirmed where some aggravating factors are stricken but others support the sentence. Hall v. State, Fla. L. Weekly S178a (FLA 4/12/18)

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS: Claim that offense as charged in information is barred by statute of limitations must raise issue in trial court in order to preserve issue for appeal. State v. Smith, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S177a (FLA 4/12/18)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: Court need not apply the Flynn effect to reduce IQ scores. Quince v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S175a (FLA 4/12/18)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Youthful Offender can be sentenced to more than 6 years in prison for a violation of probation for the commission of the new criminal act, even if the criminal charge is Nolle Prossed. Ramirez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D779b (3rd DCA 4/11/18)

RE-CROSS: Court does not abuse discretion in denying request to re-cross a witness where he had an opportunity to cover the material on his initial cross-examination. Tennyson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D775b (3rd DCA 4/11/18)

TRESPASS: Juvenile does not commit trespass when the building entered, which was under construction, did not have a roof on it yet. E.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D775a (3rd DCA 4/11/18)

MISTRIAL: Court did not abuse discretion by denying motion for mistrial based on officer briefly commenting on victim's believability where a curative instruction was promptly given and there was other substantial evidence corroborating the victim's story. Blackwood v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D771c (4th DCA 4/11/18)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Youthful Offender statute is not unconstitutional for AID limitations only applying at the time of sentencing, rather than at the time of the offense. Defendant who was 21 at the time of sentencing is not entitled to Youthful Offender Sentencing. Blackwood v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D771c (4th DCA 4/11/18)

SENTENCING-FRAGMENTED SENTENCE: Court imposed an illegal fragmented sentence where it ordered sentences for 2 convictions to run concurrently in part and consecutively in part. Defendant has a right to pay his debt to society in one stretch, not in bits and pieces. Smith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D771a (4th DCA 4/11/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DUI-RECKLESS DRIVING: Separate charges for DUI and reckless driving do not violate Double Jeopardy. Anguille v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D768a (4th DCA 10/11/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for both the serious bodily injury and the property damage of the victim violate Double Jeopardy. Anguille v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D768a (4th DCA 10/11/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for unlawful use of two-way communications device and traveling to meet minor during same time period violate double jeopardy. Kania v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D767a (2nd DCA 4/11/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel is not ineffective for failing to call DNA expert to show that he was excluded as contributor to amylase in the underwear of one of 3 victims where he could not show there is a reasonable likelihood that the outcome of the trial would be different had expert been called. Renfro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D764a (1st DCA 4/10/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for not objecting when State had the court reporter read portions of the motion to suppress of Defendant's testimony from the suppression hearing during the trial. A defendant's testimony during a hearing on a motion to suppress may not be entered into evidence against him in a subsequent trial. Andrews v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D763a (1st DCA 4/10/18)

QUOTATION: "A full reading of the transcript reflects that Appellant did not appear to be admitting guilt, but was instead confirming that the cocaine had been removed from his boxer shorts by the deputy." Andrews v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D763a (1st DCA 4/10/18)

PRR-HO: Court may not impose ten-year sentence under PRR statute for third degree felony of resisting arrest with violence, but may impose a ten-year sentence as a Habitual Offender. In doing so, the court must specify that the first five years are as a PRR. Atmore v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D753a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DUI-DWLS: Separate convictions for DUI with serious bodily injury and DWLS violate double jeopardy. Double jeopardy challenge is not waived by entering a general plea. The “single homicide rule” that the legislature did not intend to punish a single homicide under two different statutes applies even in circumstances where the double jeopardy analysis set forth in Blockburger may not grant relief. The “single homicide rule” applies to serious bodily injury as well as homicide. Marsh v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D751b (2nd D C A 4 / 6 / 1 8)

WEIGHING THE EVIDENCE: When sitting as trier of fact, court is free to disbelieve state’s witness even if that witness’s testimony is unrefuted. The mere fact that the testimony appears uncontradicted does not necessarily make it believable. Z.E. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D751a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

HEARSAY: Detective’s testimony regarding his review of D.A.V.I.D. which led to his investigation of defendant’s wife’s van is inadmissible hearsay offered to buttress state’s identification of defendant as robber who had driven vehicle to scene of robbery. State’s argument that the information was not being offered for its truth, but rather to explain the progression of the robbery’s investigation, and that the information in DAVID was simply “data” (which, presumably, made it admissible, according to the State), is unavailing. Khan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D747a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: State's question to defendant on cross-examination as to why he never relayed to detective any details about people defendant claimed would have seen him on night of robbery is an improper comment on Defendant's silence. Conviction reversed. Khan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D747a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

APPELLATE COUNSEL-INEFFECTIVENESS: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that court's error in excluding impeachment testimony was harmful as to the battery charge as well as the kidnapping charge. Musson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D745b (2nd DCA 4/6/13)

HEARSAY-IMPEACHMENT: Testimony that victim said he was going to blame the defendant because she wasn't easy target is admissible impeachment testimony, not hearsay. Musson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D745b (2nd DCA 4/6/13)

PRR-APPRENDI: Prison Releasee Re-offender Act does not require jury, rather than judge, to determine Defendant's status as PRR. Tobler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D744b (5th DCA 4/6/18)

FARETTA: Faretta inquiry conducted after defendant invoked right to self-representation was inadequate where trial court merely asked defendant's age, education, and reason defendant believed he could represent himself at change of plea hearing. Court must advise Defendant of any of the disadvantages and dangers of self-representation, or of the possible consequences of the criminal charges against him. (Tony Tatti). Scott v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D744a (5th DCA 4/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying motion alleging that DOC's calculation of gain time resulted in defendant having to serve in excess of the 18 months agreed. Court must resentence defendant in accordance with plea agreement or allow defendant to withdraw plea. Vega v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D743b (5th DCA 4/6/18)

DNA TESTING: Court erred in denying legally sufficient motion for post conviction testing of bicycle which defendant alleged was used by someone else to murder victim. "There is nothing before us refuting Lane's claims that someone else murdered the victim using the bicycle long after Lane left the victim alive and that there is a reasonable probability that DNA evidence will be found on the bicycle providing the true identity of the killer." [Colonel Mustard in the garage with the bicycle.] Lane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D743a (5th DCA 4/6/18)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Court improperly focused on defendant's ability to represent himself rather than his competence to make that decision, but the issue is moot where Defendant ultimately says he is satisfied with counsel. Bland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D742a (5th DCA 4/6/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT: Defendant's friend who answered detectives' knock on front door of defendant's residence and invited detectives to come inside (“I’ll go get him, come in.”) did not have apparent authority to consent to detectives’ entry. The mere fact that an unknown person opens the door when a police officer knocks cannot, standing alone, support a reasonable belief that the person possesses authority to consent to the officer’s entry. Walker v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D754a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Any Hurst error was harmless beyond reasonable doubt where defendant received unanimous jury recommendation of death. The lack of a mercy instruction does not change the result. Tanzi v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S173a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is entitled to a new penalty phase where death penalty was not based on a unanimous recommendation of death. State v. Smith, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S172a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is not entitled to a new penalty hearing where the jury’s recommendation of death was unanimous. The fact that the jury was told that its recommendation was merely advisory does not change the outcome. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S171a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: A new penalty hearing is required with the jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. The refusal to present mitigation does not warrant a later Hurst claim. Reynolds v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S163a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Jury instruction that the recommendation of death is only advisory cannot be the basis for a Hurst challenge. Reynolds v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S163a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Any Hurst error was harmless beyond reasonable doubt where defendant received unanimous jury recommendation of death. Johnston v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S162a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Any Hurst error was harmless beyond reasonable doubt where defendant received unanimous jury recommendation of death. Crain v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S161b (FLA 4/5/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: One is not entitled to dismissal of charges based on Double Jeopardy before trial. Boatright v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D741c (1st DCA 4/5/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for multiple firearm offenses arising from same criminal episode were impermissible where firearm was not discharged. Pointing firearm multiple times at six different victims at a single location within a short very short period of time occurred within single criminal episode. Bonner v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D739a (1st DCA 4/5/18)

APPEAL: Argument that court erred by excluding evidence of third-party DNA in victim's underwear sexual assault case cannot be raised for first time on appeal. Robinson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D738b (1st DCA 4/5/18)

EVIDENCE: Court did not abuse discretion by permitting nurse to testify that the injuries were “what you might see after forced sexual intercourse.” Robinson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D738b (1st DCA 4/5/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court did not err in denying claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to ensure that FDLE employee who discussed analysis of DNA was qualified to present this evidence where Defendant did not know whether witness was qualified or not. Redmond v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D738a (1st DCA 4/5/18)

IDENTIFICATION-SHOWUP-SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Showup identification process was unnecessarily suggestive where officer made comment to witness suggesting that defendant was involved in the crime (Cop : “I think this is going to be unusual. There are two people involved and this was the getaway driver, I think.”). Evidence seized based on arrest which was based on an unduly suggestive show-up should be suppressed. Suppression is required when an initial arrest sets in motion an unbroken chain of events, which includes the discovery of additional evidence. Willis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D736b (1st DCA 4/5/18)

HEARSAY-CHILD VICTIM: Court is not required to continue properly scheduled child-hearsay hearing to enable defendant to produce impeachment witnesses. Jenkins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D736a (1st DCA 4/5/18)

HEARSAY: No abuse of discretion in allowing unobjected-to detective's statements regarding a 911 caller's statements where the out-of-court statements did not provide any evidence of the defendant's guilt and the detective's testimony was merely duplicative of other evidence admitted. Jefferson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D729a (3rd DCA 4/4/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that scoresheet is inaccurate must be raised under 3.850, not under 3.800. Gandy v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D724c (2nd DCA 4/4/18)

SEXUAL PREDATOR: Sexual predator designation is error where the offense occurred prior to October 1, 1993. Roberts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D724b (2nd DCA 4/4/18)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Failure to object to absence of jury instruction on justifiable use of nondeadly force constituted ineffective assistance of counsel which was apparent on face of record. Dupin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D724a (2nd DCA 4/4/18)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: Court may, but is not required, to impose conditions for release for defendant who is incompetent but does not meet the criteria for commitment. State v. Spuhler, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D723a (4/4/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Interrogation at Police Department was custodial where defendant was told he was free to leave and shown where the exits were, but the clear purpose of the interview was to obtain incriminating evidence from defendant and reasonable person in defendant's situation would not have felt free to leave. Suggestions that interrogating officers could effect leniency, coupled with the representation that officer's opinion was superior to that of defendant's own counsel, amounted to outrageous police conduct, and there was a clear nexus between this outrageous conduct and defendant's confession. Wilson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D715a (2nd DCA 4/4/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court improperly considered Defendant's later arrest for cocaine in imposing sentence. Bradshaw v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D711a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court properly denied downward departure based on his funding that the incident was not isolated. Fuss v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D710b (4th DCA 4/4/18)

VIOLENT OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Court may find that Defendant is a danger to the community based on him "clocking somebody in the mouth." Smith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D710a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

EVIDENCE-JAIL CALLS-AUTHENTICATION: Audio recording of jail call was properly authenticated by testimony of records custodian explaining the three tiered verification process used to identify defendant as inmate who made the call that was ultimately admitted into evidence and played for jury. Ascencio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D708a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

JURORS-ALTERNATE: Error, if any, in allowing alternate juror in jury room after submission of the case for limited purpose of retrieving belongings and exchanging contact info from fellow jurors is not presumed absent an objection. Courts do not assume prejudice to the defendant whenever an alternate juror briefly enters the jury room at the conclusion of trial. Ascencio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D708a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

JUVENILE-SENTENCING: Court erred in committing juvenile to non-secure residential program, rather than following DJJ recommendation for probation, without making written findings to support its decision. R.LC. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D705b (4th DCA 4/4/18)

JUVENILE-ADULT COURT: Fourteen year old who has been transferred for adult prosecution in one circuit must be transferred for adult prosecution for any felonies in any other circuit. Sargeant v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D703a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

TORT-FALSE IMPRISONMENT: Plaintiff who was arrested and held for DUI with a .00 BAL and who loses false arrest claim but wins false imprisonment claim cannot be forced to pay costs to the City. City of Boca Raton v. Basso, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D702a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: For burglary of a conveyance, the minimum mandatory sentence under 10-20-Life is three years, not ten years. Wallach v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D697a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT WITH A FIREARM: Under the 10-20-Life statute aggravated assault is reclassified to a felony of the second degree with a maximum sentence of fifteen years. Wallach v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D697a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

MARCH 2018

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant who received a unanimous recommendation of death is not entitled to relief under Hurst as any error is harmless, notwithstanding that the Defendant was borderline mentally ill and failed to present mitigating evidence. Grim v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S155a (FLA 3/29/18)

HABITUAL OFFENDER-CONSECUTIVE: Court may not impose consecutive habitual violent felony offender sentences for crimes committed in the same episode. Gardiner v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D694b (1st DCA 3/29/18)

APPEALS: Appellate counsel is ineffective for failing to contest consecutive man min as HVFO for crimes committed in same episode. Marshall v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D693b (1st DCA 3/29/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Defendant's question whether he could have a lawyer ("Look, can I have a lawyer, man, 'cause y'all is tryin' to confuse me") during post-Miranda interview with law enforcement personnel was an unequivocal request for counsel. Even if inquiry were an equivocal question about a lawyer, officer was required to cease questioning and give simple and straightforward answer. A prefatory statement is subject to the following threestep analysis : (1) was the defendant referring to a constitutionally guaranteed right; (2) was the utterance a clear, bona fide question calling for an answer, not a rumination or a rhetorical question; and (3) did the officer make a goodfaith effort to give a simple and straightforward answer. Daniel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D682a (5th DCA 3/29/18)

COMPETENCY-INVOLUNTARY COMMITMENT: Court may not order involuntary commitment of an incompetent defendant absent clear and convincing evidence of prospective neglect of self or threat of harm to others. Sanders v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D678g (5th DCA 3/28/18)

APPEALS-BELATED: Petition for belated appeal is denied where commissioner appointed by the appellate court finds that Defendant did not request his attorney to file a direct appeal and his claim to the contrary is not credible. Alvarez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D676c (3rd DCA 3/28/18)

PROBATION REVOCATION-JUVENILE: Court must enter a written order as to which conditions were violated. M.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D676a (3rd DCA 3/28/18)

COMPETENCY: Court must enter written order of competency. D.Y. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D675a (3rd DCA 3/28/18)

PROBATION REVOCATION: Court may not enter a new judgment after revocation of probation. Witt v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D668b (2nd DCA 3/28/18)

SILENCE OF DEFENDANT-PRE-ARREST SILENCE: Deputy's testimony during state's case-in-chief that defendant was arrested after he failed to offer any explanation about what had happened amounted to impermissible comment on defendant's right to remain silent. The privilege against self-incrimination provided in the Florida Constitution offers more protection than the right provided in the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Urbaniak v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D667a (2nd DCA 3/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Upon violation of community control imposed upon release from prison, Court erred by not considering Defendant's claim that earlier counsel was ineffective for not arguing that he had never been on house arrest because of expiration of time due to gain time and failure to award credit for time served. Pressley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D666c (2nd DCA 3/28/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: When defendant agreed to talk with police “about certain things,” he agreed to selectively waive his right to remain silent, so statements are admissible. “Appellant admitted to swinging a machete, but claimed he had not meant to swing it at the victim. Appellant explained that he was angry because he did not want the victim to go to the prosecutor’s office and testify against him in a different case. The medical examiner testified that a cut to the victim’s neck severed her jugular vein and was the cause of her death.” Madeus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D665a (4th DCA 3/28/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE-CAUSE: Court erred by denying challenge for cause of social worker who twice stated her belief that kids don’t lie in instances of child abuse and child sexual abuse. A juror is not impartial when one side must overcome a preconceived opinion in order to prevail. Juror is not rehabilitated by saying she could follow the law. Where a defendant seeks reversal based on a claim that he was wrongfully forced to exhaust his peremptory challenges, he initially must identify a specific juror whom he otherwise would have struck peremptorily. This juror must be an individual who actually sat on the jury and whom the defendant either challenged for cause or attempted to challenge peremptorily or otherwise objected to after his peremptory challenges had been exhausted. Campbell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D661a (4th DCA 3/28/18)

VOP-JUVENILE-TOLLING: There is no tolling provision applicable to juvenile probation violation proceedings by filing an affidavit or issuing a warrant. Juvenile VOP must be by petition and sworn affidavit. An unsworn petition is insufficient. State v. T.A.K., 43 Fla. L. Weekly D658a (2nd DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for arguing or getting jury instruction on constructive possession. Haney v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D656a (2nd DCA 3/23/18)

HEARSAY: Third party's statement to witness during conversation at bar that he had committed the murder at issue and persuaded defendant to confess to it had sufficient indications of reliability and should have been admitted at trial under Chambers v. Mississippi. Although third-party confession did not qualify as declaration against penal interest for purposes of Florida hearsay exception because declarant was available to testify at trial, defendant was denied right to a fair trial by exclusion of evidence. Larry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D655a (2nd DCA 3/23/18)

ARGUMENT: New trial required where prosecutor misrepresented the law on burglary (Defendant is guilty of burglary by fleeing from police into a house) and improperly shifted burden of proof to defendant ("Think about [Defendant's] demeanor on this witness stand. He's being accused of armed burglary of a dwelling. He should be yelling, screaming 'I didn't do this.' He should be yelling and screaming. Yet, he was stuttering over his words. He couldn't even get his story out."). Roberts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D651a (5th DCA 3/23/18)

QUOTATION: "A defendant's fundamental right to present a defense 'stand[s] for naught if the prosecutor can ridicule a defense so presented, denigrate the accused for his temerity in raising the issue, and misstate the law in contradiction of the judge's instructions, as the prosecutor in this case did.” Roberts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D651a (5th DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request an alibi defense. Harris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D650a(5th DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call Defendant’s wife as an alibi witness. Castro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D649b (5th DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in denying claim of ineffective assistance where counsel failed to call witnesses that victim’s mother induced the victim to implicate the Defendant so that she could have an affair with Defendant’s friend on ground that they would not have been allowed to testify because of motion in limine, counsel inexplicably failed to oppose motion in limine, and their testimony would likely have resulted in acquittal. “Counsel herself inexplicably failed to oppose the motion in limine, stating at the hearing on the motion, ‘Your Honor, I can’t think of a legal basis for which to allow that in.’ Of course, the legal basis would have been that the testimony was relevant, going to the issues of bias and motive of the victim’s mother and the victim herself.” Fletcher v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D649a (5th DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant was entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call material witnesses. The fact that the Court asked if there were any witnesses he wanted counsel to have called and he said no is insufficient to deny a hearing. “We have previously disapproved of relying on such statements, as they may indicate the defendant’s belief that it was too late to call further witnesses.” Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D648b (5th DCA 3/23/18)

RE-CROSS EXAMINATION: Court did not abuse its discretion by refusing to allow defendant to re-cross examine victim where state did not elicit any new matter on re-direct examination, but only a detail which had been addressed in defendant’s cross-examination of witness. Castanos v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D648a (5th DCA 3/23/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Court erred in imposing consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for multiple firearm offenses which arose from same criminal episode where firearm was merely possessed but not discharged. Potchen v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D646c (5th DCA 3/23/18)

ATTORNEY DISCIPLINE: Attorney disbarred for failure to adequately supervise a non-lawyer assistant with a known history of fraud and embezzlement. “This case gives new meaning to the phrase ‘turning a blind eye.’” Attorney was “curiously uncurious.” The Florida Bar v. Gilbert, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S148c (FLA 3/22/18)

DISQUALIFICATION: Judge who announced after trial, but prior to sentencing, that he would recuse himself from further proceedings did not commit reversible error by failing to articulate specific reasons for his recusal. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D646a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG SNIFF: Officers who stopped vehicle in apartment complex parking lot after observing defendant driving without a seatbelt and who placed defendant under arrest for driving without a license within two minutes of initial stop did not violate Fourth Amendment by initiating dog sniff of vehicle 20 minutes later. Jefferson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D645a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

JOA-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: Victim's testimony that Defendant (his father) lunged at him with the cane during a verbal altercation and that both men then stepped backward did not establish that defendant used cane in manner likely to produce death or great bodily harm. ("I open the door, tell him to leave, start cussing each other, and then he gets mad and lunges at me with his cane. I step back to nail him, and he stepped back himself, and then we cussed each other some more.") Wallace v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D642a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

JOA-POSSESSION WITH INTENT TO SELL: $42 and a small box in his pocket holding methamphetamine and eight cocaine rocks of different sizes not individually packaged is insufficient to prove intent to sell. McFarlane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D640b (2nd DCA 3/21/18)

HABITUAL OFFENDER: One cannot be habitualized for simple possession of cocaine. Hubbard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D640a (2nd DCA 3/21/18)

COSTS: Court erred by imposing court costs for possession offense after imposing costs under the same statutory provision for companion felony charge. Anguille v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D630b (4th DCA 3/21/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Resentencing required where trial court was under mistaken belief that it was required by 10-20-Life statute to impose mandatory minimum sentences consecutively. Consecutive minimum terms of imprisonment for multiple offenses are not required by the 10-20-Life statute, but are permissible, when the offenses arise from a single criminal episode. Villanueva v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D630a (4th DCA 3/21/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: Warrantless blood draw of unconscious person, incapable of giving actual consent, may be made pursuant to §316.1932(1)(c), which provides that person incapable of refusal by reason of unconsciousness is deemed not to have withdrawn consent to blood draw and testing. Implied consent law which does not impose a criminal penalty for refusing a blood draw is not an unlawful search. Good discussion. McGraw v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D618a (4th DCA 3/21/18)

SENTENCING-YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Resentencing required before a different judge where trial court refused to consider request for youthful offender sentence made by defendant who was 17 years old at time of offense based upon trial court's stated policy of not allowing youthful offender sentences in cases involving death. Desantis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D613a (4th DCA 3/21/18)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Court's failure to orally pronounce certain special conditions need not be stricken where Defendant filed a motion to correct the error, even though court did not correct it. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D608b (2nd DCA 3/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to comments by state in cross-examination and closing argument attempting to shift burden of proof, expressing prosecutor's personal opinions, and misstating the law. Connelly v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D601a (5th DCA 3/16/18)

AGREEMENT: Agreement between defendant and state attorney for one judicial circuit where some of acts occurred for state not to seek the death penalty in exchange for defendant's cooperation in finding body of murder victim was binding on state attorney for a different judicial circuit. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S135a (FLA 3/15/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Where Defendant challenges State's race neutral reason for striking a black juror (prior experience with cops) on the ground that other jurors are similarly situated, Defendant must identify the similarly situated jurors or fail in his challenge. VOP-JURISDICTION: Probation is tolled when Defendant absconds. State v. Beery, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D597a (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Traveling to meet a minor and unlawful use of two-way communications device barred by double jeopardy where one of the two offenses was entirely proven by the other and they were committed during the same criminal episode. Watkins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D595a (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Informant's tip that Defendant had a concealed firearm does not justify stop; carrying a concealed firearm with a permit is legal, and tip did not allege that Defendant had no permit. Slydell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D594a (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for advising him that State would withdraw plea offer he tried to suppress the evidence. Huntoon v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D593a (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

GRAND THEFT: Child cannot be convicted of grand theft where only evidence of value was objected-to hearsay (owner went online to "eBay or something" to ascertain value). D.J.S. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D592b (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Court may find the Defendant to be a violent felony offender of special concern (danger to the community) upon repeated violations of probation by considering his original offense and marijuana use. Peatenlane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D581a (4th DCA 3/14/18)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): “Under section 948.06(8), a ‘danger to the community’ is not a freewheeling concept unhinged from the statute. Rock and roll music was once considered dangerous to the morals of teenagers, but that type of soft danger is outside the purview of the statute. . .It is inconceivable that Floridians can be placed in ‘danger’ by appellant’s marijuana consumption.” Peatenlane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D581a (4th DCA 3/14/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-NONHOMICIDE: Minor Defendant who was sentenced to life and violated parole twice is not entitled to sentence review. Stern v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D566a(2nd DCA 3/9/18) https://edca.2dca.org/DCADocs/2017/2718/172718_65_03092018_08472033_i.pdf years are entitled to judicial review. Cuevas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D563a (2nd DCA 3/9/18)

MENS REA: Statute barring altering animal health document is not overly vague. Mens rea is unstated but implicit. Innocent alterations such as changing the font or adding a logo would not be criminalized; only alterations that made the certificate false or deceptive would constitute a crime. Offenses with no mens rea are disfavored, and a scienter element is often necessary to comply with due process requirements.” State v. Carrier, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D559h (2nd DCA 3/9/18)

DICTIONARY WARS: “Alter” means “to change or modify” and to make ‘different in some particular characteristic without changing it into something else.” “Simulate” means “to give or assume the appearance or effect of often with the intent to deceive.” State v. Carrier, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D559h (22nd DCA 3/9/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for sexual battery on a person twelve years of age or older but less than eighteen years of age and lewd or lascivious battery on a child twelve years of age or older but less than sixteen years of age violated double jeopardy. Connolly v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D558a (5th DCA 3/9/18)

COMPETENCY-COMMITMENT: Court may not commit Defendant where there was no evidence that the mental illness causing defendant's incompetence would respond to treatment and that defendant would regain competency to proceed in the reasonably foreseeable future. DCF v. Kamaluddin, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D557a (5th DCA 3/9/18)

DICTIONARY WARS: An altercation is a vehement dispute; a noisy argument. Crawford v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D556b (5th DCA 3/9/18)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-POSSESSION: Definition of possession is clarified. "Mere proximity to an item does not establish that the person intentionally exercised control over the item in the absence of additional evidence. Control can be established by proof that (defendant) had direct personal power to control the item or the present ability to direct its control by another." In Re : Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S124b (FLA 3/8/18)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-AMENDMENT: New impeachment instruction. “The evidence that a witness may have made a prior statement that is inconsistent with [his] [her] testimony in court should be considered only for the purpose of weighing the credibility of the witness’s testimony and should not be considered as evidence or proof of the truth of the prior statement or for any other purpose.” In re-Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S124a (FLA 3/8/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy does not bar a new penalty phase in which defendant will again be eligible for the death penalty. New capital sentencing scheme is not an ex post facto law. Victorino v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S123a (FLA 3/8/18)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-REDACTION: Admission of unredacted interview which includes Officer saying Defendant is untruthful is not fundamental error where Detective’s statements were not firm statements of assertions of guilt nor a firm personal opinion. Kines v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D554a (1st DCA 3/8/18)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Court erred in ordering that defendant be detained pending a hearing regarding the source of his bond money. Sparrow v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D557b (5th DCA 3/7/18)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Officer was in lawful performance of duty when he detained Child for acting as a lookout. I.B. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D543a (3rd DCA 3/7/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: The standard for withdrawing a plea based on newly discovered evidence is not whether it is necessary to correct a manifest injustice, but rather whether the new evidence establishes a reasonable probability that, but for the newly discovered evidence, the defendant would not have pleaded guilty and would have insisted on going to trial. Perez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D540b (3rd DCA 3/7/18)

EXPLOITATION OF ELDERLY: Fundamental error for jury instruction to the element that the defendant obtained the property when he knew or should have known the victim lacked the capacity to consent. Parrondo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D538a (3rd DCA 3/7/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-COUNSEL: Admission of statements defendant made to police after he was confined in psychiatric wing of a hospital violates due process clause of Florida Constitution where police did not tell defendant that his family had retained a lawyer to represent him and instead interviewed him in absence of counsel.

When an individual is being questioned in a non-public area, and an attorney retained on his or her behalf arrives at the location, the Due Process Clause of the Florida Constitution requires that the police notify the individual of the attorney's presence and purpose, regardless of whether the defendant is in custody. Baskin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D530b (2nd DCA 3/7/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Admission of defendant's videoed statements to confidential informant in absence of counsel did not violate defendant Sixth Amendment right to counsel where defendant was not in custody and had never been arrested for the charges when he confessed. London v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D528a (4th DCA 3/7/18)

JOA-FRAUDULENT USE OF CREDIT CARD: JOA properly denied where state charged defendant alternatively with using a credit card or fraudulently representing he was the holder of the card, and evidence undisputedly showed that defendant used a credit card unlawfully. Jones v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D520a (4th DCA 3/7/18)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Disqualification not warranted, and otherwise time barred, on the basis that the judge's wife is a friend of a detective in the case. Defendant's speculative and unfounded allegations of official misconduct are legally insufficient. Joshua v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D519a (4th DCA 3/7/18)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: A confession by defendant's brother that he was "more responsible than anyone else" for the murder of the victim is not newly discovered evidence and would be inadmissible as hearsay. Sochor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S118a (FLA 3/1/18)

ARGUMENT: Comments by prosecutor in closing argument addressing the conclusiveness of DNA evidence presented at trial and noting that there was no evidence that defendant had any male relatives who could have left matching DNA at the crime scene did not improperly shift burden of proof to defendant. Statham v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D498c (1st DCA 2/28/18)

SENTENCING-VINDICTIVENESS: Imposition of consecutive life sentence on resentencing after court had initially imposed concurrent life sentence constituted a vindictive sentence where resentencing occurred after defendant had successfully challenged initial sentence, and reasons for more severe sentence were not based on defendant's conduct occurring after original sentencing proceeding. Austin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D489a (4th DCA 2/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A claim that counsel was ineffective for advising the defendant to reject a plea offer because counsel was confident that she could win at trial and that such advice was unreasonable warrants a hearing. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D488a (4th DCA 2/28/18) concluded that victim was killed due to culpable negligence. Marshall v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D466a (3rd DCA 2/28/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Court erred in suppressing certain portions of statements made by defendant after he invoked his right to counsel where the statements at issue were not made in response to SENTENCING: In sentencing defendant to a prison term upon revocation of community control, trial court improperly considered allegations in arrest affidavit regarding original charges which were nolle prossed by state to find that defendant presented a danger to the public. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D444a (5th DCA 2/23/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for extortion and written threats to kill or do bodily injury arising of same criminal transaction violate double jeopardy. Doyle v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D441a (5th DCA 2/23/18)

ATTORNEY-DISCIPLINE: Suspension cannot exceed three years; disbarment is appropriate. Attorney disbarred for muttering, “Lie, Lie, Lie” and repeatedly kicking the leg of counsel’s table during a hearing. “One can be professional and aggressive without being obnoxious. . .We do not tolerate unprofessional and discourteous behavior.” The Florida Bar v. Ratiner, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S108a (FLA 2/22/18)

Guzman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S104a (FLA 2/22/18)

SENTENCING-MINOR-INTENT TO KILL: Decision of U.S. Supreme Court in Alleyne requires the jury and not the trial court to make the factual finding under §775.082(1)(b) as to whether juvenile offender actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill victim. COMPETENCY: Trial counsel's apparent stipulation to defendant's competency based on court-ordered evaluation did not absolve trial court from making independent determination regarding defendant's competency. Panaro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D438a (4th DCA 2/21/18)

VOP: After a hearing on whether he violated probation, the Defendant is entitled to a separate hearing on disposition. Harrington v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D434a (4th DCA 2/21/18)

RESENTENCING: When resentencing defendant following appellate remand, trial court erred by imposing sentence at hearing that was noticed as a status check, not a sentencing hearing. Noel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D432a (4th DCA 2/21/18)

CONFESSION: Detectives violated defendant's Miranda rights when they continued to engage defendant after he had invoked his right to counsel ("They're talking. First one talks, deals. . . Good luck to you man. These guys already talk. All right. So don't say I didn't give you a chance. . . No more breaks after this. The gloves come off."). Scotsman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D431a (4th DCA 2/21/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Vehicle passenger can be detained on traffic stop. Cummings v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D417c (1st DCA 2/20/18)

PUBLIC RECORDS: Two-week period it took letter to be delivered from state attorney in response to request for public records did not breach requirement to respond promptly. State attorney did not violate public records law by making requested records available for inspection and copying at main office of state attorney instead of at an office closer to the requester's home. Siegmeister v. Johnson, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D415a (1st DCA 2/20/18)

SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: In sentencing for possession of child porn, Court may consider evidence that Defendant expressed interest in having sex with a child. Barlow v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D414a (1st DCA 2/20/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-PRESERVATION: Has a defendant who accepts a jury, but renewed a previously-raised objection to a state peremptory challenge after the challenged juror has been excused but before the jury is sworn, waived that objection? Question certified. Ivey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D413d (1st DCA 2/20/18)

DICTIONARY: “[T]he Supreme Court Committee on Standard Jury Instructions in Criminal Cases might want to consider amending the standard jury instruction . . .to define the terms ‘prurient interest’ and ‘morbid interest.’” Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D412a (1st DCA 2/19/18)

JURY PARDON-LESSER INCLUDED: Because jury pardon doctrine has been abrogated by Florida Supreme Court, giving of jury instruction on attempted voluntary manslaughter that incorrectly included an element of intent to kill did not constitute fundamental error, and error was harmless. Conflict certified. Knight v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D404a (1st DCA 2/19/18)

FUNDAMENTAL ERROR: Fundamental error in a jury instruction can be waived. Knight v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D404a (1st DCA 2/19/18)

QUOTATION: “Criminal defense lawyers take heed: you may have thought that a waiver of your client’s known rights required that you voluntarily and intentionally relinquish them . . . because, after all, that has been the well-worn, long-accepted legal standard. No longer. Now your mere participation in the jury instructions process is sufficient to imply. . .[the transformation of] what had been known as ‘unknowing acquiescence’. . .into a voluntary and intentional abandonment of your client’s rights.” Knight v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D404a (1st DCA 2/19/18)

RESENTENCING: Where court failed to re-designate the Defendant a Habitual Offender upon a second violation of probation, and sentence otherwise exceeds the statutory maximum, Defendant must be re-

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to file motion to suppress statements. Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D402a (5th DCA 2/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where defendant was previously deemed entitled to appointment of counsel for post conviction motion, it was an abuse of discretion to allow defendant to discharge counsel without an adequate hearing within the rubric of Faretta. Toro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D400a (2nd DCA 2/16/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Death penalty is not barred for a 21 year old on the theory that a 21 year old's brain is not fully developed. Branch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S87a (FLA 2/15/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Telling the jury that its recommendation would only be advisory does not violate Hurst. Franklin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S86a (FLA 2/15/18)

SEX OFFENDER RECOMMENDATION: Court may deny petition for removal from sex offender registry based on his otherwise violent criminal history. The decision whether to grant a petition for removal from the sex offender registry filed by an offender who meets the criteria under the statute is discretionary. Wromas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D392a (3rd DCA 2/14/18)

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: Notwithstanding Rule 3.260, oral waiver of the right to a jury trial is permissible. Westberry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D389b (3rd DCA 2/14/18)

SELF DEFENSE: It is error for a trial court to modify the standard jury instructions and instruct the jury on the victim's right to use force. An instruction on the victim's right to use self-defense is misleading and confusing since it tended to shift the focus away from the issue of whether the defendant was justified in the use of force, and to place emphasis on whether the victim was justified in defending him/herself. Stickney v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D388a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

CONTEMPT: Defendant properly found in contempt from repeatedly butting in, heckling one of the attorneys, saying she "could have been to Disney World four times with my ninety-year-old dad," and "I have bigger fish to fry." Woodward v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D387a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

CONTEMPT: A transcript of a direct criminal contempt hearing is not necessary to uphold the conviction. Woodward v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D387a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Defendant properly convicted of murder based on suspicious text messages about disposing of gun and evidence he had purchased the gun shortly before the murder. Alvarez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D385a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

FLEEING AND ELUDING: Where there was no dispute that defendant was not operating at a high rate of speed nor with wanton disregard, conviction is reduced to fleeing to elude law enforcement officer with sirens and lights activated. Claim that defendant “weaved” in traffic, without more, is insufficient. Canidate v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D382c (4th DCA 2/14/18)

MINOR-SENTENCE REVIEW: “Though the defendant was not sentenced to life or a de facto life sentence, the trend of current case law appears to afford her a review of her 30-year sentence and a meaningful opportunity for release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation.” Bilotti v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D379a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

DEPARTURE-DOWNWARD: “A jury found Schultz guilty of 55 counts of drug trafficking. Given the number of charges, the defendant scored 2549 sentencing points. The lowest permissible sentence under the criminal punishment code was 1890.75 months in prison, approximately 157.5 years.” Downward departure reversed where Defendant did not file a motion for downward departure nor did Court make written findings. State v. Schultz, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D377b (4th DCA 2/14/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-RACE: Court erred in finding that juror's religious affiliation alone was genuine and race-neutral basis for challenge where state did not question juror regarding her religion before exercising the strike and, even after questioning, nothing in the record showed juror's religion (Jehovah Witness) would prevent her from being fair and impartial juror. Striking potential juror based entirely on particular religious affiliation, without any evidence that religion would prevent her from being fair and impartial, is impermissible "religious test" in violation of state and federal constitutions. Pacchiana v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D367a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

FORFEITURE: Court erred by failing to conduct evidentiary hearing to establish whether claimant had bona fide claim to money found by law enforcement officers in his vehicle, along with evidence of sale of controlled substances and identity fraud, after claimant provided affidavit in which his mother stated that she had given claimant a specified amount of cash as a birthday gift. Hudson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D364a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

MAIL BOX RULE: Motion for post conviction relief was timely filed where stamp on motion reflected that it was placed in the hands of institutional official for mailing less than 30 days after judgment and sentence became final. Mondeja v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D359a (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

NEBBIA HOLD: Courts lack authority to detain accused for the purpose of inquiring into source of funds used to post bail. Casiano v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D358a (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: Court cannot deny return of money on sole basis that $3480 was found in a desk at Claimant's brother's residence and "money" is listed as a potential trial exhibit. Clayton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D357c (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

MOTION TO DISMISS: Any motion to dismiss must be in writing. Court cannot dismiss charge over State's objection based on court's perspective of the most suitable way to address juvenile's circumstances. State v. A.J., 43 Fla. L. Weekly D352a (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

SEX OFFENDER PROBATION-MODIFICATION: Court lacked jurisdiction to impose conditions of sexual offender probation that it previously had affirmatively declined to impose. Solimon v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D350a (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

SUPERSEDEAS BOND: Court improperly denied supersedeas bond on ground that jury found defendant guilty and that court sentenced defendant below the statutory maximum. Ruiz v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D396a (3rd DCA 2/13/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred in failing to hold competency hearing after counsel had filed suggestion of incompetence and court had ordered expert examination of defendant. Berry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D342a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Defendant is not entitled to jury findings on the statutory sentencing factors justifying a life sentence for a minor. Copeland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D341a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-HOMICIDE: A minor convicted of homicide and sentenced to life is not entitled to a 25 year sentence review if he has previously been convicted of certain offenses, included armed robbery. “If Mr. Copeland had a constitutional problem with being resentenced under this framework with its sentence-review prohibition, he should have argued that point to the Florida Supreme Court before it remanded his case.” Copeland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D341a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

CHILD HEARSAY-UNDUE PREJUDICE: Court ruling that child hearsay is admissible implicitly meant that the Court ruled the evidence’s danger of prejudice did not outweigh its probative value. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D340a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor’s reference to defendant as “boogeyman” in opening statement is not a basis for reversal where trial court sustained objection, and defendant did not seek curative instruction or move for mistrial. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D340a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

LESSER INCLUDED: Court is required to give a lesser-included instruction of the permissive lesser of unnatural and lascivious act only if requested. A court's failure to give an instruction on a permissive lesser-included does not constitute fundamental error. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D340a (1st DCA 2/9/18) https://edca.1dca.org/DCADocs/2016/1990/161990_1284_02092018_115638_59_i.pdf

COMPETENCY: Court abused its discretion by failing to hold competency hearing, adjudicate defendant's competency, and enter an order memorializing that adjudication before proceeding to trial where there were reasonable grounds to suggest that defendant was not mentally competent to proceed. Not even the defendant's stipulation to competency relieves the trial court of the obligation to hold a competency hearing if there are reasonable grounds to question competency. Walker v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D339a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Where Defendant is the sole resident of a garage apartment set up as a meth lab, he is not entitled to a JOA when arrested when another person comes to buy meth from him. Possession here is exclusive, and even if it were joint, evidence is sufficient to establish Defendant's possession. Nolley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D337a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

OPINION: Detective's testimony that he tries to go after the meth cook (the Defendant), not the person buying the Sudafed, is not improper opinion evidence when offered on redirect to explain why the other guy was not arrested that day. Further testimony that he determined it was the Defendant who was cooking meth was improper, but not fundamental error. Nolley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D337a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for possession of cocaine with intent to sell and simple possession based on single quantum of cocaine, a portion of which defendant sold to informant and a portion of which he retained, violated double jeopardy. There is no "legal distinction between the produce leaving the peddler's hand or in his pocket and that still on the push cart." Issue is fundamental. St. Louis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D332a (2nd DCA 2/9/18)

ROBBERY WITH A WEAPON: Defendant is entitled to JOA on robbery with a weapon where the weapon is a disassembled shotgun barrel and there was no evidence it was used as in a way likely to cause death or serious bodily injury. "Oddly, the definition of weapon itself includes a 'deadly weapon,' but the statute does not define a 'deadly weapon.'" Browne v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D323a (5th DCA 2/9/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call a key witness on ground that claim was successive where trial court had originally summarily denied the claim but appellate court reversed and required a hearing. Mackey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D317a (5th DCA 2/9/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim of ineffective assistance for failure to investigate alibi witnesses and that time card and video surveillance would have shown that he was at work at the time of the crime. APPEALS: Defendant is not entitled to new trial because of the absence of the jury charge conference from the trial transcript in the absence of a showing of prejudice. Murray v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D313a (1st DCA 2/8/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant cannot prohibit trial court from proceeding on Stand Your Ground on the basis of its pre-hearing ruling that the standard of proof is preponderance of the evidence. The issue of retroactivity of the burden of proof, and whether the shifting of the burden is procedural or substantive, is not ripe. Rodriguez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D304b (3rd DCA 2/7/18)

HABITUAL VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER: HVFO is constitutional. Heggs is inapplicable to a defendant who was sentenced as a habitual violent felony offender. Defendant is not subject to sentencing guidelines. Gutierrez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D304a (3rd DCA 2/7/18)

QUOTATION: Second motion for rehearing is denied. “MOTHAF–K y’all and all those that’s down with y’all corrupted behavior! You MOTHAF–KS are not GOD and you damn sure not right. From this day forward all HELL will come down on y’all until I’m FREE.” Wright v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D301b (3rd DCA 2/7/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Peremptory challenges are presumed to be exercised in a nondiscriminatory manner, and the focus of the inquiry is not upon the reasonableness of the asserted nonracial motive but rather the genuineness of the motive. Martin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D300a (3rd DCA 2/7/18)

TRIAL TRANSCRIPT: Court’s response to jury request for trial transcript was not improper where trial court informed jury that transcript was not available at the time, that jury should rely upon its recollection, but that read back of certain portion may be available if necessary. Douglas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D298d (3rd DCA 2/7/18)

APPEAL-IAC: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to raise improper shifting of burden of proof, the same issue on which co-defendant won a new trial. To treat the two differently is a manifest injustice. Pierre v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D298a (4th DCA 2/7/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant could not be convicted of two counts of first degree felony murder and two counts of vehicular homicide/failure to render aid where defendant's actions resulted in death of only two victims. Oakley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D295a (4th DCA 2/7/18)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Defendant abandoned his request to represent himself after a psychological evaluation finding him sane at th time of the offense and him agreeing to be represented. Cheney v. Cheney, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D289a (1st DCA 2/5/18)

State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D274a (5th DCA 2/2/18)

RESENTENCING-MINOR: Rule 3.802 motion challenging 30-year sentence for offense committed when defendant was juvenile applies only after juvenile has been resentenced and time for review hearing has arrived. Katwaroo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D273a (5th DCA 2/2/18)

LEWD OR LASCIVIOUS EXHIBITION: Lewd pictures transmitted during a live conversation on phone is insufficient to support conviction for lewd or lascivious molestation. Where the pictures are not live, JOA is required.

Death sentence reinstated. State v. Silvia, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S70a (FLA 2/1/18)

QUOTATION (LEWIS, J., dissenting): “Today this Court advances for the first time a new excuse, not a valid reason, to push Florida’s death penalty jurisprudence into an unconstitutional abyss. . .The Court simply turns its eyes from the violation of the Sixth, Eighth, and Fourteenth Amendments.” State v. Silvia, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S70a (FLA 2/1/18)

QUOTATION (LEWIS, J., dissenting): “For the first time, the majority decision eschews recent precedent and denies Hurst relief to a post-Ring, nonunanimous defendant. . .[T]he basis for this decision is simple, albeit misguided. . .[B]y skirting the underlying law, the majority disregards the real substance of the question presented and develops a holding absent any precedential support.” State v. Silvia, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S70a (FLA 2/1/18)

HEARSAY-STATEMENT AGAINST PENAL INTEREST: Court did not abuse its discretion by refusing to admit witness's testimony regarding third party's confession where third party's statement to witness did not carry requisite indicia of trustworthiness, particularly because statement was made on a fishing trip. Discussion of factors to be considered in ruling on admissibility of statement against interest and four-factor test for admission of third-party confession set out by U.S. Supreme Court in Chambers v. Mississippi. Payton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D250a (1st DCA 1/29/18)

COMPETENCY: Court must conduct a competency hearing after psychiatrist conducted a court-ordered evaluation and prepared a written report. Perez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D248a (1st DCA 1/26/18)

INJUNCTION: Court is not required to stay the hearing on a permanent injunction on the basis that going forward would jeopardize 5th Amendment right against self-incrimination in a pending criminal case. Speegle v. Rhoden, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D245a (1st DCA 1/26/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DEALING IN STOLEN PROPERTY/THEFT: Separate convictions for dealing in stolen property and theft based on same conduct violated double jeopardy. A court is precluded from allowing a defendant to plead guilty to both offenses if they are based on a single course of conduct. Thomas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D243b (1st DCA 1/26/18)

COSTS: Court may not impose sheriff's office investigative cost in absence of request on the record for imposition of this cost; inclusion of actual cost in arrest report is not sufficient. Thomas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D243b (1st DCA 1/26/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for traveling to meet a minor and use of two-way communications device to facilitate the commission of a felony violate prohibition against double jeopardy. Bermudez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D242c (2nd DCA 1/26/18)

MINOR-LIFE IMPRISONMENT: Court may not sentence a minor to life imprisonment for robbery with a firearm without providing a meaningful opportunity for release. Wirth v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D242b (2nd DCA 1/26/18)

INFORMATION-DEFECTIVE: Defendant cannot be convicted for violation of a subsection of sexual predator statute where the information failed to cite that subsection and omitted essential elements of the offense. Richards v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D239c (2nd DCA 1/26/18)

INFORMATION-ALTERNATE THEORY: Where the jury is instructed on an alternate theory of the charged crime but that alternate theory was not charged in the information, it is fundamental error when it is clear that the jury returned a verdict on that uncharged theory. Richards v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D239c (2nd DCA 1/26/18)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER: Court must enter a written order showing reasons for its finding that the defendant, as a violent felony offender of special concern, poses a danger to the community. Wells v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D239a (5th DCA 1/26/18)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Court must strike defendant's pro se motion to withdraw plea where defendant was represented by counsel and motion did not allege an adversarial relationship with counsel. Sargent v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D238b (5th DCA 1/26/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Melbourne re-affirmed. A party objecting to the other side's use of a peremptory challenge on racial grounds must : a) make a timely objection on that basis, b) show that the venireperson is a member of a distinct racial group, and c) request that the court ask the striking party its reason for the strike. If these initial requirements are met (step 1), the court must ask the proponent of the strike to explain the reason for the strike. At this point, the burden of production shifts to the proponent of the strike to come forward with a race-neutral explanation (step 2). If the explanation is facially race-neutral and the court believes that, given all the circumstances surrounding the strike, the explanation is not a pretext, the strike will be sustained (step 3). The court must specifically consider and rule on whether the race-neutral reason is pretextual, without requiring a second objection from the opponent of the challenge. The court's focus in step 3 is not on the reasonableness of the explanation but rather its genuineness. The relevant circumstances that the court is to consider in determining whether the explanation is pretextual include such factors as the racial makeup of the venire; prior strikes exercised against the same racial group; a strike based on a reason equally applicable to an unchallenged venireperson; or singling out the venireperson for special treatment. Where the record is completely devoid of any indication that the trial court considered circumstances relevant to whether a strike was exercised for a discriminatory purpose, the reviewing court cannot assume that a genuineness inquiry was actually conducted. Court must not conflate Steps 2 and 3. Spencer v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S34a (FLA 1/25/18)

JURORS: “Jurors are not fungible.” Spencer v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S34a (FLA 1/25/18)

DEATH PENALTY-JURY FINDINGS OF AGGRAVATION: Where jury recommendation of death was unanimous, and based on defendant’s confession and the aggravation in the case, post conviction court properly held that any error under Hurst is harmless. Philmore v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S33a (FLA 1/25/8)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR: Defendant who was sentenced to 40 years’ imprisonment without the opportunity to obtain early release based on demonstration of maturity and rehabilitation for attempted murder committed while he was a juvenile is entitled to be resentenced. Lee v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S32a (FLA 1/25/18)

JOA-THEFT: JOA is required where there is no evidence of felonious intent when Defendant cashed a check given to him as a deposit for remodeling work he never performed within the time promised. “We are dismayed by the State’s choice to pursue this criminal prosecution all the way through an appeal in the face of such weak or non-existent facts and evidence.” Leggett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D230a (3rd DCA 1/24/18)

HEARSAY: Victim’s statement that bank told her that the check had been deposited immediately is inadmissible hearsay. Hearsay rule does not authorize hearsay testimony about the contents of business records that have not been admitted as evidence. Leggett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D230a (3rd DCA 1/24/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Absent the execution of an arrest warrant, a defendant who is in jail in a specific county pursuant to an arrest on one or more charges need not be given credit for time served in that county on charges in another county when the second county has only lodged a detainer against the defendant. Cadet v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D225a (3rd DCA 1/24/18)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: On VOP, statement that defendant has been granted a previous downward departure based on a valid uncoerced plea agreement, and that it would be inappropriate, too harsh and contrary to the principles of graduated sanctions to impose lowest permissible sentence, absent a downward departure, was not a valid basis for imposition of downward departure sentence. State v. Shine, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D224b (3rd DCA 1/24/18)

BELATED APPEAL: Belated appeal from order denying second motion for post conviction relief granted where defendant alleged that he did not receive copy of order denying motion until after time for taking appeal had expired and filed prison mailroom log which supported that allegation. McKenzie v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D224a (3rd DCA 1/24/18)

EVIDENCE-JAIL CLOTHES: Video recording of defendant's confession where he was wearing jail clothes and handcuffs was not so prejudicial as to substantially outweigh the probative value of the video confession. Burton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D222b (3rd DCA 1/24/18)

EVIDENCE-BOOKING PHOTO: Court did not err in admitting defendant's booking photograph as evidence where defense raised questions about deputy's ability to identify defendant. Newton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D216a (4th DCA 1/24/18)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to file motion to suppress evidence discovered in warrantless search of abandoned cell phone not cognizable on direct appeal where ineffectiveness was not apparent from face of record, which indicated that motion would likely have been fruitless due to exigencies of the situation. Barton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D215a (4th DCA 1/24/18)

MASK: Pulling t-shirt over one's face constitutes wearing a mask. Clark v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D214a (4th DCA 1/24/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY-CHALLENGE-GENDER: Neither having a “bad feeling” about juror nor fact that defendant “doesn’t want” a prospective juror is race- or gender-neutral reason for peremptory challenge. Defendant’s challenges of all four male jurors was discriminatory. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D205d (1st DCA 1/22/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Affidavits by two witnesses that the Defendant’s brother was the shooter is sufficient newly discovered evidence to warrant a hearing. Utile v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D203a (5th DCA 1/19/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-JURY INSTRUCTION: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial where his conviction was final before the given manslaughter by act jury instruction had been held to be fundamentally flawed. Utile v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D203a (5th DCA 1/19/18)

COSTS-APPEAL: Defendant is entitled to be awarded appellate costs where his conviction was reversed on appeal and state subsequently entered nolle prosequi. Mathis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D202b (5th DCA 1/19/18)

APPEAL-VOP: Defendant cannot appeal court’s failure to enter written order showing which conditions are violated where he fails to preserve error. The court minutes from trial, listing the conditions of probation orally found by the court to have been violated by a defendant is not a substitute for a proper revocation order because court minutes and the minute book entries are specifically excluded from the definition of a court order. Mendenhall v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D202a (1/19/18)

COMPETENCY: Court cannot accept plea without making independent finding of competency or issuing written order on competency following brief competency hearing conducted after experts appointed to evaluate defendant's competency filed reports opining that defendant was competent to proceed. Carrion v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D196a (2nd DCA 1/19/18)

CHILD HEARSAY: Court erred in admitting child hearsay without conducting factual analysis before ruling that out-of-court statements made by victim were admissible at trial and addressing why time, content, and circumstances of each statement provided sufficient safeguards of reliability. Hyre v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D192a (2nd DCA 1/19/18)

DEATH PENALTY: In determining whether one suffers from an intellectual disability precluding the death penalty, the Court must take into account the standard error of measurement (SEM) of IQ tests and when a defendant's IQ test score falls within the margin of error, the defendant must be able to present additional evidence of intellectual disability, including testimony regarding adaptive deficits. Court declines to rule whether the requirement that the Defendant show intellectual disability by clear and convincing evidence is unconstitutional. Quince v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S18a (FLA 1/18/18) <http://www.floridasupremecourt.org/decisions/2018/sc17-127.pdf>

FLYNN EFFECT: “The Flynn effect refers to a theory in which the intelligence of a population increases over time, thereby potentially inflating performance on IQ examinations. DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is not entitled to relief from imposition of death penalty under decision of U.S. Supreme Court in Hurst v. Florida where defendant waived his right to a penalty phase jury. Quince v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S15a (FLA 1/18/18)

ATTORNEY-DISCIPLINE: Attorney disbarred for issuing meaningless “Official Legal Certifications” to sell marijuana. Disbarment is appropriate where the most prominent features of attorney’s misconduct are incompetence and extremely serious harm to clients. The Florida Bar v. Christensen, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S17a (FLA 1/18/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INCIDENT TO ARREST: Warrantless search of backpack was not valid as search incident to arrest where backpack was not in area within defendant’s immediate control at time of search, but was instead in officers’ exclusive control with no possibility of defendant accessing the backpack. Harris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D187b (3rd DCA 1/17/18)

PROBATION REVOCATION: Evidence that probation officer did not find the Defendant at his home is not enough to show that the Defendant had moved without permission. Bryant v. State, 236 So.3d 492 (2nd DCA 1/17/21)

HABITUAL OFFENDER: Habitual offender designation for possession of cocaine was improper. Hubbard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D163b (2nd DCA 1/17/18)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Sex offender can be prohibited from possessing a smart phone. The prohibition on possessing an internet accessible cell phone is reasonably related to the trial court's instruction barring him from accessing the internet without a treatment safety plan. Pinnock v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D156a (2nd DCA 1/12/18)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Probation officer cannot prescribe new conditions of probation (here, that he not possess a smart phone), but any such argument was not preserved at VOP hearing. Pinnock v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D156a (2nd DCA 1/12/18)

SENTENCING-FACTORS: Resentencing required where at sentencing State presented extensive evidence of incidents of defendant's misconduct at jail, which Court apparently considered. Love v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D155a (2nd DCA 1/12/18)

JUVENILE-SENTENCING: Court is not required to explain reasons for its decision to commit Child, only for departure from DJJ recommendation. K.M.W. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D154b (5th DCA 1/12/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to conduct investigation which would have revealed information that could have been used to effectively impeach key prosecution witness, failing to impeach state witnesses with prior inconsistent statements, and failing to call any defense witnesses. Klaus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D148a (5th DCA 1/12/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A statement of satisfaction with counsel alone is generally insufficient to conclusively refute a claim that counsel was ineffective. Klaus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D148a (5th DCA 1/12/18)

CHANGE OF VENUE: Court did not err in denying change of venue where Defendant was the subject of extensive publicity for having killed four people, including officers, in a separate murder case. The test for determining a change of venue is whether the general state of mind of the inhabitants of a community is so infected by knowledge of the incident and accompanying prejudice, bias, and preconceived opinions that jurors could not possibly put these matters out of their minds and try the case solely upon the evidence presented in the courtroom. Absent an extreme or unusual situation, the need to change venue should not be determined until an attempt is made to select a jury. Morris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S7a (FLA 1/11/18)

EVIDENCE: Defendant's statement in jail that "I repent for killing" is properly admitted in murder trial. Morris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S7a (FLA 1/11/18)

SENTENCING-MULTIPLIER: Court may not apply 1.5 multiplier Trial court erred in applying 1.5 multiplier for “domestic violence in the presence of a related child” where jury was never presented with an interrogatory regarding child’s presence, and jury made no such finding. Cartagena v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D142a (4th DCA 1/10/18)

VOIR DIRE: Court did not err in granting new trial based on court’s failure to allow defendants to question several members of jury venire before they were excused for bias. Irimi v. R.J. Reynolds, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D138a (4th DCA 1/10/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Potential jurors who express significant reservations about their ability to be impartial should be excused for cause where their responses to attempts at rehabilitation are conditional or equivocal. Jurors who are reluctant to accept that false confessions happen (“It’s possible. But a crime of this nature I mean who would be crazy enough to admit guilt?”) should be stricken for cause. Rentas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D129b (4th DCA 1/10/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE-REHABILITATION: “Few jurors would resolutely continue to admit that they have a bias after having a prosecutor and a trial judge cloak them in a duty to be fair. Some answers by prospective jurors should simply be deemed alone disqualifying, no matter how earnestly counsel and the trial judge seek to save them.” Rentas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D129b (4th DCA 1/10/18)

READ-BACK: Where testimony is read-back, the applicable cross-examination testimony must be read back as well. Rentas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D129b (4th DCA 1/10/18)

HEARSAY-STATEMENT AGAINST INTEREST: Court erred by excluding that portion of statement by co-defendant to jailhouse informant that the police had the wrong guy. Exception to hearsay rule for statements against interest includes statements which do not need to amount to a full confession by the declarant, but which, taken in context, are be against the declarant's interest and tend to exculpate the defendant. Baez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D116a (2nd DCA 1/5/18)

QUOTATION: “So I think we should reevaluate Azima in an appropriate case. I do hope, however, that the appropriate case involves facts a little more deserving of prosecution than what appears from our record to be little (if anything) more than a preteen boy's careless exuberance with a smoke bomb around the Fourth of July.” J.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D108a (2nd DCA 1/5/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: There is no requirement that same judge preside over both trial and post conviction proceedings. Jacobson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D106a (2nd DCA 1/5/18)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Defendant who is serving sentence in foreign state is not entitled to benefit of Florida speedy trial rule until he is returned to jurisdiction of Florida. Klein v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D91a (3rd DCA 1/3/18)

COMPETENCY: Court did not reversibly err by failing to hold competency hearing after appointing confidential expert to evaluate defendant for purpose of aiding defense counsel in determining defendant's competency to proceed where request for confidential expert evaluation was made as precautionary measure and was insufficient to trigger mandatory competency hearing. Atwater v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D94a (1st DCA 1/2/18)

In Re: Amendments to Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S508c (FLA 10/25/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Court erred in denying Defendant's claim that he was entitled to time spent in prison between his original sentencing date of the resentencing date because he had failed to exhaust administrative remedies. Defendant is not under any obligation to exhaust administrative remedies to get appropriate credit for time served. Rivera v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2402a (3rd DCA 10/24/18)

JUVENILE-SENTENCE AS ADULT: When juvenile, prosecuted as an adult, was sentenced under a plea agreement to a juvenile commitment program with the agreement that if you violated the conditions of commitment he could be sentenced to prison, and thereafter incurred more charges in and after the commitment program, the Court erred in considering any matters other than those alleged in the motion to impose adult sanctions. The "Face Sheet" is inadmissible hearsay. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2398a (3rd DCA 10/24/18)

EXPUNCTION-HUMAN TRAFFICKING: Defendant, who had been the victim of human trafficking and in the course thereof committed the offense of kidnapping, is statutorily precluded from getting and expunction of the kidnapping offense. M.G. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2393c (3rd DCA 10/24/18)

APPEAL-MOTION TO MODIFY: An order denying a motion to modify probation is not appealable. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2393b (2nd DCA 10/24/18)

GRAND THEFT-VALUE-JOA: Testimony of grounds superintendent about missing equipment from golf resort did not satisfy criteria for proving value where he did not provide testimony about purchase price, depreciation, or replacement costs for all the items. “The application of a ‘life experience’ exception to any criminal statute, including the criminal theft statute, is inconsistent with the uniform system of justice that both the Florida and Federal Constitutions require and should not be left to the whim of individual jury members.” Teltschik v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2393a (2nd DCA 10/24/18)

VIOLENT CAREER CRIMINAL: Argument that 30-year sentence for grand theft is illegal because grand theft is not an offense eligible for Violent Career Criminal sentencing is not preserved for review by objection or motion to correct in the trial court. Crews v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2392b (2nd DCA 10/24/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy precludes convictions for theft of firearm and theft of other property any stolen vehicle because the theft of the vehicle in the contents is one act of taking. D.T. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2392a (2nd DCA 10/24/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG SNIFF: Officers who stopped vehicle in apartment complex parking lot after observing defendant driving without a seatbelt and who placed defendant under arrest for driving without a license within two minutes of initial stop did not violate Fourth Amendment by initiating dog sniff of vehicle 20 minutes later. Jefferson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D645a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

JOA-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: Victim's testimony that Defendant (his father) lunged at him with the cane during a verbal altercation and that both men then stepped backward did not establish that defendant used cane in manner likely to produce death or great bodily harm. ("I open the door, tell him to leave, start cussing each other, and then he gets mad and lunges at me with his cane. I step back to nail him, and he stepped back himself, and then we cussed each other some more.") Wallace v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D642a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

APPEALS-MOOTNESS: Appeal of temporary injunction must be dismissed for mootness where permanent injunction is ultimately dismissed (jail inmate sought injunction against C.O for harassing him). Trowell v. Crawford, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D83c (2nd DCA 12/29/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for using a computer to solicit a person believed to be a parent of a child and traveling to meet minor did not violate double jeopardy where defendant was charged with two separate acts of solicitation, and the agreement to travel was reached only after the second solicitation. Kuckuck v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D80b (5th DCA 12/29/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to advise him about habitualization. Short v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D79d (5th DCA 12/29/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Court erred in imposing mandatory minimum where information did not sufficiently allege that defendant possessed firearm. Robinson v State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D79c (5th DCA 12/29/17)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by denying, as legally insufficient, counsel's final motion to determine competency. Claim that rejection of plea offer was based on misadvice by counsel regarding maximum penalty for crime, including 25year mandatory minimum, was facially sufficient, notwithstanding that Defendant did not receive minimum mandatory sentence because of an error in the verdict form. E.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D79b (5th DCA 12/29/17)

SENTENCING: Court fundamentally erred in entering a sentencing order without conducting a sentencing hearing and without orally pronouncing the sentence in court. Hutto v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D78e (1st DCA 12/29/17)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Court may not deny bond on attempted second degree murder where no written motion for pretrial detention was filed. State's oral motion made at first appearance is not sufficient. Rhagnan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D80a (5th DCA 12/27/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may not summarily deny claim as facially insufficient without giving defendant opportunity to amend. Cameron-Osorio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D77a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Child is entitled to resentencing before a different judge where court considered offenses for which juvenile had not yet been charged or convicted. N.D.W. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D76b (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

CONFLICT: Court erred in summarily denying motion alleging trial counsel labored under conflict of interest because he also represented, in a separate case, a man who allegedly had confessed to defendant that he had committed the crimes at issue in that case. Mendez-Domingo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D75a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

APPEALS: Appeal of denial to suppress statement is not cognizable where not dispositive. Daniel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D74a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

RESTITUTION: Court erred in ordering defendant to reimburse burglarized church for the church's purchase of Lifelock, Inc., memberships for thirteen church employees whose personal identification information was on thumb drive that was stolen from church. A.J.S. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D72a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

Knight v. Twelfth Judicial Circuit, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D70b (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

SENTENCING-NONHOMICIDE-JUVENILE: Thirty year sentence for juvenile for nonhomicide offense for without meaningful opportunity for early release is unconstitutional. Kelsey (Graham) applies to all juveniles who have been sentenced to term-of-year sentences of more than twenty years in prison but who would not have the opportunity for judicial review. Alfaro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D69a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

CORPUS DELICTI: Conviction of possession of firearm by minor cannot stand where corpus delicti of charge consisted solely of inadmissible hearsay. J.J.J. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D68a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

HEARSAY: When the only possible relevance of an out-of-court statement is directed to the truth of the matters stated by a declarant, the subject matter is classic hearsay even though the proponent of such evidence seeks to clothe such hearsay under a nonhearsay label. When the only relevance of an out-of-court statement is to prove the truth of the matter asserted, the statement is hearsay and is not rendered admissible when the nonhearsay purpose for which it was admitted is not relevant to the issues in dispute. Argument that Court did not admit what the father said but merely that the policeman's conclusion that Child was the person he needed to talk to is meritless. J.J.J. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D68a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

TRIAL PRACTICE: In L & L case, Court may allow victim to testify in a chair in front of the jury box, with the prosecutor sitting beside him, where no objection is made. Stevenson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D67e (1st DCA 12/27/17)

STAND YOUR GROUND: In Stand Your Ground hearing, evidence need not be considered undisputed where victim (deceased) did not testify. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D67d(1st DCA 12/27/17)

FELONY BATTERY-JOA: Knocking out a baby tooth is not great bodily harm, permanent disfigurement, or permanent disability. D.M. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D64a (3rd DCA 12/27/17)

HVFO : Defendant cannot be designated a Habitual Violent Felony Offender on the basis of him being on probation for a prior offense, but may be on the basis of him having a prior qualifying offense within five years of conviction. Garcia v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D59b (3rd DCA 12/27/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for resisting officer with violence (punching officer) and without violence (running away) violated double jeopardy principles where the two acts were part of a single criminal episode. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D36c (2nd DCA 12/22/17)

REVOCAATION OF PROBATION: Court may not enter new judgments following revocation of probation. West v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D36b (2nd DCA 12/22/17)

APPELLATE COUNSEL-INEFFECTIVE: Appellate counsel is ineffective for limiting appeal, based on improper exclusion of impeachment evidence, to challenge of the kidnapping conviction where the impeachment evidence would have applied to another count as well. Musson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D34f (2nd DCA 12/22/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call victim to testify for mitigation purposes at VOP hearing. Addison v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D34b (5th DCA 12/22/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officer who sees Defendant lean into a bait vehicle may not stop him when he drives away in a different vehicle shortly thereafter. A.M. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D32b (5th DCA 12/22/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in denying as untimely Defendant's motion for post-conviction relief under rule 3.840 where the motions were filed within 2 years of the date of the appellate mandate. Starkes v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D27a (1st DCA 12/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim of ineffective assistance of counsel is legally sufficient where Defendant claimed that he rejected a 3-year plea offer because counsel told him 3 years was the maximum he could receive. Montgomery v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D25b (1st DCA 12/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where Defendant did not ask that sentences be restructured, and all of the sentences exceeded the statutory limit (probation and incarceration exceeded 5 years for third degree felonies), Court did not err in denying motion to correct sentence where the sentences could have been restructured to impose sentences which complied with statutory limits and the plea agreement. Butler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D25a (1st DCA 12/21/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's remark in closing argument that state had proved defendant's knowledge that substance he possessed was in fact cocaine and that jury had not heard any contradictory testimony or evidence to rebut that fact did not amount to comment on defendant's right to remain silent or improperly shift burden of proof to defendant. Payne v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D24a (1st DCA 12/21/17)

ARGUMENT: Argument suggesting that officers should be believed because he is a “sworn law enforcement officer, tasked with upholding justice” is improper, but does not warrant a mistrial where a curative instruction is given. Payne v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D24a (1st DCA 12/21/17)

SELF-DEFENSE: Court erred in excluding defendant’s testimony describing a prior instance when the victim threatened him with a machete. Specific acts of violence committed by a victim against a defendant during a prior confrontation. Jones v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D23a (1st DCA 12/21/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Statements of Defendant are admissible where Defendant made voluntary pre-Miranda statements and post-Miranda statements, and the officers did not engage in a deliberate two-step interrogation strategy. “I hope you know what kind of trouble you are in,” is not deliberate pre-Miranda interrogation. Lebron v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S986a (FLA 12/21/17)

DANGEROUS SEXUAL OFFENDER ACT: DSOA authorizes trial court to impose a mandatory minimum sentence anywhere in the range of twenty-five years to life, even if that sentence exceeds the statutory maximum for the crime. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S982a (FLA 12/21/17)

QUOTATION: "The result of the majority’s continued acceptance of the legal fiction created in Mendenhall is a legal system where a defendant who is twice convicted of a second-degree felony, as in this case, is authorized to receive a harsher sentence than one who is repeatedly convicted of attempted murder. . . . Surely this draconian and absurd outcome was not intended by the Legislature when it enacted the DFSO Act.” (J. Quince, dissenting). Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S982a (FLA 12/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to move for change of venue where motion would likely have been denied. Ellerbee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S973a (FLA 12/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to move for mistrial based on various comments about religion during jury selection and arguments, given the context. Ellerbee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S973a (FLA 12/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to uncover significant child abuse for penalty phase in murder case. Ellerbee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S973a (FLA 12/21/17)

JOA: Where evidence did not establish that the incident occurred at the time alleged, JOA is required. Cardona v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D20a (4th DCA 12/20/17)

RESENTENCING: Court erred in holding that a de novo resentencing hearing after order granting post conviction relief was unnecessary on grounds that court would not consider a youthful offender sentence. Betty v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D18b (4th DCA 12/20/17)

DISCOVERY-EXPERT: Court must allow a continuance where state committed a discovery violation by a late disclosure of an expert witness. McDuffie v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D14a (2nd DCA 12/20/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officer lacked probable cause to arrest for attaching an unassigned tag because the officer did not observe her attach the license plate. Defendant's statement to officer that license plate had been attached to vehicle by a friend was not sufficient to validate arrest. Weaver v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D13a (2nd DCA 12/20/17)

ATTEMPTED MURDER OF LEO: New trial required where trial court failed to give requested jury instruction that Defendant must know that victim was a law enforcement officer. Rivera v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D12a (2nd DCA 12/20/17)

BRIBERY: JOA properly denied on bribery charge where mayor became a private consultant to hurry up construction of a pump station. Bateman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D9a (3rd DCA 12/20/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-FIREARM-STACKING: Mandatory minimums for use of firearm may be stacked when Defendant separately brandished gun toward different officers, minutes separating each act. Jordan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D7a (3rd DCA 12/20/17)

ATTEMPTED FELONY MURDER: Double jeopardy does not preclude convictions for attempted felony murder and armed robbery where there were multiple acts of force to take property before Defendant shot the victim. Newbhard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2d (3rd DCA 12/20/17)

UPWARD DEPARTURE-APPRENDI: Court may sentence Defendant who scores under 22 points to prison without a jury finding that she is a danger to the public. Statute is a mitigation law, not an upward departure law. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2657b (5th DCA 2017)

RECORDS: Because a public defender or court-appointed lawyer is an “official,” mandamus is an appropriate remedy to compel such an official to provide a defendant with copies of legal documents prepared at public expense. Norris v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2656b (5th DCA 12/15/17)

SEXUAL PREDATOR: Defendant cannot be designated a sexual predator for a second degree felony in absence of evidence of a previous sex offense conviction. Wright v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2656a (5th DCA 12/15/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATORY STOP: Officer who observed defendant urinating in restaurant parking lot at 4:45 p.m. had reasonable suspicion to believe defendant had committed a crime by violating county’s public nudity ordinance. State v. Harris, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2654a (5th DCA 12/15/17)

EXPERT: Where parties argued Daubert without objection, the Daubert standard applies. Kemp v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2648a (4th DCA 12/13/17)

EXPERT: Officer’s testimony that the Defendant braked based on marks on car (showing he did not lose consciousness, as claimed), is admissible under Daubert. But see dissent. (“Corporal Dooley’s . . . testimony amounted to little more than a subjective and unverifiable opinion and represents precisely the sort of junk science that should never be countenanced in a court of law. . . Dooley’s repeated invocation of the magic words ‘training and experience’ was insufficient. Kemp v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2648a (4th DCA 12/13/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Investigating officer may not translate her own videotaped interview with the defendant while testifying on the stand. When the State seeks to admit into evidence a recording in Spanish, generally “a sworn interpreter must be provided to translate such conversations. Mendez Martinez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2647a (4th DCA 12/13/17)

JURIES: Six-person juries in all non-death penalty cases is lawful. Lessard v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2637a (1st DCA 12/13/17)

QUOTATION (CONCURRING OPINION): “Williams, which dismissed the centuries-old common law practice of twelve-member juries as a mere ‘historical accident’ . . . was based on dubious anecdotal assertions and demonstrably incorrect statistical and sociological principles that have plagued this body of jurisprudence ever since. . . [I]ts reasoning foundered on glaring misinterpretations of social science research and inept methodologies, so much so that one prominent commentator said that the ‘quality of social science scholarship displayed . . . would not win a passing grade in a high school psychology class.” Lessard v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2637a (1st DCA 12/13/17)

APPEAL: A delayed restitution hearing does not toll or postpone the time to appeal from a criminal sentence. Silky v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2635b (4th DCA 12/13/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an appeal on claim that counsel failed to convey a plea offer to him. Cosme v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2635a (4th DCA 12/13/17)

WITNESS TAMPERING: One can be convicted of witness tampering by threatening to kill witness if he reports the crime, regardless whether the victim is attempting to contact police at the time. Conflict certified. Taffe v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2619a (4th DCA 12/13 /17) concurring opinion by only three justices. Caruthers v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2616g (4th DCA 12/13/17)

EVIDENCE: Court did not abuse discretion by admitting a video recording of defendant's confession where he was wearing jail clothes and handcuffs upon finding that unfair prejudice of jury seeing defendant in jail clothes and handcuffs did not substantially outweigh the probative value of the video confession. Burton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2614a (3rd DCA 12/13/17)

SENTENCING-PRR: Court must impose a mandatory minimum sentence under 10/20/Life notwithstanding that the sentence of life is imposed anyways. Burks v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2611a (3rd DCA 12/13/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for second degree murder and unlawful possession of a firearm while engaged in a criminal offense violate double jeopardy. The State cannot convict and sentence a defendant with two substantive offenses for the single act of possession of one weapon. Debose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2610b (3rd DCA 12/13/17)

APPEAL-POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Once a notice of appeal of an order denying a first motion for post-conviction relief has been filed, the trial court is without jurisdiction to consider the second motion for post-conviction relief while that appeal remains pending. Rua-Torbizco v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2609a (3rd DCA 12/13/17)

VOP: Court may not revoke probation for use of drugs where defendant never received written notice of that he could not use drugs. Oral pronouncement, alone, of a condition of probation is not enough. Chaney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2608a (3rd DCA 12/13/17)

APPEAL-JOA: Court lacks jurisdiction of state's appeal of order granting defendant's motion for judgment of acquittal following jury deadlock and declaration of mistrial. State may appeal a judgment of acquittal only after a jury verdict. State v. Lundy, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2607a (3rd DCA 12/13/17)

EVIDENCE: In Lewd and Lascivious case, court properly excluded evidence of thirteen-year-old victim's unrelated acts of prostitution and prohibited defense from introducing evidence that victim was the initiator of sexual contact, as consent is not a defense to the crime charged. Bentley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2605a (3rd DCA 12/13/17)

ENTRAPMENT: Defendant is not required to give presuit notice of intent to assert entrapment. Defendant's not guilty plea was sufficient to notify state of possibility that he could raise entrapment defense. Ayala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2589c (2nd DCA 12/13/17)

BAIL: Defendant who failed to appear at competency hearing is entitled to bond hearing, notwithstanding suggestion of incompetency. Eckford v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2588a (5th DCA 12/11/17)

FARETTA: No "magic words" or specific questions are necessary to ensure an adequate Faretta inquiry. Inquiry is not rendered inadequate because of court's failure to ask defendant specific questions. Question certified whether a Faretta inquiry is invalid if the court does not explicitly inquire as to the defendant's age, experience, and understanding of the Rules of Criminal Procedure? Hooks v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2578a (1st DCA 12/6/17)

APPEALS: Court's ruling that collateral crimes would be admissible in L & L case is not appealable following a plea where issue is neither stipulated to be, nor held to be, dispositive. Foster v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2553a (4th DCA 12/6/17)

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: Defendant who was sentenced to DOC but released from jail with credit for time served before being sent to prison does not qualify as PRR for the subsequent offense. Taylor v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2551a (2nd DCA 12/6/17)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: Introduction of collateral crime evidence is not reversible error where not objected to and injected by Defendant to establish alibi that he was smoking a blunt with his lady. Kerry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2540a (5th DCA 12/1/17)

REDACTION: Failure to redact defendant's use of racial epithets in recorded interview that was played for jury was not preserved for review by objection and did not, under circumstances of instant case, amount to fundamental error. "Unless such language is relevant, it should be excluded. We caution the State that in our view, under most circumstances, the use of racial epithets should be redacted. Kerry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2540a (5th DCA 12/1/17)

NOVEMBER 2017

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for dealing in stolen property and grand theft violated double jeopardy where offenses were committed in connection with one scheme or course of conduct. Bennett v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2538a (1st DCA 11/30/17)

VOP: Defendant violated probation by going to the wrong office for the first meeting, then failing to go to the correct address after being told where it was. Junk v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2537a (1st DCA 11/30/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who alleges that counsel was ineffective for failing to impeach witness with the fact that the witness admitted to being high on cocaine at the time of the crime is entitled to an evidentiary hearing. Atwater v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2535a (1st DCA 11/30/17)

GRAND THEFT-JOA: Defendant is entitled to JOA where value of the property stolen (42-inch flat screen television, 32-inch flat screen television, computer tablet, laptop computer, desktop computer, Xbox 360, surround sound system, and some pictures) was not proven to be over $300. The victim's estimate that the property was worth $4000 is insufficient. A mere guess at, or uninformed estimate of the value of stolen property is insufficient, absent other proof, to establish value beyond a reasonable doubt. Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2534a (1st DCA 11/30/17)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Court erred in denying pre-sentencing motion to withdraw plea without hearing, particularly where counsel's remark that defendant had "buyer's remorse" indicated a possible conflict of interest between counsel (who thus undermined Defendant's argument) and defendant asserted that he did not have his discovery. Benjamin v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2519c (2nd DCA 11/29/17)

JOA-GRAND THEFT OF VEHICLE: Child is entitled to judgment of dismissal where state failed to prove that juvenile knew car he was driving when stopped by police was stolen. State could not rely on statutory inference that person in possession of recently stolen property knew or should have known that property was stolen where juvenile presented reasonable explanation for his possession of vehicle (he got the keys from a friend and they went to meet some girls.). C.T. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2510a (3rd DCA 11/29/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-IMMIGRATION: Claim that trial court's failure to advise defendant of possible immigration consequences rendered his plea involuntary is time-barred where motion was not filed within two-year time limitation, and defendant failed to establish that in the exercise of due diligence he could not have ascertained the possible immigration consequences of his plea within the two-year period. PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Defendant was entitled to hearing on motion to withdraw plea alleging plea was involuntary because of trial court's unrecorded side-bar statements indicating defendant would receive a more severe sentence if he did not take a negotiated plea. EVIDENCE: Evidence is admissible to show consciousness of guilt that Defendant created a second list of people he wanted to kill to prevent their testifying in his murder case. Beckman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1975a (3rd DCA 9/6/17)
<http://www.3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D15-0304.pdf>

EVIDENCE: Court can exclude medical evidence that the Defendant had Asperger's syndrome where defense was allowed to introduce evidence that defendant generally acted differently from most people. Beckman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1975a (3rd DCA 9/6/17)

HEARSAY-EXCITED UTTERANCE: Evidence of statements made by defendant in 911 call shortly after the killing (“Oh my God, call 911. . .Please, come quickly, I accidentally shot my father.”) were not admissible under excited utterance exception to hearsay rule where there was no showing that defendant was under any stress or excitement at the time of the call. “[S]ince spontaneity is the principal, and often the only, guarantee of trustworthiness for the exceptions . . . , its absence should result in exclusion of the statement.” Beckman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1975a (3rd DCA 9/6/17)

SENTENCING-JUVENILE-APPRENDI: Court, not jury, may make the factual findings justifying a lengthy prison sentence up to and including life imprisonment or a juvenile. Apprendi does not require the jury to make the Miller factual findings. Beckman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1975a (3rd DCA 9/6/17)

FELONY LITTERING: Dumping litter on one’s own private property can, in certain circumstances, constitute a violation of the Florida Litter Law. Cosio v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1959d (2nd DCA 9/6/17)

FELONY LITTERING: Plants, living or dead, are not litter. Cosio v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1959d (2nd DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION One man’s trash is another man’s treasure. But sometimes it’s just another man’s nuisance.” Cosio v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1959d (2nd DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION: “[U]nder the doctrine of noscitur a sociis (a word is known by the company it keeps), one examines the other words used within a string of concepts to derive the legislature’s overall intent. . . . With that principle in mind, it defies any reasonable understanding of what could plausibly be characterized as “litter,” or “garbage,” or “trash,” or “rubbish” to maintain, as the State does here, that live, verdant plant life and forestry falls within the ambit of any of those words. A living tree is not trash, at least under the Florida Litter Law. To broaden the meaning of litter to include growing things that are rooted in the earth would imbue more than an “unintended breadth” of definition into the statute’s language. . . . – it would foist an outright distortion on the common meaning of “garbage,” “rubbish,” “trash,” or “refuse. Nor under these circumstances does the felled state of the trees and brush on Mr. Cosio’s yard transubstantiate their material into litter for purposes of the statute.” Cosio v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1959d (2nd DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION: “Although the State’s pursuit of a felony case through a jury trial against an elderly gentleman who hoarded junk on his overgrown yard strikes us as a rather questionable expenditure of criminal justice resources, that is not a basis upon which we can disturb the trial court’s ruling, and so we affirm the judgment below.” Cosio v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1959d (2nd DCA 9/6/17)

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS: Charge of lewd and lascivious molestation must be dismissed if not prosecuted within 3 years of the date the incident was first reported to DCF. Curry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1957a (4th DCA 9/6/17)

RESENTENCING-SUCCESSOR JUDGE: Where defendant is resentenced by a new judge following a successful appeal, and the successor judge indicates that he is not inclined to revisit the sentence previously imposed, notwithstanding that he reviewed all the mitigating material submitted, the Defendant is entitled to another resentencing hearing by another judge. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1952a (4th DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION: “The majority has scoured the trial judge’s words, like a medieval monk pouring over sacred text, looking for nuances that would support reversal. Here, the legal basis for reversal is that the judge violated the constitution by failing to exercise 'independent judgment.' A failure to exercise independent judgment is a flimsy notion upon which to erect a reversal. If law involves the drawing of lines, who can say when independent judgment begins and ends?” Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1952a (4th DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION: “The sad irony of the law is that a judge can shred the Constitution in sentencing so long as he does not utter words that give him away.” Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1952a (4th DCA 9/6/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: 10-year mandatory minimum sentence cannot be imposed where the jury did not expressly find actual possession of the firearm. Hicks v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1949b (4th DCA 9/6/17) APPEALS : Appellate court lacks jurisdiction to entertain appeal taken by defendant from an order granting relief under rule 3.800. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1969a (3rd DCA 9/6/17)

SENTENCING-10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE: Court has discretion to impose concurrent or consecutive mandatory minimum sentences where offenses occurred in same criminal episode and involved multiple victims. Resentencing is required where Court thought otherwise under then-existing case law. Goodson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1938a (1st DCA 9/5/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for use of computer to facilitate or solicit parent to consent to sexual conduct of child and traveling to meet minor to engage in sexual conduct with consent of parent did not constitute a double jeopardy violation where the two convictions were not based on same conduct. Coffey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1936a (1st DCA 9/5/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for traveling and unlawful use of twoway communications device constituted double jeopardy. Coffey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1936a (1st DCA 9/5/17)

ENTRAPMENT: Argument that defendant was induced to solicit because ad was posted in adult dating section of Craigslist and because undercover agent brought up the suggestion that her daughter needed to lose her virginity for religious reasons lacks merit. Coffey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1936a (1st DCA 9/5/17)

EVIDENCE-RELEVANCE : Evidence that Defendant suffered sexual abuse as a child was within Court's discretion to exclude as needlessly cumulative and likely to inflame emotions of jurors and possibly distract them from relevant legal issues. Coffey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1936a (1st DCA 9/5/17)

SENTENCING: Defendant is not entitled to relief on claim that written sentence conflicts with oral pronouncement where trial court determined after hearing that transcript was in error and that written sentence complies with oral pronouncement. Santiago v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1935a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

MARCHMAN ACT-VENUE: Marchman Act petition must be filed in the county where the treatment is located, but improper venue is waived if not asserted. J.P. v. J.N., 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1933b (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the question of whether counsel was ineffective for failing to object to jury instruction on third-degree murder as a lesser included offense of first-degree murder without attaching records refuting his claim that there is no evidence that the death occurred in connection with the purchase of marijuana. White v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1933a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the question of whether counsel was ineffective for failing to properly prepare defendant to testify at trial, and that if counsel had properly advised him, incriminating text messages would have been kept out of evidence. White v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1933a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

VOP: Court can proceed on violation despite the fact that the State dropped the charge of domestic violence which was the basis of the violation. State v. Mitchum, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1930a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred by summarily denying the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to interview or investigate state witnesses in failing to present a defense theory in order to preserve the opportunity to present first and last closing arguments. Defendant's acquiescence in the strategy does not insulate his performance from judicial review. Downs v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1929a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-APPEAL: The appeal from the denial of the second motion for post-conviction relief is dismissed where an order had not been rendered dispensing with a motion for rehearing of the order denying the 1st motion for post-conviction relief. Minix v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1928b (5th DCA 9/1/17)

JOA-FAILURE TO REGISTER: JOA for failure to comply with sex offender registration requirements must be granted where State failed to demonstrate that Defendant qualified as a sex offender. State cannot rely on the inference that because he was given a 10-year sentence in 1995 he must've been released from incarceration after

October 1, 1997. Clay v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1928a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

JOA: A defendant does not waive the arguments made in a motion for judgment of acquittal at the close of the State's case by subsequently introducing evidence. Clay v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1928a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to advise defendant of a meritorious motion to suppress and that if he had properly advised him he would not have entered the plea. Guevara v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1927c (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred by summarily denying claims that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to improper closing argument in failing to adequately cross-examine expert witness. Burt v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1927b (5th DCA 9/1/17)

AUGUST 2017

DEATH PENALTY Aggravator for a particularly vulnerable victim applies where the Defendant is in a de facto role of stepparent. Covington v. State, v. 42 Fla. L. Weekly S787a (FLA 8/31/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Aggravator of heinous, atrocious, and cruel applies where the victim has multiple broken bones and the Defendant sawed through the child victim's neck with a bread knife while she cried. Covington v. State, v. 42 Fla. L. Weekly S787a (FLA 8/31/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Court must consider parole ineligibility as a mitigating factor, that failure to do so here is harmless error. Covington v. State, v. 42 Fla. L. Weekly S787a (FLA 8/31/17)

PENALTY: defendant who has waived the right to a penalty phase jury is not entitled to relief under Hurst. Covington v. State, v. 42 Fla. L. Weekly S787a (FLA 8/31/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel is not ineffective for not arguing that the transcript of the Defendant's conversation should have said "fer" instead of "fing." Gregory v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S779a (FLA 8/31/17)

LESSER INCLUDED-MANSLAUGHTER: Manslaughter is a necessarily lesser included offense of second-degree felony murder because both offenses require some action by the defendant that ultimately causes the victim's death. However, where the evidence supports the charged offense as well as the requested instruction on a necessarily lesser included offense, any error in failing to give the requested instruction is harmless because the defendant is not entitled to an opportunity for a jury pardon. Dean v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S769a (FLA 8/31/17)

LESSER INCLUDED (concurring) “My colleague argues that there is no inherent error in failure to instruct on an immediate lesser-included offense because there is no right for the jury to exercise its pardon power. . . This Court has recognized the opposite for as long as there has been a Florida Supreme Court. . . .To hold otherwise, as the majority currently does, is to recede from centuries of caselaw without an explanation.” Dean v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S769a (FLA 8/31/17)

QUOTATION: “So, Dean wins a pyrrhic victory. He receives a favorable answer on manslaughter being a lesser included offense of second-degree felony murder, but he does not receive a new trial with a proper jury instruction on the lesser included offense of manslaughter. In my view, there would be a real possibility that the jury would have found him guilty of the lesser included offense, not as a result of the jurors disregarding their oath, but because the facts of this case could fit into manslaughter. Accordingly, I dissent.” Dean v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S769a (FLA 8/31/17)

STATE ATTORNEY: Gov. has authority to reassign prosecution of death penalty eligible cases when State Attorney announces her intention to implement a blanket policy of not seeking the death penalty. Ayala v. Scott, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S766b (FLA 8/31/17)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Court properly determined law enforcement officer who shot a man who had failed to obey commands to drop a weapon and pointed the weapon at officers was entitled to immunity under Florida’s Stand Your Ground law. Law enforcement officers are entitled to seek immunity under the Stand Your Ground law. Question Certified. State v. Peraza, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1917a (4th DCA 8/30/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Court's order precluding death as a possible punishment on grounds that no constitutional penalty phase procedure was in place is quashed. Aggravating factors need not be alleged in the indictment. State v. Chapman, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1915a (4th DCA 8/30/17)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: Motion for return of property including "all other miscellaneous items" is legally sufficient for a hearing. Defendant need not establish proof of ownership in order to allege a facially sufficient claim for the return of property. Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1910a (4th DCA 8/30/17)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: After defense counsel moved to have defendant evaluated for competency, trial court improperly allowed defendant to waive his right to the required competency hearing and proceed to trial without determining his competency. Hearing cannot be waived. Raithel v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1906a (4th DCA 8/30/17)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: Court erred in finding the motion for return of property was untimely when the petition for discretionary review was still pending when the motion was filed. Eugene v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1905a (4th DCA 8/30/17)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: An inmate in the custody of DOC must exhaust administrative remedies for gain time or credit owed within DOC before he is entitled to judicial remedies. Dunbar v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1890a (3rd DCA 8/30/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Defendant waives double jeopardy claims when entering a negotiated plea agreement. Higginbotham v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1886d (1st DCA 8/30/17)

ENFORCEMENT OF APPELLATE MANDATE: Where appellate court ordered trial court to vacate the grand theft conviction and sentence for organized fraud, State cannot thwart the order by Nolle processing the organized fraud count. When an appellate court issues a mandate, compliance with the mandate by the circuit court is purely a ministerial act. The circuit court does not have the authority to modify, nullify or evade that mandate. Manata v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1886b (1st DCA 8/30/17)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: State committed discovery violation by not disclosing alleged statements by the defendant to the Victim admitting the theft on the theory that the disclosure was not required because the defendant could have deposed the victim. Court erred in not considering the harm in preparation created by the non-disclosure. Z.L. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1885b (2nd DCA 8/30/17)

VOP-YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Court erred in sentencing Defendant upon violation of probation without continuing youthful offender status. Jaques v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1885a (2nd DCA 8/30/17)

VOP: Defendant is improperly convicted of violating community control where his car broke down at the gas station and he could not come home for 50 minutes. Rousey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1882a (2nd DCA/30/17)

Defendant was properly sentenced to life in prison for first-degree felony (attempted second degree murder with a weapon) where he qualified as habitual felony offender. Clark v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1881a (2nd DCA 8/30/17)

JOA-NEGLECT OF CHILD CAUSING GREAT BODILY HARM:

Defendant's conduct in allowing 4-year-old child to descend, unassisted, a flight of stairs that the child had regularly traversed previously without significant incident did not rise to level of culpable negligence or willful failure to care for child's well-being. Medina v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1878a (2nd DCA 8/30/17)

EVIDENCE: Evidence that Defendant was under the influence of marijuana at the time of the incident is not a basis for criminal liability for neglect of a child absent proof that the ability to supervise or care for the child was impaired. Medina v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1878a (2nd DCA 8/30/17)

COSTS: Court may not impose discretionary costs without providing Defendant notice and opportunity to object. Cooler v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1873b (1st DCA 8/28/17)

SENTENCING-10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE: Where Defendant was convicted of one qualifying felony into non-qualifying felonies, court may impose mandatory minimum sentences to run consecutively. Armstead v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1872b (1st DCA 8/28/17)

DRIVING RECORD: Department's records are prima facie evidence that the driver committed the offenses identified in its records, and that the burden then shifts to the driver to dispute the evidence. Carpenter v. DHSMV, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1875a (1st DCA 8/28/17)

JUVENILES-SENTENCING: Upon deviating from DJJ's recommendation of probation, Court erred in committing juvenile to nonsecure residential program without first securing a commitment level recommendation from DJJ. K.L.L. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1871b (1st DCA 8/28/17)

APPEALS: Judgment which reserves jurisdiction to determine disposition of marital home should refinance not be possible is a nonappealable nonfinal order. Fischer v. Fischer, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1871a (1st DCA 8/28/17)

SENTENCING: 25-year minimum mandatory sentence for trafficking between 28 grams and 30 grams of hydrocodone was not illegal where offense was committed before statutory amendment which reduced minimum mandatory sentence for trafficking in that amount of hydrocodone. Anderson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1870a (1st DCA 8/28/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Notwithstanding that he pled to armed robbery with a firearm, Defendant may claim ineffective assistance of counsel for failure to move to suppress evidence where he alleges he would have proceeded to trial, but the claim may be summarily denied where there it is not objectively reasonable that he would have proceeded to trial. Guzman-Aviles, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1864b (5th DCA 8/25/17)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Court may not sentence defendant as a violent felony offender of special concern without making a written finding as to why he poses a danger to the community. Brown v. State, (5th DCA 8/25/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failure to obtain photographs of his hands, which would have shown a cut made by the victim's knife, in a case in which self-defense was asserted. Trawick v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1863a (5th DCA 8/25/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call assisted attorney at suppression hearing who would've testified that police arrested his mother resulting in his cooperating in exchange for the possibility of his mother's immunity. Jones v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1862c (5th DCA 8/25/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failure to request an independent act jury instruction for offense of burglary with a firearm where defendant alleged that no guns were taken to the burglarized home, he did not enter the home, it had been agreed beforehand that no guns would be used or taken, and that codefendant acquired the guns from inside the home. Jones v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1862c (5th DCA 8/25/17)

EVIDENCE-OPINION: Lay witness testimony regarding speed of a vehicle may be admissible. Lay witness may testify the motorcycles going at a high rate of speed based on the sound of the motorcycle. Perception is not limited to visual perception. Sajiun v. Santiago, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1857a (4th DCA 8/23/17)

INFORMATION-AMENDMENT: State may not amend the information after the victim's testimony to reflect digital rather than oral penetration. The argument that the change did not implicate a different statute fails. Simbert v State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1849a (4th DCA 8/23/17)

ARGUMENT: State improperly asked jury to determine whether the victim was lying as the test determining Defendant's guilt, but the issue is not preserved if not objected to. Simbert v State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1849a (4th DCA 8/23/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-MANIFEST INJUSTICE: Where similarly situated co-defendant had his conviction reversed based on Court's failure to suppress improper traffic stop, appellate counsel was ineffective for failure to argue similarly. SENTENCING-JUVENILE: Juvenile sentenced to 31 years followed by 15 years of probation for crimes committed prior to new juvenile sentencing statute is not entitled to a sentence review. The sentence is neither a life sentence nor does the law apply retroactively. Question certified. Tillman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1844a (4th DCA 8/23/17)

THEFT-VALUE: First degree petit theft conviction is vacated with the evidence did not establish the fair market value of an iPad stolen from the school at the time of the offense nor the cost of replacement within a reasonable time thereafter. Electrical components are subject to accelerated obsolescence; purchase price alone is generally insufficient to establish the value of such property him. Y.R. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1837a (3rd DCA 8/23/17)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Statement that Defendant had been given a downward departure based on a plea agreement before violating probation is not a valid basis for imposition of a downward departure on the VOP. State v. Shine, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1832c (3rd DCA 8/23/17)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Fact that trial judge is a Facebook “friend” with lawyer representing a potential witness and potential party in pending litigation is not valid basis for disqualification of

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: The fact that the defendant never left the store with the property he was stealing does not warrant a

Noriega v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1801a (3r DCA 8/16/17)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Defendant's motion for continuance on misdemeanor charge, made after expiration of speedy trial period on the misdemeanor charge, waived defendant's right to speedy trial on felony charge which was filed outside the 175-day speedy trial period but arose from the same criminal episode. Waiver is construed as an ongoing waiver of speedy trial rights as to all charges arising out of the incident. State v. Telucian, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1795a (4th DCA 8/16/17)

JOA-CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: GPS showing Defendant a few miles from burglary, surveillance video showing his associate carrying a bag five days later which turned out to have victim's property in it, and Defendant making a jail call about getting a haircut is insufficient to support conviction. DeJesus v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1793b (4th DCA 8/16/17)

SENTENCING: Fundamental error for court to imply he would not, as general policy, consider defendant's mental health needs as basis for downward departure. Concha v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1793a (4th DCA 8/16/17)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Trial court reversibly erred when it allowed state to use peremptory strike on African American juror where the only race-neutral explanation offered by state applied equally to three non-African American jurors whom state ultimately did not challenge. Hunter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1792a (4th DCA 8/16/17)

JUVENILE-LIFE SENTENCE-RE-SENTENCING: Court erred in imposing concurrent 35-year prison sentences followed by 10 years' probation without affording meaningful opportunity for early release based on demonstration of maturity and rehabilitation. SENTENCE MANIPULATION: Court may impose downward departure sentence based on finding that law enforcement officers engaged in sentence manipulation by making multiple purchases over course of sting operation for sole purpose of increasing potential sentence, but cannot go below the lowest permissible sentence which would have applied in absence of sentence manipulation. State v. Johnson, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1782b (2nd DCA 8/16/17)

APPEAL-PRESERVED ISSUE: Challenge to trial court's denial of pretrial motions to suppress recording of victim's cell phone conversation with defendant was not preserved for appellate review where defense counsel stated "no objection" when state moved to introduce the recording at trial. Henry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1777b (1st DCA 8/15/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: No error in admitting statements of Defendant whose primary language is Mayan but who had the benefit of a Spanish speaking translator. Martin-Godinez, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1776c (1st DCA 8/15/17)

RESENTENCING: After granting defendant's motion to correct illegal sentence, trial court erred by simply modifying the illegal sentence rather than granting a new sentencing hearing. Marana v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1774a (1st DCA 8/14/17)

COUNSEL: Where trial court conducted full Faretta inquiry at pretrial hearing on two cases before authorizing defendant to represent himself, the two cases were subsequently tried in separate trials on the same day, and the court conducted another full inquiry before the trial of the first case, the court was not required to renew the offer of counsel before the start of the second trial. Scott v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1771a (1st DCA 8/14/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for use of computer services to solicit a child to engage in sexual conduct, unlawful use of two-way communications device, and traveling to meet a minor did not violate double jeopardy where the offenses were not based on the same conduct. NON-EXISTENT OFFENSE: New trial required where the jury is instructed on the non-existent crime of attempt to commit attempted sexual battery. Error is fundamental. Heathcock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1765a (5th DCA 8/11/17)

SENTENCING-SCORESHEET: 1.5 domestic violence multiplier does not apply where witness tampering is the primary offense. McCloud v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1759a (2nd DCA 8/11/17)

RETROACTIVITY: Hurst does not apply retroactively to cases which became final before Ring v. Arizona. Thorough discussion in dissenting/concurring opinions. Hitchcock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S753a (FLA 8/10/17)

RETROACTIVITY: “This Court need not tumble down the dizzying rabbit hole of untenable line drawing; instead, the Court could simply entertain Hurst claims for those defendants who properly presented and preserved the substance of the issue, even before Ring arrived. . .In James v. State. . .we. . .concluded that — despite his case becoming final before the principle of law had a case name — it would be unjust to deprive James of the benefit of the Supreme Court’s holding in Espinosa after he had properly presented and preserved such a claim.. . . Similarly, I believe that defendants who properly preserved the substance of a Ring challenge at trial and on direct appeal prior to that decision should also be entitled to have their constitutional challenges heard.. . [T]he fact that some defendants specifically cited the name Ring while others did not is not dispositive.” Hitchcock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S753a (FLA 8/10/17)

QUOTATION: “Reliability is the linchpin of Eighth Amendment jurisprudence, and a death sentence imposed without a unanimous jury verdict for death is inherently unreliable.” Hitchcock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S753a (FLA 8/10/17) (Pariente dissenting)

JOA: Defendant is entitled to JOA on charge of alteration of firearm serial number where no evidence establishes where (venue) or when (statute of limitations) the number was scratched out. Swain v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1755a (1st DCA 8/10/17)

FIREARM-ACTUAL POSSESSION: Evidence does not establish actual possession (triggering a mandatory minimum sentence) where gun is in a bag fifty feet from the Defendant after his girlfriend dumped him and his possessions at the corner and reported him to the police. Swain v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1755a (1st DCA 8/10/17)

SEVERANCE: Court did not abuse its discretion by denying motion to sever counts charging defendant with felony driving with license suspended and leaving scene of crash involving death. Evidence of defendant’s suspended license was relevant to charge of fleeing scene of crash because it showed an additional motive to flee. Pitts v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1752b (1st DCA 8/10/17)

HEARSAY: Testimony by Defendant's girl friend woke her and Defendant up, screamed that something had happened to truck and that defendant responded with shock, placing hands on his head and saying it was not he who drove the truck. Son's out-of-court statement was not hearsay where statement was offered to show effect on the listener rather than truth of the statement. Pitts v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1752b (1st DCA 8/10/17)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE-JOA: JOA properly denied where the evidence singularly pointed to Appellant as the only possible suspect in th murder of his wife. Kline v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1750a (1st DCA 8/10/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for grand theft auto and theft of property within the vehicle at the time of the taking violate double jeopardy. Failure to return property from within a repossessed vehicle cannot be theft. Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1749a (1st DCA 8/10/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for traveling to meet minor to engage in sexual conduct and solicitation of child for unlawful sexual conduct after using computer services were not impermissible where convictions did not arise from same criminal episode. Assanti v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1747b (1st DCA 8/10/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-ROBBERY: Defendant who incorrectly moved for relief under Miller v. Alabama, which applies to homicides, should be allowed to amend his motion under Graham, which would require him to allege that he has no meaningful opportunity to obtain release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation. Wright v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1747a (1st DCA 8/10/19)

FELONY BATTERY: It is fundamental error to find defendant guilty of felony battery as lesser included offense of aggravated battery with deadly weapon where information did not allege great bodily harm. Kirkland v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1746a (1st DCA 8/10/17)

COMPETENCY: Unsigned “memo of sentence/order of court” filed with clerk following competency hearing did not satisfy requirement of written competency order. Hendrix v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1744b (2nd DCA 8/9/17)

APPEAL-COUNSEL: Because record does not indicate that counsel appointed to represent defendant in violation of probation hearing was also appointed for purpose of appeal, case is remanded to trial court for determination of defendant's eligibility to have counsel appointed for purpose of appeal. Henley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1726a (3rd DCA 8/9/17)

ARGUMENT: "The defendant savagely, maliciously, and intentionally beat [Emmanuel] causing great bodily injury." is a reasonable inference from the evidence, and a fair reply to Defendant's argument. Beating a woman until she's bleeding, her lip is busted, her eye cannot open, she has to go to the hospital, breaking her eye socket, and spitting on her, all because she disrespected Defendant, was savage and malicious. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1722a (3rd DCA 8/9/17)

SENTENCING-VINDICTIVENESS: Courts should colloquy a defendant before trial about knowingly, voluntarily, and intelligently rejecting a plea offer. Doing so is not initiating plea discussions, and is not vindictive. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1722a (3rd DCA 8/9/17)

ESCAPE: Defendant does not commit the crime of escape by failing to return from a one-day pretrial furlough to attend his daughter's funeral. SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PAT DOWN: Officers may not conduct a patdown because of a trespassing complaint with the defendant was leaving the property at the time of the stop. Hearing someone tell the defendant to leave the property is not reasonable suspicion that the defendant is trespass. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1702b (2nd DCA 8/4/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PAT DOWN: A valid stop does not necessarily mean that there can be a valid frisk. Officer cannot conduct a patdown on the basis of his sixth sense. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1702b (2nd DCA 8/4/17)

COUNSEL: Court must renew offer assistance of counseling prior to sentencing. Alexander v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1702a (2nd DCA 8/4/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to move for a mistrial or accept the Court's offer mistrial based on a witnesses vouching for the credibility of victims. APPEAL-JURISDICTION: Court lacked jurisdiction to deny motion to correct illegal sentence while direct appeal was pending. Baldino v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1696a (4th DCA 8/2/17)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Unidentified 911 caller's vague description of light-skinned black male wearing shorts and a shirt looking through windows was not sufficient to give rise to reasonable suspicion justifying stop of juvenile, who was spotted about a quarter of a mile away from the neighborhood. T.P. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1690a (2nd DCA 8/2/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Juvenile's flight in response to officer's attempted consensual encounter was not sufficient to provide officer with reasonable suspicion. T.P. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1690a (2nd DCA 8/2/17)

Ridgeway v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1688c (3rd DCA 8/2/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Defendant fired a warning shot to chase off the Victim who had barged into his apartment. Court has no discretion to avoid imposing 20-year mandatory minimum sentence for aggravated assault with a firearm committed prior to July 1, 2014. “This case. . . is a classic example of how inflexible mandatory minimum sentences may result in injustices within the legal system that should not be tolerated.” Wright v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1680b (1st DCA 8/1/17)

INEFFECTIVENESS OF COUNSEL: Failure to request the self-defense jury instruction is ineffective assistance of counsel were the only defense presented was self-defense. The issue may be raised on direct appeal where, as here the error is apparent on the record. Kruse v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1554a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

THEFT-VALUE: First degree petit theft conviction to be reduced to second degree petit theft where state failed to adequately prove the stolen property was valued at $100 or more. Rosario-Santos v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1550a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

RESENTENCING: Defendant is entitled to be present and presented with a corrected scoresheet when resentenced. Baker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1549b (4th DCA 7/12/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-PLEA: Court did not err in summarily denying the claim that the Defendant was unable to comprehend plea because on medication where he alleged in his motion that his attorney told him not to mention to the judge that he was taking psychotropic medication. Stilley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1549a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: “A post-conviction court is not required to hold hearings on absurd claims or accept as true allegations that defy logic and which are inherently incredible.” Here, it is objectively unreasonable to believe that the Defendant facing mandatory life in prison as a PRR would have declined the offer of probation had he not receive bad advice from counsel. Stilley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1549a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

CONTEMPT-DIRECT: Defendant properly held in direct criminal contempt based on vulgar and disrespectful tirade during calendar call. Only one contempt conviction is appropriate where all obscenities part of the same continuous outburst. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1548a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-VEHICLE: Officers had reasonable suspicion to stop defendant’s van pursuant to BOLO based on physical description from 911 call given by citizen witness who had no interest in the situation and was fully cooperative with law enforcement, fact that there were virtually no other cars on road at time BOLO went out, fact that witness told law enforcement that there were at least three people in vehicle and was able to identify vehicle’s direction of travel, and fact that law enforcement stopped vehicle within 10 minutes of BOLO and less than 5 miles away from where van was initially spotted. Sammuel v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1541a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

SEVERANCE OF COUNTS: Court did not abuse discretion by denying motion to sever counts arising out of separate incidents where the crimes were part of a crime spree, were extremely close in geographic and temporal proximity, and were similar in the manner in which they were committed. Charles v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1537a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

EVIDENCE: Court did not abuse discretion in admitting evidence related to an offense that was severed where that offense was inextricably intertwined with the charged crimes and was relevant evidence of flight and concealment. Charles v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1537a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

PSYCHOLOGICAL EVALUATION: Court is not required to appoint a minimum of two experts. Charles v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1537a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

VOIR DIRE: Court abused its discretion limiting voir dire to 3-hour time limit and refusing to grant a few additional minutes to reach jurors it could not reach. As a matter of law, a one-to-three minute limit for voir dire examination of each potential juror is unreasonable and an abuse of discretion. Hopkins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1536a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court erred in denying challenges for cause where jurors admitted they might not be able to render impartial decisions if the defendant did not take the stand. Jurors who say “That possibility exists” [that it might negatively influence him] and “I believe I can, yes, [follow the law] him I’m not certain that I can.” should be stricken for cause. Hopkins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1536a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

RESTITUTION: Court abused its discretion in imposing restitution for 2 piece of jewelry which defendant never admitted that she pawned. James v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1535a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

SEX CRIME-AGE OF DEFENDANT-BIRTH CERTIFICATE: Birth certificate is a self-authenticating public record and it along with jury’s ability to observe the defendant (58-year-old) is sufficient to find that he was 24 years of age or older. Terry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1533b (4th DCA 7/12/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-10-20-LIFE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences are permissible but not mandatory where Defendant discharged a firearm in multiple offenses that occurred in the same criminal episode and involved multiple victims. Abrams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1531b (1st DCA 7/11/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-10-20-LIFE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences are permissible but not mandatory where Defendant discharged a firearm in multiple offenses that occurred in the same criminal episode but only shot one victim. Conflict Certified. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1531a (1st DCA 7/11/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-10-20-LIFE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences are permissible but not mandatory where

Defendant discharged a firearm in multiple offenses that occurred in the same criminal episode and firearm was discharged at multiple victims. Dukes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1530b (1st DCA 7/11/17)

COSTS: Court erred by imposing all fines, fees, costs, and surcharges as a lump sum. Clark v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1527c (1st DCA 7/11/17)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON-COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL:

Where defendant was charged with possession of a firearm by felon and trafficking in cocaine while armed with a firearm, the charges were severed, and jury found defendant guilty of armed trafficking and determined that he “individually carried” a weapon, but did not actually possess a firearm during commission of trafficking offense, state was not collaterally estopped from prosecuting defendant for possession of a firearm by a felon. Because “possession” is defined differently in the jury instructions for violations of §§775.087 and 790.23, the jury did not necessarily determine the issue of possession under §790.23 in Defendant's favor. State v. Joy, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1525a (5th DCA 7/7/17)

DRUG OFFENDER PROBATION: Imposition of drug offender probation for conviction of battery on law enforcement officer is lawful where defendant is a chronic substance abuser under the influence of a controlled substance on night of incident. Powell v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1521b (5th DCA 7/7/17)

SENTENCING: Court erred when it modified sentence to correct an illegal sentence without holding resentencing hearing. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1521a (5th DCA 7/7/17)

COSTS OF INVESTIGATION: Court erred in imposing costs of investigation where state did not expressly request these costs. Foulkes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1520c (5th DCA 7/7/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: Petition for writ of habeas corpus which attacks validity of conviction is properly brought in circuit court in county that rendered judgment of conviction. Milord v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1520b (5th DCA 7/7/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant may not collaterally attack a conviction through the process of habeas proceedings where such claims are cognizable under the rule 3.850. Milord v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1520b (5th DCA 7/7/17)

DISQUALIFICATION: Judge's comments regarding the efficacy of mitigation coordinators in other cases is legally insufficient to justify disqualification. Peterson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S720a (FLA 7/6/17)

DEATH PENALTY: New sentencing hearing is required where death recommendation was not unanimous. Peterson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S720a (FLA 7/6/17)

DEATH PENALTY: New sentencing hearing is required where death recommendation was not unanimous. Bailey v. Jones, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S719a (FLA 7/6/17)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Imposition of consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10-20-Life statute for multiple offenses arising out of single criminal episode was discretionary, not mandatory, where defendant only shot at one victim. Thornes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1509b (1st DCA 7/6/17)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Imposition of consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10-20-Life statute for multiple firearm offenses committed in single criminal episode is permissible but not mandatory Charlemagne v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1504a (3rd DCA 7/5/17)

JUVENILE-LIFE SENTENCE: Juvenile's life sentence for homicide with review after 40 years and consecutive 24 year sentence for burglary is lawful. Cutts v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1498a (4th DCA 7/5/17)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Court erred in imposing consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for multiple firearm offenses arising out of single criminal episode where firearm was merely possessed but not discharged. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1497b (4th DCA 7/5/17)

APPEAL-ARGUMENT-UNANIMOUS VERDICT: Claim that State relied on different factual theories to prove one of the sexual battery counts at issue, raising the possibility of a nonunanimous verdict, is not fundamental error. Objection must be made at trial or the argument is waived. Defendant may prefer lumping of acts in one count in order to lower possible exposure. Stalker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1497a (4th DCA 7/5/17)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Where Court failed to make written findings that the Defendant posed a danger to the community under VFOSC, the proper remedy is a new sentencing hearing. Whittaker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1495a (4th DCA 7/5/17)

PARAPHERNALIA: Where delinquency petition charged Child with possession of paraphernalia under §(b) (“to inject, ingest, inhale, or otherwise introduce into the human body a controlled substance”) and evidence established that the paraphernalia would have been under §(a) (packaging for narcotics), JOA is required. J.V. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1494b (4th DCA 7/5/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Defendant who received parole-eligible life sentence for nonhomicide committed when he was a juvenile is not entitled to resentencing under Graham v. Florida where he had actually been released from prison twice on parole. Rogers v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1493a (4th DCA 7/5/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's statements during closing arguments which directed jury to consider prior inconsistent statements as substantive evidence rather than just as impeachment evidence were not proper comments on the evidence. Prior inconsistent statements are admissible for impeachment purposes so long as the goal is to have the jury disbelieve both statements rather than to convince the jury that the prior statement is true and the in-court testimony is false. Abdulla v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1490b (4th DCA 7/5/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's suggestion that witness committed perjury as part of a strategy devised with defense counsel and defendant himself was completely improper. Abdulla v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1490b (4th DCA 7/5/17)

JUNE 2017

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-VOP: Where defendant was sentenced to community control as a youthful offender when he was seventeen years old, upon revocation of community control for new offenses committed when defendant was eighteen years old, defendant was not entitled to be sentenced pursuant to juvenile offender sentencing law under which he would have to be provided a meaningful opportunity to obtain release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1481a (5th DCA 6/30/17)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Where defendant was initially sentenced as youthful offender, Court must maintain his youthful offender status when sentencing him for community control violation. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1481a (5th DCA 6/30/17)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Felon pawning firearms previously owned by her deceased husband is prima facie evidence of possession of firearm by a felon. Henderson distinguished. Argument that Defendant possessed for purpose of lawful disposal was not raised in trial court. State v. Trappen, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1475b (2nd DCA 6/30/17)

EVIDENCE: Court may prohibit cross-examination on prior instances of contamination in analyses analyst had conducted in other cases where there was no evidence that DNA samples in defendant's case were contaminated. Evidence of particular acts of misconduct cannot be introduced to impeach the credibility of a witness. Sexton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S713a (FLA 6/29/17)

EVIDENCE: Court did not err in admitting detective's testimony recounting that defendant's wife stated, in response to defendant's claim that he had arrived home at 10 : 30 p.m. the night before the murder, "He's not telling the truth. He got home at 2:00 a.m." Sexton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S713a (FLA 6/29/17)

EVIDENCE: Photographs and testimony relating to injuries inflicted on victim's body after her death may be admitted. Sexton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S713a (FLA 6/29/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant entitled to new sentencing proceeding where Hurst error occurred and jury's recommendation of death was not unanimous. Sexton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S713a (FLA 6/29/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Imposition of death penalty was unconstitutional under decision of U.S. Supreme Court in Hurst v. Florida where jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. Cole v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S701a (FLA 6/29/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Imposition of death penalty was unconstitutional under decision of U.S. Supreme Court in Hurst v. Florida where jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. Bargo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S698a (FLA 6/29/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: In conducting warrantless search of cell phone, officers could not rely in good faith on district court of appeal decision which was not final, well-settled, unequivocal, or clearly established and which was certified for review by the Florida Supreme Court. Carpenter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S694a (FLA 6/29/17)

QUOTATION: "While an opinion from a district court of appeal may be binding on lower trial courts in Florida . . . , this fact does not necessarily justify law enforcement's reliance on that decision as "binding" law. . . Indeed, this issue can be likened to that of Schrödinger's Cat, where a decision of a district court of appeal may be both binding and not binding.” Carpenter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S694a (FLA 6/29/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Defendant does not have standing to object to search of home where he claims no interest in the part of the home which is searched. Gonzalez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1464a (4th DCA 6/28/17)

EVIDENCE-WEIGHT: Random testing of one out of 1,000 similar tablets was sufficient to admit evidence of weight. Gonzalez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1464a (4th DCA 6/28/17)

SEALING: Court may not deny petition to seal criminal record based solely upon its consideration of facts as outlined in probable cause affidavit. Where petitioner met requirements of statute and complied with pertinent statutory procedure, he was presumptively entitled to order to seal or expunge court records, and the only issue before trial court was whether factual basis existed to deny petition. Gotowala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1463b (4th DCA 6/28/17)

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: Judgment of Acquittal for aggravated assault is required where the victim is a one-and-a-half year old child, and there is no evidence that the child experienced fear. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1463a (4th DCA 6/28/17)

BOND-MINOR: Juvenile (14 yoa) charged as an adult may be held without bond because life is now a possible punishment for juveniles charged as adults with offenses punishable by life where proof of guilt is evident or presumption is great. Reeters v. Israel, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1460a (4th DCA 6/28/17)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court's comments during sentencing that defendant's testimony at trial was "untruthful and not believable" and warranted maximum sentence constituted fundamental error. Session v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1459b (4th DCA 6/28/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PLAIN VIEW: Residents of rooming houses are entitled to the same Fourth Amendment protections as residents of single-family houses, so long as rooming house itself is not open to public. Cocaine in pill bottle stashed in concrete latticework attached to foundation of rooming house where defendant was staying was unlawfully seized and should be suppressed. The common internal hallway area of a rooming house is a private, as opposed to a public, place. Open view doctrine does not allow police to seize bottle which they see put in the crawlspace with only a hunch that it is contraband. Full discussion of plain view/open view doctrines. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1456a (2nd DCA 6/28/17)

SPEEDY TRIAL: 60 day time limit for bringing Defendant to trial begins from the date of the demand, regardless of whether Defendant had been arrested. Cornelius v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1453b (5th DCA 6/27/17)

WITNESS-EXPERT: Court's declaration that State witness is an expert in front of jury is not fundamental error where it did not contribute to the verdict. Norfleet v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1448a (1st DCA 6/27/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that Counsel misadvised him that claim of right was a valid defense to carjacking and that he would have pled open upon accurate advise is not cognizable where there was no plea offer. Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1442a (1st DCA 6/27/17)

SENTENCING-CONSECUTIVE: Resentencing is required where the Court erroneously believed it was required to impose consecutive mandatory minimums for attempted murder and possession of a firearm by a felon when there was only one victim. Fleming v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1441c (1st DCA 6/27/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: Claims of ineffective assistance of appellate counsel in state court are not subject to federal review where issue is defaulted (i.e., not raised in state court). Attorney error is an objective external factor excusing a procedural default only if the error deprives one of a constitutional right. Since one has no right to counsel for habeas review, attorney error in that review cannot excuse a default. Davila v. Davis, No. 16-6219 (US 6/26/17)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Under Rule 3.132, a motion for pre-trial detention must be held within 5 days, and the State bears the burden of proving the need for pretrial detention. Watson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1452a (5th DCA 6/26/17)

DEPORTATION: When a defendant claims that his counsel's deficient performance deprived him of a trial by causing him to accept a plea, the defendant can show prejudice by demonstrating a reasonable probability that, but for counsel's errors, he would not have pleaded guilty and would have insisted on going to trial. Court may not consider whether the result of the trial would have been different. Lee v. United States, No. 16-327 (US S.Ct. 6/23/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-327_3eb4.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for not moving to suppress a photo lineup where the Defendant was the only one in the line up with facial scarring. Walker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1433d (5th DCA 6/23/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for incorrectly advising defendant that he should not testify because if he took the stand, state would be able to present to jury the details of his extensive criminal record. Walker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1433d (5th DCA 6/23/17)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Court may grant new trial based on newly discovered evidence that victim of lewd and lascivious assault tweeted two years later that she has sleep paralysis, which is characterized by sensory hallucinations. Boughs v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1433c (5th DCA 6/23/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Running background checks on the vehicle, the driver, and the passengers are normal parts of a traffic stop and do not unreasonably prolong the stop. Vangansbeke v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1429b (5th DCA 6/23/17)

UNLAWFULLY PROCURING CITIZENSHIP BY FALSE STATEMENT:

Jury must be instructed that the false statement (here, that her husband did not fight with the Bosnians nor participate in a massacre) must have contributed to citizenship being granted. The illegal act must have somehow contributed to the obtaining of citizenship. To decide whether a defendant acquired citizenship by means of a lie, a jury must evaluate how knowledge of the real facts would have affected a reasonable government official properly applying naturalization law. Maslenjak v. United States, 16-309 (US S.CT 6/22/17)

DEFINITIONS: “[T]o procure” something is “to get possession of” it. Webster’s Third New International Dictionary 1809 (2002); accord, Black’s Law Dictionary 1401 (10th ed.2014) (defining “procure” as “[t]o obtain (something), esp.by special effort or means”). Maslenjak v. United States, 16-309 (US S.CT. 6/22/17)

DISCOVERY-BRADY: Failure to disclose certain interviews weakening the Government’s case is a violation of Brady, but not material where there is not reasonable probability of changing the outcome. A new trial is not required where the evidence “is too little, too weak, or too distant from the main evidentiary points to meet Brady’s standards.” Turner v. United States, 15-1503 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/22/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-1503_4357.pdf

PUBLIC TRIAL: Structural errors should not be deemed harmless beyond a reasonable doubt. A structural error is one which affect the framework within which the trial proceeds, rather than being “simply an error in the trial process itself. An error can count as structural even if the error does not lead to fundamental unfairness in every case. A violation of the right to a public trial including excluding the public from jury selection because of limited space—is a structural error. However, counsel was not ineffective for failure to object to exclusion of the jury because there is no showing of fundamental unfairness. Weaver v. Massachusetts, No. 16-240 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/22/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-240_g3bi.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on the claims that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to late disclosure of a witness who rebutted Defendant’s opening statement. Cruz v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1415d (4th DCA 6/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on the claims that counsel was ineffective for failing to file notice of alibi and call alibi witness. Cruz v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1415d (4th DCA 6/21/17)

FIREARM-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCE: Court erred by imposing consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10-20-Life statute where offenses arose from same criminal episode and did not involve discharge of firearm. Billups v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1415c (4th DCA 6/21/17)

ARGUMENT-SHIFTING BURDEN OF PROOF: Prosecutor improperly shifted burden of proof to defendant during closing argument by inviting jury to return guilty verdict based upon defendant's failure to call certain witness equally available to the State and with no special relationship to the Defendant. State cannot comment on a defendant's failure to produce evidence to refute an element of the crime, because doing so could erroneously lead the jury to believe that the defendant carried the burden of introducing evidence. Reid v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1413a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

EVIDENCE: Court improperly permitted state to question attempted murder victim regarding his four earlier in-court identifications of the defendant as the shooter in earlier trials. Improper bolstering. Hearsay exception applicable when declarant testifies at trial and is subject to cross-examination concerning the statement, and the statement is one of identification made after perceiving the person, applies to out-of-court identifications made close to time the declarant perceived the identified person and not to prior in-court identifications. Reid v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1413a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

CONTEMPT-DIRECT: Judge committed fundamental error in failing to disqualify himself from presiding at contempt hearing where the contempt charged involved disrespect to or criticism of judge. Rosenwater v. Deutsche Bank, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1406a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

CONSECUTIVE MANDATORY MINIMUM-FIREARM: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for qualifying felonies committed in a single criminal episode where gun is fired are permissible, not mandatory under 1020-Life. McCormack v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1401b (4th DCA 6/21/17)

COMPETENCY: Where trial court found reasonable grounds to believe juvenile was not mentally competent to proceed and appointed experts to evaluate juvenile, trial court erred in failing to make findings regarding juvenile's competency after evaluations were presented. D.B. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1401a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

THEFT/DEALING: Separate convictions for petit theft and dealing in stolen property are impermissible. Roundtree v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1398b (4th DCA 6/21/17)

TRESPASS WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON: Rock which Defendant threatened to throw is a dangerous weapon. Discussion of when threatened use of a weapon makes it dangerous or deadly. Saint-Fort v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1394b (4th DCA 6/21/17)

10-20-LIFE: Court may not impose consecutive sentences under 10-20-Life statute for offenses which arose from single criminal episode and involved same victim. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1394a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Post-arrest exculpatory statement by defendant was properly excluded because it did not explain or shed light on defendant's statements, already admitted, from a controlled phone call with the minor victim. Rule of Completeness only applies when the statement is necessary to give a complete understanding of the total tenor and effect of the already-introduced statement. Good discussion. Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1392a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

ATTORNEYS-DISQUALIFICATION: Court improperly disqualified attorney based on claim that plaintiff's attorney had represented defendant thru its agent with confidential information exchanged, where information exchanged had not been confidential. A discussion in front of a third-party is not entitled to confidentiality. Oil, L.L.C. v. Stamax Corp., 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1391a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

WEAPON-POCKETKNIFE: Where witness saw the point of a knife in Child's hand, but no knife was recovered, Child is entitled to JOA because state failed to prove it was not a common pocketknife. State must establish that the knife is not a "common pocketknife." G.R.N. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1390a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

SEVERANCE: No error in denying severance of charges where burglary occurred three days after the murder and bloody clothes and stolen property link the two offenses. Lindsey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1384a (1st DCA 6/19/17)

JURY INSTRUCTION: In burglary case, Court erred in failing to instruct on the affirmative defense of Defendant's consent to enter victim's vehicle. Error is fundamental where Defendant's sole defense was consent to enter the car. Faulk v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1383a (1st DCA 6/21/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: A court may review a procedurally defaulted claim if, but for a constitutional error, no reasonable jury would have found the petitioner eligible for the death penalty, not whether a jury might have not have found the petitioner eligible for the death penalty. Jenkins v. Hutton, No. 16-1116 (US S.Ct. 6/19/17)

MENTAL HEALTH EXPERT: When certain threshold criteria are met, an indigent defendant whose mental health will be a significant factor at trial is entitled to the assistance of a psychiatric expert who is a member of the defense team instead of a neutral expert who is available to assist both the prosecution and the defense. Examination by a Lunacy Commission appointed by the Court fails to meet the requirement of an independent mental health expert for the Defendant. McWilliams v. Dunn, No. 16-5294 (US S.Ct. 6/19/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-5294_h3dj.pdf

SEX OFFENDERS-SOCIAL MEDIA: Statute barring sex offenders from using social media impermissibly infringes upon the legitimate exercise of First Amendment rights. Packingham v. North Carolina, No. 15-1194 (US S.Ct. 6/19/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-1194_0811.pdf

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Although double jeopardy principles prohibit separate convictions for solicitation and traveling when the offenses are based on the same conduct, separate convictions are not prohibited where the offenses are not based on the same conduct. Because defendant pled to solicitations involving two different victims and modes of communication, text messages with officer posing as 14-year-old girl and email with officer posing as girl's uncle, only one of solicitation convictions was necessarily subsumed in the traveling offense. One solicitation should be vacated. Littleman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1382a (1st DCA 6/19/17)

ATTORNEYS-DISCIPLINE: Attorney Mark Ciaravella referred for discipline for failure to follow appellate court's order to pay filing fee or secure a finding of indigency. Odhiambo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1379a (2nd DCA 6/16/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Sentence that exceeds statutory maximum may not be imposed, even pursuant to a negotiated plea agreement, and may be challenged at any time under rule 3.800(a). Parks v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1378a (2nd DCA 6/16/17)

COMPETENCY: Once court ordered that defendant be reevaluated prior to sentencing, it was error to continue to sentencing until the evaluation was done. Lewinson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1373a (5th DCA 6/16/17)

CONFLICT: Court may deny motion to withdraw for conflict where it determines no conflict exists. Court has responsibility to determine whether an actual conflict exists. A possible, speculative, or merely hypothetical conflict is insufficient to support an allegation that an actual conflict of interest exists. Even if a defendant successfully demonstrates the existence of an actual conflict, the defendant must also show that this conflict had an adverse effect upon his lawyer's representation. Defendant's appointed attorney on motion for post conviction relief is not disqualified because as a supervising prosecutor he had approved a plea offer in the underlying case. Braddy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S671a (FLA 6/15/17)

PUBLIC RECORDS: Handwritten attorney notes, draft documents, and annotated copies of decisional law are not public records. Braddy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S671a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Resentencing required where jury voted 11-1 for death. Braddy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S671a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is not entitled to Hurst relief for death sentence imposed for second murder for which penalty phase jury unanimously recommended death. Bevel v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S661a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Counsel who spent only 16 hours preparing for the penalty phase and failed to find existing mitigating evidence provided ineffective assistance of counsel. Bevel v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S661a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply to death sentences imposed before Ring v. Arizona. Zack v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S656a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: IQ above 75, outside the range of error, renders one presumptively competent for death penalty. Zack v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S656a (FLA 6/15/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel's failure to object to witness statement that Defendant and his friends "do this kind of stuff" (armed robbery/murder) was a strategic decision to not call attention to the comment. Meaning of the phrase was not harmful since the witness "spoke in a colloquial dialect[,] her testimony did not have verb-tense agreement, [and] she tended to mix up verbs and words." Hall v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S654a (FLA 6/15/17)

IMPEACHMENT: Court erred in allowing state to introduce excerpt from codefendant's recorded statement to impeach defendant's alibi witness. Byrd v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1365d (4th DCA 6/14/17)

PROBATION-JURISDICTION: Error to dismiss affidavit of violation. When a probationer absconds from supervision, the probationary period is tolled until the probationer is once more placed under probationary supervision. State v. Casas, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1364b (4th DCA 6/14/17)

COMPETENCY: Court erred in holding community control violation proceeding where defendant had previously been found incompetent. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1364a(4th DCA 6/14/17)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: First appearance judge erred when it ruled that it did not have to make any finding whether probable cause affidavit established that proof of guilt was evident or presumption was great before allowing state to hold defendant without bond pending Arthur hearing with judge to whom case would be assigned. Finding that proof of guilt is evident and presumption great can be made on the basis of the Probable Cause Affidavit. Error harmless. Ysaza v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1362a (4th DCA 6/14/17)

SENTENCING-MODIFICATION: Court properly denied motion for modification of sentence as untimely where motion was not filed within 60 days of imposition of the sentence. Montesino v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1359b (3rd DCA 6/14/17)

EVIDENCE-POSSESSION OF COCAINE: Court erred in allowing state to introduce evidence concerning cash found in defendant's bedroom. Slocum v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1354b (1st DCA 6/14/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Virginia court's finding (that the geriatric release program allowing eligibility for release at the age of 65 satisfies Graham's requirement that juveniles convicted of a non-homicide crime have a meaningful opportunity to receive parole) is not objectively unreasonable. Habeas Corpus review is accordingly inappropriate. Court expresses no opinion on whether the Eighth Amendment is actually violated under these circumstances. Virginia v. LeBlanc, No. 16-1177 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/12/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-1177_m648.pdf

HEARSAY: In dealing in stolen property case, Defendant's testimony that he had been given permission in an email to take scrap metal is not hearsay, because it is relevant to the Defendant's state of mind, not to prove the truth of the matter asserted. North v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1342a (2nd DCA 6/9/17)

COSTS: Court may not require juvenile to pay transcription costs as a condition of probation. J.J.P. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1340a (2nd DCA 6/9/17)

COMPETENCY: Where Defendant proceeded to trial after having been found incompetent to stand trial, and the court never entered an order finding him competent, the Court is authorized to enter a nunc pro tunc order finding him competent. However, testimony of psychologists who had not examined him near the time of trial is legally insufficient to support a finding that he was competent at the time of the trial. Frye v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1339a (2nd DCA 6/9/17)

COMPETENCY: Defendant who was adjudicated incompetent to proceed and subsequently found to be a danger to himself and others and subject to involuntary commitment in secure residential facility could not be detained in jail for more than 15 days while awaiting admission to residential facility. Hughes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1336d (5th DCA 6/9/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court must allow Defendant 60 days to amend a facially insufficient motion for post-conviction relief rather than dismissing the petition. Mackey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1336c (5th DCA 6/9/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on motion for post-conviction relief based on claim that counsel failed to file a motion in limine to exclude improper comments on Defendant's exercise of right to remain silent. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1336b (5th DCA 6/9/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy bars separate convictions for fraudulent use of credit card and petit theft. Hogan v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1336a (5th DCA 6/9/17)

NEW EVIDENCE: Recanted codefendant testimony is newly discovered evidence. Court may not summarily deny the motion based on finding that the recantation is not credible without an evidentiary hearing. McKinnon v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1335f (5th DCA 6/9/17)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Court is required to make written order finding that the defendant posed a danger to the community. Glenn v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1334a (1st DCA 6/9/17)

CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court did not err in striking for cause a juror who gave equivocal responses as to whether he would impose death penalty. Okafor v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S639a (FLA 6/8/17)

EVIDENCE: Evidence of high capacity magazines at residence of co-perpetrator's house in murder case is error, but harmless. Okafor v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S639a (FLA 6/8/17)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Prisoner in state custody may demand a speedy trial, even though the prisoner is not in the jurisdiction of the court where the charge is pending. Demand for speedy trial was not rendered invalid by virtue of fact that defendant did not affirmatively represent that he was ready for trial and because defendant had conducted no discovery or provided state with a list of witnesses. Deriso v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1330a (5th DCA 6/7/17)

VENUE: Failure to allege venue in an indictment or information is an error of form, not of substance and such a defect will not render the charging instrument void absent a showing of prejudice to the defendant. Carnet v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1329b (3rd DCA 6/7/17)

DNA TESTING: Motion for DNA testing is appropriate denied where the defendant argued at trial that the shooting was accidental not identity, and other evidence removed any doubt as to the Defendant being the shooter. Ordonez Medina v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1322a (3rd DCA 6/7/17)

RESENTENCING: Defendant has a right to be present any time there is a resentencing upon remand from appeal. Error may be harmless, but is always error. “To be fair, this court (including, regrettably, this author) has made the very same mistake of conflating the analysis and stating, as a principle of law, that a defendant does not have the right to be present at a resentencing which merely involves a ministerial task.” Gonzalez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1317c (3rd DCA 5/7/17)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: State committed discovery violation when it disclosed, after Defendant's opening statement that the murder weapon was the victim's own weapon, new evidence establishing the location of all of the Victim's weapons. New discovery which requires a defendant to "back step" statements already made is prejudicial. Dabbs v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1310a (4th DCA 6/7/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy does not preclude multiple convictions where the Defendant committed battery on the victim (lesser included of sexual battery) on different days. Evans v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1308a (4th DCA 6/7/17)

RESTITUTION: Court erred in ordering $30,000 restitution without an evidentiary basis, and further erred by coursing defendant to agree to restitution as a way of showing remorse. Parague v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1302a (4th DCA 6/7/17)

PLEA COLLOQUY: In accepting a guilty plea to a probation violation, the trial court must advise the probationer of the violation charges and, among other things, should tell the probationer of the potential consequences of a guilty plea. At a minimum, the colloquy must inform the defendant of the allegations against him, his right to counsel, and the consequences of an admission or the right to a hearing and it shall afford him an opportunity to be heard. Donaldson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1299c (1st DCA 6/6/17)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-MIRANDA: Court erred in denying defendant's motion to suppress statements made during custodial interrogation where detective misadvised defendant that speaking to police without an attorney present would benefit him. "Ok so it can't hurt you to talk with me but it's up to you." A waiver is not voluntarily and knowingly made if police have affected the ability of the suspect to understand the nature of the rights he is waiving. Pierce v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1295a (1st DCA 6/6/17)

FORFEITURE: A defendant may not be held jointly and severally liable under forfeiture statute for property that his co-conspirator acquired from the crime but that the defendant himself did not acquire. Forfeiture pursuant to §853(a)(1) is limited to property the defendant himself actually acquired as the result of the crime. Honeycutt v. United States, No. 16-142 (US S.Ct 6/5/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-1177_m648.pdf

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Court is required to impose seven-year mandatory minimum where Defendant is found guilty as charged, and the charge alleges more than 200 grams of cocaine. Better practice would have been for the verdict to include a finding of quantity, but in the absence of that, the mandatory minimum stands. Pineiro Caban v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1290b (5th DCA 6/2/17)

DISQUALIFICATION: Judge who had previously disqualified himself in underlying case may not rule on motion for post conviction relief. Adderly v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1290a (5th DCA 6/2/17)

MITIGATION SPECIALIST: Denial of a mitigation specialist in a death penalty case is within the discretion of the court. Middleton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S637a (FLA 6/1/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for traveling to meet minor to engage in sexual conduct, unlawful use of two-way communications device to facilitate commission of felony, and use of computer to facilitate or solicit sexual conduct of child did not violate double jeopardy where multiple convictions were not based on same conduct but, instead, arose from separate criminal episodes and involved distinct acts of solicitation. Extensive discussion. Lee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1273a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Downward departure based on lack of record and familial support is legally insufficient. Lee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1273a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

QUOTATION: “[T]he decisional law in the area is a veritable Sargasso Sea which could not fail to challenge the most intrepid judicial navigator.”). Bounded by four different ocean currents that form a massive clockwise-circulating sea vortex, the Sargasso Sea is a unique region in the North Atlantic Ocean known for its seaweed and clear blue water, depicted “in literature and media as an area of mystery,” most notably in Jules Verne’s 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea. Lee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1273a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

PROBATION REVOCATION: Evidence was sufficient to support finding that defendant committed a new law violation by failure to register as a sex offender by failing to register a cell phone number. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1269b (1st DCA 6/1/17)

CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Resentencing required where trial court believed, based on then-existing precedent, that it was required to impose consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10-20-Life statute. Chambers v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1269a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-NON-HOMICIDE: Sentence of life imprisonment for nonhomicide offense committed by juvenile was unconstitutional, even when juvenile committed homicide in the same criminal episode, where sentence did not clearly provide meaningful opportunity for early release. Hawkins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1268a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying claim that counsel was ineffective for advising defendant to reject a plea offer because counsel was certain that a better plea offer would be made, and that defendant would have accepted the plea offer but for counsel's advice. Drakus v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1267b (1st DCA 6/1/17)

MAY 2017

DEATH PENALTY: Court may not prohibit death as a penalty. The indictment does not have to list potential aggravating factors as elements. State v. Lopez, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1267a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: By neglecting to request a self-defense instruction that was clearly applicable to the facts and circumstances of the case, trial counsel was constitutionally ineffective. Ineffectiveness is apparent on the face of the record and thus can be corrected on direct appeal. Kruse v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1265a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-MENTAL ILLNESS: Avoidant Personality Disorder is a mental disorder qualifying the Defendant for a departure. It is not the burden of the Defendant to demonstrate that his necessary treatment was so specialized that it could not be provided in the Department of Corrections. Kovalsky v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1264a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for possession of firearm by convicted felon and possession of ammunition by convicted felon based on defendant's simultaneous possession of firearm and ammunition violated prohibition against double jeopardy. Issue is not waived where Defendant entered an open plea. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1261a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officer had probable cause to arrest juvenile where officer was aware at time he placed juvenile under arrest that juvenile was on probation, out three hours past his curfew, and did not appear to be within any possible exception to curfew requirement. Officer is not required to investigate and eliminate every possibility that Defendant's violation of curfew was authorized. State v. C.J., 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1259a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: Where Court entered order requiring examination of defendant's competency and appointed doctor to examine defendant, Court reversibly erred by proceeding to trial without conducting a competency hearing. Baker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1257a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

EVIDENCE: Character evidence for peacefulness may be excluded if witness's testimony is not sufficiently broadly based. Romans v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1255a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court erred by finding that the offense was not unsophisticated based on the severity of the injuries. Romans v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1255a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's comments that Defendant was a three-time convicted felon and to acquit jury would have to believe the officer and witnesses were all wrong were ill-advised but not reversible error. Thompson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1253a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT Where defendant had documented disability and trial court found information provided by defense counsel reasonable grounds for ordering a competency evaluation, it was error to proceed to trial where no evaluation report was filed, no hearing was conducted, and no order was entered. Zieler v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1242b (4th DCA 5/31/17)

PUBLIC RECORDS: Upon making a public records request related to chain of custody of evidence, Defendant is entitled to more than just an evidence card, or proof that there is no more documentation. Tracy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1239b (1st DCA 5/31/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that defendant would not have rejected plea offers if counsel had informed him that he qualified for mandatory prison releasee reoffender was not conclusively refuted by record. Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing. Smith v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1238d (1st DCA 5/31/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that defendant involuntarily entered plea out of well-founded fear that counsel would be unprepared for trial was sufficient to require evidentiary hearing or attachment of portions of record conclusively refuting claim. Hinson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1238c (1st DCA 5/31/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Defendant who received life sentence with possibility of parole for offenses committed when he was a juvenile is not entitled to resentencing where defendant was afforded meaningful opportunity to obtain release and, in fact, was released on parole, violated parole and was reincarcerated, and has been assigned a presumptive parole release date so that he continues to be considered for release on parole. Currie v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1238a (1st DCA 5/31/17)

TRESPASS: Evidence that a non-student wearing a school uniform and in a non-public area of the school is sufficient to establish trespass. J.H. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1221a (3rd DCA 5/31/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Defendant does not waive Miller and Atwell by having entered into a negotiated plea. Reid v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1216a (3rd DCA 5/31/17)

DEPORTATION: In the context of statutory rape offenses that criminalize sexual intercourse based solely on the ages of the participants, the generic federal definition of “sexual abuse of a minor” requires the age of the victim to be less than 16. A conviction under a state statute criminalizing consensual sexual intercourse between a 21-year-old and a 17-year-old does not qualify as sexual abuse of a minor under the INA. To determine whether an alien’s conviction qualifies as an aggravated felony, the Court employs a categorical approach by looking to the statute of conviction, rather than to the specific facts underlying the crime. Esquivel-Quintana v. Sessions, No. 16-54 (U.S. 5/30/17) https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-54_5i26.pdf

GAG ORDER: Court may prohibit all attorneys from making extrajudicial comments until after jury is sworn in a high publicity trial where said statements pose an imminent and substantial threat to a fair trial. Dippolito v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1203a (4th DCA 5/26/17)

INFORMATION-DEFECT: Court may allow State to amend the name of the victim in a BLEO case where there is no prejudice nor confusion as to the identity of the victim. Taylor v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1202b (2nd DCA 5/26/17)

VICTIM'S PRIOR ACTS OF VIOLENCE AND REPUTATION: Court erred in excluding defendant's proffered testimony concerning his knowledge of specific acts of violence by the victim and his knowledge of victim's reputation in the community for violence. In cases where a claim of self-defense is raised, evidence of the victim's reputation is admissible to disclose his or her propensity for violence and the likelihood that the victim was the aggressor, while evidence of prior specific acts of violence by the victim is admissible to reveal the reasonableness of the defendant's apprehension at the time of the incident. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1200a (2nd DCA 5/26/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Allegation that trial counsel failed to advise him of elements of the offense and possible defenses is not refuted by the factual basis being recited at the plea hearing. Parhm v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1199b (2nd DCA 5/26/17)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Court lacks jurisdiction to deny motion to withdraw plea after the notice of appeal is filed. Court should have dismissed the motion for lack of jurisdiction. Hawthorne v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1199a (2nd DCA 5/26/17)

RESTITUTION: When no evidence of what the child could reasonably be expected to earn is presented at the restitution hearing, the trial court cannot make a finding on this issue. M.O. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1198b (2nd DCA 5/26/17)

JUROR INTERVIEWS: Juror interviews are not permissible unless the moving party has made sworn allegations that, if true, would require the court to order a new trial because the alleged error was so fundamental and prejudicial as to vitiate the entire proceedings. Comments about the judicial system being unfair to defendants did not amount to discussions about the facts of the case, nor did the comments demonstrate any possible prejudice to Defendant. Dowd v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1192a (2nd DCA 5/26/17)

NEW TRIAL: The standard for a motion for a new trial is whether the verdict is against the weight of the evidence, not whether the evidence is sufficient a motion for judgment of acquittal. Paul v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1190d (5th DCA 5/26/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Remanded for attachment of record refuting claim. Guies Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1190a (5th DCA 5/26/17)

SENTENCING-VACATED COUNT-CONCURRENT: When a defendant challenges one count in a post-conviction motion and that count is vacated, the trial court is without authority to modify a sentence on an unchallenged count by changing concurrent to consecutive. Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1188b (5th DCA 5/26/17)

RECLASSIFICATION: Reclassification of aggravated battery conviction from second-degree felony to first-degree felony was improper where jury was instructed on both use-of-deadly-weapon and great-bodily-harm forms of aggravated battery, but returned a general verdict. Lathan v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1188a (5th DCA 5/26/17)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: A party does not have a right to “unstrike” a peremptory challenge, but may do so under appropriate circumstances. Weekly S618a (FLA 5/25/17)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: Judge, not jury, can make determination as to whether Defendant is intellectually disabled for purposes of the Death Penalty. Florida's procedure for determining intellectual disability is constitutional. Oats v. Jones, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S616a (FLA 5/25/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply to death sentences which became final before Ring v. Arizona. Zakrewski v. Jones, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S615a (FLA 5/25/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-OPEN VIEW: Officer seizing Defendant's clothes from the hospital emergency room bay after the Defendant walked into the emergency room is lawful. Under open view doctrine, seizure of bag of defendant's clothing was justified because there was probable cause to associate the bloody clothes with criminal activity where defendant was a selfdescribed victim of a crime. Under the open view doctrine, objects such as weapons or contraband found in a public place can be seized without a warrant. Purifoy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1185a (1st DCA 5/25/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for both traveling to meet minor after solicitation and for use of two-way communications device in commission of felony violate double jeopardy. Dettle v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1182c (1st DCA 5/25/17)

COMPETENCY: Court may not proceed to trial after having appointed an expert to evaluate defendant for competency to proceed without holding competency hearing or entering written order of competency. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1182a (1st DCA 5/25/17)

SENTENCING-HABITUAL OFFENDER: Incorrect calculation in sentencing guidelines scoresheet is irrelevant when defendant was sentenced as a habitual offender. Pitts v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1175c (3rd DCA 5/24/17)

EVIDENCE-WILLIAMS RULE: Evidence of prior incidents of Defendant pushing and confronting victim are admissible to show Defendant's motive and intent. Gilchrease v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1174a (3rd DCA 5/24/17)

DNA TESTING: Defendant's motion for post-conviction DNA testing was legally insufficient because he failed to show a reasonable probability existed that the test results would exonerate him. Cain v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1169c (4th DCA 5/24/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Motion to suppress should have been granted after Defendant made an unequivocal request for an attorney ("I need to see a lawyer). Once the right to counsel is invoked, police questioning is required to cease. Rhodes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1151a (1st DCA 5/19/17)

JUVENILE-SENTENCING: Where PDR says that a non-residential commitment is OK if court finds protection of the public best served thereby, commitment is not a deviation from the recommendation. State v. I.D., 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1148a (1st DCA 5/19/17)

DWLS: Defendant who is a habitual traffic offender cannot be prosecuted under §322.34(2)(c) for DWLS because habitual traffic violators are excluded by the plain language of the statute. Also, people who have never had a license cannot be convicted of DLWS. Finney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1147b (1st DCA 5/19/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A claim that counsel failed to investigate a defendant's mental health and failed to seek a competency determination is cognizable in a rule 3.850 motion. Turem v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1137a (5th DCA 5/19/17)

JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court properly denied challenge for cause when juror ultimately indicated she could be fair and impartial. Caylor v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S608a (FLA 5/18/17)

AMENDMENTS TO RULES: Clarification of rules for gifts to Judges. In Re : Amendments to the Code of Judicial Conduct, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S605b (FLA 5/18/17)

DANGEROUS SEXUAL FELONY OFFENDER: Defendant qualifies as a Dangerous Sexual Felony Offender (with a 25 year minimum mandatory) if he has a prior conviction under a similar statute. The prior record need not be for an offense with identical elements. Acevedo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S601a (FLA 5/18/17) theft offense, yet sufficient enough for downward departure.” State v. Imber, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1131b (2nd DCA 5/17/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Defendant entitled to resentencing where trial court ordered consecutive mandatory minimum sentences believing it had no discretion under 10-20-life to do otherwise. Martins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1127a (2nd DCA 5/17/17)

CONTEMPT: Defendant’s failure to obey court order to submit to a drug test and then return to courtroom should have been for indirect criminal contempt, rather than direct criminal contempt. White v. Junior, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1123a (3rd DCA 5/17/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-CHILD ABUSE: A continuous series of acts constituting malicious punishment with no temporal or spatial break can be only one crime of child abuse. Weaver v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1121c (3rd DCA 5/17/17)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER-RECLASSIFICATION: Second degree murder cannot be reclassified to a life felony based on possession of a deadly weapon where evidence did not support the finding that he possessed a deadly weapon, notwithstanding jury finding. The statement by one witness to police that the Defendant carried a stick was impeachment, not substantive evidence. Castillo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D954a (3rd DCA 4/26/17)

APPEALS-JURISDICTION: Defendant's untimely motion for rehearing does not toll the time to file appeal. Watkins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D953a (3rd DCA 4/26/17)

PUBLIC RECORDS: Court may deny media access to pretrial discovery and may close hearings in high-profile case. Miami Herald Media, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D950a (3rd DCA 4/26/17)

DISQUALIFICATION: Judge's stated policy of sua sponte releasing a defendant on recognizance or de minimus bond if state does not file an information by the twenty-first day after the arrest of defendant is valid basis for disqualification of judge. Motion to disqualify judge may rely on judge's announcement of his policy in other cases in order to establish a well-founded fear that the judge will not be impartial. State v. Dixon, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D945a(3rd DCA 4/26/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that plea was based upon misadvice regarding deportation consequences given by person posing as immigration attorney is facially sufficient. Rila v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D940a (4th DCA 4/26/17)

DISCHARGE OF COUNSEL: Court did not abuse its discretion by denying defendant a more extensive Nelson inquiry where defendant's complaints were raised after trial and consisted of generalized dissatisfaction with strategy. Morris v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D937a (4th DCA 4/26/17)

Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D935b (4th DCA 4/26/17)

COSTS: Court cannot assess $15,000 public defender fee without informing Defendant of right to object. Carillo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D933b (2nd DCA 4/26/17)

An evidentiary hearing is required. Duncan v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D914a (2nd DCA 4/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-DEPORTATION: Court erred by summarily denying the claim that counsel was ineffective for misadvising Defendant about deportation consequences of guilty plea. Weekly D912a (2nd DCA 4/21/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Because Defendant’s death sentence was final on appeal before Ring v. Arizona, defendant is not entitled to relief under Hurst. Rodriguez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S483a (FLA 4/20/17)

COMMENT ON SILENCE: It is not an improper comment on the Defendant’s exercise of the right to remain silent by asking why he did not tell his original story to the police, when on direct he had talked about why he kept silent so that he would not be considered a snitch. A defendant cannot testify to a motive for keeping the alleged actual killer’s identity a secret and then use his right to silence to shield that motive from attack on cross-examination. Brookins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S475a (FLA 4/20/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-NON-HOMICIDE: Juvenile nonhomicide offenders are entitled to sentences that provide a meaningful opportunity for early release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation during their natural lifetimes and that gain time fails to meet those requirements. 100-year sentence, even with gain time exceeds defendant's life expectancy, and so the sentence is unconstitutional as applied to the juvenile defendant convicted of a nonhomicide offense. Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S470a (FLA 4/20/17)

CONSTITUTION-AMENDMENT-VOTING RESTORATION: Proposed amendment relating to restoration of voting rights to convicted felons qualifies for ballot. https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-1256_5i36.pdf

GOOD FAITH INSTRUCTION: Counsel was ineffective for failing to request a good faith instruction after arguing a good faith defense. Ineffectiveness is cognizable on direct appeal because it is apparent from the face of the record. Hardman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D906b (4th DCA 4/19/17)

L. Weekly D905b (4th DCA 4/19/17)

APPEAL-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: State may not appeal a downward departure where the only issue raised before the trial court was whether the court should depart from the guidelines not whether there was a valid basis for the departure. State v. Richardville, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D905a (4th DCA 4/19/17)

TEXT MESSAGES: Text messages sent by defendant to victim, found in data extraction from victim's phone, were hearsay but, by introducing victim testimony that defendant had sent the message, the state established the statutory exception allowing admission of ABANDONMENT: Retail theft includes the attempt to commit retail theft, and so abandonment is a defense. When an attempt is subsumed in the substantive crime, the defense of abandonment applies. Defendant who abandons her attempt to commit the offense or otherwise prevented its commission under circumstances indicating a complete and voluntary renunciation of her criminal purpose does not commit petit theft. . McClover v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D898d (4th DCA 4/19/17)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: Where defendant has been arrested for attempted murder of law enforcement, and an attorney has been appointed for that case, Law enforcement investigators are not barred from interrogating the Defendant about the murder that the law enforcement officers were investigating when they were shot at. There is no ineffective assistance of counsel for not moving to file a motion to suppress since it was without merit. McMillian v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S459a (FLA 4/13/17)

REDACTION: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to move to redact the Defendant's statements where, when placed in context, the interrogating officers' statements would correctly be interpreted as techniques of interrogation. McMillian v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S459a (FLA 4/13/17)

IDENTIFICATION: As a general rule, members of the victim's family should not identify a murder victim at trial where nonrelated, credible witnesses are available to make the identification. McMillian v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S459a (FLA 4/13/17)

COMPETENCY: Where defendant had been adjudicated incompetent, Court may not accept guilty plea without reading expert reports or making written order finding defendant competent. APPEALS: Court lacks jurisdiction to deny motion to amend where the amendment related to an original motion for post-conviction relief which was being reviewed on appeal at the time. Black v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D858a (5th DCA 4/13/17)

PROBATION REVOCATION-JURISDICTION: Court erred by dismissing warrant for violation of probation on grounds of lack of jurisdiction without addressing whether Defendant had absconded, which would toll the probationary period. State v. Hicks, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D856b (4th DCA 4/12/17)

L. Weekly D748d (5th DCA 3/31/17)

RESTITUTION-VALUE OF STOLEN PROPERTY: A mere guesstimate of value does not support a restitution order. Victim’s testimony at restitution hearing provided sufficient evidentiary basis for value on foreign currency ranging from a minimum of $2000 to a maximum of $3600, but did not support trial court’s finding that juvenile stole $5000 in foreign currency. J.J. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D748c (5th DCA 3/31/17)

COMPETENCY: Court must enter a written order finding the juvenile competent to proceed if the child has previously been found incompetent. Oral finding is insufficient. T. M. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D748b (5th DCA 3/31/17)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Where defendant is sentenced to prison followed by probation, earns gain time for early release, and subsequently violated probation, he is entitled to credit for time served only for the time served in prison, not the sentence originally imposed. Jacoby v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D736a (2nd DCA 3/31/17)

HEARSAY-EXCEPTIONS: Deputy's testimony regarding victim's description of defendant is not admissible as an excited utterance. CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Circumstantial evidence that an angry lover killed the victim is sufficiently rebutted by evidence that the Defendant stole a victim's phone, his and her phones were found at the crime scene, his palm print was found in her blood at the crime scene and he had washed in bleach. White v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S400a (FLA 3/30/17)

EVIDENCE: One-time reference to officers job specialty as a “high risk specialty officer” was not so prejudicial as to vitiate the entire trial. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

IMPEACHMENT: Any error in allowing state to impeach its own witness was harmless where the witness gave testimony favorable to the state and was not called merely to impeach him and where events in question were preserved on dashcam. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

OBJECTIONS: An objection is properly preserved if made shortly after the comment even though not exactly contemporaneously. An objection need not always be made at the moment an examination enters impermissible areas inquiry. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is entitled to a new sentencing proceeding pursuant to Hurst where the jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

MURDER-MANSLAUGHTER-JURY INSTRUCTION: Erroneous manslaughter by act instruction is not fundamental error in all cases. Extensive discussion. State v. Dominique, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S386b (FLA 3/30/17)

COSTS: Due Process requires that the Court individually pronounce discretionary fees, costs and fines. Osterhoudt v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S386a (FLA 3/30/17)

ATTEMPTED SECOND DEGREE MURDER OF LEO: Enhancement of attempted second-degree murder of a law enforcement officer is a reclassification statute that creates a substantive criminal offense and therefore knowledge of the victim was a law enforcement officer is an essential element. Because 782.065 creates a separate substantive offense the case is remanded for a new trial rather than re-sentencing on a lesser offense. The Standard Jury Instructions should be amended to treat the crime of Murder or Attempted Murder of a Law Enforcement Officer in a manner similar to Assault or Battery on a Law Enforcement Officer. Ramroop v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S381a (FLA 3/30/17)

RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Court did not abuse discretion in allowing the jury to hear the 911 recording in which the defendant accuses the victim of attacking him and refers to the victim's prior criminal history but which omitted references to the victim's prior bad acts, because the redaction did not create a misleading impression. Schwartzberg v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D708b (4th DCA 3/29/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: There is no double jeopardy violation for 2 battery convictions from the same episode where the convictions were based on distinct acts. Schwartzberg v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D708b (4th DCA 3/29/17)

PROBATION-TOLLING: Where the VOP affidavit and warrant both charged defendant with absconding, and at the relevant hearing the state highlighted the absconding charge, these actions were sufficient to bring the issue to the court's attention, and the probationary

JURORS: Defendant is not entitled to 6 peremptory charges for each count in the indictment. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S361a (FLA 3/23/17)

CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court did not err by denying challenge for cause in a murder case of a juror who had a family member murdered but who unequivocally and repeatedly indicated that she would endeavor to be a fair and impartial juror. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S361a (FLA 3/23/17)

MISTRIAL: No error to deny motion for mistrial where witness made a passing allusion to the Defendant being released in violation of order in limine about no mention of Defendant's past record. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S361a (FLA 3/23/17)

Sheffield v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D689d (1st DCA 3/23/17)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER-LESSER: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to keep Appellant's conviction from becoming final by asking this court to amend its per curiam decision by including a citation to relevant cases and filing for discretionary review in the Supreme Court, which would have made this a pipeline case. Kerney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D687a (3rd DCA 3/22/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Court erred by dismissing counts based on double jeopardy where evidence established temporal and spatial distinctions among the criminal acts of lewd and lascivious conduct. Brugal v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D685b (3rd DCA 3/22/17)

APPELLATE COURT TICKED OFF: “In the end, the trial judge imposed a sentence contrary to the notion of juvenile justice set forth in the Florida Statutes and described by the United States and Florida Supreme Courts. . . For the act of writing the note signed by the child’s friend, the trial court sentenced the child, who had no previous delinquency incidents, to a maximum risk residential program. . . . Here, the trial judge focused excessively on the characterization of the crime, which sounds worse than the details of its execution. . . Our reversal is not a green light to impose some other level of commitment; by serving the sentence imposed, the child has overpaid his debt to Florida. The case is remanded to the circuit court for the imposition of a sentence of time served.” D.V. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D669c (4th DCA 3/22/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Where defendant enters into a plea agreement to charges which would otherwise be barred by double Jeopardy, he is not entitled to reversal of the lesser offense. Kidder v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D669a (2nd DCA 3/22/17)

APPEALS: Appellate court cannot address issues raised on appeal that had not been raised in the Rule 3.800(a) motion. Aponte v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D652a (2nd DCA 3/17/17)

COMPETENCY: Court must enter written order of competency, rather than relying on the parties' stipulation alone. Arnold v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D647a (2nd DCA 3/17/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A claim of ineffective assistance of counsel for failing to object to a sleeping juror ordinarily requires an evidentiary area hearing. Rosado v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D645a (5th DCA 3/17/17)

APPEAL-SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE: Adoption of the Daubert standard does not change the rule that certiorari review is not available to challenge pretrial exclusion of expert witness. Rhoades v. Rodriguez, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D644c (5th DCA 3/17/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant may not raise under Rule 3.800 claim that aggravated assault was not a qualifying offense for purpose of sentencing defendant as 3-time violent felony offender. McNair v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D644b (5th DCA 3/17/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for simple battery and aggravated battery arising from single criminal episode violated prohibition against double jeopardy. Munoz v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D642a (5th DCA 3/17/17)

ARGUMENT: Golden Rule violation to argue, in describing strangulation death, "Everybody on this jury has been swimming before, I presume, or has been underwater before where you get to that point where you're losing breath and you need to get to the surface. And you get that heavy feeling in your chest. And it feels so good when you get up to the surface and finally get a breath of fresh air." Improper argument was not fundamental; contemporaneous objection was required. "[Ou]r affirmance of the convictions in no way validates such misconduct nor somehow renders it merely 'awful but lawful.'" Sampson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D638a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

ARGUMENT: It is improper to invoke a "miscarriage of justice" argument as a strawman to evoke sympathy for the victim. Sampson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D638a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

ARGUMENT: "The concerns we express here are not new. Sadly, our appellate courts have for decades expressed consternation over the recurring misconduct of attorneys during closing arguments. . . That such misconduct persists, despite these clarion calls, deepens our disquiet." Sampson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D638a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's closing argument that attacked and denigrated defense counsel, suggesting that defense counsel was not acting in good faith or lied to jury, was improper. Comments cannot be considered invited if State failed to object to the comments which they claim as their license to make improper arguments. Compendium of improper arguments. Scala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D636a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

APPEALS: Where transcripts contain errors, omissions, inconsistencies, and inaccuracies which preclude the appellate court from adequately reviewing the proceedings below, a new trial is required. Scala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D636a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

QUOTATION-CARL SANDBURG: “If the law is against you, talk about the evidence. . .If the evidence is against you, talk about the law, and, since you ask me, if the law and the evidence are both against you, then pound on the table and yell like hell.” Scala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D636a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court need not, and should not, inform the jury of its right to a read-back of testimony in response to a question about the facts of the case. Byrd v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D635e (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-LIFE SENTENCE: 152 year sentence on juvenile for nonhomicide with parole but without judicial review is unconstitutional. Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D633a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Continuances sought in misdemeanor case is not a waiver of speedy trial right to the felony case where the felony charge (possession of narcotics found in the Defendant’s wrecked car) did not arise from the same conduct or episode as the misdemeanor DUI case. Crimes can constitute separate criminal episodes for speedy trial purposes even though they happen at the same time. State v. Fair, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D626a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

EVIDENCE-REFRESHING RECOLLECTION: Court erred by not allowing Defendant to refresh an officer's recollection with an audio recorded (not transcribed) deposition. In a nonjury case, the judge does not have to leave the bench when the officer's recollection is refreshed. J.G. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D623b (4th DCA 3/15/17)

HEARSAY: Hearsay is admissible in non-capital sentencing hearings, absent a request for sentence enhancement. Case of first impression. McInerney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D622a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

DEFINITION-ONLY: “[A]s a matter of statutory construction, the term “only,” although capable of varying meanings depending on the context of its use as an adverb or an adjective, ordinarily imposes some limiting function over the term or phrase it modifies.” Cohen v. Shushan, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D601a (2nd DCA 3/15/17)

EVIDENCE-UNCHARGED CRIMES: Court erred in admitting evidence of uncharged collateral crime involving the defendant's punching the victim's wife where that altercation was not inextricably intertwined with the earlier stabbing of the Victim. Hudson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D621a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

APPEAL-HABEAS CORPUS: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that the two predicate incidences to establish a pattern of racketeering did not occur within 5 years of each other. New appeal limited to this issue is warranted. Castillo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D616a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claims that defense counsel failed to convey plea offer, gave wrong advice about maximum and minimum sentences and misadvised defendant that she could be sentenced as youthful offender are sufficient to warrant a hearing where not conclusively refuted by the record. Bynes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D615a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Motion to correct credit for time served filed within one year of appellate mandate is timely. Castillo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D614b (4th DCA 3/15/17)

ALLOCUTION: Court erred in subjecting Defendant to cross-examination during allocution. Guerra v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D614a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

RESTITUTION: Evidence is insufficient to support the amount the Court ordered to pay restitution where the only evidence supported that amount was the owner's testimony which was based on what a jeweler said the replacement value of the property was. O.W. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D613a(1st DCA 3/15/17)

COMMENT ON SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: It is an improper reference to the Defendant's right to remain silent to ask if he had ever told his version of events to the police. Court did not abuse its discretion in denying motion for mistrial based on State's isolated question highlighting Defendant's refusal to talk to police officer where objection to the testimony was sustained in a curative instruction given. Chester v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D611b (1st DCA 3/15/17)

PLEA COLLOQUY: Court must conduct plea colloquy before accepting plea to violation of probation. Anderson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D594c (1st DCA 3/10/17)

JUVENILES-COMMITMENT LEVEL: Court may not deviate from DJJ recommendation of minimum-risk commitment without requisite findings. It is insufficient that the court have a legally sufficient basis to deviate from the recommendation the Court must also articulate its understanding of the restrictiveness levels and why a minimum-risk commitment was not better suited to the juvenile’s needs. The court’s using “magic buzzwords” does not meet the strict requirements under E.A.R. M.J. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D592a (1st DCA 3/10/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to object to comments linking gun to marijuana in closing argument where those comments were fair response to arguments presented by the defense. State v. Ling, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D591a (1st DCA 3/10/17)

JUROR CONDUCT: No fundamental error occurred when primary juror carried to the jury room the alternate juror's notepad just moments before the bailiff retrieved it at the trial court's request. Morgan v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D590a (1st DCA 3/10/17)

INFORMATION-SWORN TESTIMONY: Court is not required to dismiss information charging leaving the scene of an accident when it is based on the officer's sworn testimony not on the testimony of an eyewitness. A "material witness" under rule 3.140 is one whose testimony is both legally relevant and substantial. The threshold is whether the sworn testimony is sufficient to establish in the mind of a reasonable prosecutor that there exists probable cause to believe that the defendant committed the crime. The prosecutor is not necessarily limited to reliance on legally admissible evidence. State v. Gonzalez, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D585b (5th DCA 3/10/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: It is error to impose consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for aggravated assault and possession of firearm by a convicted felon where the charges stemmed from same criminal episode. Simmons v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D585a (5th DCA 3/10/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for first-degree felony murder with a weapon, fleeing and eluding causing injury or death, and driving without a license causing bodily injury or death violated double jeopardy where the convictions arose out of a single course of conduct causing a single death. A single course of conduct causing a single death cannot support convictions for both a homicide offense and an offense enhanced by the same death. Conflict certified. Linton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D584a (5th DCA 3/10/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Motion for post-conviction relief is untimely when filed more than 2 years after the conviction is final and the evidence was not actually newly discovered. Lamb v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D582c (5th DCA 3/10/17)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Juvenile may not be found guilty of resisting without violence for flight from Terry stop where there was insufficient evidence that officer had a well-founded in reasonable suspicion to conduct a stop. Juvenile's proximity to a robbery suspects known direction of travel and unprovoked flight is insufficient to allow officer to form reasonable suspicion of criminal activity. Flight, standing alone, is insufficient to form the basis of a resisting without violence charge. B.M. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D581a (2nd DCA 3/10/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Prohibition on life sentences for juveniles without possibility of release is a constitutional right which is to be applied retroactively. Defendant is entitled to resentencing review hearing. Braxton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D580a (2nd DCA 3/10/17)

New trial is necessary to avoid manifest injustice. Wardlow v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D579a (2nd DCA 3/10/17)

AGGRAVATED CHILD NEGLECT-JOA: Defendant who apparently drops child while swinging him by the ankles may be found guilty of felony battery but cannot be found guilty of aggravated child neglect for delaying adequate treatment. Poczatek v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D575a (2nd DCA 3/10/17)

FAILURE TO PRESERVE EVIDENCE: The State’s constitutional duty to preserve evidence is limited to evidence that is exculpatory in which the Defendant would be unable to obtain comparable evidence by other reasonably available means. When the State failed to preserve potentially useful evidence due process violated only if the Defendant can show bad faith. The allegation that the evidence was allowed to deteriorate is insufficient. Anderson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S286c (FLA 3/9/17)

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE: The legislative adoption of the Daubert standard in 2013 does not apply retroactively. Counsel for the Defendant was not ineffective or challenging the scientific evidence under Frye because fiber analysis was not novel scientific evidence. The Daubert standard is more lenient in terms of admitting novel scientific evidence than Frye. Anderson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S286c (FLA 3/9/17)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-AMENDMENTS: Conspiracy instruction has the following language added: “Renunciation remains a defense to conspiracy to commit a crime where some harm was done.” In re-Standard Jury Instructions in Criminal Cases, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S286b (FLA 3/9/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-INTERROGATION: Statements made by detective to defendant generally expressing sympathy were not reasonably likely to elicit an incriminating response, and detective's response to defendant's question regarding likely charges did not initiate conversation, assume wrongdoing on defendant's part, or call for defendant to respond. Gordon v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D559a (4th DCA 3/8/17)

JURY INSTRUCTION-KNOWLEDGE: Jury instruction which omitted defendant's knowledge of presence of substance is error regardless of Defendant's misidentification defense. Error not harmless. Terrell v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D558a (4th DCA 3/8/17)

JURY QUESTION: Court violated rule 3.410 by failing to consult with counsel before responding to question submitted by jury during deliberations. MacDonald v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D544a (1st DCA 3/7/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy prohibits separate convictions for use of the computer service to solicit consent of parents to engage in unlawful sexual conduct with child and traveling to meet minor to engage in unlawful sexual conduct after using computer services where both charges were based on the same conduct of asking fictitious mother for sex with her fictitious child. Santiago-Morales v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D543b (1st DCA 3/7/17)

DISQUALIFICATION: Due Process requires disqualification of judge from presiding over a criminal case where the judge is under investigation for corruption by the prosecuting office. Rippo v. Baker, No. 16-6316 (US 3/6/17)

GUIDELINES: The Federal Sentencing Guidelines, including §4B1.2(a)'s residual clause ("a crime of violence"), are not subject to vagueness challenges under the Due Process Clause. Because they merely guide the district courts' discretion, the Guidelines are not amenable to a vagueness challenge. Beckles v. United States, No. 15-8544 (US 3/6/17)

JURORS-RACIAL BIAS: Where a juror makes a clear statement indicating that he or she relied on racial stereotypes or animus to convict a criminal defendant, the Sixth Amendment requires that the no-impeachment rule give way in order to permit the trial court to consider the evidence of the juror's statement and any resulting denial of the jury trial guarantee. Pena-Rodriguez v. Colorado, No. 15-606 (US S.Ct. 3/6/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-606_886b.pdf

JURY DELIBERATIONS: Where a juror makes a clear statement during deliberations that indicates he relied on racial stereotypes or animus to convict a criminal defendant, the Sixth Amendment requires that Court consider evidence of the juror's statement. There must be a showing that a juror made statements that tend to show that racial animus was a significant motivating factor in the juror's vote to convict. Exception to the rule that jury deliberations may not be intruded upon. Pena-Rodriguez v. Colorado, (US S.Ct. 3/6/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Post conviction court properly denied claim that counsel was ineffective for failure to advise defendant to accept plea offer and about all of pertinent matters relevant to his case. It was not ineffective assistance of counsel to say that Defendant had a possibility of being acquitted. Wait v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D529c (1st DCA 3/3/17)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): “A criminal trial is not the occasion for hoping for a miracle at a client’s expense.” Wait v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D529c (1st DCA 3/3/17)

EVIDENCE-PHOTOGRAPHS: Photograph showing victim’s injuries is relevant to show that the knife was used in a deadly manner and the relevance was not substance that weighed by the danger of undue prejudice. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D537a (1st DCA 3/3/17)

SELF-DEFENSE-STAND YOUR GROUND: SYG immunity and self-defense claim can be overcome where Defendant gave inconsistent versions of events and admitted he lied to law enforcement. Defendant’s version of events need not be accepted merely because he is the only surviving witness to the fight. Early v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D535b (1st DCA 3/3/17)

GAIN TIME: Department of Corrections is not required to apply gain time to multiple life sentences for offenses occurring prior to June 15, 1983. Diaz v. Jones, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D533a (1st DCA 3/3/17) https://edca.1dca.org/DCADocs/2016/3037/163037_DC02_03032017_090553_i.pdf

ABSURDITY ESCHEWED: “Compelling the Department of Corrections to deduct gain-time from a life sentence would clearly result in the sort of absurdity the court is constrained to eschew.” Diaz v. Jones, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D533a (1st DCA 3/3/17)

IMPEACHMENT: Where defendant truthfully responded to prosecutor’s questions whether he had ever been convicted of felony and the number of those prior convictions, trial court erred in allowing prosecutor to ask how many of defendant’s prior felonies were crimes of dishonesty. Spradling v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D529b (1st DCA 3/3/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court must not summarily deny facially insufficient claims for ineffective assistance of counsel without affording defendant an opportunity to amend. Washington v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D528c (5th DCA 3/3/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim the plea was invalid because probation was not part of the plea agreement warrants an evidentiary hearing unless conclusively refuted by the record. Childs v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D528a (5th DCA 3/3/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-JURY FINDING: Where jury finds the defendant guilty of aggravated battery with a firearm as charged in the information, the court is required to impose the mandatory minimum under 10-20-life. Florida law does not require an express indication that special findings are made beyond a reasonable doubt when such indication may be inferred from the record. State v. Woodall, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D525a (5th DCA 3/3/17)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION-LESSER INCLUDED: A request for a lesser included offense jury instruction is preserved for appellate review where trial counsel makes a specific request, trial counsel sets forth required grounds for the request, and judge understands the request and denies it. Wong v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S250a (FLA 3/2/17)

LESSER INCLUDED: Defendant, who was charged with both lewd or lascivious battery and lewd or lascivious molestation, was entitled to requested instruction on permissive lesser included offense of committing an unnatural and lascivious act where information

New sentencing scheme applies retroactively. Wilkinson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D515e (3rd DCA 3/1/17)

SENTENCING-JUVENILE: Due process violated by conducting part of sentencing hearing (testimony of Child's parent and DJJ representative) in absence of Child. C.D.C. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D511a (4th DCA 3/1/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for burglary of dwelling with assault or battery while armed and masked, aggravated assault with deadly weapon while masked, and attempted sexual battery using great force or deadly weapon committed during same criminal episode do not violate double jeopardy. analysis. Conflict certified. Tambriz-Ramirez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D508b (4th DCA 3/1/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Aggravated battery must be consecutive to shooting into an occupied vehicle by statute. When an unlawful sentence is corrected on motion for post conviction relief, the sentence must be restructured to run consecutively. Marshall v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D507a (1st DCA 3/1/17)

BURGLARY-JURY INSTRUCTIONS: No fundamental error where Court instructed in part that burglary requires intent to commit burglary where other parts of the instruction are not circular reasoning. Padilla v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D503b (2nd DCA 3/1/17)

COMPETENCY: Court erred in failing to conduct proper competency hearing after court-appointed experts submitted written reports indicating defendant was competent and defense counsel stipulated. Cramer v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D503a (2nd DCA 3/1/17)

SENTENCING: Court may not rely on Defendant's subsequent arrest in imposing sentence. Consideration of subsequent charges with which the defendant has not been convicted violates due process. New judge must resentence Defendant. Discussion. Fernandez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D502a (2nd DCA 3/1/17)

FEBRUARY 2017

SENTENCING-WITHHOLD OF ADJUDICATION: Court may not withhold adjudication on felony drug case without placing Defendant on probation. Godil v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D487a (5th DCA 2/24/17)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: Counsel was ineffective for not raising on direct appeal Court's failure to conduct Faretta hearing. Error is not harmless. Balzourt v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D486b (5th DCA 2/24/17)

SENTENCING: Resentencing before a different judge is required where immediately prior to sentencing trial court speculated about defendant's past behavior, for which there was no record basis and the subject matter of which was not relevant to sentence. Larry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D485a (5th DCA 2/24/17)

SENTENCING-HOMICIDE-JUVENILE: Sentence of 50 years with a review after 25 years is lawful. Question certified whether Alleyne requires a jury to make factual findings as to whether the juvenile offender actually killed, intended to kill or attempted to kill the victim. Colon v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D484c (5th DCA 2/24/17)

NEW TRIAL: The standard for motion for new trial is the weight to the evidence, not the sufficiency of the evidence. Loudermilk v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D484a (5th DCA 2/24/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INVESTIGATIVE STOP-FLIGHT: Officer has reasonable suspicion of criminal activity where he observes the defendant roaming in and out of the wood line at 3 AM near home that was burglarized 30 minutes earlier and he ran into the woods when officers identified themselves. Flight alone is insufficient to raise reasonable suspicion but it may be considered among other factors. Grayson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D480b (5th DCA 2/24/17)

JURORS PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Age (youth) is not a protected cognizable class for an objection to a peremptory challenge claiming discrimination. Truehill v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S223a (FLA 2/23/17)

EVIDENCE-OTHER CRIMES: Evidence of the defendant's escape from prison in a series of robberies and crimes between Louisiana in Florida is relevant and admissible dissimilar fact evidence. Truehill v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S223a (FLA 2/23/17)

PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT-ARGUMENT: Justice for the victim and message to the Defendant arguments ("let this defendant know you can't kidnap people") are improper, but here the error is harmless. Truehill v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S223a (FLA 2/23/17)

PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT: Slide show saying “The dead cannot cry out for justice. It is the duty of the living to do so for them.” is an improper appeal to juror emotions to the jury’s emotions and the “prosecutor’s insistence that this was permissible is of great concern. . . [and] perverts the purpose of closing argument.” But error is harmless. Truehill v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S223a (FLA 2/23/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Where the recommendation for death is unanimous, Hurst does not preclude imposition of the death penalty on the grounds that the jury was advised that its recommendation was only advisory. Truehill v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S223a (FLA 2/23/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-CUSTODIAL INTERROGATION: When interrogation is predominately accusatorial and confrontational in nature, taking place in police interrogation room, notwithstanding that police advised defendant, before she agreed to be questioned, that she was free to leave, as every other aspect of the two interrogations would have led reasonable persons to believe otherwise. Myers v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S214a (FLA 2/23/17)

JURY INSTRUCTION AMENDMENTS: Minor Amendments, no change to possession instruction. DUI instruction clarified. In re : Standard Jury Instructions, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S213a (FLA 2/23/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-FELLOW OFFICER RULE: Fellow officer rule does not allow blood draw at accident scene when the officer ordering the blood draw had not been told other officer's concern that defendant might be intoxicated. The fellow officer rule does not allow an officer to assume probable cause for an arrest or a search and seizure from uncommunicated information known solely by other officers. Montes-Valeton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S210a(2/23/17)

BLOOD DRAW-CONSENT: Consent is involuntary where officer, without probable cause, read the defendant the implied consent warnings that came with the blood draw kit and , threatening that a refusal would result in driver license suspension. Montes-Valeton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S210a (FLA 2/23/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that defendant received a mandatory minimum sentence based on jury finding that he possessed a firearm although information only charged carrying a firearm is not an illegal sentence, and cannot be corrected under R. 3.800. Martinez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S209a (FLA 2/23/17)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Counsel provided ineffective assistance of counsel under the Sixth Amendment by presenting a psychologist's testimony in penalty phase of murder trial that the Defendant's race (Black), is a factor "know[n]to predict future dangerousness." Buck v. Davis, No. 15-8049 (US S. Ct. 2/22/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-8049_f2ah.pdf

DISCOVERY-ATTORNEY-CLIENT PRIVILEGE: Trial court erred in denying public defender's motion for protective order from third-party subpoena duces tecum for deposition where information sought was communicated during attorney-client relationship and with the expectation that the information would remain confidential. Office of the Public Defender v. Lakicevic, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D476a (3rd DCA 2/22/17)

BOLSTERING: Unobjected-to testimony of lead investigator and unobjected to comments during closing argument did not improperly bolster victim's credibility, and were invited by defense counsel. Pineda v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D471a (3rd DCA 2/22/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR: Defendant who was sentenced to life with possibility of parole for offense committed when he was a juvenile in 1972 is entitled to resentencing in conformance with recently enacted legislation under Atwell. Edwards v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D464b (2nd DCA 2/22/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Defendant who was sentenced to life with possibility of parole for offense committed when he was a juvenile is entitled to resentencing in conformance with recently enacted legislation under Atwell. Burney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D464a (2nd DCA 2/22/17)

PROHIBITION: Prohibition is available only to prevent a lower tribunal's unauthorized exercise of jurisdiction. R. 3.151, which provides for dismissal of related offenses not consolidated for trial, does not implicate county court's jurisdiction to entertain prosecution on refusal charge. State v. Hamilton, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D459b (2nd DCA 2/22/17)

MASK: One is subject to the enhancement for wearing a mask even though one does not remain with the face covered during the entire criminal episode. L.D.H. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D450a (4th DCA 2/22/17)

COMPETENCY: A retrospective evaluation after trial that the defendant is incompetent is unauthorized. Laster v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D449a (4th DCA 2/22/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request competency evaluation is sufficient for an evidentiary hearing. Dinnall v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D448b (4th DCA 2/22/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for offenses arising from same criminal episode and involving one victim and not involving discharge of firearm were improper. Lopez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D442a (1st DCA 2/21/17)

BAIL-EXCESSIVENESS: Since petitioner asserts that she can post no bond over $10,000, and has not established that a bond over $10,000 is excessive, it would be an idle gesture for this court to find that $250,000 bond is excessive. Knight v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D441a (1st DCA 2/21/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Newly enacted death penalty sentencing statute which was found to be unconstitutional because it does not require a unanimous jury recommendation of sentence of death can constitutionally be applied to pending prosecutions if the jury unanimously recommends a sentence of death. Trial courts in pending prosecutions may properly proceed with death qualifying juries. Evans v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S200a (FLA 2/20/17)

DUI: Second refusal to submit to breath alcohol test can properly be punished as a criminal offense. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D438a (5th DCA 2/17/17)

DUI: Breath alcohol tests are permissible under the search incident to arrest exception to the Fourth Amendment's warrant requirement. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D438a (5th DCA 2/17/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual Convictions for DUI manslaughter and Leaving Scene of Accident are not barred by Double Jeopardy. Prestano v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D436b (5th DCA 2/17/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant cannot assert double jeopardy claim by habeas corpus where the issue could have been raised on direct appeal or by 3.850, but is now untimely. Double jeopardy cannot be raised under 3.800. Banks v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D436a (5th DCA 2/17/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to improper argument (theory of defense is despicable, desperate, and a re-victimization of the victim) is sufficient to warrant a hearing. Neeley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D434a (2nd DCA 2/17/17)

ATTORNEY-MISAPPROPRIATION OF CLIENT FUNDS: Attorney who had used money intended for depositions and placed in operating account rather than the trust fund is suspended from the practice of law for one year. The Florida Bar v. Wynn, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S199a (FLA 2/16/17)

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE: Court declines to adopt legislative changes to §§90.702 and 90.704, to the extent they are procedural, changing the test for admissibility of scientific evidence from Frye to Daubert. Daubert may unconstitutionally infringe upon the right to trial by jury and access to the court. Court will wait until there is a case and controversy to determine the extent to which these rule changes are procedural or substantive or unconstitutional. In Re Amendments to the Florida Evidence Code, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S179a (FLA 2/16/17)

HEARSAY-ELDERLY ABUSE: Court declines to adopt legislative changes to §§90.803(24) allowing hearsay in cases of elderly abuse where witness is unavailable to the extent that the changes are procedural rather than substantive. Change may violate Crawford's right of confrontation. Court will wait until there is a case and controversy to determine the extent to which these rule changes are procedural or substantive or unconstitutional. In Re Amendments to the Florida Evidence Code, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S179a (FLA 2/16/17)

OTHER CRIMES, WRONGS OR ACTS: In case of a defendant accused of using the identity of a woman in Ohio to get telephones and open accounts in her name, it was error to admit evidence that the defendant had personal information of another woman in a different state. Evidence only showed defendant's propensity to commit bad acts. Defendant did not open the door in opening statements by submitting that someone else had committed the offenses. Goggins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D429a (1st DCA 2/16/17)

COSTS: Court has no statutory authority to impose a venire fee. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D427b (1st DCA 2/16/17)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Standard for review of newly discovered evidence is whether defendant has established that the evidence was not known or knowable at time of the plea, and that there is a reasonable probability that, with such knowledge, defendant would not have pleaded guilty and would have gone to trial. Court erred by following the then-existing standard of manifest injustice and clear evidence. Perez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D413a (3rd DCA 2/15/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor referring to trial as a circus, accusing defense counsel of fabricating facts, and calling self-defense just a theory is improper. Error is harmless where no one but Defendant said self-defense occurred and victim was shot seven times with two guns. Mora v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D412a (3rd DCA 2/15/17)

ARGUMENT: “One imagines that improper argument of this kind might diminish if the prosecutor who created the issue at trial was required to research and write the appellee’s brief, and then argue the appeal here.” Mora v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D412a (3rd DCA 2/15/17)

IMPEACHMENT-RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Where defense counsel brought out exculpatory portions of defendant’s statement during cross-examination of the detective under rule of completeness, State was entitled to bring out evidence of defendant’s nine prior felonies and crimes of dishonesty. Conflict certified. Nock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D395a (4th DCA 2/15/17)

RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Court properly found that state was not required to introduce entire video recording of defendant’s conversation with detective under rule of completeness where state did not offer video into evidence. Rule of completeness only applies when the written or recorded statement is admitted, not when only testimony about the statement is admitted. Nock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D395a (4th DCA 2/15/17)

SENTENCING: In sentencing defendant for sexual battery on person 12 years of age or older without physical force, trial court could properly consider similar fact evidence admitted at trial. Cabriano v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D392a (4th DCA 2/15/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant waived right to supplement post conviction motion by failing to raise it at initial post conviction proceedings or appeal. Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D391b (4th DCA 2/15/17)

POSSESSION-KNOWLEDGE: Evidence that brass fitting found in defendant's pocket had been altered with copper mesh in order to smoke cocaine, and burnt cocaine was visible in fitting, was sufficient to support finding that defendant knew of the presence of cocaine. Although the ordinary presumption that one has knowledge of drugs found in his possession may not apply when there are only trace amounts of drug 'lint' or 'dust,' the presumption does apply when the substance is found on an implement which is usable only for the obviously knowing use of the drug. Holloman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D391a (4th DCA 2/15/17)

ANDERS BRIEF: Counsel writing Anders brief must master the trial record, thoroughly research the law, and identify any arguments that may be advanced on appeal. Redmon v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D389b (1st DCA 2/14/17)

COSTS: Error to impose appointed attorney lien payment assessment in excess of statutory minimum without notice and opportunity to be heard. Trusty v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D388a (1st DCA 2/14/17)

COSTS: Error to impose cost for Gulf Coast College Community Justice Assessment Center where offense did not involve a motor vehicle. Trusty v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D388a (1st DCA 2/14/17)

COSTS: Error to impose fine for Drug Abuse Trust Fund where offense did not involve alcohol or drugs. Trusty v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D388a (1st DCA 2/14/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Child is not in custody when questioned while sitting in the driveway with her friend when the officer walked up and started conversation about the purse with the marijuana in it. A reasonable child would believe she was free to leave, notwithstanding that the officer believed she was not free to leave. State v. M.C., 42 Fla. L. Weekly D383a (2nd DCA 2/10/17)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: “Simply put, the odor of marijuana emanating from a group cannot, by itself, form the basis of a lawful detention of any particular member of that group. Nor can the fact that each member of the group engulfed in “billowing smoke,” as the officer testified, smelled equally of marijuana.” Officer was not engaged in lawful execution of legal duty, so juvenile’s refusal to be searched could not support charge of obstructing an officer without violence. B.G. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D382a (2nd DCA 2/10/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Expression of satisfaction with counsel during plea colloquy is not a valid basis for denying relief. Failing to investigate alerting K-9’s records is facially sufficient claim of ineffective assistance of counsel. Sanchez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D380b (2nd DCA 2/10/17)

PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT: Prosecutor’s inappropriate remarks during closing argument, including repeatedly referring to defendant as a pedophile, making an inappropriate justice-for-the-victim argument, and falsely stating that defendant had admitted to inappropriate sexually-related activities with victim, constituted fundamental error. Florida Bar is notified for purposes of discipline. Rodriguez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D369d (5th DCA 2/10/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in failing to consider claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to move to suppress defendant’s confession on basis that she was too intoxicated to waive her constitutional rights. Dingey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D369c (5th DCA 2/10/17)

BURGLARY-AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE: Court must give jury instruction on the affirmative defense that Defendant was licensed to enter the dwelling where there is some evidence to support that affirmative defense. Pilafjian v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D366a (5th DCA 2/10/17)

SENTENCING-MURDER BY JUVENILE: Where Defendant did not actually possess or discharged a firearm during the crime, Court did not err in denying defendant's motion to impanel jury to make the factual finding as to whether the defendant actually killed, intended to kill or attempted to kill the victim. Question Certified : Does Alleyne allow the trial court to make the factual finding as to whether a juvenile offender actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill the victim? Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D363b (5th DCA 2/10/17)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Court abused discretion in summarily denying motion to withdraw plea which alleged the state withheld exculpatory information until after sentencing. Moody v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D363a (5th DCA 2/10/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INCIDENT TO ARREST: District school board officer had no probable cause to arrest defendant who was walking on track on school property at nighttime for trespass on school property where the school kept the track open at night and posted signs inviting the public to access the track after school hours. State v. Rand, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D352e (1st DCA 2/10/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INCIDENT TO ARREST: “The bottom line here is that the officer disregarded the school’s open-track policy. He said he ‘didn’t take the time to look at the sign right in front of the gate’ and he didn’t investigate Mr. Rand’s reasons for being at the track. Under these circumstances, we find no error in the trial court’s decision not to give the officer’s sloppy work a Fourth Amendment pass.” State v. Rand, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D352e (1st DCA 2/10/17)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Court erred in imposing a condition of probation requiring Defendant to obtain a GED or high school diploma. Silas v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D352a (1st DCA 2/10/17)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-WELFARE FRAUD: Standard jury instruction for welfare fraud modified to include EBT card. In re : Standard Jury Instructions, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S150a (FLA 2/9/17)

APPEALS-PRESERVATION OF ISSUE: State is not required to object to a downward departure sentence in order to preserve the issue for appellate review where state argued against the downward departure. State v. Wiley, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S149a (FLA 2/9/17)

JUROR MISCONDUCT: New trial is not required where juror claimed that jurors conducted internet research into meaning of Defendant’s facial tattoo, but Court deemed the claim not credible. Dubose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S143a (FLA 2/9/17)

CURTIAGE: Gap in fence to allow for driveway does not prevent the area being considered the curtilage of a house. Dubose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S143a (FLA 2/9/17)

CHANGE OF VENUE: Court did not err in denying motion for change of venue on ground that it was impracticable to obtain qualified jury in county where action was pending due to pretrial publicity. Knowledge of the incident because of its notoriety is not, in and of itself, grounds for a change of venue. Dubose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S143a (FLA 2/9/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst violation occurred where jury did not find the existence of aggravators was proven beyond reasonable doubt, that the aggravators were sufficient to impose death, and that the aggravators outweighed mitigators. Dubose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S143a (FLA 2/9/17)

Prior precedents receded from. Morris v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D346c (4th DCA 2/8/17)

Weekly D345b (4th DCA 2/8/17)

PORCH, PORN AND MR. ED: “[T]he area at issue constitutes an “attached porch” and, as such, a “dwelling.” United States Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart famously said of pornography, “I know it when I see it.”. . .To rephrase a popular 1960s television show theme, “a porch is a porch of course, of course,” and the reasonable person (and perhaps a Supreme Court Justice as well), when viewing this area, would conclude, as do we, that it is an “attached porch.” Morlas v. JURY PARDON-LESSER INCLUDED: Failure to instruct jury on simple battery, the next immediate necessarily lesser-included offense of battery within detention facility, was per se reversible error, even though no reasonable jury could have determined that the battery in this case did not take place in a detention facility. Discussion. Question certified. Lewis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D328b (1st DCA 2/7/17)

JURY PARDON: “There can be no reconciliation among the jury pardon doctrine, present-day standard jury instructions, and the required oath of jurors. . . [I]n navigating their duty to follow the law and to properly consider the evidence, while retaining the option of jury nullification, present day jurors in Florida shoulder an immediate ethical burden and confront obvious conflicts of interest. . . This deontic debate over the jury pardon stems from the preservation of an archaic doctrine (once purposeful and necessary) in a modern legal forum, the result of which is jury conflict of interest, jury instructions laced with mutually exclusive theory, and subsequent and inevitable judicial inefficiency.” Lewis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D328b (1st DCA 2/7/17)

Terry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D317e (1st DCA 2/3/17)

FELONY BATTERY: “Counterintuitive though it may be, felony battery is not a forcible felony since a battery can be committed by touching another against the person’s will.” Terry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D317e (1st DCA 2/3/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that Defendant rejected the plea offer based on counsel's misadvice that his recorded statement cannot be admitted in evidence is sufficient to warrant an evidentiary hearing. Gray v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D314b (5th DCA 2/3/17)

PERRY, DISSENTING): “Indeed, as my retirement approaches, I feel compelled to follow other justices who, in the twilight of their judicial careers, determined to no longer ‘tinker with the machinery of death.’ . . . The majority’s decision today leads me to declare that I no longer believe that there is a method of which the State can avail itself to impose the death penalty in a constitutional manner.” Asay v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly S646a (FLA 12/22/16)

RETROACTIVITY-DEATH PENALTY-QUOTATION (J. PERRY, DISSENTING): “I can find no support in the jurisprudence of this Court where we have previously determined that a case is only retroactive to a date certain in time. Indeed, retroactivity is a binary — either something is retroactive, has effect on the past, or it is not. . . . In the present case, the majority . . . decides that in capital cases where the Sixth Amendment rights of hundreds of persons were violated, it is appropriate to arbitrarily draw a line between June 23 and June 24, 2002 — the day before and the day after Ring was decided.” Asay v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly S646a (FLA 12/22/16)

QUOTATION: “The majority’s application of Hurst v. Florida makes constitutional protection depend on little more than a roll of the dice. This cannot be tolerated.” Asay v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly S646a (FLA 12/22/16) (PERRY, J., dissenting)

If his pockets contain a cell phone, however, that is no longer true. Indeed, a cell phone search would typically expose to the government far more than the most exhaustive search of a house: A phone not only contains in digital form many sensitive records previously found in the home; it also contains a broad array of private information never found in a home in any form — unless the phone is.” State v. SECOND DEGREE MURDER: Where defendant argued at trial that he acted in self-defense and that his use of deadly force was necessary to prevent his own imminent death or great bodily harm, use, without objection, of flawed manslaughter by intentional act jury instruction did not constitute fundamental error. Dickerson v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2422c (5th DCA 10/28/16)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Failure to call co-defendant as a witness may be ineffective assistance of counsel. Black v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2418b (5th DCA 10/28/16)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court must not summarily deny claim that counsel was ineffective for misadvising defendant that designation as a sexual offender, rather than as a sexual predator, would preclude defendant's photograph from being posted on the Florida Department of Law Enforcement's website, and that defendant would not have entered plea of no contest had he been properly advised. Peng v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2418a (5th DCA 10/28/16)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: The confession of the daughter/granddaughter of the murder victims and her DNA is newly discovered evidence requiring a new trial. Aguirre-Jarquin v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly S481a (FLA 10/27/16)

QUOTATION: “[A]dding the newly discovered evidence to the picture changes the focus entirely: No longer is Aguirre the creepy figure who appears over Samantha’s bed in the middle of the night; he is now the scapegoat for her crimes.” Aguirre-Jarquin v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly S481a (FLA 10/27/16)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Standard jury instructions tweaked. In Re: Standard Jury Instructions, 41 Fla. L. Weekly S480a (FLA 10/27/16)

MANDAMUS: Indigent prisoner’s petition for writ of mandamus seeking to compel Department of Corrections to recommend commutation of his life sentence to a term of years was not a collateral criminal proceeding, and was therefore subject to a lien on prisoner’s inmate account for costs and fees. Ruggirello v. Jones, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2417a (1st DCA 10/26/16)

SENTENCING: Although court designated defendant as habitual felony offender, habitual violent felony offender, and violent career criminal, court did not exercise option of imposing mandatory minimum term under either HVFO or VCC designation; thus, the sentence is lawful because only one of the recidivists statutes was applied. Durkee v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2404a (4th DCA 10/26/16)

METAPHOR-QUOTATION (DISSENT): "Sentencing law has recently undergone a sea change and many sentencing shibboleths have run aground on the shoals of the Constitution." Charles v State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2397b (4th DCA 10/26/16)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): "The question 'Why?' states a primitive and insistent human need. The small child, punished or deprived, demands an explanation. The existence of a rationale may not make the hurt pleasant, or even just. But the absence, or refusal, of reasons is a hallmark of injustice. . . . The despot is not bound by rules. He need not account for what he does. Criminal sentences, as our judges commonly pronounce them, are in these vital aspects tyrannical.” Charles v State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2397b (4th DCA 10/26/16), quoting Marvin E. Frankel, Criminal Sentences: Law Without Order 39 (1973)

Elsberry v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2396a (1st DCA 10/26/16)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Where Defendant mistakenly believes that the sentences in two cases would run concurrently, and Court remedied the error by dismissing one case and vacating that sentence, and the resulting sentence was in compliance with the plea agreement, there is no abuse of discretion in denying motion to withdraw plea. Robinson v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2395c (1st DCA 10/26/16)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Court may not impose a mandatory minimum sentence for possession of a firearm if the firearm is not

JOA-NEGLECT OF CHILD: Court must grant judgment of acquittal where Defendant left a sick child with a friend with directions to call 911 if the condition worsened. No evidence existed that the parents knew how serious the child's medical condition was. Ristau v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2391a (2nd DCA 10/26/16)

PLEA-WAIVER: Trial court's failure to comply with requirements of rule 8.165(b)(2) before accepting juvenile's uncounseled pleas in separate cases constituted fundamental error — Trial court erred in accepting uncounseled plea in third case immediately after juvenile asserted his right to counsel, and further erred by denying juvenile's motion to withdraw plea in that case. D.A.C. v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2389a (2nd DCA 10/26/16)

SENTENCING-FIREARM-CONCURRENT: Court has discretion to impose 10-20-life sentences concurrently or consecutively. Elsperman v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2387b (1st DCA 10/25/16)
