DEPOSITION-FIFTH AMENDMENT-CERTIORARI: Defendant may not challenge pretrial by petition for writ of certiorari the Court's ruling that the Defendant may not take the deposition of a key witness who intends to make a blanket 5th amendment refusal to testify. "Although Magbanua persuasively argues that the protective order preventing any pretrial questioning of Adelson significantly impairs her ability to prepare a defense, any material injury to Magbanua may be corrected on direct appeal." DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for unlawfully using a two-way communications device and transmitting material harmful to minors via electronic mail violates double jeopardy because the elements of the former are subsumed in the elements of the latter. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who had pled guilty to manslaughter is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to tell him that the pathologist report said that the Defendant's battery of the victim was not the cause of death. A generalized plea colloquy confirming satisfaction with counsel was insufficient to refute a claim based on counsel's failure to advise of a specific defense or facts supporting it. McBee v. LESSER INCLUDED-JURY INSTRUCTION-JURY PARDON: Failure to give a requested jury instruction on a necessarily lesser included offense one step removed from the charged offense is subject to a harmless error analysis and is no longer per se reversible error. SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: In sentencing Defendant for L & L, Court improperly considered a videotape the Defendant roaming through the children section of a library on a separate date . Defendant must be re-sentenced by a different judge. Court may not consider uncharged conduct nor rely on speculation that the defendant has committed or may commit other crimes based on its view of the uncharged conduct. Tharp v. State, 44 Fla. L. REVERSE WILLIAMS RULE: Defendant is entitled to present evidence that another person had committed a burglary in the same area in a strikingly similar manner. The reverse Williams rule is simply the application of Williams rule principles to the circumstance in which a defendant (rather than the State) seeks to introduce evidence of similar crimes committed by another person (rather than the defendant) to show that the defendant did not commit the offense for which he or she is being tried. Newby v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1377a (2nd DCA 5/29/19)

KINDA WEIRD: “Lieutenant William Byrd drove by Mr. Newby, who was jogging across one such road. He was wearing boxer shorts, a T-shirt, and dress socks with no shoes. The temperature was in the forties — cold by Florida standards. That got the lieutenant's Spidey senses tingling. . . Mr. Newby said that he started to undress outside, but that he then saw a car drive past that belonged to people he knew lived nearby, and that he jogged over to meet them. When he got to the house where they lived, he decided to keep jogging." Newby v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1377a (2nd DCA 5/29/19)

COUNSEL: Court must allow substitution of counsel on the eve of the trial and grant a two or three day continuance for the new attorney to prepare where, as here the request for substitution of counsel was not made in bad faith and Defendant and only very recently been made aware of the trial date. DISCOVERY-DISCLOSURE: Court did not err in excluding a Facebook video purporting to show the Defendant at a concert on the date and time of the armed burglary on the ground that it was not disclosed until the middle of the trial. Carn v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1364a (4th DCA 5/29/19)

EVIDENCE: Evidence that the Victim had a large sum of money in his house at the time of the home invasion robbery is admissible to show motive notwithstanding the lack of evidence that the Defendant knew about the settlement. Carn v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1364a (4th DCA 5/29/19)

HEARSAY-OUT-OF-COURT IDENTIFICATION: Recorded statement of store employee who identified the Defendant from a video recording, but who is not present at the actual robbery, is inadmissible. Ellison v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1362a (4th DCA 5/29/19)

HEARSAY-OUT-OF-COURT IDENTIFICATION: Recorded statements of identification by eyewitnesses are admissible because such statements are not hearsay by statutory definition, but a description of the person so identified is inadmissible hearsay. Ellison v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1362a (4th DCA 5/29/19)

EVIDENCE-SILENCE: The fact that the Defendant hung up phone when officer told him he was investigating an armed robbery is not admissible. "Under federal law, a defendant's pre-arrest, pre-Miranda silence may be used as substantive evidence of a defendant's guilt where a defendant has not expressly invoked the privilege against self-incrimination. . . The Florida Supreme Court, in contrast, has concluded that 'a defendant's privilege against self-incrimination guaranteed under article I, section 9 of the Florida Constitution is violated when his or her pre-arrest, pre-Miranda silence is used against the defendant at trial as substantive evidence of the defendant's consciousness of guilt.'" SELF-DEFENSE-VICTIM'S PRIOR ACT OF VIOLENCE: Evidence of the Victim's prior violent act of meeting of the woman a few days before the alleged murder, known to the Defendant at the time, is admissible to show the Defendant's reasonable apprehension of violence by the Victim. All doubts as to the admission of self-defense evidence must be resolved in favor of the accused. Farrell v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1361a (4th DCA 5/29/19)

APPEAL-TIMELINESS: When Order Denying a Motion to Correct Illegal sentence is rendered on March 5th and the appeal is not filed until April 5th, the appeal is untimely. STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT: Appellate court need not decide whether in custody interview of the defendant by a Child Protective Investigator requires Miranda because error here, if any, is harmless. Cooley v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1357a (1st DCA 5/28/19)

MITIGATION-JURISDICTION: Court may not deny motion to mitigate while the appeal is pending. Court should have denied the motion for lack of jurisdiction because of the pending appeal. Underwood v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1351c (2nd DCA 5/24/19)

INEFFECTIVENESS-APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that the court impermissibly considered lack of remorse and truthfulness and sentencing. "And continuing to lie is not going to help. . . Your insistence on trying to diminish your culpability is not helping your situation. You would be much better off in my eyes and certainly everyone else's if you would just tell the truth." Error is fundamental. Beauchamp v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1351a (5th DCA 5/24/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court is not bound by State's concession that a hearing is required on claim made a motion for post-conviction relief, and

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is not entitled relief on claim that counsel was ineffective for not requesting a Daubert hearing on expert testimony on tool marks, where his evidence that such testimony is scientifically unreliable was limited to articles found in a Google search without the underlying articles being admitted in evidence. Amaro v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1349a (5th DCA 5/24/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant failed to show prejudice in the Court's failure to give the jury the required cautionary instruction that if a question submitted by a juror is not allowed for any reason, the juror must not discuss it with the other jurors and must not hold it against either party. WITHHOLD OF ADJUDICATION: Court may not withhold adjudication on the charge of False Report of Bomb Threat. The statutory authority to suspend a sentence for the crime does not include the authority to withhold adjudication of guilt. State v. Hansen, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1335a (4th DCA 5/22/19)

JURY INSTRUCTION-LESSER INCLUDED-LEWD AND LASCIVIOUS: Court is not required to give a permissive lesser included simple battery instruction on the charges lewd or lascivious molestation. The lesser crime of battery includes the elements of lack of consent. Statute on lewd and lascivious battery eliminates the defense of consent, but the act can nevertheless be consensual. De Aragon v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1330b (4th DCA 5/22/19)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-VOLUNTARINESS: Once a suspect has waived Miranda rights, police are not required to end an interrogation if the defendant makes an equivocal or ambigu him ous request for counsel. Only an unambiguous and unequivocal request for counsel requires that police terminate an interrogation. A "Go ahead and fg sign off that I need a lawyer or whatever if I'm being arrested. If I'm not being arrested, then take me to a cell for my other warrants, so I can go ahead and get this st over with" is not an unequivocal and unambiguous invocation of his right to counsel. PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: In order to show cause why the plea should be withdrawn, mere allegations are not enough; the defense must offer proof that the plea was not voluntarily and intelligently entered. Vito v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1326a (1st DCA 5/21/19)

PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Defendant cannot withdraw a plea to 117 counts of possession of child porn and 2 counts of possession with intent to promote child porn based on the allegation that he would not have entered the plea if he had known that his counsel failed to reserve the right to appeal an order denying his motion to dismiss the last 2 counts where, as here, there was no prejudice since it is unlikely the Defendant would have proceeded to trial anyways, and the Motion to dismiss was meritless. Mallet v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1325a (1st DCA 5/21/19)

CORPUS DELICTI: Child cannot be convicted of possession of firearm by a delinquent or a minor after confessing to owning a gun found in a car occupied by the Child and 2 other people not all of whom were delinquents. "If all of the occupants of the car in which the gun was found had previously been found to have committed delinquent acts. . .this would be a no-brainer affirmance. . .[H]owever, . . .this is one of those uncommon cases where. . .proof of the identity of the person who committed the offense was necessary to prove that a crime was committed at all." DOUBLE JEOPARDY-STALKING: Dual convictions for violation of injunction for stalking are not barred by double jeopardy where there are two distinct acts, here, first yelling at the Victim from across the street and then, after police arrived yelling "Bitch, I'm coming to get you" while pounding on his chest with both fists. Good discussion. Jacobs v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1313a (2nd DCA 5/17/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: To determine whether multiple convictions of solicitation of a minor, unlawful use of a two-way communications device, and traveling after solicitation of a minor are based upon the same conduct for purposes of double jeopardy, the reviewing court should consider only the charging document. Sherman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1309a (1st DCA 5/16/19)

APPEALS-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF COUNSEL: Defendant cannot raise on direct appeal claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to move for a judgment of acquittal or failure to contest the value of the stolen property. If counsel had done so, the State could have reopened the case. Any relief must be sought under R 3.850. Stephens v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1308a (1st DCA 5/16/19)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Theory that evidence of the burglary is too circumstantial to sustain a conviction because someone else might have committed the burglary and put the stolen items in the car occupied by the defendant is too far-fetched to compel the court to grant a motion for judgment of acquittal. Stephens v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1308a (1st DCA 5/16/19)

REVOCATION OF PROBATION-HEARSAY: Hearsay evidence is admissible in violation of probation hearings, but hearsay evidence that is not corroborated by non-hearsay evidence is insufficient to establish a violation of probation. Baldwin v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1306b (1st DCA 5/16/19)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request the jury instruction on reckless driving as a lesser included offense cannot be raised on direct appeal. It is not inconceivable that there was a tactical explanation for counsel's decision not to request the lesser included instruction. Lee v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1304a (1st DCA 5/16/19)

FINALITY OF ORDER: Where Defendant was initially sentenced to life in prison and later violated parole and was recommitted to serve a life sentence in thereafter was erroneously resentenced to life imprisonment with the possibility of review after 25 years, and neither party appeal that ruling, the trial court lacks jurisdiction to rescind the order and delete provision about sentence review. Because the order granting resentencing became final when neither party moved for rehearing or appealed the order, the trial court had no authority to enter a second order rescinding the original order. Simmons v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1301b (1st DCA 5/16/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-PROBATION: Where Court modified probation to require drug treatment upon the Defendant's testing positive for marijuana, the defendant cannot be later accused of violating probation on the basis of that positive test. Since Defendant's probationary sentence had already been enhanced for the same violation of this condition, a second enhancement or punishment based upon the same violation would impose multiple punishments for the same offense. Mitchell v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1294a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-LEAVING SCENE OF ACCIDENT: Multiple convictions for leaving the scene of an accident in which 3 cars were hit does not violate double jeopardy since the crashes happen seconds apart and at different locations in the parking lot. Breland v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1291a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

HEARSAY-PRIOR INCONSISTENT STATEMENT: Officer's testimony that the phone number was the Defendant's, based on the Defendant's girlfriend's alleged statement (denied by the girlfriend) to the officer that it was, leading to the procurement of phone records was inadmissible hearsay. The records thereby linked to the defendant were consequently inadmissible. Helms v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1288a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: To qualify as a prison releasee reoffender the Defendant must have been incarcerated in and physically released from a prison, not a county jail. Helms v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1288a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-ANONYMOUS TIP: Officers lacked reasonable suspicion to detain the Defendant based on an anonymous call that a black male with dreads, wearing designer pants with glitter on the back side of the pants, standing by a convertible black Camaro parked in front of a liquor store was dealing drugs out of the vehicle. The anonymous tip's assertion of illegal conduct must be corroborated in some way to establish its reliability. The Defendant's quick return to the vehicle, bending down, and placing something inside the vehicle is insufficient corroboration of illegal activity to justify the stop. "Appellant's retreat to the vehicle did not evidence criminal activity. Indeed, if appellant could not retreat, then he was not free to leave, which circumstance constitutes a seizure for Fourth Amendment purposes." Dieujuste v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1285a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

GRAND THEFT-VALUE: Victim's testimony that her daughter told her that the stolen bracelet was worth close to $300 is insufficient to establish the felony value. The sheer volume of the items stolen cannot sustain an inference that the cumulative value is above $100. "[E]ven where stolen items would appear to have a minimum value based on the nature of the item, a lack of evidence as to that value is typically fatal." Bruce v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1284a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

CAREER CRIMINAL: One cannot be designated a Violent Career Criminal based on a prior conviction for attempted burglary, which is not an enumerated felony. Bruce v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1284a (4th DCA 5/15/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: School resource officer may not search a juvenile based solely on a hunch that he might have a weapon. T.L.B. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1283d (4th DCA 5/15/19)

MANDAMUS: Defendant who had been barred by the trial court from filing further frivolous motions attacking his conviction may not apply for a writ of mandamus to require the trial court to rule on further motions. Byrd v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1281b (3rd DCA 5/15/19)

http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D19-0672.pdf

8TH AMENDMENT: Sentence of life imprisonment with possibility of parole after 25 years for first-degree murder committed by a minor does not violate the 8th Amendment. State v. Calix, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1281a (3rd DCA 5/15/19)

http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D16-2784.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FAILURE TO FILE PRETRIAL MOTION: Counsel for the defendant was ineffective for failing to file a pretrial motion to dismiss based on pre-arrest delay resulting in destruction of potentially exculpatory surveillance video recordings. State v. Ellis, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1280a (3rd DCA 5/15/19)

http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D17-2478.pdf

CONTINUANCE: Court did not abuse discretion in denying motion to continue to allow fingerprint testing of a watch found on the victim's body where counsel could have arranged for the testing earlier. Lindsay v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1276c (1st DCA 5/13/19)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: To determine whether multiple convictions of solicitation of a minor, unlawful use of a two-way communications device, and traveling after solicitation of a minor are based upon the same conduct for purposes of double jeopardy, the reviewing court may consider only the charging document. Dygart v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1276a (1st DCA 5/13/19)

HABEAS CORPUS-INEFFECTIVENESS: Defendant may not use habeas corpus, asserting manifest injustice, to claim that Counsel was ineffective for failing to advise him of an entrapment defense more than 2 years after the conviction is final. Watkins v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1275a (1st DCA 5/13/19)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-CONSENT: Court did not abuse discretion in finding that the sex abuse of the minor was not consensual where the 15-year old victim admitted to a generally consensual relationship but testified that she felt uncomfortable with the sexual activity and "wanted out." Hayes v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1274b (1st DCA 5/13/19)

SENTENCING MULTIPLIER: If the total resulting sentence with the multiplier applied exceeded the statutory maximum sentence for Appellant's primary offense, the multiplier could not be applied, and the statutory maximum had to be imposed on the primary offense. 90.59-year sentence is vacated for the Defendant to be sentenced to no more than 15 years for the primary offense but no less than bottom of the guidelines (44.45 years) as an aggregate sentence. Hayes v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1274b (1st DCA 5/13/19)

ENHANCEMENT-FIREARM: Attempted first-degree murder offense is reclassified to a life felony where the Defendant fired a gun. The use of a firearm is not an essential element of attempted murder. Alleyne does not apply because the enhancement is not an element of the charged offense. Moss v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1271a (1st DCA 5/13/19)

RAPE SHIELD STATUTE: The rape shield statute only bars evidence of actual sex acts by the Victim, not nonconsensual molestation of the juvenile victim by other men. The juvenile victim's statement that other men had molested her should have been admitted because it tended to prove that she had a motivation to fabricate her allegations. But here error is harmless based on the overwhelming evidence. Thorne v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1266a (1st DCA 5/13/19)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant is entitled to Judgment of Acquittal for possession of drugs found in a bedroom which was accessible by many people who lived there. The fact that some items in the room belong to someone other than the Defendant (women's shoes) along with items clearly owned by the Defendant overcomes any implication that the Defendant had exclusive use of the room and the narcotics in it. Thomas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1263a (2nd DCA 5/10/19)

PAROLE REVOCATION: Defendant is improperly found to have violated parole where commission does not make a finding that the Defendant's use of cocaine was a violation. Lancaster v. Florida Commission on Offender Review, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1259a (5th DCA 5/10/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Rule 3.800(a) is available to correct scoresheet errors apparent from the face of the record, and therefore may be filed after the two-year limit of Rule 3.850, but only allows resentencing if the sentence could not have been imposed under a correct scoresheet. Gil de Rubio v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1265a (2nd DCA 5/10/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A motion for post-conviction relief under Rule 3.850 must be filed within 2 years of the judgment becoming final. In the case of a scoresheet error, resentencing is required unless the record conclusively shows the same sentence would have been imposed with a correct scoresheet. Where the scoresheet error was due to the scoring of the charge that was reversed and remanded on appeal and ultimately Nolle

Prossed, and where a written amended judgment was never entered on the remaining counts, the conviction never became final and the Defendant may seek relief under Rule 3.850. Gil de Rubio v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1265a (2nd DCA 5/10/19)

RETURN OF PERSONAL PROPERTY: One has 4 years to seek to recover specific personal property under Fla.Stat. 95.11(3)(i), but only sixty days from the conclusion of the proceedings under Fla.Stat. 705.105. Court may not summarily deny as untimely a motion for return of property under s. 705.105 without attaching portions of the record supporting the ruling. Adams v. State, 44 Fla. L. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that the court improperly considered the defendant's "psychopathy" and that he might "be a budding psychopath" when there was no evidence to support these conclusions. Johns v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1250b (5th DCA 5/10/19)

DEFINITION OF "A": "A" means "any." "The purpose of the indefinite article is to indicate a noun that is, in some way, variable, unidentified, or unspecified. . . Linguistically, 'a' refers to 'any or each' of a type when used with a subsequent restrictive modifier. . . The word 'a' is 'a function word before singular nouns when the referent is unspecified.'" DEFINITION-WHEN SOMETHING OCCURS: "In common parlance, predicating a condition on 'when something occurs' or 'at the time something occurs,' is normally understood to mean the first time that the something occurs. This is so because conditional statements such as these are made with a view towards the future, as a way of indicating that a consequent condition will arise from a future condition's occurrence. And since the future cannot be known (except in hindsight), we would ordinarily read a provision. . .to align with the way we experience the passing of temporal events; that is, we would consider the future condition's first occurrence to be the operative one, even if it is a condition that might be capable of repetition." EXPERT: Testimony of trooper who testified as to braking effects in vehicular homicide case must be considered under the Frye test. Court must first determine whether the expert's method for determining braking is new or novel. If so, Court must determine admissibility of the expert opinion based on the general acceptance within the relevant scientific community. If method is not new or novel, the witness may offer pure opinion evidence based on his training and experience. '[A] trial court must have some role in ensuring the reliability of expert testimony, even if the testimony is not based on new or novel scientific methods." Kemp v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1246a (4th DCA 5/8/19)/

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: DOC, not the court, calculates the time served after sentencing, including time in the county jail after sentencing. MANDATORY MINIMUM-10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCE: Consecutive sentences for one gunshot with the multiple assault victims and no physical injuries is not permitted. "As the Florida Supreme Court continues to develop rules in this area, it may well conclude that any gunshot is enough. Or it may decide that a single act can be 'bifurcated' if it simultaneously harms multiple people. Or it may abandon its current rules altogether and decide to untether the legality of consecutive mandatory-minimum sentences from the number of victims or gunshots. But based on the Florida Supreme Court precedent as we now understand it, Wanless's consecutive mandatory minimum sentences cannot stand." Wanless v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1197b (1st DCA 5/6/19)

QUOTATION-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: "For twenty years, the complexity and conundrums of Florida's sentencing law have created a degree of confusion as to when consecutive or concurrent sentences are permissible. . .[O]ur supreme court ought to bring greater clarity to this area of the law and, if possible, return to a textually-based jurisprudence." Wanless v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1197b (1st DCA 5/6/19)

JOA-LEWD AND LASCIVIOUS EXHIBITION: "They saw Mr. Mesen's pants unzipped and the victim's arm extending into his pants, moving back and forth, but they could not see the victim's hand. His pants were not pulled down; they may have been unbuttoned but were definitely unzipped." One cannot be convicted of lewd or lascivious exhibition on elderly person by victim masturbating Defendant inside his pants without exposing his genitals. "Expose" means to make something visible." Mesen v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1194a (2nd DCA 5/3/19)

TOO WEIRD: "The fact that the victim had her hand in the defendant's pants is merely incidental to what is proscribed by the statute, which criminalizes actions taken by the defendant, not the inducement of an action taken by the victim. The evidence supports only one action alleged to have been taken by the defendant: unzipping his fly within reach of a victim who is disabled or elderly, so as to place his genitals within reach of her touch without making them visible." Mesen v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1194a (2nd DCA 5/3/19)

DEFINITION-EXPOSURE-LATIN: "The doctrine of noscitur a sociis (a 'word is known by the company it keeps') is relied upon 'to avoid ascribing to one word a meaning so broad that it is inconsistent with its accompanying words.'. . .A meaning of the word exposes' that includes merely exposure to a grasp through or under clothing cannot be employed to describe a term — 'exhibition'– that indicates the presentation of something to another's viewing. UNLAWFUL USE OF TWO-WAY COMMUNICATIONS DEVICE: Mere possession of walkie-talkies in the trunk of a car occupied by defendant implicated in a string of attempted burglary's does not support a conviction

CRIMINAL MISCHIEF: Defendant cannot be convicted of first degree criminal mischief for damages to the door by which he did attempted to burglarize the store based on the store manager's guess about the costs of replacement. SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court improperly infers, unsubstantiated by evidence, that the defendant was a drug dealer based on the quality of the meth. A trial judge violates a defendant's due process rights by basing his or her sentence, at least in part, on uncharged offenses.

Defendant is entitled to resentencing with a different judge. Shelko v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1098b (5th DCA 4/26/19)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court may consider lack of remorse or refusal to accept responsibility when sentencing Defendant within the statutory range. “We can no longer embrace the blanket, judge-made rule that when it comes to sentencing.” Prior case law to the contrary is receded from. SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-DISSENT: "Overturning thirty years of precedent and creating conflict with all other Florida appellate courts, a bare majority of this Court enfeebles what for decades has been an easily administered bright-line sentencing rule for Florida judges: do not punish — or appear to punish — a defendant who maintains his innocence for a perceived lack of remorse or the failure to take responsibility or accept guilt for the crime proven." Davis v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1079c (1st DCA 4/25/19)

QUOTATION: "Paradoxically, the majority embraces a patchwork of primarily federal cases with a hodgepodge of state cases supporting its view as if Florida courts should reflexively deem them as superior in kind to what our legislature and state judiciary have thoughtfully developed and implemented over the past decades. But, what principle of state judicial power says, "Fed is Best — Chuck State Law," where the Supremacy Clause is not in play?" Davis v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1079c (1st DCA 4/25/19)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Although it was within trial court's discretion to revoke bond in earlier offense at defendant's initial appearance on new charges, where state did not seek pretrial detention and the new charges did not allege a capital or life felony, it was error to order petitioner to be held without bond on new charges without determining issue of pretrial release or detention in accordance with procedural rules. STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment to Stand Your Ground law applies retroactively. The fact that the Defendant was convicted at trial should have no bearing on the Court's determination on the immunity issue. Horton v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D1078b (2nd DCA 4/24/19)

SENTENCING-EXCESS OF STATUTORY MAXIMUM: Under the Criminal Punishment Code, the Court may/must impose the lowest permissible sentence on additional offenses even if that exceeds the statutory maximum for that count, notwithstanding that the Defendant is sentenced to more than that lowest permissible sentence on a separate count. Here, the defendant was lawfully sentenced to life in prison for the primary offense (armed robbery with a firearm) and twenty years for the additional offense which was a third-degree felony. MINOR-SENTENCING: Fifty year sentence for first degree murder committed by a juvenile is lawful. The jury does not met need to make the factual finding that the defendant intended to be killed because that finding is inherent in the conviction for first-degree murder regardless whether the Defendant was the killer or a mere principal. LEWD OR LASCIVIOUS EXHIBITION-AGE OF DEFENDANT: Testimony by percipient witness that the Defendant was an older man combined with the jury's opportunity to observe the defendant in court is sufficient to show that the Defendant was over the age of 18 at the time of the offense. Dedominicis v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D771a (4th DCA 3/20/19)

SELF-DEFENSE-JURY INSTRUCTION: Court committed fundamental error when it erroneously instructed the jury that the danger facing defendant "need have been actual" instead of "need not have been actual. Appellate court cannot determine whether the Court actually omitted the word "not" or whether the error is in the transcription by the court reporter. "The situation here underlines the importance of including in the record the written collection of instructions on the law that the jury takes into deliberations." Saloman v. State, 44 Fla. L. FALSE NAME: Defendant cannot be convicted of giving a false name for lying about his name when questioned on suspicion of trespassing. One can only be convicted if he gives a false name upon arrest or lawful detention; a consensual encounter is not a lawful detention. However, the defendant can be convicted of resisting without violence if he then runs away. K.O. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D762a (4th DCA 3/20/19)

JUVENILES-COMMITMENT LEVEL: Court may not depart from commitment level recommended by DJJ without making adequate findings on the record. Parroting of information in the DJJ's comprehensive assessment and PDR is insufficient to establish acceptable reasons for varying from the recommended disposition. J.D.P. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D761c (2nd DCA 3/20/19)

QUOTATION-ABRAHAM LINCOLN: "How many legs does a dog have if you call his tail a leg? Four. Saying that a tail is a leg doesn't make it a leg." State v. Herrera-Fernandez, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D749a (3rd DCA 3/20/19)

http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D17-1481.pdf

PLEA OFFER: State's invitation for defense counteroffer including specific terms and waiving the minimum mandatory is an "offer" and empowers the Court to make its own proposal waiving the minimum mandatory." [T]he prosecutor 'invited' the defense to make a 'counteroffer' of 75 months. . .and agreed that the State would 'accept' such a 'counteroffer' if made by the defendant. This was, plainly and simply, a State offer, regardless of the prosecutor's characterization of it as an 'invited counteroffer.' It was no more a counteroffer than a dog's tail is a fifth leg. Because the trial court properly determined that the "invited counteroffer" was really a below-guidelines plea offer that also waived the mandatory minimum sentence, and because that plea offer was not withdrawn by the State, the trial court was within its authority to extend its own plea offer to the defendant." State v. Herrera-Fernandez, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D749a (3rd DCA 3/20/19)

http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D17-1481.pdf

JUROR-CHALLENGE PEREMPTORY: Defendant's challenge to State's use of a peremptory challenge fails where defendant never specified juror's race; defense never contended that state's proffered reasons were pretextual; and there was no basis offered to suggest disparate or "non-race neutral" treatment of juror in context of other voir dire questioning. Helfrich v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D748a (3rd DCA 3/20/19)

VOIR DIRE-LIMITATIONS: Court's order directing defense counsel not to discuss excessive force through voir dire deprives Defendant of a fair trial. Where a juror's attitude about a particular legal doctrine is essential to a determination of whether challenges for cause or peremptory challenges are to be made, it is well settled that the scope of the voir dire properly includes questions about and references to that legal doctrine. It is improper to curtail questioning on the theory of defense, even where counsel is permitted to inquire generally. Ruiz v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D743d (3rd DCA 3/20/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: "Waddell claimed that the trial court informed him. . .that if he proceeded to trial and lost, he would receive the maximum sentence. . . .[T]hose words proved prophetic. In denying the Motion, the trial court stated, '[a] review of the records shows no such statements made by the Court.' The trial court, however, declined to share those records with us. Accordingly. . .we reverse the summary denial." Waddell v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D721c (5th DCA 3/15/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to the Court's ruling that he had to choose between the defense of entrapment or that he lacked the intent to commit the crime. Asserting the entrapment defense is not necessarily inconsistent with denial of the crime even when it is admitted that the requisite acts occurred, for the defendant might nonetheless claim that he lacked the requisite bad state of mind. Knapp v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D716g (5th DCA 3/15/19)

RESENTENCING: Defendant is entitled to resentencing where calculations of the total points on his scoresheet was incorrect and it cannot be said the same sentence would have been imposed regardless. Upon resentencing, the defendant may be sentenced as a Violent Felony Offender of Special Concern even though the Court had not previously considered whether the Defendant was a danger to the community. A defendant's designation as a VFOSC does not depend on a finding that the defendant poses a danger to the community. Moore v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D701e (4th DCA 3/13/19)

APPEALS-JURISDICTION-MISTRIAL: Before granting mistrial based on a hung jury, at Court' request the jury indicated by a poll that they were unanimous to acquit on murder but were hung on the lesser charge of attempted manslaughter by act. Defendant's motion to dismiss the greater charges based on the jury being the equivalent of an acquittal was granted. ARGUMENT-SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: State's argument that the Defendant was presenting his story for the 1st time at trial is not an improper comment on silence because the Defense had elicited from the detectives that the defendant had been interviewed after his arrest. There is no improper comment on silence when the Defendant had not been silent. Gooden v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D680a (4th DCA 3/13/19)

MARCHMAN ACT: "A written accusation by an itinerant houseguest friend followed by a judge's review of that piece of paper is all it would have taken under the Marchman Act to deprive a young woman of five or more days of her liberty. It is difficult for me to reconcile the constitutionality of such a drastic deprivation of freedom with the patina of procedure that precedes it. . . .According to the State, the Marchman Act did not violate T.L.'s due process rights as it 'is not a state law which seeks to unfairly imprison individuals, rather, it authorizes the courts to provide medical treatment to individuals in need of substance abuse treatment.' In other words, so long as her confinement would have been for her own good, we ought not to worry too much about due process for those in T.L.'s circumstances." T.L. v. F.M., 44 Fla. L. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who declined offer of one year in jail, pled open, and was sentenced to 6 years in prison is not entitled to postconviction relief on claim that counsel told her that she would not get jail if she pled open, where Court found based on the evidence that her claim is false. "The record paints a picture of the defendant who rolled the dice and lost." McCray v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D658a (1st DCA 3/7/19)

SENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Thirty-year sentence for a homicide committed by juvenile is not inconsistent with Graham or Miller. The Defendant is not entitled to resentencing under the new juvenile sentencing scheme. "Unless and until the Florida Supreme Court announces that every juvenile defendant is entitled to a sentence under the new laws — regardless of when the defendant was sentenced or whether the original sentence violated Graham or Miller — we will follow the rule that resentencing only applies when there was a Graham or Miller violation." SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT: Defendant validly consented to the search of his shed notwithstanding the illegal entry of the police into his backyard. SPEEDY TRIAL: Where Defendant filed her notice of expiration of speedy trial with the clerk, the Court cannot deny the motion to discharge based on the fact that judge himself did not get a copy of it. An Administrative Order cannot add requirements to the rules for speedy trial discharge beyond those in the rules of criminal procedure. Hawkins v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D626a (4th DCA 3/6/19)

AGGRAVATED BATTERY-RECLASSIFICATION: When the State charges a defendant with aggravated battery causing great bodily harm based on section 784.045(1)(a)1., Florida Statutes (2017), and not section 784.045(1)(a)2., a deadly weapon is not an essential element of the crime, and the crime can be reclassified upward to first degree felony based on the use of a firearm. SELF-DEFENSE-JURY INSTRUCTION-FORCIBLE FELONY INSTRUCTION: It is fundamental error to give the forcible felony exception instruction when the Defendant's son, not the Defendant, who arguably committed a forcible felony when the Defendant intervene in the fight. The forcible felony instruction does not apply in a case of defense of others. Although there are no Florida cases analyzing the forcible-felony exception in the context of defense of another, cases analyzing the exception in the context of self-defense make clear that "the plain language of section 776.041 indicates that it is applicable only under circumstances where the person claiming selfdefense is engaged in another, independent 'forcible felony' at the time." Grant v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D623a (4th DCA 3/6/19)

ALTER EGO RULE: "The only way in which the instruction as given in this case could have been correct is if the common law alter ego rule applied. This is because under the alter ego rule, 'a defendant using deadly force to defend a person who was not entitled to use deadly force would be held criminally liable.'. . .Florida, however, like nearly all American jurisdictions, abandoned the common law alter ego rule long ago." CONTEMPT: Indirect contempt conviction is improper where the Court failed to inquire as to whether the defendant had any cause to show why he should not be held in contempt nor to allow him to present mitigation or an explanation. Petty v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D621a (1st DCA 3/4/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INCIDENT TO ARREST: Search incident to arrest is unlawful where the arrest was for the violation of a noncriminal municipal ordinance which did not authorize arrests. QUOTATION: "Confusion and conflict. . .[A] person's failure to give a correct name to a law enforcement officer constitutes the crime of obstruction. . . whether the person was lawfully detained or not. . . .Bass could have been a suspect in lawful custody, a potential witness, or a mere passerby or onlooker at the time of his fib. Doesn't matter: he gave an incorrect name. . .But wait. M.M. says that. . . 'failing to give one's correct identity is not a crime unless the person is legally detained.' . . It's a head scratcher. . .Our supreme court ought to clear up this newly-created muddle." Bass v. DWLS: There is no fundamental error in finding the defendant guilty of driving with a suspended license when in fact his license was revoked. "Appellant cannot rely on verbal legerdemain to set aside his plea. The sloppy use of the term 'suspended' instead of 'revoked' at the plea conference does not rise to the level of fundamental error. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A sudden event that would have suspended the exercise of judgment in an ordinary reasonable person, who would have lost normal self-control and would have been driven by a blind and unreasoning fury without a reasonable amount of time for a reasonable person to cool off may provide a basis for a heat-of-passion defense, but counsel here was not ineffective for not advising the Defendant of this defense because the facts did not support it. Rodriguez-Lopez v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D487a (1st DCA 2/15/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that councils in effect for failing to object to the addition of probation to the term of incarceration which was specified in the plea agreement. The statutory maximum for Apprendi purposes is the maximum sentence the judge may impose solely on the basis of the facts reflected in the jury verdict or admitted by the Defendant. However, here the error is harmless because the jury would have found that he engaged in an escalating course of criminal conduct had it had an opportunity to do so. Simmons v. State, 44 Fla. L. EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIMES: State's notice of its intent to introduce collateral crime evidence was not deficient for failing to list propensity as a basis for admitting the evidence where plain language of statute does not require the notice to list the specific purpose for which the evidence is to be admitted. Pitts v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D369b (1st DCA 2/5/19)

EVIDENCE-CHARACTER: Testimony that defendant had never been sexually aggressive toward his high school girlfriend was effectively specific-act character testimony and properly excluded where defendant's character trait for sexual non-violence was not an element of the charged offense. Proof of a person's character may not be made by specific instances of conduct unless character is an essential element of a charge, claim, or defense. Pitts v. State, 44 Fla. L. PROBATION-REVOCATION: Court may not revoke Defendant's probation failing to pay court costs without making a determination of ability to pay. Banks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D357a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

QUOTATION: "The dissent agrees that "it is true that 'will' or 'shall' is generally mandatory and 'may' is generally permissive," but believes that we should look to the context and interpret "may" as "shall" with regard to the community service option. We agree that context matters, but the dissent makes too large a leap — interpreting a word that is "generally permissive" to mean the opposite." Banks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D357a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

QUOTATION II: "But there is no logical difference between saying on one hand, that someone "shall" do A but nonetheless "may" do B instead of A — and on the other hand saying someone "shall" do either A or B. Either way, the person does not have to do A; he may do B instead. It is not that A is mandatory and B is optional." Banks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D357a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

THINGS NOT TO SAY TO JUDGE: "Banks testified that she worked forty hours a week at a sandwich shop and was too tired to do community service on top of that. She admitted she had done zero hours but insisted she just couldn't." Banks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D357a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

ROBBERY/BURGLARY: Defendant who gets into an unoccupied stranger's car, refuses to leave, orders Victim to drive to different places, and demands money commits robbery. "The element of a threat was supplied not only by Appellant's mere uninvited physical presence in the victim's car, but also by his physical characteristics making it likely that he could overpower the victim, by his sternly-worded demands, and by his prominent display of a backpack that could hold a weapon." Young v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D355a (1st DCA 2/4/19)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to file a motion to suppress the search. The search of a probationer's person or residence by a probation supervisor without a warrant is reasonable, but granting such general authority to law enforcement officials is not permissible. Hanna v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D347b (2nd DCA 2/1/19)

COURT RECORDS-ACCESS: An indigent defendant is not entitled to free copies of documents and transcripts in the court file for purposes of filing a motion for post-conviction relief. Defendant may seek the transcripts from his former public defender. Patterson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D345a (2nd DCA 2/1/19)

RE-SENTENCING: Court must conduct a resentencing hearing after vacating Defendant's designation as a habitual felony offender upon the Defendant's motion for post-conviction relief. Resentencing is not a purely ministerial act when the total points on the scoresheet are changed and the court has discretion as to the term of years and the new sentence. Andrews v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D342a (5th DCA 2/1/19)

BELATED APPEAL: Defendant is entitled to a belated appeal where appellate counsel failed to follow through by having the record on appeal filed after having filed the initial notice of appeal, resulting in the appeal being dismissed. Mann v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D341b (5th DCA 2/1/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INEVITABLE DISCOVERY: "Permitting warrantless searches without the prosecution demonstrating that the police were in pursuit of a warrant is not a proper application of the inevitable discovery rule. The rule cannot function to apply simply when police could have obtained a search warrant if they had taken the opportunity to pursue one, but can only apply if they actually were in pursuit of one." O'Hare v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D335d (5th DCA 2/1/19)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INDEPENDENT SOURCE DOCTRINE: The independent source doctrine means that the exclusionary does not apply when the government can show it has learned of the challenged evidence from an independent source and the illegal search or seizure was not an actual cause of the discovery of the subject evidence. The independent source rule applies when evidence is discovered as a result of unlawful police activity but is also discovered independently through a lawful investigation that occurs either before or after the illegal activity, so long as the independent investigation itself is untainted by the initial activity. O'Hare v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D335d (5th DCA 2/1/19)

JANUARY 2019

CITIZEN ARREST: Court did not err in finding that Defendant committed aggravated assault with a firearm after lawfully detaining two people whom he believed had committed a crime. "While we agree with Roberts that he initially had probable cause to effect a citizen's arrest, the State presented evidence at trial contradicting Roberts's affirmative defense by showing that he did not act in a reasonable manner when he attempted to detain the two individuals." Roberts v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D335c (1st DCA 1/31/19)

AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE: "[A]n affirmative defense does not concern itself with the elements of the offense at all; it concedes them. In effect, an affirmative defense says, 'Yes, I did it, but I had a good reason.'" Roberts v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D335c (1st DCA 1/31/19)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Rule 3.172(c)(10) requires a trial court to inform a defendant about a mandatory license suspension to ensure that the plea is voluntarily entered. Defendant is entitled to withdraw plea when not so informed. Berrocales v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D332a (4th DCA 1/30/19)

CONTEMPORANEOUS OBJECTION: Contemporaneous Objection Rule requires that the must be sufficiently specific to apprise the judge of the error and to preserve the issue for intelligent review on appeal. Failure to object to testimony about the contents of the photograph until much later violates the contemporaneous objection rule. S.H. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D315a (3rd DCA 1/30/19)

CORPUS DELICTI-HISTORY: "Early versions of the [Corpus Delicti] rule developed in 17th-century England when a series of suspects confessed to murders, only to have their alleged victims turn up — alive and well — long after the suspects were imprisoned (or, worse, executed) for the fictitious crimes." S.H. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D315a (3rd DCA 1/30/19)

http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D18-0365.pdf

CORPUS DELICTI-HISTORY: "In 1660, John Perry was subjected to continuous and repeated questioning as to the disappearance of his master, William Harrison. After initially denying all wrongdoing, Perry finally confessed that he, his mother, and his brother had together robbed and murdered Harrison. Although a body was never found, and Perry's mother and brother denied all wrongdoing, all three suspects were convicted and executed on the strength of Perry's confession. Several years later, however, Harrison returned home, claiming to have been kidnapped and sold into slavery in Turkey. In short, Perry had admitted to a falsehood resulting in the execution of himself, his mother, and his brother." S.H. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D315a (3rd DCA 1/30/19)

http://3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D18-0365.pdf

HEARSAY-BENCH TRIAL: Anonymous tip is inadmissible hearsay, but when an appellate court is reviewing a bench trial, it should presume that the trial court judge rested its judgment on admissible evidence and disregarded inadmissible evidence, unless the record demonstrates that the presumption is rebutted through a specific finding of admissibility or another statement that demonstrates the trial court relied on the inadmissible evidence. When improper evidence is admitted over objection in this context, the trial court must make an express statement on the record that the erroneously admitted evidence did not contribute to the final determination. Here, error is harmless. S.H. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D315a (3rd DCA 1/30/19)

IMPEACHMENT-CROSS-EXAMINATION: Defendant is entitled to confront and cross-examine a 5-yearold alleged victim of sexual molestation with inconsistencies in her prior statements about details of the events. A criminal defendant should be afforded wide latitude to cross-examine the State's witnesses, especially when crossexamining a key prosecution witness. "Wilson also argues that if he is convicted of another offense in the future. . .this revocation of probation may expose him to a harsher penalty. . .We hope that Wilson's pessimistic speculation remains just that. But even if it is instead prescient, we are hardpressed to conclude that this revocation. . .over his approximately thirty-year criminal history. . .will be the straw that breaks the camel's back." LIFE SENTENCE: Graham does not extend to adult offenders. The argument that sentencing courts should focus on the offender's mental age on a case-bycase basis is rejected. Lockhart v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D150a (1st DCA 12/31/18)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Court properly denied Defendant's request to represent himself when he was uncooperative, refused to acknowledge that he even had a lawyer, interrupted and argued with the court, and otherwise thwarted the Court's efforts to conduct the Faretta inquiry. Damas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S70a (FLA 12/28/18)

DEATH PENALTY-AGGRAVATORS: Finding that victims were under the age of 12 and in the Defendant's familial/custodial authority is not improper doubling of aggravators. Damas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S70a (FLA 12/28/18)

DEATH PENALTY: "[T]he moral consensus concerning the death penalty and its social utility as a sanction, require us to conclude . . .that the infliction of death as a punishment for murder is not without justification and thus is not unconstitutionally severe." Damas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S70a (FLA 12/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Witness's statement that he may have minimized the extent of the Defendant's intoxication in trial testimony is not newly discovered Brady evidence sufficient to warrant a new trial. Merck v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S61a (FLA 12/28/18)

DEATH PENALTY-HURST: Defendant is not entitled to relief based on Hurst when the death penalty became final in 1990. Duckett v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S56a (FLA 12/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claims that State committed a Brady violation by not disclosing that it had dropped charges against testifying witness are procedurally barred and without merit. Thomas v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S54a (FLA 12/28/18)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: A literate 51-year-old with a GED is entitled to represent himself if he is dissatisfied with counsel. Clark v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D146a (5th DCA 12/28/18)

JURORS-POST-VERDICT INTERVIEW: Court did not abuse discretion in denying motion to interview the jury foreperson based on her alleged failure to disclose her own personal experience with sexual assault where she was not asked about it during voir dire. Sonneman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D145a (5th DCA 12/28/18)

JURORS-POST-VERDICT INTERVIEW: Juror may not be interviewed after the verdict based on the inference that she considered the Defendant's failure to testify; any such considerations inhere in the verdict. Sonneman v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D145a (5th DCA 12/28/18)

10-20-LIFE: Life sentence for aggravated battery with a firearm is illegal because it exceeds the statutory maximum for that offense. Reclassification is improper where state charges aggravated battery in such a way that use of firearm is essential element.

Smith v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D118a (5th DCA 12/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for advising him not to testify, and have counsel told him the state would be able to impeach and by every detail his prior convictions, counsel's performance was deficient. Penton v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D143a (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

EXPERT-DNA: DNA expert who identifies a DNA may not testify about the frequency of the DNA among the population database without demonstrating a sufficient knowledge of the population database ground in this day of authoritative sources although he or she need not be a statistician or mathematician. The witness must identify the method used to calculate the frequency statistics so that the judge may determine whether the method used is generally accepted in the scientific community in accordance with Frye. Testimony that she is "familiar with the type of statistical analysis," that it was "something that is commonly done" in her profession, that she had been "performing statistical analysis . . . since 1996," is insufficient. Counsel was ineffective for failing to object. Cruz v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D139a (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

SELF-DEFENSE-STAND YOUR GROUND: Burden of proof is upon the State. Defendant must only allege a facially sufficient prima facie case of justifiable use of force in his motion. The Defendant is not required to testify or present evidence. Jefferson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D135a (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

DICTIONARY WARS: "[T]o 'raise' something is '[t]o bring up for discussion or consideration; to introduce or put forward.' . . .That is, in ordinary conversation, it is not sensible to conclude that to 'raise" a prima facie claim, which is deemed true until it is disproved, means that the person raising the claim must also affirmatively prove the claim. The legislature did not say 'prove.' Utilization of 'raised,' coupled with the aforementioned ordinary meaning of 'prima facie claim,' yields clear textual support that the legislature did not intend the person asserting Stand Your Ground immunity to first prove that prima facie claim of self-defense." Jefferson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D135a (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

COSTS: Court may not impose a $100 fee for court-appointed conflict counsel without giving Defendant notice of his right to a hearing to contest the fees. Conflict certified. Newton v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D126c (2nd DCA 12/28/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: On VOP, Defendant must be given credit from the date of the arrest on the new violation which was the basis for the revocation of probation. Colton v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D113b (1st DCA 12/27/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy does not bar separate convictions for child neglect causing great bodily harm and leaving child unattended in motor vehicle. Hicks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D113a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

JOA-CHILD ENDANGERMENT: Defendant cannot be convicted of child endangerment based solely on the fact that the child' mother testified that the child was not injured when he left for the defendant, but there was no testimony is as to what happened during the hours in question. Hicks v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D113a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to hire an expert in pharmacology to explain how his prescription medicine interacted with his medical conditions in abuse of drugs. Dupriest v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D108b (1st DCA 12/27/18)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: Court erred by assessing the Defendant's motion for new trial on the same basis as the motion for Judgment of Acquittal. "Unlike a motion for judgment of acquittal, which tests the sufficiency of the evidence, a motion for new trial 'requires the trial court to weigh the evidence and determine credibility just as a juror would.'. . .In the latter role, the trial court acts as a 'safety valve' where the evidence of guilt is tenuous but technically sufficient to go to the jury. Baker v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D108a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by failing to hold competency hearing despite having reasonable grounds to believe the defendant was incompetent. Boren v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D107a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

VOP-JURISDICTION: Probation is tolled when the defendant absconded. "Absconsion" used again. Hodges v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D106a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

VOP: Evidence that Defendant's mother told the probation officer that the Appellant had moved is hearsay evidence insufficient to support a violation of probation. A probationer's absence from an approved residence for a brief time during which the probationer's location was unknown would not support a finding that the probationer violated a condition of probation by changing his residence without permission. Hodges v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D106a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

SPEEDY TRIAL: The rule requiring a trial within 90 days of an appeal granting a new trial does not apply where the Defendant had previously waived speedy trial before his 1st trial. Noack v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D101a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

HEARSAY: Officer's testimony that a third-party had told him that the Defendant had confessed is inadmissible hearsay within hearsay. Noack v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D101a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

JUDGE-IMPARTIALITY: Judge did not depart from its role of impartiality by preventing defense counsel from questioning witnesses about inadmissible evidence when state failed to object, nor by questioning state's witness who seemed confused by defense counsel's questions. "[A] trial judge need not be 'an iceberg only to be heard at calving.'" Lee v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D98a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

JUDGE-IMPARTIALITY-QUOTATION (DISSENT): "During a timeout in the Big Game, a player coming off the field was berated for performing poorly, scolded for being 'a bump on a log.' Another timeout was called and the player was rebuked for 'sitting on your ass yet again.' The rant continued: 'I don't know what you guys are doing over there. I'm not sure you need to be here, just let [the other team] do whatever [it] wants.' A harangue like this from an irate coach is unremarkable; after all, his job is to win the game. What would be startling is if the haranguer was the game's referee, the person on the field whose job is to ensure a fair and impartial contest for the players and onlookers alike. Yet that is what happened in the trial of William Lee. . .[T]he trial judge unilaterally initiated a series of increasingly antagonistic sidebars, punctuated by the quotes above. . . In effect, the judge performed real-time CLE timeouts for the prosecution's benefit during a live criminal trial." Lee v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D98a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

DISCOVERY-FACIAL RECOGNITION SOFTWARE: Defendant is not entitled to alter photographs generated by facial recognition software which were not identified as the defendant. Lynch v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D96a (1st DCA 12/27/18)

COMPETENCY: Court cannot adjudicate defendant competent based solely on the parties' stipulation. Losada v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D69b (3rd DCA 12/26/18)

POST CONVICTION DNA TESTING: Court did not err in adopting State's memorandum in its order on post-conviction DNA testing where the memo was not facially deficient and its conclusions were supported by the evidence. Gosiminski v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S27a (FLA 12/20/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant who waived penalty-phase jury and his death penalty was final more than 2 years before Ring is not entitled to relief based on Hurst. Robinson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S25a (FLA 12/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: In death penalty cases, Defendant is entitled to a Huff hearing (an opportunity for attorneys to argue for an evidentiary hearing) on an initial motions for post-conviction relief, not on subsequent motions. Taylor v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly S19a (FLA 12/20/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's statement that the standard for whether someone is fleeing and eluding is what a reasonable person would do is a misstatement of law; a new trial is required. Owens v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D55b (4th DCA 12/19/18)

APPEAL-STATE: Order granting motion to vacate plea is not appealable by the state. State v. Barnes, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D48a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS-SEXUAL BATTERY: The affidavit of the mentally retarded victim identifying the Defendant as the perpetrator of sexual battery upon her does not establish his identity for the purpose of beginning the fouryear statute of limitations; only the DNA evidence tested a decade later establishes his identity. The legislature can extend the limitations period without violating the constitutional prohibition against ex post facto laws if it (a) does so before prosecution is barred by the old statute, and (b) clearly indicates that the new statute is to apply to cases pending when it becomes effective. State v. Estime, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D46a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

DEFINITION-"ESTABLISH": "'Establish' means to 'to make firm or stable' and 'to put beyond doubt,' i.e. (from Black's Law Dictionary) 'to establish the president's guilt.'" State v. Estime, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D46a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

HEARSAY: Because records crafted by a separate business lack the hallmarks of reliability inherent in a business's self-generated records, proponents must demonstrate not only that "the other requirements of the business records exception rule are met but also that the successor business relies upon those records and the circumstances indicate the records are trustworthy. Mere recitation of the four elements of the business records exception does not establish reliability. Sacks v. The Bank of New York Mellon, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D44a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-RACIAL DISCRIMINATION: Court must always consider the genuineness of the reason given for a peremptory challenge which is objected to as being discriminatory. Johnson v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D34a (4th DCA 12/19/18)

CORPUS DELICTI: The corpus delicti cannot rest upon the confession or admission alone. Therefore, the state must introduce substantial independent evidence of corpus delicti that tends to show that the charged crimes were committed. J.J. v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D25a (3rd DCA 12/19/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-REMORSE: Defendant is entitled to resentencing before a different judge when the judge considered his lack of remorse ("And the one thing I haven't heard is any remorse, just excuses.") in imposing sentence. "Although a defendant's expression of remorse and acceptance of responsibility are appropriate factors for the court to consider in mitigation of a sentence, a lack of remorse, the failure to accept responsibility, or the exercise of one's right to remain silent at sentencing may not be considered by the trial court in fashioning the appropriate sentence." ChiongCortes v. State, 44 Fla. L. Weekly D23b (3rd DCA 12/19/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Defendant who is arrested for different offenses on different dates is not entitled to have jail credit applied equally to all prison sentences even though the sentences are run concurrently. Del La Cruz v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2235a (5th DCA 9/28/18)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Court errs in determining that affidavit from victim recanting his trial testimony was not credible or material without conducting evidentiary hearing where the affidavit was not inherently incredible or obviously immaterial. Barros v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2233a (5th DCA 9/28/18)

COLLATERAL CRIMES-LEWD OR LASCIVIOUS MOLESTATION: Court erred by admitting evidence that defendant had previously committed sexual battery upon victim's twelve year old sister, as such evidence of an offense more severe than the charged offense was not sufficiently similar to the charged offense and was unduly prejudicial. The less similar the prior acts, the more likely that the probative value of this evidence will be "substantially outweighed by the danger of unfair prejudice. The similarity of the collateral act of molestation and charged offense is a critical consideration for the trial court in conducting an appropriate weighing under section 90.403. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2231c (5th DCA 9/28/18)

APPEALS: A "GVR" (granted, vacated, and remanded) from the US Supreme Court is neither a merits determination nor precedential case law. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Failing to raise a defendant's competency is cognizable in a rule 3.850 motion. Allegations that Defendant has a history of mental illness, that the jail prescribed medicine to treat his mental illness, and that the combination of the mental illness and medication affected his ability to assist in his defense and rendered him incompetent when he entered his pleas are sufficient to state a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel. "Yes" and "no" answers during a plea colloquy are insufficient to conclusively refute an appellant's claim that he did not understand the nature and consequences of a plea due to medication and mental illness. Perez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2192a (2nd DCA 9/21/18)

DEATH PENALTY: When a defendant knowingly and voluntarily waives the right to a penalty phase jury, he is not later entitled to relief under Hurst. Lynch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S384a (FLA 9/20/18)

SATELLITE TESTIMONY: Live streaming testimony from Australia does not deprive Defendant of right of confrontation. Factors support use of satellite livestreaming video testimony where witness lives beyond subpoena power of court and is unwilling to travel to testify, there is a state interest in prosecuting child sex offenders, and victim is essential to case. Remote testimony is permitted only when the following assurances of reliability exist : (1) that the witness will give the testimony under oath, impressing upon the witness the seriousness of the matter and protecting against a lie by the possibility of penalty of perjury, (2) that the witness will be subject to cross-examination, and (3) that the jury will have the chance to observe the demeanor of the witness. To ensure that the possibility of perjury is not an empty threat for those witnesses that testify via satellite from outside the United States, it must be established that there exists an extradition treaty between the witness's country and the United States, and that such a treaty permits extradition for the crime of perjury. Butler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2169a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: Statistical evidence showing a disparity between average sentences for white defendants and minority defendants with similar CPC scores does not show that racial bias motivated sentencing decision. A defendant cannot challenge his sentence based on statistical evidence of racial disparity in sentencing. Delancey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2166a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

COLLATERAL CRIMES: No error in allowing jury to hear evidence that, within two hours after shooting death at grocery store, a shooting occurred at defendant's home because details of what happened at home were relevant to provide a logical sequence of events that led police to identify defendant as suspect in grocery store shooting, particularly where defense counsel opened the door for testimony by presenting a misleading and incomplete picture that portrayed police as not having conducted a thorough investigation and implying that police just showed up at defendant's home to disrupt a sleeping family. Sanders v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2165a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

COMPETENCY: Court may not make a finding that the defendant is competent based on Defendant's stipulation and the Court's review of expert's court where the parties did not agree to allow the judge to decide each of competency on that basis. Pittman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2164a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

COMPETENCY: Court must hold a competency hearing after ordering a competency evaluation and must make an independent determination of competency prior to trial. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2162a (4th DCA 9/20/18)

PRETRIAL RELEASE: Court may properly deny motion to set bond when Defendant was charged with capital offense and offenses punishable by life imprisonment and state met its burden of showing that proof was evident or presumption great that defendant was guilty of charged offenses. Coconspirator's statement, which was internally consistent and uncontradicted, met required evidentiary standard of the proof of guilt is evident or the presumption is great. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2154a (1st DCA 9/20/18)

PLEA-SENTENCING: Court erred by adjudicating defendant guilty when defendant had not entered plea and without first conducting a full plea colloquy. Boyd v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2153c (1st DCA 9/20/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: When defendant seeks credit for prison time he must proceed under 3.800, not 3.801. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2153b (1st DCA 9/20/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: There is no illegality where officer looked at the contents of a USB which was given to them by a man they were arresting and who claimed that he got it in exchange for drugs, and that it contained "some sick shit." The Fourth Amendment does not apply to a search or seizure, even an unreasonable one, effected by a private individual not acting as an agent of the Government. Where a warrantless search by law enforcement is prompted by a prior search by a private party, the warrantless search does not violate the Fourth Amendment so long as it does not exceed the scope of the private party's search. Even if the officers' initial viewing of the video was a Fourth Amendment search of the USB drive, it was lawful because the possessor had apparent authority to consent to the search. Duke v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2148d (1st DCA 2/14/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant must raise issue of the defective information (unsigned information) before trial and cannot raise the issue post trial as ineffective assistance of counsel. Bessellieu v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2146b (1st DCA 9/14/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Defendant's motion for credit for time served under Rule 3.801 is premature while a direct appeal is pending. Fernandez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2138a (2nd DCA 9/14/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to object to State's paraphrase of Defendant's statement as he shot his victim at Wendy's. State paraphrased Defendant saying "I told you I'd kill you, I had it in my mind to kill you, I've wanted to kill you for several days. I wanted to kill someone to take out my frustration." In fact, Defendant said, "I told you I would kill you, you f*cking b*tch." Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S365a (FLA 9/13/18)

ARGUMENT: Improper comments/questions by the State–"Members of the jury, as Cesar [sic] laid dying, killed by people that he trusted, people that he thought were his friends, [he] cried out Et tu, Brute? Betrayal and greed, that's what killed Cesar [sic]. And it's the same betrayal and greed that you, Donovan Henry. . .had" and "Do you just have a complete indifference to human life?-are not fundamental error and must be objected to for the issue to be preserved. Henry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2132a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

QUOTATION: "This is not necessarily a Shakespearian tragedy, as the State suggested in closing, but it certainly can be characterized as An American Tragedy." Henry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2132a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

ADULT SANCTIONS-JUVENILE: Where a child has been charged as an adult and court imposed juvenile sanctions upon a violation of juvenile supervision the child may be then sentenced as an adult. Dorcely v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2131a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: State committed a discovery violation by failing to reveal fingerprint testing before trial and by doing further DNA testing during the trial, but the error was harmless where the Defendant was not prejudiced. Chamberlain v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2128a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

AMNESIA: "When confronted by his fiancée as to his involvement in the murder, he told her he did not remember whether he had killed someone." Chamberlain v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2128a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

FLEEING AND ELUDING-FINE: $1,000 fine is vacated where Court was under the false impression that the fine was mandatory rather than discretionary. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2127a (4th DCA 9/12/18)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue limitations on Defendant' his closing argument and admission of DNA evidence on a gun which was not used in the charged crime. Jeanbart v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2120b (4th DCA9/12/18)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: State's summary argument that the affidavit constituting newly discovered evidence was inherently incredible is not supported by any evidence nor asserted at the trial level. A hearing is required. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2110a (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

APPEALS-INEFFECTIVENESS OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to raise the issue of trial court's imposition of mandatory consecutive sentences after Florida Supreme Court had held the 10-20-Life statute does not require consecutive sentences for multiple firearm offenses arising from the same criminal episode. Rua-Torbizco v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2109d (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

APPEALS-JURISDICTION: Appellate court lacks jurisdiction to review portion of supplemental final judgment in which trial court reserves jurisdiction to determine the amount, retroactive period, and life insurance to secure support. Vartumyan v. Bean, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2109b (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

EVIDENCE-COLLATERAL CRIME: Evidence of armed robbery of victim five hours prior to shooting which gave rise to charge of attempted second degree murder was properly admitted, as the evidence was relevant and necessary because it helped explain the entire context out of which the charged offenses occurred. Pickett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2105a (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

FALSE EVIDENCE: Defendant is not entitled to a new trial based on false testimony presented that a cell phone found in the scene and dropped by the Defendant belonged to the victim where there was no showing that the false testimony was knowingly presented, and the testimony was minimally relevant. Pickett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2105a (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

WITNESS TAMPERING: Evidence that defendant made numerous phone calls to victim in attempt to convince her to drop charges and that the calls caused victim to feel intimidated and scared was sufficient to support conviction for witness tampering. Pickett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2105a (3rd DCA 9/12/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Re-sentencing is required where the State argued that the Defendant had "a predisposition for dealing drugs multiple times to multiple people, not just this one drug sale," and the Court may have considered the State's argument (Judge : "taking into account everything, including the evidence here, both aggravating and mitigating") in imposing sentence, re-sentencing is required. State's argument that it is "absolutely allowed to comment on uncharged criminal acts and the case law is clear on that." is absolutely wrong. Lundquist v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2096a (2nd DCA 9/7/18)

PROBATION-EXPIRATION OF TERM: Defendant's probationary sentence was tolled once Canchola absconded prior to the expiration of the probationary term, notwithstanding that the amended affidavit of violation of probation was filed after probation would have expired. A probationary term is automatically tolled when a probationer absconds from his supervision. Canchola v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2092b (2nd DCA 9/7/18)

NEOLOGISM-ABSCONSION: "But the absconsion tolling doesn't ride under section 948.06." Canchola v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2092b (2nd DCA 9/7/18)

COMPETENCY: After committing motion for competency evaluation in appointing expert to examine Defendant, Court may not proceed without holding a competency hearing and making a competency determination. If the court can make a nunc pro tunc finding as to appellant's competency based upon the existence of evaluations performed contemporaneous with trial and without relying solely on a cold record, and can do so in a manner which abides by due process guarantees, then it should do so. Alexander v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2091a (5th DCA9/7/18)

DUE PROCESS: Court's error in reading the severed count of possession of firearm by a felon is harmless where the Defendant testified at trial, thus revealing that he was a felon. Watson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2090b (5th DCA 9/7/18)

CONFRONTATION: Court's error in failing to make case specific findings for allowing child victim to testify through closed-circuit TV, nor in providing a means for the Defendant to communicate with his attorney during the child's testimony, is not fundamental error and was not preserved for appeal. Knight v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2086a (1st DCA 9/7/18)

JUDGE-DISCIPLINE: Judge is removed from office for false claims during campaign, searching a party during a hearing, stating that he will never hold a statute unconstitutional, and moving hearings to early times without SAO or PD present. "[W]e will not allow judges who have committed egregious misconduct during a judicial campaign in order to attain office to serve the term of their judgeship." In Re : Inquiry Concerning a Judge (Scott Dupont), 43 Fla. L. Weekly S337a (FLA 9/6/18)

EVIDENCE-LAY OPINION-VOICE IDENTIFICATION: Officer who acquires a special familiarity with the defendant's voice during the course the investigation may render his opinion as to whether a voice in a recording is that of the defendant. Prior case law receded from. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S331a (FLA 9/6/18)

HABITUAL VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER: Defendant is entitled to resentencing where it is clear that the Court erroneously believed it was required to impose a life sentence under the HVFO statute. "Manifest injustice" defined and discussed. McMillan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2084a (4th DCA 9/5/18) POST

CONVICTION RELIEF: A defendant is entitled to have the trial court instruct the jury that it could convict him of both petit theft and resisting a merchant, as lesser offenses of robbery. Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request a jury instruction and verdict form that permitted the jury to render a dual verdict theft and resisting a merchant as lesser included for the underlying crime of robbery. The issue is not jury part, but rather the right to have lesser included considered. Conflict certified. Hargrett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2083a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant cannot be found guilty of possession of heroin found in a public area through which the Defendant fled. McCray v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2082a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND-SELF-DEFENSE: Defendant who tried to run down the victim with his car, then got out of the car and shot the victim who had thrown a metal bar at the Defendant's windshield, is properly convicted of murder. Selfdefense is properly rejected. Medina v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2080a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Defendant's different and inconsistent statements about events are properly admitted to show consciousness of guilt. Evidence of a defendant's acts or statements calculated to defeat or avoid his prosecution is admissible against him as showing consciousness of guilt. Medina v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2080a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

RACKETEERING: Two predicate acts committed on same day are not two separate incidents of racketeering conduct within a five-year period for purposes of sustaining a conviction of racketeering. JOA required. Castillo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2079a (4th DCA 9/4/18)

COMPETENCY: A new trial is not necessarily required after the Court failed to conduct a competency hearing and enter an order before trial, where there is are some indications that a competency evaluation was performed and the Defendant was deemed competent to succeed, and when the court can enter a nunc pro tunc finding of competency. Pollard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2074a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

APPEALS-INEFFECTIVENESS OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: Where life felonies were not subject to enhanced punishment as a habitual offender at the time of Defendant's offenses, appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to challenge habitual offender designation. Key v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2073a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

RETROACTIVITY: When the Defendant committed aggravated assault with a firearm when the offense carries a mandatory minimum, but was convicted after the statute was amended to eliminate the mandatory minimum, the defendant is subject to the mandatory minimum. The change in the statute does not apply retroactively. Retroactive application of the statute violates the "Savings Clause" of the Florida Constitution. State v. Reininger, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2072a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CELL PHONE-LOCATION INFORMATION: Accessing historical cell phone location information constitutes a search under the Fourth Amendment requiring a warrant and probable cause. The "good faith" exception does not apply where no case law existed saying that cell phone location information from towers was not protected by the Fourth Amendment. Ferrari v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2066a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

DISCOVERY-RICHARDSON: A new trial is required where there is a discovery violation when State disclosed only in the middle of the trial the existence of several tapes (75-80) by testifying witnesses which constituted a "bombshell" and which could have resulted in a change of trial strategy if disclosed before trial. seventy-five to eighty tapes to court. "[I]t was not the defendant's obligation to depose Torrens to discover Fiorillo's confession to the murder. It is the State's affirmative obligation to inform the defense of the substance of those statements." Ferrari v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2066a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: It is not an impermissible comment on the Defendant's right to remain silent to question him about his failure to report prearrest, pre-Miranda failure to report that other people whom he blamed for the murder confessed to him. Discussion of objective and subjective entrapment. State v. Harper, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2060a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

RETROACTIVITY-STAND YOUR GROUND: Because the 2017 amendment to the "Stand Your Ground" self-defense law is at least partially substantive, it cannot be applied retroactively. "[W]e are aware of no Florida Supreme Court case holding that a change to the legal standard applicable to an affirmative defense in a criminal matter. . . is purely procedural." The Defendant whose offense occurred before either version of the Stand Your Ground Law is not entitled to its benefit. Langel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2058a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND-BURDEN OF PROOF: To raise a "prima facie claim of self-defense immunity from criminal prosecution" under §776.032(4), a defendant must show that the elements for the justifiable use of force are met. Ordinarily, this will require the defendant to testify or to otherwise present or point to evidence from which the elements for justifiable use of force can be inferred. Only then would the burden shift to the state to "overcome the immunity" by clear and convincing evidence. Langel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2058a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant is not entitled to SYG immunity when he shot the Victim who left a closed pocketknife with a six inch blade next to his body. Langel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2058a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

DEFINITION-PRIMA FACIE: "The term 'prima facie' is a Latin expression meaning 'at first face' or 'at first appearance.' The term 'prima facie case' has two distinct meanings in law : (1) 'The establishment of a legally required rebuttable presumption'; and (2) 'A party's production of enough evidence to allow the fact-trier to infer the fact at issue and rule in the party's favor.'" Langel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2058a (4th DCA 9/5/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CELL PHONE LOCATION: Absent a valid exception to the warrant requirement, the government must establish probable cause and receive court authorization before using a cell-site simulator. With a cell-site simulator, the government surreptitiously intercepts a signal that the user intended to send to a carrier's cell-site tower or independently pings a cell phone to determine its location. State can not use a cell-site simulator (Stingray) absent a warrant specifically so providing. State v. Sylvestre, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2054b (4th DCA 9/5/18)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court properly imposed downward departure on the grounds that she acted under the domination of another person by allowing her boyfriend to burglarize the home which she had been hired to take care of. State v. Sisco, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2047b (3rd DCA 9/5/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for attempted felony murder and armed robbery do not violate double jeopardy. Blockburger. No merit to argument that double jeopardy bars dual convictions because shooting the victim is the same intentional act where, as here, the State also relied on other acts to support the armed robbery count. Sullivan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2045a (3rd DCA 9/5/18)

COMPETENCY: Hearing to determine restoration of competency is inadequate when it consists only of asking Defendant whether he felt well and whether he was taking psychotropic drugs. "The public defender. . . said the hearing would take only 'thirty seconds' and the trial judge thought even less ('How long is it going to take, two seconds?'). Parties cannot stipulate to competency. Rosier v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2042b (1st DCA 9/5/18)

UPWARD DEPARTURE: Statute permitting increase in punishment beyond statutory maximum of nonstate prison sanction based on findings by trial court, rather than by jury, that defendant could present danger to public is unconstitutional. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2039a (1st DCA 9/5/18)

NEW TRIAL: Summary denial of motion for new trial ("The Court will rely on the rulings previously made in this case, and I will deny the motion for new trial") does not mean that the court applied the wrong legal standard. Moreland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2037b (1st DCA 9/5/18)

APPEAL-JURISDICTION: Where court fails to rule on all claims in a motion for post conviction relief, the appellate court has no jurisdiction. The lack of a ruling on a claim deprives the appellate court of jurisdiction. Bachman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2037a (1st DCA 9/5/18)

VOP-HEARSAY: Witness who testified that Defendant did not always stay at his approved residence is sufficient to show absconding. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2036a (1st DCA 9/5/18)

Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2029b (5th DCA 8/31/18)

ARREST (Concurring Opinion): "The majority holds the Appellant was not under arrest. But if not under arrest, what was his status? Is there something between a Terry stop and an arrest? I think not. To effectuate a Terry stop, the detention must be temporary, based on reasonable suspicion, and at the location of the stop. . .To view the detention here as authorized creates a new level of citizen encounter not countenanced by Terry." Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2029b (5th DCA 8/31/18) http://5dca.org/Opinions/Opin2018/082718/5D17-745.op.pdf

DUE PROCESS: It is "troubling" but not reversible that Court denied continuance to enable Defendant to get transcripts of depositions taken two days before and then disallowed impeachment because Defendant had no transcripts. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2028a (5th DCA 8/31/18)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: "The State's refusal to concede the obvious [that motion to suppress was dispositive] was disingenuous at best," but when Defendant pled nolo contendere to the new charges without reserving his right to appeal the denied motion to suppress, the appellate court does not have jurisdiction to review the issue. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2028a (5th DCA 8/31/18)

10-20-LIFE: 25-year mandatory minimum provision in life sentence for robbery with firearm was illegal where indictment did not allege, and jury did not find, that defendant discharged a firearm. Statecannot rely on grounds alleged in a separate count to support enhanced mandatory sentence. Solomon v. State, 43Fla. L. Weekly D2024b (5th DCA 8/31/18)

INSANITY: Court erred when it denied Defendant's pro se motion to appoint an expert to evaluate insanity defense after he was prescribed medications at the hospital the night of the offense [Tony Tatti]. Beshears v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2019c (5th DCA 8/31/18)

MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: Where court amends the sentencing documents to provide for judicial review hearing of a lengthy (35 year) sentence, it also must conduct a full resentencing hearing. Conflict certified. Santiago v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2019a (5th DCA 8/31/18)

VOP: Court failed to prove a willful violation of probation by driving with a suspended license where it failed to present evidence that the Defendant had knowledge that his license had been suspended. Stringfield v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2018c (5th DCA 8/31/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: The plain touch exception to the Fourth Amendment does not permit an officer to seize objects felt during a weapons search, when the objects are not weapons and there is insufficient evidence of contraband. Defendant fiddling with his waist band does not justify officer patting down his scrotal area. T.T. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2002a (4th DCA 8/29/18)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Video showing that the Defendant ran and drop something near the gas station pumps during a shootout is insufficient to establish possession of marijuana found in the area. When the contraband is found in a public place, more than mere proximity to the defendant must be shown to sustain a conviction. McKire v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1984a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

FALSELY ACTING AS PUBLIC OFFICER: Grand jury foreman who created his own "People's Grand Jury Under Common Law in Dixie County, Florida" and approved to "True Bills" to arrest public officials is properly convicted of falsely acting as a public officer. Trussell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1978a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

EXPERT: Police officer does not need to qualify as an expert to testify that dog can detect odors from someone in an anxious mental or physical state. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1976a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Claim that evidence was wholly circumstantial is waived if not preserved at trial. Regardless, evidence that Defendant was 1 of 2 people who broke into her apartment and he was shot in the shoulder while fleeing is sufficient circumstantial evidence to sustain conviction. Charles v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1972a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

MINOR-LIFE SENTENCE: Apprendi does not require that jury rather than the judge must pass on the factors set forth in Fla.Stat. § 921.1401(2). Gonzalez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1971a (1st DCA 8/24/18)

Franklin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1964a (2nd DCA 8/24/18)

APPEALS-JURISDICTION: Notice of appeal is untimely when sent by a prisoner to the State Attorney and/or Attorney General, but did not mail it to the Clerk of the lower court. Linville v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1962c (5th DCA 8/24/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to proffer the testimony of his probation officer that she received a call from the maternal grandmother days before the allegations of sexual abuse emerged wherein the maternal grandmother reported that Appellant had physically abused the victim's brother, to support claim that the victim's mother and grandmother tried to frame the Defendant. Roe v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1959a (5th DCA 8/24/18)

VOP: Finding that Defendant violated probation by failing to pay restitution and court costs stricken where record does not demonstrate that he had the ability to pay. Coleman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1955b (4th DCA 8/22/18)

Based on recent Florida Supreme Court Court opinion changing the law. Granger v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1954a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

MURDER-CAUSATION-INTERVENING CAUSE: Where elderly victim was beaten and later died at home after hospital mistakenly determined that brain hemorrhage had been resolved, Defendant is still properly convicted of murder. To constitute an intervening cause, the hospital process negligence must be the sole cause of death. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1950a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-RACIAL DISCRIMINATION: Court is always required to follow three-step procedure set out in Melbourne when party objects to exercise of a peremptory challenge on the ground that it was made on a discriminatory basis. Melbourne imposes duty on trial courts at "genuineness" step to request a response to proffered explanation him from the opponent of the peremptory challenge , regardless whether counsel so requests. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1942a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

EYE ROLLING MOMENT: State justified striking black jurors because "[T]he Defense has stricken two black females in their first round of strikes. They've also stricken black individuals for cause." Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1942a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): "[T]he goal has become the process; the sideshow becoming part of the main event." Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1942a (4th DCA 8/22/18)

Stoddard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1938d (2nd DCA 8/22/18)

HEARSAY-PRICE TAG: Price tag is not hearsay. A business records foundation need not be laid before a witness is permitted to testify to what the price tag said. L.A. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1938b (3rd DCA 8/22/18)

VOP-JURISDICTION: Affidavit alleging only technical violations does not toll the probationary period. Bethel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1918e (4th DCA 8/17/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to hire an accident reconstruction expert to show that road conditions contributed to the crash where evidence of Defendant's intoxication was overwhelming and threshold for causation is low. Where a defendant's decision about going to trial turns on his prospects of success, and the attorney's alleged error affected those prospects of success, the defendant must also show that he would have been better off going to trial. "Even if inadequate signage and poor road conditions led Koroly the wrong way, had Koroly not been intoxicated he likely would have noticed the interstate median on his right and the headlights of any oncoming vehicles and corrected his actions before traveling the length of over five football fields and colliding head-on with Johnny Robinson." Koroly v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1908a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

ROBBERY WITH A FIREARM: Court did not fundamentally err by not instructing the jury that a BB gun is not a firearm, but rather referring the jury to the jury instructions, particularly whether there was some dispute as to whether the weapon which had not been recovered was a BB gun or a firearm. Miller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1906a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court did not abuse its discretion by refusing to excuse for cause a juror who worked as a prosecutor for state attorney's office 27 years earlier and whose husband was an investigator for that office where juror stated unequivocally that nothing about her experience as prosecutor or her husband's employment would affect her ability to be fair and impartial. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1904a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

FIREARM-POSSESSION: The crime of "possessing a concealed weapon by a felon" is a nonexistent offense. "Carrying a concealed weapon by a felon" is a crime. Mislabeling of the offense as "possession of a concealed weapon by a convicted felon" is confusing and requires a new trial. Wiggins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1903a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

JOA-PRINCIPAL: Defendant's post-arrest admission that he and others should not completed the drug transaction is insufficient to show that he actually did something to help commit the offense; JOA is required. Ammons v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1902a (1st DCA 8/16/18)

COMMENT ON SILENCE: Court's admonition on right to remain silent from standard jury instruction during voir dire and State's comment that the pro se Defendant would be held to the standards of a represented defendant is not an improper comment on the right to remain silent rising to the level of fundamental error. Kendle v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1885a (3rd DCA8/15/18)

SEALING CRIMINAL RECORD: Order compelling FDLE to issue a certificate of eligibility for sealing is a departure from the essential requirements of law because Defendant had previously secured expunction in a previous case in a different county. The fact that the previous sealing had been unsealed does not change the prohibition on a second sealing. FDLE v. Elmufdi, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1876a (3rd DA 8/15/18)

CONTEMPT-INDIRECT: Attorneys cannot be held in indirect criminal contempt for violation of discovery order directed to their client where there was no evidence that attorneys advised client to violate discovery order. Hudson v. Marin, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1870c (3rd DCA 8/15/18)

SEXUAL BATTERY-VICTIM'S MENTAL CAPACITY: State is not entitled to mental incapacity of victim instruction ("Evidence of (victim's) mental incapacity or defect, if any, may be considered in determining whether there was an intelligent, knowing, and voluntary consent.") when there is no evidence of involuntary intoxication. Here, the victim's intoxication was voluntary. Amelio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1855a (4th DCA 8/15/18)

JURY INSTRUCTION-MANSLAUGHTER: It is manifestly unjust to deny relief on claim that trial court committed fundamental error in giving erroneous instruction on manslaughter when defendant was convicted of second-degree murder, a crime one step removed from manslaughter. Crenshaw v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1854b (2nd DCA 8/15/18)

MINOR-RESENTENCING: Manifest injustice warrants reconsideration of prior decision in which appellate court erroneously rejected defendant's claims that sentence (45 years) was illegal under Graham. Gorman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1854a (2nd DCA 8/15/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for not moving for a JOA where state presented no evidence that the defendant was in 1000 feet of a place of worship; nevertheless the issue is not cognizable on direct appeal. Sorey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1847b (1st DCA 8/10/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call an expert witness to challenge State's fingerprint expert. Cowan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1839a (5th DCA 8/10/18)

WITHHOLD OF ADJUDICATION: Court may not withhold adjudication without imposing probation. State v. Jene-Charles, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1820a (3rd DCA 8/8/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: In sexual battery on child case, Counsel was ineffective for failing to investigate and introduce victim's school attendance records which would have discredited victim's trial testimony. McBride v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1789a (1st DCA 8/7/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the question of whether counsel was ineffective for failing to call witnesses to rebut Williams rule evidence. Tualla v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1788b (2nd DCA 8/3/18)

SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: Court may not consider uncharged criminal activity in imposing sentence. Court may not rely in part on charge for which he was acquitted of that charge. Randall v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1770b (1st DCA 8/3/18)

EVIDENCE-AUTHENTICATION: Blood-stained wallet and shoes obtained from defendant when he was booked into county jail were sufficiently authenticated through testimony of sheriff's office evidence custodian and testimony indicating that shoes removed from defendant could not have been mixed up with those removed from codefendant because codefendant's shoes had laces and defendant's did not. Thompson v. State, 43Fla. L. Weekly D1768a (1st DCA 8/3/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to present evidence that the Defendant was a good poker player to rebut the motive of financial gain for murdering someone to steal his magic : the Gathering cards and burying the body in his backyard. Cormier v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1765a (1st DCA 8/3/18)

BOLSTERING: "[Y]ou might see that cops and the government and the State Attorneys we really don't lie," is improper bolstering, but in context does not warrant a new trial. Lai v. State, 43Fla. L. Weekly D1760a (1st DCA 8/1/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-RESIDENCE-INEVITABLE DISCOVERY: Inevitable discovery doctrine does notpermit admission of illegally-seized evidence just because o fficers were conducting an "active investigation" at the time of the illegality, even when police have already developed probable cause for asearch warrant at the time of the improper conduct, but had not started to obtain a search warrant. Clayton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1756a (1st DCA 8/1/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Neither "Do I need that?", "Do I need him?", "Do I need to call my lawyer?", nor "Can I call my lawyer?" was an unequivocal request for counsel, but rather a prefatory question about his rights. Washington v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1753b (1st DCA 8/1/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Impact of plea on future employment is a collateral consequence and therefore not a grounds for post-conviction relief based on misadvice. Ayesh v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1749a(3rd DCA 8/1/18)

READ-BACK: Court did not abuse discretion in reading back to jury a specific portion of victim's testimony in response to a question as to how the victim responded when asked to had stabbed her. Procedures for read-back explained. "Simply put, a jury cannot properly fulfill its constitutionally mandated role if it cannot recall or is confused about the testimony presented in a case. Weekly D1696a (5th DCA 7/27/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT-VOLUNTARINESS: Stop made on the basis of anonymous tip that a black male and a red, yellow and black jacket was carrying a gun and standing outside a convenience store was unlawful. Weekly D1665a (2nd DCA 7/25/18)

VOIR DIRE-LIMITATION: Time limits in jury selection were not unreasonable here, particularly were counsel spent much of his time trying to pre-try the case. "[N]o mathematical formula exists, nor should a mathematical formula exist, for the amount of time provided for voir dire." Flexibility is encouraged. "A brief extension of time would have been far less than the many hours which both sides' appellate counsel spent on this appeal, and many days less than the amount of time which would have been necessary to try this case again if we decided to reverse." Thomany v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1619a (4th DCA 7/18/18)

VOIR DIRE-PURPOSE: Appellate court disagrees with trial court's conclusion that Defendant's attorney conducted his voir dire in a manner to attempt to preserve the issue of insufficient time for voir dire, but criticized counsel's attempt to "pre-try" the case. "Pre-trying" of the case is not a proper purpose of voir dire. Thomany v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1619a (4th DCA 7/18/18)

NEW EVIDENCE: Court properly summarily denied Defendant's motion to withdraw his plea based on alleged new evidence that cast doubt on the validity that pubic hair found on the scene was his. Tibbetts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1617b (4th DCA 7/18/18)

EN BANC REVIEW: "Due to a large caseload, our fifteen-member appellate court. . .assigns each case randomly to a three-judge panel for disposition, raising the trivia question : How many different three-judge panels are possible? If you said 455, you're correct. Most people guess a far smaller number. What isn't trivial is the jurisprudential impact that so many different panels have on similar or related cases, making the need for intra-court decisional uniformity important. Without en banc review for uniformity, we'd not be one court attempting to dispense uniform justice, but an assemblage of 455 randomly assigned and autonomous three-judge panels each doing as it sees fit." Mitchell v. Brogdon, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1613a (1st DCA 7/16/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Special conditions of sex offender probation imposed for an offense which does not require sex offender probation need not be orally pronounced, but where the plea agreement provided that sex offender probation did not apply, the later addition of sex offender conditions violates double jeopardy. Bolduc v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1598b (2nd DCA 7/13/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Rules should be created establishing a time period in which a petition for writ of prohibition should be filed following the denial of a motion to dismiss under the Stand Your Ground law. Lewis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1597a (2nd DCA 7/13/18)

SENTENCING-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Jury, not the trial court, must make factual finding as to whether juvenile offender actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill victim. Where jury was instructed on both premeditated and felony murder, it was error to fail to require jury to specify under which theory it found defendant guilty. Leppert v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1589b (5th DCA 7/13/18)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-FAILURE TO REGISTER: Jury instructions modified. In Re : Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. Weekly S290a (FLA 7/12/18)

HARMLESS ERROR-TEST: The test for harmless error "is not a sufficiency-of-the-evidence, a correct result, a not clearly wrong, a substantial evidence, a more probable than not, a clear and convincing, or even an overwhelming evidence test. . .The question is whether there is a reasonable possibility that the error affected the verdict. The burden to show the error was harmless must remain on the state. If the appellate court cannot say beyond a reasonable doubt that the error did not affect the verdict, then the error is by definition harmful." Rodriguez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S289b (FLA 7/12/18)

PRETRIAL DETENTION-HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant who FTA'ed and committed new offenses may be held without bond. Sardinas v. Junior, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1612d (3rd DCA 7/12/18)

ARGUMENT-GOLDEN RULE: "Think about the state of mind she's in at that point in time that all these questions were asked to her. What happened? What happened?" Is not an improper Golden rule argument. The mere fact that the State asked the jury to consider the victim's mental and physical condition shortly after the crime was committed did not transform this argument into a golden rule violation. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1584a (3rd DCA 7/11/18)

ARGUMENT: The prosecutor's comparison of Defendant's conduct to lions' predatory attack on its prey at night is not fundamental error. Slaughter v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1581a (4th DCA 7/11/18)

Weekly S289a (FLA 7/6/1 8)

MINOR-SENTENCE REVIEW: Court erred in ruling that Minor-Defendant who had served 15 years of a 25-year-sentence was not entitled to a sentence review on the ground that his crime had taken place before the statute providing for such review had been promulgated. Elkin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1545a (2nd DCA 7/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred by summarily denying the claim that counsel was ineffective in advising Defendant to withdraw motion to sever murder from possession of firearm charges on the grounds that this was obvious trial strategy. JUNE 2018

CORPUS DELICTI: Firearm on the floorboard of passenger side of vehicle which juvenile was driving with 2 passengers was insufficient to prove that the juvenile was in constructive possession of the firearm. To prove corpus delicti, the state must prove that the Defendant committed the crime charged, not that some person in the car committed the crime. Because corpus delicti was not proven, the Juvenile's confession was inadmissible. A.P. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1508a (2nd DCA 6/29/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED-CORRECTION: Defendant is not required to wait until his sentence becomes final to move for correction of credit for time served under Rule 3.801. Brady v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1507a (2nd DCA 6/29/18)

State v. Rogers, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1502a (5th DCA 6/29/18)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NEED FOR RESTITUTION: Court may not impose a downward departure from the basis that the need for restitution outweighed for a prison sentence where the defendant presented no evidence of the victim's need. State v. Rogers, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1502a (5th DCA 6/29/18)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-NON-STATUTORY FACTORS: To be permissible, the non-statutory mitigator justifying a downward departure must be consistent with legislative sentencing policies, the primary one of which is punishment, not rehabilitation. SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS-LACK OF REMORSE: Court did not impermissibly base Defendant's sentence on lack of remorse where Defendant injected the issue of remorse into the proceedings by seeking to mitigate his sentence. Court may not rely on Defendant process lack of remorse in fashioning a sentence but may rely on it in the context of mitigation of the sentence. Catledge v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1490a (1st DCA 6/28/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by failing to hold competency hearing or entering a written order of competency wants and had reasonable grounds to believe the defendant was incompetent. Pearce v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1489a (1st DCA 6/28/18)

PRETRIAL RELIEF-EXCESSIVE BAIL: $700,000 bond for the crime of sending a threatening letter violates his right to pretrial release on reasonable conditions as guaranteed under Article I, section 14 of the Florida Constitution. Aglio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1488b (3rd DCA 6/27/18)

ARGUMENT: Court erred in denying defense counsel's request for special instruction on "mere presence" after prosecutor, who argued that the legal principle (that mere presence at the crime scene is not enough) was not included in the jury instructions, but that a principal could be convicted even if he was not present, thus improperly maligning defense counsel's argument and misleading the jury on the law. Gabriel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1477a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor must confine his closing argument to record evidence and must not make comments which could not be reasonably inferred from the evidence. Prosecutor improperly argued that the co-defendant's testimony was consistent with earlier statements to police where no such evidence was adduced. Gabriel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1477a (4th DCA 6/27/18)012)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor commits improper argument where he suggests that Defendant refused to take responsibility for his actions. "Such comments denigrate the fundamental principles of the right to jury trial and presumption of innocence." Gabriel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1477a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Stand Your Ground immunity from prosecution is properly denied for Defendant who shot the victim in the back of the head, put the body in a rental car, drove it to a rural area, and set the car on fire. Morales v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1474a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Where police conducted three interviews with defendant, only the last of which was a custodial interrogation, trial court's failure to suppress third interview, during which police were informed that attorney was attempting to invoke defendant's right to remain silent, was harmless beyond reasonable doubt, in light of second confession. Santos v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1472a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

SENTENCING-10/20/LIFE-CONSECUTIVE: Where appellate court reversed consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10/20/Life and remanded for imposition of concurrent mandatory minimum sentences, Court properly resentenced defendant to concurrent mandatory minimum terms, but was not required to run non-mandatory minimum portions of the sentences concurrently as well. PUBLIC DEFENDER FEE: Court erred in imposing Public Defender's fees amount greater than statutory minimum without evidence of higher fees and without notifying Defendant of right to contest the fees. Baker v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1464a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

HEARSAY-FORFEITURE BY WRONGDOING: Court erred by allowing recorded statement of victim on ground that the victim's unavailability was a result of wrongdoing by the Defendant. Weekly D1457a (4th DCA 6/27/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: A Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the voluntariness of the confession outside the presence of the jury even if he failed to raise the issue of pretrial, but any error in refusing to allow such a hearing is not reversible where the evidence is duplicative of the evidence already presented without objection. Abel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1455d (4th DCA 6/27/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly found that counsel was not ineffective for failing to move to suppress evidence of search warrant, failing to have DNA evidence retested, and failing to show that Defendant's girlfriend could have been the source of the DNA on his underwear. Where evidence of guilt is overwhelming and where there is no reasonable probability that absent any deficient performance by defense counsel a defendant would have been acquitted, a claim of ineffective assistance of counsel must be denied. Gonzalez v. State, 43 L. Weekly D1432a (1st DCA 6/22/18)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: Motion identifying cash, wallet and driver's license as his property and alleging they were not the product of criminal activity is legally sufficient to compel the property returned to the Claimant. Peterson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1420c (5th DCA 6/22/18)

Turner v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1419a (5th DCA 6/22/18)

SENTENCING-MINOR-JUDICIAL REVIEW: Where Defendant who committed this offense was a minor, Court is required to conduct a resentencing hearing. Court cannot modify the sentence without holding a resentencing hearing. Ostane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1418a (5th DCA 6/22/18)

Weekly D1391c (2nd DCA 6/20/18)

PROBATION REVOCATION-JUDGMENT: Court may not enter a 2nd written judgment adjudicating Defendant guilty upon the defendant's probation being revoked. Duplicative adjudications of guilt after revocation of probation or community control are superfluous, are unauthorized, and can cause undue confusion in future proceedings. Schaulfler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1391a (2nd DCA 6/20/18)

CERTIORARI: Office of the Public Defender cannot be removed as penalty phase counsel where defendant is represented by a private attorney in the guilt phase by petition for writ of certiorari without making a sufficient finding of entitlement to relief. DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-UNSOPHISTICATED: Defendant who had her boss sign several checks to petty cash, and then deposited the money into her own account does not commit the crime in an unsophisticated manner justifying a downward departure from the sentencing guidelines. The crime is not "unsophisticated" where it requires several distinctive and deliberate steps to accomplish. Hollinger v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1367a (5th DCA 6/15/18)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-ISOLATED INCIDENT-UNSOPHISTICATED: The Defendant's crime is not an isolated incident where she had her boss sign several checks to petty cash, and then deposited the money into her own account. An offense is not isolated where it involves multiple incidents with one victim over several months. Hollinger v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1367a (5th DCA 6/15/18)

HEARSAY-CHILD VICTIM-RELIGIOUS CONFESSION: A priest cannot be compelled to testify about allegations of sexual abuse made by the victim during confession, based on Florida's Religious Freedom Restoration Act. It is a substantial burden on the size religion to compel a religious adherent to engage in conduct that his religion forbids, in this case revealing statements made during confession. Ronchi v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1364d (5th DCA 6/15/18)

EVIDENCE-DRIVING RECORD: A driving record showing a license suspension is sufficient to prove that a defendant had notice that his or her license was suspended. Hawthorne v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1362c (1st DCA 6/13/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Any error in allowing into evidence photos found on an iPod was harmless because the result would have been the same with or without the photos. Brutus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1362b (1st DCA 6/13/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-ARREST WARRANT: Officers who reasonably believed that subjects of arrest warrants were present in Defendant's residence were allowed to enter the residence. Foster v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1362a (1st DCA 6/13/18)

https://edca.1dca.org/DCADocs/2017/0938/170938_1287_06132018_10175711_i.pdf GOLDEN RULE: "Think about the state of mind she's in at that point in time that all these questions were asked to her. What happened? What happened?" is not an improper Golden Rule argument. The State did not ask or invite the jurors to place themselves in the shoes of the victim to imagine her pain and suffering. "The mere fact that a prosecutor in closing argument addresses a victim's mental state, physical state, or injuries suffered does not, standing alone, render the argument a golden rule violation. Such an ipso facto analysis ignores the need to consider the surrounding circumstances of the comment." Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1349a (3rd DCA 6/13/18)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Court may not revoke youthful offender designation upon revocation of probation. Error is not preserved for appeal, be raised motion for post-conviction relief. Thomas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1343a (4th DCA 6/13/18)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Court may not revoke youthful offender designation upon revocation of probation. Exantus v. State,43 Fla. L. Weekly D1342b (4th DCA 6/13/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Argument that circuit court violated defendant's double jeopardy rights by entering second order increasing sentence imposed in first order was not preserved for appeal by objection or motion to correct sentence. Carter v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1338b (4th DCA 6/13/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for grand theft auto and armed carjacking with firearm violate Double Jeopardy. The fact that the police and the defendant with vehicle 2 days after the carjacking does not change the result. Palmer v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1338a (4th DCA 6/13/18) COMPETENCY: Once court orders mental health evaluations, the Court must hold a competency hearing. Augustin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1337a (4th DCA 6/13/18) WRONGFUL INCARCERATION COMPENSATION: Victim of wrongful incarceration must move for compensation within 90 days of dismissal of the conviction. Brewster v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1334a (4th DCA 6/13/18)

ATTEMPTED SECOND DEGREE MURDER: Where Defendant shot the Victim over a disagreement on the price of the gun which the Victim had bought for the defendant, the evidence is sufficient to prove second-degree murder. Second degree murder is normally committed by a person who knows the victim and has had time to develop a level of enmity toward the victim. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1327a (1st DCA 6/8/18)

POSSESSION OF DRUGS-IMMUNITY-GOOD SAMARITAN: Defendant who called 911 to obtain medical assistance for person who was experiencing drug overdose in defendant's home was entitled to immunity from prosecution for drugs found in his home. The fact that the Defendant tried to hide the evidence and could have done more to help the person who had overdosed does not remove Defendant from the protection of the Good Samaritan law. "Regardless of whether Pope should have behaved better, his purpose in contacting 911 was to save his friend. That was a good-faith purpose." Pope v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1326a (1st DCA 6/8/18)

VOP: Court may find the defendant violated probation where the affidavit charged him with violating by committing attempted murder and facts only supported attempted manslaughter; attempted manslaughter is a lesser included of attempted murder. Revocation based on a necessarily lesserincluded offense of the one alleged in the violation of probation affidavit does not violate a probationer's due process rights. McCloud v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1325a (1st DCA 6/8/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy prevents the court from increasing sentences from 10 years to 15 years where the plea agreement called for the sentences to be run concurrently with each other after Defendant moved to withdraw his plea on the ground that one of the counts was for 5 years consecutive to the 10 years. A defendant has a reasonable expectation of finality in a sentence unless there is the Defendant withheld information from the trial court. Mock v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1324a (1st DCA 6/8/18)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER: There is sufficient evidence of ill will, hatred, spite, or evil intent to sustain a conviction for second-degree murder where defendant shot victim with a sawed-off shotgun which the victim would not accept in payment for marijuana. Filipkowski v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1319a (2nd DCA 6/8/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim of ineffective assistance of counsel that counsel failed to advise him on the evidence against him, the maximum penalty, and where he alleged that he would have accepted a favorable plea offer if he had been so advised. Rollins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1318a (2nd DCA 6/8/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to call witnesses that other people had been in the vehicle on the day of his arrest where he had been convicted of possession of drugs found in the vehicle. Campbell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1315b (2nd DCA 6/8/18)

CREDIBILITY OF DEFENDANT: In post-conviction relief hearing, if a defendant's testimony is unrefuted and the post-conviction court has not articulated a reason to disbelieve the defendant, the court cannot choose to disregard the defendant's testimony. Campbell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1315b (2nd DCA 6/8/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: To adequately plead ineffective assistance of counsel for failing to convey a favorable plea offer, a defendant must allege "that (1) he or she would have accepted the offer had counsel advised the defendant correctly, (2) the prosecutor would not have withdrawn the offer, (3) the court would have accepted the offer, and (4) the conviction or sentence, or both, under the offer's terms would have been less severe than under the judgment and sentence that in fact were imposed. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1310b (5th DCA 6/8/18)

SENTENCING-VIOLENT CAREER CRIMINAL: Court is required to sentence defendant is a violent career criminal only if such sentence is necessary for the protection of the public; the existence of the requisite qualifying convictions is not dispositive. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1309a (5th DCA 6/8/18)

SEX OFFENDER PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Court is not required to orally pronounce each condition of sex offender probation contained in section 948.30. Levandoski v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S258b (FLA 6/7/18)

HABITUAL FELONY OFFENDER-ATTEMPTED 2ND DEGREE MURDER OF LEO: Life imprisonment for Attempted second-degree murder of a law enforcement officer is not lawful. §775.0823(5) does not authorize the trial court to "reclassify" the crime of attempted second-degree murder from a seconddegree felony to a first-degree felony punishable by life by treating attempted second-degree murder as if it was a completed crime of second-degree murder. "In this particular case, we harmonize, to the extent we can, the apparent inconsistency between sections 775.0823(5) and 777.04(4)(c)." Graves v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1273a (3rd DCA 6/6/18)

WITHDRAWAL OF PLEA-COMPETENCY: Court erred by denying motion to withdraw plea where there had been a request for competency evaluation before the plea but no competency order entered. Rose v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1266b (4th DCA 5/6/18)

DEATH PENALTY-NOTICE: Court may prohibit the State from seeking the death penalty where it fails to file notice of intent to seek death penalty within 45 days after the arraignment. State v. Chantiloupe, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1262a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

HEARSAY: It is improper to admit statement of witness, now deceased, from a bond hearing that someone had confessed to being the shooter in the murder and that he "got the work from [the Defendant]." Where the State is seeking to admit the out of court statements of will co-defendants or accomplices under 90.804(2)(c), and some of the statements also implicate the defendant, they should not be admitted where they sensibly and fairly can be redacted to include only those statements which are solely self-inculpatory. Moscatiello v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1257a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

SCORESHEET-ERROR: Addition error on scoresheet was not harmless because record does not conclusively show that judge would have imposed same sentence, having said that he was not inclined to "go against" scoresheet. Ward v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1256b (4th DCA 6/6/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions of both organized scheme to defraud and grand theft based on same conduct violates double jeopardy. Santeramo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1256a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-PLEA-VOLUNTARINESS: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for affirmatively misadvised him that he would not be deported for pleading no contest to the offense of trafficking in hydrocodone. Equivocal warnings (his plea "could" result in deportation) is insufficient in cases like this where deportation is mandatory. Saavedra v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1254a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

HEARSAY-EXCITED UTTERANCE-911 CALL: Under the facts of this case, the victim's statement in her 911 call made 20 minutes after the rape are admissible as an excited utterance. Evans v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1252a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

MISTRIAL: The 77 year old rape victim's emotional expression of indignation at being accused of lying ("Oh no. I swear on my son's soul that everything you are saying is a lie. . . . Unbelievable. Oh, my God," does not warrant a mistrial. "While the defense should be entitled to question the victim's credibility, it is not surprising that she reacted with an emotional outburst." Evans v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1252a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for wrongly advising defendant that the only lesser included charges carjacking is grand theft; robbery is also a lesser included for carjacking. Louima v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1247a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Court did not abuse discretion allowing state introduced multiple certified judgments of prior felony convictions where defendant did not stipulate that he was a felon. Grimes v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1246a (4th DCA 6/6/18)

APPEALS-TIMELINESS: 30 day time to file appeal is not extended by Defendant's motion for reduction of sentence. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1238a (1st DCA 4/4/18)

LIFE SENTENCES-MINOR: 50 year sentence with judicial review for nonhomicide committed by a juvenile is lawful. Only those juveniles who were sentenced to life and then had the sentence vacated under Graham are entitled to judicial review, not juveniles like that Defendant here who were originally sentenced to a lengthy term of imprisonment. Hart v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1232a (1st DCA 6/4/18)

JIMMY RYCE: State is not required to prove the value of mental health treatment in the recidivism equation. Campbell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1228a (1st DCA 6/6/18)

REVOCATION-CONDITION RELEASE: There is no requirement that failure to contact revocation hearing within 45 days must result in defendant being released from prison. In granting writs of certiorari, the DCAs should not be as concerned with the existence of legal error as with the seriousness of the error. Smith v. DOC, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1225a (2nd DCA 6/1/18)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court may not impose a downward departure sentence on the ground the need for payment of restitution outweighs the need for a prison sentence where there is no evidence of any pressing need for restitution. A downward departure is only justified if the harm suffered by the victim as a result of the theft was greater than normally expected, and restitution could mitigate that increased harm. State v. Lackey, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1224f (2nd DCA 6/1/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant who is been found not guilty was insanity has no claim for relief under Rule 3.850. Dorton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1223c (5th DCA 6/1/18)

FTA-WILLFULNESS: Defendant who was given a prison sentence for failing to comply with agreement to appear (Quarterman agreement) is entitled to an evidentiary hearing as to his willfulness in failing to appear. Spear v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1223b (5th DCA 6/1/18)

MINOR-RESENTENCING: It is error to modify a minor's sentence to allow for a review hearing that also holding a resentencing hearing. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1222a (5th DCA 6/1/18)

ATTEMPTED MURDER LEO-JURY INSTRUCTION: The court must instruct on the essential element that the Defendant knew that the victim was a law enforcement officer. Error is fundamental where there was a dispute at trial as to whether Defendant knew the victim was a law enforcement officer. By asserting the mistaken identity defense and denying any knowledge about the shooting, Defendant did not waive the defense that he did not know that the victim was a law enforcement officer. Gabriel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1219a (5th DCA 6/1/18)

AMENDMENTS-INTERPRETERS: Rules for interpreters extended to victims and parents of juveniles. When an attorney or self-represented litigant retains an interpreter, whenever possible, the attorney or litigant must retain a certified, language skilled, or provisionally approved interpreter. In re-Amendments to Rules of Judicial Administration, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S253b (FLA 5/31/18)

COMPETENCY: Defendant who may be incompetent cannot waive the right to a competency hearing. "The nature of competency goes to the heart of whether a defendant has the capacity to make a cogent, legally binding decision. To find, as the trial court did here, there were reasonable grounds to believe Appellant may be incompetent, and then allow that same potentially incompetent individual to waive his right to determine competency, does not comport with due process." Francis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1217a (1st DCA 5/31/18)

BLOOD TEST: Blood test is admissible where police substantially complied with administrative regulations. Strict compliance with rules is not required. Failure to invert blood sample to ensure mixing of blood with preservatives and anti-coagulents is still substantial compliance. Bedell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1216a (1st DCA 5/31/18)

CRIMINAL MISCHIEF: Victim's testimony as to the cost of repair is competent evidence of the value. FMV of the windshield or truck is inapplicable. RESTITUTION: Court may not order restitution without holding a hearing. Sainvil v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1203a (4th DCA 5/30/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: On the face of the record, counsel was not ineffective for not filing a motion to vacate plea where the plea agreement called for a 4 years and the ultimate sentence was 3 years plus probation. Quinlin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1202b (4th DCA 5/30/18)

MINOR-SENTENCE: 31-year sentence for offense committed by a juvenile is not unconstitutional. Conflict certified. Tillman v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1201c (4th DCA 5/30/18)

MINOR-SENTENCE: 40-year sentence for second-degree murder committed by a juvenile does not violate the 8th amendment. Conflict certified. Pedroza v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1201b (4th DCA 5/30/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly denied claims that were untimely, that remained facially insufficient after opportunity to amend, or that were not raised in amended motion within prescribed time period. Watson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1199b (1st DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing call expert to testify that defendant did not write incriminating notes to lewd and lascivious battery victim. Privett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1199a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court properly denied claim that counsel was ineffective for failure depose state's witnesses to prepare for cross-examination where there was no demonstration of prejudice. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1196a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: Defendant's consent to blood draw after officer had explained that his refusal to consent would require them to drive to a judge during the night to get a warrant signed was voluntary. Miller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1195a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

EVIDENCE: Court properly precluded defendant from presenting evidence that victim was driving a motorcycle without an endorsement when he was hit from behind by defendant where there was no reasonable basis to conclude that victim's conduct was sole proximate cause of accident. Miller v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1195a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

10-20-LIFE: To invoke 10-20-Life, information must say that the Defendant "actually possessed a 'firearm' or 'destructive device.'" Birch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1191a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

INFORMATION-DEFECT: Information is not fatally defective for failing to use the term "constructive possession." It is advisable to present special interrogatories separately from verdicts for underlying crimes. Birch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1191a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

LESSER INCLUDED: Court is not required to give a lesser included instruction on Reckless Driving for the underlying offense of Aggravated Assault with a Deadly Weapon. Requirement that elements of lesser offense be "specifically alleged in the information" means it is not enough that element of driving could be inferred from charging document because driving might be the most common manner in which an assault with a motor vehicle occurs. Conflict certified. Anderson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1188c (1st DCA 5/15/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to investigate sanity and competency where his attorney had serious concerns yet failed to follow through with mental health evaluation authorized by court. Akins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1187b (1st DCA 5/25/18

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: The special standard of review for circumstantial evidence continues to apply, notwithstanding that Florida is only one of three states to take the "somewhat discordant" view that a special appellate standard of review applies to circumstantial criminal convictions, but a jury cannot be instructed to apply a different evaluation of circumstantial evidence. Meeks v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1185a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

FIREARMS: FSU may prohibit firearms on campus. Florida Carry, Inc. v. Thrasher, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1180b (1st DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court acted within his discretion by denying motion to amend motion for post conviction relief (Defendant did not understand Miranda because he was intoxicated), which would be otherwise time barred, where the amended motion raises new claims that do not relate back to the original timely filed motion (Defendant was never read Miranda) and are otherwise time-barred. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1180a (1st DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to investigate and call exculpatory witnesses at trial, and failing to advise defendant that court could run his sentences in one case consecutively to sentences in another. Leclaire v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1175d (2nd DCA 5/25/18)

COUNSEL: Fact that Defendant's attorney was suspended from practice at time of trial for failure to comply with CLE requirements where counsel had no knowledge of licensing deficiencies at time of trial does not deprive Defendant of effective assistance of counsel. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1172b (5th DCA 5/25/18)

IMPEACHMENT-PRIORS: It is improper to ask Defendant if he had been convicted of felonies (two) and separately if he had been convicted of crimes of dishonesty (the same two offenses) because it gives the false impression of four, rather than two, convictions. Error is not fundamental. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1172b (5th DCA 5/25/18)

DISMISSAL: Court may not dismiss information charging defendant with DWLS on basis that defendant had his license back and no longer deserved to be prosecuted. State v. Snook, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1170b (5th DCA 5/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that that counsel was ineffective for failure to investigate and call exculpatory witnesses at trial. Tolliver v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1170a (5th DCA 5/25/18)

ATTORNEY-DISCIPLINE: Attorney disbarred for having sex with two inmates, one for money and the other for a reduced legal fee. The Florida Bar v. Blackburn, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S248a (FLA 5/24/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Recantation of testimony is insufficient to warrant a new trial where the witness is deemed incredible. Sweet v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S243a (FLA 5/24/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: To obtain a new trial based on newly discovered evidence, a defendant must meet two requirements : First, the evidence must not have been known by the trial court, the party, or counsel at the time of trial, and it must appear that the defendant or defense counsel could not have known of it by the use of diligence. Second, the newly discovered evidence must be of such nature that it would probably produce an acquittal on retrial. Sweet v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S243a (FLA 5/24/18)

AMENDMENT-JURY INSTRUCTIONS-PREMEDITATED AND FELONY MURDER: "If you return a verdict of guilty to the charge of First Degree Murder, it is not necessary that all of you agree the State proved First Degree Premeditated Murder and it is not necessary that all of you agree the State proved First Degree Felony Murder. Instead, what is required is that all of you agree the State proved either First Degree Premeditated Murder or First Degree Felony Murder." In re-Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S242a (FLA 5/24/18)

PRO SE FILINGS-PROHIBITION: Court may not prohibit pro se filings without notice and opportunity to respond. Massaro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1169a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

RECONSIDERATION OF MOTION TO SUPPRESS: The standard for reconsidering a motion to suppress based on new evidence is a balancing test, not the standard for newly discovered evidence for post conviction relief (whether evidence was ascertainable before). The rights of a defendant to due process and effective assistance of counsel should outweigh any need for finality with respect to an interlocutory suppression ruling. Cledenord v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1163a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

JUDGE-NEUTRALITY: A court commits fundamental error by abandoning its neutral role and assuming the role of the prosecutor in a VOP hearing. A judge may ask questions designed to make previously received ambiguous testimony clear, but the capacity to clear up ambiguous or confusing testimony is not an invitation to trial judges to supply essential elements in the state's case. Parr v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1161a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

QUOTATION: "This Court is committed to the doctrine that every litigant is entitled to nothing less than the cold neutrality of an impartial judge. It is the duty of Courts to scrupulously guard this right and to refrain from attempting to exercise jurisdiction in any matter where his qualification to do so is seriously brought in question. The exercise of any other policy tends to discredit the judiciary and shadow the administration of justice." Parr v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1161a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

SEARCH WARRANT: Detective has authority to be affiant on search warrants and their accompanying affidavits in counties outside his jurisdiction where detective was investigating a case that originated in his own jurisdiction. State v. Stouffer, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1157b (4th DCA 5/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying claim that counsel was ineffective for failure to raise double jeopardy claims upon determining that such claim failed as matter of law because defendant entered into negotiated plea. Graham v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1157a (4th DCA 5/23/18)

VAGUENESS: Court erred in dismissing charge of operating an unlicensed pain management clinic on grounds of vagueness because the terms "primarily" and "pain" are undefined. The Court improperly conflated the as-applied and facial vagueness challenges, addressing them as one and the same. An "as applied" challenge requires an evidentiary hearing and findings of fact. State v. Crumbley, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1155c (2nd DCA 5/23/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment of SYG statute which shifted burden of proof from defendant to state does not apply retroactively. Bailey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1153b (3rd DCA 5/23/18)

DRIVER'S LICENSE REVOCATION: Where licensee was arrested on two separate occasions within a short period of time for driving under the influence, and was later convicted of both offenses on the same day, his license was properly revoked for a period of 5 years pursuant to statute providing for 5-year suspension upon a second conviction for an offense that occurs within a period of 5 years after the date of a prior conviction. Section 322.28(2)(e) creates the legal fiction that the earlier offense is a "prior conviction." Boulineau v. DHSMV, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1141a (1st DCA 5/18/18)

DICTIONARY WARS: To "deem" is "to treat (something) as if it were really something else." Boulineau v. DHSMV, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1141a (1st DCA 5/18/18)

COSTS-INDIGENT DEFENDANT: Indigent defendants represented by private counsel pro bono are entitled to file motions pertaining to appointment and costs of experts, mitigation specialists, and investigators ex parte and under seal, with service to Justice Administrative Commission and notice to State Attorney's Office, and to have any hearing on such motion ex parte, with only the defendant and the Commission present. DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions on two counts of resisting office without violence violate double jeopardy where there is a single criminal episode and a single criminal act, here, running away and struggling on the ground when caught. A continuous resistance to an ongoing attempt to effectuate a person's arrest or detainment constitutes only one single instance of resisting an officer. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1136a (1st DCA 5/17/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions on counts of sale of meth and count of meth do not violate double jeopardy where offenses are based on different contraband found at different locations through different searches. Robinson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1135b (1st DCA 5/17/18)

VOP-(DISSENT): "Simple economic realities suggest that a household overseen by an impoverished twenty-something single mom with three young children subsisting on government programs in a challenging job market is not a great candidate for significant discretionary cash flow. . .Simply because a financially indigent mom receives a smidgen of cash from a part-time seasonal janitorial job doesn't mean she can spare a dime in the face of pressing family financial duties or debts." Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1130a (1st DCA 5/17/18)

GRAND THEFT-VALUE: Evidence was insufficient to establish that the value of a stolen used I-phone 6 was in excess of $300 based on unobjected testimony that the Victim and his mother "checked online how much a used phone with . .

. no damage . . . would be worth" and said $340.00. D.D. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1126c (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was ineffective for failing to move to dismiss information charging defendant with DWLS when he never possessed a Florida driver's license, notwithstanding that he pled to the charge. Myers v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1126b (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

JOA-PARAPHERNALIA: Juvenile entitled to judgment of dismissal on two counts of possession of drug paraphernalia where evidence failed to establish that residue on alleged paraphernalia was a controlled substance. R.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1126a (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

IMPEACHMENT-HOSTILE WITNESS: Court erred by not allowing Defendant to call two witnesses-one of whom denied being offered offered money by the victim's family to implicate the Defendant, and the second that the first excluded witness had told him he had been offered money. Due process allows calling a hostile witness in order to impeach him by prior inconsistent statements. Brooks v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1123e (2nd DCA 5/16/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: Fourth Amendment does not prohibit a warrantless blood draw of an unconscious person, incapable of giving actual consent, be pursuant to §316.1932(1)(c). COSTS: There is no need to cite the ordinance for which court costs are imposed. Recognizes but does not certify conflict. Chavis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1114b (4th DCA 5/16/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred in accepting defendant's plea agreement without making inquiries into his competency evaluation after an expert was appointed to determine competency of defendant and without entering written order on the issue. Charles v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1114a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by failing to either conduct a competency hearing or enter an order as to the defendant's competency before accepting his plea. Hernandez v. Hernandez, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1112b (4th DCA 5/16/18)

DISCOVERY-MEDICAL EXAM OF VICTIM: Court cannot compel victim to submit to a neurological examination to determine whether he can be present at the trial. The exam infringes upon the victim's right to remain inviolate from an invasive examination not authorized or required by law. State v. Kersting, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1112a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-TIMELINESS: Supplemental motion was both authorized and timely where motion was considered filed on date of stamp from the prison mail system and defendant submitted his supplemental motion days before court ordered state to respond to his original post conviction motion. Haspel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1111a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

APPEAL-PRESERVATION: Any error in admitting a multi-colored ski mask that was not used in the crime and by permitting an expert witness to testify to an area outside of his expertise is waived. “Because most of the issues were not properly preserved for review, we affirm and we write to once more impress upon counsel the duty to be mindful of preserving the right to appeal, particularly within the rigors of an ongoing jury trial.” Pierre v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1110b (4th DCA 5/16/18)

SCORESHEET: Any error in scoresheet is irrelevant because record shows that trial judge would have imposed same sentence regardless. Henion v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1110a (4th DCA 5/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call alibi witness was facially sufficient where defendant identified witness, specified content of witness’s testimony, alleged that witness was available to testify at trial, and sufficiently alleged that failure to call witness resulted in prejudice. McCullough v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1109a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

JURY INSTRUCTION-ALTERNATE THEORY: Court did not err in giving instruction on the dual theories of premeditation and felony murder where state presented two legally adequate grounds for first-degree murder, premeditation and felony murder. Vassor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1107a (4th DCA 5/16/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PRECAUTIONARY SWEEP: Bedroom which was directly adjacent to bathroom where defendant was apprehended and was between four and ten feet from area of arrest was “immediately adjoining” place of arrest, and officers did not need articulable suspicion to conduct precautionary sweep of bedroom. Copeland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1101a (1st DCA 5/16/18)

LESSER INCLUDED: Court did not err by denying request for instruction on permissive lesser-included offense of battery where charging document did not allege that defendant's touching of stepdaughter's breasts was against stepdaughter's will. Stoffel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1099f (1st DCA 5/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-FINGERPRINTS: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on his claim that counsel was ineffective for ailing to properly challenge sufficiency of fingerprint evidence. Where fingerprint evidence is relied upon to establish that the defendant committed the crime, the circumstances must be such that the print could have been made only at the time the crime was committed. O'Steen v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1099e (1st DCA 5/16/18)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE: Where jury found defendant possessed firearm but did not find he discharged it, it was error to sentence defendant to consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for multiple offenses committed during the same criminal episode. Durant v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1098a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

CHILD HEARSAY: Court's conclusory ruling that child hearsay is admissible is inartful but adequate. Roberts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1094a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

COURT RECORDS-CONFIDENTIALITY: Online blog post, including mug shot from a prior criminal proceeding, since sealed, was not a court record connected with the official business of a judicial branch entity. Rivero v. Farach, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1091a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

INTERFERING WITH CUSTODY: Defendant who attempted to get minor into his car by offering him money was properly convicted of interfering with custody of a minor . It is not required that minor be physically taken from his parents' custody. Lindemuth v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1081a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR: The finding of facts on aggravating circumstances and mitigating factors was for purposes of determining whether to impose a life sentence for a minor does not need to be found by a jury. Apprendi inapplicable. Hernandez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1079a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

EVIDENCE: First Amendment does not prohibit admission of Defendant's preference for "death/metal music," including songs with lyrics detailing slashing of victims' throats where his continued interest in violent music and lyrics replicating the horrific murder and attempted murder he committed were directly relevant to his lack of remorse, his indifference to the suffering of the victims and their families, and Hernandez's prospects for rehabilitation. Hernandez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1079a (3rd DCA 5/16/18)

WITNESS TAMPERING: State is not required to prove that victim was attempting to contact law enforcement at the time defendant attempted to intimidate, use physical force, or threaten the victim. Conflict certified. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1073a (2nd DCA 5/11/18)

QUOTATION: "I. . .note that as a visiting judge, I necessarily wear the home team's jersey and thereby agree with my Second District colleagues to certify conflict in this case with McCray v. State,. . ., a decision of my native court. . .In short, . . . a. . .reasonable person. . .must follow the maxim, 'When in Rome, do as the Romans do,' which is "classically stated, 'Si fueris Romae, Romano vivito more; si fueras alibi, vivito sicut ibi.' St. Ambrose (c. 340-397).

. .Stated differently, “should you be in the Second District, live in the Second District’s manner; should you be elsewhere, live as they do there.” Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1073a (2nd DCA 5/11/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Failure to object to omission of justifiable and excusable homicide instructions in a manslaughter case is remediable under rule 3.850 based on ineffective assistance of counsel where evidence at trial could have supported defense of justifiable or excusable homicide and defendant was actually convicted of manslaughter. Arteaga v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1066a (2nd DCA 5/11/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Statutory amendment which changes burden of proof from defendant to state at Stand Your Ground immunity hearing is not unconstitutional as a violation of separation of powers, but the amendment does not apply retroactively to a crime committed prior to the enactment of the amendment. Conflict certified. Love v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1065b (3rd DCA 5/11/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request an independent act instruction. Maxwell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1064d (5th DCA 5/11/18)

COMPETENCY: Where trial court had previously found defendant incompetent to proceed and committed defendant to DCF, and mental health professionals filed report representing that defendant’s competency had been restored, trial court committed fundamental error when it found defendant competent to proceed based upon stipulation of parties and expert’s report which court had not reviewed, rather than making its own independent determination regarding defendant’s competency. The court must always make an independent determination as to a defendant’s competency to proceed. Accepting a stipulation of the parties as to competency is not permitted. Bynum v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1063a (5th DCA 5/11/18)

NELSON HEARING: Court erred by failing to conduct adequate Nelson inquiry before discharging defendant's fourth court-appointed counsel and instead proceeding directly to Faretta hearing. Webb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1062a (5th DCA 5/11/18)

SENTENCE REVIEW-MINOR: Defendant who was sentenced to thirty years' imprisonment for attempted felony murder and a concurrent fifteen-year sentence for attempted armed robbery committed when he was a juvenile is entitled to resentencing where he was sentenced after the sentence review stature for crimes committed before and the sentences provided for no judicial review to allow early release. Morris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S223a (FLA 5/10/18)

RULES-AMENDMENT-RECIPROCAL DISCOVERY: Only reports or statements of experts that the defendant intends to use at a hearing or at trial must be disclosed to the prosecutor. In Re : Amendments to R. 3.220, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S222b (FLA 5/10/18)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Human Trafficking instruction amended. 43 Fla. L. Weekly S222a (FLA 5/10/18)

PRISON RELEASEE REOFFENDER: Burglary with Assault of Battery is not a qualifying offense for PRR. The use or threat of physical force or violence must be a necessary element of the crime, and if the crime may be committed without the "use or threat of physical force or violence," then that crime does not qualify. Crosley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1055a (1st DCA 5/10/18)

COMPETENCY: A defendant's placement in a secure facility may not exceed the maximum sentence for the crime for which the defendant was charged. Court is not required to terminate jurisdiction for involuntarily committed incompetent defendant where counts, if structured consecutively, would not exceed the statutory maximum. Rule of lenity does not apply to commitments under section 916.303, since statute does not reflect intent to punish. Vansmith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1053a (1st DCA 5/10/18)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: JOA is required when the court is of the opinion that the evidence is insufficient to warrant a conviction; a motion for new trial should be granted when the verdict is contrary to law or the weight of the evidence. Bell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1052c (1st DCA 5/10/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-RESIDENCE-CONSENT: Previous encounters between narcotics agents and former owner of property in which former owner gave agents authority to enter property and proceed to side door of main house and then to barn if no one responded to knock on side door not basis for denying motion to suppress where consent was given approximately 3 years prior to date of search. Osorio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1043a (4th DCA 5/9/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-RESIDENCE-REASONABLE EXPECTATION OF PRIVACY: Defendant has a reasonable expectation of privacy as to side door of main house or barn where property was posted with "No Trespassing" signs and there was an aggressive pitbull roaming the property. Officers are not permitted to exit the front door area and physically enter or look into other portions of the home or its curtilage pursuant to a "knock and talk." Osorio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1043a (4th DCA 5/9/18) to why he was running by stating, "I was shot at by a black male and am scared for my life." When an officer's questions or actions extend beyond requests for basic biographical information and could reasonably be viewed as designed to secure potential incriminating evidence, the questions or actions constitute an interrogation. Good discussion. Senser v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1040a (4th DCA 5/4/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Prosecutor's argument at sentencing that Defendant "has been afforded and given every valuable opportunity in this world. He comes from a very nice family, a very hardworking family, we're venturing to say a wealthy family, a very good-looking family, a white family, an affluent family, a wealthy family, a loving family most importantly," is improper but not reversible absent evidence that the Court was influenced thereby. Senser v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1040a (4th DCA 5/4/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE-CAUSE-FIREARM BY FELON: Court erred in denying defendant's motion to strike prospective jurors whose responses indicated that defendant's prior felony conviction would influence their ability to render fair and impartial verdict. Burgess v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1039a (4th DCA 5/9/18)

PROVIDING FALSE INFORMATION: No nexus is required between giving false information and any harm (in this case, the death of a missing child earlier). Melvin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1037c (4th DCA 5/9/18)

UPWARD DEPARTURE: Defendant was convicted of lying about the whereabouts of his missing stepdaughter, whose skeleton was found the next day buried in his back yard. Court erred in finding the Defendant a danger to the community and sentencing the Defendant to an upward departure sentence in prison. Melvin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1037c (4th DCA 5/9/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by failing to conduct competency hearing before accepting nolo contendere plea of Defendant for whom he had previously ordered a psychological evaluation of competency. Pollock v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1037a (4th DCA 5/9/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's argument that defense counsel's attack on the voluntariness of defendant's confession was a lawyering tactic was improper but harmless. Lammons v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1032a (3rd DCA 5/9/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-OBSCURED TAG: Vehicle was lawfully stopped where the word "Florida" is partially obscured (statute has since been changed effective Jan. 1, 2016). State v. Pena, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1030a (3rd DCA 5/9/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PAT DOWN: Officers who arrived at the restaurant where a large fight had been reported, and were told by a waiter that a group of people, including defendant, had been involved in the fight, had probable cause to pat down defendant based on the continued movements of his hands to the outside of the pocket of his heavy jacket. State v. Maxwell, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1028a (3rd DCA 5/9/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Amendment to Stand Your Ground law is procedural and applies retroactively. Statutory changes to the burden of proof are invariably deemed procedural in nature for purposes of retroactive application. Question Certified. Because change in law occurred while his appeal was under appeal and was therefore pending, the change applies to Defendant. Defendant is entitled to a new SYG hearing. Martin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1016c (2nd DCA 5/4/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Court erred in finding that newly discovered evidence in form of the sworn statement confessing to having committed the crimes himself was not credible without leaving an evidentiary hearing. Grays v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1015b (5th DCA 5/4/18)

MINOR-REVIEW HEARING: Where minor had originally been sentenced to a 40-year sentence followed by lifetime sex offender probation, court erred in modifying the sentence to allow for review hearing without also holding a resentencing hearing. Ruiz v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1015a (5th DCA 5/4/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-STOP AND FRISK: Possession of a concealed firearm, without more does not justify a Terry stop. Neither a tip from a restaurant employee that customer appeared to have a gun nor officer's observation of a bulge in his clothing is reasonable suspicion of criminal activity. Burnett v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D1014a (5th DCA 5/4/18)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Affidavit of associate medical examiner relating to the slim possibility that victim's internal genital injuries could have been caused by a kick was not newly discovered evidence that would support theory that defendant was innocent of sexual battery. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S212a (FLA 5/3/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply to defendants whose convictions became final before Ring v. Arizona. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S212a (FLA 5/3/18)

BAD DATE: "Taylor testified that when he and Birch reached the dugout they attempted to have vaginal intercourse for less than a minute. She ended the attempt at intercourse and began performing oral sex on him. According to Taylor, he complained that her teeth were irritating him and attempted to pull away. She bit down on his penis. He choked her in an attempt to get her to release him. After he succeeded in getting her to release her bite, he struck and kicked her several times in anger." She died. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S212a (FLA 5/3/18)

RETROACTIVITY (DISSENT): Hurst should apply retroactively. Good discussion of retroactivity. "[T]hat is how the majority of this Court draws its determinative, albeit arbitrary, line. As a result, Florida will treat similarly situated defendants differently — here, the difference between life and death — for potentially the simple reason of one defendant's docket delay. Vindication of these constitutional rights cannot be reduced to either fatal or fortuitous accidents of timing." Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S212a (FLA 5/3/18)

RED LIGHT CAMERAS: Local government has authority under section 316.0083(1)(a), Florida Statutes (2014), to contract with a private third-party vendor to review and sort information from red light cameras. Jimenez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S199c (FLA 5/3/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply retroactively to death penalty which became final after Ring. Jones v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S199b (FLA 5/2/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply retroactively to death penalty which became final after Ring. Reaves v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S199a (FLA 5/2/18)

CTS-DETAINER: Absent the execution of an arrest warrant, a defendant who is in jail in a specific county pursuant to an arrest on one or more charges need not be given credit for time served in that county on charges in another county when the second county has only lodged a detainer against the defendant. Wood v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D996a (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel failed to advise him that self-defense was available in murder case when victim/wife stabbed him three times, injured his chin, and broke his tooth. Sosataquechel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D992c (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

RE-SENTENCING: Court erred in failing to have defendant present for resentencing after court had vacated two of five counts upon which defendant had previously been sentenced. Poma v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D992b (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-ERROR CORAM NOBIS: Court properly treated defendant's petition for writ of error coram nobis as a motion for post conviction relief and denied it as untimely. A petition for writ of error coram nobis must satisfy the two-year limitation of rule 3.850. Kemp v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D992a (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION-FIREARM: Evidence that juvenile was sole occupant of the back seat of a vehicle occupied by two other persons and that a firearm was on the back seat in the vicinity of juvenile was insufficient to prove that juvenile was in actual or constructive possession of firearm where there was no evidence that juvenile had dominion and control over firearm. Conflict certified. D.V. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D988a (3rd DCA 5/2/18)

MINOR SENTENCED AS ADULT: Where defendant was sentenced under statute which required sentencing court to make "suitability determination" regarding imposition of adult sanctions, but did not require consideration of individualized factors required by Miller v. Alabama, defendant entitled to new sentencing hearing on remand. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D985b (2nd DCA 5/2/18)

COSTS: Costs stricken for failure to cite statutory authority in written cost order. Greene v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D985a (2nd DCA 5/2/18)

DISCOVERY: Burglary conviction reversed where State falsely and repeatedly told defense counsel that it had no DNA report and that no DNA testing had occurred. DNA report showed another person's DNA was found at the crime scene. Denton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D983a (4th DCA 5/4/18)

DISORDERLY CONDUCT-JOA: JOA for disorderly conduct is required where Defendant became loud and boisterous and cussed out cops when store refused to sell him a lizard. Mere boisterous behavior, even if it disrupts the operations of a business and draws onlookers' attention, is not by itself enough to sustain a disorderly conduct conviction. Defendant's act of punching cop upon arrest cannot be considered in determining whether his previous behavior amounted to disorderly conduct. St. Fleury v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D979a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

JIMMY RYCE: 19-month-old evaluation is not too stale to preclude the defendant being involuntarily committed as a sexually violent predator. Stengel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D978a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

EVIDENCE-FACEBOOK: Facebook video showing the Defendant sitting in the stolen car and wearing the victim's stolen watch is admissible in carjacking case. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

EVIDENCE-AUTHENTICATION-FACEBOOK: Social media videos are admissible in criminal cases based on sufficient evidence that the video depicts what the government claims, even though government did not call creator of videos, search the device which was used to create the videos, or obtain information directly from social media website. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

BEST EVIDENCE RULE: Best Evidence Rule does not preclude witness from identifying Defendant from a Facebook video where the original evidence was available and presented. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

EXPERT: The fact that the digital forensic examiner, while describing his actions, also explained for the jury how Facebook videos are broadcast and then saved to a Facebook profile timeline, did not convert his factual testimony into expert testimony. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18) FACEBOOK

VIDEO-AUTHENTICATION: Authentication of a video is satisfied by evidence sufficient to support a finding that the matter in question is what its proponent claims. The mere fact that an item appears online does not make it self-authenticating, but authentication is a low threshold and can be satisfied by testimony that a witness downloaded a Facebook video. Proponent of Facebook video does not require testimony from someone who recorded the video or who appeared in the video. If the video's distinctive characteristics and content, in conjunction with circumstantial evidence, are sufficient to authenticate the video, then the government has met its authentication burden. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

IDENTIFICATION: Non-eyewitnesses may testify as to the identification of persons depicted or heard on a recording so long as it is clear the witness is in a better position than the jurors to make those determinations. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

DARWIN AWARD WINNER: The defendant appeared in the Facebook video just a few hours after the first carjacking, and less than an hour after the second carjacking, driving the first victim's car, wearing the first victim's watch, and stating "we live" when the video was recording, while a codefendant counted the first victim's money. Lamb v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D973a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

MINOR-LENGTHY SENTENCE: 30-year prison sentence for nonhomicide if committed by a minor does not violate the 8th amendment or Graham. Defendant is not entitled to sentence review. Florida Supreme Court has not plainly required that all term-of-years-juvenile offender sentences provide an mechanism for early release. "While the Court does not believe that the Supreme Court has yet to mandate resentencing of all juveniles sentenced to a term of years without a review mechanism, this issue is ripe for appellate guidance. Certainly there is considerable confusion surrounding the status of juvenile offenders whose original sentences did not violate Graham." Conflict certified. Hart v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D970a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

PROBATION-REVOCATION-JURISDICTION: Court lacks jurisdiction to revoke probation where time spent on probation and time of incarceration exceeded the statutory maximum for the offense. Credit must be given for time previously served on probation. Coppinger v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D969b (4th DCA 5/2/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective for advising defendant to reject plea offer because he was confident he would win at trial is legally insufficient where Defendant failed to allege that State would not have withdrawn the offer and that Court would have accepted it. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D969a (4th DCA 5/2/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-RULE 3.800(a): Rule 3.800(a) motion is not correct vehicle for challenging underlying escape conviction. De Juan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D955a (1st DCA 4/30/18)

HABITUAL VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER-PREDICATE CONVICTIONS: South Carolina crime of aggravated assault with intent to kill does not require a deadly weapon, is therefore broader than Florida's crime of aggravated assault, and accordingly cannot be used as a predicate conviction for purpose of the Habitual Violent Felony Offender designation. Underlying factor not determinative of whether it qualifies as a predicate offense. Crimes are not substantially similar. Howard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D954a (1st DCA 4/30/18)

APRIL 2018

TRANSFERRED INTENT-BATTERY SCHOOL EMPLOYEE: Evidence was sufficient that the juvenile intended the teacher, not just the other student with whom he was fighting, so that transferred intent does not apply, and the Child is appropriately convicted of the felony offense. If the doctrine of transferred intent applied, the child could only be convicted of a misdemeanor battery. T.K. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D951b (1st DCA 4/30/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to verdict form. Thomas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D948a (5th DCA 4/27/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call witness to testify that Defendant did not possess firearm, notwithstanding that the witness had made an inconsistent but explainable prior inconsistent statement. McIntosh v. State,43 Fla. L. Weekly D947c (5th DCA 4/27/18)

MINOR-JUDICIAL REVIEW: Defendant receives a lengthy sentence for the offense committed by juveniles entitled to a full sentencing review hearing. Maxwell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D947b (5th DCA 4/27/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant's waiver of post-conviction proceedings precludes him from claiming relief under Hurst. Trease v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S192a (FLA 4/26/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply retroactively to a sentence final prior to Ring v. Arizona. Evans v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S186b (FLA 4/26/18)

APPEALS: Court lacks jurisdiction to review order deciding that defendant was not entitled to post conviction discovery. Robinson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D944c (1st DCA 4/25/18)

APPEALS: Appellate Court lacks jurisdiction to consider defendant's argument that trial court erred by imposing restitution after he had filed notice of appeal of convictions and sentences where order in question was filed after the Defendant filed his notice of appeal and the Defendant failed to file a separate notice of appeal of the challenging the restitution order. Okashah v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D944a (1st DCA 4/25/18)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL-BURGLARY: Evidence was sufficient to disprove affirmative defense that defendant had consent to enter unoccupied home because he knew homeowner and had dated homeowner's sister. Dubois v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D943b (1st DCA 4/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-RULE 3.800: Defendant cannot challenge habitual offender sentence under 3.800 by attacking the conviction used to habitualizing him. Smith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D939a (1st DCA 4/25/18)

ALLOCUTION: Court erred in failing to provide defendant opportunity to make an allocution following violation of probation hearing and prior to sentencing. A criminal defendant prior to sentencing has the opportunity to make an unsworn statement to the sentencing judge in allocution. Hill v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D925a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

COMPETENCY: Court did not err by relying on police reports where Defendant did not object, and in fact offered his own stale reports in evidence. Bittle v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D924a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

HEARSAY-FORFEITURE BY WRONGDOING: Suspicious jail phone calls is insufficient to establish that Defendant calls the witness to be absent for the trial; Court's ruling that Victim's sworn statements were admissible on that basis was erroneous. Joseph v. State, (4th DCA 4/25/18)

EVIDENCE-RAPE SHIELD LAW: Court did not abuse discretion in refusing to allow defendant to cross-exam victim on her prior allegations of rape against Defendant and her employer, even though rape shield law was inapplicable; allegations were irrelevant. Rape Shield Law only applies to consensual sexual activity with someone other than the Defendant. Gomez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D919a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

HEARSAY-SEXUALLY VIOLENT PREDATORS: Jimmy Ryce commitment reversed where court allowed hearsay testimony on the alleged facts underlying three prior arrests for sex offenses, two of which were No Info'ed and one which resulted in a conviction for simple battery. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D918a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's comments on the Defendant's failure to respond to accusations in a phone call with his wife was an improper comment on silence and an improper shifting of the burden of proof. An argument emphasizing a defendant's failure to proclaim his innocence is the equivalent of a burdenshifting argument. Good discussion. Lenz v. State, Fla. L. Weekly D915b (4th DCA 4/25/18)

PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Defense counsel's strike of a female flag football coach was not pretextual. Court's failure to engage in a meaningful genuineness analysis is reversible error. Lenz v. State, Fla. L. Weekly D915b (4th DCA 4/25/18)

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL: Court's failure to articulate the standard applied ruling on motion for new trial is not preserved for review by objection nor did it rise to fundamental error. "Here, the trial court did not make any eyebrow-raising comment." Court's failure to articulate the standard it applied when ruling on motion was not preserved for review by objection and did not rise to level of fundamental error. Mitchell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D914a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: The claim that Defendant would not have pled guilty and wouldn't have proceeded to trial if he know that DNA evidence was inaccurate sufficient to warrant an evidentiary hearing. Theodore v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D912a (4th DCA 4/25/18)

HARMLESS ERROR: Failure to suppress the Defendant's 3rd interview with police, conducted after an attorney was trying to invoke his right to remain silent, was harmless since it already confessed in the 2nd interview. Santos v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D910b (4th DCA 4/25/18)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: Court exceeded its jurisdiction by requiring DCF to involuntarily commit Defendant, an octogenarian with dementia and eight undersized lobsters, to a mental hospital, where there is no evidence as to potential probability that he would regain competency in the reasonably foreseeable future. DCF v. Garcia, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D882a (3rd DCA 4/24/18)

ILLEGAL SENTENCE: Alleged defect in information which did not give notice of potential enhanced sentence does not make sentence illegal. Cannot be corrected under 3.800. Sharpe v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D880d (1st DCA 4/20/18)

SENTENCING: Oral pronouncement of credit time served controls over written order. Carter v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D880a (1st DCA 4/20/18)

JUDGMENT NON OBSTANTE VEREDICTO: Court erred by deferring to jury verdict ("the jury did not agree. . ., so I will deny the motion" in considering whether the verdict I contrary to the manifest weight of the evidence. Jordan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D877b (1st DCA 4/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may not deny 3.800 as successive where specific issue had not been raised previously. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D872a (2nd DCA 4/20/18)

PLEA-VOLUNTARINESS: Court erred in denying claim that plea was involuntary because defendant was not advised that unless sentences were ordered to be served concurrently with sentences in prior cases which defendant was serving on conditional release, the sentences would be served consecutively to the prior sentences. The imposition of consecutive sentences for offenses not charged in the same information is a direct consequence of the plea. Larson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D865f (2nd DCA 4/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that counsel was ineffective for failure to investigate and call material witness was sufficient to require attachment of portions of record. Anderson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D864b (5th DCA 4/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing or attachment of records on allegation that counsel misadvised that Defendant would not be sentenced to more than his codefendants. Byron v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D864a (5th DCA 4/20/18)

COMPETENCY: Court may not sentence Defendant without holding a competency hearing after appointing expert for that purpose. Saunders v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D848a (4th DCA 4/18/18)

COMPETENCY: Competency evaluation is not required on the sole basis that the Defendant takes psychotropic medication. Castillo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D845b (4th DCA 1/18/18)

SENTENCING: Where information charged defendant with simple third-degree felony sale or delivery of MDMA in one count, but designation "(F2)" was added at end of count, leading to a plea of no contest to that incorrectly classified charge, proper remedy is to reverse sentence on that count. Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D842a (4th DCA 4/18/18)

RESTITUTION: Court abused its discretion by requiring defendant to pay restitution in amount of estimated cost to repair damage to vehicle rather than on fair market value at time of loss where no repairs were made or intended to be made. Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D841a (4th DCA 4/18/18)

BURGLARY IN EXCESS OF $1000: Defendant cannot be sentenced to the enhancement of burglary for damage of more than $1000 defendant was convicted one burglary, the repairs exceeded $2000, but was not apportioned between the burglary he was convicted for and that for which he was noticed. POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Heggs error must be raised within two years. Distinguishes between a "could-have-been-imposed" standard and a "would have-been-imposed" standard. Masis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D830a (3rd DCA 4/18/18)

WITHDRAW PLEA: Where defendant pled to one count in return for the state's nolle pross of another count and later withdrew her plea, the State may proceed on the original information without having to file a new information. When a plea of guilty or nolo contendere is withdrawn and accepted by the court, it is as if the plea had never been entered ab initio. Small v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D819a (2nd DCA 4/18/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for not objecting to State's missed representations of evidence. Weitz v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D818a (2nd DCA 4/18/18)

UPWARD DEPARTURE: §775.082, which authorizes trial judge rather than jury to make finding that defendant poses a danger to public and to impose a state prison where scoresheet points are 22 or fewer, is unconstitutional under Sixth Amendment. What's relevant for Sixth Amendment purposes is not the maximum sentence a statute may authorize with additional fact-finding; it is what may be imposed without the judge making her own findings. "The central point of Apprendi and Blakely is that any fact in a judicial proceeding — excepting the fact of a prior conviction — that is used to increase a penalty for a crime beyond the relevant statutory maximum is unconstitutional because a jury, and not a judge, is entrusted with that responsibility under the Sixth Amendment." Conflict certified. Booker v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D795a (1st DCA 4/18/18)

APPEAL-MOOTNESS: Appeal of sentence is moot where defendant has already served the sentence. Jones v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D794b (1st DCA 4/17/18)

10-20-LIFE-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: Under statute in effect at time defendant committed offenses, aggravated assault was included in list of enumerated felonies for which mandatory minimum sentences were required, and subsequent amendment of statute removing aggravated assault from that list did not apply to resentencing. Sheaffers v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D794a (1st DCA 4/17/18)

RESISTING WITH VIOLENCE: Officers were in the lawful performance of legal duty when they accompanied DCF on a welfare check and entered the backyard after the Defendant had previously threatened to "dismember DCF employees and to throw their body parts into a neighbor's yard if DCF entered his home." Exigent circumstances existed. Sosnowski v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D789a (1st DCA 4/17/18)

JOA: JOA is properly denied where witnesses saw Defendant firing gun and throwing bricks thru the window the trailer; conflicting testimony is not the basis for judgment of acquittal. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D788e (1st DCA 4/17/18)

LEAVING SCENE OF CRASH: Defendant cannot be convicted of leaving the scene of a crash causing damage where there is no damage to the building with which the defendant of his vehicle collided. Dortch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D786a (2nd DCA 4/13/18)

DEFINITIONS: "Altercation" is a "vehement dispute; a noisy argument." An altercation does not equate to the commission of the battery. Crawford v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D780a (5th DCA 4/13/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Death penalty is affirmed where some aggravating factors are stricken but others support the sentence. Hall v. State, Fla. L. Weekly S178a (FLA 4/12/18)

cross-examination. Tennyson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D775b (3rd DCA 4/11/18)

TRESPASS: Juvenile does not commit trespass when the building entered, which was under construction, did not have a roof on it yet. E.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D775a (3rd DCA 4/11/18)

MISTRIAL: Court did not abuse discretion by denying motion for mistrial based on officer briefly commenting on victim's believability where a curative instruction was promptly given and there was other substantial evidence corroborating the victim's story. Blackwood v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D771c (4th DCA 4/11/18)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Youthful Offender statute is not unconstitutional for AIDS limitations only applying at the time of sentencing, rather than at the time of the offense. Defendant who was 21 at the time of sentencing is not entitled to Youthful Offender Sentencing. Blackwood v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D771c (4th DCA 4/11/18)

SENTENCING-FRAGMENTED SENTENCE: Court imposed an illegal fragmented sentence where it ordered sentences for 2 convictions to run concurrently in part and consecutively in part. Defendant has a right to pay his debt to society in one stretch, not in bits and pieces. Smith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D771a (4th DCA 4/11/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DUI-RECKLESS DRIVING: Separate charges for DUI and reckless driving do not violate Double Jeopardy. Anguille v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D768a (4th DCA 10/11/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for both the serious bodily injury and the property damage of the victim violate Double Jeopardy. Anguille v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D768a (4th DCA 10/11/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for unlawful use of two-way communications device and traveling to meet minor during same time period violate double jeopardy. Kania v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D767a (2nd DCA 4/11/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel is not ineffective for failing to call DNA expert to show that he was excluded as contributor to amylase in the underwear of one of 3 victims where he could not show there is a reasonable likelihood that the outcome of the trial would been different had expert been called. Renfro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D764a (1st DCA 4/10/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for not objecting when State had the court reporter read portions of the motion to suppress of Defendant's testimony from the suppression hearing during the trial. A defendant's testimony during a hearing on a motion to suppress may not be entered into evidence against him in a subsequent trial. Andrews v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D763a (1st DCA 4/10/18)

QUOTATION: "A full reading of the transcript reflects that Appellant did not appear to be admitting guilt, but was instead confirming that the cocaine had been removed from his boxer shorts by the deputy." Andrews v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D763a (1st DCA 4/10/18)

PRR-HO: Court may not impose ten-year sentence under PRR statute for third degree felony of resisting arrest with violence, but may impose a ten-year sentence as a Habitual Offender. In doing so, the court must specify that the first five years are as a PRR. Atmore v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D753a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY-DUI-DWLS: Separate convictions for DUI with serious bodily injury and DWLS violate double jeopardy. Double jeopardy challenge is not waived by entering a general plea. The "single homicide rule" that the legislature did not intend to punish a single homicide under two different statutes applies even in circumstances where the double jeopardy analysis set forth in Blockburger may not grant relief. The "single homicide rule" applies to serious bodily injury as well as homicide. Marsh v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D751b (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

WEIGHING THE EVIDENCE: When sitting as trier of fact, court is free to disbelieve state's witness even if that witness's testimony is unrefuted. The mere fact that the testimony appears uncontradicted does not necessarily make it believable. Z.E. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D751a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

HEARSAY: Detective's testimony regarding his review of D.A.V.I.D. which led to his investigation of defendant's wife's van is inadmissible hearsay offered to buttress state's identification of defendant as robber who had driven vehicle to scene of robbery. State's argument that the information was not being offered for its truth, but rather to explain the progression of the robbery's investigation, and that the information in DAVID was simply "data" (which, presumably, made it admissible, according to the State), is unavailing. Khan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D747a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: State's question to defendant on cross-examination as to why he never relayed to detective any details about people defendant claimed would have seen him on night of robbery is an improper comment on Defendant's silence. Conviction reversed. Khan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D747a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

APPELLATE COUNSEL-INEFFECTIVENESS: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that court's error in excluding impeachment testimony was harmful as to the battery charge as well as the kidnapping charge. Musson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D745b (2nd DCA 4/6/13)

HEARSAY-IMPEACHMENT: Testimony that victim said he was going to blame the defendant because she wasn't easy target is admissible impeachment testimony, not hearsay. Musson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D745b (2nd DCA 4/6/13)

PRR-APPRENDI: Prison Releasee Re-offender Act does not require jury, rather than judge, to determine Defendant's status as PRR. Tobler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D744b (5th DCA 4/6/18)

FARETTA: Faretta inquiry conducted after defendant invoked right to self-representation was inadequate where trial court merely asked defendant's age, education, and reason defendant believed he could represent himself at change of plea hearing. Court must advise Defendant of any of the disadvantages and dangers of self-representation, or of the possible consequences of the criminal charges against him. (Tony Tatti). Scott v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D744a (5th DCA 4/6/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying motion alleging that DOC's calculation of gain time resulted in defendant having to serve in excess of the 18 months agreed. Court must resentence defendant in accordance with plea agreement or allow defendant to withdraw plea. Vega v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D743b (5th DCA 4/6/18)

DNA TESTING: Court erred in denying legally sufficient motion for post conviction testing of bicycle which defendant alleged was used by someone else to murder victim. “There is nothing before us refuting Lane’s claims that someone else murdered the victim using the bicycle long after Lane left the victim alive and that there is a reasonable probability that DNA evidence will be found on the bicycle providing the true identity of the killer.” [Colonel Mustard in the garage with the bicycle.] Lane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D743a (5th DCA 4/6/18)

SELF-REPRESENTATION: Court improperly focused on defendant’s ability to represent himself rather than his competence to make that decision, but the issue is moot where Defendant ultimately says he is satisfied with counsel. Bland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D742a (5th DCA 4/618)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENT: Defendant’s friend who answered detectives’ knock on front door of defendant’s residence and invited detectives to come inside (“I’ll go get him, come in.”) did not have apparent authority to consent to detectives’ entry. The mere fact that an unknown person opens the door when a police officer knocks cannot, standing alone, support a reasonable belief that the person possesses authority to consent to the officer’s entry. Walker v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D754a (2nd DCA 4/6/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Any Hurst error was harmless beyond reasonable doubt where defendant received unanimous jury recommendation of death. The lack of a mercy instruction does not change the result. Tanzi v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S173a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is entitled to a new penalty phase where death penalty was not based on a unanimous recommendation of death. State v. Smith, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S172a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is not entitled to a new penalty hearing where the jury's recommendation of death was unanimous. The fact that the jury was told that its recommendation was merely advisory does not change the outcome. Taylor v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S171a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: A new penalty hearing is required with the jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. The refusal to present mitigation does not warrant a later Hurst claim. Reynolds v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S163a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Jury instruction that the recommendation of death is only advisory cannot be the basis for a Hurst challenge. Reynolds v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S163a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Any Hurst error was harmless beyond reasonable doubt where defendant received unanimous jury recommendation of death. Johnston v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S162a (FLA 4/5/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Any Hurst error was harmless beyond reasonable doubt where defendant received unanimous jury recommendation of death. Crain v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S161b (FLA 4/5/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: One is not entitled to dismissal of charges based on Double Jeopardy before trial. Boatright v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D741c (1st DCA 4/5/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for multiple firearm offenses arising from same criminal episode

were impermissible where firearm was not discharged. Pointing firearm multiple times at six different victims at a single location within a short very short period of time occurred within single criminal episode. Bonner v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D739a (1st DCA 4/5/18)

APPEAL: Argument that court erred by excluding evidence of third-party DNA in victim's underwear sexual assault case cannot be raised for first time on appeal. Robinson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D738b (1st DCA 4/5/18)

EVIDENCE: Court did not abuse discretion by permitting nurse to testify that the injuries were "what you might see after forced sexual intercourse." Robinson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D738b (1st DCA 4/5/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court did not err in denying claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to ensure that FDLE employee who discussed analysis of DNA was qualified to present this evidence where Defendant did not know whether witness was qualified or not. Redmond v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D738a (1st DCA 4/5/18)

IDENTIFICATION-SHOWUP-SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Showup identification process was unnecessarily suggestive where officer made comment to witness suggesting that defendant was involved in the crime (Cop : "I think this is going to be unusual. There are two people involved and this was the getaway driver, I think."). Evidence seized based on arrest which was based on an unduly suggestive show-up should be suppressed. Suppression is required when an initial arrest sets in motion an unbroken chain of events, which includes the discovery of additional evidence. Willis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D736b (1st DCA 4/5/18)

HEARSAY-CHILD VICTIM: Court is not required to continue properly scheduled child-hearsay hearing to enable defendant to produce impeachment witnesses. Jenkins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D736a (1st DCA 4/5/18)

HEARSAY: No abuse of discretion in allowing unobjected-to detective's statements regarding a 911 caller's statements where the out-of-court statements did not provide any evidence of the defendant's guilt and the detective's testimony was merely duplicative of other evidence admitted. Jefferson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D729a (3rd DCA 4/4/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that scoresheet is inaccurate must be raised under 3.850, not under 3.800. Gandy v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D724c (2nd DCA 4/4/18)

SEXUAL PREDATOR: Sexual predator designation is error where the offense occurred prior to October 1, 1993. Roberts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D724b (2nd DCA 4/4/18)

APPEAL-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Failure to object to absence of jury instruction on justifiable use of nondeadly force constituted ineffective assistance of counsel which was apparent on face of record. Dupin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D724a (2nd DCA 4/4/18)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: Court may, but is not required, to impose conditions for release for defendant who is incompetent but does not meet the criteria for commitment. State v. Spuhler, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D723a (4/4/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Interrogation at Police Department was custodial where defendant was told he was free to leave and shown where the exits were, but the clear purpose of the interview was to obtain incriminating evidence from defendant and reasonable person in defendant's situation would not have felt free to leave. Suggestions that interrogating officers could effect leniency, coupled with the representation that officer's opinion was superior to that of defendant's own counsel, amounted to outrageous police conduct, and there was a clear nexus between this outrageous conduct and defendant's confession. Wilson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D715a (2nd DCA 4/4/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court improperly considered Defendant's later arrest for cocaine in imposing sentence. Bradshaw v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D711a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

SENTENCING-DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court properly denied downward departure based on his funding that the incident was not isolated. Fuss v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D710b (4th DCA 4/4/18)

VIOLENT OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Court may find that Defendant is a danger to the community based on him "clocking somebody in the mouth." Smith v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D710a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

EVIDENCE-JAIL CALLS-AUTHENTICATION: Audio recording of jail call was properly authenticated by testimony of records custodian explaining the three tiered verification process used to identify defendant as inmate who made the call that was ultimately admitted into evidence and played for jury. Ascencio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D708a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

JURORS-ALTERNATE: Error, if any, in allowing alternate juror in jury room after submission of the case for limited purpose of retrieving belongings and exchanging contact info from fellow jurors is not presumed absent an objection. Courts do not assume prejudice to the defendant whenever an alternate juror briefly enters the jury room at the conclusion of trial. Ascencio v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D708a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

JUVENILE-SENTENCING: Court erred in committing juvenile to non-secure residential program, rather than following DJJ recommendation for probation, without making written findings to support its decision. R.LC. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D705b (4th DCA 4/4/18)

JUVENILE-ADULT COURT: Fourteen year old who has been transferred for adult prosecution in one circuit must be transferred for adult prosecution for any felonies in any other circuit. Sargeant v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D703a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

TORT-FALSE IMPRISONMENT: Plaintiff who was arrested and held for DUI with a .00 BAL and who loses false arrest claim but wins false imprisonment claim cannot be forced to pay costs to the City. City of Boca Raton v. Basso, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D702a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: For burglary of a conveyance, the minimum mandatory sentence under 10-20-Life is three years, not ten years. Wallach v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D697a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT WITH A FIREARM: Under the 10-20-Life statute aggravated assault is reclassified to a felony of the second degree with a maximum sentence of fifteen years. Wallach v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D697a (4th DCA 4/4/18)

MARCH 2018

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant who received a unanimous recommendation of death is not entitled to relief under Hurst as any error is harmless, not withstanding that the Defendant was borderline mentally ill and failed to present mitigating evidence. Grim v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S155a (FLA 3/29/18)

HABITUAL OFFENDER-CONSECUTIVE: Court may not impose consecutive habitual violent felony offender sentences for crimes committed in the same episode. Gardiner v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D694b (1st DCA 3/29/18)

APPEALS: Appellate counsel is ineffective for failing to contest consecutive man min as HVFO for crimes committed in same episode. Marshall v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D693b (1st DCA 3/29/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Defendant's question whether he could have a lawyer ("Look, can I have a lawyer, man, 'cause y'all is tryin' to confuse me") during post-Miranda interview with law enforcement personnel was an unequivocal request for counsel. Even if inquiry were an equivocal question about a lawyer, officer was required to cease questioning and give simple and straightforward answer. A prefatory statement is subject to the following threestep analysis :(1) was the defendant referring to a constitutionally guaranteed right; (2) was the utterance a clear, bona fide question calling for an answer, not a rumination or a rhetorical question; and (3) did the officer make a goodfaith effort to give a simple and straightforward answer. Daniel v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D682a (5th DCA 3/29/18)

COMPETENCY-INVOLUNTARY COMMITMENT: Court may not order involuntary commitment of an incompetent defendant absent clear and convincing evidence of prospective neglect of self or threat of harm to others. Sanders v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D678g (5th DCA 3/28/18)

APPEALS-BELATED: Petition for belated appeal is denied where commissioner appointed by the appellate court finds that Defendant did not request his attorney to file a direct appeal and his claim to the contrary is not credible. Alvarez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D676c (3rd DCA 3/28/18)

PROBATION REVOCATION-JUVENILE: Court must enter a written order as to which conditions were violated. M.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D676a (3rd DCA 3/28/18)

COMPETENCY: Court must enter written order of competency. D.Y. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D675a (3rd DCA 3/28/18)

PROBATION REVOCATION: Court may not enter a new judgment after revocation of probation. Witt v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D668b (2nd DCA 3/28/18)

SILENCE OF DEFENDANT-PRE-ARREST SILENCE: Deputy's testimony during state's case-in-chief that defendant was arrested after he failed to offer any explanation about what had happened amounted to impermissible comment on defendant's right to remain silent. The privilege against self-incrimination provided in the Florida Constitution offers more protection than the right provided in the Fifth Amendment to the United States Constitution. Urbaniak v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D667a (2nd DCA 3/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Upon violation of community control imposed upon release from prison, Court erred by not considering Defendant's claim that earlier counsel was ineffective for not arguing that he had never been on house arrest because of expiration of time due to gain time and failure to award credit for time served. Pressley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D666c (2nd DCA 3/28/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: When defendant agreed to talk with police "about certain things," he agreed to selectively waive his right to remain silent, so statements are admissible. "Appellant admitted to swinging a machete, but claimed he had not meant to swing it at the victim. Appellant explained that he was angry because he did not want the victim to go to the prosecutor's office and testify against him in a different case. The medical examiner testified that a cut to the victim's neck severed her jugular vein and was the cause of her death." Madeus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D665a (4th DCA 3/28/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE-CAUSE: Court erred by denying challenge for cause of social worker who twice stated her belief that kids don't lie in instances of child abuse and child sexual abuse. A juror is not impartial when one side must overcome a preconceived opinion in order to prevail. Juror is not rehabilitated by saying she could follow the law. Where a defendant seeks reversal based on a claim that he was wrongfully forced to exhaust his peremptory challenges, he initially must identify a specific juror whom he otherwise would have struck peremptorily. This juror must be an individual who actually sat on the jury and whom the defendant either challenged for cause or attempted to challenge peremptorily or otherwise objected to after his peremptory challenges had been exhausted. Campbell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D661a (4th DCA 3/28/18)

VOP-JUVENILE-TOLLING: There is no tolling provision applicable to juvenile probation violation proceedings by filing an affidavit or issuing a warrant.

Juvenile VOP must be by petition and sworn affidavit. An unsworn petition is insufficient. State v. T.A.K., 43 Fla. L. Weekly D658a (2nd DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for arguing or getting jury instruction on constructive possession. Haney v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D656a (2nd DCA 3/23/18)

HEARSAY: Third party's statement to witness during conversation at bar that he had committed the murder at issue and persuaded defendant to confess to it had sufficient indications of reliability and should have been admitted at trial under Chambers v. Mississippi. Although third-party confession did not qualify as declaration against penal interest for purposes of Florida hearsay exception because declarant was available to testify at trial, defendant was denied right to a fair trial by exclusion of evidence. Larry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D655a (2nd DCA 3/23/18)

ARGUMENT: New trial required where prosecutor misrepresented the law on burglary (Defendant is guilty of burglary by fleeing from police into a house) and improperly shifted burden of proof to defendant ("Think about [Defendant's] demeanor on this witness stand. He's being accused of armed burglary of a dwelling. He should be yelling, screaming 'I didn't do this.' He should be yelling and screaming. Yet, he was stuttering over his words. He couldn't even get his story out."). Roberts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D651a (5th DCA 3/23/18)

QUOTATION: "A defendant's fundamental right to present a defense 'stand[s] for naught if the prosecutor can ridicule a defense so presented, denigrate the accused for his temerity in raising the issue, and misstate the law in contradiction of the judge's instructions, as the prosecutor in this case did.'" Roberts v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D651a (5th DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to request an alibi defense. Harris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D650a(5th DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call Defendant's wife as an alibi witness. Castro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D649b (5th DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in denying claim of ineffective assistance where counsel failed to call witnesses that victim's mother induced the victim to implicate the Defendant so that she could have an affair with Defendant's friend on ground that they would not have been allowed to testify because of motion in limine, counsel inexplicably failed to oppose motion in limine, and their testimony would likely have resulted in acquittal. "Counsel herself inexplicably failed to oppose the motion in limine, stating at the hearing on the motion, 'Your Honor, I can't think of a legal basis for which to allow that in.' Of course, the legal basis would have been that the testimony was relevant, going to the issues of bias and motive of the victim's mother and the victim herself." Fletcher v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D649a (5th DCA 3/23/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant was entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call material witnesses. The fact that the Court asked if there were any witnesses he wanted counsel to have called and he said no is insufficient to deny a hearing. "We have previously disapproved of relying on such statements, as they may indicate the defendant's belief that it was too late to call further witnesses." Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D648b (5th DCA 3/23/18)

RE-CROSS EXAMINATION: Court did not abuse its discretion by refusing to allow defendant to re-cross examine victim where state did not elicit any new matter on re-direct examination, but only a detail which had been addressed in defendant's cross-examination of witness. Castanos v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D648a (5th DCA 3/23/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Court erred in imposing consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for multiple firearm offenses which arose from same criminal episode where firearm was merely possessed but not discharged. Potchen v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D646c (5th DCA 3/23/18)

ATTORNEY DISCIPLINE: Attorney disbarred for failure to adequately supervise a non-lawyer assistant with a known history of fraud and embezzlement. "This case gives new meaning to the phrase 'turning a blind eye.'" Attorney was "curiously uncurious." The Florida Bar v. Gilbert, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S148c (FLA 3/22/18)

DISQUALIFICATION: Judge who announced after trial, but prior to sentencing, that he would recuse himself from further proceedings did not commit reversible error by failing to articulate specific reasons for his recusal. Williams v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D646a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG SNIFF: Officers who stopped vehicle in apartment complex parking lot after observing defendant driving without a seatbelt and who placed defendant under arrest for driving without a license within two minutes of initial stop did not violate Fourth Amendment by initiating dog sniff of vehicle 20 minutes later. Jefferson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D645a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

JOA-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: Victim's testimony that Defendant (his father) lunged at him with the cane during a verbal altercation and that both men then stepped backward did not establish that defendant used cane in manner likely to produce death or great bodily harm. ("I open the door, tell him to leave, start cussing each other, and then he gets mad and lunges at me with his cane. I step back to nail him, and he stepped back himself, and then we cussed each other some more.") Wallace v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D642a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

JOA-POSSESSION WITH INTENT TO SELL: $42 and a small box in his pocket holding methamphetamine and eight cocaine rocks of different sizes not individually packaged is insufficient to prove intent to sell. McFarlane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D640b (2nd DCA 3/21/18)

HABITUAL OFFENDER: One cannot be habitualized for simple possession of cocaine. Hubbard v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D640a (2nd DCA 3/21/18)

COSTS: ourt erred by imposing court costs for possession offense after imposing costs under the same statutory provision for companion felony charge. Anguille v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D630b (4th DCA 3/21/18)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Resentencing required where trial court was under mistaken belief that it was required by 10-20-Life statute to impose mandatory minimum sentences consecutively. Consecutive minimum terms of imprisonment for multiple offenses are not required by the 10-20-Life statute, but are permissible, when the offenses arise from a single criminal episode. Villanueva v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D630a (4th DCA 3/21/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-BLOOD DRAW: Warrantless blood draw of unconscious person, incapable of giving actual consent, may be made pursuant to §316.1932(1)(c), which provides that person incapable of refusal by reason of unconsciousness is deemed not to have withdrawn consent to blood draw and testing. Implied consent law which does not impose a criminal penalty for refusing a blood draw is not an unlawful search. Good discussion. McGraw v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D618a (4th DCA 3/21/18)

SENTENCING-YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Resentencing required before a different judge where trial court refused to consider request for youthful offender sentence made by defendant who was 17 years old at time of offense based upon trial court's stated policy of not allowing youthful offender sentences in cases involving death. Desantis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D613a (4th DCA 3/21/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-JURISDICTION: An officer designated as a special deputy assigned to a Multi-Agency Gang Task Force may not make traffic stops outside his jurisdiction unrelated to his special designation. Biondi v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D612a (4th DCA 3/21/18)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Court's failure to orally pronounce certain special conditions need not be stricken where Defendant filed a motion to correct the error, even though court did not correct it. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D608b (2nd DCA 3/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to comments by state in cross-examination and closing argument attempting to shift burden of proof, expressing prosecutor's personal opinions, and misstating the law. Connelly v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D601a (5th DCA 3/16/18)

AGREEMENT: Agreement between defendant and state attorney for one judicial circuit where some of acts occurred for state not to seek the death penalty in exchange for defendant's cooperation in finding body of murder victim was binding on state attorney for a different judicial circuit. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S135a (FLA 3/15/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Where Defendant challenges State's race neutral reason for striking a black juror (prior experience with cops) on the ground that other jurors are similarly situated, Defendant must identify the similarly situated jurors or fail in his challenge. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S135a (FLA 3/15/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant who waived jury for penalty is not entitled to relief under Hurst. Hutchinson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S133b (FLA 3/15/18)

JUDGE-DISQUALIFICATION: Judge's comment that Wife would "just do what she wants," non-verbal expressions and adverse rulings are insufficient to require disqualification. Erlinger v. Federico, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D606a (1st DCA 3/15/18)

VOP-JURISDICTION: Probation is tolled when Defendant absconds. State v. Beery, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D597a (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Traveling to meet a minor and unlawful use of two-way communications device barred by double jeopardy where one of the two offenses was entirely proven by the other and they were committed during the same criminal episode. Watkins v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D595a (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Informant's tip that Defendant had a concealed firearm does not justify stop; carrying a concealed firearm with a permit is legal, and tip did not allege that Defendant had no permit. Slydell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D594a (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for advising him that State would withdraw plea offer he tried to suppress the evidence. Huntoon v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D593a (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

GRAND THEFT: Child cannot be convicted of grand theft where only evidence of value was objected-to hearsay (owner went online to "eBay or something" to ascertain value). D.J.S. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D592b (2nd DCA 3/14/18)

Peatenlane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D581a (4th DCA 3/14/18)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): "Under section 948.06(8), a 'danger to the community' is not a freewheeling concept unhinged from the statute. Rock and roll music was once considered dangerous to the morals of teenagers, but that type of soft danger is outside the purview of the statute. . .It is inconceivable that Floridians can be placed in 'danger' by appellant's marijuana consumption." Peatenlane v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D581a (4th DCA 3/14/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-NONHOMICIDE: Minor Defendant who was sentenced to life and violated parole twice is not entitled to sentence review. Stern v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D566a(2nd DCA 3/9/18) https://edca.2dca.org/DCADocs/2017/2718/172718_65_03092018_08472033_i.pdf

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-NONHOMICIDE: Minor Defendant sentenced to 26 years is entitled to judicial review. All juvenile offenders for nonhomicide offenses whose sentences exceed twenty years are entitled to judicial review. Cuevas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D563a (2nd DCA 3/9/18)

MENS REA: Statute barring altering animal health document is not overly vague. Mens rea is unstated but implicit. Innocent alterations such as changing the font or adding a logo would not be criminalized; only alterations that made the certificate false or deceptive would constitute a crime. Offenses with no mens rea are disfavored, and a scienter element is often necessary to comply with due process requirements." State v. Carrier, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D559h (2nd DCA 3/9/18)

DICTIONARY WARS: "Alter" means "to change or modify" and to make 'different in some particular characteristic without changing it into something else." "Simulate" means "to give or assume the appearance or effect of often with the intent to deceive." State v. Carrier, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D559h (22nd DCA 3/9/18)

VAGUENESS: A defendant may not make a facial vagueness challenge if the defendant's conduct is clearly proscribed by the plain and ordinary meaning of the statute. State v. Carrier, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D559h (22nd DCA 3/9/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for sexual battery on a person twelve years of age or older but less than eighteen years of age and lewd or lascivious battery on a child twelve years of age or older but less than sixteen years of age violated double jeopardy. Connolly v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D558a (5th DCA 3/9/18)

COMPETENCY-COMMITMENT: Court may not commit Defendant where there was no evidence that the mental illness causing defendant's incompetence would respond to treatment and that defendant would regain competency to proceed in the reasonably foreseeable future. DCF v. Kamaluddin, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D557a (5th DCA 3/9/18)

VOP-HEARSAY: Court may not rely solely on hearsay evidence to find a violation of probation based on false imprisonment and battery arising out of a domestic violence incident. Crawford v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D556b (5th DCA 3/9/18)

DICTIONARY WARS: An altercation is a vehement dispute; a noisy argument. Crawford v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D556b (5th DCA 3/9/18)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-POSSESSION: Definition of possession is clarified. "Mere proximity to an item does not establish that the person intentionally exercised control over the item in the absence of additional evidence. Control can be established by proof that (defendant) had direct personal power to control the item or the present ability to direct its control by another." In Re : Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S124b (FLA 3/8/18)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-AMENDMENT: New impeachment instruction. "The evidence that a witness may have made a prior statement that is inconsistent with [his] [her] testimony in court should be considered only for the purpose of weighing the credibility of the witness's testimony and should not be considered as evidence or proof of the truth of the prior statement or for any other purpose." In re-Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S124a (FLA 3/8/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy does not bar a new penalty phase in which defendant will again be eligible for the death penalty. New capital sentencing scheme is not an ex post facto law. Victorino v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S123a (FLA 3/8/18)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-REDACTION: Admission of unredacted interview which includes Officer saying Defendant is untruthful is not fundamental error where Detective's statements were not firm statements of assertions of guilt nor a firm personal opinion. Kines v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D554a (1st DCA 3/8/18)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Court erred in ordering that defendant be detained pending a hearing regarding the source of his bond money. Sparrow v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D557b (5th DCA 3/7/18)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Officer was in lawful performance of duty when he detained Child for acting as a lookout. I.B. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D543a (3rd DCA 3/7/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: The standard for withdrawing a plea based on newly discovered evidence is not whether it is necessary to correct a manifest injustice, but rather whether the new evidence establishes a reasonable probability that, but for the newly discovered evidence, the defendant would not have pleaded guilty and would have insisted on going to trial. Perez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D540b (3rd DCA 3/7/18)

EXPLOITATION OF ELDERLY: Fundamental error for jury instruction to the element that the defendant obtained the property when he knew or should have known the victim lacked the capacity to consent. Parrondo v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D538a (3rd DCA 3/7/18)

SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: Court erred by implicitly relying on defendant's lack of remorse when imposing sentence. Symanski v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D535a (2nd DCA 3/7/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Motion is timely when filed within two years of issuance of mandate eversing defendant's conviction of second-degree murder and remanding for a new trial on that count only. Gland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D533a (2nd DCA 3/7/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT-COUNSEL: Admission of statements defendant made to police after he was confined in psychiatric wing of a hospital violates due process clause of Florida Constitution where police did not tell defendant that his family had retained a lawyer to represent him and instead interviewed him in absence of counsel. When an individual is being questioned in a non-public area, and an attorney retained on his or her behalf arrives at the location, the Due Process Clause of the Florida Constitution requires that the police notify the individual of the attorney's presence and purpose, regardless of whether the defendant is in custody. Baskin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D530b (2nd DCA 3/7/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Admission of defendant's videoed statements to confidential informant in absence of counsel did not violate defendant Sixth Amendment right to counsel where defendant was not in custody and had never been arrested for the charges when he confessed. London v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D528a (4th DCA 3/7/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court erred when it considered a fact at sentencing that specifically conflicted with factual finding by jury (that Defendant had a gun). Theophile v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D522b (4th DCA 3/7/18)

ARGUMENT: Comments by prosecutor in closing argument addressing the conclusiveness of DNA evidence presented at trial and noting that there was no evidence that defendant had any male relatives who could have left matching DNA at the crime scene did not improperly shift burden of proof to defendant. Statham v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D498c (1st DCA 2/28/18)

Austin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D489a (4th DCA 2/28/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A claim that counsel was ineffective for advising the defendant to reject a plea offer because counsel was confident that she could win at trial and that such advice was unreasonable warrants a hearing. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D488a (4th DCA 2/28/18)

CONTEMPT-DIRECT: Failure to appear in court is indirect, not direct, contempt. Sandelier v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D484a (4th DCA 2/28/18)

MINOR-SENTENCE REVIEW: Defendant who had served 15 years of a 25year sentence imposed for second-degree murder committed when he was a juvenile was not entitled to review under juvenile offender sentencing statute. Elkin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D476e (2nd DCA 2/28/18)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Court erred in suppressing certain portions of statements made by defendant after he invoked his right to counsel where the statements at issue were not made in response to questions or actions on part of law enforcement that were reasonably likely to elicit incriminating statements. Waiting with intoxicated Defendant for evidence tech for two hours is not interrogation. State v. Lantz, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D449b (1st DCA 2/23/18)

A BAD DAY: After being arrested late one night under a bridge, and in close proximity to his dead mother's floating body, Defendant said, "I didn't — I didn't kill the b*, but somebody paid me to fing help him. That was a good way to make money. . . . Somebody else killed her. I didn't kill her. The body was there. He told me to come get her. 10 grand (unintelligible) pay me. Never going to see that money. And now he got away with murder, and I get the fing rap." State v. Lantz

SENTENCING: In sentencing defendant to a prison term upon revocation of community control, trial court improperly considered allegations in arrest

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for extortion and written threats to kill or do bodily injury arising of same criminal transaction violate double jeopardy. Doyle v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D441a (5th DCA 2/23/18)

Attorney disbarred for muttering, "Lie, Lie, Lie" and repeatedly kicking the leg of counsel's table during a hearing. COMPETENCY: Trial counsel's apparent stipulation to defendant's competency based on court-ordered evaluation did not absolve trial court from making independent determination regarding defendant's competency. Panaro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D438a (4th DCA 2/21/18)

VOP: After a hearing on whether he violated probation, the Defendant is entitled to a separate hearing on disposition. Harrington v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D434a (4th DCA 2/21/18)

CONFESSION: Detectives violated defendant's Miranda rights when they continued to engage defendant after he had invoked his right to counsel ("They're talking. First one talks, deals. . .Good luck to you man. These guys already talk. All right. So don't say I didn't give you a chance. . .No more breaks after this. The gloves come off."). Scotsman v. State, 43 Fla. L.

Weekly D431a (4th DCA 2/21/18) BURGLARY: Child cannot be convicted of burglary of a structure where building under construction had no roof. I.L. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D428a (3rd DCA 2/21/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Vehicle passenger can be detained on traffic stop. Cummings v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D417c (1st DCA 2/20/18)

PUBLIC RECORDS: Two-week period it took letter to be delivered from state attorney in response to request for public records did not breach requirement to respond promptly. State attorney did not violate public records law by making requested records available for inspection and copying at main office of state attorney instead of at an office closer to the requester's home. Siegmeister v. Johnson, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D415a (1st DCA 2/20/18)

SENTENCING CONSIDERATIONS: In sentencing for possession of child porn, Court may consider evidence that Defendant expressed interest in having sex with a child. Barlow v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D414a (1st DCA 2/20/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-PRESERVATION: Has a defendant who accepts a jury, but renewed a previously-raised objection to a state peremptory challenge after the challenged juror has been excused but before the jury is sworn, waived that objection? Question certified. Ivey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D413d (1st DCA 2/20/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court may not summarily deny motion without attaching records showing no entitlement to relief. Laidler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D413a (1st DCA 2/20/18)

DICTIONARY: "[T]he Supreme Court Committee on Standard Jury Instructions in Criminal Cases might want to consider amending the standard jury instruction . . .to define the terms 'prurient interest' and 'morbid interest.'" Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D412a (1st DCA 2/19/18)

JURY PARDON-LESSER INCLUDED: Because jury pardon doctrine has been abrogated by Florida Supreme Court, giving of jury instruction on attempted voluntary manslaughter that incorrectly included an element of intent to kill did not constitute fundamental error, and error was harmless. Conflict certified. Knight v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D404a (1st DCA 2/19/18)

FUNDAMENTAL ERROR: Fundamental error in a jury instruction can be waived. Knight v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D404a (1st DCA 2/19/18)

QUOTATION: "Criminal defense lawyers take heed: you may have thought that a waiver of your client's known rights required that you voluntarily and intentionally relinquish them . . . because, after all, that has been the well-worn, long-accepted legal standard. No longer. Now your mere participation in the jury instructions process is sufficient to imply. . .[the transformation of] what had been known as 'unknowing acquiescence'. . .into a voluntary and intentional abandonment of your client's rights." Knight v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D404a (1st DCA 2/19/18)

RESENTENCING: Where court failed to re-designate the Defendant a Habitual Offender upon a second violation of probation, and sentence otherwise exceeds the statutory maximum, Defendant must be re-sentenced to a legal non-HFO sentence. Bishop v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D402c (5th DCA 2/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to file motion to suppress statements. Davis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D402a (5th DCA 2/16/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where defendant was previously deemed entitled to appointment of counsel for post conviction motion, it was an abuse of discretion to allow defendant to discharge counsel without an adequate hearing within the rubric of Faretta. Toro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D400a (2nd DCA 2/16/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Death penalty is not barred for a 21 year old on the theory that a 21 year old's brain is not fully developed. Branch v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S87a (FLA 2/15/18)

DEATH PENALTY: Telling the jury that its recommendation would only be advisory does not violate Hurst. Franklin v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S86a (FLA 2/15/18)

SEX OFFENDER RECOMMENDATION: Court may deny petition for removal from sex offender registry based on his otherwise violent criminal history. The decision whether to grant a petition for removal from the sex offender registry filed by an offender who meets the criteria under the statute is discretionary. Wromas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D392a (3rd DCA 2/14/18)

WAIVER OF JURY TRIAL: Notwithstanding Rule 3.260, oral waiver of the right to a jury trial is permissible. Westberry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D389b (3rd DCA 2/14/18)

SELF DEFENSE: It is error for a trial court to modify the standard jury instructions and instruct the jury on the victim's right to use force. An instruction on the victim's right to use self-defense is misleading and confusing since it tended to shift the focus away from the issue of whether the defendant was justified in the use of force, and to place emphasis on whether the victim was justified in defending him/herself. Stickney v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D388a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

CONTEMPT: Defendant properly found in contempt from repeatedly butting in, heckling one of the attorneys, saying she "could have been to Disney World four times with my ninety-year-old dad," and "I have bigger fish to fry." Woodward v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D387a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

CONTEMPT: A transcript of a direct criminal contempt hearing is not necessary to uphold the conviction. Woodward v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D387a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Defendant properly convicted of murder based on suspicious text messages about disposing of gun and evidence he had purchased the gun shortly before the murder. Alvarez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D385a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

FLEEING AND ELUDING: Where there was no dispute that defendant was not operating at a high rate of speed nor with wanton disregard, conviction is reduced to fleeing to elude law enforcement officer with sirens and lights activated. Claim that defendant "weaved" in traffic, without more, is insufficient. Canidate v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D382c (4th DCA 2/14/18)

MINOR-SENTENCE REVIEW: "Though the defendant was not sentenced to life or a de facto life sentence, the trend of current case law appears to afford her a review of her 30-year sentence and a meaningful opportunity for release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation." Bilotti v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D379a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

DEPARTURE-DOWNWARD: "A jury found Schultz guilty of 55 counts of drug trafficking. Given the number of charges, the defendant scored 2549 sentencing points. The lowest permissible sentence under the criminal punishment code was 1890.75 months in prison, approximately 157.5 years." Downward departure reversed where Defendant did not file a motion for downward departure nor did Court make written findings. State v. Schultz, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D377b (4th DCA 2/14/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE-RACE: Court erred in finding that juror's religious affiliation alone was genuine and race-neutral basis for challenge where state did not question juror regarding her religion before exercising the strike and, even after questioning, nothing in the record showed juror's religion (Jehovah Witness) would prevent her from being fair and impartial juror. Striking potential juror based entirely on particular religious affiliation, without any evidence that religion would prevent her from being fair and impartial, is impermissible "religious test" in violation of state and federal constitutions. Pacchiana v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D367a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

FORFEITURE: Court erred by failing to conduct evidentiary hearing to establish whether claimant had bona fide claim to money found by law enforcement officers in his vehicle, along with evidence of sale of controlled substances and identity fraud, after claimant provided affidavit in which his mother stated that she had given claimant a specified amount of cash as a birthday gift. Hudson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D364a (4th DCA 2/14/18)

MAIL BOX RULE: Motion for post conviction relief was timely filed where stamp on motion reflected that it was placed in the hands of institutional official for mailing less than 30 days after judgment and sentence became final. Mondeja v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D359a (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

NEBBIA HOLD: Courts lack authority to detain accused for the purpose of inquiring into source of funds used to post bail. Casiano v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D358a (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: Court cannot deny return of money on sole basis that $3480 was found in a desk at Claimant's brother's residence and "money" is listed as a potential trial exhibit. Clayton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D357c (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

MOTION TO DISMISS: Any motion to dismiss must be in writing. Court cannot dismiss charge over State's objection based on court's perspective of the most suitable way to address juvenile's circumstances. State v. A.J., 43 Fla. L. Weekly D352a (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

SEX OFFENDER PROBATION-MODIFICATION: Court lacked jurisdiction to impose conditions of sexual offender probation that it previously had affirmatively declined to impose. Solimon v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D350a (2nd DCA 2/14/18)

SUPERSEDEAS BOND: Court improperly denied supersedeas bond on ground that jury found defendant guilty and that court sentenced defendant below the statutory maximum. Ruiz v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D396a (3rd DCA 2/13/18)

COMPETENCY: Court erred in failing to hold competency hearing after counsel had filed suggestion of incompetence and court had ordered expert examination of defendant. Berry v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D342a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-HOMICIDE: Defendant is not entitled to jury findings on the statutory sentencing factors justifying a life sentence for a minor. Copeland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D341a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

LIFE SENTENCE-MINOR-HOMICIDE: A minor convicted of homicide and sentenced to life is not entitled to a 25 year sentence review if he has previously been convicted of certain offenses, included armed robbery. "If Mr. Copeland had a constitutional problem with being resentenced under this framework with its sentence-review prohibition, he should have argued that point to the Florida Supreme Court before it remanded his case." Copeland v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D341a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

CHILD HEARSAY-UNDUE PREJUDICE: Court ruling that child hearsay is admissible implicitly meant that the Court ruled the evidence's danger of prejudice did not outweigh its probative value. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D340a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's reference to defendant as "boogeyman" in opening statement is not a basis for reversal where trial court sustained objection, and defendant did not seek curative instruction or move for mistrial. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D340a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

LESSER INCLUDED: Court is required to give a lesser-included instruction of the permissive lesser of unnatural and lascivious act only if requested. A court's failure to give an instruction on a permissive lesser-included does not constitute fundamental error. Thompson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D340a (1st DCA 2/9/18) https://edca.1dca.org/DCADocs/2016/1990/161990_1284_02092018_11563859_i.pdf

COMPETENCY: Court abused its discretion by failing to hold competency hearing, adjudicate defendant's competency, and enter an order memorializing that adjudication before proceeding to trial where there were reasonable grounds to suggest that defendant was not mentally competent to proceed. Not even the defendant's stipulation to competency relieves the trial court of the obligation to hold a competency hearing if there are reasonable grounds to question competency. Walker v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D339a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Where Defendant is the sole resident of a garage apartment set up as a meth lab, he is not entitled to a JOA when arrested when another person comes to buy meth from him. Possession here is exclusive, and even if it were joint, evidence is sufficient to establish Defendant's possession. Nolley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D337a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

OPINION: Detective's testimony that he tries to go after the meth cook (the Defendant), not the person buying the Sudafed, is not improper opinion evidence when offered on redirect to explain why the other guy was not arrested that day. Further testimony that he determined it was the Defendant who was cooking meth was improper, but not fundamental error. Nolley v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D337a (1st DCA 2/9/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for possession of cocaine with intent to sell and simple possession based on single quantum of cocaine, a portion of which defendant sold to informant and a portion of which he retained, violated double jeopardy. There is no "legal distinction between the produce leaving the peddler's hand or in his pocket and that still on the push cart." Issue is fundamental. St. Louis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D332a (2nd DCA 2/9/18)

ROBBERY WITH A WEAPON: Defendant is entitled to JOA on robbery with a weapon where the weapon is a disassembled shotgun barrel and there was no evidence it was used as in a way likely to cause death or serious bodily injury. "Oddly, the definition of weapon itself includes a 'deadly weapon,' but the statute does not define a 'deadly weapon.'" Browne v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D323a (5th DCA 2/9/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call a key witness on ground that claim was successive where trial court had originally summarily denied the claim but appellate court reversed and required a hearing. Mackey v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D317a (5th DCA 2/9/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim of ineffective assistance for failure to investigate alibi witnesses and that time card and video surveillance would have shown that he was at work at the time of the crime. Mitchell v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D316c (5th DCA 2/9/18)

DEATH PENALTY-HURST: Defendant is not entitled to relief under Hurst where defendant's conviction and sentence became final prior to Ring. Hamilton v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S82a (FLA 2/8/18)

AMENDMENT-JURY INSTRUCTION-LEAVING SCENE OF CRASH: Accident changed to crash. In Re : Standard Jury Instructions, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S78c (FLA 2/8/18)

APPEALS: Defendant is not entitled to new trial because of the absence of the jury charge conference from the trial transcript in the absence of a showing of prejudice. Murray v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D313a (1st DCA 2/8/18)

STAND YOUR GROUND: Defendant cannot prohibit trial court from proceeding on Stand Your Ground on the basis of its pre-hearing ruling that the standard of proof is preponderance of the evidence. The issue of retroactivity of the burden of proof, and whether the shifting of the burden is procedural or substantive, is not ripe. Rodriguez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D304b (3rd DCA 2/7/18)

JURORS-PEREMPTORY CHALLENGE: Melbourne re-affirmed. A party objecting to the other side's use of a peremptory challenge on racial grounds must : a) make a timely objection on that basis, b) show that the venireperson is a member of a distinct racial group, and c) request that the court ask the striking party its reason for the strike. If these initial requirements are met (step 1), the court must ask the proponent of the strike to explain the reason for the strike. At this point, the burden of production shifts to the proponent of the strike to come forward with a race-neutral explanation (step 2). If the explanation is facially race-neutral and the court believes that, given all the circumstances surrounding the strike, the explanation is not a pretext, the strike will be sustained (step 3). The court must specifically consider and rule on whether the race-neutral reason is pretextual, without requiring a second objection from the opponent of the challenge. The court's focus in step 3 is not on the reasonableness of the explanation but rather its genuineness. The relevant circumstances that the court is to consider in determining whether the explanation is pretextual include such factors as the racial makeup of the venire; prior strikes exercised against the same racial group; a strike based on a reason equally applicable to an unchallenged venireperson; or singling out the venireperson for special treatment. Where the record is completely devoid of any indication that the trial court considered circumstances relevant to whether a strike was exercised for a discriminatory purpose, the reviewing court cannot assume that a genuineness inquiry was actually conducted. Court must not conflate Steps 2 and 3. Spencer v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S34a (FLA 1/25/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Affidavits by two witnesses that the Defendant's brother was the shooter is sufficient newly discovered evidence to warrant a hearing. Utile v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D203a (5th DCA 1/19/18)

COSTS-APPEAL: Defendant is entitled to be awarded appellate costs where his conviction was reversed on appeal and state subsequently entered nolle prosequi. Mathis v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D202b (5th DCA 1/19/18)

APPEAL-VOP: Defendant cannot appeal court's failure to enter written order showing which conditions are violated where he fails to preserve error. The court minutes from trial, listing the conditions of probation orally found by the court to have been violated by a defendant is not a substitute for a proper revocation order because court minutes and the minute book entries are specifically excluded from the definition of a court order. Court declines to rule whether the requirement that the Defendant show intellectual disability by clear and convincing evidence is unconstitutional. Quince v. State, 43 Fla. L. PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Sex offender can be prohibited from possessing a smart phone. The prohibition on possessing an internet accessible cell phone is reasonably related to the trial court's instruction barring him from accessing the internet without a treatment safety plan. Pinnock v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D156a (2nd DCA 1/12/18)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Probation officer cannot prescribe new conditions of probation (here, that he not possess a smart phone), but any such argument was not preserved at VOP hearing. Pinnock v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D156a (2nd DCA 1/12/18)

SENTENCING-FACTORS: Resentencing required where at sentencing State presented extensive evidence of incidents of defendant's misconduct at jail, which Court apparently considered. Love v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D155a (2nd DCA 1/12/18)

JUVENILE-SENTENCING: Court is not required to explain reasons for its decision to commit Child, only for departure from DJJ recommendation. K.M.W. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D154b (5th DCA 1/12/18)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Court is permitted to sentence youthful offender who substantively violates probation to a prison sentence in excess of 6 years, but may not impose a minimum mandatory term. Conflict certified. Cooper v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D153c (5th DCA 1/12/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Court may not rely on written plea form to deny motion for additional jail credit in absence of any evidence that defendant specifically waived jail credit. Fulgham v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D153b (5th DCA 1/12/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to conduct investigation which would have revealed information that could have been used to effectively impeach key prosecution witness, failing to impeach state witnesses with prior inconsistent statements, and failing to call any defense witnesses. Klaus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D148a (5th DCA 1/12/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A statement of satisfaction with counsel alone is generally insufficient to conclusively refute a claim that counsel was ineffective. Klaus v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D148a (5th DCA 1/12/18)

CHANGE OF VENUE: Court did not err in denying change of venue where Defendant was the subject of extensive publicity for having killed four people, including officers, in a separate murder case. The test for determining a change of venue is whether the general state of mind of the inhabitants of a community is so infected by knowledge of the incident and accompanying prejudice, bias, and preconceived opinions that jurors could not possibly put these matters out of their minds and try the case solely upon the evidence presented in the courtroom. Absent an extreme or unusual situation, the need to change venue should not be determined until an attempt is made to select a jury. Morris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S7a (FLA 1/11/18)

EVIDENCE: Defendant's statement in jail that "I repent for killing" is properly admitted in murder trial. Morris v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S7a (FLA 1/11/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where defendant filed timely rule 3.850 motion and trial court ordered state to respond, defendant could not thereafter file amended motions adding additional claims without seeking leave to amend. Wrencher v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D146a (4th DCA 1/10/18)

COLLATERAL CRIMES: Testimony that Defendant broke everything in the room after committing charged battery by strangulation is admissible to contextualize the charged offense. Cartagena v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D142a (4th DCA 1/10/18)

SENTENCING-MULTIPLIER: Court may not apply 1.5 multiplier Trial court erred in applying 1.5 multiplier for "domestic violence in the presence of a related child" where jury was never presented with an interrogatory regarding child's presence, and jury made no such finding. Cartagena v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D142a (4th DCA 1/10/18)

VOIR DIRE: Court did not err in granting new trial based on court's failure to allow defendants to question several members of jury venire before they were excused for bias. Irimi v. R.J. Reynolds, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D138a (4th DCA 1/10/18)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court impermissibly considered pending and unresolved charge of failure to appear in making its sentencing determination. New judge required for resentencing. Baehren v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D136a (4th DCA 1/10/18)

ALLOCUTION: A criminal defendant prior to sentencing has the opportunity to make an unsworn statement to the sentencing judge. Baehren v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D136a (4th DCA 1/10/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Potential jurors who express significant reservations about their ability to be impartial should be excused for cause where their responses to attempts at rehabilitation are conditional or equivocal. Jurors who are reluctant to accept that false confessions happen ("It's possible. But a crime of this nature I mean who would be crazy enough to admit guilt?") should be stricken for cause. Rentas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D129b (4th DCA 1/10/18)

JURORS-CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE-REHABILITATION: "Few jurors would resolutely continue to admit that they have a bias after having a prosecutor and a trial judge cloak them in a duty to be fair. Some answers by prospective jurors should simply be deemed alone disqualifying, no matter how earnestly counsel and the trial judge seek to save them." Rentas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D129b (4th DCA 1/10/18)

READ-BACK: Where testimony is read-back, the applicable cross-examination testimony must be read back as well. Rentas v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D129b (4th DCA 1/10/18)

HEARSAY-STATEMENT AGAINST INTEREST: Court erred by excluding that portion of statement by co-defendant to jailhouse informant that the police had the wrong guy. Exception to hearsay rule for statements against interest includes statements which do not need to amount to a full confession by the declarant, but which, taken in context, are be against the declarant's interest and tend to exculpate the defendant. Baez v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D116a (2nd DCA 1/5/18)

JOA-CULPABLE NEGLIGENCE: Throwing a smoke bomb at a house is not culpable negligence (exposing another to personal injury). Culpable negligence requires conduct of a type likely to cause death or great bodily harm. J.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D108a (2nd DCA 1/5/18)

QUOTATION: "So I think we should reevaluate Azima in an appropriate case. I do hope, however, that the appropriate case involves facts a little more deserving of prosecution than what appears from our record to be little (if anything) more than a preteen boy's careless exuberance with a smoke bomb around the Fourth of July." J.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D108a (2nd DCA 1/5/18)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: There is no requirement that same judge preside over both trial and post conviction proceedings. Jacobson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D106a (2nd DCA 1/5/18)

COMPETENCY: Court did not reversibly err by failing to hold competency hearing after appointing confidential expert to evaluate defendant for purpose of aiding defense counsel in determining defendant's competency to proceed where request for confidential expert evaluation was made as precautionary measure and was insufficient to trigger mandatory competency hearing. Atwater v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D94a (1st DCA 1/2/18)

DECEMBER 2017

Prejudice need not be alleged. Holder v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D84a (2nd DCA 12/29/17)

AMENDMENT-RULES OF APPELLATE PROCEDURE: Proposal that all appeals to Circuit Court must be decided by a panel of at least three judges is deferred. When an attorney is representing more than one party in an appeal, the attorney may only file one initial or answer brief and one reply brief, that includes arguments as to all of the parties the attorney represents. In Re: Amendments to Florida Rules of Appellate Procedure, 43 Fla. L. Weekly S508c (FLA 10/25/18)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Court erred in denying Defendant's claim that he was entitled to time spent in prison between his original sentencing date of the resentencing date because he had failed to exhaust administrative remedies. Defendant is not under any obligation to exhaust administrative remedies to get appropriate credit for time served. Rivera v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2402a (3rd DCA 10/24/18)

JUVENILE-SENTENCE AS ADULT: When juvenile, prosecuted as an adult, was sentenced under a plea agreement to a juvenile commitment program with the agreement that if you violated the conditions of commitment he could be sentenced to prison, and thereafter incurred more charges in and after the commitment program, the Court erred in considering any matters other than those alleged in the motion to impose adult sanctions. The "Face Sheet" is inadmissible hearsay. Brown v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2398a (3rd DCA 10/24/18)

EXPUNCTION-HUMAN TRAFFICKING: Defendant, who had been the victim of human trafficking and in the course thereof committed the offense of kidnapping, is statutorily precluded from getting and expunction of the kidnapping offense. M.G. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2393c (3rd DCA 10/24/18)

APPEAL-MOTION TO MODIFY: An order denying a motion to modify probation is not appealable. Jackson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2393b (2nd DCA 10/24/18)

GRAND THEFT-VALUE-JOA: Testimony of grounds superintendent about missing equipment from golf resort did not satisfy criteria for proving value where he did not provide testimony about purchase price, depreciation, or replacement costs for all the items. "The application of a 'life experience' exception to any criminal statute, including the criminal theft statute, is inconsistent with the uniform system of justice that both the Florida and Federal Constitutions require and should not be left to the whim of individual jury members." Teltschik v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2393a (2nd DCA 10/24/18)

VIOLENT CAREER CRIMINAL: Argument that 30-year sentence for grand theft is illegal because grand theft is not an offense eligible for Violent Career

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double Jeopardy precludes convictions for theft of firearm and theft of other property any stolen vehicle because the theft of the vehicle in the contents is one act of taking. D.T. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D2392a (2nd DCA 10/24/18)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-DOG SNIFF: Officers who stopped vehicle in apartment complex parking lot after observing defendant driving without a seatbelt and who placed defendant under arrest for driving without a license within two minutes of initial stop did not violate Fourth Amendment by initiating dog sniff of vehicle 20 minutes later. Jefferson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D645a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

JOA-AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: Victim's testimony that Defendant (his father) lunged at him with the cane during a verbal altercation and that both men then stepped backward did not establish that defendant used cane in manner likely to produce death or great bodily harm. ("I open the door, tell him to leave, start cussing each other, and then he gets mad and lunges at me with his cane. I step back to nail him, and he stepped back himself, and then we cussed each other some more.") Wallace v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D642a (1st DCA 3/22/18)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for using a computer to solicit a person believed to be a parent of a child and traveling to meet minor did not violate double jeopardy where defendant was charged with two separate acts of solicitation, and the agreement to travel was reached only after the second solicitation. Kuckuck v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D80b (5th DCA 12/29/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to advise him about habitualization. Short v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D79d (5th DCA 12/29/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Court erred in imposing mandatory minimum where information did not sufficiently allege that defendant possessed firearm. Robinson v State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D79c (5th DCA 12/29/17)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by denying, as legally insufficient, counsel's final motion to determine competency. Claim that rejection of plea offer was based on misadvice by counsel regarding maximum penalty for crime, including 25year mandatory minimum, was facially sufficient, notwithstanding that Defendant did not receive minimum mandatory sentence because of an error in the verdict form. E.C. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D79b (5th DCA 12/29/17)

SENTENCING: Court fundamentally erred in entering a sentencing order without conducting a sentencing hearing and without orally pronouncing the sentence in court. Hutto v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D78e (1st DCA 12/29/17)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Court may not deny bond on attempted second degree murder where no written motion for pretrial detention was filed. State's oral motion made at first appearance is not sufficient. Rhagnan v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D80a (5th DCA 12/27/17)

SENTENCING-NONHOMICIDE-JUVENILE: Thirty year sentence for juvenile for nonhomicide offense for without meaningful opportunity for early release is unconstitutional. Kelsey (Graham) applies to all juveniles who have been sentenced to term-of-year sentences of more than twenty years in prison but who would not have the opportunity for judicial review. Alfaro v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D69a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

CORPUS DELICTI: Conviction of possession of firearm by minor cannot stand where corpus delicti of charge consisted solely of inadmissible hearsay. J.J.J. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D68a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

HEARSAY: When the only possible relevance of an out-of-court statement is directed to the truth of the matters stated by a declarant, the subject matter is classic hearsay even though the proponent of such evidence seeks to clothe such hearsay under a nonhearsay label. When the only relevance of an out-ofcourt statement is to prove the truth of the matter asserted, the statement is hearsay and is not rendered admissible when the nonhearsay purpose for which it was admitted is not relevant to the issues in dispute. Argument that Court did not admit what the father said but merely that the policeman's conclusion that Child was the person he needed to talk to is meritless. J.J.J. v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D68a (2nd DCA 12/27/17)

TRIAL PRACTICE: In L & L case, Court may allow victim to testify in a chair in front of the jury box, with the prosecutor sitting beside him, where no objection is made. Stevenson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D67e (1st DCA 12/27/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for resisting officer with violence (punching officer) and without violence (running away) violated double jeopardy principles where the two acts were part of a single criminal episode. Johnson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D36c (2nd DCA 12/22/17)

REVOCATION OF PROBATION: Court may not enter new judgments following revocation of probation. West v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D36b (2nd DCA 12/22/17)

APPELLATE COUNSEL-INEFFECTIVE: Appellate counsel is ineffective for limiting appeal, based on improper exclusion of impeachment evidence, to challenge of the kidnapping conviction where the impeachment evidence would have applied to another count as well. Musson v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D34f (2nd DCA 12/22/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to call victim to testify for mitigation purposes at VOP hearing. Addison v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D34b (5th DCA 12/22/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Where Defendant did not ask that sentences be restructured, and all of the sentences exceeded the statutory limit (probation and incarceration exceeded 5 years for third degree felonies), Court did not err in denying motion to correct sentence where the sentences could have been restructured to impose sentences which complied with statutory limits and the plea agreement. Butler v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D25a (1st DCA 12/21/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's remark in closing argument that state had proved defendant's knowledge that substance he possessed was in fact cocaine and that jury had not heard any contradictory testimony or evidence to rebut that fact did not amount to comment on defendant's right to remain silent or improperly shift burden of proof to defendant. Payne v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D24a (1st DCA 12/21/17)

ARGUMENT: Argument suggesting that officers should be believed because he is a "sworn law enforcement officer, tasked with upholding justice" is improper, but does not warrant a mistrial where a curative instruction is given. Payne v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D24a (1st DCA 12/21/17)

QUOTATION: "The result of the majority's continued acceptance of the legal fiction created in Mendenhall is a legal system where a defendant who is twice convicted of a second-degree felony, as in this case, is authorized to receive a harsher sentence than one who is repeatedly convicted of attempted murder. . .. Surely this draconian and absurd outcome was not intended by the Legislature when it enacted the DFSO Act." (J. Quince, dissenting). Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S982a (FLA 12/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to move for change of venue where motion would likely have been denied. Ellerbee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S973a (FLA 12/21/17)

DISCOVERY-EXPERT: Court must allow a continuance where state committed a discovery violation by a late disclosure of an expert witness. McDuffie v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D14a (2nd DCA 12/20/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officer lacked probable cause to arrest for attaching an unassigned tag because the officer did not observe her attach the license plate. Defendant's statement to officer that license plate had been attached to vehicle by a friend was not sufficient to validate arrest. Weaver v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D13a (2nd DCA 12/20/17)

ATTEMPTED MURDER OF LEO: New trial required where trial court failed to give requested jury instruction that Defendant must know that victim was a law enforcement officer. Rivera v. State, 43 Fla. L. Weekly D12a (2nd DCA 12/20/17)

EXPERT: Where parties argued Daubert without objection, the Daubert standard applies. Kemp v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2648a (4th DCA 12/13/17)

EXPERT: Officer's testimony that the Defendant braked based on marks on car (showing he did not lose consciousness, as claimed), is admissible under Daubert. But see dissent. ("Corporal Dooley's . . .testimony amounted to little more than a subjective and unverifiable opinion and represents precisely the sort of junk science that should never be countenanced in a court of law. . . Dooley's repeated invocation of the magic words 'training and experience' was insufficient. Kemp v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2648a (4th DCA 12/13/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Investigating officer may not translate her own videotaped interview with the defendant while testifying on the stand. When the State seeks to admit into evidence a recording in Spanish, generally "a sworn interpreter must be provided to translate such conversations. Mendez Martinez v. State, 42 Fla. L. QUOTATION (CONCURRING OPINION): "Williams, which dismissed the centuries-old common law practice of twelve-member juries as a mere 'historical accident' . . . was based on dubious anecdotal assertions and demonstrably incorrect statistical and sociological principles that have plagued this body of jurisprudence ever since. . . [I]ts reasoning foundered on glaring misinterpretations of social science research and inept methodologies, so much so that one prominent commentator said that the 'quality of social science scholarship displayed . . . would not win a passing grade in a high school psychology class.'" Lessard v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2637a (1st DCA 12/13/17)

Burton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2614a (3rd DCA 12/13/17)

SENTENCING-PRR: Court must impose a mandatory minimum sentence under 10/20/Life notwithstanding that the sentence of life is imposed anyways. Burks v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2611a (3rd DCA 12/13/17 DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Convictions for second degree murder and unlawful possession of a firearm while engaged in a criminal offense violate double jeopardy. GRAND THEFT-JOA: Defendant is entitled to JOA where value of the property stolen (42-inch flat screen television, 32-inch flat screen television, computer tablet, laptop computer, desktop computer, Xbox 360, surround sound system, and some pictures) was not proven to be over $300. The victim's estimate that the property was worth $4000 is insufficient. A mere guess at, or uninformed estimate of the value of stolen property is insufficient, absent other proof, to establish value beyond a reasonable doubt. Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2534a (1st DCA 11/30/17)

Benjamin v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2519c (2nd DCA 11/29/17)

JOA-GRAND THEFT OF VEHICLE: Child is entitled to judgment of dismissal where state failed to prove that juvenile knew car he was driving when stopped by police was stolen. C.T. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2510a (3rd DCA 11/29/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-IMMIGRATION: Claim that trial court's failure to advise defendant of possible immigration consequences rendered his plea involuntary is time-barred where motion was not filed within two-year time limitation, and defendant failed to establish that in the exercise of due diligence he could not have ascertained the possible immigration consequences of his plea within the two-year period. Jules v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2508b (3rd DCA 11/29/17)

HABITUAL OFFENDER: Because adjudication on predicate offense had been withheld rather than defendant having been convicted, HFO designation is only permissible if defendant was still on probation when he committed subsequent offenses in the instant case. Gilman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2483b (3rd DCA 11/22/17)

BELATED APPEAL: Because adjudication on predicate offense had been withheld rather than defendant having been convicted, HFO designation is only permissible if defendant was still on probation when he committed subsequent offenses in the instant case. Alvarez v State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2482b (3rd DCA 11/22/17)

ARGUMENT: In misstatement/slip of the tongue in which State referred to defendant as "not on the stand because he paid for a hotel room," promptly amended to "not on trial," state did not improperly comment on defendant's failure to testify. Pierre-Louise v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2482a (3rd DCA 11/22/17)

JURISDICTION: Florida court has subject matter jurisdiction of criminal case (attempted sexual battery) where more than half of ship's passengers embarked from and disembarked in Florida, and defendant's conduct had an effect on Florida. The fact that both the Defendant and victim were crew members not from Florida does not detract from the effect on Florida. Paul v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2478d (3rd DCA 11/22/17)

COSTS: Defendant cannot be required to pay the State's costs of bringing two witnesses from foreign state to testify at defendant's sentencing where their testimony was inadmissible. Mook v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2477a (4th DCA 11/22/17)

COMPETENCY: Where court orders a competency evaluation, it must conduct a hearing. Jones v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2472a (4th DCA 11/22/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel was not ineffective for failing to demand that court give defendant more time to consult with counsel before deciding not to testify after court permitted state to introduce as rebuttal a recorded interview of defendant that contradicted his defense at trial. But see dissent. Giles v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2464c (1st DCA 11/20/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary area hearing on claim that his attorney threatened to withdraw if Defendant did not accept the plea. Abbas v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2464a (5th DCA 11/17/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: In murder case, counsel was ineffective for failing to adequately investigate and prepare for the penalty phase and to challenge the voluntariness of his confession. State v. Morrison, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S926c (FLA 11/16/17)

KIDNAPPING: Defendant's acts of directing two victims to disrobe completely before ordering them to move behind a tree, which he was attempting to hide behind while committing sexual battery on one victim, is sufficient to warrant a conviction for kidnapping. Glover v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2447a (4th DCA 11/15/17)

CONSTRUCTIVE POSSESSION: Defendant is not entitled to judgment of acquittal where he was the only person in the car when the drugs were found. For stand your ground immunity, the court must find that, at the time defendant used deadly force, he reasonably believed that such force was necessary to prevent imminent death or great bodily harm to himself or to prevent imminent commission of a forcible felony, was not engaged in criminal activity, and was in a place he had a right to be. Appellate court does not address the question of whether caring a concealed firearm is criminal activity for the purpose of the Stand Your Ground law. State v. Chavers, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2443a (4th DCA 11/15/17)

Grigg v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2440a (1st DCA 11/15/17)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: Court must conduct a competency hearing when there are reasonable grounds to believe defendant is not competent to proceed. English v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2439a (1st DCA 11/15/17)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Defendant is not entitled to new trial on the basis of newly discovered evidence that the victim's daughter in a homicide case was abused by the victim's husband, suggesting a possible motive for the husband murdering the victim, because in a new trial that evidence would be inadmissible as irrelevant and more prejudicial than probative. PLEA-WITHDRAWAL: Defendant was entitled to hearing on motion to withdraw plea alleging plea was involuntary because of trial court's unrecorded side-bar statements indicating defendant would receive a more severe sentence if he did not take a negotiated plea. Tubbs v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D2397a (1st DCA 11/8/17)

"[S]ince spontaneity is the principal, and often the only, guarantee of trustworthiness for the exceptions . . ., its absence should result in exclusion of the statement." Beckman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1975a (3rd DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION One man's trash is another man's treasure. But sometimes it's just another man's nuisance." Cosio v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1959d (2nd DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION: "[U]nder the doctrine of noscitur a sociis (a word is known by the company it keeps), one examines the other words used within a string of concepts to derive the legislature's overall intent. . .With that principle in mind, it defies any reasonable understanding of what could plausibly be characterized as "litter," or "garbage," or "trash," or "rubbish" to maintain, as the State does here, that live, verdant plant life and forestry falls within the ambit of any of those words. A living tree is not trash, at least under the Florida Litter Law. To broaden the meaning of litter to include growing things that are rooted in the earth would imbue more than an "unintended breadth" of definition into the statute's language. . .– it would foist an outright distortion on the common meaning of "garbage," "rubbish," "trash," or "refuse. Nor under these circumstances does the felled state of the trees and brush on Mr. Cosio's yard transubstantiate their material into litter for purposes of the statute." Cosio v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1959d (2nd DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION: "Although the State's pursuit of a felony case through a jury trial against an elderly gentleman who hoarded junk on his overgrown yard strikes us as a rather questionable expenditure of criminal justice resources, that is not a basis upon which we can disturb the trial court's ruling, and so we affirm the judgment below." Cosio v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1959d (2nd DCA 9/6/17)

LIMITATION OF ACTIONS: Charge of lewd and lascivious molestation must be dismissed if not prosecuted within 3 years of the date the incident was first reported to DCF. Curry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1957a (4th DCA 9/6/17)

RESENTENCING-SUCCESSOR JUDGE: Where defendant is resentenced by a new judge following a successful appeal , and the successor judge indicates that he is not inclined to revisit the sentence previously imposed, notwithstanding that he reviewed all the mitigating material submitted, the Defendant is entitled to another resentencing hearing by another judge. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1952a (4th DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION: "The majority has scoured the trial judge's words, like a medieval monk pouring over sacred text, looking for nuances that would support reversal. Here, the legal basis for reversal is that the judge violated the constitution by failing to exercise 'independent judgment.' A failure to exercise independent judgment is a flimsy notion upon which to erect a reversal. If law involves the drawing of lines, who can say when independent judgment begins and ends?" Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1952a (4th DCA 9/6/17)

QUOTATION: "The sad irony of the law is that a judge can shred the Constitution in sentencing so long as he does not utter words that give him away." Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1952a (4th DCA 9/6/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: 10-year mandatory minimum sentence cannot be imposed where the jury did not expressly find actual possession of the DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for use of computer to facilitate or solicit parent to consent to sexual conduct of child and traveling to meet minor to engage in sexual conduct with consent of parent did not constitute a double jeopardy violation where the two convictions were not based on same conduct. Coffey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1936a (1st DCA 9/5/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Dual convictions for traveling and unlawful use of twoway communications device constituted double jeopardy. Coffey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1936a (1st DCA 9/5/17)

Coffey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1936a (1st DCA 9/5/17)

EVIDENCE-RELEVANCE : Evidence that Defendant suffered sexual abuse as a child was within Court's discretion to exclude as needlessly cumulative and likely to inflame emotions of jurors and possibly distract them from

White v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1933a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on the question of whether counsel was ineffective for failing to properly prepare defendant to testify at trial, and that if counsel had properly advised him, incriminating text messages would have been kept out of evidence. White v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1933a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

VOP: Court can proceed on violation despite the fact that the State dropped the charge of domestic violence which was the basis of the violation. State v. Mitchum, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1930a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred by summarily denying the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to interview or investigate state witnesses in failing to present a defense theory in order to preserve the opportunity to present first and last closing arguments. Defendant's acquiescence in the strategy does not insulate his performance from judicial review. Downs v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1929a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF-APPEAL: The appeal from the denial of the second motion for post-conviction relief is dismissed where an order had not been rendered dispensing with a motion for rehearing of the order denying the 1st motion for post-conviction relief. Minix v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1928b (5th DCA 9/1/17)

JOA-FAILURE TO REGISTER: JOA for failure to comply with sex offender registration requirements must be granted where State failed to demonstrate that Defendant qualified as a sex offender. State cannot rely on the inference that because he was given a 10-year sentence in 1995 he must've been released from incarceration after October 1, 1997. Clay v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1928a (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying the claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to advise defendant of a meritorious motion to suppress and that if he had properly advised him he would not have entered the plea. Guevara v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1927c (5th DCA 9/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred by summarily denying claims that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to improper closing argument in failing to adequately cross-examine expert witness. Burt v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1927b (5th DCA 9/1/17)

AUGUST 2017

DEATH PENALTY Aggravator for a particularly vulnerable victim applies where the Defendant is in a de facto role of stepparent. Covington v. State, v. 42 Fla. L. Weekly S787a (FLA 8/31/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Aggravator of heinous, atrocious, and cruel applies where the victim has multiple broken bones and the Defendant sawed through the child victim's neck with a bread knife while she cried. Covington v. State, v. 42 Fla. L. Weekly S787a (FLA 8/31/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Court must consider parole ineligibility as a mitigating factor, that failure to do so here is harmless error. Covington v. State, v. 42 Fla. L. Weekly S787a (FLA 8/31/17)

PENALTY: defendant who has waived the right to a penalty phase jury is not entitled to relief under Hurst. Covington v. State, v. 42 Fla. L. Weekly S787a (FLA 8/31/17)

LESSER INCLUDED-MANSLAUGHTER: Manslaughter is a necessarily lesser included offense of second-degree felony murder because both offenses require some action by the defendant that ultimately causes the victim's death. However, where the evidence supports the charged offense as well as the requested instruction on a necessarily lesser included offense, any error in failing to give the requested instruction is harmless because the defendant is not entitled to an opportunity for a jury pardon. Dean v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S769a (FLA 8/31/17)

LESSER INCLUDED (concurring) "My colleague argues that there is no inherent error in failure to instruct on an immediate lesser-included offense because there is no right for the jury to exercise its pardon power. . . This Court has recognized the opposite for as long as there has been a Florida Supreme Court. . . .To hold otherwise, as the majority currently does, is to recede from centuries of caselaw without an explanation." Dean v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S769a (FLA 8/31/17)

QUOTATION: "So, Dean wins a pyrrhic victory. He receives a favorable answer on manslaughter being a lesser included offense of second-degree felony murder, but he does not receive a new trial with a proper jury instruction on the lesser included offense of manslaughter. In my view, there would be a real possibility that the jury would have found him guilty of the lesser included offense, not as a result of the jurors disregarding their oath, but because the facts of this case could fit into manslaughter. Accordingly, I dissent." Dean v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S769a (FLA 8/31/17)

STATE ATTORNEY: Gov. has authority to reassign prosecution of death penalty eligible cases when State Attorney announces her intention to implement a blanket policy of not seeking the death penalty. Ayala v. Scott, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S766b (FLA 8/31/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Court's order precluding death as a possible punishment on grounds that no constitutional penalty phase procedure was in place is quashed. Aggravating factors need not be alleged in the indictment. State v. Chapman, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1915a (4th DCA 8/30/17)

RETURN OF PROPERTY: Motion for return of property including "all other miscellaneous items" is legally sufficient for a hearing. Defendant need not establish proof of ownership in order to allege a facially sufficient claim for the return of property. Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1910a (4th DCA 8/30/17)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: After defense counsel moved to have defendant evaluated for competency, trial court improperly allowed defendant to waive his right to the required competency hearing and proceed to trial without determining his competency. Hearing cannot be waived. Raithel v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1906a (4th DCA 8/30/17)

ENFORCEMENT OF APPELLATE MANDATE: Where appellate court ordered trial court to vacate the grand theft conviction and sentence for organized fraud, State cannot thwart the order by Nolle processing the organized fraud count. When an appellate court issues a mandate, compliance with the mandate by the circuit court is purely a ministerial act. The circuit court does not have the authority to modify, nullify or evade that mandate. Manata v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1886b (1st DCA 8/30/17)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: State committed discovery violation by not disclosing alleged statements by the defendant to the Victim admitting the theft on the theory that the disclosure was not required because the defendant could have deposed the victim. Court erred in not considering the harm in preparation created by the non-disclosure. Z.L. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1885b (2nd DCA 8/30/17)

Medina v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1878a (2nd DCA 8/30/17)

EVIDENCE: Evidence that Defendant was under the influence of marijuana at the time of the incident is not a basis for criminal liability for neglect of a child absent proof that the ability to supervise or care for the child was impaired. Medina v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1878a (2nd DCA 8/30/17)

COSTS: Court may not impose discretionary costs without providing Defendant notice and opportunity to object. Cooler v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1873b (1st DCA 8/28/17)

RETROACTIVITY: "This Court need not tumble down the dizzying rabbit hole of untenable line drawing; instead, the Court could simply entertain Hurst claims for those defendants who properly presented and preserved the substance of the issue, even before Ring arrived. . .In James v. State. . .we. . .concluded that — despite his case becoming final before the principle of law had a case name — it would be unjust to deprive James of the benefit of the Supreme Court's holding in Espinosa after he had properly presented and preserved such a claim.. . . Similarly, I believe that defendants who properly preserved the substance of a Ring challenge at trial and on direct appeal prior to that decision should also be entitled to have their constitutional challenges heard.. . [T]he fact that some defendants specifically cited the name Ring while others did not is not dispositive." Hitchcock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S753a (FLA 8/10/17)

QUOTATION: "Reliability is the linchpin of Eighth Amendment jurisprudence, and a death sentence imposed without a unanimous jury verdict for death is inherently unreliable." Hitchcock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S753a (FLA 8/10/17) (Pariente dissenting)

Swain v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1755a (1st DCA 8/10/17)

HEARSAY: Testimony by Defendant's girl friend woke her and Defendant up, screamed that something had happened to truck and that defendant responded with shock, placing hands on his head and saying it was not he who drove the truck. Henley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1726a (3rd DCA 8/9/17)

ARGUMENT: "The defendant savagely, maliciously, and intentionally beat [Emmanuel] causing great bodily injury." is a reasonable inference from the evidence, and a fair reply to Defendant's argument. Beating a woman until she's bleeding, her lip is busted, her eye cannot open, she has to go to the hospital, breaking her eye socket, and spitting on her, all because she disrespected Defendant, was savage and malicious. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1722a (3rd DCA 8/9/17)

SENTENCING-VINDICTIVENESS: Courts should colloquy a defendant before trial about knowingly, voluntarily, and intelligently rejecting a plea offer. Doing so is not initiating plea discussions, and is not vindictive. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1722a (3rd DCA 8/9/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Defendant fired a warning shot to chase off the Victim who had barged into his apartment. Weekly D1680b (1st DCA 8/1/17)

SENTENCING: Sentence of 30 years of imprisonment followed by 15 years of probation is unlawful for first-degree felonies because it exceeds the statutory maximum. Cannon v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1625a (1st DCA 7/20/17)

OPENING THE DOOR: Defense attorney suggesting that detective had made an assumption, followed by the detective responding, "not necessarily" "assuredly did not provide a doorway to introduce an unlawfully obtained statement from the defendant." Defendant's inculpatory (suppressed) statements about his control over the bedroom should not have been admitted in a trial in which he never took the stand and none of his witnesses, it appears, had ever testified in a misleading or untruthful manner. Gutierrez-Hernandez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1580a (2nd DCA 7/14/17)

OPENING THE DOOR: "A precise formulary for how hard a particular question or response must push against a particular threshold of fairness or truthfulness in order to open the door for otherwise inadmissible evidence has remained elusive, a reflection perhaps of the highly contextual nature of the inquiry. We are satisfied that in this case the door should have remained shut." Gutierrez Hernandez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1580a (2nd DCA 7/14/17)

JUDGMENT OF ACQUITTAL: Trial court should have granted motion for judgment of dismissal where state relied on palm print on rearview mirror of vehicle and fact that vehicle was parked outside a building where juvenile was known to have lived to prove grand theft of vehicle. LIFE IMPRISONMENT-JUVENILE: Because defendant was sentenced in 1972 to life with parole eligibility, was paroled from prison after serving eight and a half years, and thereafter violated his parole by committing a new crime as an adult, leading to his re-incarceration, neither Graham/Miller nor Henry/Atwell is implicated, sentence is not illegal, and defendant is not entitled to resentencing under Florida's newly-enacted juvenile sentencing scheme. Rooks v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1573a (3rd DCA 7/12/17)

VOP: Alleged errors in sentencing procedure are not fundamental and are not preserved absent objection. Green v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1572a (3rd DCA 7/12/17)

INTERROGATORY VERDICT: Interrogatories for the jury to make findings regarding which incidents of racketeering conduct were proven to establish the requisite pattern of racketeering activity in support of the two racketeering offenses are not required. Vass v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1568b (3rd DCA 7/12/17)

RACKETEERING: It is unnecessary for a defendant, at the close of all the evidence, to renew a previous motion for judgment of acquittal to preserve the issue for appellate review. Vass v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1568b (3rd DCA 7/12/17)

PLEA-VOLUNTARINESS: Where state requested in plea agreement that court recommend that defendant's sentence be served concurrently with federal sentence, with defendant's understanding that recommendation is not binding on federal government or Florida Department of Corrections, trial court's failure to advise defendant that he would be required to serve his state and federal sentences consecutively if Florida Department of Corrections and Federal Bureau of Prisons did not accept court's recommendation did not render plea involuntary. Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1567b (3rd DCA 7/12/17)

THEFT: Juvenile is guilty of theft of driver's licenses found in his possession and which he said that he took from a friend without permission. Stilley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1549a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: "A post-conviction court is not required to hold hearings on absurd claims or accept as true allegations that defy logic and which are inherently incredible." Here, it is objectively unreasonable to believe that the Defendant facing mandatory life in prison as a PRR would have declined the offer of probation had he not receive bad advice from counsel. Stilley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1549a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

CONTEMPT-DIRECT: Defendant properly held in direct criminal contempt based on vulgar and disrespectful tirade during calendar call. Only one contempt conviction is appropriate where all obscenities part of the same continuous outburst. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1548a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-VEHICLE: Officers had reasonable suspicion to stop defendant's van pursuant to BOLO based on physical description from 911 call given by citizen witness who had no interest in the situation and was fully cooperative with law enforcement, fact that there were virtually no other cars on road at time BOLO went out, fact that witness told law enforcement that there were at least three people in vehicle and was able to identify vehicle's direction of travel, and fact that law enforcement stopped vehicle within 10 minutes of BOLO and less than 5 miles away from where van was initially spotted. Sammiel v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1541a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

SEVERANCE OF COUNTS: Court did not abuse discretion by denying motion to sever counts arising out of separate incidents where the crimes were part of a crime spree, were extremely close in geographic and temporal proximity, and were similar in the manner in which they were committed. Charles v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1537a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

EVIDENCE: Court did not abuse discretion in admitting evidence related to an offense that was severed where that offense was inextricably intertwined with the charged crimes and was relevant evidence of flight and concealment. Charles v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1537a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

PSYCHOLOGICAL EVALUATION: Court is not required to appoint a minimum of two experts. Charles v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1537a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

VOIR DIRE: Court abused its discretion limiting voir dire to 3-hour time limit and refusing to grant a few additional minutes to reach jurors it could not reach. As a matter of law, a one-to-three minute limit for voir dire examination of each potential juror is unreasonable and an abuse of discretion. Hopkins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1536a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court erred in denying challenges for cause where jurors admitted they might not be able to render impartial decisions if the defendant did not take the stand. Jurors who say "That possibility exists" [that it might negatively influence him] and "I believe I can, yes, [follow the law] him I'm not certain that I can." should be stricken for cause. Hopkins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1536a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

RESTITUTION: Court abused its discretion in imposing restitution for 2 piece of jewelry which defendant never admitted that she pawned. James v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1535a (4th DCA 7/12/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-10-20-LIFE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences are permissible but not mandatory where Defendant discharged a firearm in multiple offenses that occurred in the same criminal episode and involved multiple victims. Abrams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1531b (1st DCA 7/11/17)

Conflict Certified. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1531a (1st DCA 7/11/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM-10-20-LIFE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences are permissible but not mandatory where Defendant discharged a firearm in multiple offenses that occurred in the same criminal episode and firearm was discharged at multiple victims. Dukes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1530b (1st DCA 7/11/17)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BE FELON-COLLATERAL ESTOPPEL: Where defendant was charged with possession of a firearm by felon and trafficking in cocaine while armed with a firearm, the charges were severed, and jury found defendant guilty of armed trafficking and determined that he "individually carried" a weapon, but did not actually possess a firearm during commission of trafficking offense, state was not collaterally estopped from prosecuting defendant for possession of a firearm by a felon. Because "possession" is defined differently in the jury instructions for violations of §§775.087 and 790.23, the jury did not necessarily determine the issue of possession under §790.23 in Defendant's favor. State v. Joy, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1525a (5th DCA 7/7/17)

DRUG OFFENDER PROBATION: Imposition of drug offender probation for conviction of battery on law enforcement officer is lawful where defendant is a chronic substance abuser under the influence of a controlled substance on night of incident. Powell v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1521b (5th DCA 7/7/17)

SENTENCING: Court erred when it modified sentence to correct an illegal sentence without holding resentencing hearing. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1521a (5th DCA 7/7/17)

COSTS OF INVESTIGATION: Court erred in imposing costs of investigation where state did not expressly request these costs. Foulkes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1520c (5th DCA 7/7/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: Petition for writ of habeas corpus which attacks validity of conviction is properly brought in circuit court in county that rendered judgment of conviction. Milord v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1520b (5th DCA 7/7/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: Defendant may not collaterally attack a conviction through the process of habeas proceedings where such claims are cognizable under the rule 3.850. Milord v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1520b (5th DCA 7/7/17)

DEATH PENALTY: New sentencing hearing is required where death recommendation was not unanimous. Peterson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S720a (FLA 7/6/17)

DEATH PENALTY: New sentencing hearing is required where death recommendation was not unanimous. Bailey v. Jones, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S719a (FLA 7/6/17)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Imposition of consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10-20-Life statute for multiple offenses arising out of single criminal episode was discretionary, not mandatory, where defendant only shot at one victim. Thornes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1509b (1st DCA 7/6/17)

10-20-LIFE-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Imposition of consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10-20-Life statute for multiple firearm

APPEAL-ARGUMENT-UNANIMOUS VERDICT: Claim that State relied on different factual theories to prove one of the sexual battery counts at issue, raising the possibility of a nonunanimous verdict, is not fundamental error. Objection must be made at trial or the argument is waived. Defendant may prefer lumping of acts in one count in order to lower possible exposure. Stalker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1497a (4th DCA 7/5/17)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Where Court failed to make written findings that the Defendant posed a danger to the community under VFOSC, the proper remedy is a new sentencing hearing. Whittaker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1495a (4th DCA 7/5/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Defendant who received parole-eligible life sentence for nonhomicide committed when he was a juvenile is not entitled to resentencing under Graham v. Florida where he had actually been released from prison twice on parole. Rogers v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1493a (4th DCA 7/5/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's statements during closing arguments which directed jury to consider prior inconsistent statements as substantive evidence rather than just as impeachment evidence were not proper comments on the evidence. Prior inconsistent statements are admissible for impeachment purposes so long as the goal is to have the jury disbelieve both statements rather than to convince the jury that the prior statement is true and the in-court testimony is false. Abdulla v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1490b (4th DCA 7/5/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's suggestion that witness committed perjury as part of a strategy devised with defense counsel and defendant himself was completely improper. Abdulla v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1490b (4th DCA 7/5/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-VOP: Where defendant was sentenced to community control as a youthful offender when he was seventeen years old, upon revocation of community control for new offenses committed when defendant was eighteen years old, defendant was not entitled to be sentenced pursuant to juvenile offender sentencing law under which he would have to be provided a meaningful opportunity to obtain release based on demonstrated maturity and rehabilitation. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1481a (5th DCA 6/30/17)

YOUTHFUL OFFENDER: Where defendant was initially sentenced as youthful offender, Court must maintain his youthful offender status when sentencing him for community control violation. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1481a (5th DCA 6/30/17)

POSSESSION OF FIREARM BY FELON: Felon pawning firearms previously owned by her deceased husband is prima facie evidence of possession of firearm by a felon. Henderson distinguished. Argument that Defendant possessed for purpose of lawful disposal was not raised in trial court. State v. Trappen, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1475b (2nd DCA 6/30/17)

EVIDENCE: Court may prohibit cross-examination on prior instances of contamination in analyses analyst had conducted in other cases where there was no evidence that DNA samples in defendant's case were contaminated. Evidence of particular acts of misconduct cannot be introduced to impeach the credibility of a witness. Sexton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S713a (FLA 6/29/17)

EVIDENCE: Court did not err in admitting detective's testimony recounting that defendant's wife stated, in response to defendant's claim that he had arrived home at 10 : 30 p.m. the night before the murder, "He's not telling the truth. He got home at 2:00 a.m." Sexton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S713a (FLA 6/29/17)

EVIDENCE: Photographs and testimony relating to injuries inflicted on victim's body after her death may be admitted. Sexton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S713a (FLA 6/29/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Imposition of death penalty was unconstitutional under decision of U.S. Supreme Court in Hurst v. Florida where jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. Cole v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S701a (FLA 6/29/17

DEATH PENALTY: Imposition of death penalty was unconstitutional under decision of U.S. Supreme Court in Hurst v. Florida where jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. Bargo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S698a (FLA 6/29/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: In conducting warrantless search of cell phone, officers could not rely in good faith on district court of appeal decision which was not final, well-settled, unequivocal, or clearly established and which was certified for review by the Florida Supreme Court. Carpenter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S694a (FLA 6/29/17)

QUOTATION: "While an opinion from a district court of appeal may be binding on lower trial courts in Florida . . ., this fact does not necessarily justify law enforcement's reliance on that decision as "binding" law. . . Indeed, this issue can be likened to that of Schrödinger's Cat, where a decision of a district court of appeal may be both binding and not binding." Carpenter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S694a (FLA 6/29/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Defendant does not have standing to object to search of home where he claims no interest in the part of the home which is searched. Gonzalez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1464a (4th DCA 6/28/17)

EVIDENCE-WEIGHT: Random testing of one out of 1,000 similar tablets was sufficient to admit evidence of weight. Gonzalez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1464a (4th DCA 6/28/17)

SEALING: Court may not deny petition to seal criminal record based solely upon its consideration of facts as outlined in probable cause affidavit. Where petitioner met requirements of statute and complied with pertinent statutory procedure, he was presumptively entitled to order to seal or expunge court records, and the only issue before trial court was whether factual basis existed to deny petition. Gotowala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1463b (4th DCA 6/28/17)

AGGRAVATED ASSAULT: Judgment of Acquittal for aggravated assault is required where the victim is a one-and-a-half year old child, and there is no evidence that the child experienced fear. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1463a (4th DCA 6/28/17)

BOND-MINOR: Juvenile (14 yoa) charged as an adult may be held without bond because life is now a possible punishment for juveniles charged as adults with offenses punishable by life where proof of guilt is evident or presumption is great. Reeters v. Israel, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1460a (4th DCA 6/28/17)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATIONS: Court's comments during sentencing that defendant's testimony at trial was "untruthful and not believable" and warranted maximum sentence constituted fundamental error. Session v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1459b (4th DCA 6/28/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-PLAIN VIEW: Residents of rooming houses are entitled to the same Fourth Amendment protections as residents of single-family houses, so long as rooming house itself is not open to public. Cocaine in pill bottle stashed in concrete latticework attached to foundation of rooming house where defendant was staying was unlawfully seized and should be suppressed. The common internal hallway area of a rooming house is a private, as opposed to a public, place. Open view doctrine does not allow police to seize bottle which they see put in the crawlspace with only a hunch that it is contraband. Full discussion of plain view/open view doctrines. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1456a (2nd DCA 6/28/17)

SPEEDY TRIAL: 60 day time limit for bringing Defendant to trial begins from the date of the demand, regardless of whether Defendant had been arrested. Cornelius v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1453b (5th DCA 6/27/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that Counsel misadvised him that claim of right was a valid defense to carjacking and that he would have pled open upon accurate advise is not cognizable where there was no plea offer. Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1442a (1st DCA 6/27/17)

SENTENCING-CONSECUTIVE: Resentencing is required where the Court erroneously believed it was required to impose consecutive mandatory minimums for attempted murder and possession of a firearm by a felon when there was only one victim. Fleming v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1441c (1st DCA 6/27/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: Claims of ineffective assistance of appellate counsel in state court are not subject to federal review where issue is defaulted (i.e., not raised in state court). Attorney error is an objective external factor excusing a procedural default only if the error deprives one of a constitutional right. Since one has no right to counsel for habeas review, attorney error in that review cannot excuse a default. Davila v. Davis, No. 16-6219 (US 6/26/17)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: Under Rule 3.132, a motion for pre-trial detention must be held within 5 days, and the State bears the burden of proving the need for pretrial detention. Watson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1452a (5th DCA 6/26/17)

DEPORTATION: When a defendant claims that his counsel's deficient performance deprived him of a trial by causing him to accept a plea, the defendant can show prejudice by demonstrating a reasonable probability that, but for counsel's errors, he would not have pleaded guilty and would have insisted on going to trial. Court may not consider whether the result of the trial would have been different. Lee v. United States, No. 16-327 (US S.Ct. 6/23/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-327_3eb4.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to a hearing on claim that counsel was ineffective for incorrectly advising defendant that he should not testify because if he took the stand, state would be able to present to jury the details of his extensive criminal record. Walker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1433d (5th DCA 6/23/17

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Court may grant new trial based on newly discovered evidence that victim of lewd and lascivious assault tweeted two years later that she has sleep paralysis, which is characterized by sensory hallucinations. Boughs v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1433c (5th DCA 6/23/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Running background checks on the vehicle, the driver, and the passengers are normal parts of a traffic stop and do not unreasonably prolong the stop. Vangansbeke v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1429b (5th DCA 6/23/17)

UNLAWFULLY PROCURING CITIZENSHIP BY FALSE STATEMENT: Jury must be instructed that the false statement (here, that her husband did not fight with the Bosnians nor participate in a massacre) must have contributed to citizenship being granted. The illegal act must have somehow contributed to the obtaining of citizenship. To decide whether a defendant acquired citizenship by means of a lie, a jury must evaluate how knowledge of the real facts would have affected a reasonable government official properly applying naturalization law. Maslenjak v. United States, 16-309 (US S.CT 6/22/17)

DEFINITIONS: "[T]o procure" something is "to get possession of " it. Webster's Third New International Dictionary 1809 (2002); accord, Black's Law Dictionary 1401 (10th ed.2014) (defining "procure" as "[t]o obtain (something), esp.by special effort or means"). Maslenjak v. United States, 16-309 (US S.CT. 6/22/17)

DISCOVERY-BRADY: Failure to disclose certain interviews weakening the Government's case is a violation of Brady, but not material where there is not reasonable probability of changing the outcome. A new trial is not required where the evidence "is too little, too weak, or too distant from the main evidentiary points to meet Brady's standards." Turner v. United States, 15-1503 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/22/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-1503_4357.pdf

PUBLIC TRIAL: Structural errors should not be deemed harmless beyond a reasonable doubt. A structural error is one which affect the framework within which the trial proceeds, rather than being "simply an error in the trial process itself. An error can count as structural even if the error does not lead to fundamental unfairness in every case. A violation of the right to a public trialincluding excluding the public from jury selection because of limited space–is a structural error. However, counsel was not ineffective for failure to object to exclusion of the jury because there is no showing of fundamental unfairness. Weaver v. Massachusetts, No. 16-240 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/22/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-240_g3bi.pdf

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on the claims that counsel was ineffective for failing to object to late disclosure of a witness who rebutted Defendant's opening statement. Cruz v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1415d (4th DCA 6/21/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on the claims that counsel was ineffective for failing to file notice of alibi and call alibi witness. Cruz v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1415d (4th DCA 6/21/17)

FIREARM-CONSECUTIVE SENTENCE: Court erred by imposing consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10-20-Life statute where offenses arose from same criminal episode and did not involve discharge of firearm. Billups v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1415c (4th DCA 6/21/17)

ARGUMENT-SHIFTING BURDEN OF PROOF: Prosecutor improperly shifted burden of proof to defendant during closing argument by inviting jury to return guilty verdict based upon defendant's failure to call certain witness equally available to the State and with no special relationship to the Defendant. State cannot comment on a defendant's failure to produce evidence to refute an element of the crime, because doing so could erroneously lead the jury to believe that the defendant carried the burden of introducing evidence. Reid v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1413a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

EVIDENCE: Court improperly permitted state to question attempted murder victim regarding his four earlier in-court identifications of the defendant as the shooter in earlier trials. Improper bolstering. Hearsay exception applicable when declarant testifies at trial and is subject to cross-examination concerning the statement, and the statement is one of identification made after perceiving the person, applies to out-of-court identifications made close to time the declarant perceived the identified person and not to prior in-court identifications. Reid v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1413a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

CONTEMPT-DIRECT: Judge committed fundamental error in failing to disqualify himself from presiding at contempt hearing where the contempt charged involved disrespect to or criticism of judge. Rosenwater v. Deutsche Bank, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1406a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

CONSECUTIVE MANDATORY MINIMUM-FIREARM: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for qualifying felonies committed in a single criminal episode where gun is fired are permissible, not mandatory under 1020-Life. McCormack v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1401b (4th DCA 6/21/17)

COMPETENCY: Where trial court found reasonable grounds to believe juvenile was not mentally competent to proceed and appointed experts to evaluate juvenile, trial court erred in failing to make findings regarding juvenile's competency after evaluations were presented. D.B. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1401a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

THEFT/DEALING: Separate convictions for petit theft and dealing in stolen property are impermissible. Roundtree v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1398b (4th DCA 6/21/17)

TRESPASS WITH A DANGEROUS WEAPON: Rock which Defendant threatened to throw is a dangerous weapon. Discussion of when threatened use of a weapon makes it dangerous or deadly. Saint-Fort v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1394b (4th DCA 6/21/17)

10-20-LIFE: Court may not impose consecutive sentences under 10-20-Life statute for offenses which arose from single criminal episode and involved same victim. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1394a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Post-arrest exculpatory statement by defendant was properly excluded because it did not explain or shed light on defendant's statements, already admitted, from a controlled phone call with the minor victim. Rule of Completeness only applies when the statement is necessary to give a complete understanding of the total tenor and effect of the already-introduced statement. Good discussion. Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1392a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

ATTORNEYS-DISQUALIFICATION: Court improperly disqualified attorney based on claim that plaintiff's attorney had represented defendant thru its agent with confidential information exchanged, where information exchanged had not been confidential. A discussion in front of a third-party is not entitled to confidentiality. Oil, L.L.C. v. Stamax Corp., 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1391a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

WEAPON-POCKETKNIFE: Where witness saw the point of a knife in Child's hand, but no knife was recovered, Child is entitled to JOA because state failed to prove it was not a common pocketknife. State must establish that the knife is not a "common pocketknife." G.R.N. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1390a (4th DCA 6/21/17)

SEVERANCE: No error in denying severance of charges where burglary occurred three days after the murder and bloody clothes and stolen property link the two offenses. Lindsey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1384a (1st DCA 6/19/17)

JURY INSTRUCTION: In burglary case, Court erred in failing to instruct on the affirmative defense of Defendant's consent to enter victim's vehicle. Error is fundamental where Defendant's sole defense was consent to enter the car. Faulk v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1383a (1st DCA 6/21/17)

HABEAS CORPUS: A court may review a procedurally defaulted claim if, but for a constitutional error, no reasonable jury would have found the petitioner eligible for the death penalty, not whether a jury might have not have found the petitioner eligible for the death penalty. Jenkins v. Hutton, No. 16-1116 (US S.Ct. 6/19/17)

MENTAL HEALTH EXPERT: When certain threshold criteria are met, an indigent defendant whose mental health will be a significant factor at trial is entitled to the assistance of a psychiatric expert who is a member of the defense team instead of a neutral expert who is available to assist both the prosecution and the defense. Examination by a Lunacy Commission appointed by the Court fails to meet the requirement of an independent mental health expert for the Defendant. McWilliams v. Dunn, No. 16-5294 (US S.Ct. 6/19/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-5294_h3dj.pdf

SEX OFFENDERS-SOCIAL MEDIA: Statute barring sex offenders from using social media impermissibly infringes upon the legitimate exercise of First Amendment rights. Packingham v. North Carolina, No. 15-1194 (US S.Ct. 6/19/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-1194_08l1.pdf

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Although double jeopardy principles prohibit separate convictions for solicitation and traveling when the offenses are based on the same conduct, separate convictions are not prohibited where the offenses are not based on the same conduct. Because defendant pled to solicitations involving two different victims and modes of communication, text messages with officer posing as 14-year-old girl and email with officer posing as girl's uncle, only one of solicitation convictions was necessarily subsumed in the traveling offense. One solicitation should be vacated. Littleman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1382a (1st DCA 6/19/17)

ATTORNEYS-DISCIPLINE: Attorney Mark Ciaravella referred for discipline for failure to follow appellate court's order to pay filing fee or secure a finding of indigency. Odhiambo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1379a (2nd DCA 6/16/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Sentence that exceeds statutory maximum many not be imposed, even pursuant to a negotiated plea agreement, and may be challenged at any time under rule 3.800(a). Parks v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1378a (2nd DCA 6/16/17)

COMPETENCY: Once court ordered that defendant be reevaluated prior to sentencing, it was error to continue to sentencing until the evaluation was done. Lewinson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1373a (5th DCA 6/16/17)

CONFLICT: Court may deny motion to withdraw for conflict where it determines no conflict exists. Court has responsibility to determine whether an actual conflict exists. A possible, speculative, or merely hypothetical conflict is insufficient to support an allegation that an actual conflict of interest exists. Even if a defendant successfully demonstrates the existence of an actual conflict, the defendant must also show that this conflict had an adverse effect upon his lawyer's representation. Defendant's appointed attorney on motion for post conviction relief is not disqualified because as a supervising prosecutor he had approved a plea offer in the underlying case. Braddy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S671a (FLA 6/15/17)

PUBLIC RECORDS: Handwritten attorney notes, draft documents, and annotated copies of decisional law are not public records. Braddy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S671a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Resentencing required where jury voted 11-1 for death. Braddy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S671a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is not entitled to Hurst relief for death sentence imposed for second murder for which penalty phase jury unanimously recommended death. Bevel v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S661a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY-INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE: Counsel who spent only 16 hours preparing for the penalty phase and failed to find existing mitigating evidence provided ineffective assistance of counsel. Bevel v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S661a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst does not apply to death sentences imposed before Ring v. Arizona. Zack v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S656a (FLA 6/15/17)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: IQ above 75, outside the range of error, renders one presumptively competent for death penalty. Zack v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S656a (FLA 6/15/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Counsel's failure to object to witness statement that Defendant and his friends "do this kind of stuff" (armed robbery/murder) was a strategic decision to not call attention to the comment. Meaning of the phrase was not harmful since the witness "spoke in a colloquial dialect[,] her testimony did not have verb-tense agreement, [and] she tended to mix up verbs and words." Hall v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S654a (FLA 6/15/17)

IMPEACHMENT: Court erred in allowing state to introduce excerpt from codefendant's recorded statement to impeach defendant's alibi witness. Byrd v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1365d (4th DCA 6/14/17)

PROBATION-JURISDICTION: Error to dismiss affidavit of violation. When a probationer absconds from supervision, the probationary period is tolled until the probationer is once more placed under probationary supervision. State v. Casas, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1364b (4th DCA 6/14/17)

COMPETENCY: Court erred in holding community control violation proceeding where defendant had previously been found incompetent. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1364a(4th DCA 6/14/17)

PRETRIAL DETENTION: First appearance judge erred when it ruled that it did not have to make any finding whether probable cause affidavit established that proof of guilt was evident or presumption was great before allowing state to hold defendant without bond pending Arthur hearing with judge to whom case would be assigned. Finding that proof of guilt is evident and presumption great can be made on the basis of the Probable Cause Affidavit. Error harmless. Ysaza v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1362a (4th DCA 6/14/17)

SENTENCING-MODIFICATION: Court properly denied motion for modification of sentence as untimely where motion was not filed within 60 days of imposition of the sentence. Montesino v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1359b (3rd DCA 6/14/17)

EVIDENCE-POSSESSION OF COCAINE: Court erred in allowing state to introduce evidence concerning cash found in defendant's bedroom. Slocum v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1354b (1st DCA 6/14/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Virginia court's finding (that the geriatric release program allowing eligibility for release at the age of 65 satisfies Graham's requirement that juveniles convicted of a non-homicide crime have a meaningful opportunity to receive parole) is not objectively unreasonable. Habeas Corpus review is accordingly inappropriate. Court expresses no opinion on whether the Eighth Amendment is actually violated under these circumstances. Virginia v. LeBlanc, No. 16-1177 (U.S. S.Ct. 6/12/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-1177_m648.pdf

HEARSAY: In dealing in stolen property case, Defendant's testimony that he had been given permission in an email to take scrap metal is not hearsay, because it is relevant to the Defendant's state of mind, not to prove the truth of the matter asserted. North v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1342a (2nd DCA 6/9/17)

COSTS: Court may not require juvenile to pay transcription costs as a condition of probation. J.J.P. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1340a (2nd DCA 6/9/17)

COMPETENCY: Where Defendant proceeded to trial after having been found incompetent to stand trial, and the court never entered an order finding him competent, the Court is authorized to enter a nunc pro tunc order finding him competent. However, testimony of psychologists who had not examined him near the time of trial is legally insufficient to support a finding that he was competent at the time of the trial. Frye v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1339a (2nd DCA 6/9/17)

COMPETENCY: Defendant who was adjudicated incompetent to proceed and subsequently found to be a danger to himself and others and subject to involuntary commitment in secure residential facility could not be detained in jail for more than 15 days while awaiting admission to residential facility. Hughes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1336d (5th DCA 6/9/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court must allow Defendant 60 days to amend a facially insufficient motion for post-conviction relief rather than dismissing the petition. Mackey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1336c (5th DCA 6/9/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing on motion for post-conviction relief based on claim that counsel failed to file a motion in limine to exclude improper comments on

Defendant's exercise of right to remain silent. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1336b (5th DCA 6/9/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy bars separate convictions for fraudulent use of credit card and petit theft. Hogan v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1336a (5th DCA 6/9/17)

NEW EVIDENCE: Recanted codefendant testimony is newly discovered evidence. Court may not summarily deny the motion based on finding that the recantation is not credible without an evidentiary hearing. McKinnon v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1335f (5th DCA 6/9/17)

VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER OF SPECIAL CONCERN: Court is required to make written order finding that the defendant posed a danger to the community. Glenn v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1334a (1st DCA 6/9/17)

CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court did not err in striking for cause a juror who gave equivocal responses as to whether he would impose death penalty. Okafor v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S639a (FLA 6/8/17)

EVIDENCE: Evidence of high capacity magazines at residence of co-perpetrator's house in murder case is error, but harmless. Okafor v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S639a (FLA 6/8/17)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Prisoner in state custody may demand a speedy trial, even though the prisoner is not in the jurisdiction of the court where the charge is pending. Demand for speedy trial was not rendered invalid by virtue of fact that defendant did not affirmatively represent that he was ready for trial and because defendant had conducted no discovery or provided state with a list of witnesses. Deriso v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1330a (5th DCA 6/7/17)

VENUE: Failure to allege venue in an indictment or information is an error of form, not of substance and such a defect will not render the charging instrument void absent a showing of prejudice to the defendant. Carnet v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1329b (3rd DCA 6/7/17)

DNA TESTING: Motion for DNA testing is appropriate denied where the defendant argued at trial that the shooting was accidental not identity, and other evidence removed any doubt as to the Defendant being the shooter. Ordonez Medina v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1322a (3rd DCA 6/7/17)

RESENTENCING: Defendant has a right to be present any time there is a resentencing upon remand from appeal. Error may be harmless, but is always error. "To be fair, this court (including, regrettably, this author) has made the very same mistake of conflating the analysis and stating, as a principle of law, that a defendant does not have the right to be present at a resentencing which merely involves a ministerial task." Gonzalez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1317c (3rd DCA 5/7/17)

DISCOVERY VIOLATION: State committed discovery violation when it disclosed, after Defendant's opening statement that the murder weapon was the victim's own weapon, new evidence establishing the location of all of the Victim's weapons. New discovery which requires a defendant to "back step" statements already made is prejudicial. Dabbs v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1310a (4th DCA 6/7/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Double jeopardy does not preclude multiple convictions where the Defendant committed battery on the victim (lesser included of sexual battery) on different days. Evans v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1308a (4th DCA 6/7/17)

RESTITUTION: Court erred in ordering $30,000 restitution without an evidentiary basis, and further erred by coursing defendant to agree to restitution as a way of showing remorse. Paragua v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1302a (4th DCA 6/7/17)

PLEA COLLOQUY: In accepting a guilty plea to a probation violation, the trial court must advise the probationer of the violation charges and, among other things, should tell the probationer of the potential consequences of a guilty plea. At a minimum, the colloquy must inform the defendant of the allegations against him, his right to counsel, and the consequences of an admission or the right to a hearing and it shall afford him an opportunity to be heard. Donaldson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1299c (1st DCA 6/6/17)

STATEMENT OF DEFENDANT-MIRANDA: Court erred in denying defendant's motion to suppress statements made during custodial interrogation where detective misadvised defendant that speaking to police without an attorney present would benefit him. "Ok so it can't hurt you to talk with me but it's up to you." A waiver is not voluntarily and knowingly made if police have affected the ability of the suspect to understand the nature of the rights he is waiving. Pierce v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1295a (1st DCA 6/6/17)

FORFEITURE: A defendant may not be held jointly and severally liable under forfeiture statute for property that his co-conspirator acquired from the crime but that the defendant himself did not acquire. Forfeiture pursuant to §853(a)(1) is limited to property the defendant himself actually acquired as

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-1177_m648.pdf

MANDATORY MINIMUM: Court is required to impose seven-year mandatory minimum where Defendant is found guilty as charged, and the charge alleges more than 200 grams of cocaine. Better practice would have been for the verdict to include a finding of quantity, but in the absence of that, the mandatory minimum stands. Pineiro Caban v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1290b (5th DCA 6/2/17)

DISQUALIFICATION: Judge who had previously disqualified himself in underlying case may not rule on motion for post conviction relief. Adderly v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1290a (5th DCA 6/2/17)

MITIGATION SPECIALIST: Denial of a mitigation specialist in a death penalty case is within the discretion of the court. Middleton v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S637a (FLA 6/1/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for traveling to meet minor to engage in sexual conduct, unlawful use of two-way communications device to facilitate commission of felony, and use of computer to facilitate or solicit sexual conduct of child did not violate double jeopardy where multiple convictions were not based on same conduct but, instead, arose from separate criminal episodes and involved distinct acts of solicitation. Extensive discussion. Lee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1273a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Downward departure based on lack of record and familial support is legally insufficient. Lee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1273a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

QUOTATION: "[T]he decisional law in the area is a veritable Sargasso Sea which could not fail to challenge the most intrepid judicial navigator."). Bounded by four different ocean currents that form a massive clockwise-circulating sea vortex, the Sargasso Sea is a unique region in the North Atlantic Ocean known for its seaweed and clear blue water, depicted "in literature and media as an area of mystery," most notably in Jules Verne's 20,000 Leagues Under the Sea. Lee v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1273a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

PROBATION REVOCATION: Evidence was sufficient to support finding that defendant committed a new law violation by failure to register as a sex offender by failing to register a cell phone number. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1269b (1st DCA 6/1/17)

CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Resentencing required where trial court believed, based on then-existing precedent, that it was required to impose consecutive mandatory minimum sentences under 10-20-Life statute. Chambers v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1269a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-NON-HOMICIDE: Sentence of life imprisonment for nonhomicide offense committed by juvenile was unconstitutional, even when juvenile committed homicide in the same criminal episode, where sentence did not clearly provide meaningful opportunity for early release. Hawkins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1268a (1st DCA 6/1/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in summarily denying claim that counsel was ineffective for advising defendant to reject a plea offer because counsel was certain that a better plea offer would be made, and that defendant would have accepted the plea offer but for counsel's advice. Drakus v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1267b (1st DCA 6/1/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Court may not prohibit death as a penalty. The indictment does not have to list potential aggravating factors as elements. State v. Lopez, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1267a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: By neglecting to request a self-defense instruction that was clearly applicable to the facts and circumstances of the case, trial counsel was constitutionally ineffective. Ineffectiveness is apparent on the face of the record and thus can be corrected on direct appeal. Kruse v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1265a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE-MENTAL ILLNESS: Avoidant Personality Disorder is a mental disorder qualifying the Defendant for a departure. It is not the burden of the Defendant to demonstrate that his necessary treatment was so specialized that it could not be provided in the Department of Corrections. Kovalsky v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1264a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for possession of firearm by convicted felon and possession of ammunition by convicted felon based on defendant's simultaneous possession of firearm and ammunition violated prohibition against double jeopardy. Issue is not waived where Defendant entered an open plea. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1261a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Officer had probable cause to arrest juvenile where officer was aware at time he placed juvenile under arrest that juvenile was on probation, out three hours past his curfew, and did not appear to be within any possible exception to curfew requirement. Officer is not required to investigate and eliminate every possibility that Defendant's violation of curfew was authorized. State v. C.J., 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1259a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT: Where Court entered order requiring examination of defendant's competency and appointed doctor to examine defendant, Court reversibly erred by proceeding to trial without conducting a competency hearing. Baker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1257a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

EVIDENCE: Character evidence for peacefulness may be excluded if witness's testimony is not sufficiently broadly based. Romans v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1255a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Court erred by finding that the offense was not unsophisticated based on the severity of the injuries. Romans v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1255a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's comments that Defendant was a three-time convicted felon and to acquit jury would have to believe the officer and witnesses were all wrong were ill-advised but not reversible error. Thompson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1253a (4th DCA 5/31/17)

COMPETENCY OF DEFENDANT Where defendant had documented disability and trial court found information provided by defense counsel reasonable grounds for ordering a competency evaluation, it was error to proceed to trial where no evaluation report was filed, no hearing was conducted, and no order was entered. Zieler v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1242b (4th DCA 5/31/17)

PUBLIC RECORDS: Upon making a public records request related to chain of custody of evidence, Defendant is entitled to more than just an evidence card, or proof that there is no more documentation. Tracy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1239b (1st DCA 5/31/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that defendant would not have rejected plea offers if counsel had informed him that he qualified for mandatory prison releasee reoffender was not conclusively refuted by record. Defendant is entitled to an evidentiary hearing. Smith v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1238d (1st DCA 5/31/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that defendant involuntarily entered plea out of well-founded fear that counsel would be unprepared for trial was sufficient to require evidentiary hearing or attachment of portions of record conclusively refuting claim. Hinson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1238c (1st DCA 5/31/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Defendant who received life sentence with possibility of parole for offenses committed when he was a juvenile is not entitled to resentencing where defendant was afforded meaningful opportunity to obtain release and, in fact, was released on parole, violated parole and was reincarcerated, and has been assigned a presumptive parole release date so that he continues to be considered for release on parole. Currie v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1238a (1st DCA 5/31/17)

TRESPASS: Evidence that a non-student wearing a school uniform and in a non-public area of the school is sufficient to establish trespass. J.H. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1221a (3rd DCA 5/31/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE: Defendant does not waive Miller and Atwell by having entered into a negotiated plea. Reid v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D1216a (3rd DCA 5/31/17)

DEPORTATION: In the context of statutory rape offenses that criminalize sexual intercourse based solely on the ages of the participants, the generic federal definition of "sexual abuse of a minor" requires the age of the victim to be less than 16. A conviction under a state statute criminalizing consensual sexual intercourse between a 21-year-old and a 17-year-old does not qualify as sexual abuse of a minor under the INA. To determine whether an alien's conviction qualifies as an aggravated felony, the Court employs a categorical approach by looking to the statute of conviction, rather than to the specific facts underlying the crime. Esquivel-Quintana v. Sessions, No. 16-54 (US 5/30/17) https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/16-54_5i26.pdf

HABITUAL VIOLENT FELONY OFFENDER: Enhanced and mandatory minimum penalties for life felonies were not permitted at the time the Defendant was convicted of attempted first-degree murder. Flanders v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D792d (3rd DCA 4/6/17)

HEARSAY: No judgment shall be set aside or reversed on the ground of the improper admission or rejection of evidence unless the error complained of has resulted in a miscarriage of justice. Rodriguez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D789a (3rd DCA 4/5/17)

FORFEITURE-ADVERSARIAL PROBABLE CAUSE HEARING: Court erred in finding probable cause linking funds recovered in home to criminal activity without definitively ruling on the criminal defendant's father's standing to challenge forfeiture of portion of currency he claimed belonged to him and without addressing father's motions to disclose confidential informant and to suppress evidence found in home and statements made by the defendant. Toussaint v. City of Fort Lauderdale, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D786a (4th DCA 4/5/17)

COSTS: Error to impose crime lab costs and public defender costs in excess of statute without informing Defendant of right to contest the amounts. Taylor v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D781a (4th DCA 4/5/17)

GUIDELINES-DEPARTURE: Court erred in sentencing Defendant to prison on VOP where Defendant violated with technical violations and 4 counts of sexual battery, no evidence was submitted at the hearing of the sexual batteries, and the scoresheet called for nonstate prison sanction. The Court did not make finding sufficientlyee establishing a nexus between the Defendant and danger to the public. McCarthy v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D775b (2nd DCA 4/5/17)

CONTEMPT: Juvenile charged with contempt may be placed in secure detention for no more than 5 days for her 1st offense and no more than 15 days for subsequent offenses. C.R.T. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D793a (5th DCA 4/4/17)

10-20-LIFE-APPRENDI: Technical defects in an information are no longer structural constituting per se reversible error under Apprendi. Discrepancy between "injury" and "serious injury" in information and statute do not make any Apprendi error an illegal sentence. Robinson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D758b (1st DCA 4/4/17)

CONVICTION RELIEF: Error to summarily deny claim that counsel was ineffective for misrepresenting that all discovery responses had been received and were not beneficial to defense, and that such misrepresentation induced defendant to enter plea. Farley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D757c (1st DCA 4/4/17)

SENTENCING: A court imposing a sentence on one count of conviction may consider sentences imposed on other counts. Whether the sentence for the predicate offense is one day or one decade, a district court does not violate the terms of §924(c) so long as it imposes the mandatory minimum "in addition to" the sentence for the violent or drug trafficking crime. Dean v. United States, No. 15-9260 (US S. Ct. 4/3/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-CONSENSUAL ENCOUNTER: Where officers knocked on Defendant's door, Defendant slammed the door, officers followed Defendant because they smelled marijuana in his apartment, and confronted him in a fast food drive-through, the encounter is not a consensual encounter. A reasonable person would not feel free to leave. Evidence properly suppressed. State v. Beans, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D750a (5th DCA 3/31/17)

SENTENCING: Where the time of the offense spans 2 different sets of guidelines, the Defendant is entitled to be sentence under that which provides the lightest sentence. Defendant sentenced for capital sexual battery is entitled to parole after 25 years because the date of this offense spans a period with and without possibility of parole. Seeley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D748d (5th DCA 3/31/17)

RESTITUTION-VALUE OF STOLEN PROPERTY: A mere guesstimate of value does not support a restitution order. Victim's testimony at restitution hearing provided sufficient evidentiary basis for value on foreign currency ranging from a minimum of $2000 to a maximum of $3600, but did not support trial court's finding that juvenile stole $5000 in foreign currency. J.J. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D748c (5th DCA 3/31/17)

COMPETENCY: Court must enter a written order finding the juvenile competent to proceed if the child has previously been found incompetent. Oral finding is insufficient. T. M. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D748b (5th DCA 3/31/17)

RECLASSIFICATION: Court may not reclassify conviction for aggravated battery with a deadly weapon to a first-degree felony where it is not clear whether conviction was based on the weapon being deadly or the degree of harm. Aggravated battery using a deadly weapon is not enhanceable because use of a deadly weapon is an essential element of the crime. Perez-Flores v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D748a (5th DCA 3/31/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in vacating convictions where counsel's ineffectiveness did not concern those convictions. State v. Anderson, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D746b (5th DCA 3/31/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-WARRANT-RESIDENCE: There is probable cause sufficient for a search warrant the apartment when the Defendant drove from his apartment to meet undercover officers to deliver cocaine at a nearby IHOP. State v. Hayward, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D744a (5th DCA 3/31/17)

DISQUALIFICATION-TIMELINESS: Motion to disqualify judge is timely when not made within 10 days of the statements made by the judge, but was filed within 10 days after the judge was reassigned the case. State v. Gresham, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D743c (5th DCA 3/31/17)

RULE OF SEQUESTRATION: Court did not abuse its discretion by denying motion for mistrial where victim interacted with family members during break in victim's testimony. Defendant failed to show that the change in testimony was the result of what was said during that interaction. Heady v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D740c (1st DCA 3/31/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions and sentences for use of computer service to solicit person believed to be parent of child to engage in unlawful sexual conduct with person believed to be a child and for traveling for purpose of engaging in unlawful sexual conduct with person believed to be child were barred by double jeopardy principles. State v. Murphy, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D739c (1st DCA 3/31/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-NONHOMICIDE: A juvenile's sentence to a term of years with parole eligibility can violate the Eighth Amendment. 99-year prison terms with parole eligibility for crimes committed by juvenile were unconstitutional. Marshall v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D738a (2nd DCA 3/31/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-NONHOMICIDE: Defendant who was sentenced to concurrent terms of life imprisonment with eligibility for parole for offenses committed when he was a juvenile is entitled to resentencing in conformance with recently enacted sentencing review statutes. Davis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D737b (2nd DCA 3/31/17)

PROBATION REVOCATION: Because probation was tolled while he absconded, Defendant in not entitled to credit for time served on probation previously. Jacoby v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D736a (2nd DCA 3/31/17)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Where defendant is sentenced to prison followed by probation, earns gain time for early release, and subsequently violated probation, he is entitled to credit for time served only for the time served in prison, not the sentence originally imposed. Jacoby v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D736a (2nd DCA 3/31/17)

HEARSAY-EXCEPTIONS: Deputy's testimony regarding victim's description of defendant is not admissible as an excited utterance. Second deputy's testimony regarding description of defendant he received in a BOLO was double hearsay and was erroneously admitted. Livingston v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D731a (2nd DCA 3/31/17)

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE: Circumstantial evidence that an angry lover killed the victim is sufficiently rebutted by evidence that the Defendant stole a victim's phone, his and her phones were found at the crime scene, his palm print was found in her blood at the crime scene and he had washed in bleach. White v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S400a (FLA 3/30/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Death penalty is reversed where the recommendation of death was by a vote of 8-4 and the jury made no factual findings. White v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S400a (FLA 3/30/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is entitled to a new sentencing proceeding pursuant to Hurst where the jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. Orme v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S394a (FLA 3/30/17)

VOIR DIRE-INDIVIDUAL: Any error in not permitting defense to ask individual jurors whether they could be open to mitigation was harmless. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

EVIDENCE: One-time reference to officers job specialty as a "high risk specialty officer" was not so prejudicial as to vitiate the entire trial. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

IMPEACHMENT: Any error in allowing state to impeach its own witness was harmless where the witness gave testimony favorable to the state and was not called merely to impeach him and where events in question were preserved on dashcam. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

OBJECTIONS: An objection is properly preserved if made shortly after the comment even though not exactly contemporaneously. An objection need not always be made at the moment an examination enters impermissible areas inquiry. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Defendant is entitled to a new sentencing proceeding pursuant to Hurst where the jury recommendation of death was not unanimous. Bradley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S391a (FLA 3/30/17)

MURDER-MANSLAUGHTER-JURY INSTRUCTION: Erroneous manslaughter by act instruction is not fundamental error in all cases. Where the defendant was charged with first-degree murder, convicted of second-degree murder, and jury was correctly instructed on manslaughter by culpable negligence as an alternative to second-degree murder, the erroneous manslaughter by act instruction was cured. Extensive discussion. State v. Dominique, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S386b (FLA 3/30/17)

COSTS: Due Process requires that the Court individually pronounce discretionary fees, costs and fines. Osterhoudt v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S386a (FLA 3/30/17)

ATTEMPTED SECOND DEGREE MURDER OF LEO: Enhancement of attempted second-degree murder of a law enforcement officer is a reclassification statute that creates a substantive criminal offense and therefore knowledge of the victim was a law enforcement officer is an essential element. Because 782.065 creates a separate substantive offense the case is remanded for a new trial rather than re-sentencing on a lesser offense. The Standard Jury Instructions should be amended to treat the crime of Murder or Attempted Murder of a Law Enforcement Officer in a manner similar to Assault or Battery on a Law Enforcement Officer. Ramroop v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S381a (FLA 3/30/17)

LIFE IMPRISONMENT-JUVENILE: 155 years in prison with parole for a juvenile is the equivalent of a life sentence and must be vacated. Yero v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D730b (3rd DCA 3/29/17)

APPEALS: Court lacks jurisdiction to enter a new sentencing order to conform to the released opinion but before the appellate mandate has been issued. Jimenez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D721a (3rd DCA 3/29/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: Defendant has a reasonable expectation of privacy in information retained by an event data recorder ("black box") located in his impounded vehicle. State v. Worsham, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D711c (4th DCA 3/29/17)

QUOTATION: "'A yaw rotation is a movement around the yaw axis of a rigid body that changes the direction it is pointing, to the left or right of its direction of motion. The yaw rate or yaw velocity of a car, aircraft, projectile or other rigid body is the angular velocity of this rotation.' . . .Yes, I also didn't know what this was." State v. Worsham, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D711c (4th DCA 3/29/17)

SENTENCING: Sentence of ten years in prison followed by ten years of probation exceeded 15-year statutory maximum for sexual battery. Jones v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D711b (4th DCA 3/29/17)

RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Court did not abuse discretion in allowing the jury to hear the 911 recording in which the defendant accuses the victim of attacking him and refers to the victim's prior criminal history but which omitted references to the victim's prior bad acts, because the redaction did not create a misleading impression. Schwartzberg v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D708b (4th DCA 3/29/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: There is no double jeopardy violation for 2 battery convictions from the same episode where the convictions were based on distinct acts. Schwartzberg v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D708b (4th DCA 3/29/17)

SENTENCING-CONSIDERATION: Court erred in considering uncharged misconduct that occurred after the charged crime in sentencing the defendant. Resentencing will occur with a different judge. Schwartzberg v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D708b (4th DCA 3/29/17)

PROBATION-TOLLING: Where the VOP affidavit and warrant both charged defendant with absconding, and at the relevant hearing the state highlighted the absconding charge, these actions were sufficient to bring the issue to the court's attention, and the probationary period was tolled until defendant was returned to supervision. State v. Capeletti, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D708a (4th DCA 3/29/17)

DEATH PENALTY-INTELLECTUAL DISABILITY: Eighth Amendment bars courts from disregarding current medical standards in order to ignore Defendant's intellectual disability in imposing the death penalty. Moore v. Texas, No. 15-797 (US S.Ct.3/28/17)

https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-797_n7io.pdf

SENTENCING-HOMICIDE-JUVENILE: Court is not required to have jury determine whether defendant killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill victim. Question certified as to whether Alleyne applies. Leppert v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D702c (5th DCA 3/27/16)

COSTS: Error to impose "Sheriff's Office Investigative Cost" fee where state did not request this fee on the record, nor when discretionary fines and surcharges were not orally pronounced. Moinette v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D702a (1st DCA 3/27/17)

ARGUMENT-PRESERVATION: Claim that defendant was deprived of fair trial as result of argument comparing defendant and codefendants to "a pack of wolves" was not preserved for appeal by objection, and isolated comment did not rise to level of fundamental error. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D701a (1st DCA 3/27/17)

PROBATION REVOCATION: Fundamental error to revoke probation for failure to complete community service hours where order had set future date to complete hours. Gozia v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D698e (1st DCA 3/24/17)

INEFFECTIVE ASSISTANCE OF APPELLATE COUNSEL: Failure to raise claim that trial court erred by not renewing offer of counsel at probation revocation sentencing. Defendant waived counsel the beginning of the hearing but Court failed to renew offer before sentencing. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D696b (5th DCA 3/24/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Indigent defendant is entitled to court-appointed counsel to assist in preparation of motion to withdraw plea. Hart v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D696a (5th DCA 3/24/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant should have been given opportunity to amend his claim that counsel was ineffective for not filing a motion to disqualify judge where he alleged deficient performance but failed to allege prejudice. Wheeler v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D695a (5th DCA 3/24/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Imposition of death penalty on basis on non-unanimous recommendation is unlawful. Baker v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S375a (FLA 2/24/17)

JURORS: Defendant is not entitled to 6 peremptory charges for each count in the indictment. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S361a (FLA 3/23/17)

CHALLENGE FOR CAUSE: Court did not err by denying challenge for cause in a murder case of a juror who had a family member murdered but who unequivocally and repeatedly indicated that she would endeavor to be a fair and impartial juror. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S361a (FLA 3/23/17)

MISTRIAL: No error to deny motion for mistrial where witness made a passing allusion to the Defendant being released in violation of order in limine about no mention of Defendant's past record. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S361a (FLA 3/23/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Florida's sentencing scheme, which requires the judge alone to find the existence of an aggravating circumstance, is unconstitutional. Jackson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S361a (FLA 3/23/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Imposition of death penalty violates decision of U.S. Supreme Court in Hurst v. Florida where jury's recommendation of sentence of death was nonunanimous. Deviney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S355a (FLA 3/23/17)

DOWNWARD DEPARTURE: Downward departure based on defendant's need for specialized treatment for mental disorder was valid reason for departure. State v. Wiley, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D690c (1st DCA 3/23/17)

CONSECUTIVE SENTENCES: Consecutive sentences are permissible but not required for possession of firearm by a felon and attempted second-degree murder. Burns v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D690b (1st DCA 3/23/17)

SCORESHEET: Court must not include on scoresheet offenses any offenses for which the defendant sentenced as a prison releasee were offender. It is error to include multiplier for law enforcement protection to scoresheet for possession of cocaine, since the multiplier is only for an offense which should not be on the scoresheet. Sheffield v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D689d (1st DCA 3/23/17)

SECOND DEGREE MURDER-LESSER: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to keep Appellant's conviction from becoming final by asking this court to amend its per curiam decision by including a citation to relevant cases and filing for discretionary review in the Supreme Court, which would have made this a pipeline case. Kerney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D687a (3rd DCA 3/22/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Court erred by dismissing counts based on double jeopardy where evidence established temporal and spatial distinctions among the criminal acts of lewd and lascivious conduct. Brugal v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D685b (3rd DCA 3/22/17)

EVIDENCE: Court did not abuse discretion in allowing testimony that the defendant had a gun on the bed posed during the lewd and lascivious acts because it established the subjective fear of the Victim and her delay in reporting the offense. Brugal v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D685b (3rd DCA 3/22/17)

WITHDRAWAL OF PLEA: Court is not required to hold an evidentiary hearing where the record conclusively shows that the defendant is not entitled to relief. Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D685a (3rd DCA 3/22/17) http://www.3dca.flcourts.org/Opinions/3D15-2618.pdf without detailed reasons why recommendation is inappropriate. D.V. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D669c (4th DCA 3/22/17)

APPELLATE COURT TICKED OFF: "In the end, the trial judge imposed a sentence contrary to the notion of juvenile justice set forth in the Florida Statutes and described by the United States and Florida Supreme Courts. . .For the act of writing the note signed by the child's friend, the trial court sentenced the child, who had no previous delinquency incidents, to a maximum risk residential program. . . . Here, the trial judge focused excessively on the characterization of the crime, which sounds worse than the details of its execution. . . Our reversal is not a green light to impose some other level of commitment; by serving the sentence imposed, the child has overpaid his debt to Florida. The case is remanded to the circuit court for the imposition of a sentence of time served." D.V. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D669c (4th DCA 3/22/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Where defendant enters into a plea agreement to charges which would otherwise be barred by double Jeopardy, he is not entitled to reversal of the lesser offense. Kidder v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D669a (2nd DCA 3/22/17)

APPEALS: Appellate court cannot address issues raised on appeal that had not been raised in the Rule 3.800(a) motion. Aponte v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D652a (2nd DCA 3/17/17)

COMPETENCY: Court must enter written order of competency, rather than relying on the parties' stipulation alone. Arnold v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D647a (2nd DCA 3/17/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: A claim of ineffective assistance of counsel for failing to object to a sleeping juror ordinarily requires an evidentiary area hearing. Rosado v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D645a (5th DCA 3/17/17)

APPEAL-SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE: Adoption of the Daubert standard does not change the rule that certiorari review is not available to challenge pretrial exclusion of expert witness. Rhoades v. Rodriguez, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D644c (5th DCA 3/17/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant may not raise under Rule 3.800 claim that aggravated assault was not a qualifying offense for purpose of sentencing defendant as 3-time violent felony offender. McNair v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D644b (5th DCA 3/17/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Error to summarily deny claim that sentence for attempted armed robbery exceeded statutory maximum because trial court misclassified conviction as a first-degree felony. White v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D644a (5th DCA 3/17/17)

RESTITUTION: Court may not include in restitution items that were not listed in the petition, plea agreement predisposition report or discovery. J.D. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D643a (5th DCA 3/17/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred by summarily denying the claim that defendant's decision not to testify was due to misadvice by counsel that he could be impeached with the specific nature of his prior convictions. Joseph v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D642b (5th DC 3/17/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for simple battery and aggravated battery arising from single criminal episode violated prohibition against double jeopardy. Munoz v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D642a (5th DCA 3/17/17)

HIV-SEXUAL INTERCOURSE: "Sexual intercourse" as used in §384.24(2) includes oral and anal intercourse between two men. Debaun v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S322a (FLA 3/16/17)

ARGUMENT: Golden Rule violation to argue, in describing strangulation death, "Everybody on this jury has been swimming before, I presume, or has been underwater before where you get to that point where you're losing breath and you need to get to the surface. And you get that heavy feeling in your chest. And it feels so good when you get up to the surface and finally get a breath of fresh air." Improper argument was not fundamental; contemporaneous objection was required. "[Ou]r affirmance of the convictions in no way validates such misconduct nor somehow renders it merely 'awful but lawful.'" Sampson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D638a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

ARGUMENT: It is improper to invoke a "miscarriage of justice" argument as a strawman to evoke sympathy for the victim. Sampson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D638a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

ARGUMENT: "The concerns we express here are not new. Sadly, our appellate courts have for decades expressed consternation over the recurring misconduct of attorneys during closing arguments. . .That such misconduct persists, despite these clarion calls, deepens our disquiet." Sampson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D638a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor's closing argument that attacked and denigrated defense counsel, suggesting that defense counsel was not acting in good faith or lied to jury, was improper. Comments cannot be considered invited if State failed to object to the comments which they claim as their license to make improper arguments. Compendium of improper arguments. Scala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D636a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

APPEALS: Where transcripts contain errors, omissions, inconsistencies, and inaccuracies which preclude the appellate court from adequately reviewing the proceedings below, a new trial is required. Scala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D636a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

QUOTATION-CARL SANDBURG: "If the law is against you, talk about the evidence. . .If the evidence is against you, talk about the law, and, since you ask me, if the law and the evidence are both against you, then pound on the table and yell like hell." Scala v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D636a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court need not, and should not, inform the jury of its right to a read-back of testimony in response to a question about the facts of the case. Byrd v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D635e (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

LIFE SENTENCE-JUVENILE-LIFE SENTENCE: 152 year sentence on juvenile for nonhomicide with parole but without judicial review is unconstitutional. Carter v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D633a (3rd DCA 3/15/17)

SPEEDY TRIAL: Continuances sought in misdemeanor case is not a waiver of speedy trial right to the felony case where the felony charge (possession of narcotics found in the Defendant's wrecked car) did not arise from the same conduct or episode as the misdemeanor DUI case. Crimes can constitute separate criminal episodes for speedy trial purposes even though they happen at the same time. State v. Fair, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D626a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

EVIDENCE-REFRESHING RECOLLECTION: Court erred by not allowing Defendant to refresh an officer's recollection with an audio recorded (not transcribed) deposition. In a nonjury case, the judge does not have to leave the bench when the officer's recollection is refreshed. J.G. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D623b (4th DCA 3/15/17)

HEARSAY: Hearsay is admissible in non-capital sentencing hearings, absent a request for sentence enhancement. Case of first impression. McInerney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D622a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

RESTITUTION-JURISDICTION: Court has no jurisdiction to determine amount of restitution after defendant has filed a notice of appeal notwithstanding that of reserve jurisdiction to determine the amount of the restitution. McInerney v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D622a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

DEFINITION-ONLY: "[A]s a matter of statutory construction, the term "only," although capable of varying meanings depending on the context of its use as an adverb or an adjective, ordinarily imposes some limiting function over the term or phrase it modifies." Cohen v. Shushan, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D601a (2nd DCA 3/15/17)

EVIDENCE-UNCHARGED CRIMES: Court erred in admitting evidence of uncharged collateral crime involving the defendant's punching the victim's wife where that altercation was not inextricably intertwined with the earlier stabbing of the Victim. Hudson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D621a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

APPEAL-HABEAS CORPUS: Appellate counsel was ineffective for failing to argue that the two predicate incidences to establish a pattern of racketeering did not occur within 5 years of each other. New appeal limited to this issue is warranted. Castillo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D616a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claims that defense counsel failed to convey plea offer, gave wrong advice about maximum and minimum sentences and misadvised defendant that she could be sentenced as youthful offender are sufficient to warrant a hearing where not conclusively refuted by the record. Bynes v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D615a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

CREDIT FOR TIME SERVED: Motion to correct credit for time served filed within one year of appellate mandate is timely. Castillo v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D614b (4th DCA 3/15/17)

ALLOCUTION: Court erred in subjecting Defendant to cross-examination during allocution. Guerra v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D614a (4th DCA 3/15/17)

RESTITUTION: Evidence is insufficient to support the amount the Court ordered to pay restitution where the only evidence supported that amount was the owner's testimony which was based on what a jeweler said the replacement value of the property was. O.W. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D613a(1st DCA 3/15/17)

COMMENT ON SILENCE OF DEFENDANT: It is an improper reference to the Defendant's right to remain silent to ask if he had ever told his version of events to the police. Court did not abuse its discretion in denying motion for mistrial based on State's isolated question highlighting Defendant's refusal to talk to police officer where objection to the testimony was sustained in a curative instruction given. Chester v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D611b (1st DCA 3/15/17)

PLEA COLLOQUY: Court must conduct plea colloquy before accepting plea to violation of probation. Anderson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D594c (1st DCA 3/10/17)

JUVENILES-COMMITMENT LEVEL: Court may not deviate from DJJ recommendation of minimum-risk commitment without requisite findings. It is insufficient that the court have a legally sufficient basis to deviate from the recommendation the Court must also articulate its understanding of the restrictiveness levels and why a minimum-risk commitment was not better suited to the juvenile's needs. The court's using "magic buzzwords" does not meet the strict requirements under E.A.R. M.J. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D592a (1st DCA 3/10/17)

A "material witness" under rule 3.140 is one whose testimony is both legally relevant and substantial. The threshold is whether the sworn testimony is sufficient to establish in the mind of a reasonable prosecutor that there exists probable cause to believe that the defendant committed the crime. The prosecutor is not necessarily limited to reliance on legally admissible evidence. State v. Gonzalez, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D585b (5th DCA 3/10/17)

MANDATORY MINIMUM: It is error to impose consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for aggravated assault and possession of firearm by a convicted felon where the charges stemmed from same criminal episode. Simmons v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D585a (5th DCA 3/10/17)

DOUBLE JEOPARDY: Separate convictions for first-degree felony murder with a weapon, fleeing and eluding causing injury or death, and driving without a license causing bodily injury or death violated double jeopardy where the convictions arose out of a single course of conduct causing a single death. Weekly D584a (5th DCA 3/10/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Motion for post-conviction relief is untimely when filed more than 2 years after the conviction is final and the evidence was not actually newly discovered. Lamb v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D582c (5th DCA 3/10/17)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: Juvenile may not be found guilty of resisting without violence for flight from Terry stop where there was insufficient evidence that officer had a well-founded in reasonable suspicion to conduct a stop. New trial is necessary to avoid manifest injustice. Wardlow v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D579a (2nd DCA 3/10/17)

AGGRAVATED CHILD NEGLECT-JOA: Defendant who apparently drops child while swinging him by the ankles may be found guilty of felony battery but cannot be found guilty of aggravated child neglect for delaying adequate treatment. Poczatek v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D575a (2nd DCA 3/10/17)

FAILURE TO PRESERVE EVIDENCE: The State's constitutional duty to preserve evidence is limited to evidence that is exculpatory in which the Defendant would be unable to obtain comparable evidence by other reasonably available means. When the State failed to preserve potentially useful evidence due process violated only if the Defendant can show bad faith. The allegation that the evidence was allowed to deteriorate is insufficient. Anderson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S286c (FLA 3/9/17)

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE: The legislative adoption of the Daubert standard in 2013 does not apply retroactively. Counsel for the Defendant was not ineffective or challenging the scientific evidence under Frye because fiber analysis was not novel scientific evidence. The Daubert standard is more lenient in terms of admitting novel scientific evidence than Frye. Anderson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S286c (FLA 3/9/17)

Exception to the rule that jury deliberations may not be intruded upon. Pena-Rodriguez v. Colorado, (US S.Ct. 3/6/17) https://www.supremecourt.gov/opinions/16pdf/15-606_886b.pdf

SELF-DEFENSE-STAND YOUR GROUND: SYG immunity and self-defense claim can be overcome where Defendant gave inconsistent versions of events and admitted he lied to law enforcement. [and] perverts the purpose of closing argument." But error is harmless. Truehill v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S223a (FLA 2/23/17)

Daubert may unconstitutionally infringe upon the right to trial by jury and access to the court. Court will wait until there is a case and controversy to determine the extent to which these rule changes are procedural or substantive or unconstitutional. In Re Amendments to the Florida Evidence Code, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S179a (FLA 2/16/17)

HEARSAY-ELDERLY ABUSE: Court declines to adopt legislative changes to §§90.803(24) allowing hearsay in cases of elderly abuse where witness is unavailable to the extent that the changes are procedural rather than substantive. Change may violate Crawford's right of confrontation. Court will wait until there is a case and controversy to determine the extent to which these rule changes are procedural or substantive or unconstitutional. In Re Amendments to the Florida Evidence Code, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S179a (FLA 2/16/17)

OTHER CRIMES, WRONGS OR ACTS: In case of a defendant accused of using the identity of a woman in Ohio to get telephones and open accounts in her name, it was error to admit evidence that the defendant had personal information of another woman in a different state. Evidence only showed defendant's propensity to commit bad acts. Defendant did not open the door in opening statements by submitting that someone else had committed the offenses. Goggins v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D429a (1st DCA 2/16/17)

COSTS: Court has no statutory authority to impose a venire fee. Brown v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D427b (1st DCA 2/16/17)

NEWLY DISCOVERED EVIDENCE: Standard for review of newly discovered evidence is whether defendant has established that the evidence was not known or knowable at time of the plea, and that there is a reasonable probability that, with such knowledge, defendant would not have pleaded guilty and would have gone to trial. Court erred by following the then-existing standard of manifest injustice and clear evidence. Perez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D413a (3rd DCA 2/15/17)

ARGUMENT: Prosecutor referring to trial as a circus, accusing defense counsel of fabricating facts, and calling self-defense just a theory is improper. Error is harmless where no one but Defendant said self-defense occurred and victim was shot seven times with two guns. Mora v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D412a (3rd DCA 2/15/17)

ARGUMENT: "One imagines that improper argument of this kind might diminish if the prosecutor who created the issue at trial was required to research and write the appellee's brief, and then argue the appeal here." Mora v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D412a (3rd DCA 2/15/17)

IMPEACHMENT-RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Where defense counsel brought out exculpatory portions of defendant's statement during cross-examination of the detective under rule of completeness, State was entitled to bring out evidence of defendant's nine prior felonies and crimes of dishonesty. Conflict certified. Nock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D395a (4th DCA 2/15/17)

RULE OF COMPLETENESS: Court properly found that state was not required to introduce entire video recording of defendant's conversation with detective under rule of completeness where state did not offer video into evidence. Rule of completeness only applies when the written or recorded statement is admitted, not when only testimony about the statement is admitted. Nock v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D395a (4th DCA 2/15/17)

SENTENCING: In sentencing defendant for sexual battery on person 12 years of age or older without physical force, trial court could properly consider similar fact evidence admitted at trial. Cabriano v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D392a (4th DCA 2/15/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Defendant waived right to supplement post conviction motion by failing to raise it at initial post conviction proceedings or appeal. Johnson v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D391b (4th DCA 2/15/17)

POSSESSION-KNOWLEDGE: Evidence that brass fitting found in defendant's pocket had been altered with copper mesh in order to smoke cocaine, and burnt cocaine was visible in fitting, was sufficient to support finding that defendant knew of the presence of cocaine. Although the ordinary presumption that one has knowledge of drugs found in his possession may not apply when there are only trace amounts of drug 'lint' or 'dust,' the presumption does apply when the substance is found on an implement which is usable only for the obviously knowing use of the drug. Holloman v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D391a (4th DCA 2/15/17)

ANDERS BRIEF: Counsel writing Anders brief must master the trial record, thoroughly research the law, and identify any arguments that may be advanced on appeal. Redmon v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D389b (1st DCA 2/14/17)

COSTS: Error to impose appointed attorney lien payment assessment in excess of statutory minimum without notice and opportunity to be heard. Trusty v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D388a (1st DCA 2/14/17)

COSTS: Error to impose cost for Gulf Coast College Community Justice Assessment Center where offense did not involve a motor vehicle. Trusty v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D388a (1st DCA 2/14/17)

COSTS: Error to impose fine for Drug Abuse Trust Fund where offense did not involve alcohol or drugs. Trusty v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D388a (1st DCA 2/14/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Child is not in custody when questioned while sitting in the driveway with her friend when the officer walked up and started conversation about the purse with the marijuana in it. A reasonable child would believe she was free to leave, notwithstanding that the officer believed she was not free to leave. State v. M.C., 42 Fla. L. Weekly D383a (2nd DCA 2/10/17)

RESISTING WITHOUT VIOLENCE: "Simply put, the odor of marijuana emanating from a group cannot, by itself, form the basis of a lawful detention of any particular member of that group. Nor can the fact that each member of the group engulfed in "billowing smoke," as the officer testified, smelled equally of marijuana." Officer was not engaged in lawful execution of legal duty, so juvenile's refusal to be searched could not support charge of obstructing an officer without violence. B.G. v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D382a (2nd DCA 2/10/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Expression of satisfaction with counsel during plea colloquy is not a valid basis for denying relief. Failing to investigate alerting K-9's records is facially sufficient claim of ineffective assistance of counsel. Sanchez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D380b (2nd DCA 2/10/17)

PROSECUTORIAL MISCONDUCT: Prosecutor's inappropriate remarks during closing argument, including repeatedly referring to defendant as a pedophile, making an inappropriate justice-for-the- victim argument, and falsely stating that defendant had admitted to inappropriate sexually-related activities with victim, constituted fundamental error. Florida Bar is notified for purposes of discipline. Rodriguez v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D369d (5th DCA 2/10/17)

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Court erred in failing to consider claim that counsel was ineffective for failing to move to suppress defendant's confession on basis that she was too intoxicated to waive her constitutional rights. Dingey v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D369c (5th DCA 2/10/17)

BURGLARY-AFFIRMATIVE DEFENSE: Court must give jury instruction on the affirmative defense that Defendant was licensed to enter the dwelling where there is some evidence to support that affirmative defense. Pilafjian v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D366a (5th DCA 2/10/17)

SENTENCING-MURDER BY JUVENILE: Where Defendant did not actually possess or discharged a firearm during the crime, Court did not err in denying defendant's motion to impanel jury to make the factual finding as to whether the defendant actually killed, intended to kill or attempted to kill the victim. Question Certified : Does Alleyne allow the trial court to make the factual finding as to whether a juvenile offender actually killed, intended to kill, or attempted to kill the victim? Williams v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D363b (5th DCA 2/10/17)

PLEA WITHDRAWAL: Court abused discretion in summarily denying motion to withdraw plea which alleged the state withheld exculpatory information until after sentencing. Moody v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D363a (5th DCA 2/10/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INCIDENT TO ARREST: District school board officer had no probable cause to arrest defendant who was walking on track on school property at nighttime for trespass on school property where the school kept the track open at night and posted signs inviting the public to access the track after school hours. State v. Rand, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D352e (1st DCA 2/10/17)

SEARCH AND SEIZURE-INCIDENT TO ARREST: "The bottom line here is that the officer disregarded the school's open-track policy. He said he 'didn't take the time to look at the sign right in front of the gate' and he didn't investigate Mr. Rand's reasons for being at the track. Under these circumstances, we find no error in the trial court's decision not to give the officer's sloppy work a Fourth Amendment pass." State v. Rand, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D352e (1st DCA 2/10/17)

PROBATION-CONDITIONS: Court erred in imposing a condition of probation requiring Defendant to obtain a GED or high school diploma. Silas v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D352a (1st DCA 2/10/17)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS-WELFARE FRAUD: Standard jury instruction for welfare fraud modified to include EBT card. In re : Standard Jury Instructions, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S150a (FLA 2/9/17)

JUROR MISCONDUCT: New trial is not required where juror claimed that jurors conducted internet research into meaning of Defendant's facial tattoo, but Court deemed the claim not credible. Dubose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S143a (FLA 2/9/17)

CURTILAGE: Gap in fence to allow for driveway does not prevent the area being considered the curtilage of a house. Dubose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S143a (FLA 2/9/17)

CHANGE OF VENUE: Court did not err in denying motion for change of venue on ground that it was impracticable to obtain qualified jury in county where action was pending due to pretrial publicity. Knowledge of the incident because of its notoriety is not, in and of itself, grounds for a change of venue. Dubose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S143a (FLA 2/9/17)

DEATH PENALTY: Hurst violation occurred where jury did not find the existence of aggravators was proven beyond reasonable doubt, that the aggravators were sufficient to impose death, and that the aggravators outweighed mitigators. Dubose v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S143a (FLA 2/9/17)

JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Knowledge element added to standard jury instructions on assaults on state attorneys, judges. In Re : Standard Jury Instructions, 42 Fla. L. Weekly S142a (FLA 2/9/17)

A defendant whose original sentence violated Graham v. Florida, and who was thereafter resentenced, is entitled to resentencing under 77.082(3)(c) and 921.1402. Grantley v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D349g (3rd DCA 2/8/17)

STATEMENTS OF DEFENDANT: Court did not err in failing to suppress statement based on law enforcement's failure to explicitly advise defendant of his right to stop interrogation at any time where warning implicitly included the right to stop questioning.. Prior precedents receded from. Morris v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D346c (4th DCA 2/8/17)

COMPETENCY: Court erred by proceeding with change of plea hearing without determining defendant's competency where trial court had earlier ordered a competency evaluation. Bain v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D346b (4th DCA 2/8/17)

CHILD PORNOGRAPHY: Video evidence showing young girls undressing and using bathroom in defendant's home and several of which showed the defendant entering bathroom and activating recording device is probative of identity of owner of the child porn. Scott v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D346a (4th DCA 2/8/17)

ALLOCUTION: Court erred in forcing defendant to be sworn in before his allocution at sentencing hearing and in subjecting defendant to cross examination. A criminal defendant prior to sentencing has the opportunity to make an unsworn statement to the sentencing judge in allocution, not subject to cross-examination. Guerra v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D345b (4th DCA 2/8/17)

APPEALS-PRESERVATION-SELF-DEFENSE: No fundamental error in failing to give unrequested deadly force self-defense instruction in robbery/battery case. Non-deadly force instruction was given. Objection was required to preserve issue. Gregory v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D345a (4th DCA 2/8/17)

State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D343a (4th DCA 2/8/17)

BURGLARY OF DWELLING: Defendant who entered an attached porch with intent to commit a crime is guilty of burglary of a dwelling. Morlas v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D341a (4th DCA 2/8/17)

EVIDENCE: Evidence of a high speed car chase in which defendant was a passenger is inextricably intertwined with burglary and relevant to establish consciousness of guilt. Morlas v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D341a (4th DCA 2/8/17)

PORCH, PORN AND MR. ED: "[T]he area at issue constitutes an "attached porch" and, as such, a "dwelling." United States Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart famously said of pornography, "I know it when I see it.". . .To rephrase a popular 1960s television show theme, "a porch is a porch of course, of course," and the reasonable person (and perhaps a Supreme Court Justice as well), when viewing this area, would conclude, as do we, that it is an "attached porch." Morlas v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D341a (4th DCA 2/8/17)

JURY PARDON–LESSER INCLUDED: Failure to instruct jury on simple battery, the next immediate necessarily lesser-included offense of battery within detention facility, was per se reversible error, even though no reasonable jury could have determined that the battery in this case did not take place in a detention facility. Discussion. Question certified. Lewis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D328b (1st DCA 2/7/17)

JURY PARDON: 'There can be no reconciliation among the jury pardon doctrine, present-day standard jury instructions, and the required oath of jurors. . . [I]n navigating their duty to follow the law and to properly consider the evidence, while retaining the option of jury nullification, present day jurors in Florida shoulder an immediate ethical burden and confront obvious conflicts of interest. . . This deontic debate over the jury pardon stems from the preservation of an archaic doctrine (once purposeful and necessary) in a modern legal forum, the result of which is jury conflict of interest, jury instructions laced with mutually exclusive theory, and subsequent and inevitable judicial inefficiency." Lewis v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D328b (1st DCA 2/7/17

MANDATORY MINIMUM-CONSECUTIVE: Consecutive mandatory minimum sentences for multiple firearm offenses were impermissible where offenses arose from same criminal episode and jury specifically found that defendant but did not discharge firearm. Clark v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D326a (1st DCA 2/7/17)

UPWARD DEPARTURE: Upon violation of probation, where the Defendant scored 22 points or less for a non-forcible third-degree felony the court must impose nonstate prison sanctions in the absence of written findings that such a sentence would present a danger to the public. Terry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D317e (1st DCA 2/3/17)

FELONY BATTERY: "Counterintuitive though it may be, felony battery is not a forcible felony since a battery can be committed by touching another against the person's will." Terry v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D317e (1st DCA 2/3/17

POST CONVICTION RELIEF: Claim that Defendant rejected the plea offer based on counsel's misadvice that his recorded statement cannot be admitted in evidence is sufficient to warrant an evidentiary hearing. Gray v. State, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D314b (5th DCA 2/3/17)

FORFEITURE-PROBABLE CAUSE: Methamphetamine residue on a glass pipe in a vehicle is sufficient to warrant forfeiture of the vehicle. Brevard County Sheriff's Office v. Brown, 42 Fla. L. Weekly D312a (5th DCA 2/3/7)

PERRY, DISSENTING): "I can find no support in the jurisprudence of this Court where we have previously determined that a case is only retroactive to a date certain in time. Indeed, retroactivity is a binary — either something is retroactive, has effect on the past, or it is not. . .In the present case, the majority . . .decides that in capital cases where the Sixth Amendment rights of hundreds of persons were violated, it is appropriate to arbitrarily draw a line between June 23 and June 24, 2002 — the day before and the day after Ring was decided." Asay v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly S646a (FLA 12/22/16)

however, that is no longer true. Indeed, a cell phone search would typically expose to the government far more than the most exhaustive search of a house: A phone not only contains in digital form many sensitive records previously found in the home; it also contains a broad array of private information never found in a home in any form — unless the phone is." ADJUDICATION WITHHELD: Court may not withhold of adjudication for a second degree offense in absence of request in writing from state to withhold of adjudication and without competent, substantial evidence to support its decision. The extent to which the detectives confronted Defendant with evidence of his guilt established that the Defendant was subjected to custodial interrogation. Bell v. State, 41 Fla. L. JURY INSTRUCTIONS: Standard jury instructions tweaked. In Re: Standard Jury Instructions, 41 Fla. L. Weekly S480a (FLA 10/27/16)

MANDAMUS: Indigent prisoner's petition for writ of mandamus seeking to compel Department of Corrections to recommend commutation of his life sentence to a term of years was not a collateral criminal proceeding, and was therefore subject to a lien on prisoner's inmate account for costs and fees. Ruggirello v. Jones, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2417a (1st DCA 10/26/16)

SENTENCING: Although court designated defendant as habitual felony offender, habitual violent felony offender, and violent career criminal, court did not exercise option of imposing mandatory minimum term under either HVFO or VCC designation; thus, the sentence is lawful because only one of the recidivists statutes was applied. METAPHOR-QUOTATION (DISSENT): "Sentencing law has recently undergone a sea change and many sentencing shibboleths have run aground on the shoals of the Constitution." Charles v State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2397b (4th DCA 10/26/16)

QUOTATION (DISSENT): "The question 'Why?' states a primitive and insistent human need. The small child, punished or deprived, demands an explanation. The existence of a rationale may not make the hurt pleasant, or even just. But the absence, or refusal, of reasons is a hallmark of injustice. . . . The despot is not bound by rules. He need not account for what he does. Criminal sentences, as our judges commonly pronounce them, are in these vital aspects tyrannical." Charles v State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2397b (4th DCA 10/26/16), quoting Marvin E. Frankel, Criminal Sentences: Law Without Order 39 (1973)

PLEA-WAIVER: Trial court's failure to comply with requirements of rule 8.165(b)(2) before accepting juvenile's uncounseled pleas in separate cases constituted fundamental error — Trial court erred in accepting uncounseled plea in third case immediately after juvenile asserted his right to counsel, and further erred by denying juvenile's motion to withdraw plea in that case. D.A.C. v. State, 41 Fla. L. Weekly D2389a (2nd DCA 10/26/16)
